The money borrowed to build the Intercolonial Railroad, has tided off the evil for three or four years—but the winding up of that undertaking will yet reveal a deficit of no common amount. To the debt, already cramping the energies of the Province, the unheard of sum of over $100,000,000 is to be added—and to this may reasonably be added about as much more before the two railroads shall be completed. The Pacific railway through the United States cost $187,000,000, and taking into consideration the difficulties of the route, and length of the road, we may fairly assume this last sum as the cost of the Pacific Railway if the land on the Route realizes no more or is no better managed than wild lands generally are. The whole nor-west district will scarcely produce more than the $87,000,000, so that we may fairly conclude that the debt of the province will increase $100,000,000. If to this be added the interest on such an immense sum, the working of the road, the expenses of the government, and the existing debt of about $127,000,000, we will find ourselves in the heaviest debt in proportion to our population of any people on this continent; and yet we are lectured in a sly way about not putting things fairly. The fact is that some people, and even editors too, cannot see things right, no matter how plainly stated. But the people of this Dominion will soon see these things in their true light, then it will be too late, we fear, to prevent the evil that a little wisdom, and a proper regard to the interest of the country would have done.

LIFE IN THE OLD LION YET.—An English paper of recent date says; In order to test how soon in the dead of night and without previous warning the fleet could be brought into active engagement, at about 10.30 at night the crews of the various ships of war stationed at Portland were roused by an order from the Admiral's ship to the practice at general quarters. In the short space offive minutes after the signal was given the first gun was fired with blank cartridge. This was immediately followed by such a cannonade as was never before heard in this part of the world.

The night being very dark and still, the noise caused considerable astonishment and consternation in the neigeboring town of Weymouth, and a large number of persons rushed to the hills round the harbour. Amid the dim sullen boom of the enormous guns of the Monarch and Hercules could be easily distinguished from the sharp report of smaller cannon. The fires was kept up with great spirit for about 20 minutes, and then suddenly ceased.

The Herald points out the danger of subscriptions in honor of Ministers of the Crown. Messrs. Gooderham & Worts, of Toronto, recently subscribed $2,000 to a testimonial to Sir John A. Macdonald; and an old standing question of refunding certain duties appears now, for the first time, in the supplementary estimates. This item is doubtless correct enough, but it is a pity it was delayed till after that subscription. Changes in the tariff might be altogether for the good of the country; but how easily might they be timed so as to repay such donations ten times over.

Paris.

Affairs in Paris are still desperate. Marshal McMahon is endeavouring to invest the city and renew the bombardment from an advantageous position. The destruction of life and property caused by the folly of a few hot headed leaders must be fearful to contemplate. The following telegraphic news is the latest received:—

NEW YORK, April 18.—A cable special dated Paris, noon, Monday, says:—At 9 o'clock last night, the forts and advanced posts sent into the Commune the result of the votes of the troops, The papers were carried by an officer escorted by Nationals. the procession was headed by a red flag. There were cries of "Vivie la Commune."

Yesterday, after the taking of Neuilly church, a youth of 16 planted a flag of the Commune on the sumit of the church amid a shower of balls. The inhabitants are collecting provisions. A rejort that the city is about to be invested by Versaillists and Prussians jointly, causes great excitement. The church of St. Jacques du Haut Pas was surrounded to-day by the Nationals and the clergy arrested. During vespers yesterday the church of St. Vincent de Paul was surrounded by the Nationals and willaged. There is scarcely a church open now.

A despatch from Bologone says the Communal election in Paris were a perfect fiasco, not a tenth of the voters went to the polls. In the eight arrondissement only 1,130 votes were polled out of 17,825 voters. No despatch was received from Paris by the night train. It is stated that the courier's despatch was seized by the Commune.

London, April 18.—The Times has a despatch from Paris stating thrt it is reported in that city that Prussio will intervene in the affairs of France in case the Commune should be victorious over the Versailles Government. The Prussians have advanced to Aubeauilliers, 4 kilometres south-east of of St. Denis, and within 8 kilometres of Paris.

The "Daily News" despatch from Paris says the Commune has in its hands cash to the amount of thirty-eight millions of francs, which has been paid by the Bank of France for unsold ponds of the city of Paris.

London, April 18.—A despatch from Versailles says that the Prussians have agreed to stop the revictualling of Paris by way of St. Denis. The insurgents occupy the greater part of the whole of Colombos beyond Asnieres. Bismarck, in a note to the Versailles Government, admits the right of Marshal McMahon to occupy with French troops the ground around Paris made neutral by the stipulations of the preliminary treaty of peace.

Versailles, April 18.—Batteries have been established at Chateau Beacon, captured by the Versailles troops, on Monday morning, which are within easy range of the insurgent batteries at Assineres and Clichy.

The report emanating from Paris that the colours of the Pontificial Zouaves were captured by the Communists, at Neuilly, on Sunday, is unfounded.

The World's special, Paris 17th, says: The Communists, after a severe battle, occupied the whole of Neutility, capturing all the enemy's artillery and two flags. The enemy also lost 5,000 men killed and wounded, and 2,000 prisoners. The loss of the Communists were about the same. Valerien is now bombarding Neuilly. The Germans are massing heavy bodies of troops, and give many other proofs of an intention to interfere.

PARIS, April 18.—Gen. Clusceret reports that that the past night has been comparatively quiet. Dombrowski is steadily advancing. Considerable breaches have been made in the walls of Fort Valerien. The situation is everywhere satisfactory. Several of the enemy's batteries have been dismounted, and all their attacks have been repulsed with small loss to the defenders. The morale of the men is excellent.

The Mot Ordre intimates that negotiations will soon be re-opened with the Government at Versailles.

The official journal pronounces false the reports that Lullier has been appointed to the command of the gunboat flotilla on the Seine. The supply of provisions by the northern and eastern railroads is uninterupted.

The Commune are discussion questions of commerce, prepatory to the restoration of trade and credit. Among the measures under consideration is a law requiring that all debts due on the date of its passage shall be paid within three years, in equal quarterly instalments: the first payment to be made on or before the 15th July. Penalties are attached to evasion or fraud.

VERSAILLES, April 18—Marshal McMahon's headquarters are now at Fontenoy Aux Roses, near Semaux.

The rumors that the Prussians threaten forcible intervention in the affairs of Paris are unfounded. Fifty insurgents were taken prisoners in Chateau Becon, and others were captured in the vicinity.

An iron clad railway battery has been captured from the insurgents at Colombes.

VERSAILLES, April 17.—The Tribune's special says: Dissatisfaction exists among the French troops. They are ready to protect the Assembly, but not to attack Paris. More than half the soldiers returning from Germany are sent home because they are regarded as untrustworthy. The five hundred millions of francs due April 1st are known to be ready at Versailles, but payment is delayed because the German troops, on the payment of this instalment of war indemnity, would then retire towards Rheims. The people are fleeing from Paris in crowds.

The House of Commons was prorouged on the 14th instant. The following Bills passed, received the sanction of His Excellency the Governor General:

An act for the prevention of corrupt practices in relation to the collection of the revenue.

An act to establish one uniform currency for the Dominion of Canada.

An act to prolong for a certain time the term allowed for the redemption of rents reserved on certain Indian lands in the township of Dundee.

An act to extend the provisions of the act authorizing the imposition and collection of harbor dues by the Corporation of the town of Owen Sound.

An act to indemnify the members of the Executive Government and others for the unavoidable expenditure of public money in excess of the Parliamentary grant incurred in repelling the threatened raid of the Fenians in 1870.

An act to amend and explain the act to amend the charter of the Ontario Bank.

An act to incorporate the Ontario and Quebec Railway Company.

An act to incorporate the Mutual Life Association of Canada.

An act to make further provision for the Government of the North West Territories.

An act for more effectually preventing the desertion of seamen in the Port of Quebec.

An act to amend the act 33 Vic. cap. 40. respecting the settlement of the affairs of the Bank of Upper Canada.

An act respecting the loan authorized by the act 32 and 33 Vic., cap. 3, for the purpose of paying a certain sum to the Hudson's Bay Company.

An act further to amend the act respecting the improvement and management of the harbor of Quebec.

An act further to amend the act respecting fishing by foreign vessels.

An act to amend the acts relating to the duties of customs.

An act to incorporate the Sault Ste. Marie Railway and Bridge Company.

An act respecting certain officers of the Trinity House of Quebec.

An act to incorporate the Montreal and City of Ottawa Junction Railroad Company.

An act to incorporate the Confederation Life Association.

An act to amend the census Act.

An act to incorporate the Kingston and Pembroke Railway Company.

An act to extend to the Province of New Brunswick the operation of the act of the Legislature of the late Province of Canada, concerning the Synod of the Church of England in Canada.

An act concerning the Vaudreuil Railway Company.

An act to incorporate the Western Bank

An act to incorporate the Metropolitan Bank.

An act to comprise in one act the financial affairs of the Great Western Railway Company.

An act to incorporate the Bedford District Bank.

An act to amend the act Incorporating the Sun Insurance Company of Montreal.

An act to incorporate the Bank of Liverpool.

An act to authorize the incorporated village of Trenton to impose and collect harbor dues and for other purposes.

An act relating to the commercial Bank of New Brunswick.

An act to incorporate the Dominion Telegraph Company.

An act to authorize the Northern Railway Company of Canada to make agreements for the leasing, using, and working of the lines of railway to other companies.

An act to provide for the appointment of a Port Warden for the harbor of Quebec.

An act to make provisions for validating certain premium notes taken or held by Mutual Fire Insurance Companies.

An act to amend the act respecting Insurance Companies.

An act to authorize the sale of the Oakville harbor.

An act to extend to the Province of Manitoba certain of the Criminal Laws now in force in the other Provinces of the Dominion.

An act to incorporate the Fredericton and St. Mary's Bridge Company.

An act in relation to the Library of Parliament.

An act to authorize the sale or lease of the Rockwood Asylum to the Province of Ontario.

An act relating to Banks and Banking.

An act incorporating the Mutual Insurance Company of Canada.

An act to extend the act respecting the Militia and Defence of the Dominion of Canada.

An act to make temporary provisions for the election of members to serve in the House of Commons of Canada.

To the Editor of the Peterboro Examiner:

SIR:—

In the last two Reviews the Editor has attempted to make it out that to let me subscribe for $50,000, and pay 10 per cent thereupon, of the Peterboro and Haliburton Railway Stock; on the 10th May next, and control the Charter &c., would be ruinous to Peterboro, as I might hold on and do nothing until next November, and thereby forfeit the charter, and a great deal of other bosh that is not worth notice. Now, Sir, I have only this to say, that if the people of Peterboro have a public meeting and agree to let me take $50,000 stock in the Peterboro and Haliburton Railway Co., and Peterboro agree to give a bonus of $100,000 to have the Railroad built to Bobcaygeon, that I will agree to commence within one week after the Stock Books are open, and have the railroad completed within one year from Cobourg to Mud Lake, and to Bobcaygeon within eighteen months.

I might further say that should this offer not be accepted, there is nothing at all to prevent the Port Hope Railroad Co., giving the Cobourg R. Co. $10,000 or $18,000 a year, for all time to come, not to open the Cobourg & Peterboro Railroad any more. The time I was connected with the Port Hope Railroad, Covert, Boulton and myself often talked the matter over, of Buying the Cobourg Railway off, and we always considered that if we could stop that road by buying Cobourg or the Railway Company for $20,000 a year not to open the Cobourg Railway any more, we should make a good bargain, and that we should always be able to charge full tarif from Peterboro to Port Hope, and thereby make money by the transaction.

I do not think that it is any use my coming to Peterboro any more if this offer is not accepted at a public meeting, which I understand you are going to have, before the stock books are opened.

I have had two public meetings at Peterborough, on the subject, nd I must say that I was not so well received at the last meeting as I expected I should be. I stated at the last meeting that my opinion was that some of the Provisional Directors had some other scheme on hand more than the interests of Peterborough, and I am of the same opinion still. I am satisfied that a very large majority at the last meeting I had, was for going to Bobcaygeon direct.

Should I be invited to attend at your public meeting, I will willingly do so, otherwise, I do not think it is worth troubling myself any more about the Railway from Peterborough to Bobcaygeon. The people of Peterborough ought to be the best judges whether they want the Railway or not, in connection with the Cobourg Railroad, as I do not want to have anything to do with it in any shape, only by amalgamating with the Cobourg and Peterborough Railroad, so as to have full control of of the whole business from Bobcaygeon to Peterborough.

I herewith send you an article from the last American Railroad Journal, respecting Wooden Railways, which please insert.

Yours, Truly,

JOHN FOWLER.

Cobourg, April 17th, 1871.

"J. M. Speer, Sr. & Sons of Warrick County, Ind., writing to the Scientific American give the following account of their experience with a wood in rails as it:

In your valuable paper of February 4th, in the "Correspondence" column, I notice that you would like to hear more in detail about the wooden railroad. We built in 1865, a wooden railroad, 3 93/100 miles in length to transport coal, by mule power, to the Ohio River, near Rockport, Ind. The cross ties were mostly split out of white oak from 7 to 7½ feet in length; and the notches were sawn with hand saws, as shown in engraving. They were cut straight down on the outside, and bevel and taper inside, to keep the keys in their place if they should get loose by shrinkage. We placed the ties from 2 to 2½ feet from center to center. We used the best white-oak rails 3 x 6 inches, and keyed them in with oak, so that the bevel space was filled.

The cars used on this road had 24inch wheels, 4inch tread 1¼inch depth of flange, and 2¼inch axles, run in cast boxes lined with Babbitt metal. The weight of car was about 1,500 pounds, to carry 60 bushels coal = 4,200 pounds (the Indiana bushels is 70 pounds); in all about 3 tons per car. The cars ran smoothly and easly for six months, when the rails began to get soft, and to splinter for a quarter of an inch depth. They were much the worst where the sun shone on them, during the summer months. About two miles of this road was through timbered land, and the rails in the shade lasted much better than those exposed to the sun.

The next trouble we encountered was in frosty weather: the splinters of mashed wood would stick to the wheel, and wind around it like rope, until it would run out with the grain of the timber or break off at a knot.

In less than twelve months the road was rough, and we turned the rails, and replaced some with new ones. Some of the rails were worn down more than an inch, leaving the knots nearly full up to the first measure. This made a rough road; and we concluded to try flat bar iron. We sent for ten tons 1¾ x ¼ inches, counter sunk and punched for ½-inch spikes. This worked so well that we put iron on the full length of the road.

By using iron on the rails we gained as follows: 1st. On the wooden; as soon as the iron was on, one hand did the work, and had half his time for other work. 2nd. One mule would do as much work as three would do on the wooden road, and the rails would last about four years, or until they would rot and not bear the weight of the cars.

The vein of coal at this place being about worked out, we opened a vein near Yankeetown, Warrick Country, Ind. This vein is about 20 feet above the Ohio River at high-water mark, and 8,530 feet from its bank. We built a road to the river last summer and fall. About 6,000 of this road is trestle work, on river bottoms, from 3 feet to 16 feet high, 10 feet span, 20 feet string timber (6 x 11 in white oak). The old flat bar iron and cars are used here. We used a piece of flat bar iron, about 18 inches in length, alongside of the flat bar at every joint, so that the ends of the iron are not mashed down into the timber to make it rough. This road is properly graded, the steepest grade with the loaded cars being 9 inches to the 100 feet. Three mules bring five cars up this grade which is on trestle work, 10 feet high, planked with 2inch lumber. We are not in full operation yet, but expect that one team of three mules will haul from 2,000 to 2,500 bushels per day to the river. We shall put on a small engine, as soon as we are able and find one to suit. A six ton engine would do our work we believe."

The flat bar iron cost us near $1,100 per mile; ties, about 12 cents apiece—we used our own timber. (Cutting ties cost 5 cents; sawing notches and trimming out, 5 cents; hauling out of woods two cents.) We had to purchase some oak lumber not having enough on our land. Price paid was $16 per thousand, delivered along the road. We used near 325 thousand feet of lumber on the road and a few miners' shanties. Our vein of coal was from 4 feet to 4 feet 2 inches thick (what miners call "blasting coal.")

All that we can say to those building wooden railroads is, they will not be long in using flat bar-iron on their roads; by so doing, they will save many dollar in the way of repairing rails, etc.

Narrow gauges and light T iron will take the place of the wooden roads in a short time, if cheap railroads are wanted. The T is a little more expensive at first, but in two year's time it will pay for the difference in keeping the road in order.

To the Editor of the Examiner:

SIR,—

I shall feel obliged by allowing space in your columns for the following remarks in reference to the late election and the conduct of certain parties who figured at it:

I do not intend entering minutely into the events brought out by that contest, but as a Catholic Elector of the County, to protest earnestly against that rise pursued towards us by the organ of that political party we for years supported, and whose Candidates on many occasions we carried triumphantly to the polls.

In those days we were taught to look for respectability and fair dealing within the Conservative camp only, that outside of it all was gross and vulgar, and nothing but abuse and slander to be expected. Such were our lessons when Catholic electors marched to the polls at the beck of the Review and its candidates; but lo! when a Catholic Irishman appears in the field "what a change comes o'er the spirit of its dreamers". Call an Irishman at once take the place of milk and honey, and our would-be advocate and friend of yesterday becomes our dictator and caricaturist of to-day.

Looking back over a period of twenty years I find nothing in the history of elections in this County comparable with the means used to prejudice certain of the electors against Mr. O'Donohoe. Not only his own career but that of others of his countrymen must be ripped up from the cradle. He must be found fault with for being an Auctioneer, and branded as a Rebel and a Fenian because he dares to say—in this free country of his adoption that Ireland is not the best governed land in the world.—Why the empty-headed compilers of that precious sheet might have known that in the Dominion, or outside of it for that matter, there is not one Irish Catholic who would not subscribe to every word it contains, and more too.

Pity then the ignorance of a few aspiring petty headed men have been allowed to override the calmer judgement of their friends in this matter, and by such means not only to defeat their object but materially weaken the ranks of their own party. Such always is the fruit of puppyism, insult and ingratitude. The "compilers" I observe have largely quoted from the Globe. I will give an extract from a speech of Mr. John Bright, (not John O'Donohoe's) made at Rochdale, England, and published in the Toronto Leader, January 9th, 1868.

"Speaking of the government of Ireland Mr. Bright says, the great preserver there has been the gallows and the gibbet; of late years the barbarity of the law has rarely exhibited itself, but in former years the number of persons who suffered death by the law in Ireland was something wonderful and appalling to think of."

Will the "compilers" find anything like these utterances in Mr. O'Donohoe's speeches, and yet they are the expressions of a British Minister. Sentiments of the kind without limit might be taken from the speeches of Messrs. Gladstone, Bright and other eminent statesmen. Are they disloyal men and rebels? Will the defeated for West Peterboro answer?

Mr. Editor, I fear I have trespassed too much on your kindness, and will therefore cut this letter short. Mr. O'Donohoe and his friends have cause to be proud and confident. He came into the County almost a stranger, but left it as an old acquaintance. Throughout his campaign he conducted himself towards friends and foes as a man of honour and a gentleman, and he has made for himself a host of friends who will always receive him with respect.

If the influence of his own church, the church of his fathers, has operated against him, it may not be always so. He, like a good Catholic, submits, and does not in the fashion of Messrs. Carnegie and "Teddy Dowd" turn it into ridicule. Mr. O'Donohoe has left his mark indelibly on the political aspects of Peterboro East and West.

Yours truly,

A CATHOLIC ELECTOR.

Peterboro, April 18th, 1871.

Speech by Mr. Jefferson Davis

SECESSION A MERE QUESTION OF TIME.

Mr. Jefferson Davis, Ex-president of Southern Confederacy, recently made a speech at Salem, Alabama, which is thus reported:—

"About 11 o'clock a brass band appeared on Alabama Street, in front of the hotel, accompanied by a crowd of two or three hundred people. The band discoursed, 'The Bonnie Blue Flag' and on the cessation of the music loud calls were made for 'Davis,' 'Davis!' In answer to the call the chief of the fallen Confederacy appeared on the balcony, and addressed the crowd for about ten minutes, in a strain of impressive eloquence which told with powerful effect on his hearers. He commenced by complimenting in general terms the people of Alabama. He said he had always loved them, and now he felt that he could rest in peace with them forever. They were bone to his bone and flesh to his flesh, Alabama and his own State of Mississippi were yet one in the principle as they had been in the territory. Their people had sent forth their sons to battle on the same fields for their rights as states. But, asked the speaker with bitter emphasis, are they states now? Yet, proceeding in an exultant tone, he declared that state sovereignty, although defeated in the late struggle, will ultimately triumph; its day of success might not come in his time, but he would live and die in the belief that it would surely triumph. He declared that no people on earth had ever suffered as much as the south-ern people since the sorrender of the southern armies, and he loved them for the fortitude with which they had borne the oppression heaped upon them. He had always been willing to give his life for his people, and now, if the Yankee power wanted his blood to atone for any action of the southern people, they could take it. On him the Government had done its worst, and for himself he did not care, but for the sake of the people whom he loved, he would forbear to express more fully the feelings of his heart. He never had asked pardon for what he had done and never would, for he felt that he had done no wrong. Mr. Davis concluded amid the applause of the crowd, which had loudly cheered the salient points of his speech. As he retired the band struck up Dixie.'"

The Belleville Intelligencer says:—Respecting the rumor that Hon. E. B. Wood, Treasurer on Ontario, intended to go over to the opposition, the Montreal Gazette's Ottawa correspondent thus refers to it in his letter of yesterday: "There are strange rumors afloat to-day in relation to the intentions of the Hon. E. B. Wood, Treasurer of Ontario, which I am inclined to hope arise simply from his extraordinary conduct on the British Columbian resolutions. It is said that he sees a prospect of bettering his position by withdrawing from the Government of the Province, and consulting the Opposition in the formation of a pure party administration. As I have said, I think the rumor is due to his conduct last week. During the debate a caucus of the Ontario supporters of the Government was held. Mr. Wood attended the caucus, and was formost in urging upon the gentlemen present the importance of standing firmly by the policy of the Government. Amendments of every kind, he urged, should be voted down. Supporters of the Government, as he had found in the recent elections, received no credit for isolated votes against them, and there was but one course to follow: namely, to give the administration manly and steady support. When night came, and the opportunity arrived to put those views into practice, every one was suprised to find that Mr. Wood voted against the Government on every amendment, and on the main motion. His votes were received with groans, and since many Ministerialists have intimated broadly that the Ontario Government would be quite as strong without the presence in it of a gentleman who meets in a party caucus in the morning to urge one course, and votes in a directly opposite sense in the evening, to this may be due the rumors to which I have referred."

A Uniform Currency.

Sir Francis Hincks' resolutions on the currency provide:—1st. That after the first day of July, 1871, the currency of Nova Scotia shall be the same as that of the remainder of Canada. 2nd. That after that date the British Soverign shall pass current at $4.84⅔ cents, and that all public accounts shall be kept in said currency. 3rd. All money paid after the 1st of July to Her Majesty or to any party under any Act or law in force in Nova Scotia, or with reference thereto, or which were intended to be, and if such alterations of the currency had not been made would have been payable in the present currency of Nova Scotia, shall on and after said day be payable respectively in equivalent sums in the currency of Canada: that is to say, 75 cents Nova Scotia currency, 73 Canada currency, &c. 4th. On and after the 1st July no Dominion note or Bank note payable in any other currency than the currency of Canada shall be issued by the Government of Canada or by any bank, all such notes issued before said date shall be called in and redeemed, or notes payable in the currency of Canada shall be substituted for them. 5th. Gold coins bearing the same proportion in weight to that of the British sovorign which five dollars bear to four dollars ($2 add 2½ per cent.) shall be a legal tender in Canada for $5, &c., and any such coins shall pass by such names as Her Majesty may assign to them in the proclamation declaring them to be a legal tender. 6th. Coins already in circulation in Canada under the acts now in force in Ontario, New Brunswick and Quebec, shall continue to be current therein, and shall, after the 1st of July, be current in Nova Scotia at the rates now assigned to them in Canada, while silver will be a legal tender to the amount of $10, and copper or bronze to the amount of 25cts. 7th. All laws inconsistent with the forgoing resolutions are repealed.

A CHEAP DISINFECTANT.—Now that the season has arrived when it becomes the duty of all our citizens to lend a hand in clearing up the alleys and streets, and removed such nuisances as have been created through the winter, it may not be inappropriate to inform our readers of the following cheap disinfectant: "one pound of green copperas dissolved in one quart of water, and pour down a sink drain, will effectually destroy the foulest smell. Pot water closets on brard ships and steamboats, about hotels and other public places there is notheng so nice to cleanse as simple green copperas—Dessolved in anything that will hold water, and place under the bed, it will render an hospital or place for the free from unpleasent smells. For butcher stalls, fish markets, slaughter houses, sinks, and wherever there are offensive putrified gasses, dissolved copperas and sprin

For the Peterboro Examiner.

March.

Once more bleak March thou 'rt come again
With thy bitter chilly blast,
And pelting winds with polar sleet,
That driveth fiercely past.

But we are well prepared to meet
Thee and I thy gloomy train:
See! how we pile the faggots high,
And thy cold breath restrain.

Foe, now the tempests angry wail,
Comes with a dismal sound;
And like Arabian sands the snow
In clouds, sweeps o'er the ground.

Wave follows wave of drifting snow
Or meets in angry fray,
And pow'rful gusts, of wintry gales
Make sable forests sway.

Dread night spreads out her mantle dark,
And aids thee in thy reign,
To 'mass the last, who wander through
Thy drifted—snow domain.

But we draw near the ruddy fire;
Some cultivate the muse,
One from the good Examiner
Reads Home and Foreign news,

The morning comes; the storm is o'er,
All nature's decked anew.
And massive snow-banks tow'ring high
Like statues, burst in view.

The hidden sun, now suddenly
Sends forth his genial beams,
Rejoicing in their glow, the earth
Like one grand diamond gleams.

On every tree and shrub, the frost
In snow-pearls glisten bright:
And O! how beautiful nature looks
All jewell'd—all in white.

The stainless snow like crystal dew,
Each flake a shining gem,
Bright silvery sprays, and snowy plum s
Form Marsh's cindem.

Enraptur'd with the view we cry,
In this respite of peace
We need not go et thee, O Rome!
Nor yet to thee, O Greece!

To see thy sculpture so renow'd,
Thy chisell'd marble rare,
Which with snow-wreaths, and frostwork light
Could not e'en once compare.

What celebrated Angelo?
Or any master hand,
Could make a tiny flake of snow
In bold relief to stand

Ah! Nature thou'rt the Architect,
Thy skill canst not impart,
To mortal one, for sculpturers,
Have all to learn the art.

Oh, March, thou hast the dark and bright,
The Lion and the Lamb.
Who would not love thy stormy days,
For the pleasure of a calm?

Thy fleecy mantle gather up,
Oh, March, and come again;
When time's sure wheel turns one mor e year,
Who lives, will greet you then.

LIZZIE B.
Otonabee.

Montreal, as the "Star" sees it:—To-morrow (Cunday)thoughtless, giddy crowds will wend their way-many just after leaving church—to the velocipede rinks, there to yell and shout and spow out blasphemies. And this in a Christian land!

LUXEMBURG'S FATE. — The London Standard of the 2nd, asserted that Germany is determined to have Luxemburg. It says:—"There is no further room for doubt as to the future of Luxemburg. The fate of the Duchy if decided; it is to be ceded to Germany. Already the local government is in negotiation with the Cabinet of the Hague regarding the financial questions attending the separation, such as the regulation of the amount of the national debt, the distribution of Crown properies, and kindred matters."

AN ABSENT-MINDED LOVER.—A few evenings ago a gentleman belonging to a down town firm doing a large business, was sitting alone in the counting-room, when his mind turned aside from the rugged track of business, and stauntered luxuriously away into the flowery walks of love. He resolved to write a letter to his "heart's idol," as he called her, and did so. But his wanderings in "the promised path of alliance" proved incapable of shutting out from his mind all the thoughts and forms of business, though it must be confessed they were somewhat indistinct. When he had written his letter, he copied it with the copying press in a book used by the firm and went home. The next morning his partner was surprised to find such a remarkable business letter (for it "meant business") in the copy-book. The story was too good to keep, and the book-keeper soon learned it, and—you know how it is yourself.

A Traveller, in Ireland passing a large handsome house questioned a laborer by the wayside: "who lives in that fine house, Pat?"—"Shure an't Squire Rooney, sir he that's dead "Indeed, whan did he die?" Pat scratched his head. If he had lived till the first of the next week he'd jus' been dead a year." "What did he die of?" "He died of a Thursday yer honnori,"—Thetraveler threw his informant a sixpence, and rode on.

A new dodge to raise a kiss.—Young men who go to see girls have adopted a novel way of obtaining kisses. They assert on the authority of scientific writers that the concussion produced by a kiss will cause the flams of the gass jets to flicker, and easily induce the girl to experiment in the interest of science. The first kiss or two the parties watch the flame to see it flicker but soon became so interested in the experiment as to let it flicker if it wants to.

BIRTHS.

On the 14th instant, at Peterborough the wife of Wm. McCamme, M. D., of a son.

MARRIED.

CLARK—McAVOY.—At Peterborough, by the Rev. J. R. W. Beck, Charles Clerk, eldest son of Mr. Edward Clerk, to Miss Mary McAvoy, daughter of Mr. John McAvoy, both of Peterborough.

PETERBOROUGH MARKETS.

	PETERBOROUGH April 20, 1871,
Flour ₱ bel	$6	25	@ $6	00
Wheat ₱ bush fall	1	00	@ 1	75
Spring Wheat ₱ bush	1	50	@ 1	3
Peas	0	75	@ 0	80
Barley "	0	60	@ 0	62
Oats "	0	50	@ 0	50
Potatoes "	0	30	@ 0	35
Hay ₱ ton	8	00	@ 10	00
Hides ₱ cwt	0	00	@ 7	00
Beef ₱ cwt	6	50	@ 7	00
Sheepskins	0	75	@ 1	25
Wool ₱ lb	0	25	@ 0	30
Pork ₱ cwt	7	00	@ 8	00
Eggs, per dozen	0	10	@ 0	10
Butter	0	18	@ 0	20
Cordwood	2	50	@ 3	00
Turkeys	0	75	@ 1	50
Geese	0	40	@ 0	50
Chickens	0	35	@ 0	45

Very Sensible

Horse dealers who are supposed to know what affects their interest, purchase 'Darley's Condition Powder and Arabian Heave Remedy by the dozen and feed it to their horse for the purpose of improving their condition which it always does—others should profit their example.—Remember the name and see that the signature of Herd and Co. is on each package. Northrop & Lyman, Newcastle Ont, proprietors for Canada. Sold by all Medicine dealers,

☞The Mints of the United States have coined since they commenced operations [some twenty years,] the large amount of eight hundred million dollar, about, one-fifth of the whole metalic currency of the world. of which amount $500,000,000 has been derived from their own mines; we are not without mines, but while we feel that they will not produce so much gold, we have the pleasure of knowing there is a sovereign remedy in the "Canadian Pain Destroyer" for sudden colds, rheumatism, neuralgia tooth ache, &c. Sold by all medicine dealers, 25 cents per bottel.

No organ of thought or action can be employed nicely or with impunity without a supply of healthy blood.—With healthy blood the exercised organs become well developed whether they be muscular or intellectual. By the use of Fellows, Comdound Syrup of Hypophosphites the blood is speedily vitalized and purified and so made capable of producing a sound mind and a sound body.

☞The efficacy of Ryan's Pulmonic wafers in curing Coughs, Colds, and all Bronchial affections, and clearing the afflicted, has passed into a proverb. In the United States, where these marvellous Wafers are known they bear down all opposition and eclipse all rivalry; the demand for them has steadily increased for the last twenty, untill now the sales average over one hundred thousand boxs a year. Eminent members of the medical profession without number admit that they know of no preparation producing such beneficial results as those wafers. When taken in season they effect a permanent cure. Sold dy all druggists and country dealers at 24 cts, per box.

'A Clergyman' writing to a friend says, 'My voyage to Europe is indefinitely postponed.—I have discovered the fountain of health on this side of the Atlantic Three bottels of the peruvian Syrup have rescued me from the fangs of the fiend Dyspepsia." Dospeptics should drink from the fountain.

FELLOWS' HYPOPHOSPHITES.

Amongst the diseases overcome by the use of
Fellows' Compound Syrup of Hypophosphites
ARE

Constipation, Asthma, Consumption, Laryngitis, Nervous Debility, Dyspepsia, Chronic Bronchitis, Chronic Diarrhœa, Melancholy.

Debility resulting from Typhoid and other low fevers, Diphtheritic, rlysteria, Hypochondria, Amenorrhœa, Chlorosis Anæmia, Leucorrhœa, Nervous Excitability, Marasmus, or wasting of the Muscles, Aphonia, or loss of Voice, Chorea or St. Vitu's Dance, Sluggishness of the Liver, Interrupted and Feeble Action of the heart, Suffocating feeling caused by mucous obstructions of the Lungs and Air passages leading thereto, and Debility from various causes, many cases of which are hopeless.

SOLD BY APOTHECARIES.
Price, $1.50; Six for $7.50.

JAME I. FELLOW, CHEMIST,
ST. JOHN, N. B
16-1871. 4mos.

☞Is your throat sore or are annoyed by a constant cough? If so use promptly "Bryan's Pulmonic Wafers," they will give you instant relief. They relieve the air passages of phlegm or mucous, and allay inflomation, and no safer remedy can be had for coughs, colds or any complaint if the throat or lungs, and if taken in time their efficacy will soon be improved.—Sold by all country dealers. Price 25 cents per box.

ONE HUNDRED DOLLARS A WORD.

For every word in the following certificate found untrue, after writing to the parties named and to the U. S. Consul, at Rio Janeiro, the sum of one hundred dollars will be paid.

Rio de Janeiro, Feb. 28th, 1868.

Messrs. Raymundo C. Leite & Bro:

Gentlemen;—While a son of my friend Mr Francisco de Mattos Pinreita [a large proprietor in the Cidad de Campos] was staying at my house he was attacked with intermittent fever. Immediately I sent for the very clever Dr. Tonoco, who is thought a good deal of in Campos, but the fever instead of diminishing, turned, continued, and typhoid, the boy (14 years old) could not speak, would not take the broths, and it required a great deal of coaxing to make him swallow the medicines. Dr. Tonoco declared that there was not the slightest hopes of saving the boy's life; that it would be advisable to write to his father and inform him of the state of his son's health. At that moment I thought of the well spoken Dr. Radway & Co's medicaments, and applied them in the following manner: One teaspoon of Relief in a tumbler of water, dividing it three doses a day; frictions with the relief pure on the chest, back and wrists; three of Radway's Pills every day, and well covered so that he might perspire. Second day, half an hour after meals, one desert-spoon of Resolvent and water. In the fourth day he was able to get up from bed to the astonishment of every one who witnessed the miracle of Dr. Radway & Co's. medicaments.

I remain, gentlemen, your very obedient servant

Joaquim Pinto Filcao, Merchant.

Dr. Radey's Remedies are sold by Druggists and County Merchants. See Dr. Radway's Almanac for 1870.

Q. T.
BUSINESS EDUCATION

BRITISH AMERICAN BUSINESS COLlege and Telegraphic Institute. The only representative in Ontario of the Bryant & Stratton International Chain of Colleges.

The Theory Department is thoroughly adapted to those who wish to lay the foundation of a sound business education.

The Practical Department is a minature business world, where each Student performs all the routine duties of office work, such as buying, selling, shipping, commission, and drawing notes, drafts and checks. A regular Bank of issue is in connection with this department with beautifully engraved bank notes, which is as perfect in its details as the most organized institution in the Country.

Thorough instruction in Telegraphy. Life Scholarship good in forty Colleges. For terms address.

ODELL & TROUT, Toronto.
September 21st, 1870.

Great Condition Powder

As a condition medicine for Horses "Darleys Condition Powders and Arabian Heave Remedy," has no equal, its effects in this respect are astonishing: many horses that were supposed to be run down and almost worthless, have by the use of a few packages been restored to a healthy and sound condition, all traces of the disease having been completely removed and have been sold for from $50 to $75 more then they would previously have brought; when you want a horse medicine get Darley's Condition Powders and Heave Remedy, we know you will be perfectly satisfied with the result. Remember the name and see that the signature of Hurd and Co. is on each package. Northrop & Lyman, Newcastle, Ont., proprietors for Canada. Sold by all medicine dealers.

FELLOWS' COMPOUND SYRUP OF HYPOPHOSPHITES is the only preparation known which gives prompt and permanent relief in diseases of the Lungs and Bronchial Tubes. It restores the secretions to their healthy condition, allays inflammation of the mucous membrane, and is the most certain remedy for Debilitates Maladies, Full directions accompany each bottle

THE GREAT FEMALE REMEDY
Job Moses' Peridocal Pills.

This invaluable medicine is unfailing in the cure of all those painful and dangerous diseases to which the female constitution is subject. It moperates all excess and removes all obstructions, and a speedy cure may be relied on.

TO MARRIED LADIES.

It is peculiarly suited. It will in a short time, bring on the monthly period with regularity.

These Pills should not be taken by Females during the FIRST THREE MONTHS of Pregnancy, as they are sure to bring on Miscarriage, but at any other time they are safe.

In all cases of Nervous and Spinal Affection, Pains in the Back and Limbs, on slight exertion, Palpitation of the Heart, Asyerrics, and Whites, the Pills will effect a cure when all other means have failed; and although a powerful remedy, do not contain iron, calomel, antimony, or anything hurtful to the constitution.

Full directions in the pamphlet around each package, which should be carefully preserved

JOB MOSES', NEW YORK, SOLE PROPRIETOR

$1.00 and 12½ cents for postage, enclosed to Northrop & Lyman, Newcastle, Ont., general agents for the Dominion, will ensure a bottle, containing over 50 pills, by return mail.

Iron ore, taken from the back hills, near the highest level of the Union Pacific Railway, has been smelted at Omaha and found of excellent quality, yielding 80 per cent, of superior metal Three hills of the ore lie near the railroad.

CANADIAN PAIN DESTROYER.

A Family Medicine, well and favorably known for the past ten years, never failing in a single instance to give permanent relief when timely used, and we have never known a single case of dissatisfaction where the directions have been properly followed, but on the contrary all are delighted with its operations, and speak in the highest terms of its Virtues and Magical effects.

THE CANADIAN PAIN DESTROYER has won for itself a reputation, as a blood purifier alternative stomach tonic, unsurpassed in the history of medical preparations. It seldom fails to cure Dyspepsia, Liver Complaints, Indigestion, Heartburn, Sick Headache, Kidney Complaints, Acid Stomach Phathisic or Asthma, and restores to vital activity the system debilitated by suffering and disease.

Its magical and wonderful success in curing sudden colds, sore throat, coughs, Diptheria, pains in the side, loins and back, neuralgia, toothache, rheumatic and other pains in any part of the body and from whatever cause, has given it a place in every household and is last superseding all other preparations of the kind.

It is also an effectual and prompt remedy for scalds, burns, bruises, sprains, chilblains, cholera morbus, billious cholic, cholera infantum., dysentery, &c.

Price only tbenty-five cents per bottle.

NORTHROP & LYMAN.
Newcastle, C. W.
General Agents for Canada.

Sold in Peterborough by Dr. Taylor, A. W. Kempt, Wm. Coulter and Ormond & Walsh. In Keene by A. Campbell, Campbell McNeil & Co., C. Britton, Lindsay, and all Medicine Dealers.

Wife to husband:—Charles, I wish when you are in the village to-day that you would step into the Druggist's and buy a bottle of the Pain Killer. Be sure and get the genuine made by "Perry Davis & Son."

Husband:—What on earth do you intend doing with the PAIN KILLER, my dear?

Wife:—Freddy caught severe cold last night can hardly speak, he is so hoarse and George has had the toothache since yesturday morning and yourself with Rheumatism. If what every body says can be believed, the PAIN KILLER will cure these complaints and such a house as this is we are always in trouble, and it would be a perfect God-send if we coulu find something to ease our lesser afflictions.

Husband:—Well, Mary, anything for a quiet home we will try the PAIN-KILLER.

(To be continued.)

☞The PAIN-KILLER is an internal and external remedy for pain. For internal pain, Cramps Spasms, sudden Cold and Bowel difficulties, a few drops in water will give immediate relief. As a liniment it is without an equal; it stops pain almost instantly. Be sure and get the genuine made by Perry Davis & Son and sold by all Druggists and Grocers.

HAVE YOU TRIED IT?—If not don't delay another moment, but get a bottle of the "Canadian Pain Destroyer." It is far ahead of any other medicine and was never known to fail. All aches and pains are immediately and permanently removed by it and the price places it within the reach of all. Sold by all medicine Dealers.

PIANOS, MELODEONS, ORGANS

D. PENTLAND,

Is now Agent for A. & S. Norheimer for the sale of the following celebrated Pianos:—

Chickering & Sons'; Sieliway & Sons'; Dunham & Son's; Haines Brothers'; Ernest Gabler; and J. W. Voss's.

Also, for the world-wide Celebrated Organs and Melodeons—Geo. A. Prince & Co., Buffalo; Mason & Hamlin's, Boston.

Instruction Books for Piano & Organ, Sheet Music, &c. always on hand.

REFERENCES.—Mr. F Bell, Organist, St. John's Church, eterboro; Mr. D. D Galbolly, Chorister, Canada Presbyterian Church, Peterboro; Mr. J. L. Davidson, Precentor, St Andrew's Church, Peterboro; Dr. Taylor, Peterboro.

Peterboro, April 5th, 1871. 14

NOTICE.

The first sitting of the
COURT OF REVISION
For the united Townships of Galway and Cavendish, will be held at the Union School House, No. 2, on

Saturday, 13th Day of May, 1871

At 10 o'clock, a. m. Of which all interested will govern themselves accordingly.

C. IRWIN,
Township Clerk.

Galway, April 3rd, 1871. 15-td.

NOTICE.

Municipality of Burleigh.

The Court of Revision

For the Townships of Burleigh, Anstruther, Chandos, Cardiff and Monmouth, will hold its first sitting at Eastland's, Apsley, on

FRIDAY, 5th DAY of MAY,

Commencing at 10 o'clock, a. m.

HENRY EASTLAND,
Township Clerk.

Apsley, 3rd April, 1971. 15-td.

BOARD AND LODGING.

MRS. DAVISS Boarding House has reopened on Simcoe street, where good board and lodging can be furnished for gentlemen.

T. W. DAVIS.
June 29, 1870. 26-1y

To Lumbemen!

The undersigned has for sale—

50 Barrels of Prime Mess Pork.
100 Bushels White Beans.
6000 " Oats.
1000 " Peas.

D. SUTHERLAND.
Ashburnham, Feb. 22nd, 1871. 8-4ins.

CHANGE OF BUSINESS

New Foundry Firm.

The Subscriber in retiring from the Foundry Business in which he has been engaged for the past 15 years, begs to return thanks to his friends and the public in general, for the liberal patronage conferred upon him, at the same time he would beg to state that the business in future will be carried on by his BROTHER JAMES and JAMES R. DAVIS, under the firm of Whyte & Davis. Mr. Davis is well known as a First Class Machinist and Millwright, therefore I have every confidence in recommending the New Firm to the public, feeling assured that all orders entrusted to them will be executed in the most satisfactory manner, and with dispatch.

JOHN WHYTE.

Peterborough, April 1st, 1871.

N. B.—Parties having Notes and Accounts to settle, will please bear in mind that the Books of account and Notes will be at my Woolen Mill, West of Whyte & Hamilton's Foundries.—J. W.

The Subscribers having Commenced Business in the Old Stand of John Whyte, Esq., as (Founders, Machinists and Agricultural Implement Manufacturers,) beg to say that they keep on hand all kinds of

AGRICULTURAL IMPLEMENTS,

SUCH AS

STEEL, COMMON, AND GANG PLOWS, HARROWS, ROOT CUTTERS, CULTIVATORS, HORSE HOES, GARDEN AND FIELD ROLLERS, HAY AND STRAW CUTTERS, with almos every Implement used on the Farm.

General Repairing of Reapers, Mowers, Threshing Machines and Implements of Husbandry on the Shortest Notice.

Parties about purchasing any of the above Implements will do well to call and inspect our Stock on hand, before making a purchase elsewhere.

WHYTE & DAVIS.
Peterborough, April 1st, 1871. 15-tf.

NOW IS THE TIME!

TO GET

CHEAP ROOM PAPER,

BOOKS, STATIONERY, &c.,

At A. B. KIDD'S BOOKSTORE,

AS THERE IS BEING A

GENERAL TURNING UP SIDE DOWN!

OF EVERYTHING IN HIS ESTABLISHMENT, OWING TO

An Enlargement and Re-fitting of Premises.

SPECIAL ATTENTION IS INVITED TO HIS

NEW STOCK OF GOLD ROOM PAPER AND BORDERINGS.

Just received direct from England. He will sell these papers less, by 25 per cent, than they can be bought in Toronto.

Peterborough, April 5th, 1871. 14

ABSTRACT

FROM THE YEARLY STATEMENT OF

RECEIPTS AND EXPENDITURE,

OF THE

PETERBOROUGH UNION GRAMMAR & COMMON SCHOOLS,

FOR THE YEAR 1870.

RECEIPTS.		EXPENDITURE
Balance cash on hand from 1869	$ 244.34	Salaries—Teachers	$4623.16
Grants—Grammar School	$1512	Others	326.66 $4949.82
Common School	276 1788	General Expenses	138.54
Town Assessment (on account)	1000	Discounts	63.87
School fees	1294.72	Firewood	150.50
New School, Building (from debentures	4705.25	Printing and Stationery	52.47
Balance from notes discounted	200	Repairs	474
		Insurance	95
		New School, Building (on acct.)	2580
		Balance cash in hands	732.11
	$9233.31		$9233.31

We have examined the above abstract, and compared the same with the yearly Statement in detail of the Receipts and Expenditure, for the year 1870, and find it correct.

JOHN J. HALL, } Auditors.
J. A. HALL. }

Peterborough, April 12th, 1881.

DAILY LINE TO ROCHESTER.

The Superb new Lake Upper Stare Cabin Steamer.

NORSEMAN,

Carrying United States and Canadian Mails and Express

Leaves Port Hope every Morning

FOR ROCHESTER

At 9 o'clock on arrival of Grand Trunk Railway Trains from East and West,

RETURNING,

Leaves Port of Rochester (Charlotte) every evening at 9 o'clock (except Saturday), when she leaves at two P. M., for Brighton.)

This is the favourite summer route from Toronto to Rochester, Albany, &c. The cheapest and quickest route from points East of Port Hope on the Grand Trunk, to Rochester Buffalo, &c. The favourite route to Avon and Clifton Springs, &c.

Passengers and freight take cars along-side steamer at Rochester Landing.

Connection made at Cobourg ask Port Hope with Royal Mail Line Steamers from Hamilton and Montreal.

Address R. C. CARTER,
15 PORT HOPE, ONT.

MARQUIS OF LORNE

Tweed Suits,

MADE UP IN

FIRST CLASS STYLE,

AT

W. Fairweather & Co's

Only $12.50.

Peterboro, April 5th, 1870. 14

CANADIAN BANK OF COMMERCE

THE Canadian Bank of Commerce have opened a

Saving's Bank Department

in Peterborough. Interest allowed on all sums over $1. 00.

J. A. HALL
Manager

A CARD

E. BAKEWELL having made an engagement with Mr. Bradburn, may be found, by his former Patrons and Customers, at the store lately occupied by M. Moloney, where he hopes by his usual attention to business, and with increased facilities for giving satisfaction, still to merit and receive their patronage.

E. BAKEWELL.
Peterboro, Dec. 19, 1870. 51-tf.

1871 Annual Announcement 1871

(ESTABLISHED 1856.)

SEEDS!

Fresh, Good, and True,

The subscriber has received his supply of

FIELD,
FLOWER, and
GARDEN SEEDS.

Both of Home and Imported Stock.

WARRANTED GENUINE

FARMERS AND MARKET GARDENERS are respectfully invited to call and inspect for themselves.

COUNTRY MERCHANTS, supplied, as usual with boxes on Commission, or for Cash.

'Honesty' is our motto, both in charactar of seed, and in price.

WM. H. TAYLOR, M. D

At the old Stand, Corner of George and Hunter Streets, Peterborough, Ont. 16-tf

Pianos and Melodeons.

Messrs. R. S. Williams & Co.

TORONTO,

Beg to inform their friends and customers that MR. D. PENTLAND is no longer Agent for the sale of their Instruments. In the meantime,

Mr, F. T. LUMSDEN of Warsaw.

AND

Mr. R. W. Erritt, Peterboro.

Will take orders for them and supply Pianos, Melodeons and Organs at the Lowest Price and Easy Terms.

PIANOS, MELODEONS, & ORGANS TO RENT.

Address orders or enquiries to F. T. Lumsden, Warsaw P. O., or R. W. Erritt, Peterboro.

R. S. WILLIAMS & Co.
Toronto, March 28th, 1871. 13-4in

Farm for Sale.

The undersigned offers for sale his Farm in the

TOWNSHIP OF SMITH

Consisting of Lot 26, in the 11th Concession, and the North Half of 26, in the 10 Concession, and

Containing 300 Acres,

Lot 26 in the 11th Concession is improved, 100 Acres of it being cleared. The remaining 200 Acres are good wood lands. The property is about Ten Miles from Peterboro, and five from the Village of Lakefield. There is a good Frame Barn, with a stone foundation under it: besides Stables, Sheds under the barn: Two Good Wells, and Two Healthy Orchards bearing good fruit: There is a good Log Dwelling on the property, and it is within half a mile of a Post office, Two Churches and a Good School. It will be sold in whole or in part to suit purchasers.

Terms made known by applying to the proprietor,

RICHARD FREEBORN,
Salwyn P. O.
Smith, March 22, 1871. 12

ASHBURNHAM

New Carriage, Waggon And Black-Smith Shop.

The undersigned begs to announce to the people of Ashburnham, and surrounding Country, that he has commenced a new Carriage, Waggon and Blacksmithing Shop, on Lake Street, opposite the residence of R. D. Rogers, Esq., where he will be prepared to do all sorts of work in the above line.

Reparing Promply Attended to

A first-class Black-smith will be always ready and willing to attend to Jobbing and horse-shoeing.

The patronage of the public is respectfully solicited.

A. WALLER
Ashburnham, March, 1871. 11-

$765,000

In Cash Gifts to be Distributed by the New York Cash Prize Co.

EVERY TICKET DRAWS A PRIZE

5 Cash Gifts each,	$40.000	50 Cash Gifts, each,	$1.000
10 " "	20.000	200 " "	500
20 " "	5.000	350 " "	100
50 Elegant Rosewood Pianos. — each			$200 to	$700
75 " Melodeons "			75 to	100
300 Sewing Machines — "			60 to	175
500 Gold Watches — "			75 to	200
Cash Prizes, Silver Ware, etc., valued at			$1.000.000

A change to draw any of the above Prizes for 25c. Tickets describing Prizes are sealed in Envelopes and well mixed. On receipt of 25c. a Sealed Ticket is drawn without choice and sent by mail to any address. The prize named upon it will be delivered to the ticket-holder on payment of One Dollar. Prizes are immediately sent to any address by express or returned mail.

You will know what your prizes is before you pay for it. "Any Prize exchanged for another of the same value." No blanks. Our patrons can depend on fair dealing.

REFERENCES:—The following lately drew Valuable Prizes and kindly permit us to publish them:—Andrew J. Burns, Chicago, $10,000; Jas. W. Matthews, Detroit, $5,000, John T. Anderson, Savannah, $5,000; James Simmons, Boston, $10 000.

PRESS OPINION:—"The firm is reliable."—"Weekly Trimbune, Dec 28." "Deserve their success."—N. Y. Herald, Jan. 1. "Just and Honorable."—News. Dec, 9,

Send for circular. Liberal inducements to Agents. Satisfaction guratteed. Every package of 200 Sealed. Envelopes contains one CASH GIFT. Seven tickts for $1; 17 for $2, 50 for $5; 200 for $15. Address

C. B. HARRIS & Co.,
Managers,
62 Broadway, N. Y
Peterborough March 16th, 1871. 10-tf.

NOTICE!

THE next meeting of the Board of Instruction for the Eastern Circuit of the County of Peterborough, for the examination of Teachers, will be held in the

SCHOOL HOUSE

NORWOOD,

On Thursday, 1st June 1871,

AT TEN O CLOCK, A. M.

N.B.—Candidates are not eligible to be admitted to examination until they shall have furnished the examiners with satisfactory evidence of their strictly temperate habits, and good moral character.

By order,

W. E. ROXBURGH,
Secretary.
Norwood, Aug. 31, 1870. 25

THE CANADIAN

BANK OF COMMERCE

CORNER OF

Hunter and Water Streets, Peterboro'

☞ Interest allowed on Deposits.

J. A. HALL, Manager
Peterboro, July 27, 1870. 30

Boarders Wanted.

A FEW Gentlemen can be comfortably accommodate with Board and Lodging, at

MRS. C. GRAHAM'S,
On Simcoe street, opposite Mr. Stevenson's.
November 1, 1870 45

Flax! Flax!!

Farmers intending to grow flax will please apply for their seed early. Seed supplied and payment taken in flax by calling on

SAMUEL TAYLOR
or H. CALCUTT.

I would beg to call the attention of farmer that I have a machine for pulling Flax, which will pull 4 acres a day. I will let the machine and send a man with it for $2 per day. By the assistance of the puller, Flax is the cheapest crop harvested. For information I would refer you to—Jonathan Stephenson, Smith; W. Milburn, Smith; J. Parnell, Smith; A. Scott Smith; I. Beck Otonabee; W. Rutherford Otonabee.

SAMUEL TAYLOR,
Flax Mill,
Ashburnham
Ashburnham, March, 1871. 11-2mos

FERGUSON & ELDER'S

New Dress Goods.
New Prints.
New Parasols.

1871. SPRING 1871.

To the Ladies.

New Millinery, New Millinery,

We open our Show Room on

Saturday, the 15th of April, 1871,

with a full Stock of Trimmed Hats and Bonnets, Silk and fancy Mantles, Flowers, Plumes Ribbons, Trimmings, &c. Just see our New Millinery before buying, and oblige,

Yours Respectfully.
FERGUSON & ELDER.

Carpet Ware House.

The Subscribers have opened in connection with their business, a Carpet Ware Room, where they have now in Stock a Choice Supply of BRUSSELS, TAPESTRY, ALL WOOL, AND OTHER CARPETS; Floor Oil Cloths, Crumb Cloths, Door Mats, Window Curtains and Furnishings, All of which they offer for sale at City Prices.

Their Tapestry Carpets, which are very beautiful, are Private Patterns, made for a New York Establishment, and they cannot be bought in any House here.

CLUXTON, HENDERSON & CLUXTON.
April 13, 1871. 17-

GIVING UP BUSINESS.

The Subscriber having sold his stock in trade to

MESSRS. McKEE & DAVIDSON,

And being about to retire from business, begs to return his sincere thanks to his numerous friends for their liberal patronage during the last Ten Years. He would also respectfully solicit the Continuance of the same for his successors, who will, no doubt, treat their customers honorably, and be prepared to supply them with every article in their line at moderate prices.

R. HAMILTON.
Peterboro, March 29, 1871

In reference to the above, we beg to announce to the public generally that we have purchased Mr R. HAMILTON'S entire

Stock of Hardware,

And will carry on the business in all its branches in his old stand, at the "Sign of the Circular Saw" George Street. We are also receiving large additions of New Goods, comprising

Shelf and Heavy Hardware. Paints, Oils, Glass,

Agricultural Implements, &c.

We are prepared to deal with customers on liberal terms. An Inspection of our stock is respectfully solicited.

McKEE & DAVIDSON.
Peterboro, March 30th, 1871.

NOTICE.

The subscriber would remind those indebted to him, that all Accounts and Notes must be paid forthwith, otherwise they will be placed in Court for collection.

R. HAMILTON.

OFFICE.—At his residence, opposite W. A. Scott's Warehouse—Shed on the Square.

NOTICE.

NOTICE is hereby given that application will be made by the Corporation of the Town of Bowmanville, to the Legislature of the Province of Ontario, at its next Session, for an Act authorizing the construction of a Railway from the waters of Lake Ontario in the Town of Bowmanville, in the County of Durham through some parts of the Townships of Darlington, Clarke Cartwright and Manvers in the said County of Durham, and the Town of Lindsay and Townships of Ops, Emily Fenelon and Verulam, to the Village of Bobcaygeon in the County of Victoria, thence to the Government lands, and lands of the English Land Company in the counties of Victoria and Peterboro, and to amalgamate or make running arrangements with other Railways.

F. CURTIS,
Mayor.

R. WINDATT,
Town Clerk.

Bowmanville, March 22nd, 1871. 13-6ins

Dissolution of Partnership.

Notice is hereby given that the Partnership heretofore subsisting between us, as Pump &c., Manufacturers, at the Town of Peterboro, has been this day dissolved by mutual consent. All parties indebted to the said firm are requested to settle with the undersigned, Henry Owen, by whom all liabilities will be

OWEN & CO.

Peterboro, Dec. 5, 1870.

With reference to the above, we beg to announce to the public that the business will be continued at the old place, and trusts by strict attention to orders entrusted to us, to merit a continuance of the generous patronage bestowed on the late firm.

Peterboro, Dec. 5, 1870.

Select Poetry.

Suppose.

BY THEAE GAST.

Supp ose, my little lady,
Your doll should break her head,
Could you make it whole by crying
Till your eyes and nose were red?
And would it not be pleasanter
To treat it as a joke,
And say you're glad "Twas Dolly's,
And not your head that broke?"

Suppose you're doomed for walking,
And the rain comes pouring down,
Will it clear off any sooner
Because you scold and frown?
And wouldn't it be nicer
For you to smile than pout,
And so make sunshine in the house
When there is none without?

Suppose your task, my little man,
Is very hard to get,
Will it make it any easier
For you to storm and fret?
And wouldn't it be wiser
Than wailing like a dunce,
To go to work in earnest,
And learn the thing at once?

Suppose that some boys have a horse,
And some a coach and pair,
Will it tire you less while walking
To say, "It isn't fair?"
And wouldn't it be nobler
To keep your temper sweet,
And in your heart be thankful
You can walk upon your feet?

And suppose the world don't please you,
Nor the way some people do,
Do you think the whole creation
Will be altered just for you?
And isn't it my boy or girl,
The wisest, bravest plan,
Whatever comes or doesn't come,
To do the best you can?

A St. Louis lover recently called his girl a "sweet fawn," and the next day the simple-minded lass discovered in one of her old school books, that faun was the name given to the Roman deities, which were guardians of the wood; that their form was mostly like the human body, but they had a short goat's tail and long horns. The next interview with that couple was short and stormy.

A "patriarch" recently walked to the polls in North Carolina with seventeen of his sons. He claims twenty-four children of his own most of them were born twins.

Canada is the forth maritime power in the world and, according to the "Year Book for 1870," has 7,591 ships with a tonage of 809,090 tons. She stands ahead of nation except Great Britain, United States, and France.

A Wisconsin farmer, wishing to dispose of his acres thus concludes an advertisement: "The surrounding country is the most beautiful the God of Nature ever made. The scenery is celestial divine; also two waggons to sell and a yoke of steers."

A foolish old bachelor says: "Young men keep clear of calico if you want to do anything great. Calico is a beneful institution. A pair of sweet lips, a slim waist and the pressure of a delicate hand will do as much to wshing a man as the measles and the doctor's bill to boot."

A mathematical friend is bothering his head over the following problem: If four dogs with 10 legs can catch 80 rabbits with 37, in 14 minutes how many legs must the same rabbits have to get away from eight dogs with 32 legs in 17½ minutes allowing 365 days in the year.

You have lost your baby, said one gentleman to another. Yes poor little thing it was only five months old. We did all we could for it. We had four doctors blistered its head and feet put mustard poultices all over it, gave it nine calomel powder, leached its temple had it bled and gave it all kinds of medicine, and yet after a week's illness it died.

A Traveller, in Ireland pa sing a large handsome house questioned a laborer by the wayside: "who lives in that fine house, Pat?"—"Shure an't Squire Rooney, sir bu that's dead "Indeed, when did he die?" Pat scratched his head. If he had lived till the first of the next week he'd just been dead a year." "What did he die of?" "He died of a Thursday yer honnori,"—The traveler threw his informant a sixpence, and rode on.

The little bootblack.—Our little bootblack had on home at all, only the steps of an old house to sleep under at night. Do you wonder that he talked bad grammer and even swore now and then? Almost the only useful thing he had ever learned was "shine your boots sir? Shine your boots One night as he was about to go to bed not a nice clean bed but his queer lodging place—he heard a voice in the old house singing; "I want to be an angles," etc.—Some poor little girl had learned it at a mission-school. Heighy! wath's up?—Getting pious in this house, I reckon" said he and went to sleep with the sweet song ringing in his ears, and all night it sounded through his dreams so that he saw shiney wings and beautiful faces: and all sorts of bright things got mixed up with Hessian boots and bread. "That's a real purty song said he in the morning ,and waited for the little girl and went with her to the school, and became a very bright scholar and a good boy, and found a home with a good man, who kept him until he grew up and became a teacher in the school. 'So you see, dear children, what a little song could do, with God's blessing.—"Young people's Helper.

The Utterly Disengaged Bachelor.—He is generally under five-and twenty, for we do not allude to old bachelors. He dresses well, but not anxiously. It does not so much matter to him if his gloves are not buttoned, or the parting of his back hair is not quite straight. His whole manner is that of a man who owns himself, who has no one to think of when he does anything, or say, anything. He consorts with gay fellows who smokes a great deal and he smokes a great deal himself. He doesn't mind owning to have been out very late last night and being unable to find his latch key when he reached home. He changes his boarding house frequently and is generally ahead of his salary. He laughs at engaged fellows, pities married ones.—He is offended in his manner, and pays great attention in a jolly sort of way to the last new pretty girl. patronizes the burlesque opera, and goes along with bouquets to fling at the most fascinating performer.—Even there he is fickle; and the nymph with black hair, who is his idol one night is quite forgotten the next, for the blonde in blue and silver. On the whole he is extremely happy—has brighter eyes, fresher lips, and nicer hair than any other of man you meet, and seems to have "disengaged" and "not in love written in every dimple.

To Remove Fat and Oil Spots.

Mix calcined magnesia or carbonate of magnesia with water to a paste, and place it on the spot with a brush. Let it dry in a warm place, and remove the dried mass carefully with a knife and dry, clean brush. If necessary, repeat the operation till the spot has disappeared. The use of a hot iron on the dried mass hastens the operation; but it is dangerous, as it colors the fat spots brown; small qualities of paper.

The use of benzole-magnesia is still more active. Take fresh calcined magnesia, free from moisture, and add pure benzole, so that it is just moist—not sufficiently wet to flow like a thin paste, but a rather granular mass which, by pressure, will show some liquid benzole. Keep it in a wide-mouthed bottle ready for use. This is first rubbed over the oil-spot, which, when fresh, will at once disappear; if old, a new quantity is pressed on the spot, and left to dry till the benzole is evaporated, when the magnesia is cleared away as above. Material which can bear moisture may then be cleaned with water. Delicate material, like silk, is cleaned with alcohol or ether.

With this benzole-magnesia fat-spots may be removed from all kinds of wood, ivory, and other delicate material, so that they look like new. Paper and parchment may be cleaned in this way so completely that no trace of spots remains. If applied to painted books, the removal of the fat in the printing-ink causes the letters to become somewhat paler. From all smooth textures like silk, the fat may be removed in this way quite easily; woolen fabric, however, retain the pulverized magnesia very tenaciously, so that the greasy spots become changed into a whitish one.

Stone floors, particularly the brown sandstone very common in New York, and of which, for instance, the stairs and part of floors in the Cooper Institute are constructed absorb fat very rapidly, and it leaves unsightly spots. We have ourselves removed spots from these floors with a paste of soda and quick lime, which was allowed to remain on spots till dry, and then washed off. It accomplishes the object perfectly. Another way to make the unsightly oil-spots invisible is to oil the whole floor, whether it be of stone or wood. This is done in the Cooper Institute: New York; when the grease-spots on the broad stone stairs became too numerous, they were saturated with boiled linseed-oil. It changed their appearance totally, and took an enormous quantity of oil, but made past and future oil-spots invisible.

ENGLAND'S GUARANTEE—The Post acknowledges that it is unfortunately too true that what is termed international morality is at a discount. Within some half dozen years the doctrine that might is right has come to be generally accepted and in every instance violence has been successful. Nothing could have been more unjustifiable than the invasion of the Elbe Duchies, and yet they were torn from Denmark; nothing more inexcusable than occupation of Hanover, the invasion of Saxony, and the expulsion of of Austria from the Germanic Bund. Within the past few months Napoleon III. assumed the aggressive against Prussia, but there is some color for Lord Malmesbury's suggestion that the ex-Emperor of the French simply intended coup d'etat, by which he sought to anticipate the certain invasion of France. That war has now been consumated under conditions the hardest that any civilized State, ever imposed upon another. The prospect is anything but encouraging; and when we take into consideration the great attitude of Russia and the closeness of the relations betwen that Power and Prussia, and when we recollect the manifold guarantees to which we are parties, it is impossible to avoid thinking that it might perhaps have been just as well if we had not quite so many irons in the fire. Without for one moment suggesting the England would count for less now in a Continental war than she did half a century ago, it would be idle to effect that our numerous guarantee afford no grounds for anxiety.

SWEARING.—We are not about to consider swearing as one of the Fine Arts though a good deal might be said about it in that aspect. We merely remark how diligently and how faithfully it is cultivated by a very large number of what are called respectable people in Canada and in the States; and we venture to say that if it is a mark of advancing culture, civilization and refinement, the Anglo-Saxons of America bid fair to occupy the very vanguard of modern society. Some years ago a worthy, though somewhat innocent man, returned to his country home after visiting as a juryman a country town on the borders of Lake Huron. The burden of his report to his neighbors and friends was simply—"Everybody swears! The merchant swears! The doctors swear! The law-wairs swear! The very judge on the bench swears!" We are not aware if that town is exceptionally advanced in this branch of social refinement. We rather think not. At any rate there are other places in Canada which would push it very hard for the palm, and apparently the capital, at least when the parliament is sitting, would run it close.—Globe.

An ancient freedman, who rejoices in the name of George Washington, and has his residence in Galveston, was engaged a few days since in digging a well on his premises. After digging for about three feet, George unearthed an old cutlass which time and rust had almost destroyed, and proceeding a a short distance, turned up up with his spade a handful of spanish coins, some of which bear the date of the eighteenth century. This treasure is supposed to be a potion of that buried by Lafitte when he occupied Galveston Island, but the exact amount cannot be ascertained, as the freedman who made the discovery is very reticent on the subject.

A correspondent of the "Scientific American" refutes the statement that no one has ever witnessed a case of spontaneous combustion in the human body, as he was himself with several others an eye witness to a case of the kind. The person who was the victim was a hard drinker, and was sitting by the fire surrounded by Christmas guests when suddenly flames of a blue tint gushed from his mouth and nostrils, and he was soon a corpse. The body, it is asserted, remained extremely warm for a much longer period than usual.

Here is a mathematical problem which is distracting Rochester cipherers: "If one hundred yards of cord be wound in a single coil upon an upright post an inch in diameter, what time will it take a man to unwind it, he holding one end in his hand and travelling in a circle whose radious is the unwound, supposing he walks four miles an hour; and and what is the length of the ground walked over?"

Here is a conundrum for the consideration of the next teacher's institute: "The verb 'is' being singular and 'are' its plural, does it follow that Arabella is the plural of Isabella, and must the latter necessarily be as singular in disposition as in number; and if so, must Arabella always be a married woman, Isabella being single?"

A Springfield (Mass) mother left her little boy at home to amuse himself with matches, and; when she returned, met him in the street crying. He said he had only a little fire in the bureau drawer, and a lot of red shirted men came with a big tea kettle and squirted water all over the house. They saved the cellar door.

The Kentucky legislature refused the request of that lady who wished to be permitted to get up a lottery to enable her to procure medical skill in her effort to save her failing eyesight. A request from Gen. F. Kirby Smith, for a similar privilege was granted.

It is estimated that the whole amount of gold sold in the world at the present time is worth about $5,960,000,000.

EXTENSIVE

ALTERATIONS

AND

Enlargement of Premises.

W. FAIRWEATHER &CO

Preparatory to making Extensive Alterations and Enlargement of their present premises

Will sell off at a Great Sacrifice

THE WHOLE OF THEIR

Large and Valuable Stock

AT COST AND UNDER COST,

In order to allow the Tradesmen, early in April, full scope for their work and to

Prevent the Goods being Damaged by Lime Dust,

GREAT INDUCEMENTS WILL BE GIVEN

READY CASH BUYERS.

Goods will be Sold

AT PRICES NEVER BEFORE ATTEMPTED IN THE SALE OF FIRST CLASS GOODS

The Stock is well known to be all of Superior Quality.

Cash Buyers are invited to inspect the Goods and Prices, bearing in mind that no fault will be found if they do not buy.

REMEMBER

W. FAIRWEATHER & CO'S

CHEAP SALE FOR READY CASH.

March, 1818. 11.

NEW SADDLERY!

The Subscriber wishes to inform his friends—old and new—that he has re-commenced the

Saddlery and Harness Business,

In the Shop next to the Toronto Bank,

Lately occupied by the Telegraph and Express Companies, opposite to Messrs. Nicholls & Halls, Simcoe Street,

Where he will at all times keep on hand or have made to order by first class workmen, everything usually kept in first class establishments, such as

GENTS' SADDLES, LADIES' DO,

Harness, Single and Double, Coarse, Heavy and Fine,

TRAVELLING BAGS, TRUNKS, SATCHELLS,

WHIPS, MATS, HORSE CLOTHING, &c.

Grateful for past favors in his various lines of business during the last 20 years, he asks his friends to inspect his stock before purchasing elsewhere.

Peterboro, May 18, 1870. 20 D. HOPKINS.

CHEAP SALES!

CONTINUED AT THE

MONTREAL HOUSE!

A. W. LASHER & CO

Have removed to the Montreal House, where they will dispose of the

The Balance of their Winter Stock!

CONSISTING OF

DRY GOODS, GROCERIES, BOOTS & SHOES

AT OR NEAR COST.

Special Bargains in Teas,

FOR THE NEXT TWO MONTHS.

Peterboro, Feb. 2, 1871. 5

NEW

Fall and Winter Goods!

T. BRADBURN,

Having succeeded in disposing of the greater portion of his former stock, and having since purchased heavily in Montreal and Toronto Markets, at the Lowest possible prices, is now showing and invites inspection of the following lines of new Fall and Winter Goods;

CLOTHS:

A complete stock of English and Canadian Cloths and Tweeds.

DRESS GOODS:

New Wool Serges, New Wool Tartans, New French Reps, New French Merinoes, New Wincies, New Black Lustres, (Double Warp)
New Tartan Poplins, New Figured Poplins, New Figured Reps, New French Delaines, New Crape Cloths, New Velvets and New Velveteens

HOSIERY,

In great variety, English, Scotch and Canadian.

FLANNELS,

A full assortment of Welsh, Lancashire, Saxony, and Canadian Manufacture Also, Salisbury and Fancy Flannel Shirting very Cheap.

Prints, Linens and Towellings.

JUST OPENED,

A New and Select Stock of Gents' Collars, Ties, Scarfs and Gloves.

GLOVES, CORSETS and SKIRTS.

Those about to purchase FURS would do well to retain their orders, as a large lot will be opened in due time, and will be SOLD CHEAP.

T. BRADBURN.

Peterboro, Oct. 11, 1870. 41

Ayer's Cathartic Pills,

For all the purposes of a Laxative Medicine.

Perhaps no one medicine is so universally required by everybody as a cathartic, nor was ever any before so universally believed safe to be taken into use, or every neighborhood among all classes, as this mild but efficient purgative Pill. The obvious reason is, that it is a more reliable and far more effectual remedy than any other. Those who have tried it, know that it cured them; those who have not, know that it cures their neighbors and friends, and all know that what it does once it does always—that it never fails through any fault or neglect of its compositions. We have thousands upon thousands of certificates of their remarkable cures of the following complaints, but such cures are known in every neighborhood, and we need not publish them. Adapted to all ages and conditions in all climates; containing neither calomel or any deleterious drug, they may be taken with safety by anybody. Their sugar coating preserves them ever fresh and makes them pleasant to take, while being purely vegetable no harm can arise from their use in any quantity.

They operate by their powerful influence on the internal viscera to purify the blood and stimulate it into healthy action—remove the obstructions of the stomach, bowels, liver, and other organs of the body, restoring their irregular action to health, and by correcting, wherever they exist, such derangements as are the first origin of disease.

Minute directions are given in the wrapper on the box, for the following complaints, which these Pills rapidly cure:—

For Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Listlessness, Languor and Loss of Appetite, they should be taken moderately to stimulate the stomach and restore its healthy tone and action.

For Liver Complaint and its various symptoms, Bilious Headache, Sick Headache, Jaundice or Green Sickness, Bilious Colic and Bilious Fevers, they should be judiciously taken for each case, to correct the diseased action or remove the obstructions which cause it.

For Dysentery or Diarrhœa, but one mild dose is generally required.

For Rheumatism, Gout, Gravel, Palpitation of the Heart, Pain in the side, Back and Loins, they should be continuously taken, as required, to change the diseased action of the system. With such change those complaints disappear.

For Dropsy and Dropsical Swellings, they should be taken in large and frequent doses to produce the effect of a drastic purge.

For Suppression a large dose should be taken as it produces the desired effect promptly.

As a Dinner Pill, take one or two Pills to promote digestion and relieve the stomach.

An occasional dose stimulates the stomach and bowels into healthy action, restores the appetite, and invigorates the system. Hence it is often advantageous where no serious derangement exists. One who feels tolerably well, often finds that a dose of these Pills makes him feel decidedly better, from their cleansing and renovating effect on the digestive apparatus.

DR. J. C. AYER & CO., Practical Chemists, LOWELL, MASS., U. S. A.

NORTHROP & LYMAN.

Newcastle.

General Agents for Ontario.

Cherry Pectoral,

For Diseases of the Throat and Lungs, such as Coughs, Colds, Whooping Cough, Bronchitis, Asthma, and Consumption.

Probably never before in the whole history of medicine, has anything won so widely and so deeply upon the confidence of mankind, as this excellent remedy for pulmonary complaints. Through a long series of years, and among most of the races of men it has risen higher and higher in their estimation, as it has become better known. Its uniform character and power to cure the various affections of the lungs and throat, have made it known as a reliable protector against them. While adapted to milder forms of disease and to young children, it is at the same time the most effectual remedy that can be given for incipient consumption, and the dangerous affections of the throat and lungs. As a provision against sudden attacks of Croup, it should be kept on hand in every family, and indeed as all are sometimes subject to colds and coughs, all should be provided with this antidote for them.

Although settled Consumption is thought incurable, still great numbers of cases where the disease seemed settled, have been completely cured, and the patient restored to sound health by the Cherry Pectoral. So complete is its mastery over the disorders of the Lungs and Throat, that the most obstinate of them yield to it. When nothing else could reach them, under the Cherry Pectoral they subside and disappear.

Singers and Public Speakers find great protection from it.

Asthma is always relieved and often wholly cured by it.

Bronchitis is generally cured by taking the Cherry Pectoral in small and frequent doses.

So generally are its virtues known that we need not publish the certificates of them here, or do more than assure the public that its qualities are fully maintained.

Ayer's Ague Cure,

For Fever and Ague, Intermittent Fever, Chill Fever, Remittent Fever, Dumb Ague, Periodical or Bilious Fever, &c., and indeed all the affections which arise from malarious, marsh, or miasmatic poisons.

As its name implies, it does Cure, and does not fail. Containing neither Arsenic, Quinine, Bismuth, Zinc, nor any other mineral or poisonous substance whatever, it in no case injures any patient. The number and importance of the cures in the same districts, are literally beyond account, and we believe without a parallel in the history of Ague medicine. Our pride is gratified by the acknowledgments we receive of the radical cures effected in obstinate cases, and where other remedies had wholly failed. Those buried persons, either resident in, or travelling through miasmatic localities, will be protected by taking the AGUE CURE daily.

For Liver Complaints, arising from torpidity of the Liver, it is an excellent remedy, stimulating the Liver into healthy activity.

For Bilious Disorders and Liver Complaints, it is an excellent remedy, producing many truly remarkable cures, where other medicines had failed.

Prepared by Dr. J. C. AYER & Co., Practical and Analytical Chemists, Lowell, Mass., and sold by all around the world.

PRICE, $1.00 PER BOTTLE.

NORTHROP & LYMAN,

Newcastle

General Agents for Ontario.

IRON IN THE BLOOD

MAKES THE WEAK STRONG

The Peruvian Syrup, a Protected Solution of the Protoxide of Iron, is so combined as to have the character of an aliment, as easily digested and assimilated with the blood as the simplest food. It increases the quantity of Nature's Own Vitalizing Agent, Iron in the blood, and cures "a thousand ills," simply by Toning up, Invigorating and Vitalizing the System. The enriched and vitalized blood permeates every part of the body, repairing damages and waste, searching out morbid secretions, and leaving nothing for disease to feed upon.

This is the secret of the wonderful success of this remedy in curing Dyspepsia, Liver Complaint, Dropsy, Chronic Diarrhœa, Boils, Nervous Affections, Chills and Fevers, Humors, Loss of Constitutional Vigor, Diseases of the Kidneys and Bladder, Female Complaints, and all diseases originating in a bad state of the blood, or accompanied by debility or a low state of the system. Being free from Alcohol in any form, its energizing effects are not followed by corresponding reaction, but are permanent, infusing strength, vigor, and new life into all parts of the system, and building up an Iron Constitution.

Thousands have been changed by the use of this remedy, from weak, sickly, suffering creatures, to strong, healthy, and happy men and women; and invalids cannot reasonably hesitate to give it a trial.

See that each bottle has PERUVIAN SYRUP blown in the glass.

Pamphlets Free.

J. P. DINSMORE, Proprietor,

No. 36 DEY ST., NEW YORK.

Sold by Druggists generally.

MONEY TO LEND.

The undersigned has a few thousand dollars of private funds which he is prepared to land on mortgages, on improved farms.

D. W. DUMBLE,

January, 1871. 1-tf.

WILLIAM TOOLE,

Being about to REMOVE his Manufacturing Establishment from the Ashburnham Mill Race to his own Factory in course of erection,

On Murray Street, Immediately West of the Drill Shed,

Where he is fitting up with almost entire NEW MACHINERY, NEW MEN of long city experience, and, in fact, New Everything, begs to return thanks to his numerous town and country patrons for the very liberal patronage which he has enjoyed for the past fifteen years, and hopes by constant attention to business and fair, liberal treatment of customers, to continue in the enjoyment of the same. He would also intimate to his country friends, that he is manufacturing a few of

The Celebrated McKenzie Fanning Mills,

THE BEST MILL IN THE DOMINION,

Which he will sell at a very moderate price, and take in exchange any kind of FARM PRODUCE.

Peterboro, Feb. 9, 1870. 6

NEW

CARDING MILL!

The subscriber, in returning thanks to his friends and customers, for the liberal patronage extended to him during the last fourteen years, would beg to intimate that, in addition to the Implement Department of his Foundry, he has added and placed in

HIS NEW BRICK SHOP,

A Complete Sett of

New Custom Cards.

Combining all the Latest Improvements, and will be prepared ON AND AFTER THE 10th INSTANT, to do

Carding and Fulling in a Satisfactory Manner!

An Assortment of

FRESH GOODS KEPT ON HAND TO EXCHANGE FOR WOOL.

JOHN WHYTE.

N. B.—The Machinery being all NEW, and of the BEST MAKE. Customers may depend on their work being well done. J. W.

Peterborough, July 1870.

PHOTOGRAPHY!

Studio on Hunter Street West!

THE VERY BEST QUALITY OF

Photographs at the Most Reasonable Rates,

All sizes, from minature to life, either Plain or finished in

CARBON, SIPIA, INDIA INK, OIL OR WATER COLORS

Parties can rely on Promptness.

Albums, Frames, &c., Always on Hand!

Special attention to children.

Inducements offered to families.

GEO. B. SPROULE.

Owing to a steadily increasing business, Mr. Sproule would request as a favor, that his customers make engagements for sitting a week or so, if possible, ahead of time, thereby saving a great deal of confusion, and perhaps disappointment.

Peterborough, September 28, 1870. 32

JUST RECEIVED

AT

GEORGE TANNERS',

AT THE SIGN OF THE

MAMMOTH CHAIR,

HUNTER STREET.

THE PATENT HAMMOCK FOLDING CHAIR!

This Chair was introduced to the public in Montreal in August last, and since that time has merited great attention wherever it has been introduced for its

COMFORT, DURABILITY AND CHEAPNESS,

It being retailed from $2.50 upwards. Call and see it; and in the meantime you can look through the largest and

Best Stock of General Furniture

EVER ON SALE IN THE TOWN OF PETERBORO.

THE

UNDERTAKING

BUSINESS

Is also more complete than ever, with a good supply of READY-MADE COFFINS.

N. B.—The subscriber wishes to give the Geniuses of this town and vicinity a gentle hint not to encroach on the manufacture of the Patent Hammock Folding Chair, as it is no humbug, but patented by Mr. Willoughby, Clerk, and I have purchased the sole right or this County from J. D. Mayer, the executive proprietor.

GEO. TANNER.

Peterboro, March 2, 1870. 9

WILSON, BOWMAN & CO.

Hamilton, Ontario

MANUFACTURERS OF THE CELEBRATED

LOCKMAN SEWING MACHINE,

Take pleasure in announcing that the popularity of the Sewing Machine manufactured by them is still on the increase. They are now turning them out at the rate of 600 per month and yet have been compelled within the last two weeks to increase their facilities to a capacity of one thousand per month.

The Lockman Machine, from its capacity to sew the heaviest fabrics with linen thread, as well as the finest cambrics with No. 150 Cotton, is pre-eminently the Farmer's Favorite Family Friend.

It is so exceedingly simple in its parts, and so strongly and durably made, that it does not require a mechanical genius for its management.

The manufacturers challenge the world to produce its equal, and yet its price is from Forty to Fifty per cent. Lower than that of any other first-class Shuttle Lock-stitch Sewing Machine.

EVERY MACHINE IS WARRANTED.

Sole Agent for the County of Peterborough—

T. DONNELLY,

P. S.—ROOMS OVER THE STORE George Street

Peterboro, May 11, 1870. 16

PLAIN AND FANCY PRINTING IN ALL STYLES

EXECUTED IN A SUPERIOR STYLE,

At the "Examiner" Office, Simcoe St. Peterboro

STOVES, TINWARE &c

At the Giant T.

Cooking, Parlor and Box Stoves, CHEAP.

A large stock of LUMBERMEN'S FURNISHINGS, on which a liberal discount will be made.

COAL OIL to the trade at refiners prices

ROOFING-IN TIN AND GALVANIZED IRON, also EAVE-TROUGHING AND PIPING

Done by Practical Men

Gas Fitting, Steam Fitting,

AND PLUMBING.

Also Agent for, and manufacturer of

CALCUTT'S PATENT TUBULAR DRUM HEATER,

The most Economical in the Dominion, by the use of which 50 per cent wood can be saved. Call and see them.

THOMAS LANNIN,

Practical Tin & Copper Smith.

George St. Peterborough.

Sept. 28, 1870. 16-1yr

Fine English Camphor

The surest preventative against moths, and large supply on hand.

NO BATH COMPLETE

WITHOUT A SPONGE.

A GOOD HONEY-COMB SPONGE

From the Mediterranean may be obtained at the subscribers.

CARBOLIC SOAP

For Toilet Purposes.

CARBOLIC SOAP

For Washing Rooms, Bedsteads, Blankets, &c.

CARBOLIC ACIDI

The most powerful disinfectant of modern times, not only neutralising but destroying miasmata, &c.

CARBOLIC POWDER

For Sprinkling in Cellars, &c. It is also very useful for destroying pediculi in dogs, calves, &c., being safe and efficacious.

May all be obtained Pure and Genuine, at

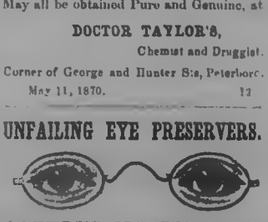
DOCTOR TAYLOR'S,

Chemist and Druggist.

Corner of George and Hunter Sts, Peterboro.

May 11, 1870. 19

UNFAILING EYE PRESERVERS.



LAZURUS, MORRIS & Co's

CELEBRATED

Perfected Spectcles

AND EYE GLASSES.

The large and increasing sales of these Perfected Glasses is a sure proof of their superiority. We were satisfied that they would be appreciated here as elsewhere, and that the reality of the advantages offered to wearers of our beautiful lenses, viz: the ease and comfort, the assured and readily ascertained improvement of the sight, and the brilliant assistance they give in all cases, were in themselves so apparent on trial, that the result could not otherwise than it has, in the almost general adoption of our Celebrated Perfected Spectacles by the residents of this locality.

With a full knowledge of the value of the assertion, we claim that they are the most perfect optical aids ever manufactured. To those needing spectacles, we afford at all times an opportunity of procuring the best and most desirable.

DR. W. H. TAYLOR

Corner of George and Hunter Streets,

Has always on hand a full assortment, suitable for every difficulty.

We take occasion to notify the public that we employ no peddars, and to caution them against those pretending to have our goods for sale.

Peterboro, February 8, 1871

DARLEY'S

ARABIAN OIL,

FOR HORSES AND CATTLE.

A NEVER-FAILING REMEDY.

THIS valuable preparation combines all the medicinal virtues of those articles which long experience has proved to possess the most safe and efficient properties for the cure of Flesh Wounds, Sprains, Bruises, Galls of all kinds, Cracked Heels, Ring Bone, Spavin, Callus, Fistula, Sweeney, External Poisons, Scratches or Grease, Strains, Lameness, Mange, Whitlows, Corns, Sand Cracks, Foundered Feet, Horn Distemper, Swellings, and many other diseases which horses and cattle are subject to.

This celebrated Liniment has been used for many years, and its curative properties thoroughly tested, and it is conceded to be the cheapest and most reliable remedy for all external complaints ever offered to the public—it never fails when timely used and faithfully applied.

To be had of all Druggists and Country Merchants throughout the Dominion. Price 25c. per bottle.

NORTHROP & LYMAN

Newcastle, Ont.

NOTICE!

The next meeting of the Senior Board of Instruction of the Peterboro Western Circuit for the examination of Teachers, will be held in the

UNION SCHOOL HOUSE

In the Town of Peterborough,

On Thursday, MAY 25th 1871,

Commencing at 10 a. m.

N.B.—Candidates are not eligible to be admitted to examination until they shall have furnished the examiners with satisfactory evidence of their strictly temperate habits, and good moral character.

By order,

J. EDWARDS,

Secretary.

Peterboro, Aug. 31, 1870. 35

THOS. MENZIES,

BANKER AND BROKER,

PETERBORO, ONT.

Buys and Sells New York and Sterling Exchange, Bank Stocks, Gold, Silver, Greenbacks, &c. &c. He also sells Drafts for any amount on England, Ireland, Scotland, France, Belgium, Germany, Switzerland, Italy, Denmark, Sweden & Norway, Russia, Poland and California, and all parts of the United States.

He has a large amount of the NEW CLAS ADAM BILLS on hand, for sale. Bring your U. S. Silver and get it exchanged for Canadian, at the highest rate of discount.

THOS. MENZIES.

Peterboro, Jan. 26, 1870.

The Peterborough Examiner
A WEEKLY
POLITICAL, AGRICULTURAL, AND
FAMILY NEWSPAPER,
IS PUBLISHED
EVERY THURSDAY MORNING.
Terms $1.50 per annum in Advance.

EVERY DESCRIPTION OF BOOK AND JOB PRINTING executed at this office, in a superior style, and at low rates.

☞ Particular attention given to Ornamental Printing in Colors, Attractive Posters, &c.

All orders for Job Printing forwarded to this office will be punctually and strictly attended to.

Peterborough Examiner.

$1.50 PER ANNUM, IF PAID IN ADVANCE.] "Prove all things—Hold fast that which is good." [$2.00 PER ANNUM, IF NOT PAID IN ADVANCE.

VOL. XVI. PETERBOROUGH, THURSDAY, APRIL 27, 1871. No. 17.

JAMES HALL,
SHERIFF, Office in the Court House, Peterborough.

EDG. PEARSE,
COUNTY Treasurer and Clerk. Office in the Court House, Peterboro. 6

EDG. PEARSE,
OFFICIAL ASSIGNEE. Office — Court House, Peterborough. 6-1y

C. A. WELLER,
CLERK of the Peace. Office on Simcoe St., 18

C. A. WELLER,
COUNTY Attorney. Office on Simcoe St. 10

C. A. WELLER,
BARRISTER, Attorney, Solicitor, &c.—Office—Simcoe Street, Peterborough.

MR. JOHN BURNHAM,
BARRISTER, Attorney at Law, Solicitor in Chancery, Conveyancer, &c. Office—over T. Chamber's Store, Hunter Street, Peterborough, Ont. 39

GEORGE EDMISON,
ATTORNEY at Law, Solicitor in Chancery, Conveyancer, &c., &c. Office over Mr. John Fletcher's Boot and Shoe Store, directly opposite Mr. Clinton's, George Street, Peterborough.
Peterboro', Feb. 17th, 1864. 7

W. H. MOORE,
BARRISTER, Attorney at Law, Solicitor in Chancery, Conveyancer, &c. Office corner of George and Hunter Streets, McKellar & Cameron's old stand.
MONEY TO LOAN on easy terms, on land security. Mortgage bought.
Peterboro, April 6, 1869. 14

DENNISTOUN, FAIRBAIRN & CASSELS,
BARRISTERS, &c.,
Hunter Street, 3 Peterborough.

JOHN GREEN,
BARRISTER, Attorney at Law, Solicitor in Chancery, Conveyancer, &c. Office over the Ontario Drug Store, Scott's block, corner of George and Simcoe Streets.
Peterboro Dec. 1st, 1869. 48

GEO. T. LEONARD,
ATTORNEY-AT LAW, SOLICITOR IN Chancery &c. Peterborough. 39

B. D. CRAWFORD, M. D., C. M.,
MEMBER of Royal College of Surgeons, England; Licentiate Government Medical Board; Late resident Coombe Lying-in-Hospital, Dublin. Ryan's Buildings, Market Square, Peterboro. 7

Dr. LOYD,
CORONER for the Counties of Peterborough and Victoria. Office and residence at Bobcaygeon. 47

GEORGE BURNHAM, M. D.
GRADUATE of Bellevue Hospital Medical College, N. Y., University of Victoria College Canada, and Licentiate of Nova Scotia, Physician, Surgeon and Accoucheur.
Office and residence,—Near the Corner of Brock and George Streets, Peterborough.
Peterboro, May 27, 1869. 43

D. PENTLAND,
DENTIST, would respectfully inform the public that he is now prepared to EXTRACT TEETH WITHOUT PAIN, by the aid of Nitrous Oxide Gas, a very pleasant and perfectly safe remedy.
Peterboro, November 28, 1866. 48

W. COULTER,
DEALER in Genuine Drugs, Chemicals, Patent Medicines, Perfumery, Paints, Oils Dye Stuffs, Hair, Nail and Tooth Brushes, Indices, Culinary Essences, Fancy Soaps, &c. George Street, Peterboro. 16

RUSH & BUCKETT,
VETERINARY SURGEONS, No. 6 Henthorn's Block, George street, Peterboro Horse and Cattle Medicines kept constantly on hand. Horses taken under treatment on easy terms.

ALEX. McNEIL,
LICENSED Auctioneer for the Counties of Peterborough and Victoria, and Townships of Cavan and South Monaghan.

GEORGE READ,
ISSUER of Marriage Licenses, Clerk Division Court, Township Clerk, &c., Keene, Otonabee. 20

JAMES McLEAN,
INSURANCE Agent, Issuer of Marriage Licenses, and Commissioner for taking Affidavits.
Cavan, Mount Pleasant, C. W. 30

CABINET-MAKING.
E. Cabinet-maker, Upholsterer and Undertaker, George Street, Peterboro.

JAMES STEVENSON,
DEALER in Stoves, Tin-Ware, &c., &c George Street, Peterborough. 18

ROBERT PATTERSON,
DEALER in Boots and Shoes. Spanish Sole Leather constantly on hand.
Nicholls and Hall's old stand, Simcoe Street, Peterborough.

GEORGE MITCHELL,
DEALER in Groceries and Provisions, &c. Cash paid for all kinds of country produce
George Street, Peterborough, 15

EDMUND S. VINDIN
COMMISSION, Shipping, Forwarding and General Agent, Lumber Merchant, &c.—Office, Corner of Walton and Ontario Streets, Port Hope.

BANK OF TORONTO.
CORNER of Water and Simcoe Streets, Peterboro. Interest allowed on Deposits
J. MURRAY SMITH, Manager.

ROBERT WALTON.
SADDLERY. Dealer in Stoves, Tinware, &c., George Street, Peterboro'. 16

J. R. McCULLOUGH, M. D.,
Graduate of Trinity College, Dublin, and Licentiate of the Dominion of Canada,
Physician, Surgeon, Accoucheur, &c.,
AND
Late Sugeon of the U. S. Army & Navy,
Will be found at his office or at his residence, at all hours of the Day and Night, except when out on professional business.
☞ N. B.—All communications strictly confidential. ☜
RESIDENCE and
OFFICE—Next Door To Wm. McDonald's Hotel, and two doors East Of Heim's Foundry, Simcoe Street.
Visits in the Corporation One Dollar, Only.
VISITS TO THE COUNTRY MODERATE.
☞ ADVICE TO ALL FREE. ☜
Simcoe Street, Peterboro, Ont.
September 8, 1868. 36

THOMAS LANNIN,
PRACTICAL TIN & COPPER SMITH, Bell Hanger, Steam and Gas Fitter, Plumber, &c. Dealer in Stoves, Iron Beds, Baths, Refrigerators, Water Coolers, Filters, Pumps, &c.
GEORGE STREET,
Peterboro, 1st June, 1870. 32

JOHN COONEY,
NURSERYMAN,
DEALER in Fruit and Ornamental Trees, Shrubs and Roses, and all kinds of Nursery stock. A very choice collection of Strawberry Plants on hand.
Orders by mail promptly attended to.
JOHN COONEY.
Peterboro, July 21, 1869. 29

ONTARIO BANK,
PETERBOROUGH.
SAVINGS DEPARTMENT.
From this date until further notice, the rate of intest in the above department will be
FIVE PER CENT.
PER ANNUM.
G. E. SHAW, Manager.
Peterboro', April 1st, 1868. 14-tf

GEORGE ALLEN,
GUN & WHITE-SMITH,
Hunter Street, Peterborough,
BEGS to inform the public, that all kinds of repairing is done on the shortest notice, such as Guns, Stocking, &c., Pistols and Whitesmithing. Sewing Machines also neatly repaired
☞ Shop and residence adjoining the Union Hotel.
Peterboro, October 25, 1865. 43

GORE DISTRICT MUTUAL
FIRE INSURANCE COMPANY!
HEAD OFFICE, GALT, ONTARIO.
CHARTERED A. D., 1836.
ASSETS, $160,000 | LOSSES PAID, $416,000
POLICIES ISSUED, 15,505.
ALL kinds of Property Insured at rates from 15 to 20 per cent. lower than Stock Companies. Claims adjusted with fairness and liberality. LOSSES PROMPTLY PAID.
ROBERT McLEAN, Esq.,
Inspector and General Agent.
THOMAS M. SIMONS, Esq., Secretary.
R. W. ERRETT, Agent, Peterborough.
November 4, 1869. 40-1y

TO THE FARMERS
OF THE
COUNTY OF PETERBOROUGH.
The undersigned begs to intimate that he is again prepared to pay the HIGHEST CASH PRICE for
Oats, Pease, Barley and Rye,
at his New Grain Warehouse in Ashburnham, situated nearly opposite his old stand.
His friends and acquaintances are invited to give him a call as usual.
D SUTHERLAND.
Ashburnham, Sep. 20, 1869 39

HARDWARE.
JOHN BERTRAM,
DEALER IN
Manilla Rope, Chains, Anchors, Axes, Augers, Saws, Files.
Carriage Springs, Solid Collar Axles Thimble Skeins; Waggon, Carriage and Buggy Bent Rims, Spokes, Shafts, Hubs, Seat Rails, Spindles—all dry; Carriage Bolts, Varnish, Paints, &c.
Leather Belting,
Machinery Oil,
Cabinet-makers' Goods,
Carpenters' Tools
And all kinds of
SHELF AND HEAVY HARDWARE.
JOHN BERTRAM,
Hardware Merchant, Peterborough.
February 2, 1871. 5

Stallion for Sale
The lately imported Horse "YOUNG ST. LAWRENCE," a thorough bred French Canadian; Sired by the justly celebrated Horse "St. Lawrence," so universally known in Lower Canada.
His Dam is also a thorough-bread French Canadian. He is a dark bay, six years old, very active, and for speed cannot be surpassed by any in the Country, and is now being fed up ready to travel.
JOHN CATHCART
Bobcaygeon, March, 1871. 11-3ins

Travelling Directory.

MIDLAND
Railway of Canada.

ON and after MONDAY, the 19th day of SEPTEMBER, 1870, Trains will run as as follows.

TRAINS MOVING SOUTH.—MAIL.

Lindsay, Depart	9.35 a. m.
Millbrook, Arrive	11.35 a. m.
Port Hope, Arrive	1 10 p. m.

TRAINS MOVING NORTH.—MAIL.

Port Hope, Depart	3.00 p. m.
Millbrook, Arrive	4.28 "
Lindsay Arrive	6.30 "

TRAINS MOVING SOUTH.—MIXED.

Lindsay, Depart	12 35 p. m.
Millbrook, Arrive	2.35 "
Port Hope, Arrive	4 20

TRAINS MOVING NORTH.—MIXED.

Port Hope, Depart	5.45 a. m.
Millbrook	7 05 "
Lindsay, Arrive	9.10 "

PETERBOROUGH SECTION.

TRAINS MOVING SOUTH.—MAIL.

Peterborough, Depart	3.30 p. m.
Millbrook, Arrive	4.30 "
Port Hope, Arrive	5.50 "

TRAINS MOVING NORTH.—MAIL.

Port Hope, Depart	10.10 a. m.
Millbrook, Arrive	11.35 "
Peterborough, Arrive	12.35 p. m.

TRAINS MOVING SOUTH.—MIXED.

Peterborough, Depart	5.20 a. m.
Millbrook	6 20 "
Port Hope, Arrive	7.40 "

TRAINS MOVING NORTH.—MIXED.

Port Hope, Depart	1.15 p. m.
Millbrook	2 35 "
Peterborough, Arrive	3.20 "

A. T. WILLIAMS,
Superintendent.
Sept 19, 1870. 38.

GRAND TRUNK RAILWAY.
TRAINS LEAVE
PORT HOPE STATION
AS FOLLOWS:

GOING EAST.

Express (day)	9 30 a.m.
Mixed	7.00 p.m.
Express (night)	9.20 p.m.

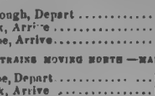
GOING WEST.

Express (night)	10.30 p.m.
Mixed	3.00 p.m.
Express (day)	10.30 a.m.

Trains leave on Railroad time, which is about twenty-three minutes ahead of Port Hope time.
Warranted correct by the Company's time Table

DAILY STAGE
BETWEEN
Norwood and Peterboro'
The Stage leaves Norwood every day, (Sunday excepted) at 7 o'clock a. m.
RETURNING, leaves Peterboro' at 2.30 p.m.
Office in Norwood, Johnson's Hotel.
Office in Peterboro', Stewart House.
Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays, Stage connects with Stage for Blurton and Marmora. And the Stage connects daily with Hastings, Warkworth and Colborne.
J. A. JOHNSON,
23-tf Proprietor.

Montreal Ocean Steamship Co.



Steam to Liverpool, Londonderry and Glasgow.
Rates of Passage from Peterboro':
CABIN, - - $76 to $86. STEERAGE - $30.
Return Tickets for 6 months at reduced fares
For Through Passage Tickets, Staterooms, and every information, apply to
GEORGE A. COX, Agent.
Canadian Express Co'y.
Peterboro', Nov. 7th, 1866. 43.

GREAT WESTERN RAILWAY
OF CANADA.
TORONTO LINE.
TORONTO, &c., TO HAMILTON.
Accommodation trains leave Yonge street Station at 7.00 a.m., 3.50 p.m. and 6.55 p.m.
Express at 12 55 p.m.
HAMILTON, &c., TO TORONTO.
Accommodation trains leave Hamilton at 7.10 a.m., 9.50 a.m. and 7.25 p.m.
Express at 3.45 p.m.

T. J. WINSHIP,
Wholesale and Retail Dealer in TOBACCOS AND CIGARS,
And Every Description of SMOKER'S ARTICLES.
George Street, Peterborough.
Peterboro, July 20, 1870. 29

THOS. MENZIES,
Now being the authorised Ticket Agent for the Grand Trunk Railway, can supply the public with
Tickets to all parts of Canada,
Also to any part of the United States.
Charges the same as at any of the Stations on the G. T. R. So get your Tickets before leaving Peterboro, and save all trouble on your journey.
THOS. MENZIES,
George Street.
Peterboro July 3, 1870; 13

Choice Poetry.

To Memory.

BY W. R. PINNEY.

Oh, memory never cease to shine
Along my pathway here below,
Nor leave me in my life's decline,
A prey to solitude and woe.

Gild with thy beams each happy scene,
Which fancy paints of youthful hours,
Of fields and trees, in vesture green,
And sprinkle all with fragrant flowers.

But [illegible] cloudlet cover o'er,
Concealing from the vivid ray,
Those blots of sin I now deplore,
And eager seek to wipe away.

And hide the grief my spirit knew
When friendship first seemed but a name,
When those I loved appeared untrue,
And disappointment quenched the flame.

Hide these, and every filthy stain
Upon the page thy hands unfold,
But bring, oh bring, those joys again,
That cheered my youth, when I am old.

Give me the songs I loved so well,
From lips long silent in the ground,
Thy wand can break the mystic spell,
And make again those voices sound.

And give me back the sunny smile,
But pencill'd on thy fadeless page,
And words of love that youth beguile,
To cheer my pathway to the grave.

Oh, Memory, from thy ample store
Let all the treasures of the past,
Their joys afford: but cover o'er
Thy records which our peace can blast.

Choice Literature.

A Madman's Cunning

BY ADA GEORGE.

Returning from market one afternoon Mr. Hayden observed an unusual bustle going on at the house across the road so long unoccupied. Mr. Hayden lived in a town where people were not, as yet, compelled to mind their own affairs in preference to those of their neighbours; consequently his curiosity was aroused.

"People of means, or they would not want so large a house. Furniture abundant and costly: clearly our neighborhood will be aristocratic henceforth," commented Mr. Hayden to himself, as, with a pleased look on his face, he went in to supper, and commented with his wife on the interesting event.

In about a week, when she supposed it time for the family to be settled, Mrs. Hayden ventured to call upon them, taking with her, Alice, her only child.

She found her neighbor disposed to meet her advances half way, but, worthy woman though she was, Mrs. Hayden did not feel entirely at her ease, for Mrs. Dalrymple was not only neighborly, but high-bred, refined and gracefully haughty, while thoroughly unconscious of the impression she was making. She volunteered the information that her husband, Captain Dalrymple, was constantly on service, and she, getting tired of the unsettled life a soldier's wife leads if she would be near her husband, had determined to settled down in some quiet place, and devote herself to the education of her son. Then she rang for the young gentleman and he made his appearance shortly.—After going through the introduction to Mrs. Hayden, he took up a book and retired into a window seat, until Mrs. Hayden saw that he was a fine looking lad of sixteen or thereabouts, with black eyes and black curling hair. Alice, with all the freedom of childhood and rural life, followed young Dalrymple into his nook, and the two were soon engaged in an animated conversation upon subjects supposed to possess peculiar interests for a bright young Miss of ten and a youth of sixteen. Boating; ball-playing and fishing were mingled with descriptions of dolls, pic-nics, squirrels and birds and now and then the clear ringing laugh of Alice followed some remark of her companion, proving that he was making himself agreeable. His mother looked pleased, and grew more courteous than ever to her visitor, and when Mrs. Hayden at last arose to go she said:

"Do come again, with your little girl. I feel that we can be dear friends if we choose."

"With such a vast difference between us?" said Mrs. Hayden gravely.

"Dear lady," responded Mrs. Dalrymple, "the only difference between us is of more outside circumstance. I have seen too much of the world and of life not to know a noble face when I see it. Your's just suits me."

"I am glad to hear you say so. You will come then, with your boy, and return my visit. Our home is an unpretending one, but you will be welcome."

A smile, half sad, half pleased, crossed Mrs. Dalrymple's fine face.

"I will come," she said, after a slight hesitation.

That was the beginning of an intimacy which received no interruption until Burton Dalrymple was sent to college.

He and Alice had been constant playmates, until dolls had been discarded and Alice began to attend the village academy. Then Mrs. Dalrymple engaged a tutor for her son, and at the end of the years he was ready for college. He was nearly twenty when he went. He came back without graduating. He had been severely ill and his mother hurried him off on his travels in company with the young gentleman who had been his tutor. Alice seemed to feel the separation keenly for a while. The fond mother, remarking her sadness, came at last to talk the matter freely over, and Mrs. Hayden discovered that Burton's mother was delighted at the thought of a marriage between her son and pretty Alice. Mrs. Hayden, astonished at the eagerness in one so much the superior of her family in every way, commented upon it to her husband.

"Mrs. Dalrymple is naturally a proud woman. I never half understood the eagerness with which she accepted our acquaintance nor can I understand her willingness; sanction the attachment between Burton and Alice. After all, we really know nothing of her except what she told us. She may"—at this point Mrs. Hayden stopped.

"This is just like you women—always ready to pick flaws in each other. You'd be terribly indignant if she should act out her superiority and forbid Burton having any friendship with Alice. Yet you are dissatisfied because everything promises to run along so smoothly."

"That's just it," replied Mrs. Hayden. "It's unnatural for her to do so."

"Oh, well, have it your own way. Natural or unnatural, Alice is good enough for the best. Stephen Ray has often told me that she had the finest mind he ever met with in girl so young."

Stephen Ray was Burton Dalrymple's tutor, certainly, the judgment of a man of learning like him could not be disputed.

Alice's entrance interrupted this talk, and both father and mother, greeted with fond pride the girl who possessed the "finest mind" Stephen Ray had "ever met with in one so young." Alice was tall, slight and graceful in her motions. Her features, without being strictly beautiful, were animated by all those expressions of intelligence, wit, and amiability, which make woman lovely; and besides, she possessed the beauty of youth and good health, and a keen sense of enjoyment for all that was beautiful in life or in nature.

Alice laid a letter upon the table.

"Mr. Dalrymple is ill again, and Mr. Ray writes in his place. I fancy from his letter that Burtons's illness makes their situation unpleasant. They were about to embark for Cairo at Marseilles when Burton was taken ill. A sort of sunstroke Mr. Ray calls it, for he has been delerious since. Do you wish to read the letter, papa?"

"Well, my dear, I don't care if I do. Seeing its from Ray instead of Burton their can be no lover's twaddle in it that you would not care to have read."

"Lover's twaddle!" ejaculated Alice, with a sudden hauteur of tone and manner. "Mr. Dalrymple never writes such stuff as that to me. To tell you the truth, I never had the slightest desire to correspond with him, but Mrs. Dalrymple made me promise to answer his letters if he should write, as a special favor to herself. She has been so kind to me that I could not well refuse."

Was the course of true love going to run so smoothly as Mrs. Hayden had feared? Certainly not, after those cool words from Alice Hayden. Then and there her mother decided that Mrs. Dalrymple had known of her daughter's indifference to Burton all along. Why, then, was she so anxious to keep up the appearance of a love which did not exist?

To this question the good lady could give no satisfactory answer; but she continued her intimacy with her neighbor, and the suspicions which found their way into her mind were not again expressed.

In five years Burton Dalrymple and Stephen Ray came home—Ray, stout, bronzed, and bearded like an Oriental; Burton, slight, delicate, and pale, scarcely taller than Alice Hayden, yet beautiful almost of effeminacy, courteous and refined, and brilliant in conversation at times. He had been studying music abroad, and came back a talented player. Very happy was Mrs. Dalrymple at his arrival, so happy that she sent for Mr. and Mrs. Hayden and Alice to share her joy.

So, after five years, the old playmates met—no longer dreamy boy and ambitious girl, but man and woman, ready and willing to take their place in the world's battle.

Stephen Ray looked on their meeting, and the supreme indifference of Alice to her old playmate was as patent to him as was Burton's love, which was almost painful in its fervor.

"Do play for me, Mr. Dalrymple," said Alice, when she had become so wretchedly tired of her imprisonment in the corner, with Burton's chair barring her egress. She saw Stephen Ray talking with the three old people and wanted to get rid of her companion.

Of course, he could not refuse her request. Suddenly she discovered she had dropped her handkerchief, she must go back and get it. Meanwhile, he could go on playing, and she would be back in an instant.

She went back to her chair and commenced her search.

"Mr. Ray," she cried at last, "have you seen my handkorchief?"

Stephen got up lazily and joined her. How should I see it? Was it not on the other side of the room when Dalrymple was saying his prayers to you?"

Alice blushed, then looked up into his eyes, her own sparkling with fun.

"I saw you pick up my handkerchief Now, hand it out, sir."

It was Ray's turn to blush now, but the red was lost in the brown of his face.

"I deny the accuracy of your sight, Miss Hayden. Shall we join our friend now?"

"Oh, Yes: that is wanted to ask you to do, only I did not quite dare," said Alice, laughing.

"Not dare!" said Ray, with a glance that brought the red to Alice's cheeks again. "What have you not dared already with me?"

He had drawn her hand through his arm and was going over to his pupil who sat playing some wild, mournful German melody. When he had seated her, he leaned over the piano so that he could watch every movement. First she sat up erect and indifferent, with some of that blush still upon her cheeks; then, as the mournful melody stole upon her senses, her form dropped, a sad, pensive look stole over her face, and her hands dropped by her side. Unobserved, while Dalrymple played on, absorbed in his art, Ray left his post and came behind her chair.—Bending over he whispered in her ear—

"Delightful will it be, Miss Hayden, to have such sweet music attending your footsteps through life?"

Alice shrugged her shoulders

"Especially," she said, with sarcasm in her tone, "if I could have you near to enforce its beauty upon my dull comprehension."

Stephen started back.

"I beg your pardon Miss Hayden, for interrupting your train of thought"

"Granted," said Alice, languidly.

"Thank you, Mr. Dalrymple. I see you prefer German music. Come over to-morrow and we will have a duet. Mamma, I am sleepy."

"My dear," said Mrs. Dalrymple, "don't hurry your father and mother away. In fact, they cannot go just yet; we are busy talking. Burton, take this impatient girl away somewhere, and make her forget her father and mother for an hour or so."

Ray saw the indescribable look, half fear half loathing cross the girl's face. He understood at once that she did not wish to be alone with Burton Dalrymple. He followed them with seeming carelessness into another room. Alice pronounced it cold. Burton hurried back for a shawl; then Ray came to her side.

"Alice," he whispered, "what is it you fear?"

"Oh, Mr. Ray. I can't tell you; you wouldn't understand. Stay with me will you?"

Then, as she met the same glance he had once given her that night, she said, proudly—"I ask you to stay, not because I desire your presence as much as the breaking up of a fete-a-tete.

"I understand you," he said.

"I am glad of that Mr. Ray. Whatever you do, never misunderstand me. You knew me as a child; believe me, I have never changed. What I was when you taught me, I am yet."

"My dear pupil," he said warmly, "you are all that parent or teacher could wish. Believe me, I am your friend as well as your teacher. And if dark days ever come to you—don't look sad, dear girl, they come to us all—think that you have a lasting friend in me."

"Then Burton came back with a shawl, and Alice's wretchedly dull work began over again. Stephen Ray stayed with them all the time. At last, Alice was free to go home, thoroughly tired and filled with forebodings. Depressed in spirits, she was troubled that night by dark dreams, wherein so dire evil seemed to threaten her, and Stephen Ray was trying to stand between her and it.

Her dear old teacher! always kind, always strong, sometimes playful and teasing, but never bitter or unjust to any one. Alice wept bitterly as she thought of she old days when she had studied with Burton and Mr. Ray had cheered her on up the hill of knowledge.

Now her clear vision foresaw something of what was to be—something, but not all; for heaven's mercy keeps the darkest evils from our sight, so that when they come they are not made darker by anticipation, but suddenly and silently they shock us into the mood of power which is to overcome them at last.

II.

Burton Dalrymple crossed over as early in the morning as he had had his breakfast and made his toilet. Stephen Ray lounged on the porch with a cigar for a while and then followed him. Alice, he found had set Dalrymple at the duet proposed, and was giving him plenty of work to do. She seemed to comprehend that he always forgot himself in his music and every one else besides. The spirit of unrest seemed to press her. Conscious of Ray's presence though he had come in quietly, and she had not looked up, she could not keep the color from coming and going in her face. At last Mrs. Dalrymple came over with her crochet work, and proposed that the party make a day of it—which met every one's approval.

Mrs. Hayden, always suspicious of late, grew slowly conscious of the fact that Burton's mother was trying to detach him from Alice, and that Stephen Ray was doing his best to second her efforts.—Promptly Mrs. Hayden came to the rescue. Taking down a portfolio, she called out—

"I have some welsh scenery here Mr. Dalrymple: I am dying to hear you describe it."

Burton crossed the room, and Mrs. Dalrymple came to his side, leaning over his shoulders as he described the pictures. Meanwhile, Alice stole out of the room, on the porch, and Stephen Ray followed her quickly, saying:

"I have been trying to speak to you all the morning."

Alice looked up at him and went on:

"Mrs. Dalrymple has commissioned me to speak to you."

That old look of fear and loathing that he knew so well crossed her face again, but she said nothing.

"I will say what I have to say as briefly as possible. Of necessity it will be painful to both of us: but, once said, it need never be said again. Mrs. Dalrymple has already told you the same story, vainly, she says, and I have no hope that my influence could be as great as hers."

Alice said nothing. Her face had a cold pale look, as if she were moving herself for some sharp trial. Stephen Ray went on:

"Burton Dalrymple loves you: you hold more than his life in your simple yes or no. His mother says she knows you have only a sisterly regard for him, but has never dared to tell him so, as she feels sure the effect would be terrible. My story is told. You hold something more than his life in your grasp. Will you dash it down to destruction?"

"What is better than life?" questioned Alice, coldly; "honor, perhaps. But do I hold his honor in my grasp? No: I wonder you talk such nonsense, Mr. Ray.'

"Neither life nor honor, Alice; but something more than either."

Alice shook her head.

"I cannot understand, nor do I care to. Mr. Dalrymple is nothing to me—a weak, delicate, effeminate man, whom I must lead and rule. I was not made for that post, Mr. Ray."

"No. I were made to be led, to be ruled. I am conscious that it would take a terribly strong man to do either. But I am pleading my benefactor's cause but lightly. What say you?"

"Where," said Alice, suddenly, "is captain Dalrymple now? Do you not know that I think it very strange that he never visits his wife and son? They are here nearly ten years and I have never his presence allnded to."

Alice might have seen a strange look in her companion's face, had she looked up: but she did not, and silence fell between them.

"You have not given me any answer yet," he said at last.

"Mr Ray, I never will marry Burton Dalrymple. Break the fact as smoothly as possible to his mother; but, remember, it is an unalterable fact. There, now, let me go."

"In a moment. Look at me, please do. Alice, I love you."

Alice turned pale: then the color came back to her face, and she met his glance without flinching.

"Have you any one else's love to announce, Mr. Ray? because I am getting positively tired of the play. I have been standing all this while, you will please to observe, and truly my heels ache if my head does not."

Ray was very pale now: but he came up bravely, and, putting his hand on her shoulder, forced her to a seat on the stens,

Then he said:

"To-day, Alicee, you have scorned the love of two men. With one you would be rich, petted, indulged, you would lead and be ruled; with the other you would be poor: you would have to work; you would be led and ruled, but you would also be loved, even as at the present moment you love me. I could win you if I chose, but I leave you to your fate. Loving you I can not help to give you to another; nor can I remain near you without your love I am but a wandering vagabond at best with neither home nor kindred. My work here is done; it does not matter where I go. Now, knowing that we will never meet again, may I bid you good-bye here and now?"

Without waiting for the permission he asked, or noting the blank look that spread over her face, he touched his lips to her hand and was gone.

(TO BE CONTINUED.)

Geologists may learn something of the rapid accumulation of the sediment from the work of Col. Gowan in raising the sunken ships at Sebastopol. He found the ships buried in the mud from nineteen to twenty-three feet in depth, and was obliged to provide apparatus'—not merely for lifting them from deep water, but also for digging them out of the mud.

Montreal, as the "Star" sees it:—To-morrow (Sunday) thoughtless, giddy crowds will wend their way-many just after leaving church—to the velocipede rinks, there to yell and shout and spew out blasphemies. And this is a Christian land!

Widow Jones' Cow.

Widower Smith's wagon stopped one morning before Widow Jones', and he gave the usual signal that he wanted somebody in the house, by dropping his elbows on his knees. Out tripped the widow, lively as a cricket, with a tremendous black ribbon on her snow-white cap. Good morning was soon said on both sides, and the widow waited for what was further to be said.

"Well, Ma'am Jones; perhaps you don't want to sell one of your cows, nowhow, nothin', no way, do you?"

"Well, there, Mr. Smith, you couldn't have spoken my mind better. A poor, lone woman like me does not know what to do with so many creatures, and I should be glad to trade if we can fix it."

So they adjourned to the meadow—Farmer Smith looked at the Roan—then at the dowsing cow—then at the widow again—and soon over the whole forty. The same call was every day for a week but farmer Smith could not decide which cow he wanted. At length, on Saturday, when Widow Jones was in hurry to get through with her baking for Sunday—and ever so much to do in the house, as all farmers' wives and Widows have on Saturday—she a little impatient. Farmer Smith was as irresolute as ever.

"That Downing cow is a pretty fair creature—but"—he stoped and glanced at the widow's face, and then walked around her—not at the widow but the cow.

"That 'ere short-horn Durham is not a bad looking beast, but I don't know"—another look at the widow.

"The Downing cow I knew before the late Mr. Jones bought her." Here hesighed at the allusion to the late Mr. Jones. She sighed, and they both looked at each other. It was a highly interesting moment. "Old Roan is a faithful old milch, and so is Brindle—but I have known better." A long stare succeeded this speech—the pause was getting awkard, and at last Mrs. Jones broke out:—

"Law! Mr. Smith, if I'm the cow you want do say so!"

The intentions of Widower Smith and the Widow Jones were duly published the next day, as is the law and custom in Massachusetts; and as soon as they were "out-published" they were married.

"Turn to the Right."

Sometimes it is best to disguise the seeming of downright rebuke when dealing with very rude people. The wit of the reply in the case given below by seizing on the double meaning of a word, was probably more effective than a remonstrance would have been under the circumstances.

The late Bishop of Litchfield, who was alike remarkable for wit and learning (he translated into elegant Latin in one night, the addresses of the bishops at the late Pan Anglican Council,) was, not long before his death, travelling in a railway carriage in England, when a blustering man exclaimed:—

"I should like to meet the Bishop of Litchfield: I'd put a question to him that would puzzle him."

"Very well," said a voice out of another corner, "now is your time, for I am the Bishop."

The man was rather startled, but presently said, "Well, my lord, can you tell me the way to heaven?"

"Nothing easier," answered the bishop; "you have only to turn to the right and go straight forward."

When it seems to imply that the man was going wrong as he was, and must turn before he could go to heaven, the aptness and severity of the admirable answer become apparent at once.

"Don't Sit by Me."

"Don't sit by me! sit over there!" I heard a teacher say to a little girl. The teacher was beautiful, and the child was very plain; the teacher was richly clothed, the child was in rags; the teacher was an educated lady, the child an ignorant beggar.

But the frown on the teacher's face, for the moment, made its loveliness repulsive, and the grieved look of the little one made me long to put my arms around her and comfort her. She had found her way somehow into the Sunday School, this little wandering lamb; Christ's lamb, and, poor thing, though the teacher did not refuse to care for her, she put a fence between her and the rest. For by that "me," which was so important to the bright young lady, were clustered happy little children, with golden hair, that in its shining neatness spoke of mother-hands and mother-love; where nestling little ones who had never felt the wind blow cold in all their sheltered lives! The waif, drifted by some kind wave into their midst, had know little care or love, but she did not expect cold words in Sunday school. It would not be surprising if she never came again.

Teacher, teacher, did you ever read in a solemn page these words of our Saviour. "Inasmuch as ye did it not to one of the least of these, ye did it not to me?" In the person of that stranger child, Christ came to you to-day! How will you answer him when he asks you how you treated his messenger? What will you say, if at the last he draw himself away from your clinging touch, as you did from that of his poor child.—Sunday School Times.

WORTH REMEMBERING.—It is said that bleeding from a wound, on man or beast, may be stopped by a mixture of wheat flour and common salt, in equal parts bound on with a cloth. If the bleeding be profuse use a large quantity, say from one to three pints. It may be left on for hours, or even days if necessary. The person who gave us this recipe says: In this manner he saved the life of a horse which was bleeding from a wounded artery; the bleeding ceased in five minutes after the application.

How to raise beets—Take hold of the top and pull.

"You can't do that again," as the pig said when the boy cut off its tail.

How to get the exact weight of a fish—Weigh him in his scales.

What are you doing, said a father to a son who was tinkering at an old watch. "Improving my time," was the witty rejoinder.

A little boy couldn't remember the text, but thought it was "something about a hawk between two pigeons." It was, "Why halt ye between two opinions.

That woman was a philosopher who, when she lost her husband, said she had one great consolation—she knew where he was o'nights!

Irritability is a breach of good morals as well as good manners. Gentle courtesy we owe to all.

More than one half the tendencies to crime among men spring directly or indirectly from bodily derangements caused by the violation of physical laws, either by the criminals themselves or their ancestors.

Treasurer Wood.

The Hon. E. B. Wood, Treasurer in Sandfield Macdonald's Combination, is at the moment perhaps the best discussed man in Ontario. His conduct in voting tolerable straight with the opposition at Ottawa during the late session has taken the Sandfieldites by surprise, and the not natural deduction is taken that Mr. Wood desires to return to his political first love.

It is rumoured that Mr Wood intends shortly to come out of the Patent Combination, and we should not be surprised if rumour in this case becomes speedily transformed into fact.

We understand that Mr. Wood justifies his recent and prospective line of conduct something in this wise. He contends that he has always been a Reformer, and is a Reformer now. He entered the Patent Combination on the understanding that it was a bona fide Coalition. But the recent elections shows that the Reformers of Ontario almost to a man disapprove of the Government of Ontario. It is supported exclusively by Tories. If it ever had a Coalition character, that can no longer truthfully be said. Under these circumstances, Mr. Wood has to decide between taking his place in the Tory ranks by remaining in a Government which exists only by Tory support, or taking his place again in the Reform ranks by withdrawing from a Ministry condemned by the now happily strengthened and reunited Reform party.

If Mr. Wood's repentance is to be accepted as sincere, certainly he must prove it by bringing forth fruits meet for repentance; and in no way could his sincerity be better shown than in immediately withdrawing from the Parent Combination of Ontario.—London Advertiser.

A River in the Ocean.

There is a river in the Ocean. In the severest droughans it never fails, and in the mightiest floods it never overflows. Its banks and its bottom are of cold water while its current is warm. The Gulf of Mexico is its fountain, and its mouth is the Arctic sea. It is the Gulf Stream. There is in the world no other so majestic flow of water. Its current is more rapid than the Mississippi or the Amazon and its volume more than a thousand times greater. Its waters as far out as the Carolina coast, are of indigo blue. They are so distinctly marked that the line of junction with the common sea water may be traced by the eye. Often one-half of the vessels may be perceived floating in the Gulf stream water while the other halt is in the common water of the sea, so sharp is the line and the want of affinity between these waters; and such to the reluctance, so to speak, on the part of these waters of the Gulf Stream to mingle with the waters of the sea. In addition to these there is another peculiar fact. The fishermen on the coast of Norway are supplied with wood from the torpice by the Gulf Stream. Think of the Arctic fishermen burning up on the hearts the palms of Hayti, the mahogany of Honduras and the precious wood of the Amazon and Orinoco.

The Bible The Word of God.

"The Bible tho word of God?" "No!" says a young skeptic who had been reading an infidel book. "No, it is the invention of men."

But the Bible claims to be the word of God, does it not?

"Yes, the men who wrote it pretend that they 'spake as they were moved by the Holy Ghost,' and that what they said was a 'Thus saith the Lord.' But that was only a cunning deception, in order to make men the more readily believe it."

If the Bible, then, is not what it claims to be it is, you think, an imposture, and its writers are deceivers and liars?

"Yes, that is

OWEN'S
PUMP MANUFACTORY
AND
Agricultural Implement Agency
GEORGE STREET, PETERBOROUGH.

The Leading Pumps and Machines of the Dominion.

The subscriber is still on hand at Dennis' Old Stand, opposite the Graveyard, and begs to inform the inhabitants of the Counties of Peterborough and Victoria, that he is Sole Agent in these Counties for the Celebrated Powell's Patent Suction and Force Pumps—the reputation of which is Established and sustained by their own merits, being cheap, Simple, Reliable, Frost Proof, and easiest worked. Being convinced of their superiority over all other pumps, I have made arrangements to keep a good Stock of them on hand, if possible, and will Sell as Cheap as are sold in any other part of the Dominion.

SOLE AGENT FOR MASSEY'S Agricultural Implements including al the late improvements, viz;

Wood's Self Rake Reapers, and Mowers, and Cayuga Chief Mowers.

The Hubbard Combined Machine, which took the First Prize at Toronto in 1870.

Also, Johnson's Frst Prize Self Raker.

Parties wanting Machines the coming Harvest will please call and examine the different Machines before purchasing elsewhere. Prices reduced from last year.

Will guarantee them to be BETTER than the BEST of any other make. The unexampled popularity and success of this pump is not surprising, combining as it does, the Highest Efficiency with the Lowest Cost. Swing Pumps for $6.00 and upwards With reference to the Powell Pump, it has been exhibited five times and secured Five Provincial First Prizes, never having been awarded anything but First and Highest Honors at State, Provincial, County, Township, or city exhibitions. This is incontestible proof of its adaptability to the wants of the people, and the climate of the country. THE FORCE PUMP is adapted to all the uses to which an ordinary pump may be applied, besides being an always-ready Fire Engine. It is allowed to be worth its cost for Washing Buggies alone, and as a Fire Preventative has saved many valuable properties. May be used for watering Gardens, Courts, &c., Setting Tires, &c., and many other purposes.

Please call and examine the Powell Pump before going elsewhere, when I shall be happy to explain its advantages. Also, a large stock of Common Pumps on hand, as usual, which the subscriber will sell as cheap, if not Cheaper, than any Pump-maker in the Province. Also, COLBY'S WRINGERS for sale. Also, Agent for Rights or Pumps in Counties east of Peterborough. Pumps of all kinds Repaired on the shortest notice.

Please address, stating depth of well and other particulars:

HENRY OWENS,
George Street, Peterboro.

April 3d, 1871. 17

RAILWAY MEETING.

To the Mayor of the Town of Peterborough;

We hereby request you to call a Public Meeting of the Ratepayers of the Town, to take into consideration matters in reference to our Railway to the back country.

E. Burnham	James Stratton
James Hall	H. Calcutt
J T Henthorn	H W Bratt
E Lawder	Samuel White
Jas Stevenson	E Thompson
Charles Perry	T M D Croly
H C Rogers	F Lemay
William Lundy	John Cameron
Robert Romaine	W Waddell
John Carnegie, Jr.	Robt White.
Alex Graham	G Mitchell
Maurice Dunsford	J McFadden
Chas Jas Blomfield	W A Scott
R Walton	Thomas Eastland
William Hall	G F Orde

Pursuant to the above requisition. I hereby call a Public Meeting of the Ratepayers of the Town to be held at

THE MUSIC HALL
ON Tuesday Ev'g 2nd May.
Commencing at Eight o'clock.

W. H. SCOTT,
Mayor,

God Save the Queen.

17-11ns.

Insolvent Act of 1869.

In the Matter of WILLIAM COULTER,
An Insolvent.

A Second Dividend Sheet has been prepared, open to objection until the SIXTEENTH day of MAY next, after which divend will be paid.

Dated at Peterborough, this 27th day of April, A. D. 1871.

D. W. DUMBLE,
Assignee

17-2ins.

TO BLACKSMITHS.
TO RENT.

A BLACKSMITH SHOP and DWELLING House, with a large Garden attached,
AT LAKEVALE,
Better known as Fowler's Corners, Fourth Concession of Smith. Rent Reasonable. For particulars apply to

JAMES FOWLER, Senr.
Lot 1, 2nd Con., Smith.

Smith, April 22, 1871. 17 4in

SIGN OF THE CIRCULAR SAW.

THE Subscribers would beg leave to call the attention of the public to their stock of

SHELF AND HEAVY HARDWARE

PAINTS, OILS, GLASS and PUTTY,

Agricultural and Garden Implements,

NAILS, LOCKS, HINGES, &c.

All of which they will sell at the lowest Prices.

Sign of the Circular Saw.
GEORGE STREET, PETERBORO.
McKEE & DAVIDSON

Peterboro, April 20th, 1871. 17

IMMIGRATION SOCIETY.

In accordance with the Constitution of this Society, the first

ANNUAL MEETING

Of the members of the Society will be held in the Town Council Chamber,

ON WEDNESDAY EVENING NEXT

The 3rd of May, at 8 o'clock p. m, for the Election of Officers for the ensuing year, &c.

JOHN CARNEGIE, Jr.,
Secretary.

Peterboro, April 26, 1871. 17-1in

TO LEND
$10,000.

Interest 8 per cent. No commission.

D. W. DUMBLE,
Solicitor.

Peterborough, April 27, 1871. 17-3ins.

COURT OF REVISION.

Town of Peterborough.

The First Meeting of the Court of Revision for the Municipality of the Town of Peterborough, will be held in the Council Chamber, on

Thursday, the 18th day of May, 1871,

Commencing at 10 o'clock, a. m,

J. EDWARDS,
Town Clerk.

Peterboro, 19th April, 1871. 16

(Review please copy.)

HOUSE AND LOT FOR SALE.

The undersigned offers for sale the dwelling House and Lot on

LONDON STREET,

at present occupied by himself.

Further particulars can be obtained by application to

Wm. LECH,
Proprietor.

Peterborough, April 19th 1871. 16-tf.

(Review please copy.)

Insolvent Act of 1869.

In the matter of HENRY THOMAS STRICKLAND, GEORGE WILLIAM ROSS STRICKLAND and ROLAND CLEMENT STRICKLAND, as individuals and as copartners of the firm of STRICKLAND BROTHERS. Insolvents.

WILL BE SOLD BY PUBLIC AUCTION
AT THE
COURT HOUSE,
IN THE
TOWN OF PETERBOROUGH,
ON
Tuesday, the 29th day of May next,
AT 12 O'CLOCK, NOON,

All the right, title and interest of the above named Henry Thomas Strickland, in and to the North half of the East half of lot No. 2, in the 11th Concession of the Township of Dono; and Village lot, No. 2 south of Charles Street and west of Lake Street; and Lot No. 2 North of Maria Street and West of Lake Street in the Village of Ashburnham.

J. A. HALL,
Assignee.

Peterboro, April 19, 1871. 16-td

Insolvent Act of 1869.

In the matter of JOHN W. PATTERSON,
An Insolvent.

I, the undersigned, James Albro Hall, of the Town of Peterborough, have been appointed Assignee in this matter.

Creditors are requested to file their claims before me within one month.

J. A. HALL,
Assignee.

Peterboro, April 19, 1871

A FARMER'S COMPANY.
FARMERS!
Insure Your Property
IN THE
AGRICULTURAL
INSURANCE COMPANY.

A Stock Company entirely devoted to your interests.

Insures nothing but Farm Property and Detached Residences.

Chartered and commenced business in 1853.

CASH ASSETS - - $550,000.

Mr. Langton's Report shows over $68,000 deposited as especial protection to Canadian Policy-holders.

Head Office for the Dominion of Canada, Kingston, Ontario.

We would refer you to the following named Gentlemen, in regard to the pecuniary responsibility of the Company:

H. Calcutt, Brower; John Burnham, Barrister; J. A. Hall, Agent Canadian Bank of Commerce; Thos. Menzies, Stationer and Exchange Broker.

ATTORNEY—John Burnham, Esq.

BANK—Canadian Bank of Commerce.

Wm T. Fish, Cobourg, Gen. Agent for the Counties of Prince Edward, Hastings, Northumberland, Durham, Ontario, Peterboro and Victoria.

Local Agent for the Town of Peterborough,
W. A. KING.
16-tf.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

Insolvent Act of 1869—W. Coulter.
To Blacksmiths—Jas. Fowler, Senr.
Sign of the Circular Saw—McKee & Davidson.
Immegration Society—J. Carnegie.
Pump Manufactory—H. Owens
Railway Meeting—W. H. Scott.
To Lend—D. W. Dumble.

The Peterborough Examiner

PETERBOROUGH, APRIL 27, 1871.

Editorial Items.

HATS AND CAPS.—Mr. S. Hyman, George Street has an extensive and varied stock of Hats and Caps of every style. Give him a call.

A Dr. Dollinger, of Germany, resists the the Infallibility Dogma. He is taking the same position as does Pere Hyacinthe.

Mr. Edward Blake addressed his constitutent at West Durham, on Tuesday evening, in order to thank them for his election in his absence.

The Ladies' Committee of the Protestant Home desires to acknowledge with many thanks the sum of $20 received from St. Andrew's Church; also, $2 from Mr. Bertram, as one of the Grand Jurymen.

INSURANCE:—In the case of McCullough vs. the Gore District Mutual Insurance Company, tried at Cobourg assizes last week: The Jury did not agree, one man holding out against the other eleven, it is said.

FEMALE MINSTRELS.—Green & Melvilles celebrated Male and Female Minstrels will perform in the Music Hall on Friday and Saturday evenings. They are spoken of favorably by the press, and will, no doubt, draw crowded houses.

KEENE SHOW.—The Show at Keeen, on the 20th was not a success. There were but five entires, none of which was considered worthy of the 1st prize offered by the agricultural society. A grey horse entered by Mr. Edwards, of Dummer, was awarded the 2nd prize of $20.00.

That Banquet that has been such a nightmare to our contemporary, will come off on the 24th of May, the Queen's birthday. Mr. Alex. McKenzie and Mr. Blake have promised to be present on the occasion, and we expect that it will be what is called "a good thing." Full information will soon be given, and invitations sent to as many as can be thought of. We trust a hearty response will prove that this is a Reform County.

THE CENSUS.—Grave charges are circulated in every part of the Dominion against the correctness of the mode of taking the Census. One thing is certain, it is not being speedily done. Whether correctly or not it is difficult to say. In the township of Otonabee the assesor gets $60 for assessing the Township, while the cost of the enumerators will be about $75. If the government had made it the duty of assessors it would have been as well done.

MESSRS. GROVER AND PERRY'S SIMPLICITY.—The last Review says, that "the above gentlemen voted throughout for all motions made with a view to bringing the murderers of Scott to justice in the House of Commons." Surely those gentlemen did not vote to hang men in the House of Commons, while there is a Jail at the Capital. Crime is generally punished where it is committed. Yet these gentlemen voted to have Riel & Co., (murderers of course,) brought into the House of Commons at Ottawa to be hung. So says the Review.

CANADIANS.—One of the speakers at the anniversary dinner of the St. George's Society, appears to have forgotten the common civilities of a host to his guests, and in consequence, (let us hope not intentionally) caused an unhappy feeling in the minds of many who had been invited. The society cannot be held responsible for the utterances of an individual member, yet they cannot be wholly freed from the result of his unguarded or illtimed words. In a country like this where communities are composed of people of almost every nation under heaven, and in consequence where many family relation are of a very mixed nature, it is exceedingly unwise to creat animosity, or engender national bitterness or bickerings, that can bring about nothing but evil to our common country. And inasmuch as the good land to which some would invite us is not for either Englishmen, Irishmen or Scotchmen alone, but for all "who love the Lord Jesus Christ in sincerity and truith," it does not become the teachers of these heavenly principles to raise invidious national distinctions on this mundane sphere. A man over his "cups," may, but a man in his sober senses should not, much less the speaker referred to. It will be said that it was accidental, not intentional. This many will be slow to believe, especially when they know that at the organization of the Immigration aid society last summer, the same speaker gave vent to stronger feelings, and wilder utterances against the same Nationality. The more thoughtful and reasonable members repudiate the position taken by the speaker, and it is to be hoped that their wise counsel will prevail over Ahithophel's while even the despised to earnestly pray that he may escape Ahithophel's fate. The country requires unity, and patriotism; the poor, charity; the foolish, wisdom; and all require understanding how to maintain concord, not sow discord.

France.

The same excitement and uncertainty prevail as has been, in reference to peace in France. The government is either not strong enough to quell the communist revolution or unwilling to take decisive measures. In several skirmishes many have lost their lives, and many more maimed and wounded. Thiers is not inclined to proceed to the worst, heping that the people will come to their right minds soon. There is considerable sympathy towards restoring the Napoleon Dynasty, yet in the face of the strong republican tendency of the masses, it may be delayed indefinitely. The present struggle shows the people not prepared for self-government. A strong hand and a determined will, are needed to restrain republican violence. They require to be educated to obey law and establish order before they undertake to make laws.

The late war and this civil strife will remove hundreds and perhaps thousands of the more turbulent. The capital is in a pitiable state.

Railroads—North.

A movement is being made to call a meeting of the ratepayers to discuss railway matters, especially, railway extension northwards. The interests of the town are intimately connected with a road to Mud Lake, and, if necessary, to secure the back trade further north. Already forty thousand dollars have been voted towards the road in connection with the Haliburton road. The whole matter is a question of route: shall it be by Bobcaygeon or by Buckhorn? It is useless yet to say much on the subject, as at the meeting, the route will be fully discussed. The strongest leanings are towards the Bobcaygeon route, and as far as that Village is concerned, their interests and sympathies are with an outlet by Peterboro, if secured to them in good time, as assured to us by a respectable citizen.

Another question is: Shall the road be connected with the Midland or with the Cobourg Road? We understand some have committed themselves to the Midland people already. The wisdom of such a course is open to objections. Why pledge ourselves to any company before it is known which would be best for the town. The cheapest route to the front is likely to be the best for Peterborough, and he. de the wisdom of waiting, before binding the town to any course.

It is argued that the road across Rice Lake will never be made. Perhaps not. At the same time if the Cobourg people should undertake it, it is not impossible.—Tunnelling the Alps has been undertaken, and will be completed to the satisfaction of its promoters. Science and money laughs at former impossibilities. What Peterboro wants is cheap transit from the rear of the county to the front. The company that ensures this is the one for Peterboro, and if that company be the Midland road, the citizens will vote for it. But if another company should offer better terms, that one will meet with most popular favor. Mr. Fowler promises dispatch, if he should get the building of the road. There is no doubt but that if he undertake he will perform. Agitation, however, and discussion are safe modes of securing the opinions of the best minds on railway matters. Then wisdom in deciding and arranging will secure for the town all that we require to make Peterboro the foremost town in the Province.

Jail Statistics—1871.

No. of Prisoners committed	95
Over 16 years of age, Males	84
" " " Females	9
Under " " Males	2
" " " Females	0
Committed 1st time	57
" 2nd "	13
" 3rd "	9
" 4th "	4
Oftener	13
Canadians	47
English	14
Irish	26
Scotch	8
Americans	0
Other Countries	9
Roman Catholics	44
Church of England	20
Church of Scotland	11
Other Presbyterians	3
Methodists	16
Other Denominations	1
Married Males	36
" Females	6
Unmarried, Males	50
" Females	3
Neither read or write	45
Temperate	33
Intemperate	62
Greatest No. in jail at one time	17
No. of Prisoners escaped	0
No. of Insane persons received	5
No. of Deaths	0
No. present in Jail 31st Dec. 1870	6

West Riding Show.

The show in connection with West Riding was held on Saturday. There were a greater number of horses than at the East Riding Show. Two of them were heavy draught horses.—The others were of the usual style shown for some years.—There were a few Durham Bulls shown. A two year old bull shown by Mr. H. Collins was admired by all who saw him. He weighed over 1,600 lbs., and is a very handsome animal. Altogether surpassing any animal shown in this county at his age.

PRIZE LIST:

HORSES.

Best Stallion, Heavy draft, G. S. Shaw; 2nd best, Isaac Eyers.

Best Stallion for General Purposes, Arthur McQuade; 2nd best, Samuel Burland.

BULLS—DURHAMS.

Best aged bull, Geo. Scott; 2nd do., Isaac Garbutt.

Best 2 year old bull, H. Collins.

Best yearling do H. Collins.

DEVONS.

Best Bull, aged, Joseph Walton.

Best Bull 2 years old, Joseph Walton.

Best Bull 1 year old, Joseph Walton.

GRADES.

Best Bull 2 years old, Thos. E Bell.

Best Bull 1 year old, Henry Collins.

St. George's Society.

ANNUAL DINNER.

The members of the St. George's Society in this Town celebrated the anniversary of England's Patron Saint by a Dinner, at Turver's Hotel. There was about one hundred and twenty-five or thirty present. Among the guests were the President of St. Andrew's Society, the Mayor, Judge Dennistoun, Sheriff Hall, Principal Dixon, Capt. Sutherland and A. H. Campbell, Esq.

Letters of apology were read from Mr. Justice Morrison, Mr. Wallis and Major Boulton.

The spread was in Turver's best style, and had ample justice done to it.

The President of the Society, Mr. Blomfield, gave the usual standing toasts: "The Queen" "the Prince and Princess of Wales," and coupled with these were "the Princess Louise and the Marquis of Lorne."

In introducing these toasts he took occasion to speak of the unity and loyalty of the English people in the Dominion, declaring that it could not be beaten by that of any other people in the country.

"The Army, Navy and Volunteers" was also given by the President, which he believed would be received with enthusiasm, as the Army was seldom or never defeated—the Navy always victorious—and the Volunteers were not behind. They were always ready, and when called to the front nobly did their part, alongside of the regular soldiers.

Lieut. Col. Poole responded in behalf of the Volunteers, and Capt. Sutherland very happily on behalf of the Navy.

Song by Mr. Barlee, "Red, White and Blue."

"The Governor and Lieut. Governor."

"The House of Commons and the Legislative Assembly of Ontario" followed, but there were no representatives present to reply on behalf of these institutions. Mr. R. Way here gave a recitation suitable for the occasion.

The President then gave the toast of the evening, "St. George's day, and the duties of the Society." A day, he remarked, not well known in England, as there it was not much thought of. But since he came to Canada, he learned the importance of having a Society to afford aid and comfort to Emigrants from the Old Country who came here to settle. All classes have learned to know each other and act together.—The asperities are rubbed off, there is more freedom and more generosity. Englishmen were said not to be clannish as the Scotch. But their clannishness was a peculiarity not a defect. It arose out of feuds of clan against clan, and family against family. They could unite, however, in charitable objects. He then gave a description of English scenery and beauty. Her Cathedrals were evidences of the progress of Christianity in the country.—Her poets were unrivalled. Her influence and power unequalled—nor was it declining, as some would assert. Her power was felt in India, the Crimea, Abyssinia, and sought by the contestants in the Franco-Prussian war, although England could not interfere. St. George was the patron saint of Her Army and Navy, and also a representative of the Church Militant. The aim of charity was to help the needy.—Last year there was a necessity for it.—Englishmen had to come to the country and they required aid and advice. To this end the Society and the Council united their efforts, and they had done a great work.

Rev. V. Clementi spoke to this toast—This day was the day Shakespeare was born, and died and apotheosized—and he was the greatest poet of the world. Chaucer died on this day, and on this day Chaucer was first made the recipient of Royal Bounty, by receiving a bottle of wine.—The day was celebrated by the English everywhere—even in Brazil. St. George was the tutelary deity of the Army and Navy. He had appeared to Richard the Lion Heart, promising him success in the Crusade he had undertaken. St. George, as a Knight in armor clad, represented the Christian battling with sin, and the dragon represented Fenianism—a scaly dragon to be overcome. The object of the Society was to encourage English and Scotch emigrants who might come to this country. The English and Scotch had fought side by side, and they were ready to do so again. This Society was ever ready to assist English and Scotch Emigrants, as they were the class to make the Dominion what all the speakers had hoped would be realized. They were ever ready to welcome the Scotch emigrants and the English emigrants and aid them.

Mr. Ormond, 2nd Vice President then gave "Our Sister Societies, the St. Andrew's Society and the Immigration Society," remarking that as the President had taken the wind out of his sails on those Societies, he would merely propose the toast and let him finish.

The President of the St. Andrew's Society returned thanks for that Society, and Mayor Scott for the Immigration Society.

The Rev. Mr. Beck proposed "Canada our Home" in an excellent speech, considering himself fortunate in having it assigned to him. He could do so with enthusiasm and patriotism, and because he believed the Dominion would yet become a great country. It possesses great advantages compared with either England or the United States. England was now in a transposition state; as republicanism was showing itself strongly, while there was little of it here. A man could live in England if he had enough to live on, but in Canada he could make enough for himself. He advised unity, political and religious—as a united people never could be defeated, and if true to ourselves as a people and a nation, we must prosper; have happy and comfortable homes, and live in the fear of God, and in faithful allegiance to our Queen—and faithful to one another. This was the best speech of the evening, breathing common sense, patriotism, and good feeling throughout.

Mr. McLelland sang a very delightful song at the conclusion.

J. F. Dennistoun Esq., responded.

Mr. Dudman gave "the Mayor and Corporation." To which the Mayor and Councillors Edmison and Doherty responded.—Mr. Doherty took occasion to regret the tone of Mr. Clementi's speech, as it savored of bigotry and prejudice that should not exist in Canada, and he fondly hoped did not exist to any great extent, especially in the minds of men calling themselves Ministers of the Gospel. Union was the bond of Canada. The speaker believed Canada was the freest country on the earth, and he was proud to be a citizen of it—but the spirit evinced by Mr. Clementi would never build it up.

To the "learned professions," by the President, Judge Dennistoun responded, referring to the honor of being connected with the "bar" of Canada—and, also, to the ability of Sir J. A. McDonald as a Lawyer and Statesman.

To "the Guest" by the President, Mr. A. H. Campbell responded.

"Trade and Commerce," by Mr. Shaw, of the Ontario Bank, was responded to by Mr. Cluxton. He referred to the progress of Peterboro, and of Peterboro trade; to the respectability of her merchants, and to the fact that honest industry ought to be respected. Canada was every where prosperous, and in every branch of business; and was becoming in every respect a great power. Under some of the remarks he did feel as if he should be ashamed to have been born in Ireland, but he felt such remarks were out of place. Ireland had her generals, her poets, her orators, her statesmen second to no other country, but in Canada all should be Canadians, and forget their prejudices for the benefit of the country.

Dr. Burnham, Jr. gave "the Ladies," for whom Messrs. W. A. Scott and J O'Donnell replied.

Mr. Toker gave "the Press" in a laughable (ing) speech, to which replies were made.

"The President" was then given by Mr Dennistoun, and heartily received.

The evening was a pleasant one, (with one exception, let us hope not intentional,) and all appeared ready to enjoy themselves.

Assizes.

CIVIL CASES.

Bertram vs. Scott.—Verdict by consent, $512,38. Cassels for plf. Weller for def.

Stethem et al vs. Yorke. Verdict for plf. $130,34. Smith for plf. Scott for deft.

Eaves vs. Roberts.—Verdict for plff. $184,00. Chadwick for plf. Whitney for deft.

Ontario Bank vs. McLaughlin et al, note—Verdict for plf. $313,60. Wilson for plf. Dormer for deft.

Hamilton vs. Whyte.—Verdict for plf. referred. Weller for plf., Cassels for deft.

Golborne vs. Strickland.—Verdict for $200,00. Scott for plf., Cassels for deft. Referred to Judge Dennistoun.

Wilson vs. Hazlitt,—$200 damages for plf. Smith for plf, Cassels for deft.—Tried by Jury.

Clemings vs. Russell's.—Laid over.

Burnham vs. Cox.—Referred to Judge Dennistoun.

CRIMINAL.

Queen vs. Sedgwick.—Arraigned pleaded not guilty. No witnesses being present, the case was not tried.

Queen vs. J. R. McCullough.—No Bill.

Queen vs. Stephen Nicholls.—Bound over to Quarter Sessions.

There were but few cases, and the Court, in consequence, was a short one—only part of two days.

GRAND JURY.

John Bertram, Robert Brown, Joseph Boll, William Deyell, John English, Geo. Fitzgerald, Baltus Holcomb, James Hogan Wm. P. McGibbon, Michael O'Reily, David Rose, James Sullivan, Walter J. Scott, Jr., and T. Tully.

Programme for the Examination and Classification of Teachers of the Public Schools in the Province of Ontario.

CONDITIONS REQUIRED OF CANDIDATES FOR CERTIFICATES OF QUALIFICATION AS TEACHERS.

1. To be eligible for examination for a Third Class (County) Certificate, the Candidate, if a female, must be sixteen years of age; if a male, must be 18 years of age; and must furnish satisfactory proof of temperate habits and good moral character.

2. Candidates for Second Class (Provincial) Certificates must furnish satisfactory proof of temperate habits and good moral character, and of having successfully taught in a school three years, except in the cases hereinafter provided.

3. Candidates for first class (Provincial) certificates must furnish satisfactory proof of temperate habits and good moral character, and of having successfully taught in a school five years, or two years if during that period he has held a Second Class Certificate granted under these regulations.

VALUE AND DURATION OF CERTIFICATES.

1. First and second class certificates are valid during good behaviour and throughout the Province of Ontario; and a First Class Certificate and of the highest grade (A), renders the holder eligible for the office of County Inspector.

2. Third Class Certificates are valid only in the county where given, and for three years, and not renewable except on the recommendation of the County Inspector; but a teacher, holding a Third Class Certificate, may be eligible in less than three years, for examination for a Second Class Certificate, on the special recommendation of his County Inspector.

EXPLANATORY NOTE.

1. Attendance at the Normal School for Ontario, with required practice in the Model Schools, and passing the requisite examinations for a First Class Certificate, shall be considered equivalent to teaching five years in a public or private school. So also, attendance at the Normal School, with the required practice in the Model Schools, and passing the requisite examinations for a Second Class Certificate, shall be considered equivalent to teaching three years in a public or private schools.

3. In regard to teachers in French and German settlements, a knowledge of the French or German Grammar, respectively, may be substituted for a knowledge of the English Grammar, and the certificates to the teachers expressly limited accordingly.

MINIMUM QUALIFICATIONS REQUIRED FOR THIRD CLASS CERTIFICATES OF TEACHERS IN THE PUBLIC SCHOOLS.

Reading.—To be able to read any passage selected from the Authorized Reading Books intelligently, expressively and with correct pronunciation.

Spelling.—To be able to write correctly any passage that may be dictated from the Reading Books.

Etymology.—To know the prefixes and affixes (Authorized Spelling Book, pp. 154—169.)

Grammar.—To be well acquainted with the elements of English Grammar, and to be able to analyze and parse, with application of the rules of syntax, any ordinary prose sentence (Authorized Grammars.)

Composition.—To be able to write an ordinary business letter correctly, as to form, modes of expression, &c.

Writing.—To be able to write legibly and neatly.

Geography.—To know the definitions (Lovell's General Geography), to have a good general idea of physical and political geography, as exhibited on the maps of Canada, America, generally, and Europe.

History.—To have a knowledge of the outlines of the Ancient and Modern History (Collier), including the introductory part of the history of Canada, pp. 5-33 (Hodgins).

Arithmetic.—To be thoroughly acquainted with the arithmetical Tables, Notation and Numeration, Simple and Compound Rules, Greatest Common Measure, and Least Common Multiple, Vulgar and Decimal Fractions and Proportion, and to know generally the reasons of the processes employed; to be able to solve problems in said rules with accuracy and neatness. To be able to work with rapidity and accuracy, simple problems in Mental Arithmetic (Authorized Text Book).

Education.—To have a knowledge of school organization and the classification of pupils, and the School Law and Regulations relating to teachers.

MINIMUM QUALIFICATIONS FOR SECOND CLASS PROVINCIAL CERTIFICATES.

Reading.—To be able to read intelligently and expressively a passage selected from any English Author.

Spelling.—To be able to write correctly a passage dictated from any English Author.

Etymology.—To know the prefixes, affixes and principal Latin and Greek Roots. To be able to analyze etymologically the words of the Reading Books (Authorized Spelling Book).

Grammar.—To be thoroughly acquainted with the definitions of grammatical forms and rules of Syntax, and to be able to analyze and parse, with application of said rules, any sentence in prose or verse (Authorized Text Books).

Composition.—To be familiar with the forms of letter writing, and to be able to write a prose composition on any simple subject, correctly as to expression, spelling and punctuation.

Writing.—To be able to write legibly and neatly a good running hand.

Geography.—To have a fair knowledge of physical and mathematical geography. To know the boundaries of the continents; relative positions, and capitols of the countries of the world, and the positions, &c, of the chief Islands, Capes, Bays, Seas, Gulfs, Lakes, Straits, Mountains, Rivers and River slopes. To know the forms of government, the Religion, and the natural products and manufactures of the principal countries of the world (Lovell's General Geography)

History.—To have a good knowledge of General, English, and Canadian History (Collier and Hodgins.)

Education.—To be familiar with the general principles of the science of Education. To have a thorough knowledge of the approved modes of teaching Reading, Spelling, Writing, Arithmetic, Grammar, Composition, Geography, History, and Object Lessons. To be well acquainted with the different methods of School Organization and Management—including school buildings and arrangements, classification of pupils, formation of time and limit tables, modes of discipline, &c., &c. To give evidence of practical skill in teaching.

School Law.—To have a knowledge of the School Law and Official Regulations relating to Trustees and Teachers.

Music.—To know the principles of Vocal Music.

Drawing.—To understand the principles of Linear Drawing.

Book-keeping.—To understand Book-keeping by single and double entry.

Arithmetic.—To be thoroughly familiar with the authorized arithmetic, in theory and practice, and to be able to work problems in the various rules. To show readiness and accuracy in working problems in Mental Arithmetic.

Mensuration.—To be familiar with the principle rules for Mensuration of surfaces.

Algebra.—To be well acquainted with the subject as far as the end of sections 138, page 139 of the authorized Text Book (Sangster).

Euclid.—Books I., II. and III., with problems.

NOTE.—For Female Teachers, Euclid may be omitted, and the chapter on the economy of the household, pp. 171—188 of Dr. Ryerson's First Lesson in Agriculture, substituted for it.

Natural Philosophy.—To be acquainted with properties of matter and with Statics, Hydrostatics and Pneumatics, as set forth in pages 1-109, Sangster's Natural Philosophy, Part I.

Chemistry.—To understand the elements of Chemistry as taught in the first part of Dr. Ryerson's First Lesson in Agriculture, pages 9-76.

Botany.—To be familiar with the structure of plants, &c., and the uses of the several part (First Lessons in Agriculture).

Human Physiology.—Cutter's First Book on Anatomy, Physiology and Hygiene.*

ADDITIONAL FOR THOSE WHO DESIRE SPECIAL CERTIFICATES FOR TEACHING AGRICULTURE, UNDER SECTION THIRTEEN OF THE SCHOOL ACT OF 1871.

Natural History.—General view of animal kingdom Characters of principle classes, orders and genera (Gosse's Zoology for schools, or Wood's Natural History).

Botany.—Vegetable Physiology and anatomy—Systematic Botany—Flowering plants of Canada. (Gray's How Plants Grow).

Agricultural Chemistry.—Proximate and ultimate constituents of plants and soils—Mechanical and Chemical modes of improving soils—Rotation of Crops, Agricultural and Domestic Economy, &c. (Dr. Ryerson's First Lessons in Agriculture.)

MINIMUM QUALIFICATIONS FOR FIRST CLASS PROVINCIAL CERTIFICATES. †

Reading.—To be able to read intelligently and expressively a passage selected from any English author.

Spelling.—To be able to write correctly a passage dictated from any English author.

Etymology.—As for Second Class Teachers.

Grammar.—To be thoroughly acquainted with the subject, as contained in the authorized Text Books.

Composition.—As for second class teachers.

English Literature.—To have a general acquaintance with the history of English Literature (Collier).

Writing.—As for Second Class Teachers.

Geography.—As for Second Class Teachers, and, in addition, to possess a special knowledge of the Geography of British America and the United States, including the relative positions of the Provinces and States, with their capitals; to understand the structure of the crust of the earth; use of the globes (Lovell's General Geography, and Keith on the Globes).

History.—General, English, and Canadian, (Collier and Hodgins).

Education.—As for Second Class Teachers, and, in addition, to possess a good knowledge of the elementary principles of Mental and Moral Philosophy, and to be acquainted with the methods of teaching all the branches of the Public School course.

School Law.—To be acquainted with the Law and Official Regulations relating to Trustees, Teachers, Municipal Councils, and School Inspectors.

Music.—To know the principles of Vocal music.

Drawing.—To evince facility in making perspective and outline sketches of common objects on the blackboard.

Book-Keeping.—As for second class Teachers.

Arithmetic.—To know the object as contained in the Authorized Arithmetic, in theory and practice. To be able to solve problems in arithmetical rules with accuracy, neatness and despatch. To be ready and accurate in solving problems in Mental Arithmetic.

Mensuration.—To be familiar with rules for Mensuration of Surfaces and Solids.

Algebra.—To know the subject as contained in the Authorized Text Book completed.

Euclid.—Books I, II, III, IV, Def. of V. and B. VI, with exercises.

NOTE.—For female Teachers, Euclid May be omitted, and the chapter on the Economy of the household, pp. 171—188 of Dr. Ryerson's First Lessons on Agricultural, substituted for it.

Natural Philosophy.—As for second class Teachers, and, in addition, to be acquainted with Dynamics, Hydrodynamics and Acoustics, pp. 109-167 Sangster's Natural Philosophy, Part I.

Chemical Physics.—To have a good general acquaintance with the subjects of Heat, Light and Electricity,

Chemistry.—As for Second Class Teachers and to be familiar with the Definitions Nomenclature, Laws of Chemical Combination, and to possess a general knowledge of the Chemistry of the Metalloids and Metals (Roscoe).

Human Physiology.—As for Second Class Teachers.

Natural History.—General view of Animal Kingdom—Characters of principal classes, orders and genera (Gosse's Zoology for schools, or Wood's Natural History).

Botany.—Vegetable Physiology and Anatomy Systematic Botany—Flowering Plants of Canada (Gray's How Plants Grow).

Agricultural Chemistry.—Proximate and ultimate constituents of Plants and soil—Mechanical Chemicals mode of improving soils—Rotation of crops, &c., &c. (Dr Ryerson's First Lesson in Agriculture).

Dr. Ormiston, late of Hamilton, now appears as a contributor to the New York Independent. "Shine as Lights" is the title of an article from him, on the first page, date of April 13th.

On Thursday evening last the body of an elderly man was found in a culvert of the railway about one mile and a half west of Glencoe. Beside him lay a bag containing some clothes, and on his person were found $300 in Canadian and United States money, and numerous papers, all of a personal nature. Dr. Smith, of Komoka, held an inquest on the body at Glencoe, on Friday, and a verdict was returned according to the facts. Dr. Lumley, of Glencoe, held a post-mortem examination. In the man's stomach was found only a small piece of orange peel. It appears that he had starved himself. From his papers we are able to make out that his name is Hugh Lamont, or McLammond, as it appears spelt in both ways, and that he is a native of the Island of Tyree, Argyleshire, Scotland, and immigrated here in 1821. He appears to have been of eccentric mind, and to have no settled place of abode. We find him as mate of the steamer Cobourg, in 1838, in which capacity he took part in the battle of Windmill Point, on November 17, in that year. At or near this time he had his great toe crushed as if a cannon ball had fallen upon it. For his services and wounds he claimed a pension from the Canadian Government. The year he seems to have put in his claim, the account stood thus: To services at $2 a-day, $180. Interest $334 80. Total, $514.80. He had had some transaction with Mr. Macdonald in Victoria County, and always labored under the idea that Macdonald owed him the price of an ox, and he wished to sue him for it and the interest accruing. In 1847 or '48, he set out to search for work in distant parts, and sold one of his oxen for $60. The other he left in charge of Mr. Macdonald while he went wandering about in all directions, sometimes sailing on the lakes, at other times working as a gardner in the south. After the lapse of fourteen years he returned to Victoria and claimed his ox. But his friend claimed to have paid him; and LAmont thenceforth sought for redress which it appears he could get. He also claimed to be the only heir to 4,000 acres of land near Chatham, which had been granted to Gen. Loughlin McLean of the 48th Regiment, in 1800. There is among his papers a letter from Mr. I. Hunter, dated Riverstown, Dec. 15, 1870, advising him to see Mr. Geo. Brown and Mr. E. Blake about this property. From these documents, no doubt the old man's indentity can be easily established, as he was evidently a well-known character among his brother Scotchmen. The papers and money remain in possession of Dr. Smith.—London Free Press.

Points of an Ayrshire Cow.

The head of the cow is short, and wide at the forehead; the eyes prominent, clear, and expressive; the horns long and fine at its connection with the head, and free from loose skin or dewlap; the back straight from the roots of the horns to the tail, the shoulder thin at the top: the forequarters light, the middle short and deep, widening and deepening backwards, and well-arched ribs, filling well up behind the shoulder blade; the hindquarters long, the hock bones wide apart and somewhat prominent, with wide haunches, broad short thighs, tapering to a small, clean, wiry bone under the knee; the skin moderately thin and elastic, the hair close, soft and curly, with a silky feel; the milk veins well developed, the milk vessel long, wide, and well attached to the body, the sole or under surface a plane and running parallel to the swell of the belly: the vessel well rounded and firmly bound up behind with four moderately sized, cork shaped pl

Swearing Witnesses.

A case of some interest, as regarding the manner in which witnesses should be sworn, has just terminated in the London police Court. It appears that a case was brought before that court some days ago, in which a clergyman of the Church of Rome was a witness, who, on being placed in the witness box, refused to swear on the Protestant version of the Bible, but requested that a Douay Bible should be used. The magistrate would not comply with the request, but adjourned the case, we understand, to obtain a legal opinion upon the point. The County Crown Attorney appears to have been consulted, and his opinion is given in the following terms:

LONDON, ONT., April 6, 1871.

To L. Lawrason, Esq., Police Magistrate London:

DEAR SIR: I find it laid down in "Taylor on Evidence," 5th edition, vol. 2, page 1266, that all witnesses ought to be sworn according to the peculiar ceremonies of their own religion, or, in such a manner as they deem binding on their consciences. In order to ascertain what form is so binding, the court should inquire of the witness himself, and the proper time to make this inquiry is before he is sworn." There are several cases cited. A Mahomedan is sworn upon the Koran—Morgan's case; a Chinese is sworn by the ceremony of his breaking a saucer previously to the administration of the oath. R. vs. Muchman. I have no doubt therefore that a Roman Catholic may object to be sworn on the Protestant version of the Scriptures, and that he should be sworn in such a manner as he deems binding on his conscience, and of this, he himself is the proper judge. I would recommend you in all such cases to note that the witness requires to be sworn in a particular manner, and the reason he assigns for such demand.

Yours truly, CHARLES HUTCHINSON,
County Crown Atty.

At the second hearing of the case the reverend gentleman was sworn, as he requested, upon the Douay Bible.—Spectator.

Danger to the Church of England.

The London Times informs us that a very grave crisis in the history of the Church of England is approaching. By a series of decisions of the Privy Council, almost uninterruptedly adverse to the High Church party the outworks of Ritualism have been successfully assailed; now the very citadel is menaced. And this is the way it stands: Mr. Bennett, Vicar of Frome Selwood, in a book entitled "A Plea for Toleration in the Church of England," spoke of "the real, actual and visible presence of our Lord upon the altars of our Churches," and added, "without that doctrine, as containing and inferring the sacerdotal office of the priest and the sacrifical character of the altar, there would seem to me to be no Church at all." He declared himself to be one of those who "adore, and teach the people to adore, the consecrated elements, believing Christ to be in them—believing that under their vail is the sacred Body and Blood of my Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ." These words, however, underwent a remarkable change in a subsequent edition of the book For those first quoted were substituted the phrase "The real and actual presence of our Lord under the form of bread and wine upon the altars of our churches." The second amended passage stands thus: "Who myself adore, and teach the people to adore, Christ present in the Sacrament under the form of bread and wine, believing that under their vail is the sacred Body and Blood of my Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ." This "Plea for Toleration," and an essay by Mr. Bennett, "Upon some Results of the Tractarian Movement of 1833," have been the subjects of a protracted ecclesiastical suit, which commenced in 1868. In 1870, Sir Robert Phillimore, in giving judgment upon the case, condemned the language used by Mr. Bennett in the first edition of his work, but considered that in the second there had been sufficient retraction, and that the charge against him was therefore not sustained. From this judgement an appeal was taken to the Judical Committee of the Privy Council, and the Times is apprehensive of the consequences to the Church should the decision be adverse to Mr. Bennett.—Leader.

PETERBOROUGH MARKETS.

PETERBOROUGH April 20, 1871

Flour ₩ bbl	$3 25	@	$4	00
Wheat ₩ bush fall	1 00	@	1	75
Spring Wheat ₩ bush	1 00	@	1	70
Peas "	0 75	@	0	80
Barley "	0 60	@	0	62
Oats "	0 50	@	0	50
Potatoes "	0 30	@	0	35
Hay ₩ ton	8 00	@	10	00
Hides ₩ cwt	0 00	@	7	00
Beef ₩ cwt	6 50	@	7	00
Sheepskins	0 75	@	1	25
Wool ₩ lb	0 25	@	0	30
Pork ₩ cwt	7 00	@	8	00
Eggs, per dozen	0 10	@	0	10
Butter	0 18	@	0	00
Cordwood	2 50	@	3	00
Turkeys	0 75	@	1	50
Geese	0 40	@	0	50
Chickens	0 35	@	0	45

☞The Illinois Central Railway Company south of Chicago, are building eleven mills of Corn Cribs, the capacity of which will be three millions of bushels; they are erecting these cribs to receive corn in payment for lands purchased of the Company and the full Chicago price is to be payed for it there. Corn is the great agricultural stample of that country, and such "Canadian Pain Destroyer" is the best remedy in any country where a disordered condition of the stomach liver and bowels is combined with great debility nervous weakness and intense melancholy its effects are most beneficial and wonderful. price 24 cts. per bottel. Sold by all medicine dealers.

FELLOWS' HYPOPHOSPHITES.

Amongst the diseases overcome by the use of

Fellows' Compound Syrup of Hypophosphites

ARE

Constipation, Asthma, Consumption, Laryngitis, Nervous Debility, Dyspepsia, Chronic Bronchitis, Chronic Diarrhœa, Melancholy.

Debility resulting from Typhoid and other low fevers, Diphtheritic, dysteria, Hypochondria, Amenorrhœa, Chlorosis Anæmia, Leucorrhœa, Nervous Excitability, Marasmus, or wasting of the Muscles, Aphonia, or loss of Voice, Chorea or St. Vitu's Dance, Sluggishness of the Liver, Interrupted and Feeble Action of the heart, Suffocative feeling caused by mucous obstructions of the Lungs and Air passages leading thereto, and Debility from various causes, many cases of which appear hopeless.

SOLD BY APOTHECARIES,
Price, $1.50; Six for $7 50.

JAME L. FELLOW, CHEMIST,
ST. JOHN, N. B.

16-1871. 4mos.

Great Conditionowder

As a condition medicine for Horses "Darleys Condition Powders and Arabian Heave Remedy," has no equal, its effects in this respect are astonishing, many horses that were supposed to be broken down and almost worthless, have by the use of a few packages been restored to a healthy and sound condition, all traces of the disease having been completely removed and have been sold for from $50 to $75 more than they would previously have brought; when you want a horse medicine get Darley's Condition Powders and Heave Remedy, we know you will be perfectly satisfied with the result. Remember the name and see that the signature of Hurd and Co. is on each package. Northrop & Lyman, Newcastle, Ont., proprietors for Canada. Sold by all medicine dealers.

THE GREAT FEMALE REMEDY
Job Moses' Peridocal Pills.

This invaluable medicine is unfailing in the cure of all those painful and dangerous diseases to which the female constitution is subject. It moderates all excess and removes all obstructions, and a speedy cure may be relied on.

TO MARRIED LADIES.

It is peculiarly suited. It will in a short time, bring on the monthly period with regularity.

These Pills should not be taken by Female during the FIRST THREE MONTHS of Pregnancy, as they are sure to bring on Miscarriage, but at any other time they are safe.

In all cases of Nervous and Spinal Affection, Pains in the Back and Limbs, on slight exertion, Palpitation of the Heart, Ayscracie, and Whites, the Pills will effect a cure when all other means have failed; and although a powerful remedy, do not contain iron, calomel, antimony, or anything hurtful to the constitution.

Full directions in the pamphlet around each package, which should be carefully preserved

FOR MOSES', NEW YORK, SOLE PROPRIETOR

$1.00 and 12½ cents for postage, enclosed to Northrop & Lyman, Newcastle, Ont., general agents for the Dominion, will ensure a bottle, containing over 50 pills, by return mail.

Iron ore, taken from the back hills, near the highest level of the Union Pacific Railway, has been smelted at Omaha and found of excellent quality, yielding 80 per cent, of superior metal Three hills of the ore lie near the railroad.

CANADIAN PAIN DESTROYER.

A Family Medicine, well and favorably known for the past ten years, never failing in a single instance to give permanent relief when timely used, and we have never known a single care of dissatisfaction where the directions have been properly followed, but on the contrary all are delighted with its operations, and speak in the highest terms of its Virtues and Magical effects.

THE CANADIAN PAIN DESTROYER has won for itself a reputation, as a blood purifier alterative stomach tonic, unsurpassed in the history of medical preparations. It seldom fails to cure Dyspepsia, Liver Complaints, Indigestion, Heartburn, Sick Headache, Kidney Complaints, Acid Stomach Phathisic or Asthma, and restores to vital activity the system debilitated by suffering and disease.

Its magical and wonderful success in curing sudden colds, sore throat, coughs, Diptheria, pains in the side, loins and back, neuralgia, toothache, rheumatic and other pains in any part of the body and from whatever cause, has given it a place in every household and is fast superseding all other preparations of the kind.

It is also an effectual and prompt remedy for scalds, burns, bruises, sprains, chilblains, cholera morbus, billious cholic, cholera infantum, dysentery, &c.

Price only thenty-five cents per bottle.
NORTHROP & LYMAN,
Newcastle, C. W.
General Agents for Canada.

Sold in Peterborough by Dr. Taylor, A. W. Kempt, Wm. Coulter and Ormond & Walsh. In Keene by A. Campbell, Campbell McNeil & Co., C. Britton, Lindsay, and all Medicine Dealers.

Wife to husband:—Charles, I wish when you are in the village to-day that you would step into the Druggist's and buy a bottle of the Pain Killer. Be sure and get the genuine made by "Perry Davis & Son."

Husband:—What on earth do you intend doing with the PAIN KILLER, my dear?

Wife:—Fredy caught severe cold last night can hardly speak, he is so hoarse and George has had the toothache since yesterday morning and yourself with Rheumatism. If what every body says can be believed, the PAIN KILLER will cure these complaints and such a house as this is we are always in trouble, and it would be a perfect God-send if we could find something to ease our lesser afflictions.

Husband:—Well, Mary, anything for a quiet home we will try the PAIN-KILLER.

(To be continued.)

☞The PAIN-KILLER is an internal and external remedy for pain. For internal pain, Cramps Spasms, Sudden Cold and Bowel difficulties, a few drops on water will give immediate relief. As a liniment it is without an equal; it stops pain almost instantly. Be sure and get the genuine made by Perry Davis & Son and sold by all Druggists and Grocers.

☞Is your throat sore or are annoyed by a constant cough? If so use promptly "Bryan's Pulmonic Wafers," they will give you instant relief. They relieve the air passages of pulgem or mucous, and allay inflamation, and no safer remedy can be had for coughs, colds or any complaint if the throat or lungs, and if taken in time their efficacy will soon be improved.—Sold by all country dealers. Price 25 cents per box.

ONE HUNDRED DOLLARS A WORD.

For every word in the following certificate found untrue, after writing to the parties named: and to the U. S. Consul, at Rio Janerio, the sum of one hundred dollars will be paid.

Rio de Janeiro, Feb. 28th, 1866.

Messrs. Raymundo C. Leite & Bro:

Gentlemen;—While a son of my friend Mr Francisco de Mattos Pimenta [a large proprietor in the Cidad de Campos] was staying at my house he was attacked with intermittent fever. Immediately I sent for the very clever Dr. Tonoco, who is thought a good deal of in Campos, but the fever instead of diminishing, turned, continued, and typhoid, the boy (14 years old) could not speak, would not take the broths, and it required a great deal of coaxing to make him swallow the medicines. Dr. Tonoco declared that there was not the slightest hopes of saving the boy's life; that it would be advisable to write to his father and inform him of the state of his son's health. At that moment I thought of the well spoken Dr, Radway & Co's medicaments, and applied them in the following manner: One teaspoon of Relief in a tumbler of water, dividing it three doses a day; frictions with the relief pure on the chest, back and wrists; three of Radway's Pills every day, and well covered so that he might perspire. Second day, half an hour after meals, one desert-spoon of Resolvent and water. In the fourth day he was able to get up from bed to the astonishment of every one who witnessed the miracle of Dr. Radway & Co's. medicaments.

I remain, gentlemen, your very obedient servant

Joaquim Pinto Filcao, Merchant.

Dr. Raday's Remedies are sold by Druggists and Country Merchants. See Dr. Radway's Almanac for 1870.

Q. T.
BUSINESS EDUCATION

BRITISH AMERICAN BUSINESS College and Telegraphic Institute. The only representative in Ontario of the Bryant & Stratton International Chain of Colleges.

The Theory Department is thoroughly adapted to those who wish to lay the foundation of a sound business education.

The Practical Department is a minature business world, where each Student performs all the routine duties of office work, such as buying, selling, shipping, commission, and drawing notes, drafts and checks. A regular Bank of issue is in connection with this department with beautifully engraved bank notes, which is as perfect in its details as the best organized institution in the Country.

Thorough instruction in Telegraphy. Life Scholarship good in forty Colleges. For terms address.

ODELL & TROUT, Toronto.
September 21st, 1870.

WILD CHERRY BALSAM—The memory of Dr. Wistar is embalmed in the hearts of thousands whom his Balsam of Wild Cherry has cured of coughs, colds, consumption, or some other form of Pulmonary disease. It is now over fory years since this preparation was brought before the public, and yet the demand for it is a specific.

"Fellows Compound Syrup of Hypophosphites is prescribed by the first physicians in every city and town where it has been introduced, and it is a throughly orthodox preparation.

HAVE YOU TRIED IT?—If not don't delay another moment, but get a bottle of the "Canadian Pain Destroyer." It is far ahead of any other medicine and was never known to fail. All aches and pains are immediately and permanently removed by it and the price places it within the reach of all. Sold by all medicine Dealers.

COURT OF REVISION.

Township of Dummer.

The Court of Revision for the Township of Dummer, will hold its First Sitting in the Town Hall, on Saturday, 20th day of May 1871.

Commencing at 10, a. m.

A. S. MAGUIRE.
Clerk.

Dummer, April 19, 1871, 16

ASHBURNHAM.

COURT OF REVISION

The Court of Revision for the Village of Ashburnham will be held in the Council Chamber,

On Monday, 15th day of May, next,

AT 10 O'CLOCK, a. m.,

Of which all interested will please take notice

JAS. STRATTON,
Village Clerk.

Ashburnham, April 17, 1871. 16

NOTICE.

NORTH MONAGHAN

THE COURT OF REVISION ON THE Assessment Roll for the Municipality of MONAGHAN [North], will be held at the Town Hall, on

SATURDAY, 13th day of MAY, 1871,

Commencing at 10 o'clock, A. M.

WILLIAM WOOD,
Township Clerk.

Monaghan, April 17th, 1871. 16

COURT OF REVISION.

OTONABEE.

The Court of Revision for the Municipal Corporation of the Township of Otonabee will hold its First Sitting for 1871, on

Monday, the 15th day of May, next,

Commencing at 10 o'clock, a. m.

GEO. READ,
Township Clerk.

Otonabee, 14 April, 1871, 16

VICTORIA

CARRIAGE AND Wagon Factory

Corner of Brock and George Streets.

The Subscriber would respectfully announce that he has leased the above establishment, opposite the Commercial Hotel and is now prepared to Manufacture

CARRIAGES,
BUGGIES,
WAGGONS,
WHEEL-BARROWS,
HARROWS, &c.

At Low Prices for Cash.

HORSE-SHOEING MADE A SPECIALTY.

GEORGE W. MILLS.

Peterboro, March 7th, 1871.

N. B.—As there is another person in Peterboro named "George Mills," the public will please remember the distinction in the names. G. W. M. 13-tf

PIANOS, MELODEONS, ORGANS

D. PENTLAND,

Is now Agent for A. & S. Norheimer for the sale of the following celebrated Pianos:—

Chickering & Sons'; Steinway & Sons'; Dunham & Son's; Haines Brothers'; Ernest Gabler; and J. W. Vose's.

Also, for the world-wide Celebrated Organs and Melodeons—Geo. A. Prince & Co., Buffalo; Mason & Hamlin's, Boston.

Instruction Books for Piano & Organ, Sheet Music, &c. always on hand.

REFERENCES.—Mr. F Bell, Organist, St. John's Church, Peterboro; Mr. D. D. Gallelly, Chorister, Canada Presbyterian Church, Peterboro; Mr. J. I. Davidson, Precentor, St. Andrew's Church, Peterboro; Dr. Taylor, Peterboro.

Peterboro, April 5th, 1871. 14

NOTICE.

The first sitting of the

COURT OF REVISION

For the united Townships of Galway and Cavendish, will be held at the Union School House, No. 2, on

Saturday, 13th Day of May, 1871

At 10 o'clock, a. m. Of which all interested will govern themselves accordingly.

C. IRWIN,
Township Clerk.

Galway, April 3rd, 1871. 15-td.

NOTICE.

Municipality of Burleigh.

The Court of Revision

For the Townships of Burleigh, Anstruther, Chandos, Cardiff and Monmouth, will hold its first sitting at Eastland's, Apsley, on

FRIDAY, 5th DAY of MAY,

Commencing at 10 o'clock, a. m.

HENRY EASTLAND,
Township Clerk.

Apsley, 3rd April, 1871. 15-td.

BOARD AND LODGING.

MRS. DAVIS'S Boarding House has re-opened on Simcoe street, where good board and lodging can be furnished for gentlemen.

T. W. DAVIS.

June 29, 1870. 26-ly

To Lumbemen!

The undersigned has for sale—

50 Barrels of Prime Mess Pork.
100 Bushels White Beans.
6000 " Oats.
1000 " Peas.

D. SUTHERLAND.

Ashburnham, Feb. 22nd, 1871. 8-4ins.

CHANGE OF BUSINESS

New Foundry Firm.

The Subscriber is retiring from the Foundry Business in which he has been engaged for the past 15 years, begs to return thanks to his friends and the public in general, for the liberal patronage conferred upon him, at the same time he would beg to state that the business in future will be carried on by his BROTHER JAMES and JAMES R. DAVIS, under the firm of Whyte & Davis. Mr. Davis is well known as a First Class Machinist and Millwright, therefore I have every confidence in recommending the New Firm to the public, feeling assured that all orders entrusted to them will be executed in the most satisfactory manner, and with dispatch.

JOHN WHYTE.

Peterborough, April 1st, 1871.

N. B.—Parties having Notes and Accounts to settle, will please bear in mind that the Books of account and Notes will be at my Woolen Mill, West of Whyte & Hamilton's Foundries.—J. W.

The Subscribers having Commenced Business in the Old Stand of John Whyte, Esq., as (Founders, Machinists and Agricultural Implement Manufacturers,) beg to say that they keep on hand all kinds of

AGRICULTURAL IMPLEMENTS,

SUCH AS

STEEL, COMMON, AND GANG PLOWS, HARROWS, ROOT CUTTERS, CULTIVATORS, HORSE HOES, GARDEN AND FIELD ROLLERS, HAY AND STRAW CUTTERS, with almost every Implement used on the Farm.

General Repairing of Reapers, Mowers, Threshing Machines and Implements of Husbandry on the Shortest Notice.

Parties about purchasing any of the above Implements will do well to call and inspect our Stock on hand, before making a purchase elsewhere.

WHYTE & DAVIS

Peterborough, April 1st, 1871. 15-tf.

NOW IS THE TIME!

TO GET

CHEAP ROOM PAPER,

BOOKS, STATIONERY, &c.,

At A. B. KIDD'S BOOKSTORE,

AS THERE IS BEING A

GENERAL TURNING UPSIDE DOWN!

OF EVERYTHING IN HIS ESTABLISHMENT, OWING TO

An Enlargement and Re-fitting of Premises.

SPECIAL ATTENTION IS INVITED TO HIS

NEW STOCK OF GOLD ROOM PAPER AND BORDERINGS.

Just received direct from England. He will sell these papers less, by 25 per cent, than they can be bought in Toronto.

Peterborough, April 5th, 1871. 14

ABSTRACT

FROM THE YEARLY STATEMENT OF

RECEIPTS AND EXPENDITURE,

OF THE

PETERBOROUGH UNION GRAMMAR & COMMON SCHOOLS,

FOR THE YEAR 1870.

RECEIPTS.		EXPENDITURE
Balance cash on hand from 1869	$ 244.34	Salaries—Teachers	$4623.16
Grants—Grammar School	$1512	Others	326.66 $4949.82
Common School	276 1788	General Expenses	138.54
Town Assessment (on account)	1000	Discounts	60.37
School fees	1294.72	Firewood	150.50
New School, Building (from debentures	4700.25	Printing and Stationery	52.47
Balance from notes discounted	200	Repairs	474
		Insurance	95
		New School, Building (on acct.)	2580
		Balance cash in hands	732.11
	$9233.31		$9233.31

We have examined the above abstract, and compared the same with the yearly Statement in detail of the Receipts and Expenditure, for the year 1870, and find it correct.

JOHN J. HALL, } Auditors.
J. A. HALL. }

Peterborough, April 12th, 1881.

DAILY LINE TO ROCHESTER.

The Superb new Lake Upper Stare Cabin Steamer.

NORSEMAN,

Carrying United States and Canadian Mails and Express

Leaves Port Hope every Morning

FOR ROCHESTER

At 9 o'clock on arrival of Grand Trunk Railway Trains from East and West,

RETURNING,

Leaves Port of Rochester (Charlotte) every evening at 9 o'clock (except Saturday, when she leaves at two P. M., for Brighton.)

This is the favourite summer route from Toronto to Rochester, Albany, &c. The cheapest and quickest route from points East of Port Hope on the Grand Trunk, to Rochester, Buffalo, &c. The favourite route to Avon and Clifton Springs, &c.

Passengers and freight take cars along-side steamer at Rochester Landing.

Connection made at Cobourg ask Port Hope with Royal Mail Line Steamers from Hamilton and Montreal.

Address R. C. CARTER,
15 PORT HOPE, ONT.

MARQUIS OF LORNE

Tweed Suits,

MADE UP IN

FIRST CLASS STYLE,

AT

W. Fairweather & Co's

Only $12.50.

Peterboro, April 5th, 1870. 14

CANADIAN BANK OF COMMERCE

THE Canadian Bank of Commerce have opened a

Saving's Bank Department

in Peterborough. Interest allowed on all sums over $1. 00.

J. A. HALL
Manager

A CARD

E. BAKEWELL, having made an engagement with Mr. Bradburn, may be found, by his former Patrons and Customers, at the store lately occupied by M. Moloney, where he hopes by his usual attention to business, and with increased facilities for giving satisfaction, still to merit and receive their patronage.

E. BAKEWELL.

Peterboro, Dec. 19, 1870. 51-tf.

1871 Annual Announcement 1871

(ESTABLISHED 1856.)

SEEDS!

Fresh, Good, and True,

The subscriber has received his supply of

FIELD, FLOWER, and GARDEN SEEDS.

Both of Home and Imported Stock.

WARRANTED GENUINE

FARMERS AND MARKET GARDENERS are respectfully invited to call and inspect for themselves.

COUNTRY MERCHANTS, supplied, as usual with boxes on Commission, or for Cash.

"Honesty" is our motto, both in character of seed, and in price.

WM. H. TAYLOR, M. D

At the old Stand, Corner of George and Hunter Streets, Peterborough, Ont. 16-tf

Pianos and Melodeons.

Messrs. R. S. Williams & Co.

TORONTO,

Beg to inform their friends and customers that Mr. D. PRITCHARD is no longer Agent for the sale of their Instruments. In the meantime,

Mr, F. T. LUMSDEN of Warsaw,

AND

Mr. R. W. Erritt, Peterboro,

Will take orders for them and supply Pianos, Melodeons and Organs at the Lowest Price and Easy Terms.

PIANOS, MELODEONS, & ORGANS TO RENT.

Address orders or enquiries to F. T. Lumsden, Warsaw P. O., or R. W. Erritt, Peterboro.

R. S. WILLIAMS & Co.

Toronto, March 28th, 1871. 13-4in

Farm for Sale.

The undersigned offers for sale his Farm in the

TOWNSHIP OF SMITH

Consisting of Lot 26, in the 11th Concession, and the North Half of 26, in the 10th Concession, and

Containing 300 Acres,

Lot 26 in the 11th Concession is improved, 100 Acres of it being cleared. The remaining 200 Acres are good wood lands. The property is about Ten Miles from Peterboro, and five from the Village of Lakefield. There is a good Frame Barn, with a stone foundation under it; besides Stables, Sheds under the barn: Two Good Wells, and Two Healthy Orchards bearing good fruit: There is a good Log Dwelling on the property, and it is within half a mile of a Post Office, Two Churches and a Good School. It will be sold in whole or in part to suit purchasers.

Terms made known by applying to the proprietor,

RICHARD FREEBORN,
Salwyn P. O.

Smith, March 23, 1871. 12

ASHBURNHAM

New Carriage, Waggon And Black-Smith Shop.

The undersigned begs to announce to the people of Ashburnham, and surrounding Country, that he has commenced a new Carriage, Waggon and Blacksmithing Shop, on Lake Street, opposite the residence of R. D. Rogers, Esq., where he will be prepared to do all sorts of work in the above line.

Reparing Promply Attended to

A first-class Black-smith will be always ready and willing to attend to Jobbing and horse-shoeing.

The patronage of the public is respectfully solicited.

A. WALLER

Ashburnham, March, 1871. 11-

$765,000

In Cash Gifts to be Distributed by the New York Cash Prize Co.

EVERY TICKET DRAWS A PRIZE.

5 Cash Gifts each,	$40 000	50 Cash Gifts, each,	$1,000
10 " "	20,000	200 " "	500
20 " "	5,000	200 " "	100
50 Elegant Rosewood Pianos,	— each	$300	to	$700
75 " " Melodeons	"	75	to	100
250 Sewing Machines	— —	"	60	to	125
500 Gold Watches	— —	"	75	to	300
Cash Prizes, Silver Ware, etc., valued at				$1,000,000

A change to draw any of the above Prizes for 25c. Tickets describing Prizes are sealed in Envelopes and well mixed. On receipt of 25c. a Sealed Tickets as drawn without choice and sent by mail to any address. The prize named upon it will be delivered to the ticket-holder on payment of One Dollar. Prizes are immediatly sent to any address by express or returned mail.

You will know what your prize is before you pay for it. "Any Prize exchanged for another of the same value." No blanks. Our patrons can depend on fair dealing.

REFERENCES:—The following lately drew Valuable Prizes and kindly permit us to publish them:—Andrew J. Burns, Chicago, $10,000; Jas. M. Matthews, Detroit, $5,000, John T. Ande son, Savannob, $5,000; James Simmons, Boston, $10,000.

PRESS OPINION:—"The firm is reliable."—"Weekly Trimtune, Dec 28." "Deserve their success."—N. Y. Herald, Jan. 1. "Just and Honorable."—News. Dec, 9,

Send for circular. Liberal inducements to Agents. Satisfaction guratteed. Every package of 200 Sealed. Envelopes contains ONE CASH GIFT. Seven tickts for $1; 17 for $2, 50 for $5; 200 for $15. Address

C. B. HARRIS & Co.,
Managers,
62 Broadway, N. Y

Peterboroug March 16th, 1871. 10-tf.

NOTICE!

THE next meeting of the Board of Instruction for the Eastern Circuit of the County of Peterborough, for the examination of Teachers, will be held in the

SCHOOL HOUSE
NORWOOD,

On Thursday, 1st June 1871,

AT TEN O CLOCK, A. M.

N.B.—Candidates are not eligible to be admitted to examination until they shall have furnished the examiners with satisfactory evidence of their strictly temperate habits, and good moral character.

By order,

W. E. ROXBURGH,
Secretary.

Norwood, Aug. 31, 1870. 35

THE CANADIAN

BANK OF COMMERCE

CORNER OF

Hunter and Water Streets, Peterboro'

☞ Interest allowed on Deposits.

J. A. HALL, Manager

Peterboro, July 27, 1870. 30

Boarders Wanted.

A FEW Gentlemen can be comfortably accommodated with Board and Lodging, at

MRS. C. GRAHAM'S,
On Simcoe street, opposite Mr. Stevenson's.
November 1, 1870 45

NOTICE.

NOTICE is hereby given that application will be made by the Corporation of the Town of Bowmanville, to the Legislature of the Province of Ontario, at its next Session, for an Act authorizing the construction of a Railway from the waters of Lake Ontario in the Town of Bowmanville, in the County of Durham through some parts of the Townships of Darlington, Clarke Cartwright and Manvers in the said County of Durham, and the Town of Lindsay and Townships of Ops, Emily Fenelon and Verulam, to the Village of Bobcaygeon in the County of Victoria, thence to the Government lands, and lands of the English Land Company in the counties of Victoria and Peterboro, and to amalgamate or make running arrangements with other Railways.

F. CURTT,
Mayor.

R. WINDATT,
Town Clerk.

Bowmanville, March 22nd, 1871, 13-4ins

FERGUSON & ELDER'S

New Dress Goods.
New Prints.
New Parasols.

1871. SPRING 1871.

To the Ladies.

New Millinery, New Millinery,

We open our Show-Room on

Saturday, the 15th of April, 1871,

with a full Stock of Trimmed Hats and Bonnets, Silk and fancy Mantles, Flowers, Plumes Ribbons, Trimmings, &c. Just see our New Millinery before buying, and oblige,

Yours Respectfully.

FERGUSON & ELDER.

Carpet Ware House.

The Subscribers have opened in connection with their business, a Carpet Ware Room, where they have now in Stock a Choice Supply of BRUSSELS, TAPESTRY, ALL WOOL, AND OTHER CARPETS; Floor Oil Cloths, Crumb Cloths, Door Mats, Window Curtains and Furnishings, All of which they offer for sale at City Prices.

Their Tapestry Carpets, which are very beautiful, are Private Patterns, made for a New York Establishment, and they cannot be bought in any House here.

CLUXTON, HENDERSON & CLUXTON.

April 13, 1871. 15-3ins

W. G. THOMSON & Co's

MILLINERY ROOMS!

ARE NOW OPENED

WITH A RICH DISPLAY OF

NEW AND FASHIONABLE GOODS!

IN ALL THE

LATEST STYLES

AND AT MODERATE PRICES.

April 13th, 1871. 16-3ins

1871 New Spring Goods. 1871

EVERY VARIETY OF BOOTS AND SHOES

CHEAPER THAN EVER!

FOR CASH,

Are Daily Arriving

AT

LARMOUR & SARNEY'S

NEW DOMINION

Cheap Boot & Shoe Store,

MCNELLY'S OLD CORNER,

George Street, - - Peterboro.

Peterboro, April 13, 1871. 15

Select Poetry

Our Dead.

Nothing is our own; we hold our pleasures
Just a little while, ere they are fled;
One by one life robs us of our treasures—
Nothing is our own except our dead.

They are ours, and held in faithful keeping
Safe forever all they took away.
Cruel life can never stir that sleeping;
Cruel time can never seize that prey.

How the children leave us! and no traces
Linger of that smiling angel band;
Gone, forever gone, and in their places
Weary men and anxious women stand.

Yet we have some little ones still ours:
They have kept the baby smile, we know,
Which we kissed one day and hid with flowers
On their head, while faces long ago.

Is love ours, and do we dream we know it,
Bound with all our heart-strings as our own?
Any cold and cruel dawn may show it,
Shattered, desecrated, overthrown.

Only the dead hearts forsake us never,
Love that to death's loyal care has fled
Is thus consecrated ours forever,
And no change can rob us of our dead.

The Clinton Salt Company have struck salt at a depth of 1,130 feet.

The wedding of the Marquis of Lorne and the Princess Louisa is very popular among the masses of the English people.

There is a movement on foot at Elmira to supply the drinking fountains in the streets with lager beer.

A Boston man advertises 'Hair Tea.' Hair goes first rate in boarding house hash and there is no good reason why it won't work in tea. But it must be blonde hair or the tea will be black tea.

A man was arrested yesterday for blacking his wife's eyes. If men would marry black-eyed women in the first place it would save a heap of trouble. They wouldn't need to be frescoing their eyes every little while.

The "Tribune" has a column headed "General Washington Topics." General Washington never had 'em. He was vaccinated the same day he cut down that cherry tree. The old man vaccinated him with a boot, history to the contrary notwithstanding.

A girl writes from Bridgport, Conn.:—"I married where I did not love, and now I love where I cannot marry. Oh, what shall I do?"

A Brooklyn paper has coined the word "conflagrated." Beak McNabb has sent people down for six months for no greater crime than that.

Since Chicago opened a foundling asylum the water in the river is getting so it don't smell bad at all. Before this they used to throw babies in the river.

Ruloff, the Birmingham murderer, has made a clean breast of it and confessed that he is insane. He thinks it would be decidedly unfair to hang a poor crazy man.

Pneumonia is said to be very prevalent in the city. This pneumonia is said to be a great deal fataler than the monia we used to have "when you and I were young, Maggie."

The Chinese immigrants are fast becoming Americanized. One of them, in Fort Grand, Oregon, has run away with another Chinaman's wife, taking also the Chinaman's cash and furniture.

Some paper, an enemy of Detroit, set afloat a story that Detroit organgrinders easily made ten dollars a day, and now every train that arrives there is loaded with organists and the hotels have been compelled to provide beds on the floor.

A man at Springfield presented a pistol to the head of a young man and quoted Shakespear as follows: "Marry my daughter in five minutes, or you are a dead man." the young man gave his consent. he said he didn't want to appear unaccommodating.

A Brockville editor has received notice from a husband and father that if he alludes to the man's wife having twins again, in his paper, he will get his head punched. That is one of the disadvantages of editing a newspaper out of town. Everything is noticed in the country.

Besides scorpions, centipedes truntulas and other poisonous creepers found in San Domingo, it is said that kerosene oil has been discovered there. Then we have a proposition to make. If the Government wants that island, let it send over a lot of kerosene lamps and instruct the natives to use them. In a year they will be blown into eternity, and the land can then be re-entered by settelers.

Thousands of people are asking what is the reason the U. S. Government ordered the fitting out of several vessels of war for immediate action. It is through sheer enterprise that we are enabled to lay the the reason before the country. These vessels are to be sent to Frankfort, Ky., to guard the colored mail agent who had a rotten egg thrown at him by a Ku-klux compelling the Government to haul him off and stop the mails. That nigger has got to be protected at all hazards.

Nice fresh eggs right from the mint, are only two cents a dozen in Indiana, owing to a co-operative movement on the part of the poultry. How long have we got to lay the advantages of co-operation before our people and hens before they will emulate the eggsample of those Indiana feathered enthusiasts?

A Maine man, who had heard that the safest way to commit suicide was to shut himself up and burn charcoal, was found in a ten acre lot with a charcoal fire burning near him. Though he had taken the precaution to put up the bars, and stop up a crack in the fence with a newspaper, the charcoal went back on him, and he lived.

Mrs. Phillips of Indinapolis, incidentally remarked while filling her lamp with kerosene, while it was burning, that the papers had 'altogether too much to say about the dangers of explosion, but for her part she had filled lamps ever since kerosene was invented, and she had never—At this point a clowd of smoke asceuded from where Mrs. Phillips had been standing, and the undertaker was sent for.

A correspondent acing the lakes of Maine writes, that he asked a boy which was the best of the several small lakes for fishing. The boy answered, "Lake Pissaquittisaquepassamoquoidequinxem"—. At this point the correspondent walked away, reached a neighbooring lake fished three hours, and returned. On his home he met the boy where he had left him, still looking on the ground and just finishing the name—"olooshoshugennanggi." The writer dates his letter at "Lak Muskatunkoobogscurontakoloonaticanury."—"N. Y. Evening Post."

The Joy of Saving the Lost

BY REV. THEO. L. COTTLER.

In Mr. George Kennan's fascinating "Tent Life in Siberia" is a very thrilling account of a search made by the author for a party of his lost countrymen on the Anadyr River. After a journey by a dog-sledge for two hundred miles over drifted snow, they reached the spot where they conjecture the missing Americans to be buried away under the snow. Mr. Kennan and his companions are well nigh perishing themselves from a cold which has sunk the mercury to fifty degrees below zero! The feet of their poor dogs spot the white snow at every step. One of the two brave explorers has already sunk exhausted on his sledge and is fast falling into the sleep of death. Suddenly, at midnight, Mr. Kennan hears a faint, long-drawn howl across the wintery waste. It comes from one of his "Chamchebee," who has gone on in advance. He hurries to the spot, all the blood in his veins throbbing at his heart. As he comes up, he discovers the Chamb-chee standing by a small black pipe projecting from a snowbank. The lost wanderers must be under it. "Thank God! thank God!" I repeated to myself softly,' says the heroic writer; "and, as I climbed upon the snow-drift, and shouted down the pipe, 'Hallo the house!' I heard a startled voice under me: 'lost, reply, 'Who's there?' As I entered the snow-cellar, and seized hold of my long lost friends, my overstrained, nerves gave way, and in ten minutes I could hardly raise my hand to my lips."

Reading the above thrilling scene in my friend Kennan's book, I found the tears stealing down my own cheeks in sympathy with the brave fellows who periled their lives in order to rescue their lost friends from death by cold and starvation. After concluding the narrative, which had almost the sweet "lineament of a gospel-book," I opened my Bible and read the parable which Jesus spake:—

"What man of you, having a hundred sheep, if he lose one of them, doth not leave the ninety and nine in the wilderness, and go after that which is lost until he find it? And when he hath found it, he layeth it on his shoulder rejoicing."

With this vivid scene of the Siberian search in my mind, I read this exquisite parable with new delight. I seem to see our Divine Shepherd starting off after the lost sheep. He knows the thicket or the quagmires into which the silly truant must have strayed. He may hear its bleating afar off. He goes until he finds it. He does not beat it for staggering; but, pulling it out of the mire, or drawing it from the tangled thicket, he layeth it on his shoulders—the clean carrying the unclean, the Holy carrying the unholy. Beautiful picture of Jesus the sin-bearer! Every saved soul has been on Christ's shoulders. When he "bare our sins," and "carried our sorrows," then was the beloulded yet precious load upon Jesu's shoulder. Yes, and he bids us cast our cares upon him too! The whole load he takes up joyfully.

Say what we may about free agency, or about the activity of the soul in regeneration, it is equally true that not a solitary sheep would ever have entered the fold of God if the Divine Shepherd had not come to seek and save the lost. He came after each one. For Jesus "tasted death for every man,"—for the individual, and not for the vague mass of undistinguishable humanity. That "one sheep" were lost were enough to start the loving Shepherd on his search. What an argument is this to labor for the conversion of one soul.

It has often been made a cavil by students of astronomy that if this globe of ours is only a mere speck in the starry universe, amid millions of suns and planets, why should the Son of God single out this diminutive globe as the theatre of his incarnation and suffering? Why did he stoop to such a little world as ours? In reply to this cavil, Dr. Chalmers prepared and preached his magnificent "Astronomical Discources." But we think that this exquisite parable throws a hint of suggestive light on the problem. For, though we do not know that our Saviour never went on an errand of Redemption to any other planet, we do not know that he went to stupendous Jupiter or to belted Saturn, or to far-away Neptune. He did not go to the planet that was biggest in size, but to the one that was basest in sin. He came not to the largest world but to the lost world." Ah! He may have left the "ninety and nine" glorious and gigantic orbs which never wandered, and sought out the single one which lay a race of sinner lost in misery and sin!

There is one stroke in the parable which we must not lose sight of. It is that which depicts the exquisite joy of the Rescuer. When the shepherd "findeth the sheep, he layeth it on his shoulders rejoicing." He is glad for the restored sheep; but still more for his own. It was "for the joy set before him that he endured the cross and despised the shame." Into that sublime joy how many elements may enter! There must have been in our Saviour's heart a holy ecstacy of love which pleased itself in doing good—in saving me when lost—in enduring suffering and sacrifice for my salvation. This sublime love of the sin-bearer makes even the crown of thorns to flash as a diadem of splandor on the Redeemers bleeding brow. Here was the divine luxury of doing good.

It was a sweet thought too that Jesus would have missed me if I had never been sought and brought back. As the shepherd in the story felt the ninety and nine to hunt for the single straggler, so I may gladly hope that Jesus wanted me in Heaven, or else he would not have come so far or endured so much to save me. If I were left without him, there would have been one more soul in Hell. But, if he were left without me, there would be one soul the less to sing his praise. He would have one the less to present before his Father "with exceeding joy."

For observe that the sweet parable says nothing about the delight of the sheep in being found; it only depicts the exceeding joy of the shepherd in finding the wanderer. He calls his neighbors together to share his gladness. "Likewise there is joy in the presence of the angels of God over one sinner that repenteth." The common and inaccurate rendering of the text confines the joy to the angels only; as if it read "among the angels." Just as well say that the "neighbors" felt the thrill of gladness over the recovered sheep, and not the shepherd himself.

The transcendent joy in Heaven over a saved soul is not confined to the angel bands. It is only witnessed by them, and partially by them. It is "in their presence" that the celestial rapture breaks forth. But the supreme joy is in the bosom of the enthroned redeemer! His was the sorrow, when he was "exceeding sorrowful even unto death." His is the joy, when he presents even one repentant sinner "before the presence of his glory." He sees the travail of his soul and is satisfied.

Oh! beloved Saviour! When we behold thee on thy throne; the shepherd amid his ransomed flock; thy victories complete; the last wandering sheep brought home; the last recovered jewel glittering in thy crown; then we will confess that the triumph was worthy of the toil and the ransom of thy glorified Church was worthy of all the bitter agonies of Him who came to seek and to save the lost? "Worthy is the lamb that was slain, to receive power and riches and strength, and honor, and glory, and blessing for ever and ever!"

AMMONIA POWDER.—Some time ago we notice the announcement of a new explosive called 'ammonia powder.' Further information, now to hand, tells us that, in the manufacture of this powder, nitrate of ammonia is substituted for the nitrate of potash, used in ordinary gunpowder. There can be no doubt that a powder of this composition must have a far greater explosive force than common powder, since the nitrate of ammonia on ignition, will be entirely converted into gas. The chief objection to the use of nitrate of ammonia will be its very deliquescent nature, which will make it extremely difficulty to obey the injunction, "Keep your powder dry."

EXTENSIVE

ALTERATIONS

AND

Enlargement of Premises.

—×—

W. FAIRWEATHER &CO

Preparatory to making Extensive Alterations and Enlargement of their present premises

Will sell off at a Great Sacrifice

THE WHOLE OF THEIR

Large and Valuable Stock

AT COST AND UNDER COST,

In order to allow the Tradesmen, early in April, full scope for their work and to

Prevent the Goods being Damaged by Lime Dust,

GREAT INDUCEMENTS WILL BE GIVEN

READY CASH BUYERS.

Goods will be Sold

AT PRICES NEVER BEFORE ATTEMPTED IN THE SALE OF FIRST CLASS GOODS

The Stock is well known to be all of Superior Quality.

Cash Buyers are invited to inspect the Goods and Prices, bearing in mind that no fault will be found if they do not buy.

REMEMBER

W. FAIRWEATHER & CO'S

CHEAP SALE FOR READY CASH.

March, 1818. 11.

NEW SADDLERY!

The Subscriber wishes to inform his friends—old and new—that he has re-commenced the

Saddlery and Harness Business,

In the Shop next to the Toronto Bank,

Lately occupied by the Telegraph and Express Companies, opposite to Messrs. Nicholls & Halls, Simcoe Street,

Where he will at all times keep on hand or have made to order by first class workmen, everything usually kept in first class establishments, such as

GENTS' SADDLES, LADIES' DO,

Harness, Single and Double, Coarse, Heavy and Fine,

TRAVELLING BAGS, TRUNKS, SATCHELLS,

WHIPS, MATS, HORSE CLOTHING, &c.

☞ Grateful for past favors in his various lines of business during the last 20 years, he asks his friends to inspect his stock before purchasing elsewhere.

Peterboro, May 18, 1870. 20 D. HOPKINS.

CHEAP SALES!

CONTINUED AT THE

MONTREAL HOUSE!

—

A. W. LASHER & CO

Have removed to the Montreal House, where they will dispose of the

The Balance of their Winter Stock!

CONSISTING OF

DRY GOODS, GROCERIES, BOOTS & SHOES

AT OR NEAR COST.

Special Bargains in Teas,

FOR THE NEXT TWO MONTHS.

Peterboro, Feb. 2, 1871. 5

NEW

Fall and Winter Goods!

T. BRADBURN,

Having succeeded in disposing of the greater portion of his former stock, and having since purchased heavily in Montreal and Toronto Markets, at the Lowest possible prices, is now showing and invites inspection of the following lines of new Fall and Winter Goods:

CLOTHS:

A complete stock of English and Canadian Cloths and Tweeds.

DRESS GOODS:

New Wool Serges, New Wool Tartans, New French Reps, New French Merinoes, New Wincies, New Black Lustres, (Double Warp)
New Tartan Poplins, New Figured Poplins, New Figured Reps, New French Delaines, New Crape Cloths, New Velvets and New Velveteens.

HOSIERY

In great variety, English, Scotch and Canadian.

FLANNELS,

A full assortment of Welsh, Lancashire, Saxony, and Canadian Manufacture Also, Salisbury and Fancy Flannel Shirting. very Cheap.

Prints, Linens and Towellings.

JUST OPENED,

A New and Select Stock of Gents' Collars, Ties, Scarfs and Gloves.

GLOVES, CORSETS and SKIRTS.

Those about to purchase FURS would do well to retain their orders, as a large lot will be opened in due time, and will be SOLD CHEAP.

T. BRADBURN.

Peterboro, Oct. 11, 1870. 41

Ayer's

Hair Vigor,

For restoring Gray Hair to its natural Vitality and Color.

A dressing which is at once agreeable, healthy, and effectual for preserving the hair. Faded or gray hair is soon restored to its original color with the gloss and freshness of youth. Thin hair is thickened, falling hair checked, and baldness often, though not always, cured by its use. Nothing can restore the hair where the follicles are destroyed, or the glands atrophied and decayed. But such as remain can be saved for usefulness by this application. Instead of fooling the hair with a pasty sediment, it will keep it clean and vigorous. Its occasional use will prevent the hair from turning gray or falling off, and consequently prevent baldness. Free from those deleterious substances which make some preparations dangerous and injurious to the hair, the Vigor can only benefit but not harm it. If wanted merely for a

HAIR DRESSING,

nothing else can be found so desirable. Containing neither oil nor dye, it does not soil white cambric, and yet lasts long on the hair, giving it a rich glossy lustre and a grateful perfume.

Prepared by Dr. J. C. Ayer & Co.,

PRACTICAL AND ANALYTICAL CHEMISTS,

LOWELL, MASS.

PRICE $1.00.

NORTHROP & LYMAN.

Newcastle.

General Agents for Ontario.

Ayer's Sarsaparilla,

FOR PURIFYING THE BLOOD.

The reputation this excellent medicine enjoys, is derived from its cures, many of which are truly marvellous. Inveterate cases of Scrofulous disease, where the system seemed saturated with corruption, have been purified and cured by it. Scrofulous affections and disorders, which were aggravated by the scrofulous contamination until they were painfully afflicting, have been radically cured in such great numbers in almost every section of the country, that the public scarcely need to be informed of its virtues or uses.

Scrofulous poison is one of the most destructive enemies of our race. Often, this unseen and unfelt tenant of the organism undermines the constitution, and invites the attack of enfeebling or fatal diseases, without exciting a suspicion of its presence. Again, it seems to breed infection throughout the body, and then, on some favorable occasion, rapidly develop into one or other of its hideous forms, either on the surface or among the vitals. In the latter, miseries may be suddenly deposited in the lungs or heart, or tumors formed in the liver, or it shows its presence by eruptions on the skin, or foul ulcerations on some part of the body. Hence the occasional use of a bottle of this Sarsaparilla is advisable, even when no active symptoms of disease appear. Persons afflicted with the following complaints generally find immediate relief, and, at length, cure, by the use of this SARSAPARILLA: St. Anthony's Fire, Rose or Erysipelas, Tetter, Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Ringworm, Sore Eyes, Sore Ears, and other eruptions or visible forms of Scrofulous disease. Also in the more concealed forms, as Dyspepsia, Dropsy, Heart Disease, Fits, Epilepsy, Neuralgia, and the various Uterine affections of the muscular and nervous systems.

Syphilis or Venereal and Mercurial Diseases are cured by it, though a long time is required for subduing these obstinate maladies by any medicine. But long continued use of this medicine will cure the complaint. Leucorrhœa or Whites, Uterine Ulcerations, and Female Diseases, are commonly soon relieved and ultimately cured by its purifying and invigorating effect. Minute directions for each case are found in our Almanac, supplied gratis. Rheumatism and Gout, when caused by accumulations of extraneous matters in the blood, yield quickly to it, as also Liver Complaints, Torpidity, Congestion or Inflammation of the Liver, and Jaundice, when sickness they often do, from the rankling poisons in the blood. This SARSAPARILLA is a great restorer for the strength and vigor of the system. Those who are Enfeebled and Listless, Despondent, Sleepless, and troubled with Nervous Apprehensions or Fears, or any of the effects as symptomatic of Weakness, will find immediate relief and convincing evidence of its restorative power upon trial.

PREPARED BY

Dr. J. C. AYER & CO., Lowell, Mass.,

Practical and Analytical Chemists.

SOLD BY ALL DRUGGISTS EVERYWHERE.

NORTHROP & LYMAN,

Newcastle

Genera Agents for Ontario.

WISTAR'S BALSAM OF WILD CHERRY

THE GREAT REMEDY FOR

CONSUMPTION

and acknowledged by many prominent physicians to be the most Reliable Preparation ever introduced for the RELIEF and CURE of all

LUNG COMPLAINTS.

This well-known remedy is offered to the public, sanctioned by the experience of over forty years, and when resorted to in season, seldom fails to effect a speedy cure of Coughs, Colds, Croup, Bronchitis, Influenza, Whooping Cough, Hoarseness, Pains or Soreness in the Chest and Side, Bleeding at the Lungs, Liver Complaint, &c.

CONSUMPTION CAN BE CURED

by a timely resort to this standard remedy, as is proved by hundreds of testimonials received by the proprietors.

DR. WISTAR'S BALSAM OF WILD CHERRY

does not dry up a Cough, and leave the cause behind, as is the case with most preparations, but it loosens and cleanses the lungs, and allays irritation, thus removing the cause of the complaint.

CLERGYMEN, LAWYERS, SINGERS,

and all those whose occupation requires an unusual exercise of the vocal organs, will find this the ONLY PREPARATION which will effectually and instantaneously relieve their difficulties.

Beware of Counterfeits.

Remember that the genuine Wistar's Balsam has on the outside wrapper the signature of "I. BUTTS," and the printed name of the proprietors, "SETH W. FOWLE & SONS, BOSTON." All others are base imitations. Examine the wrapper carefully before purchasing.

One Dollar a Bottle. Six Bottles for Five Dollars.

PREPARED BY

SETH W. FOWLE & SONS, Boston, Mass.,

And sold by Druggists and Dealers generally.

MONEY TO LEND.

The undersigned has a few thousand dollars of private funds which he is prepared to lend on mortgages, on improved farms.

D. W. DUMBLE,

January, 1871. 1-tf.

WILLIAM TOOLE,

Being about to REMOVE his Manufacturing Establishment from the Ashburnham Mill Race to his own Factory in course of erection,

On Murray Street, Immediately West of the Drill Shed,

Where he is fitting up with almost entire NEW MACHINERY, NEW MEN of long city experience, and, in fact, New Everything, begs to return thanks to his numerous town and country patrons for the very liberal patronage which he has enjoyed for the past fifteen years, and hopes by constant attention to business and fair, liberal treatment of customers, to continue in the enjoyment of the same. He would also intimate to his country friends, that he is manufacturing a few of

The Celebrated McKenzie Fanning Mills,

THE BEST MILL IN THE DOMINION,

Which he will sell at a very moderate price, and take in exchange any kind of FARM PRODUCE.

Peterboro, Feb. 9, 1870. 6

NEW

CARDING MILL!

The subscriber, in returning thanks to his friends and customers, for the liberal patronage extended to him during the last fourteen years, would beg to intimate that, in addition to the Implement Department of his Foundry, he has added and placed in

HIS NEW BRICK SHOP,

A Complete Sett of

New Custom Cards.

Combining all the Latest Improvements, and will be prepared ON AND AFTER THE 10th INSTANT, to do

Carding and Fulling in a Satisfactory Manner!

An Assortment of

FRESH GOODS KEPT ON HAND TO EXCHANGE FOR WOOL.

JOHN WHYTE.

N. B.—The Machinery being all NEW, and of the BEST MAKE. Customers may depend on their work being well done. J. W.

Peterborough, July 1870.

PHOTOGRAPHY!

Studio on Hunter Street West!

THE VERY BEST QUALITY OF

Photographs at the Most Reasonable Rates

All sizes, from minature to life, either Plain or finished in

CARBON, SIPIA, INDIA INK, OIL OR WATER COLORS.

Parties can rely on Promptness.

Albums, Frames, &c., Always on Hand!

☞ Special attention to children.

☞ Inducements offered to families.

GEO. B. SPROULE.

Owing to a steadily increasing business, Mr. Sproule would request as a favor, that his customers make engagements for sitting a week or so, if possible, ahead of time, thereby saving a great deal of confusion, and perhaps disappointment.

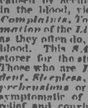
Peterborough, September 28, 1870. 39

JUST RECEIVED

—AT—

GEORGE TANNERS',

AT THE SIGN OF THE



MAMMOTH CHAIR,

HUNTER STREET.

THE PATENT HAMMOCK FOLDING CHAIR!

This Chair was introduced to the public in Montreal in August last, and since that time has merited great attention wherever it has been introduced for its

COMFORT, DURABILITY AND CHEAPNESS,

It being retailed from $2.50 upwards. Call and see it; and in the meantime you can look through the largest and

Best Stock of General Furniture

EVER ON SALE IN THE TOWN OF PETERBORO.

THE UNDERTAKING BUSINESS

Is also more complete than ever, with a good supply of READY-MADE COFFINS.

N. B.—The subscriber wishes to give the Geniuses of this town and vicinity a gentle hint not to encroach on the manufacture of the Patent Hammock Folding Chair, as it is no humbug, but patented by Mr. Willoughby, Clerk, and I have purchased the sole right or this County from J. D. Mayer, the executive proprietor.

GEO. TANNER.

Peterboro, March 2, 1870. 9

WILSON, BOWMAN & CO.

Hamilton, Ontario

MANUFACTURERS OF THE CELEBRATED

LOCKMAN SEWING MACHINE,

Take pleasure in announcing that the popularity of the Sewing Machine manufactured by them is still on the increase. They are now turning them out at the rate of 600 per month and yet have been compelled within the last two weeks to increase their facilities to a capacity of one thousand per month.

The Lockman Machine, from its capacity to sew the finest fabrics with linen thread, as well as the finest cambrics with No. 150 Cotton, is pre-eminently the Farmer's Favorite Family Friend.

It is so exceedingly simple in its parts, and so strongly and durably made, that it does not require a mechanical genius for its management.

The manufacturers challenge the world to produce its equal, and yet its price is from Forty to Fifty per cent. Lower than that of any other first-class Shuttle Lock-stitch Sewing Machine.

EVERY MACHINE IS WARRANTED.

☞ Sole Agent for the County of Peterborough—

T. DONNELLY,

P. S.—ROOMS OVER THE STORE. George Street

eterboro, May 11, 1870. 16

PLAIN AND FANCY PRINTING IN ALL STYLES

EXECUTED IN A SUPERIOR STYLE,

At the "Examiner" Office, Simcoe St. Peterboro.

STOVES, TINWARE &c

At the Giant T.

Cooking, Parlor and Box Stoves, CHEAP

A large stock of LUMBERMEN'S FURNISHINGS, on which a liberal discount will be made.

COAL OIL, to the trade at refiners prices

ROOFING IN TIN AND GALVANIZED IRON, also EAVE-TROUGHING AND PIPING

Done by Practical Men

Gas Fitting, Steam Fitting,

AND PLUMBING.

Also Agent for, and manufacturer of

CALCUTT'S PATENT TUBULAR DRUM HEATER,

The most Economical in the Dominion, by the use of which 50 per cent wood can be saved. Call and see them.

THOMAS LANNIN,

Practical Tin & Copper Smith

George St. Peterborough.

Sept. 28, 1870. 16-1yr

Fine English Camphor

The surest preventative against moths, and large supply on hand.

NO BATH COMPLETE

WITHOUT A SPONGE.

A GOOD HONEY-COMB SPONGE

From the Mediterranean may be obtained a the subscribers.

CARBOLIC SOAP

For Toilet Purposes.

CARBOLIC SOAP

For Washing Rooms, Bedsteads, Blankets, &c.

CARBOLIC ACID!

The most powerful disinfectant of modern times, not only neutralising but destroying miasmata, &c.

CARBOLIC POWDER

For Sprinkling in Cellars, &c. It is also very useful for destroying pedicuti in dogs, calves, &c., being safe and efficacious.

May all be obtained Pure and Genuine, at

DOCTOR TAYLOR'S,

Chemist and Druggist.

Corner of George and Hunter Sts, Peterboro.

May 11, 1870. 12

UNFAILING EYE PRESERVERS.

LAZURUS, MORRIS & Co's

CELEBRATED

Perfected Spectacles

AND EYE GLASSES.

The large and increasing sales of these Perfected Glasses is a sure proof of their superiority. We were satisfied that they would be appreciated here as elsewhere, and that the reality of the advantages offered to wearers of our beautiful lenses, viz: the ease and comfort, the assured and readily ascertained improvement of the sight, and the brilliant assistance they give in all cases, were in themselves so apparent on trial, that the vault could not be otherwise than it has, in the almost general adoption of our Celebrated Perfected Spectacles by the residents of this locality.

With a full knowledge of the value of the assertion, we claim that they are the most perfect optical aids ever manufactured. To those needing Spectacles, we afford at all times an opportunity of procuring the best and most desirable.

DR W. H TAYLOR

Corner of George and Hunter Streets,

Has always on hand a full assortment, suitable for every difficulty.

We take occasion to notify the public that we employ no pedlars, and to caution them against those pretending to have our goods for sale.

Peterboro, February 8, 1871.

DARLEY'S

ARABIAN OIL,

FOR HORSES AND CATTLE.

A NEVER-FAILING REMEDY.

THIS valuable preparation combines all the medicinal virtues of those articles which long experience has proved to possess the most safe and efficient properties for the cure of Flesh Wounds, Sprains, Bruises, Galls of all kinds, Cracked Heels, Ring Bone, Spavin, Callus, Fistula, Sweeney, External Poisons, Scratches or Grease, Strains, Lameness, Mange, Whitlows, Corns, Sand Cracks, Foundered Feet, Horn Distemper, Swellings, and many other diseases which horses and cattle are subject to.

This celebrated Liniment has been used for many years, and its curative properties thoroughly tested, and it is conceded to be the cheapest and most reliable remedy for all external complaints ever offered to the public—it never fails when timely used and faithfully applied.

To be had of all Druggists and Country Merchants throughout the Dominion. Price 25c. per bottle.

NORTHROP & LYMAN

Newcastle, Ont

Flax! Flax!!

Farmers intending to grow flax will please apply for their seed early. Seed supplied and payment taken in flax by calling on

SAMUEL TAYLOR

or H. CALCUTT.

I would beg to call the attention of farmers that I have a machine for pulling Flax, which will pull 4 acres a day. I will let the machine and send a man with it for $2 per day. By the assistance of the puller, Flax is the cheapest crop harvested. For information I would refer you to—Jonathan Stephenson, Smith; W. Kilburn, Smith; J. Farnell, Smith; A. Scott Smith; I. Buck Otonabee; W. Rutherford Otonabee.

SAMUEL TAYLOR,

Flax Mill,

Ash burnham

Ashburnham, March, 1871. 11-3mos

THOS. MENZIES,

BANKER AND BROKER,

PETERBORO, ONT.

Buys and Sells New York and Sterling Exchange, Bank Stocks, Gold, Silver, Greenbacks, &c. &c. He also sells Drafts for any amount on England, Ireland, Scotland, France, Belgium, Germany, Switzerland, Italy, Denmark, Sweden & Norway, Russia, Poland and California, and all parts of the United States.

He has a large amount of the NEW CANADIAN SILVER on hand, for sale. Bring your U. S. Silver and get it exchanged for Canadian, at the current rate of discount.

THOS. MENZIES.

Peterboro, July 5th, 1870.

Also Agent for the CUNARD AND ANCHOR LINE OF STEAMSHIPS. Tickets for Sale at Low Rates.

The Peterborough Examiner

A WEEKLY

POLITICAL, AGRICULTURAL,

AND

FAMILY NEWSPAPER,

IS PUBLISHED

EVERY THURSDAY MORNING.

Terms $1.50 per annum in Advance.

EVERY DESCRIPTION OF BOOK AND JOB PRINTING executed at this office, in a superior style, and at low rates.

☞Particular attention given to Ornamental Printing in Colors, Attractive Posters, &c.

All orders for Job Printing forwarded to this office will be punctually and strictly attended to.

JAMES HALL,

SHERIFF, Office in the Court House, Peterborough.

EDG. PEARSE,

COUNTY Treasurer and Clerk. Office in the Court House, Peterboro. 6

EDG. PEARSE,

OFFICIAL ASSIGNEE. Office — Court House, Peterborough. 6-1y

C. A. WELLER,

CLERK of the Peace. Office on Simcoe St., 16

C. A. WELLER,

COUNTY Attorney. Office on Simcoe St. 20

C. A. WELLER,

BARRISTER, Attorney, Solicitor, &c.—Office—Simcoe Street, Peterborough.

MR. JOHN BURNHAM,

BARRISTER, Attorney at Law, Solicitor in Chancery, Conveyancer, &c. Office—over T. Chamber's Store, Hunter Street, Peterborough, Ont. 39

GEORGE EDMISON,

ATTORNEY at Law, Solicitor in Chancery, Conveyancer, &c., &c. Office over Mr. John Fletcher's Boot and Shoe Store, directly opposite Mr. Claxton's, George Street, Peterborough.

Peterboro', Feb. 17th, 1864. 7

W. H. MOORE,

BARRISTER, Attorney at Law, Solicitor in Chancery, Conveyancer, &c. Office corner of George and Hunter Streets, McKellar & ameron's old stand.

MONEY TO LOAN on easy terms, on land security. Mortgage bought.

Peterboro, April 6, 1869. 14

DENNISTOUN, FAIRBAIRN & CASSELS,

BARRISTERS, &c.,

Hunter Street, 3 Peterborough.

JOHN GREEN,

BARRISTER, Attorney at Law, Solicitor in Chancery, Conveyancer, &c. Office over the Ontario Drug Store, Scott's block, corner of George and Simcoe Streets.

Peterboro Dec. 1st, 1869. 48

GEO. T. LEONARD,

ATTORNEY-AT LAW, SOLICITOR IN Chancery &c. Peterborough. 9y

S. D. CRAWFORD, M. D., C. M.,

MEMBER of Royal College of Surgeons, England; licentiate Government Medical Board; Late resident Coombe Lying-in-Hospital, Dublin. Ryan's Buildings, Market Square, Peterboro. 7

Da. LOYD,

CORONER for the Counties of Peterborough and Victoria. Office and residence at Bolcaygeon. 47

GEORGE BURNHAM, M. D.

GRADUATE of Bellevue Hospital Medical College, N. Y, University of Victoria College Canada, and Licentiate of Nova Scotia, Physician, Surgeon and Accoucheur.

Office and residence,—Near the Corner of Brock and George Streets, Peterborough.

Peterboro, May 27, 1869. 43

D. PENTLAND,

DENTIST, would respectfully inform the public that he is now prepared to EXTRACT TEETH WITHOUT PAIN, by the al of Nitrous Oxide Gas, a very pleasant and perfectly safe remedy.

Peterboro, November 28, 1866. 48

W. COULTER,

DEALER in Genuine Drugs, Chemicals, Patent Medicines, Perfumery, Paints, Oils Dye Stuffs, Hair, Nail and Tooth Brushes, Glass, Culinary Essences, Fancy Soaps, &c. George Street, Peterboro. 16

RUSH & BUCKETT,

VETERINARY SURGEONS, No. 6 Henthorn's Block, George street, Peterboro Horse and Cattle Medicines kept constantly on hand. Horses taken under treatment on easy terms.

ALEX. McNEIL,

LICENSED Auctioneer for the Counties of Peterborough and Victoria, and Townships of Cavan and South Monaghan.

GEORGE READ,

ISSUER of Marriage Licenses, Clerk Division Court, Township Clerk, &c., Keene, Otonabee. 20

JAMES McLEAN,

INSURANCE Agent, Issuer of Marriage Licenses, and Commissioner for taking Affidavits.

Cavan, Mount Pleasant, C. W. 30

CABINET-MAKING.

E Cabinet maker, Upholsterer and Undertaker, George Street, Peterboro.

JAMES STEVENSON,

DEALER in Stoves, Tin-Ware, &c., &c. George Street, Peterborough. 18

ROBERT PATTERSON,

DEALER in Boots and Shoes. Spanish Sole Leather constantly on hand.

Nicholls and Hall's old stand, Simcoe Street, Peterborough.

GEORGE MITCHELL,

DEALER in Groceries and Provisions, &c. Cash paid for all kinds of country produce

George Street, Peterborough, 15

EDMUND S. VINDIN

COMMISSION, Shipping, Forwarding and General Agent, Lumber Merchant, &c.—Office, Corner of Walton and Ontario Streets, Port Hope.

BANK OF TORONTO.

CORNER of Water and Simcoe Streets, Peterboro. Interest allowed on Deposits

J. MURRAY SMITH, Manager.

ROBERT WALTON.

SADDLERY. Dealer in Stoves, Tinware, &c., George Street, Peterboro'. 18

J. R. McCULLOUGH, M. D.,

Graduate of Trinity College, Dublin, and Licentiate of the Dominion of Canada,

Physician, Surgeon, Accoucheur, &c.,

AND

Late Sageon of the U. S. Army & Navy,

Will be found at his office or at his residence, at all hours of the Day and Night, except when out on professional business.

☞ N. B.—All communications strictly confidential. ☜

RESIDENCE and

OFFICE—Next Door To Wm. McDonald's Hotel, and two doors East Of Helm's Foundry, Simcoe Street.

Visits in the Corporation One Dollar, Only.

VISITS TO THE COUNTRY MODERATE.

☞ ADVICE TO ALL FREE. ☜

Simcoe Street, Peterboro, Ont. September 8, 1868. 36

THOMAS LANNIN,

PRACTICAL TIN & COPPER SMITH, Bell Hanger, Steam and Gas Fitter, Plumber, &c. Dealer in Stoves, Iron Beds, Baths, Refrigerators, Water Coolers, Fitters, Pumps, &c.

GEORGE STREET, Peterboro, 1st June, 1870. 22

JOHN COONEY,

NURSERYMAN,

DEALER in Fruit and Ornamental Trees, Shrubs and Roses, and all kinds of Nursery stock. A very choice collection of Strawberry Plants on hand.

Orders by mail promptly attended to.

JOHN COONEY.

Peterboro, July 21, 1869. 29

ONTARIO BANK,

PETERBOROUGH.

SAVINGS DEPARTMENT.

From this date until further notice, the rate of intest in the above department will be

FIVE PER CENT.

PER ANNUM.

G. E. SHAW, Manager.

Peterboro', April 1st, 1868. 14-tf

GEORGE ALLEN.

GUN & WHITE-SMITH,

Hunter Street, Peterborough,

BEGS to inform the public that all kinds of repairing is done on the shortest notice, such as Guns, Stocking, &c., Pistols and Whitesmithing. Sewing Machines also neatly repaired.

☞ Shop and residence adjoining the Union Hotel.

Peterboro, October 25, 1865. 43

GORE DISTRICT MUTUAL

FIRE INSURANCE COMPANY!

HEAD OFFICE, GALT, ONTARIO.

CHARTERED A. D., 1836.

ASSETS, $160,000 | LOSSES PAID, $416,000

POLICIES ISSUED, 15,595.

ALL kinds of Property Insured at rates from 15 to 20 per cent. lower than Stock Companies. Claims adjusted with fairness and liberality. LOANS PROMPTLY PAID.

ROBERT McLEAN, Esq., Inspector and General Agent.

THOMAS M. SIMONS, Esq, Secretary.

R. W. ERRETT, Agent, Peterborough.

November 4, 1869. 46-1y

TO THE FARMERS

OF THE

COUNTY OF PETERBOROUGH.

The undersigned begs to intimate that he is again prepared to pay the HIGHEST CASH PRICE for

Oats, Pease, Barley and Rye,

at his New Grain Warehouse in Ashburnham, situated nearly opposite his old stand.

His friends and acquaintances are invited to give him a call as usual.

D SUTHERLAND.

Ashburnham, Sep. 29 1869 39

HARDWARE.

JOHN BERTRAM,

DEALER IN

Manilla Rope, Chains, Anchors, Axes, Augers, Saws, Files.

Carriage Springs, Solid Collar Axles Thimble Skeins; Waggon, Carriage and Buggy Bent Rims, Spokes, Shafts, Hubs, Seat Rails, Spindles—all dry; Carriage Bolts, Varnish, Paints, &c.

Leather Belting,

Machinery Oil,

Cabinet-makers' Goods,

Carpenters' Tools

And all kinds of

SHELF AND HEAVY HARDWARE.

JOHN BERTRAM,

Hardware Merchant, Peterborough.

February 2, 1871. 5

Stallion for Sale

The lately imported Horse "YOUNG ST. LAWRENCE," a thorough bred French Canadian: Sired by the justly celebrated Horse "St. Lawrence," so universally known in Lower Canada.

His Dam is also a thorough-bread French Canadian. He is a dark bay, six years old, very active, and for speed cannot be surpassed by any in the Country, and is now being fed up ready to travel.

JOHN CATHCART

Bobcaygeon, March, 1871. 11-5ins

Peterborough Examiner.

$1.50 PER ANNUM, IF PAID IN ADVANCE.] "Prove all things—Hold fast that which is good." [$2.00 PER ANNUM, IF NOT PAID IN ADVANCE.

VOL. XVI. PETERBOROUGH, THURSDAY, MAY 4, 1871. No. 18.

Travelling Directory.

MIDLAND

Railway of Canada.

ON and after MONDAY, the 19th day of SEPTEMBER, 1870, Trains will run as as follows.

TRAINS MOVING SOUTH.—MAIL.

Lindsay, Depart	9.35 a. m.
Millbrook, Arrive	11.35 a. m.
Port Hope, Arrive	1 10 p. m.

TRAINS MOVING NORTH.—MAIL.

Port Hope, Depart	3.00 p. m.
Millbrook, Arrive	4.25 "
Lindsay Arrive	6.30 "

TRAINS MOVING SOUTH.—MIXED.

Lindsay, Depart	12 25 p. m.
Millbrook, Arrive	2.35 "
Port Hope, Arrive	4.20

TRAINS MOVING NORTH.—MIXED.

Port Hope, Depart	5.45 a. m.
Millbrook	7.05 "
Lindsay, Arrive	9.10 "

PETERBOROUGH SECTION.

TRAINS MOVING SOUTH.—MAIL.

Peterborough, Depart	3.30 p. m.
Millbrook, Arrive	4.20 "
Port Hope, Arrive	5.50 "

TRAINS MOVING NORTH.—MAIL.

Port Hope, Depart	10.10 a. m.
Millbrook, Arrive	11.35 "
Peterborough, Arrive	12.35 p. m.

TRAINS MOVING SOUTH.—MIXED.

Peterborough, Depart	5.20 a. m
Millbrook	6.20 "
Port Hope, Arrive	7.40 "

TRAINS MOVING NORTH.—MIXED.

Port Hope, Depart	1.15 p. m.
Millbrook	2.35 "
Peterborough, Arrive	3.20 "

A. T. WILLIAMS, Superintendent.

Sept. 10, 1870. 38.

GRAND TRUNK RAILWAY.

TRAINS LEAVE

PORT HOPE STATION

AS FOLLOWS:

GOING EAST.

Express (day)	9.30 a.m.
Mixed	7.00 p.m.
Express (night)	9.20 p.m.

GOING WEST.

Express (night)	10.30 p.m.
Mixed	3.00 p.m.
Express (day)	10.30 a.m.

Trains leave on Railroad time, which is about twenty-three minutes ahead of Port Hope time.

Warranted correct by the Company's time Table

DAILY STAGE

BETWEEN

Norwood and Peterboro'

The Stage leaves Norwood every day, (Sunday excepted) at 7 o'clock a. m.

RETURNING, leaves Peterboro' at 2.30 p.m.

Office in Norwood, Johnson's Hotel.

Office in Peterboro', Stewart House.

Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays, Stage connects with Stage for Blairton and Marmora. And the Stage connects daily with Hastings, Warkworth and Colborne.

J. A. JOHNSON, Proprietor.

23-tf

Montreal Ocean Steamship Co.

Steam to Liverpool, Londonderry and Glasgow.

Rates of Passage from Peterboro':

CABIN, - - $76 to $88. STEERAGE - $30.

Return Tickets for 6 months at reduced fares

For Through Passage Tickets, Staterooms, and every information, apply to

GEORGE A. COX, Agent. Canadian Express Co'y.

Peterboro', Nov. 7th. 1866. 46

GREAT WESTERN RAILWAY

OF CANADA.

TORONTO LINE.

TORONTO, &c., TO HAMILTON.

Accommodation trains leave Yonge street Station at 7.00 a.m., 3.50 p.m. and 6.55 p.m. Express at 12.55 p.m.

HAMILTON, &c., TO TORONTO.

Accommodation trains leave Hamilton at 7.10 a.m., 9.50 a.m. and 7.25 p.m. Express at 3.45 p.m.

THE CANADIAN

BANK OF COMMERCE

CORNER OF

Hunter and Water Streets, Peterboro'

☞ Interest allowed on Deposits.

J. A. HALL, Manager

Peterboro, July 27, 1870. 30

THOS. MENZIES,

Now being the authorized Ticket Agent for the Grand Trunk Railway, can supply the public with

Tickets to all parts of Canada,

Also to any part of the United States.

Charges the same as at any of the Stations on the G. T. R. So get your Tickets before leaving Peterboro, and save all trouble on your journey.

THOS. MENZIES, George Street.

Peterboro July 3, 1870; 18

Choice Poetry.

The Dawn of Redemption.

[We find the following grand sacred poem in Mrs. Anna T. Randall's work on Elocution, lately issued by Ivison & Phinny, N. Y.—Ed.]

See them go forth like floods to the ocean,
Gathering might from each mountain and glen;
Wider and deeper the tide of devotion
Rolls up to God from the bosoms of men.
Hear the great multitude, mingling in chorus,
Groan as they gaze from their crimes to the sky
"Father, the midnight of death gathers o'er us,
When will the dawn of redemption draw nigh?"

"Look on us, wanderers, sinful and lowly,
Struggling with grief and temptation below;
Thine is the goodness o'er everything holy,
Thine is the mercy to pity our woe.
Thine is the power to cleanse and restore us,
Spotless and pure as the angels on high,
Father the midnight of death gathers o'er us,
When will the dawn of redemption draw nigh?"

Gray hair and golden youth, matron and maiden
Lovers of mammon and followers of fame
All with the same solemn burden are laden,
Lifting their souls to that one mighty name;
"Wild is the pathway that surges before us,
On the broad waters the black shadows lie,
Father, the midnight of death gathers o'er us
When will the dawn of redemption draw nigh?

Lo! the vast depths of futurity's ocean,
Heave with the pulse of the Infinite breath;
Why should we shrink from the billows commotion?
Angels are walking the waters of death;
Angels are blending their notes in the chorus
Rising like incense from earth to the sky,
"Father, the billows grow brighter before us,
Heaven with its mansions eternal draws nigh."
Cursed be the social wants that sin against the
"the strength of youth!"

Choice Literature.

The Mystery of Catherine Ray

BY RUBY.

A cold wintry wind swept around the house, rattling the windows and roaring down the chimneys, while now and then a door would open, as if some unquiet spirit had sought for entrance, but after one glance into the well-lighted rooms, had vanished; rushed away with moans and sighs to find another resting place. Ellin hands rattled the door knobs, and the feet of invisible walkers seemed echoing in every room.

I was an invalid, and being caught away from home when the storm came on, dared not brave its fury to return. There were other guests in the house that night, strangers to me, and so drawing an old-fashioned easy chair into one corner of the room, I sat down to watch the gleaming firelight, taking no part in the conversation, and hearing but little of it.

The gloomy night and the falling rain called to mind that wierd story of the "Ghost's Walk," in "Bleak House." I seemed to hear the step upon the terrace, and with poor Lady Dedlock I was trying to think what step it most resembled.

"Was it a man's? A woman's? The pattering of a little child's feet ever coming on—on—on?"

And here I was suddenly awakened from my musings, by the sound of a name that seemed familiar. "Raymond Trask!" Where had I heard that name? And then there rose before me the blue lake of O— nestling amid the woods and hills—a sapphire circled by emeralds—a very gem, for beauty, was that little lake; and almost without knowing it, I recalled one moonlight night, long, long ago, when a small party of us spent almost the entire night in sailing upon that little lake.

I saw again the dark waters underneath our boat, from which the stars were reflected in countless myriads. I saw around us the dark gloomy trees that surround the lake—so fresh and green by day, so bleak and sombre in the fitful glare of our torches; then, too, I heard for the last time, Raymond Trask. He made one of our little party that night, and the next morning was on his way to the far West. An orphan, with no living relatives, he came and went when and wherever he chose. He might return in a year—he might never. A year or two afterwards we heard of his marriage, and after that I lost all trace of him.

Cares of my own absorbed both time and thought, and, too, I had left my early home and did not often hear from any but my warmest friends.

Now after a lapse of fifteen years, I heard so much; and then I thought it is but a coincidence in names: it is hardly likely that this is the Raymond I once knew, and so I again forgot to listen, and wandered in imagination in the elysian fields of youth, transported thence by the sound of that familiar name; and still the rain and wind kept up their revelry, and still I fancied I heard the echoing feet upon the "Ghost's Walk."

Later in the evening, after the circle around the fire had broken up, I ventured to ask about this Raymond Trask; and then I found that it was indeed my old-time friend. But in this picture I could hardly see a trace of the old looks.

"He look so old, so worn and weary," I said. "And his wife is dead, is she?"

"Dead," replied the old man, "Dead—no, but it were better so; better so," and he shook his head sadly, and then hearing of my old acquaintence, he told me the sad story.

The narrator was a kindly hearted old man of sixty, who had known and loved Raymond for many a long year; and as he told me of it, many a tear stole down his cheek, for as he afterwards said, "I loved him as if he were my own son." I will not try to give the story in his words but this is it:—

Soon after he went West Raymond met Catherine Ray. Met, and loved her with a life-long love. She was the only child of a wealthy father, and a lovely joyous child, for she was but a child of sixteen, too young to enter upon life's duties; but Raymond was an ardent lover and would not postpone their marriage, as her father wished, until she was a few years older.

The marriage rites were over; everything had passed off delightfully, but at the moment of parting, a look, a word from the father of his bride, jarred painfully upon Raymond's nerves—

"Kate, my daughter, beware least the fate of your mother should be yours also."

He had not thought Raymond would hear but he chanced to do so, and caught also a strange look upon the face of his bride; for a moment he wondered what could be the cause, but now as he glanced at Kate the look was gone which startled him. Never had she been in gayer spirits, her dark eyes burned like stars at midnight, and the rose on cheek and lip grew deepest scarlet. Then it flashed across him that the fever fire, perchance, flowed in her cheeks bright color? but no, her hand which a moment before lay in his, had been cool and moist. Could it be that the deadly poison of consumption lurked in that fair form? and his heart almost ceased beating as he remembered she had no mother—never had he heard her name mentioned—perhaps she had fallen a victim to that great destroyer. Alas! alas! poor Raymond! not consumption alone is inherited from those who give us birth. He started forward as if to gather her up in his arms, and so save her from all evil—his beautiful, his own—all his now, voice and eyes and tender lips. Naught but death should part them, and he would fight even against death.

But now the party was breaking up, and in the bustle of separating he forgot all his fears.

Weeks passed by, and in the joy and sunshine of their happy home, where Kate, his own bright-eyed, golden-haired Kate made earth a very paradise, the fear that had for a moment haunted him, was entirely forgotten.

One evening when they had been out late to an evening party, and were riding home in the cool grey of the early dawn, the remembrance of her father's look and words occurred to him. He had noticed again that feverish glow upon the cheeks, and the dashing of her bright eyes, and now she seemed so cold and quiet, so still, as if turned from warm glowing life to a marble statue. Bending over her and laying his hand upon hers to arouse her, he asked if she were ill. "No." And then half fearing her reply, he asked of her mother, "When did she die, and what caused her death." A low moan, quickly stifled, caught his ear, and her hand that lay in his grew cold as ice

Eagerly he caught her in his arms, "Kate, my own love, what is it? You are not ill you say, and do not anticipate a fate which may never be yours, we will go South, anywhere, away from this cold clime, and with tender care I will shield you from the first approach of the great avenger."

As soon as she could speak, Kate told him he was mistaken, "It was not consumption she feared." Then as fearing she had said too much, she covered her face with her hands and with tears besought of him never to speak of it again. And so his lips were sealed, and a vague feeling of unquiet entered his breast, never again to be entirely put to rest.

After several months passed away he began to notice that his wife grew more and more unlike her old self—now eagerly rushing into society, and after an evening of unusual gayety coming home silent and gloomy, and sometimes even irritable. Sometimes he would endeavor with tenderest love to win from her the cause of it—would beg her to trust him, her own husband, and remove from their fireside the shadow that had begun to darken it. And then she would cry out as if a sudden blow had been dealt by an unseen hand, and would beg of him to leave her, and seek for happiness elsewhere.

Then for days and even weeks she would be so gentle and loving, that with all the pain she caused him, he deemed no other one possessed such a treasure as he.

In the second year after their marriage, his first born child was laid in his arms—and now he hoped all her strange, fitful ways would pass away, that the mother's love might soothe her into rest and peace But now a new disappointment came, even through the child from whom he had hoped so much.

In the first few hours of joy, which none but mothers know, she clasped her child in her arms, calling it by every sweet and tender name which love could invent; but suddenly a look of most intense agony passed over her face, and with one quick passionate embrace she laid the child down and turned away.

From that hour she seemed cold and careless to the child. A nurse was employed to supply her face. In vain did the husband and father plead with her not to resign a mother's most holy privilege to strangers; not alone for the child's sake did he plead, but for her own, thinking the touch upon her breast of baby fingers might accomplish what all else had failed to do; but no, she would have no care of the child; if none but strangers tended her, the babe might escape the mother's curse.

Now, for the first time, did Raymond's patience fail, and he reproached her for her foolish superstitions, which she had allowed to ruin his happiness and her own, and now would sacrifice the peace of their child. He said no more, for at the last words she sank into a swoon so long and deadly that Raymond thought he had killed her. She recovered, however, but never again did he mention the subject.

As time passed on her secret maldy, whatever it might be, seemed to increase, and for days together she would remain locked up in her room, and when she again joined her husband and child, would come with haggard face and blood-shot eyes.

Once, and once only did her husband ever see her manifest any love for the child. When about a year old, little Amy was stricken with that most fearful disease, Scarletina, and for a day or two her life seemed in danger. Then all the mother-love seemed aroused. Catherine would not for a moment trust her in the arms of any one else, but night and day, she gazed upon her child as one long famished looks upon food they may not taste. But through all these hours she expressed no desire for the child's recovery; no prayer arose from those quivering lips; and when all danger was passed she again resumed her former manner.

Poor Raymond! life seemed bitter enough to him, and but for the sweet child he would have known no touch of joy.

At times a half suspicion of the truth would cross his mind, but he put it from him with horror. Better were death than that, or even insanity, which he had sometimes feared.

Mr. Ray had died some time before the birth of Amy, and no relative of Kate was living, so far as he knew. Bitterly enough did he regret that he had not sought her father, before death had sealed his lips, and demanded an explanation of his wife's behaviour, then would he know what it was with which he has to contend. Better anything than this unknown shape of terror. Often did he feel the truth of those words of Tupper:

"Things undefined are full of dread, and stagger stoutest nerves."

But, alas! a day came in which he learned the truth. Too late, too late.

Raymond and little Amy now, three years old, had been away for two or three days; business called him away, and he rarely left Amy at home, for the child clung to him with the love which the mother should have claimed, but did not. Coming home in the pleasant twilight of a summer evening, Raymond seemed to feel a foreboding fear that all was not well. Chiding himself for the folly of such fears, he endeavoured to interest himself in the child's sweet prattle, but still he kept thinking of his wife—not as she had been of late, but as the girl Kate whose loved had seemed such a precious priceless priceless gift. As he neared the house and glanced up at the windows of his wife's room, all was dark. Entering the drawing-room, however, he found the lamps lighted, as usual, and the curtains drawn. Upon the mantle was a vase filled wite sweet June roses, the flowers she loved best; their faint perfumes breathed sweet upon the air; a crimson shawl she sometimes wore lay across a chair, half trailing on the floor, and seemed in its dead life to tell of absence. Hastily he ascended to his wife's chamber, but found it empty, and laying the now sleeping Amy on the bed, he rang the bell for the servant and hastily descended to the drawing-room again. Now for the first time he noticed that the piano was opened, and a song lay upon it which Kate used to sing years before. It was that sweet sad song of Byron's

"Fare the well, love
We must sever
Not for years, love,
But forever,"

Lifting it mechanically he saw a letter in his wife's writing, addressed to himself. With trembling hands he opened it; a long tress of his wife's golden brown hair fell out, and then he read the letter.

"Raymond my love—my heart's treasure—my husband! Oh, that pen of mine could put into words the love I feel for you, the agony I endure at the thought of parting. Nay, start not, for it must be so; we must part forever. Yet, once more I say it, oh that you might realize the truth of my words—I love you! I love you! Oh, husband and lover of my youth, never did my heart beat more warmly with love for you than now, and yet I leave you, leave my child, my little tender flower, sweetest babe that ever a mother had.

"Listen to the curse that has blighted all our lives. My mother (God forgive me if I loath the very name), died a miserable drunkard died away from her home, in a miserable attic, when I was born. Oh that the hour of my birth had been also that of my death, for the passion for drink, which cursed her life, as surely descended to me as did brown eyes, and the golden hair of which you once was so fond: see I enclose one tress of it for my little Amy.

"My husband, believe me when I say that in marrying you I did not think to bring upon you this disgrace and shame, and I acquit my dead father also of this wrong, and yet I have known, we both might have known better.

"In the new delight of feeling myself be loved by you, I forgot for awhile my old passion for wine. I drank but love from your dear lips. I neither did, nor wished to taste the poison that has been my curse, and so poor blind mortal that I was, dared to become you wife. But, alas! you know what our lives have been. On the very evening of our wedding day I again tasted wine, and so fell under the fearful spell once more.

Oh, I do ask you to forgive, but pity me. Do you think I did not suffer after my child came! To refuse myself the indulgence of a single one of those delights so dear to a mother's heart? I schooled my heart to turn away from those sweet caressing arms; to resist alike your entreaties and rebukes. Once, Indeed, my courage almost failed; it when Amy was so ill. I could not pray for her recovery, lest she might live, as I had done, to hate the mother that bore her. How I longed for your sympathy, but I could not tell you, I could not endure laugh of scorn and contempt.

"So fearful was I lest you should discover my secret, that when I felt the appetite for drink too strong to be resisted, I would go to my room and drink until reason almost failed, and then remained for days locked in my room lest you might suspect the truth. Had you known it, sooner, my husband, could your love have saved me? No! no! it could not be.

"Oh, my love, my love, my heart is breaking, but I must go—I will not linger longer beneath your roof—for I know that soon the truth would become known—I will not stay to contaminate our child.

"Perhaps if I go away out of your sight forever and you teach our child entirely from your own noble heart, little Amy may outlive the fearful curse.

"And now, farewell! my husband! my beloved! How can I say it, how put into these few words the love of a life time, and the agony which is worse than death. Oh! forgive, forgive; look into sweet Amy's eyes sometimes, and remember if you can, without bitterness, the face that once made sun shine in your home, the heart that beat for you alone. Once more, once more, farewell."

Shall I attempt to tell what Raymond felt. Can words describe his regret and his remorse? Oh! if he could but have known—if he could but have made at least an effort to help her break away from the chains that bound her—if he had shown her more tenderness—but no, it was not to be. Deeper than ever grew his love for the broken-hearted wife who had given up more than life to ensure his own and his child's happiness.

He searched for her—searched everywhere—every effort was made to discover where she had gone, but all in vain. The grave itself more closely hidden her.

I met him, not long ago, a gray haired man, grown old before his time. Little Amy at once his joy, delight and his anxiety, for how can he tell what her future will be.

The search for his lost Catherine he will not give over until his dying day.

Not long ago I came across a poem which describes, better than I can do, the feverish life he leads, the vain hopes that sometimes delude him:

"Through midnight streets he followed floating visions
Of faces and of forms:
He heard old tendernesses and derisions
Amid the sobs and cries of midnight storms.

"Doors closed upon her; out of gayest casements
He knew she looked at him.
In splendid mansions, and in squalid basements
Upon the walks he saw her shadow swim.

"From rapid carriages she gleamed upon him,
Whirling away from right:
From the homelessness of search she won him
Back to the dull and lonesome house at night

"The roses in the slender vases burning
Were quenched long before.
A dust was on the songs of love and yearning,
The shawl was like a shroud upon the floor.

"Her music from their thrilling chords had perished,
The stillness was not moved.
With memories of cadences long cherished,
The closes of the songs that she had sung.

"But not the tearbe felt her presence never
Out of the room depart—
Over the threshold not the less forever
He felt her going on his broken heart,"

There is an unusual interest in Boston and elsewhere, among the Catholic portion of the population on the subject of temperance. Total abstinence meetings are being held, and thousands are signing the pledge. The Catholic Bishop of of the Diocese of Boston, mindful of the immense suffering of his people from the vice of intemperence, is leading off in this movement; and most of the Catholic pastors are co-operating earnestly. It is in contemplation to have a grand convention in Boston, on a Fast day, of delegates from all the Catholic Total Abstinence Societies in that diocese, for the purpose of effecting an organization which will give efficiency to the temperance movement.—Houlton Times.

A Madman's Cunning

BY ADA GEORGE.

(Continued.)

Some scornful defiant change seemed to pass over Alice as she entered the room. Mrs. Dalrymple's glance she met with an expression calculated to impart to that lady the result of Stephen Ray's conference. At Burton, who stared up eagerly to offer a chair, she scarcely looked at all.

"Disgusting," she murmured, as young Dalrymple began his endless flow of nonsense in her ears.

"I am sick to death of him already, I ought to be thankful that music is his hobby; and if I can get him to the piano again, I will leave him to his mother, if in doing so I am compelled to be rude. I've had him thrust at me now enough to make me thoroughly disgusted, and I'll have a stop put to it."

There was a determined flash in Alice Hayden's eyes as she concluded her soliloquy; but it vanished quickly as she turned with animated vivacity to her companion.

"Oh, Mr. Dalrymple! that Italian song you spoke of. I came near forgetting it. Will you favour me with it."

And Burton, all too pleased, to do as he was requested, tnd, once seated at the instrument, Alice left him to his own devices, and betook herself to the dining room, where she entertained her mother with a gleeful account of her stratagem.

"It's quite as well that our intimacy were broken up," said her mother. "I confess I do not like Captain Dalrymple's prolonged absence from home; that is if there ever was a Captain Dalrymple in existence."

"Mother!" said Alice with a start.

"We know nothing of them except what they have told us," continued Mrs. Hayden. "I do not like Mrs. Dalrymple willingness to have you for a daughter. It is unnatural for people in her apparent station to court people in our's; to me it is a conclusive proof of something wrong."

"Really, I am of your opinion, mother; yet, I confess I do not like the idea of crossing Burton's pathway, as I am compelled to. I pity him for some reas ns incomprehensible to myself, and yet I fear him, too. I have seen a look in his eye that I would not care to see too often. Shall I tell them lunch is ready?"

"Do."

When they all were seated, Stephen Ray's absence was noted and commented upon by all but Burton's mother, who fancied he had gone home to recover, from his tete-a-tete with Alice Hayden.

But, as the days passed on, no Stephen came back to share the mother's burden, or stand between Alice and her unwelcome wooer. The look which Alice had seen in Burton's eyes came oftener and oftener now as he came to perceive the truth. But he would not believe the chilling discouragement she gave him; he resolved to put his fate to the, test, and win or lose all.

Alice was equally resolved not to give him the opportunity. She asked herself what it was that she feared, but she could only say that she did fear some dim, intangible thing—something that lay behind her rejection of his hand, and would surely follow that rojection.

You may be sure Alice was unhappy. There was Stephen Ray gone, no one knew where, and Mrs. Dalrymple plainly glad that he was out of the way. Sent off though he had been by the brief words of scorn spoken by her, she resented his silence. She felt that he ought to be above resenting himself upon her. Yet it was like what she knew of his proud, cynical, careless nature, to go back on his wandering existence, and forget her.

In spite of all her desperate efforts to the contrary, Burton seized an opportunity and laid his hand, heart and riches down for her acceptance.

He was refused.

A sudden red spark leaped into his eye, and was gone instantly. Alice had seen it, however, and she quailed.

"May I ask," he said in a voice that seemed to come from an awful distance, so deep and husky was it, "what are your reasons for this strange decision?"

"Certainly, Mr. Dalrymple. I do not love you." Alice had regained something of her half haughty composure, and spoke coldly.

"You like me, do you not?" His voice was pleading.

"I would willingly be friends with you," returned Alice, evading his question.

He broke out with passionate emphasis: "No cold friendship will I accept. I must be all or nothing! Tell me, which is it to be?"

"Nothing," said Alice, slowly. She would not look at him, because she feared to see that restless red spark in his eye again. What it meant she did not know: certwinly nothing but evil.

He turned away. At the door he paused, threw upon Alice a look of intense and fierce acrimity, and came back again.

The deep cunning depicted on his face made it beastly for the moment, as he stopped and whispered in her ear:

"You love Stephen Ray; and he will never return your love."

"There," said Alice, putting on her old insolent grace. "You are mistaken. Mr. Ray does love me."

A gratified look crossed Burton's face. Evidently he had spoken for a purpose which he had gained, for he turned and left the room.

III.

He kept away for a week. Then he came with a penitent look and imploring accent, and begged Alice to pardon him for any pain he might have given her, and asked her to renew her promise of friendship: and Alice did so.

After that she expatiated on the perfections of Stephen Ray. He detailed every little incident of their travels, bringing his tutor in for a share of all interesting actions.

Alice spoke of his illness in Marseilles; but suddenly he became close and guarded here, and realied irreverntly, or not at all.

He pursued this course for a month.

Then he stayed away again—was gone from home, and Mrs. Dalrymple renewed her intimacy with her friends, to whom she was really attached.

A few quiet, pleasant weeks followed, and then Burton Dalyrimple came back.

Two days after, he came to Alice and gave her a telegram just received. It was dated at a city some distance east, and ran as follows:

BURTON: I am alone here, among strangers—dying they tell me. Can you come to me? Tell Alice,

STEPHEN RAY.

Oh, the agony, oh the red-hot pain that struck all pride and insolence out of the poor girl! "Oh, Stephen!" was her bitter cry. "I loved you so, and I am to lose you!" and she sank cowering at Burton Dalrymple's feet.

He was very kind and gentle with her. He carried her to a sofa, and sat down near her.

She was still, for a while; then she turned a haggard face toward him crying, beseechingly: "Oh, Burton! If you are my friend, take me to him!"

"But your father and mother will never consent."

"I'll go without it," she cried, impetuously.

He hesitated. She coaxed, she wept and entreated, she went upon her knees to him, crying:

"I loved him, and I sent him from me with scorn. Oh, Burton! If you ever loved me—take me to him!"

"Be calm," he said. "I will. Will you come with me now? There is just time to reach the train."

"Yes, yes!" she said, eagerly; "Stay here while I get my hat and cloak."

She was back in a minute—all ready. Without a word they left the house and walked to the station.

The train came up soon, and they went on.

They rode until late in the afternoon and stopped at a small station, when her escort led Alice out.

"This is not in L—," she said, rousing herself from her stupor.

"Ray was not in L—. The message was simply dated there. Did you not see his address on the bottom?"

Alice had gone back to her stupor, and made no reply. Burton hailed a hack, and, after helping Alice in, gave orders to drive to "Devlin's."

The ride was long, but Alice never roused.

They stopped. Burton helped her out.

They entered a large, gloomy mansion of stone, surrounded by a high wall.

Still, no signs of impatience from Alice.

Burton rang the bell.

A dark-browed man, with gold spectacles, stood in the door, holding a lamp.

"Ah! Mr. Dean! he said, in tones of bland welcome, "I expected you. And this is your unfortunate wife!—So young and so afflicted."

"Terrible—is it not?" said Dalrymple. "But who does not even know me; and persists in the strangest hallucinations."

"It is the way with all of them," said the man, closing the door and opening one on the right. "Will you step in?"

Alice came out of her musings. She had hardly heard the conversation, and she gave utterance to the first thought in her mind.

"Is Mr. Ray living yet?" She had addressed the question to the man, and he looked inquiringly at Burton.

"Miss Hayden has come to see a friend of hers under your care—Mr. Stephen Ray. Will you please show her to his room?"

"With pleasure," replied he, taking up his lantern. "Come."

She followed him without a word.—Burton, she noted, remained behind. That was well. She did not care to have any one witness her meeting with Stephen.

Up one flight of steps, down a long hall lined with doors, and at last her conductor paused, threw open a door, and said:

"In here madam."

(To be Continued.)

The Liquor Trade of Great Britain.

The London Daily Telegraph, one of the ablest of the English Journals, published a fine article recently in regard to the liquor traffic of Great Britain. It alludes to a recent report published by Professor Levi of the importance of the business to the prosperity of England. This report has been published broadcast by Bass, the great English brewer, to convince the people that a business so important should not be hampered by restr

GRAND OPENING DAY

W. FAIRWEATHER & CO'S

Millinery & Mantle Show Rooms

WILL OPEN ON

FRIDAY FIRST!

WITH ALL THE

☞ Novelties and Latest Styles for the Season. ☜

On account of Extensive Alterations to be made on the premises, the goods will be sold cheap.

May, 1871. 18

TO THE

Farmers and Merchants

OF THE

County of Peterborough.

The subscribers would respectfully beg to intimate that the Old Woolen Mill, once owned and carried on by the late James Harvey, Esq., afterwards by Mr. Daniel Brook, has been put in a

A THOROUGH STATE OF REPAIR,

And is now filled with New Machinery, got up expressly for the Manufacture of

Blankets, Flannels, Full Cloths, Tweeds, &c.

A large assortment of the above goods of our own make, are now on hand, and will be sold Cheap for Cash, or Exchanged for wool. Special attention will be given to the Custom Department, which is in perfect order for the Manufacture of Farmer's Blankets, Roll Carding and Fulling.

JOHN WHYTE, AUGUSTUS SAWERS,

N.B.—We will pay the Highest price in Cash for any quantity of Good Clean Wool delivered at the mill.

J. W. A. S.

:o:

To my old friends in particular, and the public in general:

I am now back in the Old Mill, with Messrs. Whyte & Sawers, and have got a Large Room all to myself With a splendid

NEW CARDING MACHINE

Bring in your Wool, and I will give you BETTER ROLLS than have ever been turned out in this County.

JOHNNIE NEWTON.

Peterboro, May 3rd, 1871. 18

OWEN'S

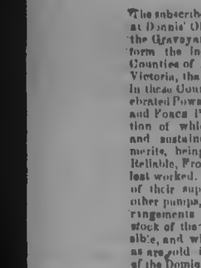
PUMP MANUFACTORY

AND

Agricultural Implement Agency

GEORGE STREET, PETERBOROUGH.

The Leading Pumps and Machines of the Dominion.



The subscriber is still on hand at Dennis' Old Stand, opposite the Graveyard, and begs to inform the inhabitants of the Counties of Peterborough and Victoria, that he is Sole Agent in these Counties for the Celebrated Powell's PATENT SWING and FORCE PUMPS—the reputation of which is Established and sustained by their own merits, being cheap, Simple, Reliable, Frost Proof, and easiest worked. Being convinced of their superiority over all other pumps, I have made arrangements to keep a good stock of them on hand, if possible, and will Sell as Cheap as are sold in any other part of the Dominion.

SOLE AGENT FOR MASSEY'S

Agricultural Implements

(including all the late improvements, viz;

Wood's Self Rake Reapers, and Mowers, and Cayuga Chief Mowers.

The Hubbard Combined Machine, which took the First Prize at Toronto in 1870.

Also, Johnson's First Prize Self Raker.

Parties wanting Machines the coming Harvest will please call and examine the different Machines before purchasing elsewhere. Prices reduced from last year.

Will guarantee them to be BETTER than the BEST of any other make. The unexampled popularity and success of this pump is not surprising, containing as it does, the Highest Efficiency with the Lowest Cost Swing Pumps for $6.00 upwards. With reference to the Powell Pump, it has been exhibited five times and secured Five Provincial First Prizes, never having been awarded anything but First and Highest Honors at State, Provincial, County, Township, or city exhibitions. This is incontestible proof of its adaptability to the wants of the people, and the climate of the country. THE FORCE PUMP is adapted to all the uses to which an ordinary pump may be applied, besides being an always-ready Fire Engine. It is allowed to be worth its cost for Washing Buggies alone, and as a Fire Preventative has saved many valuable properties. May be used for watering Gardens, Courts, &c., Sailing Tubs, &c., and many other purposes.

"Please call and examine the Powell Pump before going elsewhere, when I shall be happy to explain its advantages. Also, a large stock of Common Pumps on hand, as usual, which the subscriber will sell as cheap, if not Cheaper, than any Pump-maker in the Province. Also, COLBY'S WRINGERS for sale. Also, Agent for Rights or Pumps in Counties east of Peterborough. Pumps of all kinds Repaired on the shortest notice.

Please address, stating depth of well and other particulars:

HENRY OWENS,

April 26, 1871. George Street, Peterboro.

NO. 4 COMPANY,

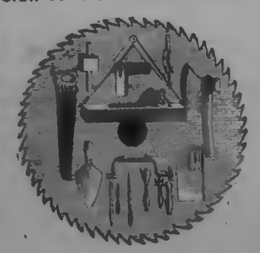
57th Battalion.

Will meet for drill at the Drill Shed, every WEDNESDAY EVENING, at 8 o'Clock, until further orders.

W. J. GREEN, Capt.,
Commanding.

Peterborough, April 24th, 1871. 18-2in

SIGN OF THE CIRCULAR SAW.



THE Subscribers would beg leave to call the attention of the public to their stock of

SHELF AND HEAVY HARDWARE

PAINTS, OILS, GLASS and PUTTY,

Agricultural and Garden Implements,

NAILS, LOCKS, HINGES, &c.

All of which they will sell at the lowest Prices.

Sign of the Circular Saw,

GEORGE STREET, PETERBORO.

McKEE & DAVIDSON.

Peterboro, April 26th, 1871. 17

TO LEND

$10,000.

Interest 8 per cent. No commission.

D. W. DUMBLE,
Solicitor.

Peterborough, April 27, 1871. 17-3ins.

TO FARMERS.

If you want to make FORTY DOLLARS AN ACRE from land,

SOW FLAX!

Let each good Farmer saw Three Acres on trial, and see how handy it is to have $120 coming in to pay off your harvest hands in August. As there is a Machine for pulling, at the mill, it makes it one of the easiest crops harvested. For seed apply to

S. TAYLOR,
Flax Mill, Ashburnham

May 3rd, 1871. 18

Insolvent Act of 1869.

In the matter of DANIEL BROOK.
An Insolvent.

The Insolvent has made an assignment of his estate to me, and the Creditors are notified to meet at the office of the Insolvent in the Town of Peterborough, on MONDAY, the TWENTY-SECOND day of MAY, 1871, at Two of the clock in the afternoon, to receive statements of his affairs and to appoint an Assignee.

Dated at Peterborough, this 2nd day of May A. D. 1871.

D. W. DUMBLE,
Interim Assignee.

18-2ins

TO LET.

AUBURN HOUSE,

AND ABOUT 20 ACRES OF LAND THEREWITH.

A Delightful Summer Residence.

Apply to

DENNISTOUN, FAIRBAIRN & CASSELS

May 3rd, 1871. 18-tf

Insolvent Act of 1869.

In the Matter of WILLIAM COULTER,
An Insolvent.

A Second Dividend Sheet has been prepared, open to objection until the SIXTEENTH day of MAY next, after which dividend will be paid.

Dated at Peterborough, this 27th day of April, A. D. 1871.

D. W. DUMBLE,
Assignee

17-2ins.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

New Opening Day—W. Fairweather & Co.
To the Farmers and Merchants of the County of Peterboro'—Whyte & Sawyers
To Let—Dennistoun, Fairbairn & Cassels.
No. 4 Company—J. W. Green.
To Farmers—S. Taylor.
Insolvent Act of 1869—D. Brook.
Farm for Sale—James Irwin.

The Peterborough Examiner

PETERBOROUGH, MAY 4, 1871.

Editorial Items.

Gavazzi is preaching in the City of Rome.

In the report of the civil cases at the Assizes, we understand the case of Hamilton vs. Whyte, was only referred. No verdict was given.

TORONTO MARKETS.—Flour, $5.75 to $6.25; Wheat, $1.35; Peas, 64cts. to 65cts; Barley, 58cts. to 60cts; Oats, 50cts. to 51cts.; Clover, $3.00.

A house in Ashburnham was struck by lightning last week, but other than knocking down the chimney, shaking some plaster, and frightening the inmates, little injury was done, we understand.

There is a "Strike" of Carters at Montreal. The "Star" says it is a dodge to secure favour from the Council, or rather to enable some members of the Council to become their advocates.

The Crispins had a strike in Toronto. The Masters refused to employ those who promoted the "Strike," and they have succeeded in obtaining labour enough without them, so the members of St. Crispin were forced to leave for the States, where they found no labour wanted at present, some have returned to Toronto again.

There is considerable stir in Lower Canada concerning the approaching election. The Bishop of Three Rivers issued a pastoral, laying down a "programme," enjoining strict adherance on all members of the church. The Archbishop repudiates the action of the Bishop, and thus matters are. Should the Clergy as a body have anything to do in politics except to secure the abolition of the sale and manufacture of Alcoholic beverages?

LIBEL SUITS.—Two $10,000 libel suits have grown out of the Late Election. One in London the less against the Messrs. Cameron proprietors and publishers of the Advertiser, commenced by the Messrs. Blackburn of the Free Press. Plaintiffs lost this case. Mr. Stevenson, late speaker of the Local Legislature, of Ontario, has commenced one against the Napanee Express, for $10,000 damages for some article written against him, during the contest. Let us hope that Mr. Stevenson may be defeated in this also.

Railroads.

The matter of Railroad Extension northward has been again and again brought before the people of Peterboro during the past few years, and the proposition to construct a road from the Town to Haliburton has been favourably received, as already $40,000 has been voted by the people for that purpose. Until very lately the idea of going to Bobcaygeon was not thought of, or if it was, no one mooted it. Within a month or two, however, Mr. Fowler has been giving the subject a little consideration, and has gone over the ground taking soundings of the waters, that would have to be crossed; and he is decidedly of the opinion that the work is not so difficult as represented, or as thought by many. He has also come down to figures. He says give me $100,000 bonus and I will construct the road to Bobcaygeon in a fixed time, say one year or so, and let the Town appoint a committee of five members to watch after the interests of the people. This is considered a favorable offer for the Town, and many would be ready to vote the bonus.—The Haliburton project by Buckhorn has its friends, and the only matter now seriously affecting the immediate prosecution of the road is the difficulty of agreement between the Directors of that enterprise and the promoters of the scheme via Bobcaygeon. The promoters of the Haliburton scheme by way of Buckhorn think that their route would open the country better than going by way of Bobcaygeon, and they assert that to do so is a matter of importance. On the other hand, Mr. W. A. Scott says: there is no country to open up, that the land on this route is worthless for agricultural purposes, so that if built it would be useless, except for the bringing out of what stuff might be raised in the English Company's townships; and taking back again whatever supplies might be required in that section of the country,—while he contends that already there is a lucrative trade at Bobcaygeon, from which point they could proceed to Haliburton.

Mr. Hunter, Reeve of Galway, who understands the wants of the back country thoroughly, is, decidedly of the opinion that to go by Bobcaygeon, and then proceed through the present settlements of the back country would serve the present settlers at least, better than the Buckhorn route, and would be as serviceable to the country in the future—besides to run the road through the settled portions would afford some encouragement to those early settlers who have borne the burden and heat of early backwood's life; and who must also pay no small share of whatever bonus is given by the county and by the municipalities in the north; and this is really worthy of consideration.

It is admitted by all that the road should be made northward, and all agree on the route to Mud Lake, viz: by the shortest possible course. Very few, if any, are in favor of going by way of Lakefield.

Then there is the Nipissing road already in the course of construction, and a portion of it will be opened this season. The present terminus is at Coboconk. This road if continued will pass through the north part of this County, and if it ever does so, without a road to Peterboro, the trade of the back country will be lost to us. It is therefore manifestly to the interest of Peterboro to secure a road at once; and immediate action will do that, and tend to prevent rival roads being made.

The road via Bobcaygeon would serve Galway and Minden to Dysart, about as well, if not better than a road by Buckhorn, and hence the back country would be as well served at present by the one as by the other.

If the road be made "solid" across Mud Lake and Pigeon Creek, and to Bobcaygeon, that road would serve the people of Bobcaygeon as well as a road from Bowmanville or one from Omemee. The whole object to them is,—who will make a road first and best.

The committee appointed at the meeting on Tuesday evening will no doubt give all these matters due consideration, and report at an early date, say in about a week or so.

Not a day should be lost. The road to the Lake should be commenced immediately. To this end, Mr. Fowler's offer should not be despised—and let a committee be named to work with Mr. F., and get the road built. If the present opportunity be neglected, the work may be indefinitely delayed. The Midland people will never build it if they can shirk it.—And what company would expend $50,000 or even $20,000 to make a road to take traffic by Peterboro that they have already by way of Lindsay, without another cent of outlay. Looking at the matter from their stand point, who can blame them.

But are we to destroy the future prospects of the town to suit any company? Let us have the road to the Lakes and Bobcaygeon, and to Cobourg if we can, without paying too dear for them. $100,000 would be well spent if it secured these projects.

The Railway Meeting.

According to announcement a Railway meeting was held in the Music Hall on Tuesday evening. It was largely attended, and, apparently, quite an interest was manifested in favor of building a road to Mud Lake at once, and by the shortest route, and, also, to Bobcaygeon.

The Mayor occupied the chair, and briefly explained its object.

The following letter from Mr. Fowler was read, showing the cause of his absence as he had intended to be present:—

SIR:—I regret I cannot be at your Railway Meeting to-morrow evening as I have not been able to make any arrangements, yet, with the Cobourg & Peterborough R. R. Co., respecting that end of Railway.

But should a resolution be passed at the meeting in favour of going to Bobcaygeon, and of Peterborough giving a bonus of $100,000 towards the project, then I will be prepared to take $50,000 stock in the P. & H. R. R. Co., as soon as I can get arrangements made with the Cobourg & Peterborough R. R. Co., for that end of the Road.

Yours, truly,

JOHN FOWLER.

Also the following telegram from Mr. Kerr, Mayor of Cobourg:

I much regret that I have been unable to meet you in Perborough to day, but I sincerely trust that the Railway meeting, this evening, will be characterized by harmony and wise counsels, and that Peterborough and Cobourg will, ere long, be joined together; let no man put them asunder.

W. KERR,
Mayor.

Mr. Dumble being called for, remarked that the present time was a very good one to secure further railway accommodation and extension. All were of one mind in reference to the wisdom of getting a road to Mud Lake, and if possible further back, say to Bobcaygeon, with a view to reaching Haliburton. Mr. Fowler had made a very liberal offer, and it would be a pity to lose the opportunity of securing the road to Mud Lake and Bobcaygeon, as he was of the opinion that this route would be the most advantageous, and certainly would be to the promoters of the railway. Bobcaygeon was favourably situated for approach by water. Trade could easily be brought by western lakes and also by the eastern ones from Buckhorn. There is already a nice lumber traffic at that place that would be an inducement to extend the road to the village. He hoped that some definite understanding would be arrived at with the Provisional Directors, to this end.—The scheme would meet the approval of a large number of the citizens, and was necessary in order to secure the advancement of Peterboro. It was also considered expedient to open the Cobourg road in order to obtain better means of communication with the front. The engineering difficulties of Mud Lake and Pigeon Creek were not of such a nature as to retard the work, it it could be seen that there was money in the undertaking. The undertaking northward of Bobcaygeon could be considered on its own merits. He referred to his advocacy of re-opening the Cobourg road four years ago—and the loss the town has sustained by refusing to do anything at that time. He was still an advocate of opening the road because he knew it was to the interest of the town to have it done, and to his interest whose property was in Peterboro. He thought Mr. Fowler's offer should be accepted—it was liberal. Besides Mr. F. was a man of energy, and would if he could make a little out of it, carry the work through—and he, Mr. D. had no objection to Mr. Fowler making a little out of it, if Peterboro reaped the advantage.

W. A. Scott also addressed the meeting on the impractibility of going by way of Buckhorn. The route would be longer—the difficulties greater, and the country almost a continuous bed of rock, where there never would be a settlement, as there was no land to settle on. He advocated the Bobcaygeon route, and the immediate construction of a road from the town to Mud Lake with that object in view, and that by the shortest possible route.

Mr. Fairbairn, M. P. P. was called on. He referred to the back country, and spoke in more favourably terms of it than Mr. Scott did; believing that there was room enough for a large settlement,—which no doubt would yet be there—He was in favour of that road, but not so much in favor of re-opening the Cobourg road, as it was doubtful whether there was trade enough to support two roads. He also referred to what might be termed the unfair method of the treatment of the people of the town by the Midland Railway Company, and said this had caused many to look upon them with disfavor, and their action in reference to the owners of property on Bethune street, afforded good reason for the feeling against the Midland people. Still he thought that the engineering difficulties of crossing Mud Lake &c., would entail a cost of about $334,000 which would be such as to prevent its construction, and if the road to Cobourg was to be built, and not traffic enough to pay, two companies, one would buy off the other he feared. He was most in favour of the route by Buckhorn. He considered, however, that good gravel roads did as much towards the prosperity of a country as any other means.

Mr. Dumble replied, advocating reaching Mud Lake, and in the future getting to Bobcaygeon.

John Hunter, Esq., Reeve of Galway, was called on, but not having prepared any thing to lay before the meeting, as he had not contemplated being at it, he could only say that he was very much interested in getting a road to the back country, and he believed that Peterboro must do something now or forego the advantages of such an enterprise, as the northern people were receiving liberal offers from other quarters. If action was now delayed ere long a rival road would carry off the trade Peterboro was now trying to secure.

Mr. Carnegie was in favor of opening up the back country, but especially of proceeding at once to Mud Lake by the shortest route with an iron rail, and then to Haliburton with a wooden rail. The whole would cost about $300,000, and he was in favour of giving $100,000 to that object and have the road in our own hands. He was decidedly opposed to going by way of Lakefield.

Mr. Blounfield also said that if the road be not constructed by way of Peterboro his company would look for some other outlet.

The following resolution was submitted and carried:

Moved by T. M. Fairbairn, seconded by J. Stratton,—That W. H. Scott, Wm. Hall, Wm Clinton, D. W. Dumble, J. Stevenson, W. A. Scott, J. Carnegie, Jr., Alex. Smith, Robt. Walton, T. J. Hazlitt, Thos. Bradburn, J. F. Dennistoun and the mover be a committee to prepare and submit a scheme for the construction of a Railway to connect the northern townships of this county with the town, and to consider Mr. Fowler's proposition and report upon it at a future meeting of the ratepayers of Peterborough, to be called at the earliest opportunity, said committee to have power to add to their number.

The following resolutions have been sent us for publication—which we willingly do, as indicative of the nervousness of a few persons whose sensibilities are such that when unduly stimulated they are with difficulty restored to equilibrium. We do sincerely hope that no rash act may be perpetrated. The loss of an arm or of any member—even a tooth, is not to be wantonly hastened. A dose of moderation would save from maiming oneself; and an application of proper bandages to secure against over inflation would perhaps, save from meeting the fate of the frog which tried to swell itself into the dimensions of the ox—but burst in the attempt.

THE RESOLUTIONS.

A public meeting was held in the Firemen's Hall on Friday evening the 28th ult., for the purpose of considering the question of the celebration of the Queen's Birthday.

The meeting was numerously attended, The mayor was called to the chair, and Mr. F. H. Knapp was appointed Secretary.

Moved by Captain O'Donnell, seconded by Mr. J. F. Dennistoun and resolved that inasmuch as it has been announced that a political demonstration will be held in Peterborough, on Her Majesty's Birthday, it is the opinion of this meeting that any general demonstration on behalf of the citizens on the same day would be inexpedient; and further that in the opinion of this meeting, steps should be taken to celebrate next Dominion day, in a manner creditabe to the inhabitants of this town and county, and that it is advisable that all our energies should be directed to that very laudable and patriotic object.

Moved by Mr. Carnegie, seconded by Mr. John Burnham, and resolved that the following gentlemen be appointed a committee to make all necessary arrangements for the celebration of Dominion Day, next, viz:

The Warden, the Mayor, Charles Perry, M.P., T. M. Fairbairn, M. P. P., Henry Calcutt, John Burnham, J. Z. Rogers, H. T. Strickland, D. Sutherland, J. F. Dennistoun, D. G. Henthorn, John Doherty, M. P. Jordon, Dr. Kincaid, F. H. Knapp, T. B. Clementi, M. Dunsford, Lt. Col. Poole, Charles Stapleton, Alex. Smith, Thomas Lamin, John Turner, H. C. Rogers, Wm. Croft, Thomas Croley and the mover, and twelve members of the Fire Company to be appointed by themselves, such committee to have power to add to their Company, and to be convened by the mover.

Moved by Mr. Charles Perry, M. P., seconded by Mr. Jonathan Stephenson, and resolved that in the opinion of this meeting it is highly improper that either the Queen's Birthday or Dominion Day should be used for demonstrations of a political character in which the general public cannot partioipate.

Moved by Mr. H. H. Smith, seconded by Dr. O'Donnell, and resolved that the Secretary be requested to send copies of the foregoing resolutions to both the Peterborough papers for publication therein.

After the usual vote of thanks to the chair the meeting separated.

The New Governor-General.

The Ministerial organs have for some time past been intimating pretty broadly that when Lord Lisgar goes home, as he is about to do in a short time, he will not return to Canada. This fact has been hinted at every now and then, and always with great positiveness. At first it was said that Lady Lisgar was going home alone, and that it was possible the Governor-General might follow, though not necessarily to stay. He might or he might not. The oracles would not be more particular. Then we were given to understand that it was altogether likely that Lord Lisgar would not return. A circumstance very much to be regretted no doubt, but still one which could not be helped no doubt. Of course the third stage was very speedily reached, and hints as to who was likely to be the new occupant of Rideau Hall, came to be knowingly dropped. Some with greater or less mysterious views pointed to a distinguished Canadian statesman as every way suited for the position; while at least one definitely and distinctly mentioned Sir John A. Macdonald as in all likelihood the "coming man." Such an appointment it was said would be exceedingly becoming in itself, and would be highly appreciated by all Canadians as a personal compliment. We don't believe that such a nomination has ever been seriously considered by any persons of influence either in Canada or elsewhere. Sure we are, at any rate, that instead of being generally acceptable, it would be regarded by judicious men of all parties as a huge blunder, and something more. The person who, in Canada, is to be for the time the locum tenens of a Constitutional Monarch must, if he is to play his part with advantage to the country and credit to himself, have a record in many respects very different from what any Canadian statesman can lay claim to, and especially different from that of the Knight of Kingston. It is not indespensible that he should be a person of exalted hereditary rank, though he is none the worse of being so, nor is it absolutely a sine qua non that he should have been distinguished as an orator or as a statesman, though that also will be an advantage; but he must at any rate be irreproachable in his personal character, distinguished for good sense, wise discernment, great coolness of judgement, tact, firmness, and for what one has felicitously called "the prosperous management of human nature." Above all things, he must understand exactly the delicate position he occupies, and the necessity there is for his holding the balance perfectly even between contending parties. His liking or his dislikings as an individual must not appear. By constitutional predecedent he is to be guided, and within constitutional limits he is ever to be staiotly confined. So much is this the case that the very suspicion of any one in such an office acting differently would greatly mar his usefullness and hamper him in all his movements. It is saying nothing ungracious of Sir John A. Macdonald to assert that he comes far short of such an ideal in the most essential particulars. The one great fatal objection—fatal if there were no others—to Sir John's pretentions is found in the fact that for a quarter of a century past he has been involved in the very thickest of the partisan warfare of the country, in many hard struggles, and in not a few very dishonorable transactions. To make him Governor General would be as objectionable a proceeding as to nominate Ben. Wood or Mr. Tweed for the United States Presidency. We do not believe that the thing has been seriously thought of anybody. We believe it has been put forward simply to pave the way for Sir John getting some other Imperial appointment, which, it is understood, he ambitions, and for which he may be not unfitted, if able to stand the severe trials to which gubernatorial hospitality would very naturally expose one of his peculiar idiosyncrasies.

The other names have been mentioned in connection with this office which will be received with the utmost respect by all ranks of Canadians. Prince Arthur won golden opinions from all sorts of people when in Canada a short time ago; when a few more years have passed over his head, should the policy of appointing a Royal Prince be adopted, he would doubtless, under certain arrangements, be a very popular governor. There are manifest difficulties, however, in a Prince of the blood occupying a position under the Colonial Minister, and being liable, if necessary, to be found fault with or even recalled, for his conduct in that position. The Marquis of Lorne, who as name has also been mentioned, has certainly some special recommendations for the place. In many important points of view it would be highly conducive to the welfare of Canada that a Princess like the Lady of Lorne should be at the head of society in the Canadian capital. It would attract great attention to Canada; and would react beneficially on our social condition in a good many ways. No doubt the Marquis is young and inexperienced, but he has shown that he has a vigorous, well-balanced mind while he comes of a family distinguished as much for the shrewd common sense of many of its members, as for its time-honored integrity and worth. To send the Marquis of Lorne to Canada as might however, be regarded too much as an experiment, which might succeed, but which also might fail, though the likelihood upon the whole is in favour of success. Canadians have no reason to be dissatisfied with the latter appointments of this high office. Lord Lisgar has shown that he knows as Governor his position in the constitutional arrangements, and can keep it. So did Lord Monk. If others sometimes forget this, so much the worse for them. It may be that in the possibly occurrences of the future it would be too great for it would be too great risk to have a Governor General whose character has not been fully formed, and whose experience in public affairs has been but limited. The office of Governor General for Canada is one even now which might well be coveted as a position of honor and usefullness for a few years by the most distinguished British statesmen, and it will become every year more important.—Globe 2nd May.

Bombardment of Paris.

(By Cable Telegraph.)

New York, May 1.—A despatch dated Paris Sunday evening says:—Yesterday witnessed a grand scene at Champ Elysees on the departure of the Free Masons on their visit to Thiers. A vast crowd was collected when fire was suddenly opened upon them, scattering people wildly. The Free Masons numbered 20 and advanced and planted 120 flags—a flag for every lodge represented on the ramparts. At six o'clock they reached the Versaillists outposts, bearing the banner, "Aimons nous les uns les Austres." They were blindfolded and sent back with the exception of the President and two delegates. Their mission was successful.

At ten this morning Dombrowski warned the Versaillists that hostilities might commence hourly. Forty thousand men are now ready for fighting in Champ de Mars.

The Versaillists have routed the Communists at Malmaison and driven them through Issy.

The Archbishop of Paris has been released. The provisions trains have been stopped. The Parisians have received an intimation that it is desirable they should stay near Paris for two years.

The Communists are using petroleum bombs.

Versailles, April 30.—It is stated that Issy is occupied by Government troops. Sales of buildings in Paris have been declared illegal.

The Molineaux affair was a brilliant one. Three hundred Communists were taken prisoners and numbers bayoneted. The work of the Government is swift.

London, April 30. It is reported in Paris that a sister of Archbishop Darboy has been arrested and taken to the prison of St. Lazear.

A meeting of members of the Republican Alliance of the Departments was held in the courtyard of the Louvre. Speeches were made and resolutions adopted denouncing the Versailles Government.

Versailles, May 1.—Fort Issy was yesterday summoned to surrender by a flag of truce from the lines of the Versailles army. The Communist garrison, in reply, asked for time for deliberation, which was accorded. Negotations will re-commence to-day.

Republican candidates were chosen at the elections in Lille.

Versailles, May 1, 10 a.m.—The insurgent garrison of Fort Issy this morning displayed a flag of truce, and a party has been sent forward from the Government lines to convey the terms upon which the surrender of the fort will be accepted.

There was a disturbance at Lyons yesterday, fomented by the friends of the Paris Commune, but it was readily quelled by the authorities.

Paris, May 1, Forenoon—Gen Cluseret has been dismissed from the office of Minister of War by the Commune, and is replaced by Rossell.

The Cri du Peuple says: Gen. Cluseret has been arrested by order of the Executive Committee, with the approval of the Commune. La Cecilla is in command at Fort Issy. Gen. Durrassair replaces Okolowitz, who has been wounded.

There was cannonading and musketry fire at Neuilly all through last night but it has now slackened.

The Journal de Paris says the Versaillists have evacuated Gennevilliers.

Paris, May 1.—The firing last night was fearful and apparently utterly reckless. Nothing to compare with it has occurred since the commencement of the civil war. The city is greatly excited and alarmed, and groups of frightened people are collected in almost every street and avenue, discussing the state of affairs. General Oklowitzi wound is a very severe one and his recovery is doubtful.

The delegates from the Masonic lodges of Paris have returned from Versailles unable to accomplish anything. They report that President Thiers expresses the opinion that a peace arrangement with the Paris Commune is impossible.

Versailles, May 1.—A large number of troops moved towards Paris to-day as reinforcements to the army of investment.

The editors of all moderate journals in Paris have been ordered to be prosecuted by the Commune, and are leaving the city as rapidly as possible. Private telegraphing in Paris is again entirely suspended.

M. Rossell in accepting the insurgent ministry of war, says he shall have need of the absolute co-operation of the Commune, the troops, and the people of Paris. The provincial elections in all parts of France have resulted in the choice of Conservative Republicans.

Brest, May 1.—The S. S. Periere, from New York, has arrived.

Versailles, May 1, 7 p m.—Negotiations for the surrender of Fort d'Issy failed. The bombardment has commenced and is now very violent.

In the Assembly to-day minister Picard stated that the municipal elections through out France passed off quietly yesterday except at Crons where the quarter in which the Mayor's office is located was invaded by a riotous crowd of men partially armed. M. Valetine, porsect of the department, with the assistance of General Cruzal, succeeded in restoring order, though not without a conflict in which the former was wounded, but not dangerously. There was also a slight disturbance in a town in President Thiers' department of Pay Le Dome, which was repressed.

Paris, May 1st, afternoon, via London, 10:30 p m.—The Commune has revoked the order for the arrest of Gen. Cluseret.

A series of barracadas are building to completely encircle the city.

Gen. Wroblolski is now in command of the left bank of the Seine and the forts outside the walls.

The delegates of Freemasons were coldly received by President Thiers, and returned to the city on foot. The Masons take turns with the Nationals in guarding the banners of the order on the ramparts, and do duty bravely under a terrible fire.

London, May 2.—The Times Versailles correspondent says that the insurgents at Neuilly are themselves throwing petroleum shells into Paris to keep up the indignation of the populace against the Versailles Government. The people are led to believe that they come from the lines of the army of the Assembly.

The Daily News despatch from Versailles says that McMahon has sent a column of 25,000 troops against the insurgents, who are making a sortie by way of Chouy le Roi. A great battle is expected to morrow A new army for the reinforcement of that enveloping Paris is being formed at Auxerre.

The Versaillists are daily gaining ground Another despatch says the re occupation of Fort d'Issy by the Communists is again contradicted; and it is said that the fort is entirely deserted.

London, May 2nd.—A special despatch from Berlin to the Telegraph says that the council of war held in that city has agreed to give a certain limit of time to the Communists to submit to the Versailles Government, at the expiration of which the Prussians will interfere to compel such action. The Versailles authorities are said to have been notified of this decision by the Prussian government.

The result of the recent elections is satisfactory to the Government.

The Freemasons have been ordered to retake the banners which they had planted on the ramparts of the city, the Versailles Government and troops declining to respect them.

Napoleon declared yesterday that he would not return to France, nor listen to any proposition for his return.

President Thiers has determined upon a coup d'etat after entering Paris by making himself and Marshal McMahon joint regents, with the Empress Eugenie.

Berlin, April 30.—An Imperial Council was held to-day to consider the situation of Paris. Prince Bismarck was present. It was agreed to notify the Versailles Government that a further limited period would be allowed for the restoration of authority, the enforcement of order, and the fulfilment of the treaty stipulations after which Germany will take independent action to establish law and order in Paris. The despatch will emphasize the wish of Germany not to interfere in the internal and political affairs of France, but will add that such a terminable civil war, originating in revolutionary character led by disgraceful excesses cannot longer be tolerated, for the moral and material interests of Germany, as well as those of the whole of Europe, are suffering.

Private reliable information leads to the belief that it is the intention of the Germans to restore the Regency as the next legitimate Government, in the event of the Versailles Government being unable to enforce its authority.

Versailles, Monday night.—Fort Issy proposes surrendering. The Government troops surround the Fort. Hostages are demanded by General Faran as a guarantee that the Fort will not be mined, and he threatens that if it is blown up the garrison will be shot.

Sixty thousand men are ready at Reuil to make an attack.

Is Murder in Manitoba a Crime.

At the present time there is no topic which occupies the attention of the British American people more than this. This question has produced great anxiety amongst the people of this Province in particular, from one end to the other. The people of Manitoba believed, as subjects of her Majesty Queen Victoria, that they were entitled to that protection, which loyal subjects in other parts of the British dominions received, and they laboured under the impression that if England would spend so much of her national resources in according protection to a solitary individual imprisoned in the wilds of Abyssinia, she would at least place some value upon the lives and liberties of ten thousand of her subjects resident at Red River. No other country in the civilized world has suffered so much in the last year as Manitoba. No other country on the face of the earth has been placed in such a political chaos, as has this country since the first day of December 1869. It is well known that at that time a party was induced by designing men to take up arms in open rebellion against the Queens authority and they succeeded in expelling her representative from the country, they imprisoned in cold dungeons, such as were suspected of loyalty to their Queen, banished others into exile, robbed them of their property, and confiscated it to rebellious purposes. They thirsted for the blood of loyal men and even went so far as to put a price upon their heads, and to cap the climax of their diabolical atrocities they perpetrated a cold blooded murder on a man who was found guilty of no other crime than devoted loyalty to his Queen and country, a murder which for deliberate butchery and premeditated cruelty is unparalleled in the annals of civilized nations. Captives were dragged from their houses, and from the bosoms of their families, and examined as close together as sardines into cold icy dungeons at Fort Garry, and at a season when the thermometer marked 30° below zero, where they were kept half starved on rotten pemmican and cold water. The frosty iron rings and chains with which they were fettered literally burned into the flesh to such an extent that the poor fellows had to tear the woolen shirts off their backs to wrap round and under their fetters to ease their excruciating pains. Some of these were released by being compelled to swear allegiance to the Riel government and others who were prepared to suffer death before they would pander to treason, remained in irons until their constitutions became wrecked, and the Queens Government have prepared them for a premature grave. During all this, the loyal people were the more numerous, and could have easily protected themselves, but being unwilling to shed blood they took the advices of their leaders, and patiently awaited the advent of the troops, and consequently the establishment of law and order to have all their wrongs rectified. They were well aware that they had strength enough to protect themselves, wisdom to direct themselves, and courage to lead them on to victory. Well the troops came, the Governor also came, and has been here nearly eight months, the government has been organized, elections held, Legislature convened, the governor has delivered his speech, and not one word about the past, or what is to be done to protect us in the future by punishing crimes of the past. We have been cajoled into silence by the promise that as soon as the establishment of law and order murderers and robbers would be brought to justice. Well the time has arrived and we are told that we must let "bygones be bygones." We have no desire that the atrocities of last winter should be remembered for ever, we do not desire that all persons engaged in the rebellion should be hanged, although, indeed, a great number deserve it, but what we do desire is, that the majesty of the law should be tried before a jury of their own country men, and if declared innocent take their places again in society, and if found guilty, we do not wish to see them suffer death, the Government can do as they to do, exercise their pardoning prerogatives and let them have pardon but they may pretend to say that they have no jurisdiction, they may endeavour to shove the responsibility on the Dominion Government and the Dominion Government may throw it on the Hudson Bay Company and government may keep shuffling and shifting it until doomsday, but still we wish to acquaint all of them that as long as the waters of the Assiniboine mingle with those of the Red River, as long will the loyal people of Manitoba remember the treatment they have received at the hands of our authorities. What inducement is there to live in a country where there is such a premium in rebellion? What is to prevent a recurrence of the deeds of last winter inside of a year? Can we punish the future without doing so in the past? Perhaps we can, wonders will never cease in Manitoba! It is an old saying "that the way of the transgressor is hard," but in this Province the adage is reversed for we find that the way of the transgressor is the sure road to office.

We hope that in the interests of mankind, some of our representatives will bring the matter before the Legislature now assembled, and we trust that the members of the whole house both French and English will express their disapproval and abhorence of the transactions of last winter, and of the unprovoked and justifiable murder of a royal man, guilty of no other crime than a desire to see the British flag float over Fort Garry. We hope our representatives will by their voices and give an answer to query at the head of this article and that answer will be "murder IS a crime in Manitoba.

To the Editor of the Peterboro Examiner.

DEAR SIR:

Below I give you a report of a loyal and patriotic meeting held in the Fireman's Hall, Peterboro, on Friday, the 28th April, to prevent the celebration of the Queen's Birthday here.

The meeting having been announced by posters, was attended by all the leading gentlemen in town and vicinity, who belong to no political party, and who always show by their liberal patriotic and unselfish acts whether during political contests or in the affairs of the town, that they are above being influenced by any party or clique. When such men as these speak we have a right to listen. It is for our good, and that of the whole community, that they are led to move in any matter; and so, when these gentlemen are induced by something to forego the comforts of their own firesides, or the pleasures of their social relations, for an evening, to attend a public meeting, we may safely conclude that that something is of vital importance to the community. Your correspondent, accordingly, on hearing of this meeting was led to enquire respecting the cause of the attendance of so many leading and representative gentlemen at a meeting of so grave an import as that of having reference to amusement. What! Were some of these legal or representative gents going to blacken their faces, or dress themselves in sheep skins or sackcloth and join in some grand masquerade for the amusement of the public on the Queen's Birthday? No! not a bit of it. Just the reverse. They assembled for the purpose of preventing anything of the kind. Owing to an announcement in the last Examiner that the Reformers of this County were going to have a Banquet on the evening of the Queen's Birthday, it was understood that Messrs. Blake, Mckenzie and O'Donohoe would be present, and although the Banquet would be in some Hall in the town, attended by perhaps 400 of the leading reformers of the County, yet it was barely possible Blake, & Co. might be seen on the street or might even harrangue a crowd on the Market or in the Drill shed, and, as they are such strong party-men, they might pollute the minds of the whole community, so that there would not be left a no-party man in the whole County. Thus it would be that the labours of these self-sacrificing men would be lost for ever. It need not therefore surprise any one to hear that these gentlemen determined to shut down on anything in the shape of public demonstrations or amusements on the 24th, and giving the people a gentle hint that it would be better for them to keep closely to their houses or perhaps go to church, or spend the day in fasting, humiliation and prayer. It is only in this way, they clearly saw, that the morals of the people could be preserved. Nor need we feel surprised at the fact that some of these gentlemen were very much excited, One in particular, even went so far in his labour of love for the good of the people, as to engage at his own expense the Music Hall and Turner's Hall for the evening of the 24th, so that if the Reform Banquet came off at all, it would have to be held on the flat roof of one of the large blocks in the town, or a building would have Poetry.

There was a creature formed by God,
Which did show forth his power,
He never for sinners did repent,
Or name of christian bore

The law he never understood,
Nor did the gospel know,
And yet he did miracles, which God
Commanded him to do.

He never for sinners did lament;
Yet, moved by power divine,
Against a man of God was sent
To punish him for sin.

He had no hope of future bliss,
Nor feared his Maker's rod,
Yet did contain a living soul,
That parted after God.

Although his great Creator's will
He never once transgressed;
He shall no seat in glory fill;
Among the saints is rest

Now read the world from age
In history profane,
No record but the Sacred Page,
This wonder doth explain.

Contested Elections.

The following is the list of elections contested for the Legislative Assembly of Ontario:

Monk	McCallum
Brockville	Fitzsimmons
Stormont	Colquhoun
Glengarry	Craig
Carleton	Monk
Prescott	Hamilton
Prince Edward	Striker
North York	Boultbee
North Simcoe	Ardagh
West Riding of York	Patterson.

All the above, except Messrs. Striker of Prince Edward, and Patterson of the West Riding of York, we believe, are supporters of the coalition ministry. Should any of them be unseated, it will therefore be a double gain to the opposition. Recorder.

The rejoicing in Scotland on the occasion of the royal marriage appears to have been universal. Highlanders and Lowlanders all united to express their satisfaction at an event which they naturally consider to be a great compliment to their country, and their good wishes for the future of the young couple. As might be expected, the rejoicings at Inverary, the ancestral seat of the house of Argyll, were peculiarly hearty, and judging from the account given, were entirely successful. Every hamlet was a scene of revelry, and the festivities at Inverary Castle were on the most extensive and liberal scale. There were flags and barrels of beer, and from the terrace at the southern front the 2nd Argyll Volunteers fired a royal salute, without killing anybody, from a small battery of cannon taken from a vessel of the Spanish Armada which was wrecked on the western coast. There were Highland games, and in the evening a great dinner to the tenantry. The chairman, after announcing that he had received a telegram from London stating that the important ceremony "had been safely got over, proposed the health of the bride and bridegroom, which toast was received "with the most extravagant enthusiasm, all the gentlemen present mounting the table and shouting in Gaelic at the top of their voices, "Here's health to the Marquis of Lorne and the Queen's daughter." The pipes then struck up, "The Campbells are coming." As the mountaineers warmed to the scene the music had an electric effect upon them, and up they jumped and commenced dancing. A local bard here sung a Gaelic song composed for the occasion, which lasted nearly an hour.

DREADFUL GUN ACCIDENT.—Three weeks ago last Saturday, as a number of lads were firing at a mark, on Mr. Robt. Wright's farm near Bloomfield, W. Irwin, aged 16, had gone behind a long pile of cord-wood, (near the mark,) with the intention of making an examination after the shot was fired by young Richard Nourse, and as the shot was not fired as soon as he expected, he leaned forward from behind the wood to see what was the cause of delay, thus placing his head in the direct line of the mark. To the horror of young Nourse this was done just as he pulled the trigger, and the lad Irwin received most of the charge in his face. The unfortunate boy fell and was taken into a neighbour's house where Dr. King was soon in attendance. We were informed, on Monday, that the lad is able to be about again, but has his face full of shot; fifty eight can be counted. He lost the sight of his right eye.—Messenger.

In Stone Fort Ill., on the 26th ult., a whole family named Dakins were found murdered in the log hut in which they lived The scene in the cabin was a horrible one. On the bed lay the wife and mother, her throat cut and hacked fearfully, showing that she had made a desperate resistance. Near the fire placed lay a fair-haired girl of twelve, on a pallet two little boys, and on the floor another little girl, all with their throats cut. A trail of blood led a hundred yards from the hut, where lay the father, Dakins, clasping an infant of a year old similarly murdered. The man's throat, cut from ear to ear, and a bloody razor in his hand, proclaimed him the author of the wholesale slaughter. The cause is unknow, but was probably jealousy and whiskey.

ACCIDENTAL DEATH AT ORILLIA.—A young man from Peterboro', named Thos. Quinlin, employed by Hotchkiss & Hughson lumberers, was killed yesterday by a log rolling over him, while engaged in rolling saw-logs down a bank into Muskoka Lake, near Gravenhurst. An inquest was held on the body here to-day by Dr. Sanderson. Verdict, accidental death. The unfortunate young man was a son of Mr. Quinlan, of Otonabee, with whom we sincerely sympathise.

Our police authorities are notified that notorious pugilists, Joe Coburne and Jim Mace, have entered into an agreement whereby they bind themselves to pummel each other on the 11th of May, "on the Canadian side of Lake Erie, within eighty miles (by water) of Detroit.

The report is in circulation that Mr. Burton, M. P., for East Durham, will be appointed to the office of Commissioner of Inland Revenue, vacated by Mr. Worthington, superannated.—Globe of 3rd inst.

A Modern Dick Turpin.—The story of the recent escape of James A Hamilton one of the oldest and the most dangerous convicts in the prison at Lancaster, Pa., reads like a leaf from Dick Turpin's exploits. He was put at shoemaking in a solitary cell, but complaining that his bench was low got some planks to put under it.—Beneath those he cut a hole through the floor working by night and covering the traces by day, with the planks. Beneath the floor was solid masonry through which he could pass, and attacked the solid prison wall from his narrow crevice under the floor, and although it was three feet thick he made a breach and passed safely through, and let himself down two stores by a very thin, but exceedingly strong shoe thread. Breaking into the wash house and carpenter shop he procured a change of cloths and lumber to construct a ladder with which to pass over the jailyard wall. This ladder is a model of ingenuity.—None of the lumber was stout enough to make the sides so he lashed several slender pieces together with bedcord and tied broken barrel staves together for rounds.

A girl named Margaret Strachen aged 15 residing in Gallegate, Aberdeen was accidently killed in Messrs Gordon & Co's factory last week.

Three young men named respectively Lobban Chapman and McGregor, are in Forfar, jail charged with being ringleaders in the late riot at Montrose.

The bonfire on Ben Nevis on Tuesday night was lighted at 7 p m by two shepards Duncan Cameron and John Macdonald and they state that the sight was a magnificent one until the mist shrouded it from their view.

Eighty thousands tons of granite were recently quarried at one blast in the Beinard quarries in Argyleshire, Scotland.

Angling on the River Turso has this season been the worst for the last twenty years. For thirteen weeks the river was covered over with ice from one foot to eighteen inches teick.

The Ottawa "Times" generally credited as a ministerial organ," has just thought proper to severely animadvert upon the Parliamentary 'hush up" of the scott murder. A great change seems to have come over those who were once so ready to con demn any attempt at an enquiry into the above outrage, and it is not improbable that even yet at least a show of justice will be made in the case of this cold blooded murder of a British subject who died for refusing to turn traitor to the Government of canada, and who, had he been but a dog could not of been less thought of by that very Government.

We are glad to see indications of the return of the Rev. W M. Punshon to England. He is on a tour in California, and intends visiting Salt Lake. He will return to Canada to preside at the next sitting of the Conference there. But which will probably be the last occasion of his occupying the chair of the Canadian Conference. The Irish Wesleyans invited him to succeed Mr. Arthur as principal of the Belfast College, but that is not quite the sphere for such a man, and the English Wesleyans when he returns—as we expect he will next year—will no doubt find him suitable work. "London Christian World."

Western editors appear to have Blake on the brain; not an exchange comes to hand but has a column or so condemning or lauding the member for West Durham. If Ontario readers are as pleased to wade through there articles as the editors seem eager to pen them the sister provience must just now be in an extremely blissful state. "Star."

LUMBERMAN DROWNED.—A man by the name of Whalen Empy, employed on Messrs. Gilmour & Co.'s saw-log drive, was drown about three miles below this place to-day. He was attempting to cross the river in a boat along with three others, when the boat capsized. The others being good swimmers saved themselves from the same fate. The body has not yet been recovered.

PETERBOROUGH MARKETS.

Peterborough April 26, 1871

Flour ₱ bl	$6	25	@	6 50
Wheat ₱ bush fall	1	00	@	1 75
Spring Wheat ₱ bush	1	10	@	1 20
Peas	0	80	@	0 8
Barley "	0	60	@	0 62
Oats "	0	50	@	0 55
Potatoes "	0	30	@	0 35
Hay ₱ ton	8	00	@	10 00
Hides ₱ cwt	6	00	@	7 00
Beef ₱ cwt	6	5	@	7 00
Sheepskins	0	75	@	1 25
Wool ₱ lb	0	25	@	0 30
Pork ₱ cwt	7	00	@	8 00
Eggs, per dozen	0	10	@	0 10
Butter	0	15	@	0 18
Cordwood	2	50	@	3 00
Turkeys	0	75	@	1 50
Geese	0	40	@	0 5
Chickens	0	35	@	0 45

IMPORTANT TO KNOW.

One of Dr. Radway's Pills (made from Vegetable Extracts, prepared in vacuo), taken one hour before dinner, will insure a good appetite, promote digestion, and make healthy flesh. Taken in doses of from 4 to 6, every night, will cure Indigestion, Costiveness, Liver Complaints, Jaundice, and all diseases of the Stomach, Liver, Bowels, Kidneys, etc.

These Pills are free from drastic, ripping and nauseating drugs! They purify the blood, cleanse the intestines, and purge from the system all corrupt and acrimonious humor Ladies in ill health should use them. Aged persons, subject to Costiveness or Paralysis of the bowels, should take two or three every night, for a few weeks; and the weak, infirm and paralysed bowels will become healthy and vigorous as in the prime of life.

An old gentleman in the city of New York, has suffered with costiveness for 20 years, used injections during that time. One dose of Radaway's Pills gave him natural evacuation: six boxes cured him. He now feels more active and enjoys better health than he did 40 years ago. Price 25 cents.

See Dr. Radway's Almanac for 1870. B.

☞The Illinois Central Railway Company south of Chicago, are building eleven mills or Corn Cribs, the capacity of which will be three millions of bushels; they are erecting these cribs to receive corn in payment for lands purchased of the Company and the full Chicago price is to be payed for it there. Corn is the great agricultural staple of that country, and gub "Canadian Pain Destroyer" is the best remedy in any country where a disordered condition of the stomach liver and bowels is combined with great debility nervous weakness and intense melancholy its effects are most beneficial and wonderful. price 24 cts. per bottel. Sold by all medicine dealers.

FELLOWS' HYPOPHOSPHITES.

Amongst the diseases overcome by the use of

Fellows' Compound Syrup of Hypophosphites

ARE

Constipation, Asthma, Consumption, Laryngitis, Nervous Debility, Dyspepsia, Chronic Bronchitis, Chronic Diarrhœa, Melancholy.

Debility resulting from Typhoid and other low fevers, Diphtheritic, dysteria, Hypochondria, Amenorrhœa, Chlorosis Anæmia, Leucorrhœa, Nervous Excitability, Marasmus, or wasting of the Muscles, Aphonia, or loss of Voice, Chorea or St. Vitus's Dance, Sluggishness of the Liver, Interrupted and Feeble Action of the heart, Suffocating feeling caused by mucous obstructions of the Lungs and Air passages leading thereto, and Debility from various causes, many cases of which appear hopeless.

SOLD BY APOTHECARIES.

Price, $1.50; Six for $1.50.

JAME I. FELLOW, CHEMIST,

ST. JOHN, N. B.

16-1871. 4mos.

Great Conditionowder

As a condition medicine for Horses "Dariers Condition Powders and Arabian Heave Remedy," has no equal, its effects in this respect are astonishing; many horses that were supposed to be broken down and almost worthless, have by the use of a few packages been restored to a healthy and sound condition, all traces of the disease having been completely removed and have been sold for from $50 to $75 more than they would previously have brought; when you want a horse medicine get 'Darley's Condition Powders and Heave Remedy, we know you will be perfectly satisfied with the result. Remember the name and see that the signature of Hurd and Co. is on each package. Northrop & Lyman, Newcastle, Ont., proprietors for Canada. Sold by all medicine dealers.

THE GREAT FEMALE REMEDY Job Moses' Peridocal Pills.

This invaluable medicine is unfailing in the cure of all those painful and dangerous diseases to which the female constitution is subject. It moderates all excess and removes all obstructions, and a speedy cure may be relied on.

TO MARRIED LADIES.

It is peculiarly suited. It will in a short time, bring on the monthly period with regularity.

These Pills should not be taken by Female during the FIRST THREE MONTHS of Pregnancy, as they are sure to bring on Miscarriage, but at any other time they are safe.

In all cases of Nervous and Spinal Affection, Pains in the Back and Limbs, on slight exertion, Palpitation of the Heart, Arrayerics, and Whites, the Pills will effect a cure when all other means have failed; and although a powerful remedy, do not contain iron, calomel, antimony, or anything hurtful to the constitution.

Full directions in the pamphlet around each package, which should be carefully preserved

JOB MOSES', NEW YORK, SOLE PROPRIETOR

$1.00 and 12½ cents for postage, enclosed to Northrop & Lyman, Newcastle, Ont., general agents for the Dominion, will ensure a bottle, containing over 50 pills, by return mail.

Iron ore, taken from the back hills, near the highest level of the Union Pacific Railway, has been smelted at Omaha and found of excellent quality, yielding 80 per cent, of superior metal Three hills of the ore lie near the railroad.

CANADIAN PAIN DESTROYER.

A Family Medicine, well and favorably known for the past ten years, never failing in a single instance to give permanent relief when timely used, and we have never known a single case of dissatisfaction where the directions have been properly followed, but on the contrary all are delighted with its operations, and speak in the highest terms of its Virtues and Magical effects.

THE CANADIAN PAIN DESTROYER has won for itself a reputation, as a blood purifier, alternative stomach tonic, unsurpassed in the history of medical preparations. It seldom fails to cure Dyspepsia, Liver Complaints, Indigestion, Heartburn, Sick Headache, Kidney Complaints, Acid Stomach Phathisic or Asthma, and restores to vital activity the system debilitated by suffering and disease.

Its magical and wonderful success in curing sudden colds, sore throat, coughs, Diptheria, pains in the side, loins and back, neuralgia, toothache, rheumatic and other pains in any part of the body and from whatever cause, has given it a place in every household and is fast superseding all other preparations of the kind.

It is also an effectual and prompt remedy for scalds, burns, bruises, sprains, chilblains, cholera morbus, billious cholic, cholera infantum, dysentery, &c.

Price only twenty-five cents per bottle.

NORTHROP & LYMAN,
Newcastle, C. W.
General Agents for Canada.

Sold in Peterborough by Dr. Taylor, A. W. Kempt, Wm. Coulter and Ormond & Walsh. In Keene by A. Campbell, Campbell McNeil & Co., C. Britton, Lindsay, and all Medicine Dealers.

Wife to husband:—Charles, I wish when you are in the village to-day that you would step into the Druggist's and buy a bottle of the Pain Killer. Be sure and get the genuine made by "Perry Davis & Son."

Husband:—What on earth do you intend doing with the PAIN KILLER, my dear?

Wife:—Freely caught severe cold last night can hardly speak, he is so hoarse and George has had the toothache since yesterday morning and yourself with Rheumatism. If what every body says can be believed, the PAIN KILLER will cure these complaints and such a house as this is we are always in trouble, and it would be a perfect God-send if we could find something to ease our lesser afflictions.

Husband:—Well, Mary, anything for a quiet house we will try the PAIN KILLER.

(To be continued.)

☞The PAIN-KILLER is an internal and external remedy for pain For internal pain, Cramps Spasms, Sudden Cold and Bowel difficulties, a few drops in water will give immediate relief. As a liniment it is without an equal; it stops pain almost instantly Be sure and get the genuine made by Perry Davis & Son and sold by Druggists and Grocers.

Is your throat sore or are annoyed by a constant cough? If so use promptly "Bryan's Pulmonic Wafers," they will give you instant relief. They relieve the air passages of phlegm or mucous, and allay inflamation, and no safer remedy can be had for coughs, colds or any complaint if the throat or lungs, and if taken in time their efficacy will soon be improved.—Sold by all country dealers. Price 25 cents per box.

ONE HUNDRED DOLLARS A WORD.

For every word in the following certificate found untrue, after writing to the parties named and to the U. S. Consul, at Rio Janeiro, the sum of one hundred dollars will be paid.

Rio de Janeiro, Feb. 28th, 1866.

Messrs. Raymundo C. Leite & Bro:

Gentlemen:—While a son of my friend Mr Francisco de Mattos Pinreuin [a large proprietor in the Cidad de Campos] was staying at my house he was attacked with intermittent fever. Immediately I sent for the very clever Dr. Tosoco, who is thought a good deal of in Campos, but the fever instead of diminishing, turned, continued, and typhoid, the boy (14 years old) could not speak, would not take the broths, and it required a great deal of coaxing to make him swallow the medicines. Dr. Tosoco declared that there was not the slightest hopes of saving the boy's life; that it would be advisable to write to his father and inform him of the state of his son's health. At that moment I thought of the well spoken Dr, Radway & Co.s medicaments, and applied them in the following manner: One teaspoon of Relief in a tumbler of water, dividing it three doses a day; frictions with the relief pure on the chest, back and wrists; three of Radway's Pills every day, and well covered so that he might perspire. Second day, half an hour after meals, one dessert-spoon of Resolvent and water. In the fourth day he was able to get up from bed to the astonishment of every one who witnessed the miracle of Dr. Radway & Co's. medicaments.

I remain, gentlemen, your very obedient servant

Joaquim Pinto Filcao, Merchant.

Dr. Raday's Remedies are sold by Druggists and Country Merchants. See Dr. Radway's Almanac for 1870.

Q. T.
BUSINESS EDUCATION

BRITISH AMERICAN BUSINESS COLLEGE and Telegraphic Institute The only representative in Ontario of the Bryant & Stratton International Chain of Colleges.

The Theory Department is thoroughly adapted to those who wish to lay the foundation of a sound business education.

The Practical Department is a minature business world, where each Student performs all the routine duties of office work, such as buying, selling, shipping, commission, and drawing notes, drafts and checks. A regular Bank of issue is in connection with this department with beautifully engraved bank notes, which is as perfect in its details as the best organized institution in the Country.

Thorough instruction in Telegraphy. Life Scholarship good in forty Colleges. For terms address

ODELL & TROUT, Toronto.

September 21st, 1870.

WILD CHERRY BALSAM—The memory of Dr. Wister is embalmed in the hearts of thousands whom his Balsam of Wild Cherry has cured of coughs, colds, consumption, or some other form of Pulmonary disease. It is now over forty years since this preparation was brought before the public, and yet the demand for it is a specific.

"Fellows' Compound of Hypophosphites is prescribed by the first physicians in every city and town where it has been introduced, and it is a throughly orthodox preparation.

HAVE YOU TIME?—If not don't delay another moment, but get a bottle of the "Canadian Pain Destroyer." It is far ahead of any other medicine and was never known to fail. All aches and pains are immediately and permanently removed by it and the price places it within the reach of all. Sold by all the leading Dealers.

COURT OF REVISION.

Township of Dummer.

The Court of Revision for the Township of Dummer, will hold its First Sitting in the Town Hall, on Saturday, 20th day of May 1871.

Commencing at 10, a. m.

A. S. MAGUIRE.
Clerk.

Dummer, April 19, 1871, 16

ASHBURNHAM.

COURT OF REVISION

The Court of Revision for the Village of Ashburnham will be held in the Council Chamber,

On Monday, 15th day of May, next,

at 10 o'clock, a. m.;

Of which all interested will please take notice

JAS. STRATTON,
Village Clerk.

Ashburnham, April 17, 1871. 16

NOTICE.

NORTH MONAGHAN

THE COURT OF REVISION ON THE Assessment Roll for the Municipality of MONAGHAN (North), will be held at the Town Hall, on

SATURDAY, 13th day of MAY, 1871.

Commencing at 10 o'clock, A. M.

WILLIAM WOOD,
Township Clerk.

Monaghan, April 17th, 1871. 16

COURT OF REVISION.

OTONABEE.

The Court of Revision for the Municipal Corporation of the Township of Otonabee will hold its First Sitting for 1871, on

Monday, the 15th day of May, next,

Commencing at 10 o'clock, a. m.

GEO. READ,
Township Clerk.

Otonabee, 14 April, 1871, 16

VICTORIA CARRIAGE AND Wagon Factory

Corner of Brock and George Streets.

The Subscriber would respectfully announce that he has leased the above establishment, opposite the Commercial Hotel and is now prepared to Manufacture

CARRIAGES,
BUGGIES,
WAGGONS,
WHEEL-BARROWS,
HARROWS, &c.

At Low Prices for Cash.

HORSE-SHOEING MADE A SPECIALTY.

GEORGE W. MILLS.

Peterboro, March 7th, 1871.

N. B.—As there is another person in Peterboro named "George Mills," the public will please remember the distinction in the names. G. W. M. 13-tf

PIANOS, MELODEONS, ORGANS

D. PENTLAND,

Is now Agent for A. & S. Norheimer for the sale of the following celebrated Pianos:—

Chickering & Sons'; Steinway & Sons'; Dunham & Sons'; Haines Brothers'; Ernest Gabler; and J. W. Vose's.

Also, for the world-wide Celebrated Organs and Melodeons—Geo. A. Prince & Co., Buffalo; Mason & Hamlin's, Boston.

Instruction Books for Piano & Organ, Sheet Music, &c. always on hand.

REFERENCES.—Mr. F Bell, Organist, St. John's Church, Peterboro; Mr. D. D. Gallely, Chorister, Canada Presbyterian Church, Peterboro; Mr. J. I. Davidson, Precentor, St. Andrew's Church, Peterboro; Dr. Taylor, Peterboro.

Peterboro, April 5th, 1871. 14

NOTICE.

The first sitting of the

COURT OF REVISION

For the united Townships of Galway and Cavendish, will be held at the Union School House, No. 2, on

Saturday, 13th Day of May, 1871

At 10 o'clock, a. m. Of which all interested will govern themselves accordingly.

C. IRWIN,
Township Clerk.

Galway, April 3rd, 1871. 15-td.

NOTICE.

Municipality of Burleigh.

The Court of Revision

For the Townships of Burleigh, Anstruther, Chandos, Cardiff and Monmouth, will hold its first sitting at Eastland's, Apsley, on

FRIDAY, 5th DAY of MAY,

Commencing at 10 o'clock, a. m.

HENRY EASTLAND,
Township Clerk.

Apsley, 3rd April, 1871. 15-td.

BOARD AND LODGING.

MRS. DAVIS'S Boarding House has re-opened on Simcoe street, where good board and lodging can be furnished for gentlemen.

T. W. DAVIS.

June 29, 1870. 26-1y

FARM FOR SALE.

The subscriber offers for Sale his Farm, North half of Lot 29, in the

13th Concession of Smith,

Containing 100 Acres. There are about 60 Acres improved and in a good state of cultivation. On the premises are a Comfortable Log House, Log Barn, Stables, and Sheds; a Good Well and other accommodations. For terms and particulars apply to

JAMES IRWIN,
Proprietor.

Harvey, May 3, 1871. 18 Lakehurst P. O.

CHANGE OF BUSINESS

New Foundry Firm.

The Subscriber in retiring from the Foundry Business in which he has been engaged for the past 15 years, begs to return thanks to his friends and the public in general, for the liberal patronage conferred upon him, at the same time he would beg to state that the business in future will be carried on by his BROTHER JAMES and JAMES R. DAVIS, under the firm of Whyte & Davis. Mr. Davis is well known as a First Class Machinist and Millwright, therefore I have every confidence in recommending the New Firm to the public, feeling assured that all orders entrusted to them will be executed in the most satisfactory manner, and with dispatch.

JOHN WHYTE.

Peterborough. April 1st, 1871.

N. B.—Parties having Notes and Accounts to settle, will please bear in mind that the Books of account and Notes will be at my Woolen Mill, West of Whyte & Hamilton's Foundries.—J. W.

The Subscribers having Commenced Business in the Old Stand of John Whyte, Esq., as (Founders, Machinists and Agricultural Implement Manufacturers,) beg to say that they keep on hand all kinds of

AGRICULTURAL IMPLEMENTS,

SUCH AS

STEEL, COMMON, AND GANG PLOWS, HARROWS, ROOT CUTTERS, CULTIVATORS, HORSE HOES, GARDEN AND FIELD ROLLERS, HAY AND STRAW CUTTERS, with almost every Implement used on the Farm.

General Repairing of Reapers, Mowers, Threshing Machines and Implements of Husbandry on the Shortest Notice.

Parties about purchasing any of the above Implements will do well to call and inspect our Stock on hand, before making a purchase elsewhere.

WHYTE & DAVIS

Peterborough, April 1st, 1871. 13-tf.

NOW IS THE TIME!

TO GET

CHEAP ROOM PAPER,

BOOKS, STATIONERY, &c.,

At A. B. KIDD'S BOOKSTORE,

AS THERE IS BEING A

GENERAL TURNING UPSIDE DOWN!

OF EVERYTHING IN HIS ESTABLISHMENT, OWING TO

An Enlargement and Re-fitting of Premises.

SPECIAL ATTENTION IS INVITED TO HIS

NEW STOCK OF GOLD ROOM PAPER AND BORDERINGS.

Just received direct from England. He will sell these papers less, by 25 per cent, than they can be bought in Toronto.

Peterborough, April 5th, 1871. 14

A CARD

E. BAKEWELL, having made an engagement with Mr Bradburn, may be found, by his former Patrons and Customers, at the store lately occupied by M. Moloney, where he hopes by his usual attention to business, and with increased facilities for giving satisfaction, still to merit and receive their patronage.

E. BAKEWELL.

Peterboro, Dec. 19, 1870. 51-tf.

1871 Annual Announcement 1871

(ESTABLISHED 1856.)

SEEDS!

Fresh, Good, and True,

The subscriber has received his supply of

FIELD,
FLOWER, and
GARDEN SEEDS.

Both of Home and Imported Stock.

WARRANTED GENUINE

FARMERS AND MARKET GARDENERS are respectfully invited to call and inspect for themselves.

COUNTRY MERCHANTS, supplied, as usual with boxes on Commission, or for Cash.

"Honesty" is our motto, both in character of seed, and in price.

WM. H. TAYLOR, M. D

At the old Stand, Corner of George and Hunter Streets, Peterborough, Ont. 16-tf

COURT OF REVISION.

Town of Peterborough.

The Meeting of the Court of Revision for the Municipality of the Town of Peterborough, will be held in the Council Chamber, on

Thurtday, the 18th day of May, 1871,

Commencing at 10 o'clock, a. m,

J. EDWARDS,
Town Clerk.

Peterboro, 19th April, 1871. 16

(Review please copy)

HOUSE AND LOT FOR SALE.

The undersigned offers for sale the dwelling House and Lot on

LONDON STREET,

at present occupied by himself.

Further particulars can be obtained by application to

Wm. LECH,
Proprietor.

Peterborough, April 19th 1871. 16-tf.

(Review please copy.)

TO BLACKSMITHS.

TO RENT.

A BLACKSMITH SHOP and DWELLING House, with a large Garden attached,

AT LAKEVALE

Better known as Fowler's Corners, Fourth Concession of Smith. Rent Reasonable. For particulars apply to

JAMES FOWLER, Senr.

Lot 1, 2nd Con., Smith,

Smith, April 23, 1871. 17 4in

Insolvent Act of 1869.

In the matter of HENRY THOMAS STRICKLAND, GEORGE WILLIAM ROSS STRICKLAND and ROLAND CLEMENT STRICKLAND, as individuals and as co-partners of the firm of STRICKLAND BROTHERS.

Insolvents.

WILL BE SOLD BY

PUBLIC AUCTION

AT THE

COURT HOUSE,

IN THE

TOWN OF PETERBOROUGH,

ON

Tuesday, the 29th day of May next,

AT 12 O'CLOCK, NOON,

All the right, title and interest, of the above named Henry Thomas Strickland, in and to the North half of the East half of lot No. 2, in the 11th Concession of the Township of Douro; and Village lot, No. 2 south of Charles Street and west of Lake Street; and Lot No. 2 North of Maria Street and West of Lake Street in the Village of Ashburnham.

J. A. HALL,
Assignee.

Peterboro', April 19, 1871. 16-td

A FARMER'S COMPANY.

FARMERS!

Insure Your Property

IN THE

AGRICULTURAL

INSURANCE COMPANY.

A Stock Company entirely devoted to your interests.

Insures nothing but Farm Property and Detached Residences.

Chartered and commenced business in 1853.

CASH ASSETS - - $550,000.

Mr. Langton's Report shows over $68,000 deposited as especial protection to Canadian Policy-holders.

Head Office for the Dominion of Canada, Kingston, Ontario.

We would refer you to the following named Gentlemen, in regard to the pecuniary responsibility of the Company:

H. Calcutt, Brewer; John Burnham, Barrister; J. A. Hall, Agent Canadian Bank of Commerce; Thos. Menzies, Stationer and Exchange Broker.

ATTORNEY—John Burnham, Esq.

BANK—Canadian Bank of Commerce.

WM. T. Fish, Cobourg, Gen. Agent for the Counties of Prince Edward, Hastings, Northumberland, Durham, Ontario, Peterboro and Victoria.

Local Agent for the Town of Peterborough,

W. A. KING.

6-tf.

FERGUSON & ELDER'S

New Dress Goods.
New Prints.
New Parasols.

1871. SPRING 1871.

To the Ladies.

New Millinery, New Millinery,

We open our Show-Room on

Saturday, the 15th of April, 1871,

with a full Stock of Trimmed Hats and Bonnets, Silk and fancy Mantles, Flowers, Plumes Ribbons, Trimmings, &c. Just see our New Millinery before buying, and oblige,

Yours Respectfully.

FERGUSON & ELDER.

Carpet Ware House.

The Subscribers have opened in connection with their business, a Carpet Ware Room, where they have now in Stock a Choice Supply of BRUSSELS, TAPESTRY, ALL WOOL, AND OTHER CARPETS; Floor Oil Cloths, Crumb Cloths, Door Mats, Window Curtains and Furnishings, All of which they offer for sale at City Prices.

Their Tapestry Carpets, which are very beautiful, are Private Patterns, made for a New York Establishment, and they cannot be bought in any House here.

CLUXTON, HENDERSON & CLUXTON.

April 18, 1871. 15-3ins.

W. G. THOMSON & Co's

MILLINERY ROOMS!

ARE NOW OPENED

WITH A RICH DISPLAY OF

NEW AND FASHIONABLE GOODS!

IN ALL THE

LATEST STYLES

AND AT MODERATE PRICES.

April 13th, 1871. 16-3ins

1871 New Spring Goods. 1871

EVERY VARIETY OF BOOTS AND SHOES

CHEAPER THAN EVER!

FOR CASH,

Are Daily Arriving

AT

LARMOUR & SARNEY'S

NEW DOMINION

Cheap Boot & Shoe Store,

(BRULL'S OLD CORNER,)

George Street, Peterboro.

Peterboro, April 13, 1871. 15

Select Poetry

An Adrece 2 A Swine.

A POEM AWL IN BLAKE VERSE EXEPT THE 2 LAST LINES.

(Mr. editor, tell the printer to set it.)

Ye Newse ayce, kum to my aid, o com—
Ascist me 2 pour 4th, in glowing verse,
The natice & doings of a kwadrooped
Kawled guney, now kumly, sum-curyus,
U say—[illegible] in, they, kindly send)
That [illegible] awl day in 1st kourty,
Threed [illegible] up yer middle, nikum-duxus,
Krunchin[illegible] divers korners & hol droce,
I of10 Ider wh[illegible]k is—
If it is mod of [illegible]-ledher, as
The bak pair[illegible] kaddo's hyde.
Yer stamc[illegible]treig & il 2 sirs,
It must B 10[illegible]nger than my od;
4 awl the [illegible] U had B ugly.
The ve[illegible]
U ett [illegible], spines, myce, & mails,
Wurk[illegible], chickens, and blak snails,
Mofy-waybords, yeloyouts, and sparys,
Layreks, lintys, robins, blak-burds, bens, juks, & kraws,
Fish-guts, hens-h[illegible]ds & rabit-skins,
Awl go, U greedy brutt, in2 yer hogis.
O gussy but U R a sensclis beast,
4 when I kum 2 U at denic tyme
& koups yer nett in2 yer troch,
U kany wate wi' paisheace til it keise;
But in U go amood beth feet & nose,
Bloostrin & slabrin, til the very last
Goes our yer kraig ankristen'd wi a greco.
O grunf, I'm sure thairs no a jintilman
In a' the land kood o'er wi U kompare,
& U have nocht 3 doo but att & sleep,
& wauk aboot awl day gust at yer besbir.
When wuntir binds the bilose o' the north,
& Borias drives his nose atwart the plane,
U siaber up yer nett; then down U ly
In2 yer bed, snug hapit our the bed,
& snors and sleeps throughout the wohtir day,
But when sweet simer kums wi beddo & flouro,
Wheh wurkin men R lyke 2 melt wi' hett,
In2 the kauldest gutter down U ly,
& beaks awl day B4 the beeming sun.
But O, a dreedfu end's in store 4 U!
Fair Grumf! it gars my flesh 2gether kreep
2 think that U must at your thrapel feel
The tyrant's grasp and cruel bootchir's syfe.
But why must U these tortirs wild endure?
& why led 4th 2 such anawfeel end?
I'll tel U why. Swyne's just like wurkin men;
They're tortird thus meerly 4 gruntfy
The kraving spytyte of selfish man.
Ye hardened wretches who delite 2 O
The kruel bootchir plunge his gleaming blade
In the thrapel of his skreeming viktim,
Turn from these gastly senes with moyntenadise
& with soft harts pirmit my Muse 2 say,
"I murn yer fate, beast, klorty though U B,
4 o U has a deedly death to dee."

Kastle, Febrywurry 1868. BILL RUSTIC.

P. S.—mr editer, as I am thrang riting a noo grawmir i will put B at el 2 cend U a poim 4 sum weeks 2 kum.

N. B.—Specmin of grawmir: Swyne the ploorii of swyne—ony kind o' jendir yo lyke; kase—as the kase may B.

B. R.

Jersey Lightning.

Who it was that invented alcohol I am unable to say without lieing, but it would have been a just blessing for the rest of us if he and the licker had both ov them been spilt on the ground and neither bin picked up since.

The Devil himself with all his genius for a ten strike, could not have rolled a ball more serviceable for his pigeons on earth. Rum is the Devil's stool pigeon his right bower, his high low, jack and the game.

A grate many, with dyspeptic moralergy that licker is indispensible for manufacturing and doctor purposes and they hold that yu couldn't raise a barn that would stand without enny good old Jamaka rum, and sum say that puddingsess without enny spearits in it is no healthier than common goose grease.

But all of these argys are furnished free of cost, by the Devil himself and enny man who advances them in telling (without knowing it perhaps) lies that will weigh at a ruff estimate at least a pound apiece.—But my object in those preliminary remarks is to get a good chance to tell what I know about 'Jersey lightning' [one or Hezekiah's kind] as a manufacturing and metaphysical agent.

Jersey lightning is brandy cider three hours old still born and quicker than a flash. The juice is drank raw by all the old sports, and makes a premonitory and hissing noise as it winds down the throat like an old shee goose setting on eggs, or a hot iron stuck into ice water. Three horns a day of this will jam a man's intestines in six months so that he kan swallow a live six footed krab, fast fust and not waste a wink. It don't fat a man (cider brandy don't) like whiskey dog. If a man has survive the first 3 years of Jersey lightning, he is safe then for the next 75 years few cum, and keeps old red pepper pod, hotter and hotter. An old cider brandy drinker will scream, in a sudden shower or rain, like a pile of stable manure, and his breath smells like a rum cask lately emptyed.

When Jersey lightning is fust born it tastes like biteing terpentine and cayenne half and half and will raize a blood blister on a pair of old kowhide brogans in 15 minits and applied externally will cure the rheumatism or bure the patient, I forge which. The fust horn a man takes ov this licker will make him think he has swallowed a gaslight, and he will go out behind the barn and die tew die but kant.

The more villanous the drink the more inveterate are those who drink it. I kant tell you whether cider brandy will shorten an old sucker's days or not for they generally outlive all the rest of their neighbours and die just ex soon ax the old tavern changes hands and is opened on temperance principles one bottle of sas afrass or ginger pop is ex fatal to those old fellors as a rifle ball is to a bed bugg.

I would do almost anything but murder tew save a young man from Jersey lightning, but trieing tew save an old one is like tricing to put the fire ont of a hollow logg you might ax well let it burn up for the ashes is worth more then the logg.

Josh Billings.

The oldest relic of humanity extant is the skeleton of one of the earlier Pharoahs encased in its original burial robes, and wonderfully perfect considering its age, which was deposited about eighteen of twenty months ago in the British Museum, and is justly considered the most valuable of its archeological treasures. The lid of the coffin which contained the royal mummy was inscribed with the name of its occupant. Pharaoh Mykerinus, who succeeded the heir of the builder of the Great Pyramid, about ten centuries before Christ.—The monarch whose crumbling bones and feathery integuments are now exciting the wonder gazers in London, reigned in Egypt before Solomon was born, and only about eleven centuries or so after Mizraim, the grandson of father Noah, and the first of the Pharaohs, had been carried to his fathers. The tidemark of the deluge would scarcely have been obliterated when this man of the early world lived, moved and had his being.

Pianos and Melodeons

Messrs. R. S. Williams & Co.

TORONTO,

Beg to inform their friends and customers the Mr. D. Burton is no longer Agent for the Sale of their Instruments. In the meantime,

Mr. F. T. LUMSDEN of Warsaw,

AND

Mr. R. [illegible]ritt, Peterboro,

Will take orders for the said supply Pianos [illegible] Organs at the Lowest Price [illegible] Easy terms.

[illegible] ORGANS TO RENT.

Address letters for enquiries to F. T. Lumsden, Warsaw P. O., or R. W. Errett, Peterboro.

R. S. WILLIAMS & Co.

Toronto, March 28th, 1871. 13-4in

Farm for Sale.

The undersigned offers for sale his Farm in the

TOWNSHIP OF SMITH

Consisting of Lot 26, in the 11th Concession, and the North Half of 26, in the 10th Concession, and

Containing 300 Acres,

Lot 26 in the 11th Concession is improved, 100 Acres of it being cleared. The remaining 200 Acres are good wood lands. The property is about Ten Miles from Peterboro, and five from the Village of Lakefield. There is a good Frame Barn, with a stone foundation under it: besides Stables, Sheds under the barn: Two Good Wells, and Two Healthy Orchards bearing good fruit: There is a good Log Dwelling on the property, and it is within half a mile of a Post Office, Two Churches and a Good School. It will be sold in whole or in part to suit purchasers.

Terms made known by applying to the proprietor,

RICHARD FREEBORN,
Salwyn P. O.

Smith, March 22, 1871. 12

ASHBURNHAM

New Carriage, Waggon And Black-Smith Shop.

The undersigned begs to announce to the people of Ashburnham, and surrounding Country, that he has commenced a new Carriage, Waggon and Blacksmithing Shop, on Lake Street, opposite the residence of H. D. Rogers, Esq., where he will be prepared to do all sorts of work in the above line.

Reparing Promply Attended to

A first-class Black-smith will be always ready and willing to attend to Jobbing and horse-shoeing.

The patronage of the public is respectfully solicited.

A. WALLER

Ashburnham, March, 1871. 11-

$765,000

In Cash Gifts to be Distributed by the New York Cash Prize Co.

EVERY TICKET DRAWS A PRIZE.

5	Cash Gifts each,	$40 000	50	Cash Gifts, each,	$1,000
10	" "	20 000	300	" "	500
20	" "	8,000	350	" "	100
50	Elegant Rosewood Pianos, — each		$300 to		$700
75	" Melodeons	"	70 to		100
350	Sewing Machines —	"	60 to		175
500	Gold Watches —	"	75 to		200
	Cash Prizes, Silver Watches, valued at		$1,000 to		$2,000

A change to draw any of the above Prizes for 25c. Tickets describing Prizes are sealed in Envelopes and well mixed. On receipt of 25c. a Sealed Tickets as drawn without choice and sent by mail to any address. The prize named upon it will be delivered to the ticket-holder on payment of One Dollar. Prizes are immediatly sent to any address by express or returned mail.

You will know what your prizes is before you pay for it. "Any Prize exchanged for another of the same value." No blanks. Our patrons can depend on fair dealing.

REFERANCES:—The following lately drew Valuable Prizes and kindly permit us to publish them:—Andrew J. Burns, Chicago, $10,000; Jas. M. Matthews, Detroit, $5,000, John T. Anderson, Savannah, $5,000; James Simmons, Boston, $10 000.

PRESS OPINIONS:—"The firm is reliable."—"Weekly Tribune, Dec 28." "Deserve their success."—N. Y. Herald, Jan. 1. "Just and Honorable."—News, Dec, 9.

Send for circular. Liberal inducements to Agents. Satisfaction guratteed. Every package of 200 Sealed. Envelopes contains one Cash gift. Seven tickts for $1; 17 for $2, 50 for $5; 200 for $15. Address

C. B. HARRIS & Co.,
Managers,
62 Broadway, N. Y

Peterborough March 16th, 1871. 10-6.

NOTICE.

NOTICE is hereby given that application will be made by the Corporation of the Town of Bowmanville, to the Legislature of the Province of Ontario, at its next Session, for an Act authorizing the construction of a Railway from the waters of Lake Ontario in the Town of Bowmanville, in the County of Durham through some parts of the Townships of Darlington, Clarke Cartwright and Manvers in the said County of Durham, and the Town of Lindsay and Townships of Ops, Emily Fenelon and Verulam, to the Village of Bobcaygeon in the County of Victoria, thence to the Government lands, and lands of the English Land Company in the counties of Victoria and Peterboro, and to amalgamate or make running arrangements with other Railways.

F. CURTT,
Mayor.

R. WINDATT,
Town Clerk.

Bowmanville, March 22nd, 1871. 13-6ins

DAILY LINE
TO
ROCHESTER.

The Superb new Lake Upper Stare Cabin Steamer.

NORSEMAN,

Carrying United States and Canadian Mails and Express

Leaves Port Hope every Morning

FOR ROCHESTER

At 9 o'clock on arrival of Grand Trunk Railway Trains from East and West.

RETURNING,

Leaves Port of Rochester (Charlotte) every [illegible]ed [illegible]at 9 o'clock (excep. Saturday), when she leaves at two P. M., for Brighton.)

This is the favourite summer route from Toronto to Rochester, Albany, &c. The cheapest and quickest route from points East of Port Hope on the Grand Trunk, to Rochester, Buffalo, &c. The favourite route to Avon and Clifton Springs, &c.

Passengers and freight take cars along-side steamer at Rochester Landing.

Connection made at Cobourg ask Port Hope with Royal Mail Line Steamers from Hamilton and Montreal.

Address E. C. CARTER,
15 PORT HOPE, ONT.

CANADIAN BANK OF COMMERCE

THE Canadian Bank of Commerce have opened a

Saving's Bank Department

in Peterborough. Interest allowed on all sums over $1.00.

J. A. HALL
Manager

EXTENSIVE

ALTERATIONS

AND

Enlargement of Premises.

—IN—

W. FAIRWEATHER &CO

Preparatory to making Extensive Alterations and Enlargement of their present premises

Will sell off at a Great Sacrifice

THE WHOLE OF THEIR

Large and Valuable Stock

AT COST AND UNDER COST,

In order to allow the Tradesmen, early in April, full scope for their work and to

Prevent the Goods being Damaged by Lime Dust,

GREAT INDUCEMENTS WILL BE GIVEN

READY CASH BUYERS.

Goods will be Sold

AT PRICES NEVER BEFORE ATTEMPTED IN THE SALE OF FIRST CLASS GOODS

The Stock is well known to be all of Superior Quality.

Cash Buyers are invited to inspect the Goods and Prices, bearing to mind that no fault will be found if they do not buy.

REMEMBER

W. FAIRWEATHER & CO'S

CHEAP SALE FOR READY CASH.

March, 1818. 11.

NEW SADDLERY!

The Subscriber wishes to inform his friends—old and new—that he has re-commenced the

Saddlery and Harness Business,

In the Shop next to the Toronto Bank,

Lately occupied by the Telegraph and Express Companies, opposite to Messrs. Nicholls & Halls, Simcoe Street,

Where he will at all times keep on hand or have made to order by first class workmen, everything usually kept in first class establishments, such as

GENTS' SADDLES, LADIES' DO,

Harness, Single and Double, Coarse, Heavy and Fine,

TRAVELLING BAGS, TRUNKS, SATCHELLS,

WHIPS, MATS, HORSE CLOTHING, &c.

☞ Grateful for past favors in his various lines of business during the last 20 years, he asks his friends to inspect his stock before purchasing elsewhere.

D. HOPKINS.

Peterboro, May 18, 1870. 20

CHEAP SALE

CONTINUED AT THE

MONTREAL HOUSE!

A. W. LASHER & CO

Have removed to the Montreal House, where they will dispose of the

The Balance of their Winter Stock!

CONSISTING OF

DRY GOODS, GROCERIES, BOOTS & SHOES

AT OR NEAR COST.

Special Bargains in Teas,

FOR THE NEXT TWO MONTHS.

Peterboro, Feb. 3, 1871. 5

NEW

Fall and Winter Goods!

T. BRADBURN,

Having succeeded in disposing of the greater portion of his former stock, and having since purchased heavily in Montreal and Toronto Markets, at the Lowest possible prices, is now showing and invites inspection of the following lines of new Fall and Winter Goods:

CLOTHS:

A complete stock of English and Canadian Cloths and Tweeds.

DRESS GOODS:

New Wool Serges, New Tartan Poplins,
New Wool Tartans, New Figured Poplins.
New French Reps, New Figured Reps,
New French Merinoes, New French Delaines,
New Wincies, New Crape Cloths,
New Black Lustres, New Velvets and (Double Warp) New Velveteens.

HOSIERY,

In great variety, English, Scotch and Canadian.

FLANNELS,

A full assortment of Welsh, Lancashire, Saxony, and Canadian Manufacture Also, Salisbury and Fancy Flannel Shirting. very Cheap.

Prints, Linens and Towellings.

JUST OPENED,

A New and Select Stock of Gents' Collars, Ties, Scarfs and Gloves.

GLOVES, CORSETS and SKIRTS.

Those about to purchase FURS would do well to retain their orders, as a large lot will be opened in due time, and will be SOLD CHEAP.

T. BRADBURN.

Peterboro, Oct. 11, 1870. 41

Ayer's Cathartic Pills,

For all the purposes of a Laxative [illegible]

[illegible] System in our midst [illegible] is so universally recommended to everybody as a reliable, [illegible] ever was any need to universally known, as these pills [illegible] but a reliable purgative pill. The obvious reason is, that it is a more reliable and far more effectual remedy than any other. Those who have tried it, know that it cured them; those who have not, know that it cures their neighbors and friends, and all know that what it does once it does always—that it never fails through any fault or neglect of its composition. We have thousands upon thousands of certificates of their remarkable cures of the following complaints, but such cures are known in every neighborhood, and we need not publish them. Adapted to all ages and conditions in all climates; containing neither calomel or any deleterious drug, they may be taken with safety by anybody. Their sugar coating preserves them ever fresh and makes them pleasant to take, while being purely vegetable no harm can arise from their use in any quantity.

They operate by their powerful influence on the internal viscera to purify the blood and stimulate it into healthy action—remove the obstructions of the stomach, bowels, liver, and other organs of the body, restoring their irregular action to health, and by correcting, wherever they exist, such derangements as are the first origin of disease.

Minute directions are given in the wrapper on the box, for the following complaints, which these Pills rapidly cure:—

For Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Listlessness, Langour and Loss of Appetite, they should be taken moderately to stimulate the stomach and restore its healthy tone and action.

For Liver Complaint and its various symptoms, Bilious Headache, Sick Headache, Jaundice or Green Sickness, Bilious Colic and Bilious Fevers, they should be judiciously taken for each case, to correct the diseased action or remove the obstructions which cause it.

For Dysentery or Diarrhœa, but one mild dose is generally required.

For Rheumatism, Gout, Gravel, Palpitation of the Heart, Pain in the Side, Back and Loins, they should be continuously taken, as required, to change the diseased action of the system. With such change those complaints disappear.

For Dropsy and Dropsical Swellings, they should be taken in large and frequent doses to produce the effect of a drastic purge.

For Suppression a large dose should be taken as it produces the desired effect by sympathy.

As a Dinner Pill, take one or two Pills to promote digestion and relieve the stomach.

An occasional dose stimulates the stomach and bowels into healthy action, restores the appetite, and invigorates the system. Hence it is often advantageous where no serious derangement exists. One who feels tolerably well, often finds that a dose of these Pills makes him feel decidedly better, from their cleansing and renovating effect on the digestive apparatus.

DR. J. C. AYER & CO., Practical Chemists,
LOWELL, MASS., U. S. A.

NORTHROP & LYMAN.
Newcastle.

General Agents for Ontario.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral,

For Diseases of the Throat and Lungs, such as Coughs, Colds, Whooping Cough, Bronchitis, Asthma, and Consumption.

Probably never before, in the whole history of medicine, has anything won so widely and so deeply upon the confidence of mankind, as this excellent remedy for pulmonary complaints. Through a long series of years, and among most of the races of men it has risen higher and higher in their estimation, as it has become better known. Its uniform character and power to cure the various affections of the lungs and throat, have made it known as a reliable protecter against them. While adapted to milder forms of disease and to young children, it is at the same time the most effectual remedy that can be given for incipient consumption, and the dangerous affections of the throat and lungs. As a protection against sudden attacks of Croup, it should be kept on hand in every family, and indeed as all are sometimes subject to colds and coughs, all should be provided with this antidote for them.

Although settled Consumption is thought incurable, still great numbers of cases where the disease seemed settled, have been completely cured, and the patient restored to sound health by the Cherry Pectoral. So complete is its mastery over the disorders of the Lungs and Throat, that the most obstinate of them yield to it. When nothing else could reach them, under the Cherry Pectoral they subside and disappear.

Singers and Public Speakers find great protection from it.

Asthma is always relieved and often wholly cured by it.

Bronchitis is generally cured by taking the Cherry Pectoral in small and frequent doses.

So generally are its virtues known that we need not publish the certificates of them here, or do more than assure the public that its qualities are fully maintained.

Ayer's Ague Cure,

For Fever and Ague, Intermittent Fever, Chill Fever, Remittent Fever, Dumb Ague, Periodical or Bilious Fever, &c., and indeed all the affections which arise from malarious, marsh, or miasmatic poisons.

As its name implies, it does Cure, and does not fail. Containing neither Arsenic, Quinine, Bismuth, Zinc, nor any other mineral or poisonous substance whatever, it is safe to administer to any patient. The number and importance of its cures in the agues districts, are literally beyond account, and we believe without a parallel in the history of any medicine. Our pride is gratified by the acknowledgments we receive of the radical cures effected in obstinate cases, and where other remedies had wholly failed.

Unacclimated persons, either resident in, or travelling through miasmatic localities, will be protected by taking the Ague Cure daily.

For Liver Complaints, arising from torpidity of the Liver, it is an excellent remedy, stimulating the Liver into healthy activity.

For Bilious Disorders and Liver Complaints, it is an excellent remedy, producing many truly remarkable cures, where other medicines had failed.

Prepared by Dr. J. C. Ayer & Co., Practical and Analytical Chemists, Lowell, Mass., and sold [illegible] the world.

PRICE $1.00 PER BOTTLE.

NORTHROP & LYMAN,
Newcastle

General Agents for Ontario.

IRON IN THE BLOOD

MAKES THE WEAK STRONG.

The Peruvian Syrup, a Protected Solution of the Protoxide of Iron, is so combined as to have the character of an aliment, as easily digested and assimilated with the blood as the simplest food. It increases the quantity of Nature's Own Vitalizing Agent, Iron in the blood, and cures "a thousand ills," simply by Toning up, Invigorating and Vitalizing the System. The enriched and vitalized blood permeates every part of the body, repairing damages and waste, searching out morbid secretions, and leaving nothing for disease to feed upon.

This is the secret of the wonderful success of this remedy in curing Dyspepsia, Liver Complaint, Dropsy, Chronic Diarrhœa, Boils, Nervous Affections, Chills and Fevers, Humors, Loss of Constitutional Vigor, Diseases of the Kidneys and Bladder, Female Complaints, and all diseases originating in a bad state of the blood, or accompanied by debility or a low state of the system. Being free from Alcohol, in any form, its energizing effects are not followed by corresponding reaction, but are permanent, infusing strength, vigor, and new life into all parts of the system, and building up an Iron Constitution.

Thousands have been changed by the use of this remedy, from weak, sickly, suffering creatures, to strong, healthy, and happy men and women; and invalids cannot reasonably hesitate to give it a trial.

See that each bottle has PERUVIAN SYRUP blown in the glass.

Pamphlets Free.

J. P. DINSMORE, Proprietor,
No. 36 DEY ST., NEW YORK.
Sold by Druggists generally.

MONEY TO LEND.

The undersigned has a few thousand dollars of private funds which he is prepared to lend on mortgages, on improved farms.

D. W. DUMBLE,
Janear 1871. 1-tf.

WILLIAM TOOLE,

Being about to REMOVE his Manufacturing Establishment from the Ashburnham Mill Race to his own Factory in course of erection,

On Murray Street, Immediately West of the Drill Shed,

Where he is fitting up with almost entire NEW MACHINERY, NEW MEN of long city experience, and, in fact, New Everything, begs to return thanks to his numerous town and country patrons for the very liberal patronage which he has enjoyed for the past fifteen years, and hopes by constant attention to business and fair, liberal treatment o customers, to continue in the enjoyment of the same. He would also intimate to his country friends, that he is manufactering a few of

The Celebrated McKenzie Fanning Mills,

THE BEST MILL IN THE DOMINION,

Which he will sell at a very moderate price, and take in exchange any kind of FARM PRODUCE.

Peterboro, Feb. 9, 1870. 6

NEW

CARDING MILL!

The subscriber, in returning thanks to his friends and customers, for the liberal patronage extended to him during the last fourteen years, would beg to intimate that, in addition to the Implement Department of his Foundry, he has added and placed in

HIS NEW BRICK SHOP,

A Complete Sett of

New Custom Cards.

Combining all the Latest Improvements, and will be prepared ON AND AFTER THE 10th INSTANT, to do

Carding and Fulling in a Satisfactory Manner!

An Assortment of

FRESH GOODS KEPT ON HAND TO EXCHANGE FOR WOOL.

JOHN WHYTE.

N. B.—The Machinery being all NEW, and of the BEST MAKE, Customers may depend on their work being well done. J. W.

Peterborough, July 1870.

PHOTOGRAPHY!

Studio on Hunter Street West!

THE VERY BEST QUALITY OF

Photographs at the most Reasonable Rates

All sizes, from minature to life, either Plain or finished in

CARBON, SIPIA, INDIA INK, OIL OR WATER COLORS.

Parties can rely on Promptness.

Albums, Frames, &c., Always on Hand!

☞ Special attention to children.

☞ Inducements offered to families.

GEO. B. SPROULE.

Owing to a steadily increasing business, Mr. Sproule would request as a favor, that his customers make engagements for sitting a week or so, if possible, ahead of time, thereby saving a great deal of confusion, and perhaps disappointment.

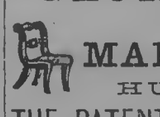
Peterborough, September 28, 1870. 39

JUST RECEIVED

—AT—

GEORGE TANNERS',

AT THE SIGN OF THE



MAMMOTH CHAIR,

HUNTER STREET.

THE PATENT HAMMOCK FOLDING CHAIR!

This Chair was introduced to the public in Montreal in August last, and since that time has merited great attention wherever it has been introduced for its

COMFORT, DURABILITY AND CHEAPNESS,

It being retailed from $2.50 upwards. Call and see it; and in the meantime you can look through the largest and

Best Stock of General Furniture

EVER ON SALE IN THE TOWN OF PETERBORO.

THE UNDERTAKING
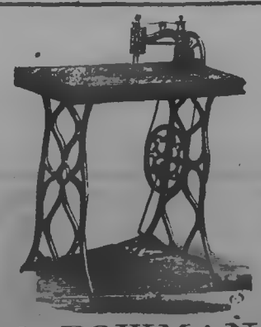
BUSINESS

Is also more complete than ever, with a good supply of READY-MADE COFFINS.

N. B.—The subscriber wishes to give the Geniuses of this town and vicinity a gentle hint not to encroach on the manufacture of the Patent Hammock Folding Chair, as it is no humbug, but patented by Mr. Willoughby, Clerk, and I have purchased the sole right or this County from J. D. Mayer, the executive proprietor.

GEO. TANNER.

Peterboro, March 2, 1870. 9



WILSON, BOWMAN & CO.

Hamilton, Ontario

MANUFACTURERS OF THE CELEBRATED

LOCKMAN SEWING MACHINE,

Take pleasure in announcing that the popularity of the Sewing Machine manufactured by them is still on the increase. They are now turning them out at the rate of 600 per month and yet have been compelled within the last two weeks to increase their facilities to a capacity of one thousand per month.

The Lockman Machine, from its capacity to sew the heaviest fabrics with linen thread, as well as the finest cambrics with No. 150 Cotton, is pre-eminently the Farmer's Favorite Family Friend.

It is so exceedingly simple in its parts, and so strongly and durably made, that it does not require a mechanical genius for its management.

The manufacturers challenge the world to produce its equal, and yet its price is from Forty to Fifty per cent. Lower than that of any other first-class Shuttle Lock-stitch Sewing Machine.

EVERY MACHINE IS WARRANTED.

☞ Sole Agent for the County of Peterborough—

T. DONNELLY,
George Street

P. S.—ROOMS OVER THE STORE.

Peterboro, May 11, 1870. 26

PLAIN AND FANCY PRINTING IN ALL STYLES

EXECUTED IN A SUPERIOR STYLE,

At the "Examiner" Office, Simcoe St. Peterboro.

STOVES, TINWARE &c

At the Giant T.

Cooking, Parlor and Box Stoves, CHEAP

A large stock of LUMBERMEN'S FURNISHINGS, on which a liberal discount will be made.

COAL OIL to the trade at refinery prices

ROOFING IN TIN AND GALVANIZED IRON, also EAVE-TROUGHING AND PIPING

Done by Practical Men

Gas Fitting, Steam Fitting,

AND PLUMBING.

Also Agent for, and manufacturer of

CALCUTT'S PATENT TUBULAR DRUM HEATER.

The most Economical in the Dominion, by the use of which 30 per cent wood can be saved. Call and see them.

THOMAS LANNIN,
Practical Tin & Copper Smith
George St. Peterborough.

Sept. 28, 1870. 16-1yr

Fine English Camphor

The surest preventative against moths, and large supply on hand.

NO BATH COMPLETE

WITHOUT A SPONGE.

A GOOD HONEY-COMB SPONGE

From the Mediterranean may be obtained a the subscribers.

CARBOLIC SOAP

For Toilet Purposes.

CARBOLIC SOAP

For Washing Rooms, Bedsteads, Blankets, &c.

CARBOLIC ACID!

The most powerful disinfectant of modern times, not only neutralizing but destroying miasmata, &c.

CARBOLIC POWDER

For Sprinkling in Cellars, &c. It is also very useful for destroying pediculi in dogs, calves, &c., being safe and effectious.

May all be obtained Pure and Genuine, at

DOCTOR TAYLOR'S,
Chemist and Druggist.
Corner of George and Hunter Sts, Peterboro.

May 11, 1870. 13

UNFAILING EYE PRESERVERS.

LAZURUS, MORRIS & Co's

CELEBRATED

Perfected Spectacles

AND EYE GLASSES.

The large and increasing sales of these Perfected Glasses is a sure proof of their superiority. We were satisfied that they would be appreciated here as elsewhere, and that the reality of the advantages offered to wearers of our beautiful lenses, viz: the ease and comfort, the assured and readily ascertained improvement of the sight, and the brilliant assistance they give in all cases, were in themselves so apparent on trial, that the result could not be otherwise than it has, in the almost general adoption of our Celebrated Perfected Spectacles by the residents of this locality.

With a full knowledge of the value of the assertion, we claim that they are the most perfect optical aids ever manufactured. To those needing Spectacles, we afford at all times an opportunity of procuring the best and most desirable.

DR W. H TAYLOR

Corner of George and Hunter Streets,

Has always on hand a full assortment, suitable for every difficulty.

We take occasion to notify the public that we employ no pedlars, and to caution them against those pretending to have our goods for sale.

Peterboro, February 8, 1871

DARLEY'S

ARABIAN OIL,

FOR HORSES AND CATTLE.

A NEVER-FAILING REMEDY.

THIS valuable preparation combines all the medicinal virtues of those articles which long experience has proved to possess the most safe and efficient properties for the cure of Flesh Wounds, Sprains, Bruises, Galls of all kinds, Cracked Heels, Ring Bone, Spavin, Callus, Fistula, Sweeney, External Poisons, Scratches or Grease, Strains, Lameness, Mange, Whitlows, Corns, Sand Cracks, Foundered Feet, Horn Distemper, Swellings, and many other diseases which horses and cattle are subject to.

This celebrated Liniment has been used for many years, and its curative properties thoroughly tested, and it is conceded to be the cheapest and most reliable remedy for all external complaints ever offered to the public—it never fails when timely used and faithfully applied.

To be had of all Druggists and Country Merchants throughout the Dominion. Price 25c. per bottle.

NORTHROP & LYMAN
Newcastle, O

Flax! Flax!!

Farmers intending to grow flax will please apply for their seed early. Seed supplied and payment taken in flax by calling on

SAMUEL TAYLOR
or H. CALCUTT.

I would beg to call the attention of farmers that I have a machine for pulling Flax, which will pull 4 acres a day. I will let the machine and send a man with it for 75 per day. By the assistance of the puller, Flax is the cheapest crop harvested. For information I would refer you to—Jonathan Stephenson, Smith; W. Kilburn, Smith; J. Parnell, Smith; A. Scott Smith; I. Beer Otonabee; W. Rutherford Otonabee.

SAMUEL TAYLOR,
Flax Mill,
Ashburnham
Ashburnham, March, 1871. 11-3mos

THOS. MENZIES,

BANKER AND BROKER.

PETERBORO, ONT.

Buys and Sells New York and [illegible] Exchange, Bank Stocks, [illegible] banks, &c. &c. Receives deposits [illegible] amount on [illegible] England, Ireland, France, Belgium, Germany, Switzerland, Italy, Denmark, Sweden, Norway, Poland and [illegible]

[illegible]

[illegible]

[illegible]

[illegible]

[illegible]

The Peterborough Examiner

A WEEKLY

POLITICAL, AGRICULTURAL,

AND

FAMILY NEWSPAPER,

IS PUBLISHED

EVERY THURSDAY MORNING.

Terms $1.50 per annum in Advance.

EVERY DESCRIPTION OF BOOK AND JOB PRINTING executed at this office, in a superior style, and at low rates.

☞ Particular attention given to Ornamental Printing in Colors, Attractive Posters, &c.

All orders for Job Printing forwarded to this office will be punctually and strictly attended to.

JAMES HALL,

SHERIFF, Office in the Court House, Peterborough.

EDG. PEARSE,

COUNTY Treasurer and Clerk. Office in the Court House, Peterboro. 6

EDG. PEARSE,

OFFICIAL ASSIGNEE. Office — Court House, Peterborough. 6-1y

C. A. WELLER,

CLERK of the Peace. Office on Simcoe St., Simcoe Street. 18

C. A. WELLER,

COUNTY Attorney. Office on Simcoe St. 20

C. A. WELLER,

BARRISTER, Attorney, Solicitor, &c.—Office—Simcoe Street, Peterborough.

MR. JOHN BURNHAM,

BARRISTER, Attorney at Law, Solicitor in Chancery, Conveyancer, &c. Office—over T. Chamber's Store, Hunter Street, Peterborough, Ont. 59

GEORGE EDMISON,

ATTORNEY at Law, Solicitor in Chancery, Conveyancer, &c., &c. Office over Mr. John Fletcher's Boot and Shoe Store, directly opposite Mr. Chester's, George Street, Peterborough.

Peterboro', Feb. 17th, 1864. 7

W. H. MOORE,

BARRISTER, Attorney at Law, Solicitor in Chancery, Conveyancer, &c. Office corner of George and Hunter Streets, McKellar & Ameron's old stand.

MONEY TO LOAN on easy terms, on land security. Mortgages bought.

Peterboro, April 6, 1869. 14

DENNISTOUN, FAIRBAIRN & CASSELS,

BARRISTERS, &c.,

Hunter Street, 3 Peterborough.

JOHN GREEN,

BARRISTER, Attorney at Law, Solicitor in Chancery, Conveyancer, &c. Office over the Ontario Drug Store, Scott's block, corner of George and Simcoe Streets.

Peterboro Dec. 1st, 1869. 48

GEO. T. LEONARD,

ATTORNEY-AT-LAW, SOLICITOR IN Chancery &c. Peterborough. 9y

S. D. CRAWFORD, M. D., C. M.,

MEMBER of Royal College of Surgeons, England; Licentiate Government Medical Board; Late resident Coombe Lying-in-Hospital, Dublin. Ryan's Buildings, Market Square, Peterboro. 7

Dr. LOYD,

CORONER for the Counties of Peterborough and Victoria. Office and residence at Bobcaygeon. 47

GEORGE BURNHAM, M. D.

GRADUATE of Bellevue Hospital Medical College, N. Y., University of Victoria College Canada, and Licentiate of Nova Scotia, Physician, Surgeon and Accoucheur.

Office and residence,—Near the Corner of Brock and George Streets, Peterborough.

Peterboro, May 21, 1869. 43

D. PENTLAND,

DENTIST, would respectfully inform the public that he is now prepared to INSERT TEETH WITHOUT PAIN, by the aid of Nitrous Oxide Gas, a very pleasant and perfectly safe remedy.

Peterboro, November 26, 1866. 49

W. COULTER.

DEALER in Genuine Drugs, Chemicals, Patent Medicines, Perfumery, Paints, Oils, Dye Stuffs, Hair, Nail and Tooth Brushes, Glass, Culinary Essences, Fancy Soaps, &c. George Street, Peterboro. 16

RUSH & BUCKETT,

VETERINARY SURGEONS, No. 6 Henthorn's Block, George street, Peterboro Horse and Cattle Medicines kept constantly on hand. Horses taken under treatment on easy terms.

ALEX. McNEIL,

LICENSED Auctioneer for the Counties of Peterborough and Victoria, and Townships of Cavan and South Monaghan.

GEORGE READ,

ISSUER of Marriage Licenses, Clerk Division Court, Township Clerk, &c., Keene, Otonabee. 20

JAMES McLEAN,

INSURANCE Agent, Issuer of Marriage Licenses, and Commissioner for taking Affidavits.

Cavan, Mount Pleasant, C. W. 30

CABINET-MAKING.

E. POOLE, Cabinet-maker, Upholsterer and Undertaker, George Street, Peterboro.

JAMES STEVENSON,

DEALER in Stoves, Tin-Ware, &c., &c. George Street, Peterborough. 18

ROBERT PATTERSON,

DEALER in Boots and Shoes. Spanish Sole Leather constantly on hand.

Nicholls and Hall's old stand, Simcoe Street, Peterborough.

GEORGE MITCHELL,

DEALER in Groceries and Provisions, &c. Cash paid for all kinds of country produce George Street, Peterborough, 18

EDMUND S. VINDIN

COMMISSION, Shipping, Forwarding and General Agent, Lumber Merchant, &c.—Office, Corner of Walton and Ontario Streets, Port Hope.

BANK OF TORONTO.

CORNER of Water and Simcoe Streets, Peterboro. Interest allowed on Deposits

J. MURRAY SMITH, Manager.

Peterborough Examiner.

$1.50 PER ANNUM, IF PAID IN ADVANCE.] "Prove all things—Hold fast that which is good." [$2.00 PER ANNUM, IF NOT PAID IN ADVANCE.

VOL. XVI. PETERBOROUGH, THURSDAY, MAY 11, 1871. No. 19.

ROBERT WALTON.

SADDLERY. Dealer in Stoves, Tinware, &c., George Street, Peterboro'. 18

J. R. McCULLOUGH, M. D.,

Graduate of Trinity College, Dublin, and Licentiate of the Dominion of Canada,

Physician, Surgeon, Accoucheur, &c.,

AND

Late Surgeon of the U. S. Army & Navy,

Will be found at his office or at his residence, at all hours of the Day and Night, except when out on professional business.

☞ N. B.—All communications strictly confidential. ☜

RESIDENCE and

OFFICE—Next Door To Wm. McDonald's Hotel, and two doors East Of Heins's Foundry, Simcoe Street.

Visits in the Corporation One Dollar, Only.

VISITS TO THE COUNTRY MODERATE.

☞ ADVICE TO ALL FREE. ☜

Simcoe Street, Peterboro, Ont.

September 9, 1868. 36

THOMAS LANNIN,

PRACTICAL TIN & COPPER SMITH, Bell Hanger, Steam and Gas Fitter, Plumber, &c. Dealer in Stoves, Iron Beds, Baths, Refrigerators, Water Coolers, Filters, Pumps, &c.

GEORGE STREET,

Peterboro, 1st June, 1870. 22

JOHN COONEY,

NURSERYMAN,

DEALER in Fruit and Ornamental Trees, Shrubs and Roses, and all kinds of Nursery stock. A very choice collection of Strawberry Plants on hand.

Orders by mail promptly attended to.

JOHN COONEY.

Peterboro, July 31, 1869. 29

ONTARIO BANK,

PETERBOROUGH.

SAVINGS DEPARTMENT.

From this date until further notice, the rate of interest in the above department will be

FIVE PER CENT.

PER ANNUM.

G. E. SHAW, Manager.

Peterboro', April 1st, 1868. 14-tf

GEORGE ALLEN,

GUN & WHITE-SMITH,

Hunter Street, Peterborough,

BEGS to inform the public, that all kinds of repairing is done on the shortest notice, such as Guns, Stocking, &c., Pistols and White-smithing. Sewing Machines also neatly repaired.

☞ Shop and residence adjoining the Union Hotel.

Peterboro, October 25, 1865. 43

GORE DISTRICT MUTUAL

FIRE INSURANCE COMPANY!

HEAD OFFICE, GALT, ONTARIO.

CHARTERED A. D., 1836.

ASSETS, $160,000 | LOSSES PAID, $416,000

POLICIES ISSUED, 15,595.

ALL kinds of Property Insured at rates from 15 to 20 per cent. lower than Stock Companies. Claims adjusted with fairness and promptitude. Losses PROMPTLY PAID.

ROBERT McLEAN, Esq.,

Inspector and General Agent.

THOMAS H. SIMONS, Esq., Secretary.

R. W. ERRETT, Agent, Peterborough.

November 4, 1869. 4d-1y

TO THE FARMERS

OF THE

COUNTY OF PETERBOROUGH.

The undersigned begs to intimate that he is again prepared to pay the HIGHEST CASH PRICE for

Oats, Pease, Barley and Rye,

at his New Grain Warehouse in Ashburnham, situated nearly opposite his old stand.

His friends and acquaintances are invited to give him a call as usual.

D SUTHERLAND.

Ashburnham, Sep. 20, 1869 39

HARDWARE.

JOHN BERTRAM,

DEALER IN

Manilla Rope, Chains, Anchors, Axes, Augers, Saws, Files,

Carriage Springs, Solid Collar Axles Thimble Skeins; Waggon, Carriage and Buggy Bent Rims, Spokes, Shafts, Hubs, Seat Rails, Spindles—all dry; Carriage Bolts, Varnish, Paints, &c.

Leather Belting,

Machinery Oil,

Cabinet-makers' Goods,

Carpenters' Tools

And all kinds of

SHELF AND HEAVY HARDWARE.

JOHN BERTRAM,

Hardware Merchant, Peterborough.

February 3, 1871. 5

Stallion for Sale

The lately imported Horse "YOUNG ST. LAWRENCE," a thorough bred French Canadian; sired by the justly celebrated Horse "St. Lawrence," so universally known in Lower Canada.

His Dam is also a thorough-bred French Canadian. He is a dark bay, six years old, very active, and for speed cannot be surpassed by any in the Country, and is now being fed up ready to travel.

JOHN CATHCART

Bobcaygeon, March, 1871. 11-3ins

Travelling Directory.

MIDLAND

Railway of Canada.

ON and after MONDAY, the 19th day of SEPTEMBER, 1870, Trains will run as follows.

TRAINS MOVING SOUTH.—MAIL.

Lindsay, Depart	9.35 a. m.
Millbrook, Arrive	11.35 a. m.
Port Hope, Arrive	1 10 p. m.

TRAINS MOVING NORTH.—MAIL.

Port Hope, Depart	3.00 p. m.
Millbrook, Arrive	4.25 "
Lindsay Arrive	6.30 "

TRAINS MOVING SOUTH.—MIXED.

Lindsay, Depart	12 35 p. m.
Millbrook, Arrive	2.35 "
Port Hope, Arrive	4.20

TRAINS MOVING NORTH.—MIXED.

Port Hope, Depart	5.45 a. m.
Millbrook	7.45 "
Lindsay, Arrive	9.10 "

PETERBOROUGH SECTION.

TRAINS MOVING SOUTH.—MAIL.

Peterborough, Depart	3.30 p. m.
Millbrook, Arrive	4.20 "
Port Hope, Arrive	5.50 "

TRAINS MOVING NORTH.—MAIL.

Port Hope, Depart	10.10 a. m.
Millbrook, Arrive	11.35 "
Peterborough, Arrive	12.35 p. m.

TRAINS MOVING SOUTH.—MIXED.

Peterborough, Depart	5.20 a. m.
Millbrook	6 20 "
Port Hope, Arrive	7.40 "

TRAINS MOVING NORTH.—MIXED.

Port Hope, Depart	1.15 p. m.
Millbrook	2.35 "
Peterborough, Arrive	3.30 "

A. T. WILLIAMS, Superintendent.

Sept. 19, 1870. 38.

GRAND TRUNK RAILWAY.

TRAINS LEAVE

PORT HOPE STATION

AS FOLLOWS:

GOING EAST.

Express (day)	9 30 a.m.
Mixed	7.00 p.m.
Express (night)	9.20 p.m.

GOING WEST.

Express (night)	10.36 p.m.
Mixed	3.00 p.m.
Express (day)	10.30 a m.

Trains leave on Railroad time, which is about twenty-three minutes ahead of Port Hope time.

Warranted correct by the Company's time Table

DAILY STAGE

BETWEEN

Norwood and Peterboro'

The Stage leaves Norwood every day, (Sunday excepted) at 7 o'clock a. m.

RETURNING, leaves Peterboro' at 2.30 p.m.

Office in Norwood, Johnson's Hotel.

Office in Peterboro', Stewart House.

Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays, Stage connects with Stage for Blairton and Marmora. And the Stage connects daily with Hastings, Warkworth and Colborne.

J. A. JOHNSON, Proprietor.

23-tf

Montreal Ocean Steamship Co.

Steam to Liverpool, Londonderry and Glasgow.

Rates of Passage from Peterboro':

CABIN, - - $76 to $88. STEERAGE - $30.

Return Tickets for 6 months at reduced fares

For Through Passage Tickets, Staterooms, and every information, apply to

GEORGE A. COX, Agent.

Canadian Express Co'y.

Peterboro', Nov. 7th, 1866. 45.

GREAT WESTERN RAILWAY

OF CANADA.

TORONTO LINE.

TORONTO, &c., TO HAMILTON.

Accommodation trains leave Yonge street Station at 7.00 a.m., 3.50 p.m. and 6.55 p.m.

Express at 12.55 p.m.

HAMILTON, &c., TO TORONTO.

Accommodation trains leave Hamilton at 7.10 a.m., 9.50 a.m. and 7.25 p.m.

Express at 3.45 p.m.

THE CANADIAN

BANK OF COMMERCE

CORNER OF

Hunter and Water Streets, Peterboro'

☞ Interest allowed on Deposits.

J. A. HALL, Manager

Peterboro, July 27, 1870. 20

THOS. MENZIES,

Now being the authorized Ticket Agent for the Grand Trunk Railway, can supply the public with

Tickets to all parts of Canada,

Also to any part of the United States.

Charges the same as at any of the Stations on the G. T. R. So get your Tickets before leaving Peterboro, and save all trouble on your journey.

THOS. MENZIES,

George Street.

Peterboro July 2, 1870 13

Select Poetry

"You Know How 'Tis Yourself."

Dear Nellie, Sunday night, you know,
I hadn't much to say,
And yet 'twas twelve o'clock or so
Before I went away;
You saw that half the time I watched
The clock upon the shelf;
Oh, Nellie! how I wished you might
See how it was yourself!

I wanted so to tell you,
What I've waited long to say,
But heart and spirit failed me,
My courage died away;
Now, Nellie, only listen—
You roguish little elf!
I'm sure you'd pity me, at least,
If you knew how it was yourself!

Excuse me, Nellie, darling,
I've loved you long and well,
Then let me keep this little hand,
Nor all my hopes dispel;
I love you more than all the world
Can give of power or pelf—
But words are weak when hearts would speak
"You know how 'tis yourself!"

Her lips but faintly quivering,
Her shy glance upward thrown—
I gently drew her to my side,
My beautiful! my own!
We sat there all the evening—
"Twelve" came from the mantle shelf—
The rest you must imagine—for
"You know how 'tis yourself!"

I loved a charming maiden fair,
A little handsome creature,
With dark blue eyes and golden hair.
A gem in form and feature:
I worshipped her with all my heart,
That charming little elf,
But true love never does run smooth—
You know how 'tis yourself!

All things went lovely for awhile,
Immensely were our blisses,
I was longing for the time to come
When I could make her Mrs.;
Think what my feeling must have been;
I loved, but not for pelf;
Some love for money now-a-days—
"You know how 'tis yourself!"

I took her round to balls and fairs,
And theatres, full many;
I gave her presents, rich and rare,
Because she hadn't any;
All that I did—just think of it,
One night at the Adelph,
I caught her winking at a chap—
"You know how 'tis yourself!"

My heart began to flutter then;
Said I, "who is that fellow?"
She said, "No matter who he is!"
And then began to bellow;
The "green-eyed monster" filled my soul,
I sobbed, dear, cunning elf.
I guess we'd better seperate—
"You know how 'tis yourself!"

Choice Literature.

A Madman's Cunning

BY ADA GEORGE.

(Concluded.)

Alice entered. It was a small room, the floor bare and white-washed, and one small window, which Alice noticed, was covered with iron rods an inch apart. There was a bed, too; but no one in it; and near it a washstand, chair and table. Bewildered and confused, Alice looked around at her conductor.

"The room is very clean Madam; our rooms are always so. You will find everything pleasant if you will only be quiet. And though your husband says your case is hopeless—your insanity being hereditary—yet we have cured bad cases, and may be able to restore you to the world with a sound mind in a sound body. And now, Madam, good-night. I am glad to see you so peaceable. It is a good sign." And Dr. Devlin took up his lamp, slipped through the door, turned the key and was gone.

For a moment Alice was still; the whole appalling truth rushed upon her bewildered mind.

Burton's friendship had been feigned, the telegram false, and herself entrapped in a madhouse! Truly he had well avenged himself for his rejection.

There rushed over her, too, a maddening sense of her utter helplessness, a bitter thought, that, for years and years she might be shut up here, and never see the world, or home, or friends. Perhaps she might die here, without a friend to hold her hand or close her eyes.

She rushed at the door with a wild scream and tried to wrench it open. Vain effort! She beat upon it with her hands until they were raw and bleeding; she called upon her father and mother and Stephen, she raved and moaned and prayed like a veriest lunatic.

By and by, sounds, which seemed to her the echo of her own frantic cried, came to her ears. Bewildered, she paused, and in a moment realized that she had awakened all the lunatics around her; and, as she thought they only would be her constant companions for the future, sense and reason gave way, and she fell upon the floor in a swoon.

Burton Dalrymple reached home the same night. The next day he was reported dangerously ill, and his disease was pronounced brain fever. It was not known that he had been away from home at all, and no one had connected him with Alice's flight. Strangely enough, even Mrs. Hayden did not suspect him; and, though the country was scoured for miles around, and all rivers dragged, no trace of her was found. It was like as if in mid ocean a ship had gone down, on a fair day, leaving not even a ripple to mark the spot. So, in spite of all frantic efforts, in spite of city detectives and messages flashed in every direction over the wires, Alice Hayden faded from her place in life, and it knew her no more.

In the meanwhile, Mrs. Dalrymple who wrote to Stephen Ray's city address, and had the letter returned to her by a friend, who informed her that Ray had accepted a clerkship in some foreign house, and had had been gone nearly a week.

Burton Dalrymple got better, however, and was soon about the village again. There was not much trace of disease about him, his appearance was wild and disordered, and his manner reckless and haughty. His illness seemed to have changed him much; and to Mrs. Hayden he made pretences of a terrible, frenzied grief for her missing daughter, and posted large and handsome rewards.

His mother, overburdened with a secret trouble, fearing another calamity—which had seemed upon the point of falling so many times—yet found time to sympathize with Mrs. Hayden's terrible grief. In this she was sincere She had no suspicion on her son's agency in this matter. If she had, she was conscientious enough to have thwarted him, and save Alice from the terrible doom to which he had consigned her.

She knew nothing, however, and could do nothing; and, as the seasons came and went, the affair died away, and was spoken of no more, except by the bereaved father and mother.

IV.

Over Dr. Devlin's private mad-house the same seasons rolled, leaving it a little graver, a little more forbidding without. Within, a few of those wandering minds had recovered their balance, and gone back to their places in the world. Many had died, and their places had been filled with new ones; many yet remained, among them Alice Hayden.

No one would have recognised her now. She had grown thin and emaciated, with a gray, haggard look about the mouth, and eyes that seemed on fire in their sunken sockets. There was not a remnant of the gay and proud grace of her youth left. To visitors she was pointed out as a maniac, harmless, but hopeless; and everything about her confirmed the description.

She never told her story now; she had done so often, and never gained credence. how could she, when the maniac on one side of her had just complained fiercely and bitterly that Victoria had usurped her rightful place on the throne, and shut her upin this mad-house; while the one on the other side claimed to be the wife of the ruling President, who had shut her up here that he might marry a rival. All these stories were heard by visitors kindly and cheerfully, prompt release promised, and then, in the Doctor's office down stairs, the poor creatures were commiserated and forgotten.

She went the slow years down the abyss of time. Each day, when Alice arose, she said surely God would open a way for her at last! Each night she lay down praying bitterly for death.

She thought of her parents, she thought of Stephen Ray, and wondering what they knew of her fate, and what they had done to trace her out. Sometimes she was delirious with suffering, but she was always well treated, the doctor having no suspicion of her sanity: and those occasional outbursts all went to make him firmer in his belief.

By and by, Alice lost all hope of release. Many years of waiting and suffering had disciplined her in more ways than one. She was allowed work and books, and the old lise faded away to the dim proportions of a dream. Sometimes, when force was used upon the more violent of her fellow sufferers, the old horror came back over her, and she had to fight her way again through the old loves and hopes, and the old love life to her near resignation and peace.

Burton Dalrymple never came near her. His exquisite cunning would not let him leave a single clue to her retreat. He always went to the city to send remittances for her maintenance, dating his letter there and signing them with the name he had given Dr. Devlin. He never asked for any answer; as long as he sent the money, he know she was safe. He exulted in her misery. He pictured to himself her sufferings her despair, and felt amply repaid for her cold rejection of his love.

One day Alice heard voices at the door. She had been there ten years; had often heard voices before; had often been visited But this was a voice that came as a remembrance of the happy old days of her youth—it was the voice of Mrs. Dalrymple.

Dr. Devlin was saying—

"Visitors have always considered this a strange one; but there is one strangers still. A hopeless one it is, but quite harmless. It is a woman, the wife of a young merchant named Dean. Her husband brought her here, and terribly afflicted he was at leaving her. She persists in saying that she was a young lady, and that he enticed her away from home, and had her shut up here as a revenge for her rejection of his hand.

"Indeed!" said Mrs. Dalrymple's voice; "are you not afraid that sometimes you may be imposed upon, Doctor!"

"Quite likely," said a deeper voice, with a compassionate laugh in it; "after that harmless fellow's fancy about Florence Nightingale—his wife! My dear Mrs. Dalrymple, one might feel inclined to laugh over their stories, if it were not that they are proofs of a sadly wrecked life."

"Come in," said the Doctor. "She is very quiet, and is pleased to have visitors; and if you question her, she will tell you her story. You must appear to believe it, and promise relief."

The door opened. The doctor ushered in the gentleman and lady—the latter old and gray and worn, but unmistakably Mrs. Dalrymple; the former unchanged, stout and brown, and bearded like the Stephen Ray from whom she had parted many years ago.

Alice looked at him, and cried out: "Oh God! I thank thee!" and she was clasped in his arms.

"Alice! Oh, my lost love!"

The three were like veritable lunatics, and Dr. Devlin had to wait long before they gave him any explanation: then he learned at last that he had been imposed upon, and that Alice's story was true.

She had many things to learn. Like one in a dream she learned that her dear kind mother was dead for years. Burton Dalrymple, too, had gone beyond the reach of all earthly justice—had lived a life of bitter suffering, and died a terrible death. The hand of God was in it, she said, for Burton had never betrayed himself even to the last moment.

"But how came you here?" questioned Alice of Mrs. Dalrymple.

"My dear, I will now tell you the sad secret of my life. My husband for two years before his death was a raving maniac; an inmate of this very house. My son I hoped to save from the doom which was his father's, but I could not. I left the gay life that had been mine, and tried to shake off the benumbing anguish of my soul, and sought rural peace and quiet, hoping that such would be likely to help my son to a sound body and a peaceful mental condition. I really loved your mother, though I deceived her so long and so deliberately. I built many air castles in the strength of Burton's attachment to you. Tell me, would you not have loved him had there been no one constantly near him to be a mental and physical contrast?"

Without waiting for a reply, she went on: "My Ray knew of his malady; for, after the first attack, which caused his removal from college, I, before I sent him to Europe, knew that I must send some one with him with who knew all, and when he was attacked again in Marseilles, Ray was prepared. Still, I had hopes of him; but when he outlived you away, the crisis of his life had passed. He was never sound in mind until his death; though, with all a madman's cunning, he managed to cover up all traces of what he had done. Alice! if you have suffered, so have I. You have a father waiting, to whom you will come as one from the grave. You have the devoted love of one who has been true to your memory in all his wanderings. I have blighted life, and undying anguish in the memory of two gone from my sight, after years of despairing efforts to avert their dreadful doom. Tell me: can you forgive Burton? Can you forgive me—that I would have darkened your life, too, by marrying you to him?"

And, with tears, Alice said she could; for, was she not leaning upon Stephen Ray, restored to life, and blest?

And then they took her back to her father and her home, to life and love and usefullness

Nettie's Temptation.

CHAPTER I.

A little old-fashioned chamber, and a little old-fashioned occupant. A prim tiny room full of quaint treasures and fanciful unfashionable devices; a prim tiny head at the window, full of quaint treasures too, and fanciful unfashionable ideas. A head which the May moonlight touched rather sadly, as Nettie O'Neil raised the blind slowly and looked up; up beyond the unmoved white blinds opposite, up beyond the tiles on which the moonlight glistened white and wet; up beyond the pale pure moon itself, searching the strip of deep unfathomable blue which hung above the narrow quiet street.

Aerhaps the wistful, child-like eyes could read no answer there to the one great question which troubled them, for when Nettie drew the blind down again, as lingeringly as she had raised it, there was a great seriousness on her small face.

She moved her dressing-table back into its place before the window, lighted her candle again, and, standing in its light at her high narrow chest of drawers, opened her desk.

Each thing had to be taken out separately that it might be put in properly afterwards, "old-maidishly," as Nettie used to say.

First the little square embroidered case with Postage stamps worked elaborately on one side, and containing the one stamp still, which had been put into it at its manufacture. Then the beaded penwiper, the ink stains on which were so scrupulously confined to the black cloth, leaving the scarlet dassling and unspotted. Then a little flat bag of thin white silk, with answered worked in black letters across it; and that was set aside too, for in it there lay only four letters, and though they were neither yellow nor crumpled nor worn, they were within six years as old as the girl who handled them so tenderly. Then came a second little bag, of blue silk, and labelled unanswered, in white letters, not very bulky in appearance, for there lay but one unanswered letter in it.

This Nettie drew out and slowly opened It was but one sheet of note paper and barely filled, yet it took her a long time to read. Perhaps she was not used to skimming over delicate, lady-like epistles. Perhaps the tender affectionate terms were new and delicious to her who lived on those four letters which her dead mother had written to her fifteen years before. Perhaps she was trying to read in the the straight black lines (as she had tried to read in the glimpse moonlit heaven) an answer to that doubt which puzzled her.

Almost unconsciously she turned back when she had finished, and read the last leaf aloud to herself.

"As I say, dear, I should have urged all this before but I waited until you should be of age, that no one might have any right to interfere with your decision. We are waiting to welcome you, Nettie my child, and longing to do so. Write and tell me when to send for you, for I should not like you to come alone. Your Cousin Graham, who has not much to do at home here, will be very glad of the excuse for a journey to the city. Do not send me any scruples, for I cannot listen to them.

"Nettie, love, do you think your mother would have countenanced the life you lead? I do not care to mince the matter. If he is your father, he has lost all claim to your gratitude or love by his own conduct. I do not care even to remember that he is your father, I merely remember that you are living in a wretched way alone with a man who is very rarely at home with you, and who, when he is is very rarely sober. Is this what your mother would have wished, my dear? Is this the life you can bear to think she looks upon? I know her choice would be that you should come to me. My heart bleeds for you, my poor little lonely girl, and I can feel how she would rejoice to see you here at Greenlands with us. Who so proper to be a mother to you, Nettie, as your mother's only sister! Come and be a daughter to me, and a sister to Graham, the only cousin you have in the world; and in coming you will do the only good that is in your power to that man whom I am ashamed to call your father. Remember that any scruples you may urge I shall look upon as insults to you mother's memory, and I only expect to hear how soon Graham may fetch you,

"I am, dear child, your own loving Aunt,

"ELLEN LYTTELTON."

There was a long silence in the room after Nettie had read these words aloud to herself, then the candle was snuffed with a quick, resolute little hand; and Nettie, still standing against the high drawers, began to write the fifth answer she had composed to this letter, which had only reached her two days before.

This one should be posted, this should do the real one, but—How hard it was to know what to say; She wrote, slowly and carefully, that she could not go; that her first duty lay with her father, asking who was to live with him, or care for him, if his own daughter would not? Whose duty, or pleasure (put in with rather a gulp) ought it to be, if not hers!

She signed her name with many words of love and gratitude, read the letter over twice, folded, sealed, and addressed it, put on the one stamp out of the perforated case, and then in a new haste jumped into bed, and tried to think of infinite vacuity, and so fall asleep. But trying to think of nothing is the very way to think of everything: and the puzzled little head upon its pillow was as far from sleep as the thoughts were from vacancy. The lovely eyes would keep so wide and wakeful in the moonlight. Their lids might have been bad fitting ones for their perfect incapacity for keeping closed, while the quick ears were open to every sound. They need not to have been very quick though to catch the sound which broke the silence at last; a peal that clashed through the house with peremptory impatience. Nettie sprang out of bed and slipped on her dress with nervous, hurried fingers, then ran noiselessly down stairs and unfastened the door as the bell stuttered the silence once more.

"Have you kept me waiting long enough yet?" was the sneering greeting she received, as her father her, steadying passed his steps with difficulty.

Such a sloughing, pitiable figure, despite its height and great proportions. Such a mean, unmanly face, despite its regular features and soft gray hair, that it did well to hasten out of the shamed moonlight into the gloom of the little passage, where the girl stood, with bare feet on the worn floor-cloth.

"You told me never again to sit up for you, father. You said you should have your key."

"Did I?" he drawled, fumbling in one pocket. "Then why didn't you give it me."

"I did. You took it with you" said Nettie, quietly, as she stepped to bolt the door again.

"Don't argue with me. Where's my supper?"

"It is just one o'clock," the girl said very low without raising her head, 'surely you have supped.

"That is no business of yours. Get me some ho water.

"Not to-night father," whispered Nettie coming a little nearer to him. "The fire is out, and it is so late for me to light another."

For an instant, a silly softened look stole over his face at her touch. In the next in the next it was gone, and something he little guessed of was gone with it. He gave her an impatient push.

"Get the girl up to light it, then, and you go to bed. I never can see what use you are in he house. Call the girl up, I say, and let me have some hot water. You seem to me to forget who is master here."

"Would you rather I remembered that, than that you were my father?" asked Nettie, slowly.

"I would have you remember I am both," he answered, trying to strike a light but failing in the attempt, and, as he did so, muttering words which made Nettie shudder as the night air had no power to do.

"Well, what are you staring at?"

"I was trying," said the girl, turning her eyes slowly away; "I was trying to do as you say—to remember that you are both. I will light the fire, if you really mean it to be lighted."

"Am I a fool to say it if I do not I—Make haste about it."

The great clock of St. Martin's was striking two, when Nettie stole back into her little bed-room—dark now, for the moon had glided away to look on other sights—and the two heavy strokes vibrated through her like two heavy beats of her own heart, as she stoon hesitating a minute on her cold bare feet, the hard, wicked words she had been listening to ringing round her in the darkeness.

Striking a light she opened her neat little desk once more, and began to write.—Neither slowly or carefully this time, and putting in no word that was unnecessary, no love, no word of thanks. She only said—

"I will come—I will follow this letter at once. No need to trouble any one to fetch me. I have thought, and thought, and perhaps it is best. Your grateful Nettie O'Neill."

Nettie did not read this over. She folded it hastily, moistened the gum, and fastened the envelope with much unnecessary pressing. Then she found she had no stamp, her only one having been put on the long letter she had written three hours before.

Never mind, she could take it off in the steam of the kettle in the morning, only—suppose she should be tempted to post the first! It would be safer, perhaps, to destroy that one, preserving only the stamp; so she tore the elaborate, carefully written letter into fifty fragments, and burnt them all. Then once more the small face lay upon its pillow; and the dawn, creeping in with its cold, sweet smile, found the wide desolate eyes searching—searching still.

Twelve! St. Martin's bell told each stroke languidly, while the sunshine danced round the gray old tower, and even made a few slight, fickle attempts to reach the low windows of the formal houses below, and look in cheeringly.

Twelve o'clock, and Nettie sat at the table waiting breakfast, her hair and her dress neat and prim as ever; her work in idle hand, as she leaned over the prettily arranged breakfast-table and softly moved with the other a spray of fading hawthorn, rather brown, as the edges, which stood in a glass near her father's seat; looking at it, and touching it very thoughtfully.

At the sound of the opening door she started up, reading her father's face rather intently as she greeted him. Poor child! there was little to read there save utter moodiness and discontent.

"Is this all you have for breakfast?" he asked, sitting down before the little dish of ham.

"Yes, father, that is all to-day."

He dropped his knife and fork, and pushed his chair a little back, tapping his foot impatiently. Nettie took him his cup of tea, hardly wondering why he had no relish for his food.

"If you want some of this, help yourself" he said, nodding to her to put down the cup, and he did not speak again through all Nettie's futile attempts at conversation, until he arose.

"I shall not be home again until to-morrow," he said. "I suppose you won't cry about that, though. You can go to bed when you like to night."

"You are a swap a great deal, father," said Nettie, with an odd little catch in her voice. "I never go away at all."

"You are welcome to go," he said, carelessly, "if anybody likes to have you."

"Shouldn't you care?" she asked, with a pleading wistfulness in her eyes.

"Not a bit," he replied, in listless assurance of the impossibility of the truth of his words being tested. "What would it matter to me? Now then, is my hat brushed?"

When Nettie brought it to him, she laid one nervous little hand upon his arm.

"Come open the door," he began impatiently.

"But my good-bye, father, you are going away, you know."

"Faugh! what tragics. How many kisses do you want?"

"One."

"Take it then."

"Father," said Nettie, looking into his eyes with an odd, old look on her small face. "I believe if we were parting forever you would not kiss me of your own free will. Should you? should you?"

"Take your arms away, you baby.—When you are going away forever, you can judge for yourself. That is not likely to happen yet awhile. Open that door when I tell you."

Standing back almost shrinkingly in the little passage, Nettie watched the tall figure hesitate a moment on the step, looking up the street and down, then turned off slowly out of sight, with never the backward glance which little Nettie would have grasped at in this moment of doubt and decision.

CHAPTER II.

The dainty shadows rose smoothly along the level lawns at Greenlands as the little fleecy clouds chased each other coyly over the broad face of the white August sun; and as these shadows hurried on they ran up Nettie's white dress and touched for a moment the little thoughtful face.—But they passed quickly and softly, as shadows should pass from a young and guileless face, though some one strolling towards her thinks that those shadows stay too long in the big, radiant eyes.

A young man this some one was, in a summer suit and an old felt hat on the very back of his handsome head; and as Nettie sits on the grass, thinking how sweetly and sadly the chime from the distant steeple breaks the Sunday hush upon the valley, he stands and looks down upon her with a very tender light in his laughing grey eyes.

"I wonder you did not hide in my absence as you generally do. I was suffering this, he said, holding out a delicate half-opened tea-rose.

"How beautiful, Graham," she said, her whole face showing the passionate love that had grown up within her for these beauties that had been so unattainable to the city girl. "Is it for me?"

"No," he answered, slowly drawing back his hand, and beginning to fasten the rose in his coat, 'not unless you ask me prettily.'

"Then we may as well go to tea, the bell has rung.'

She blushed a little in her effort to look dignified; but Graham read the childish nature, he thought, very easily. He knew whether his random tender speeches hurt or pleased her.

"Look straight into my eyes," he said laughing, 'and say, 'Dear Graham, give me the flower, please, You know exactly how to plead when you like, little lady."

"I have never anything to plead for now," she said quaintly, "I have a good deal more than I want in every way. What should I plead for?"

"Is it so new to you to have everything you want, dear?" asked Graham, tenderly.

"You know it is," she said with a little gulph. "Come, let us go in."

"Stop, Nettie." he said slipping down beside her on the grass. "I will not go on asking you about our past life as I have been so fond of doing. It was quite natural for my mother to insist on our dropping all connections with, and if possible, all remembrance of your father; but I can perfectly understand how you do not like to speak slightingly of him or show him to us in the character of a—— beast (Graham chose the mildest term he could think of) as you must do if you tell us of your old privations; therefore I will never speak of it again if I can help it, but will try the harder to render your home bright and happy enough to make up for the past years, and make you forget all the shadows that lie beyond. Only, Nettie, you will never talk of leaving us as you have lately frightened me by doing sometimes. Promise me.

She was looking far beyond the earnest handsome face, and the little parted lips were quivering painfully.

"You are happy with me—with us Nettie?" he wispered.

"Too happy, Graham," she said, bringing her eyes slowly back to his face, "too happy in one way. O, I don't know what it is to be petted and valued and loved—after——

"I can fancy it, he said, very low, "and the petting, and the valuing, and the loving are so delicious to us—to me especially Nettie."

She did not blush at his heartfelt words, ready as her blushes were at other times nor had her eyes quite lost their distant look.

"Graham, I have put off speaking day after day, she said, in hurid, trembling tones, "because I have been so cowardly, so afraid of going back to hardships and coldness but I must speak now, I fell as if I could at last. You know what we sang this morning when we went into church, that quite decided me. Grrham, if Aunty will let me, if you don't mind, I would be happ——better go home."

"Are you not out here? Do you really wish to go home!" asked Graham, attempting to rise carlessly, but pulling his hat a little over his face.

"I mean home to my father."

"Such whims little girls sometimes take,' he answered, stroking her hair softly.

"Come, it is tea time, you know."

"(Graham, I really, really mean it. O, listen, please."

"I will not believe you mean it, Nettie," he said huskily. Mr. O'Neil has made no effort to recall you, has never been as a father to you. How can you set him before us who love you so dearly? It is cruel to us if it be not cruel to yourself."

"O, hush," she cried, covering her face suddenly, "I thought you would help me to see what

V. R.

EAST and WEST RIDINGS

OF PETERBOROUGH.

The Reformers of the County of Peterborough will hold a

REFORM DEMONSTRATION!

ON THE

7th of June Next,

AT PETERBOROUGH.

Messrs. Blake, McKenzie and O'Donohoe,

Have promised to be present, Other prominent Reformers have been invited.

AN OPEN AIR MEETING!

WILL BE HELD IN THE AFTERNOON, AND

A BANQUET

WILL BE GIVEN IN THE EVENING.

It is expected that most of the supporters of Liberal Government in the County will be present. All are cordially invited.

GEO. T. LEONARD, Secretary.

D. W. DUMBLE, Chairman of Com.

Peterborough, May 10, 1871. 19

NEW WOOLEN MILL.

To the Farmers and Merchants of the County of Peterboro:

The subscribers would respectfully beg to intimate that the Old Woolen Mill, once owned and carried on by the late James Harvey, Esq., afterwards by Mr. Daniel Brook, has been put in a

A THOROUGH STATE OF REPAIR,

And is now filled with New Machinery, got up expressly for the Manufacture of

Blankets, Flannels, Full Cloths, Tweeds, &c.

A large assortment of the above goods of our own make, are now on hand, and will be sold Cheap for Cash, or Exchanged for wool. Special attention will be given to the Custom Department, which is in perfect order for the Manufacture of Farmer's Blankets, Roll Carding and Fulling.

JOHN WHYTE, AUGUSTUS SAWERS.

N.B.—We will pay the Highest price in Cash for any quantity of Good Clean Wool delivered at the mill.

J. W. A. S.

—:o:—

To my old friends in particular, and the public in general:

I am now back in the Old Mill, with Messrs. Whyte & Sawers, and have got a Large Room all to myself With a splendid

NEW CARDING MACHINE

Bring in your Wool, and I will give you BETTER ROLLS than have ever been turned out in this County.

JOHNNIE NEWTON.

Peterboro, May 3rd, 1871. 18

FRAZER'S

PATENT MACHINE.

FOR RAISING

Hay, Peas, Barley & Merchandise

—:o:—

Price of Car, $10; paid in October next. Cash on delivery, 30. Warranted to work satisfactorily when properly put up. Instruction given with every Machine. County or Township Rights sold on favorable terms.

WM. FRAZER, Glenwilliams P. O., Ont. Patentee and Manufacturer.

CERTIFICATE.

I have used Mr. Frazer's Machine for raising Peas, Hay, &c., and I find it one of the best of the kind I ever saw. I would not part with it at all. Besides, if any farmer in this County shall purchase one of them and put it up properly, if dissatisfied after a fair trial, I will take the Machine back and repay him.

JAMES MILLAR, Reeve of Otonabee.

Otonabee, May 10th, 1871. 19-3ins.

CHANGE OF BUSINESS

—:o:—

New Foundry Firm.

—:o:—

The Subscriber in retiring from the Foundry Business in which he has been engaged for the past 15 years, begs to return thanks to his friends and the public in general, for the liberal patronage conferred upon him, at the same time he would beg to state that the business in future will be carried on by his BROTHER-IN-LAW and JAMES M. DAVIS, under the firm of Whyte & Davis. Mr. Davis is well known as a First Class Machinist and Millwright, therefore I have every confidence in recommending the New Firm to the public, feeling assured that all orders entrusted to them will be executed in the most satisfactory manner, and with dispatch.

JOHN WHYTE.

Peterborough, April 1st, 1871.

N. B.—Parties having Notes and Accounts to settle, will please bear in mind that the Books of account and Notes will be at my Woolen Mill, West of Whyte & Hamilton's Foundries.—J. W.

The Subscribers having Commenced Business in the Old Stand of John Whyte, Esq., as (Founders, Machinists and Agricultural Implement Manufacturers.) beg to say that they keep on hand all kinds of

AGRICULTURAL IMPLEMENTS,

SUCH AS

STEEL, COMMON, AND GANG PLOWS, HARROWS, ROOT CUTTERS, CULTIVATORS, HORSE HOES, GARDEN AND FIELD ROLLERS, HAY AND STRAW CUTTERS, with almost every Implement used on the Farm.

General Repairing of Reapers, Mowers, Threshing Machines and Implements of Husbandry on the Shortest Notice.

Parties about purchasing any of the above Implements will do well to call and respect our Stock on hand, before making a purchase elsewhere.

WHYTE & DAVIS

Peterborough, April 1st, 1871. 15-tf.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS:

Reform Banquet.—D. W. Dumble.

Police Fly Fort.—W. Fraser.

Special Examination.—Ferguson & Ellis.

Butcher's Fly Killer.

The Peterborough Examiner.

PETERBOROUGH, MAY 4, 1871.

Editorial Items.

There is considerable talk in Toronto about wooden pavement for the streets.

The Joint High Commission have concluded and signed a treaty; of course it has to be considered by the powers concerned, but this will, no doubt, be accepted by them, and made final.

PETERBOROUGH LITERARY SOCIETY.—The next regular meeting of this Society will be held in their room, over the Mechanics Institute Reading Room, on Friday evening next, at 7:30 o'clock. A full meeting is particularly requested.

The movement in favor of a railway to Bobcaygeon and also of re-opening the Cobourg road, is gaining ground, and a disposition on the part of the people to grant a bonus, if reasonable guarantees of securing the roads were given. The course Mr. Fowler and the Cobourg Railway Company and Town may take, will largely influence the people of Peterboro.

The young men of Montreal are getting tired of their way of wasting their evenings, and, in consequence, some of them are anxious to form clubs for mental and moral improvement. How many young men everywhere do worse than waste the greater part of their time? They not only waste their hours too often, but also contract habits that end in drunkenness, and not seldom other crimes, looked on with less favor: cards, billiards, drink, idle talk and licentiousness occupy the spare hours of many, both young and old.

AUSTRIA.—The dissaffection caused by Dr. Dollenger's refusing to accept the Infallible Dogma is likely to end in an open disruption of Church and State in Austria. The people, Professors and a considerable number of the Clergy sympathise with Dr. Dollenger, and openly advocate the revocation of the Concordat, so that in the South of Germany another religious change is likely very soon to culminate in two religious parties not at all friendly in doctrines—what strange things are taking place daily!

DOMINION DAY.—The committee appointed to carry out the arrangements for celebrating Dominion Day, will meet at the Council Chamber, to-morrow, (Friday) at 8 o'clock, p. m. The following Firemen have been appointed members of such committee in addition to the names already published:—Messrs. O'Donnell, J. Gibbs, A. Comstock, Geo. McBurney, J. Marshall, G. Hutchinson, Albert Hall, George Hall, H. Robertson, J. Robertson, John Irwin and Geo. Mitchell, Jun'r.

The Committee of the Protestant House acknowledge with thanks the following donations for April:—Mrs. Smith, Pork; Miss Patton, bottle of Maple Molasses; Mrs. Wallis, 2 quarters of Veal; Mr. W. White, piece of Beef; Mrs. Shaw, things for sick, and suet; Mr. Winch, Beef and Veal: Mrs. Kempt, things for sick; Mrs. Hamilton, two Geese; From a friend, a bag of Feathers; Mrs. Erskine, arsel of Goods; Mrs. Mark, a parcel of Clothing; Miss Nicholls, parcel of Clothing; Mr. Ormond, Grass Seed; Mr. Hilliard, Lumber for fencing.

QUEEN'S BIRTHDAY.—We are glad to learn that the Town of Peterboro is not to be left altogether without some celebration on the Queen's Birthday, and that the Cricket Club have taken the matter in hand. Their usual cricket match will be played in the forenoon, and the afternoon will be devoted to a series of athletic sports, open to all comers, full particulars of which will be given in a few days. We are glad to see so much spirit displayed by the gentlemen of the club, and we say to the citizens of Peterboro and vicinity, turn out in strong force on the Ashburnham cricket ground on the 24th, and see a good days sport, and show the club that their efforts for the public amusement are appreciated.

On Wednesday last, a sad occurrence took place at Young's Dam, by which a promising young man, a son of Mr. D. Rosebrugh of Smith, lost his life. It appears the young fellow, in company with some others, were engaged in preventing some timber that was running, from going through the sluice between the slide and the dam. Seeing a stick coming that was likely to move the one on which they were standing, they made for the pier; Rosebrugh instead of landing on it, fell into the sluice. He was seen some distance below, and although assistance was promptly rendered, it was of no avail. It is thought had he been able to swim, he would in all probability have been saved. The body has not yet been recovered.—COM.

SAD ACCIDENT.—A sad accident occurred in the Carding room of Mr. C. Brock's Woolen Mill, Ashburnham, on Saturday, by which a boy named Mark May, lost a leg. It appears that the boy was attending the "Picker" when the accident happened. This machine is fixed so that the wool is driven through a small hole in a partition into a room for the purpose. The wool sometimes, fills the hole and clogs the machine, if it not removed, for the purpose a stick is kept at hand. It is thought that the boy used his foot, thoughtlessly, instead of the stick. It was caught in the "Picker" and taken off at once, as it was found in the machine along with some pieces of the bones of the leg. The snapping off the foot must have thrown the boy on his back at the same time, leaving the leg to be fearfully mangled by the "Picker" in its revolutions. Mr. Brooks, who had been out a few minutes, just entered at the time, or within a minute of the accident, and seeing the cover of the machine unduly rocked about, looked to see what was the matter, when the boy shouted "my leg is off." Mr. B. lifted him and placed him in a better place, and immediately sent for Dr. Kincaid, who aided by Dr. O'Sullivan, amputated the mangled limbs a little below the knee. We are glad to learn that the boy is getting along favorably under the care of Dr. Kincaid. This should prove a useful lesson to all who read it, who are attending machinery, so as to put them on their guard. Young May will be a cripple for life. We are glad to learn that under Dr. Kincaid's care he is progressing very favorably at present.

France.

There is no cessation yet of the Communist Rebellion. The conflict goes on as bitterly as ever. Operations are daily promised on a large scale, but there is considerable hesitation to commence. MacMahon with 80 big guns was expected to begin operations yesterday, but with what result remains to be determined.

A great concentration of troops are daily being made.

An Insurrection in Algeria has broke out, and defies all the powers of the province. It is spreading rapidly.—

On the ninth the Versaillist forces made a strong attack on Fort Montrouge. The result of the attack is yet unknown. The cause of the abandonment of Fort Issy was a panic among the garrison. The Versailles troops failed in their attempt to construct a bridge of boats to the Bois de Boulogne. The Versaillists made three attempts on Monday to capture Moulin-Baquet, in each of which they were repulsed. Their losses before forts Issy and Vanvres have been heavy. There was a review of troops to-night in the Place de la Concorde previous to their departure for the field of battle. A general attack is expected to-night. A conflagration is raging at Fort Vanvres. The fort was taken, but with heavy loss. What a deluded people the Communists must be!

Reform Banquet.

The Banquet will come off on the 7th of June. Messrs. Blake, McKenzie, O'Donohoe, McKellar, Crooks, Farewell, Fraser and McLeod have been invited. And the first three of the above have promised to be present, without fail. The others have not yet been heard from. We have no doubt but that it will prove a success. The Electors of the County will have an opportunity of hearing the leading men of the Liberal party, and of forming opinions on their claims to public favor based on the soundness of their principles.

It will be urged that the object of the Banquet is to get up an offensive demonstration calculated to hurt the feelings of others who support Conservatism. This, however, is foreign to the object sought. There is no man in this country, surely, who cannot look on this, then on that.

There are two sides to many pictures, and we believe there are many willing to examine both sides.

The Banquet is being got up with this in view, and no doubt many of both parties will avail themselves of the opportunity to hear those gentlemen who are coming: and having heard, judge for themselves. There being no doubt as to the day, we trust that the farmers will make arrangements for it, and come early. We hope to be able to give fuller information next week; and merely mention the matter now to enable them to make necessary arrangements.

In the evening, there will be a dinner given in honor of the guests. The addresses however will be given during the afternoon, we understand. We believe it only requires to be known that these gentlemen are positively coming, to ensure a crowd of the Electors of the County.

Ample accommodations will be provided, and provisions made for all who may attend.

To this end, all who intend being present at the Banquet would do well to signify their intentions to the Secretary, Geo. T. Leonard, Esq., so as to avoid undue haste at the last moment. The day, too, is opportune. The Spring work will be done, and there will be time for a day's pleasure.

Assessors' Return.

PETERBOROUGH—1871.

Population	5,073
Real Property	$1,135,575
Personal Property	309.175
Income	66,725
	$1,507,400

BRANTFORD—1871.

Population	7,878
Real Property	$1,532,864
Personal Property	382,570
Income	61.350
	$1,976,784

Rebellion in Centeral America.

The people of Centeral America are somewhat rebelliously inclined.

Intelligence has been received that the insurgent army is advancing towards Santiago de Veraguas. The insurgents threat en Panama immediately, and consequently there is great alarm. The President in a proclamation notified the troops to prepare for a fight, and they have been supplied with arms and ammunition. Peace commissioners have started to confer with the rebels, and also the proper officers to reclaim the steamer Montijo and the prisoners on board.

Herrera, the rebel commander, has notified the United States Consul not to interfere by sending the United States steamer Resaca for the re-capture of the Montijo, because, he says, the United States officers will not be permitted on board that vessel, and he will fight them to the bitter end. The Resaca will leave the Isthmus of Darien on the 16th, and thenceforth foreigners will be unprotected. All the foreign consuls have addressed the President, begging him to have nacional troops remain for the protection of the lives and property of foreigners. The Government party in the State of Boyaca are likely to triumph over the revolutionists, who by their arbitrary have lost many adherents.

A mutiny has occured at Cajarmarca and soldiers have been sent to repress it and arrest the ringleaders. The insurgents captured the City of Lima, capital of Peru, on the 28th ult.

Advices from Buenos Ayres state that the average of death rate from vomoto is 250 daily. Five thousand persons died in weeks; 6,000 had fled from the city.

Advice from Valparaiso to the 17th of April state that the vomito was making frightful ravages there.

Venezuela, April 24.—There are rumors of fresh revolts circulating. It was supposed that an unimportant expedition which left Caracccas and landed at Cairo was attacked by Government troops, and that most of those belonging to it were captured. The remainder were dispersed.

The descendants of the Spanish and Portuguese Colonists in America, are inclined to rebellion, perhaps too much for their own good.

A tragic affair is reported from Vaudreuil A young man named Pomiaville, aged 22, employed as brakesman on the G. T. R., was stabbed by a fellow countryman named Hupe, 35, and now lies in a very precarious state. The wound was inflicted just above the right hip with a large knife. The most extraordinary part of the affair is that not the slightest provocation is known to have existed. The would-be murderer hails from Detroit; he will be brought before Mr Brehaut to-day.

The Mechanics' Institute.

ANNUAL MEETING.

The annual meeting of the Peterborough Mechanics' Institute, was held in their rooms on Tuesday evening last, W. Helm, Esq., President in the chair.

The Secretary read the following report of the Directors for the past year:—

The Directors in presenting their annual report are pleased to be able to state that the affairs of the Institute are in a more satisfactory position than they were at this time last year. During the year now closed, there has been an increase of membership over the former year. In the year 1869-70 we had 66 members on the Roll, 1870-71 we had 94, and this year commencing May 1st, we have already 106, while many of the old members have not been waited upon yet for the renewal of their subscriptions; on this year's roll we have 41 new members, and we hope that the number may yet be continually increased. Judging from the increasing number who visit the Reading Room, it may be inferred that the efforts of the Directors to keep it supplied with the leading newspapers, and the best of the current Magazines and Quarterlies, are being appreciated. The addition that has been made to the Library during the past year has been considerable, there having been $443.36 worth of books and periodicals added; and should their successors be able to appropriate $200 for the purchase of books for the present year, they will get the increased grant from the Government of $400, which, if judiciously laid out would lay the foundation of a good Library, which would be of permanent advantage to the town. Owing to the want of success attending the evening classes in the former year the Directors did not think it advisable to attempt them last winter. The Lecture Committee made an effort during the winter to get Mr. Punchon and Professor Goldwin Smith, to give lectures under the auspices of the Institute, but owing to other engagements, neither of these gentlemen could come. Mr. Dixon, the Principal of the Union School, kindly offered to deliver a Course of Lectures under the auspices of the Institute, and it was gratifying to see that the public appreciated his efforts, by the increased attendance on these lectures over those of any former years

An effort has been made by the Toronto Institute to get those for whom these institutes are more especially intended, to take a greater interested in them. And it is to be regretted that the Mechanics of Peterborough have not taken the interest in this Institute that might have been expected; but from the increased number on the membership of the present year, it is to be hoped that they will begin to appreciate the advantage that the Institute holds forth at so cheap a rate.

Appended is the Treasurer's Report up to 1st May.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

WM. HELM, President.

JOHN ERSKINE, Secretary.

Treasurer's Report of Peterborough Mechanics' Institute from 1st of May, 1870-71.

1870, May 1. DR.

To Balance on hand	$ 34 64
" Members subscriptions	85 25
" Donations from Directors	155 00
" Donation from Mr. Morrow	25 00
" Government Grant	200 00
" Town Council Grant	50 00
" Miscellaneous revenue from sale of old books, magazines, fees from lectures, &c.	115 08
	$644 97

1870. CR.

By Paid for Books, Periodicals, and Newspaps	$443 36
" " Postage	4 18
" " Fuel	34 87
" " Furnishing rooms	6 50
" " Taxes	7 70
" " Cost of Lectures	49 20
" " Salary of Caretaker	21 00
" " Rent	50 00
" " Assessment on Legislature Grant	10 00
" " Oil, etc	10 85
" " Rosnin, for Blank Book, Tickets, etc	3 00
" " Envelopes, Paper, etc	1 06
" " Balance on hand and in Bank	4 27
	$644 97

The report was on motion adopted, and a vote of thanks tendered to the President, Secretary and Librarian (Mr, English) for the past year.

The meeting then proceeded to the election of Officers, when the following were elected:—

President—Wm. Hamilton.

1st Vice-President—James A. Hall.

2nd Vice-President—Robert Robertson.

Directors—Wm English, James English Wm. Helm, Wm. Robertson, James L. Hughes, John Carnegie, jr., Geo. C. Shaw, Robert McKee, James F. Dennistoun.

Secretary and Treasurer—John Erskine.

Librarian—Wm. English.

Dummer Council.

Town Hall, Dummer, April 29, 1871.

Council met according to adjournment.

Present, the Reeve, and councillors Payne, Ferguson and Spence.

COMMUNICATIONS.

From County Treasurer, referring to assessment of lot 19 in 10 con. Action deferred as this matter properly should come before the court of revision.

From J. P. Cummins, Brantford, complaining of the manner of assessing unoccupied lands. Mr. C. is benevolent, passively, and philosophic. "It is a scheme," he says, "to see a municipality expending so much of her resources in the expenses of an annual land sale. We must stop this. Instruct your assessor to not lay on so hard when he comes to a N. R. lot, the tax on which will then be trifling, it will be paid on demand no doubt of it."

Mr. C. deals in real estate.

Action deferred until Court of Revision.

From Hugh Adam, requesting permission to build on road allowance, 7 line, lot 30. Request granted.

From James Dewart for abatement of tax on N½ 13 in 7. Mr. D. bought this lot in 1869, from countp, paid accrued tax, but could get no deed until expiration of 11 months. He claims that when he did come in quiet possession of his land he found two years accumulated tax.

Mr. D. is allowed to pay $4 of this tax in Statute Labor.

From John Weston informing council that crossway on Side Road Lots 10 & 11, 3 con. was completed.

Mr. Smith the commissioner was authorised to view the work and settle with Mr. Weston.

SUPPER'S AGAINST MUNICIPALITY.

An old claim for compensation for horse sold by collector, in 1865 for a tax said to have accrued in 1854, 8 years before the land was patented.

The council supported the action of collector but admit that Mr. Stevens has suffered through error of assessor and therefore allow him $15 for expenses incurred.

CHARITIES.

William Small, $5.00; Archie Nelson, for support of an aged man, 6.00; Mrs. Jackson, 1 quarters allowance, 7.50.

OTHER DISBURSEMENTS.

Collector 1865, days attendance on collect, $1.50; Eliz. Peters, cleaning hall, 1.00; Peter Ferguson, repairing bridges, $6.50; Clark, part of salary, $30.00.

BY-LAWS.

No. 254, to appoint assessor of Local Officers, and No. 255, to authorize payment of above written money's were read, signed and sealed.

ADJOURNMENT.

Council adjourned, to meet as a Court of Revision, on Saturday, May 20th.

A. S. MAGUIRE, Clerk.

Douro.

COURT OF REVISION.

The Court of Revision on the Assessment Roll of Douro for the present year held its sittings on Saturday, April 15th, 1871. The Council constituted the Court. The clerk having read over the list of appeals they were disposed as follows:—

REAL PROPERTY.

The assessment of Michael O'Brien for 70 acres of lot E½ 5, Con. 4 was confirmed, and the remaining 30 acres of said lot was taken of the Non. Res. Roll, and assessed to the name of Maurice Clancy.

PERSONAL PROPERTY.

The assessment of John C. Sherin to remain as returned by the assessor. The assessment of Smith, Boyd & Co., was reduced to two hundred dollars, it having been proved by declaration of the party, that they were not liable to assessment for lumber.

Messrs. Samuel Sherin, Thomas Watley and Michael Sheehan, not appearing, their appeals were laid aside.

It was resolved on motion, that the Assessment Roll with the foregoing alterations be confirmed.—Carried.

A Quintuple Murder.

The Raleigh correspondent of the New York Herald gives the following particulars of a terrible crime in North Carolina: Silas Weston, a free negro before the war, has for many years been living with Polly Steedman, a white woman of loose character. Polly has or had four children, white, the eldest about fourteen, the youngest nearly two years of age.

Silas and Polly lived peaceably together, and were in better circumstances than most of their class. Some time ago, three notorious characters—Govan and Columbus Adair and M. Bernard—were charged with the theft of a quantity of brandy, and bound over at McDowell county court. Silas had seen the thieves carrying off the booty, and was supoenaed as the principal witness for the prosecution. The Adairs threatened his life if he peached, but Silas expressed a determination to bring the rogues to justice. What we now proceed to state is the sworn deposition of the woman, Polly Steedman. On Wednesday evening, April 20, shortly after nightfall, while the family were preparing to retire to peaceful repose, the dog began to bark violently. Polly, looking through the chinks between the logs, received a pistol bullet in the eye. With a wild scream she sprang back, and at that instant the door was broken down and in rushed Govan Adair, Columbus Adair, and Bernard, firing, as they came. Silas fell dead, with two balls in the head. One of the assassins stood over the children as they lay upon the floor, shooting them through the head like so many pigs. Polly stooped to creep under the bed, but was flung back. Then she began to fight like a tigress. One of the butchers attacked her with a knife. Finally, with five deep cuts on the body, with her throat deeply gashed and a pistol shot through the eye, this poor creature sank to the floor and was kicked to a pile of broom straw preparatory to the grand auto da fe.

Meanwhile every voice in the family had been stilled. Six lifeless bodies lay on the bloody floor—the old man on the hearth, the mother haggled in pieces on the straw, and the children in their night clothes, lying where they fell—and had been trodden by rude feet. The fiends contemplated their work, to make sure it had been done thoroughly, and prepared to hide their tracks. Piling up clothing, straw and other combustible matter, they applied the match, and then fled away into the darkness.

And now occurred what may well sound marvellous. Polly Steadman, scorched by the flames, arouses herself, seizes her youngest child, who gives signs of life, and crawling towards the door, tries to drag out another child, but nature fails, and the body lies just outside the threshold; then with supernatural strength, Polly staggers the distance of half a mile to the residence of Mrs. Williams, and gives the alarm.

It is too late. Three bleached skeletons grin from the ashes, and a blistered corpse lay without the door. As soon as possible messengers were dispatched for Sheriff Walker and for medical assistance; but, before either arrived, Polly, supposing herself in the last agony of death, solemnly testified against the murderers. She knew them well; they were her near neighbors, and were not disguised. Her testimony was so clear and positive that it carried conviction to all who heard it. Accordingly, Squire Hanes promptly issued a warrant for the arrest of the suspected parties. They were found at home, one of them in bed, though late in the day. Sheriff Walker arrived shortly afterward and conveyed the prisoners to this place, where they are closely confined.

Imperial Government.

In the house of Lords this evening a bill was introduced providing for the Confederation of the Leeward Islands in the West Indies.

It was announced that the admiralty rejected its inability to aid pecuniarily the widow of Gen. Burgoyne.

THE NEW ANGLO AMERICAN TREATY.

In the House of Commons, Viscount Enfield, Under-Secretary for Foreign Affairs, announced the receipt of a cable despatch from Earl de Grey advising the Government that a treaty between the American and British Government has been signed by the High Commission at Washington, but said he was unable to disclose its conditions.

DISESTABLISHMENT.

Mr. Miall, member for Bradford, moved for the disestablishment of the Church of England, and supported the motion a speech of marked ability and great eloquence.

The Right Hon. Mr. Bruce, Home Secretary, opposed the argument that the disestablishment of the English Church was a like to that of the Church of Ireland; and expressed the opinion that the agitation of the question was unlikely.

Sir Roundell Palmer defended the Church of England from the assaults of the member of Bradford.

Mr. Edward A. Leatham, member for Huddersfield, advocated the resolution, a referred to the prosperity of the Episcopal Church in America as an argument for the disestablishment of the Church of England.

Mr. Disraeli thought Frazer and not America should be looked to for proper examples. He implored the House to disregard the advice of the puisne men and doctrinaires who were continually assailing the church. He believed philosophers would confirm the church in its position.

Mr. Gladstone announced his views on Mr. Disraeli, and brought forward fresh arguments in favor of the present established church.

Upon a division of the House there was a majority of 295 for the resolution.

Murder at Montreal.

A man named Lee, a sailor, murdered a woman at Montreal on Wednesday last. The Star says:

It is with great pleasure we announce the fact that John Lee, the alleged murderer of Mrs. Foster, was arrested last evening, about half-past ten o'clock, by Detectives Lafon and Bouchard, near the X 10 U 8 tavern, behind the mountain, and is now safely lodged in the cells of the Central Station. It would appear that the first intimation that Lee was at hand was received by cab-constable Hunt from a girl living in a house of ill-fame corner of St. Dominique and Dorchester Streets, who said that a man answering his description had come to the house at about 9 o'clock yesterday morning. Lafon and Bouchard at once started after him, and found that he had gone round the mountain with Eliza Scoullin, one of the girls from the house, on enquiry they discovered that he had got a carriage from a carter named Brown, and had started about one o'clock it was then after 2, but, Brown having let them have another carriage and one of his drivers to identify the first carriage and its occupants, they started in pursuit. Some distance past Bouin's tavern they met the carriage returning to the city, they let them go past and then turned and followed until the carriages were opposite the X 10 U 8, when the detective passed the first carriage and stopped it. Lee at once jumped out and endeavoured to escape, and a fierce struggle ensued between him and the detectives. Lee is a wiry, powerful fellow, and fought hard for freedom, and it was only after he had received several blows, and had been severely throttled, that Lafon succeeded in getting a pair of handcuffs on him and securing him. On examination, $100 bill, some gold, and about $10 in small bills were found on him. It was found also that he had changed a $60 bill at Bouin's had sent a sovereign to pay for the carriage he had hired, besides paying for a pair of boots purchased by him yesterday. Our reporter saw Lee in his cell at the central station this morning; he is badly scratched about the face, and bears the marks of Lafon's fingers on his throat, showing the trouble there was to arrest him. He is an intelligent looking man probably 25 or 15, answering tolerably well to the description given of him. He speaks English well, and states that he is a Norwegian sailor, and came to Montreal about six months ago in the schooner "Brendalbane," from Newfoundland. He says his name is John Ederbretson, but he goes by the English name of Lee; he also said he had three names, but did not state what the third was; he declaims any knowledge of the murder, and says he left the house about 9 o'clock, on Wednesday night, leaving Mrs. Foster and the pensioner there; the money found on him he claims as his own, and says he worked for it and saved it up. The evidence against him is about as strong as circumstantial evidence can be; the time he says he left the house agrees with the time the boy M'Keown says he saw him on the railroad track; the money, both notes and gold, agrees with Fosters testimony as to the sort of money his wife had, and will, doubtless, be indentified by him; the difference between the amount missing and the sum found may have been hidden somewhere by Lee; his feet bore traces of blood on them at the time of his capture; and lastly, the sock of his left foot is saturated with blood, thus agreeing with the footmarks all over the house, which show that the left foot was bloody.

AN ITALIAN PERKIN WARBECK.—The Commercio, an Italian journal, contains the following curious story relative to an individual styling himself Francis II., who arrived a few days ago at Brari. His person, his manners, his suite, gave him a striking resemblance to the ex-King of the Two Sicilies, of happy memory. He received official and confidently visits from priests, monks, woman and numerous supporters of his cause. He promised, flattered and granted nominal pensions, and predicted his elevation very shortly to the throne of Naples. His pretensions reached to such degrees that on the third day he issued forty invitations to a grand banquet, at which the most extravagant toasts were drunk and vivas shouted for the shortly to be reinstated King and all belonging to him. The jubilation was at its height, when it suddenly interrupted by the unexpected entrance of a body of carbineers and guards, who in the name of the law invited the King, his suite and his guests to accompany them to the castle where they would be better able to carry and the farce. There being no use in resisting the "King" and his company submitted with the best possible grace, and were speedily placed in safe keeping. The soidisant King is a native of Barletta. The police are said to have seized several documents compromising numerous influential persons in Rome.

ATTEMPED MURDER OF A ROTHSCHILD.—The following is from the London Times of the 12nd. "Frankfort advises state that great excitement had been occasioned by an attempt on the life Baron M. Rothschild the day before yesterday by a French soldier, who entered the office and asked to see baron. When asked his business, he demanded four millions of francs to be paid down to him, and threatened that in case of refusal he would blow up the house by means of a bag he held in his hand. The clerks considered him a manaic, and tried to turn him out. He then put a match to the bag and the explosion slightly wounded two brokers, who were wating for the Baron. Further accounts on Change about the attempt at Rothschild's office state that by the force of the explosion the windows, frame work, and staircase are smashed. The perpetrator, a French officer (Alsatian), stated that he was one of a gang who had coalesced for plundering the bankers, and that he had been selected by lot to go to Rothschild's. There are none of the clerks wounded."

WEST DURHAM ELECTION.—Mr. Blake has formally resigned the seat in the Local Legislature in which, by acclamation, the electors of West Durham recently placed him, the hon. gentleman having, as he stated at Bowmanville, felt it is duty to continue his connections with his former constituency of South Bruce. A vacancy having thus been created, two members of the Legislature, Messrs. Adam Crook and Thomas Hodgins, have duly notified the Clerk of the Crown in Chancery of the fact; and that officer will accordingly, without farther delay, issue his writ for the election of another representative for West Durham. There cannot be much doubt but the choice of the electors will fall on their former member, Mr. McLeod. That gentleman, it will be remembered, generously retired from the field in order to give the constituencee the opportunity of recording their high sense of Mr. Blake's services in the Local House. Now that the field is clear, and nothing stands in the way of Mr. McLeod's re-election, we anticipate that his loyal and able support will be again secured to his party, thus adding one more name to the ranks of the Liberal majority in the new House of Assembly.—Globe.

The purchase system in the English army is to be abolished; the "Pall Mall Gazette calls for the abolition likewise of the purchase system in the Church, saying: "The money the practice of admitting the indigent of aged headmasters who tarry too long in their comfortable berths—or, to speak more correctly, their 'spheres of usefulness'—is put an end to, the better. Now that no man will be allowed to superintend the killing of his fellow creatures officially, merely because he has money in his purse, we can hardly consent to allow Lords to purchase the privilege of superintending the spiritual welfare of Lazarus. A gentleman [illegible] seem is no doubt a great luxury, but it is far too sacred a subject for the amateur's amusement."

The New Anglo-American Treaty.

MEASURES FOR RATIFICATION.

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 8.—The treaty was signed to-day by the High Commissioners at the Department of State. The gentlemen, after this was done, exchanged congratulations on the result of their labours, expressing the belief that they had done the most they possibly could for the peace and honour of the two countries. Although the Commissioners have been cautious in talking to persons outside of their own circle, the following ideas will be found to be correct:

Fire.—There are to be two boards or commissions; to one will be referred the Alabama and other similar claims, which are recognized as national, and to be settled on the principal of responsibility for such depredations where the Government has not exercised the utmost diligence and possible precaution to prevent privateers being fitted out in its ports to prey upon the commerce of a power with whom it was at peace.

The other board is to take cognizance of miscellaneous claims, British and American, confined principally to periods from the commencement to the close of our late civil war. Among these are St. Albans claims for damage to property in that town by the Canadians, but no claims for the Fenian invasion of Canada are to be admitted. As to the claims of British subject for seizures of their cotton, Great Britain, through its Commissioners, does not recognize them in cases where such subject took up their domicile in the South, as thereby they subjected themselves to all the risks and contingencies of war. All legitimate claims for cotton will, however, be considered. It has been reported without warrant that they will amount to thirteen or more millions, but but this is considered to be a great exaggeration. They will not probably amount to a million dollars. There will be no difficulty in ascertaining all the particulars, as the Treasury department has all dates of all the seizures of cotton; the names of the owners thereof, and all the particulars concerning the seizure. The government is aware the claims were recently published in that country, but it also has information that many of them have already been adjusted, while others will not come within the provisions of the treaty.

Among the claims which will also come before this board will be that of our Government growing out of the purchase of shipster in the East Indies during the war, and which was seized by the British authorities.

There are other miscellaneous claims which will come before the second board.

The San Juan question will be referred to the arbitration of a friendly sovereign, probably the Emperor of Brazil. From the character of the documents accompanying the treaty, it is inferred that the decision cannot fail to be in favour of the United States. The treaty provides for the free navigation of the St. Lawrence by the vessels of the United States and for the use of the Canadian canals on the payment of the regular tolls. There are also provisions regulating the privileges to fishing in Canadian waters, but these have not been ascertained with sufficient accuracy to justify a statement of them.

WASHINGTON, May 8.—The London Times mistakes in saying that the treaty must be ratified by both Houses of Parliament, thought it will require legislation to carry some of its provisions into effect. The only doubt in the above statement is as to whether there is to be only one or two boards, but it is certain the Alabama and kindred claims are to be considered separately from the other claims. The British Commissioners together with Gen. Schenck, will sail for Europe on the 24th of this month, relying, of course, on the ratification of the treaty by the Senate.

NEW YORK, May 8.—A Tribune Washington special says: The treaty negotiated by the joint High Commission has been engrossed in duplicate, and will be signed to-day. If the usual custom is followed, it will be sent to the Senate on Wednesday, accompanied by a message of the President, in order that the Senators may, as soon as possible, become familiar with the provisions of the treaty. A few copies of it will printed in confidence for their use. The treaty will at once be referred to the Committee on Foreign Relations, who will consider it in detail and report it back to the Senate—favourable or otherwise. Senator Morton is reported to have remarked, in alluding to the great length of the document and its important character, that it will take the committee nearly a week to consider it.

The President is said to be highly pleased with the result of the Commissioners' labors, and to predict a favourable action of the Senate.

The opposition will probably be made to have the injunction of secrecy remove in order that the treaty may be discussed in open session. Several Senators are known to favor this, but an agreement has been made between the Commissioners that the treaty shall not be made public until ratifications have been exchanged. Globe.

THE ELECTIONS.—It is scarcely a month since, when the whole of Ontario was ablaze about its local elections. The black sheep were well badgered by the Globe, and many of them in consequence were left to bleat at home; but the Globe had something to hit—for every man who sought the position of representive made known his views by his address to the electors. Then again there is a public sentiment in Ontario, and the conduct of public men is a lively source of discussion—thoroughly entered into by the population. What a contrast is the Province of Quebec! We are within a month of the elections for Local Government, and yet we fail to observe a single address to the electors in either French or English journals! And if it were, it would be the most difficult thing in the world to work up an excitement on the subject, or sufficiently interest the people to care who would gain or loose. We can only account for this state of things upon one hypothesis; and that is, that the matter is already seemingly a fore gone conclusion, and that Monseigneurs the Bishops and Sir George Cartier carry the lucky numbers in their 'breeches' pockets. There can be no doubt also that the frightful atrocities committed in Paris by the Rouges on innocent priests, and the destruction of properties belonging to convents, have had a powerful effect on the minds of the voting classes in this Province. This may also be a reason why we hear so little just now of the political party, who have hitherto so loudly bellowed for "Liberte, Egalite and Fraternite."—Quebec Chronicle.

A party of 450 men, women and children, chiefly from the East-end of London, left the Thames on the 14th of April for Canada, assisted out by the National Emigration League. One of the Cork papers states that Queenstown is already crowded with emigrants from Clare, Tipperary, Meath, Westmeath and the King's County.—London Paper.

The British Colonist (British Columbia) says that an agent of the Allen Steamship Company was on his way to Victoria to make arrangements for a line of propellers from there to San Francisco and that the line would receive the Dominion subsidy for carrying the mails.

John Lee, has been committed in Montreal for the murder of one Mary Rooney. She was killed with the stroke of an axe. The cut in her head was seven inches long.

The By-Law to erect a new Town Hall, was defeated yesterday by 11 votes.

While Wm. Long, Jr., of Ashburnham, was on a drive for Messrs. A. H. Campbell, &co., near Minden, on Sunday last, an uprooted tree falling, struck him and injured him severely.

The Mill owned by [illegible] in the village of this County.

A man lost both his legs last week at Stevenson's log a mile running over him.

In Memoriam.

Lines on the death of my Mother, who died 15th Feb., 1871, at Galashiels, Scotland.

Gone, alas! forever gone, Mother dear,
Art thou, far from a world of pains and woes;
O'er thy cold grave hath fall'n the bitter tear,
Where thy lov'd form in silence doth repose.

Oh! gently thou did'st bear affliction's rod,
And meekly bow to heavens high decree,
In all thou didst behold the loving God
And humbly pray He would thy spirit free.

Cheerless the world and sad since thou'rt gone,
In vain seems Spring's return, and sunny beams;
In vain the songs of sweetly singing birds;
In vain, all, all on earth to me, vain seems.

And yet, why grope 'mid gloom of fond regrets,
Into the one mute yet ever heartfelt tears;
Into the other, an immortal soul—
Free'd from all pain throughout the endless years.

And then, Oh thee; my soul, why not rejoice
Why not exult that She hath gain'd the prize?
That she among yon heavenly white-robed throng
Is singing sweet hosannahs' in the skies.

Heavenward's to the Son, the Prince of Peace,
To whom her stay and shield, who shed His blood
That He each faltering step might lead to Heaven.

A. D GALLETLY,
Galashiells, Scotland.

DR. LIVINGSTONE.—Few travellers have so completely enlisted public sympathy as the present great African traveller, Dr Livingstone. Several times he has been giving up as having perished, but has again been restored as from the dead. This was the case recently and now the news comes by the way of Bombay that he is alive, but in a destitute condition. No doubt the nearest seat of British authority will minister to the best of its ability to his wants, whatever their nature may be. Though so often in imminent peril he has still seemed to bear a "charmed life." May it continue to be preserved!

DIED.

CURTIS—At Douro, on the 28th of April, Elizabeth, wife of Lamrue Curtis, aged 58 years.

McCAMUS—At Smith, on the 29th of April, Margaret, wife of Wm. McCamus, M. D., and daughter of Mrs. Dixon, Smith, aged 31 years.

FERGUSON—At Peterborough, suddenly, on the 29th of April, Mrs. Frederick Ferguson, aged 64 years.

RUBIDGE—At Peterborough, on the 30th of April, Charles Portlock Rubidge, son of Captain Rubidge, R. N., aged 58 years.

SAVIGNY—At Otonabee, on the 5th inst., Mary Ann Neitherout, wife of Mr. Geo. Savigny, aged 38 years.

PETERBOROUGH MARKETS.

Peterborough April 29, 1871

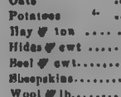
Flour ₱ brl	$4	25	@ $4	50
Wheat ₱ bush. fall	1	60	@ 1	75
Spring Wheat ₱ bush	1	60	@ 1	2-
Peas	0	00	@ 0	8
Barley	0	60	@ 0	62
Oats	0	50	@ 0	55
Potatoes	0	30	@ 0	35
Hay ₱ ton	5	00	@ 10	00
Hides ₱ cwt	0	00	@ 7	00
Beef ₱ cwt	6	50	@ 7	00
Sheepskins	0	75	@ 1	25
Wool ₱ lb	0	25	@ 0	30
Pork ₱ cwt	7	00	@ 8	00
Eggs, per dozen	0	10	@ 0	10
Butter	0	15	@ 0	18
Cordwood	2	50	@ 3	00
Turkeys	0	75	@ 1	50
Geese	0	40	@ 0	50
Chickens	0	35	@ 0	40

☞ CANADIAN OIL WELLS.—Kniskillen Ont., is situated some sixteen miles from the St Clair river and nearly opposite to Newport, in one of the richest oil districts in the world: there are now sunk and in progress near 300 wells, most of the yielding largely; in one case the well has been overflowing for some time and it is estimated that about two barrels per minute is running to waste and so far they have not been able to stop it. This truly is one of natures wonders, though not more wonderful than the power of the "Canadian Pain Destroyer," in curing sudden colds, rheumatism pleurisy spinal affections sprains bruises &c. Sold by medicine dealers at 25 cts. per bottle

A Question.

Why Will people keep four or five ill-looking sickly horses to do the work that one good horse might perform? If the horse has the heaves, is broken winded, has a cough or cold or his wind in any way affected, if his appetite bad, or his digestive organ deranged, has a rough skin or hide bound we would in all cases recommend the use of "Darley's condition powder and Arabian Heave Remedy." It never fails to benefit and always remove the disease; it is free from anything that can injure, and may be used at all times with safety Try it and you will be satisfied. Remember the name and see that signature of Hurd & Co is on each package. Northrop & Lyman, Newcastle, Ont., proprietors for Canada. Sold by all medicine dealers.

The mind governs the muscles through the Nervous System, as the telegraph apparatus is influenced by a remote operator through the wire. If the mind is impaired by age or other causes the sympathetic nerves become debilitated and through the nerves the muscles of the stomach, Liver, Heart, Lungs or General Organs become weakened and disease in the form of Dyspepsia Disease of the Heart weak Lungs or General Debility follow with their accompanying trains of evil. Fellow's Compound Syrup of Hypophosphites restores tone to the mind the nerves and the muscles. In this way it overcomes disease.



Husband! (returned from the village:)—Mary, here my dear; I have just returned from town and brought with me your entire list—Tea, Coffee, Sugar, Calico and in short a waggon full of—

Wife: (hastily)—And forgot the PAIN-KILLER?

Husband:—Oh! no; couldn't forget that: it's the most prominent object in every store in every store in town: and besides, the fences and stones and buildings all have "PAIN-KILLER" painted or pasted on them to remind one of it every minute. The store-keeper says that the PAIN-KILLER should be in every house and where one can put their hand on it in the dark if need be.

Wife:—It must be valuable, else the Parson's wife wouldn't praise it to the skies as she does.

(To be continued.)

☞ The PAIN-KILLER is an internal and external remedy for pain For internal pain, Cramps Spasms, Sudden Cold and Bowel difficulties, a few drops on water will give immediate relief. As a liniment it is without an equal; it stops pain almost instantly Be sure and get the genuine made by Perry Davis & Son and sold by all Druggists and Grocers 15-71

DUTCHER'S Lightning Fly Killer.

Dutcher's Dead Shot for Bed Bugs.

TRY THEM AND SLEEP IN PEACE.

19-4ins.

—Canada now stands eighth instead of eleventh, as last year in the list of countries trading with England, importing in proportion to population more goods from England than any other country in the world, and three times as much as United States.

—A baggage master between Chicago and Omaha was killed the other day while trying to mash a mans trunk. He has mashed thousands and never had one to go back on him before.

Sir Wm.—Too often a cold or a slight cough is considered a very ordinary trifling affair just as left to go as it comes, and hence systematically neglected until a simple cough or cold should never be trifled with, promptly use "Bryan's Pulmonic Wafers" which have sustained their reputation for over 30 years. They are always efficacious, and exercise a most beneficial influence on all the bronchial and pulmonary organs. Sold by all Druggists and country merchants. Price 25 cents per box.

THOUSANDS HAVE BEEN CHANGED—by the use of the Peruvian syrup [a protoxide of iron] from weak sickly suffering creatures to strong healthy men and women and invalids cannot reasonably hesitate to give it a trial. Dyspepsia and Debility it is a specific.

THE GREAT FEMALE REMEDY
Job Moses' Periodical Pills.

This invaluable medicine is unfailing in the cure of all those painful and dangerous diseases to which the female constitution is subject. It moderates all excess and removes all obstructions, and a speedy cure may be relied on.

TO MARRIED LADIES.

It is peculiarly suited. It will in a short time, bring on the monthly period with regularity.

These Pills should not be taken by Female during the FIRST THREE MONTHS of Pregnancy, as they are sure to bring on Miscarriage, but at any other time they are safe.

In all cases of Nervous and Spinal Affection, Pains in the Back and Limbs, on slight exertion, Palpitation of the Heart, Hysterics, and Whites, the Pills will effect a cure when all other means have failed; and although a powerful remedy, do not contain iron, calomel, antimony, or anything hurtful to the constitution

Full directions in the pamphlet around each package, which should be carefully preserved

JOB MOSES', NEW YORK, SOLE PROPRIETOR

$1.00 and 12½ cents for postage, enclosed to Northrop & Lyman, Newcastle, Ont., general agents for the Dominion, will ensure a bottle, containing over 50 pills, by return mail.

Iron ore, taken from the back hills near the highest level of the Union Pacific railway, has been smelted at Omaha and found of excellent quality, yielding 80 per cent. of superior metal Three hills of the ore lie near the railroad.

CANADIAN PAIN DESTROYER.

A Family Medicine, well and favorably known for the past ten years, never failing in a single instance to give permanent relief when timely used, and we have never known a single case of dissatisfaction where the directions have been properly followed, but on the contrary all are delighted with its operations, and speak in the highest terms of its Virtues and Magical effects.

THE CANADIAN PAIN DESTROYER has won for itself a reputation, as a blood purifier alternative stomach tonic, unsurpassed in the history of medical preparations. It seldom fails to cure Dyspepsia, Liver Complaints, Indigestion, Heartburn, Sick Headache, Kidney Complaints, Acid Stomach Phethisic or Asthma, and restores to vital activity the system debilitated by suffering and disease.

Its magical and wonderful success in curing sudden colds, sore throat, coughs, Diptheria, pains in the side, loins and back, neuralgia, toothache, rheumatic and other pains in any part of the body and from whatever cause, has given it a place in every household and is fast superseding all other preparations of the kind

It is also an effectual and prompt remedy for scalds, burns, bruises, sprains, chilblains, cholera morbus, bilious cholic, cholera infantum, dysentery, &c.

Price only twenty-five cents per bottle.

NORTHROP & LYMAN,
Newcastle, C. W.
General Agents for Canada.

Sold in Peterborough by Dr. Tayle, A. W. Kemp, Wm. Coulter and Ormond & Walsh. In Keene by A. Campbell, Campbell McNeil & Co., C. Britton, Lindsay, and all Medicine Dealers.

ONE HUNDRED DOLLARS A WORD.

For every word in the following certificate found untrue, after writing to the parties named and to the U. S. Consul, at Rio Janerio, the sum of one hundred dollars will be paid.

Rio de Janeiro, Feb. 28th, 1866.

Messrs. Raymundo C. Leite & Bro:

Gentlemen;—While a son of my friend Mr. Francisco de Mattos Pinreuta [a large proprietor in the Ciidad de Campos] was staying at my house he was attacked with intermittent fever. Immediately I sent for the very clever Dr. Tonoco, who is thought a good deal of in Campos, but the fever instead of diminishing, turned, continued, and typhoid, the boy (14 years old) could not speak, would not take the broths, and it required a great deal of coaxing to make him swallow the medicines. Dr Tonoco declared that there was not the slightest hopes of saving the boy's life; that it would be advisable to write to his father and inform him of the state of his son's health. At that moment I thought of the well spoken Dr. Radway & Co's medicaments, and applied them in the following manner: One teaspoon of Relief in a tumbler of water, dividing it three doses a day; frictions with the relief pure on the chest, back and wrists; three of Radway's Pills every day, and well covered so that he might perspire. Second day, half an hour after meals, one desert-spoon of Resolvent and water. In the fourth day he was able to get up from bed to the astonishment of every one who witnessed the miracle of Dr. Radway & Co's. medicaments.

I remain, gentlemen, your very obedient servant

Joaquim Pinto Filcao, Merchant.

Dr. Raday's Remedies are sold by Druggists and County Merchants. See Dr. Radway's Almanac for 1870.

Q. T.
BUSINESS EDUCATION

BRITISH AMERICAN BUSINESS COLLEGE and Telegraphic Institute. The only representative in Ontario of the Bryant & Stratton International Chain of Colleges.

The Theory Department is thoroughly adapted to those who wish to lay the foundation of a sound business education.

The Practical Department is a minature business world, where each Student performs all the routine duties of office work, such as buying, selling, shipping, commission, and drawing notes, drafts and checks. A regular Bank of issue is in connection with this department with beautifully engraved bank notes, which is as perfect in its details as the best organized institution in the Country.

Thorough Instruction in Telegraphy. Life Scholarship good in forty Colleges. For terms address.

ODELL & TROUT, Toronto.

September 21st, 1870.

FELLOWS'
HYPOPHOSPHITES.

Amongst the diseases overcome by the use of

Fellows' Compound Syrup of Hypophosphites

ARE

Constipation, Asthma, Consumption, Laryngitis, Nervous Debility, Dyspepsia, Chronic Bronchitis, Chronic Diarrhœa, Melancholy.

Debility resulting from Typhoid and other low fevers, Diphtheritic, dysteria, Hypochondria, Amenorrhœa, Chlorosis Anæmia, Leucorrhœa, Nervous Excitability, Marasmus, or wasting of the Muscles, Aphonia, or loss of Voice, Chorea or St. Vitus's Dance, Sluggishness of the Liver, Interrupted and Feeble Action of the heart, Suffocating fecling caused by mucous obstructions of the Lungs and Air passages leading thereto, and Debility from various causes, many cases of which appear hopeless.

SOLD BY APOTHECARIES.

Price, $1.50; Six for $7.50.

JAMES I. FELLOW, CHEMIST,
ST. JOHN, N. B.

16-1871 4mos.

GRAND OPENING DAY.

W. FAIRWEATHER & CO'S
Miinery & Mantle Show Rooms

WILL OPEN ON

FRIDAY FIRST!

WITH ALL THE

☞ Novelties and Latest Styles for the Season. ☜

On account of Extensive Alterations to be made on the premises, the goods will be sold cheap.

May. 1871. 18

SIGN OF THE CIRCULAR SAW.

THE Subscribers would beg leave to call the attention of the public to their stock of

SHELF AND HEAVY HARDWARE

PAINTS, OILS, GLASS and PUTTY,

Agricultural and Garden Implements,

NAILS, LOCKS, HINGES, &c.

All of which they will sell at the lowest Prices.

Sign of the Circular Saw.

GEORGE STREET, PETERBORO.

McKEE & DAVIDSON

Peterboro, April 26th, 1871, 17

ASHBURNHAM.

COURT OF REVISION

The Court of Revision for the Village of Ashburnham will be held in the Council Chamber,

On Monday, 15th day of May, next,

AT 10 O'CLOCK, a. m.

Of which all interested will please take notice

JAS. STRATTON,
Village Clerk.

Ashburnham, April 17, 1871. 16

CANADIAN BANK OF COMMERCE

THE Canadian Bank of Commerce have opened a

Saving's Bank Department

in Peterborough. Interest allowed on all sums over $1.00.

J. A. HALL
Manager

NO. 4 COMPANY,
57th Battalion.

Will meet for drill at the Drill Shed, every WEDNESDAY EVENING, at 8 o'clock, until further orders.

W. J. GREEN, Capt.,
Commanding.

Peterborough, April 26th, 1871. 19-2in

TO FARMERS.

If you want to make FORTY DOLLARS AN ACRE off your land,

SOW FLAX!

Let each good Farmer sow Three Acres on trial, and see how handy it is to have $120 coming in to pay off your harvest hands in August. As there is a Machine for pulling, at the mill, it makes it one of the easiest crops harvested, For seed apply to

S. TAYLOR,
Flax Mill, Ashburnham

May 3rd, 1871. 18

Insolvent Act of 1869.

In the matter of DANIEL BROOK.
An Insolvent.

The Insolvent has made an assignment of his estate to me, and the Creditors are notified to meet at the office of the Insolvent in the Town of Peterborough, on MONDAY, the TWENTY-SECOND day of MAY, 1871, at Two of the clock in the afternoon, to receive statements of his affairs and to appoint an Assignee.

Dated at Peterborough, this 2nd day of May A. D. 1871.

D. W. DUMBLE,
Interim Assignee

18-2ins

TO LET.

AUBURN HOUSE,

AND ABOUT 20 ACRES OF LAND THEREWITH.

A Delightful Summer Residence.

Apply to

DENNISTOUN, FAIRBAIRN & CASSELS

May 3rd, 1871. 18-tf

Insolvent Act of 1869.

In the Matter of WILLIAM COULTER,
An Insolvent.

A Second Dividend Sheet has been prepared, open to objection until the SIXTEENTH day of MAY next, after which divend will be paid

Dated at Peterborough, this 27th day of April, A. D. 1871.

D. W. DUMBLE,
Assignee

17-2ins.

IMPORTANT TO KNOW.

One of Dr. Radway's Pills (made from Vegetable Extracts, prepared in vacuo), taken one hour before dinner, will insure a good appetite, promote digestion, and make healthy flesh. Taken in doses of from 4 to 6, every night, will cure Indigestion, Costiveness, Liver Complaints, Jaundice, and all diseases of the Stomach, Liver, Bowels, Kidneys, etc.

These Pills are free from drastic, griping and nauseating drugs They purify the blood, cleanse the intestines, and purge from the system all corrupt and acrimonious humor Ladies in ill health should use them. Aged persons, subject to Costiveness or Paralysis of the bowles, should take two or three every night, for a few weeks; and the weak, infirm and paralysed bowels will become healthy and vigorous as in the prime of life.

An old gentleman in the city of New York, has suffered with costiveness for 30 years, used injections during that time. One dose of Radaway's Pills gave him natural evacuation; six boxes cured him. He now feels more active and enjoys better health than he did 40 years ago. Price 25 cents.

See Dr. Radway's Almanac for 1870.—R.

NOTICE.
NORTH MONAGHAN

THE COURT OF REVISION ON THE Assessment Roll for the Municipality of MONAGHAN [North], will be held at the Town Hall, on

SATURDAY, 13th day of MAY, 1871.

Commencing at 10 o'clock, A. M.

WILLIAM WOOD,
Township Clerk.

Monaghan, April 17th, 1871. 16

COURT OF REVISION.
OTONABEE.

The Court of Revision for the Municipal Corporation of the Township of Otonabee will hold its First Sitting for 1871, on

Monday, the 15th day of May, next,

Commencing at 10 o'clock, a. m.

GEO. READ,
Township Clerk.

Otonabee, 14 April, 1871, 16

VICTORIA

CARRIAGE
AND
Wagon Factory

Corner of Brock and George Streets.

The Subscriber would respectfully announce that he has leased the above establishment, opposite the Commercial Hotel and is now prepared to Manufacture

CARRIAGES,
BUGGIES,
WAGGONS,
WHEEL-BARROWS,
HARROWS, &c.

At Low Prices for Cash.

HORSE-SHOEING MADE A SPECIALTY.

GEORGE W. MILLS.

Peterboro, March 7th, 1871.

N. B.—As there is another person in Peterboro named "George Mills," the public will please remember the distinction in the names. G. W. M. 13-tf

PIANOS, MELODEONS, ORGANS

D. PENTLAND,

is now Agent for A. & S. Nordheimer for the sale of the following celebrated Pianos:—Chickering & Sons'; Steinway & Sons'; Dunham & Sons'; Haines Brothers'; Ernest Gabler; and J. W. Vose's.

Also, for the world-wide Celebrated Organs and Melodeons—Geo. A. Prince & Co., Buffalo; Mason & Hamlin's, Boston.

Instruction Books for Piano & Organ, Sheet Music, &c. always on hand.

REFERENCES—Mr. F Bell, Organist, St. John's Church, Peterboro; Mr D D Galletly, Chorister, Canada Presbyterian Church, Peterboro; Mr J. I. Davidson, Precentor, St. Andrew's Church, Peterboro; Dr. Taylor, Peterboro.

Peterboro, April 5th, 1871. 14

NOTICE.

The first sitting of the
COURT OF REVISION

For the united Townships of Galway and Cavendish, will be held at the Union School House, No. 2, on

Saturday, 13th Day of May, 1871

At 10 o'clock, a. m. Of which all interested will govern themselves accordingly.

C. IRWIN,
Township Clerk.

Galway, April 3rd, 1871. 15-td.

NOTICE.
Municipality of Burleigh.

The Court of Revision

For the Townships of Burleigh, Anstruther, Chandos, Cardiff and Monmouth, will hold its first sitting at Eastland's, Apsley, on

FRIDAY, 5th DAY of MAY,

Commencing at 10 o'clock, a. m.

HENRY EASTLAND,
Township Clerk.

Apsley, 3rd April, 1871. 15-td.

BOARD AND LODGING.

MRS. DAVISS Boarding House has reopened on Simcoe street, where good board and lodging can be furnished for gentlemen.

T. W. DAVIS.

June 29, 1870. 26-tf

FARM FOR SALE.

The subscriber offers for Sale his Farm, North half of Lot 29, in the

13th Concession of Smith,

Containing 100 Acres. There are about 60 Acres improved and in a good state of cultivation. On the premises are a Comfortable Log House, Log Barn, Stables, and Sheds; a Good Well and other accommodations. For terms and particulars apply to

JAMES IRWIN,
Proprietor.

Harvey, May 3, 1871. 18 Lakehurst P. O.

COURT OF REVISION.
Township of Dummer.

The Court of Revision for the Township of Dummer, will hold its First Sitting in the Town Hall, on Saturday, 20th day of May 1871.

Commencing at 10, a. m.

A. S. MAGUIRE.
Clerk.

Dummer, April 19, 1871, 16

Pianos and Melodeons.

Messrs. R. S. Williams & Co.
TORONTO,

Beg to inform their Friends and customers the late D. PETTYBRIDGE is no longer Agent for the sale of their Instruments. In the meantime,

Mr. F. T. LUMSDEN of Warsaw.

AND

Mr. R. W. Erritt, Peterboro.

Will take orders for them and supply Pianos, Melodeons and Organs at the Lowest Price and Easy Terms.

PIANOS, MELODEONS, & ORGANS TO RENT.

Address orders or enquiries to F. T. Lumsden, Warsaw P. O., or R. W. Erritt, Peterboro.

R. S. WILLIAMS & Co.

Toronto, March 28th, 1871. 13-6in

Farm for Sale.

The undersigned offers for sale his Farm in the

TOWNSHIP OF SMITH

Consisting of Lot 26, in the 11th Concession, and the North Half of 24, in the 10th Concession, and

Containing 300 Acres,

Lot 26 in the 11th Concession is improved, 100 Acres of it being cleared The remaining 200 Acres are good wood lands. The property is about Ten Miles from Peterboro, and five from the Village of Lakefield. There is a good Frame Barn, with a stone foundation under it; besides Stables, Sheds under the barn: Two Good Wells, and Two Healthy Orchards bearing good fruit: There is a good Log Dwelling on the property, and it is within half a mile of a Post Office, Two Churches and a Good School. It will be sold in whole or in part to suit purchasers.

Terms made known by applying to the proprietor,

RICHARD FREEBORN,
Salwyn P. O.

Smith, March 22, 1871. 12

ASHBURNHAM

New Carriage, Waggon
And Black-Smith Shop.

The undersigned begs to announce to the people of Ashburnham, and surrounding Country, that he has commenced a new Carriage, Waggon and Blacksmithing Shop, on Lake Street, opposite the residence of R. D. Rogers, Esq., where he will be prepared to do all sorts of work in the above line.

Reparing Promptly Attended to

A first-class Black-smith will be always ready and willing to attend to Jobbing and horse-shoeing.

The patronage of the public is respectfully solicited.

A. WALLER

Ashburnham, March, 1871. 11-

$765,000

In Cash Gifts to be Distributed by the New York Cash Prize Co.

EVERY TICKET DRAWS A PRIZE.

6	Cash Gifts each,	$50 000	50	Cash Gifts, each,	$1,000
10	" "	20,000	200	" "	500
20	" "	8,000	250	" "	100
50	Elegant Rosewood Pianos, — each $300 to				$700
75	" " Melodeons "			75 to	125
250	Sewing Machines — "			60 to	175
500	Gold Watches — "			75 to	300
	Cash Prizes, Silver Ware, etc., valued at				$1,000 000

A change to draw any of the above Prizes for 25c. Tickets describing Prizes are sealed in Envelopes and well mixed. On receipt of 25c. a Sealed Ticket is drawn without choice and sent by mail to any address. The prize named upon it will be delivered to the ticket-holder on payment of One Dollar. Prizes are immediately sent to any address by express or returned mail.

You will know what your prizes is before you pay for it. "Any Prize exchanged for another of the same value." No blanks. Our patrons can depend on fair dealing.

REFERENCES:—The following lately drew Valuable Prizes and kindly permit us to publish them:—Andrew J. Burns, Chicago, $10,000; Jas M. Matthews, Detroit, $5,000, John T. Anderson, Savannah, $5,000; James Simmons, Boston, $10,000.

PRESS OPINION:—"The firm is reliable."—"Weekly Trimbune, Dec 28" "Does ve their success" —N. Y. Herald, Jan. 1. "Just and Honorable"—News. Dec, 9,

Send for circular. Liberal inducements to Agents. Satisfaction guratteed. Every package of 200 Sealed. Envelopes contains one CASH GIFT. Seven tickts for $1; 17 for $2, 50 for $5; 200 for $15. Address

C. B. HARRIS & Co.,
Managers,
62 Broadway, N. Y

Peterborough March 16th, 1871. 16-tf.

NOTICE.

NOTICE is hereby given that application will be made by the Corporation of the Town of Bowmanville, to the Legislature of the Province of Ontario, at its next Session, for an Act authorizing the construction of a Railway from the waters of Lake Ontario in the Town of Bowmanville, in the County of Durham through some parts of the Townships of Darlington, Clarke Dariwright and Manvers in the said County of Durham, and the Town of Lindsay and Townships of Ops, Emily Fenelon and Verulam, to the Village of Bobcaygeon in the County of Victoria, thence to the Government lands, and lands of the English Land Company in the counties of Victoria and Peterboro, and to amalgamate or make running arrangements with other Railways.

F. CUBITT,
Mayor.

R. WINDATT,
Town Clerk.

Bowmanville, March 22nd, 1871, 13-6ins

DAILY LINE
TO
ROCHESTER.

The Superb new Lake Upper Stare Cabin Steamer.

NORSEMAN,

Carrying United States and Canadian Mails and Express

Leaves Port Hope every Morning

FOR ROCHESTER

At 9 o'clock on arrival of Grand Trunk Railway Trains from East and West,

RETURNING,

Leaves Port of Rochester (Charlotte) every evening at 9 o'clock (except Saturday), when she leaves at two P. M., for Brighton.)

This is the favourite summer route from Toronto to Rochester, Albany, &c. The cheapest and quickest route from points East of Port Hope on the Grand Trunk, to Rochester, Buffalo, &c. The favourite route to Avon and Clifton Springs, &c.

Passengers and freight take cars along-side steamer at Rochester Landing.

Connection made at Cobourg ask Port Hope with Royal Mail Line Steamers from Hamilton and Montreal.

Address R. C. CARTER,
15 PORT HOPE, ONT,

TO LEND

$10,000.

Interest 8 per cent. No commission.

D. W. DUMBLE,
Solicitor.

Peterborough, April 27, 1871. 17-3ins.

A CARD

A. BAKEWELL having made an engagement with Mr. Brothers, may be found, by his former Patrons and Customers, at the store lately occupied by Mr. Brothers, where he hopes by his usual attention to business and with increased facilities for giving satisfaction, still to merit and receive their patronage.

R. BAKEWELL.

Peterboro, Dec. 19, 1870. 51-tf.

1871 Annual Announcement 1871

(ESTABLISHED 1856.)

SEEDS!

Fresh, Good, and True,

The subscriber has received his supply of

FIELD,
FLOWER; and
GARDEN SEEDS.

Both of Home and Imported Stock.

WARRANTED GENUINE

FARMERS AND MARKET GARDENERS are respectfully invited to call and inspect for themselves.

COUNTRY MERCHANTS, supplied, as usual with boxes on Commission, or for Cash.

"Honesty" is our motto, both in character of seed, and in price.

WM. H. TAYLOR, M. D

At the old Stand, Corner of George and Hunter Streets, Peterborough, Ont.

16-tf

COURT OF REVISION.

Town of Peterborough.

The First Meeting of the Court of Revision for the Municipality of the Town of Peterborough, will be held in the Council Chamber, on

Thursday, the 18th day of May, 1871,

Commencing at 10 o'clock, a. m,

J. EDWARDS,
Town Clerk.

Peterboro, 19th April, 1871. 16

(Review please copy.)

HOUSE AND LOT FOR SALE.

The undersigned offers for sale the dwelling House and Lot on

LONDON STREET,

at present occupied by himself.

Further particulars can be obtained by application to

Wm. LECH,
Proprietor.

Peterborough, April 19th 1871. 16-tf.

(Review please copy.)

TO BLACKSMITHS.

TO RENT.

A BLACKSMITH SHOP and DWELLING House, with a large Garden attached,

AT LAKEVALE

Better known as Fowler's Corners, Fourth Concession of Smith. Rent Reasonable. For particulars apply to

JAMES FOWLER, Senr.
Lot 1, 2nd Con., Smith.

Smith, April 22, 1871. 17 4in

Insolvent Act of 1869.

In the matter of HENRY THOMAS STRICKLAND, GEORGE WILLIAM ROSS STRICKLAND and ROLAND CLEMENT STRICKLAND, as individuals and as co-partners of the firm of STRICKLAND BROTHERS. Insolvents.

WILL BE SOLD BY

PUBLIC AUCTION

AT THE

COURT HOUSE,

IN THE

TOWN OF PETERBOROUGH,

ON

Tuesday the 6th day of June next,

AT 12 O'CLOCK, NOON,

All the right, title and interest of the above named Henry Thomas Strickland, in and to the North half of the East half of lot No. 2, in the 11th Concession of the Township of Douro; and Village lot, No. 2 south of Charles Street and west of Lake Street; and Lot No. 1 North of Maria Street and West of Lake Street in the Village of Ashburnham.

J. A. HALL,
Assignee.

Peterborough, April 10, 1871.] 16-td

A FARMER'S COMPANY.

FARMERS!

Insure Your Property

IN THE

AGRICULTURAL

INSURANCE COMPANY.

A Stock Company entirely devoted to your interests.

Insures nothing but Farm Property and Detached Residences.

Chartered and commenced business in 1853.

CASH ASSETS - - $550,000.

Mr. Langton's Report shows over $48,000 deposited as especial protection to Canadian Policy-holders.

Head Office for the Dominion of Canada, Kingston, Ontario.

We would refer you to the following named Gentlemen, in regard to the pecuniary responsibility of the Company:

H. Calcutt, Brewer; John Burnham, Barrister; J. A. Hall, Agent Canadian Bank of Commerce; Thos. Menzies, Stationer and Exchange Broker.

ATTORNEY—John Burnham, Esq.

BANK—Canadian Bank of Commerce.

WM T. Fish, Cobourg, Gen. Agent for the Counties of Prince Edward, Hastings, Northumberland, Durham, Ontario, Peterboro and Victoria.

Local Agent for the Town of Peterborough,
W. A. KING.
8-tf.

Special Inducements!

WHOLESALE & RETAIL,

ARE NOW OFFERED

AT

FERGUSON & ELDER'S

We have now laid in a very Large and Complete Stock of New Goods for the

SPRING AND SUMMER TRADE,

Which have been imported from the British Markets. We are now offering Special Inducements in Fancy

DRY GOODS, MILLINERY, MANTLES, &C.,

☞ NOW'S THE TIME TO BUY. ☜

MILLINERY!

Ladies who wish to see

THE LATEST NOVELTIES

IN

Trimmed Bonnets, Hats, Caps, Mantles, Trimmings,

&c., &c., &c.,

Combined with Elegance and Best Taste, are now invited to pay our Show Room a visit.

FERGUSON & ELDER.

Peterboro, May 10th, 1871. 19

NOW IS THE TIME!

TO GET

CHEAP ROOM PAPER,

BOOKS, STATIONERY, &c.,

At A. B. KIDD'S BOOKSTORE,

AS THERE IS BEING A

GENERAL TURNING UPSIDE DOWN!

OF EVERYTHING IN HIS ESTABLISHMENT, OWING TO

An Enlargement and Re-fitting of Premises.

SPECIAL ATTENTION IS INVITED TO HIS

NEW STOCK OF GOLD ROOM PAPER AND BORDERINGS.

Just received direct from England. He will sell these papers less, by 25 per cent, than they can be bought in Toronto.

Peterborough, April 5th, 1871. 14

OWEN'S
PUMP MANUFACTORY
AND
Agricultural Implement Agency

GEORGE STREET, PETERBOROUGH.

The Leading Pumps and Machines of the Dominion.

The subscriber is still on hand at Dennis' Old Stand, opposite the Graveyard, and begs to inform the inhabitants of the Counties of Peterborough and Victoria, that he is Sole Agent in these Counties for the Celebrated POWELL'S PATENT SWING and FORCE PUMPS—the reputation of which is Established and sanctioned by their own merits, being cheap, Simple, Reliable, Frost Proof, and easiest worked. Being convinced of their superiority over all other pumps, I have made arrangements to keep a good stock of them on hand, if possible, and will Sell as Cheap as are sold in any other part of the Dominion.

SOLE AGENT FOR MASSEY'S
Agricultural Implements
including al the late improvements, viz;
Wood's Self Rake Reapers, and Mowers, and Cayuga Chief Mowers.
The Hubbard Combined Machine, which took the First Prize at Toronto in 1870.
Also, Johnson's First Prize Self Raker.

Parties wanting Machines the coming Harvest will please call and examine the different Machines before purchasing elsewhere. Prices reduced from last year.

Will guarantee them to be BETTER than the BEST of any other make. The unprecedented popularity and success of this pump is not surprising, combining as it does, the Highest Efficiency with the Lowest Cost. Swing Pumps for $6.00 and upwards With reference to the Powell Pump, it has been exhibited five times and secured Five Provincial First Prizes, never having been awarded anything but First and Highest Honors at State, Provincial, County, Township, or city exhibitions. This is incontestible proof of its adaptability to the wants of the people, and the climate of the country. THE FORCE PUMP is adapted to all the uses to which an ordinary pump may be applied, besides being an always-ready Fire Engine. It is allowed to be worth its cost for Washing Buggies alone, and as a Fire Preventative has saved many valuable properties. May be used for watering Gardens, Courts, &c., Stoning Tiles, &c., and many other purposes.

Please call and examine the Powell Pump before going elsewhere, when I shall be happy to explain its advantages. Also, a large stock of Common Pumps on hand, as usual, which the subscriber will sell as cheap, if not Cheaper, than any Pump-maker in the Province. COLBY'S WRINGERS for sale. Also, Agent for Rights or Pumps in Counties and other boroughs. Pumps of all kinds Repaired on the shortest notice.

Please address, stating depth of well and other particulars:

HENRY OWEN.

April 24, 1871. 17

careless abandonâ of this new home. Do the answer was all one. Then these two friends pleaded their own love for her; their loneliness if she left them, their disappointment in her.

The little fingers knit tightly in each other, and the young lips were pastured with pain. Then they tried to show her that it was wrong, selfish, and ungrateful to leave her mother's friends, and go back of her own household & the [illegible]

The little head drooped [illegible] window, and the eyes grew bewildered in their searched among the shadows.

"You will have thought [illegible] sillyfanciesin the morning, Nettie dear," Mrs. Lyttleton said at last, kissing her as she rose. "But not I shall have resorve to a little wholesome authority, and refuse you permission or power to leave me; but you will obey me I know though, without my having to take refuge in threatenings. Now let us go to bed," she added, kissing the young face again in sudden pity, and I'm quite sure you will have forgotten these arguments to-morrow.

But there were a few words Nettie could not forget—a few words sung that morning in the white church on the Hill, and so it was that next day, when Graham, come in from his ride round the farms and sought his little love, he could not find her.

Nettie and her [illegible] were gone. They only found many chamber the pretty clothes which they had delighted to see on, [illegible] penitent letter that breathed [illegible] bravery through [illegible] and had only one line blotted

"I will arise, [illegible]

Graham—alone [illegible] empty room—[illegible] his eyes with his shaking hand, and tried to [illegible] for what those tender tears shed. [illegible] dry eyes could read in a few tear-stained words, a little of the agony the lonely child had suffered on that Sunday night.

CHAPTER III.

"Where shall you be to-night, O'Neill?"

The person addressed, a tall, elderly gentleman, with a haggard face and listless step, stopped, and turned indolently.

"Nowhere, Grey. Nowhere in particular I suppose; or rather in any spot to which the spirit takes me."

"Why didn't you honestly put it plural at once? I'm glad to hear it though. We have a little party at Harris', I'll call for you on my way. We shall be able to make a capital night of it."

Mr. O'Neill's [illegible] time was not very far behind him when this man dared not have spoken to him so; dared not have taken it for granted that he would go to this place, which he had shunned and avoided through those later and more reckless years.

"I am not sure that I can come," he began, but stopped, seeing his companion's broad face [illegible] upon this [illegible] that would rise hotly in his face against his will. He shook the hesitation away with a pride which was meaner and falser far than the shame that had caused it.

"I do not know that I have not another appointment."

"I'm sure you haven't," said the other, roughly. "You owned that to begin with, and I rather suppose you don't intend to sit at home in single blessedness, and shed a tear for the departed daughter. Oh! what a melancholy flock, and yet no ducats gone, only a daughter. You look very like a mourning parent. But let me recommend you to mourn no longer. Cast away your weeds. She has forgotten all about her old life by this time. You should have forgotten all about her too."

"I have forgotten," said Mr. O'Neill, in sudden heat, "though it is no business of yours. I have no doubt I shall be at liberty You will call in then, Grey, will you? Good evening."

Why should not he go there? Why should not he go anywhere, now? Who was there to contaminate except himself? and was there anything to keep him at home?

But had anything ever been there that could keep him at home? whispered Conscience. Conscience had not been a soothing companion to him lately, while the one evil spirit of old stood with seven other spirits more wicked than himself within the very threshold of the house that was being swept and garnished by weak, irresolute hands; and, as he knew, stepped boldly forward when that consent was given. He put his key into the door, almost unconsciously picturing the little figure that [illegible] open it so him so readily, his step slackened involuntarily in the narrow passage. He entered the sitting-room (so changed, he knew, since the "old-maidish" little fingers had been busy there) with his head [illegible] little, as it generally was now; and something in the very atmosphere of the room—brought [illegible] change. [illegible] ed a sudden, as the almost, and [illegible] before he had time to think of it—that a light step would come towards him. But there came none, and he looked up.

Was it really the dull changed room? This, with its window open to the summer evening breeze that had some freshness in it still, and brought oil memories of far-away scented hedge-rows out of reach of the city smoke. The tea-table bright and neat, a bunch of honeysuckles at his plate, and a large glass of wild roses in the middle of the table. And beside it sweet and sunny above all—his little girl herself, in her old familiar brown dress and short black apron shining with age and wear, but having a wonderful home like pleasant look, with the keys sticking out of one of the little pockets, and a handkerchief out of the other. He stood looking at her as if he feared to move and break the dream. And the Bible face, in its childe-like purity, and in its brave, unselfish tenderness, seemed to come towards him across the tainted current of his backward life, showing them something that might lie beyond. He felt an odd, childish longing to stretch out his arms to her, and let her guide him out of reckless hearing of its turbid rush. Perhaps unconsciously he did so, for his arms were round her, and the quiet little head lay at rest against his beating heart.

"Father," she whispered, "will you take me back—though I have sinned?"

He drew her closer, closer, but no words could pass his close, right lips.

"Are you glad, father?" (There were such sobbing tears in the low voice.) "Kiss me if you are. There is no need to tell me so in words; we shall understand each other always now."

Little Nettie in all her twenty-one years, had never remembered such a kiss as that, and it brought the tears that struggled in her voice straight up to her eyes. But she did not hide them now.

"Father," she said, looking at him with great glad eyes through them, "it is far, far better—to me—to come home."

And then the tender—remembering the life [illegible] had led in this house of his—bowed his head on here, and let the childish tears flow as they would from his own tired eyes, knowing, perhaps they would add nothing to the stained current.

Such a tea it was! Perhaps no better than usual, but so different. With the dainty little figure at the end of the table, and the flowers, and the care and tenderness, and the gay loving talk. But how rudely it was broken into by that sharp ring at the front door bell.

"Shall you be away long?" asked Nettie, wistfully, as her father rose hurridly to leave the room.

"Only a few minutes. I do not want—that person to be brought in here?"

And in those same few moments he returned, and, with a sigh of wonderful relief, he sat down at the open window.

"Now we are together," said Nettie, coaxingly as she took her place beside him, "mother, shall I sing you what we sang at church yesterday morning—the words God sent to bring me home again?"

The sunshine had left the narrow city street. The were no smiling scented meadows round her. No sweet chimes floated from the distant hills. No earnest pleading voice was there, falling with untold tenderness upon her heart. No brave eyes—bright and eager—read her unspoken wishes. No gentle, motherly kiss fell softly on her lips. Yet the wide, happy eyes looked out, at last, without their searching gaze.

Choice Poetry.

What I Have Seen.

BY OWEN JOHNS.

I have seen the skilful workmen,
Blest with gifts that nature gave,
Wander round like an outcast—
[illegible]
[illegible]
Like Ghosts of grim despair—
Read his widow was and haggard
Dreaded pits overwhelming care.

I've seen the jostle o'th the beast
Whose talents could applause command—
Scour'd out, and down low, disgraced,
Degraded by a fiend's hand;
I've seen a famous Thespian star,
To whom the world its praise did yield—
Seen his wretched bones neglected—
Dragged along to Potter's field.

I have seen the bloomed rose-bud
Once adorn the cheek of beauty
Fading, and the lovely fair one—
Straying from the path of duty;
Oft I've seen a doting mother,
Bow'd with grief's [illegible] broken hearted,
Plaing 'neath a weight of sorrow—
Every gleam of [illegible]

I know a pastor—[illegible]
Before [illegible] sore chi[illegible]
He [illegible]
And [illegible]
Ere [illegible] glad,
He [illegible] chaste,
[illegible] victor, raving mad.

I've [illegible] tempt, a painting rare,
[illegible] unbecomed—
[illegible] has wrought it,
[illegible] modest;
[illegible] with thrilling rapture,
Gold whose accents bold delighted,
Mozart's brilliant genius
Fallen, ruin'd, beggared, blighted!

Go view thy fallen sisters, go
Hear thy brothers rave and howl,
And should thou ask "whence all this woe?
I answer thee, Thy wandering heart!

Love's First Impression.

I once heard an old "sport" remark that a printing office was no place for love making, and I have since experienced the truth of the expression, being now perfectly convinced that the flower can never bloom in the midst of types, cases and printing ink.

It was my fortune to sojourn for a few days in the village of L——. Directly opposite the printing office was a pretty white cottage, with a rose-bush clambering around the casement and I was not long in making the discovery that the aforesaid cottage, with rush shaded window contained a fair inmate—a flower whose beauty outshone the roses clustered around the window. She was the belle of the village. Her name was Mary. I have a passion for that name of Mary.

It was a beautiful summer morning, and I had raised the window to admit the breeze from the flowerly decked fields, and it was not long ere I perceived the cottage window also hoisted, and sweet little Mary was sitting busily engaged with her needle. I worked but little that morning. My eyes constantly wandered toward the cottage where little Mary sat, and all sorts of strange fantastic notions whirled through and I began to think I felt a light touch of what the poet calls love sliding in a onet corner of my heart.

A few days passed chance I made me acquainted with Mary. Oh! she was a sweet creature; had a form that homed the famous de Medici—a cheek that outblushed peach, and lips that would have tempted the bee from its hive on a frosty morning. I thought as I gazed on her mute admiration, that I had never looked on any one so beautiful. She seemed the embodiment of everything lovely and bewitching.—Well the time passed on, and one day Mary expressed a desire to visit the printing office. "Good" thought I "what a chance! I'll have a kiss there—yes sir—in the very midst of nine assistants! by thunder! I I" Love in a printing office! Oh! there was something original in that, and I resolved to try all hazards.

Well Mary came to the office, and I explained to her the various implements of the black art—the press the roller, the ink the stands and the boxes of the A B C.—I took an opportunity to snatch her little [illegible] dress [illegible] shocked a [illegible] matter how [illegible]

"I must have a kiss for that my pretty one," said I [illegible] quiet. I resolved to get my lips sealed her mouth and is struggling to free herself, she upset a galley of editorial, a long artical on negro suffrage.

Nothing daunted, I made at her again this time I was more successful for I obtained a kiss. By Saint Paul it was a sweet one, and that witch bore it like a martyr; she never screamed once. But as I raised my lips from hers, she lifted her delicate hand and gave me a box on the ears that made me see more stars than were ever viewed by Herchel through his big telescope. Somewhat nettled, and my cheekes smarting with pain, seized her about the waist and said:

"What if you don't like it just take back the kiss."

She made a desperate struggle and as she jerked herself from my arms, her foot struck the lye pot and over it went. Another galley of editorial was sprinkled over the floor, and in her effort reach the door her foot slipped and she fell, and in her effort to sustain herself her hand——her lily white hand—the same little hand which came in contact with my ears—oh! horrible was up to her elbow in ink. Shades of Franklin! She slowly drew it from the keg dripping with ink and asked what was I made of that ter. I began to be seriously alarmed, and apologized in the best manner I could and to my suprise she seemed more pleased than angry; but their was [illegible] ahead. As I stood surveying the [illegible] covering of her hand, scarcely able to suppress a laugh at the strange metamorphosis she quickly raised it on high and brought it down kerslap on my cheek.—Before I could recover my surprise the little hand again descended and left its inky imprint upon my cheek.

"Why, Mary," I exclaimed, "what are you about?"

"I think you rolled ink on the face of the form," she replied with a loud laugh, and again her hand fit upon me, taking me a broad slap in the middle, of my countenance what wonderfully bedashing my eyes. With a light step and a merry peal of laughter she skipped through the door. She turned back when beyond my reach and her roguish face peering through the door way she shouted;

"I say Charley what kind of a roller does my hand make?"

"Oh," said I, "you take too much ink."

"It is? ha! ha! ha laughed, "well, good bye, Charley, that's my impression!"

I went to the glass and surveyed myself for a moment, and I verily believe that I could have passed (or a guinea nigger without the slightest difficulty. "And so," said I to myself, "this is love in a printing office. The devil fly away with such love."

The next morning, when the editor came to the office, I rather calculate he found things a little topsy turvey. However, that made no difference to me, for I mizzled before daylight. I bore the marks of that scene many a day, and now whenever I see a lady entering a printing office I think of little Mary, and keep my eyes on the ink keg.

EXTENSIVE

ALTERATIONS

AND

Enlargement of Premises.

W. FAIRWEATHER &CO

Preparatory to making Extensive Alterations and Enlargement of their present premises

Will sell off at a Great Sacrifice

THE WHOLE OF THEIR

Large and Valuable Stock

AT COST AND UNDER COST,

In order to clear the Premises, early in April, full scope for their work and to

Prevent the Goods being Damaged by Lime Dust,

GREAT INDUCEMENTS WILL BE GIVEN

READY CASH BUYERS.

Goods will be Sold

AT PRICES NEVER BEFORE ATTEMPTED IN THE SALE OF FIRST CLASS GOODS

The Stock is well known to be all of Superior Quality.

Cash Buyers are invited to inspect the Goods and Prices, bearing in mind that no fault will be found if they do not buy.

☞ REMEMBER ☜

W. FAIRWEATHER & CO'S

CHEAP SALE FOR READY CASH.

March, 1818, 11.

NEW SADDLERY!

The Subscriber wishes to inform his friends—old and new—that he has re-commenced the

Saddlery and Harness Business,

In the Shop next to the Toronto Bank,

Lately occupied by the Telegraph and Express Companies, opposite to Messrs. Nicholls & Halls, Simcoe Street,

Where he will at all times keep on hand or have made to order by first class workmen, everything usually kept in first class establishments, such as

GENTS' SADDLES, LADIES' DO,

Harness, Single and Double, Coarse, Heavy and Fine,

TRAVELLING BAGS, TRUNKS, SATCHELLS,

WHIPS, MATS, HORSE CLOTHING, &c.

☞ Grateful for past favors in his various lines of business during the last 20 years, he asks his friends to inspect his stock before purchasing elsewhere.

Peterboro, May 18, 1870. 20 D. HOPKINS.

1871 New Spring Goods. 1871

EVERY VARIETY OF BOOTS AND SHOES

CHEAPER THAN EVER!

FOR CASH,

Are Daily Arriving

AT

LARMOUR & SARNEY'S

NEW DOMINION

Cheap Boot & Shoe Store,

ROSELLE'S OLD CORNER,

George Street, - - Peterboro.

Peterboro, April 13, 1871. 15

NEW

Fall and Winter Goods!

T. BRADBURN,

Having succeeded in disposing of the greater portion of his former stock, and having since purchased heavily in Montreal and Toronto Markets, at the Lowest possible prices, [illegible] and [illegible] inspection of the following lines of new Fall and Winter Goods:

CLOTHS:

A complete stock of English and Canadian Cloths and Tweeds.

DRESS GOODS:

New Wool Serges,
New Wool Tartans,
New French Reps,
New French Merinoes,
New Wincies,
New Black Lustres,
(Double Warp)

New Tartan Poplins
New Figured Poplins,
New Figured Reps,
New French Delaines,
New Crape Cloths,
New Velvets and
New Velveteens.

HOSIERY,

In great variety, English, Scotch and Canadian.

FLANNELS,

A full assortment of Welsh, Lancashire, Saxony, and Canadian Manufacture Also, Salisbury and Fancy Flannel Shirting. very Cheap.

Prints, Linens and Towellings.

JUST OPENED,

A New and Select Stock of Gents' Collars, Ties, Scarfs and Gloves.

GLOVES, CORSETS and SKIRTS.

Those about to purchase FURS would do well to retain their orders, as a large lot will be opened in due time, and will be SOLD CHEAP.

T. BRADBURN.

Peterboro, Oct. 11, 41

Ayer's

Hair Vigor,

For Restoring Gray Hair to its natural Vitality and Color.

The constant use of this preparation will prevent the hair from turning gray or falling off, and consequently prevent baldness. Free from those deleterious substances which make some preparations dangerous and injurious to the hair, the Vigor can only benefit but not harm it. If wanted merely for a nothing else can be found so desirable. Containing neither oil nor dye, it does not [illegible] stain linen, and yet lasts long on the hair, giving it a rich glossy lustre and a grateful perfume.

HAIR DRESSING,

Prepared by Dr. J. C. Ayer & Co.,

PRACTICAL AND ANALYTICAL CHEMISTS,

LOWELL, MASS.

PRICE $1.00.

FOR SALE BY NORTHROP & LYMAN, Newcastle.

General Agents for Ontario.

Ayer's Sarsaparilla,

FOR PURIFYING THE BLOOD.

The reputation this excellent medicine enjoys, its cures from its cures, many of which are truly marvellous. Inveterate cases of Scrofulous disease, [illegible] and [illegible] with Corruption, have been purified and cured by it. Scrofulous affections and disorders, which were aggravated by the scrofulous constitution until they were painfully afflicting, have been radically cured in such great numbers in almost every section of the country, that the public scarcely need to be informed of its virtues or uses.

Scrofula poisons in one of the most destructive enemies of our race. Often, the unseen and untold tyrant of the organism undermines the constitution, and invites the attack of enfeebling or fatal diseases, without exciting a suspicion of its presence. Again, it seems to breed infection throughout the body, and then, on some favorable occasion, rapidly develop into one or other of its hideous forms, either on the surface or among the vitals. In the latter, tubercles may be suddenly deposited in the lungs or heart, or tumors formed in the liver, or it may fix its presence by eruptions on the skin, or foul ulcerations on some part of the body. Hence the occasional use of a bottle of this Sarsaparilla is advisable, even when no active symptoms of disease appear. Persons afflicted with the following complaints generally find immediate relief, and, at length, cure, by the use of this Sarsaparilla: Tetter, Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Ringworm, Sore Eyes, Sores Face, and other eruptions or visible forms of Scrofulous disease. Also in the more concealed forms, as Dyspepsia, Dropsy, Heart Disease, Fits, Epilepsy, Neuralgia, and the various Ulcerous affections of the muscular and nervous system.

Syphilis or Venereal and Mercurial Diseases are cured by it, though a long time is required for subduing these obstinate maladies by any medicine. But long continued use of this medicine will cure the complaint. Leucorrhœa or Whites, Uterine Ulcerations, and Female Diseases, are commonly soon relieved and ultimately cured by its purifying and invigorating effect. Minute directions for each case are found in our Almanac, supplied gratis. Rheumatism and Gout, when caused by accumulations of extraneous matters in the blood, yield quickly to it, as also Liver Complaints, Torpidity, Congestion or Inflammation of the Liver, and Jaundice, when arising, as they often do, from the rankling poisons in the blood. This SARSAPARILLA is a great restorer for the strength and vigor of the system. Those who are Languid and Listless, Dyspeptic, Sleepless, and troubled with Nervous Apprehensions or Fears, or any of the Specific symptoms of Weakness, will find immediate relief and convincing evidence of its restorative power upon trial.

PREPARED BY

Dr. J. C. AYER & CO., Lowell, Mass.,

Practical and Analytical Chemists.

SOLD BY ALL DRUGGISTS EVERYWHERE.

NORTHROP & LYMAN,

Newcastle

General Agents for Ontario.

WISTAR'S BALSAM OF WILD CHERRY

THE GREAT REMEDY FOR

CONSUMPTION

and acknowledged by many prominent physicians to be the most Reliable Preparation ever introduced for the RELIEF and CURE of all

LUNG COMPLAINTS.

This well-known remedy is offered to the public, sanctioned by the experience of over forty years, and when resorted to in season, seldom fails to effect a speedy cure of

Coughs, Colds, Croup, Bronchitis, Influenza, Whooping Cough, Hoarseness, Pains or Soreness in the Chest and Side, Bleeding at the Lungs, Liver Complaint, &c.

CONSUMPTION CAN BE CURED

By a timely resort to this standard remedy, as is proved by hundreds of testimonials received by the proprietors.

DR. WISTAR'S BALSAM OF WILD CHERRY

does not dry up a Cough, and leave the cause behind, as in the case with most preparations, but it loosens and cleanses the lungs, and allays irritation, thus removing the cause of the complaint.

CLERGYMEN, LAWYERS, SINGERS,

and all those whose occupation requires an unusual exercise of the vocal organs, will find this the ONLY PREPARATION which will effectually and immediately relieve their difficulties.

Beware of Counterfeits.

Remember that the genuine Wistar's Balsam has on the outside wrapper the signature of "I. BUTTS," and the engraved name of the proprietors, "SETH W. FOWLE & SONS, BOSTON." All others are base imitations. Examine the wrapper carefully before purchasing.

One Dollar a Bottle. Six Bottles for Five Dollars.

PREPARED BY

SETH W. FOWLE & SONS, Boston, Mass.,

And sold by Druggists and Dealers generally.

MONEY TO LEND.

The undersigned has a few thousand dollars of private funds which he is prepared to lend on mortgages, on improved farms.

D. W. DUMBLE,

Jannar 1871. 1-tf.

WILLIAM TOOLE,

Being about to REMOVE his Manufacturing Establishment from the Ashburnham Mill Race to his own Factory in course of erection,

On Murray Street, Immediately West of the Drill Shed,

Where he is fitting up with about [illegible] NEW MACHINERY, NEW MEN of long city experience, and, in fact, New Everything, begs to return thanks to his numerous town and country patrons for the very liberal patronage which he has enjoyed for the past fifteen years, and hopes by constant attention to business and fair, liberal treatment o customers, to continue in the enjoyment of the same. He would also intimate to his country friends, that he is manufacturing a few of

The Celebrated McKenzie Fanning Mills,

THE BEST MILL IN THE DOMINION,

Which he will sell at a very moderate price, and take in exchange any kind of FARM PRODUCE.

Peterboro, Feb. 9, 1870. 6

W. G. THOMSON & Co's

MILLINERY ROOMS!

ARE NOW OPENED

WITH A RICH, DISPLAY OF

NEW AND FASHIONABLE GOODS!

IN ALL THE

LATEST STYLES

AND AT MODERATE PRICES.

April 13th, 1871. 16-3ins

PHOTOGRAPHY!

Studio on Hunter Street West!

THE VERY BEST QUALITY OF

Photographs at the most Reasonable Rates

All sizes, from minature to life, either Plain or finished in

CARBON, SIPIA, INDIA INK, OIL OR WATER COLORS

Parties can rely on Promptness.

Albums, Frames, &c., Always on Hand!

☞ Special attention to children.

☞ Inducements offered to families.

GEO. B. SPROULE.

Owing to a steadily increasing business, Mr. Sproule would request as a favor, that his customers make engagements for sitting a week or so, if possible, ahead of time, thereby saving a great deal of confusion, and perhaps disappointment.

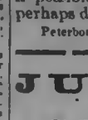
Peterborough, September 28, 1870. 35

JUST RECEIVED

AT

GEORGE TANNERS',

AT THE SIGN OF THE



MAMMOTH CHAIR,

HUNTER STREET.

THE PATENT HAMMOCK FOLDING CHAIR!

This Chair was introduced to the public in Montreal in August last, and since that time has merited great attention wherever it has been introduced for its

COMFORT, DURABILITY AND CHEAPNESS,

It being retailed from $2.50 upwards. Call and see it; and in the meantime you can look through the largest and

Best Stock of General Furniture

EVER ON SALE IN THE TOWN OF PETERBORO.

THE

UNDERTAKING

BUSINESS

Is also more complete than ever, with a good supply of READY-MADE COFFINS.

N. B.—The subscriber wishes to give the Geninses of this town and vicinity a gentle hint not to encroach on the manufacture of the Patent Hammock Folding Chair, as it is no humbug, but patented by Mr. Willoughby, Clerk, and I have purchased the sole right for this County from J. D. Mayer, the executive proprietor.

GEO. TANNER.

Peterboro, March 2, 1870. 9

WILSON, BOWMAN & CO.

Hamilton, Ontario

MANUFACTURERS OF THE CELEBRATED

LOCKMAN SEWING MACHINE,

Take pleasure in announcing that the popularity of the Sewing Machine manufactured by them is still on the increase. They are now turning them out at the rate of 600 per month and yet have been compelled within the last two weeks to increase their facilities to a capacity of one thousand per month.

The Lockman Machine, from its capacity to sew the heaviest fabrics with linen thread, as well as the finest cambrics with No. 150 Cotton, is pre-eminently the Farmer's Favorite Family Friend.

It is so exceedingly simple in its parts, and so strongly and durably made, that it does not require a mechanical genius for its management.

The manufacturers challenge the world to produce its equal, and yet its price is from Forty to Fifty per cent. Lower than that of any other first-class Shuttle Lock-stitch Sewing Machine.

EVERY MACHINE IS WARRANTED.

☞ Sole Agent for the County of Peterborough

T. DONNELLY,

P. S.—ROOMS OVER THE STORE. George Street

Peterboro, May 11, 1870.

PLAIN AND FANCY PRINTING IN [illegible] STYLE,

EXECUTED IN A SUPERIOR [illegible]

At the "Examiner" Office, Simcoe St.

STOVES, TINWARE &c

At the Giant T.

Cooking, Parlor and Box Stoves, CHEAP

A large stock of LUMBERMEN'S FURNISHINGS, on which a liberal discount will be made.

COAL OIL to the trade at refinery prices

ROOFING IN TIN AND GALVANIZED IRON, also EAVE-TROUGHING AND PIPING

Done by Practical Men

Gas Fitting, Steam Fitting,

AND PLUMBING.

Also Agent for, and manufacturer of

CALCUTT'S PATENT TUBULAR DRUM HEATER.

The most Economical in the Dominion, by the use of which 50 per cent wood can be saved. Call and see them.

THOMAS LANNIN,

Practical Tin & Copper Smith

George St, Peterborough.

Sept. 28, 1870. 16-1yr

Fine English Camphor

The surest preventative against moths, and large supply on hand.

NO BATH COMPLETE

WITHOUT A SPONGE.

A GOOD HONEY-COMB SPONGE

From the Mediterranean may be obtained a the subscribers.

CARBOLIC SOAP

For Toilet Purposes.

CARBOLIC SOAP

For Washing Rooms, Bedsteads, Blankets, &c.

CARBOLIC ACID!

The most powerful disinfectant of modern times, not only neutralising but destroying miasmata, &c.

CARBOLIC POWDER

For Sprinkling in Cellars, &c. It is also very useful for destroying pediculi in dogs, calves, &c., being safe and effectious.

May all be obtained Pure and Genuine, at

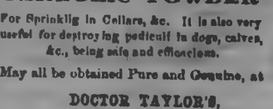
DOCTOR TAYLOR'S,

Chemist and Druggist

Corner of George and Hunter Sts, Peterboro

May 11, 1870. 12

UNFAILING EYE PRESERVERS.



LAZURUS, MORRIS & Co's

CELEBRATED

Perfected Spectacles

AND EYE GLASSES.

The large and increasing sales of these Perfected Glasses is a sure proof of their superiority. We were satisfied that they would be appreciated here as elsewhere, and that the reality of the advantages offered to wearers of our beautiful lenses, viz: the ease and comfort, the assured and readily ascertained improvement of the sight, and the brilliant assistance they give in all cases, were in themselves so apparent on trial, that the result could not be otherwise than it has, in the almost general adoption of our Celebrated Perfected Spectacles by the residents of this locality.

With a full knowledge of the value of the assertion, we claim that they are the most perfect optical aids ever manufactured. To those needing spectacles, we afford at all times an opportunity of procuring the best and most desirable.

DR W. H TAYLOR

Corner of George and Hunter Streets,

Has always on hand a full assortment, suitable for every difficulty.

We take occasion to notify the public that we employ no pedlars, and to caution them against those pretending to have our goods for sale.

Peterboro, February 8, 1871

DARLEY'S

ARABIAN OIL,

FOR HORSES AND CATTLE.

A NEVER-FAILING REMEDY.

THIS valuable preparation combines all the medicinal virtues of those articles which long experience has proved to possess the most safe and efficient properties for the cure of Flesh Wounds, Sprains, Bruises, Galls of all kinds, Cracked Heels, Ring Bone, Spavin, Callus, Fistula, Sweeney, External Poisons, Scratches or Grease, Strains, Lameness, Mange, Whitlows, Corns, Sand Cracks, Foundered Feet, Horn Distemper, Swellings, and many other diseases which horses and cattle are subject to.

This celebrated Liniment has been used for many years, and its curative properties thoroughly tested, and it is conceded to be the cheapest and most reliable remedy for all external complaints ever offered to the public—it never fails when timely used and faithfully applied.

To be had of all Druggists and Country Merchants throughout the Dominion. Price 25c. per bottle.

NORTHROP & LYMAN

Newcastle, O

Flax! Flax!!

Farmers intending to grow flax will please apply for their seed early. Seed supplied and payment taken in flax by calling on

SAMUEL TAYLOR

or H. CALCUTT.

I would beg to call the attention of farmer that I have a machine for pulling Flax, which will pull 4 acres a day. I will let the machine and send a man with it for $2 per day. By the assistance of the puller, Flax is the cheapest crop harvested. For information I would refer you to—Jonathan Stephenson, Smith; W. Wilburn, Smith; J. Parnell, Smith; A. Scott Smith; I. Book Otonabee; W. Rutherford Otonabee.

SAMUEL TAYLOR,

Flax Mill,

Ashburnham

Ashburnham, March, 1871. 13-3mos

THOS. MENZIES,

BANKER AND BROKER,

PETERBORO, ONT.

Buys and Sells New York and Sterling Exchange, Bank Stocks, Gold, Silver, Coupons, &c. &c. He also sells Drafts [illegible] amount on England, Ireland, Scotland, France, Belgium, Germany, Switzerland, Italy, Denmark, Sweden & Norway, Russia, Poland and Continent, and all parts of the United States.

He has [illegible] amount of the [illegible] GOLD [illegible] on hand, for [illegible] ADVANCE [illegible] and will [illegible] [illegible] rates and get it [illegible]

[illegible]

The Peterborough Examiner

A WEEKLY

POLITICAL, AGRICULTURAL

AND

FAMILY NEWSPAPER,

IS PUBLISHED

EVERY THURSDAY MORNING,

At the Office in Simcoe Street, Peterborough.

$1.50 per annum in Advance.

EVERY DESCRIPTION OF BOOK AND JOB PRINTING executed at this office, in a superior style, and at low rates.

☞ Particular attention given to Commercial Printing in Colors, Attractive Posters, &c.

All orders for Job Printing forwarded to this office will be punctually and strictly attended to.

DANIEL HALL,

SHERIFF, Office in the Court House, Peterborough.

EDG. PEARSE,

COUNTY Treasurer and Clerk. Office in the Court House, Peterboro. 6

EDG. PEARSE,

OFFICIAL ASSIGNEE. Office—Court House, Peterborough. 6

C. A. WELLER,

CLERK of the Peace. Office on Simcoe St., 16

C. A. WELLER,

COUNTY Attorney. Office on Simcoe St. 20

C. A. WELLER,

BARRISTER, Attorney, Solicitor, &c.—Office—Simcoe Street, Peterborough.

MR. JOHN BURNHAM,

BARRISTER, Attorney at Law, Solicitor in Chancery, Conveyancer, &c. Office—over T. Chamber's Store, Hunter Street, Peterborough, Ont. 39

GEORGE EDMISON,

ATTORNEY at Law, Solicitor in Chancery, Conveyancer, &c., &c. Office over Mr. John Fletcher's Boot and Shoe Store, directly opposite Mr. Clanton's, George Street, Peterborough.

Peterboro', Feb. 17th, 1864. 7

W. H. MOORE,

BARRISTER, Attorney at Law, Solicitor in Chancery, Conveyancer, &c. Office corner of George and Hunter Streets, McKellar & Ameron's old stand.

MONEY TO LOAN on easy terms, on land security. Mortgage bought.

Peterboro, April 6, 1869. 14

DENNISTOUN, FAIRBAIRN & CASSELS,

BARRISTERS, &c.,

Hunter Street, 3 Peterborough.

JOHN GREEN,

BARRISTER, Attorney at Law, Solicitor in Chancery, Conveyancer, &c. Office over the Ontario Drug Store, Scott's block, corner of George and Simcoe Streets.

Peterboro Dec. 1st, 1869. 48

GEO. T. LEONARD,

ATTORNEY-AT-LAW, SOLICITOR IN Chancery &c. Peterborough. 29

S. D. CRAWFORD, M. D., C. M.,

MEMBER of Royal College of Surgeons, England; Licentiate Government Medical Board; Late resident Coombe Lying-in-Hospital, Dublin. Ryan's Buildings, Market Square, Peterboro. 7

DR. LOYD,

CORONER for the Counties of Peterborough and Victoria. Office and residence at Bolsaygeon. 47

GEORGE BURNHAM, M. D.

GRADUATE of Bellevue Hospital Medical College, N. Y., University of Victoria College Canada, and Licentiate of Nova Scotia, Physician, Surgeon and Accoucheur.

Office and residence,—Near the Corner of Brock and George Streets, Peterborough.

Peterboro, May 27, 1869. 43

D. PENTLAND,

DENTIST, would respectfully inform the public that he is now prepared to EXTRACT TEETH WITHOUT PAIN, by the aid of Nitrous Oxide Gas, a very pleasant and perfectly safe remedy.

Peterboro, November 28, 1866. 48

W. COULTER,

DEALER in Genuine Drugs, Chemicals, Patent Medicines, Perfumery, Paints, Oils Dye Stuffs, Hair, Nail and Tooth Brushes, Spices, Culinary Essences, Fancy Soaps, &c. George Street, Peterboro. 16

RUSH & BUCKETT,

VETERINARY SURGEONS, No. 6 Henthorn's Block, George street, Peterboro Horse and Cattle Medicines kept constantly on hand. Horses taken under treatment on easy terms.

ALEX. McNEIL,

LICENSED Auctioneer for the Counties of Peterborough and Victoria, and Townships of Cavan and South Monaghan.

GEORGE READ,

ISSUER of Marriage Licenses, Clerk Division Court, Township Clerk, &c., Keene, Otonabee. 20

JAMES McLEAN,

INSURANCE Agent, Issuer of Marriage Licenses, and Commissioner for taking Affidavits.

Cavan, Mount Pleasant, C. W. 30

CABINET-MAKING.

E. POOLE, Cabinet maker, Upholsterer and Undertaker, George Street, Peterboro.

JAMES STEVENSON,

DEALER in Stoves, Tin-Ware, &c., &c. George Street, Peterborough. 18

ROBERT PATTERSON,

DEALER in Boots and Shoes. Spanish Sole Leather constantly on hand.

Nicholls and Hall's old stand, Simcoe Street, Peterborough.

GEORGE MITCHELL,

DEALER in Groceries and Provisions, &c. Cash paid for all kinds of country produce George Street, Peterborough, 15

EDMUND S. VINDIN

COMMISSION, Shipping, Forwarding and General Agent, Lumber Merchant, &c.—Office, Corner of Walton and Ontario Streets, Port Hope.

BANK OF TORONTO.

CORNER of Water and Simcoe Streets, Peterboro. Interest allowed on Deposits

J. MURRAY SMITH, Manager

Peterborough Examiner.

$1.50 PER ANNUM, IF PAID IN ADVANCE] "Prove all things—Hold fast that which is good." [$2.00 PER ANNUM, IF NOT PAID IN ADVANCE.

VOL. XVI. PETERBOROUGH, THURSDAY, MAY 18, 1871. No. 20.

ROBERT WALSH,

SADDLERY, Dealer in Slough, Shafts, &c., George Street, Peterboro'. 17

J. B. McCULLOUGH, M. D.,

Graduate of Trinity College, Dublin, and Licentiate of the Dominion of Canada,

Physician, Surgeon, Accoucheur, &c.,

AND

Late Surgeon of the U. S. Army & Navy,

Will be found at his office or at his residence, at all hours of the Day and Night, except when out on professional business.

☞ N. B.—All communications strictly [illegible]

RESIDENCE and OFFICE—Next Door To Wm. McDonald's Store, and two doors East Of Heim's Foundry, Simcoe Street.

Visits in the Corporation One Dollar, Only.

VISITS TO THE COUNTRY MODERATE.

☞ ADVICE TO ALL FREE.☜

Simcoe Street, Peterboro, Ont.

September 8, 1868. 36

THOMAS LANNIN,

PRACTICAL TIN & COPPER SMITH, Bell Hanger, Steam and Gas Fitter, Plumber, &c. Dealer in Stoves, Iron Beds, Baths, Refrigerators, Water Coolers, Filters, Pumps, &c.

GEORGE STREET, Peterboro, 1st June, 1870. 22

JOHN COONEY,

NURSERYMAN,

DEALER in Fruit and Ornamental Trees, Shrubs and Roses, and all kinds of Nursery stock. A very choice collection of Strawberry Plants on hand.

Orders by mail promptly attended to.

JOHN COONEY.

Peterboro, July 21, 1869. 29

ONTARIO BANK,

PETERBOROUGH.

SAVINGS DEPARTMENT.

From this date until further notice, the rate of interest in the above department will be

FIVE PER CENT.

PER ANNUM.

G. E. SHAW, Manager.

Peterboro', April 1st, 1868. 14-tf

GEORGE ALLEN.

GUN & WHITE-SMITH,

Hunter Street, Peterborough,

BEGS to inform the public that all kinds of repairing is done on the shortest notice, such as Guns, Stocking, &c., Pistols and White-smithing. Sewing Machines also neatly repaired.

☞ Shop and residence adjoining the Union Hotel.

Peterboro, October 25, 1865. 43

GORE DISTRICT MUTUAL

FIRE INSURANCE COMPANY!

HEAD OFFICE, GALT, ONTARIO.

CHARTERED A. D., 1836.

ASSETS, $160,000 | LOSSES PAID, $416,000

POLICIES ISSUED, 15,593.

ALL kinds of Property Insured at rates from 13 to 20 per cent. lower than Stock Companies. Claims adjusted with fairness and liberality. LOSSES PROMPTLY PAID.

ROBERT McLEAN, Esq., Inspector and General Agent.

THOMAS M. SIMONS, Esq., Secretary.

R. W. ERRETT, Agent, Peterborough.

November 4, 1869. 40-1y*

TO THE FARMERS

OF THE

COUNTY OF PETERBOROUGH.

The undersigned begs to intimate that he is again prepared to pay the HIGHEST CASH PRICE for

Oats, Pease, Barley and Rye,

at his New Grain Warehouse in Ashburnham, situated nearly opposite his old stand.

His friends and acquaintances are invited to give him a call as usual.

D. SETHERLAND.

Ashburnham, Sep. 20, 1869 39

HARDWARE.

JOHN BERTRAM,

DEALER IN

Manilla Rope. Chains, Anchors, Axes, Augers, Saws, Files,

Carriage Springs, Solid Collar Axles Thimble Skeins; Waggon, Carriage and Buggy Bent Rims, Spokes, Shafts, Hubs, Seat Rails, Spindles—all dry; Carriage Bolts, Varnish, Paints, &c.

Leather Belting, Machinery Oil, Cabinet-makers' Goods, Carpenters' Tools

And all kinds of

SHELF AND HEAVY HARDWARE.

JOHN BERTRAM,

Hardware Merchant, Peterborough.

February 3, 1871. 5

Stallion for Sale

THE lately Imported Horse "YOUNG ST. LAWRENCE," a thorough bred French Canadian; sired by the justly celebrated Horse "St. Lawrence," so universally known in Lower Canada.

His Dam is also a thorough-bred French Canadian. He is a dark bay, six years old, very active, and for speed cannot be surpassed by any in the Country, and is now being fed up ready to travel.

JOHN CATHCART

Dobeagreen, March, 1871. 11-3in

Midland Railway Directory.

MIDLAND

Railway of Canada.

ON and after MONDAY, the 19th day of SEPTEMBER, 1870, Trains will run as follows:

TRAINS MOVING SOUTH.—MAIL.

Lindsay, Depart..... 9.35 a. m.
Millbrook, Arrive..... 11.25 a. m.

TRAINS MOVING SOUTH.—MIXED.

Port Hope, Depart..... 3.00 p. m.
Millbrook, Arrive..... 4.35 "
Lindsay Arrive..... 6.30 "

TRAINS MOVING SOUTH.—MIXED.

Lindsay, Depart..... 12.35 p. m.
Millbrook, Arrive..... 3.35 "
Port Hope, Arrive..... 4.20

TRAINS MOVING NORTH.—MIXED.

Port Hope, Depart..... 5.45 a. m.
Millbrook..... 7.05 "
Lindsay, Arrive..... 9.10 "

PETERBOROUGH SECTION.

TRAINS MOVING SOUTH.—MAIL.

Peterborough, Depart..... 3.50 p. m.
Millbrook, Arrive..... 4.20 "
Port Hope, Arrive..... 5.50 "

TRAINS MOVING NORTH.—MAIL.

Port Hope, Depart..... 10.10 a. m.
Millbrook, Arrive..... 11.35 "
Peterborough, Arrive..... 12.35 p. m.

TRAINS MOVING SOUTH.—MIXED.

Peterborough, Depart..... 5.30 a. m.
Millbrook..... 6.20 "
Port Hope, Arrive..... 7.40 "

TRAINS MOVING NORTH.—MIXED.

Port Hope, Depart..... 1.15 p. m.
Millbrook..... 2.35 "
Peterborough, Arrive..... 3.20 "

A. T. WILLIAMS, Superintendent.

Sept. 19, 1870. 38

GRAND TRUNK RAILWAY.

TRAINS LEAVE

PORT HOPE STATION

AS FOLLOWS:

GOING EAST.

Express (day)..... 9.30 a.m.
Mixed..... 7.00 p.m.
Express (night)..... 9.20 p.m.

GOING WEST.

Mixed..... 9.30 A.M.
Express (day)..... 10.30 a.m.

Trains leave on Railroad time, which is about twenty-three minutes ahead of Port Hope time.

Warranted correct by the Company's time Table

DAILY STAGE

BETWEEN

Norwood and Peterboro'

The Stage leaves Norwood every day, (Sunday excepted) at 7 o'clock a. m.

RETURNING, leaves Peterboro' at 2.30 p.m.

Office in Norwood, Johnson's Hotel.

Office in Peterboro', Stewart House.

Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays, Stage connects with Stage for Blairton and Marmora. And the Stage connects daily with Hastings, Warkworth and Colborne.

J. A. JOHNSON, Proprietor.

23-tf

Montreal Ocean Steamship Co.

Steam to Liverpool, Londonderry and Glasgow.

Rates of Passage from Peterboro':

CABIN, - - $76 to $86. STEERAGE - $30.

Return Tickets for 6 months at reduced fares

For Through Passage Tickets, Staterooms, and every information, apply to

GEORGE A. COX, Agent.

Canadian Express Co'y.

Peterboro', Nov. 7th, 1868. 45

GREAT WESTERN RAILWAY

OF CANADA.

TORONTO LINE.

TORONTO, &c., TO HAMILTON.

Accommodation trains leave Yonge street Station at 7.00 a.m., 9.50 p.m. and 5.55 p.m. Express at 12.55 p.m.

HAMILTON, &c., TO TORONTO.

Accommodation trains leave Hamilton at 7.10 a.m., 9.50 a.m. and 7.25 p.m. Express at 3.45 p.m.

THE CANADIAN

BANK OF COMMERCE

CORNER OF

Hunter and Water Streets, Peterboro'

☞ Interest allowed on Deposits.

J. A. HALL, Manager

Peterboro, July 27, 1870. 29

THOS. MENZIES,

Now being the authorised Ticket Agent for the Grand Trunk Railway, can supply the public with

Tickets to all parts of Canada,

Also to any part of the United States.

Charges the same as at any of the Stations on the G. T. R. So get your Tickets before leaving Peterboro, and save all trouble on your journey.

THOS. MENZIES, George Street.

Peterboro July 3, 1870 18

Select Poetry

Bread-and-Cheese and Kisses.

One day when I came home fatigued,
And felt inclined to grumble,
Because my life was one of toil,
Because my lot was humble,
I said to Kate, my darling wife,
In whom my whole life's bliss is,
"What have you got for dinner, Kate?"
"Why, bread-and-cheese and kisses!"

Though worn and tired, my heart leaped [illegible]
At these [illegible]
Than mine's more thickly buttered?
I said, "We'll have desert at once,"
"What's that?" she asked, "Why this is,"
I kissed her. Ah, what sweeter meal,
Than bread-and-cheese and kisses?

I gazed at her with pure delight:
She smiled and nodded gaily;
I said, "My love, on such a meal
I'd dine with pleasure daily.
When I but think of you, dear girl,
I pity those fine misses
Who turn up their nose and pout
At bread-and-cheese and kisses.

"And when I look on your dear form,
And on your face so comely;
And when I look on your dear eyes,
And on your dress so homely,
And when I hold you in my arms,
I laugh at Fortune's misses,
I'm blest in you, content with you,
And bread-and-cheese and kisses."

Choice Literature.

The Beggar and His Daughter

Andrew Elliot—at least we shall call him by that name—was the eldest son of a small farmer in South Scotland. At the period when we commence our story, Andrew was about two or three and twenty years of age. He was a sharp, clever, active lad, of excellent dispositions and upright principles, and was held in high estimations by all that knew him. Andrew had at this time an uncle in London, an extensive and wealthy merchant. To this person he was sent by his father to push his fortune in the capital, there being little prospect of his being able to improve his condition in any way at home. On his arrival at his uncle's, he was immediately introduced by that person into his own counting house, where he soon such an adaptness for business as induced his relative gradually to devolve on him the weightiest concern. His steady, upright [illegible] of the short, and agreeable manners, won the esteem of his uncle, (who was a bachelor,) and thus placed on the high road to fortune. In time, the old man took young Elliott into partnership with him, and, at his death, which occurred a few years afterwards, left him his whole business and fortune, (which last was very considerable) with the exception of a few legacies.

Here, then, was the young man raised, by a combination of his own deserts with favorable circumstances, at twenty-eight or so, to what a person of moderate ambition would call the top of fortune's ladder.

The business left him by his relative was a prosperous one, and in money, lands, and securities of various kinds, he might, besides, be worth nearly twenty thousand pounds. For two or three years after this matters went on exceedingly well with Mr. Elliot. He was a man of consequence upon Change, and his credit was unbounded—this last circumstance not more owing to his wealth than to the excellence of his character, which was honourable and upright to the last degree. He was, moreover, generous and benevolent, and had ever a ready hand for the relief of the necessitous. These qualities, however, though they gained him the universal esteem and respect of his fellow-men, could not shield him from those reverses that chequer human life. A series of losses by shipwreck, and of extensive failures in the city, reduced him in a few years to bankruptcy, and set him precisely in the situation in life whence he had set out. But he was a bankrupt in fortune only, not in fame—His excellent character still remained to him, and now stood him in good stead.

During all this time, Mr. Elliot continued to reside in his late uncle's house—now his own, however, which was at the distance of about half a mile from the counting room. He had taken up his abode there when he came to London first, and there he still remained. In going to and from the counting house to his residence, a road which he had now traversed several times a day for many years, Mr. Elliot had to pass a certain corner, at which was stationed a cripple mendicant, who had occupied the post for upwards of twenty years. To this needy and unfortunate person Mr. Elliott had been exceedingly generous in the days of his prosperity; throwing him a shilling several times a week, but not unfrequently making it half a crown; for he was taken with the modest demeanor of the man, who never sought the charity he gave.—But from this benevolent practice Mr. Elliot was compelled to desist, when this reverse came upon him and to pass his old pensioner without putting his hand in his pocket. He still, however, gave him a trifle now and then; but it was latterly more proportioned to his means than his disposition, and was given, besides, only at long intervals. Thus, then, matters stood between Mr. Elliot and the beggar, and thus they stood for several weeks, when, as the former was returning home one evening in the dusk (it was in the month of October) the mendicant, who was just in the act of leaving his station, as Mr. Elliot passed, called after him by his name. Surprised that the man should have known it, a little irritated at the interruption, Mr. Elliot turned sharply round, and demanded to know what was wanted.

"You have not been so kind to me of late Mr. Elliot," said the cripple with a smile. "There are reasons for everything," replied the former, "and of course, one for that too. I am not so able now to relieve you as I was." "I know that said the beggar. "Indeed," replied Mr. Elliot more and more surprised at him and the knowledge of his circumstances which the cripple seemed to possess. "Pray, how do you happen to know that?" "It doesn't matter," said the mendicant; "I do know it, and I am sorry for it; but I am not certain that, poor and humble as I am, I could not be of some service to you in your present difficulties If you could think, Mr. Elliot, of calling at No. 26 Crutched Friars, to-morrow evening, at eight o'clock, I could perhaps introduce you to a friend from whom you might hear of something to your advantage. Will you do this?"

Confounded by the singularity of this address it was some seconds, before Mr. Elliot could make any reply. At length thinking there could be no harm in making the call to which he was invited, however strange the circumstances, he replied, "that he had no objection—that he certainly would." "Well," said the little old beggar, for he was a man of diminutive stature, "do so, and enquire for John Johnstone.—Recollect John Johnstone," and he hobbled away.

The appointment which he had thus made, Mr. Elliot resolved to keep—not from any idea whatever that it could possibly produce any benefit to him, but from sheer curiosity to know in what it would end. On the following night, accordingly, he made his way to Crutched Friars; having [illegible] early period in the afternoon, that the little old beggar was not, as usual, at his station. The number to which he had been directed, Mr. Elliot at once found: it was a neat, genteel, green painted door. He rapped. A modest, well dressed servant girl opened the door. He said he had come there by appointment to meet a Mr. John Johnstone. He was instantly admitted, and shown into a small but remarkably clean and well furnished apartment. Knowing nothing of the person whose house he was in, Mr. Elliot had no idea who he was to see. What was his surprise, then, when after he had been seated for a few minutes, his old friend the cripple, entered the apartment, but now so clean, even handsomely dressed, that it was some seconds before he recognised him.—The old man smiled at Mr. Elliot's surprise, but requested him to be seated. When he had done so, the former sat down opposite him. "Now, Mr. Elliot," he said, "let us proceed to business at once. I am, myself, the person whom I proposed to you to meet, and I will begin by giving you a brief sketch of whom and what I am.

"I am a countryman of your own, Mr. Elliot, and a native of the same place. I thus knew all your relations perfectly, and I knew them to be respectable people. I was bred a brick-layer, and in that capacity came to London about twenty years ago. Soon after my settlement in the metropolis, I had the misfortune to fall from a scaffold, and was by the accident lamed as you now see me. Incapacitated for working, and seeing my wife and children starving around me, for I was already married and had several children, I resolved on adopting the last resource of the destitute—to solicit charity on the public streets. In pursuance to this resolution, I sought a distant corner—there where you found me—took my station, and soon my receipts were considerable, much more perhaps than you would readily believe. Thus encouraged, there I have remained ever since; and the result is that I am now worth a sum that cannot be called trifling. My wife and all my children, excepting one daughter, have been dead these many years. Now Mr. Elliot," added the old man, "I have a proposal to make to you, [illegible] so more of it.—We will part as good friends as ever, notwithstanding. You were generous Mr. Elliot, when you had the means and I know your character to be all that is honorable, and these are the reasons that have induced me to take this step. But before I make the proposal I spoke about, Mr. Elliot," continued the old man, at the same time stretching his hand towards the bell-pull, "you must see my daughter." He rang, and the latter soon after entered the apartment, a modest, beautiful, and apparently educated girl.

Mr. Elliot was introduced to her by her father, and a conversation ensued, which discovered to the former that the young lady—for such she was at least by manners and education—was indeed all she appeared to be. After she had remained in the apartment for about half an hour, "Now my dear," said her father, addressing her, "do you retire and prepare a little supper for us, as I have something to say to our friend Mr. Elliot here." When she had withdrawn, "Now, sir, that you have seen my daughter," said the old man, addressing Mr. Elliot. "I feel—but it may be parent's partiality—more confidence in making my proposal to you. The proposal is—and I beg you will not be startled by it, but just take it all easy, for as I said before, if it does not suit you, you have only to say so—that you should marry the girl whom you have just seen, and I will give you, on the day of your marriage, five thousand pounds! Now take time to consider it, I neither expect nor require an immediate answer on a question so important to you; but if you do not decide unfavorably on the instant, let me know the result of your reflections on the subject as soon as you conveniently can. You will no doubt, at first consider it a degrading alliance, perhaps the very proposal degrading to you; but such an idea would not stand the test of reasoning. Notwithstanding my lowly station in life my daughter has been brought up in comfort, I may say affluence, and has had the best education which London can afford. I have spared no expense upon her and I believe there are few accomplishments becoming her sex, of which she is not possessed; and I hope I need scarcely add, that she is as amiable and virtuous as she is accomplished."

Availing himself of the offer of time for reflection on this most unexpected and most extraordinary proposal, Mr. Elliot said—for he certainly was startled by it, and was by no means reconciled on the instant to marry the daughter of a street beggar, even with five thousand pounds in her pocket—"that he was much obliged by the proposal, that he felt exceedingly grateful for it, and that he would certainly take the matter into his consideration, and let him know the result in a day or two."

"Ay, do so, do so," said the old man again extending his hand to the bell-pull. "Now, no allusion to what we've been talking about; not a word," he added, and he rang. His daughter again entered. In a short time after, a neat, nay, even elegant supper was served, and a bottle of excellent wine followed. The repast, of which the old mendicant's beautiful and accomplished daughter did the honors, afforded Mr. Elliot an opportunity of further studying her merits, and these he found of so pleasing a character, that he sensibly felt his repugnance to look on her in the light of his future wife, rapidly subsiding. He found her, in short, all that he could desire in a companion of life: and a few more visits, which he contrived to make subsequently, on various pretences, without her father's presence, confirmed him of the opinion which the first interview inspired.

In less than a fortnight after, Mr. Elliot led, in the phrase of the newspapers, the fair Isabella Johnstone to the hymenial altar, and, on the same day, eight thousand pounds, in receipts of the bank of England, were put into his hands by the father of his bride. He had increased his daughter's portion by three thousand, saying to his worthy son-in-law:

"I have done this Mr. Elliot, because I wish you to pay off all your creditors in full, (Mr. Elliot had previously informed him that somewhere about three thousand would do this,) by doing which, you will recover all your former credit, and get on perhaps as well as ever."

With this proposition, which accorded so well with his own honourable disposition Mr. Elliot eagerly closed. He paid off all his debts, began business anew and aided, soothed, and cheered by the society of an amiable and affectionate wife, for such she proved, he found himself again in flourishing circumstances, and finally died one of the most wealthy men in London.

Mr. Elliot left a son by his marriage, an only child, whose name may be recognised as a principal partner in one of the oldest and most respectable banking houses in the metropolis.—Chambers' Journal.

RUSSIAN INTOLERANCE.—An English paper says:—"Our readers may be surprised to hear of the latest Russian ukase, forbidding Jews in Poland to wear their usual long gowns, national caps, and ringlets. If so, they will be more surprised to learn the reason for this wonderful decree. The ukase itself does not pretend to the merit of novelty or originality, being the exact copy of Jewish costume entirely forbidden—except one issued long ago by the Governor-General Paskievics. It contains some rather remarkable passages. Even distinct prescriptions are added respecting the costume to be substituted, which must be orthodox Russian, viz., a long coat covering the knees, and loose trousers wore inside the boots. Free Jews are generously not compelled to wear the Russian servants' dress. If they prefer the modern—or, as the ukase has it, 'German' style, they must not grow a beard but have their chins quite bare. Cases of disobedience are threatened with imprisonment for an uncertain length of time. Jewesses experience still more severe treatment, being without exception interdicted the continuance of the old costume, and the fashion of wearing ribbons in the hair. They must cover their hair with caps or bonnets, and only such as are bald or suffering from diseases of the skin are allowed the use of perukes. In other cases the practice of shaving the head is forbidden, and the police are empowered at any time to examine Jewesses as to whether they wear their own hair or false ringlets. The penalty imposed upon any breach of this commandment is limited to five roubles. Now the reason for this singular decree is no other than the patriotic conduct displayed by German Jews during late Franco German war, fighting as bravely and contributing money as liberally as any Christian. The Emperor of all the Russians in his Salvonic wisdom attributes this satisfactory result to the common costume of Jews and Christians in Germany and is bent upon trying the same experiments in his dominions. Whether it is likely to be successful, or occidental skepticism must be allowed to doubt. But if the decree appears to be despotic and mediæval to our readers, we remind them that, as late as 1851, some German governments made the wearing of a full beard penal, on account of its being an emblem of democracy.

INDIAN DESCRIPTION OF AN EARTHQUAKE.—When the natives of India begin to express their thoughts in English, they display a wonderful aptitude for the fine writing. Among the best specimens of this instructive style which we have lately seen is one recently quoted in the Pall Mall Gazette from the Indian Daily News—an English paper. A native correspondent writes to describe the effect of an earthquake which visited Bengal last month, and he does it in the following "graphic" manner:—"Just at 5 a. m. this morning before I got out of my bed suddenly it was felt that my breast and whole body began to tremble at first shock at which I was awakened and considered myself any sickness would have affected over me which made me such restless. I sleeping at second storied room which began to shake, but upon doubt that noise comes out like melting machine was mouse or rat jumping from this corner to the other immediately after such noise, a second shock was felt with such violence that door was shut—began to push as I was alarmed to call out my servant for assistance if anybody came to rob me, then asked, who are you? no answer was received then, it was imagined that it was merely an earthquake, which brought in my memorandum to read from many newspapers that at different countries by earthquake the several high and small buildings are thrown down which stirked my heart so much that I instantly came out of my bed room to an open terrace that I might save myself from falling under the building, then at first one blowed his shank, then many other noises was heard, then my inward shaking was perceived more than an hour to be lasted."

THE BISMARCK ARMS.—At the front entrance of Prince Bismarck's villa in Pomerania, the eye is arrested by the inscription of the Bismarck Arms. It consists of a clover leaf entwined by three nettle leaves, and concerning which the following story is chronicled:—Long ago, Gertrude, of the Bismarcks beautiful Pomeranian Princess was sought in marriage by hundreds of suitors from all parts of the country, who admired her as much for becoming manners as for her exquisite beauty. These attentions she respectfully declined, and was finally betrothed, by consent of her parents, to a first cousin; when from the German Ocean there came a great nobleman, a lord, accompanied by a hundred horsemen, seeking her hand in marriage. She having refused, the Wiendish Prince became enraged that he called his horsemen around him and thus spoke:—"I will break this clover leaf with my own hand. Yes, if there was a nettle to boot, however, much pain it would give me, I would break it; he then and there took the castle by storm and slew Gertrude's father. He then approached Gertrude's room and thus addressed her:—"I came to break you, you golden clover of my heart, you are no nettle and do not sting, the clover leaf causes no pain;" and with perfect surety of gaining his prize embraced the lovely Gertrude. But oh! horror, he sunk to the floor weltered in his own blood with a cry of mercy on his lips, for the fair princess had stabbed him to the heart with a dagger she had concealed about her person. "Sadly mistaken," said she; "I am a nettle when I will, and can sting, and so do nettle ever sting the one who break a clover leaf of the Bismarck's."

Truth will never die; the stars will grow dim, the sun will pale his glory, but truth will be forever young. Integrity, uprightness, honesty, love, goodness, these are all imperishable. No grave can ever entomb these immortal principals. They have been in prison, but they have been freer than before; those who have enshrined them in their heart have burned at the stake, but out of their ashes other witnesses have arisen. No sea can drown, no storm can wreck, no alarm can paralyze up the ever living truth of God. You cannot kill goodness, and truth, and integrity, and faith and holiness; the way that is consistent with these must be a way everlasting.—Spurgeon.

Honesty the best policy.

Say little—think much—do more.

A FAITHFUL HISTORY.

The history of King Alcohol is a history of shame and corruption, of cruelty, crime, rage and ruin.

He has taken the glory of health from off the cheek and placed there the reddish hue of the wine cup.

He has taken the lust from the eye and made it dim and bloodshot.

He has taken beauty and comliness from the face and left it ill shaped and bloated.

He has taken strength from the limbs and made them weak and tottering.

He has taken firmness and elasticity from the steps and made it faltering and treacherous.

He has taken vigor from the arm and left flabbiness and weakness.

He has taken vitality from the blood and filled it with poison and seeds of disease and death. He has transformed his body, fearfully and wonderfully and majestically made, God's master piece of animal mechanism, into a vile, loathsome, stinking mass of humanity.

He has entered the brain—the temple of thought—dethroned reason, and made it real with folly.

He has taken the beam of intelligence from out the eye, and exchanged for it the stupid stare of idiocy and dullness.

He has taken the impress of ennobled manhood from off the face and left the marks of sensuality and brutishness.

He has bribed the tongue to utter maledictions.

He has turned the lips to songs of ribaldry and reveling.

He has taken cunning from the hands and turned them from deeds of usefullness to become instruments of brutality and murder.

He has broken the ties of friendship and planted the seeds of enmity.

He has made a kind indulgent father a brute, a tyrant, a murderer.

He has transformed the loving mother into a very fiend of brutish incarnation.

He has made obedient and affectionate sons and daughters the breakers of hearts and the distroyers of homes.

He has taken luxuries from off the table and has compelled man to cry on account of famine, and beg for bread.

He has stripped backs of their broadcloth and silk, and clothed them with rags.

He has stolen men's palaces and given them wretched hovels in exchange.

He has taken away acres and given not even a decent burial place in death.

He has filled our streets and byways with violence and lawlessness.

He has complicated our laws, and crowded our courts.

He has filled to overflowing our penetentiaries and houses of correction.

He has peopled with his multitude our poorhouses.

He has straightened us for room in our insane asylums.

He has filled our world with tears and groans, with poor and helpless, with wretched and want.

He has taken away faith, hope and respect, and given dispair, infidility, enmity and all the emotions and deeds of wickedness.

He has banished Christ from the heart, and erected a hell within.

He has wrecked and enfeebled the bodies, shattered and destroyed the mind, imperiled and damned the souls of our fellowmen.

These are the counts of our indictment. Let the world judge of the truth

Every good act is a flower which will beautify our final home

Thou wilt always rejoice in the evening if thou spend the day profitably.

Educate the whole man—the head, the heart, the body; the head to think, the heart to feel, and the body to act.

Look on slanderers as direct enemies to evil society; as persons without honor, honesty or humanity. Whoever entertain you with the faults of others, designs to serve you in the same manner.

Charity is never lost. It may be of no service to those it is bestowed on, yet it ever does a work of beauty and grace upon the heart of the giver.

Youth and age have too little sympathy with each other. If the young would remember that they may be old, and the old remember that they have been young, the world would be happier.

The sign bearing the protrait of General Wolfe, which swings in front of the merrimac Hotel in Newburport, mass., is one hundred and twenty years old. The portrait has frequently been repainted, but the original signboard still swings.

SIZE OF GREAT LAKES.—The latest measurement of fresh water seas are as follows:

The greatest length of lake Superior is 335 miles; its greatest breadth is 160 miles; mean depth, 900 feet; elevation, 274 feet; area, 23,000 square miles.

The greatest length of Lake Michigan is three hundred and ninety miles; greatest breadth, 108 miles; mean dept 900 feet elevation 274 feet; area, 23,000 square miles.

The great length of Lake Huron is 200 miles; its greatest breadth, 160 miles; mean depth, 600 feet; elevation 174 feet; area, 20,000 square miles.

The greatest length of Lake Erie, is 350 miles; its mean depth is 84 feet; elevation 555 feet; area, 6000 miles.

The greatest length of Lake Ontario is 170 miles; greatest breadth, 95 miles; mean depth, 900 feet; elevation, 234 feet; area, 6000 square miles.

STRANGE DECEPTION.—On Monday, at the Manchester County Police Court, says a Liverpool paper of a late date, two men were brought up in custody, charged with being drunk and disorderly. Superintendent Bent said one of the two men in the dock was a woman. When arrested on Sunday morning both prisoners were respectably attired in male costume. While they were at the police station witness was struck with the appearance of the smaller of the two, and, after looking closely at the prisoner, said, "Why, you are a woman." The prisoner stoutly denied the charge, but shortly afterwards, on being closely pressed, admitted the fact and told a remarkable story of her adventures. She said that sixteen years ago she and her husband were schoolmasters and schoolmistress at a national school in Gloucester. Her husband lost his situation through drinking, and subsequently they both learnt the art of house painting. Her husband made her cut off her hair and sell it: dress herself as a man and go about the country with him. She had worked with men on high buildings in London, without fear of detection. She had been separated from her husband for some years and the other prisoner was her nephew, and she always passed as his uncle. The usual penalty of 5s. and costs was inflicted and the prisoner went off in her male attire.

A Fragment of a Novel.

When President Grant first appointed Indian agents, we wrote a novel for the purpose of showing how great might be the evils which would result from the selections of friends for such a purpose. We attempted to depict the perplexity and awkwardness of the situations, a young Quaker Indian agent should fall in love with a Shoshonee squaw, for instance. The story was printed, but the ingratiations of the Government suppressed all of the editions that could be found. We are going to republish the thrilling part now, and we hurl defiance into the faces of the minions of the sanguinary despot who attempts to crush us with the iron heel of tyranny.—The public shall have the negative if we are carried to the dungeon to-morrow headed with manacles. We will begin with a love scene which is intended to illustrate the inevitable embarrassment of a Friend in such a situation. The squaw speaks first. Her real name is Kash-e-wash-e-naw, or the "Pride of McGinnis's Dam."

"Do you love me, then, dearest?" she fondly said, nestling on his unplaited bosom.

"Yes, ma'am!" said Archibald, (who was the Quaker Indian agent.)

"Swear by yon moon—no, the moon isn't out; swear by yon bright stars you love me," she softly whispered.

"I don't swear, I affirm," he said in endearing accents of adhesion.

"I am loved by another, a Shoshonee brave with thin legs and a sardonic smile. Say, my only Archibald, will you kill him?"

"I won't. I'm a peace man!" said Archibald as if he was glad of it.

"Well, then, dearest, let us go to my father's wigwam and talk the matter over, and prove your steadfastness to your principles by smoking the calumet of peace."

That is what the squaw said—what the Indian girl with the hard name remarked to the young Friend, remember.

"But I don't smoke; it makes me sick!" remarked Archibald.

"And you will not join us to-night around our council fire, and learn to love the customs of my people?" she asked, with an anxious sigh.

"I'm much obliged, but I don't dance, it's against our discipline," he said, and he heaved a sigh.

"Well, then, my only one, at least accept this little ring from me, and let me bore a hole with a bradawl so you can wear it sweetly dangling from your nose."

"I believe not; I daren't wear jewelry."

"Never mind, dearest," said she. It is as well as it is. Father will get you a situation to beat the war drum and inspire our braves with the glad music of battle."

"Excuse me, I beg to decline. I'm down on glad music of battle, I'm down on music of any kind."

The love-light faded out of the soft brown eyes of the Pride of McGinnis's dam for a moment, and she looked as if she was real mad. But presently she smiled sweetly and said:

"Come, then, to my home, and let me toy with your raven hair, and plait it as our braves do theirs, and decorate it with gaudy feathers."

"If it makes no difference to you," he said, "I'd rather not. I have conscientious scruples against taking off my hat."

"Well, then, let me fly to your people, and I will become as you are. Put will you not take me sometimes to the circus, and the theatre and other places, darling?"

"I should think not. I never visit places of amusement," etc.

Thus did these two young lovers, each happy in the fullness of each other's love, beguile the happy moments as they fled from time's unerring glass, and seemed to have a first rate time.

This is all of the novel we shall publish. But we may as well say that Archibald was finally converted, and abandoning his bride. The story has a moral which we desire to impress upon those misguided persons who approve of sending Friends amongst the Indians. If the hearts of any such are touched by this little tale of real life, our object will have been attained, and we will have been well paid for the sleepless nights spent in composing the anecdote.

Tradition of a Poisoned Key.

In the curiosities preserved in the Arsenal at Venice, there is a key, of which the following singular tradition is related:—About the year 1600, one of those dangerous men in whom extraordinary talent is only the fearful source of crime and wickedness beyond that of ordinary men, came to establish himself as a merchant or trader in Venice. The st

The Peterborough Examiner
A WEEKLY
POLITICAL, AGRICULTURAL, AND FAMILY NEWSPAPER,
IS PUBLISHED
EVERY THURSDAY MORNING.
Terms $1.50 per annum in Advance.

EVERY DESCRIPTION OF BOOK AND JOB PRINTING executed at this office, in a superior style, and at low rates.

☞Particular attention given to Ornamental Printing in Colors, Attractive Posters, &c.

All orders for Job Printing forwarded to this office will be punctually and strictly attended to.

JAMES HALL,
SHERIFF, Office in the Court House, Peterborough.

EDG. PEARSE,
COUNTY Treasurer and Clerk. Office in the Court House, Peterboro. 6

EDG. PEARSE,
OFFICIAL ASSIGNEE. Office—Court House, Peterborough.

C. A. WELLER,
CLERK of the Peace. Office on Simcoe St., Peterborough. 10

C. A. WELLER,
COUNTY Attorney. Office on Simcoe St. 30

C. A. WELLER,
BARRISTER, Attorney, Solicitor, &c.—Office—Simcoe Street, Peterborough.

MR. JOHN BURNHAM,
BARRISTER, Attorney at Law, Solicitor in Chancery, Conveyancer, &c. Office—over T. Chamber's Store, Hunter Street, Peterborough, Ont. 39

GEORGE EDMISON,
ATTORNEY at Law, Solicitor in Chancery, Conveyancer, &c., &c. Office over Mr. John Fletcher's Boot and Shoe Store, directly opposite Mr. Clinton's, George Street, Peterborough.
Peterboro', Feb. 17th, 1864. Y

W. H. MOORE,
BARRISTER, Attorney at Law, Solicitor in Chancery, Conveyancer, &c. Office corner of George and Hunter Streets, McKellar & Cameron's old stand.
MONEY TO LOAN on easy terms, on land security. Mortgage bought.
Peterboro, April 6, 1869. 14

DENNISTOUN, FAIRBAIRN & CASSELS,
BARRISTERS, &c.,
Hunter Street, 3 Peterborough.

JOHN GREEN,
BARRISTER, Attorney at Law, Solicitor in Chancery, Conveyancer, &c. Office over the Ontario Drug Store, Scott's block, corner of George and Simcoe Streets.
Peterboro Dec. 1st, 1869. 48

GEO. T. LEONARD,
ATTORNEY-AT-LAW, SOLICITOR IN Chancery &c. Peterborough. 59

S. D. CRAWFORD, M. D., C. M.,
MEMBER of Royal College of Surgeons, England; Licentiate Government Medical Board; Late resident Coombe Lying-in Hospital, Dublin. Ryan's Buildings, Market Square, Peterboro. 7

DR. LOYD,
CORONER for the Counties of Peterborough and Victoria. Office and residence at Bolsaygeon. 47

GEORGE BURNHAM, M. D.
GRADUATE of Bellevue Hospital Medical College, N. Y., University of Victoria College Canada, and Licentiate of Nova Scotia, Physician, Surgeon and Accoucheur.
Office and residence,—Near the Corner of Brock and George Streets, Peterborough.
Peterboro, May 27, 1869. 43

D. PENTLAND,
DENTIST, would respectfully inform the public that he is now prepared to EXTRACT TEETH WITHOUT PAIN, by the aid of Nitrous Oxide Gas, a very pleasant and perfectly safe remedy.
Peterboro, November 28, 1866. 48

W. COULTER.
DEALER in Genuine Drugs, Chemicals, Patent Medicines, Perfumery, Paints, Oils Dye Stuffs, Hair, Nail and Tooth Brushes, Spices, Culinary Essences, Fancy Soaps, &c. George Street, Peterboro. 16

RUSH & BUCKETT,
VETERINARY SURGEONS, No. 6 Henshorn's Block, George street, Peterboro. Horse and Cattle Medicines kept constantly on hand. Horses taken under treatment on easy terms.

ALEX. McNEIL,
LICENSED Auctioneer for the Counties of Peterborough and Victoria, and Townships of Cavan and South Monaghan.

GEORGE READ,
ISSUER of Marriage Licenses, Clerk Division Court, Township Clerk, &c., Keene, Otonabee. 20

JAMES McLEAN,
INSURANCE Agent, Issuer of Marriage Licenses, and Commissioner for taking Affidavits.
Cavan, Mount Pleasant, C. W. 30

CABINET-MAKING.
E. POOLE, Cabinet maker, Upholsterer and Undertaker, George Street, Peterboro.

JAMES STEVENSON,
DEALER in Stoves, Tin-Ware, &c., &c. George Street, Peterborough. 18

ROBERT PATTERSON,
DEALER in Boots and Shoes. Spanish Sole Leather constantly on hand.
Nicholls and Hall's old stand, Simcoe Street, Peterborough.

GEORGE MITCHELL,
DEALER in Groceries and Provisions, &c. Cash paid for all kinds of country produce
George Street, Peterborough, 15

EDMUND S. VINDIN
COMMISSION, Shipping, Forwarding and General Agent, Lumber Merchant, &c.—Office, Corner of Walton and Ontario Streets, Port Hope.

BANK OF TORONTO.
CORNER of Water and Simcoe Streets, Peterboro. Interest allowed on Deposits
J. MURRAY SMITH,
Manager

ROBERT WALDEN.
SADDLERY. Dealer in Shovels, Shovels &c., George Street, Peterboro'. 32

J. R. McCULLOUGH, M. D.,
Graduate of Trinity College, Dublin, and Licentiate of the Dominion of Canada,
Physician, Surgeon, Accoucheur, &c.,
AND
Late Surgeon of the U. S. Army & Navy,
Will be found at his office or at his residence, at all hours of the Day and Night, except when out on professional business.
☞N. B.—All communications strictly

RESIDENCE and
OFFICE—Next Door To Wm. McDonald's Hotel, and two doors East Of Helm's Foundry, Simcoe Street.
Visits in the Corporation One Dollar, Only.
VISITS TO THE COUNTRY MODERATE.
☞ADVICE TO ALL FREE.☜
Simcoe Street, Peterboro, Ont.
September 8, 1868. 36

THOMAS LANNIN,
PRACTICAL TIN & COPPER SMITH, Bell Hanger, Steam and Gas Fitter, Plumber, &c. Dealer in Stoves, Iron Beds, Baths, Refrigerators, Water Coolers, Filters, Pumps, &c.
GEORGE STREET,
Peterboro, 1st June, 1870. 22

JOHN COONEY,
NURSERYMAN,
DEALER in Fruit and Ornamental Trees, Shrubs and Roses, and all kinds of Nursery stock. A very choice collection of Strawberry Plants on hand.
Orders by mail promptly attended to.
JOHN COONEY.
Peterboro, July 21, 1869. 29

ONTARIO BANK,
PETERBOROUGH.
SAVINGS DEPARTMENT.
From this date until further notice, the rate of intest in the above department will be
FIVE PER CENT.
PER ANNUM.
G. E. SHAW,
Manager.
Peterboro', April 1st, 1868. 14-tf

GEORGE ALLEN.
GUN & WHITE-SMITH,
Hunter Street, Peterborough,
BEGS to inform the public that all kinds of repairing is done on the shortest notice, such as Guns, Stocking, &c., Pistols and White-smithing. Sewing Machines also neatly repaired.
☞Shop and residence adjoining the Union Hotel.
Peterboro, October 25, 1865. 43

GORE DISTRICT MUTUAL
FIRE INSURANCE COMPANY!
HEAD OFFICE, GALT, ONTARIO.
CHARTERED A. D., 1836.
ASSETS, $160,000 | LOSSES PAID, $416,000
POLICIES ISSUED, 15,595.
ALL kinds of Property Insured at rates from 15 to 20 per cent. lower than Stock Companies. Claims adjusted with fairness and liberality. Losses Promptly Paid.
ROBERT McLEAN, Esq.,
Inspector and General Agent.
THOMAS M. SIMONS, Esq., Secretary.
R. W. KERRETT, Agent, Peterborough.
November 4, 1869. 46-1y

TO THE FARMERS
OF THE
COUNTY OF PETERBOROUGH.
The undersigned begs to intimate that he is again prepared to pay the HIGHEST CASH PRICE for
Oats, Pease, Barley and Rye,
at his New Grain Warehouse in Ashburnham, situated nearly opposite his old stand.
His friends and acquaintances are invited to give him a call as usual.
D SUTHERLAND.
Ashburnham, Sep. 29 1869 39

HARDWARE.
JOHN BERTRAM,
DEALER IN
Manilla Rope, Chains, Anchors, Axes, Augers, Saws, Files,
Carriage Springs, Solid Collar Axles Thimble Skeins; Waggon, Carriage and Buggy Bent Rims, Spokes, Shafts, Hubs, Seat Rails, Spindles—all dry; Carriage Bolts, Varnish, Paints, &c.
Leather Belting,
Machinery Oil,
Cabinet-makers' Goods,
Carpenters' Tools
And all kinds of
SHELF AND HEAVY HARDWARE.
JOHN BERTRAM,
Hardware Merchant, Peterborough.
February 2, 1871. 5

Stallion for Sale
The lately imported Horse "YOUNG ST. LAWRENCE," a thorough bred French Canadian; sired by the justly celebrated Horse "St. Lawrence," so universally known in Lower Canada.
His Dam is also a thorough-bread French Canadian. He is a dark bay, six years old, very active, and for speed cannot be surpassed by any in the Country, and is now being fed up ready to travel.
JOHN CATHCART
Bolsaygeon, March, 1871. 11-3ins

Peterborough Examiner.

$1.50 PER ANNUM, IF PAID IN ADVANCE.] "Prove all things—Hold fast that which is good." [$2.00 PER ANNUM, IF NOT PAID IN ADVANCE.

VOL. XVI. PETERBOROUGH, THURSDAY, MAY 18, 1871. No. 20.

Peterboro' Directory.

MIDLAND
Railway of Canada.
ON and after MONDAY, the 19th day of SEPTEMBER, 1870, Trains will run as as follows.

TRAINS MOVING SOUTH.—MAIL.

Lindsay, Depart	9.35 a. m.
Millbrook, Arrive	11.35 a. m.

TRAINS MOVING NORTH.—MAIL.

Port Hope, Depart	3.00 p. m.
Millbrook, Arrive	4.35 "
Lindsay Arrive	6.30 "

TRAINS MOVING SOUTH.—MIXED.

Lindsay, Depart	12 35 p. m.
Millbrook, Arrive	2.35 "
Port Hope, Arrive	4 20

TRAINS MOVING NORTH.—MIXED.

Port Hope, Depart	5.45 a. m.
Millbrook	7.05 "
Lindsay, Arrive	9.10 "

PETERBOROUGH SECTION.
TRAINS MOVING SOUTH.—MAIL.

Peterborough, Depart	2.30 p. m.
Millbrook, Arrive	4.20 "
Port Hope, Arrive	5.50 "

TRAINS MOVING NORTH.—MAIL.

Port Hope, Depart	10.10 a. m.
Millbrook, Arrive	11.35 "
Peterborough, Arrive	12.35 p. m.

TRAINS MOVING SOUTH.—MIXED.

Peterborough, Depart	5.20 a. m.
Millbrook	6 20 "
Port Hope, Arrive	7.40 "

TRAINS MOVING NORTH.—MIXED.

Port Hope, Depart	1.15 p. m.
Millbrook	2 35 "
Peterborough, Arrive	3.20 "

A. T. WILLIAMS,
Superintendent.
Sept 10, 1870. 38.

GRAND TRUNK RAILWAY.
TRAINS LEAVE
PORT HOPE STATION
AS FOLLOWS:
GOING EAST.

Express (day)	9.30 a.m.
Mixed	7.00 p.m.
Express (night)	9.20 p.m.

GOING WEST.

Express (night)	2.00 a.m.
Mixed	2.00 p.m.
Express (day)	10.30 a.m.

Trains leave on Railroad time, which is about twenty-three minutes ahead of Port Hope time.
Warranted correct by the Company's time Table

DAILY STAGE
BETWEEN
Norwood and Peterboro'
The Stage leaves Norwood every day, (Sunday excepted) at 7 o'clock a m.
RETURNING, leaves Peterboro' at 2.30 p.m.
Office in Norwood, Johnson's Hotel.
Office in Peterboro', Stewart House.
Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays, Stage connects with Stage for Blairton and Marmora. And the Stage connects daily with Hastings, Warkworth and Colborne.
J. A. JOHNSON,
23-tf Proprietor.

Montreal Ocean Steamship Co.

Steam to Liverpool, Londonderry and Glasgow.
Rates of Passage from Peterboro':
CABIN, - - $76 to $88. STEERAGE - $30.
Return Tickets for 6 months at reduced fares
For Through Passage Tickets, Staterooms, and every information, apply to
GEORGE A. COX, Agent.
Canadian Express Co'y.
Peterboro', Nov. 7th, 1866 45

GREAT WESTERN RAILWAY
OF CANADA.
TORONTO LINE.
TORONTO, &c., TO HAMILTON.
Accommodation trains leave Yonge street Station at 7.00 a.m., 3.50 p.m and 6.55 p.m.
Express at 12.55 p.m.
HAMILTON, &c., TO TORONTO.
Accommodation trains leave Hamilton at 7.10 a.m., 9.50 a.m. and 7.25 p.m.
Express at 3.45 p.m.

THE CANADIAN
BANK OF COMMERCE
CORNER OF
Hunter and Water Streets, Peterboro'
☞Interest allowed on Deposits.
J. A. HALL, Manager
Peterboro, July 27, 1870. 30

THOS. MENZIES,
Now being the authorized Ticket Agent for the Grand Trunk Railway, can supply the public with
Tickets to all parts of Canada,
Also to any part of the United States.
Charges the same as at any of the Stations on the G. T. R. So get your Tickets before leaving Peterboro, and save all trouble on your journey.
THOS. MENZIES.
George Street.
Peterboro July 3, 1870 18

Select Poetry

Bread-and-Cheese and Kisses.

One day when I came home fatigued,
And felt inclined to grumble,
Because my life was one of toil,
Because my lot was humble,
I said to Kate, my darling wife,
In whom my whole life's bliss is,
"What have you got for dinner, Kate?"
"Why, bread-and-cheese and kisses!"

Though worn and tired, my heart leaped up
At those plain words she uttered,
Than mine's more thickly buttered?
I said, "We'll have desert at once,"
"What's that?" she asked, "Why this is,"
I kissed her. Ah, what sweeter meal,
Than bread-and-cheese and kisses?

I gazed at her with pure delight:
She smiled and nodded gaily;
I said, "My love, on such a meal
I'd dine with pleasure daily.
When I but think of you, dear girl,
I pity those fine misses
Who turn up their nose and pout
At bread-and-cheese and kisses.

"And when I look on your dear form,
And on your face so comely;
And when I look on your dear eyes,
And on your dress so homely,
And when I hold you in my arms,
I laugh at Fortune's misses,
I'm blest in you, content with you,
And bread-and-cheese and kisses."

Choice Literature.

The Beggar and His Daughter

Andrew Elliot—at least we shall call him by that name—was the eldest son of a small farmer in South Scotland. At the period when we commence our story, Andrew was about two or three and twenty years of age. He was a sharp, clever, active lad, of excellent dispositions and upright principles, and was held in high estimations by all that knew him. Andrew had at this time an uncle in London, an extensive and wealthy merchant. To this person he was sent by his father to push his fortune in the capital, there being little prospect of his being able to improve his condition in any way at home. On his arrival at his uncle's, he was immediately introduced by that person into his own counting house, where he soon such an adaptness for business as induced his relative gradually to devolve on him the weightiest [illegible] concern. His steady, upright conduct, in short, and agreeable manners, won the esteem of his uncle, (who was a bachelor,) and thus placed on the high road to fortune. In time, the old man took young Elliott into partnership with him, and, at his death, which occurred a few years afterwards, left him his whole business and fortune, (which last was very considerable) with the exception of a few legacies.

Here, then, was the young man raised, by a combination of his own deserts with favorable circumstances, at twenty-eight or so, to what a person of moderate ambition would call the top of fortune's ladder.

The business left him by his relative was a prosperous one, and in money, lands, and securities of various kinds, he might, besides, be worth nearly twenty thousand pounds. For two or three years after this matters went on exceedingly well with Mr. Elliot. He was a man of consequence upon Change, and his credit was unbounded—this last circumstance not more owing to his wealth than to the excellence of his character, which was honourable and upright to the last degree. He was, moreover, generous and benevolent, and had ever a ready hand for the relief of the necessitous. These qualities, however, though they gained him the universal esteem and respect of his fellow-men, could not shield him from those reverses that chequer human life. A series of losses by shipwreck, and of extensive failures in the city, reduced him in a few years to bankruptcy, and set him precisely in the situation of life whence he had set out. But he was a bankrupt in fortune only, not in fame—His excellent character still remained to him, and now stood him in good stead.

During all this time, Mr. Elliot continued to reside in his late uncle's house—now his own, however, which was at the distance of about half a mile from the counting room. He had taken up his abode there when he came to London first, and there he still remained. In going to and from the counting house to his residence, a road which he had now traversed several times a day for many years, Mr. Elliot had to pass a certain corner, at which was stationed a cripple mendicant, who had occupied the post for upwards of twenty years. To this needy and unfortunate person Mr. Elliott had been exceedingly generous in the days of his prosperity; throwing him a shilling several times a week, but not unfrequently making it half a crown; for he was taken with the modest demeanor of the man, who never sought the charity he gave.—But from this benevolent practice Mr. Elliot was compelled to desist, when this reverse came upon him and to pass his old pensioner without putting his hand in his pocket. He still, however, gave him a trifle now and then; but it was latterly more proportioned to his means than his disposition, and was given, besides, only at long intervals. Thus, then, matters stood between Mr. Elliot and the beggar, and thus they stood for several weeks, when, as the former was returning home one evening in the dusk (it was in the month of October) the mendicant, who was just in the act of leaving his station, as Mr. Elliot passed, called after him by his name. Surprised that the man should have known it, a little irritated at the interruption, Mr. Elliot turned sharply round, and demanded to know what was wanted.

"You have not been so kind to me of late Mr. Elliot," said the cripple with a smile. "There are reasons for everything," replied the former, "and of course, one for that too. I am not so able now to relieve you as I was." "I know that said the beggar. "Indeed," replied Mr. Elliot more and more surprised at his and the knowledge of his circumstances which the cripple seemed to possess. "Pray, how do you happen to know that?" "It doesn't matter," said the mendicant; "I do know it, and I am sorry for it; but I am not certain that, poor and humble as I am, I could not be of some service to you in your present difficulties If you could think, Mr. Elliot, of calling at No. 26 Crutched Friars, to-morrow evening, at eight o'clock, I could perhaps introduce you to a friend from whom you might hear of something to your advantage. Will you do this?"

Confounded by the singularity of this address it was some seconds, before Mr. Elliot could make any reply. At length thinking there could be no harm in making the call to which he was invited, however strange the circumstances, he replied, "that he had no objection—that he certainly would." "Well," said the little old beggar, for he was a man of diminutive stature, "do so, and enquire for John Johnstone.—Recollect John Johnstone," and he hobbled away.

The appointment which he had thus made, Mr. Elliot resolved to keep—not from any idea whatever that it could possibly produce any benefit to him, but from sheer curiosity to know in what it would end. On the following night, accordingly, he made his way to Crutched Friars; having previously [illegible], however, at an early period in the afternoon, that the little old beggar was not, as usual, at his station. The number to which he had been directed, Mr. Elliot at once found: it was a neat, genteel, green painted door. He rapped. A modest, well dressed servant girl opened the door. He said he had come there by appointment to meet a Mr. John Johnstone. He was instantly admitted, and shown into a small but remarkably clean and well furnished apartment. Knowing nothing of the person whose house he was in, Mr. Elliot had no idea who he was to see. What was his surprise, then, when after he had been seated for a few minutes, his old friend the cripple, entered the apartment, but now so clean, even handsomely dressed, that it was some seconds before he recognised him.—The old man smiled at Mr. Elliot's surprise, but requested him to be seated. When he had done so, the former sat down opposite him. "Now, Mr. Elliot," he said, "let us proceed to business at once. I am, myself, the person whom I proposed to you to meet, and I will begin by giving you a brief sketch of whom and what I am.

"I am a countryman of your own, Mr. Elliot, and a native of the same place. I thus knew all your relations perfectly, and I knew them to be respectable people. I was bred a brick-layer, and in that capacity came to London about twenty years ago. Soon after my settlement in the metropolis, I had the misfortune to fall from a scaffold, and was by the accident lamed as you now see me. Incapacitated for working, and seeing my wife and children starving around me, for I was already married and had several children, I resolved on adopting the last resource of the destitute—to solicit charity on the public streets. In pursuance to this resolution, I sought a distant corner—there where you found me—took my station, and soon my receipts were considerable, much more perhaps than you would readily believe. Thus encouraged, there I have remained ever since; and the result is that I am now worth a sum that cannot be called trifling. My wife and all my children, excepting one daughter, have been dead these many years. Now Mr. Elliot," added the old man, "I have a proposal to make to you, no more of it,—We will part as good friends as ever, notwithstanding. You were generous Mr. Elliot, when you had the means and I know your character to be all that is honorable, and these are the reasons that have induced me to take this step. But before I make the proposal I spoke about, Mr. Elliot," continued the old man, at the same time stretching his hand towards the bell-pull, "you must see my daughter." He rang, and the latter soon after entered the apartment, a modest, beautiful, and sparently educated girl.

Mr. Elliot was introduced to her by her father, and a conversation ensued, which discovered to the former that the young lady—for such she was at least by manners and education—was indeed all she appeared to be. After she had remained in the apartment for about half an hour, "Now my dear," said her father, addressing her, "do you retire and prepare a little supper for us, as I have something to say to our friend Mr. Elliot here." When she had withdrawn, "Now, sir, that you have seen my daughter," said the old man, addressing Mr. Elliot. "I feel—but it may be parent's partiality—more confidence in making my proposal to you. The proposal is—and I beg you will not be startled by it, but just take it all easy, for as I said before, if it does not suit you, you have only to say so—that you should marry the girl whom you have just seen, and I will give you, on the day of your marriage, five thousand pounds! Now take time to consider it, I neither expect nor require an immediate answer on a question so important to you; but if you do not decide unfavorably on the instant, let me know the result of your reflections on the subject as soon as you conveniently can. You will no doubt, at first consider it a degrading alliance, perhaps the very proposal degrading to you; but such an idea would not stand the test of reasoning. Notwithstanding my lowly station in life my daughter has been brought up in comfort, I may say affluence, and has had the best education which London can afford. I have spared no expense upon her and I believe there are few accomplishments becoming her sex, of which she is not possessed; and I hope I need scarcely add, that she is as amiable and virtuous as she is accomplished."

Availing himself of the offer of time for reflection on this most unexpected and most extraordinary proposal, Mr. Elliot said—for he certainly was startled by it, and was by no means reconciled on the instant to marry the daughter of a street beggar, even with five thousand pounds in her pocket—"that he was much obliged by the proposal, that he felt exceedingly grateful for it, and that he would certainly take the matter into his consideration, and let him know the result in a day or two."

"Ay, do so, do so," said the old man again extending his hand to the bell-pull. "Now, no allusion to what we've been talking about; not a word," he added, and he rang. His daughter again entered. In a short time after, a neat, nay, even elegant supper was served, and a bottle of excellent wine followed. The repast, of which the old medicant's beautiful and accomplished daughter did the honors, afforded Mr. Elliot an opportunity of further studying her merits, and these he found of so pleasing a character, that he sensibly felt his repugnance to look on her in the light of his future wife, rapidly subsiding. He found her, in short, all that he could desire in a companion of life; and a few more visits, which he contrived to make subsequently, on various pretences, without her father's presence, confirmed him of the opinion which the first interview inspired.

In less than a fortnight after, Mr. Elliot led, in the phrase of the newspapers, the fair Isabella Johnstone to the hymenial altar, and, on the same day, eight thousand pounds, in receipts of the bank of England, were put into his hands by the father of his bride. He had increased his daughter's portion by three thousand, saying to his worthy son-in-law:

"I have done this Mr. Elliot, because I wish you to pay off all your creditors in full, (Mr. Elliot had previously informed him that somewhere about three thousand would do this,) by doing which, you will recover all your former credit, and get on perhaps as well as ever."

With this proposition, which accorded so well with his own honourable disposition Mr. Elliot eagerly closed. He paid off all his debts, began business anew and aided, soothed, and cheered by the society of an amiable and affectionate wife, for such she proved, he found himself again in flourishing circumstances, and finally died one of the most wealthy men in London.

Mr. Elliot left a son by his marriage, an only child, whose name may be recognised as a principal partner in one of the oldest and most respectable banking houses in the metropolis.—Chambers' Journal.

RUSSIAN INTOLERANCE.—An English paper says:—"Our readers may be surprised to hear of the latest Russian ukase, forbidding Jews in Poland to wear their usual long gowns, national caps, and ringlets. If so, they will be more surprised to learn the reason for this wonderful decree. The ukase itself does not pretend to the merit of novelty or originality, being the exact copy of Jewish costume entirely forbidden—except one issued long ago by the Governor-General Paskiewicz. It contains some rather remarkable passages. Even distinct prescriptions are added respecting the costume to be substituted, which must be orthodox Russian, viz., a long coat covering the knees, and loose trowsers wore inside the boots. Free Jews are generously not compelled to wear the Russian servants' dress. If they prefer the modern—or, as the ukase has it, 'German' style, they must not grow a beard but have their chins quite bare. Cases of disobedience are threatened with imprisonment for an uncertain length of time. Jewesses experience still more severe treatment, being without exception interdicted the continuance of the old costume, and the fashion of wearing ribbons in the hair. They must cover their hair with caps or bonnets, and only such as are laid or suffering from diseases of the skin are allowed the use of perukes. In other cases the practice of shaving the head is forbidden, and the police are empowered at any time to examine Jewesses as to whether they wear their own hair or false ringlets. The penalty imposed upon any breach of this commandment is limited to five roubles. Now the reason for this singular decree is no other than the patriotic conduct displayed by German Jews during late Franco German war, fighting as bravely and contributing money as liberally as any Christian. The Emperor of all the Russians in his Salvonic wisdom attributes this satisfactory result to the common costume of Jews and Christians in Germany and is bent upon trying the same experiments in his dominions. Whether it is likely to be successful, or occidental skepticism must be allowed to doubt. But if the decree appears to be despotic and mediæval to our readers, we remind them that, as late as 1851, some German governments made the wearing of a full beard penal, on account of its being an emblem of democracy.

INDIAN DESCRIPTION OF AN EARTHQUAKE.—When the natives of India begin to express their thoughts in English, they display a wonderful aptitude for the fine writing. Among the best specimens of this instructive style which we have lately seen is one recently quoted in the Pall Mall Gazette from the Indian Daily News—an English paper. A native correspondent writes to describe the effect of an earthquake which visited Bengal last month, and he does it in the following "graphic" manner:—"Just at 5 a. m. this morning before I got out of my bed suddenly it was felt that my breast and whole body began to tremble at first shock at which I was awakened and considered myself any sickness would have affected over me which made me such restless. I sleeping at second storied room which began to shake, but upon doubt that noise comes out like melting machine was mouse or rat jumping from this corner to the other immediately after such noise, a second shock was felt with such violence that door was shut—began to push as I was alarmed to call out my servant for assistance if anybody came to rob me, then asked, who are you? no answer was received then, it was imagined that it was merely an earthquake, which brought in my memorandum to read from many newspapers that at different countries by earthquake the several high and small buildings are thrown down which stiked my heart so much that I instantly came out of my bed room to an open terrace that I might save myself from falling under the building, then at first one blowed his shank, then many other noises was heard, then my inward shaking was perceived more than an hour to be lasted."

THE BISMARCK ARMS.—At the front entrance of Prince Bismarck's villa in Pomerania, the eye is arrested by the inscription of the Bismarck Arms. It consists of a clover leaf entwined by three nettle leaves, and concerning which the following story is chronicled:—Long ago, Gertrude, of the Bismarcks beautiful Pomeranian Princess was sought in marriage by hundreds of suitors from all parts of the country, who admired her as much for becoming manners as for her exquisite beauty. These attentions she respectfully declined, and was finally betrothed, by consent of her parents, to a first cousin; when from the German Ocean there came a great noblemen, a lord, accompanied by a hundred horsemen, seeking her hand in marriage. She having refused, the Wiendish Prince became enraged that he called his horsemen around him and thus spoke:—"I will break this clover leaf with my own hand. Yes, it there was a nettle to boot, however, much pain it would give me. I would break it; he then and there took the castle by storm and slew Gertrude's father He then approached Gertrude's room and thus addressed her:—"I came to break you, you golden clover of my heart, you are no nettle and do not sting. the clover leaf causes no pain;" and with perfect surety of gaining his prize embraced the lovely Gertrude. But oh! horror, he sunk to the floor weltered in his own blood with a cry of mercy on his lips, for the fair princess had stabbed him to the heart with a dagger she had concealed about her person. "Sadly mistaken," said she; "I am a nettle when I will, and can sting, and so do nettle ever sting the one who break a clover leaf of the Bismarck's."

Truth will never die; the stars will grow dim, the sun will pale his glory, but truth will be forever young. Integrity, uprightness, honesty, love, goodness, there are all imperishable. No grave can ever entomb these immortal principals. They have been in prison, but they have been freer than before; —those who have enshrined them in their heart have burned at the stake, but out of their ashes other witnesses have arisen. No sea can drown, no storm can wreck, no abyss can swallow up the ever living truth of God. You cannot kill goodness, and truth, and integrity, and faith and holiness; the way that is consistent with these must be a way everlasting.—Spurgeon.

Honesty the best policy.

Say little—think much—do more.

A FAITHFUL HISTORY.

The history of King Alcohol is a history of shame and corruption, of cruelty, crime, rage and ruin.

He has taken the glory of health from off the cheek and placed there the reddish hue of the wine cup.

He has taken the lust from the eye and made it dim and bloodshot.

He has taken beauty and comliness from the face and left it ill shaped and bloated.

He has taken strength from the limbs and made them weak and tottering.

He has taken firmness and elasticity from the steps and made it faltering and treacherous.

He has taken vigor from the arm and left flabbiness and weakness.

He has taken vitality from the blood and filled it with poison and seeds of disease and death. He has transformed his body, fearfully and wonderfully and majestically made, God's master piece of animal mechanism, into a vile, loathsome, stinking mass of humanity.

He has entered the brain—the temple of thought—dethroned reason, and made it reel with folly.

He has taken the beam of intellfgence from out the eye, and exchanged for it the stupid stare of idiocy and dullness.

He has taken the impress of ennobled manhood from off the face and left the marks of sensuality and brutishness.

He has bribed the tongue to utter madness.

He has turned the lips to songs of ribaldry and reveling.

He has taken cunning from the hands and turned them from deeds of usefulness to become instruments of brutality and murder.

He has broken the ties of friendship and planted the seeds of enmity.

He has made a kind indulgent father a brute, a tyrant, a murderer.

He has transformed the loving mother into a very fiend of brutish incarnation.

He has made obedient and affectionate sons and daughters the breakers of hearts and the distroyers of homes.

He has taken luxuries from off the table and has compelled man to cry on account of famine, and beg for bread.

He has stripped backs of their broadcloth and silk, and clothed them with rage.

He has stolen men's palaces and given them wretched hovels in exchange.

He has taken away acres and given not even a decent burial place in death.

He has filled our streets and byways with violence ond lawlessness.

He has complicated our laws, and crowded our courts.

He has filled to overflowing our penetentiaries and houses of correction.

He has peopled with his multitude our poorhouse.

He has straightened us for room in our insane asylums.

He has filled our world with tears and groans, with poor and helpless, with wretched and want.

He has taken away faith, hope and charity, and given despair, infidility, enmity and all the emotions and deeds of wickedness.

He has banished Christ from the heart, and erected a hell within.

He has wrecked and enfeebled the bodies, shattered and destroyed the mind, imperiled and damned the souls of our fellowmen.

These are the counts of our indictment. Let the world judge of the truth

Every good act is a flower which will beautify our final home

Thou wilt always rejoice in the evening if thou spend the day profitably.

Educate the whole man—the head, the heart, the body; the head to think, the heart to feel, and the body to act.

Look on slanderers as direct enemies to evil society; as persons without honor, honesty or humanity. Whoever entertain you with the faults of others, designs to serve you in the same manner.

Charity is never lost. It may be of no service to those it is bestowed on, yet it ever does a work of beauty and grace upon the heart of the giver.

Youth and age have too little sympathy with each other. If the young would remember that they may be old, and the old remember that they have been young, the world would be happier.

The sign bearing the protrait of General Wolfe, which swings in front of the merrimac Hotel in Newburport, mass., is one hundred and twenty years old. The portrait has frequently been repainted, but the original signboard still swings.

SIZE OF GREAT LAKES.—The latest measurement of fresh water seas are as follows:

The greatest length of lake Superior is 335 miles; its greatest breadth is 160 miles; mean depth, 900 feet; elevation, 274 feet; area, 23,000 square miles.

The greatest length of Lake Michigan is three hundred and ninety miles; greatest breadth, 108 miles; mean dept 900 feet elevation 274 feet; area, 23,000 square miles.

The great length of Lake Huron is 200 miles; its greatest breadth, 160 miles; mean depth, 600 feet; elevation 174 feet; area, 20,000 square miles.

The greatest length of Lake Erie, is 350 miles; its mean depth is 84 feet; elevation 555 feet; area, 6000 miles.

The greatest length of Lake Ontario is 170 miles; greatest breadth, 95 miles; mean depth, 500 feet; elevation, 264 feet; area, 6000 square miles.

STRANGE DECEPTION.—On Monday, at the Manchester County Police Court, says a Liverpool paper of a late date, two men were brought up in custody, charged with being drunk and disorderly. Superintendent Bent said one of the two men in the dock was a woman. When arrested on Sunday morning both prisoners were respectably attired in male costume. While they where at the police station witness was struck with the appearance of the smaller of the two, and, after looking closely at the prisoner, said, "Why, you are a woman." The prisoner stoutly denied the charge, but shortly afterwards, on being closely pressed, admitted the fact and told a remarkable story of her adventures. She said that sixteen years ago she and her husband were schoolmasters and schoolmistress at a national school in Gloucester. Her husband lost his situation through drinking, and subsequently they both learnt the art of house painting Her husband made her cut off her hair and sell it: dress herself as a man and go about the country with him. She had worked with men on high buildings in London, without fear of detection. She had been separated from her husband for some years and the other prisoner was her nephew, and she always passed as his uncle. The usual penalty of 5s. and costs was inflicted and the prisoner went off in her male attire.

A Fragment of a Novel.

When President Grant first appointed Indian agents, we wrote a novel for the purpose of showing how great might be the evils which would result from the selections of friends for such a purpose. We attempted to depict the perplexity and awkwardness of the situation, a young Quaker Indian agent should fall in love with a Shoshone squaw, for instance. The story was printed, but the myrmidons of the Government suppressed all of the edition that could be found. We are going to republish the thrilling part now, and we hurl defiance into the faces of the minions of the sanguinary despot who attempts to crush us with the iron heel of tyranny.—The public shall have the nagrative if we are carried to the dungeon to-morrow loaded with manacles. We will begin with a love scene which is intended to illustrate the inevitable embarassment of a Friend in such a situation. The squaw speaks first Her real name is Kush-e-wash-e-naw, or the "Pride of McGinnis's Dam."

"Do you love me, then, dearest?" she, fondly said, nestling on his unplated bosom.

"Yes, ma'am!" said Archibald, (who was the Quaker Indian agent.)

"Swear by you moon—no, the moon isn't out, swear by you bright stars you love me," she softly whispered.

"I don't swear, I affirm," he said in endearing accents of affection.

"I am loved by another, a Shoshonee brave with thin legs and a sardonic smile. Say, my only Archibald, will you kill him?"

"I can't, I'm a peace man;" said Archibald, as if he was glad of it.

"Well, then, dearest, let us go to my father's wigwam and talk the matter over, and prove your steadfastness to your principles by smoking the calumet of peace."

That is what the squaw said—what the Indian girl with the hard name remarked to the young Friend, remember.

"But I don't smoke; it makes me sick!" remarked Archibald.

"And you will not join us to-night around our council fire, and learn to love the customs of my people?" she asked, with an anxious sigh.

"I'm much obliged, but I don't dance, it's against our discipline," he said, and he heaved a sigh.

"Well, then, my only one, at least accept this little ring from me, and let me bore a hole with a bradawl, so you can wear it sweetly dangling from your nose."

"I believe not; I daren't wear jewelry."

"Never mind, dearest," said she. It is as well as it is. Father will get you a situation to beat the war drum and inspire our braves with the glad music of battle."

"Excuse me, I beg to decline. I'm down on glad music of battle, I'm down on music of any kind."

The love-light faded out of the soft brown eyes of the Pride of McGinnis's dam for a moment, and she looked as if she was real mad. But presently she smiled sweetly and said:

"Come, then, to my home, and let me toy with your raven hair, and plait it as our braves do theirs, and decorate it with gaudy feathers."

"If it makes no difference to you," he said, "I'd rather not. I have conscientious scruples against taking off my hat."

"Well, then, let us fly to your people, and I will become as you are. But will you not take me sometimes to the circus, and the theatre and other places, darling?"

"I should think not. I never visit places of amusement," etc.

Thus did these two young lovers, each happy in the fullness of each other's love, beguile the happy moments as they fled from time's unerring glass, and seemed to have a first rate time.

This is all of the novel we shall publish. But we may as well say that Archibald was finally converted, and abandoning his brave. The story has a moral which we desire to impress upon those misguided persons who approve of sending Friends amongst the Indians. If the hearts of any such are touched by this little tale of real life, our object will have been attained, and we will have been well paid for the sleepless nights

V. R.

EAST and WEST RIDINGS

OF PETERBOROUGH.

The Reformers of the County of Peterborough will hold a

REFORM DEMONSTRATION!

ON THE

7th of June Next,

AT PETERBOROUGH.

Messrs. Blake, McKenzie and O'Donohoe

Have promised to be present, Other prominent Reformers have been invited.

AN OPEN AIR MEETING!

WILL BE HELD IN THE AFTERNOON, AND

A BANQUET

WILL BE GIVEN IN THE EVENING.

It is expected that most of the supporters of Liberal Government in the County will be present. All are cordially invited

GEO. T. LEONARD, Secretary.

D. W DUMBLE, Chairman of Com.

Peterborough, May 10, 1871. 19

NEW WOOLEN MILL.

To the Farmers and Merchants of the County of Peterboro:

The subscribers would respectfully beg to intimate that the Old Woolen Mill, once owned and carried on by the late James Harvey, Esq., afterwards by Mr. Daniel Brook, has been put in a

A THOROUGH STATE OF REPAIR,

And is now filled with New Machinery, got up expressly for the Manufacture of

Blankets, Flannels, Full Cloths, Tweeds, &c.

A large assortment of the above goods of our own make, are now on hand, and will be sold Cheap for Cash, or Exchanged for wool. Special attention will be given to the Custom Department, which is in perfect order for the Manufacture of Farmer's Blankets, Roll Carding and Fulling.

JOHN WHYTE, AUGUSTUS SAWERS.

N. B.—We will pay the Highest price in Cash for any quantity of Good Clean Wool delivered at the mill.

J. W. A. S.

To my old friends in particular, and the public in general:

I am now back in the Old Mill, with Messrs. Whyte & Sawers, and have got a Large Room all to myself With a splendid

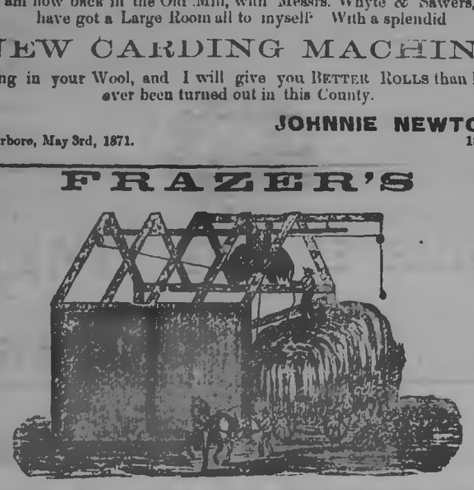
NEW CARDING MACHINE

Bring in your Wool, and I will give you BETTER ROLLS than have ever been turned out in this County.

JOHNNIE NEWTON.

Peterboro, May 3rd, 1871. 18

FRAZER'S



PATENT MACHINE.

FOR RAISING

Hay, Peas, Barley & Merchandise

Price of Car, $10; paid in October next. Cash on delivery, $9. Warranted to work satisfactorily when properly put up. Instruction given with every Machine. County or Township Rights sold on favorable terms.

WM. FRAZER,
Glenwilliams P. O., Ont.
Patentee and Manufacturer.

CERTIFICATE.

I have used Mr. Frazer's Machine for raising Peas, Hay, &c., and I find it one of the best of the kind I ever saw. I would not part with it at all. Besides, if any farmer in this County shall purchase one of them and put it up properly, it dissatisfied after a fair trial, I will take the Machine back and repay him.

JAMES MILLAR,
Reeve of Otonabee.

Otonabee, May 10th, 1871. — 19-3ins.

CHANGE OF BUSINESS

New Foundry Firm.

The Subscriber in retiring from the Foundry Business in which he has been engaged for the past 15 years, begs to return thanks to his friends and the public in general, for the liberal patronage conferred upon him, at the same time he would beg to state that the business in future will be carried on by his BROTHER JAMES and JAMES R. DAVIS, under the firm of Whyte & Davis. Mr. Davis is well known as a First Class Machinist and Millwright, therefore I have every confidence in recommending the New Firm to the public, feeling assured that all orders entrusted to them will be executed in the most satisfactory manner, and with dispatch.

JOHN WHYTE.

Peterborough, April 1st, 1871.

N. B.—Parties having Notes and Accounts to settle, will please bear in mind that the Books of account and Notes will be at my Woolen Mill, West of Whyte & Hamilton's Foundries.—J. W.

The Subscribers having Commenced Business in the Old Stand of John Whyte, Esq., as (Founders, Machinists and Agricultural Implement Manufacturers,) beg to say that they keep on hand all kinds of

AGRICULTURAL IMPLEMENTS,

SUCH AS

STEEL, COMMON, AND GANG PLOWS, HARROWS, ROOT CUTTERS, CULTIVATORS, HORSE HOES, GARDEN AND FIELD ROLLERS, HAY AND STRAW CUTTERS, with almost every Implement used on the Farm.

General Repairing of Reapers, Mowers, Threshing Machines and Implements of Husbandry on the Shortest Notice.

Parties about purchasing any of the above Implements will do well to call and inspect our Stock on hand, before making a purchase elsewhere.

WHYTE & DAVIS

Peterborough, April 1st, 1871. 15-tf.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

Scottish Imperial Fire Insurance Company.—Walter Beal.

For sale.—John Haggart.

Pasturage—J. Edwards.

The Peterborough Examiner

PETERBOROUGH, MAY 18, 1871.

Editorial Items.

Miss McPherson with 150 of her juveniles has arrived at Quebec.

The Court of Revision for the Town of Peterborough, commenced to-day at 10 a. m.

The improvements in Town are going on somewhat extensively. New buildings are going up everywhere, and the present promises to be a busy year. We are pleased to observe such substantial tokens of material prosperity in our good town.

The most encouraging reports come from all quarters of the magnificent appearance of the growing fall wheat. Should no untoward event occur, the yield will be the largest yet on record. Not only does the yield per acre, promise well, but the breadth sown is very large.

The weather continues cold and backward for the season. On Sunday night last, there was a pretty hard frost. The trees are long in putting out leaves—the wheat and grass, however, are growing fine, and the prospect of an abundance of fruit is very promising—should the frosts not intervene.

The civil war in France seems drawing to a close. The Versailles Government are slowly but steadily gaining the advantage of the Insurgents, and it is to be hoped that some Government will be formed, able to rule and control the conflicting elements which exist in that unhappy nation.

A MUSICAL TREAT.—Mr. Frederick Boscovitz, Pianist to the King of Portugal, intends visiting Peterborough, about the first of June, with other professionals, both ladies and gentlemen, to give one Grand Concert. We are sure Mr. Boscovitz will be greeted with a crowded house, as all lovers of music will avail themselves of this opportunity of hearing one of the best pianists in the world. Timely notice of the concert will be given.

A sad case occurred on Monday evening at Mr. Campbell's Ashery. His man—Robert Wilson, who has for some time past scattered ashes, had gone to the stable to put up his horse in the evening, and not going home to his tea, after the usual time, search was made for him, and at about 1 o'clock, Mr. Campbell and Wilson's daughter found him in a sort of canal leading from the River to the ashery. When found his head was out of the water but he was quite dead.

A coroner's inquest was held, and on examination it appeared, that Mr. Wilson was seen that evening the worse of liquor The jury brought in a verdict to the effect that deceased had met his death by [illegible] was an industrious man, and is not known as being at all addicted to drink.

Treaty of Washington.

Now that we have the full text of this celebrated Document before us, we are in a position to give our opinion upon it.—Leaving the matters affecting more particularly the United States and the Imperial interests, such as the Alabama Claims, and the claims of British subjects, we will confine our attention to what more chiefly concerns us: Colonists.

Chief among these is the Fishery question—a subject that has already caused a good deal of dissatisfaction in Canada, and as agreed upon, will yet create we fear, more discontent. It appears that the privilege granted by the Convention held in London in 1818, to the American Fishermen to catch fish off certain coasts of British America, cure their fish and dry their nets on shore, has been a fruitful source of bad blood between the people of the two nations, one insisting that the three mile limit meant—three miles from the shore. The British fishermen contending on the other hand that this limit was from headland to headland, and not a line drawn 3 miles from the sinuosities of the coast. Then, again, American fishermen were continually coming within the prescribed line. Several of their crafts have been captured by British Cruisers, and a vast amount of ill-feeling has existed by one party that their vessels should be captured, and by the other that being allowed so much they should insist upon more.

Many American journals have again and again denounced not only the course of the British authorities in punishing the offenders, but their own government as well for tolerating such a state of affairs and insisting upon enforcing their "rights."

The course pursued by the High Commission at their late sitting at Washington on this Fishery question would lead to the supposition that they considered their claim to these "rights" well founded, as they have given the American fishermen equal rights with the British to catch sea fish, for the paltry consideration of reciprocity between the two countries in fish and fish oils, for a period of ten years. It being however acknowledged that the Americans have the better of the bargain, and for which a sum of money is proposed to be paid by them as a Commission to be appointed may determine. A general impression prevails that this cannot and will not be an equivalent. Our neighbours have long looked upon our fisheries with an envious eye, and to enjoy them in common with us, they would have made any reasonable sacrifice. A fine opportunity we think presented itself for our high contracting party to have insisted upon a quid pro quo in the shape of a general reciprocity treaty. We have wondered what our Premier did when this matter came up for discussion. Did he faithfully stand up for his country—or did he betray us for personal considerations? We await further developments for fear of blaming wrongfully.—Then we have another matter long clamoured for by our neighbours, and that is the free navigation of the St. Lawrence from the 45th parallel of latitude, and the right to use our Canals. These points the Dommission so far as they can do have yielded, and for a compensation, have given us the use of the St. Clair Flats Canal and the free navigation of Lake Michigan, with liberty to fish in American waters, this side of 30. But like many other bargains, it is too much one sided. The free navigation of the St. Lawrence from 45 downwards, and of the rivers Yucon, Porcupine and Stickine, are to remain free and open forever, but the free navigation of Lake Michigan is limited to 10 years, or as long as the free use of the fisheries is enjoyed.

The Government of Britian is engaged to urge upon the Government of the Dominion to allow the free use of the Dominion Canals, and the Government of the United States engages that British subjects shall enjoy the use of the St Clair Flats Canal on terms of equality with the inhabitants of the "Dominion." This last word is surely an error, and is intended for "United states" else there is no sense in it—and the latter Government further engages to urge upon the State Government to secure to British subjects the use of the several State Canals connected the navigation of the Lakes and Rivers contiguous to the boundary line on terms of equality with the inhabitants of the United States At the expiration of ten years either party may give the other notice of a desire to terminate this treaty. This, however, cannot take place for two years after notice is thus given—Then the liberty to the Americans to fish ceases—then our right to navigate Lake Michigan, and possibly the use of the St. Clair Falls and other Canals also ceases

But our neighbours will have the free navigation for ever of the St. Lawrence, and the Rivers named, to the sea.

As far as we are concerned our neighbors have got the better of us, and a fine opportunity lost of securing an arrangement of commerce that would equally benefit us and them.

Whether Sir John A. Macdonald quietly sat by and allowed our rights to be thus sacrificed, or whether he entered his protest against the transfer, remains to be seen. One thing is certain, we may abandon all hopes of a Reciprocity Treaty for at least 12 long years; and come what will we have lost forever valuable consideration if a new treaty comes up again.

It is true that the treaty has to receive the ratification of the Government of both Countries—which there is no doubt it will. All the Dominion Government can do, if they think proper, is to refuse the use of our canals, as recommended—which would be something like showing our teeth while unable to bite.

North Monaghan Council.

North Monaghan, May 13th, 1871.

The members of the council met as a Court of Revision on the Assessment Roll. The clerk informed the court that he had received no appeals, but that there were applications from George T. Leonard and J. Hartly, Esquires, to have additional lots, or portion of lots added to their assessments. A communication was received from Mr. J. Tully, noticing the non-posting of a copy of the Assessment Roll in the Municipality. The clerk stated that he had arranged for doing what was complained of, but found it had been neglected. As a large amount of Township business [illegible] be performed in one day, there having been no meeting of Council since 24th of February, it was considered advisable under circumstances to adjourn the court to the the 22nd instant, which was accordingly done.

COUNCIL MEETING.

All the members present, the Reeve in the chair, minutes of the last meeting were read and confirmed.

PETITIONS AND COMMUNICATIONS.

A large number of petitions and communications asking for assistance to repair roads and bridges, as well as for charities were received and read. Also an application from the Protestant Home, soliciting assistance for the funds of the Institution, as relief had been given to several indigent persons, residents of the township. A printed circular was received from Hon. John Carling, Minister of Agricultural and Public Works relative to Immigrants, and wishing to know the probable number that could be employed in the municipality. Fifty males and a like number of females were applied for.

MOTIONS.

Moved by Mr. Birney, seconded by Mr. Robson, that the Municipal Council of North Monaghan fully recognise the benefits conferred by the ladies of the Protestant Home, but in consequence of having expended so much in charities during the past and present years—all claims having been attended to—regret their inability to comply with the request made for assistance, and that the clerk notify accordingly. Carried.

Mr. Robert Goodfellow received permission to address the council, and satisfactorily explained why he refused accepting the office of Assessor for the present year. When it was moved by Mr. Brownscombe, seconded by Mr. Robson, that after having heard Mr. Goodfellow's explanation, Councillor Tully is exhonerated from all blame in the matter.—Carried.

On the motion of Mr. Birney the resignations of Mr. Allum, Pound-keeper, and Mr. G. Moncrief, Overseer of Highways, were occupied, and a By-law passed appointing Mr. James Brown in the place of the latter.

At the suggestion of the Reeve, a motion was passed that in future no money shall be granted for road improvements except same be opened to the proper width, and as near as practicable to the centre.

The Reeve and Councillors Birney and Robson were appointed a committee to see after the bridge at Dunlop's and report at the next meeting.

ORDERS ON THE TREASURER.

Mrs. Glynn and Mrs. Hayes, each $5; charities under the superintendence of the Reeve, and $6 25 for a barrel of flour under charge of Mr. Brownscombe.

ROAD APPROPRIATIONS.

Road Div. No.	2	under Wm Lockie	$10
"	5	" Jos. Foster	10
"	9	" Chas. Brady	10
"	10	" John Lillico	10
"	15	" R Northcott	15
"	29	" M. Walton	5
"	6	quarter line between lots six and seven in the 11th concession.	$10; to be expended under the superintendance of Mr. Joseph Foster.

A memorial to the Lieutenant Governor was adopted, praying his Excellency not to annex the park lots of Monaghan to the corporation of Peterborough.

Some undisposed of business was ordered to remain over to the next meeting of the council.

On the motion of Mr. Tully the council adjourned to the 22nd instant, at 1 o'clock, then to meet as an adjourned Court of Revision on the Assessment Roll, and for other business.

Court of Revision.

Smith, 11th May, 1871.

The court of Revision of the Township of Smith, held its first sittings for the current year on the 10th instant. No regular appeal was made, but a commission was received from Wm. Wood, S. Teacher. S. S. No. 4 intimating that the property for which he was assessed was exempt by law.

The court was informed that only one half of the land on which the School House was built was considered to belong to the School House and the other half to his Teacher's Residence, consequently the assessment was confirmed.

After making some small alterations at the request of parties who have made certain arrangements the roll was passed.

IN COUNCIL.

Mr. Hilliard stated that the closing up of that part of the road at the rear of the lots of the Communication Road which leads from the River Road to the river, in a certain degree, stopped the ingress and egress to part of his property and hoped the council would endeavor to have it re-opened.

The Reeve, Clerk and Mr. Hilliard were deputed to take legal advice in the matter.

A petition from Alexander Roxborough and 18 others, and from Wm. McCall and 31 others praying that certain F. S. be remodelled were received and read.

Laid over until next meeting of Council

The Reeve issued his order on the Treasurer in favour of Mrs. Sarah Moore for the sum of $6.00 and one in favour of Wm. Adams for the price of a barrel of flour.

A memorial to the Lieutenant Governor of Ontario, praying that his Excellency will not assent to the extension of the limits of the Town of Peterborough so as to include certain lots in the Township of Smith, received its several readings and was passed

The receipts and payments of the Treasurer were examined showing a balance on hand of $1044.18. A resolution was passed appointing $900.00 to the repairs of the roads and bridges within the township.

The council then adjourned till Monday the 29th instant.

EMIGRATION.—The emigration now pouring into the United States is both large and of a very valuable character, consisting mostly of men in the prime of their strength, many of them skilled in some handicraft, and all willing to work. One feature deserving of notice is the change of nationality. Before the war the Irish element vastly predominated, but since then the Irish have been exceeded by Germans to whom must be added, during the last year or two, a great Scandinavian immigration. The disastrous war in France, with its dismemberment therefrom of Alsace and Lorraine, will add another feeder to this great European influx of population. An American movement is on foot for the transplanting of a million thousands of emigrants from these lately French Provinces to Southern Virginia, where the soil and climate will be favorable to the industries they have followed at home.

It is hard to refrain from contrasting these vigorous and continued efforts of our neighbors to furnish their country with a useful population, with the conservative indifference of our own Government to the filling up of the waste places. If it be said that the climate and other conditions of the two countries are widely different [illegible] we can only point to the State of Maine with a climate as rigorous as that of Lower Canada, and which has drawn to itself a very large share of this Scandinavian immigration, consisting of woodsmen too, a class of immigrants exactly adapted to its wants. If we cannot hold out some of the inducements which the States can, we offer others which they do not possess. We have a lighter taxation, and in point of freedom we are their equals. Is there nothing in this Dominion calculated to attract Germans and Frenchmen hither? and above all, cannot a greater number of British and Irish immigrants be induced to settle on the Great Western plains to which the Red River Expedition has in a manner given us the entree? If it not be forgotten that each immigrant brings with not only his labor but his wants likewise. These wants can be supplied by those already here. In other words, he is a consumer, and this becomes his merchet. He himself is soon a customer of other demands, and thus, in an ever-widening circle, is the social benefit increased.

One of the causes of so much political trouble in France from time to time, is the reluctance with which a Frenchman emigrates. The Provincials swarm to the Capital or two or three of the provincial cities, work at low wages, produced by keen competition, which precludes the possibility of saving. Should any commercial collapse be suffered by the nation from whatever cause produced, these workmen, unable to dig, ashamed to beg, and not willing to emigrate, fall back on revolution. Their cry to the Government is, "Give us food or we fight; we are the children provide for us." This demand cannot always be complied with, and then riot become revolution, and the country is deluged in blood. Decentralization and emigration is what France requires. The first will depend upon the wisdom of whatever Government assumes the reins of power permanently; the latter has already commenced. The peasantry see the ruined condition of the country, that at least in their day, it cannot be restored to its former power, and they are willing to cross the ocean in hopes of striking out a new existence, This is particularly hard on the Frenchman. He will emigrate to Algeria, which is under the the same denomination as France, or to Louisiana, Havri, Lower Canada, or other French settled places, where the customs, the language, the peculiarities of his own land are reproduced, but the temptation to strike out into the boundless prairies of the West, to erect his own homestead, and wring his food with labor from the soil, is not congenial to his taste. The crowded city with penury, but excitement, has more attraction to the volitile Frenchman, than affluence and the squatter's life. For this reason, we do not think that the U. States authorities, who are holding out special inducements to French immigrants to come to the Western and Southern States, will meet much success, Numbers will doubtless settle in Lower Canada; but the majority of these who emigrate to other lands than their own colonies, will seek the large cities of the States, despite the inducements otherwise offered.—Telegraph.

—BISMARCK has been receiving a great deal of praise of late for making certain concessions, and relieving France of a large moiety of war indebtedness. It was not consistent with his past speeches or his apparent course of action; however, the story came on what seemed good authority and we began to think that the inexorable Chancellor of Prussia, the man of Iate, had a weak point, and that his heart bled to the tune of some million of dollars; but it seems it was all the fiction of some enterprising special. Bismarck has not relented; the payment of the first instalment has been postponed, but abated not a single doit; the Paris forts are not to be immediately given up to the Versailles army, there has been no purchase of French railways, nor, what is more, has the final peace treaty been yet signed, nor won't be till the 20th inst. That implicit trust cannot be always placed in the cablegrams received from France, has been proved more than once or twice within the past few months, and here is another instance.

Imperial Parliament.

HOUSE OF LORDS.

London, May 15.—In the House of Lords to-night.

Earl Russell gave notice of his intention to move an address to the Queen against sanctioning the ratification of the Alabama treaty in case the arbitrators are bound by rules or conditions other than the laws of nations and the English municipal laws existing during the civil war in the United States when the alleged depredations upon American commerce were committed.

Earl Granville defended, against the criticisms of Lord Strathedon, the result the recent conference of the Great Powers upon the Eastern question, by which he affirmed a reasonable settlement of the question in dispute had been secured. Russia was fully satisfied and all the powers concurred in the new policy under which Turkey still retained a stronger naval power in Euxine than Russia had acquired.

The marquis of Salisbury replied to Earl Granville, condemning the action of the Government, which, he said, like America on the Alabama question, should have waited until the end of pending struggle and then demanded satisfaction from Russia for its course in reference to the treaty of Paris

HOUSE OF COMMONS.

London, May, 15.—In the House of Commons to-night.

Viscount Enfield, Under Secretary for Foreign Affairs, said the Government was not prepared to state the exact terms of the document of Washington as a copy of the document had not yet been received.

Mr. Disraeli the [illegible] postponed putting the question to the Government in relation thereto of which he had previously given notice.

Mr. Gladstone stated that the Government was unable to anticipate the exact time of the arrival of the treaty, but promised that it should be instantly submitted to parliament.

London, May 16.—In the house of commons this evening the O'Connor Don, member for Roscommon, submitted that it is inexpedient to continue to inforce the act for the preservation of peace in Ireland after the date originally fixed as its limitation.

Mr. Gathorne Hardy, member for Oxford University, and Mr. Chichester Fortescue, member for Louth, in consideration of the continual lawlessness in Ireland, opposed the motion.

Mr. John Martin, member for Meath, spoke at length in denunciation of English tyranny in Ireland, and claimed the right of self-government for the people of that Island.

In the House of Lords, the bill making drafts and notes maturing on holidays and Sunday payable on the following day, was read twice.

Mormonism in Sombra.

Ever since early last Autum the Latter Day Saints have been holding meetings in in Sombra, Moor and Dawn, and visiting from house to house, from shanty to shanty, and even stoping men on the roads, to inculcate the new doctrine. Neither wet nor stormy weather, not even the mud, kept them from their labors. Their zeal is indeed quite apostolic, although report says not their conduct. They claim to be Josephites that is followers of the original prophet and founder of the body, Joseph Smith. The principal men say the Canadian, is Elder Shipley or Doctor Shipley, or Dentist Shippey, by all of which names he is known, who is a tongueyl ite man about forty-five or fifty, with long black hair, a [illegible] and manner. He has all the mysterious and obscure passages of Sripture at his tongue's end; and does not scruple to make Scripture when what he finds does not suit him. He insists especially that our Saviour promised that all believers should have supernatural gifts; and that this therefore a sure sign that a man is not a follower of Christ if he has not a gift of healing, of prophecy, of casting out evil spirits, or of speaking with tongues; and, of course, those are not true churches whose members do not possess these gifts. Elder Shippey was detected speaking good Ojibbeway for the unknown tongues; this sanctified deceit, in connection with other little affairs, led to him receiving a plentiful coating of molasses upon his long and careful kept locks. Since then molasses is known here as "Mormon Tar." Yet this man and his co-laborers have made many converts during the winter; all of whom testify their sincerity by submitting to be baptized, through a hole in the ice, in the Sydenham.—London Free Press.

The British West India Confederation.

The bill lately introduced by Mr. Gladstone into the House of Commons for the confederation of the Leeward Island, has not received that attention from the cable which its importance demands, but the magnitude of the question with which it deals deserves instead of its being a mere formal step for the conglomeration of a few acres of land and water as Eight from its name be thought, the bill involves the confederation of the Bahamas, the Virgin Island, St Kits, Nevis, Barbadoes, Antigua, Montserrat, Dominica, St. Lucia, Vincent, Grenada, Tobago, Trinidad, Turk's Island, Jamaica, British Honduras, and smaller island, containing an aggregate area of 70,000 square miles and a population of nearly one million souls. Of the details of this great project, nothing is yet known here, but the fact of its introduction at the present moment—when England's difficulties with the United States are being peaceably adjusted, and when the admission of the British West Indies into the Dominion of Canada is being talked about—is a memorable one and portentous of something still more memorable to come. The consummation of this scheme will meet with the strongest hostility from our cousins across the lake. All the love they once had for Texas and Alaska, and which they now possess for Mexico, is as nothing compared to the eagerness with which they have always welcomed schemes—no matter how utopian—for putting them on a good footing in the West Indies. Their efforts in San Domingo and Cuba have been directed to that end, and they must view Mr. Gladstone's scheme with a very evil eye its importance, as affecting American interests, cannot be doubted. It will give Great Britain complete command of the commercial and political resources of that quarter of the world, and virtually make her the full-keeper of the isthmus of Panama. The Guinh will be girt with a chain of British posts effectually cutting our cousins out of any chance for extending their power to the South, and the West India market, in which they had hoped to make a profitable disposal of their surplus commodities, will be in the hands of wealthier traders.—Telegraph.

Among the singular cases which have come before the Court of Bankruptcy in England lately is that of Mr. Vane Milbanke, a young gentleman and spendthrift of twenty-two. Although scarcely out of his teens, he had managed to pile up liabilities to the tune of $150.000, and being unable to discharge them sought relief after the manner of insolvent traders. Mr. Millbank, it appears, will be entitled on the death of the Duke of Cleveland, whose dukedom will then be extinct, to property worth $70,000 a year, and on the death of his father to titles of the value of $500,000 a year. The prospect of his creditors is therefore not hopeless. For some years past the young man has been leading a wonderfully "fast" life, and at one time, according to common report, he was on the eve of contracting marriage with one of the most notoriously disreputable characters of London.

Miscellaneous Items.

It is said that Meaker of Montreal, cleared at least abandred thousand dollars in his recent speculations in Bank of Montreal stock.

A female girl subject to fits was locked up in Hamilton school for five hours, as punishment for speaking to another pupil. The matter is to be investigated.

Messrs. Cochran's foundry and machine shop at Durham, were destroyed by fire on Sunday morning, and about $30.000 worth of property destroyed.

Major O'Reilly was presented with an address and handsome edition of the Bible on Saturday, by the members of Christ Church (Hamilton) choir, of which he is the conductor.

A patch of emigrants from Huron and Bruce arrived at Winnipeg on the 26th ult., and seventy-eight more arrived on the 29th, having made the trip from Fort Abercrombie in 4 days.

The Ottawa Free Press says:—Lumbermen on the Ottawa are paying from $25 to $35 per month and board to hands for driving timber this season. The consequence is the farmers cannot obtain men enough and cannot afford to pay such wages and they have to leave a great deal of the soil uncultivated.

—A model farm has been purchased in Comsted Eastern Townships as the site of an agricultural college, which has received a grant of $80.0 from the Local Government, and $1,500 from the Council of Agriculture. Col. Pomroy, agricultural farmer is president. This gentleman has offered $3,000 towards establishing a Methodist Female College at that place.

A crazy Irishman rushed into the Roman Catholic Church of St Vincent Ferrer Sunday morning during service, and made an attack with a knife upon a man named Scully who happened to stand in his way. When the astonished congregation gathered around him he drew forth an axe and threatened to brain any one who approached. He was disarmed, and it was with difficulty that policemen saved him from being lynched. Scully's wound was severe.

Yesterday afternoon it was believed in Washington that the statement containing the individual views of the members of the Joint High Commission had found its way into print. Alarm was felt, it being thought that the publication of the document would hurt the treaty, but there is no evidence of any such breach of confidence. The Treaty was favorably reported on by the Chairman of the Committee on Foreign Relations, but no debate was entered into. It is said that four members of the Committee favor the Treaty, and three are opposed to it.

London has a daily supply of 98,000,000, gallons of water, furnished by eight companies; but there are considerable anxiety manifested lest this quantity should prove insufficient, and various plans for providing a greater supply are before the parliamentary commission. Mr. Bateman the engineer who constructed the Glasgow water works, proposes 222,000,000 gallons daily from the western slopes of the mountains of Centeral Wales, at a distance of some 205 miles, and at a cost of £11,400,000, or $57.000,000.

A fearful story of suffering is revealed in the report just published by the Gazette of India, of the tirkil or three-fold famine of grass, grain, and rain, which occurred in 1868 and 1869, with frightful sever ty over 100,000 square miles of Rajpootana, surpassing in intensity any which has occurred since 1812, and almost equaling that of 1691, of which the record is preserved that three-quarters of the cattle died, and that man ate man. The scanty crops which [illegible] up in spite of drouth were swept away by a plague of locusts; cholera fastened on the starved people, and terrible fever followed, striking down the entire population. The deaths from this latter alone are put down at 20 per cent. of the inhabitants, while in some of the Marwaree districts they rose as high as one-third. Taking the most moderate of the statistics furnished, the local authorities calculate that in Marwar Ameer and the other districts, no less than 1,250,000 human beings died of disease and starvation. The famines or periods of unusual scarcity which affect Rajpootana have hitherto recurred at intervals of some ten or twelve years.

There is a circumstance connected with the navigation of both the Atlantic and the Pacific ocean which establishes the superiority of the position of British America, or, as we may now say, Canada—on the western continent, and is just beginning to be made manifest in practical acts. A vessel steaming from Liverpool to New York has to pass close to Canadian territory. This is one of the necessities of the navigation. What is the consequence? Why, that a direct line of rail from New York to Halifax is now being constructed, and when completed—as it will be in the Fall of the present year—it will bring New York two days nearer to Europe than at present. New York journals are flattering themselves that their city will not suffer by the opening of this route; but it is not possible that in the face of it "Gotham" will be able to retain its commercial supremacy. Halifax, with its magnificent harbour—there is not a finer one in all the world—is destined to be the great shipping port of the continent if her people will but be true to her destiny. The same thing is true of Victoria, in Vancouver Island, or, it may be, New Westminster, on the mainland. Steamers running between San Francisco and China or Japan must take a route which brings them well up to the British Columbian coast. Put together the distance and time saved on both oceans, in a comparison of routes from Liverpool to Canton; and everything is in favour of Canada. When our Pacific Railroad is built there will be a saving on the through route of at least three thousand miles. This ought to be a strong incentive to us to push on the project of an inter-oceanic railway as rapidly as possible. —Leader.

A STRANGE STORY.—Is not this, related in a private letter from London, rather a remarkable story? About ten years ago a young American from New York, Walter Hastings by name, dining in London with Lord C——— expressed the opinion that solitary confinement in a dark cell was not so dreadful a punishment as had been represented. His Lordship, so goes the tale—offered Hastings £10,000 if he would undergo solitary confinement for ten years. This proposition being agreed to, a cell was fitted up in Lord C———'s town house.—It was from twelve to fifteen feet square. The prisoner was to be allowed candles, a few books, writing materials, plain food—the latter served by a man who was not to be seen. In this way Hastings has been living for a decade of years, his term expired about the 1st of the present month. He is now released, and has received, we suppose, his hard earned money. He emerges from his dungeon in rather a dilapidated condition, appearing, though only thirty-five, like a man of sixty-five years of age, his frame stooping and his steps tottering, his face sallow, his hair and beard white, his voice tremulous and his speech hesitating. He is coming directly to America, and we should not wonder if Mr. Barnum knew something about him. If so, in this respect, the volunteer incarcerated has an advantage over the prisoner of Chillion, who never found his Barnum at all, but only his Byron—and in other respects, over the famous St. Simon Stylites, who remained so long, but at his post, but upon the top of it, looking down with a contemptuous eye upon the admirers who sent him up his [illegible] provender by means of a rope and basket. We can only compare our Walter Hastings with the historical old gentleman who was found very much in need of a hair-dresser, in one of the subterranean dens of the Bastile, and who died soon after being released, and leads do when the splitting of their [illegible] inclosure liberates them.

Floating Islands in Victoria.

Gippsland is a province of Victoria. It is bounded by the Australian Alps on all sides except on the south, which washes it for over one hundred miles. It may be called the Piedmont of Australia, rich fertile plains intersected by rivers flowing into a lake system extending all along the coast and separated from the sea by a sandy ridge, with one navigable opening. A local paper, the Gippsland Times, contains the following description of "floating islands" on the lakes:—

"As one of the Gippsland Steam Navigation Company's steamers was recently crossing Lake Wellington, the man at the wheel suddenly observed land right in the track of the steamer, apparently only a short distance from the straits separating Lakes Wellington and Victoria. He called the captains attention to the strange sight, and on coming up close, the land was discovered to be a small island, about thirty yards in length and twenty broad. It was covered with a rich coating of luxuriant grass; and small trees, tea tree, and bush shrubs appeared to be growing in profusion. The only occupants of this remarkable apparition were a few pigs, feeding away contentedly and apparently enjoying their novel journey by water. A second island of the same description, but much smaller, and was noticed a little farther on, but this had evidently detached itself from the larger piece of land, or most probably had been separated by the rooting depredations of the porkers. From what portion of the main land this floating island came, is of course, a matter of conjecture, but it is known that a portion of the soil at Merriyong Point, on the southern shore of Lake Wellington, became detached recently, and floated miles across the lake with some twenty or thirty head of pigs aboard. As long as the wind drove it in that direction, the island drifted towards M'Lennan's Straits, but a change of wind brought it back again, after a three days' trip, within a mile of the spot from which it had broken away."

The Colored Race in New York.

The citizens of African descent in New York are a power not to be despised, as will be seen from the following facts respecting them, gleaned from the N. Y. Times:

"Their number is estimated at about 10,000, and they have seven well attended Grammar Schools. As a body they are amassing wealth, and investing in real estate and landed property. Those who are not able to buy property in the city are investing in the suburban villages, and a few are possessed of very great wealth. There are seven colored churches in New York, their wealth in the aggregate amounting to $300,000. These are Protestant churches, and are the only churches in the city owned exclusively by the colored people.

The negro race are eminently social, and this social trait helps to fill up their churches and makes themselves more constant church goers than their white brethren. It also leads them to band together in societies, clubs and associations. Very many of them are Free Masons, having lodges, chapters, &c., of their own; but the colored Free Masons in the United States are not recognized by its white Masons, but hold their charters from the Grand Lodge of England. It is believed, however, that they will soon be received upon an equal footing by the white Masons of the States. They have also among them several provident and benevolent societies. Social clubs are, as might be expected, very popular among the colored people of New York; but in all of them there is some provision in their constitution or by-laws that aims at intellectual improvement. They have one or two reading rooms, and one association, at least, puts in improvement in literature, music and debating. Some of these clubs have an on-go at their members youthful scions of the wealthiest colored families in the city, and one or two of them are quite exclusive in their character.

The colored people are said to be alive to the political topics of the day, and the staunchest adherents of the party of progress are to be found amongst the "Black Republicans" Much, however, of their political strength during the late elections was frittered away from want of a good organization amongst them. The split in the republican ranks puzzled and disconcerted them, and they were as yet ignorant of the fascinating effect of gold in politics. But a movement is on foot amongst them for a better political organization, and it is expected that at the next election the colored Republicans will present a solid front to the Democratic adversary.

Our American exchanges are naturally full of comments upon the Washington Treaty. While some of them see much in it to carry motives as injurious to the United States, and while others, afflicted with An[illegible]bobbin, denounce it as giving too much to Canada, the majority believe it to be a fair and equitable basis for the settlement of the difficulties with which both countries have been harrassed to their great detriment for years past. This opinion we believe to be the one held by the great body of the American people. While often given to blustering for its own sake, and to talking loudly on the subject of war with England for the sake of political effect, the Americans in their cooler and calmer moments are not afraid to acknowledge that their constant bickerings with Great Britain were dangerous, prejudicive of harm to themselves, and but little creditable to their common sense. For three generations they have been on uneasy terms with England—two of these generations engaged in war, and the third talked itself to the eve of battle, yet now we'e mes the Washington Treaty as a satisfactory peace-maker, and as Mace and Coburn hailed Sheriff Deeds when giving their display of aesthetic pugilism on Woolaston's farm. They are prepared to-day to put an end to their vicious habit of menacing the British nation, and are glad in the belief that the Treaty will soothe their long-standing heart-burnings. They begin to see that it is for their interest and credit to seek an alliance with the mighty people from whose loins they sprang, and to stop that truculence which has often led them into difficulties and disgraced them in the eyes of foreign powers. They are now aware of the fact that their interests have been jeopardized, and their sentiments and character put before the world in an improper light by such men as Butler and Train, who agitate for a war England in order to reconcile the parties to which they belong—and by such journals as the New York Herald, which habitually plays on the passions of the Irish element for its own pecuniary and political gain. The friendliness with which the Treaty has been received is a conspicuous token that they are wearying of their hostility to Great Britain, for when Washington signed what was known as the celebrated Jay Treaty, his life was actually threatened, and the talking men of the Republic stormed at him for seeking peace when the country desired war. It is also a sign that the pacific and industrious classes are anxious to emancipate themselves from the thraldom of those parts leaders who would sell the Union for office, and with whom a war with England has been a prominent feature in their platforms and in their loud mouthed talk.—Telegraph.

The Ottawa Free Press says:—Lumbermen on the Ottawa are paying from $25 to $35 per month and board to hands for driving timber this season. The consequence is the farmers cannot obtain men enough, and cannot afford to pay such wages, and they have to leave a great deal of the soil uncultivated.

Earl Russell has given notice of his intention of moving an address to the Queen against sanctioning the ratification of the Alabama treaty, in case the arbitrators are bound by rules or conditions other than the laws of nations, and English municipal laws existing during the civil war in the United States, when the alleged depredations upon American commerce were committed.

Farewell.

'Tis sad to say farewell,
To bid a long adieu;
To feel, what tongue can never tell,
As from the depths of heart upwell,
Emotions, deep and true.

'Tis sad to feel sweet bliss depart,
To hear hopes parting knell,
Oh! bitter is the rankling smart,
Oh! dreary is the aching heart,
Thus forced to say farewell.

I dream'd she lov'd me, now I feel,
Wing'd was the sweet delusive spell;
Dark lowring clouds around me steal,
And not a ray of hope reveal,
But matter: Fare-thee-well.

Farewell ye short liv'd many hours,
Gone, like a dreamland view,
Faled are now love's rosy bowers—
Withered to me its beauteous flowers;
Sweet one a long adieu.

A. DRUMMOND GALLETLY.

Gallashiels, Scotland.

Shocking Murder.

Shooter's hill is well known to most Londoners; but, although so near the metropolis, those parts of the ground which slope towards Blackheath, Eltham and Sidcup are singularly retired. More than one long path descends the eminence, buried in woods, and shut off from the world in as complete a solitude as if the spot were a thousand miles from London. In one of these lonely by-roads a police constable was patrolling yesterday morning, when he saw a girl on her hands and knees, covered with blood about the head. He had passed that way at an earlier hour without observing her; the unfortunate creature, was then, no doubt, lying insensible from her cruel wounds. She could only ejaculate, "My head! my head! Take hold of my hand!" and when the police officer sought to raise her, she groaned but: "Oh, let me die!" Assistance was obtained, and the poor thing was taken to Guy's Hospital, where at a glance the doctors saw that she must die. A portion of the brains protruded through a wound over the right eye, and she was gashed or bruised in ten or a dozen places. The only hope remaining was, that she might gather voice, ere she died to denounce her murderer. This she never did; some incoherent, broken words were uttered, some doubtful syllables, which it would be unfair to cite: and in the evening the hapless girl passed from the painful silence into death. Who was she? That also, remained for a long time unknown. Many of those who have friends or dependents missing—always a considerable number in this vast capital—came to look at the dying woman. It was hard to make out what she had looked like, her injuries were so dreadful. It does not seem that any one whose appearance was calculated to excite suspicion was seen in the neighborhood on Tuesday night.

Police Constable Gunn, whose duty it is to traverse the road on his nightly beat, passed the place about 2 o'clock in the morning; but it was then so dark, that had the woman being lying unconscious he might not have seen her. As he returned at a quarter before four, he says he saw the poor creature lying across the deep ruts moaning deeply. At first he supposed her to be some drunken woman, but on approaching nearer he saw blood on her head, and heard her say, "Give me your hand." As he stretched forward she attempted to raise herself, but, failing in the effort, fell flat upon the ground, saying, "Oh, let me die; let me die." Gunn went to Eltham for assistance, and that being the usual residence of the police on night duty, got several men together. A light cart was got, and the poor woman, then wholly unconscious and unable to articulate, was taken off to Guy's Hospital. At intervals she was heard to say, "Oh, Emily!" or "Oh Edward, don't murder me!" and in reply to questions that were put by a nurse asking her name, she faintly articulated something that sounded somewhat like "Sarah Scru—; but as she was only partially conscious at this time, and the half-uttered words could not be distinctly caught, no real importance could be attached to them. Her dress was that of a respectable servant girl, and there is no reason whatever to believe that she was other than a virtuous single woman, or that any attempt had been made to commit any other crime than murder. It is thought possible that the terrible outslaught may have taken place on the Tuesday night and that the woman may have laid in the roadway until the dawning of daylight enabled the policeman to distinguish her.—There was marks of a struggle having taken place, and in the opinion of the constable who found the woman, the footprints were of not very recent impression. Not until she was dead was her name declared, and even now there is some uncertainty about the matter. However, five persons who suppose themselves to be relatives and friends of the victim, have claimed the corpse as that of Jane Maria Clouson, a servant-girl, lately living in the house of Mr. Pook, a respectable tradesman of Greenwich; and, from information received, the police have arrested Mr. J. Pook, the son of the girl's master, who was yesterday brought up and remanded at the police court.—Lond n Daily Telegraph

Canadians, as a general thing do not realize the extent to which Republican doctrines prevail in England, and the great advances which political sentiment has made in the direction of extreem liberalism, during the last few years. We are disposed to fancy that the nation is all but unanimously monarchal, and that any exceptions to the general way of thinking are to be found only among the very lowest classes of demagogues. An article which we copy from the Mail Gazette expressed the failure of Comte, and indicates the wide-spread hold which Republican theories have obtained among the other cultivated classes. It will we fancy, astonish a great many who are disposed to regard the expression of Republican opinion as something akin to high treason, to learn that the new generation of Englishmen are, to large extent, ultra-democratic in their views.

A report was started by a New York paper yesterday to the effect that Commodore Vanderbilt had completed arrangements for the purchase of the Erie Railway, having outbid Mr. Scott, and Mr. Joy, the Pennsylvania and Michigan railway Kings. The report, however, has since been contradicted by Messrs. Fisk and Gould.

The Emperor of Germany is reported to be a practical printer. All the members of the royal family of Prussia are required to learn some trade, an William chose typography as the most desirable craft, and spent three years at the case.

The Insurection in Paris.

(By Cable Telegraph.)

NEW YORK, May 16.—A special dated Paris, Sunday night says that on Saturday Dombrowski issued an order that all officers refusing to obey the commands of their superior officers, should be shot. He reviewed five thousand of his men this morning at Neuilly, and was received with great enthusiasm. After breakfast he rode to the front of Porte Maillot, and while sitting on his horse the Versailles soldiers fired rifles and two shells at the general without hitting him. Dombrowski immediately took off his hat and bowed politely to them. All the Communist soldiers witnessed it and cheered lustily.

Yesterday a grand procession of women marched through the streets of the city, headed by beglers, drummers and flags, of the Hotel de Ville, where they demanded arms.

Yesterday a proclamation was issued for the organization of battalions of women immediately for the purpose of stimulating the courage of the men. It has been ordered that all cowardly males shall be led to prison by women. The women battalions are to march against the Versailleis troops.

The bombardment is exceedingly violent, and shells are falling within the city in large numbers. A heavy attack from the Versailles troops is expected.

Yesterday a captain of engineers, belonging to the army of Versailles, being short-sighted, mistook a company of insergent National Guards for troops of the line army, and went up to them. He was, of course, immediately taken prisoner.

The firing from Montmartre yesterday morning fell short of the Communists, and killed 30 of their own men at Levallois.

It is stated that seven men and a number of young women, bearing an ambulance with a red cross, were refused quarters by the 64th Regiment of the line, who shot five of their number

The Committed on War has been replaced in consequence of its differences with the Centeral Committee.

The batteries at Montrenout are firing heavily on Paris.

General Rossel is sported to be in Belgium.

It is said that the Government gunboats have arrived at Sevres. The troops in the Bois de Boulogne are advancing. An entry into Paris is imminent.

LONDON, May 15.—The Times' special from Paris says:—Pratt openly declares that the fall of the Commune is imminent. The National Guards decline to march, and talk of opening the gates to the Versailliats if Dombrowski's orders are not obeyed. The women of Paris have interviewed the Commune, and demanded arms to fight the Versailliats.

The Telegraph's despatch says the Versailliats have been driven back to Longetemps from the advanced position they had taken in the Bois de Boulogne. The Goulois says it is reported that two Versailles batteries were decimated on Friday night.

Paris, May 15.—M. Besley, who had been called the Father of the Commune, retires from the membership of that body, because the residence of President Thiers had been de-pelled.

All having sulphur or phosphorus in their possession are requested to report to the Commune. Last night passed quietly. Schoelcher has been released from custody. General La Cecilia is now in command at Petit Vanvres. Corps Commanders will henceforth command arrondissements, and be responsible for their defence. Torpedoes have been ordered to all exposed points.

VERSAILLES, May 15.—The battery at Montretout continues to cannonade the insurgent works, and is both demolishing the enciente of Paris and protecting the approaches of the Government troops. Otherwise there is no news of interest.

LONDON, May 15.—The Congress of Municipal Despatch, called by the partisans of the Commune to meet at Bordeaux, has proved a failure.

VERSAILLES, May 15.—The bombardment continues and several breaches have already been made in the enciente of Paris. The Auteuil gate is entirely destroyed.

PARIS, May 15, afternoon—The Versailles forces are under the walls of Paris exchanging shots with the insurgents, who fire the rampants from Porte de la Muette, in the arrondissement of Passy, to Porte d'Issy. The Parisians have been expelled from the trenches between Fort Vanvres and Issy. A battery is erecting in the garden of the Tuileries to pour a flank fire into the Champ Elysees. There is indubitable evidence that a widespread conspiracy exists in Paris for the overthrow of the Commune. The Gardens of the Luxembourg are closed to the public, and are occupied by a military force in anticipation of a rising on the part of the populace.

BERLIN, May 16.—A bill has been passed by the German Parliament, forbidding the raising of loans by means of lotteries, except in cases of the various German Governments.

London, May 16.—The headquarters of the Prince of Saxony have been transfered to Margency, and the chief commanders of the Guards have been removed to Montmorency,

The fall of Fort Montrouge is imminent. The western and south-western arrondissements of Paris are uninhabitable. There has been great loss of life and property in those portions of the city. The 144th battalion of National Guards has refused to march outside of Paris. The tri-color is not flying to-day on Fort Vanvres.

A despatch from St. Denis says, the dissensions in the Commune will be terminated to-day by the dissolution of the central committee.

All mechanics over 40 years of age have been called upon to work on the defences of Paris. A new military commission has been appointed. Delescluse and the central committee are on the best of terms Gen. Henri has been appointed chief of the Ministry of War, and Gen. Matthieu commander of the forces between Point du Jour and Avenue Wagram

The Times' special despatch from Paris says, Generals Cluseret and Megey have been released from continement.

An armistice has been arranged for Wednesday to enable the inhabitants of Vanvres and its neighborhood to move.

A circular from M. Grunsel, Federal Minister of Foreign Affairs, invites the provinces to join the Communists.

The Germans are concentrating their forces towards Paris.

Versailles, May 16.—The cannonade of the enciente of Paris continues uninterruptedly, but the results to-day are not important.

The Assembly to-day appointed a committee to examine and report upon the treaty of peace negociated at Frankfort. It is generally expected that the cession of French territory, provided for in the treaty will be severely criticsed in the Assembly.

A special to the World from Paris, dated 10th, says the Communists made a sortie last night, meeting the Versaillists strongly posted in the Bois de Boulogne, but were forced to retreat with heavy loss. The Versaillists fire still continues around the ramparts between Point du Jour and Maillot Gate. The Versaillists have cornected a bridge across the Seine as Petit-caux and have brought over a grert mass of artillery.

The Cri du Peuple states that chemical operations are ready to completely annihilate the Versaillists when they assult the ramparts.

PARIS, May 16.—The commune announces that several attacks were made by the Versaillists forces on Monday night at Chatillon, Moulin, Pierre and Moulin Saquet. These was a vigorous engagement in the evening, extending from Porte Dauphine to Maillot Gate, in which the Versailles troops were repulsed with great loss It is rumored that Fort Montrouge has been evacuated by the Federal forces. The Commune holds a well armed force of 200, 000 men in reserve for any case of emergency.

Immence crowds gathered this afternoon in the vicinity to witness the expected fall of the column in the place Vendome. Great efforts have been made by the Communists engineers to tear the column from its base, but it has as yet withstood their utmost exertions. The engineers have not however given up the hope of success, and are now renewing their attempes.—The members of the commune and battalions of the national Guards are on the grounds.

Versailles, May 16.—The Assembly to day voted the urgency of a motion for the re building of the residence of M. Thiers in Paris at the public expense. A motion declaring the Republic permanent referred to a committee. Prayers were ordered in all the churches for the cessation of civil war. M. Grevy was reelected President of the Assembly.

MARRIED.

WALSH—DIXON.—At Oak Hill, Peterborough, on the 17th instant, by the Rev. J. M. Rogers, Mr. William Walsh, to Ellen, fourth daughter of the late Samuel Dickson, Esq.

DIED.

MAYES—On the 29th of April, at the residence of her son-in-law, William Beavis, Dysart, Mrs. Catherine Mayne in the 78th year of her age, late of Virginia, County of Cavan, Ireland.

BLAIR—At Emsmore, on the 14th inst. Francis Pitmore Blair, in the 80th year of his age.

PETERBOROUGH MARKETS.

	PETERBOROUGH		May 13,	1871
Flour ₱ brl	$5	25	@	$5	50
Wheat ₱ bush fall	1	00	@	1	75
Spring Wheat ₱ bush	1	00	@	1	25
Peas	0	80	@	0	80
Barley "	0	00	@	0	00
Oats "	0	50	@	0	55
Potatoes "		30	@	0	35
Hay ₱ ton	8	00	@	10	00
Sides ₱ cwt	0	00	@	7	00
Beef ₱ cwt	6	5	@	7	00
Sheepskins	0	75	@	1	25
Wool ₱ lb	0	25	@	0	30
Pork ₱ cwt	7	00	@	0	00
Eggs, per dozen	0	10	@	0	10
Butter,	0	15	@	0	18
Cordwood,	2	50	@	3	00
Turkeys	0	75	@	1	50
Geese	0	40	@	0	50
Chickens	0	35	@	0	4

SCOTTISH IMPERIAL FIRE INSURANCE COMPANY,

CAPITAL - - £1,000,000.

Head Office—50 West George Street, Glasgow.

CANADA BRANCH—Head Office, No. 86 St. Francois Xavier Street, Montreal

WALTER BEAL,
Agent for Peterboro.

☞ OFFICE—SIMCOE STREET. 20-3ins

FOR SALE.

That eligible Property on the South Side of the Little Lake, known as the

WARE PROPERTY!

Containing 37 Acres more or less. It is within a few minutes walk of the Town of Peterboro, and is peculiarly adapted for private residences. It will be sold wholly or in part as may be agreed upon.

For terms and particulars apply to

JOHN HAGGART.

Or to H. H. SMITH, Esq.
Attorney-at-law, Peterborough.

May 17, 1871, 20

PASTURAGE

GOOD PASTURAGE,

Apply to

J. EDWARDS.

May, 1871 20-tf.

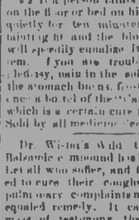
TWO QUESTIONS EASILY ANSWERED.—Why should men wear beards? Because they are a great protection to the throat and lungs and add much to their personal appearance. Why should we use "Bryan's Pulmonic Wafers?" Because when used for coughs, colds, tickling in the throat, hoarseness &c; they act like a charm. Ministers and Lawyers use them; physicians recommend them, and singers and public speakers say the are the very be t medicine in existance for the cure of such complaints. Sold by all medicine dealers, at 25 cts per box.

How to Make Money.

A horse dealer residing in the vicinity of Keyport, N. J., and who buys up horses for the New York markets purchases Darley's Condition Powder and Arabian Heave Remedy by the dozen and feeds it to his horses; he says it is superior to anything that he has ever used as a condition medicine, that the horses are much more improved by its use as to sell more readily and command higher prices. Two other horse dealers, one residing at Huntington the other at Glen Cove, L. I., also purchase it by the dozen and for the same purpose; those men as well as many others similarly engaged know too well the value and importance of this medicine ever to be without it. Remember the name and see that the signature of Reed & Co is on each package. Northrop & Lyman New castle Ont. proprietors for Canada Sold by all medicine dealers

☞ If a person faints place him instantly flat on the floor or bed on his back and let him lie quietly for ten minutes or so; it is nearly always so and the blood flowing on a level will speedily enable itself through the system. If you are troubled with rheumatism, sciatica, pain in the side or back cramps in the stomach burns, frost bites, &c, procure a new bottle of the Canadian Pain Destroyer which is a certain cure to all such complaints Sold by all medicine dealers

Dr. Wistar's Wild Cherry Balsam—This Balsamic remound has become a home fixture. Let all who suffer, and have in vain attempted to cure their coughs, colds, bronchial or pulmonary complaints make use of this unequaled remedy. It can be relied upon, the mass of testimony that has been published since its introduction, being ample proof of it efficacy.



Husband (returned from the village)—Mary, here my dear; I have just returned from town and brought with me your entire list—Tea, Coffee, Sugar, Calico and on short a waggon full of—

Wife: (hastily)— And to get the PAIN-KILLER?

Husband:—Oh! no; couldn't forget that; it's the most prominent object in every store in every store in town; and besides, the fences and stones and buildings all have "PAIN-KILLER" painted or pasted on them to remind one of it every minute. The store-keeper says that the PAIN-KILLER should be in every house and where one can put their hand on it in the dark if need be.

Wife:—It must be valuable, else the Parson's wife wouldn't praise it to the skies as she does

(To be continued.)

☞ The PAIN-KILLER is an internal and external remedy for pain. For internal pain Cramps Spasms, sudden Cold and Bowel difficulties, a few days on water will give immediate relief. As a liniment it is without an equal; it stops pain almost instantly. Be sure and get the genuine made by Perry Davis & Son and sold by all Druggists and Grocers 15-71

IMPORTANT TO KNOW.

One of Dr. Radway's Pills (made from Vegetable Extracts, prepared in vacuo), taken one hour before dinner, will insure a good appetite, promote digestion, and make healthy flesh. Taken in doses of from 4 to 6, every night, will cure Indigestion, Costiveness, Liver Complaints, Jaundice, and all diseases of the Stomach, Liver, Bowels, Kidneys etc.

These Pills are free from drastic, griping and nauseating drugs! They purify the blood, cleanse the intestines, and purge from the system all corrupt and acrimonious humor. Ladies in ill health should use them. Aged persons, subject to Costiveness or Paralysis of the bowles, should take two or three every night, for a few weeks; and the weak, infirm and paralyzed bowels will become healthy and vigorous as in the prime of life.

An old gentleman in the city of New York, has suffered with costiveness for 20 years, used injections during that time. One dose of Radway's Pills gave him natural evacuation; six boxes cured him. He now feels more active and enjoys better health than he did 40 years ago. Price 25 cents.

See Dr. Radway's Almanac for 1870.—R.

THE GRE AT FEMALE REMEDY
Job Moses' Peridocal Pills.

This invaluable medicine is unfailing in the cure of all those painful and dangerous diseases to which the female constitution is subject. It moderates all excess and removes all obstructions, and a speedy cure may be relied on.

TO MARRIED LADIES.

It is peculiarly suited. It will in a short time, bring on the monthly period with regularity.

These Pills should not be taken by Female during the FIRST THREE MONTHS of Pregnancy, as they are sure to bring on Miscarriage, but at any other time they are safe.

In all cases of Nervous and Spinal Affection, Pains in the Back and Limbs, on slight exertion, Palpitation of the Heart, Ayaverice, and Whites, the Pills will effect a cure when all other means have failed; and although a powerful remedy, do not contain iron, calomel, antimony, or anything hurtful to the constitution

Full directions in the pamphlet around each package, which should be carefully preserved

JOB MOSES', NEW YORK, SOLE PROPRIETOR

$1.00 and 12½ cents for postage, enclosed to Northrop & Lyman, Newcastle, Ont., general agents for the Dominion, will ensure a bottle, containing over 50 pills, by return mail.

Iron ore, taken from the back hills, near the highest level of the Union Pacific Railway, has been smelted at Omaha and found of excellent quality, yielding 60 per cent, of superior metal Three hills of the ore lie near the railroad.

CANADIAN PAIN DESTROYER.

A Family Medicine, well and favorably known for the past ten years never failing in a single instance to give permanent relief when timely used, and we have never known a single case of dissatisfaction where the directions have been properly followed, but on the contrary all are delighted with its operations and speak in the highest terms of its Virtues and Magical effects.

THE CANADIAN PAIN DESTROYER has won for itself a reputation, as a blood purifier alterative stomach tonic, unsurpassed in the history of medical preparations. It seldom fails to cure Dyspepsia, Liver Complaints, Indigestion, Heartburn, Sick Headache, Kidney Complaints, Acid Stomach Phathisic or Asthma, and restores to vital activity the system debilitated by suffering and disease.

Its magical and wonderful success in curing sudden colds, sore throat, coughs, Diptheria, pains in the side, loins and back, neuralgia, toothache, rheumatic and other pains in any part of the body and from whatever cause, has given it a place in every household and is fast superseding all other preparations of the kind.

It is also an effectual and prompt remedy for scalds, burns, bruises, sprains, chilblains, cholera morbus, bilious cholic, cholera infantum, dysentery, &c.

Price only twenty-five cents per bottle.

NORTHROP & LYMAN,
Newcastle, C. W.
General Agents for Canada.

Sold in Peterborough by Dr. Taylor, A. W. Kemp, Wm. Coulter and Ormond & Walsh. In Keene by A. Campbell, Campbell McNeil & Co., C. Britton, Lindsay, and all Medicine Dealers.

ONE HUNDRED DOLLARS A WORD.

For every word in the following certificate found untrue, after writing to the parties named and to the U. S. Consul, at Rio Janeiro, the sum of one hundred dollars will be paid.

Rio de Janeiro, Feb. 28th, 1866.

Messrs. Raymundo C. Leite & Bro:

Gentlemen;—While a son of my friend Mr Francisco de Mattos Pimenta [a large proprietor in the Cidad de Campos] was staying at my house he was attacked with intermittent fever. Immediately I sent for the very clever Dr. Tanoco, who is thought a good deal of in Campos, but the fever instead of diminishing, turned, continued, and typhoid, the boy (14 years old) could not speak, would not take the broths, and it required a great deal of coaxing to make him swallow the medicines. Dr. Tanoco, declared that there was not the slightest hopes of saving the boy's life; that it would be advisable to write to his father and inform him of the state of his son's health. At that moment I thought of the well spoken Dr. Radway & Co's medicaments, and applied them in the following manner: One teaspoon of Relief in a tumbler of water, dividing it three doses a day; frictions with the relief pure on the chest, back and wrists; three of Radway's Pills every day, and well covered so that he might perspire. Second day, half an hour after meals, one desert-spoon of Resolvent and water. In the fourth day he was able to get up from bed to the astonishment of every one who witnessed the miracle of Dr. Radway & Co's. medicaments.

I remain, gentlemen, your very obedient servant

Joaquim Pinto Filcao, Merchant.

Dr. Raday's Remedies are sold by Druggists and County Merchants. See Dr. Radway's Almanac for 1870.

Q. T.
BUSINESS EDUCATION

BRITISH AMERICAN BUSINESS COLLege and Telegraphic Institute The only representative in Ontario of the Bryant & Stratton International Chain of Colleges.

The Theory Department is thoroughly adapted to those who wish to lay the foundation of a sound business education.

The Practical Department is a miniature business world, where each Student performs all the routine duties of office work, as shipping, selling, shipping, commission, and drawing notes, drafts and checks. A regular Bank exists in connection with this department with beautifully engraved bank notes, which is as perfect in its details as the best organized institution in the Country.

Thorough Instruction in Telegraphy Life Scholarship good in forty Colleges. For terms address,

ODELL & TROUT, Toronto
September 21st, 1870.

FELLOWS' HYPOPHOSPHITES.

Amongst the diseases overcome by the use of

Fellows' Compound Syrup of Hypophosphites

ARE

Constipation, Asthma, Consumption, Laryngitis, Nervous Debility, Dyspepsia, Chronic Bronchitis, Chronic Diarrhœa, Melancholy.

Debility resulting from Typhoid and other low fevers, Diphtheritic, cholerin, Hypochondria, Amenorrhœa, Chlorosis Alkemia, Leucorrhœa, Nervous Excitability, Marasmus, or wasting of the Muscles, Aphonia, or loss of Voice, Chorea or St. Vitus's Dance, Sleeplessness of the Liver, Interrupted and Feeble Action of the heart, Suffocating feeling caused by mucous obstructions of the Lungs and Air passages leading thereto, and Debility from various causes, many cases of which appear hopeless.

SOLD BY APOTHECARIES.

Price, $1.50; Six for $7.50.

JAME I. FELLOW, CHEMIST,
ST. JOHN, N. B.

16-1871. 4mos.

CANADIAN BANK OF COMMERCE

THE Canadian Bank of Commerce have opened a

Saving's Bank Department

n Peterborough- Interest allowed on all sum over $1.00

J. A. HALL
Manager

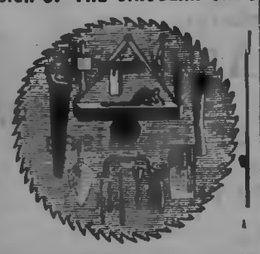
NO. 4 COMPANY,
57th Battalion.

Will meet for drill at the Drill Shed, every WEDNESDAY EVENING, at 8 o'clock, until further orders.

W. J. GREEN, Capt.,
Commanding.

Peterborough, April 26th, 1871. 13-3in

SIGN OF THE CIRCULAR SAW.



THE Subscribers would beg leave to call the attention of the public to their stock of

SHELF AND HEAVY HARDWARE

PAINTS, OILS, GLASS and PUTTY,

Agricultural and Garden Implements,

NAILS, LOCKS, HINGES, &c.

All of which they will sell at the lowest Prices.

Sign of the Circular Saw.

GEORGE STREET, PETERBORO.

McKEE & DAVIDSON.

Peterboro, April 26th, 1871, 17

TO FARMERS.

If you want to make FORTY DOLLARS AN ACRE off your land,

SOW FLAX!

Let each good Farmer sow Three Acres on trial, and see how handy it is to have $120 coming in to pay off your harvest hands in August. As there is a Machine for pulling, at the mill, it makes it one of the easiest crops harvested. For seed apply to

S. TAYLOR,
Flax Mill, Ashburnham

May 3rd, 1871. 18

Insolvent Act of 1869.

In the matter of DANIEL BROOK.
An Insolvent.

The Insolvent has made an assignment of his estate to me, and the Creditors are notified to meet at the office of the Insolvent in the Town of Peterborough, on MONDAY, the TWENTY-SECOND day of MAY, 1871, at Two of the clock in the afternoon, to receive statements of his affairs and to appoint an Assignee.

Dated at Peterborough, this 2nd day of May A. D. 1871.

D. W. DUMBLE,
Interim Assignee

18-2ins

TO LET.

AUBURN HOUSE,

AND ABOUT 20 ACRES OF LAND THEREWITH.

A Delightful Summer Residence.

Apply to

DENNISTOUN, FAIRBAIRN & CASSELS

May 3rd, 1871. 18-tf

VICTORIA
CARRIAGE
AND
Wagon Factory

Corner of Brock and George Streets.

The Subscriber would respectfully announce that he has leased the above establishment, opposite the Commercial Hotel and is now prepared to Manufacture

CARRIAGES,
BUGGIES,
WAGGONS,
WHEEL-BARROWS,
HARROWS, &c.

At Low Prices for Cash.

HORSE-SHOEING MADE A SPECIALTY.

GEORGE W. MILLS.

Peterboro, March 7th, 1871.

N. B.—As there is another person in Peterboro named "George Mills," the public will please remember the distinction in the names. G. W. M. 13-tf

PIANOS, MELODEONS, ORGANS

D. PENTLAND,

Is now Agent for A. & S. Nordheimer for the sale of the following celebrated Pianos:—Chickering & Sons'; Steinway & Sons'; Dunham & Sons'; Haines Brothers'; Ernest Gabler; and J. W. Vose's.

Also, for the world-wide Celebrated Organs and Melodeons—Geo. A. Prince & Co., Buffalo; Mason & Hamlin's, Boston.

Instruction Books for Piano & Organ, Sheet Music, &c. always on hand.

REFERENCES—Mr. F Bell, Organist, St. John's Church, Peterboro; Mr D D Gallely, Chorister, Canada Presbyterian Church, Peterboro; Mr J. I. Davidson, Precentor, St. Andrew's Church, Peterboro; Dr. Taylor, Peterboro.

Peterboro, April 5th, 1871. 14

BOARD AND LODGING.

MRS. DAVIES' Boarding House has re-opened on Simcoe street, where good board and lodging can be furnished for gentlemen.

T. W. DAVIS.

June 29, 1870. 26-tf

FARM FOR SALE.

The subscriber offers for Sale his Farm, North half of Lot 29, in the

13th Concession of Smith,

Containing 100 Acres. There are about 60 Acres improved and in a good state of cultivation. On the premises are a Comfortable Log House, Log Barn, Stables, and Sheds; a Good Well and other accommodations. For terms and particulars apply to

JAMES IRWIN,
Proprietor.

Harvey, May 3, 1871. 18 Lakehurst P. O.

COURT OF REVISION.

Township of Dummer.

The Court of Revision for the Township of Dummer, will hold its First Sitting in the Town Hall, on Saturday, 20th day of May 1871.

Commencing at 10, a. m.

A. S. MAGUIRE.
Clerk.

Dummer, April 19, 1871, 16

DUTCHER'S Lightning Fly Killer.

Dutcher's Dead Shot for Bed Bugs

TRY THEM AND SLEEP IN PEACE.

13-6ins.

Pianos and Melodeons.

Messrs. R. S. Williams & Co.

TORONTO,

Beg to inform their friends and customers the Mr. D PRETZMAN is no longer Agent for the sale of their Instruments. In the meantime,

Mr, F. T. LUMSDEN of Warsaw.

AND

Mr. R. W. Erritt, Peterboro.

Will take orders for them and supply Pianos, Melodeons and Organs at the Lowest Price and Easy Terms.

PIANOS, MELODEONS, & ORGANS TO RENT.

Address orders or enquiries to F. T. Lumsden, Warsaw P. O., or R. W. Erritt, Peterboro.

R. S. WILLIAMS & Co.

Toronto, March 28th, 1871. 13-4in

Farm for Sale.

The undersigned offers for sale his Farm in the

TOWNSHIP OF SMITH

Consisting of Lot 26, in the 11th Concession, and the North Half of 26, in the 10th Concession, and

Containing 300 Acres

Lot 26 in the 11th Concession is improved, 100 Acres of it being cleared The remaining 200 Acres are good wood lands. The property is about Ten Miles from Peterboro, and five from the Village of Lakefield. There is a good Frame Barn, with a stone foundation under it; besides Stables, Sheds under the barn: Two Good Wells, and Two Healthy Orchards bearing good fruit: There is a good Log Dwelling on the property, and it is within half a mile of a Post Office, Two Churches and a Good School. It will be sold in whole or in part to suit purchasers.

Terms made known by applying to the proprietor,

RICHARD FREEBORN,
Selwyn P. O.

Smith, March 22, 1871. 12

ASHBURNHAM

New Carriage, Waggon And Black-Smith Shop.

The undersigned begs to announce to the people of Ashburnham, and surrounding Country, that he has commenced a new Carriage, Waggon and Blacksmithing Shop, on Lake Street, opposite the residence of R. D. Rogers, Esq., where he will be prepared to do all sorts of work in the above line.

Reparing Promply Attended to

A first-class Black-smith will be always ready and willing to attend to Jobbing and horse-shoeing.

The patronage of the public is respectfully solicited.

A. WALLER

Ashburnham, March, 1871. 11-

$765,000

In Cash Gifts to be Distributed by the New York Cash Prize Co.,

EVERY TICKET DRAWS A PRIZE.

5	Cash Gifts each,	$40 00	50	Cash Gifts, each,		$1,000
10	" "	20 000	200	" "		500
90	" "	5.000	250	" "		100
50	Elegant Rosewood Pianos, — each				$300 to	$700
75	" "	Melodeons	"		75 to	100
250	Sewing Machines	— —	"		90 to	175
500	Gold Watches	— —	"		75 to	300
Cash Prizes, Silver Ware, etc., raised at						$1,020,000

A change to draw any of the above Prizes for 25c. Tickets describing Prizes are sealed in Envelopes and well mixed. On receipt of 25c. a Sealed Tickets as drawn without choice and sent by mail to any address. The prize named upon it will be delivered to the ticket-holder on payment of One Dollar. Prizes are immediately sent to any address by express or returned mail.

You will know what your prizes is before you pay for it. "Any Prize exchanged for another of the same value." No blanks. Our patrons can depend on fair dealing.

REFERENCES:—The following lately drew Valuable Prizes and kindly permit us to publish them:—Andrew J. Burns, Chicago, $10,000; Jas. M. Matthews, Detroit, $5,000, John C. Anderson, Savannah, $5,000; James Simmons, Boston, $10,000.

PRESS OPINIONS:—"The firm is reliable."—"Weekly Trimbune, Dec 28." "Deserves their success."—N. Y. Herald, Jan. 1. "Just and Honorable."—News, Dec, 9,

Send for circular. Liberal inducements to Agents. Satisfaction guaranteed. Every package of 200 Sealed. Envelopes contains one CASH GIFT. Seven tickts for $1; 17 for $2, 50 for $5; 200 for $15. Address

C. B. HARRIS & Co.,
Managers,
62 Broadway, N. Y

Peterborough March 16th, 1871. 10-tf.

NOTICE.

NOTICE is hereby given that application will be made by the Corporation of the Town of Bowmanville, to the Legislature of the Province of Ontario, at its next Session, for an Act authorizing the construction of a Railway from the waters of Lake Ontario in the Town of Bowmanville, in the County of Durham through some parts of the Townships of Darlington, Clarke Cartwright and Manvers in the said County of Durham, and the Town of Lindsay and Townships of Ops, Emily Fenelon and Verulam, to the Village of Bobcaygeon in the County of Victoria, thence to the Government lands, and lands of the English Land Company in the counties of Victoria and Peterboro, and to amalgamate or make running arrangements with other Railways.

F. CUBITT,
Mayor.

R. WINDATT,
Town Clerk.

Bowmanville, March 22nd, 1871, 13-6ins

DAILY LINE
TO
ROCHESTER.

The Superb new Lake Upper Stare Cabin Steamer.

NORSEMAN,

Carrying United States and Canadian Mails and Express

Leaves Port Hope every Morning

FOR ROCHESTER

At 9 o'clock on arrival of Grand Trunk Railway Trains from East and West,

RETURNING

Leaves Port of Rochester (Charlotte) every evening at 9 o'clock (except Saturday), when she leaves at two P. M., for brighton.)

This is the favourite summer route from Toronto to Rochester, Albany, &c. The cheapest and quickest route from points East of Port Hope on the Grand Trunk, to Rochester, Buffalo, &c. The favourite route to Avon and Clifton Springs, &c.

Passengers and freight take cars along-side steamer at Rochester Landing.

Connection made at Cobourg ask Port Hope with Royal Mail Line Steamers from Hamilton and Montreal.

Address R. C. CARTER,
PORT HOPE, ONT.

TO LEND

$10,000.

Interest 8 per cent. No commission.

D. W. DUMBLE,
Solicitor.

Peterborough, April 27, 1871. 17-3ins.

Special Inducements!

WHOLESALE & RETAIL,

ARE NOW OFFERED

AT

FERGUSON & EDER'S

We have now laid in a very Large and Complete Stock of New Goods for the

SPRING AND SUMMER TRADE,

Which have been imported from the British Markets. We are now offering Special Inducements in Fancy

DRY GOODS, MILLINERY, MANTLES, &C.,

☞ NOW'S THE TIME TO BUY. ☜

MILLINERY!

Ladies who wish to see

THE LATEST NOVELTIES

IN

Trimmed Bonnets, Hats, Caps, Mantles, Trimmings,

&c., &c., &c.,

Combined with Elegance and Best Taste, are now invited to pay our Show Room a visit.

FERGUSON & EDER.

Peterboro, 10th, 1871. 19

NOW IS THE TIME!

TO GET

CHEAP ROOM PAPER,

BOOKS, STATIONERY, &c.,

At A. B. KIDD'S BOOKSTORE,

AS THERE IS BEING A

GENERAL TURNING UPSIDE DOWN

OF EVERYTHING IN HIS ESTABLISHMENT, OWING TO

An Enlargement and Re-fitting of Premises.

SPECIAL ATTENTION IS INVITED TO HIS

NEW STOCK OF GOLD ROOM PAPER AND BORDERINGS.

Just received direct from England. He will sell these papers less, by 25 per cent, than they can be bought in Toronto.

Peterborough, April 5th, 1871. 14

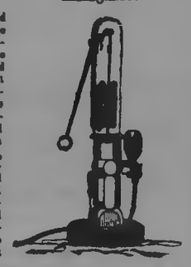
OWEN'S PUMP MANUFACTORY

AND

Agricutual Impement Agency

GEORGE STREET, PETERBOROUGH.

The Leading Pumps and Machines of the Dominion.



SOLE AGENT FOR MASSEY'S
Agricultural Implements
Including all the late improvements, viz.;

Wood's Self Rake Reapers, and Mowers, and Cayuga Chief Mowers.

The Hubbard Combined Machine, which took the First Prize at Toronto in 1870. Also, Johnson's First Prize Self Raker.

Parties wanting Machines the coming Harvest will please call and examine the different Machines before purchasing elsewhere. Prices reduced from last year.

The subscriber is still on hand at Dennis' Old Stand, opposite the Graveyard, and begs to inform the inhabitants of the Counties of Peterborough and Victoria, that he is Sole Agent in these Counties for the Celebrated POWELL'S PATENT S

Choice Poetry.

Going Up and Coming Down.

This is a simple song, 'tis true,
And songs like this are never nice;
And yet we'll try and scatter through
A pinch or two of good advice.
Then listen pompous friend, and learn
Never to boast of much renown;
For fortune's wheel is on the turn,
And some go up and some come down.

We know a vast amount of stuck
A vast amount of pride incases,
But fate has pitched so many hooks,
We wouldn't like to warrant yours.
Remember, then, and never spare
The one whose hand is hard and brown,
For he is likely to go up.
And you are likely to come down.

The other thing you will agree,
(The truth may be as well confessed),
The "codfish aristocracy"
Is but a comic thing at best,
And though the fishes large and strong
May soak the little ones to drown,
Yet fishes all, both great and small,
Are going up and coming down.

Our lives are full of changes and change,
And change, you know is never sure;
And 'twere a doctrine new and strange,
That places high are most secure.
And though the fickle god may smile.
And wield the sceptre and the crown,
'Tis only for a little while—
Then D. goes up and A. comes down.

The world for you and me, my friend,
Hath something more than pounds and pence
Then let me humbly recommend
A little use of common sense.
Thus lay all pride of place aside,
And have a care on whom you frown;
For fear you'll see him going up,
When you are only coming down.

Many years ago, in the early settlement of a village in Old Cheshire New Hampshire, a culprit was brought before Squire S——, a "Justice of the Peace and Quorum," and ordered to jail to await the order of the Court.

"Why don't you take the prisoner off" demanded the sheriff.

"If the Court please, I can't take him to the jail without a mittimus."

"Well then," replied the Squire, "take mine from under the shed, but be sure and return it safely.

"This "mittimus" of the Squire's was a raised, square-topped old chaise; and in that town and throughout all the region round about, even in this day, that elegant vehicle is called a "mittimus."

Weeping and Wailing but no Gnashing of Teeth.—Terrible times in Warrenton, Va.,, are thus depicted; a few weeks ago, a dentist came to town, and advertised that he would remove all of a persons teeth for $2. and insert a new set for $10, besides giving six months credit." The Warrenton people are very fond of bargains, there was a rush for the dentist's office. He was busy for two weeks pulling teeth, and at the end of that time half of the people had empty gums, and a bone dust factory in the neighbourhood doubled its number of workmen so as to grind up the teeth. While the people were waiting for the dentist to fit them with their new set, the abandoned scoundrel eloped with the hotel-keeper's wife; and now there are two or three thousand people in the town who cannot eat anything tougher than soup or farina. All the butchers have failed and not a cracker has been sold for six weeks. One man it is said whittled out a set of wooden teeth for himself; but the first drink of whiskey he took—Warrenton wiskey—set them in a blaze, and his funeral came off the next day. The dentist will bear of something greatly to his disadvantage if he comes back.

Long Sentence.—In his religious views Judge Peters was understood to be a Universalist. On one occasion an offender had been convicted before him of two different crimes, when for the first the Judge sentenced him to the State Prison for life and then for the second for five year more! As the court was adjourned, Sherman, stepping up to him, said:

"Well Judge I am happy to see that you are changing your religious views, at last on one important subject."

"How so—haw so?" said the Judge, "I don't understand you."

"Why" said Sherman, "It is plain From your sentence that you believe in punishment after death."

It is but just to the Judge however to add that he defended his sentence on the ground that the criminal might be pardoned for the first offence and in that case would be held for the second.

New patriarchs.—That doctrines are "proved orthodox by apostolic blows and knocks," is as cordially assented to by the "muscular Christians" of our day as it was by the poet who originally versified that statment.

We are not however prepared to admit that pugilism and piety were synonymous terms until we receive information from a friend in the country that the pastor of the church—rather a "sensation" preacher in one of his sermons made frequent allusions to those celebrated ex-"pounders" Heenan and Sayers. A lady of antoher denomination was speaking of this "in the presence of Miss Jemima Brown one of the sensation minister's flock, when Miss Jemima turned sharply and confronted the lady with—"I guess if your church members would read the Bible you'd know all about it; 'tain't likely Mr.——would have said anything about those patriarchs Heenan and Sayers if he hadn't read about them in the Bible!"

The recipient of the following soothing epistle from his loving spouse confidently appealed to a sympathizing public for commiseration in his bereavement. Dear Harry you are played out. I like Dr.—— so well that I prefer going with him—you good-for-nothing degnerating cuss. It's none of your business where we're gone to. It won't do you a bit of good after all for you to follow us, for I would'nt live another day with you to save your life. You made a mistake in thinking I ever loved you. I never did, I married you for convenance sake, I take the baby along and I'll take care of it. You can sue for a divorce get married as soon as you please.—The woman who gets you will have a healthy old prize. Good by. Be virtuous and you'll be happy.

Your Late Wife.

A young man who carried a collection-plate after the service before starting put his hand in his pocket, and put as he supposed a shilling in the plate, and then passed it around among the congregation which included many young and pretty girls.—The girls as they looked at the plate all seemed astonished and amused and the young men taking a glance at the plate found that instead of a shilling he had put a conversation-lozenger on the plate with the words "Will you marry me?" in red letters staring everybody in the face.

A CARD

R. BAKEWELL having made an engagement with Mr. Brodburn, may be found, by his former Patrons and Customers, at the store lately occupied by H. Maloney, where he hopes by his usual attention to business, and with increased facilities for giving satisfaction, still to merit and receive their patronage.

R. BAKEWELL.

Peterboro, Dec. 19, 1870. 51-tf.

1871 Annual Announcement 1871

(ESTABLISHED 1856.)

SEEDS!

Fresh, Good, and True,

The subscriber has received his supply of

FIELD,
FLOWER, and
GARDEN SEEDS.

Both of Home and Imported Stock.

WARRANTED GENUINE

FARMERS AND MARKET GARDENERS are respectfully invited to call and inspect for themselves.

COUNTRY MERCHANTS, supplied, as usual with boxes on Commission, or for Cash.

"Honesty" is our motto, both in character of seed, and in price.

WM. H. TAYLOR, M. D

At the old Stand, Corner of George and Hunter Streets, Peterborough, Ont. 16-tf

---

COURT OF REVISION.

Town of Peterborough.

The First Meeting of the Court of Revision for the Municipality of the Town of Peterborough, will be held in the Council Chamber, on

Thursday, the 18th day of May, 1871,

Commencing at 10 o'clock, a. m,

J. EDWARDS,
Town Clerk.

Peterboro, 19th April, 1871. 16

(Review please copy.)

HOUSE AND LOT FOR SALE.

The undersigned offers for sale the dwelling House and Lot on

LONDON STREET,

at present occupied by himself.

Further particulars can be obtained by application to

Wm. LECH,
Proprietor.

Peterborough, April 19th 1871. 16-tf.

(Review please copy.)

TO BLACKSMITHS.

TO RENT.

A BLACKSMITH SHOP and DWELLING House, with a large Garden attached,

AT LAKEVALE

Better known as Fowler's Corners, Fourth Concession of Smith. Rent Reasonable. For particulars apply to

JAMES FOWLER, Senr.
Lot 1, 2nd Con., Smith.

Smith, April 22, 1871. 17 4in

Insolvent Act of 1869.

In the matter of HENRY THOMAS STRICKLAND, GEORGE WILLIAM ROSS STRICKLAND and ROLAND CLEMENT STRICKLAND, as individuals and as co-partners of the firm of STRICKLAND BROTHERS.

Insolvents.

WILL BE SOLD BY

PUBLIC AUCTION

AT THE

COURT HOUSE,

IN THE

TOWN OF PETERBOROUGH,

ON

Tuesday the 6th day of June next,

AT 12 O'CLOCK, NOON,

All the right, title and interest of the above named Henry Thomas Strickland, in and to the North half of the East half of lot No. 2, in the 11th Concession of the Township of Douro; and Village lot, No. 2 south of Charles Street and west of Lake Street; and Lot No. 1 North of Maria Street and West of Lake Street in the Village of Ashburnham.

J. A. HALL,
Assignee.

Peterboro, April 19, 1871. 16-td

A FARMER'S COMPANY.

FARMERS!

Insure Your Property

IN THE

AGRICULTURAL

INSURANCE COMPANY.

A Stock Company entirely devoted to your interests.

Insures nothing but Farm Property and Detached Residences.

Chartered and commenced business in 1853.

CASH ASSETS - - $550,000.

Mr. Langton's Report shows over $68,000 deposited as especial protection to Canadian Policy-holders.

Head Office for the Dominion of Canada, Kingston, Ontario.

We would refer you to the following named Gentlemen, in regard to the pecuniary responsibility of the Company:

H. Calcutt, Brewer; John Burnham, Barrister; J. A. Hall, Agent Canadian Bank of Commerce; Thos. Menzies, Stationer and Exchange Broker.

ATTORNEY—John Burnham, Esq.

BANK—Canadian Bank of Commerce.

Wm T. Fish, Cobourg, Gen. Agent for the Counties of Prince Edward, Hastings, Northumberland, Durham, Ontario, Peterboro and Victoria.

Local Agent for the Town of Peterborough,
W. A. KING.
6-tf.

EXTENSIVE

ALTERATIONS

AND

Enlargement of Premises.

W. FAIRWEATHER &CO

Preparatory to making Extensive Alterations and Enlargement of their present premises

Will sell off at a Great Sacrifice

THE WHOLE OF THEIR

Large and Valuable Stock

AT COST AND UNDER COST,

In order to allow the Tradesmen, early in April, full scope for their work and to

Prevent the Goods being Damaged by Lime Dust,

GREAT INDUCEMENTS WILL BE GIVEN

READY CASH BUYERS.

Goods will be Sold

AT PRICES NEVER BEFORE ATTEMPTED IN THE SALE OF FIRST CLASS GOODS

The Stock is well known to be all of Superior Quality.

Cash Buyers are invited to inspect the Goods and Prices, bearing in mind that no fault will be found if they do not buy.

☞REMEMBER☜

W. FAIRWEATHER & CO'S

CHEAP SALE FOR READY CASH.

March, 1818. 11.

NEW SADDLERY!

The Subscriber wishes to inform his friends—old and new—that he has re-commenced the

Saddlery and Harness Business,

In the Shop next to the Toronto Bank,

Lately occupied by the Telegraph and Express Companies, opposite to Messrs. Nicholls & Halls, Simcoe Street,

Where he will at all times keep on hand or have made to order by first class workmen, everything usually kept in first class establishments, such as

GENTS' SADDLES, LADIES' DO,

Harness, Single and Double, Coarse, Heavy and Fine,

TRAVELLING BAGS, TRUNKS, SATCHELLS,

WHIPS, MATS, HORSE CLOTHING, &c.

☞ Grateful for past favors in his various lines of business during the last 20 years, he asks his friends to inspect his stock before purchasing elsewhere.

Peterboro, May 18, 1870. 20 D. HOPKINS.

1871 New Spring Goods. 1871

EVERY VARIETY OF BOOTS AND SHOES

CHEAPER THAN EVER!

FOR CASH,

Are Daily Arriving

AT

LARMOUR & SARNEY'S

NEW DOMINION

Cheap Boot & Shoe Store,

MCKELLAR'S OLD CORNER,

George Street, - Peterboro.

Peterboro, April 13, 1871. 15

NEW

Fall and Winter Goods!

T. BRADBURN

Having succeeded in disposing of the greater portion of his former stock, and having since purchased heavily in Montreal and Toronto Markets, at the Lowest possible prices, is now showing and invites inspection of the following lines of new Fall and Winter Goods:

CLOTHS:

A complete stock of English and Canadian Cloths and Tweeds.

DRESS GOODS:

New Wool Serges,
New Wool Tartans,
New French Reps,
New French Merinoes,
New Wincies,
New Black Lustres, (Double Warp)
New Tartan Poplins,
New Figured Poplins,
New Figured Reps,
New French Delaines,
New Crape Cloths,
New Velvets and
New Velveteens.

HOSIERY,

In great variety, English, Scotch and Canadian.

FLANNELS,

A full assortment of Welsh, Lancashire, Saxony, and Canadian Manufacture Also, Salisbury and Fancy Flannel Shirting very Cheap.

Prints, Linens and Towellings.

JUST OPENED,

A New and Select Stock of Gents' Collars, Ties, Scarfs and Gloves.

GLOVES, CORSETS and SKIRTS.

Those about to purchase FURS would do well to retain their orders, as a large lot will be opened in due time, and will be SOLD CHEAP.

T. BRADBURN.

Peterboro, Oct. 11, 41

Ayer's Cathartic Pills,

For all the purposes of a Laxative Medicine.

Perhaps no one medicine is so universally required by everybody as a cathartic, nor was ever any before so successful as this mild but efficient purgative Pill. The obvious reason is, that it is a more reliable and far more effectual remedy than any other. Those who have tried it, know that it cures; those who have not, know that it cures their neighbors and friends, and all know that what it does once it does always—that it never fails through any fault or neglect of its composition. We have thousands upon thousands of certificates of their remarkable cures of the following complaints, but such only are known in every neighborhood, and we need not publish them.

Adapted to all ages and conditions in all climates; containing neither calomel or any deleterious drug, they may be taken with safety by anybody. Their sugar coating preserves them ever fresh and renders them pleasant to take, while being purely vegetable no harm can arise from their use in any quantity.

They operate by their powerful influence on the internal viscera to purify the blood and stimulate it into healthy action—remove the obstructions of the stomach, bowels, liver, and other organs of the body, restoring their irregular action to health, and by correcting, wherever they exist, such derangements as are the first origin of disease.

Minute directions are given in the wrapper on the box, for the following complaints, which these Pills rapidly cure:—

For Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Listlessness, Loss of Appetite, they should be taken moderately to stimulate the stomach and restore its healthy tone and action.

For Liver Complaints and its various symptoms, Bilious Headache, Sick Headache, Jaundice or Green Sickness, Bilious Colic and Bilious Fevers, they should be judiciously taken for each case, to correct the diseased action or remove the obstructions which cause it.

For Dysentery or Diarrhœa, but one mild dose is generally required.

For Rheumatism, Gout, Gravel, Palpitation of the Heart, Pain in the Side, Back and Loins, they should be continuously taken, as required, to change the diseased action of the system. With such change those complaints disappear.

For Dropsy and Dropsical Swellings, they should be taken in large and frequent doses to produce the effect of a drastic purge.

For Suppression a large dose should be taken as it produces the desired effect by sympathy.

As a Dinner Pill, take one or two Pills to promote digestion and relieve the stomach.

An occasional dose stimulates the stomach and bowels into healthy action, restores the appetite, and invigorates the system. Hence it is often advantageous where no serious derangement exists. One who feels tolerably well, often finds that a dose of these Pills makes him feel decidedly better, from their cleansing and renovating effect on the digestive apparatus.

DR. J. C. AYER & CO., Practical Chemists,
LOWELL, MASS., U. S. A.
NORTHROP & LYMAN.
Newcastle.
General Agents for Ontario.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral,

For Diseases of the Throat and Lungs, such as Coughs, Colds, Whooping Cough, Bronchitis, Asthma, and Consumption.

Probably never before in the whole history of medicine, has anything won so widely and so deeply upon the confidence of mankind, as this excellent remedy for pulmonary complaints. Through a long series of years, and among most of the races of men it has risen higher and higher in their estimation, as it has become better known. Its uniform character and power to cure the various affections of the lungs and throat, have made it known as a reliable protector against them. While adapted to milder forms of disease and to young children, it is at the same time the most effectual remedy that can be given for incipient consumption, and the dangerous affections of the throat and lungs. As a provision against sudden attacks of Croup, it should be kept on hand in every family, and indeed as all are sometimes subject to colds and coughs, all should be provided with this antidote for them.

Although settled Consumption is thought incurable, still great numbers of cases where this disease seemed settled, have been completely cured, and the patient restored to sound health by the Cherry Pectoral. So complete is its mastery over the disorders of the Lungs and Throat, that the most obstinate of them yield to it. When nothing else could reach them, under the Cherry Pectoral they subside and disappear.

Singers and Public Speakers find great protection from it.

Asthma is always relieved and often wholly cured by it.

Bronchitis is generally cured by taking the Cherry Pectoral in small and frequent doses.

So generally are its virtues known that we need not publish the certificates of them here, or do more than assure the public that its qualities are fully maintained.

Ayer's Ague Cure,

For Fever and Ague, Intermittent Fever, Chill Fever, Remittent Fever, Dumb Ague, Periodical or Bilious Fever, &c., and indeed all the affections which arise from malarious, marsh, or miasmatic poisons.

As its name implies, it does Cure, and does not fail. Containing neither Arsenic, Quinine, Bismuth, Zinc, nor any other mineral or poisonous substance whatever, it in no wise injures any patient. The number and importance of its cures in the ague districts, are literally beyond the present, and we believe without a parallel in the history of Ague medicine. Our pride is gratified by the acknowledgments we receive of the radical cures effected in obstinate cases, and where other remedies had wholly failed.

Unacclimated persons, either resident in, or travelling through miasmatic localities, will be protected by taking the AGUE CURE daily.

For Liver Complaints, arising from torpidity of the Liver, it is an excellent remedy, stimulating the Liver into healthy activity.

For Bilious Disorders and Liver Complaints, it is an excellent remedy, producing many truly remarkable cures, where other medicines had failed.

Prepared by Dr. J. C. AYER & Co., Practical and Analytical Chemists, Lowell, Mass., and sold by all the world.

PRICE, $1.00 PER BOTTLE.

NORTHROP & LYMAN,
Newcastle
General Agents for Ontario.

IRON IN THE BLOOD

MAKES THE WEAK STRONG.

The Peruvian Syrup, a Protected Solution of the Protoxide of Iron, is so combined as to have the character of an ailment, as easily digested and assimilated with the blood as the simplest food. It increases the quantity of Nature's Own Vitalizing Agent, Iron in the blood, and cures "a thousand ills," simply by Toning up, Invigorating and Vitalizing the System. The enriched and vitalized blood permeates every part of the body, repairing damages and waste, searching out morbid secretions, and leaving nothing for disease to feed upon.

This is the secret of the wonderful success of this remedy in curing Dyspepsia, Liver Complaint, Dropsy, Chronic Diarrhœa, Boils, Nervous Affections, Chills and Fevers, Humors, Loss of Constitutional Vigor, Diseases of the Kidneys and Bladder, Female Complaints, and all diseases originating in a bad state of the blood, or accompanied by debility or a low state of the system. Being free from Alcohol, in any form, its energizing effects are not followed by corresponding reaction, but are permanent, infusing strength, vigor, and new life into all parts of the system, and building up an Iron Constitution.

Thousands have been changed by the use of this remedy, from weak, sickly, suffering creatures, to strong, healthy, and happy men and women; and invalids cannot reasonably hesitate to give it a trial.

See that each bottle has* PERUVIAN SYRUP *blown in the glass.

Pamphlets Free.

J. P. DINSMORE, Proprietor,
No. 36 DEY ST., NEW YORK.
Sold by Druggists generally.

MONEY TO LEND.

The undersigned has a few thousand dollars of private funds which he is prepared to lend on mortgages, on improved farms.

D. W. DUMBLE,
Janur 1871. 1-tf.

WILLIAM TOOLE,

Being about to REMOVE his Manufacturing Establishment from the Ashburnham Mill Race to his own Factory in course of erection,

On Murray Street, Immediately West of the Drill Shed,

Where he is fitting up with almost entire NEW MACHINERY, NEW MEN of long city experience, and, in fact, New Everything, begs to return thanks to his numerous town and country patrons for the very liberal patronage which he has enjoyed for the past fifteen years, and hopes by constant attention to business and fair, liberal treatment o customers, to continue in the enjoyment of the same. He would also intimate to his country friends, that he is manufacturing a few of

The Celebrated McKenzie Fanning Mills,

THE BEST MILL IN THE DOMINION,

Which he will sell at a very moderate price, and take in exchange any kind of FARM PRODUCE.

Peterboro, Feb. 9, 1870. 6

GRAND OPENING DAY

W. FAIRWEATHER & CO'S

Millinery & Mantle Show Rooms

WILL OPEN ON

FRIDAY FIRST!

WITH ALL THE

☞ Novelties and Latest Styles for the Season. ☜

On account of Extensive Alterations to be made on the premises, the goods will be sold cheap.

May. 1871. 18

PHOTOGRAPHY!

Studio on Hunter Street West!

THE VERY BEST QUALITY OF

Photographs at the most Reasonable Rates

All sizes, from minature to life, either Plain or finished in

CARBON, SIPIA, INDIA INK, OIL OR WATER COLORS

Parties can rely on Promptness.

Albums, Frames, &c., Always on Hand!

☞ Special attention to children.

☞ Inducements offered to families.

GEO. B. SPROULE.

Owing to a steadily increasing business, Mr. Sproule would request as a favor, that his customers make engagements for sitting a week or so, if possible, ahead of time, thereby saving a great deal of confusion, and perhaps disappointment.

Peterborough, September 28, 1870. 39

JUST RECEIVED

AT

GEORGE TANNERS',

AT THE SIGN OF THE

MAMMOTH CHAIR,

HUNTER STREET.

THE PATENT HAMMOCK FOLDING CHAIR!

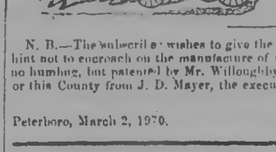
This Chair was introduced to the public in Montreal in August last, and since that time has merited great attention wherever it has been introduced for its

COMFORT, DURABILITY AND CHEAPNESS,

It being retailed from $2.50 upwards. Call and see it; and in the meantime you can look through the largest and

Best Stock of General Furniture

EVER ON SALE IN THE TOWN OF PETERBORO.



THE

UNDERTAKING

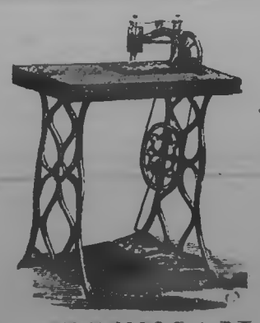
BUSINESS

Is also more complete than ever, with a good supply of READY-MADE COFFINS.

N. B.—The subscriber wishes to give the Geninses of this town and vicinity a gentle hint not to encroach on the manufacture of the Patent Hammock Folding Chair, as it is no humbug, but patented by Mr. Willoughby, Clerk, and I have purchased the sole right or this County from J. D. Mayer, the executive proprietor.

GEO. TANNER.

Peterboro, March 2, 1870. 9



WILSON, BOWMAN & CO.

Hamilton, Ontario

MANUFACTURERS OF THE CELEBRATED

LOCKMAN SEWING MACHINE,

Take pleasure in announcing that the popularity of the Sewing Machine manufactured by them is still on the increase. They are now turning them out at the rate of 400 per month and yet have been compelled within the last two weeks to increase their facilities to a capacity of one thousand per month.

The Lockman Machine, from its capacity to sew the heaviest fabrics with linen thread, as well as the finest cambrics with No. 150 Cotton, is pre-eminently the Farmer's Favorite Family Friend.

It is so exceedingly simple in its parts, and so strongly and durably made, that it does not require a mechanical genius for its management.

The manufacturers challenge the world to produce its equal, and yet its price is from Forty to Fifty per cent. Lower than that of any other first-class shuttle Lock-stitch Sewing Machine.

EVERY MACHINE IS WARRANTED.

☞ Sole Agent for the County of Peterborough—

T. DONNELLY,

P. S.—ROOMS OVER THE STORE. George Street.

Peterboro, May 11, 1870. 10

PLAIN AND FANCY PRINTING IN ALL STYLES

EXECUTED IN A SUPERIOR STYLE,

At the "Examiner" Office, Simcoe St. Peterboro.

STOVES, TINWARE &c

At the Giant T.

Cooking, Parlor and Box Stoves, CHEAP

A large stock of LUMBERMEN'S FURNISHINGS, on which a liberal discount will be made.

COAL OIL to the trade at refinery prices

ROOFING IN TIN AND GALVANIZED IRON, also EAVE-TROUGHING AND PIPING

Done by Practical Men

Gas Fitting, Steam Fitting,

AND PLUMBING.

Also Agent for, and manufacturer of

CALCUTT'S PATENT TUBULAR DRUM HEATER.

The most Economical in the Dominion, by the use of which 50 per cent wood can be saved. Call and see them.

THOMAS LANNIN,
Practical Tin & Copper Smith
George St. Peterborough.

Sept. 28, 1870. 16-1yr

Fine English Camphor

The surest preventative against moths, and large supply on hand.

NO BATH COMPLETE

WITHOUT A SPONGE.

A GOOD HONEY-COMB SPONGE

From the Mediterranean may be obtained a the subscribers.

CARBOLIC SOAP

For Toilet Purposes.

CARBOLIC SOAP

For Washing Rooms, Bedsteads, Blankets, &c.

CARBOLIC ACID!

The most powerful disinfectant of modern times, not only neutralising but destroying miasmata, &c.

CARBOLIC POWDER

For Sprinkling in Cellars, &c. It is also very useful for destroying pediculi in dogs, calves, &c., being safe and efficacious.

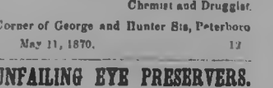
May all be obtained Pure and Genuine, at

DOCTOR TAYLOR'S,
Chemist and Druggist.

Corner of George and Hunter Sts, Peterboro

May 11, 1870. 17

UNFAILING EYE PRESERVERS.



LAZURUS, MORRIS & Co's

CELEBRATED

Perfected Spectacles

AND EYE GLASSES.

The large and increasing sales of these Perfected Glasses is a sure proof of their superiority. We were satisfied that they would be appreciated here as elsewhere, and that the reality of the advantages offered to wearers of our beautiful lenses, viz: the ease and comfort, the assured and readily ascertained improvement of the sight, and the brilliant assistance they give in all cases, were in themselves so apparent on trial, that the result could not be otherwise than it has, in the almost general adoption of our Celebrated Perfected Spectacles by the residents of this locality.

With a full knowledge of the value of the assertion, we claim that they are the most perfect optical aids ever manufactured. To those needing Spectacles, we afford at all times an opportunity of procuring the best and most desirable.

DR W. H TAYLOR

Corner of George and Hunter Streets,

Has always on hand a full assortment, suitable for every difficulty.

We take occasion to notify the public that we employ no pedlars, and to caution them against those pretending to have our goods for sale.

Peterboro, February 8, 1871

DARLEY'S

ARABIAN OIL,

FOR HORSES AND CATTLE.

A NEVER-FAILING REMEDY.

THIS valuable preparation combines all the medicinal virtues of those articles which long experience has proved to possess the most safe and efficient properties for the cure of Flesh Wounds, Sprains, Bruises, Galls of all kinds, Cracked Heels, Ring Bone, Spavin, Callus, Fistula, Sweeney, External Poisons, Scratches or Grease, Strains, Lameness, Mange Whitlows, Corns, Sand Cracks, Founder, Foot, Horn Distemper, Swellings, and many other diseases which horses and cattle are subject to.

This celebrated Liniment has been used for many years, and its curative properties thoroughly tested, and it is conceded to be the cheapest and most reliable remedy for all external complaints ever offered to the public—it never fails when timely used and faithfully applied.

To be had of all Druggists and Country Merchants throughout the Dominion. Price 25c. per bottle.

NORTHROP & LYMAN
Newcastle, O

Flax! Flax!!

FARMERS intending to grow flax will please apply for their seed early. Seed supplied and payment taken in flax by calling on

SAMUEL TAYLOR
or H. CALCUTT.

I would beg to call the attention of farmer that I have a machine for pulling Flax, which will pull 4 acres a day. I will let the machine and send a man with it for $2 per day. By the assistance of the puller, Flax is the cheapest crop harvested. For information I would refer you to—Jonathan Stephenson, Smith; W. Kilburn, Smith; J. Farnell, Smith; A. Scott Smith; I. Rusk Otonabee; W. Rutherford Otonabee.

SAMUEL TAYLOR,
Flax Mill,
Ashburnham

Ashburnham, March, 1871. 11-3moo

THOS. MENZIES,

BANKER AND BROKER,

PETERBORO, ONT.

Buys and Sells New York and Sterling Exchange, Bank Stocks, Gold, Silver, Greenbacks, &c. &c. He also collects Drafts on amount on England, Ireland, Scotland, France, Belgium, Germany, Switzerland, Italy, Denmark, Sweden & Norway, Russia, Poland and Portugal, and all parts of the United States.

He has always constantly on hand NEW CANADIAN SILVER on hand, for sale. Being your U. S. Silver and get it exchanged for Canadian, at the current rate of Discount.

THOS. MENZIES.

Peterboro, July 6th, 1870.

Also Agent for the CUNARD & ALLAN LINES OF STEAMERS.

Tickets for Sale at Low Rates.

Peterborough Examiner.

The Peterborough Examiner
A WEEKLY
POLITICAL, AGRICULTURAL,
AND
FAMILY NEWSPAPER,
IS PUBLISHED
EVERY THURSDAY MORNING.

Terms $1.50 per annum in Advance.

$1.50 PER ANNUM, IF PAID IN ADVANCE] "Prove all things—hold fast that which is good." [$2.00 PER ANNUM, IF NOT PAID IN ADVANCE.

VOL. XVI. PETERBOROUGH, THURSDAY, MAY 25, 1871. No. 21.

EVERY DESCRIPTION OF BOOK AND JOB PRINTING executed at this office, in a superior style, and on best terms.

☞ Particular attention given to Ornamental Printing in Colors, Attractive Posters, &c.

All orders for Job Printing forwarded to this office will be punctually and strictly attended to.

JAMES HALL,
SHERIFF, Office in the Court House, Peterborough.

WM. PEARCE,
COUNTY Treasurer and Clerk. Office in the Court House, Peterboro.

C. A. WELLER,
CLERK of the Peace. Office on Simcoe St., Peterborough.

C. A. WELLER,
COUNTY Attorney. Office on Simcoe St.

C. A. WELLER,
BARRISTER, Attorney, Solicitor, &c.—Office—Simcoe Street, Peterborough.

MR. JOHN BURNHAM,
BARRISTER, Attorney at Law, Solicitor in Chancery, Conveyancer, &c. Office—over T. Chamber's Store, Hunter Street, Peterborough, Ont.

GEORGE EDMISON,
ATTORNEY at Law, Solicitor in Chancery, Conveyancer, &c., &c. Office over Mr. John Fletcher's Boot and Shoe Store, directly opposite Mr. Claxton's, George Street, Peterborough.
Peterboro', Feb. 17th, 1864. 7

W. H. MOORE,
BARRISTER, Attorney at Law, Solicitor in Chancery, Conveyancer, &c. Office corner of George and Hunter Streets, McKellar & Cameron's old stand.
MONEY TO LOAN on easy terms, on land security. Mortgage bought.
Peterboro, April 6, 1869. 14

DENNISTOUN, FAIRBAIRN & CASSELS,
BARRISTERS, &c.,
Hunter Street, 3 Peterborough.

JOHN GREEN,
BARRISTER, Attorney at Law, Solicitor in Chancery, Conveyancer, &c. Office over the Ontario Drug Store, Scott's block; corner of George and Simcoe Streets.
Peterboro Dec. 1st, 1869. 48

GEO. T. LEONARD,
ATTORNEY-AT LAW, SOLICITOR IN Chancery &c. Peterborough. 39

S. D. CRAWFORD, M. D., C. M.,
MEMBER of Royal College of Surgeons, England; Licentiate Government Medical Board; Late resident Coombe Lying-in-Hospital, Dublin. Ryan's Buildings, Market Square, Peterboro. 7

DR. LOYD,
CORONER for the Counties of Peterborough and Victoria. Office and residence at Bobcaygeon. 47

GEORGE BURNHAM, M. D.
GRADUATE of Bellevue Hospital Medical College, N. Y., University of Victoria College Canada, and Licentiate of Nova Scotia, Physician, Surgeon and Accoucheur.
Office and residence,—Near the Corner of Brock and George Streets, Peterborough.
Peterboro, May 27, 1869. 43

D. PENTLAND,
DENTIST, would respectfully inform the public that he is now prepared to EXTRACT TEETH WITHOUT PAIN, by the of Nitrous Oxide Gas, a very pleasant and perfectly safe remedy.
Peterboro, November 26, 1866. 48

W. COULTER,
DEALER in Genuine Drugs, Chemicals, Patent Medicines, Perfumery, Paints, Oils Dye Stuffs, Hair, Nail and Tooth Brushes, Spices, Culinary Essences, Fancy Soaps, &c. George Street, Peterboro. 16

RUSH & BUCKETT,
VETERINARY SURGEONS, No. 6 Henthorn's Block, George street, Peterboro Horses and Cattle Medicines kept constantly on hand. Horses taken under treatment on easy terms.

ALEX. McNEIL,
LICENSED Auctioneer for the Counties of Peterborough and Victoria, and Townships of Cavan and South Monaghan.

GEORGE READ,
ISSUER of Marriage Licenses, Clerk Division Court, Township Clerk, &c., Keene, Otonabee. 20

JAMES McLEAN,
INSURANCE Agent, Issuer of Marriage Licenses, and Commissioner for taking Affidavits.
Cavan, Mount Pleasant, C. W. 30

CABINET-MAKING.
E. POOLE, Cabinet-maker, Upholsterer and Undertaker, George Street, Peterboro.

JAMES STEVENSON,
DEALER in Stoves, Tin-Ware, &c., &c. George Street, Peterborough. 18

ROBERT PATTERSON,
DEALER in Boots and Shoes. Spanish Sole Leather constantly on hand.
Nicholls and Hall's old stand, Simcoe Street, Peterborough.

GEORGE MITCHELL,
DEALER in Groceries and Provisions, &c. Cash paid for all kinds of country produce
George Street, Peterborough, 15

EDMUND S. VINDIN
COMMISSION, Shipping, Forwarding and General Agent, Lumber Merchant, &c.—Office, Corner of Walton and Ontario Streets, Port Hope.

BANK OF TORONTO.
CORNER of Water and Simcoe Streets, Peterboro. Interest allowed on Deposits
J. MURRAY SMITH,
MANAGER.

ROBERT WALTON.
SADDLERY. Dealer in Stoves, Stoves &c., George Street, Peterboro'. 18

J. R. McCULLOUGH, M. D.,
Graduate of Trinity College, Dublin, and Licentiate of the Dominion of Canada,
Physician, Surgeon, Accoucheur, &c.,
AND
Late Surgeon of the U. S. Army & Navy,
Will be found at his office or at his residence, at all hours of the Day and Night, except when out on professional business.
☞ N. B.—All communications strictly

RESIDENCE and
OFFICE—Next Door To Wm. McDonald's Hotel, and two doors East Of Holm's Foundry, Simcoe Street.
Visits in the Corporation One Dollar, Only.
VISITS TO THE COUNTRY MODERATE.
☞ ADVICE TO ALL FREE.☜
Simcoe Street, Peterboro, Ont.
September 8, 1862. 36

THOMAS LANNIN,
PRACTICAL TIN & COPPER SMITH, Bell Hanger, Steam and Gas Fitter, Plumber, &c. Dealer in Stoves, Iron Beds, Baths, Refrigerators, Water Coolers, Fitters, Pumps, &c.
Queen Street,
Peterboro, 1st June, 1870. 22

JOHN COONEY,
NURSERYMAN,
DEALER in Fruit and Ornamental Trees, Shrubs and Roses, and all kinds of Nursery stock. A very choice collection of Strawberry Plants on hand.
Orders by mail promptly attended to.
JOHN COONEY.
Peterboro, July 21, 1869. 29

ONTARIO BANK,
PETERBOROUGH.
SAVINGS DEPARTMENT.
From this date until further notice, the rate of interest in the above department will be
FIVE PER CENT.
PER ANNUM.
G. E. SHAW,
Manager.
Peterboro', April 1st, 1868. 14-tf

GEORGE ALLEN,
GUN & WHITE-SMITH,
Hunter Street, Peterborough,
BEGS to inform the public that all kinds of repairing is done on the shortest notice, such as Guns, Stocking, &c., Pistols and Whitesmithing. Sewing Machines also neatly repaired.
☞ Shop and residence adjoining the Union Hotel.
Peterboro, October 25, 1865. 43

GORE DISTRICT MUTUAL
FIRE INSURANCE COMPANY!
HEAD OFFICE, GALT, ONTARIO.
CHARTERED A. D., 1836.
ASSETS, $160,000 | LOSSES PAID, $416,000
POLICIES ISSUED, 15,595.
ALL kinds of Property Insured at rates from 15 to 20 per cent. lower than Stock Companies. Claims adjusted with fairness and liberality. Losses PROMPTLY PAID.
ROBERT McLEAN, Esq., Inspector and General Agent.
THOMAS H. SIMONS, Esq., Secretary.
R. W. ERRETT, Agent, Peterborough.
November 4, 1869. 46-1y

TO THE FARMERS
OF THE
COUNTY OF PETERBOROUGH.
The undersigned begs to intimate that he is again prepared to pay the HIGHEST CASH PRICE for
Oats, Pease, Barley and Rye,
at his New Grain Warehouse in Ashburnham, situated nearly opposite his old stand.
His friends and acquaintances are invited to give him a call as usual.
D. SUTHERLAND.
Ashburnham, Sep. 29, 1869. 4-19

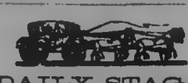
HARDWARE.
JOHN BERTRAM,
DEALER IN
Manilla Rope, Chains, Anchors, Axes, Augers, Saws, Files.
Carriage Springs, Solid Collar Axles Thimble Skeins; Waggon, Carriage and Buggy Bent Rims, Spokes, Shafts, Hubs, Seat Rails, Spindles—all dry; Carriage Bolts, Varnish, Paints, &c.
Leather Belting,
Machinery Oil,
Cabinet-makers' Goods,
Carpenters' Tools
And all kinds of
SHELF AND HEAVY BARDWARE.
JOHN BERTRAM,
Hardware Merchant, Peterborough.
February 3, 1871. 5

Stallion for Sale
THE lately imported Horse "YOUNG ST. LAWRENCE," a thoroughbred French Canadian; Sired by the justly celebrated Horse "St. Lawrence," so universally known in Lower Canada.
His Dam is also a thorough-bred French Canadian. He is a dark bay, six years old, very active, and for speed cannot be surpassed by any in the Country, and is now being fed up ready to travel.
JOHN OATHCART

Directory.

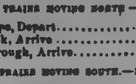
MIDLAND
Railway of Canada.
ON and after SUNDAY, the 18th day of SEPTEMBER, 1870, Trains will run as follows:
TRAINS MOVING SOUTH.—MAIL.
Lindsay, Depart ..... 2.30 a. m.
TRAINS MOVING SOUTH.—MAIL.
Port Hope, Depart ..... 3.00 p. m.
Millbrook, Arrive ..... 4.35 "
Lindsay Arrive ..... 6.30 "
TRAINS MOVING SOUTH.—MIXED.
Lindsay, Depart ..... 12 35 p. m.
Millbrook, Arrive .. .. 2.35 "
Port Hope, Arrive 4.30
TRAINS MOVING NORTH.—MIXED.
Port Hope, Depart ..... 8.45 a. m.
Millbrook ..... 7 05 "
Lindsay, Arrive ..... 9.10 "
PETERBOROUGH SECTION.
TRAINS MOVING SOUTH.—MAIL.
Peterborough, Depart ..... 3.30 p. m.
Millbrook, Arrive ..... 4.20 "
Port Hope, Arrive ..... 5.50 "
TRAINS MOVING NORTH.—MAIL.
Port Hope, Depart ..... 10.10 a. m.
Millbrook, Arrive ..... 11.35 "
Peterborough, Arrive ..... 12.35 p. m.
TRAINS MOVING SOUTH.—MIXED.
Peterborough, Depart ..... 5.20 a. m.
Millbrook ..... 6.20 "
Port Hope, Arrive ..... 7.40 "
TRAINS MOVING NORTH.—MIXED.
Port Hope, Depart ..... 1.15 p. m.
Millbrook ..... 2.35 "
Peterborough, Arrive ..... 2.00 "
A. T. WILLIAMS,
Superintendent.
Sept. 19, 1870. 38.

GRAND TRUNK RAILWAY.
TRAINS LEAVE
PORT HOPE STATION
AS FOLLOWS:
GOING EAST.
Express (day) ..... 9.30 a.m.
Mixed ..... 7.00 p.m.
Express (night) ..... 9.30 p.m.
GOING WEST.
Express (night) ..... 10.30 p.m.
Mixed ..... 3.00 p.m.
Express (day) ..... 3.35 a.m.
Trains leave on Railroad time, which is about twenty-three minutes ahead of Port Hope time
Warranted correct by the Company's time Table



DAILY STAGE
BETWEEN
Norwood and Peterboro'
The Stage leaves Norwood every day, (Sunday excepted) at 7 o'clock a. m.
RETURNING, leaves Peterboro' at 2.30 p.m.
Office in Norwood, Johnson's Hotel.
Office in Peterboro', Stewart House.
Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays, Stage connects with Stage for Blairton and Marmora. And the Stage connects daily with Hastings, Warkworth and Colborne.
J. A. JOHNSON,
23-tf Proprietor.

Montreal Ocean Steamship Co.



Steam to Liverpool, Londonderry and Glasgow.
Rates of Passage from Peterboro':
CABIN, - - $76 to $88. STEERAGE - $30.
Return Tickets for 6 months at reduced fares
For Through Passage Tickets, Staterooms, and every information, apply to
GEORGE A. COX, Agent.
Canadian Express Co'y.
Peterboro', Nov. 7th, 1866. 46.

GREAT WESTERN RAILWAY
OF CANADA.
TORONTO LINE.
TORONTO, &c., TO HAMILTON.
Accommodation trains leave Yonge street Station at 7.00 a.m., 3.50 p.m. and 6.55 p.m.
Express at 12 55 p.m.
HAMILTON, &c., TO TORONTO.
Accommodation trains leave Hamilton at 7.10 a.m., 9.50 a.m. and 7.35 p.m.
Express at 3.45 p.m.

THE CANADIAN
BANK OF COMMERCE
CORNER OF
Hunter and Water Streets, Peterboro'
☞ Interest allowed on Deposits.
J. A. HALL, Manager
Peterboro, July 27, 1870. 30

THOS. MENZIES,
Now being the authorized Ticket Agent for the Grand Trunk Railway, can supply the public with
Tickets to all parts of Canada,
Also to any part of the United States.
Charges the same as at any of the Stations on the G. T. R. So get your Tickets before leaving Peterboro, and save all trouble on your journey.
THOS. MENZIES,
George Street.

Select Poetry.

The Fog Bell.

BY ALLAN EDGAR RAMSAY.

Hear that deep bell knelling!
Telling!
What terrors are in its dwelling,
As it rings across the wave!
How it haunts us with the grave—with the grave—
As it rolls its comfort note—
Hurls it from its cast-bound throat
Forever forward,
Forever—
Cries to passing sails, "Beware!
Through the night,
Tolling fast, fast, fast,
It is usphorne on the blast;
And it filleth our souls with affright,
Ringing fast, fast, fast, fast,
Fast, yet faster!
And its echoes through the gloom,
Like a warning from the tomb,
Seem to boden sad disaster
As it floateth o'er the gale
In a sort of broken wail
Moaning, groaning, intoning,
It warns each passing sail.

Faster now the crying,
Sighing!
Its mournful notes are dying,
And its tollings sad and low;
How they fill our hearts with woe—
With regret!
For it seems a human soul,
Who o'erlooks his fatality roll,
In murmurs we strive to forget;
Lifts a pean from the deep
It charms away our sleep
Soft and still.
Tolling, slow, slow, slow,
It is echoed soft and low,
And charms us against our will.
Tolling slow, slow, slow, slow,
Slow, yet slower;
And it seems to sadly say,
"Steer that way! steer this way!"
As the fog-clouds darkly lower,
Telling slow, slow, slow,
Of disaster and of woe,
Swinging, ringing, singing—
Chiming, rhyming, timing.
Till its melancholy wail
Is stifled in the gale
And the storm hath hushed its chiming

Choice Literature.

Love at First Sight.

A STORY OF THE SEA SIDE.

The circumstance under which this tale begins are neither naturally, nor in virtue of any local associations, surrounded by a bright halo of romance. It was three stairs up, in a lawyer's office, and in that well-known city which a great modern poet has called the "grey metropolis of the north," where I was seated at my desk one Saturday forenoon in the month of August.—The partners of the firm had gone to the country with their families, and the head clerk and one or two of the juniors were away spending their holidays. Consequently I had a room to myself, and the supreme control over three or four youngsters in an adjoining apartment, where the clashing of singing sticks forcibly proved that my little brief authority was but slightly respected. The atmosphere was warm and oppressive, and I was doing my utmost to enjoy otium cum dignitate by writing only about five lines in five times as many minutes. My holidays were to commence on the following Monday, and the solution of the important question, how and where I should spend them, was monopolising my thoughts, when an old acquaintance of mine, Bill Marchmont, walked into the room. Bill was a medical student, who had just got himself shaken clear from his classes and the hospital for some months. He may be described as being a tall, dark haired, good-looking young fellow of about twenty-one years of age, possessed of a considerable amount of personal vanity, a sentimental turn of mind, and a firm persuasion that he was an out-and-out lady killer.

"Well, Stewart, where do you intend starting for on Monday?"

"I can't say that I have decided yet, Bill."

"You haven't? Well, I shall decide for you. I'll tell you what, old fellow, we'll go down to Burnmouth and have a week's sea bathing. Capital place for that sort of thing. Then there are lots of nice looking girls to have a flirtation with. What do you say? We can finish off by taking that trip to the Cumberland Lakes which we have been so long talking about."

After some conversation I agreed to his proposal, and, when several matters of minor importance had been dispensed, Bill went off to make certain necessary arrangements. On Monday morning we prepared tickets for Burnmouth at the railway station and in due time were sweeping along the coast towards that interesting locality.

Now my story begins in earnest. In the same carriage with us was a crusty old gentleman, accompanied by a pretty daughter, who might have seen some nineteen years—or "summers," as my polished companion more elegantly termed the phrase.—This young lady had pink cheeks of charming freshness, framed in by a profusion of long brown ringlets.

"Stunning girl," whispered Bill, as he adjusted his necktie to a nicety, and ran his fore-fingers all around his collar.

I said nothing, but knowing Bill's sentimental humor, waited patiently to see what course love at first sight was going to take. To me the lady's bright eyes appeared to have a sly twinkle, which might denote a partiality for a small amount of playful mischief; but Bill asseverated, in an energetic whisper, that she had a melting glance. Be that as it may, my friend did his best to reciprocate her dissolving influence, and before long flattered himself that he had made a decided impression.

"Now, Stewart," he said, as we alighted at Burnmouth station, "I intend to keep my eye on her. Blow me but she is enchanting!"

"Spooney Bill, eh!"

"Confound your slang! that is not the kind of language to use on such an occasion. However, you may call it what you choose. But look here. I have, that is to say—ah—I feel a liking for the pretty stranger, and flatter myself that—ah, there is no occasion for guessing—she has a preference for me."

"How, in the name of common sense, do you make that out? You don't mean to say that it is a case of mutual love at first sight?"

"Something resembles like it, though, old

Wild Men.

From the Detroit Free Press.

Early last winter parties living several miles from Windsor discovered in the woods huddled up against a log in a vain effort to get warm, a curious kind of beast or man, one can scarcely tell which. The "it" is fearfully deformed, his female covered with long coarse hair; face grown full of rank whiskers, eyes looking like those of a wolf, and his present capture treat him more like a dog than a poor unfortunate lunatic. After being in Windsor for a few days the "man-wolf," as he is named, was brought over here, and it is the general opinion that the strange being is the man who escaped from the lunatic asylum at Malden last fall, but this is an error. The fugitive was a strong, tall man, standing very stiff and erect, whereas this specimen is badly deformed, and would not have been capable of making the stout resistance and rapid flight made by the lunatic in question. But how the being came in the vicinity of Windsor no one is able to tell, or has not informed the public. A man named Heth Narmore, from Sarnia, at the General station yesterday, and after paying a visit to the keeping place of the strange creature, returned and reported that he knew its history. Some three years since a man named Rousseau, living about twelve miles from Sarnia, received in charge from his brother an insane relative of the family, although Rousseau was not communicative of facts. The lunatic was at first confined in a chamber of a house, but his movements attracted much attention from the passers-by, and so disturbed the inmates of the house, that a small building was soon built for his special keeping. Very few people ever saw the unfortunate, but hundreds of farmers passing used to hear him scream and beat the wall of his prison. At length one night he made his escape, and Rousseau-mish was compelled to ask the assistance of his neighbors to secure him. They found him in a swamp eating bark and roots, but he exhibited the utmost ferocity when an attempt was made to catch him, finally leaving the scrape when a couple of dogs were sent in after him, and one of the scars on his face was received while the men were binding him. Mr. Narmore was one of the parsuers, and he is quite positive that this "man-wolf" is the identical lunatic, as that one did finally make good his escape no one was able to hunt him down. It is asserted, and it has been reported to the superintendent of police, that the "owners" of this stranger do not treat him as they should.—He is kept chained a good share of the time, and the rough boys of the neighborhood are allowed to tease and vex him. If there is a good reason for believing that he escaped from any lunatic asylum there ought to be an investigation made by the police or some proper official. Without doubt he is crazy, as well as fierce and ravenous, and it would be only humane and decent for him to be taken from his present owners and sent to the county house or the insane asylum.

The Jackson (Tenn.) Whig of the 16th inst. Says:—We learn that between Solsby and Crainsville, on what is called Piney, in McNairy county, a strange and frightful being has been observed for several weeks. He is said to be seen seven feet high, and possessed of great muscular power. His eyes are unusually large and fiery red; his hair hangs in a tangled and matted mass of jet below his waist, and his beard reaches below his middle. His entire body is covered with hair, and his whole aspect is most frightful. He shuns the sight of men, but approaches with wild and horrid screams of delight every woman who is unaccompanied by a man.—He sometimes with great caution approaches houses, and should he see a man he runs away with astonishing swiftness, leaping the tallest fences with the ease of a deer, defying alike the pursuit of man and dogs. He has frightened several women by attempting to carry them off, as well as by his horrid aspect, and the whole country around Sobby is in consternation. The citizens are now scouring the woods, and are determined either to capture or drive off the monster.

Murderer Devoured by Sharks.

Recently a man named Grant committed murder at Demarara, W. I., whence he escaped to Halifax, N. S., where he was arrested and put on board a vessel to be returned to Demarara for trial. On arriving in sight of his destination the prisoner jumped overboard, and was immediately seized and devoured by sharks. The Halifax Citizen gives the following particulars:—"On the passage, though closely watched, he on one occasion obtained possession of a knife, with which he attempted to open his cabin window in the night; but the attempt was discovered and frustrated. On the morning of the arrival when the vessel was within four miles of the lightship, he feigned an excuse to go on deck. Mr. Joseph sent Christian with him, and gave the officer strict injunctions to keep a firm hold of him. From the testimony the seamen, Christian, seems to have endeavored faithfully to fulfil his instructions, but was thrown off his guard by a sudden request from Grant that he would do him a trifling service, and relaxed his hold for a moment, when Grant, with a yell of exultation, instantly leaped overboard. The vessel was put about as quickly as possible, but to no purpose, for the lookout man soon cried, 'Shark's got him, and pointed to the spot where he had seen Grant disappear, and where the water was tinged with blood. The vessel continued to sail around the spot for an hour without discovering any other trace of the miserable man."

SINGING IN FAMILIES.—Children are delighted with poetry at early age; and what is loved in early life cannot be easily effaced in later years. A lady informed us a few days since that when a little girl she had learned hundreds of hymns and poetical effusions—not of a childish, but of a pure and elevated character. This early discipline, she says, has been a safeguard to her all her life—a preservation against sin and folly. Among the German forefathers it was a common practice, in professedly christian families, to teach their children hymns and spiritual songs. The children had this useful employment afforded them to fill up the time which would otherwise have been spent in idleness, if not in something worse. Frequent repetitions of them, at intervals, prompted to efforts to connect the poetry with music, and this gradually led them to acquire a taste and cultivate a talent for singing. To this simple practice may be attributed, in a great degree, the finely cultivated musical talent of the German people.

Singing in the family adds greatly to the interest of devotional exercises, especially among children. It makes the family altar and home circle a pleasant place. The influences of vocal music of a social character have always been very happy indeed. Show us the family where good music is cultivated where the parents and children are accustomed often to mingle the their voices together in song, and we will show you one, in almost every instance, where peace, harmony and love prevail, and where the greatest risks have no abiding place.

Alexander II. gets $2,250 000 annually or $23,000 per day.
Victoria receives $4,000,000 annually or $12,322 per day, with a large allowance of beer.
Frederick William is not paid quite so well as his neighbors over in Austria, but manages to keep on appetizers on $2,000,000 a year or $6,219 per day.
Victor Emanuel manages to get along on Italy on 2,[illegible] per day.
Victoria receives [illegible] per day.
[illegible] receives [illegible] per day.

BEEF PICKLE.—Weigh the beef, selecting nice tender pieces, and to every hundred-weight allow 7 pounds of salt, 2 ounces of saltpeter, 1½ pounds of brown sugar, and 4 gallons of water. In the bottom of the tub place the pieces you intend for "dried beef," then over them pack the other meat. Watch it carefully, and when you find that meat and seasoning seem well incorporated take out the drying pieces and hang up. To the liquor add a little more salt, and let the other pieces remain until wanted. The dried beef can be smoked as you do hams, prefetted; but it is more delicate when that is omitted.

The Montreal Herald shows conclusively that the export trade of Canada with the United States has increased in one year—that ended 31st December last—53 per cent. It believes that the current year will show a still remarkable increase, and asks:—"If we can do such a large business with the States under existing circumstances, what may we not look for under a treaty of reciprocity, or, in its absence, the cancellation of many existing restraints. The total increase of the carrying trade for the year borders on eleven millions of dollars."

Another recalcitrant German theologian has paid the penalty for opposition to the dogma of Papal infallibility. Dr Reinitz, Professor of Canon and Civil Law in the University of Prague, has published a book, entitled, "The Power of the Roman Popes" in which he strongly opposes the new dogma. For this offence he has been deprived of his professorship and his benefice.

"Well, we shall see in due time; and, in the mean time, let us look out for lodgings."

Lodgings having been procured, Bill determined that we should take a stroll along the beach, where he hoped to meet his fair friend. In anticipation of such an event, it behoved him to be exceedingly careful in the matter of personal decoration. A bright blue scarf was fastened around his neck by a gold pin, spotless linen and rare studs shone upon his breast, chapeau blanc of the newest divine surmounted his glossy hair, and canary-colored kid gloves, enamoured his hands, one of which twirled a cane of the most fashionable kind. Not having any serious intentions personally regarding the ladies, I took little trouble with my attire—a glove of negligence which Bill thought was quite proper in the circumstances, as it would make the contrast all the more striking.

We sallied out, Bill leaning upon my arm and assuming a most distingue air.—Part of Burnmouth was built close to and stretched along the shore, and, before reaching the promenade, our way for a considerable distance lay among fishermen fishwives and fish creels. Some contumelious remarks were hazarded by the females about my companion's "flummery," and one stout young lass asked him whether he would not like to buy a cod's head for dinner, and hinted that she would give him a months' orailt for the price if he would favour her with a look of his hair.—As reply to such an irrelevant speech would have been extremely unjudicious, poor Bill could only mutter curses upon the insolent vulgarity of the lower classes. At length we reached the fashionable promenade, and I walked about contemplating those beauties of nature who neither blush unseen nor waste their sweetness on the sands of Burnmouth We wandered on for some time, but Bill's enchantress nowhere met his rolling eye. He had, nevertheless, the no slight satisfaction of "starring it" among many charming young damsels, and was inwardly rejoicing in his foresight in having "come out loud." But human pleasures are always mixed with some measures of alloy; there are invariably bitter dregs in the cup from which we quaff the nectarious draught; and my gay companion's case formed no exception to the general rule, for, at one place where the ladies were particularly numerous, he was dreadfully annoyed by some horrid donkey boys who kept shouting at him, "Will you have a ride Capt.[illegible]? We'll trot you out afore the ladies for a penny the oor."

This was really too bad. There are times, however, when Dame Fortune designs to make amends for the tricks of her eldest daughter, and so my friend experienced when his eyes were cheered by the sight of a certain young lady who was leaning on the arm of a crusty-looking old gentleman. Bill drew a long breath and looked around. No donkey boys were near and he moved on with a more elastic step.

"I say, Stewart, I shall look the amiable as we pass, and, as you are a lawyer and know nothing of human nature and that sort of thing, just have your eyes open and take a note of how she takes fire."

As we met, Bill shot from his eyes at the lady one of those powerfully expressive glances which the poet Shelly no doubt referred to when he wrote of "passion winged ministers of thought," and the fair one returned the compliment in a style which threw him into ecstacies, and even considerably staggered my sceptical opinions; but I told him that he had better not be too sanguine.

"Oh it's all right, my unsophisticated youth. We shall turn after them in a short time and make the matter doubly sure."

"I say young gentlemen," cried a voice behind us; "I say young gentlemen—"

It was the crusty-looking old gentleman that spoke. Bill drew his arm out of mine in an instant, and, assuming a look of the most intense solicitude, hastened towards the speaker.

"I say, young gentlemen, can you tell me whether the tide is ebbing or flowing?"

"Yes, with pleasure, sir. Beg pardon, I forget really. Ah! eh! Stewart, how the deuce is it? Ebbing or flowing?"

"Flowing."

"Yes, flowing sir. Charming promenade here, sir—delightful sight," and here Bill looked towards the sweet face surrounded by the brown curls.

"That will do; thank you," said old crusty, as he turned about and moved off.

"You see how it goes, Stewart—fortuna favet fortibus, as learned from the "Latin Rudiments," and have proved by my experience. About ship, and let us make sail after the old fellow and his precious convoy."

We followed them along the shore for nearly half a mile, when they turned round and came back towards the town. Of course we walked straight forwards, and Bill was rewarded by another melting glance from a pair of beautiful eyes; but the old gentleman took no notice of us whatever. The same promenade was gone through in the afternoon: but on this occasion fortune did not favour the brave. Bill did not obtain a sight of his beloved one.

Next morning we were out before breakfast and bathed. On our return we were fortunate enough to meet a young lady with clustering brown ringlets, walking along with pensive step, and seemingly engaged in the perusal of a newly bound volume. As we met the lady raised eyes in the most natural manner possible; Bill lifted his hat and bowed; the enchantress smiled sweetly; and her victim ventured to say, "Fine morning."

"I guess, Stewart, that I am making rather good progress. Another opportunity such as that, and the affair is about settled."

"Not quite so fast, Master William. Take it coolly."

"Take it coolly! You'll make me take it hotly if you are so stupid. You may know a trifle about law, and dry goods of that sort, but for making a gauge of a lady's heart—chy, leave that to yours truly.

"Be it so. But breakfast first, and business afterwards."

In the afternoon we were again on the sands, Bill arrayed as already described, and in the enjoyment of a remarkably buoyant state of mind. When about half-way along the beach he noticed a gentleman and a lady, whom he at once fixed on as "old crusty and his lovely daughter." The daughter it certainly was, but, as my eyes were not entirely centrated on her, I could see that the gentleman was not her father; and, on looking more attentively, I perceived that he was a stout, good-looking young fellow with moustache. I told Bill so, but he replied that I was a humbug, and must surely be drunk or raving mad, when I could talk in such an absurd manner; for how was it possible the young lady could be leaning on the arm of any fellow with moustaches?

"It don't stand to reason, Stewart. I'm blest if it does. The gentleman must be her father, though he has certainly got a bit of brushing up from his hair dresser, and wears rather a smartish coat.

As it would have been useless to persist in maintaining a contrary opinion, I subsided into silence. In being at that time nearly low water, several fishwives were digging for bate on the sands, and, as ill-luck would have it, we were walking parallel between us and the sea, while a stalwart young fishwife was farther off, but in the same line with them. The lady having looked our way, Bill took off his hat and bowed with all the confidence of a seacoast lover. The lady bowed in return, and made a slight motion with her pretty hand. Bill then took a rose from the button hole of his coat, and kissed and flourished it significantly towards the lady. The fishwife who noticed only Bill's part of the performance and evidently thought that his movements had some reference to her, at once drew herself up with an air of indignant surprise.

"Ye ill-mensered deevil, what d'ily mean by shakin' your crab's claw at me? Are ye in want o' a cod's head the day, though ye wear kid gloves on your hands? Out, ye ugly scoundrel, an' wash your face, an' gie your mither's son a drink."

It so happened that the gentleman who accompanied the lady became impressed with the idea that this remarkable speech of the fishwife was addressed to him and he began to remonstrate accordingly.

"Eh!—what the duce is the matter, my good woman? Some mistake surely, eh? Devilish odd really, 'pon my honor."

"I wasna speakin' tae you, sir; it was tae that lang ill-lookin' chiel owre there, wi' the white chimney pot on his head."

"Ah! I see. Duced natural mistake of mine though," said he with the moustaches as he raised his eye glass and scrutinized Bill as if he had been some wonderful specimen of the animal kingdom exhibited for the first time. The young lady held down her head, but a certain motion about her graceful shoulders indicated that she was laughing heartily.

As a matter of course Bill was furious.

"Devil take all fishwives. I say, Stewart let us go to our lodging. We can come out in the evening. Confound the luck, but that was a stupid affair. Never mind, my star is still in the ascendant. Did you see how she waved her hand? Rather encouraging, wasn't it?"

"But how about the fellow with the moustaches?" I asked.

"Only her brother, old fellow. I see it all plain enough."

"He don't look like a brother; he is more like an intimate friend."

"An intimate friend! Not a bit like that. Oh no, we never mention him, his name is never heard. At all events, I shall snuff him out like a farthing candle."

"Take care you don't burn your fingers in the attempt."

"No danger of that master Greenhorn. While the fairy hand of beauty beckons him forward, Bill Marchmont is not the man to be turned back by such trifling obstacles as a pair of moustaches and an eyeglass."

"Well, I daresay you have an eyeglass yourself; as for moustaches—why by the help of a burnt cork you might give that somewhat definite hirsut appendage on your upper lip a more ferocious appearance."

"Not a bad idea, although not too politely suggested. I shall think over it, but the matter must be gone about cautiously.—By-the-by, are there any corks in our lodging?"

"Yes, there are a few loose ones at present, and there will probably be three or four more after dinner."

"Very likely, indeed, for I intend to drain a few bumpers to the health of the fairest of beauty's daughters. Come on, then; let us have a jolly dinner before resuming the campaign."

The young lady did not appear on the promenade that evening, but her father was taking his usual walk; and Bill with an eye to business, at once resolved to watch him, and find out where he resided. Accordingly, we kept him in view until we saw him enter a neat cottage, the middle of three in a row. By walking along a street of fishermen's houses, and going up a lane we could see the back of the cottage, and not fail to note particularly that a small rose-bush grew near one of the windows.

"All right," said Bill. "I have marked the spot, and the denouement is not now far distant."

On getting out of bed next morning, I found Bill writing at the parlor table, which was covered with books and scraps of paper and love other signs that he had been at work for some hours. A moment's observation convinced me that he was deeply engaged in the preparation of an amatory epistle to his enchantress, and that, in order to get a sufficient command of mellifluous language, he had been levying heavy contributions from my copy of "Midsummer Night's Dream," and all the other books of poetry in the house. He read aloud some portions of his composition, and I certainly felt warranted in saying that his sentiments were conveyed in language surprisingly flowery, an expression of opinion which did not fail to elicit his approbation.

"Yes, old chap, I should think it is the real genuine article. I never could see any good in black snob Othello's trick of telling a round, unvarnished tale, especially, to a lady. On the contrary, I have always found—and my experience has been considerable—that a flowery dish, well sprinkled with poetry, and served up with stars and that sort of thing, is the proper sort of composition to please a fair one's palate—quite irresistable in fact. Now, I'll tell you this much; to-night you will have to congratulate me on my complete success, and, blow me, if I don't stand you a champaign Supper."

"I hope it may be so, Bill. But how are you to deliver the letter to the lady, when you don't know her name?"

"All right again. Her Christian name is Meldora. I heard the old gent call her so; her other name is of no consequence, especially as she will have to change it soon. Besides, I know the house, and further particulars can be learned afterwards. Of course, you noticed the sweet looking window with the rose bush at the side of it? Well, that is the window of her room. I'm certain. To-night, when it is quite dark, we shall get into the garden and steal up to the window, and while you keep watch, I shall take care that the letter is safely delivered. Likely enough plan, is it not?"

As he had evidently settled matters in his own mind, I made no objections, but consented to accompany him. The same day we several times met the young lady, the old gent, and the individual with the moustaches. On one occasion the lady lingered behind, and Bill declared that she kissed her hand at him; but with a pair of tolerably good eyes I could only perceive that she threw back her clustering ringlets.

The day passed on, and as the shades of evening began to descend on Burnmouth and its variegated crowd of pleasure-seekers, Bill became somewhat nervous, and was fain to stimulate his courage by imbibing several nips of brandy. His precious epistle was then enclosed in a highly-perfumed envelope, which in its turn was enwrapped within a piece of clean blotting paper so as to be protected from all unworthy contact. As the sky was cloudy, and the moon did not rise till about eleven o'clock, the circumstances under which the enterprise was to commence, were, on the whole, propitious. At ten o'clock we sallied out, and, after some dodging about, reached the neighborhood of the cottage. Here a dispute was like to arise between us, as Bill insisted that going up the lane, we should turn to the left, while I was equally positive that we should turn to the right, but as there was allowed him to lead.

We scrambled into something like a garden, and a garden it may have been, but if one might form an opinion from the perennial aroma of stale fish, and the frequent attempts of his feet to slip from beneath him, and that, too, entirely against his will, it was scarcely a fitting pertinent of a genteel cottage. This strengthened my conviction that we had taken the wrong way, but Bill said that we were all right, as the window and the rose-bush were directly in front.

"Now, Stewart, you go along to that other window, and keep both eyes and your ears open, while I proceed to business here."

I moved cautiously towards the window pointed out, but on my way I nearly tumbled over something which from the stench, I assumed to be a deposit of fish heads and other offal of a like nature. Not feeling myself altogether at home in such a locality, and failing to appreciate its merits in a sanitary point of view, I again suggested to Bill that we were in the wrong place, as there never could be such a confoundedly bad odour behind the cottage; but he said it was all nonsense, and muttered something about the balmy air being redolent of an angel's presence. Seeing that it was now too late to argue the question, I had no alternative but to wait patiently, for the termination of our adventure, although I could not get rid of the presentiment that it would end in a manner the reverse of agreeable. I reached the window, however, in safety. There was a faint light shining through the blind, but I could distinguish nothing within. Bill tapped at the other window, where he expected to find Medora, and suddenly voices became audible in the room outside of which I was stationed.

"Did ye hear anything Jess? As sure's I

MONEY TO LOAN,

In Small or Large Sums on easy terms.

GEO. T. LEONARD,
Solicitor, &c

May 26rd, 1861. 21-tfno

FOR SALE.

TWO BRICK COTTAGES,

AND BUILDING LOTS.

GEO. T. LEONARD,
Solicitor, &c.

May 24rd, 1871. 21-tfno.

IMPORTANT

TO FARMERS

AND THE PUBLIC.

I have now in my Flour Mill, for Milling Purposes, the

Best Machinery Known

At present in the world, and with an experience of over 40 years in the business, and from a fixed quality of Wheat; I can turn out as much Flour as

AS GOOD IN QUALITY

as any mill in the Dominion. I will, therefore, give in exchange for 56 lbs good clean Wheat, 48 lbs Flour and 10 lbs Bran. The Flour warranted to be good. This offer is equal to 200 lbs of Flour for 4 bushels and 40 lbs Wheat, or a clear gain of 30 lbs Wheat on the Barrel, worth at present prices from 42 to 45 cents

☞ Cash paid for Good Fall and Spring Wheat.

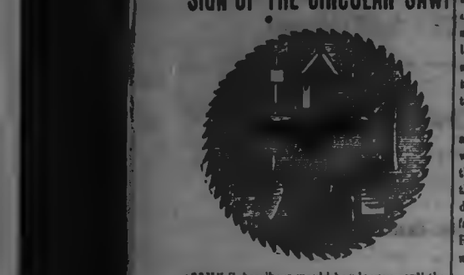
M. MARTYN.

Peterboro, May 22nd, 1871. 21

SIGN OF THE CIRCULAR SAW.



THE Subscribers would beg leave to call the attention of the public to their stock of

SHELF AND HEAVY HARDWARE

PAINTS, OILS, GLASS and PUTTY,

Agricultural and Garden Implements,

NAILS, LOCKS, HINGES, &c.

All of which they will sell at the lowest Prices.

Sign of the Circular Saw,

GEORGE STREET, PETERBORO.

McKEE & DAVIDSON.

Peterboro, April 26th, 1871. 17

TO FARMERS.

If you want to make FORTY DOLLARS AN ACRE off your land,

SOW FLAX!

Let each good Farmer sow Three Acres on trial, and see how handy it is to have $120 coming in to pay off your harvest hands in August. As there is a Machine for pulling, at the mill, it makes it one of the easiest crops harvested. For seed apply to

S. TAYLOR,
Flax Mill, Ashburnham

May 3rd, 1871. 18

TO LET.

AUBURN HOUSE,

AND ABOUT 70 ACRES OF LAND THEREWITH.

A Delightful Summer Residence.

Apply to

DENNISTOUN, FAIRBAIRN & CASSELS

May 3rd, 1871. 18-tf

VICTORIA

CARRIAGE

AND

Wagon Factory

Corner of Brock and George Streets.

The Subscriber would respectfully announce that he has leased the above establishment, opposite the Commercial Hotel and is now prepared to Manufacture

CARRIAGES,
BUGGIES,
WAGGONS,
WHEEL BARROWS,
BARROWS, &c.

At Low Prices for Cash.

HORSE-SHOEING MADE A SPECIALTY.

GEORGE W. MILLS.

Peterboro, March 7th, 1871.

N. B.—As there is another person in Peterboro named "George Mills," the public will please remember the distinction in the names. G. W. M. 13-tf

PASTURAGE

GOOD PASTURAGE,

Apply to

J. EDWARDS

May, 1871 20-tf.

SCOTTISH IMPERIAL

FIRE INSURANCE COMPANY.

CAPITAL - - £1,000,000.

Head Office—50 West George Street, Glasgow.

CANADA BRANCH—Head Office, No. 86 St. Francois Xavier Street, Montreal

WALTER BEAL.
Agent for Peterboro.

☞ OFFICE—SIMCOE STREET. 20-3ins

FARM FOR SALE.

The subscriber offers for Sale his Farm, North half of Lot 29, in the

13th Concession of Smith,

Containing 100 Acres. There are about 60 Acres improved and in a good state of cultivation. On the premises are a Comfortable Log House, Log Barn, Stables, and Sheds; a Good Well and other accommodations. For terms and particulars apply to

JAMES IRWIN,
Proprietor.

Harvey, May 3, 1871. 18 Lakefield P. O.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

Important to Farmers and the Public—M. Martyn.

Money to Loan—Geo. T. Leonard.

For Sale—Geo. T. Leonard.

The Peterborough Examiner

PETERBOROUGH, MAY 18, 1871.

Editorial Items.

Chancery Settings are being held here this week.

THE weather has been very dry without much warmth yet. Rain is very much needed in this section of country at present.

Dr. Kincaid was called away to the Indian Village, Rice Lake, on Tuesday, to hold an inquest on the body of some unknown person found in the river.

We invite attention to Mr. Martyn's advertisement in reference to "gristing." Mr. Martyn is offering great inducements to farmer's and others to get their flour at his mills.

Bradford, on the Northern Railway was almost destroyed by fire on Monday, 125 houses were consumed, leaving 125 families without dwellings. The loss is estimated between $500,000 and $1,000,000 The insurance is reckoned at about $125,000. There is not a store left standing in the place. Houses, furniture and large quantities of clothing have been destroyed.

EARTHQUAKE:—The vibrations of an earthquake were distinctly felt here on Sunday morning between one and two o'clock—houses and their contents were shaken for as much as 7 or 8 seconds if not longer; wash stands and their contents made noise enough to awaken parties in the bed-rooms, but no damage was done to any building heard of.

The body of Narcisse Cardinal, was found at the Locks, we believe, and an Inquest was held on the body by Dr. Kincaid, when the following verdict was returned:—That the late Narcisse Cardinal came to his death on the first day of May, 1871, by falling into the waters of the Otonabee River, by accident, while in the act of washing a portion of his clothing.

OFF FOR KINGSTON;—The young man who broke into Messrs. Ferguson & Elder's store a few weeks ago, was tried last week and sentenced to two years in the penitentiary at Kingston. He left for Kingston on Monday in care of constable Howden. Let us hope that at the end of the term he may be led to see that honesty is the best policy. His name is Blanche.

ALMOST GOING DOWN:—A lad from the country entered two of our jewellers' stores on Monday, and extracted some rings and other things, we believe. He was found out, and the missing articles obtained. He was sent to the lock-up for a couple of hours and let off. Let him take heed least a couple of years in the Penitentiary may not yet be the reward of his folly. We withhold his name out of respect for the feelings of his friends.

The treaty concluded at Washington is just now receiving considerable attention in the Eastern Provinces, where there is universal dissatisfaction, at the terms in favour of American Fishermen. Canada seems to be little thought of in their arrangements. Not even the warmest admirers of Sir J. A. Macdonald, attempt to defend the Washington Treaty so far as it relates to Canada. Perhaps the advantages are in the distance but at present so distant that few can see them.

SMALL POX.—A few emigrants arrived here last week, from England, and we learn that one of them has the Small Pox By suggestion of Dr. Kincaid, the man was put in a tent in the south end of the town, to avoid any chances of contagion.—He is isolated, having no connection with the citizens. We learn that he is getting along favorably. We did not hear of any other cases. The man who takes care of Brumley remains with him, we believe, all the time.

BUY YOUR RAILWAY TICKETS AT MENZIES.—Mr. Menzies sells tickets (and return) for all parts of the Dominion, United States and Europe, and at rates lower than on the lines. Parties having business in any of the Canadian Cities or the United States can save themselves a great deal of trouble by calling at Menzies Book Store, and securing a ticket before he starts. By doing so he would not have to wait at any station till a score or more are served before his turn comes.

The war in France is producing fearful results. The people were not content with the crushing defeats they received at the hands of the Prussians. They had to rush into a fratricidal war. Their beautiful capital has received more damage at their own hands than at the hands of their enemies. They have set to work with a will to destroy it and to destroy one another. McMahon has entered the city with 80,000 men, and is making fearful havock amongst the communists, who are making determined resistance, but to no purpose. What an infatuated people the Parisians must be! It is believed that the end is near—the Communist are now badly beaten

THAT NEW STEAM FIRE ENGINE.—We had almost congratulated the Fire Company on the fine appearance of the New Steam Engine for the 24th inst., until we remembered that the whole thing was only a vision of the year 1870, and formerly.—It was held twelve months ago that in case of a fire occurring, the Town was in a dangerous state—as there were no Water Works, no engine, no tanks, no water and it was believed that nothing less than the sum of $5,000 to $75,000 would be sufficient to ensure water enough to extinguish fires at the rate they were then taking place. But there has been a calm ever since, and fortunately very few fires. If one should take place, however, there are not sufficient provisions made to put it out, and the committee to which the matter is returned, is settled down to other matters. If, during the drought of Summer a destructive fire takes place and sweeps away $10,000 or $15,000 worth of property, the unfortunate losers will look on the matter in a different light entirely. The Council should see to it at once that a proper Engine be obtained, and tanks sunk; some additional hose secured, and all in working order, for fear that when needed it may not be forthcoming. Not a week should be lost in seeing after this matter. A week's delay may cost the town more than the outlay for two Engines.

THE BANQUET.—We would again inform our readers that the arrangements for the Banquet on the 7th of June are so complete that a grand success is certain. Several of the gentlemen invited have signified their intention to be with us, and we have every reason to believe that the others will favour us also. We must not again remind the friends of the Liberal Party that they should make the 7th. a special holiday.—Rarely does such an opportunity of hearing their Leaders occur; and when we remember that as speakers, Messrs. Blake and McKenzie have few equals, and no superiors in Ontario, perhaps not in the Dominion, those who miss hearing them will regret it—independent altogether of the political principles they may enunciate. The invitations to the banquet are to every friend of the liberal party, and we doubt not but on application, a liberal conservative can obtain a ticket. The Music Hall, where the banquet will be held, is small and only a limited number can be admitted, hence the necessity of procuring tickets at once, that thus the committee may have time to make all necessary arrangements. We trust that every reformer in the county will see the wisdom of assisting in making the Banquet a success.

The Queen's birthday passed off very quietly here.

Town Council.

The Council met on Monday, 22nd inst. Present—The Mayor, and Messrs. Smith, Morrow, Lundy, Doharty, Stevenson, Dennistoun, Toole, O'Beirne, English and Rutherford.

The minutes of last meeting were read and confirmed.

The Clerk read and submitted his certificate of the disapproval of the By-law for erecting the new Town Hall by the ratepayers.

Communications were received from J. Carnegie, jr., Secretary of the Immigration Society, asking for a similar grant as last year From William Hamilton, President, and Jas. A. Hall, Vice-President, of the Mechanics' Institute, asking a grant for the Institute. Both communications were referred to the Finance Committee.

A communication was received from a newly-formed Hook and Ladder Company, asking the Council to supply the necessary articles required for the company, and for uniforms for the members. Referred to the Fire Committee.

From Robert Romaine, asking the council to instruct the Chief Constable to ring the bell at 7, a. m., 1 p. m., daily, and to grant $25 for so doing.

From R. Wainwright, Wm. White, Geo. Wheeler, and Charles Eastland, severally asking leave to sell butcher's meat outside the market. Referred to the Finance Committee.

Accounts—from Dr. Kincaid, medicine, $6.00; Returning Officers, $14; Emigration sundries, $1.50; R. Cassels, attendance at court, $7-50; Certificates as to the value of G. Rule's sheep, $5. Were all referred to the Finance Committee.

Mr. Dennistoun read and submitted a report on the petition of the Market Clerk, which was received,

The Committee on Finance reported: "That they had the petition of the Butchers under consideration, and have to report thereon: that at this advanced period of the year, and after the market stalls had been let, and the outside butchers have been permitted to occupy their stands and continue their business up to this time unquestioned; and for other considerations of importance which they do not think it necessary here to particularize, your committee are of opinion that the existing arrangements as to the Butchers should be permitted to stand as they are for the remainder of the year.

Your committee would also suggest that it is necessary that the present By-law should be amended so as to admit of the Butcher's having shops outside being permitted to continue their business for the remainder of the year.

Your committee would also take the liberty of suggesting that the Market By-law should be amended so as to impose increased Market tolls on those who in fact make butchering a business, but sell their meat by the quarter on the Market Square—and further also so as to exclude slaughter-houses, from the Corporation limits where they are at all offensive.

As to the report of the Mayor upon the claims of property-holders on Bethune Street against the Midland Railway Company, for compensation which was referred to your committee, some time since.—Your committee are of opinion that those claims should be enforced, and they would recommend that the Mayor be authorized and requested to take the advice of Mr. Edward Blake, or some other competent counsel as to the validity of those claims, and the most effectual way of recovering the same.

JAS. STEVENSON.
GEO. EDMISON.
A. SMITH.

Moved by Mr. Doherty, seconded by Mr. Smith;—That the sum of one hundred dollars be granted to the Mechanics' Institute this year.—Carried.

On motion of Mr. Toole, the Street and Bridge committee were instructed to have George Street gravelled from Murray Street to Smith Street. Cost not to exceed $200.

On motion of Mr. Stevenson, a Memorial to His Excellency the Lieut-Governor was introduced and read, asking the extension of the limits of the Town. And on motion of the same, a Deputation consisting of the Mayor, Mr. Dennistoun and the Mover was appointed to wait on His Excellency and urge the terms of the Memorial.

On motion of Mr. Doherty, seconded by Mr. Stevenson, a Shop License was granted to Messrs. Hogan & McKeever, for the remainder of the year.

On motion of Mr. Edmison, leave was granted to Mr. Hill to light the gas lamp at the Music Hall for the convenience of the public attending the hall.

On motion of Mr. Stevenson, seconded by Mr. Doharty, the commissioners of the Town Trust were to be requested to offer to lease eighty feet of the market square, now set apart for a Town Hall, to any company who will undertake to erect a proper Hall, and other buildings thereon, in accordance with plans to be mutually agreed on and approved of by the Council. The town to have the right to resume possession of the said property at any time by giving the said company one years notice, and paying cost of the said building, but should no such company be found, within a reasonable time, then to offer the [illegible] on the usual lease, to the highest bidder.

The motion of Mr. Stevenson, copied of the Finance Committee, No. 4, presented on the 24th of April last, was brought up, and after being read, it was agreed to be adopted, except that part referring to the Licenses, which was to be referred back to the committee, for reconsideration,

The Council adjourned for one week.

British Columbia.

The extent and character of the trade of the new Province of the Dominion may be learned from the imports of the last year 1870. There are four principal ports, Victoria, New Westminister, Burrard Inlet and Nanaimo. The total imports entered at these ports were of the value of $1,561,893. At the southern boundary of the Province there were also goods brought in to the value of $83,916, making the total importations for 1870 of the value of $1,645,809. These figures indicate very large foreign purchases for a white population calculated not to exceed 12,000 souls; but it is not to be wondered at when the character of their imports are taken into consideration. These embrace almost every article that humanity requires, very little even of the mechanism of life being yet produced in the Province. In order the better to illustrate this, we append a few of the principal articles imported last year:—

Flour	$80,465
Dry Goods	191,864
Blankets	64,392
Clothing	102,349
Hardware	28,448
Tea	30,489
Sugar	83,753
Tobacco	29,930
Boots and Shoes	59,453
Live Stock	176,475
Butter	10,352
Opium	55,800
Spirits	51,414
Wines	34,476
Machinery	20,460
Agricultural Implements	10,400
Soap	20,381
Rice	21,974

British Columbia requires at present to import almost every article which white people consume, and hence the cost of living is exceedingly high, and the amount contributed per capita to the revenue, is large. The amount of duties collected in 1870 was $312,500. The Dominion tariff is considerably under which these duties were levied. Had the importations of 1870 come in under our tariff, they would only have yielded a revenue to the Dominion of $258,578. Under the circumstances, it must be evident that the terms which British Columbia secured in becoming a portion of Canada, are exceedingly favorable to her interests.

The condition of matters in British Columbia must at present be considered abnormal. The principal, almost the only industry, has been gold mining. The country has been visited by thousands of adventurers, many of whom were of too roving a description to remain long in one place, and left after a longer or shorter stay. In the excitement which invariably attend the search for gold, the agricultural and other resources of the Province received but scant attention. From this time forth, a chance may be expected in this respect. Gold mining has passed its first stages, and is settling down into regular business, whilst the prizes in the mining districts are not so rich or so unexpected, as to obscure the other important resources of the country.

The foregoing circumsustances must soon effect a change in the character of the imports of British Columbia, and render it the less dependent upon the outside world. Its agricultural resources, and the facilities afforded for some kinds of manufacturer, are at least such that it could supply the chief wants of its population in food and clothing, and clothing, and, as a Province of the Dominion, we hope not only to see this desirable result speedily effected, but all its interests become more settled and prosperous. — Monetary and Commercial Times.

VERSAILLES, MAY 22—The Commune troops rallied at Montmartre, and the Hotel de Valle the approaches to which place were defended by barricades. Much serious fighting took place and resulted on the Versailles troops occupying three-fourths of the city. A conflagration is raging.

VERSAILLES MAY 22—General Dombrowski who was reported to have been taken prisner by the Versailles troops, is said to have been captured by his own men, and to have since made an attempt to escape from Paris. It is stated that he and his command are surrounded near St. Owen, and will probably be captured.

The following resolution was passed by the county of Oxford Teachers' Association:—Resolved, That this Convention, while it expresses its approval of the new School Act as passed by the Legislature of Ontario, and considers it well calculated to advance the interests of the country, is nevertheless of the opinion that Dr. Ryerson and the Council of Public Instruction have made an unfair use of the power which the Legislature has placed in their hands, and have, by the measures they have been permitted to introduce—especially those respecting the qualifications of County Inspectors, and granting certificates to teachers—entirely thwarted the original intention of the Act.

EMIGRANTS KILLED ON ERIE R. R.—Whitby, May 19.—In reference to the late accident on the Erie Railway near Buffalo, on the 12th inst., Joseph Bell and William Wilson, with their families, from Scotland via New York, arrived here last night from Buffalo on their way to Port Perry. Mr. Bell died this morning from internal injuries received by the collision. Mrs. Bell has a broken arm. Two of their children, Jane and Robert, were killed on the spot; their remaining two children were not injured: Mr. Wilson escapes by jumping off the car to see what caused the train to stop Just as he got off he saw a freight train coming up at full speed. He had one child, Janet, killed; another child Agnes, had one arm broken; and the other one was scalded. Mrs. Wilson was injured in the head. Their remaining four children escaped with slight bruises. They intended coming by the Allans' Canadian line of steamers, but got booked via New York by mistake.

THE TYPE-SETTING MATCH.—There appears to have been but few entries in either the United States or Canada for the three prizes (solid silver stick and two medals) offered for the fastest type-setting In Philadelphia, we learn there were but two contestants—George Arnesburg and Richard McLean. The trial resulted in favour of Mr. Arensburg, he setting up one thousand eight hundred and twenty-two ems in the given time, against Mr. McLean's one thousand six hundred and fifty-seven. The former emptied his first stick in 21m. 10s., and his second in 40m. 46s., while the latter accomplished the same results in 22m. 30s. and 42m. 50s. Mr. Arensburg's proof sheet was remarkably clean, there being but seven errors in it. He is the same young man who set type against time in New York, at the Times office, during the past year, when he set 2,064 ems of solid minion in one hour. The Times says 1,530 ems was the largest number set at the match in Montreal.

Miscellaneous Items.

Mr. Sandford Fleming, is making preparations for a survey of the Pacific Railway.

[illegible] Lisgar, the new Governor General, has arrived at Quebec, and will come to Ottawa early in May.

The body of the young man, Rosebery, who was drowned on Young's Point about three weeks ago, was found on Monday at Lakefield.

An Irish League has been formed at Quebec to secure the co-operation of Irishmen of all classes throughout the Dominion in obtaining a greater share in the Government of the country.

A prisoner named Ryan, in the Montreal gaol, attempted to kill a fellow prisoner with a hammer last Friday. He was recently laboring under a fit of diliriam tremens, and is supposed to be insane.

It is rumoured in Ottawa, that on the return of Sir John A. Macdonal from Washington, the question of an early session of Parliament to discuss the International Treaty and other matters of importance, will engage the attention of the Cabinet.

The petition against Mr. Mackenzie to unseat him from the representation of West Middlesex has been dismissed as there were no particulars of alleged acts of bribery filed as directed by the Judge; that against Mr. Smith, M. P. P. for North Middlesex was dismissed because not presented in time.

When the defenders of a city call for a levy en masse, and begin to arm the women, we may safely infer that the game is nearly up. To that pass have now come. All males capable of bearing arms are ordered to the front, wherever that may be, the battalions of females are being organized to aid in sweeping back the hated Versaillists after they shall have swarmed over the ramparts. Manifestly hot work is in store for the rebellious capital during the next few days.

Not long ago a respectable lady handed in at the head office M——— a telegram for transmission to her absent partner. The message was found to contain twenty-two words. The clerk observed that by obmitting two words the charge would be reduced nine pence, and respectfully suggested that 'Dear Husband,' with which the telegram was prefaced, might be struck out. After considerable hesitation the lady acquiesced remarking," Strike your pen through them then; he will see at once that I have had the words written down.

The Religious Herald says:—We have this witty and unanswerable resort in a sketch of a short trip through a portion of Ireland, the writer is conversing with a car driver: "You are a Catholic, Jimmy?" "Yis, yer honor." "And you pray to the Virgin Mary?" "I do, yer honor." "Well, there's no doubt she was a good woman. The Bible says so. But she may have been no better than your mother, or mine." "That's thrue, yer honor. But then you'll allow there's a moighty difference in their childer."

Extracts from the Globe's correspondence:—Ottawa.—It is reported that Standford Fleming's salary is to be raised to ten thousand dollars per annum, in consequence of his increased duties in connection with the Pacific Railway. Lady Lisgar is expected to leave for England on the 22nd of June. Lord Lisgar will not be able to leave at once, owing to the urgency of public business. The immigrants arriving here all get work readily. The country never before presented a better field for the over-populated districts of Britain. Our agents appear, however, to be doing very little.

FRENCH JOURNALISM.—It is hardly too much to say that French journalism is fifty years behind that of England and America. The diminutive sheets and blurred type of the daily newspaper are a fair token of their meagre and unsatisfactory contents. The editorials are often sparkling enough. Nobody can coin phrases like a French editor. Nobody can place a subject in more striking or dramatic attitudes. Nobody can rattle away in lifeless style. But for a sober analysis, discussion and summing up of news, the French editor is wholly wanting. We read, here almost any number of French papers. Yet not until the English journals arrive and we see their correspondence from Paris, do we feel that we have attained to any consistent and satisfactory account of the situation there.

THE TREATY.—A brief sentence in the opening paragraph of the treaty respecting the "Alabama claims" meets the whole case as it lay in the minds of our people: "Her Britannic Majesty has authorized High Commissioners and Plenipotentiaries to express, in a friendly spirit, the regret felt by her Majesty's Government for the escape, under whatever circumstances, of the Alabama and other vessels from British ports, and for the depradations committed by these vessels" This is all that can be asked, and indeed it is all the apology that could be asked or honorably rendered; and by that expression of regret the whole difficulty of the negotation was surmounted. All after are but the details of a plain and almost common-place transaction.—N. Y. Christian Advocate.

A LITTLE GIRL NEARLY BURIED ALIVE.—A Milwaukee paper says that recently a little daughter of a cigar-maker, having apparently died of croup the day previous, was on Saturday last arrayed for the grave, and placed in the coffin, and friends came to the funeral. Rev. John Beding, pastor of the Lutheran Church, St. John, came to conduct the funeral services, and placing his hand on the forehead of supposed corpse, while the friends were assembling, he felt it to be slightly warm. He had the arrangements for burial stayed, and it was soon discovered that the warmth was that of life, the blood still circulating. It appeared as if re-animation was coming on itself; still restoratives were used, and whether by their means or in the course of nature, the result was that life returned in fullness, and with it disappearance of the malady, till the little girl is now out of danger and will soon be about again.—Am. Paper.

HOW AN INSURGENT GENERAL MET DEATH.—Gen. Henry, who commanded an insurgent legion when captured near Chatillon, and had previously for a short time acted as commander-in-chief of the insurgents, on being informed by his captors that he had but a short time to live, said: "I have fought for a cause that I believe a good one. I know the fate that awaits me. I have no regrets. My mother is at Sisteron. I pray you to inform you what has taken place." Henry was about twenty-two years old, and was recently a student in the School of Fine Arts Before he was shot he was asked if he would like to see a priest, and one of the bishop's chaplains offered his services. Henry refused to see him. He was then asked if he would like to see a Protestant pastor. He replied, "No; I believe in no God—none of us do; we are of the universal and antheistical republic. Why should I waste my time by seeing any priest?"

LORD NAPIER OF MAGDALA.—Lord Napier of Magdala is as much in his element on horseback now as when twelve years ago he hunted the Habratta soul of Tantia Topee. The other day, when at Cachar, he rode over to Moniorkhal to inspect the scene of the alleged misbehaviour of the 4th Native infantry detachment, and back again the same dry, a distance of fifty miles. And such roads! The picture given of his lordship at Dabrooghur will recall the chief vividly to the minds of those who know him, and especially of those who have seen how he comports himself when "roughing it" on the march or in the field. One hour he is reviewing a regiment, and putting the men through drill of which they would find the merits called out on duty; then personally seeing the men at target practice, and with his own steady hand and accurate eye testing the capabilities of the smooth-bores with which the frontier troops are armed; then acting as umpire in a sham fight; then in the hospital, speaking with each patient in turn, inquiring into their cases, and saying a few kindly words to each as were in a low state; then receiving the planters and extracting from them all the information he could regarding Cachar, then entertaining the station at dinner and ball in the evening, and off next morning for a 30 mile ride.—Times of India.

Smothered to Death.

A horror of the most appalling kind was brought to light in the vicinity and basement flat houses, No. [illegible] Parliament Street, Toronto, last evening. Mr. Donovan, his wife, aged [illegible] years, and their two children, aged respectively 11 and [illegible] years, occupied the west flat, and the east flat, front and afternoon were fatigued, having just moved into the premises but yesterday or the day before. Before retiring, the husband built a coal fire in a common cook stove erected in the kitchen for the purpose of counteracting the effect of dampness, the house being a new one, and lately finished. The father and mother made up their bed on the floor, alongside the stove, and lay down with their child, while the little girl occupied a room off the kitchen. This afternoon a woman who lives in No. 54 adjoining—the yard of which communicates with that of No. 26—happening into the yard, noticed a lamp dimly burning in the room, and fancying it singular that she had seen none of the family around during the day, immediately suspected something was wrong. She hurried out of the yard and meeting a man named Thomas Lynch, communicated her suspicions to him. He immediately ran to the rear window and peering in saw the limbs of Mrs. Donovan protruding from behind the stove, while a faint smell of coal gas issued from the crevices around the sash. He instantly broke in a pane of glass and unfastening the sash raised it and jumped into the room, and beheld there the motionless corpses of the father, mother and child, lying as calmly and peacefully as though they were but sleeping. The woman who had followed him in ran into the bedroom and beheld the little girl in the last stages of exhaustation, breathing but faintly. She was quickly carried into the open air, and thence into a neighbor's house, and carefully attended to. Dr. D. V. O'Leary was summoned, but the remaining members of the family, where beyond the reach of medical aid. Remedies were administered to the little girl, and it is thought she will recover. Coroner Mulligan was notified and took charge of the remains, and will hold an inquest upon the bodies tomorrow (Sunday) afternoon at three o'clock. There was nothing about the appearance of the bodies to indicate they had suffered any pain and there was no discoloration of the skin. The names of those who died were respectively, John Donovan, blacksmith by trade, Mary, his wife, and John, their infant son. We were unable to ascertain the name of the girl whose life was saved. The discovery caused the most intense excitement and horror in the vicinity, and will doubtless warn others of the danger of sleeping in the room where fire is kept in a coal stove.

Obituaries.

Sir John Frederick William Herschel, whose death is reported by cable, was the only son of Sir William Herschel, the great astronomer. Sir John was born at Slough England, March 7th, 1792, and was educated at Cambridge. He began his labors in mathematical and astronomical science at the early age of twenty-two, and continued them for forty years. He visited the Cape of Good Hope in 1834, and remained there for four years, making observations of the southern heavens The published results of his work is regarded as a standard authority in astronomy. On his return to England, he was made a baronet, and many other honors were heaped upon him. He leaves a son, who will inherit his title.

Prince De La Tour D'Auvergne-Lauraguais, whose death is reported, was a member of the Vodean family. He was born in Paris in 1823, and was made Minister of Foreign Affairs at the early age of eighteen. He was successively French Ambassador at Weimar, Florence, Turin, Berlin, Rome and England, and was for six months Minister of Foreign Affairs under Napoleon III.

David F. E. Auber, one of the most distinguished musical composers of France, died in Paris, May 14th, at the age of eighty-nine. He first appeared before the public in 1813 as a composer, and wal then unsuccessful. It was not until the year 1820 that he wrote an opera that was favorably received. He was an imitator of Rossini at first, but gradually formed a style of his own.

OUR readers will remember that we have time and again urged that prisoners should be made to contribute towards their support. There are some who raise objections to the utilizing of convict labor, but we have not met with one tenable argument against the adoption of a system which, while it inculcates habits of industry the panacea for crime, vice, and depravity of all kinds—would relieve the honest man from being taxed to provide board, lodging, and clothes for those who are well able to provide for themselves. We are glad to see, therefore, that our words have not been in vain. A contemporary says:

"The Provincial Government have decided to erect extensive workshops at the Montreal Jail, where prisoners will be employed at more remunerative work than the primitive hard labor of sitting on a block and breaking stones. The plans and specifications have just been completed, and the Department of Public Works invite tenders for erection of these workshops before the winter sets in."

In many places in the States the prisons are self-supporting, and there is not the slightest reason why those in Canada should be otherwise.

JOHN THOMAS vs. J. W. CARMAN & Co: As most of our readers are aware this was an action of alleged libel brought by the complainant against the publishers of the Daily Ontario, Belleville, for having published in their columns certain statements in regard to the unfair conduct of the complainant, who was returning officer in one of the wards in the town at the last election of School Trustees for which office one of the members of the firm was a candidate. The case created no small interest in Belleville circles, and the trial of which was looked forward to with a great deal of interest. Instead of being served with the customary writ in such cases, the defendents were arrested on a warrant and dragged before the magistrates court by a posse of policemen, and that in broad daylight. But we are pleased to announce that the Grand Jury, at the Assizes lately held in Belleville, threw the case out, finding no bill against defendents. The press and public of Ontario have strongly condemned the action of the magistrate in this case. We have not learned whether it is the intention of the publishers of the Ontario to proceed against Mr. Thomas or not.

A deserved honor has been conferred upon and accepted by Miss Burdett Coutts, who is now a peeress of the realm bearing the title of Baroness Coutts. This recognition of eminent virtue is doubtless one of those graceful acts which may be traced to Her Majesty the Queen, who is always ready to reward those who do well. Lady Coutts, whose name will forever be associated with the largest and most enduring works of British philanthropy, is the daughter of late Sir Francis Coutts, M.P. and granddaughter on the maternal side of Mr. Thomas Coutts, the banker, to whose vast wealth she succeeded indirectly. She was born in April, 1874, and is therefore now in her seventieth year. The inheritance which she obtained in 1837 was entirely unexpected by her, for her grandfather married the actress Miss Mellon, to whom he devised all his property. After his death she married the Duke of St. Alban's, but being childless by both marriages the Duchess justly determined that the fortune derived from her first husband should revert to his family and therefore made Miss Coutts heiress. The extensive power of bestowing society and her fellow-creatures which thus devolved upon her has been exercised without stint, and every charitable object which has ever come before the public of Great Britain has found a hearty sympathiser in her, whose name is familiar in all parts of the world where the English language is spoken All reformers of good and true metal-head will wish long life and happiness to the new peeress.

Wealth of England.

(From the Washington Chronicle.)

We noticed a statement which indicates the great wealth of Great Britain. It appears to of Two points: One, this vast wealth was derived from commerce, which England has wisely and liberally fostered. Second, for the safety of this vast wealth England wants peace with all nations, and will pay for it. The Manchester Courier states that the pinchem of capital in Great Britain is at the present time exceedingly heavy, in consequence of the payment of numerous dividends of various kinds, amounting for January, 1871, to over $26,836,000, derived from the following sources: From Dividends on English government loans, $68,500,000; Australian, Canadian, and Indian government loans, $7,000,000; English railway debentures, $3,700,000; Foreign government loans, $44,100,000; and English joint-stock bank, mining and miscellaneous shares, $5,000,000. The Manchester Courier asserts therefore is reason to believe that the total paid on stock and shared during the whole year amounts to over $400,000,000. A clear indication of the wealth of Great Britain, it is argued is to be obtained by considering the amount of capital stock in which dealings take place in the London Stock Exchange, of which the following is given as an approximate estimate: British Government stock, $4,000,000,000; Government stock of British Possession and colonies, including Canada, Australia and India, $2000,000,000; French government stock, $3,700,000,000; stock of other European States, $3,400,000,000; stock of the United States government and of other States of North America, $2,150,000,000; stock of South American States, $240,000,000; and stock of Central American States and of the West Indies, $170,000,000, making a total of $15,260,000,000 worth of government stock that changed hands either nominally or really during 1870. In addition to these, there were $2,750,000,000 worth of railway shares, and bank, telegraph, mining and miscellaneous shares, the total of which cannot be approximated. During 1870 there were placed on the British market $203,000,000 of loans and $85,000,000 of joint stock enterprise, the latter comprising $50,000,000 of Russian and $30,000,000 of Spanish stock. It is also estimated that the surplus capital and savings requiring to be re-invested annually in England amounts to one thousand millions of dollars, of which one half is invested in land houses and old and well-known stocks and shares, and the other half in new loans and joint stock enterprises. A another mode of obtaining the financial operations in Great Britain, the bankers' clearings on the twenty-four regular sitting days on the Stock Exchange are given. From these figures it appears that the stock operations of 1870 amounted to $3,174,570,000; of 1869, to $2,824,675,000, and of 1868, to $3,616,745,000. As to the extent of the trade and commerce of Great Britain, the bankers' clearing on the fourth day of each month give balance of $280,685,000 for 1870, of $348,645,000 for 1869, and of $785,340,000 for 1868 Taking the whole range of bankers' clearing exclusive of stock exchange settlements, it is stated that a sum of $16,396,530,000 was use din the banking business alone during 1870, and $18,301,235,000 in 1869.

Some years ago physicians had a habit of recommending every consumptive patient to take cod-liver oil. The incredible hastiness of the dose must have constituted to its peculiar merit; for as a matter of fact, any result accomplished by cod-liver oil would have been attained by the patient had cream instead stead of oil been prescribed. Suddenly this idea seems to have dawned upon the medical faculty. As a consequence we now have the "milk cure" announced a specific for consumption Patients who formerly put their trust in cod livers are now told that the cow are their only hope. They are made to drink vast quantities of pure milk instead of frequent doses of the unspeakably vile cod-liver oil. The effect is all that can be desired. The patient who tries the milk-cure finds himself rapidly growing fat, and it is also said that he coorses gentle; childlike and bland in his demeanor. The advantages of the milk-cure will doubtless make it extremely popular among those who have tried in vain to swallow cod-liver oil.—N. Y. Mail.

THE WORLD IN THE CEILING.—A rounded house in the Strand, London, says The Builder, has its top room crowded with a small dome, and this Mr. C. Bowles, one of the firm of the American bankers occupying the house, has caused to be painted with a map of the northern half of the world. It is exceedingly well and clearly done, and full of suggestion to those that view it with the mind. Little golden spots mark out the cities; the railway, the telegraphs, through land and sea, are plainly seen, and the degrees of latitude and longitude are shown. The causes which have tended to raise towns and countries to importance, the enormous extent of the Russian empire, the importance of the Suez Canal, the extraordinary railroad recently completed across America are a few amongst the points that are at once conveyed to the mind of the observer. The value of a teacher like this in a great school would be immense, and the idea might usefully be carried out further. Why should not the walls of educational establishments be decorated as we have, before now, suggested, with instructive diagrams, enlarged maps of countries, statements of leading facts in history; outlines of sciences, historical dates,—in fact, incidents of all sorts! Anyhow, Mr. Bowles has turned his ceiling in to what Byron calls the skull, a "dome of thought."

VENTILATE YOUR CHILDREN'S ROOMS.—Most parents, before retiring to rest, make it a duty to visit the sleeping room of their children. They do so in order to be satisfied that the lights are extinguished, and that no danger is threatening their little ones: But if they leave the room with closed windows and doors, they shut in as great an enemy as fire, although his ravages may not be so easily detected. Poison is there but slow and deadly: Morning after morning do many little children wake weary, fretful and oppressed. "What can it mean?" "What can it be?" the mother cries. In despair she has recourse to medicine. The constitution becomes enfeebled, and the child gets worse. The cause, perhaps, is never traced to overcrowded sleeping rooms without proper air, but it is nevertheless the right one. An intelligent mother, having acquainted herself with the principles of ventilation, will not retire to her own room for the night without having provided sufficiency of air for her children, in the same manner as she provides and regulates their night covering, or any other requisite for refreshing slumber. Sometimes by judiciously lowering a window, and at other times by leaving a door wide open, this end may be attained. In many houses the day and night nurseries communicate. When this is the case, the window of the further room should be left open, and the doors between the room likewise open. Even in severe weather children can bear this arrangement if they are not exposed to a direct draught.

Two extensive fires caused by incendiaries, broke out on Monday night in Montreal, destroying a large amount of valuable property.

To the Editor of the Peterborough Examiner.

DEAR SIR:

As there has been an almost total overthrow of any arrangements to celebrate the 24th of May, and on that account, "the powers that be," are determined to celebrate the 1st of July instead. Would you kindly remind your readers, and the public generally, that on that day the Rural Volunteers, and with them a great number of Firemen, will be away at the camp, at Kingston, putting in their annual drill, and which in your correspondents opinion will do much to render the proceedings which are supposed to come off on that day, in one sense of the word, a failure. This fact seems to have been entirely overlooked and ignored by the committee appointed to make arrangements for that day. In giving this notice a place in your journal you will oblige many and yours, respectfully,

[illegible]

Peterborough, May [illegible]

Lines

Mr. James Gordon Bennett, the editor and proprietor of the N. Y. Herald, is worth a fortune of ten millions of dollars. The profits of the Herald alone have been three to five millions dollars annually. This is a fact. Many other New Yorkers, whose names are household words, have large investment elsewhere, both in real estate and other property. This handsome competence has all been accumulated in the management of a newspaper.

King William's demand for men has visibly enlarged the working sphere of women in Prussia. By a recent order of the Minister of Education, competent women are hereafter to be accepted as teachers of modern languages in public schools, a position hitherto monopolized by men.

THE FUTURE OF TELEGRAPHY.—There seems to be practically no limits to the possibilities of telegraphic communication. Already the imagination, rapid as it is, is found too slow, and many inventive minds are employed considering the problem how the speed can be increased. As we believe perfection has been attained in the "Canadian Pain Destroyer," and that is the only reliable agent for removing pain, and curing acute, chronic, rheumatism, neuralgia, sciatica, pneumonia, &c. Sold by all Druggists and country dealers. Price 25 cents per bottle

The strongest points supporting the use of Fellows' Compound of Hypophosphites are, that while it takes immediate hold upon the system, in stimulating the Liver, regulating and strengthening the muscles of the heart, Stomach, Lungs, &c., it has no debilitating effect under any circumstances, and while its continued use is marked by the general toning of the system, without producing constipating effects, it may be stopped at any time without the usual disagreeable effect following the discontinuance of some otherwise valuable tonics. Hence, Fellows' Hypophosphites are peculiarly valuable to consumptives and other debilitated invalids, and our attention to this preparation.

BRYAN'S WAFERS, (The great public remedy) have been in use over twenty years, hence it cannot be said that they are on trial. They have been thoroughly tried, and pronounced [on the authority of those whose lives and health they have preserved] to be a sure, harmless and eminently salutary preparation, and if taken in season will invariably cure colds, coughs, sore throats, and all Bronchial affections. One fair trial will convict the most skeptical. Sold by all medicine dealers, at 25 cts. per box

Cure Your Horses.

It is to the interest of all who own horses to keep them in a healthy and sound condition, experience has proved that Darley's Condition Powders and Heave Remedy is the most efficacious, it has been used by thousands who will cheerfully confirm this statement. For Heaves, Coughs, Colds, and all diseases which affect the wind or lungs it has no equal, nor is it equalled as a condition medicine; it purifies the blood, corrects and improves the appetite, and softens the skin; in fact, so great is the improvement in the condition and appearance of the animal as to have led many to doubt if it could be the same horse. Remember the name, and see that the signature of Hurd & Co is on each package. Northrop & Lyman, Newcastle, Ont., proprietors for Canada. Sold by all medicine dealers.

PETERBOROUGH MARKETS.

Farmers Corner, May 23, 1871

Flour ₱ bel	$6	25	@	50
Wheat ₱ bush. fall	1	00	@	75
Spring Wheat ₱ bush	1	00	@	25
Peas	0	90	@	90
Barley "	0	00	@	00
Oats "	0	50	@	55
Potatoes "	0	35	@	35
Hay ₱ ton	8	00	@	10
Hides ₱ cwt	6	00	@	7
Beef ₱ cwt	6	50	@	7
Sheepskins	0	75	@	1
Wool ₱ lb	0	25	@	30
Pork ₱ cwt	7	00	@	8
Eggs, per dozen	0	10	@	10
Butter	0	15	@	18
Cordwood	2	50	@	3
Turkeys	0	75	@	1
Geese	0	40	@	50
Chickens	0	35	@	4

PAIN KILLER

Husband (returned from the village to)—Mary, love my dear; I have just returned from town and brought with me your entire list—Tea, Coffee, Sugar, Calico and in short a waggon full of—

Wife: (hastily)—And forgot the PAIN-KILLER?

Husband:—Oh! so; couldn't forget that; it's the most prominent object in every store in every store in town; and besides, the fences and stones and buildings all have "PAIN-KILLER" painted or pasted on them to remind one of it every minute. The store-keeper says that the PAIN-KILLER should be in every house and where one can put their hand on it in the dark if need be.

Wife:—It must be valuable, else the Parson's wife wouldn't praise it to the skies as she does

(To be continued.)

☞ The PAIN-KILLER is an internal and external remedy for pain. For internal pain, Cramps Spasms, Sudden Cold and Bowel difficulties, a few days on water will give immediate relief. As a Liniment it is without an equal. It stops pain almost instantly. Be sure and get the genuine made by Perry Davis & Son and sold by all Druggists and Grocers. 15-71

IMPORTANT TO KNOW.

One of Dr. Radway's Pills (made from Vegetable Extracts, prepared in vacuo), taken one hour before dinner, will insure a good appetite, promote digestion, and make healthy flesh. Taken in doses of from 4 to 6, every night, will cure Indigestion, Costiveness, Liver Complaints, Jaundice, and all diseases of the Stomach, Liver, Bowels, Kidneys, etc.

These Pills are free from drastic, griping and nauseating drugs! They purify the blood, cleanse the intestines, and purge from the system all corrupt and surmentious humor. Ladies in ill health should use them. Aged persons, subject to Costiveness or Paralysis of the bowles, should take two or three every night, for a few weeks; and the weak, infirm and paralysed bowels will become healthy and vigorous as in the prime of life.

An old gentleman in the city of New York, has suffered with costiveness for 30 years, used injections during that time. One dose of Radway's Pills gave him natural evacuation; six boxes cured him. He now feels more active and enjoys better health than he did 40 years ago. Price 25 cents.

See Dr. Radway's Almanac for 1870.—R.

CANADIAN PAIN DESTROYER.

A Family Medicine, well and favorably known for the past ten years, never failing in a single instance to give permanent relief when timely used, and we have never known a single case of dissatisfaction where the directions have been properly followed, but on the contrary all are delighted with its operations, and speak in the highest terms of its Virtues and Magical effects.

THE CANADIAN PAIN DESTROYER has won for itself a reputation, as a blood purifier alternative stomach tonic, unsurpassed in the history of medical preparations. It seldom fails to cure Dyspepsia, Liver Complaints, Indigestion, Heartburn, Sick Headache, Kidney Complaints, Acid Stomach Phathisic or Asthma, and restores to vital activity the system debilitated by suffering and disease.

Its magical and wonderful success in curing sudden colds, sore throat, coughs, Diptheria, pains in the side, loins and back, neuralgia, toothache, rheumatic and other pains in any part of the body and from whatever cause, has given it a place in every household and is last superseding all other preparations of the kind.

It is also an effectual and prompt remedy for scalds, burns, bruises, sprains, chilblains, cholera morbus, bilious cholic, cholera infantum, dysentery, &c.

Price only twenty-five cents per bottle.

NORTHROP & LYMAN,
Newcastle, C. W.
General Agents for Canada.

Sold in Peterborough by Dr. Taylor, A. W. Kempt, Wm. Coulter and Ormond & Walsh. In Keene by A. Campbell, Campbell McNeil & Co., C. Britton, Lindsay, and all Medicine Dealers.

DUTCHER'S Lightning Fly Killer.

Dutcher's Dead Shot for Bed Bugs

TRY THEM AND SLEEP IN PEACE.

19-4ins.

THE GREAT FEMALE REMEDY
Job Moses' Periodical Pills.

This invaluable Medicine is satisfying in the cure of all those painful and dangerous diseases to which the female constitution is subject. It superseds all cordials and removes all obstructions, and a speedy cure may be relied on.

TO MARRIED LADIES.

It is peculiarly suited. It will in a short time, bring on the monthly period with regularity.

These Pills should not be taken by Female during the FIRST THREE MONTHS of Pregnancy, as they are sure to bring on Miscarriage, but at any other time they are safe.

In all cases of Nervous and Spinal Affection, Pains in the Back and Limbs, on slight exertion, Palpitation of the Heart, Agoraries, and Whites, the Pills will effect a cure when all other means have failed; and although a powerful remedy, do not contain iron, calomel, antimony, or anything hurtful to the constitution.

Full discretions in the pamphlet around each package, which should be carefully preserved

JOB MOSES', NEW YORK, SOLE PROPRIETOR

$1.00 and 12½ cents for postage, enclosed to Northrop & Lyman, Newcastle, Ont., general agents for the Dominion, will ensure a bottle, containing over 50 pills, by return mail.

Iron ore, taken from the rock hills near the highest level of the Union Pacific Railway, has been smelted at Omaha and found of excellent quality, yielding 60 per cent. of superior metal. These hills of the ore lie near the railroad.

ONE HUNDRED DOLLARS A WORD.

For every word in the following certificate found untrue, after writing to the parties named and to the U. S. Consul, at Rio Janerio, the sum of one hundred dollars will be paid.

Rio de Janeiro, Feb. 28th, 1866.

Messrs. Raymundo C. Leite & Bro:

Gentlemen;—While a son of my friend Mr Francisco de Mattos Pimenta [a large proprietor in the Cidad de Campos] was staying at my house he was attacked with intermittent fever. Immediately I sent for the very clever Dr. Tonoco, who he thought a good deal of in Campos, but the fever instead of diminishing, turned, continued, and typhoid, the boy (14 years old) could not speak, would not take the broths, and it required a great deal of coaxing to make him swallow the medicines. Dr. Tonoco declared that there was not the slightest hopes of saving the boy's life; that it would be advisable to write to his father and inform him of the state of his son's health. At that moment I thought of the well spoken Dr. Radway & Co's medicaments, and applied them in the following manner: One teaspoon of Relief in a tumbler of water, dividing it three doses a day; frictions with the relief pure on the chest, back and wrists; three of Radway's Pills every day, and well covered so that he might perspire. Second day, half an hour after meals, one desert-spoon of Resolvent and water. In the fourth day he was able to get up from bed to the astonishment of every one who witnessed the miracle of Dr. Radway & Co's. medicaments.

I remain, gentlemen, your very obedient servant

Joaquim Pinto Filhao, Merchant.

Dr. Radway's Remedies are sold by Druggists and Country Merchants. See Dr. Radway's Almanac for 1870.

Q.T.
BUSINESS EDUCATION

BRITISH AMERICAN BUSINESS COLLEGE and Telegraphic Institute. The only representative in Ontario of the Bryant & Stratton International Chain of Colleges.

The Theory Department is thoroughly adapted to those who wish to lay the foundation of a sound business education.

The Practical Department is a minature business world, where each Student performs all the routine duties of office work, such as buying, selling, shipping, commission, and drawing notes & drafts and checks. A regular Bank of Issue is in connection with this department with beautifully engraved bank notes, which is as perfect in its details as the best organized institution in the Country.

Thorough instruction in Telegraphy. Life Scholarship good in forty Colleges. For terms address.

ODELL & TROUT, Toronto.
September 21st, 1870.

FELLOWS'
HYPOPHOSPHITES.

Amongst the diseases overcome by the use of

Fellows' Compound Syrup of Hypophosphites

ARE

Constipation, Asthma, Consumption, Laryngitis, Nervous Debility, Dyspepsia, Chronic Bronchitis, Chronic Diarrhœa, Melancholy.

Debility resulting from Typhoid and other low fevers, Diphtheritic, dysteria, Hypochondria, Amenorrhœa, Chlorosis Anæmia, Leucorrhœa, Nervous Excitability, Marasmus, or wasting of the Muscles, Aphonia, or loss of Voice, Chorea or St. Vitu's Dance, Sluggishness of the Liver, Interrupted and Feeble Action of the heart, Suffocating feeling caused by mucous obstructions of the Lungs and Air passages leading thereto, and Debility from various causes, many cases of which appear hopeless.

SOLD BY APOTHECARIES.

Price, $1.50; Six for $7.50.

JAME I. FELLOW, CHEMIST,
ST. JOHN, N. B.

16-1871. 4mos.

CANADIAN BANK OF COMMERCE

THE Canadian Bank of Commerce have opened a

Saving's Bank Department

in Peterborough—Interest allowed on all sum over $1.00.

J. A. HALL
Manager

FOR SALE.

That eligible Property on the South Side of the Little Lake, known as the

WARE PROPERTY!

Containing 37 Acres more or less. It is within a few minutes walk of the Town of Peterboro, and is peculiarly adapted for private residences. It will be sold wholly or in part as may be agreed upon.

For terms and particulars apply to

JOHN HAGGART.

Or to H. H. SMITH, Esq.
Attorney-at-law, Peterborough.

May 17, 1871. 20

PIANOS, MELODEONS, ORGANS

D. PENTLAND,

Is now Agent for A. & S. Nordheimer for the sale of the following celebrated Pianos:—Chickering & Sons'; Steinway & Sons'; Dunham & Son's; Haines Brothers'; Ernest Gabler; and J. W. Voss's.

Also, for the world-wide Celebrated Organs and Melodeons—Geo. A. Prince & Co., Buffalo; Mason & Hamlin's, Boston.

Instruction Books for Piano & Organ, Sheet Music, &c. always on hand.

REFERENCES.—Mr. F Bell, Organist, St. John's Church, Peterboro; Mr. D. D. Gallelly, Chemist, Canada Presbyterian Church, Peterboro; Mr. J. L. Davidson, Precentor, St. Andrew's Church, Peterboro; Dr. Taylor, Peterboro.

Peterboro, April 5th, 1871. 14

A CARD

E. BAKEWELL having made an engagement with Mr. Eastbrook may be found, by his former Patrons and Customers, at the store lately occupied by M. Moloney, where he hopes by his usual attention to business, and with increased facilities for giving satisfaction, still to merit and receive their patronage.

E. BAKEWELL.

Peterboro, Dec. 19, 1870. 51-tf.

1871 Annual Announcement 1871

(ESTABLISHED 1856.)

SEEDS!

Fresh, Good, and True,

The subscriber has received his supply of

FIELD,
FLOWER; and
GARDEN SEEDS.

Both of Home and Imported Stock.

WARRANTED GENUINE

FARMERS AND MARKET GARDENERS are respectfully invited to call and inspect for themselves.

COUNTRY MERCHANTS, supplied, as usual with boxes on Commission, or for Cash.

"Honesty" is our motto, both in character of seed, and in price.

WM. H. TAYLOR, M. D

At the old Stand, Corner of George and Hunter Streets, Peterborough, Ont.

16-tf

HOUSE AND LOT FOR SALE.

The undersigned offers for sale the dwelling House and Lot on

LONDON STREET,

at present occupied by himself.

Further particulars can be obtained by application to

Wm. LECH,
Proprietor.

Peterborough, April 19th 1871. 16-tf.

(Review please copy.)

TO BLACKSMITHS.

TO RENT.

A BLACKSMITH SHOP and DWELLING House, with a large Garden attached,

AT LAKEVALE

Better known as Fowler's Corners, Fourth Concession of Smith. Rent Reasonable. For particulars apply to

JAMES FOWLER, Sear.
Lot 1, 2nd Con., Smith.

Smith, April 22, 1871. 17 4in

Insolvent Act of 1869.

In the matter of HENRY THOMAS STRICKLAND, GEORGE WILLIAM ROSS STRICKLAND and ROLAND CLEMENT STRICKLAND, as individuals and as co-partners of the firm of STRICKLAND BROTHERS.

Insolvents.

WILL BE SOLD BY

PUBLIC AUCTION

AT THE

COURT HOUSE,

IN THE

TOWN OF PETERBOROUGH,

ON

Tuesday the 6th day of June next,

AT 12 O'CLOCK, NOON,

All the right, title and interest of the above named Henry Thomas Strickland, in and to the North half of the East half of lot No. 2, in the 11th Concession of the Township of Douro; and Village lot, No. 2 south of Charles Street and west of Lake Street; and Lot No. 1 North of Maria Street and West of Lake Street in the Village of Ashburnham.

J. A. HALL,
Assignee.

Peterborough, April 19, 1871. 16-td

A FARMER'S COMPANY.

FARMERS!

Insure Your Property

IN THE

AGRICULTURAL

INSURANCE COMPANY.

A Stock Company entirely devoted to your interests.

Insures nothing but Farm Property and Detached Residences.

Chartered and commenced business in 1853.

CASH ASSETS - - $550,000.

Mr. Langtons Report shows over $68,000 deposited as especial protection to Canadian Policy-holders.

Head Office for the Dominion of Canada, Kingston, Ontario.

We would refer you to the following named Gentlemen, in regard to the pecuniary responsibility of the Company:

H. Calcutt, Brewer; John Burnham, Barrister; J. A. Hall, Agent Canadian Bank of Commerce; Thos. Menzies, Stationer and Exchange Broker.

ATTORNEY—John Burnham, Esq.

BANK—Canadian Bank of Commerce.

Wm. T. Fish, Cobourg, Gen. Agent for the Counties of Prince Edward, Hastings, Northumberland, Durham, Ontario, Peterboro and Victoria.

Local Agent for the Town of Peterborough,
W. A. KING.

6-tf.

BOARD AND LODGING!

MRS. DAVIS' Boarding House has re-opened on Simcoe street, where good board and lodging can be furnished for gentlemen.

T. W. DAVIS.

June 29, 1870. 30-1y

NO. 4 COMPANY,

57th Battalion.

Will meet for drill at the Drill Shed, every WEDNESDAY EVENING, at 8 o'clock, until further orders.

W. J. GREEN, Capt.,
Commanding.

Peterborough, April 26th, 1871. 18-2in

V. R.

EAST and WEST RIDINGS

OF PETERBOROUGH.

The Reformers of the County of Peterborough will hold a

REFORM DEMONSTRATION!

ON THE

7th of June Next,

AT PETERBOROUGH.

Messrs. Blake, McKenzie and O'Donohoe

Have promised to be present, Other prominent Reformers have been invited.

AN OPEN AIR MEETING!

WILL BE HELD IN THE AFTERNOON, AND

A BANQUET

WILL BE GIVEN IN THE EVENING.

It is expected that most of the supporters of Liberal Government in the County will be present. All are cordially invited.

GEO. T. LEONARD,
Secretary.

D. W. DUMBLE,
Chairman of Com.

Peterborough, May 10, 1871. 19

NEW WOOLEN MILL.

To the Farmers and Merchants of the County of Peterboro:

The subscribers would respectfully beg to intimate that the Old Woolen Mill, once owned and carried on by the late James Harvey, Esq., afterwards by Mr. Daniel Brook, has been put in a

A THOROUGH STATE OF REPAIR,

And is now filled with New Machinery, got up expressly for the Manufacture of

Blankets, Flannels, Full Cloths, Tweeds, &c.

A large assortment of the above goods of our own make, are now on hand, and will be sold Cheap for Cash, or Exchanged for wool. Special attention will be given to the Custom Department, which is in perfect order for the Manufacture of Farmer's Blankets, Roll Carding and Fulling.

JOHN WHYTE, AUGUSTUS SAWERS,

N.B.—We will pay the Highest price in Cash for any quantity of Good Clean Wool delivered at the mill.

J. W. A. S.

:o:

To my old friends in particular, and the public in general:

I am now back in the Old Mill, with Messrs. Whyte & Sawers, and have got a Large Room all to myself. With a splendid

NEW CARDING MACHINE

Bring in your Wool, and I will give you BETTER ROLLS than have ever been turned out in this County.

JOHNNIE NEWTON.

Peterboro, May 3rd, 1871. 18

CHANGE OF BUSINESS

:o:

New Foundry Firm.

:o:

The Subscriber in retiring from the Foundry Business in which he has been engaged for the past 15 years, begs to return thanks to his friends and the public in general, for the liberal patronage conferred upon him, at the same time he would beg to state that the business in future will be carried on by his BROTHER JAMES and JAMES R. DAVIS, under the firm of Whyte & Davis. Mr. Davis is well known as a First Class Machinist and Millwright, therefore I have every confidence in recommending the New Firm to the public, feeling assured that all orders entrusted to them will be executed in the most satisfactory manner, and with dispatch.

JOHN WHYTE.

Peterborough, April 1st, 1871.

N. B.—Parties having Notes and Accounts to settle, will please bear in mind that the Books of account and Notes will be at my Woolen Mill, West of Whyte & Hamilton's Foundries.—J. W.

The Subscribers having Commenced Business in the Old Stand of John Whyte, Esq., as (Founders, Machinists and Agricultural Implement Manufacturers,) beg to say that they keep on hand all kinds of

AGRICULTURAL IMPLEMENTS,

SUCH AS

STEEL, COMMON, AND GANG PLOWS, HARROWS, ROOT CUTTERS, CULTIVATORS, HORSE HOES, GARDEN AND FIELD ROLLERS, HAY AND STRAW CUTTERS, with almost every Implement used on the Farm.

General Repairing of Reapers, Mowers, Threshing Machines and Implements of Husbandry on the Shortest Notice.

Parties about purchasing any of the above Implements will do well to call and inspect our Stock on hand, before making a purchase elsewhere.

WHYTE & DAVIS

Peterborough, Apr 1st, 1871. 15-tf

WILLIAM TOOLE,

Being about to REMOVE his Manufacturing Establishment from the Ashburnham Mill Race to his own Factory in course of erection,

On Murray Street, Immediately West of the Drill Shed,

Where he is fitting up with almost entire NEW MACHINERY, NEW MEN of long city experience, and, in fact, New Everything, begs to return thanks to his numerous town and country patrons for the very liberal patronage which he has enjoyed for the past fifteen years, and hopes by constant attention to business and fair, liberal treatment of customers, to continue in the enjoyment of the same. He would also intimate to his country friends, that he is manufacturing a few of

The Celebrated McKenzie Fanning Mills,

THE BEST MILL IN THE DOMINION,

Which he will sell at a very moderate price, and take in exchange any kind of FARM PRODUCE.

Peterboro, Feb. 9, 1876. 6

GRAND OPENING DAY

W. FAIRWEATHER & CO'S

Millinery & Mantle Show Rooms

WILL OPEN ON

FRIDAY FIRST!

WITH ALL THE

☞ Novelties and Latest Styles for the Season. ☜

On account of Extensive Alterations to be made on the premises, the goods will be sold cheap.

May, 1871. 19

Pianos and Melodeons.

Messrs. R. S. Williams & Co.

TORONTO,

Beg to inform their friends and customers that Mr. D. PENTLAND is no longer Agent for the sale of their Instruments. In the meantime,

Mr. F. T. LUMSDEN of Warsaw.

AND

Mr. R. W. Erritt, Peterboro.

Will take orders for them and supply Pianos, Melodeons and Organs at the Lowest Price and Easy Terms.

PIANOS, MELODEONS, & ORGANS TO RENT.

Address orders or enquiries to F. T. Lumsden, Warsaw P. O., or R. W. Erritt, Peterboro.

R. S. WILLIAMS & Co.

Toronto, March 20th, 1871. 13-6in

Farm for Sale.

The undersigned offers for sale his Farm in the

TOWNSHIP OF SMITH

Consisting of Lot 26, in the 11th Concession, and the North Half of 26, in the 10th Concession, and

Containing 300 Acres

Lot 26 in the 11th Concession is improved, 100 Acres of it being cleared. The remaining 200 Acres are good wood lands. The property is about Ten Miles from Peterboro, and five from the Village of Lakefield. There is a good Frame Barn, with a stone foundation under it; besides Stables, Sheds under the barn: Two Good Wells, and Two Healthy Orchards bearing good fruit: There is a good Log Dwelling on the property, and it is within half a mile of a Post Office, Two Churches and a Good School. It will be sold in whole or in part to suit purchasers.

Terms made known by applying to the proprietor,

RICHARD FREEBORN,
Selwyn P. O.

Smith, March 22, 1871. 13

ASHBURNHAM

New Carriage, Waggon And Black-Smith Shop.

The undersigned begs to announce to the people of Ashburnham, and surrounding Country, that he has commenced a new Carriage, Waggon and Blacksmithing Shop, on Lake Street, opposite the residence of E. D. Rogers, Esq., where he will be prepared to do all sorts of work in the above line.

Reparing Promptly Attended to

A first-class Black-smith will be always ready and willing to attend to Jobbing and horse-shoeing.

The patronage of the public is respectfully solicited.

A. WALLER

Ashburnham, March, 1871. 11-

$765,000

In Cash Gifts to be Distributed by the New York Cash Prize Co.

EVERY TICKET DRAWS A PRIZE.

5	Cash Gifts each,	$40,000	20 Cash Gifts, each,	$1,000
10	"	"	20,000	200	"
20	"	"	4,000	100	"
50	Elegant Rosewood Pianos,	— each	$300 to	$700
75	"	Melodeons	"	75 to	100
300	Sewing Machines	—	"	60 to	125
500	Gold Watches	—	"	75 to	200
Cash Prizes, Silver Ware, etc., valued at				$1,000,000

A chance to draw any of the above Prizes for 25c. Tickets describing Prizes are sealed in Envelopes and well mixed. On receipt of 25c. a Sealed Ticket is drawn without choice and sent by mail to any address. The prize named upon it will be delivered to the ticket-holder on payment of One Dollar. Prizes are immediately sent to any address by express or returned mail.

You will know what your prize is before you pay for it. "Any Prize exchanged for another of the same value." No blanks. Our patrons can depend on fair dealing.

REFERENCES:—The following lately drew Valuable Prizes and kindly permit us to publish them:—Andrew J. Borns, Chicago, $10,000; Jas. M. Matthews, Detroit, $5,000; John T. Anderson, Savannah, $5,000; James Simmons, Boston, $10,000.

PRESS OPINION:—"The firm is reliable."—"Weekly Tribune, Dec 28." "Deserve their success."—N. Y. Herald, Jan. 1. "Just and Honorable."—News, Dec, 9.

Send for circular. Liberal inducements to Agents. Satisfaction guratteed. Every package of 200 Sealed. Envelopes contains one CASH GIFT. Seven tickts for $1; 17 for $2, 50 for $5; 200 for $15. Address

C. B. HARRIS & Co.,
Managers,
62 Broadway, N. Y

Peterborough March 16th, 1871. 10-tf.

NOTICE.

NOTICE is hereby given that application will be made by the Corporation of the Town of Bowmanville, to the Legislature of the Province of Ontario, at its next Session, for an Act authorising the construction of a Railway from the waters of Lake Ontario in the Town of Bowmanville, in the County of Durham through some parts of the Townships of Darlington, Clarke Cartwright and Manvers in the said County of Durham, and the Town of Lindsay and Townships of Ops, Emily Fenelon and Verulam, to the Village of Bobcaygeon in the County of Victoria, thence to the Government lands, and lands of the English Land Company in the counties of Victoria and Peterboro, and to amalgamate or make running arrangements with other Railways.

R. WINDATT,
Town Clerk.

F. CURTT,
Mayor.

Bowmanville, March 22nd, 1871. 12-6ins

DAILY LINE
TO
ROCHESTER.

The Superb new Lake Upper Stare Cabin Steamer.

NORSEMAN,

Carrying United States and Canadian Mails and Express

Leaves Port Hope every Morning

FOR ROCHESTER

At 9 o'clock on arrival of Grand Trunk Railway Trains from East and West,

RETURNING

Leaves Port of Rochester (Charlotte) every evening at 9 o'clock (except Saturday, when she leaves at two P. M., for Brighton.)

This is the favourite summer route from Toronto to Rochester, Albany, &c. The cheapest and quickest route from points East of Port Hope on the Grand Trunk, to Rochester, Buffalo, &c. The favourite route to Avon and Clifton Springs, &c.

Passengers and freight take cars along-side steamer at Rochester Landing.

Connection made at Cobourg and Port Hope with Royal Mail Line Steamers from Hamilton and Montreal.

Address R. C. CARTER,
PORT HOPE, ONT.

15

TO LEND

$10,000.

Interest 8 per cent. No commission.

D. W. DUMBLE,
Solicitor.

Peterborough, April 27, 1871. 17-3ins.

Special Inducements!

WHOLESALE & RETAIL,

ARE NOW OFFERED

AT

FERGUSON & ELDER'S

We have now laid in a very Large and Complete Stock of New Goods for the

SPRING AND SUMMER TRADE,

Which have been imported from the British Markets. We are now offering Special Inducements in Fancy

DRY GOODS, MILLINERY, MANTLES, &C.,

☞ NOW'S THE TIME TO BUY. ☜

MILLINERY!

Ladies who wish to see

THE LATEST NOVELTIES

IN

Trimmed Bonnets, Hats, Caps, Mantles, Trimmings,

&c., &c., &c.,

Combined with Elegance and Best Taste, are now invited to pay our Show Room a visit.

FERGUSON & ELDER.

Peterboro, May 10th, 1871. 19

NOW IS THE TIME!

TO GET

CHEAP ROOM PAPER,

BOOKS, STATIONERY, &c.,

At A. B. KIDD'S BOOKSTORE,

AS THERE IS BEING A

GENERAL TURNING UP SIDE DOWN

OF EVERYTHING IN HIS ESTABLISHMENT, OWING TO

An Enlargement and Re-fitting of Premises.

SPECIAL ATTENTION IS INVITED TO HIS

NEW STOCK OF GOLD ROOM PAPER AND BORDERINGS.

Just received direct from England. He will sell these papers less, by 25 per cent, than they can be bought in Toronto.

Peterborough, April 5th, 1871. 14

EXTENSIVE

ALTERATIONS

AND

Enlargement of Premises.

W. FAIRWEATHER & CO

Preparatory to making Extensive Alterations and Enlargement of their present premises

Will sell off at a Great Sacrifice

THE WHOLE OF THEIR

Large and Valuable Stock

AT COST AND UNDER COST,

In order to allow the Tradesmen, early in April, full scope for their work and to

Prevent the Goods being Damaged by Lime Dust,

GREAT INDUCEMENTS WILL BE GIVEN

READY CASH BUYERS.

Goods will be Sold

AT PRICES NEVER BEFORE ATTEMPTED IN THE SALE OF FIRST CLASS GOODS

The Stock is well known to be all of Superior Quality.

Cash Buyers are invited to inspect the Goods and Prices, bearing in mind that no fault will be found if they do not buy.

REMEMBER

W. FAIRWEATHER & CO'S

CHEAP SALE FOR READY CASH.

March, 1866. 11

An Editor Sued.

The editor of the Muscatine (Iowa) Courier was sued the other day. He took it philosophically. Hear him:

"The fine pigeons of our neighbor, whose tame attachments are the admiration and envy of all who behold them, were yesterday found with their heads and tails cut off, and their bodies otherwise mutilated. Only a few days since, a valuable cow belonging to a poor widow was found in the agonies of death, by some cruel person having cut off her tail close to the body. The act of cutting is a science. Young lawyers who are anxious for suits, sometimes bring them for two. Old ones, however, never need to employ lawyers. Their reputation of skill is sufficient to secure them an abundance of business. Lawyer-lawyer employed to get anything done is there worth? Not to be had.

"We hope they [illegible] us; then we have [illegible] we've got any pay [illegible] it. They might [illegible] follows we owe [illegible] they will. [illegible] means on Cedar [illegible] for a plow [illegible] it would be [illegible] paper collar or have [illegible] been turned yet, and they might use the same subs. If this won't do we are unable to help them."

Wrong. [illegible] story of an old fellow out in Butler county which is too good to be lost. He was a character and always in litigation. One day while standing upon a street corner, a constable approached him and presented him a paper, which is [illegible] It is a summons sir. You have been sued before Squire Purvis." "Well now just take it right back; I does my business and Squire Gamble.

"What's [illegible] your head all lost."

If twice eleven are twenty-two, how can twice ten be twenty-two?

It is only ugly men whose women tell they cannot bear handsome ones.

A child asking for Mercutio, Whenever she looks her scissors, rouses the whole family with "Where's those shears appeared to?"

The following advertisement was in an Eastern paper recently: "Wanted by a boy a situation in an eating house. He is used to the business."

To the window shop in an obscure part of London is this announcement; "Goods removed, messages taken, carpets beaten, and poetry composed on any subject."

It is related of a certain traveller that being in a wild country, where he could find no provisions for himself or dog, he cut off the dog's tail, and boiled it for his own supper, and gave the dog the bone.

By a series of interesting experiments lately made in Philadelphia, a woman's tongue has been found capable of moving one thousand nine hundred and twenty times in one minute! Think of that and weep.

Somebody advertises for agents to sell a work entitled "Hymeneal Instructor." A cotemporary adds;—"The best hymeneal instructor we know of is a young widow. What do you know there is we are to learn?"

The art of using

The Peterborough Examiner

A WEEKLY

POLITICAL, AGRICULTURAL,

AND

FAMILY NEWSPAPER;

IS PUBLISHED

EVERY THURSDAY MORNING.

Terms $1.50 per annum in Advance.

LETTER PRESS PRINTING OF BOOK AND JOB PRINTING executed at the office, in a superior style, and at low rates.

Particular attention given to Ornamental Printing in Colors, Attractive Posters, &c.

Orders for Job Printing forwarded to this office punctually and neatly attended

Peterborough Examiner.

$1.50 PER ANNUM, IF PAID IN ADVANCE.] "Prove all things—hold fast that which is good." [$2.00 PER ANNUM, IF NOT PAID IN ADVANCE.

VOL. XVI. PETERBOROUGH, THURSDAY, JUNE 1, 1871. NO. 22.

JAMES HALL,

SHERIFF, Office in the Court House, Peterborough.

EDG. PEARSE,

COUNTY Treasurer and Clerk. Office in the Court House, Peterboro. 6

EDG. PEARSE,

OFFICIAL ASSIGNEE. Office—Court House, Peterborough. 5-1y

C. A. WELLER,

CLERK of the Peace. Office on Simcoe St., 10

C. A. WELLER,

COUNTY Attorney. Office on Simcoe St. 20

C. A. WELLER,

BARRISTER, Attorney, Solicitor, &c.—Office—Simcoe Street, Peterborough.

MR. JOHN BURNHAM,

BARRISTER, Attorney at Law, Solicitor in Chancery, Conveyancer, &c. Office—over T. Chandler's Store, Hunter Street, Peterborough, Ont. 39

GEORGE EDMISON,

ATTORNEY at Law, Solicitor in Chancery, Conveyancer, &c., &c. Office over Mr. John Kinmont's Boot and Shoe Store, directly opposite Mr. Clanton's, George Street, Peterborough.

Peterboro', Feb. 17th, 1864. 7

W. H. MOORE,

BARRISTER, Attorney at Law, Solicitor in Chancery, Conveyancer, &c. Office corner of George and Hunter Streets, McKellar's Emerson's old stand.

MONEY TO LOAN on easy terms, on land recently Mortgage bought.

Peterboro, April 6, 1869. 14

DENNISTOUN, FAIRBAIRN & CASSELS,

BARRISTERS, &c.,

Hunter Street, 3 Peterborough.

JOHN BREEN,

BARRISTER, Attorney at Law, Solicitor in Chancery, Conveyancer, &c. Office over the Ontario Drug Store, Scott's block, corner of George and Simcoe Streets.

Peterboro Dec. 1st, 1869. 48

GEO. T. LEONARD,

ATTORNEY-AT LAW, SOLICITOR IN Chancery &c. Peterborough. 69

S. D. CRAWFORD, M. D., C. M.,

MEMBER of Royal College of Surgeons, England; Licentiate Government Medical Board; Late resident Coombe Lying-in-Hospital, Dublin. Ryan's Buildings, Market Square, Peterboro. 7

DR. LOYD,

CORONER for the Counties of Peterborough and Victoria. Office and residence at Bobcaygeon. 47

GEORGE BURNHAM, M. D.

GRADUATE of Bellevue Hospital Medical College, N. Y., University of Victoria College Canada, and Licentiate of Nova Scotia, Physician, Surgeon and Accoucheur.

Office and residence,—Near the Corner of Brock and George Streets, Peterborough.

Peterboro, May 27, 1869. 43

D. PENTLAND,

DENTIST, would respectfully inform the public that he is now prepared to EXTRACT TEETH WITHOUT PAIN, by the aid of Nitrous Oxide Gas, a very pleasant and perfectly safe remedy.

Peterboro, November 25, 1866. 49

W. COULTER,

DEALER in Genuine Drugs, Chemicals, Patent Medicines, Perfumery, Paints, Oils Dye Stuffs, Hair, Nail and Tooth Brushes, Combs, Culinary Essences, Fancy Soaps, &c. George Street, Peterboro. 16

RUSH & BUCKETT,

VETERINARY SURGEONS, No. 6 Henthorn's Block, George street, Peterboro Horse and Cattle Medicines kept constantly on hand. Horses taken under treatment on easy terms.

ALEX. McNEIL,

LICENSED Auctioneer for the Counties of Peterborough and Victoria, and Townships of Cavan and South Monaghan.

GEORGE READ,

ISSUER of Marriage Licenses, Clerk Division Court, Township Clerk, &c., Keene, Otonabee. 20

JAMES McLEAN,

INSURANCE Agent, Issuer of Marriage Licenses, and Commissioner for taking Affidavits.

Cavan, Mount Pleasant, C. W. 30

CABINET-MAKING.

E. POOLE, Cabinet-maker, Upholsterer and Undertaker, George Street, Peterboro.

JAMES STEVENSON,

DEALER in Stoves, Tin-Ware, &c., &c. George Street, Peterborough. 16

ROBERT PATTERSON,

DEALER in Boots and Shoes. Spanish Sole Leather constantly on hand.

Nicholls and Hall's old stand, Simcoe Street, Peterborough.

GEORGE MITCHELL,

DEALER in Groceries and Provisions, &c. Cash paid for all kinds of country produce George Street, Peterborough. 15

EDMUND S. VINDIN

COMMISSION, Shipping, Forwarding and General Agent, Lumber Merchant, &c.—Office, Corner of Walton and Ontario Streets, Port Hope.

BANK OF TORONTO.

CORNER of Water and Simcoe Streets, Peterboro. Interest allowed on Deposits

J. McMURRAY SMITH, Manager

ROBERT WALTON.

SADDLERY. Dealer in Stoves, Tinware, &c., George Street, Peterboro'. 10

J. R. McCULLOUGH, M. D.,

Graduate of Trinity College, Dublin, and Licentiate of the Dominion of Canada,

Physician, Surgeon, Accoucheur, &c.,

AND

Late Surgeon of the U. S. Army & Navy,

Will be found at his office or at his residence, at all hours of the Day and Night, except when out on professional business.

N. B.—All communications strictly confidential.

RESIDENCE—and

OFFICE—Next Door To Wm. McDonald's Hotel, and two doors East Of Reid's Foundry, Simcoe Street.

Visits in the Corporation One Dollar, Only.

VISITS TO THE COUNTRY MODERATE.

ADVICE TO ALL FREE.

Simcoe Street, Peterboro, Ont.

September 8, 1869. 36

THOMAS LANNIN,

PRACTICAL TIN & COPPER SMITH, Bell Hanger, Steam and Gas Fitter, Plumber, &c. Dealer in Stoves, Iron Beds, Baths, Refrigerators, Water Coolers, Filters, Pumps, &c.

Queens Street,

Peterboro, 1st June, 1870. 22

JOHN COONEY.

NURSERYMAN,

DEALER in Fruit and Ornamental Trees, Shrubs and Roses, and all kinds of Nursery stock. A very choice collection of Strawberry Plants on hand.

Orders by mail promptly attended to.

JOHN COONEY.

Peterboro, July 21, 1868. 29

ONTARIO BANK,

PETERBOROUGH.

SAVINGS DEPARTMENT.

From this date until further notice, the rate of interest in the above department will be

FIVE PER CENT.

PER ANNUM.

G. E. SHAW, Manager.

Peterboro', April 1st, 1868. 14-tf

GEORGE ALLEN,

GUN & WHITE-SMITH,

Hunter Street, Peterborough,

BEGS to inform the public, and all kinds of repairing is done on the shortest notice, such as Guns, Stocking, &c., Pistols and Whitesmithing. Sewing Machines also neatly repaired.

Shop and residence adjoining the Union Hotel.

Peterboro, October 25, 1865. 43

CORE DISTRICT MUTUAL

FIRE INSURANCE COMPANY!

HEAD OFFICE, GALT, ONTARIO.

CHARTERED A.D., 1836.

ASSETS, $160,000 | LOSSES PAID, $416,000

POLICIES ISSUED, 15,395.

ALL kinds of Property Insured at rates from 15 to 20 per cent. lower than Stock Companies. Claims adjusted with fairness and liberality. Loans Property Paid.

ROBERT McLEAN, Esq., Inspector and General Agent.

THOMAS M. SIMONS, Esq., Secretary.

R. W. BRETT, Agent, Peterborough.

November 4, 1869. 46-17

TO THE FARMERS

OF THE

COUNTY OF PETERBOROUGH.

The undersigned begs to intimate that he is again prepared to pay the HIGHEST CASH PRICE for

Oats, Pease, Barley and Rye,

at his New Grain Warehouse in Ashburnham, situated nearly opposite his old stand.

His friends and acquaintances are invited to give him a call as usual.

D. SETHERLAND.

Ashburnham, Sep. 20, 1869 39

HARDWARE.

JOHN BERTRAM,

DEALER IN

Manilla Rope, Chains, Anchors, Axes, Augers, Saws, Files.

Carriage Springs, Solid Collar Axles Thimble Skeins; Waggon, Carriage and Buggy Bent Rims, Spokes, Shafts, Hubs, Seat Rails, Spindles—all dry; Carriage Rolls, Varnish, Paints, &c.

Leather Belting,

Machinery Oil,

Cabinet-makers' Goods,

Carpenters' Tools

And all kinds of

SHELF AND HEAVY HARDWARE.

JOHN BERTRAM,

Hardware Merchant, Peterborough.

February 3, 1871. 6

Stallion for Sale

The lately imported Horse "YOUNG ST. LAWRENCE," a thorough bred French Canadian; bred by the justly celebrated Horse "St. Lawrence," so universally known in Lower Canada.

His Dam is also a thorough-bred French Canadian. He is a dark bay, six years old, very active, and for speed cannot be surpassed by any in the Country, and is now being fitted up ready to travel.

JOHN CATHCART

Bobcaygeon, March, 1871. 11-3ins

Travelling Directory.

MIDLAND

Railway of Canada.

ON and after MONDAY, the 19th day of SEPTEMBER, 1870, Trains will run as follows.

TRAINS MOVING SOUTH.—MAIL.

Lindsay, Depart ..... 6.35 a. m.
Omemee, Arrive ..... 8[illegible] a. m.
Port Hope, Arrive ..... 1 10 p. m.

TRAINS MOVING SOUTH.—MAIL.

Port Hope, Depart ..... 3.05 p. m.
Millbrook, Arrive ..... 4.25 "
Lindsay Arrive ..... 5.30 "

TRAINS MOVING SOUTH.—MIXED.

Lindsay, Depart ..... 12 35 p. m.
Millbrook, Arrive ..... 2.25 "
Port Hope, Arrive 4.30

TRAINS MOVING SOUTH.—MIXED.

Port Hope, Depart ..... 5.45 a. m.
Millbrook ..... 7.05 "
Lindsay, Arrive ..... 9.10 "

PETERBOROUGH SECTION.

TRAINS MOVING SOUTH.—MAIL.

Peterborough, Depart ..... 3.30 p. m.
Millbrook, Arrive ..... 4.20 "
Port Hope, Arrive ..... 5.50 "

TRAINS MOVING SOUTH.—MAIL.

Port Hope, Depart ..... 10.10 a. m.
Millbrook, Arrive ..... 11.35 "
Peterborough, Arrive ..... 12.35 p. m.

TRAINS MOVING SOUTH.—MIXED.

Peterborough, Depart ..... 5.30 a. m.
Millbrook ..... 6 20 "
Port Hope, Arrive ..... 7.45 "

TRAINS MOVING NORTH.—MIXED.

Port Hope, Depart ..... 1.15 p. m.
Millbrook ..... 2.35 "
Peterborough, Arrive ..... 3.20 "

A. T. WILLIAMS, Superintendent.

Sept. 10, 1870. 36

GRAND TRUNK RAILWAY.

TRAINS LEAVE

PORT HOPE STATION

AS FOLLOWS:

GOING EAST.

Express (day) ..... 9.30 a.m.
Mixed ..... 7.00 p.m.
Express (night) ..... 9.20 p.m.

GOING WEST.

Express (night) ..... 10.30 p.m.
Mixed ..... 3.00 p.m.
Express (day) ..... 10.30 a.m.

Trains leave by Railroad time, which is about twenty-three minutes ahead of Port Hope time.

Warranted correct by the Company's time Table

DAILY STAGE

BETWEEN

Norwood and Peterboro'

The Stage leaves Norwood every day, (Sunday excepted) at 7 o'clock a. m.

RETURNING, leaves Peterboro' at 2.30 p.m.

Office in Norwood, Johnson's Hotel.

Office in Peterboro', Stewart House.

Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays, Stage connects with Stage for Blairton and Marmora. And the Stage connects daily with Hastings, Warkworth and Colborne.

J. A. JOHNSON,

23-tf Proprietor.

Montreal Ocean Steamship Co.

Steam to Liverpool, Londonderry and Glasgow.

Rates of Passage from Peterboro':

CABIN, - - $74 to $80. STEERAGE - $30.

Return Tickets for 6 months at reduced fares

For Through Passage Tickets, Staterooms, and every information, apply to

GEORGE A. COX, Agent.

Canadian Express Co'y.

Peterboro', Nov. 7th, 1866. 45

GREAT WESTERN RAILWAY

OF CANADA.

TORONTO LINE.

TORONTO, &c., TO HAMILTON.

Accommodation trains leave Yonge street Station at 7.00 a.m., 3.50 p.m. and 6.35 p.m. Express at 12.55 p.m.

HAMILTON, &c., TO TORONTO.

Accommodation trains leave Hamilton at 7.10 a.m., 9.30 a.m. and 7.25 p.m. Express at 3.45 p.m.

THE CANADIAN

BANK OF COMMERCE

CORNER OF

Hunter and Water Streets, Peterboro'

Interest allowed on Deposits.

J. A. HALL, Manager

Peterboro, July 27, 1870. 30

THOS. MENZIES,

Now being the authorized Ticket Agent for the Grand Trunk Railway, can supply the public with

Tickets to all parts of Canada,

Also to any part of the United States.

Charges the same as at any of the Stations on the G. T. R. So get your Tickets before leaving Peterboro, and save all trouble on your journey.

THOS. MENZIES,

George Street.

Peterboro July 3, 1870 13

Print Poetry.

License Laws.

BY REV. ANNE ROBERTS.

"We became thee for so much gold,"
Said they who filled St. Peter's chair,
"To pot away the wife who's old,
And take the one thats young and fair!
For public good requires a dame
To smell like heathen's for us at Home."

"For so much gold we become thee,"
So say our lords, "a dozen-fold,
That across the sea, unknown to fame,
A Queen wide the queue of hell,
For public good requires that sops,—
Since many die, should live by rum!"

Ye civil fathers! while the foes
Of this destroyer raise their swords;
And Heaven's own hell is in the blows
They're dealing, will ye cut the cords
That round the falling fiend they draw,
And o'er him hold your shield of law!

And will ye give to man a bill,
Divorcing him from Heaven's high sway,
And, while God says, "Thou shalt not kill!"
Say ye, "For gold ye may, ye may!"
Compare the body with the soul,
Compare the bullet with the bowl.

In which is felt the fiercest blast
Of the destroying angel's breath?
Which binds its victim the most fast?
Which kills him with a deadlier death?
Will ye the felon or restrain,
And yet take off the tigers chain?

The living to the rotten dead,
The God consuming Tuscan tied,
Till by the way, or on his bed,
The poor corpse carrier dropp'd and died,
Lashed hand to hand and face to face,
In fatal and in loath'd embrace.

Less cutting, think ye, is the thong
That to a breathing corpse, for life,
Lashed in torture loathed and long,
The drunkard's child, the drunkard's wife.
To clasp that clay, to breathe that breath,
And no escape! O, that is death!

Are ye not fathers? When your sons
Look to you for their daily bread,
Dare ye, in mockery lend with stones
The table that for them ye spread?
How can ye hope your sons will live,
If ye, for fish, a serpent give?

O holy God, let light divine,
Break forth more broadly from above,
Till we conform our laws to thine—
The perfect law of truth and love!
For truth and love alone can save
Thy children from a homeless grave.

Choice Literature.

Allan Douglas.

BY ADELINE.

"Had he but stood aloft!
Had he arrayed himself in armor, proof,
Against temptation's darts!"

In the year 18— the Royal Mail Steamer Tweed had among her passengers to the Island of Jamaica, a young Scotchman and his sister, who had gone out to take possession of a sugar estate, left to their father by an only brother lately deceased. The father was a Presbyterian Minister, and his manse lay far away amidst the heath-clad moors and purple hills of the highlands. There he had brought up a large family of sons and daughters, and had managed also out of small means to give them an excellent education. The household at Strathbarn manse was held in high esteem by the dwellers in many a mountain glen, and ever ready were parents and children to help the needy and succor the distressed.

A fine handsome young fellow Allan Douglas looked as he handed his sister out of the canoe that had conveyed them on shore. He was barely two-and-twenty, but appeared several years older, and Marion might well be excused if she regarded with something like pride her stalwart, noble brother. Then he was so good, so steady, so worthy of the confidence reposed in him by his venerable father, that surely all must go well with them in this bright and sunny land, upon which they were now gazing with rapt admiration, and amidst whose gorgeous scenery they were, for the next three years at least, to find a home. Marion was younger than her brother, but her home training had rightly fitted her to take charge of his establishment, while her calm yet joyous temperament, combined with the foresight and tact of a true womanly nature gave her certain advantage over Allan's somewhat impulsive charge or, which indeed perhaps, its due proportion of firmness and stability.

As Spring Valley Estate was some miles distant, and the day far advanced, they decided to remain at Port ——— for the night, and to start early next morning for their destination. There was no lack of amusement. The swarms of wooly headed negroes with their ceaseless clatter—the gaudy head dress of the women, and scanty costume of the children—the various shades of color in the creole population, from the dusky brown of the mulatto to the sickly white to the half-caste European, all had the charm of novelty. From the open window of their hotel they looked out on the broad waters of the bay rippling before the rising land breeze. Down to the very verge of the golden sands was the most luxuriant vegetation. The violet grapes of the wild cotton flourished in profusion, and the clustering wild jamerindas flourished in profusion, the glossy plumes of the cocoa-nut palms, fringed the long sweep of sea-beach that curved outwards to a conspicuous headland. Behind rose banks of feathered ferns, and cushioned moss, over the rich green beds of which drooped innumerable orchids—scarlet, white and orange—while above these were wild thickets of rhododendron and cactus, and strange and stately trees quivering aloft in the clear atmosphere, and mingling their flowers andleaves like a "broken rainbow," of all hues flashing in the rosy sunset. Yet this seemed as nothing when the next morning they travelled thro' the wild mountain-passes, and from the narrow bridal paths looked down upon steep precipices and crop ravines, by the dense bank underwood which clad with beauty the penetrate tree-trunks and rugged masses of rock and granite, while from every crevice arched out the curving fronds of the tree-ferns, and a thousand creepers and lianes wreathing the colossal gorges with a fantastic drapery of ever-blooming foliage. Marion held her breath as she gazed in awe and wonder on the splendor around them, whilst she could not help murmuring the words of a living author:—"If He be so prodigal of [illegible] glory as to bid clothe them [illegible] grass, all that unknown space she tenants of the world, with splendor beyond our dreams, that must be the glory of His most favored!"

A few hours the cattle in excellent order, and the encampment of an evening, and soon got initiated into the mysteries of quaint phrase and plantation work. The negroes called her "missy," and "Miss Marion" from the beginning. He had made up his mind to be a planter, and to see all his skill and knowledge for the improvement of the estate. Visions were summoned—the flourishing crops of the future—the comfort of the negro dwelling standing in contrast to his present miserable hovel—the [illegible] with golden sheaves, and continually [illegible] drumbeat of glowing cane-fields in full luxuriance, seemed the very home of prosperity and comfort.

It had been well for Allan Douglas if, like his uncle he had been content with manufacturing sugar only; but mercantile profits might be extracted from those patches of golden cane, and that "something was there!" The distillery must be planted by the sugar mill—it was a necessity. If his uncle had not seen fit to do it—why, he could not help it. The strict and somewhat stern old Scotchman had his own peculiar notions, and he did right to stick to them; but he, Allan, must advance with the times, must be energetic, enterprising. He was young, and his future, and that of others, depended upon his exertions and success,—so was he not bound to use every means for the attainment of his end?

It was thus he reasoned. It is thus that many reasons when they seek to acquire wealth and position—the prizes that the world offers to her votaries, the honors and distinctions that sway successful effort. Alas! are they not too often won at the sacrifice of principle and the wreck of the soul's most precious things?

The distillery was certainly a most profitable affair, as far as money making was concerned. Whether it would prove a blessing or a curse on the estate was another question, and one which had suggested itself to Marion. But Allan only laughed at her scruples. In their far-off Highland home, water had been their only beverage, and they had desired no other. But now, Allan must have his daily allowance of rum, and Marion saw with apprehension that he liked it. She could not help remarking, too, the more frequent quarrels among the negroes since they had been allowed their share of the fiery liquid. Again and again the question forced itself upon her attention, "Was it right to take the good gifts of Providence, and by a wanton waste and desecration to change them into a malignant poison? Could there be any blessing connected with a traffic that everywhere produced misery, crime, poverty and wrong-doing?" But although Allan would listen to her arguments, he was not convinced. He was in no danger! The idea was simply preposterous; and surely people might use without abusing the good things provided for them!

But Marion was not to be deceived. With the jealous instinct of love, she detected a change in Allan, and it was not a change for the better. He was more irritable than formerly—at times unduly excited; then exhausted and prostrate. It could scarcely be the climate that so affected him. His health appeared good, but there was a craving for stimulants that she would fain have repressed, fearing she knew not what. His business affairs frequently required him to spend a day or two in the nearest town, and there he became acquainted with planters and mechanics whose example almost imperceptibly influenced him for evil. His moral character was deteriorating his standard of truth and purity not so exalted as formerly; but none saw it or felt it as did the devoted sister, and even in the midst of her apprehension on his account, she still "hoped against hope."

"I must get to town early in the morning," said Allan to his sister, as they sat together on the verandah; "if I am rather later than usual you need not be uneasy, Marion. Cameron and two or three others are to meet me at the 'Hall way tavern' as I return, to transact a little business."

"But why at the tavern, Allan?" Marion asked; for she disliked the very name.—"Could they not meet you here?"

"No; they could not. I should not like to introduce them here—to you Marion. It is only on a matter of business that I would have anything to do with them, but it is a necessity just now."

Marion did not feel justified in saving much more, though she did not like the idea of Allan's staying at the tavern. However, there seemed no help for it; and the next morning as she looked after him on his high mettled steed, catching glimpses of his tall figure amidst the lofty avenues, she almost forgot that she had indulged in any fears on his account.

The hours passed never pleasantly enough to Marion, who busied herself with her household cares. At length came the cool, brief twilight, and soon the blue heavens had lighted up with the brilliant constellations of a tropical zone. But Allan had not returned.

As the night wore on, Marion began to be uneasy. What was keeping him? Two—three o'clock! Something must have unexpectedly kept him in town until morning. She tried to dismiss her fears, but with little success. To retire to rest was useless; so she threw herself on a sofa, and after a while fell into an uneasy slumber. She was aroused by her black servant, Nora, coming into her apartment with a message from the overseer, Cameron.

"Please Miss want mass," said Nora, "Massa tell 'em be here early ——"

Marion started up. "Tell Cameron to come here," she interrupted. "I want him. Nora, Cameron will know something," she murmured to herself. "though, perhaps he is not very reliable."

But Cameron knew nothing satisfactory.—He had met Mr. Douglas at the tavern with some others, but he had left early. Perhaps he had remained there all night.

Marion thought this very improbable, and her alarm increased. Cameron offered to ride over immediately, and, if necessary to go forward to town. Nothing else could be done as she urged him to leave at once and return as soon as possible.

Monstrous Marion was left alone with her agonized and pre-sensed thoughts. It was opening before Cameron returned and he brought no satisfactory tidings. Mr. Douglas had been to town, had returned as far as the tavern, and had left that place about ten o'clock. "rather worse for drink than he had ever before seen him," as the landlord rather pompously admitted.

Poor Marion! How was she to endure this terrible suspense? Her pale, and face bore traces of the conflict within, though she struggled to reserve the appearance of calmness. The servants were dispatched hither and thither, and a party of negroes set out with torches to explore the ravines and mountain passes. But when, after a fruitless search, they returned in the red light of early morning, weary and dispirited, Marion felt that there could be no hope, and that the light of her hitherto happy home was quenched forever. As if to confirm her apprehensions, his horse returned without him.

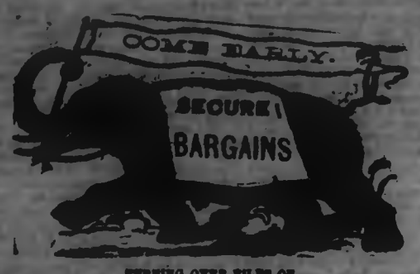
After an hour or two the search was renewed. Restless and excited, [illegible] the house, and wandered along the mountain path that overlooked the valley below. Suddenly [illegible] with inexpressible [illegible] suspicion. She had watched there with the wondering slave. But now, alas! what was there? A terrible stillness was around her, the air was [illegible] with the smell of [illegible] and quivering with the murmur of the myriad insects, that were rejoicing in their existence. Then there were [illegible] the flashing eyes of slaves, white men, and dogs, all in busy colors of the sun [illegible] in their [illegible] and [illegible] in the [illegible] [illegible] [illegible]

GREAT DESTRUCTION!

BUT

No Loss of Life.

ONLY THE



TURNING OVER PILES OF

DRESS GOODS!

AND PRINTS.

The Contents of Fifteen Cases and Three Bales. Just Opened.

Great Bargains in Hoyle's Prints.

Great Bargains in Dress Goods.

These Goods will be offered at prices that will clean them off before the end of the season.

FERGUSON & ELDER.

Peterboro, May 31st, 1871. 22

New Firm in Ashburnham.

MOWRY & FORSYTH.

The undersigned have leased the "Mowry Foundry," Ashburnham, for a number of years, and have put it in a thorough state of repairs. They have now unsurpassed facilities for doing

All Kinds of Work in the Foundry and Machine Line,

Which they will do promptly and on favorable terms. They will carry on

THE THRESHING MACHINE MANUFACTURE!

As carried on formerly at the Mowry Foundry. All kinds of repairing of

Threshing Machines, Reapers and Mowers, Saw Mill and Grist Mill Machinery and Castings and Turnings of Every Description will be done on short notice.

The work will be of the best material and workmanship, and warranted to give general satisfaction.

WE HAVE A NUMBER OF THRESHING MACHINES NOW ON HAND.

B. H. MOWRY. W. FORSYTH.

Ashburnham, May 31st, 1871. 22-tf.

EXTENSIVE

ALTERATIONS

AND

Enargement of Premises.

W. FAIRWEATHER & CO

Preparatory to making Extensive Alterations and Enlargement of their present premises

Will sell off at a Great Sacrifice

THE WHOLE OF THEIR

Large and Valuable Stock

AT COST AND UNDER COST,

In order to allow the Tradesmen, early in August, full scope for their work and to

Prevent the Goods being Damaged by Lime Dust,

GREAT INDUCEMENTS WILL BE GIVEN

READY CASH BUYERS.

Goods will be Sold

AT PRICES NEVER BEFORE ATTEMPTED IN THE SALE OF FIRST CLASS GOODS

The Stock is well known to be all of Superior Quality.

Call and Examine Goods and Prices. Bearing in mind that no fault will be found if they do not buy.

REMEMBER

W. FAIRWEATHER & CO'S

CHEAP SALE FOR READY CASH.

March, 1870. 31.

LOST.

A GOLD BRACELET,

On Sabbath last, somewhere on Simcoe or George Street. The Finder will be suitably rewarded by leaving it at this office.

Peterboro, May 31, 1871. 22

ATTENTION.

THE ASHBURNHAM VOLUNTEER COMPANY will meet for Drill

On FRIDAY, the 2nd of JUNE, 1871,

At 7 p. m., at the Drill Shed, Ashburnham, and every subsequent Tuesday and Friday until further orders. A full attendance is requested.

JOHN BURNHAM,
Lieut.-Commanding.

May 31, 1871. 22-2in

Dissolution of Partnership.

Notice is hereby given that the Partnership heretofore existing between us, the undersigned as Carriage Makers in the Town of Peterboro', in the County of Peterborough, has been this day dissolved by mutual consent. All debts owing to the said partnership are to be paid to, and all claims against the said partnership are to be paid by the undersigned, John Lockhart.

JOHN LOCKHART
JAMES MILLER.

Dated at Peterborough, this 29th day of May, A. D. 1871.

In connection with the above, the public are respectfully informed that the business, as heretofore, will be conducted under the name of Lockhart & Chown, and that all orders entrusted to them will receive prompt attention.

LOCKHART & CHOWN.

Peterboro, May 30th, 1871. 22

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

[illegible]—Tenders for Bricks.
[illegible]—Notice.
[illegible]—Notice.
[illegible]—Notice.
[illegible]—Notice.
Grand Distribution.—Ferguson & Elder.
Dissolution of Partnership.—Lockhart & Miller.
New Firm in Ashburnham.—Mowry & Forsyth.

The Peterborough Examiner

PETERBOROUGH, JUNE 1, 1871.

Editorial Items.

The Montreal Gazette lost two Editors by drowning, on the Queen's Birth-day.—Both were swept over the Caughnawaga Rapids, while out for pleasure.

PETERBOROUGH LITERARY SOCIETY.—At the next regular meeting of this Society, which will take place in the room over the Mechanics' Institute Reading Room, on Friday evening, the 2nd June, there will be a Debate, in which all members of the Society may take part; also English Reading and an Essay.

THE BANQUET.—The arrangements of the Committee are now complete, and Wednesday will be a Gala Day. An immense number of the Masters will avail themselves of the opportunity of hearing the Messrs. Blake, MacKenzie and O'Donohoe, and others who are expected. We remind all that tickets should be secured at once to secure an entrance to the Music Hall, as the Hall is small.

NEW FIRM.—We invite attention to the advertisement of Messrs. Mowry and Forsyth, of Ashburnham. These gentlemen have refitted the establishment and are prepared to do all kinds of work in their line, and they guarantee all workmanship and material. Give them a call.

PETERS' MUSICAL MONTHLY for June contains a beautiful selection of new music. We give below the contents—any single piece being worth far much as Mr. Peters asks for the entire list:

"Genevieve." Scotch Song and Chorus, by Hays.—"Little voices heard no more." Song and Chorus, by Persley.—"Must I leave thee, Mother dear?" Song, by Halevy.—"Dawn of Love." A beautiful German Song, by Holzel.—"I'm my Daddy's only Son." Dance Song.—"Lily Bell." Quartet.—"Tis the first rose of Summer." Quartet.—"Forget-me-not." Quartet.—"Oh! Holy, Holy Lord."—"Saviour who thy Flocks are tending."—"Soldiers of Christ arise."—"My Faith looks up to Thee."—"Red Bird Waltz."—"Chicago Quickstep."—"Nipping Brook Polka."—and "The Chase." Hunting Rondo, by Tenel.

PETERS' MUSICAL MONTHLY for June, price 30 cents, containing the above pieces, or the same pieces in sheet-form, (printed from the same plates,) price $6.50. Address, J. L. PETERS, 599 Broadway, New York.

Paris.

This doomed city is again under the control of some kind of a fixed government. The Thiers or Versailles Government has succeeded in subduing the communist rabble after a fearful loss of life on the part of the unfortunate communists. No less than 60,000 dead bodies are said to have been lying in the streets and avenues of Paris, at the close of the successful battles of Saturday and Sunday last. The sewers of the city were represented as running with blood, perhaps discolored with the blood of the slain. The finest parts of the city and the noblest works of art have been destroyed by the foolish rabble, who looked upon everything accumulated or erected during the empire as indicative of tyranny—and hence to be destroyed.

The same sad tale of all civil wars has been again enacted at the capital of that gay and excitable people. It is now hoped that the rebellion is crushed, and order will be restored and secured. The French people are not yet prepared for a republican government. It is not suited to the idiosyncrasies of the people, nor are the leaders in favour of it. The Orleanists or the Napoleons will be called back ere long no doubt, but there will be no easy task for many years. France under the III. Napoleon enjoyed as great prosperity, and respect as she did under any of his predecessors and the only thing to be regretted is that the people were not satisfied with prosperity and honor, but had to rush into an unequal war of aggression. The death or banishment of the ring-leaders in the present trouble may enable the people again to return to their different industries, and thus try to make the best of their condition.

Railway Prospects.

As our readers are aware, a committee of citizens was appointed to take into consideration the various projects that have been brought before the people in reference to opening another line of communication with the front, and also in reference to securing the Haliburton road. The difficulty with this last road is that of securing Stock enough to enable the Company to be organized. At present, the whole affair is in the hands of the Provisional Directors, and they are much disobliged at building the road but not likely to risk much cash in it, no matter how desirous they are of getting a road to the North; and hence it must remain as it is until some Railway Company or the Town takes hold of it and puts it through. We trust, however, that the Town Council will leave the building of railways to railway men. It is all well enough to give bonuses to railways, but to build railways will prove a different thing, perhaps.

A Deputation from Belleville, consisting of the promoters of the Grand Junction scheme, met the Railway Committee of this Town, on Thursday last, and after some little fencing, made an offer—that if the Town of Peterboro would give a bonus of $50,000 the Grand Junction would at once be commenced and finished to Chemong Lake. Arms was disposed to consider this a fair offer, and advise embracing it. At any rate this is an offer to do something—and may lead to the very thing wanted in Peterborough. A Mr. Binnie, a Railway Contractor, who was present, said he was prepared to take the contract of the Grand Junction Line, from Belleville to Mud Lake, if $100,000 more bonus should be guaranteed; but as the Committee had to consult the Cobourg and Marmora Company no definite action was taken on the offer of the Belleville people.

THE [illegible] ROAD PROSPECTS.

A Deputation from the Town, consisting of the Mayor, T. S. Fairbairn, Esq., M. P. P., and [illegible] of the Board of the Road, and the Mayor of Cobourg, the managing Director of the Cobourg and Marmora Company, Col. Chamberlin, to gather with several members of the Cobourg Town Council, on Monday, and discussed the probabilities of re-opening the Cobourg & Peterboro Road, and extending to Mud Lake. Col. Chamberlin received the Peterboro deputation kindly, and discussed the project, but of course from his own stand point. He appeared ready to recommend to his Company the reconstruction of the road to Peterboro, if Peterboro is prepared to secure the road from the Town to the Lake. The whole matter is therefore narrowed down to the two points, viz:—Shall the Town give the bonus asked—$50,000 to the Grand Junction Company, and thus get communication with the Lakes and the Front by way of Belleville?—or will the offer of Col. Chamblin be taken, and construct an independent road in connection with the Haliburton road.

The offer in connection with the Cobourg scheme would enable us to secure the point of approach to Mud Lake at any desired place, and on the Haliburton Line, which some consider an advantage; while the portion of the road to Mud Lake if constructed by the Grand Junction Company would touch the lake too far west, it is thought. These are matters of detail, however, and require more consideration than has been yet given to them.

Another scheme proposed, and a good one too, is to give a larger bonus to any company that will extend to Bobcaygeon and Veneloe Falls, and thence to Georgian Bay. This would be the best for Peterboro and also for the Railway Company undertaking, as it would secure the traffic of the Lakes and of the Back Country also.

If, in addition to this, the Haliburton road should be built, then Peterboro would secure her rightful share of the back trade.

Another road to the Front, and an extension of it to the Lakes is now possible, and may ere long be an accomplished fact. The Cobourg & Marmora Company appears to be ready to commence this at any early date, if sufficient encouragement be given. This, therefore, must now be considered at once, and definite action taken immediately. Whatever is to be done should be done quickly.

Nitro-Glycerine Explosion.

At 4.30 o'clock yesterday afternoon, 400lbs of nitro-glycerine in cans, loaded on a waggon bound from Titusville to Tidioute, exploded about three-quarters of a mile this side of Enterprise, on the public highway leading from Titusville. The driver Mr. Charles C. Clarke, who was one of Robert's & Co's most careful agents, was blown to atoms, as also was the horse and waggon. A large circular excavation, about four or five feet deep in diameter, was made in the middle of the road; the fences and trees for a considerable distance on either side were shattered into fragments. A barn, the property of Mr. Cosfer, about 40 rods nearer Enterprise, was blown to pieces, and the whole neighborhood converted into a complete wreck. The butt end of the driver's whip was driven a distance of nearly a quarter of a mile, passed through a window in Mr. Arnamine's house, and knocked his wife senseless. Several persons a remote distance from the scene of disaster were so stunned by the shock that they were confined in bed. The houses all along the road leading into Enterprise were more or less injured, being twisted out of shape in such a manner as to prevent the opening or shutting of windows or doors. The shock was like that of an earthquake, extending for miles, and being felt throughout the surrounding country, and distinctly heard in this city. Several houses here were shaken to their foundations. On Church Run the report sounded like a boiler explosion, and in this vicinity like the low rumbling of an earthquake. Strange to say, Clark's face was found almost entire without the skull. One eye was blown out and the other was open, glaring and transfixed in death. The mouth and nose and moustache were perfectly natural, and apparently he had not time even to put on an expression of alarm. All the remaining portions of the body were scattered so widely and torn into such fragments that it was difficult to tell which belonged to the man and which to the horse. The appearance of what was once the horse and waggon beggars description. The fore-quarter of the animal was lying in the road way, the shoes of the fore-feet gone, and the entrails and hinder parts scattered, while a broken shaft and small pieces of steel and iron were all that could be collected of the wagon. The fragments of steel were for the most part twisted into peculiar shapes, and broken with ragged edges.—Titusville Herald.

The remarkable success which has attended the attempt to render convict labour remunerative, at the Detroit House of Correction and other places, has awakened much public discussion on the question, and in all directions endeavours are made with more or less success to follow in the footsteps of the institutions which have up to the present time successfully solved the problem. In view of this controversy, some figures relating to the Ohio Penitentiary possess considerable interest. It appears that last year the Penitentiary paid into the State Treasury $31,737 more than it drew out for ordinary expenses. The average annual cost of keeping each prisoner was, for clothing, $9.09; for board, $44.90 prison expenses, salaries, &c., $90.14, making a total of $144.53. On the other side, the earnings of an able-bodied person are about $650 to $900 per year; so that, upon a fair estimate, a prisoner may earn $100 to $125 a year above his share of the expenses of the prison. By the terms of a measure recently submitted to the Ohio Legislature, it was proposed to pay the earnings of a convict, after providing for the necessary expenses of the jail, towards the maintenance of his family, whilst it was claimed would go far towards preventing the suffering which is necessarily attendant upon the compulsory absence of the head of the family. Many of the most eminent authorities on this question are in favour of this way of disposing of the surplus earnings of the prisoners, in preference to their being used by the State. In the case of the Detroit Prison, the surplus funds have been applied chiefly towards the construction and maintenance of a Magdalen Asylum, in which female prisoners are received, after their term of imprisonment has expired, until they can obtain situations. The object of the institution is a most praiseworthy one, but it is just doubtful whether more good may not be done by the plan mooted in the Ohio Legislature.

Jeff Davis counsels silence—a virtue that he never knew the value of and which it is impossible for him to learn. In his speech in Augusta, Ga., in response to a serenade, the other night, he said he adopted the policy of reticence, yet he added that "he did not conceive that the principles of the 'lost cause' were dead, or that truth should remain crushed." He counselled fortitude and patience, believing "that the South could afford to be patient under her wrongs." This was reticence with a vengeance.

Miscellaneous Items.

[illegible] Queen's birthday in this city, to the [illegible] of the news from Ireland to that effect.

[illegible] Journal (Montreal) seems to be that [illegible] of Wallace in New York on Thursday, has rid the world of a great [illegible].

The Masonic body of Barrie offered to take away and maintain for a month the homeless families of Rochdale, whose heads were members of the craft, but the offer was declined with thanks.

Pope Pius IX. celebrated his seventy-ninth birthday on the 13th of May. He was elected after the death of Gregory XVI., on the 16th of June, 1846, and crowned on the 21st of the same month. He, will, therefore, shortly complete the twenty-fifth of his pontificate.

A daring robbery was committed a few days ago at the house of Mr. D. Foster, of Norwood, by which the thief secured $110. He entered the house by the window, and broke open a bureau in which he had placed the money, which was made up with $10 and $5 bills and one $5 gold piece.

The fishermen of Bobcaygeon and the vicinity are beginning to have good sport. Bass have been taken in considerable numbers during the past fortnight, and on the Queen's birthday two or three muskinonge, the first of the season, were caught.

Crops in the Niagara district are said to be splendid, and there is every prospect of some fall wheat this year than for many years past. The peach trees are also in magnificent condition, and an abundant yield is expected.

The Quebec Mercury says it is generally believed that there is a general understanding amongst the supporters of the Government and the members of the Opposition to take no notice whatever of the circulars of the Bishops of Montreal and Three Rivers in the forthcoming elections.

The next game for the billiard championship of America will be between Cyrille Dion—brother of Joseph Dion, of Montreal—Melvin Foster. The game will be played in New York before June 15th, as the two Dions intend to leave for Europe about that date.

Captain Crandell, of the steamer Champion, plying on Sturgeon Lakes, denies the truth of a telegram which appeared in print on the 27th instant, stating that his steamer was sunk in that lake on the Queen's birthday. He asserts that the steamer went on her regular trips as usual, and that she has never lost a moment of time by way of accident.

Messrs. Chisholm, of Hamilton, have met with a severe loss in the burning of their steam saw-mill, near Freelton. The boiler had been blown off and all left safe on Saturday night, 21st; but about 4 a. m. on the 22nd, a fire broke out and consumed the building, besides 100 m. of pine lumber, and 800 bunches of lath.

Wolves are committing ravages in Garafraxa. Mr. Campbell of the fifth line had some two or three lambs killed recently, and his neighbours, Mr. Wm. Felker, of the sixth line, had also two or three killed the same night. It is supposed that the workmen on narrow guage have driven the wolves out of the Luther swamp, and that some of them have come down through Garafraxa.

About a fortnight ago, Mr. John Goss, of Fifteen Point, Prince Edward Island, came across and killed a young seal about four and a half feet long, making his way inland by a trench beside the road. The seal was about three miles from the sea, and far away from any creek. It is supposed the amphibious young adventurer was trying to cross the Island.

The Oshawa Reformer says that a few nights ago two persons had a narrow escape from death on the farm of Mr. Wm. Kerr, Whitby. Mr. Kerr's hired girl and his little daughter, aged about five years, being in a field, were attacked by an infuriated cow, which knocked them down, stamped upon them, and tore their dresses to atoms. Their escape is owing to a number of cattle coming round, which attracted the attention of the cow, and thus allowed the parties to escape over the fence.

In Rensselaer County, N. Y., a young man has come to grief. Unfortunately, while visiting, one day last week, the young lady who had won his heart's affections, and settling the preliminaries of their expected marriage, he rashly remarked that the union would be peculiarly advantageous to her, because he moved in much better society than she. And then upsprang that insulted female. Seizing a huge carving knife from the table, she went for that young man, and the youth went for the door. He had her arrested for assault, and the engagement has been broken off.

A gentleman from the forest region of the Upper Ottawa gives information that the smoke covers the river all the way down, although he was not able to make out the locality of the fires. He heard that the buildings of three farmers had been totaly destroyed at Matawan, and saw several outhouses on fire. Altogether he looked forward to a disastrous year for the bush country, unless heavy rains fall. Three men were drowned in the Coulange. An Indian passed over the Des Quinze Lake on snow-shoes 14 days ago. The snow and ice have now wholly disappeared.

CURE FOR HYDROPHOBIA.—The approach of warm weather generally brings more than the usual number of mad dogs on our streets. Though the greatest care be exercised, yet the attacks of such animals are so sudden and none can guard against them. It is said that Vocatt, the world-renowned physician and veterinarian, cared nothing for a mad dog, and was so willing to receive one for dissection as any other subject. He had an assistant who was repeatedly bitten, but with perfect impunity. They neutralised the poison by applying lunar caustic (nitrate of silver) to the wound.

Scarcely a Ministerial organ, remarks the Goderich Signal, failed to speak out clearly and manfully against Canadian rights being given away, by allowing the Americans to use our sea fisheries without compensation. That was on the first blush of the matter, while they thought and felt and spoke like simple, honest citizens, and before it occured to them as possible that Canadian ministers could dream of betraying Canadian interests. The word has apparently been passed from the admiral's ship to trim canvas preparatory to sailing on the very opposite tack. Every organ is becoming more and more apologetic, and giving a great deal of publicity to American opinions, not venturing the usual criticisms, but respectfully "leaving the public to judge." They will cut a pretty figure, after all their protestations, when Cartier, the descendant of the great navigator, signals them to "bout ship." Of course they dare not refuse to obey.

REMARKABLE DISCOVERY OF SALT AT HIGGINS.—The Hamilton Times says:—A most remarkable salt spring was discovered, about the beginning of this week, in the neighborhood of the city, on the line of the Great Western Railway. While some of the workmen of Mr. Williams' oil factory were engaged in sinking a well to obtain water for the use of the works, they suddenly struck a spring of brine which flowed very rapidly from the sides of the well. From the appearance of the fluid, the men supposed it was something more than ordinary saline water, and a quantity of it was conveyed to Mr. White, manager of the works, who boiled down a portion of it, and the result of it was that a residue of perfectly pure white salt was deposited at the bottom of the vessel. No doubt this is a wonderful discovery, and, from the nature of the appearances it is the opinion of gentlemen who are acquainted with the working of salt wells that this will prove to be one of the most useful wells of the country.

Fighting in France.

THE INSURRECTION CRUSHED.

Versailles, May 26.—The insurrection is completely crushed. Marshal MacMahon has issued a proclamation announcing the capture of the heights of Belleville, and states that the insurrection is now compressed within the space of a few hundred yards between the French and Prussian armies. The remaining insurgents must now die or surrender.

The insurrection is still confined to Belleville and Les Buttes Chaumont, whence petroleum shells are fired all over Paris.

The following leading insurgents have been shot:—Varlin, Amouroux, Brunet, Bergault, Rombaowski and Bourgeuet.

The reports of the arrest of Fyat, Delescluze and Cluseret are unconfirmed. It is supposed all the hostages held by the insurgents are safe.

The following public buildings have been destroyed:—The Tuileries, the Ministry of Finance, the Prefecture of Police, the Court of Accounts, the Palace of the Legion of Honour, Barracks Quai d'Orsay, Hotel de Ville, Mont de Piete. The following are outside—The Ministries of Marine, and Agriculture, the Pantheon, Ecole des Beaux Arts, the Bank of France, Credit Foncier and churches generally.

Versailles, May 26.—The collections in the Louvre have all been saved except the library, in which a great many valuable books were destroyed. The National Library and Grand Livres are safe. The insurgents still hold Bercy, Place de la Bastile, Menit Montant, Charonne, and Belleville. The government troops have captured the Mazas prison, and the Lyons and Orleans railway station. The hostages held by the insurgents in Mazas had been transfered to the prison of Roquette. The Insurgents have evacuated and blown up the Fort d'Ivry. The government forces are now attacking the Place de la Rastile.

At noon to-day a furious battle was in progress near Pantin.

Fort Dennis, May 26.—The World's special says:—All the collections in the Louvre galleries and Palais Royale are intact. The troops to-day surprised and shot on the spot a large company of women engaged in pouring petroleum into cellars and afterwards throwing in lighted fuses. Fires continue to break out in many places. A remnant of the Communists attempted to cut their way towards Pantin, but were closely pursued by the troops, who slaughtered them without mercy.

New York, May 26.—A despatch from Paris this morning says:—We have passed the most awful night Paris has ever seen. Fires raged in eleven of the arrondissement. The Communists used boxes of petroleum with most reckless disregard of life and property, setting fire to houses, where men, women and children were. The firing of the Tuileries was done by the hands of Bergeret himself. The wall of the facade on the west front has fallen in. The main wall, unless it falls, will have to be pulled down. The appearance of the ruins this morning is perfectly appalling. The Versaillists show no mercy to the Communists wherever they meet them in small detachments; the National Guards caught hiding were either shot or bayoneted. A young and handsomely dressed officer of the Commune was caught in Place de la Concorde, his arms tied behind his back, and shot in a dozen places. The sewers in several streets are running with blood, and smoke is all above, fire all around, and slaughter everywhere.

The slaughter of the insurgents has been frightful, and the Versaillists since Tuesday are killing all prisoners. The houses in the Rue Royale were wet with petroleum, and the insurgents fired them. The people are furious in consequence. It is clear that the insurgents intend to destroy the whole city. Even women were discovered throwing petroleum upon the houses, and six members of the National Guards who were dressed as firemen, and who threw petroleum on the fires instead of water, were in the Place Royal. There is no limit to the readiness that exists to kill members of the Commune, and the leaders of the Guards taken were shot instantly.

Dead bodies of the insurgents are seen everywhere. Any hidden Communists, when found, are brought out and shot immediately, and no pity shown.

Raval Rigault, Chief of the Communist police, and Corbet, superintendent of the destruction of the Vendome column, has been captured and shot.

Numbers of prisoners, among them a hundred women of the demi monde, taken fighting for the Commune, have arrived here.

London, May 27:—Adespatch from St. Dennis, on Friday night, says there are still terrible conflagrations in Paris, the flames of which rise to a great height and illuminate the country for miles around. All human aid seems valueless, and the only chance of saving much more valuable property from destruction rests in the hope that the night may remain calm.

The London fire brigade is expected, but has not yet arrived in Paris. The Prussians have fired upon and driven back to Paris a body of insurgents, who were flying towards Anbervilliers.

London, May 27.—A despatch from Versailles, Friday night, says Gen. Vinoy has captured Place de Belleville, which was defended by 10,000 federals. The fighting was severe. The Versaillists have carried Pont de la Gare, which crosses the Seine at Bercy. A portion of Les Buttes Chaumont has also been carried by the Versaillist troops, who are now advancing into Belleville, whence petroleum bombs are still thrown all over Paris. Gen. Leflo has informed the Assembly that the insurgents still hold the Charonne destrict of Les Buttes Chaumont, La Chappele, La Villette, Menilmontan, and Belleville. The Gen. also informed the Assembly that the insurrection would end on Saturday. It is known that some of the hostages held by the insurgents have been shot. The troops continue to arrest numbers of carrying bottles of petroleum. The insurgents will probably be surrounded to-night in Belleville and Menilmontan, and the remainder of the city occupied by the Versaillists. The theatres Chatelet and Porte St. Martin have been burned. Cannon and twenty-two red flags have been captured at Belleville.

A court martial for the trial of insurgents will begin its sittings on Monday. There is a rumor that Delescluze and Pyat have been shot. The insurgents imprisoned in the docks have attempted a rising, and several were shot before order was restored.

A despatch from St. Denis, Friday night, says foreign firemen have entered Paris. The conflagrations are decreasing. The workshops of the Versailles railway have been burnt. The insurgents have been dislodged from Charonne, and are surrounded in Belleville and Menilmontan.

A despatch from Pantin at noon to-day says:—The fighting east and north of here is less violent. The Versailles battery in the Rue de Flandre at La Villette bombards the insurgent works in Les Buttes Chaumont. The insurgents fire recklessly upon the city. The Prussians arrest and imprision all escaping insurgents.

London, May 27.—A despatch from Soissy says the Germans who have been searching for the Archbishop of Paris and the priests held as hostages by the Communists state they carried he found, and it is supposed they have been shot. It is calculated there are upwards of 20,000 dead bodies in the houses and cellars of Paris, many of them those of women and children. The women, it is said, have been perfectly furious during the recent fighting in the French capital. Executions of insurgents are constant. The destruction of property is terrible; one-fourth of Paris is estimated to have been destroyed.

Versailles, May 27.—Favre, in a despatch to the representatives of France in foreign countries, say the acts of the insurgents are of a criminal and not of a political nature. He therefore desires them to request neighboring nations to extradite those who may enter their territory, and says that the Government of Spain already [illegible] to do so.

Versailles, May 27.—M. Dufaure, Minister of the Interior, informed the Assembly that Gen. Cissey occupied the whole left bank of the Seine; that Generals Vinoy and Douai, after occupying the Boulevards to Bastile, occupied the Faubourg St. Antoine as far as the Barriers du Trone; that Generals Clinchant and Admirault have advanced to the foot of the heights of Les Buttes of Chaumont; and that they will to-morrow, with 60,000 men, occupy this last refuge of the insurrection. M. Picard also stated to the Assembly that no news had reached the Government concerning the fires in Paris, or of the fate of the hostages held by the insurgents.

Versailles, May 26, noon.—Belleville was attacked this morning. Batteries of marine guns posted in Montmartre at the same time fired down upon Belleville. The loss of the Government troops was 1,200; that of the insurgents was immense. Since Sunday 30,000 prisoners have been taken, including members of debauched and foul-mouthed women. Courbes poisoned himself after he was captured. Rochefort and Assy are to be tried by a civil court as criminals.

The Belgians have arrested several Reds and have telegraphed to the Government here that they will hold them at its disposal.

Aubervilliers, May 27, evening.—The tricolor now floats over La Villette. The insurrection is expiring. The London fire brigade has entered Paris.

London, May 28, 10 a. m.—Despatches received during the night, from Paris and Versailles, all represent that the Communists dying hard. The insurgents fought with desperation in the cemetery of Pere la Chaise. The departure of the Prussian guards from France has been deferred.

Paris, May 28, morning.—General l'Admirault yesterday captured les Buttes Chaumont and Menilmontant, and General Vinoy, at a late hour, carried the cemetery of Pere la Chaise. The insurgents are now cooped up in a small space. Many have been taken prisoners. The body of Delescluze has been found in the street and indentified.

Versailles, May 28, noon.—The insurgents yesterday shot the Archbishop of Paris the Abbe Duguerry, and 60 other hostages remaining in their possession. The troops had previously captured La Roquette and saved 9 hostages detained there.

President Thiers, in a circular, gives details of the capture of the heights of Belleville, and states that the insurrection is now compressed within the space of a few hundred yards between the French and Prussian armies. The remaining insurgents must now die or surrender.

Versailles, Sunday evening.—The insurrection is completely suppressed. Not one band of insurgents is left. A great number are prisoners.

A Paris special says there is a rumour here that the Count de Chambord has been proclaimed King of France by the Right wing of the Assembly, at Versailles. Lovers of law and order seemed to be well pleased.

Outside Paris, Sunday evening.—All is quiet within the city. Not a shot has been fired since 10 o'clock this morning. Firemen have the flames under control, but there is still much smoke. The Prussians at Romainville made a thousand prisoners, including several armed women. On Sunday evening all the insurgents who came within their lines were disarmed and placed under guard. There are rumours of awful cruelties perpetrated by the Versaillists, who are reported to have shot men, women and children found with arms in their hands. Provision trains are entering the city. There is great rejoicing within and without the city on the termination of the struggle.

Versailles, May 28.—The World's special says the remaining insurgents surrendered unconditionally at 9 o'clock this morning. The slaughter on Saturday night was awful. Altogether the suppression of the Commune has cost over 60,000 lives and the destruction of a third of Paris.

Washington, May 27.—The following telegram was received at the State Department at 2 20 p. m.:—

"Versailles—Hon. Hamilton Fish, Washington—The insurgents still hold a small part of the city. Some new fires have occured. The fate of the Archbishop is uncertain.

"(Signed,) "WASHBURNE."

The following telegram was received by Secretary Fish at 5 o'clock this afternoon:

"The Archbishop and sixty-nine priests were shot Tuesday night. The insurrection has been suppressed. The insurgent losses were enormous, and those of the Government comparatively small.

"(Signed,) "WASHBURNE,"

Paris, May 29, evening.—A portion of the army which entered the city is returning to Versailles. The 5th 14th and 16th arrondissements and Belleville and Villette quarters remaining under millitary occupation. The city is calm and the streets are thronged with sight-seers. Fires are still burning inside the Tuilleries and Hotel de Ville. The discipline of the army is admirable.

New York, May 30.—A special to the Tribune from Paris on Sunday evening says that Paris looks completely cowed. The shops are all closed, and even those of vital necessity, such as chemists, remain shut. Restaurants, bakeries and grocery stores have also suspended business. I walked across Paris last night, and never saw anything so desolate. I saw no human beings, but sentinels every hundred yards, and one shabby civilian. There were no sounds but the footfalls of the sentinels, and the thud made when they struck their muskets on the flagstones. The old revolutionary system of denunciations is going on with terrible ferocity. Nadar, the aeronaut, has been arrested for supposed sympathy with the Commune. Nobody is safe even in the presence of their most intimate friends. A rash word or imprudent gesture by a man or woman insures instant death. Men, women, and even children, are seized by the brutal Soldiery and shot. The saddest feature is the conduct of the women, the female insurgents having in many instances been detected firing the houses of innocent persons with petroleum.

A proclamation from Marshal MacMahon to the people of Paris announces their delivery from the "Reign of Terror" of the Communists, and that order, security, and labour are about being re-established. The insurgent losses, when the Versailles troops entered Paris, are estimated at 12,000 killed and wounded, and 18,000 prisoners: since May 22nd, 10,000 killed and wounded, and 20,000 prisoners. The prisoners have all been sent to Versailles. Gen. Cecilia, with a few followers, fled to the castle of Vincennes, but upon the commencement of the erection of seige works by the Versaillists he at once surrendered. Gen. Douai officially reports having lost 40 officers and 600 men during all the engagements in which his troops have participated since the Versailles army entered Paris.

With the exception of Pyat and Brousset, all the Commune chiefs have been killed or taken prisoners.

Versailles, May 30.—The Official Journal of the Republic announces that the national archives, national library, national archives, and museum of the Louvre are safe. The Manufactures des Gobelin and the observatories are badly damaged.

The Versaillists women display ferocious violence against the hapless insurgent prisoners.

I have just seen 3000 prisoners marched to Versailles, mostly the wretched, [illegible] crowd. Very few young men among them. One boy, [illegible] years of age, marched erect, looking defiantly at the soldiers, when an officer drew his sword and shot him, and one of the [illegible] who uttered any [illegible] at the [illegible] instantly executed.

Another "Smash-up" on the Grand Trunk Railway.

NEWCASTLE, May 26.

The Montreal Day Express train left at this station at half-past eight, about to start between this station and Newtonville. Up to this point the train had been keeping good time, and was the only train which "beat her" behind but when three miles east of Newcastle, the engine gave a sudden leap, and although it was able to retain its horizontal position, the cars were following after running some distance over the sleepers, rolled over on their sides. The train as made up consisted of the engine and tender baggage, post-wagon smoking second-class two first-class, and a Pullman Palace car.—The post car made a half somersault, the papers letters &c., all being thrown together in great confusion. The post office officials on board received a bad shaking. That would have been bad enough, but the oil lamps in the car were overturned, and the whole contents of the van rapidly caught fire, and began to burn with great intensity. The next car was the baggage one, following which were the smoking and second-class cars, both filled with immigrants, tired and sleepy with the fatigue of the days journey. After the warning jolt or two, the whole of these unfortunates were precipitated pell-mell one upon another, by the overturning of the car on its side. The two first-class cars, immediately in the rear of the others, shared the same fate, the Pullman car alone of the whole train, excepting the engine and tender, retaining its upright position. The scene at this time was truly frightful. On the south side of the road was an embankment some fifteen or twenty feet deep, at the edge of which lay the two first-class and second-class cars. Had the coupling links only broken which connected the Pullman car with those preceding it, it is likely that the cars would have gone down the ravine, and fearful loss of life and limb have been the result. The shrieks and cries of the female passengers, as they were awoke out of their uneasy dozing by the accident, were loud and shrill, while the children also took fright and squalled amazingly. The fearful storm that had been raging added intensity to the horror. The officials in charge of the train, having taken the necessary steps to prevent the approach of another train from either direction, proceeded with the help of the male passengers, to extract the sufferers. With considerable difficulty all were got out, and it was found that no one was seriously injured, though a large number received bruises of a more or less severe character. While this work was being done in the centre of this train, the postal-car had caught fire and was burning freely. The men in charge escaped in their shirt sleeves, and the fire was prevented from spreading by the shovelling of a quantity of sand and gravel on the next car, with also what little water could be obtained. Two small bags were the only ones saved, the registered letters, &c. all being burnt to a cinder.

Assistance was at once telegraphed for to Toronto, and in the meantime the heavy work that lay before the road men was commenced. An examination was made of the track, and it was found that a rail had been displaced. It is said that this was done by the flood, but the rotten condition of the sleepers afforded a much better explanation. Efforts were at once made to remove the debris from the track, and to again place on the rails such of the cars as had not fallen on their side. The work proceeded but slowly, and a majority of the passengers left for Newcastle station, where they arrived during the night. As usual on such occasions, it was impossible to get any truthful statement out of the officials in charge of the train as to the time which would be occupied before a start could again be made. Not only was it not possible to get a simple reply given the facts, but the answers were most rude and discourteous. First one hour, then two, then four, was given as the time likely to be taken, though not unfrequently the reply was a curt "Dun' now." Arrived at the Newcastle station, the traditional barrenness and discomfort of a Grand Trunk waiting-room was fully exemplified. The unfortunate passengers found themselves constrained to make resting places of the hard wooden benches, which are the only rest for the weary given by the Grand Trunk Railway Company. The hours from eleven o'clock and midnight stole gradually along, and the grey tints of dawn were beginning to be seen in the east, when a train consisting of two passenger cars and one baggage van, with engine and tender, were seen approaching. This was about four o'clock, and the luckless ones thought that at last they were to be relieved, and start on their journey. It was foolish to think that the Grand Trunk manager could ever do anything so considerate even as this. The cars lay idle at the point for some considerable time, and it was not till about six o'clock that they moved out of the station, and even then only carrying but a few of the large number of passengers which had cooddingly paid their fares in Montreal to be set down at Toronto seven hours earlier than the time they left Newcastle, some 50 miles distant. It is said that a communication was forwarded to Toronto asking that a supply of provisions should be sent down for the use of the immigrants. A second train from Toronto arrived at the scene of action about seven o'clock, brining down wheels, platform cars, etc., necessary to make a "good job" of it.—Globe.

Our sharp American friends are now satisfied, and have not learned to let well enough alone. Despite all the concessions made by England in regard to the Alabama claim, the sacrifice of the Canadian fisheries, and the expression of regret for the escape of the rebel privateer, certain of the Senators at Washington have it is reported, been taking steps in executive session towards narrowing the claims for which England in her turn claims compensation. This course was proposed under the plausible form of a declaratory article to accompany the treaty, and by which the nature of the claims to be adjusted will be absolutely determined. Many of the Senators are said heartly to coincide with this way of putting the case, so that the claims may not amount to a great deal; and though the question was postponed, owing to adjournment, so strong was the feeling that it was to be again brought up on Saturday in secret session. Then it is said the treaty is to be carefully criticised and all sections at all unfavourable to American interests carefully noted, so that the House of Representatives can take up the consideration of the question next December. At that time Messrs Banks, Butler intend to insist that the House has right to amend the treaty as it sees fit. It gravely argued that such an emergency was provided for by a motion proposed by Representative Beck, of Kentucky, in the identical words of a resolution proposed for a similar purpose by James Madison, in the fourth Congress, when the Tax Treaty was being considered. However desirous our neighbors are to make a good bargain, it is hardly possible that they can seriously intend to take the steps indicated; and as the treaty has been formally ratified, it is no longer a subject for the propos

To the Editor of the Peterborough Examiner.

Sir!

As the Review has called for me and my Railway Scheme, I wish to say through the EXAMINER, that I think if Peterborough does not get the Railway to Bobcaygeon, the town will have the Review and some of the Provincial Directors to thank for it.

Mr. Cartwright told me the last time I was in Peterborough, that there would be no trouble in raising the money to make a Western Railway from Peterborough to Haliburton. Hon. John Sandfield Macdonald, Mr. Cayley, Mr. Macdonald, Mr. Scott (the Minister of Customs), Mr. Whitehead, and the Editor of the Review, take $2,500 each, and get their friends to take balance of $50,000 to go to Bay counties of the charter and commence the work by Rock Head to Lindsay.

The Review still find fault with my object. That I admit; but I think that money is the Review's object, but it does not know how to come at it, therefore, it is acting "trading to the Grange," and not for the interests of Peterborough.

About two weeks since I saw the Mayor of Peterborough in Lindsay and he asked me if I had received a letter from Mr. Fairbairn about the Railroad, and I said no as I had not been at home for some days.

When I got home I enquired for a letter from Peterborough but there was none, I was informed that the Mayor of Cobourg and Mr. Armour had both received letters from Mr. Fairbairn, but I never got one myself, if I had I would have answered it.

When I first started the project from Peterborough to Bobcaygeon, I thought I should have no opposition at all, and as the first meeting I had in Peterborough I had none, but at the next meeting I found out there were other "axes to grind" and I should have opposition. Therefore, I think my best plan is to wait until that opposition does out, which I am sure it will do between this and next November as that is the time given by the charter to commence operations on the Peterboro' and Haliburton Railroad, or the charter expires, which I am confident it will do if the Beaubien route is adopted.

Now, sir, I think my best plan is not to come to Peterborough Railroad matters until next October, so as to give the Review and its party a good chance to subscribe the $50,000 required by the charter and proceed with the Railroad to Bobcaygeon before another session, I do not believe they will have the chance after, for if a charter is once got from Bowmanville, Newcastle or Port Perry to Bobcaygeon a road is sure to be built from Lindsay to Bobcaygeon and if it is Peterborough may bid farewell to all the business from Mud Lake North, which at present is only in its infancy but ultimately must grow to something very great.

Yours, truly,
JOHN FOWLER.

Cobourg, May 22nd, 1871.

THE "GLOBE" ON SIR JOHN A. MACDONALD SIGNING THE TREATY.—It would indeed be hard to find a Prime Minister in a more humiliating condition than Sir John A. MacDonald at this moment, with these speeches registered against him, and he standing dumb in the face of the most open and undisguised displeasure of the whole people at the manner in which he has eaten his own words and relinquished those very rights in favour of which he, as but yesterday, so vehemently protested. Last year the spirited defence of the coast fisheries was one of the few grounds on which Sir John A. MacDonald especially claimed to have a national or Canadian policy. He declared in February last that that policy had been "wholly successful." Where is that policy now? Does he still adhere to it or not? Will he never have the courage to face the risk of a hostile division and take his fate like a man? Is he full of big words and braggadocio when no one says him "nay" but caving in as soon as he finds himself called upon to choose between the smiles of a British Minister at Washington and an independent defence of the rights of his own people and then procrastinating and shuffling again rather than frankly laying his justification before those who have the first claim to hear it? The nature of this business admits of no such trifling. If Sir John A. Macdonald has again and again contemptuously defied the wishes of the people of Canada with regard to their domestic affairs, the accounts could be settled at home; but the matter is far different when a false step or an era of suspense and attendant misconception may peril our relations with a foreign power and place us in a false light with our fellow-subjects in the mother country.

A raid, which farmers may dread as worse than Fenian, has set in upon Western Ontario. That terrible pest, the Colorado potato bug, after several years of migration from the Rocky Mountains westward, has at length reached Canada. Last year they appeared in some quarters on the western frontier, but not in such numbers as to commit ravages of any considerable extent; but this season they appear to have crossed the border in such force as to create uneasiness among farmers. In the neighborhood of Sarnia and all along the front, they have established themselves, and we now learn that they have this week pushed eastward into the interior as far as Petersville, in the neighbourhood of London. Different descriptions have been given of this new enemy of the potato, but all agree in classing it not as a bug, but as a beetle of the order of Cleopatra. When matured it is of a cream color, striped with black, and somewhat resembles a gigantic bed bug. All kinds of remedies have been used to extirpate these devastators, but without avail.

A REMARKABLE MEMBER OF A REMARKABLE FAMILY.—The census return from Stockport submitted to the Board of guardians on Monday, contains the name of Mary Hall, who completed her 100th birthday in July last. She is an inmate of the Stockport Union Workhouse. Her husband died in 1851 at the age of 100; her father, who served as a British soldier in the first American war, died at the age of 107, and her mother at the age of 105. The remains of both lie in the graveyard of Astbury Church, near Congleton. Mrs Hall is the only survivor of a family of 20 children—ten boys and ten girls, none of whom died under the age of 80. Several of them lived to be 90. She has been a smoker for more than 80 years, and on being informed by the governor of the workhouse that he would allow her an extra bit of tobacco or tea from his own private store, she had no hesitation in deciding in favour of "baccy."

SERIOUS ACCIDENT.—As the Kalathumpians were passing up Wellington street on Wednesday last, one of the cannons at Mr. J. C. Rodden's residence was discharged at a little girl belonging to Mr. J. Scully, of Emily, was struck in the hand by a quantity of gravel, which it is stated by Mr. Rodden was placed in the cannon by some boys, in his absence. Be this as it may, we are inclined to think that there has not been sufficient care exercised in the use of these cannon, and we believe the authorities should prohibit their use within the corporation. The girl had a portion of the bone leading to the little finger broken, which was removed by the medical men attending, but it is thought she will not lose the use of her hand Drs. Peck, Herriman and DeGrassi attended and dressed the wound.—Lindsay Warder

The Examining Committee were going into session at 10 o'clock. He (Mr. [illegible]) was a good deal about women's underwear, but a short time ago we had a striking illustration of the fact, which proves the saying, "Every man has a little of the woman in him," being brought into contact with the fair sex. It was our lot to travel on a certain mail route, where the stage driver was not noted for his politeness or attention to the fair sex. On this occasion he was compelled to wait for a naughty passenger, which made him late on starting, besides he had the additional misfortune of driving a sleigh, which in his desperate haste upsetting the latter. We shall not soon forget that drive. First in course at the cause of delay, then he upped about the old sleigh, threatening to smash the old thing to pieces; then heaps of mortal agony were poured out for 25 miles of the journey gained. At this point a lovely female form stepped a seat in the Royal Mail stage. The driver became instantly electrified, and with all the politeness of a Frenchman gave her a seat. After carefully tucking the Buffalo robe over us to protect her fair form, he took his seat by her side, and [illegible] of an interesting good humor. The effect was very striking and to his honour be it stated, he drove the remaining 11 miles without uttering a profane word. One gentleman remarked that the next time he rode with Beeswax he would take a young lady along so as to enjoy a quiet ride. We recommend all crusty old bachelors to get married if they can possibly secure companions, and we feel satisfied they will make better citizens after receiving a few curtain lectures.

One of the Ku Klux band which recently made a midnight assault upon a Republican in Newberry, South Carolina, was wounded and captured. In order to prevent him from giving evidence against his companions the band murdered him in his bed at midnight, at the house of a friend, where he was staying to recover from his wound. All the Republican officials in Darlington and Williamsburg counties have been ordered to leave within five days. J. H. Rainey a Republican member of the Congress, and other Republicans officials in Georgtown county, has also been served with Ku Klux Klan notices.

Cure Your Horses.

It is to the interest of all who own horses to keep them in a healthy and sound condition: experience has proved that 'Darley's Condition Powders and Arabian Heave Remedy' is the great efficacious, it has been used by thousands who will cheerfully confirm this statement,—For Heaves, Coughs, Colds, and all diseases which affect the wind of horses it has no equal nor is it equalled as a condition medicine it purifies the blood, corrects and improves the appetite, softens the skin: in fact no great is the improvements in the condition and appearance of the animal as to have led many to doubt if it could be the same horse. Remember the name and see the signature of Hurd and Co. is on each package. Northrop & Lyman Newcastle, Ont., proprietors for Canada. Sold by all medicine dealers.

A Clergyman writing to a friend says, "My voyage to Europe is indefinitely postponed.—I have discovered the fountain of health on this side of the Atlantic. Three bottles of the Peruvian Syrup have restored me from the fiend Dyspepsia. Dyspeptics should drink from this fountain.

Byrne's Wafers, (The great public remedy, have now been in use for over twenty years hence it cannot be they are on trial. The have been throughly tried and pronounced (on the authority of those whose lives and health they have preserved) to be a cure harmless and entirely salutary preparation, and if taken in season will invariable cure colds, coughs sore throat, and all Bronchial affections. One fair trail will convince the most skeptical. Sold by all medicine dealers, at 25 cts. per box.

The future of telegraphy.—There is to be practically no limits to the possibilities of telegraphic communication. Already the transmission rapid as it is, is found too slow, and many ingenious minds are employed solving the problem how the speed can be increased. But we believe perfection has been attained in the "Canadian Pain Destroyer," and that is the only reliable agent for removing pain, and curing colds, coughs, rheumatism, neuralgia summer complaints &c., Sold by all Druggists and country dealers. Price 25 cents per bottle.

The strong points supporting the use of Fellow's Compound of Hypophosphites are that while it takes immediate hold upon the system in stimulating the Liver, regulating and strengthening the muscels of the Heart Stomach, Lungs, &c, it has no debilitating effect under any circumstances: and while its continued use is marked by the general toning of the system without producing constipating effects, it may be stopped at any time without the usual disagreeable effect following the discontinuance of some otherwise valuable tonics These characteristics are particularly valuable to consumptives and other debilitated invalids and are peculiar to the preparation.

THE GREAT FEMALE REMEDY
Job Moses' Peridocal Pills.

This invaluable medicine is unfailing in the cure of all those painful and dangerous diseases to which the female constitution is subject. It moperates all exodss and removes all obstructions, and a speedy cure may be relied on.

TO MARRIED LADIES.

It is peculiarly suited. It will in a short time, bring on the monthly period with regularity.

These Pills should not be taken by Females during the FIRST THREE MONTHS of Pregnancy, as they are sure to bring on Miscarriage, but at any other time they are safe.

In all cases of Nervous and Spinal Affection, Pains in the Back and Limbs, on slight exertion, Palpitation of the Heart, Asperities, and Whites, the Pills will effect a cure when all other means have failed; and although a powerful remedy, do not contain iron, calomel, antimony, or anything hurtful to the constitution.

Full directions in the pamphlet around each package, which should be carefully preserved

JOB MOSES', NEW YORK, SOLE PROPRIETOR

$1.00 and 12½ cents for postage, enclosed to Northrop & Lyman, Newcastle, Ont., general agents for the Dominion, will ensure a bottle, containing over 50 pills, by return mail.

Iron ore, taken from the back hills near the highest level of the Union Pacific Railway, has been smelted at Omaha and found of excellent quality, yielding 60 per cent, of superior, metal Three hills of the ore lie near the railroad.

CANADIAN PAIN DESTROYER.

A Family Medicine, well and favorably known for the past ten years, never failing in a single instance to give permanent relief when timely used, and we have never known a single case of dissatisfaction where the directions have been properly followed, but on the contrary all are delighted with its operations, and speak in the highest terms of its Virtues and magical effects.

THE CANADIAN PAIN DESTROYER has won for itself a reputation, as a blood purifier, alternative stomach tonic, unsurpassed in the history of medical preparations. It seldom fails to cure Dyspepsia, Liver Complaints, indigestion, Heartburn, Sick Headache, Kidney Complaints, Acid Stomach Phathisic or Asthma, and restores to vital activity the system debilitated by suffering and disease.

Its magical and wonderful success in curing sudden colds, sore throat, coughs, Dipiberia, pains in the side, loins and back, neuralgia, toothache, rheumatic and other pains in any part of the body and from whatever cause, has given it a place in every household and is fast superseding all other preparations of the kind.

It is also an effectual and prompt remedy for scalds, burns, bruises, sprains, chilblains, cholera morbus, bilious cholic, cholera infantum, dysentery, &c.

Price only thenty-five cents per bottle.

NORTHROP & LYMAN.
Newcastle, C. W.
General Agents for Canada.

Sold in Peterborough by Dr. Taylor, A. W. Kempt Wm. Coulter and Ormond & Walsh. In Keene by A. Campbell, Campbell McNeil & Co., C. Britten, Lindsay, and all Medicine Dealers.

Husband (returned from the Village)—Why, Mary, I have brought you home a present. Wife (heartily)—And forgot the Pain-Killer?

Husband—Why no, couldn't forget that! It's the main article to be found in nearly every store in town: and besides, the fences and stumps and buildings all have "Pain-Killer" painted or posted on them to remind one of it every minute. The store-keeper says that the Pain-Killer should be in every house and when once one gets their hand on it in the dark it need be.

Wife:—It must be valuable, else the Parson's wife wouldn't praise it to the skies as she does

(To be continued.)

☞The Pain-Killer is an internal and external remedy for pain. For internal pain, Cramps Spasms, Sudden Cold and Bowel difficulties, a few days on water will give immediate relief. As a liniment it is without an equal; it stops pain almost instantly. Be sure and get the genuine made by Perry Davis & Son and sold by all Druggists and Grocers. 15-71

ONE HUNDRED DOLLARS A WORD.

For every word in the following certificate found untrue, after writing to the parties named: and to the U. S. Consul, at Rio Janeiro, the sum of one hundred dollars will be paid.

Rio de Janeiro, Feb 20th, 1866.

Messrs. Raymonde C. Leite & Sons

Gentlemen:—While a son of my friend Mr. Francisco de Mattos Pimenta (a large proprietor in the Oldeé de Campos) was staying at my house he was attacked with Intermittent fever. Immediately I sent for the very clever Dr. Tosseo, who is thought a good deal of in Campos, but the fever instead of diminishing, turned, continued, and typhoid, the boy (14 years old) could not speak, would not take the bottle, and it required a great deal of coaxing to make him swallow the medicines. Dr. Tosseo declared that there was not the slightest hopes of saving the boy's life; that it would be advisable to write to his father and inform him of the state of his son's health. At that moment I thought of the well spoken Dr. Radway & Co's medicines, and applied them in the following manner: One teaspoon of Relief in a tumbler of water, dividing it three doses a day; frictions with the relief pure on the chest, back and wrists; three of Radway's Pills every day, and well covered so that he might perspire. Second day, half an hour after usual, the disturbance of Incoherent and water. In the fourth day he was able to get up from bed to the astonishment of every one who witnessed the miracle of Dr. Radway & Co's. medicaments.

I remain, gentlemen, your very obedient servant

Joaquim Pinto P'Hosa, Merchant.

Dr. Radway's Remedies are sold by Druggists and Country Merchants. See Dr. Radway's Almanac for 1870.

IMPORTANT TO KNOW.

One of Dr. Radway's Pills (made from Vegetable Extracts, prepared in vacuo), taken one hour before dinner, will insure a good appetite, promote digestion, and make healthy flesh. Taken in doses of from 4 to 6, every night, will cure indigestion, Costiveness, Liver Complaints, Jaundice, and all diseases of the Stomach, Liver, Bowels, Kidneys, etc.

These Pills are free from drastic, griping and nauseating drugs They purify the blood, cleanse the intestines, and purge from the system all corrupt and carcinomous humors Ladies in ill health should use them. Aged persons, subject to Costiveness or Paralysis of the bowels, should take two or three every night, for a few weeks; and the weak, infirm and paralyzed bowels will become healthy and vigorous as in the prime of life.

An old gentleman in the city of New York, has suffered with costiveness for 20 years, used injections during that time. One dose of Radway's Pills gave him natural evacuation; six boxes cured him. He now feels more active and enjoys better health than he did 40 years ago. Price 25 cents.

See Dr. Radway's Almanac for 1870.—R.

PETERBOROUGH MARKETS.

	Peterborough		May 25		1871
Flour ₱ brl		$6	25	@	$6	50
Wheat ₱ bush. fall		1	06	@	1	15
Spring Wheat ₱ bush		1	00	@	1	25
Peas	"	0	80	@	0	90
Barley	"	0	60	@	0	65
Oats	"	0	50	@	0	55
Potatoes	"	0	30	@	0	35
Hay ₱ ton		8	00	@	10	00
Hides ₱ cwt		6	00	@	7	00
Beef ₱ cwt		6	50	@	7	00
Sheepskins		0	75	@	1	25
Wool ₱ lb		0	25	@	0	30
Pork ₱ cwt		7	00	@	8	00
Eggs, per dozen		0	10	@	0	10
Butter		0	15	@	0	18
Cordwood		2	50	@	3	00
Turkeys		0	75	@	1	50
Geese		0	40	@	0	5/
Chickens		0	35	@	0	4

SONG ECHO

A New School Book, by H. S. Perkins. Price $7.50 per dozen. Contains over two hundred new and beautiful Songs, Duetts, etc, by Will S. Hays, Webster, Thomas, etc. Everything is new, fresh, and sparkling. Contents and specimen pages sent free. Sample copies mailed free of postage to teachers for 65 cents. Liberal terms for introduction.

Address,
J. L. PETERS, 599 Broadway, N. Y.

Teachers sending us their orders for $10 worth of music, can claim a year's subscription to Peters' Musical Monthly.

Subscribers to Peters Musical Monthly are getting their music for less than two cents a piece. Those who have no seen this Musical Magazine should send 30 cents for a sample copy. The music is by Hays, Thomas, Kinkle, Persley and other popular writers.

Two back numbers for 40 cents. Four back numbers for 75 cents. Subscribers get

FIFTY DOLLARS

WORTH OF MUSIC FOR $8.

CAUTION.

I hereby caution any person or persons from purchasing or negotiating for a Promissory Note, made by me in favor of James Regan, of Smith for the amount of $25, as I have not received any value for the same.

THOMAS WESTON.

Smith, May 20th, 1871. 22-4in.*

LOST.

The Subscriber lost between Peterborough and Omemee, on Friday, the 26th instant,

A CLERGYMAN'S POCKET REGISTER,

Containing valuable papers. Any person finding the same will please leave it at the store of A. W. Lasher & Co., Peterboro, or the Victoria Warder Office, Lindsay, and much oblige

W. BURNS,
Wesleyan Minister.

Omemee, May 29th, 1871. 22-1 in

DUTCHER'S Lightning Fly Killer.

Dutcher's Dead Shot for Bed Bugs

TRY THEM AND SLEEP IN PEACE.

18-4ins.

SCOTTISH IMPERIAL
FIRE INSURANCE COMPANY.

CAPITAL - - £1,000,000.

Head Office—50 West George Street, Glasgow.

CANADA BRANCH—Head Office, No. 26 St. Francois Xavier Street, Montreal

WALTER REAL,
Agent for Peterboro.

OFFICE—EMMON BUILDING. 50-39m

MONEY TO LOAN,

In Sums of Large Sums as may suit Borrowers.

[illegible] T. LEONARD,
Solicitor, &c

May 23rd, 1871. 21-6ins

FOR SALE.

TWO BRICK COTTAGES,
AND BUILDING LOTS.

GEO. T. LEONARD,
Solicitor, &c.

May 24rd, 1871. 21-6ins.

IMPORTANT

TO FARMERS

AND THE PUBLIC.

I have now in my Flour Mill, for Milling Purposes, the

Best Machinery Known

At present in the world, and with an experience of over 40 years in the business, and from a fixed quality of Wheat, I can turn out as [illegible] Flour and

AS GOOD IN QUALITY

as any mill in the Dominion. I will, therefore, give in exchange for 60 lbs good clean Wheat, 49 lbs Flour and 10 lbs Bran. The Flour warranted, to be good. This offer is equal to 200 lbs of Flour for 4 bushels and 40 lbs Wheat, or a clear gain of 20 lbs Wheat on the Bushel, worth at present prices from 43 to 45 cents.

☞ Cash paid for Fall and Spring Wheat.

H. HARTYE.

Peterboro, May 22nd, 1871. 21

SIGN OF THE CIRCULAR SAW.

THE Subscribers would beg leave to call the attention of the public to their stock of

SHELF AND HEAVY HARDWARE

PAINTS, OILS, GLASS and PUTTY,

Agricultural and Garden Implements,

NAILS, LOCKS, HINGES, &c.

All of which they will sell at the lowest Prices.

Sign of the Circular Saw.

GEORGE STREET, PETERBORO.

McKEE & DAVIDSON.

Peterboro, April 26th, 1871, 17

TO FARMERS.

If you want to make FORTY DOLLARS AN ACRE off your land,

SOW FLAX!

Let each good Farmer sow Three Acres on trial, and see how handy it is to have $120 coming in to pay off your harvest hands in August. As there is a Machine for pulling, at the mill, it makes it one of the easiest crops harvested. For seed apply to

S. TAYLOR,
Flax Mill, Ashburnham

May 3rd, 1871. 18

TO LET.

AUBURN HOUSE,

AND ABOUT 20 ACRES OF LAND THEREWITH.

A Delightful Summer Residence

Apply to

DENNISTOUN, FAIRBAIRN & CASSELS

May 3rd, 1871. 18-tf

ASHBURNHAM

New Carriage, Waggon And Black-Smith Shop.

The undersigned begs to announce to the people of Ashburnham, and surrounding Country, that he has commenced a new Carriage, Waggon and Blacksmithing Shop, on Lake Street, opposite the residence of R. D. Rogers, Esq., where he will be prepared to do all sorts of work in the above line.

Repairing Promptly Attended to

A first-class Black-smith will be always ready and willing to attend to Jobbing and horse-shoeing.

The patronage of the public is respectfully solicited.

A. WALLER.

Ashburnham, March, 1871. 21-

TO LEND.

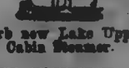
$10,000.

Interest 8 per cent. No commission.

D. W. DUMBLE,
Solicitor.

Peterborough, April 27, 1871. 17-3ins.

DAILY LINE
TO
ROCHESTER.



The Superb new Lake Upper Stare Cabin Steamer.

NORSEMAN,

Carrying United States and Canadian Mails and Express

Leaves Port Hope every Morning

FOR ROCHESTER

At 9 o'clock on arrival of Grand Trunk Railway Trains from East and West,

RETURNING

Leaves Port of Rochester (Charlotte) every evening at 5 o'clock (except Saturday, when she leaves at two P. M., for Brighton.)

This is the favourite summer route from Toronto to Rochester, Albany, &c. The cheapest and quickest route points East of Port Hope on the Grand Trunk, to Rochester, Buffalo, &c. The favourite route to Avon and Clifton Springs, &c.

Passengers and freight take cars along-side steamer at Rochester Landing.

Connection made at Cobourg and Port Hope with Royal Mail Line Steamers from Hamilton and Montreal.

Address R. C. GARTER,
PORT HOPE, ONT.

VICTORIA
CARRIAGE
AND
Wagon Factory

Corner of Brock and George Streets.

The Subscriber would respectfully announce that he has leased the above establishment, opposite the Commercial Hotel and is now prepared to Manufacture

CARRIAGES,
BUGGIES,
WAGGONS,
WHEEL-BARROWS,
HARROWS, &c.

At Low Prices for Cash.

HORSE-SHOEING MADE A SPECIALITY.

GEORGE W. MILLS.

Peterboro, March 7th, 1871.

N. B.—As there is another person in Peterboro named "George Mills," the public will please remember the distinction in the name. G. W. M. 12-tf

---

$765,000

In Cash Gifts to be Distributed by the New York Cash Prize Co.

EVERY TICKET DRAWS A PRIZE.

[illegible]

A chance to draw any of the above Prizes for 25c. Tickets describing Prizes are sealed in Envelopes and well mixed. On receipt of 25c. a Sealed Ticket as above will be sent by mail to any address. The prize named upon it will be delivered to the ticket-holder on payment of One Dollar. Prizes are immediately sent to any address by express or returned mail.

You will know what your prize is before you pay for it. "Any Prize exchanged for another of the same value." No blanks. Our patrons can depend on fair dealing.

Extraordinary.—The following lately drew Valuable Prizes and kindly permit us to publish the fact:—Andrew J. Sams, Chicago, $12,000; Jas. H. Matthews, Detroit, $5,000; John T. Anderson, Savannah, $5,000; James Simmons, Boston, $10,000.

Press Opinion:—"The firm is reliable."—"Weekly Tribune, Dec 26." "Deserve their success."—N. Y. Herald, Jan. 1. "Just and Honorable."—Boston, Dec. 8.

Send for circular. Liberal inducements to Agents. Satisfaction garnished. Every package of 200 Sealed. Envelope contains one CASH GIFT. Seven tickets for $1; 17 for $2, 50 for $5; 200 for $15. Address

C. B. HARRIS & Co.,
Managers,
67 Broadway, N. Y

Peterborough March 16th, 1871. 16-tf.

Insolvent Act of 1869.

In the matter of DANIEL BROOK.
An Insolvent.

I, the undersigned, David William Dumble, of the Town of Peterborough, in the County of Peterborough, Official Assignee, have been appointed Assignee in this matter.

Creditors are requested to file their claims before me within one month.

The creditors of the above named Insolvent are notified to meet at my office, George Street, Peterborough, on Monday, the twelfth day of June next, at two of the clock in the afternoon, for the public examination of the insolvent, and for the ordering of the affairs of the estate generally

The Insolvent is hereby notified to attend such meeting.

Dated at Peterborough, this 22nd day of May A. D. 1871.

D. W. DUMBLE,
31 Assignee.

FELLOWS'
HYPOPHOSPHITES.

Amongst the diseases overcome by the use of

Fellows' Compound Syrup of Hypophosphites

ARE

Constipation, Asthma, Consumption, Laryngitis, Nervous Debility, Dyspepsia, Chronic Bronchitis, Chronic Diarrhœa, Melancholy.

Debility resulting from Typhoid and other low fevers, Diphtheritic, Hysteria, Hypochondria, Amenorrhœa, Chlorosis Anæmia, Leucorrhœa, Nervous Excitability, Marasmus, or wasting of the Muscles, Aphonia, or loss of Voice, Chorea or St. Vitus's Dance, Sluggishness of the Liver, Interrupted and Feeble Action of the heart, Softening [illegible] caused by mucous obstructions of the Lungs and Air passages leading thereto, and Debility from various causes, many cases of which appear hopeless.

SOLD BY APOTHECARIES.

Price, $1.50; Six for $7.50.

JAME L. FELLOW, CHEMIST,
ST. JOHN, N. B.

14-1871. 4mos.

CANADIAN BANK OF COMMERCE

THE Canadian Bank of Commerce have opened a

Saving's Bank Department

in Peterborough. Interest allowed on all sum over $1.00.

J. A. HALL
Manager

FOR SALE.

That eligible Property on the South Side of the Little Lake, known as the

WARE PROPERTY!

Containing 37 Acres more or less. It is within a few minutes walk of the Town of Peterboro, and is peculiarly adapted for private residence. It will be sold wholly or in part as may be agreed upon.

For terms and particulars apply to

JOHN HAGGART.

Or to H. H. SMITH, Esq.
Attorney-at-law, Peterborough.

May 17, 1871, 20

PIANOS, MELODEONS, ORGANS

D. PENTLAND,

Is now Agent for A. & S. Nordheimer for the sale of the following celebrated Pianos:—Chickering & Sons'; Steinway & Sons'; Dunham & Sons'; Baines Brothers'; Ernest Gabler; and J. W. Vosey's.

Also, for the world-wide Celebrated Organs and Melodeons—Geo. A. Prince & Co., Buffalo; Mason & Hamlin's, Boston.

Instruction Books for Piano & Organ, Sheet Music, &c. always on hand.

Remember.—Mr. F Bell, Organist St. John's Church, Peterboro; Mr. D. D. Gallelly, Chorister, Canada Presbyterian Church, Peterboro; Or. J. I. Davidson, Precentor, St. Andrew' Marsh, Peterboro; Dr. Taylor, Peterboro.

Peterboro, April 8th, 1871. 14

A CARD

E. BAKEWELL, having made an engagement with Mr. Rowlinson, may be found by his former Patrons and Customers, at the above lately occupied by H. Bakewell, where he hopes by his usual attention to business, and with increased facilities for giving satisfaction, still to merit and receive their patronage.

E. BAKEWELL.

Peterboro, Dec. 19, 1870. 51-tf.

1871 Annual Announcement 1871

(ESTABLISHED 1866.)

SEEDS!

Fresh, Good, and True.

The subscriber has received his supply of

FIELD,
FLOWER; and
GARDEN SEEDS

Both of Home and Imported Stock.

WARRANTED GENUINE

FARMERS AND MARKET GARDENERS are respectfully invited to call and inspect for themselves.

COUNTRY MERCHANTS, supplied, as usual with boxes on Commission, or for Cash.

"Honesty" is our motto, both in character of seed, and in price.

WM. H. TAYLOR, M. D

At the old Stand, Corner of George and Hunter Streets, Peterborough, Ont. 16-tf

---

HOUSE AND LOT FOR SALE.

The undersigned offers for sale the dwelling House and Lot on

LONDON STREET,

at present occupied by himself.

Further particulars can be obtained by application to

Wm. LECH,
Proprietor.

Peterborough, April 19th 1871. 16-tf.

(Review please copy.)

Insolvent Act of 1869.

In the matter of HENRY THOMAS STRICKLAND, GEORGE WILLIAM ROSS STRICKLAND and ROLAND CLEMENT STRICKLAND, as individuals and as copartners of the firm of STRICKLAND BROTHERS.

Insolvents.

WILL BE SOLD BY

PUBLIC AUCTION

AT THE

COURT HOUSE,

IN THE

TOWN OF PETERBOROUGH,

ON

Tuesday the 6th day of June next,

AT 12 O'CLOCK, noon,

All the right, title and interest of the above named Henry Thomas Strickland, in and to the North half of the East half of lot No. 2, in the 11th Concession of the Township of Douro; and Village lot, No. 2 south of Charles Street and west of Lake Street; and Lot No. 1 North of Maria Street and West of Lake Street in the Village of Ashburnham.

J. A. HALL,
Assignee.

Peterboro, April 19, 1871. 16-td

A FARMER'S COMPANY.

FARMERS!

Insure Your Property

IN THE

AGRICULTURAL

INSURANCE COMPANY.

A Stock Company entirely devoted to your interests.

Insures nothing but Farm Property and Detached Residences.

Chartered and commenced business in 1833.

CASH ASSETS - - $550,000.

Mr. Langton's Report shows over $53,000 deposited as especial protection to Canadian Policy-holders.

Head Offices for the Dominion of Canada, Kingston, Ontario.

We would refer you to the following named Gentlemen, in regard to the pecuniary responsibility of the Company:

H. Calcutt, Brewer; John Burnham, Barrister; J. A. Hall, Agent Canadian Bank of Commerce; Thos. Menzies, Stationer and Exchange Broker.

ATTORNEY—John Burnham, Esq.

BANK—Canadian Bank of Commerce.

Wm. T. Fish, Cobourg, Gen. Agent for the Counties of Prince Edward, Hastings, Northumberland, Durham, Ontario, Peterboro and Victoria.

Local Agent for the Town of Peterborough,
W. A. KING.
6-tf.

BOARD AND LODGING.

MRS. DAVIES Boarding House has re-opened on Simcoe street, where good board and lodging can be furnished for gentlemen.

T. W. DAVIS.

June 29, 1870. 26-1y

FARM FOR SALE.

The subscriber offers for Sale his Farm, North half of Lot 28, in the

13th Concession of Smith,

Containing 100 Acres. There are about 60 Acres improved and in a good state of cultivation. On the premises are a Comfortable Log House, Log Barn, Stables, and Sheds; a Good Well and other accommodations. For terms and particulars apply to

JAMES IRWIN,
Proprietor.

Seymour, May 3, 1871. 18 Lakehurst P. O.

PASTURAGE

GOOD PASTURAGE,
Apply to
J. EDWARDS

May, 1871 20-tf.

V. R.

EAST and WEST RIDINGS

OF PETERBOROUGH.

The Reformers of the County of Peterborough will hold a

REFORM DEMONSTRATION!

ON THE

7th of June Next,

AT PETERBOROUGH.

Messrs. Blake, McKenzie and O'Donohoe

Have promised to be present, Other prominent Reformers have been invited.

AN OPEN AIR MEETING!

WILL BE HELD IN THE AFTERNOON, AND

A BANQUET

WILL BE GIVEN IN THE EVENING.

It is expected that most of the supporters of Liberal Government in the County will be present. All are cordially invited.

JEO. T. LEONARD,
Secretary.

D. W. DUMBLE,
Chairman of Com.

Peterborough, May 16, 1871. 19

NEW WOOLEN MILL.

To the Farmers and Merchants of the County of Peterboro:

The subscribers would respectfully beg to intimate that the Old Woolen Mill, once owned and carried on by the late James Harvey, Esq., afterwards by Mr. Daniel Brook, has been put in a

A THOROUGH STATE OF REPAIR,

And is now filled with New Machinery, got up expressly for the Manufacture of

Blankets, Flannels, Full Cloths, Tweeds, &c.

A large assortment of the above goods of our own make, are now on hand, and will be sold Cheap for Cash, or Exchanged for wool. Special attention will be given to the Custom Department, which is in perfect order for the Manufacture of Farmer's Blankets, Roll Carding and Fulling.

JOHN WHYTE, AUGUSTUS SAWERS,

N.B.—We will pay the Highest price in Cash for any quantity of Good Clean Wool delivered at the mill.

J. W. A. S.

To my old friends in particular, and the public in general:

I am now back in the Old Mill, with Messrs. Whyte & Sawers, and have got a Large Room all to myself With a splendid

NEW CARDING MACHINE

Bring in your Wool, and I will give you BETTER ROLLS than have ever been turned out in this County.

JOHNNIE NEWTON.

Peterboro, May 3rd, 1871. 18

CHANGE OF BUSINESS.

New Foundry Firm.

The Subscriber is retiring from the Foundry Business in which he has been engaged for the past 15 years, begs to return thanks to his friends and the public in general, for the liberal patronage conferred upon him, at the same time he would beg to state that the business in future will be carried on by his BROTHER JAMES and JAMES B. DAVIS, under the firm of Whyte & Davis. Mr. Davis is well known as a First Class Machinist and Millwright, therefore I have every confidence in recommending the New Firm to the public, feeling assured that all orders entrusted to them will be executed in the most satisfactory manner, and with dispatch.

JOHN WHYTE.

Peterborough. April 1st, 1871.

N. B.—Parties having Notes and Accounts to settle, will please bear in mind that the Books of account and Notes will be at my Woolen Mill, West of Whyte & Hamilton's Foundries.—J. W.

The Subscribers having Commenced Business in the Old Stand of John Whyte, Esq., as (Founders, Machinists and Agricultural Implement Manufacturers,) beg to say that they keep on hand all kinds of

AGRICULTURAL IMPLEMENTS,

SUCH AS

STEEL, COMMON, AND GANG PLOWS, HARROWS, ROOT CUTTERS, CULTIVATORS, HORSE HOES, GARDEN AND FIELD ROLLERS, HAY AND STRAW CUTTERS, with almost every Implement used on the Farm.

General Repairing of Reapers, Mowers, Threshing Machines and Implements of Husbandry on the Shortest Notice.

Parties about purchasing any of the above Implements will do well to call and inspect our Stock on hand, before making a purchase elsewhere,

WHYTE & DAVIS

Peterborough, Apr 1st, 1871. 18-tf.

NOW IS THE TIME!

TO GET

CHEAP ROOM PAPER,

BOOKS, STATIONERY, &c.,

At A. B. KIDD'S BOOKSTORE,

AS THERE IS BOUND A

GENERAL TURNING UPSIDE DOWN

OF EVERYTHING IN HIS ESTABLISHMENT, OWING TO

An Enlargement and Re-fitting of Premises.

SPECIAL ATTENTION IS INVITED TO THE

NEW STOCK OF [illegible]

Just received direct from England. By [illegible] can sell them [illegible] can be bought in Toronto.

Peterborough, April 20th, 1871.

Choice Poetry.

The By-gone Days of Yore.

BY WM. H. GARD.

In the peaceful hours of evening,
When the golden sun was low,
And the Heavens were augmented
With his majestic glow;
When the tender chestnut summon,
Which oft had thrilled before,
Nevertheless subdy
O'er the by-gone days of yore.

When a bright golden vision
Of happy, youthful days,
Nature's brush could equal
Those magnificent displays;
But methinks I hear a whisper,
In some mystic words of love,
Which breath a tied moments
To the by-gone days of yore.

But dimly in the distance
Rises up the past,
Unveiling all the treasures
That were once around me cast;
Then I raise a silent murmur,
But quickly it flies'er,
And I pay a loving tribute
To the by-gone days of yore.

When the gentle words of love
Now hidden in my heart,
The memory of that loved one
Can never more depart.
Hark! a sweet angel whisper
From the bright golden shore,
Makes me live again in memory
The by-gone days of yore.

Ah, there's the dear old homestead
With the loved one gathered round,
They are all waiting for me,
To hear my troubles recited;
But the picture is dissolving,
The almost passed and o'er.
Yet how I love to linger on
The by-gone days of yore.

Then peacefully we journey
Down the shining path of life,
And buckle on our armor
For the fast approaching strife;
But just as I am leaving
This world for evermore,
Oh! Memory paint one picture
Of the by-gone days of yore.

Ingersoll, April 16, 1870.

Every oat is a flower which will beautify our land home.

Thou will always rejoice in the evening if thou spend the day profitable.

Educate the whole man—the head the heart the body, the hand to think, the heart to feel, the body to act.

The season for sitting on circular saws has begun. A man down East sat on one the other day, and they buried both of him in the same grave. Not insured.

Charity is never lost. It may be of no service to those it is bestowed on, yet it never does a work of beauty and grace upon the heart of the giver.

Maples large enough to make three tea boat rails each, with 4,000 trees to the acre have been raised from the seed in seven years in Monroe Co., Iowa.

Look on slanderers as direct enemies to earth society, as persons without honour, honesty or humanity. Whoever entertains you with faults of others, designs to serve you in the same manner.

It has been estimated by Dr. Burke that an average brain is capable of holding 3 150,760,000 thoughts and Usilogue had estimated that it is several eternities contain 134,00,000,000 cells!

The desponding editor of a paper in a Wisconsin village feelingly remarks: "If Sunday night dances trees and easy sweet rowdies, clothes line thieves and assaults ages of prosperity then there is reason for congratulation.

A dissipated and unreasonably nobleman proposing upon his "nobility," once asked Sir Walter Scott, who sat at dinner, what was the difference between Scott and sot. "Just the breadth of the table," retorted Sir Walter.

A good way to get sick is to go shopping every day in the week eat ice cream and cakes for dinner, drink strong tea for supper to strengthen the nerves, and fret the balance of the time because you haven't sufficient means to buy all the fancy goods displayed.

Girls always love those boys best who are the kindest, best natured, most considered and "sensible" in their behaviour, and who are not coarse, profane and loafish in their talk. The boys who are by their school and playmates loved the most, make the best men.

At Reading, Penn., they had a woman all tried and nearly convicted for murdering her son, when just as the jury were about to bring in a verdict of murder, the son walked into the court room and wanted to know what ailed the old woman. She said she was never so glad to see anybody in all her born days.

A rich but ignorant lady of Boston, who was ambitious that her conversation should be up to the transcendental style, in speaking of a friend said: "He is a Paragreus of politeness!" "Excuse me," said a wag sitting next to her, "but do you not mean parallelogram," certainly replied the ambitious lady; "how could I have made such a mistake."

The Staffordshire (Eng.) Advertiser gives the following illustration of life in the mining district:—One of the back country clergy of the present Bishop of Lichfield's flock, hearing there was a bishop at Stourbridge not knowing precisely what a bishop was, took his half-pay over from Wednesbury for the express purpose of seeing the animal's mortal upon its new career, announced to a friend that 'the dawgs would pin it', whatever it turned out to be.

Last year two countrymen rejoicing in the name of Campbell met, and one said to the other, "Well, Sandie, hae ye heard the news?" "I dinna ken, what isn't it" "Did ye no hear that the Queen's dochter is going to be married?" "Indeed, I dinna." says Sandie, "an wha may she be gettin'?" "Ah, she's going to be married to a son o' the Marquis of Mod." "Ay man, the go my sake?" said Sandie, "an, wanna she be a proud woman the day she's married to a Campbell.

Horace Walpole once said:—"Had I children my utmost endeavours would be to breed them museums. Considering I have no ear, nor thought of music, the performance seems odd; and yet it is embarrassed by frequent reflections. In short, as my sum would be to make them happy. I think by the most profitable method. It is an resource which will last their lives, sales, they grow deaf; it depends on themselves and on others; always amused and soothes, if not consoles, and of all fashionable pleasures it is the cheapest.

How The World is Governed.

There are about one hundred separately organized governments in the world at the present time. Nearly one-half are monarchies in Europe; and of these a large proportion are petty Principalities and Dukedoms, containing altogether about six millions of inhabitants. Of the governments of Europe, Great Britain is a limited monarchy; France is nominally constitutional, but, in reality, an absolute monarchy; Spain and Austria are absolute. Prussia, Spain, and Sardinia are limited, with two Chambers of Deputies. There are but four Republics in Europe—Switzerland, San Marino, Andorra, and Monaco. The first latter contains an aggregate population of not over 130,000 persons. Switzerland, owing to her mountain fastnesses, is now, by common consent, fully neutralized. The governments of Asia are all absolute despotisms. Thibet has the name of being a theocracy, or priestly and spiritual sense irons a despotism. In Africa, the Barbary States, and all the various negro tribes, of whatever name, are ruled despotically, except Liberia, which is republican, and may be the opening wedge of civilization on that continent.

The great islands in the Southern and Pacific oceans are mostly independent and despotic—such is Japan with a population of twenty millions, and Madagascar, containing about five millions. The Sandwich and Society Islands have limited monarchies, and the other islands in the Southern and Pacific oceans belong mostly to the different European Powers, and are ruled according to their respective forms of government. On the American continent, there is but one monarchial government, that of Brazil, which is, however, liberally constitutional. In the three great geographical divisions of America, there are now eighteen separate Republics. The British Possessions in North America exceed the United States, in territorial extent, and they enjoy a large amount of political freedom.

Daniel O'Connell.

Wendell Phillips, recently describing the eloquence of the great Irish agitator, Daniel O'Connell, spoke thus: "I have listened to the oppressive solemnity of Webster, been delighted with the grace of Everett, dazzled with the rhetoric of Choate; know the iron strength of the logic of Calhoun; I have been beneath the magnetism of Henry Clay; it has been my fortune to sit at the feet of the great orators of the English tongue, on the other side of the water; but I think O'Connell, lavishly gifted by nature, blended into one harmonious whole the solemnity of Webster, the grace of Everett, the logic of Calhoun and the magnetism of Clay. Nature seems to have intended him for the Democritus of our epoch, she gifted him with everything that goes to make up the consummate tribune of the people. In the first place he had a magnificent presence, impressive, bearing—massive like that of Jupiter—Webster himself hardly outdid him in the majesty of his proportions. There was something majestic in his presence before he spoke, and he added to it what Webster had not—what Clay might have lent—grace. Like as a boy, at seventy, protect in attitude, every gesture a picture, so natural as if so effort, no art, nothing but nature spoke all over him. Then he had a voice that covered the whole gamut. He could endow the whole nation with the majesty of Burke. As I heard him once say, 'I send my voice across the Atlantic, careering like the thunder storm against the breeze, to tell the slave holders of the Carolinas that God reigns and his thunderbolts are hot, and to remind the bondmen the morning of his redemption is already breaking.' Then with the slightest possible Irish brogue—which is the pleasure of it—he would tell a story that would put five thousand men into merriment, and the moment after he would melt the whole of Exeter Hall into tears. And all the while he seemed to be only breathing as effortless as ever woodland nook sent violets up to gaiet them like."

It is no mark of a gentleman to swear. The most worthless and vile, the refuse of mankind, the drunkard and the prostitute swear, as well as the best dressed and educated gentlemen. No particular endowments are required to give a finish to the art of cursing. The basest and meanest of mankind swear with as much ease and skill as the most refined; and he that wishes to degrade himself to the lowest level of pollution and shame, learns to be a common swearer. Any man has talents enough to curse God, and impresses perditions on himself and fellowmen. Profane swearing never did any good. No man is richer, or wiser, or happier, for it. It helps no one's education or manners. It commands no one to any society. It is disgusting to the refined: abominable to the good; degrading to the mind; unprofitable, needless and injurious to society; and wantonly to profane His name. To call His vengance down, to curse Him, and to invoke His vengance, is perhaps of all offences the most awful in the sight of God.

A Students Joke.

Ebenezer Sweat, of Brunswick, is a provision dealer. He has been a resident of Brunswick for the last half century, and has probably furnished Bowdoin students tougher and harder meat than they overhaul in after life. Ebenezer is considerable of a wag, but a story is told in Brunswick, which shows that at least on one occasion he was out-witted.

A student called into the market one morning, and seeing a large tubful of eggs on the floor, eyed it very wisely for some moments, and thus accosted Mr. Sweat.

"I will wager you twenty-five cents that I can jump into that tub and not break an egg."

"You can't do it," said Sweat.

"I'll take twenty-five cents I can."

"Well, here's twenty-five," continued Sweat, "put up your money."

The money was accordingly solemnly put into the hands of a third party, and the student prepared for the difficult encounter.

In a moment he made a leap, and the next moment he fell crash into the tub of eggs and rested his feet on the bottom—breaking nearly all the eggs in the tub.

"There," said Sweat, in a fury of delight, "you'velost; I knew you could not do it," not thinking in his delight of the winning of anything but "beat."

"Well," replied the student, as he coolly turned and walked out of the market, "there is your twenty-five cents."

It was a long time before Ebenezer Sweat recovered from the effects of the joke.

Lowest Type of Humanity.

On the Island of Borneo there has been found certain races of wild creatures, of which kindred species have been discovered in the Philippine Islands in Terra del Fuego, and South America. They walk usually almost erect on two hind legs, and in that attitude measure about four feet in height. They are dark, wrinkled, and hairy. They construct no habitation, form no families, scarcely associate together except in caves or trees, feed on snakes or vermin, eat and fight, one wife and on each other. They cannot be tamed, or forced to any labor, and are hunted and shot among the trees like the great gorilla, of which they are a stunted copy. When they are captured alive one finds with surprise that their unmouth jabberings sound like articulate language. They turn up a human face to gaze at their captor, and females show in minute of monkey; and, in one, these wretched beings are men.

The direct est way of ameliorating the condition of the world is indirect. The true philanthropist shows his love for man by keeping his hands off. Wise charity lets alone. A little more of that homely old fashioned virtue of minding one's business would save society, as well as individuals, from untold miseries and reduce the number of misery-makers.

Ayer's Cathartic Pills,

For all the purposes of a Laxative Medicine.

Perhaps no one medicine is so universally needed as a cathartic. Everybody occasionally requires to be relieved of the clogging accumulations which arrest the natural movements of the digestive organs. Indeed, many suffer from this cause, when they do not realize the fact. The obstruction, in fact, that is a most certain source of disease, if not promptly removed. Hence the importance of having at hand a reliable remedy for this condition. The cathartic we offer, is one that is a most effectual purgative, and at the same time, the best antidote for the various disorders of the digestive organs. Being sugar-coated, they are easy to take, and are the most agreeable of all purgative medicines. Those who have been long kept in health by their use, are everywhere their friends, and the public may rest assured that they will find in them all that we claim for them.

Prepared by DR. J. C. AYER & CO., Practical and Analytical Chemists, Lowell, Mass., and sold by all druggists and dealers in medicine throughout the world.

PRICE, $1.00 PER BOTTLE.

NORTHROP & LYMAN,
Newcastle
General Agents for Ontario.

IRON IN THE BLOOD

MAKES THE WEAK STRONG.

The Peruvian Syrup, a Protoxid Solution of the Protoxide of Iron, is so combined as to have the character of an ailment, as easily digested and assimilated with the blood as the simplest food. It imparts the principle of Nature's Own Vitalizing Agent, Iron to the blood, and cures "a thousand ills," simply by Toning up, Invigorating and Vitalizing the System. The enriched and vitalized blood permeates every part of the body, repairing damages and waste, searching out morbid secretions, and leaving nothing for disease to feed upon.

This is the secret of the wonderful success of this remedy in curing Dyspepsia, Liver Complaint, Dropsy, Chronic Diarrhœa, Boils, Nervous Affections, Chills and Fevers, Rumors, Loss of Constitutional Vigor, Diseases of the Kidneys and Bladder, Female Complaints, and all diseases originating in a bad state of the blood, or accompanied by debility or a low state of the system. Being free from alcohol, in any form, its energy is not lost by evaporation, but is used by corresponding reaction, but are permanent, infusing strength, vigor, and new life into all parts of the system, and building up an Iron Constitution.

Thousands have been changed by the use of this remedy, from weak, sickly, suffering creatures, to strong, healthy, and happy men and women, and invalids cannot reasonably hesitate to give it a trial.

See that each bottle has PERUVIAN SYRUP blown in the glass.

Pamphlets Free.

J. P. DINSMORE, Proprietor,
No. 36 DEY ST., NEW YORK.
Sold by Druggists generally.

MONEY TO LEND.

The undersigned has a few thousand dollars of private funds which he is prepared to lend on mortgages, on improved farms.

D. W. DUMBLE,
January 1871. 1-tf.

Ayer's Ague Cure,

For Fever and Ague, Intermittent Fever, Chills, Periodical or Bilious Fever, &c., and indeed the whole class of diseases which arise from malarious, marsh, or miasmatic poisons.

As the name implies, it does Cure, and does not fail. Containing neither Arsenic, Quinine, Mercury, Iron, nor any other mineral or poisonous substance whatever, it is never injurious to patient. The number and importance of its cures in the news disclosed, are literally beyond account, and we believe without a parallel in the history of Ague medicines. Its power to control and cure the various forms of disease which arise from the poisons with which the blood is contaminated, is not confined to localities, nor to any climate or season. While it counteracts the effects of the poison, it stimulates the liver and other organs into healthy activity, thereby purifying the blood, and driving out the disease. Even cases which have become chronic, through neglect or the use of inferior remedies, readily yield to the influence of this antidote, and are thoroughly cured. Travellers and residents in miasmatic districts will find protection against attacks of disease in the use of this remedy, and those who have once been cured may rest assured that they will not suffer again if they have taken this Ague Cure on the first appearance of disease. Many who have been long kept in health by its use, are everywhere their friends, and the public may rest assured that they will find in them all that we claim for them.

We have abundant evidence of the remarkable cures made by this medicine of Fever and Ague, Dumb Ague, Periodical, Bilious, Remittent, and Intermittent Fevers, and the following is only one of many which have come under our observation in our own city. We select it because the cure was a remarkable one, and the case was publicly known.

Prepared by DR. J. C. AYER & CO., Practical and Analytical Chemists, Lowell, Mass., and sold by all druggists and dealers in medicine throughout the world.

PRICE, $1.00 PER BOTTLE.

NORTHROP & LYMAN,
Newcastle
General Agents for Ontario.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral,

For Diseases of the Throat and Lungs, such as Coughs, Colds, Whooping Cough, Bronchitis, Asthma, and Consumption.

Probably never before in the whole history of medicine has any remedy won so universal confidence upon the continent of America, as has this wonderful remedy for pulmonary complaints. Throughout every section of the country, most of the cases of men it has risen highest and higher in their estimation, as its virtues have become known. Its unbroken character and power to cure the various affections of the throat, lungs, and chest, have given it a reliable prominence among them. While adapted to milder forms of disease and to young children, it is at the same time the most effectual remedy that can be given for incipient consumption, and the distressing affections of the throat call for its use. Protection against sudden attacks of Croup, it should be kept on hand in every family, and indeed as all are sometimes subject to colds and coughs, all should be provided with this antidote for them.

Although settled Consumption is thought incurable, still great numbers of cases where the disease seemed settled, have been completely cured, and the patient restored to sound health by the use of this remedy. So complete is its mastery over the bronchiers of the Lungs and Throat, that the most obstinate of them yield to it. When nothing else could reach them, under the Cherry Pectoral they surrender and disappear.

Slippery Elm and Wahoo Specimens and great protection from it.

Asthma is always relieved and often wholly cured by it.

Bronchitis is generally cured by taking the Cherry Pectoral in small and frequent doses.

So prevalent are the various forms that require such publish the certificates of them here, or do many than assure the public that its qualities are fully maintained.

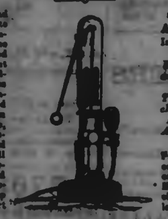
PREPARED BY DR. J. C. AYER & CO., Practical and Analytical Chemists, LOWELL, MASS., U. S. A.

NORTHROP & LYMAN,
Newcastle.
General Agents for Ontario.

WHITE'S PUMP MANUFACTORY AND Agricultural Implement Agency

GEORGE STREET, PETERBOROUGH.

The Leading Pumps and Machines of the Dominion.



SOLE AGENT FOR MASSEY'S Agricultural Implements, Including all the late improvements, viz.:

Massey Self-Rake Reapers, Self-Raker, and Open Chief Mowers.

The Hustler Combined Machines, which took the First Prize at Toronto in 1870. Also, Johnson's First Prize Self Raker.

Parties wanting Machines the coming Harvest will please call and examine the different Machines before purchasing elsewhere. Prizes reduced from last year.

The subscriber is still on hand At Decent Old Stand, opposite the Graveyard, and begs to inform the inhabitants of the County and Peterborough, and Victoria, that he is Sole Agent in these Counties for the Celebrated Powell's Patent Steam and Force Pumps—the first one of which is Established and manufactured by their own hands, being cheap, Durable, Reliable, Fresh Proof, and efficient worked. Being overbrowed of their superiority over all other pumps, I have made arrangements to keep a good stock of them on hand, at prices, and will Sell at Cheap Rates as are sold in any other part of the Dominion.

Will guarantee them to be BETTER than the BEST of any other make. The unexampled popularity and success of this pump is not surprising, combining as it does, the highest Efficiency with the Lowest Cost. Saving Power: Simple and Durable. With reference to the Powell Pump, it has been exhibited two times and received Five Provincial First Prizes, never having been awarded anything but First and Highest Honors at Barrie, Provincial, Cobourg, Township, or city exhibitions. That is beyond terrible proof of its adaptability to the wants of the people, and the climate of the country. THE FOURTH PUMP is adapted to all the uses to which an ordinary pump may be applied, besides being at always-ready Fire Engine. It is allowed to be worth its cost for Watering Buggies there, and as a Fire Preventative has saved many valuable properties. May be used for watering Gardens, Courts, &c., Washing Tires, &c., and many other purposes.

Please call and examine the Powell Pump before giving elsewhere, when I shall be happy to explain its advantages. Also, a large stock of Common Pumps on hand, as usual, which the subscriber will sell as cheap, if not Cheaper, than any Pump-maker in the Province. Also COLBY'S WRINGERS for sale. Also, Agent for Rights or Pumps in Counties east of Peterborough. Pumps of all kinds Repaired on the shortest notice.

Please address, stating depth of well and other particulars:

HENRY OWENS.
George Street, Peterboro

April 26, 1871.

NEW SADDLERY!

The Subscriber wishes to inform his friends—old and new—that he has re-commenced the

Saddlery and Harness Business,

In the Shop next to the Toronto Bank,

Lately occupied by the Telegraph and Express Companies, opposite to Messrs. Nicholls & Hall, Simcoe Street,

Where he will at all times keep on hand or have made to order by first class workmen, everything usually kept in first class establishments, such as

GENTS' SADDLES, LADIES' DO,

Harness, Single and Double, Coarse, Heavy and Fine,

TRAVELLING BAGS, TRUNKS, SATCHELLS,

WHIPS, MATS, HORSE CLOTHING, &c.

☞ Grateful for past favors in his various lines of business during the last 20 years, he asks his friends to inspect his stock before purchasing elsewhere.

Peterboro, May 18, 1870. D. HOPKINS.

1871 New Spring Goods. 1871

EVERY VARIETY OF BOOTS AND SHOES

CHEAPER THAN EVER!

FOR CASH.

Are Daily Arriving

AT

LARMOUR & SARNEY'S

NEW DOMINION

Cheap Boot & Shoe Store,

MCELLAR'S OLD CORNER,

George Street, - Peterboro.

Peterboro, April 13, 1871.

GRAND OPENING DAY

W. FAIRWEATHER & CO'S

Millinery & Mantle Show Rooms

WILL OPEN ON

FRIDAY FIRST!

WITH ALL THE

☞ Novelties and Latest Styles for the Season. ☜

On account of Extensive Alterations to be made on the premises, the goods will be sold cheap.

May, 1870. 13

WILLIAM TOOLE,

Being about to REMOVE his Manufacturing Establishment from the Ashburnham Mill Race to his own Factory in course of erection,

On Murray Street, Immediately West of the Drill Shed,

Where he is fitting up with almost entire NEW MACHINERY, NEW MEN of long city experience, and, in fact, New Everything, begs to return thanks to his numerous town and country patrons for the very liberal patronage which he has enjoyed for the past fifteen years, and hopes by constant attention to business and fair, liberal treatment o customers, to continue in the enjoyments of the same. He would also intimate to his country friends, that he is manufacturing a few of

The Celebrated McKenzie Fanning Mills,

THE BEST MILL IN THE DOMINION,

Which he will sell at a very moderate price, and take in exchange any kind of FARM PRODUCE.

Peterboro, Feb. 9, 1870. 6

PHOTOGRAPHY!

Studio on Hunter Street West!

THE VERY BEST QUALITY OF

Photographs at the most Reasonable Rates

All sizes, from minature to life, either Plain or finished in

CARBON, SIPIA, INDIA INK, OIL OR WATER COLORS.

Parties can rely on Promptness.

Albums, Frames, &c., Always on Hand!

☞ Special attention to children. ☜

☞ Inducements offered to families. ☜

GEO. B. SPROULE.

Owing to a steadily increasing business, Mr. Sproule would request as a favor, that his customers make engagements for sitting a week or so, if possible, ahead of time, thereby saving a great deal of confusion, and perhaps disappointment.

Peterborough, September 26, 1870. 33

JUST RECEIVED

—AT—

GEORGE TANNERS',

AT THE SIGN OF THE

MAMMOTH CHAIR,

HUNTER STREET.

THE PATENT HAMMOCK FOLDING CHAIR!

This Chair was introduced to the public in Montreal in August last, and since that time has merited great attention wherever it has been introduced for its

COMFORT, DURABILITY AND CHEAPNESS,

It being retailed from $2.50 upwards. Call and see it; and in the meantime you can look through the largest and

Best Stock of General Furniture

EVER ON SALE IN THE TOWN OF PETERBORO.

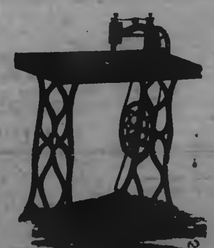
THE UNDERTAKING BUSINESS

Is also more complete than ever, with a good supply of READY-MADE COFFINS.

N. B.—The subscriber wishes to give the Gentlemen of this town and vicinity a gentle hint not to encroach on the manufacture of the Patent Hammock Folding Chair, as it is no humbug, but patented by Mr. Willoughby, Clerk, and I have purchased the sole right or this County from J. D. Mayer, the executive proprietor.

GEO. TANNER.

Peterboro, March 2, 1870. 9



WILSON, BOWMAN & CO.

Hamilton, Ontario

MANUFACTURERS OF THE CELEBRATED

LOCKMAN SEWING MACHINE,

Takes pleasure in announcing that the popularity of the Sewing Machine manufactured by them is still on the increase. They are now turning them out at the rate of 600 per month and yet have been compelled within the last two weeks to increase their facilities to a capacity of one thousand per month.

The Lockman Machine, from its capacity to sew the heaviest fabrics with linen thread, as well as the finest numbers with No. 150 Cotton, is pre-eminently the Farmer's Favorite Family Friend.

It is so exceedingly simple in its parts, and so strongly and durably made, that it does not require a mechanical genius for its management.

The manufacturers challenge the world to produce its equal, and yet its price is from Forty to Fifty per cent. Lower than that of any other first-class Elastic Lock-stitch Sewing Machine.

EVERY MACHINE IS WARRANTED.

☞ Sole Agent for the County of Peterborough—

T. DONNELLY,

P. S.—ROOMS OVER THE STORE. George Street

Peterboro, May 11, 1870. 50

PLAIN AND FANCY PRINTING IN ALL STYLES

EXECUTED IN A SUPERIOR STYLE,

At the "Examiner" Office, Simcoe St. Peterboro.

STOVES, TINWARE &c.

At the Giant T.

Cooking, Parlor and Box Stoves, CHEAP

A large stock of LUMBERMEN'S FURNISHINGS, on which a liberal discount will be made.

COAL OIL in the trade at reduced prices

ROOFING IN TIN AND GALVANIZED IRON, also EAVE-TROUGHING AND PIPING

Done by Practical Men

Gas Fitting, Steam Fitting,

AND PLUMBING.

Also Agent for, and manufacturer of

CALCUTT'S PATENT TUBULAR DRUM HEATER.

The most Economical in the Dominion, by the use of which 50 per cent wood can be saved. Call and see them.

THOMAS LAWRIE,
Practical Tin & Copper Smith
George St. Peterborough.

Sept. 28, 1870. 16-1yr

Fine English Camphor

The surest preventative against moths, and large supply on hand.

NO BATH COMPLETE

WITHOUT A SPONGE.

A GOOD HONEY-COMB SPONGE

From the Mediterranean may be obtained a the subscribers.

CARBOLIC SOAP

For Toilet Purposes.

CARBOLIC SOAP

For Washing Rooms, Bedsteads, Baskets, &c.

CARBOLIC ACID!

The most powerful disinfectant of modern times, not only neutralizing but destroying miasmata, &c.

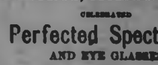
CARBOLIC POWDER

For Sprinkling in Cellars, &c. It is also very useful for destroying pidiculi in dogs, calves, &c., being safe and effectious.

May all be obtained Pure and Genuine, at

DOCTOR TAYLOR'S,
Chemist and Druggist
Corner of George and Hunter Sts, Peterboro
May 11, 1870. 13

UNFAILING EYE PRESERVERS.



LAZURUS, MORRIS & Co's

CELEBRATED

Perfected Spectacles

AND EYE GLASSES.

The large and increasing sales of these Perfected Glasses is a sure proof of their superiority. We were satisfied that they would be appreciated here as elsewhere, and that the reality of the advantages offered to wearers of our beautiful lenses, viz: the ease and comfort, the assured and readily ascertained improvement of the sight, and the brilliant assistance they give in all cases, were in themselves so apparent on trial, that the result could not be otherwise than it has, in the almost general adoption of our Celebrated Perfected Spectacles by the residents of this locality.

With a full knowledge of the value of the assertion, we claim that they are the most perfect optical aids ever manufactured. To those needing Spectacles, we afford at all times an opportunity of procuring the best and most desirable.

DR W. H TAYLOR

Corner of George and Hunter Streets,

Has always on hand a full assortment, suitable for every difficulty.

We take occasion to notify the public that we employ no pedlars, and to caution them against those pretending to have our goods for sale.

Peterboro, February 8, 1871

DARLEY'S ARABIAN OIL,

FOR HORSES AND CATTLE.

A NEVER-FAILING REMEDY.

THIS valuable preparation combines all the medicinal virtues of those articles which long experience has proved to possess the most safe and efficient properties for the cure of Fresh Wounds, Sprains, Bruises, Galls of all kinds, Crushed Heels, Ring Bone, Spavin Callus, Fistula, Sweeny, External Poisons Scratches or Grease, Strains, Lameness, Mange Whitlows, Corns, Sand Cracks, Founders Foot, Hoof Distemper, Scratches, and many other diseases which horses and cattle are subject to.

This celebrated Liniment has been used for many years, and its curative properties thoroughly tested, and it is conceded to be the cheapest and most reliable remedy for all external complaints ever offered to the public—it never fails when timely used and faithfully applied.

To be had of all Druggists and Country Merchants throughout the Dominion. Price 25c. per bottle.

NORTHROP & LYMAN
Newcastle, O

Flax! Flax!!

Farmers intending to grow flax will please apply for their seed early. Seed supplied and payment taken in flax by calling on

SAMUEL TAYLOR
or H. CALCUTT.

I would beg to call the attention of farmers that I have a machine for pulling Flax, which will pull 2 acres a day. I will let the machine and send a man with it for $2 per day. By the assistance of the puller, Flax is the cheapest crop harvested. For information I would refer you to—Jonathan Stephenson, Smith; W. Hitsura, Smith; J. Farnell, Smith; A. Scott Smith; I. Book Otonabee; W. Rutherford Otonabee.

SAMUEL TAYLOR,
Flax King,
Ashburnham

Ashburnham, March, 1871. 11-tf-cm

THOS. MENZIES,

BANKER AND BROKER,

PETERBORO. ONT.

Buys and Sells New York and Sterling Exchange, Bank Drafts, Gold, Silver, Government Bonds, &c. &c. He also sells Drafts for any amounts on England, Ireland, Scotland, France, Belgium, Germany, Switzerland, Italy, Denmark, Sweden, Norway, Australia, Poland and Canada.

Office—Corner of George and Hunter Streets.

He has a large amount of the NEW 7-30 ADAM SECURITIES on hand, for sale at par. Parties wishing to invest money in Government Securities, as the interest runs from date of purchase, should call on or address

THOS. MENZIES,
Peterboro, May 25, 1870.

NEW Fall and Winter Goods!

T. BRADBURN

Having succeeded in disposing of the greater portion of his former stock, and having since purchased heavily in Montreal and Toronto Markets, at the Lowest possible prices, is now showing and invites inspection of the following lines of new Fall and Winter Goods:

CLOTHS:

A complete stock of English and Canadian Cloths and Tweeds.

DRESS GOODS:

New Wool Serges,
New Wool Tartans,
New French Reps,
New French Merinoes,
New Wincies,
New Black Lastres,
New Tartan Poplins,
New Figured Poplins,
New Figured Reps,
New French Delaines,
New Crape Cloths,
New Velvets and
New Velveteens.
(Double Warp)

HOSIERY,

In great variety, English, Scotch and Canadian.

FLANNELS,

A full assortment of Welsh, Lancashire, Saxony, and Canadian Manufacture Also, Salisbury and Fancy Flannel Shirting, very Cheap.

Prints, Linens and Towellings.

JUST OPENED,

A New and Select Stock of Gents' Collars, Ties, Scarfs and Gloves.

GLOVES, CORSETS and SKIRTS.

Those about to purchase FURS would do well to retain their orders, as a large lot will be opened in due time, and will be SOLD CHEAP.

T. BRADBURN.

Peterboro, Oct. 11,

Peterborough Examiney.

$1.50 PER ANNUM, IF PAID IN ADVANCE.] "Prove all things—Hold fast that which is good." [$2.00 PER ANNUM, IF NOT PAID IN ADVANCE.

VOL. XVI. PETERBOROUGH, THURSDAY, JUNE 8, 1871. NO. 23.

ROBERT WALTON.

SADDLERY. Dealer in Horse, Tiewear, &c., Corner Street, Peterboro'.

J. R. McCULLOUGH, M. D.,

Graduate of Trinity College, Dublin, and Licentiate of the Royal College of Canada,

Physician, Surgeon, Accoucheur, &c.,

AND

Late Surgeon of the U. S. Army & Navy,

Will be found at his office or at his residence, on said house of the late ... when not professionally engaged.

N. B.—All communications strictly confidential.

RESIDENCE and OFFICE—Next Door To Wm. McDonald's Hotel, and two doors East Of Heim's Foundry, Simcoe Street.

Visits in the Corporation One Dollar, Only.

VISITS TO THE COUNTRY MODERATE.

ADVICE TO ALL FREE.

Simcoe Street, Peterboro, Ont.
September 8, 1865. 36

THOMAS LANNIN,

PRACTICAL TIN & COPPER SMITH, Bell Hanger, Steam and Gas Fitter, Plumber, &c. Dealer in Stoves, Iron Beds, Baths, Refrigerators, Water Coolers, Fitters, Pumps, &c.

Queens Street,
Peterboro, 1st June, 1870. 22

JOHN COONEY,

NURSERYMAN,

DEALER in Fruit and Ornamental Trees, Shrubs and Roses, and all kinds of Nursery stock. A very choice collection of Strawberry Plants on hand.

Orders by mail promptly attended to.

JOHN COONEY.
Peterboro, July 31, 1869. 29

ONTARIO BANK,

PETERBOROUGH.

SAVINGS DEPARTMENT.

From this date until further notice, the rate of interest in the above department will be

FIVE PER CENT.

PER ANNUM.

G. E. SHAW,
Manager.
Peterboro', April 1st, 1868. 14-tf

GEORGE ALLEN,

GUN & WHITE-SMITH,

Hunter Street, Peterborough,

BEGS to inform the public, as at all kinds of repairing is done on the shortest notice, such as Guns, Stocking, &c., Pistols and White-smithing. Sewing Machines also neatly repaired.

Shop and residence adjoining the Union Hotel.

Peterboro', October 25, 1865. 43

GORE DISTRICT MUTUAL

FIRE INSURANCE COMPANY!

HEAD OFFICE, GALT, ONTARIO.

CHARTERED A. D., 1836.

ASSETS, $160,000 | LOSSES PAID, $416,000

POLICIES ISSUED, 15,556.

ALL kinds of Property Insured at rates from 15 to 20 per cent. lower than Stock Companies. Claims adjusted with fairness and liberality. Losses PROMPTLY PAID.

ROBERT McLEAN, Esq.,
Inspector and General Agent.

THOMAS M. SIMONS, Esq., Secretary.
R. W. ERRETT, Agent, Peterborough.
November 4, 1869. 46-1y

TO THE FARMERS

OF THE

COUNTY OF PETERBOROUGH.

The undersigned begs to intimate that he is again prepared to pay the HIGHEST CASH PRICE for

Oats, Pease, Barley and Rye,

at his New Grain Warehouse in Ashburnham, situated nearly opposite his old stand.

His friends and acquaintances are invited to give him a call as usual.

D SUTHERLAND.
Ashburnham, Sep. 29, 1869. 39

HARDWARE.

JOHN BERTRAM,

DEALER IN

Manilla Rope, Chains, Anchors, Axes, Augers, Saws, Files,

Carriage Springs, Solid Collar Axles Thimble Skeins; Waggon, Carriage and Buggy Bent Rims, Spokes, Shafts, Hubs, Seat Rails, Spindles—all dry; Carriage Bolts, Varnish, Paints, &c.

Leather Belting,
Machinery Oil,
Cabinet-makers' Goods,
Carpenters' Tools

And all kinds of

SHELF AND HEAVY HARDWARE.

JOHN BERTRAM,

Hardware Merchant, Peterborough.
February 2, 1871. 5

Stallion for Sale

The lately imported Horse "YOUNG ST. LAWRENCE," a thorough bred French Canadian; sired by the justly celebrated Horse "St. Lawrence," so universally known in Lower Canada.

His Dam is also a thorough-bred French Canadian. He is a dark bay, six years old, very active, and for speed cannot be surpassed by any in the Country, and is now being fed up ready to travel.

JOHN CATHCART
Bobcaygeon, March, 18"1. 11-3ins

Travelling Directory.

MIDLAND

Railway of Canada.

ON and after MONDAY, the 18th day of SEPTEMBER, 1870, Trains will run as as follows:

TRAINS MOVING SOUTH.—MAIL.

... 7.30 a. m.
Arrive ... 11.30 a. m.
Port Hope, Arrive ... 1 10 p. m.

TRAINS MOVING SOUTH.—MAIL.

Port Hope, Depart ... 3.00 p. m.
Millbrook, Arrive ... 4.25 "
Lindsay Arrive ... 6.30 "

TRAINS MOVING SOUTH.—MIXED.

Lindsay, Depart ... 12 35 p. m.
Millbrook, Arrive ... 2.35 "
Port Hope, Arrive ... 6.30

TRAINS MOVING NORTH.—MIXED.

Port Hope, Depart ... 8.45 a. m
Millbrook ... 7 05 "
Lindsay, Arrive ... 9.10 "

PETERBOROUGH SECTION.

TRAINS MOVING SOUTH.—MAIL.

Peterborough, Depart ... 3.30 p. m.
Millbrook, Arrive ... 4.20 "
Port Hope, Arrive ... 5.50 "

TRAINS MOVING NORTH.—MAIL.

Port Hope, Depart ... 10.10 a. m.
Millbrook, Arrive ... 11.25 "
Peterborough, Arrive ... 12.30 p. m.

TRAINS MOVING SOUTH.—MIXED.

Peterborough, Depart ... 5.30 a. m.
Millbrook ... 6 20 "
Port Hope, Arrive ... 7.40 "

TRAINS MOVING NORTH.—MIXED.

Port Hope, Depart ... 1.15 p. m.
Millbrook ... 2 35 "
Peterborough, Arrive ... 3.20 "

A. T. WILLIAMS,
Superintendent.
Sept 10, 1870. 33

GRAND TRUNK RAILWAY.

TRAINS LEAVE

PORT HOPE STATION

AS FOLLOWS:

GOING EAST.

Express (day) ... 9.30 a.m.
Mixed ... 1.00 p.m.
Express (night) ... 9.30 p.m.

GOING WEST.

Express (night) ... 10.30 p.m.
Mixed ... 3.00 p.m.
Express (day) ... 10.30 a m.

Trains leave on Railroad time, which is about twenty-three minutes ahead of Port Hope time

Warranted correct by the Company's time Table

DAILY STAGE

BETWEEN

Norwood and Peterboro'

The Stage leaves Norwood every day, (Sunday excepted) at 7 o'clock a. m.

RETURNING, leaves Peterboro' at 2.30 p.m.

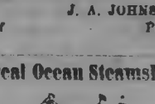
Office in Norwood, Johnson's Hotel.

Office in Peterboro', Stewart House.

Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays, Stage connects with Stage for Blairton and Marmora. And the Stage connects daily with Hastings, Warkworth and Colborne.

J. A. JOHNSON,
Proprietor.
23-tf

Montreal Ocean Steamship Co.



Steam to Liverpool, Londonderry and Glasgow.

Rates of Passage from Peterboro':

CABIN, - - $76 to $86. STEERAGE - $30.

Return Tickets for 6 months at reduced fares

For Through Passage Tickets, Staterooms, and every information, apply to

GEORGE A. COX, Agent.
Canadian Express Co'y.
Peterboro'. Nov. 7th. 1866. 46

GREAT WESTERN RAILWAY

OF CANADA.

TORONTO LINE.

TORONTO, &c., TO HAMILTON.

Accommodation trains leave Yonge street Station at 7.00 a.m., 3.50 p.m. and 6.55 p.m.
Express at 12 55 p.m.

HAMILTON, &c., TO TORONTO.

Accommodation trains leave Hamilton at 7.10 a.m., 9.50 a.m. and 7.25 p.m.
Express at 3.45 p.m.

THE CANADIAN

BANK OF COMMERCE

CORNER OF

Hunter and Water Streets, Peterboro'

Interest allowed on Deposits.

J. A. HALL, Manager
Peterboro, July 27, 1870. 30

THOS. MENZIES,

Now being the authorized Ticket Agent for the Grand Trunk Railway, can supply the public with

Tickets to all parts of Canada,

Also to any part of the United States.

Charges the same as at any of the Stations on the G. T. R. So get your Tickets before leaving Peterboro, and save all trouble on your journey.

THOS. MENZIES,
George Street.
Peterboro July 8, 1870 13

C. A. WELLER,

CLERK of the Peace. Office on Simcoe St. 16

C. A. WELLER,

COUNTY Attorney. Office on Simcoe St. 20

C. A. WELLER,

BARRISTER, Attorney, Solicitor, &c.—Office—Simcoe Street, Peterborough.

MR. JOHN BURNHAM,

BARRISTER, Attorney at law, Solicitor in Chancery, Conveyancer, &c. Office—over T. Chanter's Store, Hunter Street, Peterborough, Ont. 39

GEORGE EDMISON,

ATTORNEY at Law, Solicitor in Chancery, Conveyancer, &c., &c. Office over Mr. John Fletcher's Boot and Shoe Store, directly opposite Mr. Clanton's, George Street, Peterborough.

Peterboro', Feb. 17th, 1864. 7

W. H. MOORE,

BARRISTER, Attorney at Law, Solicitor in Chancery, Conveyancer, &c. Office corner of George and Hunter Streets, McKellar & Somerset's old stand.

MONEY TO LOAN on easy terms, on land security. Mortgage bought.

Peterboro, April 6, 1869. 14

DENNISTOUN, FAIRBAIRN & CASSELS,

BARRISTERS, &c.,

Hunter Street, Peterborough.

JOHN GREEN,

BARRISTER, Attorney at Law, Solicitor in Chancery, Conveyancer, &c. Office over the Ontario Drug Store, Scott's block, corner of George and Simcoe Streets.

Peterboro Dec. 1st, 1869. 48

GEO. T. LEONARD,

ATTORNEY-AT LAW, SOLICITOR IN Chancery &c. Peterborough. 49

S. D. CRAWFORD, M. D., C. M.,

MEMBER of Royal College of Surgeons, England; Licentiate Government Medical Board; Late resident Coombe Lying-in-Hospital, Dublin. Ryan's Buildings, Market Square, Peterboro. 7

DR. LOYD,

CORONER for the Counties of Peterborough and Victoria. Office and residence at Bobcaygeon. 47

GEORGE BURNHAM, M. D.

GRADUATE of Bellevue Hospital Medical College, N. Y., University of Victoria College Canada, and Licentiate of Nova Scotia, Physician, Surgeon and Accoucheur.

Office and residence,—Near the Corner of Brock and George Streets, Peterborough.

Peterboro, May 27, 1869. 43

D. PENTLAND,

DENTIST, would respectfully inform the public that he is now prepared to EXTRACT TEETH WITHOUT PAIN, by the aid of Nitrous Oxide Gas, a very pleasant and perfectly safe remedy.

Peterboro, November 28, 1866. 48

W. COULTER,

DEALER in Genuine Drugs, Chemicals, Patent Medicines, Perfumery, Paints, Oils Dye Stuffs, Hair, Nail and Tooth Brushes, Spices, Culinary Essences, Fancy Soaps, &c. George Street, Peterboro. 16

BUSH & BUCKETT,

VETERINARY SURGEONS, No. 6 Henthorn's Block, George street, Peterboro' Horse and Cattle Medicines kept constantly on hand. Horses taken under treatment on easy terms.

ALEX. McNEIL,

LICENSED Auctioneer for the Counties of Peterborough and Victoria, and Townships of Cavan and South Monaghan.

GEORGE READ,

ISSUER of Marriage Licenses, Clerk Division Court, Township Clerk, &c., Keene, Otonabee. 30

JAMES McLEAN,

INSURANCE Agent, Issuer of Marriage Licenses, and Commissioner for taking Affidavits.

Cavan, Mount Pleasant, C. W. 30

CABINET-MAKING.

E POOLE, Cabinet maker, Upholsterer and Undertaker, George Street, Peterboro.

JAMES STEVENSON,

DEALER in Stoves, Tin-Ware, &c., &c. George Street, Peterborough. 18

ROBERT PATTERSON,

DEALER in Boots and Shoes. Spanish Sole Leather constantly on hand.

Nichols and Hall's old stand, Simcoe Street, Peterborough.

GEORGE MITCHELL,

DEALER in Groceries and Provisions, &c. Cash paid for all kinds of country produce

George Street, Peterborough, 15

EDMUND S. VINDIN

COMMISSION, Shipping, Forwarding and General Agent, Lumber Merchant, &c.—Office, Corner of Walton and Ontario Streets, Port Hope.

BANK OF TORONTO.

CORNER of Water and Simcoe Streets, Peterboro. Interest allowed on Deposits

J. HUTCHISON SMITH,
Manager

Choice Poetry.

"Words and their Uses."

LESSON OF A QUARRELSOME QUAKERS.

New York, ——month, 10th, '71.

Respected Wife—From these lines may'st thou learn—

Moreover, I expect to thee my counsel convey;

The language of this people is a riddle more so,

And needs skill, hence ye figures of a confused modesty!

For instance: as I left the court an imp with smutty face

Said 'Shine?' 'Nay, I'll not shine,' I said, 'except with reward grace!'

'Is 'inward grace' a liquid paste?' asked this young Turk;

'Hi daddy! What is 'inward grace?' How does the old thing work?

'Friend,' said I to a John, whose breath suggested gin,

'Can thee convey me straightway to a repentable inn?'

His answer's gross irrelevance, I shall not soon forget—

Instead of simply yea or nay, he gruffly said 'you bet!'

Nay nay, I shall not bet,' said I, for that would be a sin—

'Why don't thee answer plainly: Can thee take me to an inn?

Thy vehicle is doubtless meant to carry folks about in—

Then why provaricate?' Said he, perversely, 'How you've shoutin'?

'Nay verily, I shouted not?' quoth I: 'my speech is mild:

But thine—I grieve to say it, with falsehood is defiled.

Thee ought to be admonished to rid thy heart of guile.'

'See here, my lovely moke!' said he, 'you sling on too much style!'

'I've had these plain drab garments twenty years and more,' said I,

'And when thee says I sling on style, thee tells a wilful lie!'

At that he pranced about as if a bee was in his bonnet,

And, with hostile demonstrations, inquired if I was 'on it?'

'On what? 'Till thee explains thyself, I cannot tell,' I said.

He swore that something was 'too thin,' moreover 'it was played'

But all his jargon was surpassed in wild absurdity,

By threats profanely emphasized, 'to put a head on me!'

'No son of Belial,' said I, 'that miracle none can do!'

Whereat he fell on me with blows and curses too.

But failed to work that miracle—if such were his design—

Instead of 'putting on a head,' he strove to smite of mine!

Thee knows I cultivate the peaceful habit of our sect,

But this man's conduct wrought on me a singular effect;

For when he slapped my broad rim off, and asked, 'How's that for high?'

It roused the Adam in me, and I smote him hip and thigh!

The thong then gave a specimen of calumny broke loose,

And said I'd 'snatch him bald-headed,' and likewise 'cook his goose,'

Although, I solemnly affirm, I did not pull his hair,

Nor did I cook his poultry—for he had no poultry there!

They called me 'bully boy!' although I've seen nigh three score years;

They said that I 'was lightning' when I 'got upon my ear!'

And when I asked if lightning climbed its ear, or dressed in drab,

'You know how 'tis yourself!' said one incon sequential blab!

Thee can conceive that, by this time, I was somewhat perplexed;

Yea, the placid spirit in me has seldom been so vexed;

I tarried there no longer, for plain-spoken men like me,

With such perverters of our tongue, I can have no unity.

Choice Literature.

A Terrible Temptation.

BY CHARLES READ.

CHAPTER I.

The morning room of large house in Portman Square, London.

A gentleman in the prime of life stood with his elbow on the broad mantle-piece, and made himself agreeable to a young lady, seated a little way off, playing at work.

To the ear, he was only conversing; but his eyes dwelt on her with loving admiration all the time. Her posture was favourably on this fugative inspection, for she leaned her fair head over her work with a pretty, modest, demure air, that seemed to say "I suspect I am being admired: I will not look to see; I might have to check it."

The gentleman's features were ordinary, except his brow—that had power in it—but he had the beauty of colour; his sunburnt features glowed with health, and his eye was bright. On the whole rather good looking when he smiled, but ugly when he frowned; for his frown was a scowl, and betrayed a remarkable power of hating.

Miss Arabella Bruce was a beauty. She had glorious masses of dark red hair, and a dazzling white neck to set it off; large dove-like eyes, and a blooming oval face, which would have been classical if her lips had been thin and finely chiselled; but here came in her Anglo-Saxon breed, and spared society a Minerva, by giving her two full and rosy lips. They made a small ish mouth at rest, but parted over so wide when they smiled, and ravished the beholder with long even rows of dazzling white teeth.

Her figure was tall and rather slim, but not at all commanding. There are people whose very appearance denotes character, and this tall, supple, graceful figure of Bella Bruce betrayed a weakly constitution; to the last degree; she would trip up or put down her own shoes, had strength enough behind them; and her head, though set upon a fine throat, was evidently too small for any intellect worth mentioning. Her dimpled cheeks, her infantine smile, her innocent eyes, all told of a mind without a history, and a character in the bud.

Mr. Richard Bassett was in love with her, and often questioned that how fifteen thousand pounds would be a fine addition to his worldly fortune, which was small, though his distant expectations were great. As he had known her but one month, and she seemed rather amiable than indammable, he had the prudence to proceed by degrees; and that is why, though his eyes gloated on her, he merely regaled her with the gossip of the day, not worth recording here. But, when he had actually taken his hat to go, Bella Bruce put him a question that had been on her mind the whole time; for which reason she had reserved it to the very last moment.

"Is Sir Charles Bassett in town?" said she, mighty carelessly, but bending a little lower over her embroidery.

"Don't know," said Richard Bassett, with such a sudden brevity and asperity, that Miss Bruce looked up and opened her lovely eyes. Mr. Richard Bassett replied, to this mute inquiry, "We don't speak." Then after a pause, "He has robbed me of my inheritance."

"Oh, Mr. Bassett!"

"Yes, Miss Bruce, the Bassett and Huntercombe estate were mine by right of birth. My father was the eldest son, and they were entailed on him. But Sir Charles's father persuaded my old doting grandfather to cut off the entail, and settle the estates on him and his heirs; and so they robbed me of every acre they could. Luckily my little estate of Highmore was settled on my mother and her issue, too tight for the villians to undo."

These harsh expressions, applied to his own kin, and the abruptness and heat they were uttered with, surprised and repelled his gentle listener. She shrank a little away from him. He observed it. She replied not to his own words, but to her own thoughts.

"But after all it does seem hard." She added with a little fervour, "But it wasn't Sir Charles's doing after all."

"He is content to reap the benefit," said Richard Bassett sternly.

Then, finding he was making a sorry impression, he tried to get away from the subject; I say tried; for till a man can double like a hare he will never get way from his hobby. "Excuse me," said he; "I ought never to speak about it. Let us talk of something else. You cannot enter into my feelings—it makes my blood. Oh, Miss Bruce! you can't conceive what a disinherited man feels—and I live at the very door: his old trees, that ought to be mine, fling their shadows over my little flower beds: the sixty chimneys of Huntercombe Hall look down on my cottage; his acres of lawn run up to my little garden and nothing but a ha-ha between us."

"It is hard," said Miss Bruce compassionately; not that she entered into a hardship of this vulgar sort, but it was her nature to soothe and please people.

"Hard!" cried Richard Bassett, encouraged even by this faint sympathy: "it would be unendurable but for one thing; I shall have my own some day?"

"I am glad of that," said the lady; "but how?"

"By outliving the wrongful heir."

Miss Bruce turned pale. She had little experience of men's passions. "Oh, Mr. Bassett!" said she—and there was a something pure and holy in the look of sorrow and alarm she cast on the presumptuous speaker—"pray do not cherish such thoughts. They will do you harm. And remember life and death are not in our hands. Besides——"

"Well?"

"Sir Charles might——"

"Well?"

"Might be not—marry—and have children?" This was said with more hesitation and a deeper blush than appeared absolutely necessary.

"Oh, there's no fear of that. Property ill-gotten never descends. Charles is worn out rake. He was fast at Eton—fast at Oxford—fast in London. Why, he looks ten years older than I, and he is three years younger. He had a fit two years ago. Besides he is not a marrying man. And oh! Miss Bruce, if ever they are mine——"

"Sir Charles Bassett!" trumpeted a servant at the door: and then waited prudently, to know whether his young lady, whom he had caught blushing so red with one gentleman, would be at home to another.

"Wait a moment," said Miss Bruce to him. Then, discreetly ignoring what Bassett had said last, and lowering her voice almost to a whisper, she said hurriedly: "You should not blame him for the faults of others. There—I have not been long acquainted with either, and am little entitled to interfere—— But it is such a pity you are not friends. He is very good I assure you, and very nice: let me reconcile you two. May I?"

This well-meant petition was uttered very sweetly, and indeed—if I may be permitted—in a way to dissolve a bear.

But this was not a bear, nor anything else that is placable: it was a man with a hobby-grievance; so he replied in character.

"That is impossible, so long as he keeps me out of my own. He had the grace, to add, half sullenly: "Excuse me; I feel I have been too vehement."

Miss Bruce, thus replied, answered, rather coldly. "Oh, never mind that; it was very natural. I am at home then said she to the servant.

Mr. Bassett took the hint, but turned at the door, and said, with no little agitation, "I am not aware that he visits you. One word—don't let his ill-gotten acres make you quite forget the disinherited one." And so left her, with an imploring look.

She felt sad with all this, so she slipped out at another door, to cool her cheeks and inveigle a straw scarf for Sir Charles.

He strolled into the empty room, with the easy languid air of fashion. His features were well cut, and had some nobility; but his sickly complexion, and the blue under his eyes, told a tale of dissipation. He appeared ten years older than he was, and thoroughly blase.

Yet, when Miss Bruce entered with a smile and a little blush, he brightened up and looked handsome, and greeted her with momentary warmth.

After the usual formalities, she asked him if he had met anybody?

"Where?"

"Here; just now."

"No."

"What nobody at all?"

"Only my sulky cousin; I dont call him anybody," drawled Sir Charles, who was now relapsing into his normal condition of semi-apathy.

"Oh," said Miss Bruce gaily, you must expect him to be a little cross. It is not so very nice to be disinherited, let me tell you."

"And who disinherited him?"

"I forget; but you disinherited him amongst you. Never mind, so much to interest you. What did you come here to consult me about? I didn't see you at Lady D'Arcy's ball, did I?"

"You did not exhaustively for me, but you would if I had known you were to be there. But about interest: he will tell you what he likes, but he was robbed by his father and grandfather. My father, his father were all entailed slaves. My father's father had his father's father's property settled on him, and I am the only one that was not. If I could be my grandfather forbidding the banns. He brought the reversion of his estate from his own son for a large sum of money (he had to raise it by mortgages)—then they cut off the entail between them, and he mortified the mortgaged estate on his other son, and his grandson, (that was me), and so my heir-at-law. Richard's father squandered his thirty thousand pounds before he died; my father husbanded the estates, got into parliament, and then put a veto to his name."

Sir Charles delivered this version of the facts with a languid composure that contrasted deliciously with Richard's heat in telling the story his way (to be sure Sir Charles had got Huntercombe and Bassett, and it is easier to be philosophical on the boundary hedge), and wound up with a sort of corollary: "Dick Bassett refuses by his father's vices, and I profit by mine's virtues. Where's the injustice?"

"Nowhere, and the sooner you are reconciled the better."

Sir Charles demurred. "Oh, I don't want to quarrel with the fellow; but he is a regular thorn in my side, with his little mortgage estate, all in broken patches. He shoots my pheasants in the outdoor way." Here the heated proprietor showed real irritation, but only for a moment. He concluded calmly: "The fact is, he is not quite a gentleman. Fussy his coming and wishing to you about our family affairs, and then telling you a falsehood!"

"No, no: he did not mean. It was his way of looking at things. You can afford it."

"Yes, but not if he sets you against me."

"But he cannot do that. The more any one was to speak against you, the more I —— of course."

This admission fired Sir Charles; he drew nearer, and, thanks to his cousin's interference, spoke the language of love more warmly and directly than he had ever done before.

The lady blushed and defended herself feebly. Sir Charles grew warmer, and at last elicited from her timid but tender avowal; that made him supremely happy.

When he left her, this brief century was succeeded by regrets on account of the years he had wasted in follies and intrigues.

He had smoked five cigars, and pondered the difference between the pure creature who now honored him with her virgin affections, and beauties of a different character who had played their parts in his luxurious life.

After profound deliberation, he sent for his solicitor. They lighted the inevitable cigars, and the following observations struggled feebly out along with the smoke—

"Mr. Oldfield I'm going to be married."

"Glad to hear it, Sir Charles." (Wiseness of settlements.) "It is high time you were." (Puff—puff.)

"Want your advice and assistance."

"Certainly."

"Must put down my pony carriage now, you know."

"A very proper retrenchment, but you can do that without my assistance."

"There would be sure to be a row if I did. I dare say there will be as it is. At any rate, I want to do the thing like a gentleman."

"Send 'em to Tattersall's." Puff.

"And the girl that drives them in the park, and dresses all the duchesses and countesses at her tail—am I to send her to Tattersall's?" (Puff.)

"Oh, it is her you want to put down then?"

"Why, of course."

CHAPTER II.

Sir Charles and Mr. Oldfield settled that lady's retiring pension, and Mr. Oldfield the memoranda house, with instructions to prepare a draft deed for Miss Somerset's approval.

Meantime Sir Charles visited Miss Bruce every day. Her affections for him grew visibly; for being engaged gave her the courage of love.

Mr. Bassett called pretty often; but one day he met Sir Charles on the stairs and scowled.

That scowl cost him dear, for Sir Charles thereupon represented to Bella that a man with a grievance is a bore to the very eye, and asked her to receive no more visits from his scowling cousin. The lady smiled, and said with soft complacency, "I obey."

Sir Charles's gallantry was shocked. "No, don't say "obey." It is a little favour I ventured to ask."

"It is like you, to ask what you have a right to command. I shall be out to him in future, and to every one who is disagreeable to you. What does 'obey' frighten you from my lips! To me it is the sweetest word in the language. Oh, please let me 'obey' you! May I?"

Upon this, as vanity is seldom out of call, Sir Charles swelled like a turkey-cock, and loftily consented in Bella Bruce's strange proposality.

From that hour she never was at home to Mr. Bassett.

He began to suspect, and one day, after he had been kept out with the usual, stock "Not at home's" of practised waiting-maid, he watched and saw Sir Charles admitted.

He divined it all in a moment, and turned to overwhelmed. What! was he to be robbed of the lady he loved—and her fifteen thousand pounds—by the very man who had robbed him of his ancestorial fields! He dwelt on the double grievance till it nearly frenzied him. But he could do nothing: it was his fate. His only hope was that Sir Charles, the arrant, would dissect the beauty after a time, as he had the others.

But one afternoon, in the smoking room of his club, a gentleman said to him, "So your cousin Charles is engaged to the Yorkshire beauty, Bell Bruce."

"He is further with her, I believe," said Richard.

"So, so," said the other; "they are engaged. I know it for a fact. They are to be married next month."

Mr. Richard Bassett digested this fresh pill in moody silence, while the gentlemen of the club discussed the engagement with easy levity. They even passed to a topic of wider interest—viz., who was to succeed Sir Charles with Le Grammont. Bassett began to listen attentively, and learned for the first time Sir Charles Bassett's reputation, with Cock Jelp, and also that she was a woman of a daring nature and fatigue temper. At first he was more by surprised: Wit soon halved and jealousy whispered in his ear that with these materials it must be possible to wound those who had wounded him.

Mr. Bassett, a young gentleman with a reading club, and a mountain between him and sheer, had taken great care to let them all know he was acquainted with Miss Somerset, an Admiral's fair Marsh chick, and promised him. Calais he said superadded lady, without encumbrance.

"You won't garden her direct down to jolly good grandma, I can tell you."

"I—not yet," answered he dark face in low tones.

Bassett—for his dark countenance had considerable tone, and with all this plain ing, as it appeared, still full words of wisdom. "Don't see it. I'm awfully spoony on her myself; and you know, when a fellow introduces another fellow, that fellow always cuts the other fellow out." Then descending from the words of the wise and their dark sayings, to a pasty best partic-ular fact, he added, "Besides, I'm only let in myself about once in five times."

"She gives herself wonderful airs, it seems," said Bassett, rather bitterly.

Marsh fired up. "So would any woman who was as beautiful, and as witty, and as much run after as she is. Why, she is a leader of fashion. Look at all the ladies following round the park. They used to drive on the north side of the Serpentine. She just held up her finger, and now they have cut the Serpentine, and followed her to the south drive."

"Oh, indeed!" said Bassett. "Ah! then this is a great lady; a peer coventry square must not venture into her august presence." He turned savagely on his heel, and Marsh went and made sickly mirth at his expense.

By this means the matter soon came to the ears of old Mr. Woodgate, the father of that club, and a genial gossip. He got hold of Bassett, in the dinner-room, and examined him. "So you want an introduction to La Somerset, and Marsh refuses—Marsh, hitherto celebrated for his weak head rather than his hard heart?"

Richard Bassett nodded rather sullenly; he had not bargained for this rapid publicity.

The venerable chief resumed: "We all consider Marsh's conduct unjustifiable, and a thing to be combined against. Wanted—an Anti-dog-in-the-manger League. I'll introduce you to the Somerset."

"What do you visit her?" asked Bassett, in some astonishment.

The old gentleman held up his hands in droll disclaimer, and chuckelled merrily. "No, no; I enjoy from the shore the disasters of my youthful friends—that reserved pleasure is left me. Do you see that elegant creature with the little auburn beard and moustache, waltzing sweetly for his dinner? He launched the Somerset."

"Launched her?"

"Yes; but for him she might have wrecked her time, breaking hearts and stamping faces, in some country village. He it was set her devastating society; and, with his aid, she shall devastate you. Vandeleur, will you join Bassett and me?"

Mr. Vandeleur, with ready grace, said he should be delighted, and they dined together accordingly.

Mr. Vandeleur, six feet high. But graceful as a panther, and the pink of politeness was, beneath his varnish, one of the wildest young men in London—gambler, horse-racer, libertine, what not? But in society charming, and his manners singularly elegant and winning. He never obtruded his vices in good company; in fact, you might dine with him all your life and not detect him: the young serpent was torpid in wine; but he came out, a pit at a time, in the sunshine of Cigar.

After a brief conversation on current topics, the venerable chief told him plainly they were both curious to know the history of Miss Somerset, and he must tell it them.

"Oh, with pleasure," said the obliging youth. "Let us go into the smoking room."

"Let-me-see. I picked her up by the sea-side. She promised well at first. We put her on my chestnut mare, and she showed lots of courage, so she soon learned to ride; but she bicked, even down there."

"Kicked?—whom."

"Kicked all round; I mean shewed temper. And, when she got to London, and had ridden a few times in the park and swallowed flattery, there was no holding her. I stood her cheek for a good while, but at last I told the servants they must not turn her out, but they could keep her out. They sided with me for once; she had ridden over them as well. The first time she went out, they bolted the doors, and handed her box up the area steps."

"How did she take that?"

"Easier than we expected. She said, 'Lookye for you beggars that I'm a lady, or I'd break every d——d window in the house.'"

This caused a laugh. It subsided. The historian resumed.

"Next day she cooled, and wrote a letter."

"To you?"

"No, to my groom. Would you like to see it? It is a curiosity."

He sent one of the club waiters for his servant, and his servant for his desk; and produced the letter.

"There!" said Vandeleur; "She looks like a queen, and steps like an empress, and this is how she writes:

"DEAR JORGE,—I have got the sak, so prepare your terra nor. dear jorge he alwaies remains me the grey'one, which now an ess is life and death to me. If you was to set him to lead me the grey he wouldn't refuse you.

"Yours respectfully,

"RHODA SOMERSET."

When the letter, and the handwriting, which unfortunately I cannot produce, had been duly studied and approved, Vandeleur continued:

"Now, you know, she had her good points after all. If any creature was ill, she'd sit up all night and nurse them; and she use to go to church on Sundays, and come back with the sting out of her, only then she would preach to a fellow, and bore him. She was awfully fond of preaching. Her dream is to jump a first-rate hunter, and ride across the country, and preach to the villagers. So when George came grinning to me with the letter, I told him to buy a new side-saddle for the grey, and take her the list with my compliments. I had noticed a slight sparkle in her dreary. She rode him that very day in the park, all alone, and made such a sensation, that next day my grey was standing in Lord Hadley's stables. But she rode Hadley, like my grey, with a long spur, and he would not stand it. None of 'em could, except Sir Charles Bassett, and he didn't play fair—screws goes nater her."

"And then gives him an unfair advantage over his fellow-creatures?" interrupted the gentle Marsh.

"Of course, I suppose," said Vandeleur stiffly. "You see Sir Charles at Hadley-stopped centre thereby; and keep one of her legs; and—"

"Beyond Expression."

A blind girl in the Edinburgh Royal Asylum has received a beautiful chaplet for the Princess Louise in view of her approaching marriage. The gift has been graciously accepted.

The sum of $5,000 is annually paid to the singers in Mr. Beecher's church in Brooklyn, as follows: To the organist $2,000; [illegible]

Mr. Bassett called pretty often; but one day he met Sir Charles on the stairs and scowled.

Bassett replied gravely, that he had no such motives as Mr. Woodgate gave him credit for, but still desired the introduction.

"With pleasure," said Vandeleur, "but it will be no use to you. She hates men like poison: says I have no heart. That is what all ill-tempered women say."

Notwithstanding his misgivings, the obliging youth called for writing materials, and produced the following epistle:—

"DEAR MISS SOMERSET.—Mr. Bassett is a cousin to Sir Charles, whom very good to be introduced to you, and begs me to request to an object so laudable. I should be very sorry to quarrel with any friend of yours, but I confess that my prejudices are not softened by your [illegible]

"Yours, &c."

Vandeleur, gilded at Miss Somerset's house in May Fair, and delivered his introduction.

He was admitted after a short delay, and entered the lady's boudoir. It was January's nest. The walls were rose-coloured satin, padded and pinkeyed; the voluminous curtains were pale satin, with floods and billows of real lace; the chairs embroidered, the tables all bahl and ormolu, and the ochre felt like little seas. The lady herself, in a delightful peignoir, sat nestled easily in a sort of ottoman with arms. Her finely-formed hand, clogged with brilliants, was just conveying brandy and soda-water to a very handsome mouth, when Richard Bassett entered.

She raised herself superbly, but without leaving her nest, and just looked at a chair, in a way that seemed to say, "I permit you to sit down," and then frame, she carried the glass to her lips with the most admirable flexibility of hand she showed in driving. Her lofty manner, coupled with her beautiful but rather haughty features, smacked of imperial origin. Yes she was the writer to "Jorge," and four years ago a shrimp-girl, running into the sea with legs as brown as a berry.

So swiftly does merit rise in this world, which, nevertheless, some morose folk pretend is a wicked one.

I ought to explain, however, that this haughty reception was partly caused by a breach of propriety. Vandeleur ought first to have written to her, and asked permission to present Richard Bassett. He had no business to send the man and introduction together. This law of Parliament of Sirens had passed, and the slightest breach of it was a bitter offence. Equilibrium governs the world. These ladies were bound to be over-strict in some thing or other, being just a little lax in certain things where other ladies are strict.

Now Bassett had pondered well what he should say, but he was disconcerted by her superb presence and demeanour, and her large grey eyes that rested steadily upon his face.

However, he began to murmur mollifyingly. Said he had often seen her public, and admired her, and desired to make her acquaintance, etc. etc.

"Then why did you not ask Sir Charles to bring you here?" said Miss Somerset abruptly, and searching him with her eyes, that were not to my bold, but singularly keen, and penetrative point blank.

"I am not on good terms with Sir Charles. He holds the estates that ought to be mine: and now he has robbed me of my love: he is the last man in the world I would ask a favor of."

"You come here to abuse him behind his back, eh!" asked the lady, with undisguised contempt.

Bassett winced, but kept his temper. "No, Miss Somerset, but you seem to think I ought to have come to you through Sir Charles. I would not enter your house if I did not feel sure I shall not meet him here."

Miss Somerset looked rather puzzled. "Sir Charles does not come here every day, but he comes now and then, and he is always welcome."

"You surprise me."

"Thank you. Now some of my gentlemen friends think it is a wonder he does not come every minute."

"You mistake me. What surprises me is that your are such good friends under the circumstances."

"Circumstances! what circumstances?"

"Oh, you know. You are in his confidence, I presume?"—this rather satirically for the lady answered defiantly.

"Yes, I am; he knows I can hold my tongue, as he tells me things he tells nobody else."

"Then, if you are in his confidence, you know he is about to be married."

"Married! Sir Charles married!"

"In three weeks."

"It's a lie! You get out of my house this moment!"

Mr. Bassett colored at this insult. He rose from his seat with some little dignity, made her a low bow, and retired. But her blood was up. she made a wonderful rush, sweeping down a chair with her dress as she went, and caught him at the door, clutched him by the shoulder and half dragged him back, and made him sit down again, while she stood opposite him, with her knuckles of one hand resting on the table.

"Now," said she, panting, "you look me in the face, and say that again."

"Excuse me, you punish me too severely for telling the truth."

"Well I beg your pardon—there. Now tell me—this instant. Can't you speak, man?" And her knuckles drummed the table.

"He is to be married in three weeks."

"Oh!—Who to?"

"A young lady I love."

"Her name?"

"Miss Arabella Bruce."

"Where does she live?"

"Portman Square."

"I'll stop that marriage."

"How?" asked Richard coarsely.

"I don't know; that I'll think over. But he shall not mar

Important Sale

OF

House, Lot & Household Furniture

BY AUCTION.

JAMES MILLER, Esq.,

Of Peterborough,

Has instructed the undersigned to sell on

Wednesday, 28th June, 1871,

One quarter of an acre of land, with Large Frame Dwelling House, new and in good repair, good Sheds and Stable, Well and Cistern.

Terms of Sale of Furniture, Cash.

Terms of Real Estate will be made known at the time of Sale.

SALE AT 1 O'CLOCK, P. M.

C. STAPLETON,

Auctioneer.

Peterborough, June 8th, 1871.

N. B.—This Sale will be without reserve as Mr. Miller is leaving there. For particulars, see bills.

STOLEN OR STRAYED

From the premises of the undersigned, on the morning of the 24th of May, a

LARGE GREY MARE.

Any person giving information as to her whereabouts will be suitably rewarded.

GEO. BROWN,

Ashburnham, June 7th, 1871. 23.

PIANOS,

Melodeons and Organs.

R. S. WILLIAMS, & Co.,

Have now a complete stock of the above Instruments on exhibition, at their Rooms, No. 3, Smith's Block, Market Square, to which they invite the attention of parties wishing to purchase.

R. W. ERRETT,

Agent.

Peterboro, 7th June, 1871. 23-3mos.

Notice.

IMPOUNDED

Two Devon Red Bulls, 1 year old. The smallest one all red; the largest one red with white spots on his belly and a white spot on each thigh and a white spot on his tail. Which will be sold at my premises on the

Seventh Day of July, 1871,

At the hour of One o'clock, p. m.

MATTHEW WALTON,

Pound-keeper.

Lot No. 6, 12th Con. N. Monaghan.

23-3ins.

New Steam Dye Works!

THE PUBLIC OF PETERBORO and vicinity are respectfully informed that the establishment is now prepared to take in work of every description in

CLEANING, COLOURING, AND FINISHING,

of Gentlemen's Clothing, Ladies' Dress Goods, &c., &c.

Observe the following List of Fabrics

Gents' Hosiery, Merinoes, Silks, Tweeds, Cottons, Satin Cassimeres, Unions, Velvet, Doeskins, Woolens, Ribbons, and general Dry Goods, made up or in the piece. Carpets, Rags, Mats, Raw Wools, Cottons, Worsted, Wool Yarns, Cotton Yarns, Hosiery, Cotton Flocks for Mats, Baggies, &c., &c. Damasks, in Curtains and Furniture Covers.

☞WORKS, NEAR ONTARIO WOOLEN MILLS, COBOURG.

WM. MERCER,

Agent for Peterboro.

Peterboro, June 7th, 1871. 23-1y.

LOST.

A GOLD BRACELET,

On Sabbath last, somewhere on Simcoe or George Street. The Finder will be suitably rewarded by leaving it at this office.

Peterboro, May 31, 1871.

ATTENTION.

THE ASHBURNHAM VOLUNTEER COMPANY will meet for drill

On FRIDAY, the 2nd of JUNE, 1871.

At 7 p. m., at the Drill Shed, Ashburnham, and every subsequent Tuesday and Friday until further orders. A full attendance is requested.

JOHN BURNHAM,

Lieut.-Commanding.

ye 31, 1871. 22-3in

Dissolution of Partnership.

Notice is hereby given that the Partnership heretofore existing between us, the undersigned as Carriage Makers in the Town of Peterboro', in the County of Peterborough, has been this day dissolved by mutual consent, All debts owing to the said partnership are to be paid to, and all claims against the said partnership are to be paid by the undersigned, John Lockhart.

JOHN LOCKHART

JAMES MILLER.

Dated at Peterborough, this 24th day of May A. D. 1871.

In connection with the above, the public are respectfully informed that the business as hereafter will be conducted under the name of Lockhart & Chowen, and that all orders entrusted to them will receive prompt attention.

LOCKHART & CHOWEN.

Peterboro, May 30th, 1871. 22

A CARD

E. BAKEWELL, having made an engagement with Mr. Bradburn, may be found, by his former Patrons and Customers, at the store lately occupied by W. McAvay, where he hopes by his usual attention to business, and with increased facilities for giving satisfaction, still to merit and receive their patronage.

E. BAKEWELL.

Peterboro, Dec. 16, 1870. 51-tf.

HOUSE AND LOT FOR SALE.

The undersigned offers for sale the dwelling House and Lot on

LONDON STREET,

at present occupied by himself.

Further particulars can be obtained by application to

Wm. LEGG,

Proprietor.

Peterborough, April 18th 1871. 16-tf.

(Review please copy.).

NOTICE.

The Municipal Council of

COUNTY OF PETERBOROUGH

Will meet at the

COUNCIL CHAMBER,

(Court House) Peterborough,

TUESDAY, 20th JUNE, INST.,

For the [illegible]

all persons interested will please take notice.

EDW. PEARSE,

County Clerk.

Peterboro', June 8, 1871. 23-1d.

LOST.

On the 6th instant, in or near Brock or Hunter Street,

A LARGE MEERSCHAUM PIPE,

Made in form of an apple resting on a hand, with a very large Amber. The finder will be liberally rewarded by leaving it at DR. O'SULLIVAN'S OFFICE.

June 8th, 1871. 23-1ins.

RESTORE YOUR SIGHT.

[illegible]

OLD EYES MADE NEW.

All diseases of the Eye successfully treated by

DR. DE LEON'S NEW PATENT IVORY EYE CUPS.

Read for yourself and restore your sight.

Spectacles and surgical operations rendered useless. The Inestimable Blessing of Sight is made perpetual by the use of the NEW

PATENT IMPROVED IVORY EYE CUPS.

Many of our most eminent physicians, opticians and oculists and divines, have had their sight permanently restored for life, and cured of the following diseases:

1. Impaired Vision; 2. Presbyopia, or Far Sightedness, or Dimness of Vision, commonly called Blurring; 3. Asthenopia or Weak Eyes; 4. Epiphora, Running or Watery Eyes; 5. Sore Eyes—specially treated with the Eye Cups—cure guaranteed; 6. Weakness of the Retina or Optic Nerves; 7. Ophthalmia, or Inflamation of the Eye and its appendages, or Imperfect Vision, from the effects of Inflamation; 8. Photophobia, or Intolerance of Light; 9. Over Worked eyes; 10. Nyctalopia—moving specks or floating bodies before the eyes; Amaurosis, or Obscurity of Vision; 12. Cataracts, Partial Blindness, the loss of sight.

Any one can use the Ivory Eye Cups without the aid of Doctor or Medicine, so as to receive immediate beneficial results and never wear spectacles, or if using now, to lay them aside forever. We guarantee a cure in every case where the directions are followed, or we refund the money.

2300 CERTIFICATES OF CURE,

From honest Farmers, Mechanics and Merchants, some of the most eminent leading professional and business men and women of education and refinement, in our country, may be seen at our office.

Under date of March 23, Hon. Horace Greely of the New York Tribune, writes; "J. Ball, of our city, is a conscientious and responsible man, who is incapable of intentional deception or imposition.

Prof. W. Merrick, of Lexington, Ky., wrote April 25th, 1869: Without my Spectacles I pen you this note, after using the Patent Ivory Eye Cups thirteen days, and this morning perused the entire contents of a Daily Newspaper, and all with the unaided eye.

Truly I am grateful to your noble invention may Heaven bless and prosper you. I have been using spectacles twenty years; I am seventy-one years old. Yours, truly,

PROF. W. MERRICK.

Rev. Joseph Smith, Malden, Mass., cured of Partial Blindness, of 18 years' standing, in one minute, by the instant Ivory Eye Cups.

E. C. Ellis, late Mayor of Dayton, Ohio, wrote to us Nov. 18th, 1869: I have tested the Patent Ivory Eye Cups and I am satisfied they are good. I am pleased with them; they are the Greatest Invention of the age.

All persons wishing for full particulars, certificates of cures, prices &c., will please send your address to us, and we will send our treatise on the Eye of forty-four pages, free, by return mail, write to Dr. J. Ball & Co., P. O. Box, 957, No. 91 Liberty Street, New York.

For the worst cases of Myopia, or Nearsightedness, use our New Patent Myopic Attachments, applied the Ivory Eye Cups, has proved a certain cure for this disease.

Send for pamphlets and certificates—free. Waste no more money by adjusting huge glasses on your nose and disfigure your face.

Employment for all. Agents wanted for the new Patent Improved Ivory Eye Cups, just introduced into the market. The success is unparalleled by any other article. All persons out of employment, or those wishing to improve their circumstances, whether gentlemen or ladies can make a respectable living at this light and easy employment. Hundreds of agents are making from $5 TO $20 A DAY. To five agents $20 a week will be guaranteed. Information furnished on receipt of 20 cents to pay for cost of printing materials and return postage.

Dr. J. Ball & Co., P O Box, 957, No. 91 Liberty Street New York.

Our Agent for Peterborough County, is

JAMES CONWAY, P. M.,

Indian River, Ont.

23-3 mos.

STAGE.

BETWEEN

Norwood and Peterboro'

The Stage leaves Norwood every

Monday, Wednesday and Friday,

at 7 o'clock a. m.

RETURNING, leaves Peterboro' at 2.30 p. m.

Office in Norwood, Johnson's Hotel.

Office in Peterboro', Stewart. House.

This Stage connects with the Stage for Blairton, Marmora, Hastings, Warkworth and Colborne.

J. A. JOHNSON,

23-tf Proprietor.

Public Notice.

The annual meeting of the shareholders in the

Cobourg, Peterboro and Marmora Rail Way and Mining Company,

For the election of Directors, and for such other business as may be lawfully transacted will be held at the office of the said Company at Cobourg, on Wednesday, the twelfth day of July, A. D. 1871.

At twelve o'clock noon.

W. F. CHAMBERS.

Cobourg, June 6, 1871. Secretary.

SCOTTISH IMPERIAL FIRE INSURANCE COMPANY.

CAPITAL - - £1,000,000.

Head Office—50 West George Street, Glasgow.

JAMES BEATON—Head Office, No. 26 St. Francois Xavier Street, Montreal

WALTER BEAL,

Agent for Peterboro.

OFFICE—Simcoe Street. 20-3mo

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

[illegible]

Agents.

Public Notice—W. P. Chambers

Norwood Stage Line—J. A. Johnston.

Notice—Edy. Typos.

Lost—Dr. O'Sullivan.

The Peterborough Examiner

PETERBOROUGH, JUNE 8, 1871.

THE BANQUET.

GREAT MASS MEETING ON THE COURT HOUSE SQUARE.

OVER TWO THOUSAND PRESENT.

THE SPEECHES, A DEAD SOCIETY, AND THE MISSING MOST CRUSHED.

At noon Messrs. Blake, McKenzie, and O'Donoghue, of Toronto, and Fraser, M. P. P., of Cobourg, arrived on the train and were met by the leading men in the town and from the country. They were taken to Turver's Hotel, and after partaking of a luncheon especially prepared for them, they proceeded to the Court House Square, where a platform had been erected.

John Walton, Esq., occupied the chair, and up saw on the platform, besides those from a distance, E. M. Fairbairn, Esq., M. P. P., Jas. Millar, Esq., Reeve of Otonabee, A. Smith, Esq., W. Kerr, Esq., Mayor of Cobourg, Evans Ingram, Esq., Jas. A. Buck, Esq., D. W. Dumble, Esq., Robert Graham, Esq., of Faraday, and a number of others.

Mr. Walton, in opening proceedings said that it was a pleasing and honorable position that he occupied on the present occasion, and he was glad to see so many present to hear the opinion of the great Reform leaders, and to learn why they had so boldly enunciated those principles both in Parliament and in the provinces at large. He was glad to say that they were there as British subjects, and he believed as such they were prepared to hear the leaders of the Reform party, and of the other party too, in their turn, and to part as patriots and brethren.

He then introduced Mr. Fairbairn, who said that he felt that they had heard him often enough during the election campaign, and that to occupy their time on the occasion would be depriving them of hearing others, who would address them to profit, he would therefore give way and allow them the opportunity and privilege.

The Chairman then introduced Mr. O'Donoghoe. He remarked that the Chairman had referred to his pluck in coming to address the meeting, but it did not require so much pluck, as he did not come as a defeated man, nor yet as a successful one; but in the interest of the great principles and party to which he had allied himself. This meeting, he felt, was in the interest of good government—and to endeavor to secure that for the future. One of the old members had been sent to an fro in the earth; he had fallen, never to rise again, and this was a victory in itself. He did not wonder at his own defeat. He had come to the County a stranger, had never spoken to any man in it before he came to canvass—and during the few days he had to canvass a Riding 100 miles long by 50 broad, thus it was impossible for him to visit more than a small portion of it; but in that portion his principles had been so well received that a very respectable vote was given him; and he felt satisfied that a few days more would have ensured complete success. He had all along supported the great Liberal party in Canada fully convinced that from that party, and working with it, all that was liberal, just and fair would be obtained. His co-religionists had supported the conservative party during the time, but that had been brought about by the discussion of certain questions that had arisen, which led to acerbity and bitterness. These things had been removed, and he now saw no good reason why the old friends and allies should not again unite. He felt too, that those principles of Reform—of justice, of equality religious equality, were immutable and eternal. The advocates of the principles in the old country—the great Reform party,—had nobly fought and contended for them, and all that was good, noble and generous, the freedom of speech, of thought, of religious liberty, and equality. They were the advocates of peace, order, and good government. He had been hounded by a certain defeated candidate from the time he had entered the County, and ever since he left, he continued to gnaw at him. He could compare him to nothing, except a grey rat, that gnawed through the coffins of the dead where no life was, and preyed on the corruption of the dead body. He was prepared to say that Reformers had treated him kindly and gentlemanly, refusing the slap-trap that religion had any thing to do with politics. He was satisfied that the result of the reform contest in this County was about to bring again his co-religionists to support the party that had stood by them in the past—during the days of Baldwin, Price and Mr. Blake, the lamented father of the present Mr. Blake and Lafontain, the great leaders of that party, whom neither office, money bags, or other inducements could lead away to support Toryism. He was proud too of those leaders—and he believed that under their management the affairs of the province would be fairly administered, justice would be done to all classes, honesty would prevail, and the right of private judgment respected. After referring to the duty of Reformers and the necessity for it: the certainty of success under wise generalship, fair-play and even-handed justice to all classes. Concluding with an earnest entreaty to work until success crowned every effort. He sat down amid rounds of applause.

Mr. Blake was then introduced by the chairman, and said that it gave him great pleasure to make the acquaintance of the people of the central portion of the county, as he had not had time to do so heretofore. He paid a fitting tribute to Mr. Fairbairn who had been a student in his office and whose abilities he believed was a token of hope for the future. He was glad to see that the Religious Element was about to be removed from political contests and trusted that as had been referred to by Mr. O'Donohoe, principles would in future prevail. He considered that that was an absolute right not to question on telegram, but as a right that the people should have, and that they were by no means to be debarred from the discussion of such matters, and yet further on sudden questions. He looked with peculiar interest on the result of the late contest, as about to introduce the state of things that existed in the days of his lamented father, who translated in carrying out the principles of those ages by the Catholic Reformers of Canada. The doctrine of the government is vote for us, regardless of principles, but [illegible] been removed, he believed that a change would take place. Changes had taken place for taking the Government favors they could claim only about four or five of a majority, while during the last parliament it was twenty-seven to twenty-nine. This was a great thing, and assuming the role of a prophet he believed that at the next election the Ottawa Government would feel greater changes still. He then referred to the work of opposition in the House, and how far they had succeeded in mending good government for the country. Their people met with popular favour and although the government defeated Mr B's measures one million they had adopted them in the next, and thus justice had been secured in part. The party of election, so far as secured. was his measures by the government. He attempted to remove from temptation of voting by those who were paid instruments of the government to secure the independence of members, so that they might vote right and not be swayed by filthy lucre. In spending public money too, he sought to detail the vote of the people in reference to how, when and where it should be done, but Messrs. Read and Carnegie had continually voted to put the whole in the hands of the ministry without asking a word, thus voting for the re-introduction of the work from of old Bo archibl Days, when one man did everything, the only difference now they voted to five men instead of to one. The popular will is to decrease the power of the government, those men voted to increase government influence and decrease the power of the people and thus rob the people of their dearly purchased rights.

The appropriation policy on the expenditure of the $1,500,000 was for the Government to select their roads, the amount required, submit the scheme, and discuss the question of each on their merits. But not so with Messrs. Carnegie & Read.—They sought to leave the whole with the Government, and then if the people sent them back they could say—you indorsed my actions, you cannot complain. The Opposition, however, intend to again seek to secure the principles that have been voted down, by your late Members—Dual representation—the award and the treaty have to be decided upon; the Pacific Railway, the organization of the great North West, and an intelligent representation would be required to secure a wise settlement of these questions; not men who seek power at any price, but men who will seek to secure good government, in just principles. We want, therefore, men who would be willing to come back to the people and explain their reasons for their course, and discuss questions on their merits, vote on them merits—and not because their leader said "rise"—men who could afford the greatest religious freedom, the greatest share of justice to all—and who were determined to secure for our County government what will be no disgrace to us—of which we shall not be ashamed.

Mr. Walton then introduced Mr. McKenzie with a few appropriate remarks.

Mr. McKenzie said it afforded him great pleasure to be present on this occasion, to meet with the reformers of the County of Peterboro, and to aid them to celebrate the triumph in some degree, of their principles of the late contest. The contest of late was not with conservatives, or their principles, but merely narrowed down to a Ministerial party. For J. S. McDonald, at the last general election, declared there was no party, and that it merely vote for him or not at all. After the act of confederation J. A. McDonald feared a return to party lines, and, therefore, sought out J. Sandfield, stating that if he would go to Ontario with Mr. Carling and Mr. C. Cameron, and form a Government, that he would have his warmest support and assistance. John Sandfield did so, and ever since was a perfect automaton, acting at the will of John A., when he signified, John well knew that by such a course he would place John S. under perfect control, as his election and retention of office would wholy depend on conservative support, as reformers would not fully ally themselves with him, and thus J. A. McDonald would secure the influence that he sought. He remarked that when Sir J. A. was asked why he called on one party to form a Government in Lower Canada but stipulation for a Combination in Ontario, he said that in Lower Canada they never could think of endangering confederation by putting the working of it in its infancy in the hands of men who had opposed it all along, for getting or ignoring the fact that J. Sandfield had been the continuous opposer of Confederation from its inception. And, ever since, at Ottawa, J. Sandfield was the most plastic supporter of J. A. McDonald, who manipulated everything. At the formation of the Coalition it was agreed by them to begin with the Reformers from Ontario, and Howland, Blair and Ferguson were accordingly chosen in the first ministry with the "no party" they succeeded in getting enough of their party elected to sustain them, and by the trick of managing to get as many Conservatives as possible, brought out and returned. But no sooner had Blair died, and Howland accepted office, than a howl was raised by the conservatives for increased representation, and John A. McDonald acceded to their request by selecting Mr. Morris, and thus proving the hollowness in sincerity and trickery of the McDonald clan in carrying out even the coalition idea set up by themselves. He, Mr. McKenzie believed that it was utterly impossible to go on to any length without party organizations. In every time this was the case, even in the working out of the principles of the Gospel of peace, it was found necessary for men to divide into parties, and there were Episcopalians, Presbyterians, Methodists and Roman Catholics. These were believed necessary in the nature of things for the successful working out of the scheme of the gospel; and if with the church, party was needed, how much more in politics, when greater watchfulness is required to secure the right management of public affairs. Disraeli, too, had acknowledged many had been the zealous advocate of party government, believing that without it, it was impossible to carry on successfully any form of good government; and afterwards, when he attempted to ignore these things, he was soundly abused by conservatives for disregard of principle and of honor. All coalitions are formed for the retention of office and of power, and it was held that whenever men came before the House with any plan or political scheme—and the House requested it, they should at once resign; and he, Mr. McKenzie, held that offers of office, money inducements or other undue influence affecting their pockets were dangerous, as human nature was inclined to suspect ministery from whom they received favour—in fact it was found impossible to separate their sympathies from the men who offered or paid them money or other considerations. But he might not refer to these things, as they were self-evident, and the men who sought to govern by coalitions were dangerous to the state and country.

Mr. McKenzie then referred to the complete disregard of John A. McDonald, of all his former acts wherever a change was necessary to retain office when John Sandfield was called upon to form a Ministry he went to work to undo the work of a life—John A. urging him on. To such a length did this go, that when he, (Mr. McK) went to his constituents in 1867, he found every post, gate and fence, placarded with sheets about as disgraceful as some he had seen since arriving in Peterboro. But these things had to be put up, and they were sure to do so, especially, time to meet them with principle, energy and intelligence, and then all would be certain of a grand and complete success.

Mr. McKenzie also referred to the conversions of the whole Cabinet in almost a day, from the short Intercolonial route to the long one, just because Mr. Cartier was incensable, and the sudden conversion had cost the country millions of dollars, as the short route could have been built for 8 to 10 millions of dollars, while the long route will cost about $30,000,000. The general demoralization of the people by a system of bribery and purchase that characterized the Dominion Government, could not but act disastrously to the country. Col. Grey had been an example of this, and well did he repay the party for the avowal held out. Their claim upon him was so strong that he never could vote against them, and for this, they in violation of the statutes of the country, and by a little device; paid him $3,000 a year, in monthly payments, that it might not be called a yearly salary. He, then, reviewing the purchase of Mr. Howe, and the results of it so far, predicted that it would induce the application of every province for better terms, while Ontario, the rich and prosperous province, had to foot the bill, and if she acted and obtained, it had to be paid by herself.

He reviewed also the lobbying of Mr. Brydges, fearing that he, although not a member, voted more than once on every motion affecting his interest, or the company he represented.

John Sandfield, he contended, held office by grace, but by the grace of John A., not by works. J. A. did make and could make him just as easily as he formed Coalitions. Hence the juggle goes on—and must go on till the people, aroused by a sense of the results come forward and send honest, upright, intelligent men to represent them: men able and willing to defend, uphold and explain their principles. His Honorable friend, Mr. Blake, had done much to correct the legislation of the last few years, and he trusted that he would be so supported, until these noble measures he advocated, had become law—until the independence of Parliament would be securing the Pacific Railway under wiser management—the fortification policy in proper hands, and the expenditure of the Country controlled by the House. Messrs. Read & Carnegie had uniformly declared their subserviency by voting that Ministers should be the judges of all outlay—where to be expended, and when; and if asked a question on these things, they had to answer, "don't know"—"didn't ask." Mr. Blake did, of course, but we voted that he should not get the information. Mr. Blake urged the folly of reckless and uncalled for expenditure of large sums of money, without an explanation, but they voted in favour of it; hence a gigantic railway ring was formed; that astonished Governor Musgrove, of British Columbia, their granting more than he ever asked. We regret that we are forced to curtail Mr. McKenzie's remarks both from want of time and space, as it was one of the best ever listened to in Peterboro, and received the repeated expression of approbation from the large audience.

The meeting was almost as orderly as a religious meeting, hardly a word being heard during the three hours and a half occupied by Messrs. Blake and McKenzie.

About 5 o'clock last evening, after the Mass meeting in the Court House Square had concluded, Messrs. McKenzie, Blake, O'Donohoe and Fraser, together with a number of the leading Reformers, including our Member Elect Mr. Fairbairn, the Reeve of Otonabee, Mr. Millar, the Ex-Warden, Mr. Ingram, the Reeve of Dummer, Mr. Choate, Mr. Bertram, Mr. A. Smith, Mr. Graham, from London, and several others were driven up to the chairman's (Mr. Walton's) residence, "Balsam Grove," where Mrs. Walton, although only notified of their intended visit fifteen minutes before their arrival in an unprecedented short time supplied the party with an excellent tea, which seemed to be relished highly by all. The ride was delightful, the guests seemed to enjoy it very much, and were impressed, we doubt not, of the solid improvements of our Country as well as our Town.

The Banquet came off in the evening, in the Music Hall. The Hall was thronged with warm friends of Reform. The speeches delivered were superior to those delivered in the open air. Mr. Blake, especially delivered a masterly exposition of the views of the Opposition in the great questions before the Country, but we must defer them till next week.

The whole affair was one of the grandest successes yet witnessed in Peterboro, and one that will be long remembered here.

The whole day the greatest quiet reigned not an offensive word being heard from any party, something which tends to prove that the people of this county can, when they wish, behave themselves as men of intelligence.

We have been requested to announce that the Otonabee Agricultural Show will be held at Keene, on Friday, the 13th of October next.

A FATAL ACCIDENT.—We regret to have to chronicle the death of Mr. Alexander Stewart, of Otonabee, caused by his horses running away on Saturday last. Mr. and Mrs. Stewart and son were going home in the evening through Ashburnham, when the horses became unmanageable and the seat and wagon box gave way. All were thrown suddenly out and we regret that Mr. Stewart was instantly killed, and Mrs. Stewart severely injured, the young man was also hurt but not seriously. Mr. Stewart was 70 years of age.

The Committee of the Protestant Home acknowledge with thanks the following donations for May:—A basket of buns and 3 quarts of milk, from a friend; Mr. Andrew McKee, Smithtown, 3 bags of potatoes; Mrs. Kempt, preserves for the sick; Mr. Winch, a shank of beef; Miss Nicholls, a parcel of clothing; Mrs. Best, a rocking chair; Mrs. Thomas White, a beadstead; Mrs. James McEwen, a quarter of veal; ommitted last month, a quantity of feathers from Mrs. J. Tully.

We have had an opportunity of applying the rod freely during the past week, but we remain determined to with-hold even the report of events that must cause pain to others without profiting us, not even threatened abuse can induce us to retaliate, except when the public weal demands a reply, our readers will, therefore, excuse us, for neglecting to made them acquainted with some little events of the past week, to do so would savour of glorying over the ills of our opponents, when no moral or political questions are at stake.

Sheriff McEwan, of Essex has shown to the Windsor Record a number of large and beautiful balls of cotton, grown last season by Mr. T. C. McCormick, on the old family homestead, north of Pelee Island. The plant from which the specimens were taken yielded twenty well-filled pods. Colored people accustomed to labour in the cotton fields of the South pronounce the specimens of a first class quality and quantity—equal to the best Louisiana. If this prove correct, then the fact will be established that the precious fibre may be produced abundantly in this latitude, as last season was no more propituous for the cotton plant than the average years. Much credit is due to Mr. McCormick for making the experiment.

Abduction.

One of the most daring outrages ever attempted to be perpetrated in Montreal was tried on Saturday evening in Dorchester street, and although the ruffian was foiled in his attempt, it does not in the least palliate the enormity of the outrage; we are indeed retrograding sadly in civilization when a respectable girl cannot walk our streets not only without being subject to insult, but even without being safe from the danger of forcible abduction. The circumstances of the case are substantially as follows, although out of respect to the feelings of the young lady who was so grossly insulted, we suppress names.—It appears that two little girls were spending the evening with some friends in Dorchester street, and about 9 o'clock their elder sister, a very charming young lady of just "sweet sixteen," residing in St. Alexander street, started to fetch them home. She reached Dorchester street and had proceeded nearly as far as Knox Church when a carriage, which had for some time been driving slowly along the street stopped, and a well dressed gentlemanly looking person of about thirty, who was quite a stranger to her, jumped out and bowing politely inquired in suave accents could informs him "if Mrs. Green lived here?" The poor girl was considerably frightened, and hastily muttering something about "not knowing Mrs Green," quickened her pace; but Don Juan kept up with her, and no doubt influenced by the girl's beauty, began pouring into her ear, the usual rhodomontade, about undying affection, "boundless love," "breaking hearts" and such like clap trap, threw his arms around her, and endeavored to draw her towards the carriage, which was following them along the street, with the door open, whispering to "fly with him to eternal happiness," &c. Now, thoroughly alive to her danger, the girl sprang from his arms with a scream and bounded up the street, with the speed and lightness of a startled fawn; Don Juan gave chase, and John well instructed no doubt, kept close to them; once the ruffian caught her, and placing his hand over her mouth endeavored to force her into a gateway; but terror lent her strength, and shaking the would-be seducer off she again continued her flight; Don Juan pursued her, but, although his legs were long his wind was short, and she fairly distanced him before reaching her friends house, although Don Juan followed her up the stairs, and did not relinquish the chase until the door was shut in his face. On reaching a place of safety the poor girl fainted from terror and exhaustion, and it was some time before she could explain what had alarmed her. Unfortunately none of the gentlemen of the house were at home, the brother of the mistress of the house having just taken the two little girls to their residence in St. Alexander street. The lady of the house wished her young friend to remain until a male escort could be obtained, but the young lady was so anxious to return that her friend finally agreed to accompany her with the escort of two big dogs. They had not proceeded far on their way when Don Juan again made his appearance with his carriage in attendance as before. His interview did not last long this time, for no sooner had the young lady recognized him with a scream, than her friend, clapping her hands, cried, "Go for him, Lion," "Seize him, Cæsar." Lion needed no second invitation, but at once "went for that heathen Chinee" in a way he is not likely to forget in a hurry; and Cæsar seized him so scientifically in the rear that his tailor is now, doubtless, industriously at work making him a new pair of pantaloons. The ladies were now turned with a vengeance. Don Juan was quite unprepared for so fierce an attack, and beat a most inglorious retreat, hotly pursued by Lion and Cæsar, who seemed to enjoy the fun hugely, and would not have left a rag on him had he not, fortunately for himself scrambled into his carriage, which was driven furiously away. The young gentleman who had taken the two little girls home, happening to come up at the time, the dogs were called off, and the procession formed for St. Alexander street, the dogs in front,—Lion wagging his tail knowingly, evidently in high good humor with himself, and Cæsar meditatively licking his lips as if reflecting on the quality of that bite, and coming to the conclusion that it was very good; the young gentleman followed with a lady on each arm, and in this order they reached home in safety. Don Juan has not since been heard of.—Star.

Obituary.

In our absence from Town last week, a notice of the decease of a personal friend, Mr. Robinson Rutherford, had to be delayed, our readers are aware that Mr. Rutherford, a few months ago, went to Kingston, as an agent of several Insurance Companies. He had been a worthy citizen of Peterboro for many years, during the whole of which time, he was the most consistent friend of every good work proposed in Town. A consistent temperance man, he for years laboured to promote the principle of total abstinence, as a friend of Sabbath Schools, he conducted as superintendent of the Wesleyan Methodist Sabbath School, one the most successful Sabbath Schools in the Country. He was the earnest advocate of everything calculated to young men's and old men's good, and to make the world better. Although a working man, there were few more intelligent men in the County, and he was respected by all intimately acquainted—we sincerely sympathise with the bereaved family, and trust that his example will produce a salutary effect on the minds of his sons and daughters that they may follow in his footsteps. His last hours were perfect peace. He died testing in his dear Saviour, whom he loved and served humbly. His last remains were brought to Peterborough [and interred in the Wesleyan Methodist Cemetery.

The funeral was very large, considering the fact that he had not occupied any political position. His labours among the young people of this Town will be remembered when political squabbles shall be forgotten, and his efforts to do them good remain a monument more enduring than brass.

THE BRITISH EMPIRE.—A few weeks ago Mr. Macfie, M. P. for Leith, introduced a motion in the Imperial Parliament, looking to the establishment of a congress to be composed of representatives from Great Britain and her colonies scattered throughout the world. The motion was, to say the least, premature, however grand the idea of a close confederation of the whole British Empire and of the influence in the world, such a confederation would be sure to yield. The average Englishman would hesitate long before he granted to distant dependencies any voice in the foreign policy of England. The Times, in adverting to Mr. Macfie's motion, makes this fact very plain, and evidently considers the establishment of any closer relation between the mother country and her colonies as exceedingly Utopian. There are, however, even in England enthusiastic men who will not allow the subject to be lost sight of; and their efforts are aided by a certain portion of the press. The London Standard in a long article argues vigorously in favor of a closer connection between England and the colonies, by which the latter would obtain some voice in matters of foreign policy involving their interests, and prevent such a disintegration of the Empire as would reduce England to the rank of a second-class power, shorn of her territory and influence only through the [illegible] Ex.

Miscellaneous Items.

It is reported that the vote never came of sunstroke in New York on Monday.

Prince Charles opened the session of the Roumanian Chambers of Deputies on Monday, and the Spanish says he met with an enthusiastic reception.

The flood at New Orleans has caused damages to an amount estimated at five hundred thousand dollars. The break in the levee which led to the overflowing had its origin in the obstinate carelessness of a man taking away dirt from the embankment. It is intended to sue the canal company for damages.

The statement that Mr. Fish had resigned, has received an emphatic denial from that gentleman himself, according to a New York Herald correspondent, and it is further added that the courtly and accomplished Secretary has expressed no desire to give up the control of the State Department. It is intimated, however, that Mr. Fish would consider more congenial to his tastes the position of Minister at the Court of St. James, and the probable recall of Gen. Schenck with this end in view is hinted. As we indicated, the report of the threatening attitude to wards Spain with respect to the claims of American citizens in Cuba, is pronounced to be "fallacious."

WHAT A WHOPPER!—The Manitoban of Saturday says that His Lordship Bishop Tache accompanied Atty-Gen. Clarke to the steamer to see him depart for Canada, when it knew very well that His Lordship went there for no such purpose. He went there to bid farewell to Rev. Father Royer,—Chaplain of the 2nd., Batt., who was a passenger by the steamer,—and stood at a respectful distance from the crowd that lined the bank of the river in the vicinity of the steamer. If there were a half dozen there to give Mr. Clarke a parting cheer, there were at least three hundred who would have given him a parting groan had he not dodged them, and got the captain of the steamer to touch at a point farther up the river, and let him aboard.—News Letter, May 27.

Matters in Paris are again resuming a somewhat natural condition, though wholesome and necessary restrictions are for the time being placed upon all classes, so that there may not be any incipient insurrection The number of active rebels still at large in Paris is said by the Figaro to be fully fifty thousand, and these look with no kindly feelings upon the police who are searching for the Communists leaders.—Several of the latter have been captured, though Pyat, one of the most indefatigable insurgent chiefs, is believed to be hiding somewhere in the city. Cavalry patrol the streets at night, and traffic of all description has once more commenced. The barricades and other obstructions have been removed, and many improvements effected, but there must be numerous heaps of debris and many desolate scenes still in the city. Theatres and court martials represent two extremes of Paris life at present, from which the gay inhabitants can have excitement and sensation, if such proceedings do not appear tame after the sad and terrible occurrences of the past few months. A wild report is telegraphed to the effect that the Communists really received their orders from a committee in London, and that it was intended to apply the torch to London and other cities to punish the apathy and selfishness of the English middle classes. French journals continue their speculations upon the probable form of government of France. M. Girardin advocates a republic after the Swiss or American constitutions, and the merits of other candidates are duly canvassed. In the meantime, President Thiers has been re-appointed for a longer term of office, it is said for a couple of years; and it is reported that the abrogation of the decrees banishing the Bourbons from France is favorably entertained by a majority in the Assembly. The Bourbons appear the most confidant for the supreme power; and the Duke d'Aumale has arrived at St. Germain, no doubt with the design of advancing the interests of his House. The last sad rites of his Church are to be solemnized on Wednesday at the burial of the murdered Archbishop of Paris, on which occasion the Assembly will adjourn for the day. The house of President Thiers, destroyed by the mob, is to be rebuilt by the nation, at an expense of over million francs—the Asse bly having voted the necessary sum.

ANECDOTES OF BISMARCK.—At a recent fete says the Vienna New Free Press, Prince Bismarck was seen walking about with a little old gentleman, to whom he showed every mark of respect and deference. The bystanders were very curious to know who this personage could be who was the object of such flattering attentions on the Minister. He proved to be the Director Bonnell, Prince Bismarck's old tutor. The same evening one of the most influential members of the party of progress was conversing with the Chancellor on political matters; he was speaking of Napoleon:—Prince Bismarck, with his accustomed candor, did not conceal the slight esteem in which he held the ex-Emperor and his much praised sagacity; he knew the man and had fathomed him completely at Biarritz. "And what is your Excellency's opinion of the present state of France?" suddenly asked the politican. Prince Bismarck replied. "Das ist mir ganz Wurst;" which is equivalent to—"I don't care two straws about it."

Peace in Paris

LONDON, June 6.—Letters from M. Guizot, published to-day, advocate the validation of the elections to the Assembly of the Duke d'Aumale and the Prince de Joinville, and the settlement of a form of government for France by a vote of the nation.

VERSAILLES, June 6.—An official journal announces the following appointments:—Lambrecht, Minister of the Interior; Lefranc, Minister of Agriculture; Gen. Cissy, Minister of War; Leon Say, Perfect of the Seine, and Gen. Leflo, Ambassar to St. Petersburgh.

The Official Journal also states that the time for holding the supplementary election has not yet been fixed

The Constitutionnel says the first duty o the Assembly is to fill its own one hundred and twenty seats; next to assume the constituent powders, and finally to order a plebiscite for the determination of a future form of government.

Schumark, the murderer of Generals Lecomte and Clement Thomas, has been arrested.

The train of Rochefort and Assi has been postponed,

Wires have been discovered in the sewers of Paris intended to blow up the city.

Gambetta is still at San Sebastian.

VERSAILLES, June 6.—Thiers, in his conferences with the committee appointed by the Assembly to consider the bill concerning the Orleans Princes, urged that conditions should be attached, by which the Princes were not to hold office before the expulsion from France if they engage in any intrigue looking to their restoration to the throne. It is now stated that Thiers has ceased to insist on these conditions.

The bill introduced in the Assembly for the rebuilding of the column in the Place Vendome has been withdrawn.

Paris, June 6.—The postal service is completely restored.

It is announced that 20,000 Communist prisoners will be transported to New Caledonia.

The discovery of important documents rendering new indictments necessary has delayed the trains by court martial at Versailles.

The governmental relation between Germany and France has been declared to be quite friendly at present.

London, June 6.—A special to the Times from Berlin says that the Emperor William has refused to confirm the terms of the Treaty of Frankfort, and that the Assembly at Versailles has refused to ratify the Treaty of Frankfort.

Three Drunken Men Drowned over Niagara Falls.

Thursday p. m. three Irish, three young men who were the day previous peddling prize candy on the American side of the Niagara Falls, but whose names are unknown, crossed over to the Canada side, where they imbibed suffic

Mr. Gilkey is not expected to leave for Britain Cattle Commissioner, until he receives an intimation from the Government that his successor is on his way to Ottawa.

It is rumored that the Fenians connected with the Fenian raids in Canada every will leave for Montreal river on Wednesday. Two prisoners are to go in charge of a guard.

It is announced here that the ex-Governor Mr. Sandfield Macdonald, is to visit the capital shortly.

The following gentlemen are about to [illegible] Sir George Etienne Cartier, Messrs Langevin, Harris, Howe and Chauveau, the Quebec ministers are, of course, neglecting their public duties to [illegible] the election in that province. Dr Tupper left the City; the other ministers are [illegible]

A [illegible] circulated by some papers that Lord Lisgar has signed the census of Washington, thus rectifying it, is untrue. Lord Lisgar has nothing to do with signing the census. It will be signed by Her Majesty only.

It is [illegible] certain that that Hon. Mr. Tilley will be appointed Lieutenant-Governor of British Columbia, thereby treating a vacancy in the cabinet for New Brunswick. As the Hon. Mr. Tilley is still here, it will be a fine chance for Mr. Lisgar to give that gentleman a further proof of his esteem by taking him into his equipage.

The gauge of the Grenville branch of the G. W. Railway was changed last in eight hours, from 5.30 p.m. on the 3rd a.m., a distance of sixty miles. Two hundred and fifty men were employed, seven to every two miles. The work was directed by Mr. Hutching. Only one train had to be detained while it was progressing.—Ex.

We regret to learn that a woman named Mrs. Stewart, a resident of the township of Anstruther, was very seriously scalded one day last week. She was [illegible] some boiling water in a [illegible] pail, [illegible] to [illegible] on a shelf, and [illegible] forward the hot water dashed up in her face scalding her badly about the neck and face. It is feared she will lose her eyesight.—Ex.

Massacre in Algiers.—Accounts from Algiers to the 6th May state that the insurrection continues to rage as fiercely as ever, and some dreadful massacres have been perpetrated by the Arabs on Italy, Bourke, and Palestro. At the last-mentioned village the whole male population, consisting of 56 individuals, were murdered with the greatest brutality, and the women and children carried off into the interior. It is satisfactory to learn, however that in almost every engagement with the French forces the Kabiles have been driven back with loss. The Italian iron-clad "Arpidee" was in the neighbourhood for the protection of the interests of Italian and Spanish subjects. The English iron-clad "Defence" left Malta for Algiers on the 9th inst.—London Times Correspondent.

The sad boating accident on the 27th of May by which Captain Alex Matheson, of the British steamer City of Durham, and Dr McEgan, of the same vessel, lost their lives, is thus described by the Halifax Chronicle: Captain Mathison and his companion started in the morning on a small sailboat intending to fish; but on their return a gale sprang up and the boat was driven out to sea. Early in the afternoon information reached the city that between nine and ten o'clock a Mr Nonan residing at the Eastern Passage, had seen a boat, with two men in it, struggling against the wind about [illegible] way between Point Pleasant and the red Buoy, and on looking for a few minutes he saw the tops of the masts disappear beneath the water. The description he gave of the boat left no doubt that it was the one containing Captain Matheson and Dr McEgan. The friends of the two men do not yet despair of their safety.

New York, June 8.—A despatch from New Orleans last night, says 2,500 houses have their ground floors under water and more than that number of families are co-right homeless and destitute. The Canal Railway from the heart of the City to Lake Pontchartrain. There is always a navigable channel ten or twelve feet deep and steamers and schooners perpetually pass and re-pass. The damage done by the flood is estimated at $250,000. The break began to threaten on Rogus Avenue on thursday night. The Canal Commissioners had sold to certain persons the right to remove dirt from the levee to fill up vacant lots. On Friday morning one of these men was at work with his cart, carrying away the levee at the very point where weakness was manifested. A colored man named Lucena Faro, living close by, begged him to desist for an east wind was blowing and the waters of the lake, swollen by an immense torrent pouring in from the Mississippi by way of Bonnet Carre crevasse were rapidly backing up to the city. He was driven away by threats. Next morning a chasm 25 feet wide was opened in the banks. Suits will entered against the canal Company to make good the damage.

London, June 5.—In the house of Lords to-day Earl de Grey and Ripon appeared and resumed his seat. He received a pleasant welcome from his fellow-members, and was warmly felicitated upon the conclusion of the treaty with the United States. In the House of Commons, Mr. Gladstone declared the existing laws were ample to enable the Government to fulfil the conditions of the treaty of Washington.

Winnipeg, May 30.—Father Richot is reported to be buying land largely to be held for a French Canadian emigration.

French settlers at Lake Manitoba claim a solid block for themselves, twenty miles long by five miles deep.

Volunteers and new comers labor under great disadvantage in consequence of the want of the Dominion surveys, and of a treaty with the Indians.

Canadians have been wasting since last fall to take up claims, but there are no signs of a survey yet, and in another eight weeks the season for breaking will be passed.

Provisions are scarce and dear. The troops are getting their supplies from the States.

A correspondent to the Belleville Intelligencer states that owing to the drouth which recently prevailed, very severe and destructive fires have been for several days raging in the several townships bordering on the Hastings Road. Several crossings have been burned on the road, which, with fallen trees, render it at present almost impassable for any vehicle. In several portions of the settled lands there was imminent danger of the fires making a clean sweep of all improvements, and in some instances farms have been entirely stripped of their fences. At Egan farm (Bronson, Weston & Co.) a large barn, a new stable, blacksmith's shop and sheep house are all burned, destroying, besides the buildings, a valuable set of blacksmith's tools, chains, &c., &c., and about 150 bushels of oats. At Doyle's Corners a splendid barn and stable, &c., the property of Michael Doyle, was burned. Amongst other things the barn contained about 30 tons of hay and about 300 bushels of oats. The fire must have done immense damage to the properties through which it passed. Some rain fell on Thursday last, which has deadened the fire these few days past, but it has commenced again, and unless rain comes may do a great deal of damage yet.

Cure Your Horses.

It is to the interest of all who own horses to keep them in a healthy and sound condition: experience has proved that 'Darley's Condition Powders and Arabian Heave Remedy' is the most effectual, it has been used by thousands who will cheerfully confirm this statement.—For Heaves, Coughs, Colds, and all diseases which effect the wind of horses it has no equal nor is it expelled as a condition medicine it purifies the blood, corrects and improves the appetite, softens the skin: in fact no great is the improvements in the condition and appearance of the animal as to have led many to doubt if it could be the same horse. Remember the name and see the signature of Hard and Co., is on each package. Nesthrop & Lyman Newcastle, Ont., proprietors for Canada. Sold by all medicine dealers.

A Clergyman writing to a friend says, "My voyage to Europe is indefinitely postponed.—I have discovered the fountain of health on this side of the Atlantic. Three bottles of the, Peruvian Syrup have rescued me from the fiend Dyspepsia. Dyspeptics should drink from this contain.

Atrophy Arrested.—Fellows' Compound Syrup of Hypophosphites.—When the [illegible] tissues of the body is arrested the muscle made firm and the nerves regain their power by using Fellows' Compound Syrup of Hypophosphites.

Bryan's Worm Syrup.—The [illegible] have been tested by the [illegible] and have been found to be [illegible] They have been thoroughly tried and pronounced (on the authority of those whom Worms and Health themselves agree) to be a safe [illegible] certainly highly [illegible] and is [illegible] Once [illegible] will convince the most [illegible] Sold by all Druggists Ontario, at 25 cts. per box.

Political life is a curious study. In Beauharnois the [illegible] prices are politicians the efforts [illegible] and [illegible] and rioting political discussion—and in England works of fiction political excesses is represented as the greatest triumph. But we think 50 greater triumph has been achieved in modern times than the production of the "Canadian Pain Destroyer," for removing pain from the system and curing colds, and coughs, rheumatic complaints, bowel complaints, &c. For sale by all Druggists and country dealers.—Price 25 cents per bottle.

Husband (returned from the village shop), here my dear I have just returned from town and brought with me your cookery list—Tea, Coffee, Sugar, Cheese and a short a waggon full of—

Wife: (hastily)—And forget the Pain-Killer?

Husband:—Oh! no; couldn't forget that; it's the most prominent object in every store in every store in town: and besides, the fences and stones and buildings all have "Pain-Killer" painted or pasted on through-out round one of it every minute. The store-keeper says that the Pain-Killer should be in every house and where one can put their hand on it in the dark [illegible] used be.

Wife:—It must be valuable, else the Parson's wife wouldn't praise it to the skies as she does (To be continued.)

☞The Pain-Killer is an internal and external remedy for pain. For internal pain, Cramps Spasms, Sudden Cold and Bowel difficulties, a few days on water will give immediate relief. As a liniment it is without an equal; it stops pain almost instantly. No sore can get the genuine made by Perry Davis & Son and sold by all Druggists and Grocers. 15-71

The Great Female Remedy

Job Moses' Periodical Pills.

This invaluable medicine is unfailing in the cure of all those painful and dangerous diseases to which the female constitution is subject. It moderates all excess and removes all obstructions, and a speedy cure may be relied on.

TO MARRIED LADIES.

It is peculiarly suited. It will in a short time, bring on the monthly period with regularity.

These Pills should not be taken by Female during the FIRST THREE MONTHS of Pregnancy, as they are sure to bring on Miscarriage, but at any other time they are safe.

In all cases of Nervous and Spinal Affection, Pains in the Back and Limbs, an slight exertion, Palpitation of the Heart, Hysterics, and Whites, the Pills will effect a cure when all other means have failed; and although a powerful remedy, do not contain iron, calomel, antimony, or anything hurtful to the constitution.

Full directions in the pamphlet around each package, which should be carefully preserved

JOB MOSES', NEW YORK, SOLE PROPRIETOR

$1.00 and 13¢ cents for postage, enclosed to Northrop & Lyman, Newcastle, Ont., general agents for the Dominion, will ensure a bottle, containing over 50 pills, by return mail.

Iron ore, taken from the back hills near the highest level of the Union Pacific Railway, has been smelted at Omaha and found of excellent quality, yielding 60 per cent, of superior metal Three hills of the ore lie near the railroad.

CANADIAN PAIN DESTROYER.

A Family Medicine, well and favorably known for the past ten years, never failing in a single instance to give permanent relief when timely used, and we have never known a single case of dissatisfaction where the directions have been properly followed, but on the contrary all are delighted with its operations, and speak in the highest terms of its Virtues and Magical effects.

THE CANADIAN PAIN DESTROYER has won for itself a reputation, as a blood purifier, alterative stomach tonic, unsurpassed in the history of medical preparations. It seldom fails to cure Dyspepsia, Liver Complaints, Indigestion, Heartburn, Sick Headache, Kidney Complaints, Acid Stomach Phathisic or Asthma, and restores to vital activity the system debilitated by suffering and disease.

Its magical and wonderful success in curing sudden colds, sore throat, coughs, Diptheria, pains in the side, loins and back, neuralgia, toothache, rheumatic and other pains in any part of the body and from whatever cause, has given it a place in every household and is fast superseding all other preparations of the kind.

It is also an effectual and prompt remedy for scalds, burns, sprains, chilblains, cholera morbus, bilious cholic, cholera infantum, dysentery, &c.

Price only thenty-five cents per bottle.

NORTHROP & LYMAN,
Newcastle, C. W.
General Agents for Canada.

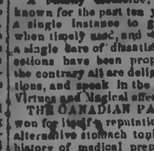
Sold in Peterborough by Dr. Taylor, A. W. Kempt Wm. Coulter and Ormond & Walsh. In Keer ay A. Campbell, Campbell McNeil & Co., O. Britton, Lindsay, and all Medicine Dealers.

DIED.

Sutherland.—Suddenly, at St. Mary's on the 5th inst., in the 15th year of his age, Donald Sutherland, youngest son of James Sutherland, Esqr., of that town, and Nephew to Capt. Sutherland, of Ashburnham.

PETERBOROUGH MARKETS.

		Peterborough	May 25		1871
Flour	₱ brl.		$6	25	$6	50
Wheat	₱ bush. fall		1	00	1	75
Spring Wheat	₱ bush		1	00	1	25
Peas			0	80	0	90
Barley	"		0	00	0	00
Oats	"		0	50	0	55
Potatoes	"		0	30	0	35
Hay	₱ ton		8	00	10	00
Hides	₱ cwt		0	00	7	00
Beef	₱ cwt		6	50	7	00
Sheepskins			0	75	1	25
Wool	₱ lb		0	25	0	30
Pork	₱ cwt		7	00	8	00
Eggs	per dozen		0	10	0	10
Butter			0	15	0	18
Cordwood			3	50	3	00
Turkeys			0	00	1	50
Geese			0	70	0	5
Chickens			0	35	0	4



A New School Book, by H. S. Perkins. Price $7.80 per dozen. Contains over two hundred new and beautiful Songs, Duetts, etc., by Will S. Hays, Webster, Thomas, etc. Everything is new, fresh, and sparkling. Contents and specimen pages sent free. Sample copies mailed free of postage to teachers for 65 cents. Liberal terms for introduction.

FIFTY DOLLARS worth of music for $3.

Address,

J. L. PETERS, 599 Broadway, N. Y.

Teachers sending us their orders for $10 worth of music, can claim a year's subscription to Peters' Musical Monthly.

Subscribers to Peters Musical Monthly are getting their music for less than two cents a piece. Those who have no seen this Musical Magazine should send 30 cents for a sample copy. The music is by Hays, Thomas, Kinkle, Persley and other popular writers.

Two back numbers for 40 cents. Four back numbers for 75 cents. Subscribers get

CAUTION.

I hereby caution any person or persons from purchasing or negotiating for a Promissory Note, made by me in favor of James Regan, of Smith' for the amount of $35, as I have not received any value for the same.

THOMAS WESTON.

Smith, May 29th, 1871. 22-6in.

MONEY TO LOAN,

In Small or Large Sums on easy terms

GEO. T. LEONARD,
Solicitor, &c

May 23rd, 1871. 21-4in

FOR SALE.

TWO BRICK COTTAGES,
AND BUILDING LOTS.

GEO. T. LEONARD,
Solicitor, &c.

May 24rd, 1871. 21-6in.

IMPORTANT

TO FARMERS

AND THE PUBLIC.

I have now in my Flour Mill, for Milling Purposes, the

Best Machinery Known

At present in the world, and with an experience of over 40 years in the business, and from a third quality of Wheat, I can turn out as much Flour and

AS GOOD IN QUALITY

as any mill in the Dominion. I will, therefore, give in exchange for 60 lbs good clean Wheat, 43 lbs Flour and 10 lbs Bran The Flour warranted to be good. This offer is equal to 200 lbs of Flour for 4 bushels and 40 lbs Wheat, or a clear gain of 30 lbs Wheat on the Barrel, worth at present prices from 43 to 45 cents.

☞ Cash paid for Oats Fall and Spring Wheat.

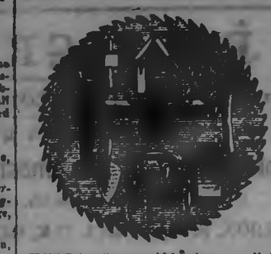
M. MARTYN.

Peterboro, May 22nd, 1871. 21

SIGN OF THE CIRCULAR SAW.



THE Subscribers would beg leave to call the attention of the public to their stock of

SHELF AND HEAVY HARDWARE

PAINTS, OILS, GLASS and PUTTY,

Agricultural and Garden Implements,

NAILS, LOCKS, HINGES, &c.

All of which they will sell at the lowest Prices.

Sign of the Circular Saw.

GEORGE STREET, PETERBORO.

McKEE & DAVIDSON

Peterboro, April 26th, 1871. 17

TO FARMERS.

If you want to make Forty Dollars an Acre off your land,

SOW FLAX!

Let each good Farmer sow Three Acres on trial, and see how handy it is to have $120 coming in to pay off your harvest hands in August. As there is a Machine for pulling, at the mill, it makes it one of the easiest crops harvested, For seed apply to

S. TAYLOR,
Flax Mill, Ashburnham

May 3rd. 1871. 18

TO LET.

AUBURN HOUSE,

AND ABOUT 20 ACRES OF LAND THEREWITH.

A Delightful Summer Residence

Apply to

DENNISTOUN, FAIRBAIRN & CASSELS

May 3rd, 1871. 18-tf

ASHBURNHAM

New Carriage, Waggon And Black-Smith Shop.

The undersigned begs to announce to the people of Ashburnham, and surrounding Country, that he has commenced a new Carriage, Waggon and Blacksmithing Shop, on Lake Street, opposite the residence of R. D. Rogers, Esq., where he will be prepared to do all sorts of work in the above line.

Reparing Promply Attended to

A first-class Blacksmith will be always ready and willing to attend to Jobbing and horse-shoeing.

The patronage of the public is respectfully solicited.

A. WALLER

Ashburnham, March, 1871. 11-

TO LEND

$10,000.

Interest 8 per cent. No commission.

D. W. DUMBLE,
Solicitor.

Peterborough, April 27, 1871. 17-3ins.

DAILY LINE
TO
ROCHESTER.

The Superb new Lake Upper Stare Cabin Steamer.

NORSEMAN,

Carrying United States and Canadian Mails and Express

Leaves Port Hope every Morning

FOR ROCHESTER

At 8 o'clock on arrival of Grand Trunk Railway Trains from East and West,

RETURNING

Leaves Port of Rochester (Charlotte) every evening at 5 o'clock (except Saturday), when she leaves at two P. M., for Brighton.)

This is the favourite summer route from Toronto to Rochester, Albany, &c. The cheapest and quickest route from points East of Port Hope on the Grand Trunk, to Rochester, Buffalo, &c. The favourite route to Avon and Clifton Springs, &c.

Passengers and freight take cars along-side steamer at Rochester Landing.

Connection made at Cobourg ask Port Hope with Royal Mail Line Steamers from Hamilton and Montreal.

Address R. C. CARTER.
PORT HOPE, ONT.

13

New Firm in Ashburnham.

MOWRY & FORSYTH.

The undersigned have leased the "Mowry Foundry," Ashburnham, for a number of years, and have put it in a thorough state of repair. They have now unexpired facilities for doing

All Kinds of Work in the Foundry and Machine Line,

Which they will do promptly and on favorable terms. They will carry on

THE THRESHING MACHINE MANUFACTURE!

As carried on formerly at the Mowry Foundry. All kinds of repairing of

Threshing Machines, Reapers and Mowers, Saw Mill and Grist Mill Machinery and Castings and Turnings of Every Description will be done on short notice.

The work will be of the best material and workmanship, and warranted to give general satisfaction.

WE HAVE A NUMBER OF THRESHING MACHINES NOW ON HAND.

R. B. MOWRY. W. FORSYTH.

Ashburnham, May 31st, 1871. 22-tf.

EXTENSIVE

ALTERATIONS

AND

Enargement of Premises.

W. FAIRWEATHER &CO

Preparatory to making Extensive Alterations and Enlargement of their present premises

Will sell off at a Great Sacrifice

THE WHOLE OF THEIR

Large and Valuable Stock

AT COST AND UNDER COST,

In order to allow the Tradesmen, early in August, full scope for their work and to

Prevent the Goods being Damaged by Lime Dust,

GREAT INDUCEMENTS WILL BE GIVEN

READY CASH BUYERS.

Goods will be Sold

AT PRICES NEVER BEFORE ATTEMPTED IN THE SALE OF FIRST CLASS GOODS

The Stock is well known to be all of Superior Quality.

Cash Buyers are invited to inspect the Goods and Prices, bearing in mind that no fault will be found if they do not buy.

☞REMEMBER☜

W. FAIRWEATHER & CO'S

CHEAP SALE FOR READY CASH.

March, 1818. 11.

NEW WOOLEN MILL.

To the Farmers and Merchants of the County of Peterboro:

The subscribers would respectfully beg to intimate that the Old Woolen Mill, once owned and carried on by the late James Harvey, Esq., afterwards by Mr. Daniel Brook, has been put in a

A THOROUGH STATE OF REPAIR,

And is now filled with New Machinery, got up expressly for the Manufacture of

Blankets, Flannels, Full Cloths, Tweeds, &c.

A large assortment of the above goods of our own make, are now on hand, and will be sold Cheap for Cash, or Exchanged for wool. Special attention will be given to the Custom Department, which is in perfect order for the Manufacture of Farmer's Blankets, Roll Carding and Fulling.

JOHN WHYTE, AUGUSTUS SAWERS,

N.B.—We will pay the Highest price in Cash for any quantity of Good Clean Wool delivered at the mill.

J. W. A. S.

To my old friends in particular, and the public in general:

I am now back in the Old Mill, with Messrs. Whyte & Sawers, and have got a Large Room all to myself With a splendid

NEW CARDING MACHINE

Bring in your Wool, and I will give you Better Rolls than have ever been turned out in this County.

JOHNNIE NEWTON.

Peterboro, May 3rd, 1871. 18

1871 Annual Announcement 1871!

(ESTABLISHED 1826.)

SEEDS!

Fresh, Good, and True.

The subscriber has received his supply of

FIELD,
FLOWER; and
GARDEN SEEDS.

Both of Home and Imported Stock.

WARRANTED GENUINE

FARMERS AND MARKET GARDENERS are respectfully invited to call and inspect for themselves.

COUNTRY MERCHANTS, supplied, as usual with boxes on Commission, or for Cash.

"Honesty" is our motto, both in character of seed, and in price.

WM. H. TAYLOR, M. D.

At the old Stand, Corner of George and Hunter Streets, Peterborough, Ont.

16-tf

FARM FOR SALE.

The subscriber offers for Sale his Farm, North half of Lot 20, in the

13th Concession of Smith,

Containing 100 Acres. There are about 60 Acres improved and in a good state of cultivation. On the premises are a Comfortable Log House, Log Barn, Stables, and Sheds; a Good Well and other accommodations. For terms and particulars apply to

JAMES IRWIN,
Proprietor.

Peterboro, May 2, 1871. 18 Lakehurst P. O.

DUTCHER'S Lightning Fly Killer.

Dutcher's Dead Shot for Bed Bugs

TRY THEM AND SLEEP IN PEACE.

19-6ins.

A FARMER'S COMPANY.

FARMERS!

Insure Your Property

IN THE

AGRICULTURAL

INSURANCE COMPANY.

A Stock Company entirely devoted to your interests.

Insures nothing but Farm Property and Detached Residences.

Chartered and commenced business in 1853.

CASH ASSETS - - $550,000.

Mr. Langton's Report shows over $60,000 deposited as especial protection to Canadian Policy-holders.

Head Office for the Dominion of Canada, Kingston, Ontario.

We would refer you to the following named Gentlemen, in regard to the pecuniary responsibility of the Company:

H. Calcutt, Brewer; John Burnham, Barrister; J. A. Hall, Agent Canadian Bank of Commerce; Thos. Menzies, Stationer and Exchange Broker.

ATTORNEY—John Burnham, Esq.

BANK—Canadian Bank of Commerce.

Wm T. Fish, Cobourg, Gen. Agent for the Counties of Prince Edward, Hastings, Northumberland, Durham, Ontario, Peterboro and Victoria.

Local Agent for the Town of Peterborough

W. A. KING.

6-tf.

VICTORIA

CARRIAGE and Wagon Factory

Corner of Brock and George Streets.

The Subscriber would respectfully announce that he has leased the above establishment, opposite the Commercial Hotel and is now prepared to Manufacture

CARRIAGES,
BUGGIES,
WAGGONS,
WHEEL-BARROWS,
HARROWS, &c.

At Low Prices for Cash.

HORSE-SHOEING MADE A SPECIALTY.

GEORGE W. MILLS.

Peterboro, March 7th, 1871.

N. B.—As there is another person in Peterboro named "George Mills," the public will please remember the distinction in the names. G. W. M. 13-tf

$765,000

In Cash Gifts to be Distributed by the New York Cash Prize Co.

EVERY TICKET DRAWS A PRIZE.

5 Cash Gifts each, $25,000 $25,000
10 " " 10,000 " " 100,000
25 " " 5,000 " " 125,000
50 Elegant Rosewood Pianos, — each $500 to $700 25,000
25 " " Melodeons " 75 to 150 2,500
250 Sewing Machines — " 50 to 75 15,000
250 Gold Watches — " 75 to 100 20,000
Cash Prizes, Silver Ware, etc., valued at $1,000,000

A chance to draw any of the above Prizes for 25c. Tickets describing Prizes are sealed in Envelopes and well mixed. On receipt of 25c. a Sealed Ticket as drawn without choice and sent by mail to any address. The prize named upon it will be delivered to the ticket-holder on payment of One Dollar. Prizes are immediately sent to any address by express or returned mail.

You will know what your prizes is before you pay for it. "Any Prize exchanged for another of the same value." No blanks. Our patrons can depend on fair dealing.

References:—The following lately drew Valuable Prizes and kindly permit us to publish them:—Andrew J. Borns, Chicago, $10,000; Jas. M. Matthews, Detroit, $5,000; John T. Anderson, Savannah, $5,000; James Simmons, Boston, $10 000.

Press Opinion:—"The firm is reliable."—"Weekly Tribune, Dec 28." "Deserve their success."—N. Y. Herald, Jan. 1. "Just and Honorable."—News, Dec, 0,

Send for circular. Liberal inducements to Agents. Satisfaction garatteed. Every package of 200 Sealed. Envelopes contains one case only. Seven tickts for $1; 17 for $2, 50 for $5; 300 for $15. Address

C. B. HARRIS & Co.,
Managers,
62 Broadway, N. Y

Peterborough March 16th, 1871. 10-tf.

Insolvent Act of 1869.

In the matter of DANIEL BROOK.
An Insolvent.

I, the undersigned, David William Dumble, of the Town of Peterborough, in the County of Peterborough, Official Assignee, have been appointed Assignee in this matter.

Creditors are requested to file their claims before me within one month.

The creditors of the above named Insolvent are notified to meet at my office, George Street, Peterborough, on Monday, the twenty day of June next, at two of the clock in the afternoon, for the public examination of the insolvent, and for the ordering of the affairs of the estate generally

The Insolvent is hereby notified to attend such meeting.

Dated at Peterborough, this 22nd day of May A. D. 1871.

D. W. DUMBLE,
21 Assignee.

FELLOWS' HYPOPHOSPHITES.

Amongst the diseases overcome by the use of

Fellows' Compound Syrup of Hypophosphites

ARE

Constipation, Asthma, Consumption, Laryngitis, Nervous Debility, Dyspepsia, Chronic Bronchitis, Chronic Diarrhœa, Melancholy.

Debility resulting from Typhoid and other low fevers, Diphtheritic, Hysteria, Hypochondria, Amenorrhœa, Chlorosis Alienia, Leucorrhœa, Nervous Excitability, Marasmus, or wasting of the Muscles, Aphonia, or loss of Voice, Chorea or St. Vitu's Dance, Sluggishness of the Liver, Interrupted and Feeble Action of the heart, Suffocating feeling caused by mucous obstructions of the Lungs and Air passages leading thereto, and Debility from various causes, many cases of which appear hopeless.

SOLD BY APOTHECARIES.

Price, $1.50; Six for $7.50.

JAMES I. FELLOW, CHEMIST,
ST. JOHN, N. B.

16-1871. 4mos.

CANADIAN BANK OF COMMERCE

THE Canadian Bank of Commerce have opened a

Saving's Bank Department

in Peterborough- Interest allowed on all sums over $1.00.

J. A. HALL
Manager

FOR SALE.

That eligible Property on the South Side of the Little Lake, known as the

WARE PROPERTY!

Containing 37 Acres more or less. It is within a few minutes walk of the Town of Peterboro, and is peculiarly adapted for private residences. It will be sold wholly or in part as may be agreed upon.

For terms and particulars apply to

JOHN HAGGART.

Or to H. H. SMITH, Esq.
Attorney-at-law, Peterborough.

May 17, 1871. 20

PIANOS, MELODEONS, ORGANS

D. PENTLAND,

Is now Agent for A. & S. Nordheimer for the sale of the following celebrated Pianos:—

Chickering & Sons'; Steinway & Sons'; Dunham & Son's; Haines Brothers'; Ernest Gabler; and J. W. Vose's.

Also, for the world-wide Celebrated Organs and Melodeons—Geo. A. Prince & Co., Buffalo; Mason & Hamlin's, Boston.

Instruction Books for Piano & Organ, Sheet Music, &c always on hand.

References.—Mr. F Ball, Organist, St. John's Church, Peterboro; Mr. D. D. Gallaghy, Chemist; Rev. Canada Presbyterian Church, Peterborough; J. J. Davidson, Precentor, St. Andrew' Church, Peterboro; Dr. Taylor, Peterboro.

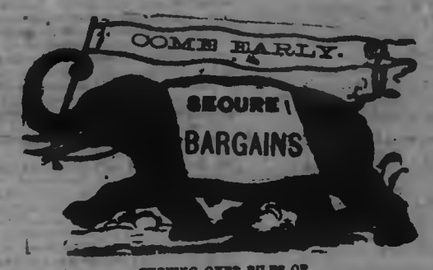
Peterboro, April 5th, 1871. 14

GREAT DESTRUCTION!

BUT

No Loss of Life.

ONLY THE



TURNING OVER PILES OF

DRESS GOODS!

AND PRINTS.

The Contents of Fifteen Cases and Three Bales. Just Opened.

Great Bargains in Hoyle's Prints.

Great Bargains in Dress Goods.

These Goods will be offered at prices that will clean them off before the end of the season.

FERGUSON & ELDER.

Peterboro, May 31st, 1871. 22

CHANGE OF BUSINESS

New Foundry Firm.

The Subscriber in retiring from the Foundry Business in which he has been engaged for the past 15 years, begs to return thanks to his friends and the public in general, for the liberal patronage conferred upon him, at the same time he would beg to state that the business in future will be carried on by his BROTHER JAMES and JAMES R. DAVIS, under the firm of Whyte & Davis. Mr. Davis is well known as a First Class Machinist and Millwright, therefore I have every confidence in recommending the New Firm to the public, feeling assured that all orders entrusted to them will be executed in the most satisfactory manner, and with dispatch.

JOHN WHYTE.

Peterborough. April 1st, 1871.

N. B.—Parties having Notes and Accounts to settle, will please bear in mind that the Books of account and Notes will be at my Woolen Mill, West of Whyte & Hamilton's Foundries.—J. W.

The Subscribers having Commenced Business in the Old Stand of John Whyte, Esq., as (Founders, Machinists and Agricultural Implement Manufacturers.) beg to say that they keep on hand all kinds of

AGRICULTURAL IMPLEMENTS,

SUCH AS

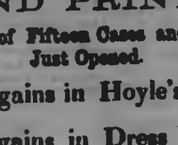
STEEL, COMMON, AND GANG PLOWS, HARROWS, ROOT CUTTERS, CULTIVATORS, HORSE HOES, GARDEN AND FIELD ROLLERS, HAY AND STRAW CUTTERS, with almost every Implement used on the Farm.

General Repairing of Reapers, Mowers, Threshing Machines and Implements of Husbandry on the Shortest Notice.

Parties about purchasing any of the above Implements will do well to call and inspect our Stock on hand, before making a purchase elsewhere.

WHYTE & DAVIS

Peterborough, Ap 1st, 1871. 15-tf



NOW IS THE TIME!

TO GET

CHEAP ROOM PAPER.

BOOKS, STATIONERY, &c.,

At A. B. KIDD'S BOOKSTORE,

AS THERE IS BEING A

GENERAL TURNING UPSIDE DOWN

OF EVERYTHING IN HIS ESTABLISHMENT, OWING TO

An Enlargement and Re-fitting of Premises.

SPECIAL ATTENTION IS INVITED TO HIS

NEW STOCK OF GOLD ROOM PAPER AND BORDERINGS.

Just received direct from England. He will sell these papers less, by 25 per cent, than they can be bought in Toronto.

Peterborough, April 5th, 1871.

PASTURAGE

GOOD PASTURAGE,
Apply to
J. EDWARDS.

BOARD AND LODGING

Select Poetry.

The Dying Man.

BY WILLIAM SHANTON.

AIR—Little Nell.

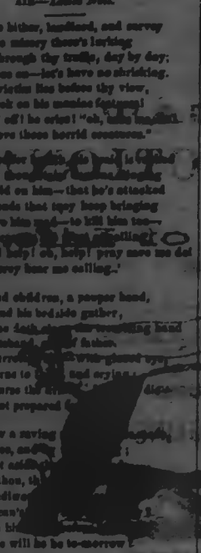
Come hither, landlord, and survey
The misery there's lurking
All through thy trestle, day by day;
Come on—let's have no shrinking.
The victim lies before thy view,
Look on his manless features!
"Oh! oh! he cries! "oh, oh, he cries!
Removes those horrid creatures."



So gaunt her [illegible] hand is clasped
With [illegible]
Fast hold on him—that he's attacked
By fiends that spey heap bringing
To drive him mad—to kill him too—
His [illegible]
"Help! help! oh, help! pray save me do!
In mercy hear me calling."

With sad children, a pauper band,
Around his bedside gather,
Each poo death-[illegible] wrestling hard
Of husband [illegible] father.
Quite terrible [illegible]
He turns to [illegible] and cries,
"Oh! curse the [illegible]
I'm not prepared [illegible]

He's now a raving [illegible]
By thee, [illegible]
Oh! cent catching [illegible]
Lest thou, the [illegible]
Thy handiwork [illegible]
And can't [illegible]
Goes on [illegible]
Where will he be to-morrow?

A Pennsylvanian [illegible] lawyer sought to jail for [illegible] dress by quoting [illegible] upon her.

The other day a "Constant Reader" wrote to the "London Standard" thus: "Is a child born on an English vessel on the seas an Englishman, subject of England parents?" To this the editor replies; "That depends materially on the sex of the child."

Several barrels [illegible] recently died in New Brunswick from feeding freely on brewers' grain, a chemical analysis of which revealed the [illegible] strychnine was the destroying it having been used in the manufacture of beer.

A French chemist asserts that if tea be ground like coffee, before hot water is poured upon it, it will [illegible] nearly double the amount of its [illegible] qualities. Another writer says: If you put a piece of lump sugar, the size of a walnut into a teapot, you will make the tea infuse in half the time.

A Philadelphian looked upon wine when it was red, and then got aboard a locomotive, thinking he would run it a little way just "for fun" His playfulness was attended with disastrous; that is to say, a hackney humerus for himself, a smashed engine for the company. They are going to put him in the penitentiary just for having [illegible] apart.

A Vermont gentleman, who was aided to get [illegible] having been [illegible] covered [illegible] cover his pestilence where the born hit him. He says he would not get near a fence in that way again if a man would give him three dollars and a half. He would rather stay on the other side of the fence all day. Some men are sensitive about such things.

The Norwich (Conn) Bulletin, tells a pathetic story about a pigeon which became fastened by a string hanging from its leg to a telegraph wire on Main street in that city. Two or three small boys wanted to throw stones at it, but a kind gentleman telling them not to hurt the bird got a ladder and slowly unwound the string and put the frightened creature tenderly to his bosom while he descended. The next evening he remarked it make a much nicer pie than he expected.

Woman was toasted in the following style at the recent anniversary meeting of the Richmond Light Infantry Blues: "Woman pure as the snowflake that falls upon the [illegible] beautiful as the [illegible] crystal fountains of the Moslem paradise, graceful as the Peri afloat in her shell skiff over the calm waters of the dark blue sea; vain would [illegible] the warning to guard the heart when intellect flashes from her bright eye, and the light of the soul is breathed like music upon her face." To this the touching toast the Mayor of the city responded.

A railway gauger in England lately wrote to a charitable organization which made a practice of finding work for the poor asking to obtain some workman.—He placed no value on character as a qualification. His whole philosophy on the subject he set in the following pithy lines; "I want no character. Tie me to one to such a man as me. What I want is a man of steaks and beer in him. T'other chaps with a character, mostly have't much work in them, and rely too much on their character. So long as he can drink his five quarts a day he will

A boarding-house keeper who had been feeding her boarders on cheap shads was told that "shad roes" were good eating so she inquired what shad roes were, and found that they were something that grew inside the fish. The next morning when the fish was brought to the table she said she always tried to accommodate boarders and they [illegible] shad roes till they couldn't [illegible] investigation proved that she had [illegible] the fish with the intestines in, just as they came from the market. Some of the boarders complained but you know it is hard to suit some people

Here is a novelty of architecture. The management of the West Laurel Hill Cemetery, Philadelphia, having built a movable chapel to protect those attending funerals from the rain during the services at the grave. It will accommodate seventy-five mourners; and is taken from place to place on wheels. By this plan a protection against heat. If the idea is odd it strikes us as a decidedly sensible one. There is no reason why, because a person died of a bad cold, half a dozen persons should take cold in mourning for him; and bereavement should be made as comfortable as possible.

The Climate of California.—A "digger" from California, eulogising the climate of the country, says: There's a mountain there—the Sierra Nevady they call it with a valley on each side of it—the one hot, t'other cold. Well! Get on the top of that mountain with a double-barrelled gun, and you can without swear', hit either summer or winter resort just as you will." "What, have you ever tried it?" Tried it! often and should have gone pretty well only for one thing "Well what was that?" "I wanted a dog that would stand both climates. The last [illegible] I put from off the top [illegible] plain' on the summer side. He won't get out of the winter side you see.

How a Will was Found—A Curious Story.

An instance of renewal in sleep of an impression of memory calling up an opportunity to embrace it (it is the impression which causes the opportunities, not the opportunities which conveys the impression) occurred near Bath half a century ago, and is related by Miss Cobbe in an article on "Unconscious Cerebration," in the last number of Macmillan's Magazine. Sir John Miller, a very wealthy gentleman, died, leaving no children. His widow had always understood that she was to have the use of his [illegible] With a very large [illegible] [illegible] seeking such a provision could be found after his death. The heir-at-law, of [illegible] connection, naturally [illegible] [illegible] Lady Miller to remain for six months in the house to complete her search for the [illegible] papers. The six months drew at last to a close, and the poor widow had [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] for the last document, till at last she came to the conclusion that her memory must have deceived her, and that her husband could have made no such promise as she supposed [illegible] had he made one.

The very last day of [illegible] leisure of the house had [illegible] the grey of the morning, Lady [illegible] up to [illegible] Heath, [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible]

The Peterborough Examiner
A WEEKLY
POLITICAL, AGRICULTURAL,
AND
FAMILY NEWSPAPER,
IS PUBLISHED
EVERY THURSDAY MORNING,
at the $1.50 per annum in Advance.

EVERY DESCRIPTION OF BOOK AND JOB PRINTING executed at this office, in a superior style, and at low rates.

☞Hardwicke attorneys given to Ornamental Printing in Colors, Attractive Posters, &c.

All Subscriber Job Printing forwarded to this office will be punctually and strictly attended to.

JAMES HALL,
SHERIFF, Office in the Court House, Peterborough.

HUGH PEARSE,
COUNTY Treasurer and Clerk. Office in the Court House, Peterboro. 6

HUGH PEARSE,
OFFICIAL ASSIGNEE. Office on Court House, Peterborough. 6-1y

C. A. WELLER,
CLERK of the Peace. Office on Simcoe St. 19

C. A. WELLER,
COUNTY Attorney. Office on Simcoe St. 20

C. A. WELLER,
BARRISTER, Attorney, Solicitor, &c.—Office—Simcoe Street, Peterborough.

MR. JOHN BURNHAM,
BARRISTER, Attorney at Law, Solicitor in Chancery, Conveyancer, &c. Office—over T. Chamber's Store, Hunter Street, Peterborough, Ont. 26

GEORGE EDMISON,
ATTORNEY at Law, Solicitor in Chancery, Conveyancer, &c., &c. Office over Mr. John Fletcher's Boot and Shoe Store, directly opposite Mr. Clinton's, George Street, Peterborough.
Peterboro', Feb. 17th, 1864. 1

W. H. MOORE,
BARRISTER, Attorney at Law, Solicitor in Chancery, Conveyancer, &c. Office corner of George and Hunter Streets, McKellar & Cameron's old stand.
MONEY TO LOAN on easy terms, on land security. Mortgages bought.
Peterboro, April 6, 1869. 14

DENNISTOUN, FAIRBAIRN & CASSELS,
BARRISTERS, &c.,
Hunter Street, 3 Peterborough.

JOHN GREEN,
BARRISTER, Attorney at Law, Solicitor in Chancery, Conveyancer, &c. Office over the Ontario Drug Store, Scott's block, corner of George and Simcoe Streets.
Peterboro Dec. 1st, 1869. 48

GEO. T. LEONARD,
ATTORNEY-AT LAW, SOLICITOR IN Chancery &c. Peterborough. 39

S. D. CRAWFORD, M. D., C. M.,
MEMBER of Royal College of Surgeons, England; Licentiate Government Medical Board; Late resident Casualty Lying-in-Hospital, Dublin. Ryan's Buildings, Market Square, Peterboro. 7

DR. LOYD,
CORONER for the Counties of Peterborough and Victoria. Office and residence at Bobcaygeon. 47

GEORGE BURNHAM, M. D.
GRADUATE of Bellevue Hospital Medical College, N. Y., University of Victoria College Canada, and Licentiate of Nova Scotia, Physician, Surgeon and Accoucheur.
Office and residence,—Near the Corner of Brock and George Streets, Peterborough.
Peterboro, May 27, 1869. 43

D. PENTLAND,
DENTIST, would respectfully inform the public that he is now prepared to EXTRACT TEETH WITHOUT PAIN, by the aid of Nitrous Oxide Gas, a very pleasant and perfectly safe remedy.
Peterboro, November 28, 1866. 48

W. GOULTER,
DEALER in Genuine Drugs, Chemicals, Patent Medicines, Perfumery, Paints, Oils Dye Stuffs, Hair, Nail and Tooth Brushes, Spices, Culinary Essences, Fancy Soaps, &c. George Street, Peterboro. 16

RUSH & BUCKETT,
VETERINARY SURGEONS. No. 6 Henshorn's Block, George street, Peterboro Horse and Cattle Medicines kept constantly on hand. Horses taken under treatment on easy terms.

ALEX. McNEIL,
LICENSED Auctioneer for the Counties of Peterborough and Victoria, and Townships of Cavan and South Monaghan.

GEORGE READ,
ISSUER of Marriage Licenses, Clerk Division Court, Township Clerk, &c., Keene, Otonabee. 30

JAMES McLEAN,
INSURANCE Agent, Issuer of Marriage Licenses, and Commissioner for taking Affidavits.
Cavan, Mount Pleasant, C. W. 30

CABINET-MAKING.
E. POOLE, Cabinet-maker, Upholsterer and Undertaker, George Street, Peterboro.

JAMES STEVENSON,
DEALER in Stoves, Tin-Ware, &c., &c. George Street, Peterborough. 18

ROBERT PATTERSON,
DEALER in Boots and Shoes. Spanish Sole Leather constantly on hand.
Nicholls and Hall's old stand, Simcoe Street, Peterborough.

GEORGE MITCHELL,
DEALER in Groceries and Provisions, &c. Cash paid for all kinds of country produce
George Street, Peterborough, 15

EDMUND S. VINDIN
COMMISSION, Shipping, Forwarding and General Agent, Lumber Merchant, &c.—Office, Corner of Walton and Ontario Streets, Port Hope.

BANK OF TORONTO.
CORNER of Water and Simcoe Streets, Peterboro. Interest allowed on Deposits
J. MURRAY SMITH, Manag

Peterborough Examiner.

$1.50 PER ANNUM, IF PAID IN ADVANCE] "Prove all things—Hold fast that which is good." [$2.00 PER ANNUM, IF NOT PAID IN ADVANCE.

VOL. XVI. PETERBOROUGH, THURSDAY, JUNE 15, 1871. NO. 24

ROBERT WALTON.
SADDLERY. Dealer in Stoves, Tinware, &c., George Street, Peterboro'. 18

J. R. McCULLOUGH, M. D.,
Graduate of Trinity College, Dublin, and Licentiate of the Dominion of Canada,
Physician, Surgeon, Accoucheur, &c.,
AND
Late Surgeon of the U. S. Army & Navy,
Will be found at his office or at his residence, at all hours of the Day and Night, except when out on professional business.
☞N. B.—All communications strictly confidential.☜
RESIDENCE and
OFFICE—Next Door To Wm. McDonald's Hotel, and two doors East Of Bolus's Foundry, Simcoe Street.
Fifty-In the Corporation One Dollar, Only.
VISITS TO THE COUNTRY MODERATE.
☞ ADVICE TO ALL FREE.☜
Simcoe Street, Peterboro, Ont.
September 8, 1866. 36

THOMAS LANNIN,
PRACTICAL TIN & COPPER SMITH, Bell Hanger, Steam and Gas Fitter, Plumber, &c. Dealer in Stoves, Iron Beds, Baths, Refrigerators, Water Coolers, Filters, Pumps, &c.
Queen Street,
Peterboro, 1st June, 1870. 32

JOHN COONEY,
NURSERYMAN,
DEALER in Fruit and Ornamental Trees, Shrubs and Roses, and all kinds of Nursery stock. A very choice collection of Strawberry Plants on hand.
Orders by mail promptly attended to.
JOHN COONEY.
Peterboro, July 21, 1869. 29

ONTARIO BANK,
PETERBOROUGH.
SAVINGS DEPARTMENT.
From this date until further notice, the rate of interest in the above department will be
FIVE PER CENT.
PER ANNUM.
G. E. SHAW,
Manager.
Peterboro', April 1st, 1868. 14-tf

GEORGE ALLEN.
GUN & WHITE-SMITH,
Hunter Street, Peterborough,
BEGS to inform the public, that all kinds of repairing is done on the shortest notice, such as Guns, Stocking, &c., Pistols and White-smithing. Sewing Machines also neatly repaired.
☞ Shop and residence adjoining the Union Hotel.
Peterboro, October 25, 1865. 43

GORE DISTRICT MUTUAL
FIRE INSURANCE COMPANY!
HEAD OFFICE, GALT, ONTARIO.
CHARTERED A. D., 1836.
ASSETS, $160,000 | LOSSES PAID, $416,000
POLICIES ISSUED, 15,595.
ALL kinds of Property Insured at rates from 15 to 20 per cent. lower than Stock Companies. Claims adjusted with fairness and liberality. Losses PROMPTLY PAID.
ROBERT McLEAN, Esq.,
Inspector and General Agent.
THOMAS M. SIMONS, Esq., Secretary.
R. W. HERBETT, Agent, Peterborough.
November 4, 1869. 46-1y*

TO THE FARMERS
OF THE
COUNTY OF PETERBOROUGH.
The undersigned begs to intimate that he is again prepared to pay the HIGHEST CASH PRICE for
Oats, Pease, Barley and Rye,
at his New Grain Warehouse in Ashburnham, situated nearly opposite his old stand.
His friends and acquaintances are invited to give him a call as usual.
D SUTHERLAND.
Ashburnham, Sep. 29, 1869. 39

HARDWARE.
JOHN BERTRAM,
DEALER IN
Manilla Rope, Chains, Anchors, Axes, Augers, Saws, Files.
Carriage Springs, Solid Collar Axles Thimble Skeins; Waggon, Carriage and Buggy Rant Rims, Spokes, Shafts, Hubs, Seat Rails, Spindles—all dry; Carriage Bolts, Varnish, Paints, &c.
Leather Belting, Machinery Oil, Cabinet-makers' Goods, Carpenters' Tools
And all kinds of
SHELF AND HEAVY HARDWARE.
JOHN BERTRAM,
Hardware Merchant, Peterborough.
February 3, 1871. 5

Stallion for Sale
The lately imported Horse "YOUNG ST. LAWRENCE," a thorough bred French Canadian; Sired by the justly celebrated Horse "St. Lawrence," so universally known in Lower Canada.
His Dam is also a thorough-bred French Canadian. He is a dark bay, six years old, very active, and for speed cannot be surpassed by any in the Country, and is now being fed up ready to travel.
JOHN CATHCART
Bobcaygeon, March, 1871. 11-3ins

Travelling Directory.

MIDLAND
Railway of Canada.
ON and after MONDAY, the 19th day of SEPTEMBER, 1870, Trains will run as as follows.

TRAINS MOVING SOUTH.—MAIL.
Lindsay, Depart ..... 9.35 a. m.
Millbrook, Arrive ..... 11.35 a. m.
Port Hope, Arrive ..... 1 10 p. m.

TRAINS MOVING NORTH.—MAIL.
Port Hope, Depart ..... 3.00 p. m.
Millbrook, Arrive ..... 4.35 "
Lindsay Arrive ..... 6.30 "

TRAINS MOVING SOUTH.—MIXED.
Lindsay, Depart ..... 12 35 p. m.
Millbrook, Arrive .. .. 2.35 "
Port Hope, Arrive 4.20

TRAINS MOVING NORTH.—MIXED.
Port Hope, Depart ..... 8.45 a. m
Millbrook ..... 7.05 "
Lindsay, Arrive ..... 9.10 "

PETERBOROUGH SECTION.
TRAINS MOVING SOUTH.—MAIL.
Peterborough, Depart ..... 3.30 p. m.
Millbrook, Arr'e ..... 4.30 "
Port Hope, Arrive ..... 6.50 "

TRAINS MOVING NORTH.—MAIL.
Port Hope, Depart ..... 10.10 a. m.
Millbrook, Arrive ..... 11.35 "
Peterborough, Arrive ..... 12.35 p. m.

TRAINS MOVING SOUTH.—MIXED.
Peterborough, Depart ..... 5.20 a. m.
Millbrook ..... 6.20 "
Port Hope, Arrive ..... 7.40 "

TRAINS MOVING NORTH.—MIXED.
Port Hope, Depart ..... 1.15 p. m.
Millbrook ..... 2.35 "
Peterborough, Arrive ..... 3.20 "

A. T. WILLIAMS,
Superintendent.
Sept. 10, 1870. 38.

GRAND TRUNK RAILWAY.
TRAINS LEAVE
PORT HOPE STATION
AS FOLLOWS:
GOING EAST.
Express (day) ..... 9.20 a. m.
Mixed ..... 7.00 p. m.
Express (night) ..... 9.30 p. m.
GOING WEST.
Express (night) ..... 10.30 p. m.
Mixed ..... 3.00 p. m.
Express (day) ..... 10.30 a. m.
Trains leave on Railroad time, which is about twenty-three minutes ahead of Port Hope time
Warranted correct by the Company's time Table

Montreal Ocean Steamship Co.

Steam to Liverpool, Londonderry and Glasgow.
Rates of Passage from Peterboro':
CABIN, - - $76 to $88. STEERAGE - $30.
Return Tickets for 6 months at reduced fares
For Through Passage Tickets, Staterooms, and every information, apply to
GEORGE A. COX, Agent.
Canadian Express Co'y.
Peterboro', Nov. 7th, 1866. 45

GREAT WESTERN RAILWAY
OF CANADA.
TORONTO LINE.
TORONTO, &c., TO HAMILTON.
Accommodation trains leave Yonge street Station at 7.00 a.m., 8.50 p.m. and 6.55 p.m.
Express at 12.55 p.m.
HAMILTON, &c., TO TORONTO.
Accommodation trains leave Hamilton at 7.10 a.m., 9.50 a.m. and 7.25 p.m.
Express at 3.45 p.m.

PIANOS,
MELODEONS, ORGANS
D. PENTLAND,
is now Agent for A. & S. Nordheimer for the sale of the following celebrated Pianos:—
Chickering & Sons'; Steinway & Sons'; Dunham & Sons'; Haines Brothers'; Ernest Gabler; and J. W. Voss's.
Also, for the world-wide Celebrated Organs and Melodeons—Geo. A. Prince & Co., Buffalo; Mason & Hamlin's, Boston.
Instruction Books for Piano & Organ, Sheet Music, &c always on hand.
REFERENCES.—Mr. F Bell, Organist, St. John's Church, Peterboro; Mr D. D. Galletly, Chorister, Canada Presbyterian Church, Peterborough; J. L. Davidson, Precentor, St. Andrew' Church, Peterboro; Dr. Taylor, Peterboro.
Peterboro, April 5th, 1871. 14

THE CANADIAN
BANK OF COMMERCE
CORNER OF
Hunter and Water Streets, Peterboro'
☞ Interest allowed on Deposits.
J. A. HALL, Manager
Peterboro, July 27, 1870. 30

THOS. MENZIES,
Now being the authorized Ticket Agent for the Grand Trunk Railway, can supply the public with
Tickets to all parts of Canada,
Also to any part of the United States.
Charges the same as at any of the Stations on the G. T. R. So get your Tickets before leaving Peterboro, and save all trouble on your journey.
THOS. MENZIES,
Corner Office Street.
Peterboro July 3, 1870 13

Select Poetry.

The Footsteps of Decay.

From the Lament of Don Jorge de Manrique.

Oh! let the soul its slumbers break,
Let thought be quickened and awake
Too see how soon
Life, with its glories, dies away,
And the stern footsteps of decay
Comes stealing on!

How pleasure, like the passing wind,
Blows by, and leaves us sought behind
Our grief at last!
How still our present happiness
Seems, to the wayward fancy, less
Than what is past!

And while we view the rolling tide
Down which our flowing minutes glide
Away so fast,
Let us the present hour employ,
And deem each future dream a joy
Already passed.

Let no vain hope deceive the mind,
No happier lot as hope to find
To morrow than to-day;
Our golden dreams of yore were bright
Like them the present shall delight—
Like them decay.

Our birth is but the starting place,
Life is the running of the race,
And death the goal;
Them all our steps at last are brought—
That path, alone of all unsought,
Is found of all.

Our lives like hasting streams must be,
That into one engulfing sea
Are doomed to fall—
The sea of death! whose waves roll on
O'er king and kingdom, crown and throne,
And swallow all.

Alike the river's lordly tide,
Alike the streamlet's gentle glide
To that sad wave!
Death levels poverty and pride—
The rich and poor sleep side by side
Within the grave.

Long ere the damps of death can blight,
The cheeks' pure glow of red and white
Hath passed away!
Youth smiled and all was heavenly fair;
Age came and laid his finger there,
And where are they?

Where is the strength that mocked decay,
The step that rose so light and gay,
The heart's blithe tone?
The strength is gone; the step is slow;
And joy grows weariness and woe,
When age comes on!

Say, then, how poor and little worth
Are all the glittering toys of earth
That lure us here!
Dreams of a sleep that death must break!
Alas! before it bids us wake,
We disappear!

Choice Literature.

A Terrible Temptation.

BY CHARLES READE.

(Continued.)

CHAPTER III.

Richard Bassett eagerly offered his services to break off the obnoxious match. But Miss Somerset was beginning to be mortified at having shown so much passion before a stranger.

"What have you to do with it?" said she sharply.

"Everything. I love Miss Bruce."

"Oh, yes; I forgot that. Anything else? There is, now. I see it in your eyes. What is it?"

Sir Charles's estate are mine by right, and they will return to my line if he does not marry and have issue."

"Oh, I see. That is so like a man. It's always love, and something more important with you. Well, give me your address. I'll write if I want you."

"Highly flattered" said Bassett ironically—wrote his address and left her.

Miss Somerset sat down and wrote—

"Dear Sir Charles,—please call here, I want to speak to you. "yours respectfully"
"RHODA SOMERSET."

Sir Charles obeyed this missive, and the lady received him with a gracious and smiling manner, all put on and cat-like. She talked with him of indifferent things for more than an hour, still watching to see if he would tell her of his own accord.

When she was quite sure he would not, she said—

"Do you know there's a ridiculous report about, that you are going to be married?"

"Indeed!"

"They even tell her name—Miss Bruce Do you know the girl?"

"Yes."

"Is she pretty?"

"Very."

"Modest?"

"As an angel."

"And are you going to marry her?"

"Yes."

"Then you are a villain."

"The deuce, I am!"

"You are, to abandon a woman who has sacrificed all for you."

Sir Charles looked puzzled, and then smiled; but was too polite to give his thoughts vent. Nor was it necessary; Miss Somerset, whose brave eyes never left the person she was speaking to, fired up at the smile alone, and she burst into a torrent of remonstrance, not to say vituperation. Sir Charles endeavoured once or twice to stop it, but it was not to be stopped; so, at last, he quietly took up his hat to go.

He was arrested at the door by a rustle and a fall. He turned round and there was Miss Somerset lying on her back, grinding her white teeth and clutching the air.

He ran for the bell and rang it violently, then knelt down and did his best to keep her from hurting herself; but, as generally happens in these cases, his interference made her more violent. He had hard work to prevent her from battering her head against the floor, and her arms worked like windmills.

Hearing the bell tugged so violently, a pretty page ran head-long into the room—saw—and, without an instant's diminution of speed, described a curve and ran headlong out, screaming "Polly! Polly!"

The next moment, the housekeeper, an elderly woman, trotted in at the door, saw her mistress's condition; and stood stock-still, calling "Polly" but with the most perfect tranquility the maid can conceive.

In ran a strapping housemaid, with black eyes and brown arms, went down on her knees and said firmly, though respectfully; "Give her me, sir."

She got behind her struggling mistress, pulled her up on her own lap, and pinned her by the wrists with a vigorous grasp.

The lady struggled, and ground her teeth audibly, and flung her arms abroad. The maid applied her rustic strength and harder muscle to hold her within bounds. The four-horse whist to and fro in a magnificent struggle, and neither could the maid hold the mistress still, nor the mistress shake off the maid's grasp, nor strike anything to hurt herself.

Sir Charles, thrust out of the play, looked on with pity and anxiety, and the little page at the door—combining art and nature—stuck stock-still in a military attitude, and blubbered aloud.

As for the housekeeper, she remained in the middle of the room with folded arms, and looked down on the struggle with a singular expression of countenance. There was no agitation whatever, but a sort of thoughtful examination, half cynical, half admiring.

However, as soon as the boy's cries reached her ear, this woman started, and said quietly, "what is the child crying for? Run and get a basin of water and fling it all over her: that will bring her to in a minute."

The page departed swiftly on his benovlent errand.

Then the lady gave a deep sigh, and ceased to struggle.

Next she stared in all their faces, and seemed to return to consciousness.

Next she spoke, but very feebly. "Help me up," she sighed.

Sir Charles and Polly raised her, and now there was a marvellous change. The vigorous vixen was utterly weak, and limp as a wet towel—a woman of jelly. As such they handled her, and deposited her on the sofa.

Now the page ran in hastily with the water. Up jumps the poor lax sufferer with flashing eyes: "You dare to come near me with it!" Then to the female servants: "Call yourselves women! and water my lilac silk, not two hours old!" Then to the housekeeper: "You old monster, you wanted me for your Polly. Get out of my sight, the lot!"

Then, suddenly remembering how feeble she was, she sank instantly down, and turned piteously and languidly to Sir Charles. "They eat my bread, and rob me, and hate me," she said faintly. "I have but one friend on earth." She leaned tenderly towards Sir Charles as that friend; but before she quite reached him she started back her eyes filled with sudden horror. And he forsakes me!" she cried; and turned away from him despairingly, and began to cry bitterly, with head averted over the sofa, and one hand hanging by her side for Sir Charles to take and comfort her. He tried to take it. It resisted; and, under cover of that little disturbance, the other hand dexterously whipped two pins out of her hair. The long brown tresses—all her own—fell over her eyes, and down to her waist; and the picture of distressed beauty was complete.

Even so did the woman of antiquity conquer male pity—"solutis crinibus."

The females interchanged a meaning glance, and retired: the boy followed them with his basin, sore perplexed, but learning life in this admirable school.

Sir Charles, then, with the utmost kindness, endeavoured to reconcile the weeping and dishevelled fair to that separation which circumstances rendered necessary. But she was inconsolable, and he left the house, perplexed and grieved: not but what it gratified his vanity a little to find himself beloved all in a moment, and the Somerset unvixened. He could not help thinking how wide must be the circle of his charms, which had won the affections of two beautiful women so opposite in character as Bella Bruce and La Somerset.

The passion of the latter seemed to grow She wrote to him every day, and begged him to call on her.

She called on him—she who never called on a man before.

She raged with jealousy; she melted with grief. She played on him with all a woman's artillery, and, at last, actually wrung from him what she called a reprieve.

Richard Bassett called on her, but she would not receive him; so then he wrote to her, urging co-operation, and she replied, frankly, that she took no interest in his affairs, but that she was devoted to Sir Charles and should keep him for herself. Vanity tempted her to add that he (Sir Charles) was with her every day, and the wedding postponed.

This last seemed too good to be true, so Richard Bassett set his servants to talk to the servants in Portman Square. He learned that the wedding was now to be on the 15th of June, instead of the 31st of May.

Convinced that this postponement was only a blind, and that the marriage would never be; he breathed more freely at the news.

But the fact is, although Sir Charles had yielded so far to dread of scandle, he was ashamed of himself, and his shame became remorse when he detected a furtive tear in the dove-like eyes of her he really loved and esteemed.

He went and told his trouble to Mr. Oldfield. "I am afraid she will do something desperate;" he said.

Mr. Oldfield heard him out, and then asked him, had he told Miss Somerset what he was going to settle on her.

"Not I. She is not in a condition to be influenced by that at present."

"Let me try her. The draft is ready. I'll call on her to-morrow."

He did call, and was told she did not know him.

"You tell her I'm a lawyer, and it is very much to her interest to see me," said Mr. Oldfield to the page.

He was admitted, but not to a tete-a-tete. Polly was kept in the room. The Somerset had peeped, and Oldfield was an old fellow, with white hair; if he had been a young man, with black hair, she might have thought that precaution less necessary.

"First, madam," said Oldfield, "I must beg you to accept my apologies for not coming sooner. Press of business, etc."

"Why have you come at all? That is the question," inquired the lady bluntly.

"I bring the draft of a deed for your approval Shall I read it to you?"

"Yes, if is not very long."

He began to read it.

The lady interrupted him characteristically:

"It's a beastly rigmarole. What does it mean—in three words?"

"Sir Charles Bassett secures to Rhoda Somerset four hundred pounds a year, while single; this is reduced to two hundred if you marry. The deed further assigns to you, without reserve, the beneficial lease of this house, and all the furniture and effects, linen, wine, etc."

"I see; a bribe."

"Nothing of the kind, madam. When Sir Charles instructed me to prepare this deed, he expected no opposition on your part to his marriage; but he thought it due to him and to yourself, to mark his esteem for you, and his recollection of the pleasant hours he has spent in your company."

Miss Somerset's eyes searched the lawyer's face. He stood the battery unflinchingly. She altered her tone, and asked politely, and almost respectfully, whether she might see that paper.

Mr. Oldfield gave it her. She took it, and ran her eyes over it; in doing which, she raised it so that she could think behind it unobserved. She handed it back at last, with the remark that Sir Charles was a gentleman, and had done the right thing.

"He has; and you will do the right thing too, will you not?"

"I don't know. I am just beginning to fall in love with him myself."

"Jealousy, madam, not love," said the old lawyer. "Come now! I see you are a young lady of rare good sense; look the thing in the face: Sir Charles is a landed gentleman, he must marry and have heirs. He is over thirty, and his time has come. He has shown himself your friend, why not be his? He has given you the means to marry a gentleman of moderate income, or to marry beneath you, if you prefer it——"

"And most of us do——"

"Then why not make his path smooth? Why distress him with your tears and remonstrances?"

He continued in this strain for some time, appealing to her good sense and her better feelings.

When he had done she said, very quietly, "Have you drawn the deed in my name, or Miss Somerset's? are they down in the deed?"

"I think not, but if you will do your part handsomely, I'll guarantee you shall have them."

"You are a good soul;" then, after a pause, "Now just tell me exactly what you want me to do for all this."

Oldfield was pleased with this question. He said, "I wish you to abstain from writing to Sir Charles, and him to visit you only once more before his marriage, just to shake hands and part, with mutual friendship and good wishes."

"You are right," said she softly; "best for us both, and only fair to the girl." Then, with sudden and eager curiosity, "Is she very pretty?"

"I don't know,"

"What, hasn't he told you?"

"He says she is lovely, and every way adorable; but then he is in love. The chances are she is not half so handsome as yourself."

"And yet he is in love with her?"

"Over head and ears."

"I don't believe it. If he was really in love with one woman, he couldn't be just to another. I couldn't. He'll be coming back to me in a few months."

"God forbid!"

"Thank you, old gentleman."

Mr. Oldfield began to stammer excuses. Oh, bother all that; I like you none the worse for speaking your mind." Then after a pause, "Now excuse me, but suppose Sir Charles should change his mind, and never sign this paper!"

"I pledge my professional credit."

"That is enough, sir; I see I can trust you. Well, then, I consent to break off with Sir Charles, and only see him once more—as a friend. Poor Sir Charles I hope you will be happy," (she squeezed out a tear for him)—"happier than I am. And when he does come he can sign the deed, you know."

Mr. Oldfield left her and joined Sir Charles at Long's as had been previously agreed.

"It is all right, Sir Charles, she is a sensible girl, and will give you no farther trouble."

"How did you get over the hysterics!"

"We dispersed with them. She saw it was to be business not sentiment. You are to pay her one more visit, to sign and part friends. If you please, I'll make that appointment with both parties, as soon as the deed is engrossed. Oh, by the by, she did shed a tear or two, but she drie l them to ask me for the ponies and the brown mare."

Sir Charles' vanity was mortified. But he laughed it off, and said she should have them, of course.

So now his mind was at ease, his conscience was at rest, and he could give his whole time where he had given his heart.

Richard Bassett learned, through his servant, that the wedding dresses were ordered. He called on Miss Somerset. She was out.

Polly opened the door, and gave him a look of admiration—due to his fresh color—that encouraged him to try and enlist her in his service.

He questioned her, and she told him in a general way how matters were going. "But," said she, "why not come and talk to her yourself? Ten to one but she tells you. She is pretty outspoken."

"My pretty dear," said Richard, "she never will receive me."

"Oh, but I'll make her," said Polly.

And she did exert her influence as follows:—"Lookee here, the cousin's a coming to-morrow, and I've been and promised he should see you."

"What did you do that for?"

"Why, he's a well looking chap, and a beautiful colour, fresh from the country, like me. And he's a gentleman and got an estate bellike; and why not put yourn to him, and so marry him, and be a lady? You might have me about ye all the same, till my turn comes."

"No, no," said Rhoda; "that's not the man for me. If I ever marry, it must be one of my own sort, or else a fool, like Marsh, that I can make a slave of."

"Well any way, you must see him, not to make a fool of me, for I did promise him; which, now, I think on't, 'twas very good of me, for I could find in my heart to eat him down into the kitchen, instead of bringing him up-stairs to you."

All this ended, somehow, in Mr. Bassett being admitted.

To his anxious enqiry how matters stood, she replied that Sir Charles and herself were parted by mutual consent.

"What, after all your protestations!" said Bassett, bitterly.

But Miss Somerset was not in an irascible humor, just then. She shrugged her shoulders, and said—

"Yes, I remember I put myself in a passion, and said some ridiculous things. But one can't always be a fool. I have come to my senses. This sort of thing always does end, you know. Most of them part enemies, but he and I part friends and well wishers."

"And you throw us over as if I was nobody," said Richard, white with anger.

"Why, what are you to me?" said Miss Somerset. "Oh, I see. You thought to make a cat's-paw of me. Well, you won't, then."

"In other words, you have been bought off."

"No, I have not. I am not to be bought by anybody—and I am not to be insulted by you, you ruffian! How dare you come here to affront a lady in her own house—a lady whose shoe-strings your betters are ready to tie, you brute? If you want to be a landed proprietor, go and marry some ugly old hag that's got it, and no eye-sight left to see your no gentleman. Sir Charles's land you'll never have, a better man has got it, and means to keep it for him as his. Here Polly! Polly! Polly! take this man down to the kitchen, and teach him manners if you can; he is not fit for my drawing room by a long-chalk."

Polly arrived in time to see the flashing eyes, the swelling veins; and to hear the fair orator's peroration.

"What, you are in tantrums again!" said she. "Come along, sir. Needs must when the devil drives. You'll break a blood vessel some day, my lady, like your father afore ye."

And with this homely suggestion, which always sobered Miss Somerset, and indeed frightened her out of her wits, she with-drew the offender.

She did not take him into the kitchen, but into the dining-room, and there he had a long talk with her, and gave her a sovereign.

She promised to inform him if anything should occur.

He went away, pondering and scowling deeply.

CHAPTER IV.

Sir Charles Bassett was now living in Elysium. Never was a rake more thoroughly transformed. Every day he sat for hours at the feet of Bella Bruce, admiring her soft feminine ways and virgin modesty, even more than her beauty. And her visible blush whenever he appeared suddenly, and the soft commotion and yielding in her lovely frame whenever he drew near, betrayed his magnetic influence, and told all but the blind she adored him.

She would [illegible] with him and her father—a strong-minded old admiral, whose authority was unbounded, only, to Bella's regret very rarely exerted. Nothing would have pleased her more than to be forbidden this, and commanded that; but no! the admiral was a lion with an enormous paw, only he could not be got to put into every pie.

In this charming society the hours glided, and the wedding day drew close. So deeply and sincerely was Sir Charles in love, that when Mr. Oldfield's letter came, appointing the day and hour to sign Miss Somerset's deed, he was unwilling to go, and wrote back to ask if the deed could not be sent to his house.

Mr. Oldfield replied that the parties to the deed and the witnesses must meet and it would be unadvisable, for several reasons, to, irritate the lady's susceptibility previous to signature: the appointment having been made at her house, it had better remain so.

That day soon came.

Sir Charles, being due in Mayfair at 2 p.m., compensated himself for the less agreeable business to come by going earlier than usual to Portman Square. By this means he caught Miss Bruce and two other young ladies inspecting bridal dresses. Bella blushed and looked ashamed, and to the surprise of her friends, sent the dresses away, and set herself to talk rationally with Sir Charles—as rationally as lovers can.

The ladies took the cue and retired in disgust.

Sir Charles apologised.

"This is too bad of me. I came at an unheard-of hour, and frighten away your fair friends; but the fact is, I have an appointment at two, and I don't know how long they will keep me, so I thought I would make sure of two happy hours at the least."

And delightful hours they were. Bella Bruce, excited by this little surprise, leaned softly on his shoulder, and prattled her maiden love like some warbling fountain.

Sir Charles, transfigured by love, answered her in kind—three months ago he could not—and they prepared pretty little plans of wedded life, and had small differences, and ended by agreeing.

Complete and prompt accord upon two points: first, they would not have a single quarrel, like other people; their love should never lose its delicate bloom; second, they would grow old together, and die the same day—the same minute if possible; if not they must be content with the same day, but on that, inexorable.

But soon after that came a skirmish. Each wanted to obey t'other.

Sir Charles argued that Bella was better than he, and therefore more fit to conduct the pair.

Bella, who thought him divinely good, pounded on this reason furiously. He defended it. He admitted, with exemplary candour, that he was good now—"awfully good." But he assured her that he had been anything but good before he knew her; now, she had been always good; therefore, he argued, as his goodness came originally from her, for her to obey him would be a little too much like the moon commanding the sun.

"That is too ingenious for me, Chasles," said Bella. "And, for shame! Nobody was ever so good as you are. I look up to you and———— Now I could stop your mouth in a minute. I have only to remind you that I shall swear at the altar to obey you, and you will not swear to obey me. But I will not crush you under the Prayer book—no, dearest; but, indeed, to obey is a want of my nature, and I marry you to supply that want—and that's a story, for I marry you because I love, and honor, and worship, and adore you to distraction, my own—own—own!" With this she flung herself passionately, yet modestly, on his shoulder, and murmured coaxingly, "You will let me obey you, Charles!"

Thereupon Sir Charles felt highly gelatinous, and lost, for the moment, all power of resistance or argument.

"Ah, you will; and then you will remind me of my dear mother. She knew how to command, but as for poor dear papa, he is very disappointing. In selecting an admiral for my parrent, I made sure of being ordered about. Instead of that—now I'll show you—there he is in the next room, inventing a new system of signals, poor dear"—

She threw the folding doors open.

"Papa, dear, shall I ask Charles to dinner to-day?"

"As you please, my dear."

"Do you think I had better walk or ride this afternoon.

"Whichever you prefer."

"There," said Bella, "I told you so. That is always the way. Papa, dear, you used to be firing guns. Do, please, fire one in this house—just one—before I leave it, and make the very windows rattle."

"I beg your pardon, Bella; I never wasted powder at sea. If the convoy sailed well and steered right I never barked at them. You are modest, sensible girl, and have always steered a good course. Why should I hoist a petticoat and play the small tyrant? Wait till I see you going to do something wrong or silly."

"Ah, then you would fire a gun, papa!"

"Ay, a broadside."

"Well, that is something," said Bella, as she closed the door softly.

"No, no; it amounts to just nothing," said Sir Charles, "for you never will do anything wrong or silly. I'll accommodate you. I have thought of a way. I shall give you some blank cards and you shall write on them, 'I think I should like to do so and so.' You shall be careless, and leave them about; I'll find them, and blunder, and say, 'I command you to do so and so, Bella Bassett'—the very thing on the card you know."

Bella colored to the brow with pleasure and modesty. After a pause she said, "How sweet! The worst of it is, I should get my own way. Now what I want is to submit my will to yours. A gentle tyrant—that is what you must be to Bella Bassett. Oh, too sweet, sweet—for calling me that!"

These projects were interrupted by a servant announcing luncheon.

This made Sir Charles look hastily at his watch, and he found it was past two o'clock

"How time flies in this house!" said he. "I must go, dearest; I am behind my appointment already. What do you do this afternoon?"

"Whatever you please, my own."

"I could get away by four."

"Then I will stay at home for you."

He left her reluctantly, and she followed him to the head of the stairs, and hung over the bannisters as if she would like to fly after him.

He turned at the street door, saw that rapiant and gentle face beaming after him, and they kissed hands to each other by one impulse, as if they were parting for ever so long.

He had gone scarcely half an hour, when a letter, addressed to her, was left at the door by a private messenger.

"Any answer?" inquired the servant.

"No."

The letter was sent up, and delivered to her on a silver salver.

She opened it; it was a new thing to her in her young life—an anonymous letter.

"MISS BRUCE,—I am almost a stranger to you, but I know your character from others, and cannot bear to see you abused. You are said to be about to marry Sir Charles Bassett. I think you can hardly be aware that he is connected with a lady of doubtful repute, called Somerset, and neither your beauty nor your virtues has prevailed to detach him from that connection.

"If, on engaging himself to you, he had abandoned her, I should not have said a word. But the truth is, he visits her constantly, and I blush to say that when he leaves you this day, it will be to spend the afternoon at her house.

"I enclose you her address, and you can learn in ten minutes whether I am a slanderer or, what I wish to be,

"A FRIEND OF INJURED INNOCENCE."

A True Temperance Girl.

We were highly pleased with an incident a friend related to us, about a little girl who with her parents went to visit the fair at the American Institute.—While there, one of the managers took a fancy to the little miss, who was of a lively and social turn, and to make her visit more pleasant, himself conducted her around the hall, showing her the various points of interest. He left for a short time, to attend to something in another part of the building, and when he returned, immediately sought the little girl, offering his hand again to conduct her around. To his astonishment, she refused to accompany him. "Why," said he, you have not seen half the pretty things yet; come, and I will show them to you" Still she refused, and clung as if affrighted to her mother. Surprised at such conduct, her mother remonstrated, and bade her be polite to the kind gentleman. "Mother," said the little girl, whispering in her mother's ear, "I cannot go with him—he smells of rum." Was she to be blamed, children?

The mad prank of a maiden incendiary is related by the Listowel Banner. Shortly before dark on the evening of the 28th ult., Mr. Berket Bender, of the township of Wallace, and his wife went to the house of a neighbor, leaving no one at home but two or three small children. They had been out of sight but a few minutes when his barn was discovered to be on fire, and the little boy saw a girl running away from the burning building. So quickly did the flames spread that before the neighbors could reach the spot, it was impossible to save anything—and the barn with its entire contents were consumed. Suspicion of incendiarism at once fastened upon Amelia Fielsinger, a girl about 17 years of age, daughter of a neighboring farmer. It appears that on the day previous she had been at Bender's house and had stolen a cake of maple sugar and a quantity of dried apples. Mr. Bender followed her home and found the articles in the house, when he spoke pretty sharply to her on committing the theft. Her parents were from home on a visit to Waterloo. She threatened to burn his barn if he said any thing about it. So the very next evening, she watched her chance when he was away, and did execute her threat. Early on Monday she was arrested, and at first stoutly denied her guilt. Her younger sister, however, told on her, when she confessed, and described how she did it. She was brought to Listowel and arraigned before Esquires

CHEAPER THAN EVER!

Why go Barefooted when you can get

CHEAP BOOTS & SHOES!

CALL AND SEE THE

NEW STOCK!

AT

LARMOUR & SARNEY'S

New Dominion Cheap Boot and Shoe Store,

Which is being offered at Prices which defy competition

CUSTOM WORK

Guaranteed to give satisfaction, at the New Dominion Cheap Boot and Shoe Store, Thompson's Block, (McKellar's Old Corner) George Street, Peterborough.

W. J. LARMOUR. CHAS. SARNEY.

June 12th, 1871. 24

New Firm in Ashburnham.

MOWRY & FORSYTH.

The undersigned have leased the "Mowry Foundry," Ashburnham, for a number of years, and have put it in a thorough state of repairs. They have now unsurpassed facilities for doing

All Kinds of Work in the Foundry and Machine Line,

Which they will do promptly and on favorable terms. They will carry on

THE THRESHING MACHINE MANUFACTURE!

As carried on formerly at the Mowry Foundry. All kinds of repairing of

Threshing Machines, Reapers and Mowers, Saw Mill and Grist Mill Machinery and Castings and Turnings of Every Description will be done on short notice.

The work will be of the best material and workmanship, and warranted to give general satisfaction.

SPECIAL NOTICE.

We invite Special Attention to our THRESHING MACAINES and HORSE POWERS which is acknowledged by respectable Farmers now using them, to be the best made in the Dominion.

All debts in connection with the business, contracted since the 26th of October, 1870, will be paid by the undersigned, to whom also accounts owing since the same date must be paid.

R. H. MOWRY. W. FORSYTH.

Ashburnham, May 31st, 1871. 23-tf.

INSOLVENT ACT OF 1869.

In the matter of JAMES HENRY GRIFFITH an Insolvent.

The Insolvent has made an assignment of all his estate to me, and the creditors are notified to meet at my office, in the Town of Peterborough, on Tuesday, the 4th day of July, 1871, at 11 o'clock a. m., to receive statement of his affairs and to appoint an Assignee.

Dated at Petertorough, this 14th June, 1871.

R. W. ERRETT, Interim Assignee.

24-3ins.

RESTORE YOUR SIGHT.

SPECTACLES! SPECTACLES! SPECTACLES!

OLD EYES MADE NEW.

All diseases of the Eye successfully treated by

BALL'S NEW PATENT IVORY EYE CUPS.

Read for yourself and restore your sight. Spectacles and surgical operations rendered useless. The inestimable Blessing of Sight is made perpetual by the use of the new

PATENT IMPROVED IVORY EYE CUPS.

Many of our most eminent physicians, oculists students and divines, have had their sight permanently restored for life, and cured of the following diseases:

1. Impaired Vision; 2. Presbyopia, or Far Sightedness, or Dimness of Vision, commonly called Blurring; 3. Asthenopia: or Weak Eyes; 4. Epiphora, Running or Watery Eyes; 5. Sore Eyes—specially treated with the Eye Cups—cure guaranteed; 6. Weakness of the Retina or Optic Nerve; 7. Ophthalmia, or Inflamation of the Eye and its appendages, or Imperfect Vision, from the effects of inflamation; 8. Photophobia, or Intolerance of Light, 9. Over Worked eyes; 10. Mydesopia—moving specks or floating bodies before the eyes; Amaurosis, or Obscurity of Vision; 12. Cataracts, Partial Blindness, the loss of sight.

Any one can use the Ivory Eye Cups without the aid of Doctor or Medicine, so as to receive immediate beneficial results and never wear spectacles, or if using now, to lay them aside forever. We guarantee a cure in every case where the directions are followed, or we refund the money.

2300 CERTIFICATES OF CURE,

From honest Farmers, Mechanics and Merchants, some of the most eminent leading professional and business men and women of education and refinement, in our country, may be seen at our office.

Under date of March 29, Hon. Horace Greely of the New York Tribune, writes; "J. Ball, of our city, is a conscientious and responsible man, who is incapable of intentional deception or imposition.

Prof. W. Merrick, of Lexington, Ky., wrote April 24th, 1869: Without my Spectacles I pen you this note, after using the Patent Ivory Eye Cups thirteen days, and this morning perused the entire contents of a Daily Newspaper, and all with the unassisted eye.

Truly I am grateful to your noble invention, may Heaven bless and preserve you. I have been using spectacles twenty years; I am seventy-one years old. Yours, truly.

PROF. W. MERRICK.

Rev. Joseph Smith, Malden, Mass., cured of Partial Blindness, of 18 years' standing, in one minute, by the Patent Ivory Eye Cups.

R. G. Ellis, late Mayor of Dayton, Ohio, wrote to us Nov. 13th, 1869: I have tested the Patent Ivory Eye Cups and I am satisfied they are good. I am pleased with them; they are the Greatest invention of the age.

All persons wishing for full particulars, certificates of cures, prices &c., will please send your address to us, and we will send our treatise on the Eye of forty-four pages, free, by return mail, write to Dr. J. Ball & Co., P. O. Box, 957, No. 91 Liberty Street, New York.

For the worst cases of Myopia, or Nearsightedness, use our New Patent Myopic Attachments, applied the Ivory Eye Cups, has proved a certain cure for this disease.

Send for pamphlets and certificacts—free. Waste no more money by adjusting huge glasses on your nose and disfigure your face.

Employment for all. Agents wanted for the new Patent Improved Ivory Eye Cups, just introduced into the market. The success is unparalelled by any other article. All persons out of employment, or those wishing to improve their circumstances, whether gentlemen or ladies can make a respectable living at this light and easy employment. Hundreds of agents are making from $5 TO $20 A DAY. To live agents $20 a week will be guaranteed. Information furnished on receipt of 20 cents—to pay for cost of printing materials and return postage.

Dr. J. Ball & Co., P. O. Box, 957, No. 91 Liberty Street New York.

Our Agent for Peterborough County, is

JAMES CONWAY, P. M.,

Indian River, Ont.

23-3 mos.

SIGN OF

THE GOLDEN ANVIL!

I have on hand my usual supply of Seasonable Goods.

Grass and Cradle Scythes,

Hay, Manure, and Barley Forks,

Snaths. Wood and Iron Bow

Rakes, Hoes, Fork Handles,

Spades, Shovels,

CRADLES IN GREAT VARIETY

Fishing Tackle, Bird Cages, Electro-Plated Goods, Pocket & Table Knives (Extra Quality.)

Builders' Hardware,

And a Good Stock of English and American Shelf Goods.

JOHN BERTRAM,

June 14th, 1871. 24

WANTED.

A TEACHER for SCHOOL SECTION No. 6 SMITH. Duties to commence the 2nd July. Applications to be addressed to.

JAMES SAULTER,
Box 5, North Douro.

June 14th, 1871. 24-tf.

DR. LANG,

PHYSICIAN, SURGEON, &c. Office—Dr. Gilchrist's old stand, KEENE, Ont.

In connection, a Drug Store has been opened with a full supply of Drugs, Medicines, Perfumery, Toilet Sets, Dye Stuffs, Fancy Articles, and everything usually kept in a first-class Drug Store.

Keene, June 13th, 1871. 24-tf

TAKEN BY MISTAKE!

From Tim's Hotel, Peterborough, on 23rd of May, last, a parcel containing a

BAND UNIFORM SUIT,

Consisting of White Coat, Serge Pants and Red Cap, to be returned to Tim's Hotel.

Any person retaining them after this notice, will be prosecuted.

Peterboro, June 14th, 1871. 24-1in*

Important Sale

OF

House, Lot & Household Furniture

BY AUCTION.

JAMES MILLER, Esq.,

Of Peterborough,

Has instructed the undersigned to sell on

Wednesday, 28th June, 1871,

One quarter of an acre of land, with Large Frame Dwelling House, new and in good repair, good Sheds and Stable, Well and Cistern.

Terms of Sale of Furniture, Cash.

Terms of Real Estate will be made known at the time of Sale.

SALE AT 1 O'CLOCK, P. M.

C. STAPLETON,

Auctioneer.

Peterborough, June 7th, 1871.

N. B.—This Sale will be without reserve as Mr. Miller is leaving these parts. For particulars, see bills.

23-td.

LOST.

A GOLD BRACELET,

On Sabbath last, somewhere on Simcoe or George Street. The Finder will be suitably rewarded by leaving it at this office.

Peterboro, May 31, 1871.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

Card—Dr Lang.
Wanted—James Saulter.
Cheaper than Ever—Larmour and Sarney.
Taken by Mistake—Band Uniform Suit.
Sign of the Golden Anvil—John Bertram.
New Foundry in Ashburnham—Mowry & Forsyth.
Insolvent Act of 1869—James Henry Griffith.

The Peterborough Examine

PETERBOROUGH, JUNE 15, 1871.

Editorial Items.

The County Council will meet on Tuesday next.

Ague is very prevalent in some parts of the County at present.

The value of Real Estate in Montreal is $50,599,840.

There has been an Earthquake in China that has caused immense loss of property and life.

We are compelled to defer the report of the speeches at the Banquet, till next week, on account of pressure of other business.

The Bridge over Pigeon Creek has formed itself into a very irregular course. It is still passable, however.

A little child of W. Mangon, Vicksburgy died a few days ago from the bite of a Potato Bug.

A fearful tornado passed through a portion of Massachusetts on Sunday, demolishing buildings, and uprooting trees.

The harvest prospects in France and Prussia are gloomy. A large portion of the seed has perished.

Late advices from Persia says that famine is so great in some parts of the country that starving people have killed and eaten fifty children.

A confidential Clerk in the office of the Chamberlain of Toronto, has been found a defaulter in sums paid him to the amount of $1,360, or so.

Mr. Andrew McKee informs us that in some parts in the North of Smith, a worm is attacking the fall wheat, cutting it off at the joint. Several fields near him have suffered from the pest.

There was a collision on the Grand Trunk at Grafton, on Monday. Five lives were lost. It was caused by an Immigrant train bound West running into a freight train, thoughtlessly left on the main track.

There have been two burglaries in Montreal during the past week. In one case, a Mr. Gault received a pistol shot in the struggle, by one of the gang who had entered his house.

The weather has been very cold during the past week., but was balanced by refreshing showers.—The hay crop, it is believed will be very light this season, on account of the long drought in May.

The Jury in the Grafton disaster has returned a verdict to the effect that the accident was caused by the negligence of the Conductor and Engineer of the Immigrant train who were running contrary to the rules of the Company.

A Chinaman in San Francisco was lately murdered by boys. The Coroner's Jury notwithstanding the most direct evidence of the cause of the crime, returned a verdict of death from cause unknown.

The American press claims extensive advantages through the Washington treaty. How will Sir John A. McDonald show that Canada has had justice done her? Already the Organs are attempting to prove the terms of the Treaty are tho only terms that Canada could expect. They should say under present management.

We were visited with a glorious rain on Saturday last, which will do incalculable good to the crops. Since then, the weather has been very cool indeed—too cool to be comfortable. The fall wheat is progressing favourably, and promises an early harvest and an abundant yield, if no unforseen disaster intervene.

The Communists of Clerkenwell, England, are about being handed over to the authorities of France. They were to hold a meeting on Monday night last, to protest their extradition by the British Government. It is to be hoped that no false feelings of humanity will interfere in giving up those miscreants to their condign punishment.

We are promised full particulars of that portion of the Washington Treaty which affects Canada from Sir John A. McDonald, soon after the Treaty has been discussed in the British House of Commons. Our Premier, the Organs say, will then be at liberty to break silence upon this, to us an important measure—and further, that he is as anxious to speak as we are to know. The Telegraph suggests that as Sir John will likely visit Toronto in a few days, that the Mayor call a public meeting, at which he may be invited to give the Citizens an explanation of the bargain and sale of our fisheries.

There is very great anxiety on the par of some would-be Candidate to find out who are to be the Reform Candidates for the Commons, at the approaching elections. Anxiety should direct itself into some other channel and try and find out better men than the old ones on the Ministerial ticket. In the East, they have men, Conservatives, whom they might select, but where are they to get a man in the West? Ashburnham could supply them with two Candidates, honest men too—but then Norwood has to be consulted, the East is so jealous of the West part of the County.

It does not become us to name their men, of course, but still advice may be worth something to them in their dilemma. If they choose good men, the desire to defeat them will not be so strong. We would therefore advise them to look to the Sister Village for their next Candidates for both East and West. Had they done so at the last election they would have served the County much better than by their then selection. By doing so, they would have brought forward independent, conscientious men—whose votes would be recorded from a sense of right, and not at the nod of J. S., or any leader. Good advice, however, is too often despised, and so will this, because these men are not from Norwood. In the opinion of Eastern politicians, wise men only come from that quarter. If they have no Guiding Star, by permission, Ashburnham will name her men.

The Decline of New England.

American papers are filled with sad accounts of the state of things in New England, and especially of Massachusetts.—Not only is the "foreign element" taking possession of its Cities and Towns, but also of the Country as well.

The land of Canaan for Puritanism and Congregationalism is becoming the home of a foreign religion, and of no religion at all. Scepticisms, Spiritualism and Roman Catholicism are supplanting the Calvinism for which the Eastern States were once so famous. The causes for this decay and decline are variously given, but, doubtless, are to be traced to apparently trifling matters.

The advanced civilisation of the present day—the inordinate haste to be rich,—the growing "pride of life" in even New England, where it is being considered too menial for a farmer, well to do, to have his sons and daughters do the work of the farm. The sons must be "eddicated"—must become Merchants, Lawyers, Doctors, or anything else rather than toil on the farm. As for the dairy and house work, the Biddy's must do that, while the Misses learn music, drawing and French. In addition to the expense of hiring foreigners, the work is not done as it should be, and so farmers have found to their cost that it does not pay to till the soil. The farm is consequently sold, and so many farms are for sale, that they bring but a small price. The foreigners are buying up the lands at a cheap rate, and the native population are moving away to make room for the incomers. In the Cities and Towns the value of real estate has decreased very much, indeed, and as a consequence, the commercial interests of the Country suffer immensely.

It is only in New England that we hear of farms once flourishing, now running to waste. It is only in New England that we hear of the almost incredible fact of the abandonment of a Railroad in use for many years. It is only in New England that we hear of Country Towns in which comfortable dwelling-houses can scarcely be sold at any price, or can be bought cheap enough to be taken down brought to New York and there set up again. Yet such is the testimony of a New York Journal who had credible evidence of the gloomy picture here given. There seems to be a general feeling that ruin and decay are overtaking the land, and hence the desire to get away. The state of matters in New England affords a warning to Canada.—Many of her hardy sons have made themselves a home out of the wilderness, but in the progress of civilization they are bringing up their sons and daughters to look upon toil as an evil, and like the New Englander's, their sons will learn any thing, do any thing or nothing, to avoid labour. To talk of the "dignity of labour" to young Canada is like speaking in an unknown tongue. If we would escape the evils we deplore in the land of steady habits, we must avoid the causes of these evils. We must inure our sons and daughters to manual labour—encourage more self-reliance and independence, and by example as well as precept inculcate habits of industry, moderation and thrift.

We advise our contemporary of the Review to improve his orthography, syntax, and composition; to be cool and keep his powder dry. He never was intended to set the world on fire, and he assuredly never will. What between the Inspectorship and the naughty Grits, he seems to rack his brain in cutting epithets to denounce all and sundry of the latter, and a certain Candidate for the office of the former.

He seems very fond of the interrogatory point, and scraps of poetry—let us treat him to one of each. Did he ever in his reading come across the following?

"Good name in man or woman dear, My Lord,
Is the immediate jewel of their soul—
He that steals my purse steals trash,
'Tis something, nothing;
'Tis his, 'twas mine, and has been slave to thou sands;
But he that filches from me my good name,
Robs me of that which not enriches him,
And makes me poor indeed."

Let him take a note of this, and learn the lesson it teaches. He may rest assured his effusions are duly appreciated, and his conduct as a public journal, estimated at its full value by a discerning public.

AN AMUSING RELIGIOUS FIT.—Sir John A. and Cartier have, all at once, become very piously inclined; and, consequently, are determined that all who enter the great North-West must be also. To ensure this, they have invented a new set of their prayers, which are to be said or sung by all who go on the great exploration party sent out by Government. The prayers have been composed by an Episcopal and a Roman Catholic Clergyman, and of necessity, occupy neutral grounds between these denominations. What other piece of profound folly John A. may next undertake, few know. Why cannot men appointed by the Government at Ottawa serve God in the Great West, each in his own way? Let the Episcopalian, Catholic, and dissenter, learn to practice toleration one towards another, and cease to contend about forms. But so long as the present Premier controls affairs of State, Canadians may look for nothing else but absurdities. Even religion itself is made to become a mock by such men, since the prayers have been abandoned.

ANNIVERSARY SERVICES.—The Anniversary services in connection with the Bible Christian Sabbath School, at Northey's, Smith, will be held on Sabbath, 18th inst. Sermon to be preached at 10 a.m., by the Rev. J. W. Butcher or Rev. S. H. Rice. On the Monday following, a Tea-meeting will be held in the church, at which addresses will be delivered by several Reverend Gentlemen. A good Choir may be expected.

The Peterborough Bible Christian Sabbath School will hold their Annual Anniversary on Sunday and Tuesday, 25th and 27th instant. Sermons will be preached on Sunday, in the morning, afternoon and evening by the Rev. W. Hooper, of Cobourg. On Tuesday evening tea will be served in the vestry adjoining the church. Addresses will be delivered by Reverend Messrs. Hooper, Rice, Ayres and others. A good choir may be expected. See posters.

The Review imagines that in his ire, the character of his neighbors must come to nought. His defeat at the last election has produced biliousness, which has to be worked off, of course. To defeat him, we gladly bear all his venom and slander.

Imperial Parliament.

HOUSE OF LORDS.

LONDON, June 12.

In the House of Lords to-day Earl Russell, in moving the address to the Crown against the ratification of the treaty of Washington unless the arbitrators were bound only by the International and British laws existing at the time of the American war, argued that otherwise England might apply one rule and America another, and the arbitrators still another. The ratification of the treaty might be demanded to secure peace, but as it was, he urged, a dangerous precedent and an unwise neglect of the duty of Great Britan to her American colonies, whose interests were sacrificed, for the treaty was one-sided even about the fisheries. He asserted that Great Britain had observed all the obligations of neutrality during the war, quoted from blue books to prove his assertion, and scouted the idea of negligence on the part of the Government at the time. In conclusion, he said the treaty sacrificed English prestige—it sacrificed all for peace.

Earl Granville said he accepted the discussion, but he did not accept Lord Russell's motion. He explained the circumstances attending the negotiation of the treaty, and declared its terms honorable and advantageous for Canada. While he regretted the exclusion of Canadian claims growing out of the Fenian invasions, he could not help seeing that the international gain was incalculable.

Earl Derby hoped Lord Russell would withdraw his motion for the rejection of the treaty. America would now take it as a direct insult. He did not grudge the apology, but regretted the retrospection rule, because it put England on trial, after her admission of regret, for events under laws passed ten years after the events occurred. Personally, he accepted the treaty as an accomplished fact, taking the evil with the good. He hoped no pressure would be applied to Canada to interfere with the exercise of her free will. He rejoiced, with everybody, that the irritating difference was ended.

Earl de Grey and Ripon defended the treaty and the conduct of the negotiations. He scouted the imputation of the lamb-like meekness of the British Commissioners before the shearers. It was true they desired to conciliate the Americans, but nothing more. Several of the proposals made by the Americans had been persistently declined, although they were not preposterous. The apology for the escape of the Alabama made the conclusion of a good treaty possible. The settlement of neutrality questions was a vast gain, as neutrality was to be England's future policy. The omission of any provision for commercial reciprocity was unimportant in view of the progress free trade was making in America. He defended the articles concerning the fisheries on the ground that Canada was really benefitted by them.

The Earl of Kimberley said Canada excited favor for the treaty.

Lord Cairns deprecated the motion of Earl Russell. The treaty was as binding now as if it had been ratified, although it badly drawn, and obliged England to submit to principles hitherto unknown to the country.

The Lord Chancellor sustained the treaty.

The Marquis of Salisbury declared that the treaty sacrificed the right of neutrals to American susceptibilities.

The Duke of Argyle said England gained in the acknowledgment of certain great rules of international law without making any sacrifice.

Earl Russell then withdrew his motion, and the debate was brought to a close.

HOUSE OF COMMONS.

LONDON, June 12.

In the House of Commons this evening, Mr. Gladstone, in reply to a question, said that the sixth article of the Treaty of Washington prohibits the use of neutral ports for the renewal or augmentation of arms and supplies to belligerents only, when they are intended for use against other belligerents, and not when exported in the ordinary course of commerce. This was, he said, the understanding on the part of President Grant and Minister Schenck. It was understood, however, that on the presentation of a rule for acceptance by the other powers, that the statement on this point should be clear. Mr. Gladstone stated he had received the assent of the United States Government to a proposal to submit these principles of the treaty to European Powers for their acceptance. He believed that the prospective advantage to England would be immense. He concluded by praising the tone of America throughout the negotiations.

NEW YORK, June 12.—The World's Washington despatch says:—A telegram received here to-day from London, by a high official, states that the Anglo-American treaty, with Her Majesty's ratification will be sent into Parliament on Tuesday. It is understood in London that Mr. Disraeli, after a full conference with Sir Stafford Northcote, has determined, as leader of the Opposition, to permit the treaty to press any criticism upon it to the point even of serious debate. This is regarded here as entirely trustworthy and as settling the question, if there ever was any question, as to the reception of the treaty in Great Britain.

LONDON, June 12.—The Tories are organizing for a vigorous opposition to the Treaty of Washington, and a spirited struggle is expected over that instrument in Parliament.

Bank Robbery.

Some time during Sunday night or Monday morning, the premises of the Dominion Bank, King street east, were entered by burglars, and a quantity of jewellery, valued at about $2,000, was stolen therefrom. The thieves entered a door-way adjoining the bank and went up the staircase. At the top of the first flight there is another stairway leading downwards to the cellar of the building next to the bank, and here only a brick wall was between them and the bank vault. The burglars managed to effect an entrance into the vault by dislodging some of the bricks, and secured some valuable jewellery which had been deposited there for security by various parties. The J. & J. Taylor safe, which contained $60,000 in cash, was not touched, the rascals probably not having the necessary tools with them with which to force or burst it open. They therefore got hold of no cash, but the actua loss to the bank management will be $100 or more, on account of the damage done. No arrests have yet been made.

This city is now the temporary rendezvous of two well known safe-busters, and six or eight other thieves and pick-pockets from different parts of the United States. Their headquarters after night-fall is a gambling hell, not far from Coghill's carriage factory, King street west, where their schemes are doubtless cunningly planned. They have already operated with success in the pockets of women in the market and elsewhere, and it is very possible that they know more about the Dominion Bank robbery than other people. Their nest should be broken up without delay, and the city rid of their presence.—Telegraph.

A Hebrew Conference is in session at Cincinnati. On Thursday it resolved to compile and adopt a modern prayer-book, from which all allusion to the return of the Jews to Palestine, and all mention of a personal Messiah as their king, and all ideas of sacrifices, are to be omitted; and the Hebrew language is to be dropped in the service, and the vernacular be substituted in its place. Further a rabinical college, to teach these new and liberal ideas, is to be instituted and circuit preaching will be adopted.

Miscellaneous Items.

The engineers that have gone over the proposed route of the Montreal and Ottawa Junction Railway give a favorable report, stating that there are few difficulties in the way of constructing the line.

A Canadian, named Edward Minor, was killed a few days ago by being drawn into the gearing of a saw mill at Richford, Vt. The accident was not discovered till the body was observed floating in the stream two days after. Deceased was twenty-one years old.

The fortunate inhabitants of Victoria, Vancouver Island, had plenty of vegetables as early as the Queen's brithday. Green peas, new potatoes, turnips, and monster broccoli, some of the latter weighing over twenty pounds, were then peddled on the streets.

Salt has been struck at Hawley's Well, Goderich, at a depth of 980ft, the stratum being 22ft. in thickness, about the usual quantity in this locality. The experiment is to be made of boring through the underlying bed of rock to see if there is salt beneath, of which there seems but little doubt.

Captain Hall has sailed from New York in the Polaris on his voyage of Polar discovery, determined this time to overcome all obstacles attain the object for which many brave men have unsuccessfully struggled or perished amid the icebergs.

Dame Rumour states that after making his speech on this city about the treaty, the Dominion Premier and "High Joint" is to enlighten the New Brunswickers upon the question of fisheries, something similar probably to taking "coals to Newcastle."

A despatch from San Francisco states that private letters from Shanghai report great uneasiness prevailing at Pekin. The air is filled with strange mutterings, though danger to foreign residents is not supposed to be immediate.

The mail steamer China arrived at San Francisco yesterday from China and Japan with 1,040 Chinese passengers and several Japanese. Among the latter were two treasury officers, eight bankers sent abroad to study finance, and seven students.

The Methodist New Connection Conferance at Owen Sound, yesterday, by an almost unanimous vote, adopted a resolution in favor of Methodist union, after a careful consideration of the basis of the proposed arrangement.

Surveyors are shortly to leave the capital to explore the two probable routes of the Pacific Railway across the Rocky Mountains and through British Coumbia; and it is expected that Mr. Selwyn will before long make a geological survey of the new Province.

The revolutionary mania in South America has spread to Peru, where elaborate conspiracies culminated in a revolutionary outbreak at Callao, which was rendered more than usually lively by an attempt to seize two of the largest iron clads in the Peruvian navy. The attempt was unsuccessful, and the rebels found themselves duly installed in prison.

Hyde Park has been the scene of another demonstration, which will no doubt end in a fizzle like the rogue gathering that recently endeavoured to express sympathy with the Paris rebels. But this time it is the Clerkenwell Communists who are to protest against their extradition by the Government, for, it is supposed, crimes committed in the French capital in the name of liberty.

A curiosity has been shown to the Woodstock Sentinel by Mr. Titus Fuller, of that town. It is an Indian stone battle-axe, found in his hopyard. It is about eight or nine inches in length and about three or four in thickness. One end is quite round, while the other is formed like the blade of a tomahawk, and was very smoothly polished, and although very ancient as it must be, the edge of the blade still retains its sharpness, with the exception of a very small nick in it. No doubt this instrument has "seen service" and was considered very effectual when rifles and Armstrong guns were little thought of.

A terrible accident occured on the 2nd inst., in the neighborhood of Smith's Falls. While Messrs John Campbell and Caleb Budd were blasting for a cellar at the residence of the former near Franktown, in the township of Beckwith, the blast, during the process of tamping, went off prematurely, and inflicted on both men terrible and perhaps fatal injuries. Mr. Campbell was struck by a stone on the forehead, which fractured his skull; and Budd was thrown, it is said, twenty feet in the air by the force of the explosion, and had his right hand blown off, besides being seriously injured otherwise. A surgeon was sent for to Smith's Falls, who did all in his power for the unfortunate men; but their injuries are such as to make their recovery a matter of grave doubt.

Mr. Nestore de Angelis, a promising young man of eighteen years, son of Signor de Angles, of Montreal, was unfortunately drowned at St. Lamberts on the evening of the 7th inst. He with a party of friends went there to fish. Arriving at St. Lamberts, the party seated themselves on the edge of the wharf and began fishing, young De Angelis taking his seat at the end near St. Helen's Island. Some time afterwards he got up and obtained a board to make his seat more even, and remarked that he had caught a large fish. He then proceeded towards his former position, and no doubt in the dark mistaking the glare of the water for a part of the wharf, walked over the pier and into the river. The Companion to whom he had made the remark saw the accident, and immediately rushed to the boat close at hand. Whilst he was untying it De Angelis rose to the surface, gave a wild shriek, and sank to rise no more. His companions were horror-stricken, and hastening to the city, gave the alarm. The body was discovered by one of the water police at about five feet from the spot where the young man had fallen in.

There are many people in the world, we have no doubt, who think all the tea comes from China, or, if they allow that some comes also from Japan, they think it's much the same thing. The production of tea in India, however, is growing into somewhat important dimensions, though the export trade from Calcutta still bears a very small proportion to that from the Chinese ports. Last year England imported 18,434,000 lbs. of tea from Calcutta, against 140,000,000 lbs. from China. The Indian trade has grown up altogether in the last twenty years, as in 1851 only 263,000 lbs. left Calcutta. In 1861, the amount had reached 1,520,000 lbs.; in 1864, 3,295,000 lbs.; in 1868, 8,133,000 lbs.; and in 1869, 15,522,000 lbs. There can be no question that there are all the conditions necessary for the successful cultivation of the tea plant in India, once it has become one of the regular branches of national industry. The plant, as long ago, as 1824, was discovered to be indigenious in Upper Assam, the honour of which discovery was due to Major Bruce, and for which he received the gold medal of the Society of Arts. It was not, however, until 1852 that any systematised attempt was made to promote the cultivation of the plant, when Government gardens were laid out, rendering excellent service in the production and gratuitous distribution of tea seedlings and seed, both to English and native planters. Since, then, as we have shown, there has been steady progress, but not commensurate with the extent of the field, and this partially unsatisfactory result is attributed in a great measure to the ignorance and inexperience of those who have for the most part been entrusted with the direction of tea cultivation in India. The quality of the product is stated to be excellent, some holding it to be even conspicuously superior to every other known variety.

Affairs in France.

Paris, June 12.—Paris is already crowded with returned citizens and strangers.

The French Government has determined to indemnify the owners of houses destroyed during the recent fighting in Paris.

The damage to the manufactory of Gobelins proves to be small, and the work has already been resumed in that important branch of the industry of Paris.

Versailles, June 12.—The idea of the re-establishment of the Government in Paris is gaining ground. The Duc D'Aumale leaves to-day for England.

The court-martial for the trial of insurgents has not yet been constituted, but is announced to meet next week.

M. Pouyer-Quertier, the Minister of Finance, proposes to the Assembly the levying of additional taxes to the amount of four hundred and fifty millions of francs, assessed as follows: Sixty millions upon the registration of agreements; ninety millions upon liquors, etc.; fifty millions upon sugar and coffee; two hundred millions upon textile fabrics and colonial goods; and fifty millions upon various other articles.

London June 11.—Despatches from Rouen state that several disturbances have occured there, emanating from the spirit of hostility displayed by the inhabitants against the government troops occupying the city. The germans, who have been making preparations for their homeward march, now manifest a disposition in consequence of these disturbances to maintain their occupancy of the city for an indefinite period.

New York, June 12.—A despatch from Versailles says the Bonapartist agents are actively at work electioneering for the return of Napoleon. Many leading Imperialists have returned to the city, and it is believed that a plebiscite to decide between the Prince Imperial and Count de Chambord will shortly be proposed.

Paris, June 12.—The resignation of M. Favre, as Minister of Foreign Affairs, and M. Valentine, as perfect of Paris, the Seine are reported to have been tendered to President Thiers.

The Duke d'Aumale has declined a banquet proffered by the partizans of the house of Orleans.

Marshal McMahon has refused to become a candidate for the Assembly from one of the vacant districts of Paris.

The Longchamps races will soon be re-established.

Versailles, June 12.—The Prince de Joinville having been chosen to the Assembly from more than one district, has addressed a letter to the President of the Assembly, electing to represent the Department of Marne. Theirs to-day invited the members of the Assembly to attend a grand review of the army to be held on Saturday next in the Champ de Mars. The trial of Communists at Marseilles has commenced there amid much public excitement.

Paris, June 12, evening.—It is rumoured that the Assembly to-day after voting the loan required by the Government, adjourned until the 2nd July.

What, to an independent thinker, is the value to the American nation of the recently been admirably and ingeniously put by the well-known editor of the New York Nation. In a capital article on the present political situation in the States, the writer points out the errors appointed by both parties with remorseless perspicuity and fairness. The stupidity and want of comprehension which has marked the course of the Democratic party during the past six years are exposed; and on the other hand, a grim indictment of sins of commission and omission is brought against the Republicans. Looking round to see what the governing party have done well, the writer exclaims—"The one positive "in the history of the Republican party "that can be urged as a set off to all this, "(the charges in the indictment) is the conclusion of the treaty with England, the "value of which we have no wish to un"derrate, but it is well to consider whether a year hence people will be disposed "to regard this one piece of foreign policy "as a compensation for an almost total neglect to revenue." Of no great importance are the advantages to be gained by the American people on for the provisions of the treaty. Canadians may well be pardoned scrutinizing closely, and feeling a little suspicious of an arrangement which is regarded with such an approving smile, and as of such import, by one of the least prejudiced political writers in the States.

Following in the statistics of the growth of the population in the United States which were published in Saturday's Globe, the following information as to the number of aliens in that country is not without interest. Mr. Edward Young, Chief of the Bureau of the Statistics at Washington—who, if the amount of work which is done in his office may be taken to afford the means of a fair comparison, must be a very Hercules by the side of our tweedledee-tweedledum "Minister of Statistics" at Ottawa and his provincial representatives in Toronto—has recently prepared a special report on immigration, from which it appears that the whole number of aliens added to the population of the United States since the formation of the Government is about 7,800,000 and of these about 3,660,000 were living in the country on the 1st of last June. During the year ending Dec. 31, 1870, the number of omnigrants was 378,796, against 495,922 in 1869. The decrease is accounted for by the Franco-Prussian war, the immigration from Germany being diminished by that cause about 23,000. More than half the omnigrants are British subjects, and about one-third Germans. The influx from Germany has for some time exceeded that from Ireland. During the last ten years, for instance, the average annual immigration has been as follows:—German, 83,000; Irish, 77,000; English, 21,000; British American, 16,000 Scandinavian, 13,000; Scotch, 3,700. Mr. Young has also published, for widespread distribution in European countries, a report embracing very full information for omnigrants relative to wages, cost of living, and the kind of labour in demand in different parts of the Union, collected with great care through the agency of the Internal Revenue Department, and systematically arranged so as to afford the emmigrant a trustworthy guide in the selections of his future home. When may the Canadian people expect to see their "Statistical" Ministers "go and do likewise?" It would seem to be folly ever to expect such wise foresight on their part, their only endeavors apparently intewling in the direction of finding berths for troublesome supporters, whose chief and almost only duty after appointment would seem to be to sign the pay book at the end of every month.

TO PREVENT HYDROPHOBIA.—To prevent the possibility of hydrophobia becomes the anxious thought of any one who has had the misfortune to be bitten by a mad dog. The proportion of venomous bites to those which are harmless is doubtless small, and yet precautions can never be out of place. Dr. Nathan B. Smith gives in the Baltimore Sun, some valuable hints. A deep wound is less dangerous than a scratch, because of the effusion of blood, which washes away the poison. The virus produces no immediate irritation but develops the disease commonly in about six weeks. For prevertation of this fatal issue, let the wound be instantly washed again and again with soap and water. Then apply a pencil of caustic, potash holding it firmly to the bits fifteen minutes, without regard to the severe pain. If the potash cannot be easily obtained, it can be extemporized by boiling down the lye of wood ashes to the consistency of treacle, and apply that with wetted. Milder remedies are not reliable, though diluted nitric acid may be tried. After the eschar of the wound is fully formed, the patient may be then dosed with simple saline treatment, the Dietsy thinks, will effectually prevent the dread disease.

Farmers, Beware!

So much is being written about the Colorado potato-bug—a few millions of which have lately succeeded in making Canada their home—that it behoves our agriculturists to keep a sharp look out for them, and be prepared to head them off when they do appear. According to the Telegraph the bug was first seen in the Far West, many years ago, where it entirely destroyed the potato crop, since that it has been spreading eastward at the rate of about fifty miles a year, and thus assume it has invaded the western section of the Provinces, and will, unless it can be extirpated, occasion serious losses to the farming community. We have not yet seen a description of its "personal appearance," but if any of our readers finds a strange insect making havoc amongst his potato tops, the best thing he can do is to arrest and execute it on suspicion. Mr. Edmund Bayes, Secretary of the Ontario Etomological Society, says that there are fifteen different kinds of insects which prey upon the Colorado bug (and that seven of its natural enemies are common in Canada. As this pest breeds at a terrible rate, it is recommended that the potato stalks be examined every day, and, if the bug is found, that Paris Green—mixed with from six to twelve quarts of either flour, ashes, plaster or slacked lime—be freely used as this is the best remedy yet discovered. The Colorado bug is reported to be poisonous, but Mr. C. V. Riely, the State Entomologist, of Missouri, doubts it. He says:

"With regard to the poisonous properties of the Colorado beetle, I can only say that I believe a great deal of unnecessary alarm has been caused. I am aware that there are cases of illness from handling these insects, reported to have occurred in the States, but I am not at all satisfied, in my own mind of their correctness, knowing as I do what false alarms are yearly created about the dangerous and fatal biting powers of that innocent and much abused caterpillar, the potato or tomato sphinx. Vigilance seems to be the true remedy against the Colorado beetle. Kill as many as possible in the early spring, before they get a chance to pair, make traps of potato heaps on the field and search for and kill the beetles in the early morning. Look out for the first eggs on the young potato leaves. As a rule plant early varieties of early potatoes.—Experience has shown also that the Early Rose and Peach Blow have been found most exempt from attack. It is also recommended to isolate the potato field as much possible, either by using land surrounded by trees, or planting of a corn field."

Happily Ended.

During the investment of Paris by the Prussians, as most of our readers will remember, an event took place which threatened to destroy the good feeling between the English and Prussian Governments. Some English vessels were sunk in the Seine by order of Prussian officers, and, as the story was at first told, the act was aggravated by the ill-treatment of the crews of the vessels, and insult added to injury the tramping under foot of the British flag, by the insolent Germans. On receipt of the news of this outrage, the British Government instructed Lord Augustus Loftus to address in a firm but temperate manner, the Berlin authorities, requesting them to institute inquiries, and if the case required it, to make compensation at once. Also to denounce the sinking of the British ships, if it occured under the circumstances reported, as altogether unwarrantable. The Chancellor of the German Confederation replied in a cautious and conciliatory manner excusing the act as justified by circumstances of "immediate danger," but admitting the claim for compensation; and at the same time apologizing fully for injury or insult to English sailors or to the British flag.—Upon investigation, according to a report of the military authorities at Rouen, it was found that the stories of the alleged outrage on the crew, &c., were without foundation in fact, so that it only remained to fix the amount to be paid as comp

Lines on the death of Donald Sutherland.

"In Rama was heard a voice of lamentation and weeping: Rachel mourning for her children."

I think I hear a footstep,
And my eyes round the circle roam,
While my heart leaps up in its gladness,
To welcome the absent home.

In amusement I start from my dreaming,
To know with a moan of pain,
That the step or voice of my darling
I never shall hear again!

I weep, while I pray for patience,
To bow to the Heavenly will;
For I know the Arm of Mercy
And Love is round me still.

That he, who but lent the blessing,
Has taken again His own,
And the feet of my child are pressing
The steps of the Golden Throne.

A mother's love is the noblest gift
That mercy ever gave—
The holiest light that shines between
The cradle and the grave.

And I know the tears and wailing
From my heart by anguish torn,
To the Throne of Power and Healing
Are by pitying angels borne.

But, oh! he was so true and kind,
So gentle, yet so brave—
A brighter or a nobler boy
No mother's heart might crave.

But he's pass'd in his young beauty
From my longing loving eyes,
To where that beauty shineth,
Like a star beyond the skies.

He has only gone before me,
To show the shadowy way,
To where this gloom and darkness,
Melts in everlasting day.

Till I see through the Spirit Valley,
The gates of that blest abode,
Where he stands on the glorious threshold,
To welcome me home to God. T. S. P.

We have copied the above lines from the St. Mary's "Vidette," and have only further to state that the promising youth referred to was nephew to Capt. Sutherland, of Ashburnham, and named after the same gentleman. His father is James Sutherland, Esq., of St. Marys—we noticed the event in our obituary list of the previous issue.

An Indian Execution.

A gentleman of Jonesburg, Mo., recently returned to Texas, relates an extraordinary occurrence which took place a short time since in the Indian nation. He was an eye witness to the scene. A Choctaw Indian, having committed a wilful murder, was tried and sentenced to be shot to death.—He asked for twenty days in which to prepare and visit his friends, giving his word of honor as a "brave" to return at the appointed time, and was allowed to go forth without guard or bail. At the expiration of the twenty days, according to appointment, the hour for execution arrived, and the Indian true to his word, at the very hour and minute galloped up to the place where the sentence was to be carried out, in company with three of his sisters and three brothers, all appearing as cheerful as though they had come to a dance or frolic. The coffin was then brought on the ground, but some one remarked that it was too small, upon which one of the doomed Indian's brothers told him to lay down in it and measure, which he cheerfully did and laughingly said: "It fits all right." The crowd meanwhile appeared to be in the most cheerful spirits and cracked jokes and laughed. At last when all was ready, the doomed man was ordered to sit on the ground. A handkerchief was placed over his eyes by his sister. While the sheriff held one hand, one of the condemned Indian's brothers held the other each side of him. The Deputy Sheriff then stood in an old house armed with a rifle. From some cause the rifle went off accidentally, the bullet passing through the roof of the house, about ten steps in front of the convict. The Indian believing he was shot, drew himself up and shuddered, but did not speak or move from the spot. A black mark was then made over the indians heart with spittle and powder, by his brother, while the other deputy sheriff reloaded his rifle, and at a signal he took steady aim, fired and pierced the centre of the mark. The Indian, with a few struggles, fell back dead with his brother and the Sheriff still holding his hands: No one seemed to be in the least affected, except the doomed Indian's mother, who shed tears, but was told to "shut up" by her son, that all was over. Thus ended the extraordinary execution. The particular locality in the Indian nation where this occurrence took place is not given.

BIRTH.

At Peterboro, on the 11th instant, the wife of D. Pentland, Esq., of a son.

DIED.

On 10th inst., at St. Leonard's, Ashburnham, James Douglas Campbell, aged 14 months.

PETERBOROUGH MARKETS.

	Peterborough June 15 1871
Flour ₱ bbl	$6 25	$6	25
Wheat ₱ bush. fall	1 00	1	75
Spring Wheat ₱ bush	1 00	1	25
Peas	0 80	0	90
Barley "	0 60	0	62
Oats "	0 50	0	55
Potatoes "	0 35	0	35
Hay ₱ ton	8 00	10	00
Hides ₱ cwt	6 00	7	00
Beef ₱ cwt	6 50	7	00
Sheepskins	0 75	1	25
Wool ₱ lb	0 25	0	30
Pork ₱ cwt	7 00	8	00
Eggs, per dozen	0 10	0	10
Butter	0 18	0	18
Cordwood	3 50	3	00
Turkeys	0 75	1	50
Geese	0 40	0	5
Chickens	0 35	0	4

Don't Know What to Do.

We sometimes hear persons say, 'my horse is really out of condition, and I cannot tell either what is the matter with him, or how to get him into better order,' they appear to be ignorant of the fact that their is within their reach a remedy safe sure and effectual in all cases. Many persons who deal in horses use large quantities of it, and testify that its effects are most satisfactory. One horse dealer informs us that his horses' condition and appearance are so much improved by its use that they sell more readily and for higher prices. The article is "Darley's Condition Powders and Arabian Heave Remedy," the thing is equal to it for the same purpose. Remember the name and see that the signature of hurd and & Co. is on each package. Northrop & Lyman, Newcastle Ont., proprietors for Canada. Sold by all medicine dealers.

WAR AND COMMERCE.—It is urged by some that English trade has gained largely by the French German war, and that she has been serving both belligerents to the great advantage of her commercial interests; but official statements prove that such has been the case But it is true that the sales of the "Canadian Pain Destroyer" are rapidly increasing, and gaining the confidence of the public, for curing coughs, colds rheumatism neuralgia, summer complaints, &c. For sale by all Druggists and country dealers. Price 25 cents per bottle, Aphonia Cured.—Fellows' Compound Syrup of Hypophosphites.—Aphonia, or Loss of Voice, is remedied in a short time, no matter whether the cause be from inflammation of the lining membrane, from cold, or from nervous derangement.

☞ A common cough or cold should never be trifled with, often when neglected it is converted into a serious and generally fatal pulmonary disease. The more prudent, aware of this, promptly use "Bryan's Pulmonic Wafers" a curative which has sustained its reputation for over twenty years—they are always efficacious and exert a most beneficial influence on all the Bronchial and pulmonary organs? Sold by all Druggists and country dealers. Price 25 cts per box.

Husband (returned from the village:)—Mary, here my dear; I have just returned from town and brought with me your entire list—Tea, Coffee, Sugar, Cakes and in short a waggon full of—

Wife (hastily)—And forget the PAIN-KILLER?

Husband:—Oh! no; couldn't forget that; it's the most prominent object in every store in every store in town: and besides, the fences and stones and buildings all have "PAIN-KILLER" painted or pasted on them to remind one of it every minute. The store-keeper says that the PAIN-KILLER should be in every house and where one can put their hand on it in the dark if need be.

Wife:—It must be VALUABLE, else the PARSON'S wife wouldn't praise it to the skies as she does

(To be continued.)

☞ The PAIN-KILLER is an internal and external remedy for pain. For internal pain, Cramps Spasms, Sudden Cold and Bowel difficulties, a few days on water will give immediate relief. As a liniment it is without an equal; it stops pain almost instantly. To cure and get the genuine made by Perry Davis & Son and sold by all Druggists and Grocers 15-71

THE GREAT FEMALE REMEDY

Job Moses' Peridocal Pills.

This invaluable medicine is unfailing in the cure of all those painful and dangerous diseases to which the female constitution is subject. It moderates all exsess and removes all obstructions, and a speedy cure may be relied on.

TO MARRIED LADIES.

It is peculiarly suited. It will in a short time, bring on the monthly period with regularity.

These Pills should not be taken by Females during the FIRST THREE MONTHS of Pregnancy, as they are sure to bring on Miscarriage, but at any other time they are safe.

In all cases of Nervous and Spinal Affection, Pains in the Back and Limbs, an slight exertion, Palpitation of the Heart, Ayaerries, and Whites, the Pills will effect a cure when all other means have failed; and although a powerful remedy, do not contain iron, calomel, antimony, or anything hurtful to the constitution.

Full directions in the pamphlet around each package, which should be carefully preserved

JOB MOSES', NEW YORK, SOLE PROPRIETOR

$1.00 and 12½ cents for postage, enclosed to Northrop & Lyman, Newcastle, Ont., general agents for the Dominion, will ensure a bottle, containing over 50 pills, by return mail.

Iron ore, taken from the back hills, near the highest level of the Union Pacific Railway, has been smelted at Omaha and found of excellent quality, yielding 50 per cent, of superior metal There hills of the ore lie near the railroad.

CANADIAN PAIN DESTROYER.

A Family Medicine, well and favorably known for the past ten years, never failing in a single instance to give permanent relief when timely used, and we have never known a single case of dissatisfaction where the directions have been properly followed, but on the contrary all are delighted with its operations, and speak in the highest terms of its Virtues and Magical effects.

THE CANADIAN PAIN DESTROYER has won for itself a reputation, as a blood purifier alternative stomach tonic, unsurpassed in the history of medical preparations. It seldom fails to cure Dyspepsia, Liver Complaints, Indigestion, Heartburn, Sick Headache, Kidney Complaints, Acid Stomach Phathisic or Asthma, and restores to vital activity the system debilitated by suffering and disease.

Its magical and wonderful success in curing sudden colds, sore throat, coughs, Diptheria, pains in the side, loins and back, neuralgia, toothache, rheumatic and other pains in any part of the body and from whatever cause, has given it a place in every household and at last superseding all other preparations of the kind.

It is also an effectual and prompt remedy for scalds, burns, br ises, sprains, chilblains, cholera morbus, billious cholic, cholera infantum, dysentery, &c.

Price only thenty-five cents per bottle.

NORTHROP & LYMAN.
Newcastle, C. W.
General Agents for Canada.

Sold in Peterborough by Dr. Taylor, A. W. Kempt Wm. Coulter and Ormond & Walsh. In Keene by A. Campbell, Campbell McNeil & Co., C. Britton, Lindsay, and all Medicine Dealers.

NOTICE.

The Municipal Council of the

COUNTY OF PETERBOROUGH.

Will meet at the

COUNCIL CHAMBER,

(Court House) Peterborough,

TUESDAY, 20th JUNE, INST.,

For the transaction of busines, of which all persons interested will please take notice.

EDG. PEARSE,
County Clerk.

Peterboro', June 8, 1871. 23-td.

SCOTTISH IMPERIAL
FIRE INSURANCE COMPANY.

CAPITAL - - £1,000,000.

Head Office—50 West George Street, Glasgow.

CANADA BRANCH—Head Office, No. 86 St. Francois Xavier Street, Montreal

WALTER BEAL,
Agent for Peterboro.

OFFICE—SIMCOE STREET. 30-3ins

Public Notice.

The annual meeting of the shareholders in the

Cobourg, Peterboro and Marmora Rail Way and Mining Company,

For the election of Directors, and for such other business as may be lawfully transacted will be held at the office of the said Company at Cobourg, on Wednesday, the twelfth day of July, A D. 1871.

At twelve o'clock noon.

W. F. CHAMBLISS.
Cobourg, June 6, 1871. Secretary.

STAGE.

BETWEEN

Norwood and Peterboro'

The Stage leaves Norwood every

Monday, Wednesday and Friday,

at 7 o'clock a. m.

RETURNING, leaves Peterboro' at 2.30 p.m.

Office in Norwood, Johnson's Hotel.

Office in Peterboro', Stewart House.

This Stage connects with the Stage for Blairton, Marmora, Hastings, Warkworth and Colborne.

J. A. JOHNSON,
23-tf Proprietor.

MONEY TO LOAN,

In Smaller or Larger Sums on easy terms of

GEO. T. LEONARD,
Solicitor, &c

May 23rd, 1871. 21-4ins

FOR SALE.

TWO BRICK COTTAGES,

AND BUILDING LOTS.

GEO. T. LEONARD,
Solicitor, &c.

May 24rd, 1871. 21-4ins.

IMPORTANT

TO FARMERS

AND THE PUBLIC.

I have now in my Flour Mill, for Milling Purposes, the

Best Machinery Known

At present in the world, and with an experience of over 40 years in the business, and from a fixed quality of Wheat, I can turn out as much Flour and

AS GOOD IN QUALITY

as any mill in the Dominion. I will, therefore, give in exchange for 60 lbs good clean Wheat, 45 lbs Flour and 10 lbs Bran The Flour warranted to be good. This offer is equal to 200 lbs of Flour for 4 bushels and 40 lbs Wheat, or a clear gain of 20 lbs Wheat on the Barrel, worth at present prices from 43 to 45 cents.

☞ Cash paid for Good Fall and Spring Wheat.

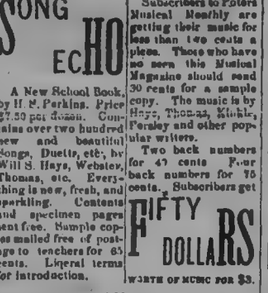
M. MARTYN.

Peterboro, May 22nd, 1871. 21

SIGN OF THE CIRCULAR SAW.



THE Subscribers would beg leave to call the attention of the public to their stock of

SHELF AND HEAVY HARDWARE

PAINTS, OILS, GLASS and PUTTY,

Agricultural and Garden Implements,

NAILS, LOCKS, HINGES, &c.

All of which they will sell at the lowest Prices.

Sign of the Circular Saw.

GEORGE STREET, PETERBORO.

McKEE & DAVIDSON

Peterboro, April 26th, 1871, 17

TO FARMERS.

If you want to make FORTY DOLLARS AN ACRE off your land,

SOW FLAX!

Let each good Farmer sow Three Acres on trial, and see how handy it is to have $120 coming in to pay off your harvest hands in August. As there is a Machine for pulling, at the mill, it makes it one of the easiest crops harvested, For seed apply to

S. TAYLOR,
Flax Mill, Ashburnham

May 3rd, 1871. 18

TO LET.

AUBURN HOUSE,

AND ABOUT 20 ACRES OF LAND THEREWITH.

A Delightful Summer Residence.

Apply to

DENNISTOUN, FAIRBAIRN & CASSELS

May 3rd, 1871. 18-tf

SONG ECHO

Subscribers to Peters Musical Monthly are getting their music for less than two cents a piece. Those who have no seen this Musical Magazine should send 30 cents for a sample copy. The music is by Hays, Thomas, Kinkle, Persley and other popular writers.

Two back numbers for 40 cents For back numbers for 75 cents. Subscribers get

FIFTY DOLLARS

WORTH OF MUSIC FOR $3.

A New School Book by H. S. Perkins. Price $7.50 per dozen. Contains over two hundred new and beautiful Songs, Duetts, etc., by Will S. Hays, Webster, Thomas, etc. Everything is new, fresh, and sparkling. Contents and specimen pages sent free. Sample copies mailed free of postage to teachers for 65 cents. Liberal terms for introduction.

Address,

J. L. PETERS, 599 Broadway, N. Y.

Teachers sending us their orders for $10 worth of music, can claim a year's subscription to Peters' Musical Monthly.

TO LEND

$10,000.

Interest 8 per cent. No commission.

D. W. DUMBLE,
Solicitor.

Peterborough, April 27, 1871. 17-3ins.

DAILY LINE

TO

ROCHESTER.

The Superb new Lake Upper Stare Cabin Steamer.

NORSEMAN,

Carrying United States and Canadian Mails and Express

Leaves Port Hope every Morning

FOR ROCHESTER

At 9 o'clock on arrival of Grand Trunk Railway Trains from East and West,

RETURNING

Leaves Port of Rochester (Charlotte) every evening at 9 o'clock (except Saturday), when she leaves at two p. m., for Brighton.)

This is the favourite summer route from Toronto to Rochester, Albany, &c. The cheapest and quickest route from points East of Port Hope on the Grand Trunk, to Rochester, Buffalo, &c. The favourite route to Avon and Clifton Springs, &c.

Passengers and freight take cars along-side steamer at Rochester Landing.

Connection made at Cobourg ask Port Hope with Royal Mail Line Steamers from Hamilton and Montreal.

Address R. C. CARTER,
15 PORT HOPE, ONT

EXTENSIVE

ALTERATIONS

AND

Enlargement of Premises.

W. FAIRWEATHER &CO

Preparatory to making Extensive Alterations and Enlargement of their present premises

Will sell off at a Great Sacrifice

THE WHOLE OF THEIR

Large and Valuable Stock

AT COST AND UNDER COST,

In order to allow the Tradesmen, early in August, full scope for their work and to

Prevent the Goods being Damaged by Lime Dust,

GREAT INDUCEMENTS WILL BE GIVEN

READY CASH BUYERS.

Goods will be Sold

AT PRICES NEVER BEFORE ATTEMPTED IN THE SALE OF FIRST CLASS GOODS

The Stock is well known to be all of Superior Quality.

Cash Buyers are invited to inspect the Goods and Prices, bearing in mind that no fault will be found if they do not buy.

☞REMEMBER☜

W. FAIRWEATHER & CO'S

CHEAP SALE FOR READY CASH.

March, 1871. 11.

NEW WOOLEN MILL.

To the Farmers and Merchants of the County of Peterboro:

The subscribers would respectfully beg to intimate that the Old Woolen Mill, once owned and carried on by the late James Harvey, Esq., afterwards by Mr. Daniel Brook, has been put in a

A THOROUGH STATE OF REPAIR,

And is now filled with New Machinery, got up expressly for the Manufacture of

Blankets, Flannels, Full Cloths, Tweeds, &c.

A large assortment of the above goods of our own make, are now on hand, and will be sold Cheap for Cash, or Exchanged for wool. Special attention will be given to the Custom Department, which is in perfect order for the Manufacture of Farmer's Blankets, Roll Carding and Fulling.

JOHN WHYTE, AUGUSTUS SAWERS,

N.B.—We will pay the Highest price in Cash for any quantity of Good Clean Wool delivered at the mill.

J. W. A. S.

To my old friends in particular, and the public in general:

I am now back in the Old Mill, with Messrs. Whyte & Sawers, and have got a Large Room all to myself With a splendid

NEW CARDING MACHINE

Bring in your Wool, and I will give you BETTER ROLLS than have ever been turned out in this County.

JOHNNIE NEWTON.

Peterboro, May 3rd, 1871. 18

STOLEN OR STRAYED

From the premises of the undersigned, on the morning of the 24th of May, a

LARGE GREY MARE.

Any person giving information as to her whereabouts will be suitably rewarded.

GEO. BROWN,

Ashburnham, June 7th, 1871 23.

PIANOS,

Melodeons and Organs.

R. S. WILLIAMS, & Co.,

Have now a complete stock of the above Instruments on exhibition, at their Rooms, No. 3, Scott's Block, Market Square, to which they invite the attention of parties wishing to purchase.

R. W. ERRETT,
Agent.

Peterboro, 7th June, 1871, 23-3mos.

1871 Annual Announcement 1871

(ESTABLISHED 1856.)

SEEDS!

Fresh, Good, and True.

The subscriber has received his supply of

FIELD,
FLOWER; and
GARDEN SEEDS.

Both of Home and Imported Stock.

WARRANTED GENUINE

FARMERS AND MARKET GARDENERS are respectfully invited to call and inspect for themselves.

COUNTRY MERCHANTS, supplied, as usual with boxes on Commission, or for Cash.

"Honesty" is our motto, both in character of seed, and in price.

WM. H. TAYLOR, M. D

At the old Stand, Corner of George and Hunter Streets, Peterborough, Ont. 16-tf

FARM FOR SALE.

The subscriber offers for Sale his Farm, North half of Lot 20, in the

13th Concession of Smith,

Containing 100 Acres. There are about 60 Acres improved and in a good state of cultivation. On the premises are a Comfortable Log House, Log Barn, Stables, and Sheds; a Good Well and other accommodations. For terms and particulars apply to

JAMES IRWIN,
Proprietor.

Selwyn, May 3, 1871. 18 Lakehurst P. O.

DUTCHER'S Lightning Fly Killer.

Dutcher's Dead Shot for Bed Bugs

TRY THEM AND SLEEP IN PEACE.

19-4ins.

New Steam Dye Works!

THE PUBLIC OF PETERBORO and vicinity are respectfully informed that the establishment is now prepared to take in work of every description in

CLEANING, COLOURING, AND FINISHING,

of Gentlemen's Clothing, Ladiess' Dress Goods, &c., &c.

Observe the following List of Fabrics

Gents' Blacks, Merinoes, Silks, Tweeds, Cottons, Satin Cassimeres, Unions, Velvet, Doeskins, Woolens, Ribbons, and general Dry Goods, made up or in the piece Carpets, Rugs, Mats, Raw Wools, Cottons, Worsted, Wool Yarns, Cotton Yarns, Hosiery, Cotted Fleeces for Mats, Buggies, &c., &c. Damasks, in Curtains and Furniture Covers.

☞WORKS, NEAR ONTARIO WOOLEN MILLS, COBOURG.

WM. MERCER,
Agent for Peterboro.

Peterboro, June 7th, 1871. 23-1y.

A FARMER'S COMPANY.

FARMERS!

Insure Your Property

IN THE

AGRICULTURAL

INSURANCE COMPANY.

A Stock Company entirely devoted to your interests.

Insures nothing but Farm Property and Detached Residences.

Chartered and commenced business in 1853.

CASH ASSETS - - $550,000.

Mr. Langton's Report shows over $68,000 deposited as especial protection to Canadian Policy-holders.

Head Office for the Dominion of Canada, Kingston, Ontario.

We would refer you to the following named Gentlemen, in regard to the pecuniary responsibility of the Company:

H. Calcutt, Brewer; John Burnham, Barrister; J. A. Hall, Agent Canadian Bank of Commerce; Thos. Menzies, Stationer and Exchange Broker.

ATTORNEY—John Burnham, Esq.

BANK—Canadian Bank of Commerce.

WM. T. FISH, Cobourg, Gen. Agent for the Counties of Prince Edward, Hastings, Northumberland, Durham, Ontario, Peterboro and Victoria.

Local Agent for the Town of Peterborough

W. A. KING.
6-tf.

VICTORIA

CARRIAGE

AND

Wagon Factory

Corner of Brock and George Streets.

The Subscriber would respectfully announce that he has leased the above establishment, opposite the Commercial Hotel and is now prepared to Manufacture

CARRIAGES,
BUGGIES,
WAGGONS,
WHEEL-BARROWS,
HARROWS, &c.

At Low Prices for Cash.

HORSE-SHOEING MADE A SPECIALTY.

GEORGE W. MILLS.

Peterboro, March 7th, 1871.

N. B.—As there is another person in Peterboro named "George Mills," the public will please remember the distinction in the names. G. W. M. 13-tf

$765,000

In Cash Gifts to be Distributed by the New York Cash Prize Co.

EVERY TICKET DRAWS A PRIZE.

5	Cash Gifts each,	$50,000	20	Cash Gifts, each,	$1,000
10	" "	20,000	200	" "	500
20	" "	5,000	300	" "	100
50	Elegant Rosewood Pianos,	— each	$300 to		$700
75	" "	Melodeons	"	75 to	150
250	Sewing Machines	— —	"	60 to	175
200	Gold Watches	— —	"	75 to	200

Cash Prizes, Silver Ware, etc., valued at $1,500,000

A change to draw any of the above Prizes for 25c. Tickets describing Prizes are sealed in Envelopes and well mixed. On receipt of 25c. a Sealed Tickets as drawn without choice and sent by mail to any address. The prize named upon it will be delivered to the ticket-holder on payment of One Dollar. Prizes are immediately sent to any address by express or returned mail.

You will know what your prizes is before you pay for it. "Any Prize exchanged for another of the same value." No blanks. Our patrons can depend on fair dealing.

REFERENCES:—The following lately drew Valuable Prizes and kindly permit us to publish them:—Andrew J. Burns, Chicago, $10,000; Jas. M. Matthews, Detroit, $5,000, John T. Anderson, Savannah, $5,000; James Simmons, Boston, $10,000.

PRESS OPINION:—"The firm is reliable."—"Weekly Trimbune, Dec 28." "Deserve their success."—N. Y. Herald, Jan. 1. "Just and Honorable."—News, Dec, 9.

Send for circular. Liberal inducements to Agents. Satisfaction guratteed. Every package of 200 Sealed. Envelopes contains ONE cash GIFT. Seven tickts for $1; 17 for $2, 50 for $5; 200 for $15. Address

C. B. HARRIS & Co.,
Managers,
42 Broadway, N. Y

Peterborough March 16th, 1871. 16-tf.

FELLOWS'

HYPOPHOSPHITES.

Amongst the diseases overcome by the use of

Fellows' Compound Syrup of Hypophosphites

ARE

Constipation, Asthma, Consumption, Laryngitis, Nervous Debility, Dyspepsia, Chronic Bronchitis, Chronic Diarrhœa, Melancholy.

Debility resulting from Typhoid and other low fevers, Diphtheritis, cystetis, Hypochondria, Amenorrhœa, Chlorosis Anæmia, Leucorrhœa, Nervous Excitability, Marasmus, or wasting of the Muscles, Aphonia, or loss of Voice, Chorea or St. Vitu's Dance, Sluggishness of the Liver, Interrupted and Feeble Action of the heart, Suffocating feeling caused by mucous obstructions of the Lungs and Air passages leading thereto, and Debility from various causes, many cases of which appear hopeless.

SOLD BY APOTHECARIES.

Price, $1.50; Six for $7.50.

JAMES I. FELLOW, CHEMIST,

ST. JOHN, N. B.

16-1871. 4mos.

CANADIAN BANK OF COMMERCE

THE Canadian Bank of Commerce have opened a

Saving's Bank Department

at Peterborough Interest allowed on all sum over $1.00.

J. A. HALL
Manager

A CARD

E. BAKEWELL, having made an engagement with Mr. Bradburn, may be found, by his former Patrons and Customers, at the store lately occupied by M. Moloney, where he hopes by his usual attention to business, and with increased facilities for giving satisfaction, still to merit and receive their patronage.

E. BAKEWELL.

Peterboro, Dec. 29, 1870. 51-tf.

HOUSE AND LOT FOR SALE.

The undersigned offers for sale the dwelling House and Lot on

LONDON STREET,

at present occupied by himself.

Further particulars can be obtained by application to

Wm. LECH,
Proprietor.

Peterborough, April 19th 1871. 16-tf.

(Review please copy.)

Dissolution of Partnership.

Notice is hereby given that the Partnership heretofore existing between us, the undersigned as Carriage Makers in the Town of Peterboro', in the County of Peterborough, has been this day dissolved by mutual consent, All debts owing to the said partnership are to be paid to, and all claims against the said partnership are to be paid by the undersigned, John Lockhart.

JOHN LOCKHART
JAMES MILLER.

Dated at Peterborough, this 26th day of May A. D. 1871.

In connection with the above, the public are respectfully informed that the business, as hereafter, will be conducted under the name of Lockhart & Chown, and that all orders entrusted to them will receive prompt attention,

LOCKHART & CHOWN.

Peterboro, May 30th, 1871. 22

Notice.

IMPOUNDED

Two Devon Red Bulls, 1 year old. The smallest one all red; the largest one red with white spots on his belly and a white spot on each thigh and a white spot on his tail. Which will be sold at my premises on the

Seventh Day of July, 1871,

At the hour of One o'clock, p. m.

MATTHEW WALTON,
Pound-keeper.

Lot No. 6, 13th Con. N. Monaghan.

23-3ins.

GREAT

DESTRUCTION!

BUT

No Loss of Life.

ONLY THE

TURNING OVER FILES OF

DRESS GOODS!

AND PRINTS.

The Contents of Fifteen Cases and Three Bales, Just Opened.

Great Bargains in Hoyle's Prints.

Great Bargains in Dress Goods.

These Goods will be offered at prices that clean them off before the end of the season.

FERGUSON & ELDER

Peterboro, May 31st, 1871. 23

CHANGE OF BUSINESS.

New Foundry Firm.

The Subscriber in retiring from the Foundry Business in which he has been engaged for the past 15 years, begs to return thanks to his friends and the public in general, for the liberal patronage conferred upon him, at the same time he would beg to state that the business in future will be carried on by his BROTHER JAMES and JAMES R. DAVIS, under the firm of Whyte & Davis. Mr. Davis is well known as a First Class Machinist and Millwright, therefore I have every confidence in recommending the New Firm to the public, feeling assured that all orders entrusted to them will be executed in the most satisfactory manner, and with dispatch.

JOHN WHYTE.

Peterborough. April 1st, 1871.

N. B.—Parties having Notes and Accounts to settle, will please bear in mind that the Books of account and Notes will be at my Woolen Mill, West of Whyte & Hamilton's Foundries.—J. W.

The Subscribers having Commenced Business in the Old Stand of John Whyte, Esq., as (Founders, Machinists and Agricultural Implement Manufacturers.) beg to say that they keep on hand all kinds of

AGRICULTURAL IMPLEMENTS,

SUCH AS

STEEL, COMMON, AND GANG PLOWS, HARROWS, ROOT CUTTERS, CULTIVATORS, HORSE HOES, GARDEN AND FIELD ROLLERS, HAY AND STRAW CUTTERS, with almost every Implement used on the Farm.

General Repairing of Reapers, Mowers, Threshing Machines and Implements of Husbandry on the Shortest Notice.

Parties about purchasing any of the above Implements will do well to call and inspect our Stock on hand, before making a purchase elsewhere.

WHYTE & DAVIS

Peterborough, Ap 1st, 1871. 15-tf

NOW IS THE TIME!

TO GET

CHEAP ROOM PAPER.

BOOKS, STATIONERY, &c.,

At A. B. KIDD'S BOOKSTORE,

AS THERE IS BEING A

GENERAL TURNING UPSIDE DOWN

OF EVERYTHING IN HIS ESTABLISHMENT, OWING TO

An Enlargement and Re-fitting of Premises.

SPECIAL ATTENTION IS INVITED TO HIS

NEW STOCK OF GOLD ROOM PAPER AND BORDERINGS,

Just received direct from England. He will sell these papers low, by 25 per cent, than they can be bought in Toronto.

Peterborough, April 5th, 1871. 14

PASTURAGE

GOOD PASTURAGE,
Apply to
J. EDWARDS

May, 1871. 20-tf.

BOARD AND LODGING.

MRS. DAVIS' Boarding House has reopened on Simcoe street, where good board and lodging can be furnished for gentlemen.

T. W. DAVIS.

June 20, 1870. 39-1y

Select Poetry.

The Old, Old Story.

Tell me the old, old Story
Of unseen things above,—
Of Jesus and His Glory,
Of Jesus and His Love.

Tell me the Story simply,
As to a little child;
For I am weak and weary,
And helpless, and defiled.

Tell me the Story slowly,
That I may take it in,—
That wonderful Redemption,
God's Remedy for sin!

Tell me the Story often,
For I forget so soon!
The "early dew" of morning
Has passed away at noon!

Tell me the Story softly,
With earnest tones and grave;
Remember, I'm the sinner
Whom Jesus died to save.

Tell me the Story always,
If you would really be,
In any time of trouble,
A comforter to me.

Tell me the same old Story,
When you have cause to fear
That this world's empty glory
Is costing me too dear.

Yes, and when that World's glory
Shall fade upon my soul,
Tell me the old, old Story,
"Christ Jesus makes the whole!"

Teacher's Golden Hour.

Bonner is worth $3,000,000

Gin's of the period—female compositors.

To add to fortune—advertise.

Hotel courtesy—Ice attention.

Creditors have excellent memories.

The woman's club—the orcomstick.

The best receipt for a clear complexion—a clear conscience.

Mr. Johnston, a Michigander exterpates snakes by biting off their heads.

Amy Richardson of Iowa, weighs 352 pounds. No man will marry her for fear of big-Amy.

A Providence man fell dead the other day while directing a letter—a warning against directing letters.

Why is the earth like a blackboard? Because the children of men multiply upon the face of it.

A Connecticut boy has written a composition on the horse; in which he says it is an animal with four legs, "one at each corner."

Nasby intended to call his baby Anna Dickinson. But nature intervened to protect the helpless innocent. It wasn't the right sex, of a baby for that.

Madison, Wisconsin has a comopodahexpede and feels much easier.

The daily consumption of spirits in the United States is estimated at 230,000 gallons per day.

A rustler in Memphis gave a boy a half a dollar for a paper, and the boy gave him three papers his entire stock, to hold while he went for change. The suburban thinks fifty cents dear for three papers.

They play jokes in the Chicago post office. An immense turtle went from there to Omaha by mail and creeping out of his bag, raised a riot in the office.

A smart boy in one of the public schools having been required to write a composition on some part of the human body, expanded thusly: "A throat is convenient to have, especially to roosters and ministers. The former eats corn and crows with it. The later preaches through his'n and then ties it up."

"Ah parson I wish I could take my gold with me," said a dying deacon to his pastor "It might melt," was the consoling reply.

If you wish to know how many friends you have, get into office; if you wish to know many friends you have'n't get into trouble.

When a man and woman are made one the question is: "Which one?" Sometimes, there is a struggle before the question is decided.

A Wisconsin editor was called out of bed one night to receive a subscription.—After that he set up nights for over a week but the offence was not repeated.

An editor wanted a dog and advertised for one as follows: "I will take a good dog for one year's subscription;" The next day forty-three dogs were sent to the office. The day after when the news had spread into the country, four hundred farmers sent two dogs apiece by express, with eight baskets full of puppies, all marked C. O. D. The former found its way into into the neighbouring States, and before the end of the week there were over eight thousand dogs in the editor's front and back yards. His paper was not published for six days, and the Government tax at $1 a head amounted to over $8000. He don't advertise for any more dogs now.—

There may sometimes be met in the streets of Portland a bright eyed rosy little woman, usually accompanied by two children, one a fair little girl, and the other an apple-munching urchin of six or eight years. Nothing extraordinary about that; but thereby hangs a tale. At the time of the Late unpleasantness" this little lady's lover was a soldier, and was down with Phil Sheridan in the Shenandoah, where he lost a leg. The lady's friends notified her that of course she would regard the engagement as cancelled. "I shall do nothing of the kind," she replied. What marry a one legged man? "of course I am going to!—Why bless your souls if they'd shot Urmes all away and saved the leg, I'd marry that!" Thank heaven says a local paper, she was not reduced to that. James has a good cork leg, a good situation, two nice babies and one of the truest and best wives in Christendom.

ALLEGED PREVALENCE OF SMUGGLING: The Tribune's Washington correspondent, under date June 1st, says:—Numerous complaints have been received at the Treasury Department from merchants and manufacturers in the Plattsburg (N. Y.) Collection District that there is so much smuggling along the Canada border as to seriously injure them in their business. Single cases involving thousands of dollars each are reported. Reports from many of the principal points on the border show satisfaction that the new Treaty does not contain any provisions for reciprocity, which, they say, would be of great advantage to Canada, and of no advantage to Americans. Canada, it is urged, neither produces anything which we need and cannot produce ourselves, nor furnishes American productions. Under a reciprocity treaty Canada would sell her grain, potatoes, and lumber in the United States, and, instead of buying our manufactured articles, would import them from England, and then smuggle large quantities of them over the border.

GEMS OF THOUGHT.

Nothing divines us.

Nature suggests to us all our thoughts.

Christ never stands rebuking before he pardons and helps the suppliant.—Beecher.

The memory of good actions is the emblem of the soul.

True love is luminous as the dawn and silent as the grave.

Everything is difficult for a solitary woman, everything a barrier or a precipice.

Every bird that flies has the thread of the infinite in its claws.

Not being heard is no reason for silence.

Pain has its own noble joy when it kindles a consciousness of life before stagnant and torpid.

It is not the most unhappy that are the most sad.

So long as man is a child, God wills that he be innocent.

At length the decrees of toil takes the familiar sweetness of custom.

Proverbs are the daughters of daily experience.

Often music fills the thought so full that the ear forgets to listen to the sweet harmonies.

Hospitality is the virtue of scantily inhabited countries.

We have our life lease and an annual debt of gratitude to pay for it.

It is difficult beyond description to conceive that space can have no end but it is more difficult to conceive an end.

He looks at humanity so much that he sees the soul, he looks at creation so much that he sees God.

There are faces out of which truth looks so unequivocally that to treat them seems like profanation.

"Uneasy lies the head that wears a crown." Some of those that don't wear a crown lie easy enough.

Take the wickedness out of some persons and we should deprive them of their individuality and practically annihilate them.

The angels of God soothe us as they pass the very wind of their wings refreshes our souls.

God has made nothing worthy of contempt.

It is not suffering alone that wears out our lives.

Youth is the smile of the future before an unknown being which is itself.—Hugo.

To think our noblest thoughts, we go away from relics to solitude, to God and to the future.—Winthrop.

The hush of evening was soothing as a mother's warm kiss pressed on the mouth of a startled babe.

Water on the go is nobler than water on the stand, recklessness may be as fatal as stagnation, but it is more heroic.—Winthrop.

There is something more than pangs of misfortune, there is the passive state of a subjugated heart.

We somtimes congratulate ourselves at the moment of waking from a troubled dream; it may be so the moment after death.

If we could only read each other's hearts we should be kinder to each other.

There is no passion of the human heart that promises so much and pays so little as revenge.

Out of the total area of Great Britain 30,336,000 acres, or 53 per cent, are under cultivation.

A great hero as was Doc. Sinmons was Martin Cooney, an ignorant lad with a great heart, who perished, with others, in the Pittston mine. "Cooney and a companion," we read in the Philadelphia Inquirer, "stood at the bottom of the shaft as the car was about to ascend for the last time. High above them roaring flame and blinding smoke and the crash of falling timbers were fast closing up the narrow way of life; below them in a gloomy pit working on, unconscious of their deadly peril. Cooney with one foot upon the car thought of his endangered friends. He proposed to his companion that they should return and warn the miners of their threatened fate. His companion refused to go, and then Cooney, without a minent's hesitation, but with full consciousness that he had chosen almost certain death, leaped from the car and groped his way back through the grimy darkness. It was too late; the miners had closed the ventilating door before he reached them; and standing there, between that immovable barier and the shaft, the hot breath of the firey pit poured in upon him in a pitiless blast, and so he died." There could be no greater heroism than this, and it should not be forgotten.

It is curious to observe how people who are always thinking of their own pleasure or interest will often, if possessing considerable ability, make others give way to them, and obtain everything they seek, except happiness, for, like a spoiled child, who at length cries for the moon, they are always dissatisfied. And the benevolent, who are always thinking of others, and sacrificing their own personal gratifications, are usually the happiest of mankind.

Australia is in a great state of excitement over a rumor of an intended fillibustering expedition from some American port.

A schoolmaster thus describes a money lender, "He serves you in the present tense he lends you in the conditional mood, keeps you in subjubctive; and ruins you in the future.

An intelligent gentleman from Germany on his first visit to an American church had a contribution box with a hole in the top presented to him, and whispered to the collector, "I don,t got mein babers, unt can't vote."

"You havn't got such a thing as an old pair of trousers, have you?" "No my man," said the merchant "I don't keep my wardrobe in my counting house." "Where do you live?" rejoined Pat, "and I'll call in the morning for the ould pair you've got on.

A colored inebrate was lying on a beach the other evening, in his cell at the Central Station at Providence, when the officer made his rounds of inspection. Unable by the fitful gas'light to clearly discern the prisoner's features, the officer asked, "are you colored?" "No," answered the enfranchised drowsily, "I was born so."

The latest novelty in the way of raising money for church purposes is an organization among the Congregationalists at Greenville, Mich., in the shape of an anti-chignon social. The absence of that ornament is a condition of membership, and a fine of $1000 is imposed on any member who wears a chignon, or has her hair dressed or decorated in any of the modern styles.

From All parts of Lanark and the adjoining counties the Perth Courier hears the most favourable accounts concerning the growing crops The fall wheat in particular gives hope of a most abundant yield. The spring crops also promises a more than average product. There is a very large breadth sown, owing to the failure of the grass seed last year from effects of the drouth; many fields that would otherwise be in meadow this year are now in grain of various kinds. The late showers have done a world of good, and the hopes of the farmer are now bright.

Ayer's Cathartic Pills,

For all the purposes of a Laxative Medicine.

Perhaps the one medicine in our country with which we are universally acquainted, and everybody has a confidence, over the whole of this continent, is the well known Cathartic Pill of DR. J. C. AYER & CO., Lowell, Mass. Their introduction into the practice of the most eminent Physicians, and their extensive employment in the public service, as well as by civilians, in all climates, for the cure of the various complaints incidental to the human family, have made them known wherever man inhabits, or disease is found. Their sugar coating preserves them ever fresh and makes them pleasant to take, while being purely vegetable they are the safest aperient that can be employed.

They operate by their powerful influence on the internal viscera to purify the blood and stimulate it into healthy action,—remove the obstructions of the stomach, bowels, liver, and other organs of the body, restoring their irregular action to health, and by correcting, wherever they exist, such derangements as are the first origin of disease.

Minute directions are given in the wrapper on the box, for the following complaints, which these Pills rapidly cure:—

For Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Listlessness, Languor and Loss of Appetite, they should be taken moderately to stimulate the stomach and restore its healthy tone and action.

For Liver Complaint and its various symptoms, Bilious Headache, Sick Headache, Jaundice or Green Sickness, Bilious Colic and Bilious Fevers, they should be judiciously taken for each case, to correct the diseased action or remove the obstructions which cause it.

For Dysentery or Diarrhœa, but one mild dose is generally required.

For Rheumatism, Gout, Gravel, Palpitation of the Heart, Pain in the Side, Back and Loins, they should be continuously taken, as required, to change the diseased action of the system. With such change those complaints disappear.

For Dropsy and Suppressed Swellings, they should be taken in large and frequent doses to produce the effect of a drastic purge.

For Suppression, a large dose should be taken as it produces the desired effect by sympathy.

As a Dinner Pill, take one or two Pills to promote digestion and relieve the stomach.

As a sociational dose it stimulates the stomach and bowels into healthy action, restores the appetite, and invigorates the system. Hence it is often advantageous where no serious derangement exists. One who feels tolerably well, often finds that a dose of these Pills makes him feel decidedly better, from their cleansing and renovating effect on the digestive apparatus.

DR. J. C. AYER & CO., Practical Chemists,
LOWELL, MASS., U. S. A.
NORTHROP & LYMAN,
Newcastle,
General Agents for Ontario.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral,

For Diseases of the Throat and Lungs, such as Coughs, Colds, Whooping Cough, Bronchitis, Asthma, and Consumption.

Probably never before in the whole history of medicine, has anything won so widely and so deeply upon the confidence of mankind, as this excellent remedy for pulmonary complaints. Through a long series of years, and among most of the races of men it has risen higher and higher in their estimation, as it has become better known. Its uniform character and power to cure the various affections of the lungs and throat, have made it known as a reliable protector against them. While adapted to milder forms of disease and to young children, it is at the same time the most effectual remedy that can be given for incipient consumption, and the dangerous affections of the throat and lungs. As a protection against sudden attacks of Croup, it should be kept on hand in every family, and indeed as all are sometimes subject to colds and coughs, all should be provided with this antidote for them.

Although settled Consumption is thought incurable, still great numbers of cases where the disease seemed actual, have been completely cured, and the patient restored to sound health by the Cherry Pectoral. So complete is its mastery over the diseases of the lungs and throat, that the most obstinate of these yield to it. When nothing else could reach them, under the Cherry Pectoral they subside and disappear.

Singers and Public Speakers find great protection from it.

Asthma is always relieved and often wholly cured by it.

Bronchitis is generally cured by taking the Cherry Pectoral in small and frequent doses.

So generally are its virtues known that we need not publish the certificates of them here, or do more than assure the public that its qualities are fully maintained.

Ayer's Ague Cure,

For Fever and Ague, Intermittent Fever, Cold Fever, Remittent Fever, Dumb Ague, Periodical or Bilious Fever, &c., and indeed all the affections which arise from malarious, marsh, or miasmatic poisons.

As its name implies, it does Cure, and does not kill. Containing neither Arsenic, Quinine, Bismuth, Zinc, nor any other mineral or poisonous substance whatever, it in nowise injures any patient. The number and importance of its cures in ague districts, are literally without account, and we believe without a parallel in the history of Ague medicine. Our pride is gratified by the acknowledgments we receive of the radical cures effected in obstinate cases, and where other remedies had wholly failed.

Unacclimated persons, either resident in, or travelling through miasmatic localities, will be protected by taking the AGUE CURE daily.

For Liver Complaints, arising from torpidity of the Liver, it is an excellent remedy, stimulating the Liver into healthy activity.

For Bilious Disorders and Liver Complaints, it is an excellent remedy, producing many truly remarkable cures, where other medicines had failed.

Prepared by DR. J. C. AYER & Co., Practical and Analytical Chemists, Lowell, Mass., and sold all round the world.

PRICE $1.00 PER BOTTLE.
NORTHROP & LYMAN,
Newcastle,
General Agents for Ontario.

IRON IN THE BLOOD

MAKES THE WEAK STRONG.

The Peruvian Syrup, a Protected Solution of the Protoxide of Iron, is so combined as to have the character of an aliment, as easily digested and assimilated with the blood as the simplest food. It increases the quantity of Nature's Own Vitalizing Agent, Iron in the blood, and cures "a thousand ills," simply by Toning up, Invigorating and Vitalizing the System. The enriched and vitalized blood permeates every part of the body, repairing damages and waste, searching out morbid secretions, and leaving nothing for disease to feed upon.

This is the secret of the wonderful success of this remedy in curing Dyspepsia, Liver Complaint, Dropsy, Chronic Diarrhœa, Boils, Nervous Affections, Chills and Fevers, Humors, Loss of Constitutional Vigor, Diseases of the Kidneys and Bladder, Female Complaints, and all diseases originating in a bad state of the blood, or accompanied by debility or a low state of the system. Being free from Alcohol, in any form, its energizing effects are not followed by corresponding reaction, but are permanent, infusing strength, vigor, and new life into all parts of the system, and building up an Iron Constitution.

Thousands have been changed by the use of this remedy, from weak, sickly, suffering creatures, to strong, healthy, and happy men and women; and invalids cannot reasonably hesitate to give it a trial.

See that each bottle has PERUVIAN SYRUP blown in the glass.

Pamphlets Free.

J. P. DINSMORE, Proprietor,
No. 36 DEY ST., NEW YORK.
Sold by Druggists generally.

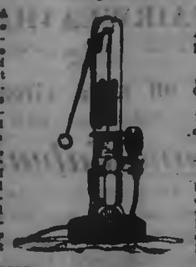
MONEY TO LEND.

The undersigned has a few thousand dollars of private funds which he is prepared to lend on mortgages, on improved farms.

D. W. DUMBLE,
January 1871. 1-tf.

OWEN'S
PUMP MANUFACTORY
AND
Agricultural Implement Agency
GEORGE STREET, PETERBOROUGH.

The Leading Pumps and Machines of the Dominion.



SOLE AGENT FOR MASSEY'S Agricultural Implements

Including all the late improvements, viz.;

Wood's Self Rake Reapers, and Mowers, and Cayuga Chief Mowers.

The Hubbard Combined Machine, which took the First Prize at Toronto in 1870.

Also, Johnston's First Prize Self Raker.

The subscriber is still on hand at Dennis' Old Stand, opposite the Graveyard, and begs to inform the inhabitants of the Counties of Peterborough and Victoria, that he is Sole Agent in these Counties for the Celebrated Powell & Fowler Burner and Force Pump—the reputation of which is Established and sustained by their own merits, being cheap, Simple, Reliable, Free, Cool, and the best worked. Being convinced of their superiority over all other pumps, I have made arrangements to keep a good stock of them on hand, if possible, and will Sell as Cheap as are sold in any other part of the Dominion.

Parties wanting Machines the coming Harvest will please call and examine the different Machines before purchasing elsewhere. Prices reduced from last year.

Will guarantee them to be BETTER than the BEST of any other make. The unexampled popularity and success of this pump is not surprising, combining as it does, the Highest Efficiency with the Lowest Cost. Swing Pumps for $6.00 and upwards With reference to the Powell Pump, it has been exhibited five times and secured Five Provincial First Prizes, never having been awarded anything but First and Highest Honors at State, Provincial, County, Township, or city exhibitions. This is incontestible proof of its adaptability to the wants of the people, and the climate of the country. THE FORCE PUMP is adapted to all the uses to which an ordinary pump may be applied, besides being an always-ready Fire Engine. It is allowed to be worth its cost for Washing Buggies alone, and as a Fire Preventative has saved many valuable properties. May be used for watering Gardens, Courts, &c., Setting Tires, &c., and many other purposes.

Please call and examine the Powell Pump before going elsewhere, when I shall be happy to explain its advantages. Also, a large stock of Cameron Pumps on hand, as usual, which the subscriber will sell as cheap, if not Cheaper, than any Pump-maker in the Province. Also COLBY'S WRINGERS for sale. Also, Agent for Rights or Pumps in Counties east of Peterborough. Pumps of all kinds Repaired on the shortest notice.

Please address, stating depth of well and other particulars:

HENRY OWENS,
April 26, 1871. George Street, Peterboro

NEW SADDLERY!

The Subscriber wishes to inform his friends—old and new—that he has re-commenced the

Saddlery and Harness Business,

In the Shop next to the Toronto Bank,

Lately occupied by the Telegraph and Express Companies, opposite to Messrs. Nicholls & Halls, Simcoe Street,

Where he will at all times keep on hand or have made to order by first class workmen, everything usually kept in first class establishment's, such as

GENTS' SADDLES, LADIES' DO,

Harness, Single and Double, Coarse, Heavy and Fine,

TRAVELLING BAGS, TRUNKS, SATCHELLS,

WHIPS, MATS, HORSE CLOTHING, &c.

Grateful for past favors in his various lines of business during the last 20 years, he asks his friends to inspect his stock before purchasing elsewhere.

Peterboro, May 18, 1870. 20 D. HOPKINS.

1871 New Sping Goods.

FIRST VARIETY OF BOOTS AND SHOES

CHEAPER THAN EVER!

FOR CASH,

Are Daily Arriving

AT

LA MOUR & SARNEY'S

NEW DOMINION

Cheap Boot & Shoe Store,

MCKELLAR'S OLD CORNER,

George Street, - Peterboro.

Peterboro, April 13, 1871. 15

NEW
Fall and Winter Goods!

—:o:—

T. BRADBURN

Having succeeded in disposing of the greater portion of his former stock, and having purchased heavily in Montreal and Toronto Markets, at the Lowest wholesale prices, is now showing and invites inspection of the following lines of new Fall and Winter Goods:

CLOTHS:

A complete stock of English and Canadian Cloths and Tweeds.

DRESS GOODS:

New Wool Serges, New Wool Tartans, New French Reps, New French Merinoes, New Winceys, New Black Lustres, (Double Warp)

New Tartan Poplins, New Figured Poplins, New Figured Reps, New French Delaines, New Crape Cloths, New Velvets and New Velveteens.

HOSIERY,

In great variety, English, Scotch and Canadian.

FLANNELS,

A full assortment of Welsh, Lancashire, Saxony, and Canadian Manufacture Also, Salisbury and Fancy Flannel Shirting. Very Cheap.

Prints, Linens and Towellings.

JUST OPENED,

A New and Select Stock of Gents' Collars, Ties, Scarfs and Gloves.

GLOVES, CORSETS and SKIRTS.

Those about to purchase FURS would do well to retain their orders, as a large lot will be opened in due time, and will be SOLD CHEAP.

T. BRADBURN.

Peterboro, Oct. 11,

GRAND OPENING DAY

W. FAIRWEATHER & CO'S
Millinery & Mantle Show Rooms

WILL OPEN ON

FRIDAY FIRST!

WITH ALL THE

Novelties and Latest Styles for the Season.

On account of Extensive Alterations to be made on the premises, the goods will be sold cheap.

May, 1871. 12

WILLIAM TOOLE,

Being about to REMOVE his Manufacturing Establishment from the Ashburnham Mill Race to his own Factory in course of erection,

On Murray Street, Immediately West of the Drill Shed,

Where he is fitting up with almost entire NEW MACHINERY, NEW MEN of long city experience, and, in fact, New Everything, begs to return thanks to his numerous town and country patrons for the very liberal patronage which he has enjoyed for the past fifteen years, and hopes by constant attention to business and fair, liberal treatment o customers, to continue in the enjoyment of the same. He would also intimate to his country friends, that he is manufacturing a few of

The Celebrated McKenzie Fanning Mills,

THE BEST MILL IN THE DOMINION,

Which he will sell at a very moderate price, and take in exchange any kind of FARM PRODUCE.

Peterboro, Feb. 9, 1870. 6

PHOTOGRAPHY!

Studio on Hunter Street West!

THE VERY BEST QUALITY OF

Photographs at the most Reasonable Rates

All sizes, from minature to life, either Plain or finished in

CARBON, SIPIA, INDIA INK, OIL OR WATER COLORS.

Parties can rely on Promptness.

Albums, Frames, &c., Always on Hand!

Special attention to children.

Inducements offered to families.

GEO. B. SPROULE.

Owing to a steadily increasing business, Mr. Sproule would request as a favor, that his customers make engagements for sitting a week or so, if possible, ahead of time, thereby saving a great deal of confusion, and perhaps disappointment.

Peterborough, September 28, 1870. 39

JUST RECEIVED

AT

GEORGE TANNERS',

AT THE SIGN OF THE

MAMMOTH CHAIR,

HUNTER STREET.

THE PATENT HAMMOCK FOLDING CHAIR!

This Chair was introduced to the public in Montreal in August last, and since that time has merited great attention wherever it has been introduced for its

COMFORT, DURABILITY AND CHEAPNESS,

It being retailed from $2.50 upwards. Call and see it; and in the meantime you can look through the largest and

Best Stock of General Furniture

EVER ON SALE IN THE TOWN OF PETERBORO.

THE UNDERTAKING BUSINESS

Is also more complete than ever, with a good supply of READY-MADE COFFINS.

N. B.—The subscriber wishes to give the Geniuses of this town and vicinity a gentle hint not to encroach on the manufacture of the Patent Hammock Folding Chair, as it is no humbug, but patented by Mr. Willoughby, Clerk, and I have purchased the sole right for this County from J. D. Mayer, the executive proprietor.

GEO. TANNER.

Peterboro, March 2, 1870. 9

WILSON, BOWMAN & CO.

Hamilton, Ontario

MANUFACTURERS OF THE CELEBRATED

LOCKMAN SEWING MACHINE,

Take pleasure in announcing that the popularity of the Sewing Machine manufactured by them is still on the increase. They are now turning them out at the rate of 600 per month and yet have been compelled within the last two weeks to increase their facilities to a capacity of one thousand per month.

The Lockman Machine, from its capacity to sew the heaviest fabrics with fine thread, as well as the finest cambrics with No. 150 Cotton, is pre-eminently the Runner's Favorite Family Friend.

It is so exceedingly simple in its parts, and so strongly and durably made, that it does not require a mechanical genius for its management.

The manufacturers challenge the world to produce its equal, and put the price at from 25 to Fifty per cent. Lower than that of any other first-class Shuttle Lock-stitch Sewing Machine.

EVERY MACHINE IS WARRANTED.

Sole Agent for the County of Peterborough—

T. DOWELL,

P. S.—ROOMS OVER THE STORE.

Peterboro, May 11, 1870. 12

PLAIN AND FANCY PRINTING IN ALL STYLES, EXECUTED IN A SUPERIOR STYLE, At the "Examiner" Office, Simcoe St. Peterboro.

STOVES, TINWARE &c
At the Giant T.

Cooking, Parlor and Box Stoves, CHEAP

A large stock of LUMBERMEN'S FURNISHINGS, on which a liberal discount will be made.

COAL OIL to the trade at refinery prices

ROOFING IN TIN AND GALVANIZED IRON, also EAVE-TROUGHING AND PIPING

Done by Practical Men

Gas Fitting, Steam Fitting,

AND PLUMBING.

Also Agent for, and manufacturer of

CALCUTT'S PATENT TUBULAR DRUM HEATER,

The most Economical in the Dominion, by the use of which 50 per cent wood can be saved. Call and see them.

THOMAS LAWRIN,
Practical Tin & Copper Smith
George St. Peterborough.
Sept. 28, 1870. 16-1yr

Fine English Camphor

The surest preventative against moths, and large supply on hand.

NO BATH COMPLETE

WITHOUT A SPONGE.

A GOOD HONEY-COMB SPONGE

From the Mediterranean may be obtained at the subscribers.

CARBOLIC SOAP

For Toilet Purposes.

CARBOLIC SOAP

For Washing Rooms, Bedsteads, Blankets, &c.

CARBOLIC ACID!

The most powerful disinfectant of modern times, not only neutralizing but destroying miasmata, &c.

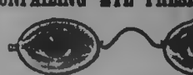
CARBOLIC POWDER

For Sprinkling in Cellars, &c. It is also very useful for destroying pediculi in dogs, calves, &c., being safe and effectious.

May all be obtained Pure and Genuine, at

DOCTOR TAYLOR'S,
Chemist and Druggist
Corner of George and Hunter Sts, Peterboro
May 11, 1870. 12

UNFAILING EYE PRESERVERS.



LAZURUS, MORRIS & Co's

CELEBRATED

Perfected Spectacles

AND EYE GLASSES.

The large and increasing sales of these Perfected Glasses is a sure proof of their superiority. We were satisfied that they would be appreciated here as elsewhere, and that the reality of the advantages offered to wearers of our beautiful lenses, viz: the ease and comfort, the assured and readily ascertained improvement of the sight, and the brilliant assistance they give in all cases, were in themselves so apparent on trial, that the result could not be otherwise than it has, in the almost general adoption of our Celebrated Perfected Spectacles by the residents of this locality.

With a full knowledge of the value of the assertion, we claim that they are the most perfect optical aids ever manufactured. To those needing Spectacles, we afford at all times an opportunity of procuring the best and most desirable.

DR. W. H. TAYLOR,
Corner of George and Hunter Streets,

Has always on hand a full assortment, suitable for every difficulty.

We take occasion to notify the public that we employ no pedlars, and to caution them against those pretending to have our goods for sale.

Peterboro, February 8, 1871

DARLEY'S

ARABIAN OIL,

FOR HORSES AND CATTLE.

A NEVER-FAILING REMEDY.

THIS valuable preparation combines all the medicinal virtues of those articles which long experience has proved to possess the most safe and efficient properties for the cure of Fresh Wounds, Sprains, Bruises, Galls of all kinds, Cracked Heels, Ring Bone, Spavin Callus, Fistula, Sweeney, External Poisons Scratches or Grease, Strains, Lameness, Mange Whitlows, Corns, Sand Cracks, Foundere Feet, Horn Distemper, Swellings, and many other diseases which horses and cattle are subject to.

This celebrated Liniment has been used for many years, and its curative properties thoroughly tested, and it is conceded to be the cheapest and most reliable remedy for all external complaints ever offered to the public—it never fails when timely used and faithfully applied.

To be had of all Druggists and Country Merchants throughout the Dominion. Price 25c. per bottle.

NORTHROP & LYMAN
Newcastle, O

Flax! Flax!!

Farmers intending to grow flax will please apply for their seed early. Seed supplied and payment taken in flax by calling on

SAMUEL TAYLOR
or H. CALCUTT.

I would beg to call the attention of farmers that I have a machine for pulling flax, which will pull 4 acres a day. I will let the machine and send a man with it for $2 per day. By the assistance of the puller, Flax is the cheapest crop harvested. For information I would refer you to—Jonathan Stenhouse, Smith; W. Elliott, Smith; J. Parnell, Smith; Jr. Scott Smith; I. Beck Otonabee; W Rutherford Otonabee.

SAMUEL TAYLOR,
Flax Mill,
Ashburnham
Ashburnham, March, 1871. 11-3mos

THOS. MENZIES,

BANKER AND BROKER,

PETERBORO, ONT.

Buys and sells the New York and Sterling Exchange, Gold, Silver, and Bank Bills, Bonds, &c.

Has had a large amount of the NEW YORK ARMY SILVER on hand, and now makes Money Loans for 6 Silver and pays the highest rate for Canadian. Also Agent for the NEW AND IMPROVED LOCK OF STITCH SEWING MACHINE. Terms on hire or Easy Terms.

THOS. MENZIES.

Peterboro, July 6th, 1870.

Also Agent for the CELEBRATED AND IMPROVED LOCK OF STITCH SEWING MACHINE. Terms on hire or Easy Terms.

The Peterborough Examiner
A WEEKLY
POLITICAL, AGRICULTURAL, AND
FAMILY NEWSPAPER,
IS PUBLISHED
EVERY THURSDAY MORNING.
Terms $1.50 per annum in Advance.

EVERY DESCRIPTION OF BOOK AND JOB PRINTING executed at this office, in a superior style, and at low rates.

☞Particular attention given to Ornamental Printing in Colors, Attractive Posters, &c.

All orders for Job Printing forwarded to this office will be promptly and strictly attended to.

JAMES HALL,
Barrister, Office in the Court House, Peterborough.

EDG. PEARSE,
County Treasurer and Clerk. Office in the Court House, Peterboro. 6

EDG. PEARSE,
Official Assignee. Office — Court House, Peterborough. 6-tf

C. A. WELLER,
Clerk of the Peace. Office on Simcoe St., 15.

C. A. WELLER,
County Attorney. Office on Simcoe St. 20

C. A. WELLER,
Barrister, Attorney, Solicitor, &c.—Office—Simcoe Street, Peterborough.

MR. JOHN BURNHAM,
Barrister, Attorney at Law, Solicitor in Chancery, Conveyancer, &c. Office—over T. Chamber's Store, Hunter Street, Peterborough, Ont. 20

GEORGE EDMISON,
Attorney at Law, Solicitor in Chancery, Conveyancer, &c., &c. Office over Mr. John Fletcher's Boot and Shoe Store, directly opposite Mr. Clarke's, George Street, Peterborough.
Peterboro', Feb. 17th, 1864. 1

W. H. MOORE,
Barrister, Attorney at Law, Solicitor in Chancery, Conveyancer, &c. Office corner of George and Hunter Streets, McKellar & Cameron's old stand.
MONEY TO LOAN on easy terms, on land security. Mortgages bought.
Peterboro, April 6, 1869. 14

CREAN STORM, FAIRGAIRN & CASSELS,
Barristers, &c.,
Hunter Street, 3 Peterborough.

JOHN GREEN,
Barrister, Attorney at Law, Solicitor in Chancery, Conveyancer, &c. Office over the Ontario Drug Store, Scott's block, corner of George and Simcoe Streets.
Peterboro Dec. 1st, 1869. 48

GEO. T. LEONARD,
Attorney-at-Law, Solicitor in Chancery &c. Peterborough. 20

S. D. CRAWFORD, M. D., C. M.,
Member of Royal College of Surgeons, England; Licentiate Government Medical Board; Late resident Connaught Lying-in-Hospital, Dublin. Ryan's Buildings, Market Square, Peterboro. 7

DR. LOVD,
Coroner for the Counties of Peterborough and Victoria. Office and residence at Bobcaygeon. 47

GEORGE BURNHAM, M. D.
Graduate of Bellevue Hospital Medical College, N. Y., University of Victoria College Canada, and Licentiate of Nova Scotia, Physician, Surgeon and Accoucheur.
Office and residence,—Near the Corner of Brock and George Streets, Peterborough.
Peterboro, May 27, 1869. 43

D. PENTLAND,
Dentist, would respectfully inform the public that he is now prepared to EXTRACT TEETH WITHOUT PAIN, by the aid of Nitrous Oxide Gas, a very pleasant and perfectly safe remedy.
Peterboro, November 26, 1866. 48

W. COULTER,
Dealer in Genuine Drugs, Chemicals, Patent Medicines, Perfumery, Paints, Oils Dye Stuffs, Hair, Nail and Tooth Brushes, Combs, Culinary Essences, Fancy Soaps, &c. George Street, Peterboro. 12

RUSH & BUCKETT,
Veterinary Surgeons, No. 6 Henthorn's Block, George street, Peterboro Horse and Cattle Medicines kept constantly on hand. Horses taken under treatment on easy terms.

ALEX. McNEIL,
Licensed Auctioneer for the Counties of Peterborough and Victoria, and Townships of Cavan and South Monaghan.

GEORGE READ,
Issuer of Marriage Licenses, Clerk Division Court, Township Clerk, &c., Keene, Otonabee 20

JAMES McLEAN,
Insurance Agent, Issuer of Marriage Licenses, and Commissioner for taking Affidavits.
Cavan, Mount Pleasant, C. W. 30

CABINET-MAKING.
E. POOLE, Cabinet maker, Upholsterer and Undertaker, George Street, Peterboro.

JAMES STEVENSON,
Dealer in Stoves, Tin-Ware, &c., &c. George Street, Peterborough. 16

ROBERT PATTERSON,
Dealer in Boots and Shoes. Spanish Slate Leather constantly on hand.
Nicholls and Hall's old stand, Simcoe Street, Peterborough.

GEORGE MITCHELL,
Dealer in Groceries and Provisions, &c. Cash paid for all kinds of country produce George Street, Peterborough. 15

EDMUND S. VINDIN
Commission, Shipping, Forwarding and General Agent, Lumber Merchant, &c.—Office, Corner of Walton and Ontario Streets, Port Hope.

BANK OF TORONTO.
Corner of Water and Simcoe Streets, Peterboro. Interest allowed on Deposits
J. MURRAY SMITH, Manager

Peterborough Examiner.

$1.50 PER ANNUM, IF PAID IN ADVANCE] "Prove all things—Hold fast that which is good." [$1.00 PER ANNUM IF NOT PAID IN ADVANCE.

VOL. XVI. PETERBOROUGH, THURSDAY, JUNE 22, 1871. NO. 25

ROBERT WALTON.
Saddlery. Dealer in Stoves, Tinware, &c., George Street, Peterboro'. 18

A. R. McCULLOUGH, M. D.,
Graduate of Trinity College, Dublin, and Licentiate of the Dominion of Canada,
Physician, Surgeon, Accoucheur, &c.,
AND
Late Surgeon of the U. S. Army & Navy.
Will be found at his office or at his residence at all hours of the Day and Night, except when out on professional business.
☞ N. B.—All communications strictly confidential.—☜
RESIDENCE and OFFICE—Next Door To Wm. McDonell's Hotel, and two doors East Of Holme's Foundry, Simcoe Street.
Visits to the Corporation One Dollar, Only.
VISITS TO THE COUNTRY MODERATE.
☞ ADVICE TO ALL FREE.☜
Simcoe Street, Peterboro, Ont.
September 8, 1868. 36

THOMAS LANNIN,
Practical Tin & Copper Smith, Bell Hanger, Steam and Gas Fitter, Plumber, &c. Dealer in Stoves, Iron Beds, Baths, Refrigerators, Water Coolers, Filters, Pumps, &c.
Queen Street,
Peterboro, 1st June, 1869. 22

JOHN COONEY.
NURSERYMAN,
Dealer in Fruit and Ornamental Trees, Shrubs and Roses, and all kinds of Nursery stock. A very choice collection of Strawberry Plants on hand.
Orders by mail promptly attended to.
JOHN COONEY.
Peterboro, July 21, 1869. 29

ONTARIO BANK,
PETERBOROUGH.
SAVINGS DEPARTMENT.
From this date until further notice, the rate of interest in the above department will be
FIVE PER CENT.
PER ANNUM.
G. E. SHAW, Manager.
Peterboro', April 1st, 1868. 14-tf

GEORGE ALLEN,
GUN & WHITE-SMITH,
Hunter Street, Peterborough,
Begs to inform the public, that all kinds of repairing is done on the shortest notice, such as Guns, Stocking, &c., Pistols and Whitesmithing. Sewing Machines also neatly repaired.
☞ Shop and residence adjoining the Union Hotel.
Peterboro, October 25, 1865. 43

GORE DISTRICT MUTUAL
FIRE INSURANCE COMPANY!
HEAD OFFICE, GALT, ONTARIO.
CHARTERED A. D., 1836.
Assets, $160,000 | Losses Paid, $416,000
POLICIES ISSUED, 15,585.
All kinds of Property Insured at rates from 15 to 20 per cent. lower than Stock Companies. Claims adjusted with fairness and liberality. Losses Promptly Paid.
ROBERT McLEAN, Esq., Inspector and General Agent.
THOMAS M. SIMMONS, Esq., Secretary.
R. W. ERRETT, Agent, Peterborough.
November 4, 1869. 46-1y

TO THE FARMERS
OF THE
COUNTY OF PETERBOROUGH.
The undersigned begs to intimate that he is again prepared to pay the HIGHEST CASH PRICE for
Oats, Pease, Barley and Rye,
at his New Grain Warehouse in Ashburnham, situated nearly opposite his old stand.
His friends and acquaintances are invited to give him a call as usual.
D. SUTHERLAND.
Ashburnham, Sep. 29, 1869 39

STAGE.
BETWEEN
Norwood and Peterboro'
The Stage leaves Norwood every
Monday, Wednesday and Friday,
at 7 o'clock a. m.
RETURNING, leaves Peterboro' at 2.30 p.m.
Office in Norwood, Johnson's Hotel.
Office in Peterboro', Stewart House.
This Stage connects with the stage for Blairton, Marmora, Hastings, Warkworth and Colborne.
J. A. JOHNSON,
23-tf Proprietor

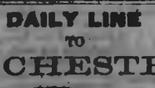
SCOTTISH IMPERIAL
FIRE INSURANCE COMPANY.
CAPITAL - - £1,000,000.
Head Office—50 West George Street, Glasgow.
Canada Branch—Head Office, No. 36 St. Francois Xavier Street, Montreal
WALTER REAL,
Agent for Peterboro.
Office—Simcoe Street. 26-3ins

DAILY LINE
TO
ROCHESTER.

The Superb new Lake Upper Stare Cabin Steamer
NORSEMAN,
Carrying United States and Canadian Mails and Express
Leaves Port Hope every Morning
At 9 o'clock on arrival of Grand Trunk Railway Trains from East and West,
RETURNING
Leaves Port of Rochester (Charlotte) every evening at 9 o'clock (except Saturday, when she leaves at two p. m., for Brighton.)
This is the favourite summer route from Toronto to Rochester, Albany, &c. The cheapest and quickest route down points East of Port Hope on the Grand Trunk, to Rochester, Buffalo, &c. The favourite route to Avon and Clifton Springs, &c.
Passengers and freight take cars along-side steamer at Rochester Landing.
Connection made at Cobourg each Port Hope with Royal Mail Line Steamers from Hamilton and Montreal.
Address R. C. CARTER,
15 PORT HOPE.

GRAND TRUNK RAILWAY.
TRAINS LEAVE
PORT HOPE STATION
AS FOLLOWS:
GOING EAST.
Express (day)..... 9.20 a.m.
Mixed..... 7.00 p.m.
Express (night)..... 9.20 p.m.
GOING WEST.
Express (night)..... 10.30 p.m.
Mixed..... 3.00 p.m.
Express (day)..... 10.30 a.m.
Trains leave on Railroad time, which is about twenty-three minutes ahead of Port Hope time.
Warranted correct by the Company's time Table

Montreal Ocean Steamship Co.



Steam to Liverpool, Londonderry and Glasgow.
Rates of Passage from Peterboro':
Cabin, - - $76 to $80. Steerage - $30.
Return Tickets for 6 months at reduced fares
For Through Passage Tickets, Staterooms, and every information, apply to
GEORGE A. COX, Agent.
Canadian Express Co'y.
Peterboro', Nov. 7th, 1866. 48

GREAT WESTERN RAILWAY
OF CANADA.
TORONTO LINE.
TORONTO, &c., TO HAMILTON.
Accommodation trains leave Yonge street Station at 7.00 a.m., 8.50 p.m. and 6.55 p.m.
Express at 12.55 p.m.
HAMILTON, &c., TO TORONTO.
Accommodation trains leave Hamilton at 7.15 a.m., 9.50 a.m. and 7.25 p.m.
Express at 3.45 p.m.

PIANOS,
MELODEONS, ORGANS
D. PENTLAND,
Is now Agent for A. & S. Nordheimer for the sale of the following celebrated Pianos:—
Chickering & Sons'; Sieinway & Sons'; Dunham & Son's; Haines Brothers'; Ernest Gabler; and J. W. Vose's.
Also, for the world-wide Celebrated Organs and Melodeons—Gen. A. Prince & Co., Buffalo; Mason & Hamlin's, Boston.
Instruction Books for Piano & Organ, Sheet Music, &c always on hand.
References.—Mr. F Bell, Organist, St. John's Church, Peterboro; Mr. D. D. Galletly, Choris; ter, Canada Presbyterian Church, Peterboro; Cr. J. I. Davidson, Precentor, St. Andrew's March, Peterboro; Dr. Taylor, Peterboro.
Peterboro, April 5th, 1871. 14

THE CANADIAN
BANK OF COMMERCE
CORNER OF
Hunter and Water Streets, Peterboro'
☞ Interest allowed on Deposits.
J. A. HALL, Manager
Peterboro, July 27, 1870. 30

THOS. MENZIES,
Now being the authorized Ticket Agent for the Grand Trunk Railway, can supply the public with
Tickets to all parts of Canada,
Also to any part of the United States.
Charges the same as at any of the Stations on the G. T. R. So get your Tickets before leaving Peterboro, and save all trouble on your journey.
THOS. MENZIES,
George Street.
Peterboro July 3, 1870 13

PIANOS.
Melodeons and Organs.
R. S. WILLIAMS, & Co.,
Have now a complete stock of the above Instruments on exhibition, at their Rooms, No. 3, Scott's Block, Market Square, to which they invite the attention of parties wishing to purchase.
R. W. ERRETT, Agent.
Peterboro, 7th June, 1871. 23-3mos.

Select Poetry.

Canada's Emblem.

Let older nations proudly praise
The emblems of their fame
That sounding down thro' ages long
Have won immortal name.
Let Britain proudest of them all,
Loud praise her glorious three,
That like her sons are joined as one
To Canada the Free.

Old Erin's Shamrock, England's Rose,
And Scotland's Thistle grand,
All entwine here in Britain's cause
To bring a far off scene.
And nowhere in the wide world o'er
Those glorious emblems three,
Are lov'd and honour'd more than here—
In Canada the Free.

But there's another emblem yet,
Dearer to us than all!
That tells of happy hearts and home,
And freedoms joyous call:
A magic light—a beacon bright
To myriads o'er the sea—
Our emblem chief—the Maple Leaf,
Of Canada the Free.

It bears no tale of ancient feuds,
Betrays no barren soil,
But welcomes to our grand old woods
The sons of sons and toil.
Gives equal rights and equal laws,
To all who'er they be.
Our emblem chief—the Maple Leaf,
Of Canada the Free.

Then while we prize with filial love,
The Shamrock and the Rose
The Thistle and the Fleur-de-Lis,—
Forget me not,—still there grows,
Upon our broad and fertile soil,
A noble forest tree,
With graceful leaf—the emblem chief
Of Canada the Free.

Choice Literature.

A Terrible Temptation.

By Charles Reade.

From Cassell's Magazine.

CHAPTER V.

Sir Charles was behind his time in Mayfair; but the lawyer and his clerk had not arrived, and Miss Somerset was not visible.

She appeared, however, at last, in a superb silk dress, the broad lustre of which would have been beautiful, only the effect was broken and frittered away by six rows of gimp and fringe. But why blame her? This is a blunder in art as universal, as it is amazing, when one considers the amount of apparent thought her sex devotes to dress. They might just as well scare a fair plot of velvet turf with rows of box, or tattoo a blooming and downy cheek.

She held out her hand, like a man, and talked to Sir Charles on indifferent topics, till Mr. Oldfield arrived. She then retired into the back-ground, and left the gentlemen to discuss the deed. When appealed to, she evaded direct replies, and put on languid and imperial indifference. When she signed it, it was with the air of some princess bestowing a favour upon solicitation.

But the business concluded, she thawed all in a moment, and invited the gentlemen to luncheon, with charming cordiality.—Indeed her genuine bonhomie after her affected indifference was rather comic.—Everybody was content. Champagne flowed. The lady, with her good mother-wit, kept conversation going, till the lawyer was nearly missing his next appointment. He hurried away; and Sir Charles only lingered, out of good breeding, to bid Miss Somerset good-bye. In the course of leave taking, he said he was sorry he left her with people about her of whom he had a bad opinion. "Those women have no more feeling for you than stones. When you lay in convulsions, your housekeeper looked on as philosophically, as if you had been two kittens at play—you and Polly."

"I saw her.'

"Indeed! you appeared hardly in a condition to see anything."

"I did, though, and heard the old wretch tell the young monkey to water my virtuous cry. So I had 'em up here; and then there was no more virtuous howling, but a deal of virtuous thieving, and modest drinking, and quiet-handed spying of my master-door to the highest bidder. And they will avenge the boy; and if they do, I'll cut their black hearts out with my sitting-stick. But I suppose I must keep them on; they are my own flesh and blood, and if I was to let ill and dying, they'd die as they knew no more alive—for their own sakes. I'm their milch cow—these country-innocents."

Sir Charles groaned aloud, and, "Upon sight you deserve a better fate than this. Marry some honest fellow, and cut the whole thing."

"I'll see about it. You try it first, and let us see how you like it."

And so they parted gaily.

In the hall Polly encountered Mat. all smiles. He looked at her, smiled in his sleeve, and gave her a handsome present.

"If you please, sir," said she, "an old gentleman called for you."

"When?"

"About an hour ago. Leastways he asked if Sir Charles Barnett was there. I said yes, but you wouldn't see no one."

"Who could it be? Why, surely you never told anybody I was to be here to-day!"

"La, no, sir! how could I?" said Polly, with a face of brass.

Sir Charles thought this very odd, and felt even a little uneasy about it. All the way to Portman Square he puzzled over it; and at last he was driven to the conclusion that Miss Somerset had been weak enough to tell some person, male or female, of the coming interview, and so somebody had called there—doubtless to ask him a favour.

At five o'clock he reached Portman Square, and was about to enter, as a matter of course; but the footman stopped him. "I beg pardon, Sir Charles," said the man, looking pale and agitated; "but I have strict orders. My young lady is very ill."

"Ill! Let me go to her this instant."

"I daren't, Sir Charles, I daren't. I know you are a gentleman; pray don't lose me my place. You would never get to see her. We none of us know the rights, but there's something up. Sorry to say it, Sir Charles, but we have strict orders not to admit you. Haven't you got the Admiral's letter, sir?"

"No: what letter?"

"He has been after you; sir; and when he came back, he sent Roger off to your house with a letter."

A cold chill began to run down Sir Charles Bassett. He hailed a passing hansom, and drove to his house, to get the Admiral's letter; and, as he went, he asked himself, with chill misgivings, what on earth had happened.

What had happened shall be told the reader precisely but briefly.

In the place, Bella had opened the anonymous letter, and read its contents, to which the reader is referred.

There are people who pretend to despise anonymous letters. Pure delusion! They know they ought to, and so fancy they do; but they don't. The absence of a signature gives weight, if the letter is ably written and seems true.

As for poor Bella Bruce, a dove's bosom was no more fit to rebuff a poisoned arrow than she was to combat that foulest and direst of all a miscreant's weapons, an anonymous letter. She, in her goodness and innocence, never dreamed that any person she did not know could possible tell a lie to wound her. The letter fell on her like cruel revelation from heaven.

The blow was so savage that, at first, it stunned her.

She sat pale and stupefied; but, beneath the stupor, were the rising throbs of coming agonies.

After that horrible stupor, her anguish grew and grew, till it found vent in a miserable cry, rising, and rising, and rising, in agony.

"Mamma! mamma! mamma!"

Yes; her mother had been dead these three years, and her father sat in the next room, yet, in her anguish, she cried to her mother—a cry, the which if your mother had heard, she would have expected Bella's to come to her, even from the grave.

Admiral Bruce heard this fearful cry—the living calling on the dead—and burst through the folding doors in a moment, white as a ghost.

He found his daughter writhing on the sofa, ghastly, and grinding in her hand the cursed paper that had poisoned her young life.

"My child! my child!"

"Oh, papa! see! see!" And she tried to open the letter for him, but her hands trembled so, she could not.

He kneeled down by her side, the stout old warrior, and read the letter, while she clung to him moaning now, and quivering all over from head to foot.

"Why, there's no signature! The writer is a coward and, perhaps, a liar. Stop! he offers a test. I'll put him to it this minute."

He laid the moaning girl on the sofa, ordered his servant to admit nobody into the house, and drove, at once, to Mayfair.

He called at Miss Somerset's house, saw Polly, and questioned her.

He drove home again, and came into the drawing-room, looking as he had been seen to look when fighting his ship; but his daughter had never seen him so. "My girl," said he solemnly, "there's nothing for you to do but to be brave, and hide your grief as well as you can; for the man is unworthy of your love. That coward spoke the truth. He is there at this moment."

"Oh, papa! papa! let me die. The world is to wicked for me. Let me die!"

"Die for an unworth object? for shame! Go to your own room my girl, and pray to your god to help you, since your mother has left us. Oh, how I miss her now! Go and pray and let no one know what we suffer. Be your fathers daughter. Fight and pray."

Poor Bella had no longer to complain that she was not commanded. She kissed him, and burst in a great passion of weeping; but he led her to the door, and she tottered to her own room a blighted girl.

The sight of her was harrowing. Under its influence, the Admiral dashed off a letter to Sir Charles, calling him a villain, and inviting him to go to France, and let an indignant father write scoundrel on his carcass.

But, when he had written this, his good sense and dignity prevailed over his fury; he burnt the letter and wrote another, this he sent by hand to Sir Charles' house, and ordered his servants—but, that the reader knows.

Sir Charles found the Admiral's letter in his letter rack. It ran thus:—

"Sir,—We have learned your connection with a lady named Somerset, and I have since heard that you went from my daughter to her house this very day.

"Miss Bruce and myself withdraw from all connection with you, and I must request you to attempt no communication her, of any kind. Such an attempt would be an additional insult.

"I am, Sir, your obedient servant,

"JOHN UPQUHART BRUCE."

At first, Sir Charles Bassett was stunned by this blow. Then his mind resisted the Admiral's severity, and he was indignant at being dismissed for no common an offence. This gave way to deep grief and shame at the thought of Bella and her lost esteem. But soon all other feelings merged for a time in fury at the villainous treachery, who had struck at the life of innocent love from the first moment it had the misfortune to know you. I conceive it your infidelities—"

"Charles! Don't say that. You never were."

"I indulged your most expensive whims; and instead of leaving you with a penny, as all the rest did that ever knew you, and as you deserve, I bought your consent to lead a respectable life and be blessed with a virtuous love. You took the bribe, but refused me of the blessing—wipes! You have destroyed me body and soul—monster! perhaps blighted her happiness as well; you she devils hate an angel, worse than heaven hates you. But you shall suffer with us: not your heart, for you have none, but your pocket. You have broken faith with me, and sent all my happiness to hell; I'll send your deed to hell, after it!" With this he flung himself upon the deed, and was going to throw it into the fire. Now, up to that moment she had been overpowered by this man's fury whom she had never seen the least angry before; but when he laid hands on her property, it acted like an electric shock. "No! no!" she screamed, and sprang at him like a wild cat.

Then ensued a violent and unseemly struggle, all about the room; chairs were upset, and vases broken to pieces; and the man and woman dragged each other to and fro, one fighting for her property, as if it was her life, and the other for revenge.

Sir Charles, excited by fury, was stronger than himself, and at last shook off one of her hands, for a moment, and threw the deed into the fire. She tried to break from him and save it, but he held her like iron.

Yet not for long. Whilst he was holding her back, and she straining every nerve to get to the fire, he began to show sudden symptoms of distress. He gasped loudly, and cried, "Oh! oh! I'm choking!" and then his clutch relaxed. She tore herself from it, and, plunging forward, rescued the smoking parchment.

At that moment she heard a great stagger behind her, and a pitiful moan; and Sir Charles fell heavily, striking his head against the edge of the fire. She looked around on one knee, and saw him, black in the face, rolling his eyeballs fearfully, while his teeth gnashed awfully, and a little jet of foam flew through his lips.

Then she shrieked with terror, and the blackened deed fell from her hands: at this moment, Polly rushed into the room. She saw the fearful sight, and echoed her sister's scream. But they were neither of them women to lose their heads, and beat the air with their hands. They got to him, and both of them tough: hard with the unconscious sufferer, whose body, in a fresh convulsion, now bounded away from the sofa, and bade fair to batter itself against the ground.

They did all they could to hold him with one arm apiece, and to release his swelling throat with the other. Their nimble fingers whipped off his neckties in a moment; but the distended wind-pipe pressed so against the shirt-button, they could not undo it: then they seized the collar, and, pulling against each other, wrenched the shirt open so powerfully, that the button flew into the air, and tinkled against a mirror a long way off.

A few more struggles, somewhat less violent, and then the face, from purple, began to whiten, the eye-balls fixed; the pulse went down; the man lay still.

"Oh, my God!" cried Rhoda Somerset. "He is dying! To the nearest doctor! There's one three doors off. No bonnet! It's life and death this moment. Fly!"

Polly obeyed; and Dr. Andrews was actually in the room within five minutes.

He looked grave, and kneeled down by the patient, and felt his pulse anxiously.

Miss Somerset sat down, and, being from the country, though she did not look it, began to weep bitterly, and rock herself in rustic fashion.

The doctor questioned her kindly, and she told him, between her sobs, how Sir Charles had been taken.

The doctor, however, instead of being alarmed by these frightful symptoms she related, took a more cheerful view directly. "Then do not alarm yourself unnecessarily," he said. "It was only an epileptic fit."

"Only!" sobbed Miss Somerset. "Oh, if you had seen him! And he lies like death."

"Yes," said Dr. Andrews: "a severe epileptic fit is really a terrible thing to look at: but it is not dangerous in proportion. Is he used to have them?"

"Oh, no, doctor—never had one before. Here she was mistaken, I think.

"You must keep him quiet; and give him a moderate stimulant, as soon as he can swallow comfortably; the quietest room in the house; and don't let him be hungry, night or day. Have food by his bedside; and watch him for a day or two. I'll come again this evening."

The doctor went to his dinner—tranquil.

Not so those he left. Miss Somerset resigned her own luxurious bed-room, and had the patient laid, just as he was, upon her bed. She sent the page out to her groom, and ordered two loads of straw to be laid before the door; and the watched by the sufferer, with brandy and water by her side.

Sir Charles now might have seemed to be in a pastoral slumber, but for his eyes. They were open, and showed some white, and less purple, than usual.

However, in hope he began to sigh and move, and even mutter, and, gradually, some little color came back to his pale cheeks.

Then Miss Somerset had the good taste to retire, look out of his sight, and write to Polly, who had gone to her own home. She did so, and requesting afterwards, she took cook, (whose housemaid of bounds to her upon which were still pale and even bluish.

The doctor finished and went his daily rounds. They can put the patient to bed.

"His life is out of danger," said he. "I wish I was quite as sure of his reason.

At one o'clock in the morning Sir Charles opened his eyes, and looked around him. Rhoda spent the night watching, and thinking harder than she had ever thought before.

Next morning early, Polly came into the sick room. There sat her sister watching the patient, out of sight.

"La, Rhoda! Have you sat there all night?"

"Yes. Don't speak so loud. Come here. You've set your heart on this thing silk. I'll give it for your black merino."

"Not you, my lady; you are not so fond of mourning, nor of me neither."

"I'm not a liar, like you," said the other beginning herself for a moment, "I'll tell you the truth. I'm fond of you, Polly, and I'm sorry I was cross to you yesterday. There, if you like—only don't wash my spoons in the same water, for mercy's sake!"

Thus affectionately stimulated in her duties, Polly brought cold water galore, and laid out her new merino dress. In this senior suit, with plain linen collar and cuffs, the Somerset dressed herself, and resumed her watching by the bedside. She slept more than ever out of sight for the patient was now beginning to mutter incoherently, yet in a way that showed his clouded faculties were dwelling on the calamity which had befallen him.

About noon the bell was rung sharply, and, on Polly entering, Rhoda called her to the window and showed her two female figures plodding down the street. "Look," said she. "Those are the only women I envy. Sisters of charity. Run you after them, and take a good look at those hoods ugly caps: then come and tell me how to make one."

"Here's a go!" said Polly; but executed the commission promptly.

It needed no fashionable milliner to turn a yard of linen into one of those ugly caps, which are beautiful banner of Christian charity and womanly tenderness to the sick and suffering. The monster cap was made in an hour, and Miss Somerset put it on, and a thick veil, and then she no longer thought it necessary to sit out of the patient's sight.

The consequence was that, in the middle of his ramblings, he broke off, and looked at her. The sister puzzled him. At last he called to her in French.

She made no reply.

"Je suis a l'hopital, n'est ce pas bonne mere?"

"I am English," said she softly.

(TO BE CONTINUED.)

Masonic.—There is a story going the rounds of the press of a young man who is travelling for a Chicago firm. Out in the far West he was arrested, no explanation given in answer to his demands, and he was taken wisely miles into the interior, where he was hailed as a horse-thief, and immediate preparations were made for lynching him. In vain he pleaded and explained. The crowd recognised in him a notorious horse thief, and die he must. He tried to pray for he thought there was no hope. But even while the noose hung over his head a blessed thought struck him. He was a Royal Arch Mason, and in all that crowd there must be Masons. He gave the Grand Hailing Signal, and instantly a prominent citizen was at his side. More Masonic signals followed and the victim was surrounded by some thirty determined men, who held the crowd in bay with pistols. Telegrams were sent to Chicago, answers received, the mob convinced that they had got hold of the wrong man, and "all went merry as a marriage bell." This is said to be a fact.

Originals of Dickens' Characters.—Mrs. Bardwell was a Mrs. Ann Ellis, who kept an eating house near doctor's Commons: a blustering sergeant Bumpus was the original of Sergeant Buzfuz; and Mr. Justice Stareleigh was a caricature, by no means extravagant, of Sir Stephen Gaselee. Mr. Fang Truculent, Bow street, magistrate in "Oliver Twist," was a faithful portrait of Mr. Laing a London police magistrate whose overdoes had long been a subject of bitter criticism in the newspapers. "Oliver Twist" caused his removal. Tradles is said to have been Sir T. N. Talford. Esther Summerson, a Miss Sophia Iselin, sister-in-law of Mason the publisher; and Detective Buckett the well-known Inspector Field, with whom Dickens made several interesting tours of observation. In "Dombey and son," several characters are said to be drawn from nature. Mr. Dombey is supposed to represent Mr. Thomas Chapman, ship owners whose offices were opposite the Wooden Midshipman. As if to make Chapman undoubtedly identical with Dombey we have, as messenger of the commercial house of "Dombey and Sons," on Perch actually taken from a little old chap named Stephen Hale, who was part clerk and part messenger in Mr. Chapman's office. Old Sol Gills was intended for a little fellow named Nicholls, who kept a very small shop in Leadenhall Street exactly opposite the office of Chapman & Co. Captain Cuttle was one David Mainland, master of a merchantman.

A Hint to Young Men.—One day last week, a young merchant who had failed in business, having spent in four years a legacy of ten thousand dollars, in addition to any profits which he might have realized, was met by a thrifty young mechanic, who had formerly been on terms of some intimacy with him. During the conversation that ensued, the merchant said to him, "How is it, Harry, that you have been able to live and have money on the small sum which you received for your services, while I found it impossible to live in my business, with a good round ten thousand to back me?"

"O said the mechanic, that is easily understood. I have lived with reference mostly to the opinions and tastes of others. It costs more to please the eye than to keep the stomach full.

How to Choose a Doctor.

Mr. J. K. Bangs, in the Mistress (American) talks on how to choose a doctor. He says:—"We have read somewhere about 'how to choose a wife,' somewhere else about 'how to buy a house and somewhere, too, we've seen a paper on 'make a garden,' or 'save the rat in sheep,'—yes, we have read 'how to get rich,' and how to do everything under the sun except how to choose a doctor. Since we cannot find an article about how to choose a doctor, we will e'en write one. To be a doctor, one must first be a man, and a mere man cannot be a good doctor, any more than he can be a good minister or a good husband. And a really honest, large and loving man, cannot make a poor doctor no matter what his pet paths may be. To have good sense as a doctor one must have good sense as a man. If your doctor is a simpleton about other things, you may be sure that he is a ninny as to medicine and surgery. If the Doctor's office be not fly and vile to smell of, you may be quite certain that he will come short of giving good counsel as to health and sickness of the baby. It be to clumsy in holding the horse, you may be sure that he is not handy in carving or midwifery. If he is a greasy, to much round rosy full visaged of drops, a tea-bibber, farmer-hating person, you may be sure that he will lack perception of those finer symptoms by which a good physician is guided. If he slanders brother physicians, who profess a different system from his own, you may be sure that he himself is a quack. Gad, earnest doctors are too busy to find time to slander their brethren in their visits. To be all the same with lawyers, ministers and teachers. The truly educated truly great do not detract from the reputation of others, they are generous and magnanimous even to rivals. If your doctor flatters you and humors your lusts and appetites, and helps you out of a bad scrape generally, without reproof as if you had done nothing wrong, distrust him. If you can hire him to do or say what he would not do without the hire, beware of him. Good doctors cannot be bought. Your doctor ought not to be a single man. He ought to have a wife and children, and if you see his wife respects him and his children obey him, that is a very good sign that he can govern. If your doctor tells you to keep well, that is a good sign. If he cubes to talk with toothache, and he uses your tooth as a wedge to split kindlings with, and at the same time suggests that you do not wash enough to keep well—that is a good sign. If the children like him that is a sign. If you find him reading in his office, that is a good sign, and especially if you hear him say, "I once thought so and so, but I was wrong," that is a good sign. If the doctor is neat and handy in very long pills and kidding powders, that is to be regarded as a suspicion. If he understands how to bud roses, graft fruit trees, mix strawberry pollen for improved berries, cure chickens pip, and tinge a trunk look, or puts a clock in order, all these are so much to his credit. If, further, you love to meet him, the sight of him quickens you, and you are glad to hear him chat; and you know him sure to be a loveable, sympathetic man—he's the man for your doctor, your confidential friend—find him, trust him.

Josh Billings' Papers.

HABITS OF GRATE MEN.

Habits are like horns on the little toze, the result of tite boots.

Habits are likewise the knooks in an ordinary dog's tail, natural as life, but seldom useful or ornamental.

George Washington Crabb, Esq., the wonderful astronomer of the 4th century, always took his observations of the sun's perigrammum on one tenderl knee, when his eye was turned inturied to the cope in a sour apple, and his left shinbone bandaged with with a solution of sheet iron.

In this way he discovered Cassir, one of the signs of the zodiac, and it has ever since bore its name in English.

Geezer also wore an uprite collar, about one foot in upriteness, and always used his intestines for shoe strings.

He was a grate man and had sum habits.

He died in due time.

He hasn't been seen since.

His was inconsolable to a large amount.

His widow is also no more now, she sailed oph this mortal shuffle in good shape, as the reasonable age of 86.

If her skitual ashes are still extant, I say boldly, "peace to her ashes."

If her ashes kant be found, I am willing to be one or ten to make any other arrangement that will pay.

Rev. Moses Hickerstaff wrote three sermons of his, that struck mortal firmament from dan to berksheb, upon the head of a flower barrel, with a hory pen made from the dorsal feather thru of an albatross retreat.

He used ink made from an extrakt of mildues, combined with the perspiration of a confirmed Ethiopian.

He had a way of leering with his left eye, when he preached, which history said was good.

Hickerstaff wore his hat without enny brim to it, nor enny crown, and sitens put on his left boot last.

He, like all those who live before the flood is now departed to dethy, but his way of doing things (on the bed of a flower barrel), though often tried on has never been badly beat yet.

Doktor Henry Magnum, M. D., was a doktor.

He was rather a weak sister and always rode sideways, on a side-saddle.

He had one strong point; he never giv up a peshunt until he was plumpsted.

His eksentricity was thred.

He always used a wooded spoon made of wood.

When he eat, his mouth always flu open to the krook of his elbo.

He never eat enny molassis during his sweet life.

He made all of his pills down cellar.

He is sed to hav had, during his life, a thousand stydents ov medisin, but history sez they didn't any of them equal Magnum, only in hiz oddity.

Doktor Magnum worked in physick about 46 years after the landing of the pilgrims on Mount Arrvrat, and I presume is now dead and gone, or too old for a full days work.

He wrote a book on rats (as a dire necessity) which was a standard for meny generashuns ov rats.

This book was translated into Hindoo, and thus was lost, by being burnt with a wider, in a pluneral scrape.

Ebenezer Smize was probably one of the most talianted exzentricks that ever smiled.

He was a landlord on the Himmelay mountains, and was the author of Gin.

Ten thousand pmupny thing ov his hav bin handed down, and all lost.

The most truly wonderful odd markedness of all his peculiarness was his way of smiling.

He could smile and drink a gin-cocktail at once and at the same time.

This naturally of his has been imitated so much since, that the original idee is all worn out.

He has had several immitators who have out smiled their daddy.

History sez he could smile a pint of gin a day, without any water in it.

But a pint of gin, now days, would hardly raze a smile of contempt.

Ebenezer Smize was a bachelor, and history sez his father was also one before him.

This man has also no immitators.

Ebenezer died with a smile on his countenance, or just after one.

I hav hern to the frankincense that the exsentricities ov genius pass in the world ov sirs, and are mistaken by the owners ov it for sense, and has made more phools, bi those who hav exsentrated them,) than the lord ever has.

Ebenezer Smize was a harde poor original enny how.

Ebenezer has exhausted life, but he has left a hiter smile behind him.

Oh! the sarkasm in the smile of the sarkastic!

GREAT EXCITEMENT!

AT

W. FAIRWEATHER & Co's

Cheap Sale.

GREATEST BARGAINS EVER HEARD OF

IN PETERBOROUGH.

Good Silk Mantles $1.50, worth $5.00.

Good Rich Grosgrain Silk $4.50 worth $10.00.

Good " Trimmed with Real Lace (beautiful) only $7.50, worth $14.00.

Good White Serge Jackets only $1.25.

Good Summer Shawls $1.00 and $1.50,

Good White and Colored Kid Gloves, 37½ cts.

Good Gentlemens' do 50 cts worth $1.25

Cottons, Prints, Dress Goods, and all Domestics equally reduced.

WANTED,

A GOOD SALESMAN AND AN APPRENTICE TO THE BUSINESS.

June 21st, 1871. 25

To Boot and Shoe Manufacturers.

MESSRS. LARMOUR & SARNEY being about to give up the Manufacturing Department, offer

FOR SALE BY PRIVATE CONTRACT!

At the New Dominion Boot and Shoe Store, George Street, Peterboro,

THE ENTIRE STOCK OF THEIR WORKSHOP,

CONSISTING OF

Two Wanzer Manufacturing Machines; Treeing & Crimping Machines; Upper Leather, Native and French Calf, and a quantity of No. 1 Spanish Sole Leather. Also,

LASTS, FINDINGS, &c.,

Necessary to fit up a First-Class Custom Shop.

If not disposed of by the 1st of July, the above will be offered by Public Auction of which due notice will be given.

L. & S. will in future devote their entire attention to Sale Work, of which they will keep a stock to suit all classes, at prices that defy competition.

Peterboro' June 20th, 1871. 25

Notice of Dissolution.

The Partnership heretofore existing between the undersigned, under the firm of Ferguson & Elder, has been this day dissolved by mutual consent.

Dated at Peterborough, 17th June, A. D. 1871.

JOHN FERGUSON,
JOHN ELDER.

Witness,
C. C. ROBB. 25-3ins

PETERBORO' UNION AND HIGH SCHOOLS!

SEMI-ANNUAL EXAMINATIONS.

The public Semi-Annual Examinations of the pupils of the Peterboro' Union & High Schools, will take place in the following order:

Tuesday Afternoon, June 27th

1½ to 4½ o'clock—Principals, Miss Hatton's, Mr. Clarke's, and Mr. McFall's Divisions.

Wednesday Afternoon, June 28th.

1½ to 4½ o'clock—Mr. Taylor's, Miss Beattie's, Mr. Braden's, Miss Borrowman's, and Mrs. Flavelle's Divisions.

Thursday Afternoon, June 29th,

1½ to 4 o'clock—Miss Stratton's, Miss Leeb's and Miss Dowling's Divisions.

JAMES B. DIXON, M.A.,
Principal

25-1ins.

TEACHER WANTED!

A FEMALE TEACHER, holding a Second Class Certificate, for School Section No. 4, Harvey. Duties to commence immediately,

ARCH. JOHNSTON,
HENRY GRAHAM,
THOS. HATTON. } Trustees.

Harvey, June 19, 1871. 25-1 ins

MIDLAND Railway of Canada.

ON and after THURSDAY, the 8th day of JUNE, 1871, Trains will run as follows:

TRAINS MOVING SOUTH.—MAIL.

Beaverton Depart ..... 2.30 p. m.
Lindsay, Arrive ..... 4.00 p. m.
Millbrook, Arrive ..... 5.43 p. m.
Port Hope, Arrive ..... 7.00 p. m.

TRAINS MOVING NORTH.—MAIL.

Port Hope, Depart ..... 8.30 a. m.
Millbrook, Arrive ..... 9.50 "
Lindsay Arrive ..... 11.15 "
Beaverton, Arrive ..... 1.00 p. m.

TRAINS MOVING SOUTH.—MIXED.

Lindsay, Depart ..... 8.55 a. m.
Millbrook, Arrive ..... 11.00 "
Port Hope, Arrive ..... 12.30 p. m.

TRAINS MOVING NORTH.—MIXED.

Port Hope, Depart ..... 2.40 p. m.
Millbrook, Arrive ..... 3.55 p. m.
Lindsay, Arrive ..... 5.25 p. m.

PETERBOROUGH SECTION.

TRAINS MOVING SOUTH.—MAIL.

Lakefield, Depart ..... 2.52 p. m.
Peterborough, Arrive ..... 3.05 p. m.
Millbrook, Arrive ..... 4.06 "
Port Hope, Arrive ..... 5.30 "

TRAINS MOVING NORTH.—MAIL.

Port Hope, Depart ..... 10.00 a. m.
Millbrook, Arrive ..... 11.12 a. m.
Peterborough, Arrive ..... 12.05 p. m.
Lakefield Arrive ..... 1.00 p. m.

TRAINS MOVING SOUTH.—MIXED.

Peterborough, Depart ..... 3.20 a. m.
Millbrook Arrive ..... 6.25 "
Port Hope, Arrive ..... 7.30 "

TRAINS MOVING NORTH.—MIXED.

Port Hope, Depart ..... 4.10 p. m.
Millbrook Arrive ..... 5.32 "
Peterborough, Arrive ..... 6.35 "

H. G. TAYLOR,
Superintendent of Motive Power and Trains.

June 20, 1871. 25

Iron Clad Trees

W. C. Lawrence,

FRUIT TREE DEALER,

Will personally canvass the Townships of Otonabee, Asphodel, Dummer, Douro, and the Burleigh Road, between the present and the 1st of November next, for orders for Apple and other Fruit Trees. W. C. L. has been over this ground for the last 4 years, and the trees supplied are acknowledged to be the best ever introduced into this County. Orders received by D. G. Anderson, Esq., Crown Land Agent, G. McIlmoyl, Esq., of Lakefield, or at this office Reference can be made to the following gentlemen:—

Thos. Buck, Esq., Thos. Blezard, Esq., T. Welsh, Esq., of Otonabee, T. Coughlin, Esq., A. Shearer, Esq., Asphodel, Moses Humphrey, Esq., David Drain, Esq., and Jordan Crow, of Dummer, W. Abbot, Esq., Roland Strickland, Esq., R. T. Desch, Esq., of Douro, Edward Sanderson, Esq., Giles Stone, Esq., Burleigh Road.

N. B.—Mr. McIlmoyle will canvass Smith and Ennismore.

25-6mos

SIGN OF

THE GOLDEN ANVIL!

I have on hand my usual supply of Seasonable Goods.

Grass and Cradle Scythes,
Hay, Manure, and Barley Forks,
Snaths, Wood and Iron Bow
Rakes, Hoes, Fork Handles,
Spades, Shovels,

CRADLES IN GREAT VARIETY

Fishing Tackle, Bird Cages, Electro-Plated Goods, Pocket & Table Knives

(Extra Quality.)

Builders' Hardware,

And a Good Stock of English and American Shelf Goods.

JOHN BERTRAM,

June 14th, 1871. 24

WANTED.

A TEACHER for SCHOOL SECTION No. 6 SMITH. Duties to commence the 3rd July. Applications to be addressed to

JAMES SAULTER,
Box 8, North Douro.

June 14th, 1871. 24-tf.

DR. LANG,

PHYSICIAN, SURGEON, &c. Office—Dr. Gilchrist's old stand, Keene, Ont.

In connection, a Drug Store has been opened with a full supply of Drugs, Medicines, Perfumery, Toilet Sets, Dye Stuffs, Fancy Articles, and everything usually kept in a first-class Drug Store.

Keene, June 13th, 1871. 24-tf

TAKEN BY MISTAKE!

From Uin's Hotel, Peterborough, on 23rd of May, last, a parcel containing a

BAND UNIFORM SUIT,

Consisting of White Coat, Serge Pants and Red Cap, to be returned to Uin's Hotel.

Any person retaining them after this notice, will be prosecuted.

Peterboro, June 14th, 1871. 24-1in*

PIANOS, Melodeons and Organs.

R. S. WILLIAMS, & Co.,

Have now a complete stock of the above instruments on exhibition, at their Rooms No. 2, Scott's Block, Market Square, to which they invite the attention of parties wishing to purchase.

R. S. ERRETT,
Agent.

Peterboro, 7th June, 1871. 23-3mos.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

Iron Clad Trees.—W. C. Lawrence.

Teacher Wanted.—S. S. No. 6 Smith.

Notice of Dissolution.—Ferguson & Elder.

Change of Time Table.—Midland Railway.

Peterboro' Union and High Schools.—J. B. Dixon, Principal.

Boot and Shoe Manufacturers.—Larmour & Sarney.

The Peterborough Examiner

PETERBOROUGH, JUNE 22, 1871.

Editorial Items.

The late frosts have done considerable damage to beans, corn and potatoes in several localities.

It is reported that a Mr. Hobson, of Norwood, while accompanying a visitor homeward lately, was accidentally struck with a coulter of a plough, and severely, though we learn, not dangerously hurt.

The Volunteers of the Peterborough Battalion left yesterday for Kingston, to put in their annual drill. There was a large number of persons at the station to see them off.

We would draw the attention of our lady readers the great inducements offered at the Cheap Sale of W. Fairweather & Co., preparatory to the extension of their present premises, which speaks well for the enterprise and growth of the firm.

CONCERT.—Prof. F. Bonnevitz, late pianist to the King of Portugal, will appear in Peterborough, on Wednesday evening, 5th July, assisted by a select company, composing Miss Isabella McCulloch and Sig. Bonconi, from the Academy of Music, New York. All desirous of a rich musical treat should avail themselves of the opportunity.

We learn that at a meeting of the Directors of the East Peterboro Agricultural Society, held at Warsaw, on Tuesday, the 20th instant, it was decided to hold the Annual Exhibition of the Society at Warsaw, on Thursday and Friday, the 5th and 6th of October next. A large, liberal and varied Prize List was also prepared, and the judges for the several classes appointed.

FIRE IN SMITH.—The fine Brick residence of Mr. John Bell, in the 4th Con. of Smith, was entirely consumed by fire, during the afternoon of last Wednesday. When first noticed, the fire was in the wood-shed attached to the house, in which was a large quantity of dry stove wood, and as the wind at the time was blowing sharp from the North West, it at once communicated with the kitchen, and spread with such rapidity as to envelope the entire premises in less than half an hour after its first appearance. Mr. Geo. A. Elliott, observing the fire, hastened to the place, and in the absence of Mr. Bell, aided by Robert Johnston and John Ball, succeeded by almost superhuman exertions, and at considerable peril in saving the greater part of the furniture; but that in their own bed room, kitchen, and nearly all the clothes of the family were destroyed.—There was an Insurance of $1,000 on the building, and a small one on the contents, but this will fall several hundred dollars short of restoring the loss sustained. Miss Bell went up stairs to throw out bedding and furniture, and while there, had egress cut off, and had to leap to the ground, in which she escaped uninjured.

Cricket Match.

A match was played at Lakefield, on Saturday, June 17th, 1871, between the Peterborough and Lakefield Clubs. The weather was all that could be desired, and the game perfectly friendly. The following is the score:

PETERBORO.

Dixon, b. Beagley	2
Neville, b. Clarin	1
Rackham, ct. Strickland, b. Clarin	0
Wallace, b. Beagley	0
Hall, run out	1
Taylor, b. Arnott	16
Colville, b. Beagley	2
Nesbitt, b. Arnott	1
Weller, b Beagley,	0
Denny, b. Arnott	1
McDonald, not out	2
Total runs	26
Wide Balls	1
Byes	1
Grand Total	28

LAKEFIELD.

W. H. Blackman, run out	15
J. Clarin b. Rackham	6
D. Arnott, run out	0
Dr. Steele, ct. and b. Nesbitt	5
A. Dinwoodie, ct. Nesbitt, b. Colville.	0
G. Sheffield, run out	3
J. Beagley, ct. Denny, b. Colville	19
R. C. Strickland, b. Colville	4
H. Fraser, run out	0
R. G. Strickland, ct. Denny	1
A. Knox, not out	4
Total runs	57
Wide Balls	5
Byes	24
Leg Byes	1
Grand Total	87

PETERBORO 2nd INNINGS.

Dixon, b. Arnott	4
Neville, b. Beagley	0
Rackham, b. Arnott	7
Wallace, not out	1
Hall, ct. Dinwoodie, b Beagley	1
Taylor, b. Arnott	2
Colville, b. Arnott	0
Nesbitt, b. Arnott	0
Weller, b. Arnott	0
Denny, ct. Clarin, b. Beagley	0
McDonald, b. Arnott	10
Total runs	25
Byes	3
No Balls	1
Leg Byes	1
Grand Total	30

LAKEFIELD, 2nd INNINGS.

W. H. Blackman, b. Taylor	15
J. Clarin, b. Taylor	4
D. Arnott, b. Taylor	1
Dr. Steele, b. Taylor	4
A. Dinwoodie, run out	0
G. Sheffield, b. Colville	4
J. Beagley, ct. Wallace, b. Colville	12
H. Fraser, b. Taylor,	3
R. C. Strickland, not out	0
A. Knox, b. Taylor	4
R. G. Strickland, ct. Wallace, b. Colville	5
Total runs	52
Wide Balls	1
Byes	6
No Balls	1
Leg Byes	1
Grand Total	61

Majority for Lakefield, 90.

The corporation of Sherbrooke have made a cash gift of $5,000 to the Paton Manufacturing Company of that place, and exempted the mill from taxation for twenty years. The present mill, which is to be doubled in capacity soon, pays in wages $60,000 a year.

Presentation.

The Non-Commissioned officers and men of No. 4 Company, 57th Batt., presented their Captain, Mr. W. J. Green, on Tuesday evening, in the Drill Shed, with a handsome [illegible] The presentation took place complete [illegible] the following

ADDRESS:

To Capt. Green,—

We, the members of No. 4 Company, 57th Batt., take this opportunity of expressing our heartfelt thanks for the manner in which you have for the last three years been instrumental in sustaining and advancing the interests of our Company, and also the kindness and consideration you have ever displayed in regard to the most trifling wants of both officers and men at home and in camp; and at the same time, beg your acceptance of this Sword as a slight token of the estimation in which you are held by us; and should it happen that there will be occasion for unsheathing it for the protection of our Queen and Sovereign, (which we trust there never will,) you will find that we shall be proud and happy to follow the leadership of Captain Green.

G. H. LESLIE,
Color-Sergt.

On behalf of the Company.

REPLY.

To Color Sergt Leslie, and Non-Commissioned Officers and men of No. 4 Company 57th Battalion:

It affords me very great pleasure to be the recipient from you this evening of this very handsome testimonial of your esteem for me, as Captain of your Company. I shall ever treasure it as a momento of our many associations, as men who are preparing ourselves to take our share in the defence of our country and our homes against any aggressor who may be foolish or wicked enough to pollute our soil with their presence; and I hope that if ever I am called upon to use this sword against the foe, I shall do it in such a manner as shall be a credit to my Company and myself.

In conclusion I would say, that, as in the past, so in the future, I shall always feel it a pleasure to do my utmost to secure the happiness and comfort of my men, at home or in camp.

Thanking you for your handsome gift, I remain,

Yours, &c.,
W. J. GREEN, Capt.

County Council.

The Council met on Tuesday. Present—The Warden, R. D. Rogers, Esq., and Messrs. Walton, Sanderson, Millar, Blezard, Hunter, Meher, Moloney, S. S. Peck, F. Peck, McFarlane, Ross, Harrison, Armstrong, Buck, Parker, Collins and McCarthy.

The Warden took the Chair about 3 o'clock, P. M.

The minutes of the previous meeting of Council were read over and confirmed.

The Warden read the following address

WARDEN'S ADDRESS.

GENTLEMEN,—In addition to the usual business of the session, in equalizing the Assessment Rolls, and making provision for the current expenses of the County, there are are several matters to which I feel it my duty to call your attention.

Since our last meeting a statute has been passed by the Legislature, in which a clause was inserted, purporting to make law a certain by-law which had been proposed, but which had not been passed by this Council. As this is a most unusual proceeding of the Legislature, and as the said clause was inserted without having been petitioned for, without notice having been given or any of the formalities usual in passing bills, creating and levying taxes, I beg to call your serious attention to the matter, and request you to decide whether some action should not be taken by this Council upon it.

A letter has been received from the Provincial Secretary requiring to take immediate steps for the erection of a new Registry Office in accordance with the requirements of the Inspector, he having pronounced the present office insecure and unsuitable.

Having received several communications from M. Boyd, of Bobcaygeon, respecting the bridge over the branch of the river called the Little Bob, I went up with Mr. Walton to see what was required, and we agreed that Mr. Boyd might make a way of passing boats or scows through the said bridge, provided he did it at his own expense, and did not obstruct the travel over it. We found the road on the boundary south of Bobcaygeon in a very bad state and the Warden of the County of Victoria having informed me that the Council had authorized him to assist in repairing the said road, I beg to recommend an appropriation to be made for that purpose.

Under the New School Act the Council is required to appoint an Inspector of Schools, and a Board of Examiners.

I have received some communications from the Minister of Public Works respecting the dam and bridge at Whitla's Rapids, which will be laid before the Committee on Roads and Bridges.

I have been notified by the Jailor that certain repairs are needed on the roof of the Court House, and the yard walls.

I am, gentlemen,
Yours respectfully,
R. D. ROGERS,
Warden.

Moved by Mr. Meher, seconded by Mr. Ross,—That the following be a Committee on the Warden's address, viz:—Messrs. Ross, Walton, Millar, S. S. Peck, and Armstrong.

Moved by Mr. Meher, seconded by Mr. Ross,—That the following persons be a committee to to equalize the Assessment Rolls:—Messrs. Walton, Millar, S. S. Peck, Armstrong, Harrison, Collins, Moyer and Secondar.—Carried.

S. S. Peck, Esq., reported on the expenditure of the $10,000 on the Bobcaygeon road. Before doing so, notes were read from the Crown Lands' Department, and also from the Treasurer of the County of Victoria, enclosing accounts in detail of the same expenditure. He also explained what trouble he had taken to secure properly audited accounts so as to give a full and correct statement. He also read a Certificate from the Warden of Victoria, and A. M. Boyd, as follows;

We have carefully inspected the work performed under the management of S. S. Peck, Esq., on the Bobcaygeon Road, and have also examined the accounts in connection therewith, and feel satisfied that the money has been justly and judiciously applied, and that the Road is now in good condition.

(Signed)
JOSEPH STAPLES,
Warden Co. Victoria.
M. BOYD.

Bobcaygeon, June 13th, 1871.

Moved by Mr. Armstrong, seconded by Mr. Moher.—That the statement made by S. S. Peck, and the certificates produced be received by this Council as satisfactory, in reference to the expenditure of money's on the Bobcaygeon Road.' Mr. Peck made explanations, and after some discussion the resolution was carried.

Mr. Peck stated the completion of the Red Lake and Pigeon Creek Bridges would be prepared to report on the Bridges to-morrow.

Mr. McFarlane asked for an opinion of the Council as to the control of Township Councils over money grants to Statute Labor commissioners by the County Council.

Several members expressed themselves that the Township Councils had no power over the moneys, as the Commissioners have to render accounts to the County Council.

Mr. McFarlane then put the question to the Warden. Has the Municipal Council anything to do with the money granted by this Council? The Warden replied that he believed the Township Councils had nothing whatever to do with it.

The Council then adjourned to 10 o'clock on Wednesday.

WEDNESDAY FORENOON.

The Council met at 12 o'clock. All the members but Mr. Coughlin, who is reported ill.

The minutes of yesterday were read and confirmed. The Council adjourned till 2 o'clock, no reports being ready by committees.

WEDNESDAY AFTERNOON.

The Council met. All the members present but Mr. Coughlin.

Mr. Rose read the report of the committee on the Warden's address.

Mr. F. Peck moved the adoption of the report, seconded by Mr. Armstrong.

Mr. Millar objected to the clause referring to the Memorial to the Governor-General, in reference to the Railway By-law.

Mr. Harrison favored the views of Mr. Millar, believing that the Council had done wrong before in not passing the By-law after the people had approved of it.

Mr. Ross, although signing the report, was opposed to that portion of it.

Mr. Armstrong was in favor of the report.

Mr. Millar moved that the second clauses be struck out.

Yeas—Messrs. Miller, Blezard, Parker, Buck, Ross and Harrison.

Nays—Messrs. Walton, Sanderson, S.S. Peck, Collins, F. Peck, Meher, MacFarlane, Moloney and McCarthy.

The Report was adopted.

On motion of Mr. Millar, the Candidates for Inspectors of Public Schools were heard before the Council.

Messrs. Moore, Brown, McFeal and Stratton each addressed the Council.

A deputation from Otonabee, consisting of Messrs. Matchett, Morton and McCannon, addressed the Council, asking for a grant to repair the approach to the Wallace Point Bridge on the Otonabee side.

This was referred to Road and Bridge Committee.

On Motion of Mr. Armstrong the petition of Mr. Copperthwaite was referred to the Committee on petitions.

Moved by Mr. Millar, seconded by Mr. Blezard, that the council wishes to have an understanding what remuneration the past, present and future, shall have for extra services and contingencies, that the council supposed by a resolution passed in this council, the $100 voted was to be in full for all extra services in connection with said office as warden, and that this resolution be referred to the Finance Committee.—Carried.

The following communication from P. Pearce, Esq., was referred to the Finance Committee:

GENTLEMEN,—I have been informed by the clerk of the peace that the auditors refused to allow postage paid by him for returns of convictions and accounts from justices and constables, and that, unless the postage is prepaid in future, on such returns, they will not be taken from the post office. You are aware that in many cases the magistrates get nothing for their time attending to such cases besides furnishing stationery at their own expense, and would respectfully suggest that such postage as may be necessary on the return of conviction be allowed in future.

I have the honor to be,
Gentlemen,
Your obedient servant,
P. PEACE.

The council adjourned till to-morrow morning at ten o'clock.

Latest from Ottawa.

It is reported here that the Collector of Customs for Hamilton is to be superannuated, and that J. E. Smith, the Collector for Toronto, is to be transferred to the office. This will be a reduction in rank instead of promotion. It is further rumoured that Mr. Angus Morrison, M. P., is to get the Toronto Collectorship, as soon as Mr. Smith vacates.

Mr. F. H. Burton is here, and is spoken of in connection with the Ottawa collectorship.

Mr. Ralph Jones, the well-known contractor, is said to have been appointed Inspector of steamboat construction at Lake of the Woods, on the Dawson route.

Sir F. Hincks and Hon. Mr. Dunkin have returned.

Hon. Mr. Vail has been delayed here in consequence of the absence of the Finance Minister. Indeed Ministers give themselves very little uneasiness about public business. And people have to kick their heels here and submit to the good pleasure of the Cabinet.

THE ARCTIC EXPEDITIONS.—The eyes of scientific men are now turned with great eagerness toward the North Pole. For 400 years mankind have been vainly endeavoring to reach it, but the highest latitude reached was seventy-eight degrees Rensellaer Bay, where Dr. Kane's expedition halted for three years to await the breaking up of the ice. Capt. Hall is the latest champion of the long looked for North-West passage, but his expedition is ridiculed by M. Pavy, an explorer of great experience and skill. So impressed has this gentlemen become with the impracticability of reaching the Pole by the route chosen by Capt. Hall, that he intends to start on his own account on the 15th prox. He will start for San Francisco for Cape Jakas, on the north coast of Siberia, which will be the base of his operations. The boat M. Pavy he takes is made of gutta percha, covered with canvass, similar to the Nonparial, which made a voyage across the Atlantic—therefore amply seaworthy. It can float 10,000 pounds weight, and has this great advantage, that when necessary, it can be rolled into a very small compass and strapped on to the sledge. He is provided with a quantity of dog collection, so that there can be no difficulty in taking views with the photographic apparatus he takes. Communication will be kept up with the Russian post at Cape Jakas by carrier pigeons, carrying photographic sketches of his journal. To further his object he is in correspondence with the Russian government, with a view to securing the assistance of their officials in Siberia.

Miscellaneous Items.

The Stratford Beacon suggests that meetings be held in every city, town, and village in Canada and petitions signed to the Queen, praying that the Imperial Statute be passed to the Dominion by the Treaty of Washington. An appeal to the throne of four millions of loyal people, on that subject, the Queen, it is said, would not be ineffectual.

An inquest was held at Kinloss, in Bruce, on the 10th instant, on the body of a young man named Charles Kirkpatrick, of Sullivan township, who had for some days been at work on the W. G. & B. Railway line. It appears that he, with others were in chopping and logging, and near them was a burning tree, which gave way, and struck Kirkpatrick before he had time to make his escape. From evidence produced no blame was attached to anyone.

The Buffalo Commercial Advertiser says:—Canadians and the Fenians can sympathize on at least one subject. They both oppose the ratification of the Treaty of Washington. They find fault with the work of the Joint High Commission because they claim that Canada gives too much. The Fenians protest against the Treaty because it sows the seeds of peace and promises to create a bond of union between Great Britain and the United States. The Canadians are acting foolishly. We believe, however, that those who are the most furious in demonstration have of it all but little influence.

A sensation despatch to the New York World intimates that there is danger of another insurrection through the efforts of the International Society, whose secret strength is said to cause considerable apprehension. But no doubt Marshal McMahon is fully prepared for any attempt at rebellion, and if the outrages at Brussels and the reported conspiracy to assassinate the Pope can be indisputably traced to that society, it will have proved its own greatest enemy.

The rejoicings in Berlin on the occasion of the German triumph terminated with dinners and dancing for the troops, and a grand state operatic performance in the palace, witnessed by the members of the Imperial family and a great number of distinguished personages. The Emperor himself appeared on the stage, closing an allegorical piece entitled the "Legend of Barbarossa," and brought down the house with thunders of applause. There were appropriate thank-giving services in all the churches on Sunday.

The Brampton Banner says that a child of Mr. John Coyne, of that place, fell asleep a few nights ago with a piece of glass in his mouth, unknown to the parents, and awakened in the morning with a feeling that he was choking. He then told of the glass, which caused a good deal of alarm. Their doctor was sent for, and by-and-by he was satisfied that it had passed into the stomach, a good deal of clotted blood indicated that the passage to the stomach had been a good deal lacerated, and the child complained of great pain. Medicine was administered him and he has since the glass.

Further reports give a brief but harrowing description of the fearful consequences of the famine which is rendering desolate the whole eastern half of Persia. The drought of last year is said to be the cause of all the suffering, and no doubt also the carelessness of the people, who never thought of making organized preparations for the expected scarcity. They appear now to accept their fate calmly. Rather than allow their children to starve, however, they are sold as slaves to the wandering tribes to the north and east.

Baron Von Beust has adopted a well-known practice of his northern rival, if we may accept the latest "interviewing" report, and has very candidly expressed to a newspaper correspondent his views upon the important questions of the day among the Austrians. The admirer of Francis Joseph believes—and rightly—that Austria should no longer dabble extensively in European politics, but rather turn her undivided attention to home matters, in order to consolidate the widely different races of the Empire into one grand firm, united nation.

FRENCH HATRED OF PRUSSIA.—The remembrance of the defeat at Waterloo has been completely effaced from the French mind by the overthrow of Sedan. While the name of England is venerated—even by the communists—for the timely assistance given to the capital when famine and pestilence were upon it, Prussia is declared to be the "forever cursed enemy" of la belle France. Frenchwomen now take their children to the altar and make their young lips swear the oath of Hannibal. It is not too much to presume that the first effort of reconstructed France will be the humbling of victorious Germany. Our despatches this morning show that the spirit burns with undiminished ardor in the breasts of the people, and that if circumstances permitted, they would set about gaining bitter revenge for the series of calamities inflicted upon them by their conquerors. The Siecle urges the union of all classes and parties in the country, that vengeance may come quickly. The people—the Parisians especially—will not allow that they have been beaten on their merits, but ascribe their disasters to Napoleon, whom they charge with throwing them unarmed, unequipped and undisciplined against the most powerful army in Europe. They place implicit faith in what the Duke d'Aleçon thought when he said:—

Can Germans face our Norman race in the conflicts awful shock?
Brave the war cry of "Britisay," the shout of "Languedoc?"

They were just as savage over their humiliation this time fifty-six years ago when the news of the final overthrow of the First Emperor reached Paris. They swore then by all that was holy and profane to take terrible reckoning from the "nation of shopkeepers," but better sense prevailed, and will, let us hope, prevail now, when the flood of madness abates and the landmarks of reason once more appear.

Reconstruction of France.

Versailles, June 19.—M. Ponyer-Quertier, who has been seriously ill, has recovered his health and resumed his duties as Minister of Finance.

The father and mother of General Russel have implored mercy for their son, of M. Thiers, but the President is uncompromising, and says the law must take its course.

The press continue their attack upon the Bonapartists.

The Figaro praises Count de Chambord.

The Siecle urges the union of the Republicans against the Prussians, their real enemy, for ever cursed.

London, June 19.—The Times' specials from Paris say the Prussians have evacuated Rouen, and 8,000 have left St. Denis and Genesee. M. Rouher is expected in Paris.

Paris, June 19.—A special to the World says: Indications of the renewal of the insurrection multiply. The workingmen openly insult the soldiers. Attempts at assassination and incendiarism continue. The elections will result in the return of the International candidates. During the last two days 20 officers of the Commune have been arrested, half of whom are foreigners. The re-organization of the Central Committee and its proclamations excite great dismay.

The new loan will be offered on the 26th of June, bearing 5 per cent interest at 82.

Paris, June 19, evening—La Liberte says that Felix Pyat was arrested to-day.

Twenty-five hundred women, convicted of setting fire or attempting to, set fire to buildings in Paris, have been sentenced to transportation to New Caledonia.

Communists will soon return to France.

Versailles, June 19.—The Assembly to-day passed a bill giving the widows of 25 more civil functionaries residing in France, the right to vote, and thereby them eligible to the Assembly.

Letter from the Hon. George Brown

To John O'Donohoe, Patrick Hanlon, Jr., Merrick and Thomas McCracken, Esq.; A Committee acting on behalf of prominent Catholics from all sections of Ontario.

The following letter from the Hon. Geo. Brown has been the subject of so many newspaper articles, that we give it in full. A careful perusal will show that it contains nothing so terrible as was insinuated.

GENTLEMEN, I have read with care the paper you have been good enough to place in my hands, with the request that I should reply to it in writing.

I am in no manner entitled to speak officially for the Reformers of Ontario. At the Convention of 1867 I voluntarily resigned the leadership of that party, and have not since then taken any action in that capacity. Mr. Alexander Mackenzie is now leader of the Liberal party from Ontario in the House of Commons, and Mr. Edward Blake is leader in the Ontario Assembly; they have my most cordial confidence and support, and to them I refer you for an official answer to your questions.

I explained this verbally to you when you did me the honour to call upon me, but you still thought it desirable to have a reply from me, as one who took a prominent part in the agitation which in past years separated the great mass of the Roman Catholic body from the Liberal ranks, and who has reliable personal knowledge of the feelings and sentiments of the Reformers of Ontario. From this stand-point I have no objection to answer your queries. Indeed, I am glad you have given me an opportunity of doing so, and at the same time of vindicating the policy which the party I had so long the privilege of leading in Parliament felt it their duty to inaugurate and carry to a successful termination.

In what I shall shall say, I trust no offence will be taken if I speak frankly and plainly as to matters of past history and the present situation. The action you and co-religionists now take may effect most materially the future stability and prosperity of our young Dominion, and it would be but petty statesmanship to conceal from ourselves either the prejudices that have been created in the past, or the principles of justice and equality on which alone a last reunion of all sections of the liberal party can be formed.

Will you pardon me for making another preliminary observation? I am sure you did not mean to convey that it was either possible desirable that the whole Catholic vote of Ontario could be transferred to one political party. God, for His own wise purposes, has created us of different minds, so that with equal intelligence and equal honesty of purpose, different men will come to totally different conclusions from the same premises; and assuredly it would be most unwise and unjust to constrain Catholics, or any others, to cast their votes in a manner contrary to their conscientious convictions. I quite understand that the entire scope of your present application is to enable you to lay before your Catholic fellow-countrymen the principles and policy to be maintained by the Liberal party of Ontario in the future, so that a large portion of them who hold Reform principles, as contra-distinguished from Conservative principles, may judge whether it is expedient for them to cast in their lot with the great Liberal party.

In the early days of political history of Upper Canada, the great mass of the Roman Catholics were earnest and reliable members of the Reform party. They suffered from Downing street rule, from Family Compacters, from a dominant Anglican Church Establishment and from Clergy Reserves, Rectories and ecclesiastical disabilities, in common with the numerous Protestant bodies who with them were insolently styled "dissenters;" and they fought the battle of civil and religious liberty and equality side by side with their Protestant fellow-Reformers. And had Upper Canada remained as it then was, a separate Province, they would, I doubt not, have fought the same battle up to the hour of its final triumph. The union of Upper and Lower Canada in 1841 was the commencement of a change. The French-Canadian elements then came into the political field and gave the Catholics a position of dominance they had not previously held. From 1843 (when Mr. Baldwin as leader of the Upper Canada Reformers formed a political alliance with Mr. Lafontaine as leader of the French-Canadians), up to the year 1850, the Protestant and Catholic Reformers continued to act together harmoniously. THE GLOBE was the recognized organ of the party in Upper Canada, and I remember with pleasure the intelligent and cordial manner in which the Irish Catholics through these years sustained all Liberal and progressive measures. We were then fighting the battle for Responsible Government in opposition to Sir Charles Metcalfe and his Conservative advisers—which was closed triumphantly in the winter of 1847-48 by a grand success at the polls, and the complete establishment of the great Reform for which we had so long and so earnestly contended.

Messrs Baldwin and Lafontaine came into office in March, 1848, the Reform party was all-powerful in both Houses of Parliament; and the Reformers of Upper Canada had the right to expect that the principal and measures they (Protestant and Catholic alike) had contended for, and been taught by their leaders to expect, would now be carried into full operation. The French Canadian members of the Cabinet and their supporters in Parliament blocked the way. Not only were Reformers refused that which had been promised for years, but principles and measures were urged or endorsed by the Reform Government in direct hostility to the views and feelings of the Reformers of Upper Canada. A large section of the Liberal party became alarmed, and remonstrated; but with no effect. Indignation and estrangement followed. The French Canadians felt their power and used it relentlessly; a section of the Upper Canada Reformers went into opposition, while another section adhered to the Government—and the party became thoroughly disorganized.

Need I remind you of what followed? Although much less numerous than the people of Upper Canada and contributing to the common purse hardly a forth of the annual revenue of the Upper Provinces—the Lower Canadians secured an equal number of representatives with the Upper Canadians to Parliament, and by their united action obtained complete dominancy in the management of public affairs. Acting on the well-known adage "Nous avons le avantage, profitons en!" the French Canadians turned the divisions among Upper Canadians to their own advantage in every possible way. Unjust and injurious legislation, waste and extravagance in every public department, increased debt and heavier taxation, were the speedy consequences, until the credit of the country was seriously imperilled.

A remedy had to be applied to this state of things; and it had to be such a remedy as would overthrow the unjust dominancy of the Lower Canadians over Upper Canada affairs, and remove from the public arena as far as possible all such questions as excited strife and heart-burning among our own people. That remedy was believed by leading men, first, in the adoption of principles of the Rights of Parliamentary representation according to numbers in the Legislature of United Canada, and secondly, in the entire separation of Ontario and [illegible] affairs, all questions of [illegible] Ontario and [illegible] Upper Canada to be settled by the Legislature of Ontario, and those relating to Lower Canada by the Legislature of Quebec. Under the new constitution [illegible] Ontario and Quebec, [illegible] Upper Canada [illegible] Lower Canada [illegible] Ontario [illegible] Quebec lic security, declaring how shown their sincerity by pinning their colours Reformism—not bogus Reform and Clearism, but because they are good men and true all of them—as candidates for place in the assembly, by four most important constituencies, and with every prospect of success. With certainty of success should there follow Catholic electors cast their votes as their forefathers. This the Reform party has done voluntarily, gladly, unbesought candidates, although a vast preponderance of the Catholic electors will in all probability cast their votes in the coming contest in favour of our opponents and against our candidates. I leave you to judge from this how different your positions as Catholics would have been to-day, had we been able to bring forward liberal candidates in other constituencies where, from the strength of the Catholic vote and its opposition to our candidates, we have been unable to make a move. In the position you now occupy, you get but the little you can extort from the fears of those you serve—but as members of the Liberal party you would have all the influence and all the advantages that pledge equality and common interests ensure.

Now, don't mistake the drift of this paper. I am not assuming to advise Catholic Reformers as to the course they should pursue in public affairs. That is for them alone to judge and decide. Neither am I seeking to clank over past feuds or apologise for past occurrences. The principles and measures my party contended for in the past, I contend for still. I glory in the justice and soundness of those principles and measures. I am proud of the men who amid long and bitter discouragement spoke to the good cheer until they carried it to victory—and I point with glad thankfulness to the banishment of religious jealousy and discord that so long rent our country, and to the peace and prosperity that now reign amongst us, as the undeniable fruits of the twenty years' conflict of the great Reform party of Upper Canada.

I have written as I have done simply to show Catholic Reformers in plain language, from a Reform point of view, how the separation between Protestant and Catholic Liberals arose; the great ends for which the agitation was carried on; the signal success that has attended it; and the entire settlement and removal by it of all those questions that barred the way to a reunion of the old Reform party. All I ask is that they shall forget for a few minutes whose names is involved to their paper, and read calmly what is written. Let them lay by at George Brown afterwards as vigorously as they please—but let not their old feuds with him close their eyes to the interests of their country and their own interests as a powerful section of the body politic. I am no longer in Parliament, my hand have no public favours to ask of anybody—but I confess it is with no slight satisfaction I entertain the conviction that the day is near at hand, if indeed it has not already come, when even our Catholic fellow-citizens will be ready to admit that the wisdom and patriotism of the policy of the Reform party from 1854 to 1867 has been amply justified by the great results it has brought about.

I remain,
Gentleman,
Yours truly,
GEO. BROWN.

Globe Office, Toronto,
9th March, 1871.

Canadian Pacific Railway.

A number of incorrect lists of the exploring parties having been published, we now give, from the Ottawa Times, the following, which will be found correct:—

PARTY B—In charge, J G B Lloyd: Transit Man, G F Newcomb; Leveler, E J C Abbot; Asst. Leveler, M C Rollock: Rodman, F Blanchard; Chainmen, Geo Ruant, Jas Mrrrion.

PARTY C—In Charge, J L P O Hanley, Transit Man, C E Michaud; Leveler, T M Mamel; Asst. Leveler, Edward Hay cock; Rodman, E Tetu; Chainmen, J B Sutton, M De Salabery.

PARTY D—In charge, W A Austin Transit Man, James McArthur; Leveler, Percival Woodgate; Asst. Leveler, J I Field; Rodman, J Neenham; Chainmen, F Langan, R Oliver.

PARTY E—In charge C H Gainsby; Transit Man, G A Lloyd; Leveler, D McMilen; Asst. Leveler, A P Patrick; Rodman, T Michaud; Chainmen, Geo Aumond, Wm Irvine.

PARTY F—In charge, B D McConnell; Transit Man, W Wagner; Leveler, Richard Stephens; Asst. Leveler, D R Harris; Rodman, E Gingrass; Chainmen, J F Morin, J P Letarde.

PARTY G—In charge, H A Armstrong: Transit Man, W W Kirpatrick; Leveler, J P McKilvan; Asst. Leveler,——Blatch: Rodman, A Morrison Jr; Chainmen, W E Morgan, W T Helliwell.

PARTY H—In Charge, J G Johnson; Transit Man, David Beatty; Leveler, W Fish; Asst. Leveler, C Roberts; Rodman, W C Mitchell; Chainmen, Denis Leduc, T Dauphore.

PARTY I—In charge, J Fleming; Transit Man, W Burke; Leveler, J B French; Asst. Leveler, Alex Russell; Rodman Ed Rodgers; Chainmen, James A Smith, Ed Allen.

PARTY K—In charge, H E Carle; Transit Man, R Banchor; Leveler, A C Scoreman; Asst. Leveler, Wm Asko;——Burnham; Chainmen, George Cotes, Charles Aylen.

PARTY L—In charge, C James; Transit Man, W A Daly; Leveler, Edward Rowan; Asst. Leveler, W Mainry; Rodman, A Clarke; Chainmen, Stan Livesay, Clep Gagne.

PARTY M—In charge, E U Jarvis; Transit Man, A McNabb; Leveler, C E Perry Asst. Leveler, J. Gray; Rodmen, Charles Harrington; Chainmen, W C Johnson, Stanley Morse.

THE TELEGRAPH announces the death, by an accidental discharge of a pistol, of Clement L. Vallandigham, of Ohio, who for many years had taken an active and somewhat prominent part in American politics. Mr Vallandigham, was one of the stiffest upholders of the doctrines of the Democratic party, and during the rebellion made himself so obnoxious to the Union party that Mr. Lincoln's Government compelled him to leave the Northern States. After a short stay in the South he came to Canada, remaining here untill nearly the close of the war.—Since peace was established he several times has endeavoured to obtain a nomination for some public office, but his views were so extreme that his party were afraid of taking him for their standard-bearer. Within a short time back, however, Mr. Vallandigham has headed a movement now known as the "new departure" of the Democrats. He proposed that his party should "accept the situation," withdraws their opposition to amendments to the constitution, but insisting on a strict interpretation of that instrument in the future. This new policy has met with considerable favour and will be the platform of at least the Northern Democrats in the forthcoming campaign. Unfortunately, Mr. Vallandigham gained now see the fruits of this, the same gunshot pistol which he gave to his friends.

BIRTH.

At North Monaghan, on the 17th inst., Mrs. Joseph Foster, of a son.

MARRIED.

At the residence of the brides brother, Mr. Thomas Donnelly, Peterborough, on 14th instant, by Rev. John W. Satcher, Mr. Thomas Coulter, of Cartwright, to Miss Eliza Donnelly, Smith.

DIED.

At Otonabee, on Monday, 19th instant, Elizabeth Sedgwick, in the 73rd year of her age.

PETERBOROUGH MARKETS.

Peterborough June 22 1871

Flour ₱ brl	$6	25	@ $6 50
Wheat ₱ bush fall	1	00	@ 1 10
Spring Wheat ₱ bush	1	00	@ 1 10
Peas	0	80	@ 0 00
Barley "	0	00	@ 0 00
Oats "	0	30	@ 0 35
Potatoes "	0	30	@ 0 35
Hay ₱ ton	9	00	@ 10 00
Hides ₱ cwt	6	00	@ 7 00
Beef ₱ cwt	6	50	@ 7 00
Sheepskins	0	75	@ 1 00
Wool ₱ lb	0	22	@ 0 24
Pork ₱ cwt	7	00	@ 0 00
Eggs, per dozen	0	10	@ 0 10
Butter	0	15	@ 0 15
Cordwood	3	50	@ 3 00
Turkeys	0	75	@ 1 00
Geese	0	40	@ 0 5
Chickens	0	25	@ 0 4

A Good Medicine.—The sale of Mr. Fellow's Compound Syrup of Hypophosphites has been quadrupled within a year or so. It is really a good medicine, well adapted to build up the system and impart vigor of body and mind.—It is recommended by our best Physicians, and we are glad for the sake of the public as well as of the manufacturer, who is one of our best Chemists, that Mr. Fellows' Compound Syrup of Hypophosphites are in such demand in all parts of the Dominion Owing to the local obstruction they cannot be sold in the United States, whose patent-medicine-afflicted citizens are thus deprived of the advantage of using a ready good invigorating medicine.—St. Johns N. B. Journal, 7th Dec., 1868.

Be Good to Others.

"Who blesses others in his daily deeds,
Shall find the healing that his spirit needs;
For every flower in others' pathway thrown,
Confers its fragrant beauty on his own."

If this be true the proprietors of the "Canadian Pain Destroyer" must be the recipients of blessings innumerable. Its the safest and the most sure remedy for sudden colds rheumatism, burns, sprains, &c., and cures all kinds of pains almost directly it is applied. 25 cents per bottle. Sold by all medicine dealers.

Wooly Horses.

Wooly horses are not so rare as many suppose, not such great curiosities either, there are many to be found in various parts of the country, but two doubt if they will ever prove as valuable to their owners as the one exhibited by Barnum; we imagine their owners would consider them more valuable without the wool for this rough and state of the hair indicates that the horse is not in a healthy condition—probably Mis-bound or suffering from some disease which occasions this unnatural appearance, in such case use Dorley's condition Powders and Arabian Heave Remedy, it will surely fail to correct the aperable remove all obstruction from the lungs and liver, and give to the coat a sleek and shining appearance.—Remember the name and see that the signature of Hurd & Co., is on each package.

Northrop & Lyman, Newcastle Ont., proprietors for Canada. Sold by all medicine dealers.

A common cough or cold should never be trifled with often when neglected it is converted into a serious and generally fatal disease:—The most prudent aware of this, promptly use "Bryon's Pulmonic Wafers" a curative which has sustained its reputation for over twenty years—they are always efficacious and exert a most beneficial influence on all the Bronchial and pulmonary organs. Sold by all Druggists and country dealers. Price 25 cent per box.

Thousands have been changed—By the use of the Peruvian Syrup (a protoxide of iron) from such sickly suffering creatures to strong healthy and happy men and women, and invalides cannot reasonably hesitate to give it a trial. For Dyspepsia and Debility it is a specific.

Another Testimonial from the village:—Mary, here my dear; I have just returned from town and brought with me your entire list—Tea, Coffee, Sugar, Calico and in short a waggon full of—

Wife (hastily)—And forgot the PAIN-KILLER?

Husband:—Oh! no; couldn't forget that; it's the most prominent object in every store in every store in town; and besides, the fences and stones and buildings all have "PAIN-KILLER" painted or pasted on them to remind one of it every minute. The store-keeper says that the PAIN-KILLER should be in every house and where one can put their hand on it in the dark if need be.

Wife:—It must be valuable, else the Parson's wife wouldn't prefice it to the skies as she does

(To be continued.)

☞ The PAIN-KILLER is an internal and external remedy for pain. For internal pain, Cramps spasms, sudden Cold and Bowel difficulties, a few days on water will give immediate relief. As a liniment it is without an equal; it stops pain almost instantly. In sure and get the genuine made by Perry Davis & Son and sold by all Druggists and Grocers. 13-Yl

THE GREAT FEMALE REMEDY
Job Moses' Perideeal Pills.

This invaluable medicine is unfailing in the cure of all those painful and dangerous diseases to which the female constitution is subject. It moderates all excess and removes all obstructions, and a speedy cure may be relied on.

TO MARRIED LADIES.

It is peculiarly suited. It will in a short time, bring on the monthly period with regularity.

These Pills should not be taken by Females during the FIRST THREE MONTHS of Pregnancy, as they are sure to bring on Miscarriage, but at any other time they are safe.

In all cases of Nervous and Spinal Affection, Pains in the Back and Limbs, on slight exertion, Palpitation of the Heart, Ayerrics, and Whites, the Pills will effect a cure when all other means have failed; and although a powerful remedy, do not contain iron, calomel, antimony, or anything hurtful to the constitution.

Full directions in the pamphlet around each package, which should be carefully preserved

JOB MOSES', NEW YORK, SOLE PROPRIETOR

$1.00 and 12½ cents for postage, enclosed to Northrop & Lyman, Newcastle, Ont., general agents for the Dominion, will ensure a bottle, containing over 50 pills, by return mail.

Iron ore, taken from the back hills, near the highest level of the Union Pacific Railway, has been smelted at Omaha and found of excellent quality, yielding 60 per cent, of superior metal. Three bills of the ore lie near the railroad.

CHEAPER THAN EVER!

Why go Barefooted when you can get

CHEAP BOOTS & SHOES!

CALL AND SEE THE

NEW STOCK!

AT

LARMOUR & SARNEY'S

New Dominion Cheap Boot and Shoe Store,

Which is being offered at Prices which defy competition

CUSTOM WORK

Guaranteed to give satisfaction, at the New Dominion Cheap Boot and Shoe Store, Thompson's Block, (McKellar's Old Corner) George Street, Peterborough.

W. S. LARMOUR. CHAS SARNEY.

June 12th, 1871. 24

New Firm in Ashburnham.

MOWRY & FORSYTH.

The undersigned have leased the "Mowry Foundry," Ashburnham, for a number of years, and have put it in a thorough state of repair. They have now unsurpassed facilities for doing

All Kinds of Work in the Foundry and Machine Line,

Which they will do promptly and on favorable terms. They will carry on

THE THRESHING MACHINE MANUFACTURE!

As carried on formerly at the Mowry Foundry. All kinds of repairing of

Threshing Machines, Reapers and Mowers, Saw Mill and Grist Mill Machinery and Castings and Turnings of Every Description will be done on short notice.

The work will be of the best material and workmanship, and warranted to give general satisfaction.

SPECIAL NOTICE.

We invite Special Attention to our THRESHING MACAINES and HORSE POWERS which is acknowledged by respectable Farmers now using them, to be the best made in the Dominion.

All debts in connection with the business, contracted since the 26th of October, 1870, will be paid by the undersigned, to whom also accounts owing since the same date must be paid.

R. H. MOWRY. W. FORSYTH.

Ashburnham, May 31st, 1871. 22-tf.

TO LEND

$10,000.

Interest 8 per cent. No commission.

D. W. DUMBLE,
Solicitor.

Peterborough, April 27, 1871. 17-3ins.

SONG ECHO

A New School Book, by H. S. Perkins. Price $7.50 per dozen. Contains over two hundred new and beautiful Songs, Duetts, etc., by Will S. Hays, Webster, Thomas, etc. Everything is new, fresh, and sparkling. Contents and specimen pages sent free. Sample copies mailed free of postage to teachers for 65 cents. Liberal terms for introduction.

Subscribers to Peters Musical Monthly are getting their music for less than two cents a piece. Those who have not seen the Musical Magazine should send 30 cents for a sample copy. The music in by Hays, Thomas, Kinkle, Parsley and other popular writers.

Two back numbers for 40 cents. Four back numbers for 75 cents. Subscribers get

FIFTY DOLLARS

WORTH OF MUSIC FOR $3.

Address,

J. L. PETERS, 599 Broadway, N. Y.

Teachers sending us their orders for $10 worth of music, can claim a year's subscription to Peters' Musical Monthly.

FOR SALE.

TWO BRICK COTTAGES,

AND BUILDING LOTS.

GEO. T. LEONARD,
Solicitor, &c.

May 24rd, 1871. 21-4ins.

Important Sale

OF

House, Lot & Household Furniture

BY AUCTION.

JAMES MILLER, Esq.

Of Peterborough,

Has instructed the undersigned to sell on

Wednesday, 28th June, 1871,

One quarter of an acre of land, with Large Frame Dwelling House, new and in good repair, good Sheds and Stable, Well and Cistern.

Terms of Sale of Furniture, Cash.

Terms of Real Estate will be made known at the time of Sale.

SALE AT 1 O'CLOCK, P. M.

C. STAPLETON,
Auctioneer.

Peterborough, June 7th, 1871.

N. B.—This Sale will be without reserve as Mr. Miller is leaving these parts. For particulars, see bills. 23-td.

LOST.

A GOLD BRACELET,

On Sabbath last, somewhere on Simcoe or George Street. The Finder will be suitably rewarded by leaving it at this office.

Peterboro, May 31, 1871.

INSOLVENT ACT OF 1869.

In the matter of JAMES HENRY GRIFFITH an Insolvent.

The Insolvent has made an assignment of his estate to me, and the creditors are notified to meet at my office, in the Town of Peterborough, on Tuesday, the 4th day of July, 1871, at 11 o'clock a. m., to receive statement of his affairs and to appoint an Assignee.

Dated at Peterborough, this 14th June, 1871.

R. W. BURRITT,
Interim Assignee.

24 June.

RESTORE YOUR SIGHT.

SPECTACLES RENDERED USELESS.

OLD EYES MADE NEW.

All diseases of the Eye successfully treated by

BALL'S NEW PATENT IVORY EYE CUPS.

Read for yourself and restore your sight. Spectacles and surgical operations rendered useless. The inestimable Blessing of Sight is made perpetual by the use of the new

PATENT IMPROVED IVORY EYE CUPS.

Many of our most eminent physicians, oculists students and divines, have had their sight permanently restored for life, and cured of the following diseases:

1. Impaired Vision; 2. Presbyopia, or Far Sightedness, or Dimness of Vision, commonly called Blurring; 3. Asthenopia or Weak Eyes; 4. Epiphora, Running or Watery Eyes; 5. Sore Eyes—specially treated with the Eye Cups—cure guaranteed; 6. Weakness of the Retina or Optic Nerve; 7. Ophthalmia, or Inflamation of the Eye and its appendages, or Imperfect Vision, from the effects of inflamation; 8. Photophobia, or Intolerance of Light, 9. Over Worked eyes; 10. Mydeopsia—moving specks or floating bodies before the eyes; Amaurosis, or Obscurity of Vision; 12. Cataracts, Partial Blindness, the loss of sight.

Any one can use the Ivory Eye Cups with out the aid of Doctor or Medicine, so as to receive immediate beneficial results and never wear spectacles, or if using now, to lay them aside forever. We guarantee a cure in every case where the directions are followed, or we refund the money.

2309 CERTIFICATES OF CURE,

From honest Farmers, Mechanics and Merchants, some of the most eminent leading professional and business men and women of education and refinement, in our country, may be seen at our office.

Under date of March 29, Hon. Horace Greely of the New York Tribune, writes; "J. Ball, of our city, is a conscientious and responsible man, who is incapable of intentional deception or imposition.

Prof. W. Merrick, of Lexington, Ky., wrote April 24th, 1869: Without my Spectacles I pen you this note, after using the Patent Ivory Eye Cups thirteen days, and this morning perused the entire contents of a Daily Newspaper, and all with the unassisted eye.

Truly I am grateful to your noble invention, may Heaven bless and preserve you. I have been using spectacles twenty years; I am seventy-one years old. Yours, truly,

PROF. W. MERRICK.

Rev. Joseph Smith, Malden, Mass., cured of Partial Blindness, of 10 years' standing, in one minute, by the Patent Ivory Eye Cups.

R. C. Ellis, late Mayor of Dayton, Ohio, wrote to us Nov. 13th, 1869: I have tested the Patent Ivory Eye Cups and I am satisfied they are good. I am pleased with them; they are the Greatest Invention of the age.

All persons wishing for full particulars, certificates of cures, prices &c., will please send your address to us, and we will send our treatise on the Eye of forty-four pages, free, by return mail, write to Dr. J. Ball & Co., P. O. Box, 957, No. 91 Liberty Street, New York.

For the worst cases of Myopia, or Nearsightedness, use our New Patent Myopic Attachments, applied the Ivory Eye Cups, has proved a certain cure for this disease.

Send for pamphlets and certificates—free. Waste no more money by adjusting huge glasses on your nose and disfigure your face.

Employment for all. Agents wanted for the new Patent Improved Ivory Eye Cups, just introduced into the market. The success is unparalelled by any other article. All persons out of employment, or those wishing to improve their circumstances, whether gentlemen or ladies can make a respectable living at this light and easy employment. Hundreds of agents are making from $5 TO $20 A DAY. To live agents $20 a week will be guaranteed. Information furnished on receipt of 20 cents—to pay for cost of printing materials and return postage.

Dr. J. Ball & Co., P. O. Box, 957, No. 91 Liberty Street New York.

Our Agent for Peterborough County, is

JAMES CONWAY, P. M.,
Indian River, Ont.

23—3 mos.

MONEY TO LOAN,

In Small or Large Sums on easy terms

GEO. T. LEONARD,
Solicitor, &c

May 26rd, 1871. 21-4ins

PASTURAGE

GOOD PASTURAGE,
Apply to
J. EDWARDS.

May, 1871 20-tf.

SIGN OF THE CIRCULAR SAW.

THE Subscribers would beg leave to call the attention of the public to their stock of

SHELF AND HEAVY HARDWARE

PAINTS, OILS, GLASS and PUTTY,

Agricultural and Garden Implements,

NAILS, LOCKS, HINGES, &c.

All of which they will sell at the low est Prices.

Sign of the Circular Saw.

GEORGE STREET, PETERBORO.

McKEE & DAVIDSON

Peterboro, April 26th, 1871, 17

TO FARMERS.

If you want to make FORTY DOLLARS AN ACRE off your land,

SOW FLAX!

Let each good Farmer sow Three Acres on trial, and see how handy it is to have $120 coming in to pay off your harvest hands in August. As there is a Machine for pulling, at the mill, it makes it one of the easiest crops harvested. For seed apply to

S. TAYLOR,
Flax Mill, Ashburnham

May 3rd, 1871. 18

TO LET.

AUBURN HOUSE,

AND ABOUT 20 ACRES OF LAND THEREWITH.

A Delightful Summer Residence.

Apply to

DENNISTOUN, FAIRBAIRN & CASSELS

May 3rd, 1871. 18-tf

IMPORTANT

TO FARMERS

AND THE PUBLIC.

I have now in my Flour Mill, for Milling Purposes, the

Best Machinery Known

At present in the world, and with an experience of over 40 years in the business, and from a fixed quality of Wheat, I can turn out as much Flour and

AS GOOD IN QUALITY

as any mill in the Dominion. I will, therefore, give in exchange for 60 lbs good clean Wheat, 43 lbs Flour and 10 lbs Bran The Flour warranted to be good. This offer is equal to 200 lbs per bus. 4 bushels and 40 lbs Wheat, or a clear gain of 20 lbs wheat on the Barrel. worth at present prices from 42 to 45 cents.

☞ Cash paid for Goo Fall and Spring Wheat.

M. MARTYN.

Peterboro, May 22nd, 1871. 21

1871 Annual Announcement 1871

(ESTABLISHED 1856.)

SEEDS!

Fresh, Good, and True,

The subscriber has received his supply of

FIELD,
FLOWER; and
GARDEN SEEDS.

Both of Home and Imported Stock.

WARRANTED GENUINE

FARMERS AND MARKET GARDENERS are respectfully invited to call and inspect for themselves.

COUNTRY MERCHANTS, supplied, as usual with boxes on Commission, or for Cash.

"Honesty" is our motto, both in character of seed, and in price.

WM. H. TAYLOR, M. D

At the old Stand, Corner of George and Hunter Streets, Peterborough, Ont. 16-tf

A FARMER'S COMPANY.

FARMERS!

Insure Your Property

IN THE

AGRICULTURAL

INSURANCE COMPANY.

A Stock Company entirely devoted to your interests.

Insures nothing but Farm Property and Detached Residences.

Chartered and commenced business in 1863.

CASH ASSETS - - $550,000.

Mr. Langton's Report shows over $68,000 deposited as especial protection to Canadian Policy-holders.

Head Office for the Dominion of Canada, Kingston, Ontario.

We would refer you to the following named Gentlemen, in regard to the pecuniary responsibility of the Company:

H. Calcutt, Brewer; John Burnham, Barrister; J. A. Hall, Agent Canadian Bank of Commerce; Thos. Menzies, Stockbroker and Exchange Broker.

ATTORNEY—John Burnham, Esq.

BANK—Canadian Bank of Commerce.

Wm. T. Fish, Cobourg, Gen. Agent for the Counties of Prince Edward, Hastings, Northumberland, Durham, Ontario, Peterboro and Victoria.

Local Agent for the Town of Peterborough

W. A. KING.

9-tf.

VICTORIA

CARRIAGE

AND

Wagon Factory

Corner of Brock and George Streets.

The Subscriber would respectfully announce that he has leased the above establishment, up points the Commercial Hotel and is now prepared to Manufacture

CARRIAGES,
BUGGIES,
WAGGONS,
WHEEL-BARROWS,
HARROWS, &c.

At Low Prices for Cash.

REPAIRING DONE A SPECIALTY.

GEORGE W. MILLS.

Peterboro, March 7th, 1871.

N. B.—As there is another person in Peterboro named "George Mills," the public will please remember the distinction in the name. G. W. M. 13-tf

$765,000

In Cash Gifts to be Distributed by the New York Cash Prize Co.

EVERY TICKET DRAWS A PRIZE.

5	Cash Gifts each,	$40,000	20 Cash Gifts each, $2,000
10	" "	10,000	100 " " 1,000
20	" "	5,000	150 " " 500
25	Elegant Rosewood Pianos,	each $600 to $800
50	" Melodeons	" $75 to $125
100	Sewing Machines	" $60 to $75
200	Gold Watches	" $75 to $100
	Cash Prizes, Silver Ware, etc., valued at		$5,000,000

A change to draw any of the above Prizes for $1.00. Tickets describing Prizes are sealed in Envelopes and well mixed. On receipt of 10c. a Sealed Ticket is drawn without choice and sent by mail to any address. The prize named upon it will be delivered to the ticket-holder on payment of One Dollar. Prizes are immediately sent to any address by express or returned mail.

You will know what your prize is before you pay for it. "Any Prize exchanged for another of the same value." No blanks. Our patrons can depend on fair dealing.

REFERENCES:—The following lately drew Valuable Prizes and kindly permit us to publish them:—Andrew J. Berne, Chicago, $10,000; Jas. M. Matthews, Detroit, $5,000; John T. Anderson, Savannah, $5,000; James Simmons, Boston, $10 000.

PRESS OPINION:—"The firm is reliable."—"Weekly Tribune, Dec 30." "Deserve their success."—N. Y. Herald, Jan. 1.. "Just and Honorable."—News, Dec. 9,

Send for circular. Liberal inducements to Agents. Satisfaction guaranteed. Every package of 200 Sealed. Envelopes contains one CASH GIFT. Seven tickets for $1; 17 for $2, 30 for $5; 200 for $15. Address

C. B. HARRIS & Co,
Managers,
62 Broadway, N. Y

Peterborough March 16th, 1871. 10-tf.

FELLOWS' HYPOPHOSPHITES.

Amongst the diseases overcome by the use of

Fellows' Compound Syrup of Hypophosphites

ARE

Constipation, Asthma, Consumption, Laryngitis, Nervous Debility, Dyspepsia, Chronic Bronchitis, Chronic Diarrhœa, Melancholy.

Debility resulting from Typhoid and other low fevers, Diphtheritic, Ayeteria, Hypochondria, Amenorrhœa, Chlorosis Anæmia, Leucorrhœa, Nervous Excitability, Marasmus, or wasting of the Muscles, Apoplexy, or loss of Voice, Chorea or St. Vitus' Dance, Sleeplessness of the Liver, Interrupted and Feeble Action of the heart, Suffocating feeling caused by mucous obstructions of the Lungs and Air passages leading thereto, and Debility from various causes, many cases of which appear hopeless.

SOLD BY APOTHECARIES.

Price, $1.50; Six for $7.50.

JAMES L. FELLOW, CHEMIST,
ST. JOHN, N. B.

16-1871. 4mos.

A CARD.

E. BAKEWELL, having made an engagement with Mr. Bradboro, may be found, by his former Patrons and Customers, at the store lately occupied by M. Moloney, where he hopes by his usual attention to business, and with increased facilities for giving satisfaction, still to merit and receive their patronage.

E. BAKEWELL.

Peterboro, Dec. 19, 1870. 51-tf.

HOUSE AND LOT FOR SALE.

The undersigned offers for sale the dwelling House and Lot on

LONDON STREET,

at present occupied by himself.

Further particulars can be obtained by application to

Wm. LECH,
Proprietor.

Peterborough, April 19th 1871. 16-tf.

(Review please copy.)

Dissolution of Partnership.

Notice is hereby given that the Partnership heretofore existing between us, the undersigned as Carriage Makers in the Town of Peterboro', in the County of Peterborough, has been this day dissolved by mutual consent. All debts owing to the said partnership are to be paid to, and all claims against the said partnership are to be paid by the undersigned, John Lockhart.

JOHN LOCKHART
JAMES McLLER.

Dated at Peterborough, this 26th day of May A. D. 1871.

In connection with the above, the public are respectfully informed that the business as heretofore, will be conducted under the name of Lockhart & Cheown, and that all orders entrusted to them will receive prompt attention.

LOCKHART & CHOWEN.

Peterboro, May 26th, 1871. 22

New Steam Dye Works!

THE PUBLIC OF PETERBORO and vicinity are respectfully informed that the establishment is now prepared to take a work of every description in

CLEANING, COLOURING, AND FINISHING,

of Gentlemen's Clothing, Ladies' Dress Goods, &c., &c.

Observe the following List of Fabrics

Gents' Blanks, Merinoes, Silks, Tweeds, Cottons, Satin Cassimeres, Unions, Velvet, Doeskins, Woolens, Ribbons, and general Dry Goods, made up or in the piece. Carpets, Rugs, Mats, Raw Wools, Cottons, Worsted, Wool Yarns, Cotton Yarns, Hosiery, Coated Fleeces for Mats, Baggies, &c., &c. Damasks, in Curtains and Furnishing Covers.

☞ WORKS, NEAR ONTARIO WOOLEN MILLS, COBOURG.

WM. MERCER,
Agent for Peterboro.

Peterboro, 3, mos 7th 1871. 22-1y.

GREAT DESTRUCTION!

BUT

No Loss of Life.

ONLY THE

TURNING OVER FILES OF

DRESS GOODS!

AND PRINTS.

The Contents of Fifteen Cases and Three Bales, Just Opened.

Great Bargains in Hoyle's Prints.

Great Bargains in Dress Goods.

These Goods will be offered at prices that will clean them off before the end of the season.

FERGUSON & ELDER

Peterboro, May 31st, 1871. 22

CHANGE OF BUSINESS

New Foundry Firm.

The Subscriber is retiring from the Foundry Business in which he has been engaged for the past 15 years, begs to return thanks to his friends and the public in general, for the liberal patronage conferred upon him, as the same time he would beg to state that the business in future will be carried on by his BROTHER JAMES and JAMES R. DAVIS, under the firm of Whyte & Davis. Mr. Davis is well known as a First Class Machinist and Millwright, therefore I have every confidence in recommending the New Firm to the public, feeling assured that all orders entrusted to them will be executed in the most satisfactory manner, and with dispatch.

JOHN WHYTE.

Peterborough, April 1st, 1871.

N. B.—Parties having Notes and Accounts to settle, will please bear in mind that the Books of account and Notes will be at my Woolen Mill, West of Whyte & Hamilton's Foundries.—J. W.

The Subscribers having Commenced Business in the Old Stand of John Whyte, Esq., as (Founders, Machinists and Agricultural Implement Manufacturers,) beg to say that they keep on hand all kinds of

AGRICULTURAL IMPLEMENTS,

SUCH AS

STEEL, COMMON, AND GANG PLOWS, HARROWS, ROOT CUTTERS, CULTIVATORS, HORSE HOES, GARDEN AND FIELD ROLLERS, HAY AND STRAW CUTTERS, with almost every Implement used on the Farm.

General Repairing of Reapers, Mowers, Threshing Machines and Implements of Husbandry on the Shortest Notice.

Parties about purchasing any of the above Implements will do well to call and inspect our Stock on hand, before making a purchase elsewhere.

WHYTE & DAVIS

Peterborough, Ap 1st, 1871. 16-tf

NEW WOOLEN MILL.

To the Farmers and Merchants of the County of Peterboro.

The subscribers would respectfully beg to intimate that the Old Woolen Mill, once owned and carried on by the late James Harvey, Esq., afterwards by Mr. Daniel Brock, has been put in a

A THOROUGH STATE OF REPAIR,

And is now filled with New Machinery, got up expressly for the Manufacture of

Blankets, Flannels, Full Cloths, Tweeds, &c.

A large assortment of the above goods of our own make, are now on hand, and will be sold Cheap for Cash, or Exchanged for wool. Special attention will be given to the Custom Department, which is in perfect order for the Manufacture of Farmer's Blankets, Roll Carding and Fulling.

JOHN WHYTE. AUGUSTUS SAWERS.

N. B.—We will pay the Highest price in Cash for any quantity of Good Clean Wool delivered at the mill.

J. W. A. S.

To my old friends in particular, and the public in general:

I am now back in the Old Mill, with Messrs. Whyte & Sawers, and have got a Large Room all to myself. With a splendid

NEW CARDING MACHINE

Bring in your Wool, and I will give you BETTER ROLLS than have ever been turned out in this County.

JOHNNIE NEWTON.

Peterboro, May 2nd, 1871. 18

STOLEN OR STRAYED

From the premises of the undersigned, on the morning of the 24th of May, a

LARGE GREY MARE.

Any person giving information as to her whereabouts will be suitably rewarded.

GEO. BROWN.

Ashburnham, June 7th, 1871. 23.

CANADIAN BANK OF COMMERCE

THE Canadian Bank of Commerce have opened a

Saving's Bank Department

In Peterborough. Deposits allowed on all sums over $1.00.

J. A. [illegible]

Short Poetry.

Father's Growing Old.

Our father's growing old, John!
His eyes are growing dim,
And years are on his shoulders laid,
A heavy weight for him.
And you and I are young and hale,
And each a stalwart man,
And we must make their path as smooth
And level as we can.

Language of the Handkerchief.

Drawing across the lips—Desirous of an acquaintance.

Drawing across the eyes—I am sorry.

Taking the centre—You are too willing.

Dropping—We will be friends.

Twisting in both hands—Indifference.

Drawing across the cheek—I love you.

Drawing across the left cheek—I hate you.

Rubbing it rust on the left cheek—No.

Twirling in the hand—I love another.

Folding it—I wish to speak with you.

Over the shoulder—Follow me.

Opposite corners in both hands—Wait for me.

Drawn across the forehead—We are watched.

Placing on the right ear—You have changed.

Letting it remain over the eyes—You are cruel.

Winding round the third finger—I am engaged.

Winding round the third finger—I am married.

Putting in the pocket—No more at present.

"There not being much coffee in the house, mum," a Connecticut Bridget put in "a little try to fill up."

—A Yankee was walking with an Irishman in the streets of New York, and remarked that he had been robbed of $10 by a man who had borrowed it of him. "Well, what would you be now, Paddy, if the devil had his due?" "Faith," replied Paddy, "I'd be walking by myself in New York."

—A Montreal beggar, clad in rags of the filthiest description, went into a brokers on the 11th inst., and changed copper silver and other money to the amount of $500, which he took in gold.

—School children who read the newspapers are found to be better acquainted with geography spelling, and the meaning of words, grammar and more generally intelligent than those who do not. This is a significant but undoubted fact.

—J. C. N., Juneau's Falls, Q., says he sprinkles a handfull of salt about the trunks of his peach dapple trees from the first of June to the middle of July, and it prevents the borer working and benefits the trees otherwise.

"Paddy, my boy," said a gentleman to an Irishman, whom he observed fishing away at a deep pool, "that must be a favourite stream for trout." "Faith and it must be that same, for I have been standing here this three hours and not one of 'em will come out of it."

Milwaukee has got a Turkish bath, and the citizens are disguising themselves by getting peeled. An editor there took a bath the other day and went home, and his wife drove him out doors with a club and had to go and make an affidavit that he was her husband. Then she wouldn't believe it until she exclaimed his pocket book and found it empty, as usual, and a railroad pass inside.

Can a Druggist be considered the Chief pillar of the State.

A volume that will bring tears to your eyes,—a volume of smoke.

The man who couldn't find his match went to bed in the dark.

Othello was not a lawyer, although he was attorney-general of Venice.

A lazy chap has found out that working between meals is unhealthy for him.

An Irishman tells us of a fight in which there was only one whole nose left in the crowd, "and that belonged to the taykettle."

A private in the army recently sent a letter to his sweetheart, closing with "May heaven cherish and keep you from yours truly John Smith.

"Pa," said a lad to his father, "I heard about head of people poor but honest: don't they say rich but honest?" "Tut, tut, my son, no body would believe them," answered the father.

In an Ohio school celebration the superintendent announced the title of a song as "Riding the Elephant Home." When the audience found that it was "Write me a Letter from Home," he thought it prudent to disappear.

The New Archbishop of Paris.

Phelix-Antoine-Philippe Dupanloup was born in 1802, at St. Felix, in Savoy. In 1825, after going through his clerical studies at St. Sulpice, he was ordained a priest, and two years afterwards, in 1827, he was appointed confessor to the Prince, then known as the boy Duke, of Bordeaux, who now as Count Chambord, at the age of 51, seems suddenly to have become the most prominent candidate for the throne of France, to which his way had been cleared by the artillery of MacMahon. It was his glorious fate in 1830 to receive the last spiritual revelations and outpourings of that unprincipled, blasphemous Prince Talleyrand, who next day breathed his deathbed. During the Revolution of July, M. Dupanloup had a little trouble, both with his superior, Archbishop Cadre, of Paris, the victim of the barricades of 1848, and with government. In 1849, after the people had finally and successfully put down the second empire, he was made Bishop of Orleans and with his appointment began his wonderful career of eloquence of principle, of literature and of political activity. No prelate in France has done more than he has done for years to contribute to the support of the Holy See. No prelate at Rome in his time has more resolutely and vigorously thought the extravagant policy. A born mountaineer, with wind and agility in collerchester tracking the chamois hunter. His earnestness and devotion to duty led him in the front ranks of duty and danger. He witnessed the Bonapartian General Von der Tann at the capture of Orleans and brought that learned chief to his people more humane terms. His controversial and literary works are to be remembered by the score. His pen is now constantly in press; always forcible, always flaming, always guided by a fervent, even though sometimes perchance by a mistaken, conviction that is at work for the best interests of the church and of mankind. Monseigneur Dupanloup was received at Rome with some little irritation. But it is not likely that any attempt will be made to interfere with the action of the government.

Don't Hang Him.

The following oration was delivered somewhere out West, by one of the profession, who would seem to have quite an aversion to hanging people:

"May it please your lordship and gentlemen of the jury—The case is as clear as day, and sharp as the "doin" as "no" from your sweetheart. The Scripture saith,—Thou shalt not kill,' now if you hang my client you transgress the command as sullick as grease, and as prump as a goose egg in a loafer's face. Gentlemen, murder is murder, whether committed by twelve jurymen or by an humble individual like my client. Gentlemen, I do not deny the fact of my client's having killed a man, but is that any reason why you should do so? No such thing, gentlemen. You may bring the prisoner in 'guilty,' the hangman may do his duty, but will that exhonerate? No such thing. In that case you will all be murderers! Who among you is prepared for the brand of Cain to be stamped on his brow to-day. Who, free men, who, in this land of liberty and light?—Gentleman, I will pledge my word that not one of you have a bowie knife or a pistol in his pocket. No. Gentlemen, your pockets are odoriferous with the fumes of cigar cases and tobacco. You can smoke the tobacco of rectitude in the pipe of a peaceable conscience; but hang my unfortunate client, and the ensly all pangs of remorse will gallop through the internal principles of your animal vertebræ, until the spinal vertebræ of anatomical construction is turned into a railroad for the grim and gory goblins of despair.

Gentlemen, beware of committing murder! Beware, I say, of meddling with the eternal perpetrator! Beware I say. Remember the fate of the man who attempted to steady the ark and tremble. Gentlemen, I abjure you by the manumitted ghost of temporal sanctity, to do no murder. I abjure you by the name of woman, the twain-spring of the ticking time-piece of Time's theatrical transmigration, to do no murder! I abjure you by the love you have for the succient and condimental gusto of our native pumpkin, to do no murder. I abjure you by the American eagle that whipped the universal game cock of creation, and now sits roosting on the magnetic telegraph of time's illustrious transmigration, to do no murder! And lastly, gentlemen, if you ever expect to wear long-tailed coats—if you ever expect free dogs not to bark at you; if you ever expect to wear boots made of the free leather of the free Buffalo—and remain my client you ever expect to be anything here but an unsalted, leading, rascally out throat braided small ends of humanity, whittled down to indistinctibility, accept my client and save your country!" The prisoner was acquitted.

A STICKY WITH A MORAL.—A dealer in pork has a precocious son who expert in cards, and, in playing with his young companions, was seldom on the losing side. He began at first to bet on the game, and ere long would bet regular for money with any of his age disposed to accept the risk. He came home one day, bringing several dollars which he had acquired in his small way of gambling, and exhibited to his father with quite an air of triumph. The thoughtful parent shook his head and told his son that the money was not honestly acquired. "But I did not cheat," said the boy. "I hope not replied the father; but did you give the loser any equivalent for it whatever?" The boy hung his head and the parent added, "Money is honestly earned where there is an exchange of products or services, and the receiver of the same gives an equivalent for it; to take another man's property and give him no equivalent whatever for it, is to rob or cheat him." A few months after the father came home from the Produce Exchange with an elated aspect and announced that he had settled his speculation in pork by the receipt of nearly fifty thousand dollars. His son eyed him steadily a moment and then said: "What did you give the other man, father, as an equivalent for the money."

Why is the height of a horse given in hands instead of feet? Because it is handier, of course.

Daughter—Well, to tell the truth, I did not think much of the close of the sermon. Father—Probably you were thinking more of the clothes of the congregation.

"Hallo, Bob! how are you?" Bob, who has just been in jail for debt for some months past, answers. "Very well, thank you, but I have been in trouble you know."

What is the worst seat a man can sit on? Self conceit.

A Williston school ma'am has been very properly dismissed for compelling one of the big boys to show her how he kissed the girls in the woodshed.

Said one of that literary men of the United States to a writer: "There is one thing which, as you visit different places, I wish you had to do everywhere, that is to entreat every mother never to give a drop of intoxicating liquor to a child."

Our young friend, Harry Turn, recently married his cousin of the same name. When interrogated as to who he did so, he replied that, "one Turn deserves another," and he spoke speechingly.

An affected singer at a Dublin theatre was told by a wag in the gallery, "to come out from behind his nose and sing his song like other people."

A Michigan editor has just given up the section for the pulpit. He thinks it is easier to fight the one devil at which the minister levels his arrows, that the thousands whom an editor has to contend with.

Ayer's Hair Vigor,

For restoring Gray Hair to its natural Vitality and Color.

A dressing which is elegant, agreeable, healthy, and efficacious for preserving the hair. Faded or gray hair is soon restored to its original color with the gloss and freshness of youth. This hair is thickened, falling hair checked, and baldness—though not always cured by its use—nothing can restore the hair where the follicles are destroyed, or the glands atrophied and decayed. But such as remain can be saved for usefulness by this application. Instead of fouling the hair with a pasty sediment, it will keep it clean and vigorous. Its occasional use will prevent the hair from turning gray, or falling off, and consequently prevent baldness. Free from those deleterious substances which make some preparations dangerous and injurious to the hair, the Vigor can only benefit but not harm it. If wanted merely for a

HAIR DRESSING,

nothing else can be found so desirable. Containing neither oil nor dye, it does not soil white cambric, and yet lasts long on the hair, giving it a rich glossy lustre and a grateful perfume.

Prepared by Dr. J. C. Ayer & Co.,

PRACTICAL AND ANALYTICAL CHEMISTS,

LOWELL, MASS.

PRICE $1.00.

NORTHROP & LYMAN,

Newcastle.

General Agents for Ontario.

Ayer's Sarsaparilla,

FOR PURIFYING THE BLOOD.

The reputation this excellent medicine enjoys, is derived from its cures, many of which are truly marvellous. Inveterate cases of Scrofulous disease, in which the system seemed saturated with corruption, have been purified and cured by it. Scrofulous affections and disorders, which were aggravated by the scrofulous contamination and they were painfully afflicting, have been radically cured in such great numbers in almost every section of the country, that the public scarcely need to be informed of its virtues or uses.

Scrofulous poison is one of the most destructive enemies of our race. Often, the unseen and secret tenant of the organism undermines the constitution, and ignites the stock of enfeebling or fatal disease, without first giving a suspicion of its presence. Again, it seems to breed infection throughout the body, and then, on some favorable occasion, rapidly develops into one or other of its hideous forms, either on the surface or among the vitals. In the latter, tubercles may be insidiously deposited in the lungs or heart, or tumors formed in the liver, or it shows its presence by eruptions on the skin, or foul ulcerations on some part of the body. Hence the occasional use of a bottle of this Sarsaparilla in all seasonable, even when no active symptoms of disease appear. Persons afflicted with the following complaints generally find immediate relief, and, at length, cure, by the use of this SARSAPARILLA: St. Anthony's Fire, Rose or Erysipelas, Tetter, Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Ringworm, Sore Eyes, Sore Ears, and other eruptions or visible forms of Scrofulous disease. Also in the more concealed forms, as Dys pepsia, Dropsy, Heart Disease, Pain, Pimples, Neuralgia, and the various grievous affections of the mucous and nervous systems.

Syphilis or Mercurial Disease is for a long time lurking in the system, even after it has been supposed to be eradicated by the use of mercury, but long continued use of this medicine will surely free the system from these subtle poisons. Uterine Uterations, and Female Weakness, are commonly soon relieved and ultimately cured by its purifying and invigorating effect. Minute Directions for each case are found in our Almanac, supplied gratis. Rheumatism and Gout, when caused by accumulations or extraneous matters in the blood, yield quickly to it, as also Liver Complaints, Dyspepsia, Constipation or Inflammation of the Liver, and Jaundice, when arising, as they often do, from the rankling poisons in the blood. This SARSAPARILLA is a great restorer for the strength and vigor of the system. Those who are Languid and Listless, Despondent, Sleepless, and troubled with Nervous Apprehensions or Fears, or any of the affections symptomatic of Weakness, will find immediate relief and convincing evidence of its restorative power upon trial.

PREPARED BY

Dr. J. C. AYER & CO., Lowell, Mass.,

Practical and Analytical Chemists.

SOLD BY ALL DRUGGISTS EVERYWHERE.

NORTHROP & LYMAN,

Newcastle

General Agents for Ontario.

WISTAR'S BALSAM OF WILD CHERRY

THE GREAT REMEDY FOR

CONSUMPTION

and acknowledged by many prominent physicians to be the most Reliable Preparation ever introduced for the RELIEF and CURE of all

LUNG COMPLAINTS.

This well-known remedy is offered to the public, sanctioned by the experience of over forty years, and when resorted to in season, seldom fails to effect a speedy cure of

Coughs, Colds, Croup, Bronchitis, Influenza, Whooping Cough, Hoarseness, Pains or Soreness in the Chest and Side, Bleeding at the Lungs, Liver Complaint, &c.

CONSUMPTION CAN BE CURED

by a timely resort to this standard remedy, as is proved by hundreds of testimonials received by the proprietors.

DR. WISTAR'S BALSAM OF WILD CHERRY does not dry up a Cough, and leave the cause behind, as is the case with most preparations, but it loosens and cleanses the lungs, and allays irritation, thus removing the cause of the complaint.

CLERGYMEN, LAWYERS, SINGERS,

and all those whose occupation requires an unusual exercise of the vocal organs, will find this the ONLY PREPARATION which will effectually and instantaneously relieve their difficulties.

Beware of Counterfeits.

Remember that the genuine Wistar's Balsam has on the outside wrapper the signature of I. BUTTS, and the private stamp of the proprietors, "SETH W. FOWLE & SONS, BOSTON." All others are base imitations. Examine the wrapper carefully before purchasing.

One Dollar a Bottle. Six Bottles for Five Dollars.

PREPARED BY

SETH W. FOWLE & SONS, Boston, Mass.,

And sold by Druggists and Dealers generally.

MONEY TO LEND.

The undersigned has a few thousand dollars of private funds which he is prepared to lend on mortgages, on improved farms.

D. W. D'UMBLE,

Januar 1871. 1-tf.

NOW IS THE TIME!

TO BUY

CHEAP ROOM PAPER.

BOOKS, STATIONERY, &c.,

At A. E. KIDD'S BOOKSTORE,

AS THERE IS BEING

GENERAL TURNING UPSIDE DOWN

OF EVERYTHING IN HIS ESTABLISHMENT, OWING TO

An Enlargement and Re-fitting of Premises.

SPECIAL ATTENTION IS INVITED TO HIS

NEW STOCK OF GOLD ROOM PAPER AND BORDERINGS.

Just received direct from England. He will sell them for cash, by 25 per cent, than they can be bought in Toronto.

Peterborough, April 5th, 1871. 14

OWENS'

PUMP MANUFACTORY

AND

Agricutural Implement Agency

GEORGE STREET, PETERBOROUGH.

The Leading Pumps and Machines of the Dominion.

The subscriber is still on hand at Dewitt's Old Stand, opposite the Graveyard, and begs to inform the inhabitants of the County of Peterborough and Victoria, that he is Sole Agent in these Counties for the Celebrated Powell's Patent Swing and Force Pumps—the reputation of which is Established and sustained by their own merits, being cheap, Simple, Reliable, Frost Proof, and easiest worked. Being convinced of their superiority over all other pumps, I have made arrangements to keep a good stock of them on hand if possible, and will sell as Cheap as are sold in any other part of the Dominion.

Agricultural Implements

Including at the late improvements, viz.:

Wood's Self Rake Reapers, and Mowers, and Cayuga Chief Mowers.

The Hubbard Combined Machine, which took the First Prize at Toronto in 1870.

The Dominion Chief Prize Self Raker.

Parties wanting Machines the coming Harvest will please call and examine the different Machines before purchasing elsewhere. Prices reduced from last year.

Will guarantee them to be BETTER than the BEST of any other make. The unexampled popularity and success of this pump is not surprising, combining as it does, the Highest Efficiency with the Lowest Cost. Swing Pumps for $6.00 and upwards With reference to the Powell Pump, it has been exhibited five times and secured Five Provincial First Prizes, never having been awarded anything but First and Highest Honors at Provincial, County, Township, or city exhibitions. This is incontestible proof of its adaptability to the wants of the people, and the climate of the country. THE FORCE PUMP is adapted to all the uses to which an ordinary pump may be applied, besides being an always-ready Fire Engine. It is allowed to be worth its cost for Washing Buggies alone, and as a Fire Preventative has saved many valuable properties. May be used for watering Gardens, Courts, &c., Setting Tires, &c., and many other purpose.

Please call and examine the Powell Pump before going elsewhere, when I shall be happy to explain its advantages. Also, a large stock of Common Pumps on hand, as usual, which the subscriber will sell as cheap, if not Cheaper, than any Pump-maker in the Province. Also COLEY'S WRINGERS for sale Also, Agent for Rights or Pumps in Counties east of Peterborough Pumps of all kinds Repaired on the shortest notice.

Please address, stating depth of well and other particulars.

HENRY OWENS.

April 26, 1871. George Street, Peterboo

NEW SADDLERY!

The Subscriber wishes to inform his friends—old and new—that he has re-commenced the

Saddlery and Harness Business,

In the Shop next to the Toronto Bank,

Lately occupied by the Telegraph and Express Companies, opposite to Messrs. Nicholls & Halls, Simcoe Street,

Where he will at all times keep on hand or have made to order by first class workmen, everything usually kept in first class establishments, such as

GENTS' SADDLES, LADIES' DO,

Harness, Single and Double, Coarse, Heavy and Fine,

TRAVELLING BAGS, TRUNKS, SATCHELLS,

WHIPS, MATS, HORSE CLOTHING, &c.

Grateful for past favors in his various lines of business during the last 20 years, he asks his friends to inspect his stock before purchasing elsewhere.

Peterboro, May 18, 1870. 20 D. HOPKINS.

NEW

Fall and Winter Goods!

BRADBURN

Having succeeded in disposing of the greater portion of his former stock, and having since purchased heavily in Montreal and Toronto Markets, at the Lowest possible prices, is now showing and invites inspection of the following lines of new Fall and Winter Goods:

CLOTHS:

A complete stock of English and Canadian Cloths and Tweeds.

DRESS GOODS:

New Wool Serges, New Tartan Poplins,
New Wool Tartans, New Figured Poplins,
New French Reps, New Figured Reps,
New French Merinoes, New French Delaines,
New Wincies, New Crape Cloths,
New Black Lustres, New Velvets and (Double Warp) New Velveteens.

HOSIERY,

In great variety, English, Scotch and Canadian.

FLANNELS,

A full assortment of Welsh, Lancashire, Saxony, and Canadian Manufacture Also, Salisbury and Fancy Flannel Shirting. very Cheap.

Prints, Linens and Towellings.

JUST OPENED,

A New and Select Stock of Gents' Collars, Ties, Scarfs and Gloves.

GLOVES, CORSETS and SKIRTS.

Those about to purchase FURS would do well to retain their orders, as a large lot will be opened in due time, and will be SOLD CHEAP.

T. BRADBURN.

Peterboro, Oct. 11,

WILLIAM TOOLE,

Has just to REMOVE his Manufacturing Establishment from the Ashburnham Mill Race to his own Factory in course of erection,

On Murray Street, Immediately West of the Drill Shed,

Where he is fitting up with almost entire NEW MACHINERY, NEW MEN of long city experience, and, in fact, New Everything, begs to return thanks to his numerous town and country customers for the very liberal patronage which he has enjoyed for the past fifteen years, and hopes by constant attention to business and fair, liberal treatment o customers, to continue in the enjoyment of the same. He would also intimate to his country friends, that he is manufactering a few of

The Celebrated McKenzie Fanning Mills,

THE BEST MILL IN THE DOMINION,

Which he will sell at a very moderate price, and take in exchange any kind of FARM PRODUCE.

Peterboro, Feb. 9, 1870. 6

PHOTOGRAPHY!

Studio on Hunter Street West!

THE VERY BEST QUALITY OF

Photographs at the most Reasonable Rates

All sizes, from minature to life, either Plain or finished in

CARBON, SIPIA, INDIA INK, OIL OR WATER COLORS.

Parties can rely on Promptness.

Albums, Frames, &c., Always on Hand!

Special attention to children.

Inducements offered to families.

GEO. B. SPROULE.

Owing to a steadily increasing business, Mr. Sproule would request any favor, that his customers make engagements for sitting a week or so, if possible, ahead of time, thereby saving a great deal of confusion, and perhaps disappointment.

Peterborough, September 28, 1870. 39

JUST RECEIVED

AT

GEORGE TANNERS',

AT THE SIGN OF THE

MAMMOTH CHAIR,

HUNTER STREET.

THE PATENT HAMMOCK FOLDING CHAIR!

This Chair was introduced to the public in Montreal in August last, and since that time has merited great attention wherever it has been introduced for its

COMFORT, DURABILITY AND CHEAPNESS,

it being retailed from $2.50 upwards. Call and see it; and in the meantime you can look through the largest and

Best Stock of General Furniture

EVER ON SALE IN THE TOWN OF PETERBORO.

THE UNDERTAKING BUSINESS

Is also more complete than ever, with a good supply of READY-MADE COFFINS.

N. B.—The subscriber wishes to give the Geniuses of this town and vicinity a gentle hint not to encroach on the manufacture of the Patent Hammock Folding Chair, as it is no humbug, but patented by Mr. Willoughby, Clerk, and I have purchased the sole right or this County from J. D. Mayer, the executive proprietor.

GEO. TANNER.

Peterboro, March 2, 1870. 9

WILSON, BOWMAN & CO.

Hamilton, Ontario

MANUFACTURERS OF THE CELEBRATED

LOCKMAN SEWING MACHINE,

Take pleasure in announcing that the popularity of the Sewing Machine manufactured by them is still on the increase. They are now turning them out at the rate of 600 per month and yet have been compelled within the last two weeks to increase their facilities to a capacity of one thousand per Month.

The Lockman Machine, from its capacity to sew the heaviest fabrics with linen thread, as well as the finest cambrics with No. 150 Cotton, is pre-eminently the Farmer's Favorite Family Friend.

It is so exceedingly simple in its parts, and so strongly and durably made, that it does not require a mechanical genius for its management.

The manufacturers challenge the world to produce its equal, and yet its price is from Forty to Fifty per cent. Lower than that of any other first-class Shuttle Lock-stitch Sewing Machine.

EVERY MACHINE IS WARRANTED.

Sole Agent for the County of Peterborough—

T. DONNELLY,

P. S.—ROOMS OVER THE STORE. George Street

eterboro, May 15, 1870. 16

PLAIN AND FANCY PRINTING IN ALL STYLES

EXECUTED IN A SUPERIOR STYLE,

At the "Examiner" Office, Simcoe St. Peterboro.

Notice.

IMPOUNDED

Two Devon Red Bulls, 1 year old. The smallest one all red; the largest one red with white spots on his belly and a white spot on each thigh and a white spot on his tail. Which will be sold at my premises on the

Seventh Day of July, 1871,

At the hour of One o'clock, p. m.

MATTHEW WALTON,

Pound-keeper.

Lot No. 6, 13th Con. N. Monaghan.

23-3ins.

BOARD AND LODGING.

MRS. DAVIES Shaftsbury House has opened on Simcoe street, where good board and lodging can be furnished for man, horse.

T. W. DAVIS.

June 20, 1870. 26-1y

FARM FOR SALE.

The Subscriber offers for Sale his Farm, South half of Lot 29, in the 13th Concession of Smith,

Containing 100 Acres. There are about 60 Acres improved and in a good state of cultivation. On the premises are a Comfortable Log House, Log Barn, Stables and Sheds; a Good Well and other conveniences. For terms and particulars apply to

JAMES BROWN,

Proprietor.

Lakefield P. O.

[illegible] 1871. 19

[illegible]

TRY THEM AND CHOOSE TO PEACH.

19-6ins.

STOVES, TINWARE &c

At the Giant T.

Cooking, Parlor and Box Stoves, CHEAP

A large stock of LUMBERMEN'S FURNISHINGS, on which a liberal discount will be made.

COAL OIL to the trade at refiners prices

ROOFING IN TIN AND GALVANIZED IRON, also EAVE-TROUGHING AND PIPING

Done by Practical Men

Gas Fitting, Steam Fitting,

AND PLUMBING.

Also Agent for, and manufacturer of

CALCUTT'S PATENT TUBULAR DRUM HEATER.

The most Economical in the Dominion, by the use of which 50 per cent wood can be saved. Call and see them.

THOMAS LAWLIN,

Practical Tin & Copper Smith

George St. Peterborough.

Sept. 28, 1870. 16-1yr

Fine English Camphor

The surest preventative against moths, and large supply on hand.

NO BATH COMPLETE

WITHOUT A SPONGE.

A GOOD HONEY-COMB SPONGE

From the Mediterranean may be obtained at the subscribers.

CARBOLIC SOAP

For Toilet Purposes.

CARBOLIC SOAP

For Washing Rooms, Bedsteads, Blankets, &c.

CARBOLIC ACID!

The most powerful disinfectant of modern times, not only neutralising but destroying miasmata, &c.

CARBOLIC POWDER

For Sprinkling in Cellars, &c. It is also very useful for destroying pediculi in dogs, calves, &c., being safe and effectulous.

May all be obtained Pure and Genuine, at

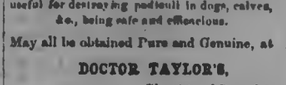
DOCTOR TAYLOR'S,

Chemist and Druggist

Corner of George and Hunter Sts, Peterboro

May 11, 1870. 19

UNFAILING EYE PRESERVERS.



LAZURUS, MORRIS & Co's

CELEBRATED

Perfected Spectacles

AND EYE GLASSES.

The large and increasing sales of these Perfected Glasses is a sure proof of their superiority. We were satisfied that they would be appreciated here as elsewhere, and that the results of the advantages derived to wearers of our beautiful lenses, viz: the ease and comfort, the assured and readily ascertained improvement of the sight, and the brilliant assistance they give in all cases, were in themselves so apparent on trial, that the result could not be otherwise than it has, in the almost general adoption of our Celebrated Perfected Spectacles by the residents of this locality.

With a full knowledge of the value of the assertion, we claim that they are the most perfect optical aids ever manufactured. To those needing spectacles, we afford at all times an opportunity of procuring the best and most desirable.

DR W. H TAYLOR

Corner of George and Hunter Streets,

Has always on hand a full assortment, suitable for every difficulty.

We take occasion to notify the public that we employ no pedlers, and to caution them against those pretending to have our goods for sale.

Peterboro, February 8, 1871

DARLEY'S

ARABIAN OIL,

FOR HORSES AND CATTLE.

A NEVER-FAILING REMEDY.

THIS valuable preparation combines all the medicinal virtues of those articles which long experience has proved to possess the most safe and efficient properties for the cure of Fleah Wounds, Sprains, Bruises, Galls of all kinds, Cracked Heels, Ring Bone, Spavin Callus, Fistula, Sweeney, External Poison Scratches or Grease, Strains, Lameness, Mang Whitlows, Corns, Sand Cracks, Foundere Foot, Horn Distemper, Swellings, and many other diseases which horses and cattle are object to.

This celebrated Liniment has been used for many years, and its curative properties thoroughly tested, and it is conceded to be the cheapest and most reliable remedy for all external complaints ever offered to the public—it never fails when timely used and faithfully applied.

To be had of all Druggists and Country Merchants throughout the Dominion. Price 25c. per bottle.

NORTHROP & LYMAN

Newcastle, O

Flax! Flax!!

Farmers intending to grow flax will please apply for their seed early. Seed supplied and payment taken in flax by calling on

SAMUEL TAYLOR

or H. CALCUTT.

I would beg to call the attention of farmers that I have a machine for pulling flax, which will pull 4 acres a day. I will let the machine and send a man with it for $2 per day. By the assistance of the puller, Flax is the cheapest crop harvested. For information I would refer you to—Jonathan Stephenson, Smith; W. Ellsera, Smith; J. Parnell, Smith; A. Scott Smith; I. Beck Otonabee; W. Rutherford Otonabee.

SAMUEL TAYLOR,

Flax Mill,

Ashburnham

Ashburnham, March, 1871. 11-3mos

THOS. MENZIES,

BANKER AND BROKER,

PETERBORO, ONT.

Buys and Sells New York and Sterling Exchange, Bank Drafts, Gold, Silver, Government, &c. &c. Sells Bills of Exchange on Great Britain and Ireland, Ireland and Scotland, France, Belgium, Germany, Switzerland, Italy, Denmark, Sweden & Norway, Russia, Poland and Continental Europe, all parts of the [illegible]

He has a [illegible] NEW CAN against fire and burglars, [illegible] for Deposits at the current rate of interest.

[illegible] REMEMBER.

[illegible] Agent for the ENGLAND AND AM[illegible] LINE OF STEAMSHIPS. Tickets for Sale at Low Rates.

The Peterborough Examiner
A WEEKLY
POLITICAL, AGRICULTURAL,
AND
FAMILY NEWSPAPER,
IS PUBLISHED
EVERY THURSDAY MORNING.
Terms $1.50 per annum in Advance.

EVERY DESCRIPTION OF BOOK AND JOB PRINTING executed at this office, in a superior style, and at low rates.

☞ Particular attention given to Ornamental Printing in Colors, Attractive Posters, &c.

All orders for Job Printing forwarded to this office will be punctually and strictly attended to.

JAMES HALL,
SHERIFF, Office in the Court House, Peterborough.

EDG. PEARSE,
COUNTY Treasurer and Clerk. Office in the Court House, Peterboro. 6

EDG. PEARSE,
OFFICIAL ASSIGNEE. Office — Court House, Peterborough. 6-1y

C. A. WELLER,
CLERK of the Peace, Office on Simcoe St., 19

C. A. WELLER,
COUNTY Attorney. Office on Simcoe St. 20

C. A. WELLER,
BARRISTER, Attorney & Solicitor, &c.—Office—Simcoe Street, Peterborough.

MR. JOHN BURNHAM,
BARRISTER, Attorney at Law, Solicitor in Chancery, Conveyancer, &c. Office—over T. Chandler's Store, Hunter Street, Peterborough, Ont. 39

GEORGE EDMISON,
ATTORNEY at Law, Solicitor in Chancery, Conveyancer, &c., &c. Office over Mr. John Fletcher's Boot and Shoe Store, directly opposite Mr. Claxton's, George Street, Peterborough.
Peterboro', Feb. 17th, 1864. 7

W. H. MOORE,
BARRISTER, Attorney at Law, Solicitor in Chancery, Conveyancer, &c. Office corner of George and Hunter Streets, McKellar & Cameron's old stand.
MONEY TO LOAN on easy terms, on Land security. Mortgage Bought,
Peterboro, April 6, 1869. 14

DENNISTOUN, FAIRBAIRN & CASSELS,
BARRISTERS, &c.,
Hunter Street, 3 Peterborough.

JOHN GREEN,
BARRISTER, Attorney at Law, Solicitor in Chancery, Conveyancer, &c. Office over the Ontario Drug Store, Scott's block, corner of George and Simcoe Streets.
Peterboro Dec. 1st, 1869. 48

GEO. T. LEONARD,
ATTORNEY-AT LAW, SOLICITOR IN Chancery &c. Peterborough. 29

A. D. CRAWFORD, M. D., C. M.,
MEMBER of Royal College of Surgeons, England; Licentiate Government Medical Board; Late resident Coombe Lying-In-Hospital, Dublin. Ryan's Buildings, Market Square, Peterboro. 7

DR. LOYD,
CORONER for the Counties of Peterborough and Victoria. Office and residence at Bobcaygeon. 47

GEORGE BURNHAM, M. D.
GRADUATE of Bellevue Hospital Medical College, N. Y., University of Victoria College Canada, and Licentiate of Nova Scotia, Physician, Surgeon and Accoucheur.
Office and residence,—Near the Corner of Brock and George Streets, Peterborough.
Peterboro, May 27, 1869. 42

D. PENTLAND,
DENTIST, would respectfully inform the public that he is now prepared to EXTRACT TEETH WITHOUT PAIN, by the aid of Nitrous Oxide Gas, a very pleasant and perfectly safe remedy.
Peterboro, November 26, 1866. 48

W. COULTER,
DEALER in Genuine Drugs, Chemicals, Patent Medicines, Perfumery, Paints, Oils Dye Stuffs, Hair, Nail and Tooth Brushes, Slices, Cutlinary Essences, Fancy Soaps, &c. George Street, Peterboro. 18

BUSH & BUCKETT,
VETERINARY SURGEONS, No. 6 Hutchison's Block, George street, Peterboro Horse and Cattle Medicines kept constantly on hand. Horses taken under treatment on easy terms.

ALEX. McNEILL,
LICENSED Auctioneer for the Counties of Peterborough and Victoria, and Townships of Cavan and South Monaghan.

GEORGE READ,
ISSUER of Marriage Licenses, Clerk Division Court, Township Clerk, &c., Keene, Otonabee.

JAMES McLEAN,
INSURANCE Agent, Issuer of Marriage Licenses, and Commissioner for taking Affidavits.
Cavan, Mount Pleasant, C. W. 30

CABINET-MAKING.
E. POOLE, Cabinet maker, Upholsterer and Undertaker, George Street, Peterboro.

JAMES STEVENSON,
DEALER in Stoves, Tin-Ware, &c., &c George Street, Peterborough. 18

ROBERT PATTERSON,
DEALER in Boots and Shoes. Spanish Sole Leather constantly on hand.
Nicholls and Hall's old stand, Simcoe Street, Peterborough.

GEORGE MITCHELL,
DEALER in Groceries and Provisions, &c. Cash paid for all kinds of country produce
George Street, Peterborough, 18

EDMUND S. VINDIN
COMMISSION, Shipping, Forwarding and General Agent, Lumber Merchant, &c.—Office, Corner of Walton and Ontario Streets, Port Hope.

BANK OF TORONTO.
CORNER of Water and Simcoe Streets, Peterboro. Interest allowed on Deposits
J. MURRAY SMITH, Manager

ROBERT WALTON.
SADDLERY. Dealer in Stoves, Tinware, &c., George Street, Peterboro'. 18

J. R. McCULLOUGH, M. D.,
Graduate of Trinity College, Dublin, and Licentiate of the Dominion of Canada,
Physician, Surgeon, Accoucheur, &c.,
AND
Late Surgeon of the U. S. Army & Navy,
Will be found at his office or at his residence, at all hours of the Day and Night, except when out on professional business.
☞ N. B.—All communications strictly confidential. ☜
RESIDENCE and
OFFICE—Next door to Rev. McDonald's Hotel, and two doors East Of Helm's Foundry, Simcoe Street.
Visits in the Corporation One Dollar, Only.
VISITS TO THE COUNTRY MODERATE.
☞ ADVICE TO ALL FREE. ☜
Simcoe Street, Peterboro, Ont.
September 8, 1868. 36

THOMAS LANNIN,
PRACTICAL TIN & COPPER SMITH, Bell Hanger, Steam and Gas Fitter, Plumber, &c. Dealer in Stoves, Iron Beds, Baths, Refrigerators, Water Coolers, Pincers, Pumps, &c.
GEORGE STREET,
Peterboro, 1st June, 1870. 22

JOHN COONEY,
NURSERYMAN,
DEALER in Fruit and Ornamental Trees, Shrubs and Roses, and all kinds of Nursery stock. A very choice collection of Strawberry Plants on hand.
Orders by mail promptly attended to.
JOHN COONEY.
Peterboro, July 21, 1869. 29

ONTARIO BANK,
PETERBOROUGH.
SAVINGS DEPARTMENT.
From this date until further notice, the rate of interest in the above department will be
FIVE PER CENT.
PER ANNUM.
G. E. SHAW,
Manager.
Peterboro', April 1st, 1868. 14-tf

GEORGE ALLEN,
GUN & WHITE-SMITH,
Hunter Street, Peterborough,
BEGS to inform the public, that all kinds of repairing is done on the shortest notice, such as Guns, Stocking, &c., Pistols and Whitesmithing. Sewing Machines also neatly repaired.
☞ Shop and residence adjoining the Union Hotel.
Peterboro, October 25, 1865. 43

GORE DISTRICT MUTUAL
FIRE INSURANCE COMPANY!
HEAD OFFICE, GALT, ONTARIO.
CHARTERED A. D., 1836.
ASSETS, $160,000 | LOSSES PAID, $116,000
POLICIES ISSUED, 15,895.
ALL kinds of Property Insured at rates from 15 to 20 per cent. lower than Stock Companies. Claims adjusted with fairness and liberality. Losses PROMPTLY PAID.
ROBERT McLEAN, Esq.,
Inspector and General Agent.
THOMAS M. SIMONS, Esq., Secretary.
R. W. ERRETT, Agent, Peterborough.
November 4, 1869. 46-1y*

TO THE FARMERS
OF THE
COUNTY OF PETERBOROUGH.
The undersigned begs to intimate that he is again prepared to pay the HIGHEST CASH PRICE for
Oats, Pease, Barley and Rye,
at his New Grain Warehouse in Ashburnham, situated nearly opposite his old stand.
His friends and acquaintances are invited to give him a call as usual.
D SUTHERLAND.
Ashburnham, Sep. 29, 1869 40

STAGE.
BETWEEN
Norwood and Peterboro'
The Stage leaves Norwood every
Monday, Wednesday and Friday,
at 7 o'clock a. m.
RETURNING, leaves Peterboro' at 2.30 p.m.
Office in Norwood, Johnson's Hotel.
Office in Peterboro', Stewart House.
This Stage connects with the stage for Blairton, Marmora, Hastings, Warkworth and Colborne.
J. A. JOHNSON,
23-tf Proprietor

SCOTTISH IMPERIAL
FIRE INSURANCE COMPANY.
CAPITAL - - £1,000,000.
Head Office—50 West George Street, Glasgow.
CANADA BRANCH—Head Office, No. 36 St. Francois Xavier Street, Montreal
WALTER BEAL,
Agent for Peterboro.
OFFICE—SIMCOE STREET. 26-3ins

DAILY LINE
TO
ROCHESTER.

The Superb new Lake Upper Stare Cabin Steamer.
NORSEMAN,
Carrying United States and Canadian Mails and Express
Leaves Port Hope every Morning
FOR ROCHESTER
At 9 o'clock on arrival of Grand Trunk Railway Trains from East and West.
RETURNING
Leaves Port of Rochester (Charlotte) every evening at 9 o'clock (except Saturday), when she leaves at two P. M., for brighton.)
This is the favourite summer route from Toronto to Rochester, Albany, &c. The cheapest and quickest route from points East of Port Hope on the Grand Trunk, to Rochester, Buffalo, &c. The favourite route to Avon and Clifton Springs, &c.
Passengers and freight take cars along-side steamer at Rochester Landing.
Connection made at Cobourg ask Port Hope with Royal Mail Line Steamers from Hamilton and Montreal.
Address R. C. CARTER,
15 PORT HOPE.

GRAND TRUNK RAILWAY.
TRAINS LEAVE
PORT HOPE STATION
AS FOLLOWS:
GOING EAST.
Express (day)..... 9.30 a.m.
Mixed..... 7.00 p.m.
Express (night)..... 9.20 p.m.
GOING WEST.
Express (night) ..... 10.30 p.m.
Mixed..... 3.00 p.m.
Express (day)..... 9.30 a.m.
Trains leave on Railroad time, which is about twenty-three minutes ahead of Port Hope time.
Warranted correct by the Company's time Table

Montreal Ocean Steamship Co.

Steam to Liverpool, Londonderry and Glasgow.
Rates of Passage from Peterboro':
CABIN, - - $74 to $88. STEERAGE - $30.
Return Tickets for 6 months at reduced fares
For Through Passage Tickets, Staterooms, and every information, apply to
GEORGE A. COX, Agent.
Canadian Express Co'y.
Peterboro', Nov. 7th, 1866. 45

GREAT WESTERN RAILWAY
OF CANADA.
TORONTO LINE.
TORONTO, &c., TO HAMILTON.
Accommodation trains leave Yonge street Station at 7.00 a.m., 9.50 p.m. and 6.55 p.m.
Express at 12.55 p.m.
HAMILTON, &c., TO TORONTO.
Accommodation trains leave Hamilton at 7.10 a.m., 9.50 a.m. and 2.25 p.m.
Express at 3.45 p.m.

PIANOS,
MELODEONS, ORGANS
D. PENTLAND,
Is now Agent for A. & S. Nordheimer for the sale of the following celebrated Pianos:—
Chickering & Sons'; Steinway & Sons'; Dunham & Sons'; Haines Brothers'; Ernest Gabler; and J. W. Vose's.
Also, for the world-wide Celebrated Organs and Melodeons—Geo. A. Prince & Co., Buffalo; Mason & Hamlin's, Boston.
Instruction Books for Piano & Organ, Sheet Music, &c always on hand.
REFERENCES.—Mr. F Bell, Organist, St. John's Church, Peterboro; Mr D. D. Galletly, Chorister, Canada Presbyterian Church, Peterboro; Cr. J. I. Davidson, Precentor, St. Andrew' Murch, Peterboro; Dr. Taylor, Peterboro.
Peterboro, April 5th, 1871. 14

THE CANADIAN
BANK OF COMMERCE
CORNER OF
Hunter and Water Streets, Peterboro'
☞ Interest allowed on Deposits.
J. A. HALL, Manager
Peterboro, July 27, 1870. 30

THOS. MENZIES,
Now being the authorized Ticket Agent for the Grand Trunk Railway, can supply the public with
Tickets to all parts of Canada,
Also to any part of the United States.
Charges the same as at any of the Stations on the G. T. R. So get your Tickets before leaving Peterboro, and save all trouble on your journey.
THOS. MENZIES,
George Street.
Peterboro July 3, 1870 13

MONEY TO LOAN,
In Small or Large Sums on easy terms
GEO. T. LEONARD,
Solicitor, &c
May 23rd, 1871. 21-4ins

PASTURAGE
GOOD PASTURAGE,
Apply to
J. EDWARDS
May, 1871 20-tf.

Peterborough Examiner.

$1.50 PER ANNUM, IF PAID IN ADVANCE.] "Prove all things—Hold fast that which is good." [$2.00 PER ANNUM, IF NOT PAID IN ADVANCE.

VOL. XVI. PETERBOROUGH, THURSDAY, JUNE 29, 1871. NO. 26

Select Poetry.

We'll Meet Again.

"We'll meet again!"—the parting hour
Hath many a charm to lure;
It's memories have a winning power,
An influence chaste and pure,
That in the heart of hearts survive,
When joys and hopes are vain—
But none of these few short words outlive
"We'll meet again."

"We'll meet again!"—how sweet the sound
When fond affection pleads!
In traversing life's weary round,
The lonely pilgrim finds
A bliss where all was grief before,
A joy where all was pain,
When memory calls to him once more,
"We'll meet again."

"We'll meet again!"—then noble one
That round my heart has cast
A halo when all else is gone,
Will cling unto the last;—
Know that each fiber of the breast
Echoes this sweet refrain,
When the soul seeks its final rest,
"We'll meet again."

"We'll meet again!"—If not on earth,
Oh look above and see
The Spirit that around thy hearth
Would chime sweet melody;
Oh all then wert or art to me,
There'll be this holy strain,
To hear my spirit back to the,
"We'll meet again!"

Choice Literature.

A Terrible Temptation.

BY CHARLES READE.

From Cassell's Magazine.

CHAPTER VI.

"English!" said Sir Charles. "Then tell me, how did I come here? Where am I?"

"You had a fit; and the doctor ordered you to be kept quiet; and I am here to nurse you."

"A fit! Ay, I remember. That vile woman!"

"Don't think of her: give your mind to getting well; remember there is somebody who would break her heart if you——"

"Oh, my poor Bella! my sweet, timid, modest, loving Bella!" He was so weakened that he cried like a child.

Miss Somerset rose, and laid her forehead easily on the window-sill.

"Why do I cry for her, like a baby?" muttered Sir Charles. "She wouldn't cry for me. She cast me off in a moment."

"Not she. It is her father's doing. Have a little patience. The whole thing shall be explained to them; and then she will soon soften the old man. It is not as if you were really to blame."

"No more I was. It is all that vile woman."

"Oh don't! She is so sorry; she has taken it all to heart. She had once shammed a fit, on the very place; and when you had a real fit there—and lay like one dead, she saw God's finger, and it touched her hard heart. Don't say anything more against her just now. She is trying so hard to be good. And, besides, it is all a mistake: she never told that old admiral; she never breathed a word out of her own house. Her own people have betrayed her and you. She has made me promise two things; to find out who told the admiral; and——"

"Well?"

"The second thing I have to do—well, that is a secret between me and that unhappy woman. She is bad enough but not so heartless as you think."

Sir Charles shook his head incredulously, but said no more; and soon after fell asleep.

In the evening he woke, and found the sister watching.

She now turned her head away from him, and asked him quietly to describe Miss Bella Bruce to her.

He described her in minute and glowing terms.

"But oh, sister," said he, "it is not her beauty only, but the beauty of her mind. So gentle; so modest, so timid, so docile. She would never have had the heart to turn me off. But she will obey her father. She looked forward to obeying me, sweet dove."

"Did she say so?"

"Yes, that is her dream of happiness, to obey."

The sister still questioned him with averted head, and he told her what had passed between Bella and him the last time he saw her, and all their innocent plans of married happiness. He told her with a tear in his eye, and she listened, with tears in hers. "And then," said he, laying his hand on her shoulder, "is it not hard? I just went to Mayfair, not to please myself, but to do an act of justice: and then, for that, to have her door shut in my face. Only two hours between the height of happiness and the depth of misery."

The sister said nothing, but she hid her face in her hands and thought.

The next morning by her order, Polly came into the room and said, "You are to go home. The carriage is at the door." With this she retired; and Sir Charle's valet entered the room soon after to help him to dress.

"Where am I, James?"

"Miss Somerset's house, Sir Charles."

"Then get me out of it directly."

"Yes, Sir Charles. The carriage is at the door."

"Who told you to come, James?"

"Miss Somerset, Sir Charles."

"That is odd."

"Yes, Sir Charles."

When he got home he found a sofa placed by a fire, with wraps and pillows; his cigar-case laid out, and a bottle of soda, and also a small glass of old cognac, in case of faintness.

"Which of you had the gumption to do all this?"

"Miss Somerset, Sir Charles."

"What, has she been here?"

"Yes, Sir Charles."

"Curse her!"

"Yes, Sir Charles,"

CHAPTER VII.

"LOVE LIES BLEEDING."

Bella Bruce was drinking the bitterest cup a young virgin soul can taste. Illusion gone—the wicked world revealed as it is, how unlike what she thought it was—love crushed in her, and not crushed out of her as it might if she had been either proud or vain.

Frail men and women should see what a passionate but virtuous woman can suffer, when a revelation, of which they think but little, comes and blasts her young heart, and bids her dry up in a moment the deep well of her affection, since it flows for an unworthy object, and flows in vain. I tell you that the fair head severed from the forehead lady, is nothing to be compared with this. The fair body pierced with heathen arrows was nothing to her in the days of old compared with this.

In a word—for now-a-days we can but amplify, and so enfeeble, what some old dead master of language, immortal though obscure, has said in words of granite, here—"Love lay bleeding."

No fainting—no vehement weeping: but oh, such deep desolation; such weariness of life; such a pitiable restlessness. Appetite gone; the taste of food almost lost; sleep unwilling to come; and oh, the torture of waking—for at that horrible moment, all rushed back at once, the joy that had been, the misery that was, the blank that was to come.

She never stirred out, except when ordered, and then went like an automaton. Pale, sorrow-stricken, and patient, she moved about the ghost of herself; and lay down a little, and then tried to work a little, and could strive to nothing but sorrow and deep despondency.

Not that she nursed her grief. She had been told to be brave, and she tried. But her grief was her master. It came welling through her eyes in a moment, of its own accord.

She was deeply mortified too. But in her gentle nature, anger could play but a secondary part. Her indignation was weak beside her grief, and did little to bear her up.

Yet her sense of shame was vivid; and she tried not to let her father see how deeply she loved the man, who had gone from her to Miss Somerset. Besides he had ordered her to fight again—a love that now could only degrade her; he had ordered, and it was for her to obey.

As soon as Sir Charles was better, he wrote her a long humble letter, owning that before he knew her, he had led a free life; but assuring her that, ever since that time, his heart and his mind had been solely hers; as to his visit to Miss Summerset, it had been one of business merely, and this he could prove, if she would receive him. The Admiral could be present at that interview and Sir Charles hoped to convince him he had been somewhat hasty and harsh in his decision.

Now the Admiral had forseen Sir Charles would write to her; so he had ordered his man to bring all letters to him first

He recognized Sir Charles's hand, and brought the letter in to Bella. "Now my child," he said, "be brave. Here is a letter from that man."

"Oh, papa! I thought he would. I knew he would." And the pale face was flushed with joy and hope, all in a moment.

"Do what?"

"Write and explain."

"Explain! A thing that is clear as sunshine. He has written to throw dust in your eyes again. You are evidently in no state to judge. I shall read this letter first."

"Yes, papa," said Bella faintly.

He did read it, and she devoured his countenance all the time.

"There is nothing in it. He offers no real explanation, but only says he can explain, and asks for an interview—to play upon your weakness. If I give you this letter, it will only make you cry, and render your task more difficult. I must be strong, for your good, and set you an example. I loved this young man too: but, now I know him—then he mortally thrust the letter into the fire.

But this was too much. Bella shrieked at the act, and put her hand to her heart, and shrieked again. "Ah! you'll kill us, you'll kill us both!" she cried. "Poor Charles! Poor Bella! You don't love your child—you have no pity." And, for the first time, her misery was violent. She writhed, and wept, and at last went into violent hysterics, and frightened that stout old warrior more than cannon had ever frightened him; and presently she became quiet, and wept at his knees, and begged his forgiveness, and said he was wiser than she was, and said she would obey in everything, only he must not be angry with her, if she could not live

Then the stout Admiral mingled his tears with hers, and began to realise what deep waters of affliction his girl was wading in.

Yet he saw no way out, but firmness. He wrote to Sir Charles, to say that his daughter was too ill to write; but that no explanation was possible, and no interview could be allowed.

Sir Charles who, after writing, had conceived the most sanguine hopes, was now as wretched as Bella. Only, now that he was refused a hearing, he had wounded pride to support him a little under wounded love.

Admiral Bruce, fearing for his daughter's health, and even for her life—she pined so visible—now ordered her to divide her day into several occupations, and exact divisions of time: an hour for this, an hour for that; an hour, by the clock: and here he showed practical wisdom. Try it, ye that are very unhappy; and tell me the result.

As a part of this excellent system, she had to walk round the square from eleven to twelve a. m.: but never alone: he was not going to have Sir Charles surprising her into an interview. He always went with her, and, as he was too stiff to walk briskly he sat down, and she had to walk in sight. He took a stout stick with him—for Sir Charles. But Sir Charles was proud, and stared at home with his deep wound.

One day, walking round the square, with a step of Mercury, and heart of lead, Bella Bruce met a sister of Charity pacing slow and thoughtful; their eyes met and drank, in a moment, every feature of each other.

The Sister, apparently, had seen the settled grief on that pale face; for, the next time they met, she eyed her certain sympathy, which did not escape Bella.

This subtile interchange took place several times and Bella could not help feeling a little grateful.

"Ah," thought she to herself, "how kind religious people are! I should like to speak to her." And the next time they met, she looked wishfully, in the Sister's face.

She did not meet her again, for she went and rested on a bench, in sight of her father but at some distance from him. Unconsciously to herself, his refusal even to hear Sir Charles repelled her. That was so hard on him, and her. It looked like throwing away the last chance, the last little chance of happiness.

By and by the Sister came and sat on the same bench.

Bella was hardly surprised; but blushed high; for she felt that her own eyes had invited the sympathy of a stranger; and now it seemed to be coming. The timid girl felt uneasy. The Sister saw that, and approached her with tact. "You look unwell," she said, gently, but with no appearance of extravagant interest or curiousity.

"I am—a little." said Bella, very reservedly.

"Excuse my remarking it. We are professional nurses, and apt to be a little officious I fear."

No reply.

"I say you were unwell. But I hope it is not serious. I was generally told when the sick are in danger." A peculiar look. "I am glad not to see it in so young and—good a face."

"You are young, too; very young, and—(she was going to say "beautiful," but she was too shy)—to be a Sister of Charity. But I am sure you never regret leaving such a world as this is."

"Never. I have lost the only thing I ever valued in it."

"I have no right to ask you what that was."

"You shall know without asking. One I loved proved unworthy."

The sister sighed deeply, and then, hiding her face with her hands for a moment, rose abruptly, and left the square, ashamed, apparently, of having been betrayed into such a confession.

Bella, when she was twenty yards off, put out a timid hand, as if to detain her; but she had not the courage to say anything of the kind.

She never told her father a word. She had got somebody now, who could sympathize with her better than he could.

Next day the Sister was there, and Bella bowed to her when she met her.

This time it was the Sister who went and sat on the bench.

Bella continued her walk for some time, but at last could not resist the temptation. She came and sat down on the bench, and blushed; as much as to say, "I have the courage to come, but not to speak upon a certain subject, which shall be nameless."

The Sister, as may be imagined, was not so shy. She opened a conversation. "I committed a fault yesterday. I spoke to you of myself, and of the past: it is discouraged by our rules. We are bound to inquire the grief of others, not to tell our own."

This was a fair opening; but Bella was too delicate to show her wounds to a fresh acquaintance.

The Sister, having failed at this tried something very different.

"But I could tell you a pitiful case about another. Some time ago I nursed a gentleman, whom love had laid on a sick bed."

"A gentleman! What can they love as we do?" said Bella, bitterly.

"Not many of them; but this is an exception. But I don't know whether I ought to tell these secrets to so young a lady."

"Oh, yes—please—what else is there, in this world worth talking about? Tell me about the poor man, who could love as we can."

The Sister seemed to hesitate; but, at last, decided to go on.

"Well; he was a man of the world; and he had not always been a good man; but he was trying to be. He had fallen in love with a young lady, and seen the beauty of virtue, and was going to marry her, and was a good life. But he was a man of honour; and there was a lady for whom he thought it is duty to provide. He set his lawyer to draw a deed, and his lawyer appointed a day for signing it at her house. The poor man came, because his lawyer told him. Do you think there was any harm in that?"

"No; of course not."

"Well, then, he lost his love for that."

Miss Bruce's colour began to come and go; and her supple figure to crouch a little. She said nothing.

The Sister continued—"Some malicious person went and told the young lady's father the gentleman was in the habit of visiting that lady, and would be with her at a certain hour. And so he was; but it was the lawyer's appointment, you know. You seem agitated."

"No, no; not agitated," said Bella. "but astonished: it seems so like a story. I know. A young lady, a friend of mine, had an anonymous letter, telling her that one she loved and esteemed was unworthy. What can you have told me, shows me how deceitful appearances may be. What was your patient's name?"

"It is against our rules, to tell that. But you said an anonymous letter.' Was your friend so weak as to believe an anonymous letter? The writer of such a letter is a coward, and a coward is always a liar. Show me your friend's anonymous letter. I may perhaps be able to throw a light on it."

The conversation was interrupted by Admiral Bruce, who had approached them unobserved. "Excuse me," said he, "but you ladies seem to have hit upon a very interesting theme."

"Yes, papa," said Bella, "I took the liberty to question this lady as to her experience of sick beds, and she was good enough to give me some of them."

Having uttered this with a sudden appearance of calmness, that first amazed the Sister, then made her smile, she took her father's arm, bowed politely and a little stiffly to her new friend, and drew the Admiral away.

"Oh!" thought the Sister. "I am not to speak to the old gentleman. He is not in her confidence. Yet she is very fond of him: how she hangs on his arm. Simplicity!—We are all tarred with the same stick, we women."

That night Bella was a changed girl; excited and depressed by turns, and with no visible reason.

Her father was pleased. Anything better than that deadly languor

The next day Bella sat by her father's side in the square, longing to go to the Sister, yet patiently waiting to be ordered.

At last the Admiral, finding her dull and listless, said, "Why don't you go and talk to the Sister? She amuses you. I'll join you when I have smoked this cigar."

The obedient Bella rose, and went towards the Sister, as if compelled. But, when she got to her, her whole manner changed; she took her warmly by the hand, and said, trembling, and blushing, and all on fire, "I have brought you the anonymous letter."

The elder actress took it, and ran her eyes over it, an eye that now sparkled like a diamond. "Humph!" said she, and flung off all the dulness of her assumed character, with mighty little ceremony. "This hand is disguised a little; but I think I know it. I am sure I do. The dirty little rascal."

"Rascal!" cried Bella, aghast with surprise at this language.

"I tell you I know the writer and his rascally motive. You must lend me this for a day or two."

"Must I?" said Bella. "Excuse me! Papa would be so angry."

"Very likely: but you will lend it to me, for all that; for, with this, I can clear Miss Bruce's lover, and defeat his enemies."

Bella uttered a faint cry and trembled, and her bosom heaved violently. She looked this way and that, like a frightened deer. "But papa! His eye is on us."

"Never deceive you father!" said the sister almost sternly: "but," darting her grey eyes right into those dovelike orbs, "give me five minutes' start—IF YOU REALLY LOVE SIR CHARLES BASSET."

With these words, she carried off the letter; and Bella ran, blushing, panting, trembling, to her father, and clung to him.

He questioned her, but could get nothing from her very intelligibly, until the sister was out of sight, and then she told him all without reserve.

I was unworthy of him to doubt him. An anonymous slander. I'll never trust appearances again. Poor Charles! Oh my darling, what he must have suffered, if he loves me like me." Then came a shower of tears: then a shower of happy kisses.

The admiral groaned, but, for a long time he could not get a word in. When he did it was chilling. "My poor girl," said he, "the unhappy love blinds you. What, don't you see the woman is no use, but some sly hussy that man has sent to throw dust in your eyes?"

Nothing she could say prevailed to turn him from his view; and he acted upon it with resolution: he confined her excursions to a little garden at the back of the house, and forbade her, on any pretence, to cross the threshold.

Miss Somerset came to the square in another disguise, armed with important information.

But no Bella Bruce appeared to meet her.

Till this time Richard Bassett was as happy as a prince.

So besotted was he with egotism, and so blinded by imaginary wrongs, that he rejoiced in the lovers' separation, rejoiced in the lovers attack.

Polly, who now regarded him almost as a lover, told him all about it, and already in anticipation he saw himself and his line once more lords of the two manors, Bassett and Huntercombe, on the decease of Sir Charles Bassett, Bart., deceased without issue.

And in fact, Sir Charles was utterly defeated. He lay torpid.

But there was a tough opponent in the way; the more dangerous that she was not feared.

One fine day Miss Somerset electrified her groom, by ordering her pony carriage at the door at ten a.m.

She took the road on the pavement, like a man, leaning in as light as a feather, and away rattled the carriage into the city. The ponies were all alive, the driver's eye keen as a bird's; her courage and her judgment equal. She wound in and out among the huge vehicles with perfect composure: and on those occasions when, the traffic being interrupted, the oratorical powers were useful to fill up the time, she shone with singular brilliancy. The West End leaders in Art to the City, but, in the matter of chaff, it was not so this day; for whenever she took a peck she returned a bushel; and so she rattled to the door of Solomon Oldfield, Solicitor, Old Jewry.

She penetrated into the inner office of that worthy, and told him that he must come with her that minute to Portman Square.

"Impossible, madam!" And as the say in the law reports, gave his reasons.

"Certain, sir!" And gave no reasons.

He still resisted.

Thereupon she told him she should sit there all day, and chaff his clients one after another, and that his connection with the Bassett and Huntercombe should end.

Then he saw he had to do with a termagant, and consented, with a sigh.

She drove him west-ward, striding every now and then at her close driving, and told him all, and showed him what she was pleased to call her little game. He told her all was too romantic, said he, "You ladies reading nothing but novels; but the real world is quite different from the world of novels." Having delivered this remonstrance, which was tolerably just, for she never read anything but novels and sermons, he submitted like a lamb and received her instructions.

She drove as fast as she talked so that by this this time they were at Admiral Bruce's door.

Now Mr Oldfield took the lead, as per instructions. "Mr. Oldfield, Solicitor, and a lady—on business."

The porter delivered this to the footman with the accuracy which all who read verbal messages deserve and rarely count on. "Mr. Oldfield and lady."

The footman who represented the next step in oral tradition, without which oral tradition, without which form of history the Heathen world would never have known that Balmidai softened the rocks with vinegar, nor the Christian world that eleven thousand virgins dwelt in a German town the size of Ottner, announced the pair as "Mr. and Mrs. Hamville!"

"I don't know them, I think. Well, I will see them."

They entered, and the admiral stared a little, and wondered how this couple came together, the keen but plain old man, with clothes hanging on him, and the dashing beauty, with her dress in the height of the fashion, and her gauntleted hands. However he bowed ceremoniously, and begged his visitor to be seated.

Now the folding doors were ajar, and the confidante Mrs. Oldfield peeped. She saw Bella Bruce at some distance, seated by the fire, in a reverie.

Judge that young lady's astonishment, when she looked up and observed a large white well-shaped hand, sparkling with diamonds and rubies, beckoning her furtively.

The owner of that sparkling hand soon heard a soft rustle of silk come towards the door; the very rustle, somhow, was eloquent and betrayed love and timidity, and something in innocent, yet subtle. The jewelled hand went in again, directly.

CHAPTER VIII.

Meantime Mr. Oldfield began to tell the Admiral who he was, and that he was come to remove a false impression about a client of his, Sir Charles Basset.

"That, sir," said the Admiral, sternly, "is a name we never mention here."

He rose, and went to the folding doors, and deliberately closed them.

The Somerset, thus defeated, bit her lip, and sat all of a heap, like a cat about to spring, looking sulky and vicious.

Mr. Oldfield persisted, and, as he took the Admiral's hint and lowered his voice, he was interrupted no more; but made a simple statement of those facts which are know to the reader.

Admiral Bruce heard them, and admitted that the case was not quite so bad as he thought.

Then Mr. Oldfield proposed that Sir Charles should be re-admitted.

"No," said the old Admiral firmly; "turn it how you will, it is to ugly; the bloom of the thing is gone. Why should my daughter take that woman's? Why should I give her pure heart to a man about town?"

"Because you will break it also." said Miss Somerset, with affected politeness.

"Give her credit for more dignity, madam, if you please," replied Admiral Bruce with equal politeness.

"Oh, bother dignity!" cried the Somerset.

At this free phrase, from so well-dressed a lady, Admiral Bruce opened his eyes, and inquired of Oldfield rather satirically, who was this lady, that did him the honour to interfere in his family affairs.

Oldfield looked confused; but Somerset, full of mother-wit, was not to be caught napping. "I'm a bystander; and they always see clearer than the folk themselves. You are a man of honour, sir, and you are very clever at sea, no doubt; and a fighter, and all that; but you are no match for lawsharps: you are being made a dupe and a tool of. Who do you think wrote that annonymous letter to your daughter? A friend of truth? a friend of injured innocence? Nothing of the sort. One Richard Bassett; Sir Charles's cousin. Here, Mr. Oldfield, please compare those two handwritings closely, and you will see I am right." She put down the annonymous letter, and Richard Bassett's letter to herself; but she could not wait for Mr. Oldfield to compare the documents, now her tongue was set going. "Yes, gentlemen, this is now to you; but you'll find that little scheming rascal wrote them both, and with as base a motive, and as black a heart, as any other anonymous coward's. His game is to make Sir Charles Basset die childless, and so then this dirty fellow would inherit the estate; and, owing to you being so green, and swallowing an anonymous letter like pure water from the spring, he very nearly got his way; Sir Charles has been at death's door along of all this."

"Hush, madam! not so loud, please," whispered Admiral Bruce, looking uneasily towards the folding doors.

"Why not?" howled the Somerset. "The truth may be blamed, but it can't be shamed. I tell you that your precious letter brought Sir Charles Basset to the brink of the grave. Soon as ever he got it, he came tearing in his cab to Miss Somerset's house, and accused her of telling the lie, to keep him—and he might have known better, for the jade never did a sneaking thing in her life—but any way he thought it must be her doing, assailed her like a dog, and raged at her dreadful, and, at last, what with love, and fury, and despair he had the terriblest fit you ever saw. He fell down as black as your hat, and his eyes rolled, and his teeth gnashed, and he foamed at the mouth, and took four men to hold him; and presently as white as a ghost, and given up for dead. No pulse for hours; and, then his life came back, his reason was gone."

"Good heavens, madam!"

"For a time it was: how he did rave: and 'Bella' was the only name on his lips. And now he lies in his own house, as weak as water. Come, old gentleman, don't be too hard: you are not a child, like your daughter; take the world as it is: do you think you will ever find a man of fortune who has not had a lady friend? Why, every single gentleman in London, that can afford to keep a saddle horse, has an article of that sort in some corner or other: and, if he parts with her as soon as his banns are cried, that is all you can expect. Do you think any mother in Belgravia would make a row about that? They are downier than you are: they would shrug their aristocratic shoulders, and decline to listen ... the past lives of their son-in-law—unless in the newspapers, mind you."

"If Belgravia mothers have mercenary minds, they have good reasons why," shouted, while cheeks have blanched in the service of a virtuous Queen, and whose hairs have whitened in honour."

On receiving this broadside the Somerset altered her tone directly, said, obsequiously, "That is true, sir, and I beg pardon for encouraging you to the track. But brave men are pitiful, you know: then show your pity here. Pity a gentleman that repented his faults as soon as your daughter showed him there was a better love within reach, and now lies stung by an annonymous viper, and almost dying of love and mortification: and pity your own girl, that will soon lose her health, and perhaps her life, if you don't give in."

"She is not so weak, madam. She is in better spirits already."

"Ay, but then she didn't know what he had suffered for her. She does now. for I heard her moan, and she will die for him now, or else she will give you twice as many kicks some day, and cry a bucket full over you, and then run away with her lovers; I know women better than you do: I am of the precious lot."

The Admiral replied only with a look of superlative scorn: this incensed the Somerset, and that daring woman, whose ear was nearer to the door, and had caught sounds that escaped the men, actually turned the handle, and while her eye flashed defiance, her vigorous foot spurned the folding doors wide open in half a moment.

Bella Bruce lay with her head sideways on the table, and he hands extended, moaning and sobbing piteously for poor Sir Charles.

"For shame, madam, to expose my child," cried the Admiral, bursting with indignation and grief. He rushed to her, and took her in his arms.

She scarcely noticed him, for the moment he turned her, she caught sight of Miss Somerset, and recognised her face in a moment. "Ah! the sister of charity!" she cried, and stretched out her hands to her with a look and a gesture so innocent, confiding and imploring, that the Somerset already much excited by her own eloquence, took a turn not uncommon with termagants, and began to cry herself.

But she soon stopped that, for she saw her time was come to go, and avoid unpleasant explanations. She made a dart and secured the two letters. "Settle it amongst yourselves," said she, wheeling round and bestowing this advice on the whole

ABSTRACT
OF
RECEIPTS AND EXPENDITURE
BY THE TREASURER OF THE TOWNSHIP OF DOURO,
FOR THE YEAR 1870.

RECEIPTS. 1870.	$ cts.
To balance on hand from 1869	791 91½
Cash from Collector	5429 34
Cash for Town non-resident tax	224 18
Clergy Reserve fund	122 50
Rents received	125 50
Shop and Tavern licenses	90 00
Notes redeemed	50 22
Charity money refunded	7 00
	$6849 76½

PAYMENTS. 1870.	$ cts.
By County and Debenture rate to Co Treasurer	2586 27
Trustees' School Section rates	1837 00
To Wards Nos. 2, 3, 4 and 5 @65 each	260 00
To line between 10. 11 lots, 7th concession	30 00
do line between 3 & 3	55 00
For Bridges on Indian River	615 20
To B Casement, on account of Ward No. 1	197 25
Roads and bridges in general	95 76
Printing and stationery	24 51
Remittances and abatements of taxes	165 99
Abatements to Collector	165 11
To parties clearing snow	18 50
Sundries	69 75
Charities	142 94
Officers salaries	534 20
By balance on hand	667 99½
	$6849 76½

We, the undersigned, hereby certify that the above is a correct audit of the Receipts and Expenditure of the Treasurer of the Municipality of Douro, from April 30th, 1870, until the 29th day of May, 1871.

HENRY CARVETH, } Auditors
DANIEL SULLIVAN, }

Douro, June 28th, 1871. 26

GREAT EXCITEMENT!
AT
W. FAIRWEATHER & Co's
Cheap Sale.

GREATEST BARGAINS EVER HEARD OF IN PETERBOROUGH.

Good Silk Mantles $1.50, worth $5.00.
Good Rich Grograin Silk $4.50 worth $10.00.
Good " " Trimmed with Real Lace (beautiful) only $7.50, worth $14.00.
Good White Serge Jackets only $1.25.
Good Summer Shawls, $1.00 and $1.50,
Good White and Colored Kid Gloves, 37½ cts.
Good Gentlemens' do 50 cts worth $1.25
Cottons, Prints, Dress Goods, and all Domestics equally reduced.

WANTED,
A GOOD SALESMAN AND AN APPRENTICE TO THE BUSINESS.
June 21st, 1871. 25

To Boot and Shoe Manufacturers.

MESSRS. LARMOUR & SARNEY being about to give up the Manufacturing Department, offer
FOR SALE BY PRIVATE CONTRACT!
At the New Dominion Boot and Shoe Store, George Street, Peterboro,
THE ENTIRE STOCK OF THEIR WORKSHOP
CONSISTING OF
Two Wanzer Manufacturing Machines; Treeing & Crimping Machines; Upper Leather, Native and French Calf, and a quantity of No. 1 Spanish Sole Leather. Also,
LASTS, FINDINGS, &c.,
Necessary to fit up a First-Class Custom Shop.
If not disposed of by the 1st of July, the above will be offered by Public Auction, of which due notice will be given.
L. & S. will in future devote their entire attention to Sale Work, of which they will keep a stock to suit all classes, at prices that defy competition.
Peterboro' June 20th, 1871.

MIDLAND
Railway of Canada.
ON and after MONDAY, the 26th day of JUNE, 1871, Trains will run as follows:
TRAINS MOVING SOUTH.—MAIL.
Beaverton Depart. 2 10 p. m.
Lindsay, Arrive. 3.35 p. m.
Millbrook, Arrive. 5.10 p. m.
Port Hope, Arrive. 6.15 p. m.
TRAINS MOVING NORTH.—MAIL.
Port Hope, Depart. 9.15 a. m.
Millbrook, Arrive. 10.12 "
Lindsay Arrive. 11 40 "
Beaverton, Arrive. 1.20 p. m.
TRAINS MOVING SOUTH.—MIXED.
Lindsay, Depart. 8 15 a. m.
Millbrook, Arrive. 10.10 "
Port Hope, Arrive. 12.00 p. m.
TRAINS MOVING NORTH.—MIXED.
Port Hope, Depart. 2.40 p. m.
Millbrook, Arrive. 3.35 p. m.
Lindsay, Arrive. 6 25 p. m.
PETERBOROUGH SECTION.
TRAINS MOVING SOUTH.—MAIL.
Lakefield, Depart. 3.15 p. m.
Peterborough, Arrive. 3.00 p. m.
" Depart. 3.30 "
Millbrook, Arrive. 4.10 "
Port Hope, Arrive. 5.30 "
TRAINS MOVING NORTH.—MAIL.
Port Hope, Depart. 9.30 a. m
Millbrook, Arrive. 10.30 A. m.
Peterborough, Arrive. 11.30 p. m.
Lakefield Arrive. 12.45 p. m.
TRAINS MOVING SOUTH.—MIXED.
Peterborough, Depart. 6.15 a. m.
Millbrook Arrive. 7.00 "
Port Hope, Arrive. 8.30 "
TRAINS MOVING NORTH.—MIXED.
Port Hope, Depart. 9.30 p. m.
Millbrook Arrive. 4.57 "
Peterborough, Arrive. 6.10 "
H. G. TAYLOR,
Superintendent of Motive Power and Trains.
June 23, 1871. 26.

DUTCHER'S Lightning Fly Killer
Dutcher's Dead Shot for Bed Bugs,
TRY THEM AND SLEEP IN PEACE
19-6ins

50,000 Brick for Sale.
Apply to
J. S. ALEXANDER,
Corner of London and George Streets,
Peterboro, June 28, 1871. 26-3ins*

Dominion Day!
EXCURSION to RICE LAKE
On Monday, 3rd of July,
THE STEAMER
"FOREST CITY,"
Will leave the dock's at 8 o'clock for Harwood, returning in the evening. Pic-Nic Parties landed on any part of the river, or on the Island in Rice Lake, and called for on the return trip, giving every facility for a good days fishing, and a visit to the large Saw Mills at Harwood. Tickets, 50 Cents.
H. CALCUTT, Agent
P. S.—Omnibusses will leave the Market Square at 7.30. 26-1ins.

Iron Clad Trees
W. C. Lawrence,
FRUIT TREE DEALER,
Will personally canvass the Townships of Otonabee, Asphodel, Dummer, Douro, and the Burleigh Road, between the present and the 1st of November next, for orders for Apple and other Fruit Trees. W. C. L. has been over this ground for the last 4 years, and the trees supplied are acknowledged to be the best ever introduced into this County. Orders received by D. G. Anderson, Esq., Crown Land Agent, G. Mellmoyl, Esq., of Lakefield, or at this office
Reference can be made to the following gentlemen:—
Thos. Beck, Esq., Thos. Blezard, Esq., T. Webb, Esq., of Otonabee, T. Coughlin, Esq., A. Sherrer, Esq., Asphodel, Messrs Humphrey Esq., David Dunn, Esq., and Jordan Crow, of Dummer, W. Abbot, Esq., Roland Strickland, Esq., R. T. Dench, Esq., of Douro, Edward Sanderson, Esq., Giles Stone, Esq., Burleigh Road.
N. B.—Mr. McIlmoyle will canvass Smith and Ennismore
26-6mos.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.
Abstract Statement.—Township of Douro.
Change of Time-table.—Midland Railway.
Drink for Sale.—J. S Alexander.
Dominion Day.—Excursion to Rice Lake.

The Peterborough Examiner

PETERBOROUGH, JUNE 29, 1871.

Editorial Items.

The limits of the Norwood High School are the limits of School Section No. 9, Asphodel.

The Wesleyan Methodists have opened a Preaching Place in Rome. They also propose to do the same in Napier.

It is said that the Potatoe Bug has reached Bobcaygeon. If so the chances are against the potato crop there. At present, in this neighborhood, it promises well.

PERSONAL.—We have been asked by Mr. James Hogan, Township Clerk of Douro, to state that all letters for him should be addressed to Peterborough, and not to South Douro, as heretofore.

Peterborough Literary Society.—At the last meeting of this Society, it was agreed that the meeting should be discontinued until the second Friday in September next, when they will be resumed.

The late dry weather has destroyed the hay prospect this year. There will not be half the crop of last season. All kinds of Spring crops are suffering from the drought just now.

The people of the Village of Hasting propose establishing a High School in that Village, as soon as possible. A By-law has been passing defining its boundaries. It is to consist of all the Township of Asphodel, South of the line between eleven and twelve.

At the late sessions of the County Council a By-law was passed against all gambling tables, or devices for gambling, in this county. The fine for violation of the By-law is not to be more than $50. Mr. Harrison was the promoter of the By-law.

PERSONAL.—We see by the Globe that Master Burritt Edwards, son of Jas. Edwards, Esq., and Mr. Geo. Baptie, formerly of the Union School, took their degree of M. A., at the University of Toronto.—Master R. Roger, son of Rev. J. M. Roger, took first-class honors in classics, and H. Beck, first class honors in mathematics.

ATTEMPT TO COMMIT SUICIDE.—We learn that a man named Summerville, Hailing from Grafton, attempted to cut his own throat on Tuesday, on the gravel road near Green's N. Monaghan. He inflicted severe wounds almost across his throat, Dr. O'Sullivan sewed up the wounds, but has little hopes of his recovery. We understand that he has a wife and family, at or near Grafton.

STEAMER VICTORIA BURNED.—We learn that the Steamer Victoria owned by Mr. N. Shaw, of this town, and employed between Buckhorn and Lindsay, was burned to ashes on Saturday night last, while at her wharf at Lindsay. The captain and hands were asleep when the fire commenced, and narrowly escaped. It is believed that some scoundrel set her on fire. Mr. Shaw's loss will be considerable as he has only $5,000 Insurance on her. The burning of the Steamer is at a time when Mr. Shaw requires to tow his lumber, and hence a great loss and inconvenience to him.

A FATAL ACCIDENT.—Yesterday evening about seven o'clock, Alex. Edmison, an old man well known in Peterboro, fell down the stairs in Hopkin's block, Simcoe street, and was killed. He survived the fallabout 15 minutes. The old man had been accustomed to visit Mr. Forsyth, Photographer, and it is thought was returning down from his rooms, and either being very frail or having missed his foot, fell all the way to the foot of the stairs. He received a large cut in the forehead, by the fall.—Mr. Edmison was about 70 years of age.—He leaves no children or family.

THE OLD BURIAL GROUND.—Will the authorities having jurisdiction cut out three-fourths of the pine trees growing in it, and give the others a chance to grow shapely. In the Catholic part the trees being few, are broad and strong, affording fine shade, while at the same time they are not so numerous as to take up all the ground with their trunks. A few walks, and a few seats under the trees, would give grateful return for the trouble. We who have a nice Park, keep it in a shape to be not only a standing disgrace, but useless—while even that unsightly place, Lindsay, is now buying a Park at a large expense.

Music can no longer be considered a luxury and those who spend fabulous sums in purchasing Sheet Music are simply throwing their money away. If our musical friends will take the trouble to procure a copy of PETERS MUSICAL MONTHLY, they will see what their wiser friends are doing—namely, getting better Music at one and cents a piece than they are buying at thirty, forty, and fifty cents. Each number of this valuable publication contains thirty six pages of Music, printed from full size music-plates, embracing Sacred and Secular Songs, Duets, Chorus, Polkas, Waltzes etc., in every issue.

The July number commences Volume VIII., and contains thirteen pieces of Music, neatly bound, that would cost just four dollars and fifty cents in sheet form. You can get it by mail, post-paid, by sending thirty cents to J. L. PETERS, 599 Broadway, New-York.

THE BIG STONES AGAIN.—We desire to call the attention of the Street and Bridge Committee to the great number of loose stones on our streets. We have the best streets of any Town in Canada, and at the same time the worst. The best in so far as good gravelly formation assists us, and the worst for loose rolling stone which make driving a hardship instead of a pleasure. The stones are worth more than the cost of gathering them to break for macadamizing purposes. Will the committee look after this little job? And here, by the way, let us draw thier attention to a lot of huge boulders at the intersections of streets. What are they for? The only object can be seen is to secure the complete and utter destruction of vehicles attached to run-away horses as they turn the corner, and to insure the death of the unfortunate driver. Perhaps a Coroner's inquest will one of these days lead to their removal; but we hope our hint will be taken in time, and thus prevent anxiety to the Chairman of the respectable Committee.

PERSONAL.—The Congregation of St. John's Church, Peterboro, on Friday last, presented Miss Rogers, of Ashburnham, with a very beautiful Gold Watch and Chain, and the following address, which explains its object:

THE Congregation of St. John's Church, desire to express to Miss Rogers their grateful acknowledgements for her assistance in leading the Choir during several years past, and hope that she will be good enough to accept the accompanying Watch and Chain, with the assurance that her very valuable and unremunerated services will be thankfully remembered by them, until "Time shall be no more."

REPLY.

Miss Rogers begs to return her warmest thanks to the Congregation of St. John's Church for their very handsome gift, which was presented to her on their behalf, by Mrs. Wallar and Mrs. Shaw, on Friday last. She thankfully receives it, not as a remuneration for the trifling assistance she has been permitted to give in assisting in the service of praising Our Creator, (which has always been a pleasant labour of love,) but as an expression of the good will and kindly feeling of the Congregation, and as such she will always retain and value it.

THE EXAMINATION of the different departments of the Union School commenced on Tuesday. The number of visitors was small on that day. The High School Departments was examined.

On Wednesday Miss Beattie's, Miss Borrowman's and Mrs. Flavell's divisions were examined, and by a large number of visitors present, the greatest interest was evinced. The attendance in all the rooms is as large, if not larger, than has been heretofore.

The board is about to suffer serious loss in the withdrawal of two excellent teachers from the work. We trust they may succeed in supplying their place with others who shall discharge their duties as well as they have done.

It being rumored that Miss Beattie was about resigning, her class presented her on Wednesday with a very handsome Crucifix-stand, valued at about $12,00, and a short oral Address, to which Miss Beattie made a suitable reply. The warmest affection appears to exist between her and all the girls, who, during the last 5 years, were under her careful training, and affectionate watchful care. On being dismissed, they all rushed to give her a parting kiss and kind good-bye. We are sure that all who have been intimately acquainted with Miss Beattie, do most earnestly wish her a long and happy future.

To-day the Primary department will be examined, when we expect the great attraction will be the Infant department, under Miss Leete's management. We hope to be able to give a full report next week

The vote on the Inspectorship was the great subject of interest last week. The Review and Mr. McFaul made it a political question from the first, and succeeded in keeping it so—of course Mr. Moore helped them. But they sold poor Mr. Moore. They kept him in the field to favor or kick at pleasure, and he had not common sense to see this. Mr. Moore, however, got four votes—how could this be and he a B. A.? Mr, McFaul got nine votes, and Mr. Brown got two votes, at first, while Mr. Stratton got ten votes.

The Clique, however, found that they could not carry their Creature, and they jumped Jim Crow, took up Mr. Brown, and elected him, so as to defeat Mr. Stratton, who had so successfully defeated them at the late Election for Parliamentary honors. Just as said a few evenings before in a Shop in Town, they didn't care a d—n who got it if the Late Local Supt. didn't. They missed their man, however, sold poor Mr. Moore, and in order to defeat an opponent who had the largest single vote in the Council, took up the weakest man—but any shuffle, or trickery to win.

Against Mr. Brown, we have not a word to say. He is in our opinion, 100 per cent ahead of either Mr. Moore or Mr. McFaul—both of which gentlemen will now have more time to devote to their duties, and some of them will have time, generally, for devotions instead of pestering Teachers and Trustees in order to get something against Mr. Stratton. All the catalogue of offences predicted, and that petition, too, only contained the names of two individuals—Messrs. Powell and Copperthwaite.

We can assure the Editor of the Review, or any of those who opposed Mr. Stratton, that ten times as many names could easily be obtained to a petition against any or all of them to send them to the Lunatic Asylum, or some worse place, for twelve months.

Mr. Stratton's failings, therefore, were not so serious after all. He received the votes of men representing six Townships and sixty-four Schools, while his opponents could only muster the representatives of Small Townships representing only about 22 Schools in the old Townships and a few in the back Townships which were never under Mr. Stratton's Superintendency. And but that the Reeve of Ennismore persisted in disregarding the wishes of the people of his Township, Mr. Stratton would have been elected in spite of all the political influence brought to bo a against him.

The scene in the Council Chamber on Wednesday we will not attempt to describe. It was one of those pedagogic efforts which require to be seen to be appreciated, but we forbear. On some future occasion we may have an opportunity of referring to the Educators and Educational Institutions of the County, for the amusement of some of those whose judgements and notions were so worked up that they could not rest a moment in their anxiety. Perhaps they may find that four years may assure a smattering of Classics, but that it requires twenty years after all to arrive at Manhood.

Town Council.

The Council met, pursuant to adjournment.

Present the Mayor and Messrs. Smith, Rutherford, Lundy, English, O'Beirne, Dennistoun, Morrow, Edmison and Stevenson.

The Minutes of the last meeting were read and confirmed.

A communication was read from John Sherin, of Lakefield, informing the Council that a Steamer was being built there to ply between Lakefield and the head of Stoney Lake, and asking aid from the Council. Referred to Finance Committee.

A communication from John Turner, complaining of the accumulation of surface water opposite his Hotel, and asking that it be remedied. Referred to the Committee on Streets and Bridges.

Petitions from Thos. Bradburn and others, asking the Council to request the Mayor to issue a Proclamation for observing Monday, the 3rd day of July as Dominion Day, in place of Saturday.

From W. H. Moore, and others, setting forth the injury that would be done to them by allowing Rubidge Street and Stewart Street to be closed, and asking that they be opened between McDonald and London Streets.

A report of the special committee appointed to enquire into, and report upon the request of Lewis Glover and T. Lamin, asking for leave to put a Switch between Charlotte Street and Hunter Street, was read by Mr. Smith. The report was received and adopted.

On motion of Mr. Stevenson, seconded by Mr. Rutherford, the Mayor was instructed to declare Monday a Holiday, and he was instructed to notify all parties that the use of fire-crackers shall be strictly prohibited on the principal streets and yards of the Town.

On motion of Mr. Smith, seconded by Mr. Morrow, a By-law to grant leave to build a Switch on the East side of the present track, was read a first time.

The Council went into the committee of the whole, when some amendments were made.

It was then passed.

On motion of Mr. Smith, seconded by Mr. O'Beirne, the Street Inspector was authorized to lay down a new sidewalk in front of Mr, Kingdon's new building, corner of Simcoe and Aylmer Street, similar to the one at Robinson's Corner.

The Council adjourned for three weeks.

County Council—Continued.

THURSDAY.

The council met—all the members present—the warden in the chair.

The minutes of yesterday were read and approved.

Mr. S. S. Peck, chairman of the committee, appointed to superintend the Mud Lake and Pigeon Creek Bridges reported on behalf of the committee.

On motion of Mr. McFarlane the report was received and referred to the committee on Finance.

On motion of Mr. Blezard, seconded by Mr. Millar, the committee on petitions reported.

On motion of Mr. Sanderson the reports of the committee were adopted.

On motion of Mr. Peck, seconded by Mr. McFarlane the committee on schools reported.

On motion of Mr. Moloney, seconded by Mr. Armstrong, the report of the committee on schools was adopted.

On motion of Mr. F. Peck, seconded by Mr. Moloney, a by-law to raise a sum of money to form part of the County School Fund for the year 1871, for the county was read a first, second and third time and passed.

The following is the amount to be levied as Municipal School Fund, for the year 1871.

Village of Ashburnham
Township of Asphodel	$400
" Burleigh, &c	250
" Belmont and Methune	150
" Douro	373
" Dummer	275
" Dysart	100
" Ennismore	170
" Galway	161
" Harvey	93
" North Monaghan	175
" Otonabee	500
" Smith	500
" Snowdon	80
" Stanhope	33
" Minden	123

County Council Chamber, Peterborough, June, 1871.

On motion of Mr. S. S. Peck, seconded by Mr. Armstrong, the committee on appointment to office reported recommending Mr. McFaul for Inspector of Public Schools.

Mr. F. Peck moved the adoption of the report,

Mr. Millar, seconded by Mr. Blezard, moved an amendment that Mr. J. C. Brown be Inspector.

Dr. Clegg moved an amendment, seconded by Mr. Sanderson, that the report be referred back with Instruction to insert Mr. Stratton's name as School Inspector.

On Dr. Clegg's motion, Mr. Stratton got ten votes, Mr. McFaul, nine votes.

On Mr. Millar's amendment Mr. Brown got two votes.

Mr. S. S. Peck then moved that Mr. Moore's name be inserted for Inspector, for this there were four votes.

The motion to adopt the report in favor of Mr. McFaul was then put and lost.

Yeas for the report 9.

Nays against the report, 10.

Mr. S. S. Peck then moved that Mr. J. C. Brown be Inspector which was carried, yeas, 11; nays, 8;.

The council then adjourned till 10 o'clock to-morrow morning.

FRIDAY.

The council met, the warden in the chair, all the members present.

The minutes of yesterday were read and approved.

On motion of Mr. Sanderson, seconded by Mr. Collins, the auditors report was read.

On motion of Mr. Coughlan, seconded by Mr. Walton, the report of the auditors was received and ordered to be printed with the minutes, as submitted.

On motion of Mr. Armstrong, a by-law to appoint an Inspector of Public Schools was read a first time. It was also read a second and third time and passed.

The applications for appointment to be examiners, as per New School Law, were referred to the committee on appointments to office.

It was moved by Mr. Parker, seconded by Mr. Hunter, that as the Buckhorn Bridge is now in a dangerous state and requires immediate attention, that the consideration of the matter be referred to the committee on Roads and Bridges—referred.

Moved by Mr. Millar, seconded by Mr. Blezard, that the clerk furnish this council with detailed statement of all moneys paid to each member of the Mud Lake and Pigeon Creek Bridges committee, and also a statement of moneys paid to S. S. Peck, Esq., for the year 1870.

Mr. Millar remarked that his motion was intended to bring before the Council the necessity for enquiring as to the amount paid to members of committees and to the late Warden during the year 1870. It was rumored that Mr. Peck had got enormous sums for extra services, while it was thought the $100 voted to the Warden was for extra services. He, Mr. Millar, found that Mr. Peck had obtained $411 for services during 1870, and the Council would like to know what he had done for it.

Mr. Peck, late Warden, said he had taken his pay for the time he had spent, and he had lived long enough to know the folly of working for the public for nothing. He had taken nothing but what was right, and he would do the same again if he was Warden.

Mr. Millar thought it was right to investigate the whole matter. His attention had been called to the matter, and he felt it his duty to bring it up and investigate the whole thing, so as to clear Mr. Peck from blame, if clear, and if not to see if there was any way of getting anything over-paid back.

Here Mr. Millar referred to some of the items, and said that it had been intimated that Mr. Peck had gone home from Council, and in a few days returned, and took his pay for what he could have done before he left for home. If this was so, it was wrong. It was also reported that he had taken pay for attending two or more Committees on the same day. If so, this should be understood. The dates, too, seemed to favor this idea, whether right or wrong.

Mr. Peck explained that the dates of receiving the money were not the same as the days of Committee meetings. The County Treasurer also stated this was so.

Mr. Millar was only anxious that the Council should understand the matter, as if it cost $411,00 to bring a Warden from the back country they would not do so again.

After some general discussion the matter was referred to the Committee on Finance.

Below will be found the returns asked for, in reference to the Warden. The returns of other expenses will be given next week.

Jan 28	Reserved Balance of Salary for 1869	50	00
29	For attendance in Council, at Jan'y Sessions	10	00
Feb 10	Attending Com. on Burleigh bridge	9	40
25	Advisory Committee	9	50
26	Committee on M. L. Bridge	6	00
Mar 8	Expenses to Toronto concerning the Buckhorn Road	30	00
18	Meeting Advisory Com	2	00
19	At Peterboro, to make arrangement at Bank	7	40
10	Meeting of Committee	11	40
2	Arranging with Co. Engineer for plan of beams M L B	7	40
Apl 28	Attending meeting of Com. on M. L. P. C. Bridge	11	40
May 11 17 & 18	Att. Advis'y Com in Peter'o do do	9 13	40 40
May 19	Deputation to Toronto wait on Govt to make grant to Bobcaygeon road	30	00
J'ne 10	Half years allowance	50	00
	Exp. connected with meeting Co. Council with Railway Dep. from Belleville to Peterboro at Keene	12	75
11	Attending June Sessions	16	00
17	Inspecting Bridges on boundary of Victoria and Peterboro	3	00
17	Exp. attending in Peterborough to accounts cont's at Lakefield bridge	9	40
July 8	Att. in Peterboro arranging Deposit in Montreal Bank, of $2,000 to credit of Bobcaygeon road	9	40
July 20	Att. Com. meeting M. L. P. C. Brs	11	40
Sep. 15	Att. M. L. B. Committee on bridge at Peterboro	9	60
	Attending Advisory Committee	2	80
Oct. 15	Special Sessions	14	00
Oct. 26	Advisory Com. inspecting Lakefield Bridge	9	40
Oct. 27	Com. meeting on Lock's Bridge	4	00
Oct. 25	Att. at Peterboro to sign the Declation and Debentures for Registering By-law	2	00
Oct. 11	Com. meeting on M. L. & P. C. B	2	00
Oct. 4	Committee meeting	11	40
Oct 10	With Trunnum to locate extra anchors and measuring the depth	9	40
Dec 1	Att. Ad. com. on Lakefield Bridge	14	30
Dec 12	No account of what engaged in	9	40
	The Total Expenses as a remuneration for Mr. S. S. Peck, in attending to the business of the County, as Warden for 1870	412	75

Moved by Mr Hunter that a committee be appointed to find out the milage that the Treasurer should pay to members of this council in coming to council meetings. Committee to consist of Messrs. Millar Walton, Coughlan. Armstrong and the mover and seconder.

Mr. F. Peck could not see the use of the motion unless a Surveyor was put on to measure the distance to each Reeve's door. For his part he had always charged for 60 miles, and he would do so still.

Mr. Armstrong did not wish to be on the Committee as he knew nothing about the distances to the different places.

Mr. McFarlane ironically remarked that the Council ought to be thankful to Mr Hunter for bringing this matter up, but what could be done? simply nothing. No one knew the exact distances.

Mr. Millar thought Mr. Hunter deserved the thanks of the Council and of the County. Mr. F Peck remarked that it was 60 miles to his place and there were charges for 102 miles. Mr. Peck must therefore have come by way of Lindsay. If this was right, then he, Mr. Millar might come by way of Cobourg. He thought such things should be put a stop to.

Mr. Collins could see no use in the motion. For his part he knew no more about the miles than a cat did about playing upon a base fiddle. Who could fix the distances?

Mr. Hunter remarked that the Government in tendering for carrying the mail, always fixed the miles for the stage. This would make the distance to Minden 52 miles, while 60 miles were charged for.

Mr. Millar wished to know how the Reeve of Stanhope only travelled 70 miles, while Mr. F. Peck, who was nearer Peterboro by 10 or 12 miles, charged for 102 miles.

Mr. F. Peck explained that at the time referred to there was no boat to Bridgenorth, and hence he went by way of Lindsay, and took his pay for it, and he would do so again in similar circumstances.

Mr. Millar held that they should charge only for the shortest route.

Mr. Coughlan was of the same opinion.

Mr. McFarlane—Then according to Mr. Coughlan, if a man spent two weeks in coming to Council he could only get pay for what was the shortest way, and only take pay for the shortest route.

Mr. Hunter could only make it 60 miles to Dysart, yet 102 had been charged for a shorter distance. This should be stopped, and that was the object of the motion.

Mr. S. S. Peck then moved the following motion:—

Moved by Mr. S. S. Peck, seconded by Dr. Clegg that all members of the council, before receiving the sessional allowance do sign a declaration, as to the number of miles they necessarily travelled in coming to attend the council.

Dr. Clegg thought no such declaration was required; Reeves should be honorable men, and require no such declarations.

Mr. Armstrong thought the motion was calculated to show blame.

Mr. Millar wanted to put a stop to such things in the future. He thought, too, that if any one had taken too much he should be compelled to disgorge it.

Mr. Hunter agreed to withdraw his motion and allow Mr. Peck's to pass.

On motion of Mr. S. S. Peck, seconded by Mr. McFarlane, that a memorial to His Excellency Baron Lisgar, Governor-General of Canada, asking him to be pleased to disallow so much of the act of the last Session of the Provincial Legislature of Ontario, as Legalized the Grand Junction and Haliburton Railroad by-law, was read a first time. The council went into committee of the whole on the second reading of the memorial, read in committee without amendment. It was then read a third time and passed.

Moved by Mr. Millar seconded by Mr. Blezard that the memorial be sent by mail to Ottawa, as this council is of the opinion that no good could come by sending a deputation.

Moved in amendment by Mr. Sanderson, seconded by Mr. Collins, that the warden and Mr. Walton be a deputation to present the memorial to the government.

Mr. Miller moved that the Warden and Dr. Clegg be the deputation.

The amendment was then put with the following result: For the Warden and Mr. Walton.

Yeas,—Messrs. Moher, Moloney, F. Peck, Armstrong, McFarlane, S. S. Peck, Hunter, McCarthy, Collins and Sanderson.

Nays,—Messrs. Coughlan, Harrison, Rose, Buck, Parker, Blezard Millar.

On motion of Mr. S. S. Peck, seconded by Mr. McFarlane, appointed the warden and Messrs. Walton and Millar a committee to superintend the erection of a new Registry Office, in terms of a communication from the Provincial Secretary on that subject.

On motion of Dr. Clegg, seconded by Mr. S. S. Peck, Mr. R. A. Strickland addressed the council on the subject of an application for a grant of a sum of money to assist in building a Steamboat for Stoney Lake.

The application was referred to the Finance committee.

On motion of Mr. S. S. Peck, seconded by Mr. Coughlan, the report of committee appointed to equalise the Assessment Rolls was received and read.

Mr. Sanderson moved, seconded by Mr. Armstrong, that the report be adopted.

Moved by Mr. Millar, seconded by Mr. Blezard, in amendment that the report be not adopted but that it be sent back to the committee with instruction to add $1 per acre to the valuation of Smith.

The amendment was carried.

The report was adopted as amended.

Moved by Mr. Walton, seconded by Mr. Millar that this council decide when the new Registry Office is to be erected.—Carried.

The council then adjourned till nine o'clock to-morrow.

SATURDAY.

The council met, all present, the minutes of yesterday were read and signed.

It was moved by Mr. S. S. Peck, seconded by Mr. Armstrong, That whereas Mr. J. Stratton and Rev. Mr. Burt were virtually County Superintendents, for this County, although not so named in the By-law appointing them, and whereas, the department of Public Instruction has so recognized Mr. Stratton by giving him a certificate of qualification. It is the opinion of this council that Rev. Mr. Burt, is equally entitled to a certificate of qualification for a County Inspectorship of Schools, and to be an Examiner, and would request that he be given one, and that the clerk do forward a copy of this resolution to the Department of Public Institution, Toronto.—Carried.

A By-law was then passed confirming the equalization.

On motion of Mr. Peck, seconded by Mr. Harrison, the Finance Committee reported. The report was adopted.

Finance Committee reported in favor of Paying the following sums:—

R. Romaine	$730 27
T. D. Croly, Wood-box	9 90
Jas. Stratton, printing	16 10
Postage	16 59
C. A. Weller	17 00
Thos. Burk	12 34
W. H. Taylor	5 55
T. B. Clements, tracing	15 00
R. Kelso, barrows	12 00
Char. Stephenson, 2 chisels	1 00
R. Strickland Steam boat	50 00
Immigration Society	50 00
Additional to Treasurer, for losses by insufficient anchorage	500 00
To J. Stratton in full, as superint.	250 00
Mr. Burt do do	50 00
T. D Croly, attending committee	5 00

On motion of Mr. Armstrong, seconded by Mr. Coughlan, the warden was instructed to communicate with the warden of the county of Victoria in order that arrangements be made for the joint care and repair of Pigeon Creek Bridge; it being a bridge connecting the two counties.

On motion of Mr. McFarlane, seconded by Mr. Blezard, the committee on Roads and Bridges reported.

The committee on Roads and Bridges reported, recommending the payment of the following sums:—

T. D. Croley, for Mud Lake repairs	$465 15
Reeve of Burleigh to repair Bridge on Eels Creek, Breen's lot, and burned causeways	150 00
do Authority to repair the Burleigh Bridges, and report costs
To be spent on Boundary Line between Ennismore and Smith	50 00
W. W. Armstrong to spend on road through Belmont to Marmora	100 00
To be spent on boundary between Dummer and Asphodel, Mr. Peck & Coughlan commissioners	50 00
For boundary between Otonabee and Douro, Messrs Blezard and Moher commissioners	150 00
For Bridge on boundary between Cavan and Monaghan	37 75
To repair the road from Pigeon Creek to Bobbaygeon. The Warden to see after the expenditure	150 00
To fix approaches to Wallace Point Bridge. Mr. Millar commissioner	150 00
To John Flood, for taking care of Pigeon Creek Bridge	25 00
To J. McCarthy for taking care of Mud Lake Bridge	25 00
Mr. C. Shaw, and the Reeve of Harvey to repair the Buckhorn Bridge

On motion of Mr. Coughlan seconded by Mr. Harrison, a By-law to establish a public fair in the village of Hasting was read, and finally passed.

Moved by Mr. Sanderson, seconded by Mr. Moher, that on the 1st of July the County Treasurer is classifying his accounts, open separate accounts for advisory and other committee accounts, in which he is requested to enter in detail the purposes for which the committee met. The amount paid to each member of committee and for what paid, so that the sum may be given in full by the auditors in their detailed statements.—Carried.

Mr. S. S. Peck read a report on the Arbitration between the Town and County in regard to expenses and administration of Justice. The report was received.

On motion of Mr. Rose, seconded by Mr. Coughlan, a By-law to fix the limits of the Norwood High School was read finally passed.

On motion of Mr. Walton, seconded by Mr. Sanderson, the committee on county property reported. The report was adopted.

It was moved by Mr. Sanderson, seconded by Mr. Collins, that the New Registry Office be erected between the Court House and the late Registry Office.—Carried.

The committee on appointments to office then reported recommending Messrs. Dixon, Moore, Stratton and Burt as Examiners according to the New School Law.

On motion of Mr. S. S. Peck, the report was adopted and the seal affixed, to give the motion the effect of a By law.

On motion of Mr. Sanderson Mr. Millar was appointed commissioner to expend $100 on the approach to Wallace Point Bridge.

The committee on Printing then reported. The Report was adopted.

A By-law was then read to provide for expenditure of a certain sum of money on the River Trent at the Narrows. This was finally passed. Mr. Armstrong to be Commissioner.

Moved by Mr. Walton, seconded by Mr. Sanderson, that the council do grant the sum of $200 to repair the Buckhorn Road, provided W. A. Beck do grant a like sum.—Carried.

On motion of Mr. Harrison a By-law was read and passed to provide for the preservation of public morals.

A motion of Mr. Rose, seconded by Mr. Moher, asking $200 for the Warsaw Road was lost.

On motion of Mr. Rose, the clerk was instructed to get 200 copies of the By-law for the preservation of Public Morals to be printed.

On motion Mr. Collins, seconded by Mr. Moher, a By-law was read to assess, levy and collect the sum of $14,444.93 for the current year, for county purposes, the by-law was finally passed.

On motion of Mr. Peck, seconded by Dr. Clegg, a By-law to provide for paying certain accounts and claims, was read and passed.

The council then adjourned.

Detailed statement of expenditure on the Bobcaygeon Road last year, as per return made to the County Council.

The items appear in the order of the vouchers.

George Stothers, tools, powder, &c	$117 44
L McGregor, teaming to Mud Lake	4 00
Walter Beal, Park, Beans and Bags	515 87
William Helm, 4 road scrapers	20 00
R D Rogers, flour and transport of	93 00
John W White, 3 ploughs	33 00
Jno Stevenson, Tinware, plates, bolts	14 00
S L Read, tools	6 13
Wm Sherwood, 100 bushels oats	51 00
D McDonald blacksmith bill	18 50
W B Read, Bags and axe handles	18 22
R Walton, tinware utensils	5 50
John Hunter, lumber	18 00
W B Read, tools and salt	2 75
Andrew Amborg, rails and pas	2 15
Wm Sherwood, oats	102 00
G & H Andrews, 4 prs blankets	17 50
F Mason, 3 pairs blankets	8 50
A Bell, 1 pair blankets	4 50
A McIntosh, tinware	3 57
J O Hartle, bread trays, pans, &c	12 50
Amos Arnold, 100 bushel oats	60 00
Jas Hyde, Teaming on B Road	8 00
Alex McArthur, 322 ft timber	19 20
Wm Hartle, oats, potatoes, &c	11 51

Estimated Expenses of the County for 1871.

Grammar School Grants	$ 800 00
Inspector	500 00
Boards of Instruction	320 00
Administration of Justice, Sheriff's fees, Clerk of Peace, &c., &c.	5000 00
Registry, Court House, & Registry	750 00
Municipal expenses	2,500 00
Books printing, advertising & stationery	850 00
Postage	45 00
Inspector of weights & measures	50 00
Rent account	30 00
Roads and Bridges	2,475 00
Wolf Bounty and Rewards	150 00
Interest and Discounts	900 00
Contingencies	800 00
Improving Court House Square	50 00
Planking Bridges & special grants	2,000 00
Building new Registry office	4,000 00
Less from	$21,720 00
Provincial Treasurer 1,100 00
Town Committ 1,274 00
Jury Fines & Fees 50 00
License Fund 40 00
	2,464 00
	$19,256 00

LEGISLATIVE APPORTIONMENTS FOR 1871.

Asphodel	$337
Separate School	39
Belmont	250
Burleigh	180
Dummer	374
Douro	255
Dysart	90
Enniskillen	170
Galway	145
Hindon	123
Harvey	95
Monaghan	150
Otonabee	430
Separate	23
Smith	378
Stanhope	35
Snowdon	80

Volunteer Camp at Kingston.

From our own Correspondent.

Mr. Editor,—I suppose a few notes respecting the Volunteer Camp, stationed at Fort Frederick, will be of some interest to your numerous readers.

Leaving Peterborough by special train, about 7 o'clock, and taking on the Springfield company, we ere long arrived at Port Hope. The 57 and 46 Battalions were then formed in columns and marched through the principle streets, and afterwards to the G. T. Station, each headed by their respective Bands. We were soon embarked and left amid the cheers of a large number of people who had assembled to see the volunteers. We arrived at the Fort about 11 o'clock p. m.

In all appearance of travelling is similar to what we experienced from Port Hope to Kingston, no wonder it requires Government aid.

The strength of the Volunteer Corps in Camp are as follows:

Kingston Field Battery, Major Drummond, in command, 5 officers and 62 non-commissioned officers; Cavalry, 1st troop Frontenac, Major Duff in command; 2nd troop, Major Wood in command; strength, 10 officers, 110 men, 120 horses.

Northumberland and Durham, 1st troop, Colonel Cavalry, Lt. Col. Bonlton, Port Hope, Troop Quartermaster, Burnham. Commanding, 6 officers, 55 men and 61 horses.

2nd Troop, Port Hope Cavalry, 5 officers, 67 men and 68 horses.

Infantry—15th Battalion, Belleville Argyle Light Infantry.

16th Prince Edward Battalion.

45th Northumberland Battalion.

47th Frontenac Battalion.

46th Durham Battalion.

49th Hastings Rifles.

57th Peterboro Battalion.

Total strength, 200 officers and 2,784 men. Total 3,084, besides Brigade staff.

The camp is commanded by Col. Patterson, D. A. G., with Major Phillips and Cap. Hunter Reed, of Kingston.

Every afternoon Brigade movement is performed on the Barrack-field commons, supported by the Cavalry and Artillary. There are now seven bands in camp. With regard to the Band of the 57th Battalion, I find it equal to any other band here.

At the great Festival held in Victoria Hall on Friday night last, and at Church parade on Sunday, the 57th Battalion Band was selected to perform the pleasing duties, which speaks well for Mr Rackett. The Ladies' of Kingston have tendered a vote of thanks to Mr. Rackett, for his valuable services on the occasion of the festival. The Troops visit Fort Henry to-day, and other places of interest around Kingston. The weather is delightful, and the gentle breezes from the lake truly refreshing. The Peterboro Battalion, in appearance and field movements, is not behind any Battalion on the ground, and is looked upon with some interest. In marching past, in quick time in review, it was said by regulars present, that the 57th marched in the most regular manner, and the Hastings Rifles came next.

In camp the bread in general is so bad that it cannot be eaten; It is completely saturated with alum. To give you some idea of the dissatisfaction manifested by the men, when the baker came upon the camp ground, many of the Battalion pelted him with the dough, he had to escape the best way he could; neither have we one pound of straw in the tents, although fifteen pounds is allowed each man. If John A. McDonald, and his satellites, imagine that the Volunteers of Canada are to be treated—I may say not better than the lowest specimen of humanity, he will some day meet their indignation, in a way not to be forgotten. You may expect to hear a few more items in a few days.

Yours, &c.,
PETERBORO'.

To the Editor of the Examiner:

SIR,—I have observed that our good Citizen, Mr. Hamilton, has petitioned the Council to close up a part of a street which divides his Foundry premises, and that some parties are opposed to his petition being granted, You are aware that recently to aid in a public undertaking, a whole Street, largely built upon, was dedicated to a Railway Company, and recently, additional privileges have been given to the same Corporation. Mr. Hamilton, in so far as he employs a large number of men, and brings an immense lot of work into the Town, is a public benefactor. The Towns throughout Canada are inviting enterprise—offering inducements of various kinds to secure just such an establishment as Mr. Hamilton's. If we had not already the benefit of his Shops, the Town of Peterboro would offer very large inducements to bring him and his establishment here. A Street which has never been open, which is of little consequence, and could be done away with without great inconvenience to any one, divides his shop from his office and yard. His boiler shop is upon it.—The Creek occupies, and has its original and natural channel upon a part of the road. The remaining portion, so far as it lies between his own lands, he seeks to close, in order to make his establishment more complete. It rests with our Councillors to say whether his petition shall be granted. I think I misjudge the Councillors if there is among them one man of so narrow judgement as to justify himself in opposing this petition. We have done too little to encourage manufactures. Let us not drive away those we have.

Yours Truly,
PROGRESS.

Peterboro, June 27th, 1871.

BAILEY & CO.'s GREAT CIRCUS.—Consisting of a colossal Menagerie, an Extensive Hippodrome, a first-class Circus, and an Aviary of beautiful tropical and exotic Birds, will soon visit Peterborough these are, beyond all question, the largest and most varied exhibitions on this continent and possess more living wild animals and strange birds, a better Circus and the only legitimate Hippodrome of any organization now travelling. The procession is every where spoken of as being gorgeous beyond description; Elephants and Dromedaries, richly caparisoned, drawing the massive Chariot of Imbecon, surmounted by a colossal golden Bacchalian, gay Knights and country dames; and a long line of carriages vans, dens, triumphial cars, &c., form the salient features of this grand parade.

The great Sebastian, whose standing challenge in the sum of Ten Thousand Dollars, for any one to successfull contend with him as a bare back and hurdle rider has never been attempted, is with the Hippodrome.

Mlle. Josephine De Vernier, the young and beautiful Funambulist, gives an exhibition each day free to everybody, of walking on a single wire from the ground to the tallest centre pole.

PETERBOROUGH MARKETS.

PETERBOROUGH June 22 1871

Flour ₱ brl	$6	25	6	50
Wheat ₱ bush. fall	1	03	1	75
Spring Wheat ₱ bush.	1	00	1	75
Peas	0	80	0	00
Barley "	0	00	0	63
Oats "	0	50	0	55
Potatoes "	0	35	0	35
Hay ₱ ton	0	00	12	00
Hides ₱ cwt	0	00	7	00
Beef ₱ cwt	0	50	7	00
Sheepskins	0	75	1	25
Wool ₱ lb	0	25	0	34
Pork ₱ cwt	7	00	8	00
Eggs, per dozen	0	12	0	12
Butter	0	15	0	18
Cordwood	2	50	3	00
Turkeys	0	75	1	50
Geese	0	40	0	50
Chickens	0	25	0	40

BIRTH.

At Ashburnham, on the 19th Instant, the wife of Mr. S. Taylor of a son.

DIED.

In the Township of Smith, on the 22d instant, Margaret Wood, wife of the late Patrick Wood, in the 77th year of her age. Deceased was from the County Cavan Ireland, emigrated to Canada in the year 1830 and was one of the first Settlers of the Township of Smith

Carol sayers.

Many persons neglect their illness' health and condition until it is too late, when at a trifling expense and no trouble the horse might have been saved if attended to in time. To all who may have occasion to use an article of the kind we would confidently recommend "Dooley's Condition Powders and Arabian Heave Remedy." It is without doubt the best preparation in use, as thousands who have used it testify. Remember the name, and see that the signature of Hurd & Co., is on each package. Northrop & Lyman, Newcastle, Ont., proprietor for Canada. Sold by all medicine dealers.

The most unhappy person in the world is he; Dyspeptic. Everything looks dark and gloomy he feels "out of sort" with himself and everybody else. Life is a burden to him This can all be changed by taking Peruvian Syrup (a protoxide of iron.) Case of 27 years' standing have been cured by it.

Husband (returned from the village)—Mary, here my dear; I have just returned from town and brought with me your entire list—Tea, Coffee, Sugar, Calico and in short a waggon full of—

Wife (hastily)—And forgot the PAIN-KILLER?

Husband:—Oh! no; couldn't forget that; it's the most prominent object in every store in every store in town; and besides, the fences and stones and buildings all have "PAIN-KILLER" painted or pasted on them to remind one of it every minute. The store-keeper says that the PAIN-KILLER should be in every house and where one can put their hand on it in the dark if need be.

Wife:—It must be valuable, else the Parson's wife wouldn't praise it to the skies as she does

(To be continued.)

☞The CAIN-KILLER is an internal and external remedy for pain For internal pain, Cramps Spasms, Sudden Cold and Bowel difficulties, a few days on water will give immediate relief. As a liniment it is without an equal; it penetrates almost instantly. Be sure and get the genuine made by Perry Davis & Son and sold by all Druggists and Grocers 15-71

THE GREAT FEMALE REMEDY

Job Moses' Peridocal Pills.

This invaluable medicine is unfailing in the cure of all those painful and dangerous diseases to which the female constitution is subject. It moderates all excess and removes all obstructions, and a speedy cure may be relied on.

TO MARRIED LADIES.

It is peculiarly suited. It will in a short time, bring on the monthly period with regularity.

These Pills should not be taken by female during the FIRST THREE MONTHS of Pregnancy, as they are sure to bring on Miscarriage, but at any other time they are safe.

In all cases of Nervous and Spinal Affection, Pains in the Back and Limbs, on slight exertion, Palpitation of the Heart, Hysterics, and Whites, the Pills will effect a cure when all other means have failed; and although a powerful remedy, do not contain iron, calomel, antimony, or anything hurtful to the constitution.

Full directions in the pamphlet around each package, which should be carefully preserved

JOB MOSES', NEW YORK, SOLE PROPRIETOR

$1.00 and 12½ cents for postage, enclosed to Northrop & Lyman, Newcastle, Ont., general agents for the Dominion, will ensure a bottle, containing over 50 pills, by return mail.

Iron ore, taken from the back hills near the highest level of the Union Pacific Railway, has been smelted at Omaha and found of excellent quality, yielding 80 per cent. of superior metal Three hills of the ore lie near the railroad.

CANADIAN PAIN-DESTROYER.

A Family Medicine, well and favorably known for the past ten years, never failing in a single instance to give permanent relief when timely used, and we have never known a single case of dissatisfaction where the directions have been properly followed, but on the contrary all are delighted with its operations, and speak in the highest terms of its Virtues and Magical effects.

THE CANADIAN PAIN DESTROYER has won for itself a reputation, as a blood purifier, alternative stomach tonic, unsurpassed in the history of medical preparations. It seldom fails to cure Dyspepsia, Liver Complaints, Indigestion, Heartburn, Sick Headache, Kidney Complaints, Acid Stomach Phathisic or Asthma, and restores to vital activity the system debilitated by suffering and disease.

Its magical and wonderful success in curing sudden colds, sore throat, coughs, Diptheria, pains in the side, loins and back, neuralgia, toothache, rheumatic and other pains in any part of the body and from whatever cause, has given it a place in every household and is fast superseding all other preparations of the kind.

It is also an effectual and prompt remedy for scalds, burns, bruises, sprains, chilblains, cholera morbus, bilious cholic, cholera infantum, dysentery, &c.

Price only twenty-five cents per bottle.

NORTHROP & LYMAN.
Newcastle, C. W.
General Agents for Canada.

Sold in Peterborough by Dr. Taylor, A. W. Kemp Wm. Coulter and Ormond & Welsh. in Keer by A. Campbell, Campbell Mc Neil & Co., C. Britton, Lindsay, and all Medicine Dealers.

CHEAPER THAN EVER!

Why go Barefooted when you can get

CHEAP BOOTS & SHOES!

CALL AND SEE THE

NEW STOCK!

AT

LARMOUR & SARNEY'S

New Dominion Cheap Boot and Shoe Store,

Which is being offered at Prices which defy competition

(McKellar's Old Corner) George Street, Peterborough.

W. J. LARMOUR. CHAS. SARNEY.

June 12th, 1871. 24

PIANOS.

Melodeons and Organs.

R. S. WILLIAMS, & Co.,

Have now a complete stock of the above instruments on exhibition, at their Rooms, No. 3, Scott's Block, Market Square, to which they invite the attention of parties wishing to purchase.

R. W. ERRETT,
Agent.

Peterboro, 7th June, 1871. 23-3mos.

TO LEND

$10,000.

Interest 8 per cent. No commission.

D. W. DUMBLE,
Solicitor.

Peterborough, April 27, 1871. 17-3ins.

DR. LANG,

PHYSICIAN, SURGEON, &c. Office—Dr. Gilchrist's old stand, Keene, Ont.

In connection, a Drug Store has been opened with a full supply of Drugs, Medicines, Perfumery, Toilet Sets, Dye Stuffs, Fancy Articles, and everything usually kept in a first-class Drug Store.

Keene, June 13th, 1871. 24-tf

TAKEN BY MISTAKE!

From Um's Hotel, Peterborough, on 23rd of May, last, a parcel containing a

BAND UNIFORM SUIT,

Consisting of White Coat, Serge Pants and Red Cap, to be returned to Um's Hotel.

Any person retaining them after this notice, will be prosecuted.

Peterboro, June 14th, 1871. 24-1in*

PETERBORO UNION AND HIGH SCHOOLS!

SEMI-ANNUAL EXAMINATIONS.

The public Semi-Annual Examinations of the pupils of the Peterboro' Union & High Schools, will take place in the following order:

Tuesday Afternoon, June 27th

1½ to 4½ o'clock—Principals, Miss Hatton's, Mr. Clarke's, and Mr. McPaul's Divisions.

Wednesday Afternoon, June 28th,

1½ to 4½ o'clock—Mr. Taylor's, Miss Beattie's, Mr. Braden's, Miss Borrowman's, and Mrs. Flavelle's Divisions.

Thursday Afternoon, June 29th,

1½ to 4 o'clock—Miss Stratton's, Miss Leete's, and Miss Dowling's Divisions.

JAMES H. DIXON, M. A.,
Principal.

25-3ins.

TEACHER WANTED.

A FEMALE TEACHER, holding a Second Class Certificate, for School Section No. 4, Harvey; Duties to commence immediately,

ARCH. JOUNSTON,
HENRY GRAHAM,
THOS. HATTON. } Trustees.

Harvey, June 19, 1871. 25-1in.

Notice of Dissolution.

The Partnership heretofore existing between the undersigned, under the firm of Ferguson & Elder, has been this day dissolved by mutual consent.

Dated at Peterborough, 17th June, A. D. 1871.

JOHN FERGUSON,
JOHN ELDER.

Witness,
C. C. RODD. 25-3ins

SIGN OF

THE GOLDEN ANVIL!

I have on hand my usual supply of Seasonable Goods.

Grass and Cradle Scythes,
Hay, Manure, and Barley Forks,
Snaths. Wood and Iron Bow Rakes, Hoes, Fork Handles, Spades, Shovels,
CRADLES IN GREAT VARIETY

Fishing Tackle, Bird Cages, Electro-Plated Goods, Pocket & Table Knives

(Extra Quality,)

Builders' Hardware,

And a Good Stock of English and American Shelf Goods.

JOHN BERTRAM,

June 14th, 1871. 24

WANTED.

A TEACHER for SCHOOL SECTION No. 8 SMITH. Duties to commence the 2nd July. Applications to be addressed to.

JAMES SAULTER,
Box 5, North Douro.

June 14th, 1871. 24-tf.

Hope.—A private shelter to cover in two lowing hearts, the corner stone of which is the virtue of woman, and from whose doors all other blessings of civilized life are to be traced. But yet, no home is complete without a supply of the "Canadian Pain Destroyer," to prevent disease or for the cure of coughs, colds, summer complaints, rheumatism, neuralgia, &c. For sale by all Druggists, and country dealers.—Price 25 cents per bottle

INSOLVENT ACT OF 1869.

In the matter of JAMES HENRY GRIFFITH an Insolvent.

The Insolvent has made an assignment of his estate to me, and the creditors are notified to meet at my office, in the Town of Peterborough, on Tuesday, the 4th day of July, 1871, at 11 o'clock a. m., to receive statement of his affairs and to appoint an Assignee.

Dated at Peterborough, this 14th June, 1871.

R. W. ERRETT,
Interim Assignee.

24 3ins.

LOST.

A GOLD BRACELET.

On Sabbath last, somewhere on Simcoe or George Street, The Finder will be suitably rewarded by leaving it at this office.

Peterboro, May 31, 1871.

SONG ECHO

A New School Book, by H. S. Perkins. Price $7.50 per dozen. Contains over two hundred new and beautiful Songs, Duetts, etc., by Will S. Hays, Webster, Thomas, etc. Everything is new, fresh, and sparkling. Contents and specimen pages sent free. Sample copies mailed free of postage to teachers for 65 cents. Liberal terms for introduction.

Subscribers to Peters Musical Monthly are getting their music for less than two cents a piece. Those who have no ears this Musical Magazine should send 30 cents for a sample copy. The music is by Hays, Thomas, Kinkle, Paisley and other popular writers.

Two back numbers for 49 cents. Four back numbers for 75 cents. Subscribers get

FIFTY DOLLARS

WORTH OF MUSIC FOR $3.

Address,

J. L. PETERS, 599 Broadway, N. Y.

Teachers sending us their orders for $10 worth of music, can claim a year's subscription to Peters' Musical Monthly.

FOR SALE.

TWO BRICK COTTAGES,

AND BUILDING LOTS.

GEO. T. LEONARD,
Solicitor, &c.

May 24rd, 1871. 21-4ins.

RESTORE YOUR SIGHT.

SPECTACLES RENDERED USELESS

OLD EYES MADE NEW.

All diseases of the Eye successfully treated by

BALL'S NEW PATENT IVORY EYE CUPS.

Read for yourself and restore your sight. Spectacles and surgical operations rendered useless. The inestimable Blessing of Sight is made perpetual by the use of the new

PATENT IMPROVED IVORY EYE CUPS.

Many of our most eminent physicians, oculists students and divines, have had their sight permanently restored for life, and cured of the following diseases:

1. Impaired Vision; 2. Presbyopia, or Far Sightedness, or Dimness of Vision, commonly called Blurring; 3. Asthenopia: or Weak Eyes; 4. Epiphora, Running or Watery Eyes; 5 Sore Eyes—specially treated with the Eye Cups—cure guaranteed; 6. Weakness of the Retina or Optic Nerve; 7. Ophthalmia, or Inflamation of the Eye and its appendages, or Imperfect Vision, from the effects of inflamation; 8. Photophobia, or Intolerance of Light, 9. Over Worked eyes; 10. Mydesopia—moving specks or floating bodies before the eyes; Amaurosis, or Obscurity of Vision; 12. Cataracts, Partial Blindness, the loss of sight.

Any one can use the Ivory Eye Cups with out the aid of Doctor or Medicine, so as to receive immediate beneficial results and never wear spectacles, or if using now, to lay them aside forever. We guarantee a cure in every case where the directions are followed, or we refund the money.

2300 CERTIFICATES OF CURE,

From honest Farmers, Mechanics and Merchants, some of the most eminent leading professional and business men and women of education and refinement, in our country, may be seen at our office.

Under date of March 23, Hon. Horace Greely of the New York Tribune, writes; "J. Ball, of our city, is a conscientious and responsible man, who is incapable of intentional deception or imposition.

Prof. W. Merrick, of Lexington, Ky., wrote April 24th, 1869: Without my Spectacles I pen you this note, after using the Patent Ivory Eye Cups thirteen days, and this morning perused the entire contents of a Daily Newspaper, and all with the unassisted eye.

Truly I am grateful to your noble invention, may Heaven bless and preserve you. I have been using spectacles twenty years; I am seventy-one years old. Yours, truly,

PROF. W. MERRICK.

Rev. Joseph Smith, Malden, Mass., cured of Partial Blindness, of 18 years' standing, in one minute, by the Patent Ivory Eye Cups.

R. C. Ellis, late Mayor of Dayton, Ohio, wrote to us Nov. 13th, 1869: I have tested the Patent Ivory Eye Cups and I am satisfied they are good. I am pleased with them; they are the Greatest invention of the age.

All persons wishing for full particulars, certificates of cures, prices &c., will please send your address to us, and we will send our treatise on the Eye of forty-four pages, free, by return mail, write to Dr. J. Ball & Co., P. O. Box, 987, No. 91 Liberty Street, New York.

For the worst cases of Myopia, or Nearsightedness, use our New Patent Myopic Attachments, applied the Ivory Eye Cups, has proved a certain cure for this disease.

Send for pamphlets and certificates—free. Waste no more money by adjusting huge glasses on your nose and disfigure your face.

Employment for all. Agents wanted for the new Patent improved Ivory Eye Cups, just introduced into the market. The success is unparalelled by any other article. All persons out of employment, or those wishing to improve their circumstances, whether gentlemen or ladies can make a respectable living at the light and easy employment. Hundreds of agents are making from $5 TO $20 A DAY. To live agents $30 a week will be guaranteed. Information furnished on receipt of 30 cents—to pay for cost of printing materials and return postage.

Dr. J. Ball & Co., P. O. Box, 987, No. 91 Liberty Street New York.

Our Agent for Peterborough County, is

JAMES CONWAY, P. M.,
Indian River, Ont.

23—3 mos.

SIGN OF THE CIRCULAR SAW.

THE Subscribers would beg leave to call the attention of the public to their stock of

SHELF AND HEAVY HARDWARE

PAINTS, OILS, GLASS and PUTTY,

Agricultural and Garden Implements,

NAILS, LOCKS, HINGES, &c.

All of which they will sell at the lowest Prices.

Sign of the Circular Saw.

GEORGE STREET, PETERBORO.

McKEE & DAVIDSON

Peterboro, April 26th, 1871, 17

TO FARMERS.

If you want to make FORTY DOLLARS AN ACRE off your land,

SOW FLAX!

Let each good Farmer sow Three Acres on trial, and see how handy it is to have $120 coming in to pay off your hirers' hands in August. As there is a Machine for pulling, at the mill, it makes it one of the easiest crops harvested. For seed apply to

F. TAYLOR,
Flax Mill, Ashburnham

May 3rd, 1871. 18

TO LET.

AUBURN HOUSE,

AND ABOUT 30 ACRES OF LAND THEREWITH.

A Delightful Summer Residence.

Apply to

DENNISTOUN, FAIRBAIRN & CASSELS

May 3rd, 1871. 18-tf

IMPORTANT

TO FARMERS

AND THE PUBLIC.

I have now in my Flour Mill, for Milling Purposes, the

Best Machinery Known

At present in the world, and with an experience of over 40 years in the business, and from a fixed quality of Wheat, I can turn out as much Flour and

AS GOOD IN QUALITY

as any mill in the Dominion. I will, therefore, give in exchange for 60 lbs good clean Wheat, 43 lbs Flour and 10 lbs Bran The Flour warranted to be good. This offer is equal to 200 lbs of Flour for 4 bushels and 40 lbs Wheat, or a clear gain of 20 lbs Wheat on the Barrel, worth at present prices from 43 to 45 cents.

☞Cash paid for Goo Fall and Spring Wheat.

E. MARTIN.

Peterboro, May 22nd, 1871. 21

1871 Annual Announcement 1871

(ESTABLISHED 1856.)

SEEDS!

Fresh, Good, and True.

The subscriber has received his supply of

FIELD,
FLOWER, and
GARDEN SEEDS.

Both of Home and Imported Stock.

WARRANTED GENUINE

FARMERS AND MARKET GARDENERS are respectfully invited to call and inspect for themselves.

COUNTRY MERCHANTS, supplied, as usual with boxes on Commission, or for Cash.

"Honesty" is our motto, both in character of seed, and in price.

Wm. H. TAYLOR, M. D

At the old Stand, Corner of George and Hunter Streets, Peterborough, Ont. 16-tf

A FARMER'S COMPANY.

FARMERS!

Insure Your Property

IN THE

AGRICULTURAL

INSURANCE COMPANY.

A Stock Company entirely devoted to your interests.

Insures nothing but Farm Property and Detached Residences.

Chartered and commenced business in 1853.

CASH ASSETS - - $550,000.

Mr. Langton's Report shows over $80,000 deposited as especial protection to Canadian Policy-holders.

Head Office for the Dominion of Canada, Kingston, Ontario.

We would refer you to the following named Gentlemen, in regard to the pecuniary responsibility of the Company:

H. Calcutt, Brewer; John Burnham, Barrister; J. A. Hall, Agent Canadian Bank of Commerce; Thos. Hensha, Stationer and Exchange Broker.

ATTORNEY—John Burnham, Esq.

BANK—Canadian Bank of Commerce.

Wm T. Fish, Cobourg, Gen. Agent for the Counties of Prince Edward, Hastings, Northumberland, Durham, Ontario, Peterboro and Victoria.

Local Agent for the Town of Peterborough

W. A. KING.

6-tf.

VICTORIA

CARRIAGE

AND

Wagon Factory

Corner of Brock and George Streets.

The Subscriber would respectfully announce that he has leased the above establishment, opposite the Commercial Hotel and is now prepared to Manufacture

CARRIAGES,
BUGGIES,
WAGGONS,
WHEEL-BARROWS,
HARROWS, &c.

At Low Prices for Cash.

HORSE-SHOEING MADE A SPECIALTY.

GEORGE W. MILLS.

Peterboro, March 7th, 1871.

N. B.—As there is another person in Peterboro named "George Mills," the public will please remember the distinction in the names. G. W. M. 13-tf

$765,000

In Cash Gifts to be Distributed by the New York Cash Prize Co.

EVERY TICKET DRAWS A PRIZE.

5 Cash Gifts each,	$40	20 Cash Gifts, each,	$1,000
10 " "	100	50 " "	500
20 " "	200	100 " "	100

50 Elegant Rosewood Pianos, — each $300 to $700
75 " Melodeons " 75 to 150
300 Sewing Machines — " 60 to 175
500 Gold Watches — " 75 to 250
Cash Prizes, Silver Ware, etc., valued at $1,500,000

A change to draw any of the above Prizes for 25c. Tickets describing Prizes are sealed in Envelopes and well mixed. On receipt of 25c. a Sealed Ticket is drawn without choice and sent by mail to any address. The prize named upon it will be delivered to the ticket-holder on payment of One Dollar. Prizes are immediately sent to any address by express or returned mail.

You will know what your prize is before you pay for it. "Any Prize exchanged for another of the same value." No blanks. Our patrons can depend on fair dealing.

REFERENCES:—The following lately drew Valuable Prizes and kindly permit us to publish them:—Andrew J. Burns, Chicago, $10,000; Jas. M. Matthews, Detroit, $5,000; John T. Anderson, Savannah, $5,000; James Simmons, Boston, $10 000.

PRESS OPINION:—"The firm is reliable."—"Weekly Tribune, Dec 26." "Deserve their success."—N. Y. Herald, Jan. 1. "Just and Honorable."—News, Dec, 8.

Send for circular. Liberal Inducements to Agents. Satisfaction guaranteed. Every package of 200 Sealed. Envelopes contains one CASH GIFT. Seven tickets for $1; 17 for $2, 50 for $5; 200 for $15. Address

C. D. HARRIS & Co.,
Managers,
23 Broadway, N. Y

Peterborough March 16th, 1871. 10-tf.

FELLOWS' HYPOPHOSPHITES.

Amongst the diseases overcome by the use of

Fellows' Compound Syrup of Hypophosphites

ARE

Constipation, Asthma, Consumption, Laryngitis, Nervous Debility, Dyspepsia, Chronic Bronchitis, Chronic Diarrhœa, Melancholy.

Debility resulting from Typhoid and other low fevers, Diphtheritic, Hysteria, Hypochondria, Amenorrhœa, Chlorosis Anæmia, Leucorrhœa, Nervous Excitability, Marasmus, or wasting of the Muscles, Aphonia, or loss of Voice, Chorea or St. Vita's Dance, Sluggishness of the Liver, Interrupted and Feeble Action of the heart, Suffocating feeling caused by mucous obstructions of the Lungs and Air passages leading thereto, and Debility from various causes, many cases of which appear hopeless.

SOLD BY APOTHECARIES.

Price, $1.50; Six for $7.50.

JAMES I. FELLOW, CHEMIST,
ST. JOHN, N. B.

16-1871. 4mos.

A CARD.

E. BAKEWELL having made an engagement with Mr. Bredburn, may be found, by his former Patrons and Customers, at the store lately occupied by M. Moloney, where he hopes by his usual attention to business, and with increased facilities for giving satisfaction, still to merit and receive their patronage.

E. BAKEWELL.

Peterboro, Dec. 19, 1870. 51-tf.

HOUSE AND LOT FOR SALE.

The undersigned offers for sale the dwelling House and Lot on

LONDON STREET,

at present occupied by himself.

Further particulars can be obtained by application to

Wm. LECH,
Proprietor.

Peterborough, April 19th 1871. 16-tf.

(Review please copy.)

Dissolution of Partnership.

Notice is hereby given that the Partnership heretofore existing between us, the undersigned as Carriage makers in the Town of Peterboro', in the County of Peterborough, has been this day dissolved by mutual consent, All debts owing to the said partnership are to be paid to, and all claims against the said partnership are to be paid by the undersigned, John Lockhart.

JOHN LOCKHART
JAMES MILLER.

Dated at Peterborough, this 20th day of May A. D. 1871.

In connection with the above, the public are respectfully informed that the business as hereafter, will be conducted under the name of Lockhart & Chowen, and that all orders entrusted to them will receive prompt attention,

LOCKHART & CHOWEN.

Peterboro, May 20th, 1871. 22

New Steam Dye Works!

THE PUBLIC OF PETERBORO and vicinity are respectfully informed that the establishment is now prepared to take in work of every description in

CLEANING, COLOURING, AND FINISHING,

of Gentlemen's Clothing, Ladies' Dress Goods, &c., &c.

Observe the following List of Fabrics

Gents' Blacks, Merinoes, Silks, Tweeds, Cottons, Satin Cassimeres, Unions, Velvet Doeskins, Woolens, Ribbons, and general Dry Goods, made up or in the piece Carpets, Rugs, Mats, Raw Wools, Cottons, Worsted, Wool Yarns, Cotton Yarns, Hosiery, Coiled Plushes for Mats, Baggies, &c., &c. Damasks, in Curtains and Furniture Covers.

☞WORKS, NEAR ONTARIO WOOLEN MILLS, COBOURG.

WM. MERCER,
Agent for Peterboro.

Peterboro, June 7th 1871. 22-1y.

GREAT DESTRUCTION!

BUT

No Loss of Life.

ONLY THE

TURNING OVER PILES OF

DRESS GOODS!

AND PRINTS.

The Contents of Fifteen Cases and Three Bales, Just Opened.

Great Bargains in Hoyle's Prints.

Great Bargains in Dress Goods.

These Goods will be offered at prices that will clean them off before the end of the season.

FERGUSON & ELDER

Peterboro, May 31st, 1871. 22

CHANGE OF BUSINESS

New Foundry Firm.

The Subscriber is retiring from the Foundry Business in which he has been engaged, for the past 15 years, begs to return thanks to his friends and the public in general, for the liberal patronage conferred upon him, at the same time he would beg to state that the business in future will be carried on by his BROTHER JAMES and JAMES R. DAVIS, business in future will be carried on by his BROTHER JAMES and JAMES R. DAVIS, under the firm of Whyte & Davis. Mr. Davis is well known as a First Class Machinist and Millwright, therefore I have every confidence in recommending the New Firm to the public, feeling assured that all orders entrusted to them will be executed in the most satisfactory manner, and with dispatch.

JOHN WHYTE.

Peterborough, April 1st, 1871.

N. B.—Parties having Notes and Accounts to settle, will please bear in mind that the Books of account and Notes will be at my Woolen Mill, West of Whyte & Hamilton's Foundries.—J. W.

The Subscribers having Commenced Business in the Old Stand of John Whyte, Esq., as (Founders, Machinists and Agricultural Implement Manufacturers.) beg to say that they keep on hand all kinds of

AGRICULTURAL IMPLEMENTS,

SUCH AS

STEEL, COMMON, AND GANG PLOWS, HARROWS, ROOT CUTTERS, CULTIVATORS, HORSE HOES, GARDEN AND FIELD ROLLERS, HAY AND STRAW CUTTERS, with almost every Implement used on the Farm.

General Repairing of Reapers, Mowers, Threshing Machines and Implements of Husbandry on the Shortest Notice.

Parties about purchasing any of the above Implements will do well to call and inspect our Stock on hand, before making a purchase elsewhere.

WHYTE & DAVIS

Peterborough, Ap 1st, 1871. 15-tf

NEW WOOLEN MILL.

To the Farmers and Merchants of the County of Peterboro:

The subscribers would respectfully beg to intimate that the Old Woolen Mill, once owned and carried on by the late James Harvey, Esq., afterwards by Mr. Daniel Brook, has been put in a

A THOROUGH STATE OF REPAIR,

And is now filled with New Machinery, got up expressly for the Manufacture of

Blankets, Flannels, Full Cloths, Tweeds, &c.

A large assortment of the above goods of our own make, are now on hand, and will be sold Cheap for Cash, or Exchanged for wool. Special attention will be given to the Custom Department, which is in perfect order for the Manufacture of Farmer's Blankets, Roll Carding and Fulling.

JOHN WHYTE. AUGUSTUS SAWERS

N. B.—We will pay the Highest price in Cash for any quantity Good Clean Wool delivered at the mill.

J. W. A. S.

To my old friends in particular, and the public in general:

I am now back in the Old Mill, with Messrs. Whyte & Sawers, and have got a Large Room all to myself With a splendid

NEW CARDING MACHINE

Bring in your Wool, and I will give you BETTER ROLLS than have ever been turned out in this County.

JOHNNIE NEWTON.

Peterboro, May 3rd, 1871. 18

STOLEN OR STRAYED

From the premises of the undersigned, on the morning of the 24th of May, a

LARGE GREY MARE.

Any person giving information as to her whereabouts will be suitably rewarded.

GEO. BROWN.

Ashburnham, June 7th, 1871. 23.

CANADIAN BANK OF COMMERCE

THE Canadian Bank of Commerce has opened a

Saving's Bank Department

in Peterborough. Interest allowed on all sums over $5 00.

J. A. HALL
Manager

…nows. I beat about the bush, and talk…skim milk: she was the very word. She told we have been the dupe and the tool of a little scheming rascal, an unmannerly coward, with motives as base as his heart is black. oh! oh! sir, that is the way to speak of such a man: I can't do it myself, but I reverence the brave lady who can.

And she wasn't afraid even of you, dear papa. "Some old gentleman!—ha; ha! ha! …take the world as it is; Batgravian mothers would not break their hearts for what is past and gone.' What hard good sense! a thing I always did admire—because I've got none. But her heart is not hard: after all her words of fire that went so straight, instead of beating the bush, she called by crying footed. Oh! oh! oh! Bless her! I love her! If ever there was a good woman in the world that is one. she was not born a lady, I am afraid; but that is nothing: she was born a woman, and I mean to make her acquaintance, and take her for my example in all things. No, dear papa, women are not so pitiful to women, without cause. She is almost a stranger, yet she cried for me. Can you be harder to me than she is? No; pity your poor girl, who will lose her health and perhaps her life. Pity poor Charles, stung by an anonymous viper, and laid on a bed of sickness for me—oh! oh! oh!"

"I do pity you Bella. What …like this, you have …

"I'll try not to …your infatuation, your blind …that looks at other …Bella, of) her own goodness …virtues in a hundred …

"But, most of all, my dear, …one plain question: …the fiend'.

Bella …that player's …

Bella …and, and said, hesitating …

"Come, Bella. I thought you were going to imitate the jade, and not beat about the bush. Yes, or not?'

"The features are very like."

"Bella, you …You recognised her in a …speaks volumes. But shall find I am not to be made a dupe and tool of quite so easily as she thinks. I'll tell you what this is some professional actress Sir Charles has hired to waylay you. Little simpleton!"

He said no more, at that time; but, after dinner, he ruminated, and looked very serious, indeed almost a martialist, view of the crisis. "I'm over-matched now," thought he. "They will not rap sloop out under the very guns of the flagship, if we stay much longer in this port—a lawyer against me, and a woman too; there's nothing to be done but to heave anchor, hoist sail, and run for it."

He sent off a foreign telegram, and then went up stairs. "Bella, my dear," said he, "pack up your clothes for a journey. We start to-morrow."

"A journey, papa! A long one?"

"No. We shan't double the horn this time."

"Brighton? Paris?"

"Oh, farther than that."

"The grave: that is the journey I should like to take."

"So you shall, some day; but, just now, it is a foreign port you are bound for. Go and pack."

"I obey." And she was creeping off, but he called her back, and kissed her, and said. "Now, I'll tell you where you are going; but you must promise me solemnly not to write one line to Sir Charles."

She promised; but cried as soon as she had promised; whereat the Admiral inferred he had done wisely to expel the promise.

"Well, my dear," said he, "We are going to Baden. Your aunt, Madame L… there. She is a woman of great ability and prudence, and has daughters all her own all well married, thanks to her motherly care She will bring you to your senses better than I can."

Next evening they left England, by the mail; and the day after, Richard Bassett learned this through his servant, and went home triumphant, and, indeed, wondering at his success. He ascribed it, however to the nemesis which dogs the heels of those who inherit the estate of another.

Such was the only moral reflection he made, though the business in general, and particularly his share in it, admitted of several.

Miss Somerset also heard of it, and told Mr. Oldfield; he told Sir Charles Bassett. That gentleman sighed deeply, and said nothing. He had lost all hope.

The whole matter appeared stagnant for about ten days; and then a delicate hand stirred the dead waters cautiously. Mr. Oldfield, of all people in the world, received a short letter from Bella Bruce.

"Konigsberg Hotel, Baden.

"Miss Bruce presents her compliments to Mr. Oldfield, and will feel much obliged if he will send her the name and address of that brave lady, who accompanied him to her father's house.

"Miss Bruce desires to thank that lady, personally, for her noble defence of one with whom it would be improper for her to communicate: but she can never be indifferent to his welfare, nor hear of his suffering without deep sorrow."

"Confound it!" said Solomon Oldfield. "What am I to do. I mustn't tell her it is Miss Somerset." So the wary lawyer had a copy of the letter made, and sent to Miss Somerset for instructions.

Miss Somerset sent for Mr. Marsh, who was nowmore at her beck and call than ever; and to'd him that she had a ticklish letter to write. "I can talk with the best," said she; "but the moment I sit down to take up my pen, something cold runs up my shoulder, and then down my back bone, and I'm puzzled: now you are always writing, and can't say 'Bo' to a goose, in company. Let us mix ourselves; I'll walk about, and break my mind; and then you sit down the cream, and send it."

From this ingenious process resulted the following composition:—

"She whom Miss Bruce is good enough to call the 'brave lady,' happened to know the truth, and that tempted her to trp and baffle an annoymous slanderer, who was ruining the happiness of a lady and gentleman. Being a person of warm impulses, she went great lengths; but she now wishes to retire into the shade. She is flattered by Miss Bruce's desire to know her, and some day, perhaps, may remind her of it; but, at present, she must deny herself that honor, Miss Bruce would not be offended; nor hurt; she would entirely approve them."

Soon after this, as Sir Charles Bassett sat by the fire, disconsolate, his servant told him a lady wanted to see him.

"Who is it?"

"Don't know, Sir Charles; but it is a kind of a sort of a nun, Sir Charles."

"Oh, a Sister of Charity! Perhaps the one that nursed me. Admit her by all means."

The sister came in. She had a large veil on. Sir Charles received her with profound respect, and thanked her with some little hesitation, for her kind attention to him. She stopped him by saying that was merely her duty. "But," said she, softly, "words fell from you, on the bed of sickness, that touched my heart; and, I happen to know the lady."

"You know my Bella!" cried Sir Charles. "Ah, then no wonder you speak so kindly you can feel what I have lost. She has left England to avoid me."

"All the better. Where she is, the door cannot be closed in your face. She is at Baden. Follow her there. She has heard the truth from Mr. Oldfield, and she knows who wrote the annoymous letter."

(Continued).

The fewer the words the better the prayer.

It isn't every judge who can parse a sentence.

Broadway dandies wear bright red kid gloves.

Six Catholic priests in Bohemia have recently turned Protestants.

Long snakes are the rage now, the how small and the ends to reach the dress.

New Firm in Ashburnham.

MOWRY & FORSYTH.

The undersigned have leased the "Mowry Foundry," Ashburnham, for a number of years, and have put it in a thorough state of repairs. They have now unequipped facilities for doing

All Kinds of Work in the Foundry and Machine Line,

While they will do promptly and on favorable terms. They will carry on

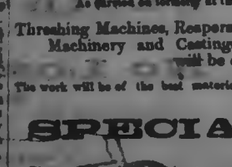
THE THRESHING MACHINE MANUFACTURE!

As carried on formerly at the Mowry Foundry. All kinds of repairing of

Threshing Machines, Reapers and Mowers, Saw Mill and Grist Mill Machinery and Castings and Turnings of Every Description will be done on short notice.

The work will be of the best material and workmanship, and warranted to give general satisfaction.

SPECIAL NOTICE.



We invite Special Attention to our THRESHING MACHINES and HORSE POWERS which is acknowledged by Respectable Farmers now using them, to be the best made in the …

…the Insolvent, contracted since the 26th of October, 1870, …ed, to whom also accounts owing since the same date must be …

W. FORSYTH.

…, May 31st, 1871. 12-tf.

OWENS'

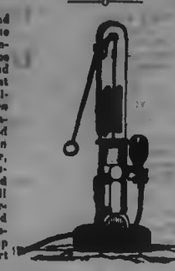
PUMP MANUFACTORY

AND

Agricutural Implement Agency

GEORGE STREET, PETERBOROUGH,

The Leading Pumps and Machines of the Dominion.



The subscriber is still on hand at Dennis' Old Stand, opposite the Graveyard, and begs to inform the inhabitants of the Counties of Peterborough and Victoria, that he is Sole Agent in these Counties for the Celebrated Powell's Patent Swing and Force Pumps—the reputation of which is Established and sustained by their own merits, being cheap, Simple, Reliable, Frost Proof, and easiest worked. Being convinced of their superiority over all other pumps, I have made arrangements to keep a good stock of them on hand, if possible, and will Sell as Cheap as are sold in any other part of the Dominion.

SOLE AGENT FOR MASSEY'S

Agricultural Implements

Including all the late improvements, viz.;

Wood's Self Rake Reapers, and Mowers, and Canada Chief Mowers.

The Hubbard Combined Machine, which took the First Prize at Toronto in 1870.

Also, Johnson's First Prize Self Raker.

Parties wanting Machines the coming Harvest will please call and examine the different Machines before purchasing elsewhere. Prices reduced from last year.

I will guarantee them to be BETTER than the BEST of any other make. The unexampled popularity and success of this pump is not surprising, combining as it does, the Highest Efficiency with the Lowest Cost. Swing Pumps for $6.00 and upwards With reference to the Powell Pump, it has been exhibited five times and secured Five Prizes, never having been awarded anything but First and Highest Honors at State, Provincial, County, Township, or city exhibitions. This is incontestible proof of its adaptability to the wants of the people, and the climate of the country. THE FORCE PUMP is adapted to all the uses to which an ordinary pump may be applied, besides being an always-ready Fire Engine. It is allowed to be worth its cost for Washing Buggies alone, and as a Fire Preventative has saved many valuable properties. May be used for watering Gardens, Courts, &c., Setting Tires, &c., and many other purpose.

If Engine call and examine the Powell Pump before going elsewhere, when I shall be happy to explain its advantages. Also, a large stock of Common Pumps on hand, as usual, which the subscriber will sell as cheap, if not Cheaper, than any Pump-maker in the Province. Also COLBY'S WRINGERS for sale also, Agent for Rights or Pumps in Counties east of Peterborough. Pumps of all kinds Repaired on the shortest notice.

Please address, stating depth of well and other particulars:

HENRY OWENS,

George Street, Peterboo

April 26, 1871.

NEW SADDLERY!

The Subscriber wishes to inform his friends—old and new—that he has re-commenced the

Saddlery and Harness Business,

In the Shop next to the Toronto Bank,

Lately occupied by the Telegraph and Express Companies, opposite to Messrs. Nicholls & Halls, Simcoe Street,

Where he will at all times keep on hand or have made to order by first class workmen, everything actually kept in first class establishments, such as

GENTS' SADDLES, LADIES' DO,

Harness, Single and Double, Coarse, Heavy and Fine,

TRAVELLING BAGS, TRUNKS, SATCHELLS,

WHIPS, MATS, HORSE CLOTHING, &c.

☞ Grateful for past favors in his various lines of business during the last 20 years, he asks his friends to inspect his stock before purchasing elsewhere.

D. HOPKINS.

Peterboro, May 18, 1870. 20

NEW

Fall and Winter Goods!

T. BRADBURN

Having succeeded in disposing of the greater portion of his former stock, and having since purchased heavily in Montreal and Toronto Markets, at the Lowest possible prices, is now showing and invites inspection of the following lines of new Fall and Winter Goods:

CLOTHS:

A complete stock of English and Canadian Cloths and Tweeds.

DRESS GOODS:

New Wool Serges,
New Wool Tartans,
New French Reps,
New French Merinoes,
New Wincies,
New Black Lustres,
(Double Warp)
New Tartan Poplins,
New Figured Poplins,
New Figured Reps,
New French Delaines,
New Crape Cloths,
New Velvets and
New Velveteens

HOSIERY,

In great variety, English, Scotch and Canadian.

FLANNELS,

A full assortment of Welsh, Lancashire, Saxony, and Canadian Manufacture Also, Salisbury and Fancy Flannel Shirting, very Cheap.

Prints, Linens and Towellings.

JUST OPENED, a

A New and Select Stock of Gents' Collars, Ties, Scarfs and Gloves.

GLOVES, CORSETS and SKIRTS.

Those about to purchase FURS would do well to retain their orders, as a large lot will be opened in due time, and will be SOLD CHEAP.

T. BRADBURN

Peterboro, Oct. 14.

Select Poetry.

Going up and Coming Down.

This is a simple song, 'tis true,
And gangs like this are never nice;
And yet we'll try and scatter through
A point or two of good advice.
From Rotten pompous friends, and learn
Never to boast of much renown;
For fortune's wheel is on the turn
And some go up and some come down.

We have a vast amount of sight
A vast amount of pride inside,
But fate has so many tricks,
We wouldn't like to bet on it ours.
Remember, then, and never spurn
The ones whose hand is hard and brown,
For he is likely to go up,
And you are likely to come down.

The other thing you will agree,
(The Truth may be as well confessed,)
The Grafted aristocracy
To bet a scaly thing at best,
And though the fishes large and strong
May soak the little ones to drown,
Yet fishes all, both great and small,
Are going up and coming down.

Our lives are full of chance and change,
And change, you know is never sure,
And 'twere a doctrine new and strange,
That places high are most secure,
And though the fickle god may smile,
And wield the sceptre and the crown.
'Tis only for a little while—
Then R. goes up and A. comes down

The world for you and me, my friend,
Hath something more than pounds and pence.
Then let me humbly recommend
A little use of common sense.
Thus lay all pride of place aside
And have a care on whom you frown;
For fear you'll see him going up,
When you are only coming down

The supply of Paris green is running short, it being in such great requestion for these beetles.

"Rarer than the phoenix," says De Quincy, "is the virtuous man who will consent to lose a good anecdote because it is a lie."

Scene in Chicago.—"Is Mrs. Smith at home?" "No, but walk in. She has just stepped out to get a divorce, and will be back in a few moments."

Long before Paris became the mistress of modes, Milan gave the fashion to the whole world (hence our world milliner), and she still retains some pretensions to her old right.

What does a grocer do with all his things before he sells them? Gives them a weight.

The books in the library belonging to the British Museum occupy twelve miles of shelving.

Said a gentleman to a dealer who was asking a high price for a parrot, "That is a handsome bird, but he talks very little." "I think the more," answered Poll immediately, and was bought without further chaffering.

Two little school girls lately were patering together, and one of them said: We keep four servants, have six horses, and lots of carriages; now what have you got?"—With quite as much pride, the other answered: "why, we've got a skunk under our barn.

In the execution of a deed by a man, his wife was taken aside before the acknowledgment was made, by a commissioner, who, in the usual form asked, 'Do you execute this deed freely, and without any fear or compulsion of your husband?' Fear of my husband!' exclaimed the wife: 'I've had five husbands, and never was afraid of any of them.

His Reason.—: Why do you oppose the giving of the ballot to women?' asked a lady the other day of a confirmed bachelor. "Excuse me, madam,' replied he, 'but I have not sufficient confidence in their capacity to conduct Government affairs.' 'What evidence of their inferiority to mankind can you advance?' querried the lady. 'A simple fact is enough to satisfy my mind, and that is the frightful way in which they do up their back hair.'

A savant has discovered with the microscope that when we pour milk into a cup of tea, the albuman of the milk and the tannin of the tea instantly unite and form leather, or minute flakes of the very same compound which is produced in the texture of the tanned hides, and which makes it leather as distinguished from the original skin. He consequently estimates that in the course of a year a tea-drinker of average capacity imbibes enough leather to make a pair of shoes.

Oswego people have recently been excited over teh supposed discovery of mineral springs of that city, the waters of which were sufficient disagreeable to the taste to convey the idea of remarkable healing dualities. One respectful citizen was so gratified by the discovery and powerful flavour in the water drawn from his well that he hastened to call his neighbours, who all agreed that he was the fortunate possessor of a medical spring of sufficient value to justify the erection of a six-story hotel. But after the decomposed bodies of three chickens, four rats, one dog, one cat, and a black snake had been removed from the well, the mineral flavour disappeared from the water, and the hotel project was abandoned.

A brand-minded people are fussy. Isaac Newton wanted his servant to carry out a stove which was getting too hot. A fellow stole his dinner before his eyes, and he afterwards that he had eaten it because he saw the dishes empty. A Scotch professor walked into the middle of a horsepound while pondering on final Cause. Ben Franklin punched down the ashes of his pipe with the finger of a young lady sitting by his side, and shrewdly burned the little white poker. A gentleman it Troy N. Y. received a letter in the dark, and used it to light the lamp, and then looked about for it to read. Peter Gautry, one day in Paris, thinking he had left his watch at home, took it out of his pocket to see if he had time to go back for it.

Not long ago a registered letter was received at the Chicago post office which should have contained $300. It had been opened and re-sealed with great nicety. The resealed part was examined with a microscope, and a fragment of plug chewing tobacco was found in the envelope. The dective traveling all along the post-road to find who used plug tobacco in a country where "fine-cut" was universally chewed. But no such man could be found. One day the detective reached the house of a country postmaster, who was his friend, and quite above suspicion. The detective hungered, chewed tobacco himself, and he happened to ask his friend for a chew. The friend replied he could give him no fine-cut, because he always used plug tobacco himself. Friendship and tobacco were alike forgotten. The friend was arrested, a search-warrant obtained, his house searched, and the money found.

Ayer's Cathartic Pills,

For all the purposes of a Laxative Medicine.

Perhaps no one medicine is so universally required by everybody as a Cathartic, nor was ever any discovered which is adapted to so many cases of derangement in every country and among all classes, as this mild but effectual purgative Pills. The diseases they soon is, the list is almost too formidable and far more effectual remedy than any other. Those who have tried it, know that it cured them: those who have not, have only to ask their neighbors and friends, and all know that when it does cure it does always—that it never fails through any fault or neglect of its composition. We have thousands upon thousands of certificates of their remarkable cures of the following complaints, but such are we are known in every neighborhood, and we need not publish them. Adapted to all ages and constitutions in all climates; containing neither calomel or any mineral or poisonous drug, they may be taken with safety by anybody. Their sugar coating preserves them from any injury and makes them pleasant to take, while being purely vegetable no harm can arise from their use in any quantity.

They operate by their powerful influence on the internal viscera to purify the blood and stimulate it into healthy action—remove the obstructions of the stomach, bowels, liver, and other organs of the body, restoring their irregular action to health, and by correcting, wherever they exist, such derangements as are the first origin of disease.

Minute directions are given in the wrapper on the box, for the following complaints, which these Pills rapidly cure:—

For Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Listlessness, Lassitude and Loss of Appetite, they should be taken moderately to stimulate the stomach and restore its healthy tone and action.

For Liver Complaint and its various symptoms, Bilious Headache, Sick Headache, Jaundice or Green Sickness, Bilious Colic and Bilious Fevers, they should be judiciously taken for each case, to correct the diseased action or remove the obstructions which cause it.

For Dysentery or Diarrhœa, but one mild dose is generally required.

For Rheumatism, Gout, Gravel, Palpitation of the Heart, Pain in the Side, Back and Loins, they should be continuously taken, as required, to change the diseased action of the system. With such change those complaints disappear.

For Dropsy and Dropsical Swellings, they should be taken in large and frequent doses to produce the effect of a drastic purge.

For Suppression a large dose should be taken as it produces the desired effect by sympathy.

As a Dinner Pill, take one or two Pills to promote digestion and relieve the stomach.

An occasional dose stimulates the stomach and bowels into healthy action, restores the appetite, and invigorates the system. Hence it is often advantageous where no serious derangement exists. One who feels tolerably well, often finds that a dose of these Pills makes him feel decidedly better, from their cleansing and renovating effect on the digestive apparatus.

DR. J. C. AYER & CO., Practical Chemists,
LOWELL, MASS., U. S. A.
NORTHROP & LYMAN.
Newcastle.
General Agents for Ontario.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral,

For Diseases of the Throat and Lungs, such as Coughs, Colds, Whooping Cough, Bronchitis, Asthma, and Consumption.

Probably never before in the whole history of medicine, has anything won so widely and so deeply upon the confidence of mankind, as has this Cherry remedy for pulmonary complaints. Through a long series of years, and among most of the races of men it has risen higher and higher in their estimation, as it has become better known. Its unfailing character and power to cure the various affections of the lungs and throat, have made it known as a reliable protector against them. While delighted to minister to cases of disease and to young children, it is at the same time the most effectual remedy that can be given for incipient consumption, and the alarming affections of the throat and lungs. As a protection against sudden attacks of Croup, it should be kept on hand in every family, and those of all who are sometimes subject to colds and coughs, all should be provided with this antidote for them.

Although settled Consumption is thought incurable, still great numbers of cases where the disease seemed settled, have been completely cured, and the patient restored to sound health by the Cherry Pectoral. So complete is its mastery over the disorders of the Lungs and Throat, that the most obstinate of them yield to it. When nothing else could reach them, under the Cherry Pectoral they subside and disappear.

Singers and Public Speakers find great protection from it.

Asthma is always relieved and often wholly cured by it.

Bronchitis is generally cured by taking the Cherry Pectoral in small and frequent doses.

So generally are its virtues known that we need not publish the certificates of them here, or do more than assure the public that its qualities are fully maintained.

Ayer's Ague Cure,

For Fever and Ague, Intermittent Fever, Chill Fever, Remittent Fever, Dumb Ague, Periodical or Bilious Fever, &c., and indeed all the affections which arise from malarious, marsh, or miasmatic poisons.

As its name implies, it does Cure, and does not fail. Containing neither Arsenic, Quinine, Bismuth, Zinc, nor any other mineral or poisonous substance whatever, it in no case injures any patient. The number of unsolicited certificates of its cures in the newspapers, are literally beyond account, and we believe without a parallel in the history of Ague medicines. One trial is gratified by the acknowledgements we receive of the radical cures effected in obstinate cases, and where other remedies had wholly failed.

Unacclimated persons, either resident in, or travelling through miasmatic localities, will be protected by taking the AGUE CURE daily.

For Liver Complaints, arising from torpidity of the Liver, it is an excellent remedy, stimulating the Liver into healthy activity.

For Bilious Disorders and Liver Complaints, it is an excellent remedy, producing many truly remarkable cures, where other medicines had failed.

Prepared by Dr. J. C. AYER & Co., Practical and Analytical Chemists, Lowell, Mass., and sold at … and the world.

PRICE, $1.00 PER BOTTLE.

NORTHROP & LYMAN,
Newcastle
General Agents for Ontario.

IRON IN THE BLOOD

DYSPEPSIA DEBILITY PERUVIAN AN IRON TONIC SYRUP DROPSY HUMORS

MAKES THE WEAK STRONG.

The Peruvian Syrup, a Protected Solution of the Protoxide of Iron, is so combined as to have the character of an aliment, as easily digested and assimilated with the blood as the simplest food. It increases the quantity of Nature's Own Vitalizing Agent, Iron in the blood, and cures "a thousand ills," simply by Toning up, Invigorating and Vitalizing the System. The enriched and vitalized blood permeates every part of the body, repairing damages and waste, scorching out morbid secretions, and leaving nothing for disease to feed upon.

This is the secret of the wonderful success of this remedy in curing Dyspepsia, Liver Complaint, Dropsy, Chronic Diarrhœa, Boils, Nervous Affections, Chills and Fevers, Humors, Loss of Constitutional Vigor, Diseases of the Kidneys and Bladder, Female Complaints, and all diseases originating in a bad state of the blood, or accompanied by debility or a low state of the system. Being free from Alcohol, in any form, its energising effects are not followed by corresponding reaction, but are permanent, infusing strength, vigor, and new life into all parts of the system, and building up an Iron Constitution.

Thousands have been changed by the use of this remedy, from weak, sickly, suffering creatures, to strong, healthy, and happy men and women; and invalids cannot reasonably hesitate to give it a trial.

See that each bottle has PERUVIAN SYRUP blown in the glass.

Pamphlets Free.

J. P. DINSMORE, Proprietor,
No. 36 DEY ST., NEW YORK.
Sold by Druggists generally.

MONEY TO LEND.

The undersigned has a few thousand dollars of private funds which he is prepared to lend on mortgages, on improved farms.

D. W. DUMBLE,
Januar 1871. 1-tf.

WILLIAM TOOLE,

Being about to REMOVE his Manufactering Establishment from the Ashburnham Mill Race to his own Factory in course of erection,

On Murray Street, Immediately West of the Drill Shed,

Where he is fitting up with almost entire NEW MACHINERY, NEW MEN of long city experience, and, in fact, New Everything, begs to return thanks to his numerous town and country patrons for the very liberal patronage which he has enjoyed for the past fifteen years, and hopes by constant attention to business and fair, liberal treatment o customers, to continue in the enjoyment of the same. He would also intimate to his country friends, that he is manufacturing a few of

The Celebrated McKenzie Fanning Mills,

THE BEST MILL IN THE DOMINION,

Which he will sell at a very moderate price, and take in exchange any kind of FARM PRODUCE.

Peterboro, Feb. 2, 1870. 6

PHOTOGRAPHY!

Studio on Hunter Street West!

THE VERY BEST QUALITY OF

Photographs at the most Reasonable Rates

All sizes, from miniature to life, either Plain or finished in

CARBON, SIPIA, INDIA INK, OIL OR WATER COLORS.

Parties can rely on Promptness.

Albums, Frames, &c, Always on Hand!

☞ Special attention to children.

☞ Inducements offered to families.

GEO. B. SPROULE.

Owing to a steadily increasing business, Mr. Sproule would request as a favor, that his customers make engagements for sitting a week or so, if possible, ahead of time, thereby saving a great deal of confusion, and perhaps disappointment.

Peterborough, September 28, 1870. 20

JUST RECEIVED

AT

GEORGE TANNERS',

AT THE SIGN OF THE

MAMMOTH CHAIR,

HUNTER STREET.

THE PATENT HAMMOCK FOLDING CHAIR!

This Chair was introduced to the public in Montreal in August last, and since that time has merited great attention wherever it has been introduced for its

COMFORT, DURABILITY AND CHEAPNESS,

It being retailed from $2.50 upwards. Call and see it; and in the meantime you can look through the largest and

Best Stock of General Furniture

EVER ON SALE IN THE TOWN OF PETERBORO.

THE

UNDERTAKING

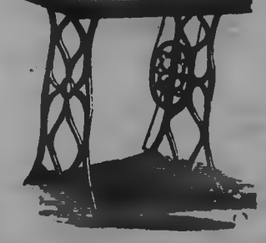
BUSINESS

Is also more complete than ever, with a good supply of READY-MADE COFFINS.

N. B.—The subscriber wishes to give the Geninses of this town and vicinity a gentle hint not to encroach on the manufacture of the Patent Hammock Folding Chair, as it is no humbug, but patented by Mr. Willoughby, Clerk, and I have purchased the sole right of this County from J. D. Mayer, the executive proprietor.

GEO. TANNER.

Peterboro, March 2, 1870. 9



WILSON, BOWMAN & CO.

Hamilton, Ontario

MANUFACTURERS OF THE CELEBRATED

LOCKMAN SEWING MACHINE,

Take pleasure in announcing that the popularity of the Sewing Machine manufactured by them is still on the increase. They are now turning them out at the rate of 600 per month and yet have been compelled within the last two weeks to increase their facilities to a capacity of one thousand per month.

The Lockman Machine, from its capacity to sew the heaviest fabrics with linen thread, as well all the finest cambries with No. 150 Cotton, is pre-eminently the Farmer's Favorite Family Friend.

It is so exceedingly simple in its parts, and so strongly and durably made, that it does not require a mechanical genius for its management.

The manufacturers challenge the world to produce its equal, and yet its price is from Forty to Fifty per cent. Lower than that of any other first-class Shuttle Lock-stitch Sewing Machine.

EVERY MACHINE IS WARRANTED.

☞ Sole Agent for the County of Peterborough—

T. DONNELLY,

P. S.—ROOMS OVER THE STORE. George Street

eterboro, May 11, 1870. 16

PLAIN AND FANCY PRINTING IN ALL STYLES

EXECUTED IN A SUPERIOR STYLE,

At the "Examiner" Office, Simcoe St., Peterboro.

Notice.

IMPOUNDED

Two Devon Red Bulls, 1 year old. The smallest one all red; the largest one red with white spots on his belly and a white spot on each thigh and a white spot on his tail. Which will be sold at my premises on the

Seventh Day of July, 1871,

At the hour of One o'clock, p. m.

MATTHEW WALTON,
Pound-keeper.

Lot No. 6, 13th Con. N. Monaghan.

23-3ins.

BOARD AND LODGING.

MRS. DAVIS'S Boarding House has renewed on Simcoe street, where good board and lodging can be furnished for gentlemen.

T. W. DAVIS.

June 29, 1870. 26-1y

FARM FOR SALE.

The subscriber offers for Sale his Farm, North half of Lot 29, in the

13th Concession of Smith,

Containing 100 Acres. There are about 60 Acres improved and in a good state of cultivation. On the premises are a Comfortable Log House, Log Barn, Stables, and Sheds; a Good Well and other accommodations. For terms and particulars apply to

JAMES IRWIN,
Proprietor.

Lakefield P. O.

DUTCHER'S Lightning Fly Killer.

Dutcher's Dead Shot for Bed Bugs

TRY THEM AND SLEEP IN PEACE

19-3ins

STOVES, TINWARE &c

At the Giant T.

Cooking, Parlor and Box Stoves, CHEAP

A large stock of LUMBERMEN'S FURNISHINGS, on which a liberal discount will be made.

COAL OIL to the trade at refinery prices

ROOFING IN TIN AND GALVANIZED IRON, also EAVE-TROUGHING AND PIPING

Done by Practical Men

Gas Fitting, Steam Fitting,

AND PLUMBING.

Also Agent for, and manufacturer of

CALCUTT'S PATENT TUBULAR DRUM HEATER,

The most Economical in the Dominion, by the use of which 50 per cent wood can be saved. Call and see them.

THOMAS LANNIN,
Practical Tin & Copper Smith
George St. Peterborough.

Sept. 28, 1870. 16-1yr.

Fine English Camphor

The surest preventative against moths, and large supply on hand.

NO BATH COMPLETE

WITHOUT A SPONGE.

A GOOD HONEY-COMB SPONGE

From the Mediterranean may be obtained at the subscribers.

CARBOLIC SOAP

For Toilet Purposes.

CARBOLIC SOAP

For Washing Rooms, Bedsteads, Blankets, &c.

CARBOLIC ACID!

The most powerful disinfectant of modern times, not only neutralizing but destroying miasmata, &c.

CARBOLIC POWDER

For Sprinkling in Cellars, &c. It is also very useful for destroying pediculi in dogs, calves, &c., being safe and efficacious.

May all be obtained Pure and Genuine, at

DOCTOR TAYLOR'S,

Chemist and Druggist

Corner of George and Hunter Sts; Peterboro

May 11, 1870. 13

UNFAILING EYE PRESERVERS.

LAZURUS, MORRIS & Co's

CELEBRATED

Perfected Spectacles

AND EYE GLASSES.

The large and increasing sales of these Perfected Glasses is a sure proof of their superiority. We were satisfied that they would be appreciated here as elsewhere, and that the reality of the advantages offered to wearers of our beautiful lenses, viz: the ease and comfort, the assured and readily ascertained improvement of the sight, and the brilliant assistance they give in all cases, were in themselves so apparent on trial, that the result could not be otherwise than it has, in the almost general adoption of our Celebrated Perfected Spectacles by the residents of this locality.

With a full knowledge of the value of the assertion, we claim that they are the most perfect optical aids ever manufactured. To those needing spectacles, we afford at all times an opportunity of procuring the best and most desirable.

DR. W. H. TAYLOR

Corner of George and Hunter Streets,

Has always on hand a full assortment, available for every difficulty.

We take occasion to notify the public that we employ no pedlars, and to caution them against those pretending to have our goods for sale.

Peterboro, February 8, 1871

DARLEY'S

ARABIAN OIL,

FOR HORSES AND CATTLE.

A NEVER-FAILING REMEDY.

THIS valuable preparation combines all the medicinal virtues of those articles which long experience has proved to possess the most safe and efficient properties for the cure of Flesh Wounds, Sprains, Bruises, Galls of all kinds, Cracked Heels, Ring Bone, Spavin Callus, Fistula, Sweeney, External Poison, Scratches or Grease, Strains, Lameness, Mang Whitlows, Corns, Sand Cracks, Founders Foot, Horn Distemper, Swellings, and many other diseases which horses and cattle are subject to.

This celebrated Liniment has been used for many years, and its curative properties thoroughly tested, and it is conceded to be the cheapest and most reliable remedy for all external complaints ever offered to the public—it never fails when timely used and faithfully applied.

To be had of all Druggists and Country Merchants throughout the Dominion. Price 25c. per bottle.

NORTHROP & LYMAN
Newcastle, O

Flax! Flax!!

Farmers intending to grow flax will please apply for their seed early. Seed supplied and payment taken in flax by calling on or H. GALLUFF.

SAMUEL TAYLOR

I would beg to call the attention of farmers that I have a machine for pulling flax, which will pull 4 acres a day. I will let the machine and send a man with it for $4 per day. By the assistance of the puller, Flax is the cheapest crop harvested. For information I would refer you to—Jonathan Stephenson, Smith; W. Kilburn, Smith; J. Parnell, Smith; A. Scott Smith; I. Beck Otonabee; W. Rutherford Otonabee.

SAMUEL TAYLOR,
Flax Mill,
Ashburnham

Ashburnham, March, 1871. 11-2mos

THOS. MENZIES,

BANKER AND BROKER.

PETERBORO, ONT.

Buys and Sells New York and Sterling Exchange, Bank Stocks, Gold, Silver, Greenbacks, &c. &c. Buys and sells Drafts for any amount on England, Ireland, Scotland, France, Belgium, Germany, Italy, Denmark, Norway, Sweden, Poland and Russia.

The Peterborough Examiner
A WEEKLY
POLITICAL, AGRICULTURAL,
AND
FAMILY NEWSPAPER,
IS PUBLISHED
EVERY THURSDAY MORNING.

Issued $1.50 per annum in Advance.

EVERY DESCRIPTION OF BOOK AND JOB PRINTING executed at this office, in a superior style, and at low rates.

☞Particular attention given to Ornamental Printing in Colors, Attractive Posters, &c.

All orders for Job Printing forwarded to this office will be punctually and strictly attended to.

JAMES HALL,
SHERIFF, Office in the Court House, Peterborough.

EDG. PEARSE,
COUNTY Treasurer and Clerk. Office in the Court House, Peterboro. 6

EDG. PEARSE,
OFFICIAL ASSIGNEE. Office — Court House, Peterborough. 6-1y

C. A. WELLER,
CLERK of the Peace. Office on Simcoe St., 18

C. A. WELLER,
COUNTY Attorney. Office on Simcoe St. 20

C. A. WELLER,
BARRISTER, Attorney, Solicitor, &c.—Office—Simcoe Street, Peterborough.

MR. JOHN BURNHAM,
BARRISTER, Attorney at Law, Solicitor in Chancery, Conveyancer, &c. Office—over T. Chamber's Store, Hunter Street, Peterborough, Ont. 20

GEORGE EDMISON,
ATTORNEY at Law, Solicitor in Chancery, Conveyancer, &c., &c. Office over Mr. John Fletcher's Boot and Shoe Store, directly opposite Mr. Clanton's, George Street, Peterborough.
Peterboro', Feb. 17th, 1864. 7

W. H. MOORE,
BARRISTER, Attorney at Law, Solicitor in Chancery, Conveyancer, &c. Office corner of George and Hunter Streets, McKellar & Cameron's old stand.
MONEY TO LOAN on easy terms, on land security. Mortgage bought.
Peterboro, April 6, 1869. 14

DENN ISTOUN, FAIRBAIRN & CASSELS,
BARRISTERS, &c.,
Hunter Street, 3 Peterborough.

JOHN GREEN,
BARRISTER, Attorney at Law, Solicitor in Chancery, Conveyancer, &c. Office over the Ontario Drug Store, Scott's block, corner of George and Simcoe Streets.
Peterboro Dec. 1st, 1869. 48

GEO. T. LEONARD,
ATTORNEY-AT LAW, SOLICITOR IN Chancery &c. Peterborough. 49

S. D. CRAWFORD, M. D., C. M.,
MEMBER of Royal College of Surgeons, England; Licentiate Government Medical Board; Late resident Coombe Lying-in-Hospital, Dublin. Ryan's Buildings, Market Square, Peterboro. 7

DR. LOYD,
CORONER for the Counties of Peterborough and Victoria. Office and residence at Bobcaygeon. 47

GEORGE BURNHAM, M. D.
GRADUATE of Bellevue Hospital Medical College, N. Y., University of Victoria College Canada, and Licentiate of Nova Scotia, Physician, Surgeon and Accoucheur.
Office and residence,—Near the Corner of Brock and George Streets, Peterborough.
Peterboro, May 27, 1868. 43

D. PENTLAND,
DENTIST, would respectfully inform the public that he is now prepared to EXTRACT TEETH WITHOUT PAIN, by the al of Nitrous Oxide Gas, a very pleasant and perfectly safe remedy.
Peterboro, November 28, 1866. 48

W. COULTER,
DEALER in Genuine Drugs, Chemicals, Patent Medicines, Perfumery, Paints, Oils Dye Stuffs, Hair, Nail and Tooth Brushes, pallets, Culinary Essences, Fancy Soaps, &c. George Street, Peterboro. 16

RUSH & BUCKETT,
VETERINARY SURGEONS, No. 6 Henthorn's Block, George street, Peterboro Horses and Cattle Medicines kept constantly on hand. Horses taken under treatment on easy terms.

ALEX. McNEIL,
LICENSED Auctioneer for the Counties of Peterborough and Victoria, and Townships of Cavan and South Monaghan.

GEORGE READ,
ISSUER of Marriage Licenses, Clerk Division Court, Township Clerk, &c., Keene, Otonabee. 20

JAMES McLEAN,
INSURANCE Agent, Issuer of Marriage Licenses, and Commissioner for taking Affidavits.
Cavan, Mount Pleasant, C. W. 36

CABINET-MAKING.
E. POOLE, Cabinet maker, Upholsterer and Undertaker, George Street, Peterboro.

JAMES STEVENSON,
DEALER in Stoves, Tin-Ware, &c., &c. George Street, Peterborough. 18

ROBERT PATTERSON,
DEALER in Boots and Shoes. Spanish Sole Leather constantly on hand.
Nicholls and Hall's old stand, Simcoe Street, Peterborough.

GEORGE MITCHELL,
DEALER in Groceries and Provisions, &c Cash paid for all kinds of country produce
George Street, Peterborough, 15

EDMUND S. VINDIN
COMMISSION, Shipping, Forwarding and General Agent, Lumber Merchant, &c.—Office, Corner of Walton and Ontario Streets, Port Hope.

BANK OF TORONTO.
CORNER of Water and Simcoe Streets, Peterboro. Interest allowed on Deposits
J. MURRAY SMITH, Manager

Peterborough Examiner.

$1.50 PER ANNUM, IF PAID IN ADVANCE.] "Prove all things—Hold fast that which is good." [$2.00 PER ANNUM, IF NOT PAID IN ADVANCE.

VOL. XVI. PETERBOROUGH, THURSDAY, JULY 6. 1871. NO. 27.

ROBERT WALTON.
SADDLERY. Dealer in Stoves, Tinware, &c., George Street, Peterboro'. 18

J. R. McCULLOUGH, M. D.,
Graduate of Trinity College, Dublin, and Licentiate of the Dominion of Canada,
Physician, Surgeon, Accoucheur, &c.,
AND
Late Surgeon of the U. S. Army & Navy,
Will be found at his office or at his residence, at all hours of the Day and Night, except when out on professional business.
☞ N. B.—All communications strictly confidential.☜
RESIDENCE and OFFICE—Next Door To Wm. McDonald's Hotel, and two doors East Of Heim's Foundry, Simcoe Street.
Watches Clocks Jewellery Cut Glass, Only
VISITS TO THE COUNTRY MONTHLY.
☞ ADVICE TO ALL FREE.☜
Simcoe Street, Peterboro, Ont.
September 8, 1869. 36

THOMAS LANNIN,
PRACTICAL TIN & COPPER SMITH, Bell Hanger, Steam and Gas Fitter, Plumber, &c. Dealer in Stoves, Iron Beds, Baths, Refrigerators, Water Coolers, Filters, Pumps, &c.
Queen Street,
Peterboro, 1st June, 1870. 22

JOHN COONEY,
NURSERYMAN,
DEALER in Fruit and Ornamental Trees, Shrubs and Roses, and all kinds of Nursery stock. A very choice collection of Strawberry Plants on hand.
Orders by mail promptly attended to.
JOHN COONEY.
Peterboro, July 21, 1869. 29

ONTARIO BANK,
PETERBOROUGH.
SAVINGS DEPARTMENT.
From this date until further notice, the rate of interest in the above department will be
FIVE PER CENT.
PER ANNUM.
G. E. SHAW, Manager.
Peterboro', April 1st, 1868. 14-tf

GEORGE ALLEN,
GUN & WHITE-SMITH,
Hunter Street, Peterborough,
BEGS to inform the public, that all kinds of repairing is done on the shortest notice, such as Guns, Stocking, &c., Pistols and White-smithing. Sewing Machines also neatly repaired.
☞ Shop and residence adjoining the Union Hotel.
Peterboro, October 25, 1865. 43

GORE DISTRICT MUTUAL
FIRE INSURANCE COMPANY!
HEAD OFFICE, GALT, ONTARIO.
CHARTERED A. D., 1836.
ASSETS, $160,000 | LOSSES PAID, $416,000
POLICIES ISSUED, 15,595.
ALL kinds of Property Insured at rates from 15 to 30 per cent. lower than Stock Companies. Claims adjusted with fairness and liberality. Losses PROMPTLY PAID.
ROBERT McLEAN, Esq., Inspector and General Agent.
THOMAS M. SIMONS, Esq., Secretary.
R. W. ERRETT, Agent, Peterborough.
November 4, 1869. 46-17

TO THE FARMERS
OF THE
COUNTY OF PETERBOROUGH.
The undersigned begs to intimate that he is again prepared to pay the HIGHEST CASH PRICE for
Oats, Pease, Barley and Rye,
at his New Grain Warehouse in Ashburnham, situated nearly opposite his old stand.
His friends and acquaintances are invited to give him a call as usual,
D SUTHERLAND.
Ashburnham, Sep. 20, 1869. 39

STAGE.
BETWEEN
Norwood and Peterboro'
The Stage leaves Norwood every
Monday, Wednesday and Friday,
at 7 o'clock a. m.
RETURNING, leaves Peterboro' at 2.30 p.m.
Office in Norwood, Johnson's Hotel.
Office in Peterboro', Stewart House.
This Stage connects with the stage for Blairton, Marmora, Hastings, Warkworth and Colborne.
J. A. JOHNSON, Proprietor
23-tf

SCOTTISH IMPERIAL
FIRE INSURANCE COMPANY.
CAPITAL - - £1,000,000.
Head Office—50 West George Street, Glasgow.
CANADA BRANCH—Head Office, No. 86 St. Francois Xavier Street, Montreal
WALTER REAL.
Agent for Peterboro.
OFFICE—SIMCOE STREET. 26-3ins

DAILY LINE
TO
ROCHESTER.

The Superb new Lake Upper Stare Cabin Steamer.
NORSEMAN,
Carrying United States and Canadian Mails and Express
Leaves Port Hope every Morning
FOR ROCHESTER
At 9 o'clock on arrival of Grand Trunk Railway Trains from East and West.
RETURNING
Leaves Port of Rochester (Charlotte) every evening at 9 o'clock (except Saturday, when she leaves at two P. M., for Brighton.)
This is the favourite summer route from Toronto to Rochester, Albany, &c. The cheapest and quickest route from points East of Port Hope on the Grand Trunk, to Rochester, Buffalo, &c. The favourite route to Avon and Clifton Springs, &c.
Passengers and freight take cars along-side steamer at Rochester Landing.
Connection made at Cobourg ask Port Hope with Royal Mail Line Steamers from Hamilton and Montreal.
Address R. C. CARTER,
15 PORT HOPE.

GRAND TRUNK RAILWAY.
TRAINS LEAVE
PORT HOPE STATION
AS FOLLOWS:
GOING EAST.
Express (day)..... 9.30 a.m.
Mixed..... 7.00 p.m.
Express (night)..... 9.30 p.m.
GOING WEST.
Express (night)..... 10.30 p.m.
Mixed..... 3.00 p.m.
Express (day)..... 10.30 a.m.
Trains leave on Railroad time, which is about twenty-three minutes ahead of Port Hope time
Warranted correct by the Company's time Table

Montreal Ocean Steamship Co.

Steam to Liverpool, Londonderry and Glasgow.
Rates of Passage from Peterboro':
CABIN, - - $74 to $96. STEERAGE - $30.
Return Tickets for 6 months at reduced fares
For Through Passage Tickets, Staterooms, and every information, apply to
GEORGE A. COX, Agent.
Canadian Express Co'y.
Peterboro', Nov. 7th. 1866. 45

GREAT WESTERN RAILWAY
OF CANADA.
TORONTO LINE.
TORONTO, &c., TO HAMILTON.
Accommodation trains leave Yonge street Station at 7.00 a.m., 8.50 p.m. and 6.55 p.m.
Express at 12.55 p.m.
HAMILTON, &c., TO TORONTO.
Accommodation trains leave Hamilton at 7.10 a.m., 9.50 a.m. and 7.25 p.m.
Express at 3.45 p.m.

PIANOS,
MELODEONS, ORGANS
D. PENTLAND,
Is now Agent for A. & S. Norheimer for the sale of the following celebrated Pianos:—
Chickering & Sons'; Steinway & Sons'; Dunham & Sons'; Haines Brothers'; Ernest Gabler; and J. W. Voss's.
Also, for the world-wide Celebrated Organs and Melodeons—Geo. A. Prince & Co., Buffalo; Mason & Hamlin's, Boston.
Instruction Books for Piano & Organ, Sheet Music, &c. always on hand.
REFERENCES.—Mr. F Bell, Organist, St. John's Church, Peterboro; Mr. D. D. Gallelly, Choris; ter, Canada Presbyterian Church, Peterboro; Gr. J. I. Davidson, Precentor, St. Andrew' Murch, Peterboro; Dr. Taylor, Peterboro.
Peterboro, April 5th, 1871. 14

THE CANADIAN
BANK OF COMMERCE
CORNER OF
Hunter and Water Streets, Peterboro'
☞ Interest allowed on Deposits.
J. A. HALL, Manager
Peterboro, July 27, 1870. 30

THOS. MENZIES,
Now being the authorized Ticket Agent for the Grand Trunk Railway, can supply the public with
Tickets to all parts of Canada,
Also to any part of the United States.
Charges the same as at any of the Stations on the G. T. R. So get your Tickets before leaving Peterboro, and save all trouble on your journey.
THOS. MENZIES,
George Street.
Peterboro July 3, 1870 13

MONEY TO LOAN,
In Small or Large Sums on easy terms
GEO. T. LEONARD,
Solicitor, &c
May 23rd, 1871. 21-3ins

PASTURAGE
GOOD PASTURAGE,
Apply to
J. EDWARDS
May, 1871 20-tf.

Select Poetry.

Moonlight—A Revery.

Over the hills the moonlight steals,
And floods the level meadows:
The rivers, drowned in light reveals
A world of sleeping shadows.

Smoothed are its ripples, hushed the sighs,
With which all day 'tis teeming:
Beneath the misty, moonlight skies,
It lies as if a-dreaming—

Dreaming of softly slipping on
Through woodlands cool and stilly;
Of quarrelling with rock and stone,
Of kissing the sweet lily;

Of prattling shallows, gay meanders,
Circus around springs and fountains,
And birds that charm in quiet shades
Its birthplace in the mountains.

And as I gaze out on the night,
My thoughts, with sweet delaying,
By devious paths of shade and light
Through memory's groves are straying

Dim ghosts of buried yesterdays,
Clevered with Hope's withered flowers,
Leap up and down these silent ways
Their spectral trains of hours.

Dear loves and griefs that long have lain
Beneath the past deep ocean,
Rise, live, and fill my soul again
With passionate emotion

My heart cries out: dull heavy pain
Lies leaden on its pulses
Even while its inmost depths a strain
Of blissful notes convulses.

Ah! sweet indeed it is to me
To sit thus idly musing,
Letting fond Fancy wander free
By paths of her own choosing.

And though midst saddest scenes she roams,
And o'er my senses creeping,
I feel a melancholy some,
And catch myself a-weeping.

I feel a blissfulness so rare,
So pure, unworldly, holy,
I love to breath the saddened air
Of dreaming melancholy.

And, as the moonbeams softly sleep
On hill and dale and river,
I love to dream that makes me weep,
And covet it forever.

Choice Literature.

A Terrible Temptation.

BY CHARLES READE.

From Cassell's Magazine.

"And who did?"

"Mr. Richard Bassett."

This amazed Sir Charles.

"The scoundrel!" said he, after a long silence.

"Well, then, why let that fellow defeat you, for his own ends? I would go, at once to Baden. Your leaving England would be one more proof to her that she has no rival. Stick to her like a man, sir, and you will win her I tell you."

These words from a man amazed and fired him. He rose from his chair, flushed with sudden hope and ardour. "I'll leave for Baden to-morrow morning."

The sister rose to retire.

"No, no," cried Sir Charles. "I have not thanked you. I ought to go down on my knees and bless you for all this. To whom am I so indebted?"

"No matter, sir."

"But it does matter. You nursed me, and perhaps saved my life, and now you give me back the hopes that make life sweet You will not trust me with your name?"

"We have no name."

"Your voice at times sounds very like—no, I will not affront you by such a comparison."

"I'm her sister," said she, like lightning.

This announcement staggered Sir Charles, and he was silent and uncomfortable. It gave him a chill.

The Sister watched him keenly, but said nothing.

Sir Charles did not know what to say, so he asked to see her face. "It must be as beautiful as your heart."

The Sister shook her head. "My face has been disfigured by a frightful disorder."

Sir Charles uttered an ejaculation of regret and pity.

"I could not bear to show it to one who esteems me as you seem to do. But perhaps it will dot always be so."

"I hope not. You are young, and Heaven is good. Can I do nothing for you? who have done so much for me?"

"Nothing—unless"—said she, feigning vast timidity, "you could spare me that ring of yours, as a remembrance of the part I have played in this affair."

Sir Charles coloured. It was a ruby of the purest water, and had been two centuries in his family. He coloured, but was too fine a gentleman to hesitate. He said, "By all means: but it is a poor thing to offer you."

"I shall value it very much."

"Say no more. I am fortunate in having anything you deign to accept."

And so the ring changed hands.

The Sister now put it on her middle finger, and held up her hand, and her bright eyes glanced at it, through her veil, with that delight which her sex in general feel at the possession of a new bauble. She recovered herself, however, and told him soberly, the ring should return to his family at her death, if not before.

"I will give you a piece of advice for it," said she. "Miss Bruce has foxy hair; and she is very timid. Don't you take her advice, about commanding her. Coax her to speak her mind. Make a friend of her—Don't you put her to the—that she must displease you, or else deceive you. She might choose wrong, especially with that coloured hair."

"It is not in her nature to deceive."

"It is not in her nature to displease.—Excuse me, I am too fanciful, and look at women too close. But I know your happiness depends on her: all your eggs are in that one basket. Well, I have told you how too carry the basket. Good-bye."

Sir Charles saw her out, and bowed respectfully to her in the hall, while his servant opened the street door. He did her this homage as his benefactress.

When Admiral and Miss Bruce reached Baden, Mr. Molineux was away on a visits and this disappointed Admiral Bruce, who had counted on her assistance to manage and comfort Bella. Bella needed the latter very much. A glance at her pale, pensive, lovely face, was enough to show that sorrow was rooted at her heart. She was subjected to no restraint, but kept the house on her own accord, thinking, as persons of her age are apt to do, that her whole history must be written in her face. Still, of course she did go out sometimes, and one cold but bright afternoon, she was strolling languidly on the parade, when all in a moment she met Sir Charles Bassett, face to face.

She gave an eloquent scream, and turned pale as ashes, and then the hot blood came rushing, and then it retired, and she stood as bay, with heaving bosom, and great eyes.

Sir Charles held out both hands pathetically. "Don't you be afraid of me."

When she found he was so afraid of offending her, she became more courageous. "How dare you come here?" said she, but with more curiosity than violence, for it had been her dream of hope he would come.

"I have pushed my enquiries, where I heard you were here!"

"You must not speak to me, sir; I am forbidden."

"Pray do not condemn me, unheard."

"If I listen to you, I shall believe you.—I won't hear a word. Gentlemen can do things that ladies cannot even speak about. Talk to my aunt Molineux: on her fate depends on her. This will teach you not to be so wicked. What business have gentlemen to be so wicked? Ladies are not. No, it is no use, I will not hear a syllable. I am ashamed to be seen speaking to you.—You are a bad character. Oh, Charles, is it true you had a fit?"

"Yes."

"And have you been very ill. You look ill."

"I am better now, dearest."

"Dearest! Don't call me names. How dare you keep speaking to me, when I request you not?"

"But I can't excuse myself, and obtain my pardon, and recover your love, unless I am allowed to speak."

"Oh, you can speak to my aunt Molineux, and she will read you a fine lesson."

"Where is she?"

"Nobody knows. But there is her house the one with the iron gate. Get her ear first, if you really love me; and don't you ever waylay me again. If you do, I shall say something rude to you, sir. Oh, I'm so happy!"

Having let this out, she hid her face with her hands, and fled like the very wind.

At dinner time she was in high spirits.

The Admiral congratulated her. "Bravo, Bell! Youth and health, and a foreign air, will soon cure you of that folly."

Bella blushed deeply and said nothing.—The truth struggled within her too, but she shrank from giving pain, and receiving expostulation.

She kept the house, though for two days, partly out of modesty, partly out of an honest and pious desire to obey her father as much as she could.

The third day, Mrs. Molineux arrived, and sent over to the Admiral.

He invited Bella to come with him: She consented eagerly; but was so long in dressing that he threatened to go without her.—She implored him not to do that; and, after a monstrous delay, the motive of which the reader may perhaps divine, father and daughter called on Mrs. Molineux. She received them very affectionately. But, when the Admiral, with some hesitation, began to enter on the great subject, she said, quietly, "Bella, my dear, go for a walk, and come back to me in half an hour."

"Aunt Molineux!" said Bella, extending both her hands imploringly to that lady.

Mrs. Molineux was proof against this blandishment, and Bella had to go.

When she was gone: this lady, who both as wife and mother, was literally a model, rather astonished her brother, the Admiral.

She said, "I am sorry to tell you, that you have conducted this matter with perfect impropriety, both you and Bella. She had no business to show you that anonymous letter; and when she did show it to you, you should have taken it from her, and told her not to believe a word of it."

"And married my daughter to a libertine! Why Charlotte, I am ashamed of you."

Mrs. Molineux coloured high; but she kept her temper; and ignored the interruption. "Then, if you decided to go into so indelicate a question at all (and really you were not bound to do so on anonymous information), why then you should have sent for Sir Charles, and given him the letter, and put him on his honour to tell you the truth. He would have told you the fact instead of a garbled version; and the fact is that, before he knew Bella, he had a connection, which he prepared to dissolve; on terms very honourable to himself, as soon as he engaged himself to your daughter.—What is there in that? Why, it is common, universal, amongst men of fashion. I am so vexed, it ever came to Bella's knowledge: really it is dreadful to me, as a mother, that such a thing should have been discovered before that child. Complete innocence means complete ignorance: and that is how all my girls pent to their husbands. However, what we must do now is to tell her Sir Charles has satisfied me he was not to blame; and, after that, the subject must never be recurred to. Sir Charles has promised me never to mention it, and so more shall Bella. And now, my dear John, let me congratulate you. Your daughter has a high-minded lover, who adores her, with a fine estate; he had been crying to me, poor fellow, as men will to a woman of my age; and if you have any respect for my judgement—ask him to dinner."

He added that it might be as well if, after dinner, he were to take a little nap.

Admiral Bruce did not fall into these views without discussion. I spare the reader the dialogue, since he yielded at last, only, from the day he first saw you. He loves you now, as much as ever. Do you love him?"

"Oh, aunt! aunt!" A shower of kisses and a tear or two.

"That is enough. Then dry your eyes, and dress your beautiful hair a little better than that; for he dines with me to-day."

Who so bright and happpy now, as Bella Bruce?

The dreaded aunt did not stop there. She held that, after the peep into real life Bella Bruce had obtained, for want of a mother's vigilance, she ought to be a wife as soon as possible. So she gave Sir Charles a hint that Baden was a very good place to be married in: and, from that moment, Sir Charles gave Bella and her father no rest till they consented.

Little did Richard Bassett dream of what was going on at Baden. He now surveyed the chimneys of Hunterscombe Hall with resignation, and even with growing complacency, as chimneys that would one day be his, since their owner would not be in a hurry to love again. He shot for Charle's pheasants whenever they strayed into his hedge-rows, and he lived moderately, and studied health. In a word, content with the result of his anonymous letter, he confined himself now to casually outliving the wrongful heir, his cousin.

The fine frosty morning, the chimneys of Hunterscombe began to show life; vertical columns of blue smoke rose in the air, one after another, till at last there were about forty going.

Old servants flowed down from London. New ones trickled in, with their boxes, from the country. Carriages were drawn out into the stable yard, horses exercised, and a whisper ran that Sir Charles was coming to live on his estates, and not alone.

Richard Bassett went about, inquiring cautiously.

The rumour spread, and was confirmed by some little facts.

At last, one fine day, when the chimneys were all smoking, the church bells began to peal.

Richard Bassett heard, and went out, scathing deeply. He found the village all agog with expectation.

Presently there was a loud cheer from the steeple, and a flag flanted from the top of Hunterscombe house. Marmaan. Distant cheers. Approaching cheers. The clatter of horses' feet. The roll of wheels. Hunterscombe gates flung wide open, by a cluster of grooms and keepers.

Then came two carriages, followed by [illegible] and [illegible] and four that dashed through the village, amidst peals of delight from the villagers. The carriage was open, and in it sat Sir Charles, and Bella Bassett; she was lovelier than ever: she dazzled the very air with her beauty, and her glorious hair; the harrahs of the villagers made her heart beat; she pressed Sir Charles's hand tenderly and literally shone with joy and pride: and so she swept past Richard Bassett; she saw him directly, shuddered a moment, and half clung to her husband: then on again, and passed through the open gates amidst loud cheers. She alighted in her own hall, and walked, nodding and smiling easily, thro' two files of domestics and retainers; and thought no more of Richard Bassett, than some bright bird that has flown over a rain-cheek and glanced down at him.

But a gorgeous bird cannot always be flying. A snake can sometimes creep under her perch, and glare, and keep hissing, till she scuddles, and drops, and lays her plumage in the dust.

CHAPTER IX.

Generally, deliberate crimes are followed by some great punishment; but they are also often attended in their course by briefer chastisements, single strokes from the whip that holds the rounds down in reserve. These precursors of the grand expiation are sharp but kindly lashes; for they tend to whip man out of the wrong road.

Such a stroke fell on Richard Bassett: he saw Bella Bruce sweep past him, clinging to her husband, and shuddering at himself For this, then, he had plotted, and intrigued and written an anonymous letter. The only woman he had ever loved at all, went past him with a look of aversion, and was his enemy wife, and would soon be the mother of that enemy's children, and blot him forever out of the coveted inheritance.

The man crept home, and sat by his little fire side, abashed. Indeed from that hour he was disappointed, and drank his bitter cup alone.

After a while it transpired in the village that he was very ill. The clergyman went to visit him; but was not admitted. The only person who got to see him, was his friend Wheeler, a small but sharp attorney, by whose advice he acted in country matters. This Wheeler was very fond of shooting, and could not get a crack at a pheasant except on Highmore; and that was a bond between him and its proprietor. It was Wheeler who had first told Bassett not to despair of possessing the estates, since they had inserted Sir Charles's heir-at-law in the entail.

This Wheeler found him now so shrunk in body, so pale and haggard in face, and dejected in mind, that he was really shocked, and asked leave to send a doctor from the neighboring town.

"What to do?" said Richard moodily. "It's my mind; it's not my body. Ah, Wheeler, it is all over. I and mine shall never have Hunterscombe now."

"I'll tell you what it is," said Wheeler, almost angrily, "you shall have six feet by two of it, before long, if you go on this way. Was ever such folly! to fret yourself out of this jolly world, because you can't get any particular slice of its upper crust; why, one piece of land is as good as another; and I'll show you how to get land—in this neighborhood too; ay, right under Sir Charles's nose."

"Show me that," said Bassett, gloomily and incredulously.

"Leave off moping, then, and I will! I advise the bank, you know, and 'Splatchett's farm is mortgaged up to the eyes. It is not the only one. I go to the village inns and pick up all the gossip I hear there."

"How am I to find money to buy land?"

"I'll put you up to that, too; but you must leave off moping. Hang it, man, never say die. There are plenty of chances on the cards. Get your color back, and marry a girl with money, and turn that into land. The first thing is to leave off grizzling. Why, you are playing the enemy's game; that can't be right; it can't!"

The remark was so first that really roused the sick man.

Wheeler had too few clients to lose one. He now visited Bassett almost daily, and being himself full of schemes and invention, he got Bassett, by degrees, out of his lethargy and he emerged into daylight again; and he looked thin, and yellow, as a guinea, and he had turned miser. He kept but one servant, and fed her and himself at Sir Charles Bassett's expense. He wired that gentleman's hares and rabbits into his own hedges. He went out with his gun, every sunny afternoon, and shot a brace or two of pheasant's, without disturbing the rest; he took so dog with him to run and yelp, but a little boy, who quietly tapped the hedge-rows and walked the sunny banks and shaws. They never came home empty headed.

But, on those rarer occasions, when Sir Charles and his friends beat the Bassett woods, Richard was sure to make a large bag; for he was a cool unerring shot, and flushed the birds in hedge rows, slips of underwood etc., to which the fairer-sportsmen had driven them.

These birds, and the surplus hares he always sent to the market town, and put the money into a box. The rabbits he ate, and also squirrels, and, above all, young hedgehogs a gipsy taught him how to cook them, viz: by enclosing them in hay, and baking them in wood embers; then the bristles adhere to the burnt clay, and the meat is juicy. He was his own gardner, and vegetables cost him next to nothing.

So he went on through all the winter months, and by the spring his health and strength were restored; then he turned woodman; cut down every stick of timber in a little wood near his house, and sold it; and then set to work to grub up the roots for fires and cleared it for tillage. The corn he reserved for the wood was much more than he expected, and this he made a note of.

He had a strong body, that could work hard all day: a big hate, and a manly propossession of land; and so he led a truly Spartan life, and every body in the village said he was mad.

Whilst he led this hard life, Sir Charles and Lady Bassett were the gayest of the gay. She was the beauty and the bride. Visits and invitations poured in from every part of the country. Sir Charles, flattered by the homage paid to his beloved, made himself younger and less fastidious, to indulge her; and the happy pair often drove twelve miles to dinner, and twenty to dine and sleep—an excellent custom in that county, one of whose favourite toasts is worth recording—"You may dine where you please and sleep where you dine."

They were at every ball and gave one or two themselves.

Above all, they enjoyed society in that delightful form which is confined to large houses. They would have numerous and well-assorted visitors staying at the house for a week or so, and all dining at a huge round table. But two o'clock p. m. was the time to see both hosts and guests enjoyed themselves: the hall door of Hunterscombe was approached by a flight of stone steps, easy of ascent, and about twenty-feet wide; at the ridding hours the country ladies used to come, one after another, bobbing up their riding habits with one hand, and perch, about this gigantic flight of steps, like peacocks, and chatter like jays, while the servants walked their horses about the gravel carriage, and the [illegible] of this and [illegible] of through-breds there was, till all were ready: then the ladies would each put out her little foot with stunning nonchalance, to the nearest gentleman or groom, with a slight preference for the groom, the lady sprang at the same time, and into her saddle like a bird—Lady Bassett on a very quiet pony, or in a carriage to please some dowager—and away they clattered in high spirits, a regular cavalcade. It was a hunting country, and the ladies rode well; square seat, light head on the saddle, the curb reserved for cases of necessity; and when they had patted the horse on the neck at starting, as all these coaxing creatures must, the rods him with that well-bred ease and unconsciousness of being on a horse, which distinguishes ladies who have ridden all their lives, from the gawky snobbesses in Hyde Park, who ride, if riding it can be called, with their elbows shoothily fastened to their sides as if by a rope, their hands at the pit of their stomachs, and both these hands, as heavy as a housemaid's, sawing the poor horse with curb and snaffle at once, while the whole body breathes pretention and affectation, and seems to say "Look at me; I am on horseback! Be startled at that—as I am! and I have had lessons from a riding master; he has taught me how a lady should ride—in his opinion, poor devil."

The champing, the pawing, the mounting, and clattering of these bright cavaliers, with the music of the women excited by motion, furnished a picture of wealth, and gaiety, and happy country life, that cheered the whole neighborhood, and contrasted strangely with the stern Spartan life of him, who had persuaded himself that he was the rightful owner of Hunterscombe Hall.

Sir Charles Bassett was a magistrate and soon found himself a bad one. One day he made a little mistake, which, owing to his popularity, was very gently handled by the Bench at their weekly meeting; but still Sir Charles was ashamed and mortified. He wrote directly to Oldfield, for law-books, and that gentleman sent him a splendid selection bound in smooth calf.

Sir Charles now studied three hours every day, except hunting days, when he squire can work; and, as his study was his justice-room, he took care to find an authority before he acted. He was naturally humane, and rustic offenders, especially poachers and run-away farm servants, used to think themselves fortunate if they were taken before him, and not before squire Powys, who was sure to give them a sharp edge of the law. So now Sir Charles was useful as well as ornamental.

Thus passed fourteen months of happiness, with only one little cloud; there was no sign yet of a son and heir. But, let a man be ever so powerful, it is an awkward thing to have a bitter inveterate enemy at his door watching for a chance: Sir Charles began to realise this in the nineteenth month of his wedded bliss. A small estate called "Splatchett's" lay on his north side, and a marginal strip of this property ran right into a wood of his. This strip was wretched land, and the owner, unable to raise any wheat crop on it, had planted it with larches.

Sir Charles had made him a liberal offer for "Splatchett's" about six years ago; but he had refused point blank, being then in good circumstances.

Sir Charles now received a hint from one of his own game-keepers, that the old farmer was in a bad way, and talked of selling. So Sir Charles called on him and asked him if he would sell "Splatchett's" now. "Why I can't sell it twice," said the old man, testily. "You he' got it, han't ye?" It turned out that Richard Bassett had been beforehand. The bank had pressed for their money, and threatened foreclosure; then Bassett had stepped in with a good price; and although the conveyancer had not signed it, a stamped agreement was made, and neither vendor nor purchaser could go back. What made it more galling, the proprietor was not aware of the feud between the Bassetts, and had thought to please Sir Charles, by selling to one of his name

Sir Charles Bassett went home seriously vexed; he did not mean to tell his wife; but love's eye read his face, love's arm went round his neck, and love's soft voice and wistful eyes, soon coaxed it out of him. "Dear Charles," said she, "never mind. It is mortifying: but think how much you have, and how little that wicked man has. Let him have that farm: he has lost his self-respect, and that is worth a great many farms. For my part I pity the poor wretch. Let him try to annoy you; your wife will try, against him, to make you happy, my own beloved; and I think I may prove as strong as Mr. Bassett," and she, with a look of inspiration.

Her sweet and tender sympathy soon healed so slight a scratch.

But they had not done with "Splatchett's" yet. Just after Christmas Sir Charles invited these gentlemen to beat his more distant reserves. Their guns bellowed in quick succession through the woods, and at last they reached North Wood. Here they expected splendid shooting, as a great many cock pheasants had already been seen running ahead.

But, when they got to the end of the wood, they found Lawyer Wheeler standing against a tree just within "Splatchett's" boundary; and one of their own beaters reported that two boys were stationed in the road, each tapping two sticks together to confine the pheasants to that strip of land, on which the low larches and high grass afforded a strong covert.

Sir Charles halted on his side of the boundary.

The lawyer knocked down four brace in no time, and those that escaped him, and turned back for the wood, were brought down by Bassett, rising from the hard road. Only those were spared who flew northwards into "Splatchett's." It was a veritable slaughter, planned with judgment, and carried out in a most ungentlemanlike and unsportsmanlike manner.

It goaded Sir Charles beyond his patience. After several vain efforts to restrain himself, he shouldered his gun, and, followed by his friends, went bursting through the larches to Richard Bassett.

"Mr. Bassett," said he, "this is most ungentlemanly conduct."

"What is the matter, sir? Am I on your ground?"

"No; but you are taking a mean ad-

(Continued on fourthpage.)

BOOKS,
STATIONERY,
ROOM PAPER,
FANCY GOODS,
MUSIC,
PIANOS---
(Of all Kinds and Prices.)
MELODEONS,
PAPER BAGS,
At Montreal Prices—Wholesale, to the trade.
Wrapping Paper, &c.;
All at Best Prices, at
A. B. KIDD'S
BOOKSTORE,
George Street, Peterborough.

A. B. K. desires also to remind his customers and the public generally, that his Shop is now enlarged, and that a state of order has followed the confusion caused by refitting premises and shop.

A. B. KIDD.
Peterboro, July 6th, 1871. 27

CHEAPER THAN EVER!
Why go Barefooted when you can get
CHEAP BOOTS & SHOES!
CALL AND SEE THE NEW STOCK!
AT
LARMOUR & SARNEY'S
New Dominion Cheap Boot and Shoe Store,
Which is being offered at Prices which defy competition
(McKellar's Old Corner) George Street, Peterborough.
W. J. LARMOUR. CHAS. SARNEY.
June 29th, 1871. 24

GREAT EXCITEMENT!
AT
W. FAIRWEATHER & Co's
Cheap Sale.
GREATEST BARGAINS EVER HEARD OF
IN PETERBOROUGH.
Good Silk Mantles $1.50, worth $5.00.
Good Rich Grograin Silk $4.50 worth $10.00.
Good " " Trimmed with Real Lace (beautiful) only $7.50, worth $14.00.
Good White Serge Jackets only $1.25.
Good Summer Shawls, $1.00 and $1.50,
Good White and Colored Kid Gloves, 37½ cts.
Good Gentlemens' do 50 cts worth $1.25
Cottons, Prints, Dress Goods, and all Domestics equally reduced.

WANTED,
A GOOD SALESMAN AND AN APPRENTICE TO THE BUSINESS.
June 21st, 1871. 25

Iron Clad Trees
W. C. Lawrence,
FRUIT TREE DEALER,
Will personally canvass the Townships of Otonabee, Asphodel, Dummer, Douro, and the Burleigh Road, between the present and the 1st of November next, for orders for Apple and other Fruit Trees. W. C. L. has been over this ground for the last 4 years, and the trees supplied are acknowledged to be the best ever introduced into this County. Orders received by D. G. Anderson, Esq., Crown Land Agent, G. McIlmoyl, Esq., of Lakefield, or at this office
Reference can be made to the following gentlemen:—
Thos. Beck, Esq., Thos. Blezard, Esq., T. Welsh, Esq., of Otonabee, T. Coughlin, Esq., A. Shearer, Esq., Asphodel, Moses Humphrey, Esq., David Davis, Esq., and Jordan Crow, of Dummer, W. Abbot, Esq., Roland Strickland, Esq., R. T. Desch, Esq., of Douro, Edward Sanderson, Esq., Giles Stone, Esq., Burleigh Road.
N. B.—Mr. McIlmoyle will canvass Smith and Ennismore.
26-6mos.

WANTED!
TO RENT,
A DWELLING, STABLE, &c.
With from Five to Thirty Acres of Land attached. Must be in good repair and within Two Miles of the Post Office, Peterborough.
Address
JAMES COYLE BROWN.
Peterboro, July 6th, 1871. 27

GIVING UP BUSINESS.
The undersigned begs to return thanks to his numerous friends for their liberal patronage during the past years, and also begs to inform them that he has given up business in Ashburnham. He would also remind those indebted to him, that immediate settlement of all accounts is required. After two weeks all unpaid accounts will be placed in the hands of Mr. John Burnham, Solicitor.
GEORGE RICKEY.
Ashburnham, July 3rd, 1871. 27

INSOLVENT ACT OF 1869.
In the matter of JAMES HENRY GRIFFITH an Insolvent.
I, the undersigned, Richard William Errett, of the Town of Peterborough, in the County of Peterborough, have been appointed Assignee in this matter.
Creditors are requested to file their claims before me within one month.
Peterborough, the 4th day of July, 1871.
R. W. ERRETT,
27 Assignee.

Public School Notice.
The BLANK REPORTS for the First Half of the present year, have been mailed. Should any not arrive, communicate at once, giving address.
JAMES COYLE BROWN,
Inspector
Peterborough, July 5th, 1871. 27

GRAND
BRIGNOLI CONCERT!
ON FRIDAY EVENING.
SIGNOR BRIGNOLI
Begs to announce to the citizens of Peterborough and vicinity, that he will give another Grand Concert,
IN THE MUSIC HALL,
On Friday Eve'g, commencing at 8:30, p.m.
The programme will be entirely new. Signor Brignoli will give two of his best operatic songs on the occasion.
July 6th, 1871. 27

Commencing Business.
The undersigned begs to announce that they have rented the premises lately occupied by Mr. George Rickey, in the
VILLAGE OF ASHBURNHAM,
AS A
BLACKSMITH SHOP!
And will carry on the business in all its branches, as was done by Mr. Rickey.
A CAREFUL HORSE SHOER
Will always be ready to attend to that branch of the business. The patronage of the old customers of Mr. Rickey, and of new friends, is respectfully solicited.
ROBERT BAXTER. JOHN SHANNON.
Ashburnham, July 4th, 1871. 27-tf.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

Grand Brignoli Concert.
Giving up Business—Geo Rickey.
Wanted to Rent—James C. Brown.
Books, Stationery, &c.—A. B. Kidd.
Public School Notice—James C. Brown.
Insolvent Act of 1869—James H. Griffith.
Circus, Menagerie, &c—G. F. Bailey & Co
Commencing Business—Baxter & Shannon

The Peterborough Examiner

PETERBOROUGH, JULY 6, 1871.

Editorial Items.

Russia is said to be organizing her army.

The South Monaghan Agricultural Fall Show for 1871, will be held on Thursday, 12th October, next, at Centreville.

A new disease has attacked the hogs in Illinois. It commences with a chill. The percentage of deaths of those attacked is very large.

The Honourable George Brown has received the unanimous nomination of a large Reform Convention to be the Candidate for South Ontario, in the Commons, but it is not known whether he will accept it or not.

The Council yesterday voted $50 to the Fire Company to assist them to entertain the Volunteers on their arrival to-day from the Camp at Kingston.

We regret that we will not be able to publish the whole of the Story on our first page. Hunter, Rose & Co. have the sole right of doing so, and hence, our readers will excuse us for discontinuing it.

FIRE IN BARRIE.—On the 25th instant, 25 dwellings and stores were destroyed by fire, in Barrie. The loss is about $50,000. The fire is said to be the work of an incendiary. It came nearly destroying the whole town.

It is said that the examinations for 2nd and 3rd class teachers, will commence on the 25th July, at the County Town, and for 1st class teachers on the 1st of August; in each case at 9 o'clock, a.m., of course due notice should be given, to all concerned.

The rumour of difficulties between Great Britain and Bismarck about Heligoland, a small Island near the mouth of the Elbe, seems to have very little foundation. The people of the Island do not favour union with Germany. The population of the Island is given at 2,170.

Teams are crossing the river near the Island, south of the old bridge. Yesterday morning, while a person named Burney was crossing in his buggy, the vehicle became separated from the horse in some way and was swept down the stream a few rods. The man and horse got out easily enough.

SOUTH MONAGHAN.—We understand that fall wheat promises well in this township, with the exception of some damage by wire worm, cutting it off at the first joint; Spring Wheat will be light; Barley and oats promise fairly; Hay will be a light crop. The Colorado Bug has appeared in this Township, its ravages are dreaded.

THE CENSUS.—We have been informed that there are some families in this county that the Census Enumerator never visited. One case is certified, in which the Enumerator visited a certain house; afterwards, the occupants left the house and another family took possession. It is asserted by the last man that no Enumerator ever visited his family either before or after his removal.

The Potato Bug has made its appearance in Peterboro, and is showing its destructive powers. The bugs can be seen in all stages of progress, from the eggs to full size. It keeps on the under side of the leaf, begins at the edge to eat, and continues its work till the whole leaf is devoured. The eggs are deep yellow; but when the animal begins to move it is of a dirty yellow color, dark on the back, but becomes yellow as it grows older. One who was several years in the Western States declares it is the genuine potato bug.

THE CONCERT last night was a grand success. The disappointment of not hearing Mr. Boscovits was fully made up by the singing of Miss McCulloch, and Signor Bignoli—Mrs. Gilberts, of Toronto, took the parts assigned to Mr. Boscovitz, and her playing on the piano was excellent—Miss McCulloch sang several pieces and responded good naturedly to several encores, she has complete control of a very excellent voice. Her first piece, "Aria-Barbiere de Seviglia," was sung in splendid style, as were all her pieces. Signor Bignoli requires to be heard to feel the force of his musical powers. He has only one or two equals as a tenor singer in the musical world. Signor Ronconi is no inferior artiste. The Hall was crowded, and all were delighted with the performance. Mr. Hill announced that on Friday evening another concert would be given by the same Troupe, with an entire change of programme; and we trust they will have another bumper house.

The electors in several counties have already nominated their candidates for election in the approaching contest. The lesson learnt from the manner in which John Sandfield sprung the Ontario Election on the province should urge the people everywhere to be ready. It is bad policy to leave the choice of a candidate to the last moment. It very often happens in the haste that the best man is not brought forward in time, and the result is the most useless man gains the election because long in the field. We trust, therefore, that the friends of Liberal Government in these Ridings will not be indifferent about this matter, and thus allow undue advantage to be gained by the ministerial party. There should be a certainty of the certainty of the candidates and a united determination to elect them. If these things be, their election cannot be a matter of doubt. Perhaps some will say, "It is a matter of no concern to me, I will leave these things to the leaders of the party, who are prepared to give time and attention to them." It should be a matter of deep concern to every lover of good government, and careful Legislation, what man is sent to see after the common interests parliament that for every one to be indifferent about it. Let a word in time be sufficient.

The Otonabee Bridge, between the Town and Ashburnham, was burned down on Tuesday morning. The fire was discovered about 2 o'clock, and before 4 o'clock the whole structure was in the river, or consumed. The Engine was brought to the place but was perfectly useless, as the fire had proceeded too far across the bridge to be reached by the Engine. All who had assembled to see it had to look on as they could do nothing to prevent the extension of the flames. For a time the Mowry Foundry appeared somewhat in danger but the wind changed to North East and thus protected the buildings, as well as Mr. Mowry's dwelling house. There was no other destruction of property but the bridge, and that is enough. It was built about 26 years ago, at a cost of £3,000.—About 3 years ago it was put in a thorough state of repairs at an outlay of about $3,000, and at the time of its destruction, was calculated to last from 20 to 30 years. It is feared that some one set fire to it, but it is hard to induce us to think that any wretch exists who would do such a thing. We rather lean to the idea that some cigar or burning match carelessly dropped, did all the mischief. One mistake in the last planking of the bridge was, that there was not space at the side of the bridge for such things to fall through.

THE LARGEST EXHIBITIONS ON THE CONTINENT COMING.—The dead walls and fences in Peterborough are pictorial with the immense posters, and announce sheets of G. F. Bailey & Co's Great Allied Exhibitions, which are to be here on Monday, July 10th, and whose advertisement appears in our columns of to-day. These exhibitions contain a Menagerie, a Hippodrome, an Aviary and a Circus, given under separate and spacious pavilions, each one larger than hitherto erected, and yet so arranged that one ticket, and the very reasonable admission fee of fifty cents passes all. There will be a grand parade on the morning of the day of the exhibition, and at one o'clock M'll DeVernier will give an exhibition free to everybody, of walking a single wire, on the outside of the circus, from the ground to the top of one of the tallest centre polls,

The investigation of the Brockville contested Election had to be adjourned because Mr. Spicer, of the Grand Trunk did not make his appearance as a witness, although subpœnaed to attend. His plea was family illness. It is believed that his evidence will implicate the Managers of the Grand Trunk, in reference to coercion of Employees. There need be very little doubt of their guilt. Employers and needy Corporations, such as the Grand Trunk—are not very chary in about forcing the employed to vote as they want. As an Elector of this County said last Spring, when asked for whom he intended voting, "He did not know, Mr. ——— always told him who to vote for."

A correspondent asks us to give the pay list in detail of expenditure on the Bobcaygeon Road last fall, but we are not able to gratify "Back Country." We did not see a monthly paylists in detail.

The following is all that was handed in in reference to pay lists:

Aug. Geo. Bick	$508,47
" P. Pearce	438,00
" W. Hartle	448,30
Sep. Geo. Bick	592,48
" Pearce	683,03
" W. Hartle	686,24
Oct. Geo. Bick	259,74
" P. Pearce	584,30
" W. Hartle	525,50
Nov. & Dec. Lists	621,55
Minden Bridge party	224,20
Supplies and Carriage	3031,71
S. S. Peck 135 days at $4 per day	540,00
10 Barrels Pork charged in acct	245,00

It is rumored that Prince Arthur is to be made Duke of Ulster, and that a Royal seat will be purchased for him in Ireland.

The Bridge.

The Mayor called a meeting of the Town Council yesterday morning to take into consideration what should be done towards the bridge, or to get means of access to the Town from the East. Some discussion took place as to the liability of either the Town or the County to erect a new bridge, but afterwards,

On motion of Mr. Stevenson, seconded by Mr. Morrow, Messrs. A. Smith, Toole, O'Beirne and Doharty were named a committee to take into consideration the wisdom of building a permanent bridge over Dixon's dam, and also to consult with the Warden and Advisory Committee in reference to a temporary bridge just above the old one resting on the breakwater pier, and calculated only for use until a new baidge could be built.

The cost of a structure over Dixon's dam would not be less than $1,000 or $1,200, supposing that the use of the piers already in and the right of way were granted free; while a temporary structure would cost about $400 or less, as all the plank would be as good as ever for a new bridge, and the timber used would be as useful as new timber for almost all purposes for which they might be needed.

It is evident, too, that a bridge across the dam would not be as useful as one on the old site. Of course, it is also intended as soon as possible to build a new bridge where the old one was, but this will require three or four months, if not longer, before possible—during which time the inconvenience of going round, or of crossing in punts or canoes, would be very great.—The trade of the town would suffer from not having a bridge, and perhaps after all this is the serious side of the question. It is not difficult to divert a few hundred dollars of trade from the town, which the delay of a few weeks would do. There should be no delay, but men put to work at once, and means of access to the town secured, as well as egress from it.

THE SORT OF A BRIDGE.

It is also a matter worthy of attention what sort of a bridge should be erected.—The old bridge, we learn, cost about $12,000, if not more—and considerable sums have been spent in repairing it since. It is believed, that all things considered, an iron bridge would be the cheapest at the end. The cost of such a structure we have at present no means of ascertaining, but if it could be obtained for twice as much it would be the cheapest. The interest of the money and one per cent of sinking fund would not be a serious item to such a wealthy County and to the Town. If the old bridge cost $12,000, repairs since have raised the amount to $20,000. Hence the yearly cost to the Town and County, counting interest and the loss of the bridge, has been about $1,920, or say about $2,000, which would pay the interest on about $30,000, this would leave the cost of a new iron bridge about the same as the old bridge has cost, while a new wooden bridge would just be as liable to be burned down as the old one—and that perhaps next day after its completion. A stone bridge it is thought would cost more than an iron one, and perhaps would require a longer time in construction. The County Council and Town Council combined are able, and we trust willing to investigate fairly the cost of the different kinds of material, and they can fairly decide on the merits of iron, wood or stone, as the case may be.

In regard to a bridge over Dixon's dam, as petitioned for, there can be little doubt but that it would be of great benefit to that part of the Town and the north part of Ashburnham, but the travel will always be by the old road. If the Town Council think fit they may build a bridge over the dam with consent of the heirs to the estate. It would tend to build up that part of the Town, to which few would object; but let not that project delay the construction of a means of crossing at the old place, as soon as it can be done.

Destructive Fire.

A destructive fire occurred in Lindsay on Saturday morning last, by which the best business portion of William Street was destroyed. As far as can be ascertained, the fire originated about the back premises of Mr. Wm. Robson, and spread so rapidly that Mr. R's family barely escaped consequently very little could be saved either of stock or furniture. The flames soon got hold of Mr. Lovell's saddlery, the upper portion of which was occupied by Mr James Little, whose furniture and clothing were all lost, so little time had he to save his wife and children. On the north side, Mr. Proctor's Grocery next fell a prey to the devouring element, that gentleman faring little better than his unfortunate neighbors, and then Mr. Bakers storehouse and stables. Mr. Baker fortunately, with some difficulty, saved his three valuable horses. On the South, Mr. W. J. Robinson's grocery, Mr. McBain's auction room, unoccupied, a dwelling occupied by Mr. A. Bowie, Mr. T. Gourley's photograph gallery and store and Mr. Haisley's saddlery were rapidly consumed. That portion of the stock rescued was necessarily much damaged owing to the great rapidity of the fire. The firemen worked well and, through their exertions, the fire was stayed at Cox's Brick Building, which was somewhat damaged. They also materially contributed to the safety of Mr. Baker' large store, which was considerably charred. Those fortunate enough to have a small insurance effected were Mr. Lovell $1200 in the Niagara District Mutual and $400 in the British American, Wm. M. Robson $600 in the Provincial, W. J. Robinson $400 on stock, the building $600; the dwelling house, the property of Mr. Wm. Lundy, $800, T. Gourley $700 in the British American. John Haisley, $1,000 on stock in the Gore Mutual. C. L. Baker $300 in the Gore Mutual.—Warder.

We clip the following from the Lindsay Post:

"The Editor of the Peterborough Review, the late M. P. P. of the West Riding has received chastisement at the hands of the Deputy Sheriff of the County, for personal allusions in a recent number of the Review. The whipt says, 'That the writer has not a more enduring remembrance than he has of the forcible manner in which 'Master' John We Williams administers his arguments, we have but our legs to thank for it.'" In our opinion the latter was supremely foolish to have noticed the harmless abuse of the "Review" and descend to the ridiculous satisfaction of administering physical chastisement for the fault of the late defeated. For Mr. Carnegie, evidently smarting under his failure at the polls, has been since acting in a rather pettish and paltry childish manner, both through the Review and otherwise.—In thus making the Review the exponent of his disappointment, chagrin and personal pettishness, he has merely proven himself as great a failure as an editor, as he was before as a legislator. His peccadilloes however, do not in the least excuse the unseemly conduct of his assailant; nor will they prevent the latter from being fined, for his fistic exhibition, in the Courts, where we believe the beaten has gone for his satisfaction.

One of the incidents of Dominion Day at Kingston was the presentation in the Council Chamber of that city, by the Mayor of the Royal Humane Society's medal to Mr. John O'Shea in a notability in the way of saving life from drowning. In 1850, when he was thirteen years of age, he was upset in a pleasure yacht, Gannette, and nineteen persons were drowned. Young O'Shea on this occasion was the direct means of saving the lives of five persons. Since that the names of nineteen people are recorded as having been rescued from a watery grave by O'Shea, many of the cases having been through the ice and of a very hazardous nature. The last instance was that of a girl who fell off a wharf last November, O'Shea heard of it, ran down to the wharf, jumped in with his clothes on, found the girl lying at the bottom, and brought her living but insensible, to the shore. The City Council of Kingston also donated to O'Shea $20, which the gallant but unassuming hero has given to the charitable institutions of the city.

New York, July 3.—A despatch from London says the Levant Herald states that the cloud between Turkey and Egypt is rapidly regatering. It apprehends an early breaking out of open hostilities between the two countries as the inevitable result of the present complications. The Khedive is rapidly arming his troops with the most modern and efficient weapons. Large consignments of American arms have been received from manufacturers in the United States, and American torpedoes are also being used. These movements on the part of the Khedive, the Herald views as precursors of war, and states that a formal declaration of hostilities between the two nations at an early date is not improbable.

Interesting Account of the Great North-West.

Last evening at the Erskine Church, St. Catherine street, the Rev. William Fletcher, a missionary of the Canada Presbyterian Church for Manitoba, delivered a lecture upon the climate, soil and resources of the North-West, together with an account of the present condition and prospects of missionary work in the Red River settlement, now known as Manitoba.

The reverend gentleman began by a general description of the country and its large rivers. The region drained by the Saskatchewan, rising in the Rocky Mountains, the Assiniboine and the Red River, whose source is in Minnesota, is the fertile belt. It is an error common not only to us, but to those dwelling in the Western States, to suppose that the prairie is devoid of timber. This is an entirely mistaken view of the case, for the bank of the rivers are clothed with luxuriant forests which extend to the ravines generally found to run parallel to the river-beds. The latter usually consists of three channels, which are severally occupied as the river is swelled in volume by the spring freshets or its size decreased by the heat of summer. The secondary channels though sometimes dry, yet protects the growth of the woods, and in this respect, our North West Territority possess an immense advantage over that belonging to the United States. Immediately south of the boundary line but one large river watered the land, extending from the Red River to the Rocky Mountains, excepting on the banks of the great Missouri, herds of buffalo are never known, as they confine themselves to its valleys of great rivers Indeed, they are not now to be found in that of Red River, but beyond the hunter seeks them.

IN THE BASIN OF THE MIGHTY SASKATCHEWAN

The portion of the country south of the line is of no great value, and the Northern Pacific Railway Company would find great difficulty in inducing settlers to make it their home; and he believed they would yet change the route and, bending southward, cross the Rocky Mountains by another pass, as was the original intention. We possess a great advantage over the States in the vastness of our water privileges, and no section of the Great West is so well irrigated. The timber is to be found in abundance to the north, and, in a belt, encircles Lake Winnipeg, from whence it can be brought with ease on the bosom of the waters of the lake and a noble river to the settlement. Another extraordinary advantage, which remains as yet undeveloped, is the vast coal beds which lie in the section of the country reaching from the Rocky Mountains to within 450 miles of Fort Garry. It is known to abound, and since a number of years has been used by the blacksmiths in the employ of the Hudson Bay Company. In the extensive valleys of the Arthabaska and Peace Rivers, it is said, are to be found one of the richest gold mines ever discovered upon the continent of America. Many have crossed the prairie and visited those places, and, in spite of the great difficulties they contended with, in reference to food for themselves, they returned, reimbursed for all their losses, by the amount of gold washed from the sands of the Saskatchewan at the base of the Rocky Mountains. Other valuable minerals abound, especially in the region situated about Lake Superior. All prairie soils bear a general resemblance, but the great desideratum is in the subsoil which, in our portion of the continent, he believed to be open and porous, and this, according to the principles of capillary attraction, was a great preventive of drought. He had travelled over the land from port to port, and from mission station to mission station, and he believed it was in an eminent degree, fitted for cereals, and would yet be one of the granaries of North America, distinguished for its wheat growing capacity. The nights are moderately cool, and owing to the porosity of the soil, the crops grow more slowly, yet more steadily than they do in Ontario. Here, when the dry season commences, the growth can scarcely be noticed, and, when wet, it is too rapid; an evil, the magnitude of which every agriculturist can well appreciate.

A SLOW PROGRESSION TO MATURITY, is eminently conducive to the production of good straw and well matured grain. From statistics, it is estimated that the average of the cereal crops may be safely put down at the rate of 40 bushels to the acre, and upon the capacity of the country to support a large population depends the prospects of the mission and the growth and progress of the settlement. He thought that the government should send out surveyors to lay out the country in preparation for the extensive numbers who will, from this time forth, flock to that territory, chiefly on account of the short period it takes to bring a prairie farm into a state of thorough cultivation. The thermometer ranges lower there at times than it does here, but he could vouch for the statement that it does not give rise to half the inconvenience which we experience, owing to the dryness of the atmosphere. In 1811, the country was first settled by a small colony, bought out by the Earl of Silkirk, and now, as then they remain with their blood almost as pure as when they left the land of their birth, and still numbers of these can be found who converse with the greatest ease in Gaelic. The half breeds are divided into two classes—the French and the Scotch—to whom, by mistake, the name of English is often applied. The French are descendants mainly of the employes of the North-West Company, of Canadian origion; and the Scotch, of those of the Hudson Bay Company, who have emigrated principally from the Orkneys, from whence, for the last 60 years, a ship has sailed annually, bearing more or less of these islanders to York Factory. Along with these are

A NUMBER OF AMERICAN ADVENTURERS,

who may be called free-traders, and who speculate in furs. It is only during the last seven or eight years, that Canadians have arrived to any extent, and though at present the whites unmixed with Indian blood number two thousand, yet he felt certain that in a few years the stream of emigration which would flow from Ontario would give them a great majority over all others. In alluding to the work of the mission, he bore testimony to the energy of the Church of Rome, which at an early period had established its missionaries and has since made great progress. It has three bishops, one of whom is stationed in Manitoba. For forty years the first small Scotch colony was without a pastor of their national Church and their appeals, though fervent were disregarded in their native land. But, during this time, owing to the great influence wielded by the Hudson Bay Co., the Church of England supplied this want, and, with the ministration and faithfulness the people were highly pleased, but yet no sooner did the first missionary, Mr. Black, sent twenty years ago by the Scottish assembly arrive, than three hundred of his countrymen came to his support in a single day. The Church of England had for fifty years spared no expense, and had built school houses and churches for the people, but the effect of this had almost extinguished the energy of the population in providing for themselves and was a great obstacle to religious progress.

THE ROADS ARE EXTRAORDINARILY GOOD

at all seasons of the year, and with reference to the floods he believed that owing to the falling in of the river's bank and the deepening of the canals this evil would be greatly lessened or wholy removed in the future and that too not far distant. At Kildonan they possess a school, at which the only sound, common school education to be obtained in the province is taught, and now they were endeavouring to establish a college for which the assembly had appointed as Professor the Rev. John Thompson, of Sarnia, and for the endowment fund of this institution, they now solicited subscriptions.

Miscellaneous Items.

An active survey is now going on for the extension of the Canada Central Railway from Sand point to Pembroke, a distance of 49 miles. It was decided at a meeting held in Ottawa to push on the line at once.

The Governor-General, Col. McNeil, and staff arrived at Cacouna, on July 3, and are staying at the St. Lawrence Hall. They intend remaining for a short season. The weather is clear and cool. The villiages and cottages are getting crowded.

New York, July 3.—The ratifications of the Treaty of Washington, which was signed here by the United States and British Commissioners on the 8th of May last, were exchanged at London on the 7th ult., the anniversary of the battle of Bunker Hill. The treaty will be proclaimed to-morrow, the anniversary of American independence.

The Polaris, Captain Hall, bound for the North pole, left American waters on Thursday morning last at seven o'clock. She will stop en route at St. John's, Newfoundland, for a supply of fresh seal oil, which takes the place of salt junk in the Arctic regions. Captain Hall will then push forward to his winter quarters in the ice pack which fringes the unexplored open sea around the Pole, and with the return of the sun in May next he will endeavour, by ship or by sledges, to reach the pole itself and plant there on the "Stars and Stripes."

A William Palmer, of Rugely, has appeared in Birmingham, Connecticut. 18 months ago a Mr. Dennis of that town died suddenly, but it was not thought worth while to hold an inquest. He left the whole of his property to his widow, who soon afterwards married a Mr Nelson Sherman, who was a widower. A few months after the marriage, the youngest child of Mr. Sherman (by the first wife) was taken sick suddenly and died. In a few weeks another child, a daughter of about twelve years of age, was taken with similar symptoms, and died in a short time About four weeks since Mr. Sherman himself was seized with violent vomiting and died after a brief illness. At first sight, it would appear that Mrs. Hulbert Sherman had a finger in this fatal pie, but investigation has proved her innocence, and it is believed that the prisoner is an old gentleman, whom she jilted in her young days, and who has been nursing his wrath to keep it warm ever since. He was arrested on Saturday morning.

A SEVERE LESSON.—During the administration of Mr. John Sandfield Macdonald, when Parliament sat at Quebec, an "honorable member" of the opposition, who was given occasionally to long speeches, and usually obtained more than justice in the newspaper reports, had the floor, and was bitterly attacking the members of the government and all their measures. Referring to one particular act wherein he charged they had transgressed beyond all bearing, he found it difficult to find any parallel for their iniquity. After comparing them with Judas Iscariot, the unrepentent thief on the cross, and other infamous characters, he raised his voice, and pointing his hand above him, cried out:—"Why, sir, even the common reporters in the gallery could not have done worse." This unpardonable insult to a body of gentlemen infinitely superior in every attainment to the speaker, was never forgiven by those who heard it, and they managed, in the end, to balance accounts with him. For years after the only report which the member in question received in the leading journals of both sides of politics was something to the following effect: "Mr. ——— spoke." This treatment we have been told, had the most crushing effect, and the gentleman in question, we have no doubt, was taught a valuable lesson not to be insolent to members of the press, who had never in any way assailed him.

CORRESPONDENCE.

To the Editor of the Peterborough Examiner:

Sir,—In your last issue I find a statement of amounts paid for supplies on the Bobcaygeon Road last year. Would you please favour by giving pay lists in detail and also in amounts. Enclosed is one that I came across, but I do not know that it is correct. Now, if detailed pay lists were furnished the County Council, you would serve the public and me, by giving them in full. I have been informed that Mr. Pierce had 11 men and 3 teams at work in October, and about three men extra during a few days. Now, therefore, his pay list would amount to about $220 at $18 for men; 3 teams at $40 a month; 120: Mr. Pierce $65, or $405 in all, some one who saw the amount, says it is $584.39. Is it so? Perhaps some one will explain this.

Yours, &c.,
BACK COUNTRY.
Bobcaygeon Road, June 1871.

To the Editor of the Peterborough Examiner.

Sir,—Can you tell me how it is that S. S. Peck, Esq., Ex-warden has received Five Hundred and Forty Dollars, for one hundred and thirty-five days work, on the Bobcaygeon Road; such is the account he furnished the Commissioner of Crown Lands, commencing on the 20th of July and ending on the 20th of December, in all one hundred and thirty-five days. It appears there is no lost time for wet days as there is from the 20th of July to the 20th December just one hundred and thirty-five working days. During the same dates he received from the County Treasurer, ninety-three dollars; it appears that he can serve two masters at the same time and get pay from both; he got in 1870, for his services on the Bobcaygeon Road, five hundred and forty dollars; from the County of Peterborough, four hundred and thirty dollars, in all nine hundred and seventy dollars. I would like to ask Mr Peck if he lost one month from his own private business while earning the above sum. I see in his detailed statement to the Commissioner of Crown Lands:—Paid W. H. Curry, for blankets groceries, &c., $560.95; paid to the same again for groceries, blankets, etc., $50.34; in all $611,23 I have heard that this Mr. Curry was clerk in Mr. Peck's own store. Had he told the Commissioner of Crown Lands that S. S. Peck paid S. S. Peck for blankets, etc., $611,23, it would have been nearer the truth. County Commissioners receive 2½ per cent for all money expended under their superintendence. Now, 2½ per cent on $10,000 would amount to $250, I ask Mr. Peck why did he charge $540 besides paying his "chum," the would-be M. P. P., Peter Pierce, $2.50 per day and board. I would also ask Mr. Peck what has become of all the blankets, ploughs, scrapers, tools, etc., amounting to nearly $600 worth, as he has given no credit for them that I can see. The Messrs. Peck have taken a leaf from Colonel Gray's Book, with regard to mileage I see. Oh! for the frailty of Human Nature! How has the mighty fallen! How has the pure gold become dim!

Yours,
BREADALBANE.
County Peterborough, July 1st, 1871.

Prince Napoleon on the State of France.

This is how he characterizes the government as a member of which he addresses M. Favre:—

"The unhappy war commenced on the 18th of July, 1870, by the Empire, is terminated the 18th of this May, by the Government without name to which you belong. But what is this government? Is it the National Defence? No! for you have done nothing but capitulate. Is it a government of National Restoration? No! for France is invaded by anarchy and disorganization. Is it a monarchy? No! Is it a republic? Still less! Is it liberty? No! * * * * * *

The inevitable consequence of your usurpation is the revolution of March 18, which you accuse to-day, and the burning of Paris, for which you are responsible. To defend Paris you limited yourselves to proclaiming imaginary successes. You have not utilized the terrible but vigorous elements which you had unloosed, and which you have held the soldiers of France in check for two months; and yet these were the same men maddened since by the demagogic frenzy, and with whom you might have aroused a patriotic fervor. It was the same National Guard, the same cannon, the same guns, the same forts, the same ramparts, the same barricades; all these forces remained paralized in your feeble hands, but would have been sublime if used against the foreigner."

Thus it is he holds them to a rigid account:—

"But you: you are inexcusable for your acts of the 4th of September; for having badly defended Paris, for have pledged the country by a mere rhetorician's phrase; for having kept arms in the hands of an over-excited population—arms were henceforth useless against the foreigner and dangerous to themselves; for having aggravated the preliminaries by the treaty of peace; and, alas! in a word, by having lished with the destruction of Paris."

The only word of criticism he has now for the Empire—the only fault he acknowledges that led to its downfall, and for which as its representative, he confesses peccavi—is, that the power of Germany was undervalued. This was worse than a crime—it was a blunder; but it was only one symptom of fatal disease. Cæsarism, from the inherent rottenness of the system, fell by its own weight. France had long ago been taxed if brilliant rhetoric could have availed anything. It is the curse of all parties that they know well enough how to talk, but none of them how to act.

Chicago is overbuilt, and rents are going down. A dwelling held at $1,600 a year ago is untaken at $650.

MARRIED.

On Tuesday, 4th July, at the residence of the bride's father, Montreal, by the Rev. Alex. Campbell, assisted by the Rev. S. J. Hunter; William Dixon, Esq., Merchant of Peterborough, to Eliza, third daughter of Samuel Dyde, Esq.

At the residence of the bride's mother, Peterborough, on the 4th instant, by the Rev. Mr. Davis, Wesleyan Minister, W. Monaghan, Esq., of Toronto, to Miss Grace S. Beattie, of Peterborough.

PETERBOROUGH MARKETS.

Peterborough July 6 1871

Flour ₱ bbl	$6	25	@	50
Wheat ₱ bush. fall	1	03	@	75
Spring Wheat ₱ bush	1	00	@	25
Peas	0	80	@	90
Barley "	0	60	@	62
Oats "	0	50	@	55
Potatoes "	0	30	@	35
Hay ₱ ton	8	00	@	00
Hides ₱ cwt	0	00	@	00
Beef ₱ cwt	6	50	@	00
Sheepskins	0	75	@	25
Wool ₱ lb	0	25	@	30
Pork ₱ cwt	7	00	@	00
Eggs, per dozen	0	10	@	10
Butter	0	15	@	18
Cordwood	2	50	@	00
Turkeys	0	75	@	50
Geese	0	40	@	50
Chickens	0	35	@	40

FELLOW'S COMPOUND SYRUP OF HYPOPHOSPHITES.—Clergymen who were obliged to withdraw from the pulpit on account of Clergymen's Sore Throat, have recovered by using this invaluable preparation, and are now preaching again.

SAVE YOUR DOCTOR'S BILL.—When DeWitter's Balsam of wild Cherry will cure coughs, colds bleeding on the lungs, and arrest the fell destroyer, Consumption, it does more than most physicians can do. To use of a single bottle costing one dollar, will satisfy the incredulous that they need not look any further for the required aid.

A SECRET WORTH KNOWING.—Some horse dealers have discovered that by the use of Dailey's Condition Powders as Arabian Heave Remedy their horses are so much improved in every respect that they will readily sell for from $25 to $40 each more than they would otherwise and at a cost of not more than $1 each. We consider this a secret worth knowing, and one which all who own horses should not fail to profit by, it is unquestionably the best horse medicine ever sold. Remember the name and, see that the signature of Hurd & Co is on each package.—Northop & Lyman, Newcastle, Ont, proprietors for Canada. Sold by all medicine dealers.

THE INSTRUMENT SUCCESS.—We must Work if you would make: Few people live by their wits, and labor is the natural inheritance of our race, necessary to healthas well as prosperity: but as none can expect perfect immunity from sickness, it is right that the best means of cure should always be ready. Now for colds coughs rheumatism neuralgia, cramps, colic, &c there is nothing like the "Canadian Pain Destroyer. For sale by all Druggists and country dealers. Price 75 cents per bottle.

Carelessness.

Many persons neglect their horses' health and condition until it is too late, when at a trifling expense and no trouble the horse might have been saved if attended to in time. To all who may have occasion to use an article of the kind we would confidently recommend "Darley's Condition Powders and Arabian Heave Remedy," it is without doubt the best preparation in use, as thousands who have used it testify. Remember the name, and see that the signature of Hurd & Co. is on each package. Northrop & Lyman, Newcastle, Ont., proprietors for Canada. Sold by all medicine dealers.

CANADIAN PAIN DESTROYER.
A Family Medicine, well and favorably known for the past ten years, never failing in a single instance to give permanent relief when timely used, and we have never known a single case of dissatisfaction where the directions have been proper.y followed, but on the contrary all are delighted with its operations, and speak in the highest terms of its Virtues and Magical effects.
THE CANADIAN PAIN DESTROYER has won for itself a reputation, as a blood purifier alterative stomach tonic, unsurpassed in the history of medical preparations. It seldom fails to cure Dyspepsia, Liver Complaints, Indigestion, Heartburn, Sick Headache, Kidney Complaints, Acid Stomach Phathisic or Asthma, and restores to vital activity the system debilitated by suffering and disease.
Its magical and wonderful success in curing sudden colds, sore throat, coughs, Diptheria, pains in the side, loins and back, neuralgia, toothache, rheumatic and other pains in any part of the body and from whatever cause, has given it a place in every household and is fast superseding all other preparations of the kind.
It is also an effectual and prompt remedy for scalds, burns, bruises, sprains, chilblains,

The most unhappy person in the world is the hypochondriac. Everything looks dark and gloomy to him—"out of sorts" with himself and everybody else. Life is a burden to him. This can all be changed by taking Peruvian Syrup (a protoxide of Iron.) Cases of 27 years' standing have been cured by it.

HOME.—A private shelter to cover in two loving hearts, the corner stone of which is the virtue of woman, and from whose doors all other blessings of civilized life are to be traced. But yet, no home is complete without a supply of the "Canadian Pain Destroyer," to prevent disease or for the cure of coughs, colds, summer complaints, rheumatism, neuralgia, &c. For sale by all Druggists and country dealers.—Price 25 cents per bottle

PAIN KILLER

Husband (returned from the village:)—Mary, here my dear; I have just returned from town and brought with me your entire list—Tea, Coffee, Sugar, Cakes and in short a waggon full of—(Wife (hastily)—And forgot the PAIN-KILLER?

Husband:—Oh! no; couldn't forget that; it's the most prominent object in every store in every store in town: and besides, the fences and stones and buildings all have "PAIN-KILLER" painted or pasted on them to remind one of it every minute. The store-keeper says that the PAIN-KILLER should be in every house and where one can put their hand on it in the dark if need be.

Wife:—It must be valuable, else the Parson's wife wouldn't praise it to the skies as she does

(To be continued.)

☞ The PAIN-KILLER is an internal and external remedy for pain. For internal pain, Cramps, Spasms, Sudden Cold and Bowel difficulties, a few drops on water will give immediate relief. As a liniment it is without an equal; it stops pain almost instantly. Be sure and get the genuine made by Perry Davis & Son and sold by all Druggists and Grocers 15-71

THE GREAT FEMALE REMEDY

Job Moses' Peridocal Pills.

This invaluable medicine is unfailing in the cure of all those painful and dangerous diseases to which the female constitution is subject. It immediately checks and removes all obstructions, and a speedy cure may be relied on.

TO MARRIED LADIES.

It is peculiarly suited. It will in a short time, bring on the monthly period with regularity.

These Pills should not be taken by Females during the FIRST THREE MONTHS of Pregnancy, as they are sure to bring on Miscarriage, but at any other time they are safe.

In all cases of Nervous and Spinal Affection, Pains in the Back and Limbs, on slight exertion, Palpitation of the Heart, Ayscrotica, and Whites, the Pills will effect a cure when all other means have failed; and although a powerful remedy, do not contain iron, calomel, antimony, or anything hurtful to the constitution.

Full directions in the pamphlet around each package, which should be carefully preserved

JOB MOSES', NEW YORK, SOLE PROPRIETOR

$1.00 and 12½ cents for postage, enclosed to Northrop & Lyman, Newcastle, Ont., general agents for the Dominion, will insure a bottle, containing over 50 pills, by return mail.

Iron ore, taken from the back hills near the highest level of the Union Pacific Railway, has been smelted at Omaha and found of excellent quality, yielding 60 per cent. of superior metal. Three hills of the ore lie near the railroad.

MIDLAND

Railway of Canada.

ON and after MONDAY, the 26th day of JUNE, 1871, Trains will run as follows

TRAINS MOVING SOUTH.—MAIL.

Beaverton Depart	2 10 p. m
Lindsay, Arrive	3.35 p. m.
Millbrook, Arrive	5.10 p. m.
Port Hope, Arrive	6.15 p. m.

TRAINS MOVING NORTH.—MAIL.

Port Hope, Depart	9.15 a. m.
Millbrook, Arrive	10.12 "
Lindsay Arrive	11 40 "
Beaverton, Arrive	1.20 p. m.

TRAINS MOVING SOUTH.—MIXED.

Lindsay, Depart	8 15 a. m.
Millbrook, Arrive	10.10 "
Port Hope, Arrive	12.00 p. m.

TRAINS MOVING NORTH.—MIXED.

Port Hope, Depart	2 40 p. m.
Millbrook, Arrive	3.58 p. m.
Lindsay, Arrive	6.25 p. m.

PETERBOROUGH SECTION.

TRAINS MOVING SOUTH.—MAIL.

Lakefield, Depart	2.15 p. m.
Peterborough, Arrive	3.00 p. m.
" Depart	3.30 "
Millbrook, Arrive	4.10 "
Port Hope, Arrive	5.30 "

TRAINS MOVING NORTH.—MAIL.

Port Hope, Depart	9.30 a. m.
Millbrook, Arrive	10.38 a. m.
Peterborough, Arrive	11.30 p. m.
Lakefield Arrive	12.45 p. m.

TRAINS MOVING SOUTH.—MIXED.

Peterborough, Depart	6 15 a. m.
Millbrook Arrive	7.00 "
Port Hope, Arrive	9.30 "

TRAINS MOVING NORTH.—MIXED.

Port Hope, Depart	3.30 p. m.
Millbrook Arrive	4.57 "
Peterborough, Arrive	6.10 "

H. G. TAYLOR,
Superintendent of Motive Power and Trains.
June 28, 1871. 26.

DR. LANG,

PHYSICIAN, SURGEON, &c. Office—Dr. Gilchrist's old stand, KEENE, Ont.

In connection, a Drug Store has been opened with a full supply of Drugs, Medicines, Perfumery, Toilet Sette, Dye Stuffs, Fancy Articles, and everything usually kept in a first-class Drug Store.

Keene, June 13th, 1871. 24-tf

TAKEN BY MISTAKE!

From Uin's Hotel, Peterborough, on 23rd of May, last, a parcel containing a

BAND UNIFORM SUIT,

Consisting of White Coat, Serge Pants and Red Cap, to be returned to Uin's Hotel.

Any person retaining them after this notice, will be prosecuted.

Peterboro, June 14th, 1871. 24-11in

TEACHER WANTED.

A FEMALE TEACHER, holding a Second Class Certificate, for School Section No. 4, Harvey; Duties to commence immediately,

ARCH. JOHNSTON,
HENRY GRAHAM,
THOS. HATTON, } Trustees.

Harvey, June 19, 1871. 25-11n

Notice of Dissolution.

The Partnership heretofore existing between the undersigned, under the firm of Ferguson & Elder, has been this day dissolved by mutual consent.

Dated at Peterborough, 8th June, A. D. 1871.

Witness, JOHN FERGUSON,
JOHN ELDER.
C. C. ROBB. 25-3ins

50,000 Brick for Sale.

Apply to

J. S. ALEXANDER,

Corner of London and George Streets,

Peterboro, June 28, 1871. 26-3ins

AT PETERBOROUGH,

ON

MONDAY, JULY 10th, 1871.

G. F. BAILEY & Co's

GREAT ALLIED ATTRACTION AND COLOSSAL COMBINATION EXHIBITIONS!

A vast and comprehensive

MENAGERIE.

A Classic Italian Hippodrome, an Extensive Aviary, and a

FIRST-CLASS CIRCUS.

Under Stupendous Pavilions, separate and distinct from each other and each larger than an ordinary Circus Tent.

TWENTY GREAT DENS OF LIVING WILD ANIMALS.

Extraordinary collection of Beautiful Tropical Birds, of every hue and color.
Elephants and Dromedaries in procession. Enormous Black Rhinoceros, weighing over 4,000 lbs—the largest and most perfect specimen ever imported.
A Trio of Baby Lions, with their Royal Dam.

The Imperial Lion, Charlemagne

Celebrated throughout the Continent as the largest and most perfect specimen of the "King of Beasts" ever exhibited in the Old World or the New.
Immense White, or Polar Bear.
South African Blue Buck, a very rare animal, and entirely new to this country.
☞ For a full list of remarkable animals, see descriptive bills

QUAGLIANI'S
ITALIAN HIPPODROME & CIRCUS,
LED BY THE GREAT SEBASTIAN.
THE GREAT SEBASTIAN.
THE GREAT SEBASTIAN.

Whose standing challenge of $10,000 to produce his equal as a Bare-back and Hurdle Rider is open to the World and has never been accepted.

M'LLE. MARIE
Premiere Equestrienne, in her Classic and daring Specialities.
TEESE AND KING—
The Challenge Gymnasts and Athletes.
GEORGE M. CLARK—
The universally and favorite Clown, Wit and Jester.
SIGNOR FERRANTI—
The Boneless Man, or Anatomical Paradox.
GEORGE DERIOUS—
The Great Man Monkey, in his comical acts entitled: The Gorilla on Horseback
All acts in the Ring. All novel and original.

Gorgeous and Magnificent Holiday Pageant

☞ In the public streets—the most imposing and attractive procession of the period.
All the exhibitions above advertised for the single admission fee of 50 Cents. One Ticket admits to either or all. Children under ten, half price.

Extra Announcement—The management have succeeded in effecting a limited engagement with

M'LLE JOSEPHINE DEVERNI,

The beautiful young Funambulist, who will on each day, at half-past twelve, make an outside Ascension on a SINGLE WIRE, from the ground to the extreme summit of the centre pole. This difficult and daring feat has never been successfully accomplished by any other lady, and is given as a gratuity to the people, and is free to every body.

Peterborough, July 5th, 1871. 27-1ins.

SIGN OF

THE GOLDEN ANVIL!

I have on hand my usual supply of Serviceable Goods.

Grass and Cradle Scythes,
Hay, Manure, and Barley Forks,
Snaths. Wood and Iron Bow
Rakes, Hoes, Fork Handles,
Spades, Shovels,
CRADLES IN GREAT VARIETY

Fishing Tackle, Bird Cages, Electro-Plated Goods, Pocket & Table Knives

(Extra Quality,)

Builders' Hardware,

And a Good Stock of English and American Shelf Goods.

JOHN BERTRAM,

June 14th, 1871. 24

WANTED.

A TEACHER for SCHOOL SECTION No. 6 SMITH. Duties to commence the 2nd July. Applications to be addressed to.

JAMES SAULTER,
Box 5, North Douro.

June 14th, 1871. 24-tf.

PIANOS,
Melodeons and Organs.

R. S. WILLIAMS, & Co.,

Have now a complete stock of the above Instruments on exhibition, at their Rooms, No. 3, Scott's Block, Market Square, to which they invite the attention of parties wishing to purchase.

R. W. ERRETT,
Agent.

Peterboro, 7th June, 1871. 23-3mos.

TO LEND

$10,000.

Interest 8 per cent. No commission.

D. W. DUMBLE,
Solicitor.

Peterborough, April 27, 1871. 17-3ins.

SONG ECHO

A New School Book by H. S. Perkins. Price $7.50 per dozen. Contains over two hundred new and beautiful Songs, Duetts, etc., by Will S. Hays, Webster, Thomas, etc. Everything is new, fresh, and sparkling. Contents and specimen pages sent free. Sample copies mailed free of postage to teachers for 65 cents. Liberal terms for introduction.

Subscribers to Peters Musical Monthly are getting their music for less than two cents a piece. Those who have no seen this Musical Magazine should send 30 cents for a sample copy. The music is by Hays, Thomas, Kinkle, Persley and other popular writers.

Two back numbers for 40 cents. Four back numbers for 75 cents. Subscribers get

FIFTY DOLLARS

WORTH OF MUSIC FOR $3.

Address,

J. L. PETERS, 599 Broadway, N. Y.

Teachers sending us their orders for $10 worth of music, can claim a year's subscription to Peters' Musical Monthly.

FOR SALE.

TWO BRICK COTTAGES,
AND BUILDING LOTS.

GEO. T. LEONARD,
Solicitor, &c.

May 26rd. 1871. 21-4ins.

RESTORE YOUR SIGHT.

SPECTACLES RENDERED USELESS

OLD EYES MADE NEW.

All diseases of the Eye successfully treated by

BALL'S NEW PATENT IVORY EYE CUPS.

Read for yourself and restore your sight. Spectacles and surgical operations rendered useless. The inestimable Blessing of Sight is made perpetual by the use of the new

PATENT IMPROVED IVORY EYE CUPS.

Many of our most eminent physicians, oculists students and divines, have had their sight permanently restored for life, and cured of the following diseases:

1. Impaired Vision; 2. Presbyopia, or Fa Sightedness, or Dimness of Vision, commonly called Blurring; 3. Asthenopia or Weak Eyes; 4. Epiphora, Running or Watery Eyes; 5 Sore Eyes—specially treated with the Eye Cups—cure guaranteed; 6. Weakness of the Retina or Optic Nerve; 7. Ophthalmia, or Inflamation of the Eye and its appendages, or Imperfect Vision, from the effects of inflamation; 8. Photophobia, or Intolerance of Light, 9. Over Worked eyes; 10. Mydesopia—moving specks or floating bodies before the eyes; Amaurosis, or Obscurity of Vision; 12. Cataracts, Partial Blindness, the loss of sight.

Any one can use the Ivory Eye Cups without the aid of Doctor or Medicine, so as to receive immediate beneficial results and never wear spectacles. or if using now, to lay them aside forever. We guarantee a cure in every case where the directions are followed, or we refund the money.

2300 CERTIFICATES OF CURE,

From honest Farmers, Mechanics and Merchants, some of the most eminent leading professional and business men and women of education and refinement, in our country, may be seen at our office.

Under date of March 20, Hon. Horace Greely of the New York Tribune, writes: "J. Ball, of our city, is a conscientious and responsible man, who is incapable of intentional deception or imposition.

Prof. W. Merrick, of Lexington, Ky., wrote April 24th, 1869: Without my Spectacles I pen you this note, after using the Patent Ivory Eye Cups thirteen days, and this morning perused the entire contents of a Daily Newspaper, and all with the unassisted eye.

Truly I am grateful to your noble invention, may Heaven bless and preserve you. I have been using spectacles twenty years; I am seventy-one years old. Yours, truly,

PROF. W. MERRICK.

Rev. Joseph Smith, Malden, Mass., cured of Partial Blindness, of 18 years' standing, in one minute, by the Patent Ivory Eye Cups.

E. O. Ellis, late Mayor of Dayton, Ohio, wrote to us Nov. 12th, 1869: I have tested the Patent Ivory Eye Cups and I am satisfied they are good. I am pleased with them; they are the Greatest Invention of the age.

All persons wishing for full particulars, certificates of cures, prices &c., will please send your address to us, and we will send our treatise on the Eye of forty-four pages, free, by return mail, write to Dr. J. Ball & Co., P. O. Box, 982, No. 91 Liberty Street, New York.

For the worst cases of Myopia, or Nearsightedness, use our New Patent Myopic Attachments, applied the Ivory Eye Cups, has proved a certain cure for this disease.

Send for pamphlets and certificates—free. Waste no more money by adjusting huge glasses on your nose and disfigure your face.

Employment for all. Agents wanted for the new Patent Improved Ivory Eye Cups, just introduced into the market. The success is unparalelled by any other article. All persons out of employment, or those wishing to improve their circumstances, whether gentlemen or ladies can make a respectable living at this light and easy employment. Hundreds of agents are making from $5 TO $20 A DAY. To live agents $20 a week will be guaranteed. Information furnished on receipt of 10 cents—to pay for cost of printing materials and return postage.

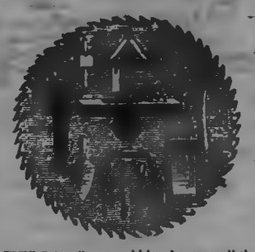
Dr. J. Ball & Co., P. O. Box, 982, No. 91 Liberty Street New York.

Our Agent for Peterborough County, is

JAMES CONWAY, P. M.,
Indian River, Ont.

23-3 mos.

SIGN OF THE CIRCULAR SAW.



THE Subscribers would beg leave to call the attention of the public to their stock of

SHELF AND HEAVY HARDWARE

PAINTS, OILS, GLASS and PUTTY,

Agricultural and Garden Implements,

NAILS, LOCKS, HINGES, &c.

All of which they will sell at the lowest Prices.

Sign of the Circular Saw.

GEORGE STREET, PETERBORO.

McKEE & DAVIDSON

Peterboro, April 26th, 1871, 17

TO FARMERS.

If you want to make FORTY DOLLARS AN ACRE off your land,

SOW FLAX!

Let each good Farmer sow Three Acres on trial, and see how handy it is to have $120 coming in to pay off your harvest hands in August. As there is a Machine for pulling, at the mill, it makes it one of the easiest crops harvested, For seed apply to

S. TAYLOR,
Flax Mill, Ashburnham

May 3rd, 1871. 18

TO LET.

AUBURN HOUSE,

AND ABOUT 20 ACRES OF LAND THEREWITH.

A Delightful Summer Residence.

Apply to

DENNISTOUN, FAIRBAIRN & CASSELS

May 3rd, 1871. 18-tf

IMPORTANT

TO FARMERS

AND THE PUBLIC.

I have now in my Flour Mill, for Milling Purposes, the

Best Machinery Known

At present in the world, and with an experience of over 40 years in the business, and from a fixed quality of Wheat, I can turn out as much Flour and

AS GOOD IN QUALITY

as any mill in the Dominion. I will, therefore, give in exchange for 60 lbs good clean Wheat, 45 lbs Flour and 10 lbs Bran The Flour warranted to be good. This offer is equal to 200 lbs of Flour for 4 bushels and 40 lbs Wheat, or a clear gain of 20 lbs Wheat on the Barrel, worth at present prices from 45 to 45 cents.

☞ Cash paid for Good Fall and Spring Wheat.

M. MARTIN.

Peterboro, May 22nd, 1871. 21

1871 Annual Announcement 1871

(ESTABLISHED 1856.)

SEEDS!

Fresh, Good, and True,

The subscriber has received his supply of

FIELD,
FLOWER; and
GARDEN SEEDS.

Both of Home and Imported Stock.

WARRANTED GENUINE

FARMERS AND MARKET GARDENERS are respectfully invited to call and inspect for themselves.

COUNTRY MERCHANTS supplied, as usual with boxes on Commission, or for Cash.

"Honesty" is our motto, both in character of seed, and in price.

Wm. H. TAYLOR, M. D

At the old Stand, Corner of George and Hunter Streets, Peterborough, Ont. 10-tf

A FARMER'S COMPANY.

FARMERS!

Insure Your Property

IN THE

AGRICULTURAL

INSURANCE COMPANY.

A Stock Company entirely devoted to your interests.

Insures nothing but Farm Property and Detached Residences.

Chartered and commenced business in 1859.

CASH ASSETS - - $550,000.

Mr. Langton's Report shows over $66,000 deposited as especial protection to Canadian Policy-holders.

Head Office for the Dominion of Canada, Kingston, Ontario.

We would refer you to the following named Gentlemen, in regard to the pecuniary responsibility of the Company:

H. Calcutt, Brewer; John Burnham, Barrister; J. A. Hall, Agent Canadian Bank of Commerce; Thos. Menzies, Stationer and Exchange Broker.

ATTORNEY—John Burnham, Esq.

BANK—Canadian Bank of Commerce.

Wm. T. Fish, Cobourg, Gen. Agent for the Counties of Prince Edward, Hastings, Northumberland, Durham, Ontario, Peterboro and Victoria.

Local Agent for the Town of Peterborough

W. A. KING.

6-tf.

VICTORIA

CARRIAGE

Wagon Factory

Corner of Brock and George Streets.

The Subscriber would respectfully announce that he has leased the above establishment, opposite the Commercial Hotel and is now prepared to Manufacture

CARRIAGES,
BUGGIES,
WAGGONS,
WHEEL-BARROWS,
HARROWS, &c.

At Low Prices for Cash.

HORSE-SHOEING MADE A SPECIALTY.

GEORGE W. MILLS.

Peterboro, March 7th, 1871.

N. B.—As there is another person in Peterboro named "George Mills," the public will please remember the distinction in the names. G. W. M. 13-tf

$765,000

In Cash Gifts to be Distributed by the New York Cash Prize Co.

EVERY TICKET DRAWS A PRIZE.

5 Cash Gifts each,	$50	20 Cash Gifts, each,	$1,000
10 " "	100	10 " "	500
20 " "	5,000	20 " "	700
50 Elegant Rosewood Pianos, — each	$300 to	$700
25 " Melodeons "	75 to	150
250 Sewing machines — "	50 to	175
500 Gold Watches — "	75 to	200
Cash Prizes, Silver Ware, etc., valued at		$1,500,000

A change to draw any of the above Prizes for 25c. Tickets describing Prizes are sealed in Envelopes and well mixed. On receipt of 25c. a Sealed Tickets so drawn without choice and sent by mail to any address. The prize named upon it will be delivered to the ticket-holder on payment of One Dollar. Prizes are immediately sent to any address by express or returned mail.

You will know what your prize is before you pay for it. "Any Prize exchanged for another of the same value." No blanks. Our patrons can depend on fair dealing.

REFERENCES:—The following, lately drew Valuable Prizes and kindly permit us to publish them:—Andrew J. Burns, Chicago, $10,000; Jas. M. Matthews, Detroit, $5,000; John T. Anderson, Savannah, $5,000; James Simmons, Boston, $10 000.

PRESS OPINION:—"The firm is reliable."—"Weekly Tribune, Dec 28" "Deserve their success."—N. Y. Herald, Jan. 1. "Just and Honorable."—News. Dec. 9.

Send for circular. Liberal inducements to Agents. Satisfaction guaranteed. Every package of 200 Sealed. Envelopes contains one CASH GIFT. Seven tickets for $1; 17 for $2, 50 for $5; 200 for $15. Address

C. B. HARRIS & Co.,
Managers,
62 Broadway, N. Y

Peterboro March 16th, 1871. 10-tf.

FELLOWS'

HYPOPHOSPHITES.

Amongst the diseases overcome by the use of

Fellows' Compound Syrup of Hypophosphites

ARE

Constipation, Asthma, Consumption, Laryngitis, Nervous Debility, Dyspepsia, Chronic Bronchitis, Chronic Diarrhœa, Melancholy.

Debility resulting from Typhoid and other low fevers, Diphtheritic, Hysteria, Hypochondria, Amenorrhœa, Chlorosis Anæmia, Leucorrhœa, Nervous Excitability, Marasmus, or wasting of the Muscles, Aphonia, or loss of Voice, Chorea or St. Vitus's Dance, Sluggishness of the Liver, Interrupted and Feeble Action of the heart, Suffocating feeling caused by mucous obstructions of the Lungs and Air passages leading thereto, and Debility from various causes, many cases of which appear hopeless.

SOLD BY APOTHECARIES.

Price, $1.50; Six for $7.50.

JAME I. FELLOW, CHEMIST,

ST. JOHN, N. B.

16-1871. 4mos.

A CARD.

E. BAKEWELL, having made an engagement with Mr. Bradburn, may be found, by his former Patrons and Customers, at the store lately occupied by M. Moloney, where he hopes by his usual attention to business, and with increased facilities for giving satisfaction, still to merit and receive their patronage.

E. BAKEWELL.

Peterboro, Dec. 19, 1870. 51-tf.

HOUSE AND LOT FOR SALE.

The undersigned offers for sale the dwelling House and Lot on

LONDON STREET,

at present occupied by himself.

Further particulars can be obtained by application to

Wm. LECH,
Proprietor.

Peterborough, April 19th 1871. 16-tf.

(Review please copy.)

Dissolution of Partnership.

Notice is hereby given that the Partnership heretofore existing between us, the undersigned as Carriage Makers in the Town of Peterboro', in the County of Peterborough, has been this day dissolved by mutual consent. All debts owing to the said partnership are to be paid to, and all claims against the said partnership are to be paid by the undersigned, John Lockhart.

JOHN LOCKHART
JAMES MILLER.

Dated at Peterborough, this 26th day of May A. D. 1871.

In connection with the above, the public are respectfully informed that the business as hereafter, will be conducted under the name of Lockhart & Chowen, and that all orders entrusted to them will receive prompt attention,

LOCKHART & CHOWEN.

Peterboro, May 30th, 1871. 22

New Steam Dye Works!

THE PUBLIC OF PETERBORO and vicinity are respectfully informed that the establishment is now prepared to take in work of every description in

CLEANING, COLOURING, AND FINISHING,

of Gentlemen's Clothing, Ladies' Dress Goods, &c., &c.

Observe the following List of Fabrics

Gents' Blacks, Merinoes, Silks, Tweeds, Cottons, Satin Cassimeres, Unions, Velvet, Doeskins, Woolens, Ribbons, and general Dry Goods, made up or in the piece. Carpets, Rugs, Mats, Raw Wools, Cottons, Worsted, Wool Yarns, Cotton Yarns, Hosiery, Coiled Fleeces for Mats, Buggies, &c., &c. Damasks, in Curtains and Furniture Covers.

☞ WORKS, NEAR ONTARIO WOOLEN MILLS, CORBURG.

WM. MERCER,
Agent for Peterboro.

Peterboro, J, June 1871. 23-1y.

GREAT DESTRUCTION!

BUT

No Loss of Life.

ONLY THE

BURNING OVER PILES OF

DRESS GOODS!

AND PRINTS.

The Contents of Fifteen Cases and Three Bales, Just Opened.

Great Bargains in Hoyle's Prints.

Great Bargains in Dress Goods.

These Goods will be offered at prices that will clean them off before the end of the season.

FERGUSON & ELDER

Peterboro, May 31st, 1871. 22

CHANGE OF BUSINESS

New Foundry Firm.

The Subscriber in retiring from the Foundry Business in which he has been engaged for the past 15 years, begs to return thanks to his friends and the public in general, for the liberal patronage conferred upon him, at the same time he would beg to state that the business in future will be carried on by his BROTHER JAMES and JAMES R. DAVIS, under the firm of Whyte & Davis. Mr. Davis is well known as a First Class Machinist and Millwright, therefore I have every confidence in recommending the New Firm to the public, feeling assured that all orders entrusted to them will be executed in the most satisfactory manner, and with dispatch.

JOHN WHYTE.

Peterborough, April 1st, 1871.

N. B.—Parties having Notes and Accounts to settle, will please bear in mind that the Books of account and Notes will be at my Woolen Mill, West of Whyte & Hamilton's Foundries.—J. W.

The Subscribers having Commenced Business in the Old Stand of John Whyte, Esq., as (Founders, Machinists and Agricultural Implement Manufacturers,) begs to say that they keep on hand all kinds of

AGRICULTURAL IMPLEMENTS,

SUCH AS

STEEL, COMMON, AND GANG PLOWS, HARROWS, ROOT CUTTERS, CULTIVATORS, HORSE HOES, GARDEN AND FIELD ROLLERS, HAY AND STRAW CUTTERS, with almost every Implement used on the Farm.

General Repairing of Reapers, Mowers, Threshing Machines and Implements of Husbandry on the Shortest Notice.

Parties about purchasing any of the above Implements will do well to call and inspect our Stock on hand, before making a purchase elsewhere.

WHYTE & DAVIS

Peterborough, Ap 1st, 1871. 15-tf

NEW WOOLEN MILL.

To the Farmers and Merchants of the County of Peterboro:

The subscribers would respectfully beg to intimate that the Old Woolen Mill, once owned and carried on by the late James Harvey, Esq., afterwards by Mr. Daniel Brook, has been put in a

A THOROUGH STATE OF REPAIR,

And is now filled with New Machinery, got up expressly for the Manufacture of

Blankets, Flannels, Full Cloths, Tweeds, &c.

A large assortment of the above goods of our own make, are now on hand, and will be sold Cheap for Cash, or Exchanged for wool. Special attention will be given to the Custom Department, which is in perfect order for the Manufacture of Farmer's Blankets, Roll Carding and Fulling.

JOHN WHYTE, AUGUSTUS SAWERS

N. B.—We will pay the Highest price in Cash for any quantity of Good Clean Wool delivered at the mill.

J. W. A. S.

To my old friends in particular, and the public in general:

I am now back in the Old Mill, with Messrs. Whyte & Sawers, and have got a Large Room all to myself With a splendid

NEW CARDING MACHINE

Bring in your Wool, and I will give you BETTER ROLLS than have ever been turned out in this County.

JOHNNIE NEWTON.

Peterboro, May 3rd, 1871. 18

STOLEN OR STRAYED

From the premises of the undersigned, on the morning of the 24th of May, a

LARGE GREY MARE.

Any person giving information as to her whereabouts will be suitably rewarded.

GEO. BROWN,

Ashburnham, June 7th, 1871.

CANADIAN BANK OF COMMERCE.

THE Canadian Bank of Commerce, have opened a

Saving's Bank Department

in Peterborough. Interest allowed on all sums over $1.00.

J. A. HALL,
Manager.

the place where her husband had been so [illegible]

Mamie's guardian became very intelligible to her the moment she saw the place. She said very little, however, and rode home.

Next day she blushed high, and asked Sir Charles for a hundred pounds to spend upon herself.

Sir Charles smiled, well pleased, and gave it her, and a kiss into the bargain.

"Ah! bon," said she, "that is not all."

"I am glad of it. You spend too little money on yourself—a great deal too little."

"That is a complaint you won't have long to make. I want to cut down a few trees. May I?"

"Going to build?"

"Don't ask me. It is for myself."

"That is enough. Cut down every stick on the estate, if you like. The bare it leaves us, the better."

"Ah Charles, you promised me not. I shall cut with great discretion, I assure you."

"As you please," said Sir Charles. "If you want to make me happy, deny yourself nothing. Mind, I shall be angry if you do."

Soon after this, a gaping quidnunc came to Sir Charles, and told him Lady Bassett was felling trees in North Wood.

"And pray who has a better right to fell trees in any wood of mine?"

"But she is building a wall."

"And who has a better right to build a wall?"

With the delicacy of a gentleman, he would not go near the place after this, till she asked him; and that was not long.—She came into his study, all beaming, and invited him to a ride. She took him into North Wood, and showed him her work. Richard Bassett's plantation, hitherto divided from North Wood only by a boundary scarcely visible, was now shut off by a brick wall; on Sir Charle's side of that wall every stick of timber was felled and removed, for a distance of fifty yards, and, about twenty yards from the wall, a belt of larches was planted, a little higher than cabbages.

Sir Charles looked amazed at first; but soon observed how thoroughly his enemy was defeated. "My poor Bella," said he, "to think of your taking all this trouble about such a thing——" He stooped to kiss her very tenderly, and she shone with joy and innocent pride. "And I never thought of this! You astonish me, Bella."

"Ay," said she, in high spirits now; "and, what is more, I have astonished Mr. Moss. He said, 'I wish I had your head piece, my lady.' I could have told him Love sharpens a woman's wits; but I reserved that little adage for you."

"It is all mighty fine, fair lady, but you have told me a fib. You said it was to be all for yourself, and got a hundred pounds out of me."

"And so it was for myself, you silly thing. Are you not myself? and the part of myself I love the best." And her supple wrist was round his neck in a moment.

They rode home together, like lovers, and comforted each other.

Richard Bassett, with Wheeler's assistance, had borrowed money on Higmore to buy "Splatchett's," he now borrowed money on "Splatchett's," and bought Dean's Wood, a wood, with patches of grass, that lay on the east of Sir Charles's boundary. He gave seventeen pounds for it, and sold two thousand pounds worth of timber off it the first year. This sounds incredible; but, owing to the custom of felling only ripe trees, landed proprietors had no sure clue to the value of all the timber on an acre. Richard Bassett had found this out, and bought Dean's Wood upon the above terms: i.e., the vendor gave him the soil, and three hundred pounds, gratis. He grubbed the roots, and sold them for fuel, and he planted larches to catch the overflow of Sir Charles's game, the grass grew beautifully, now the trees were down, and he let it for pasture.

He [illegible], still under Wheeler's advice, came out into the world [illegible] improved his dress, and called on several country families, with a view of marrying money.

Now, in the country they do not despise a poor gentleman of good lineage, and Bassett was one of the oldest names in the country; so every door was open to him; and, indeed, his late hermit life had stimulated some curiosity. This he soon turned to sympathy, by telling them he was proud but poor; robbed of the vast estate that belonged to him by birth, he had been unwilling to take a lower position. However Heaven had prospered him: the wrongful heir was childless; he was the heir-at-law, and felt he owed it to the estate, which must return to his line, to assume a little more public importance than he had done.

Wherever he was received he was sure to enlarge upon his wrongs; and he was believed; for he was notoriously the direct heir to Bassett and Huntercombe, but the family arrangement, by which his father had been bought out, was known only to a few. He readily obtained sympathy, and many persons were disgusted with Sir Charles's illiberality in not making him some compensation. To use the homely expression of Govett, a small proprietor, the baronet might as well have given him back one pig out of his own farrow: i.e., one of the many farms comprised in that large estate.

Sir Charles learned that Richard was undermining him in the country, but was too proud to interfere; he told Lady Bassett he should say nothing, until some gentleman should endorse Mr Bassett's falsehoods.

One day, Sir Charles and Lady Bassett were invited to dine and sleep at Mr. Hardwicke's, distant fifteen miles: and found Richard Bassett dining there, by Mrs. Hardwicke's invitation, who was one of those ninnies that fling guests together with no discrimination.

Richard had expected this to happen sooner or later, so he was comparatively prepared, and bowed stiffly to Sir Charles. Sir Charles stared at him in return. This was observed: people were uncomfortable, especially Mrs. Hardwicke, whose thoughtlessness was to blame for it all.

(To be Continued.)

The potato bug is just now the most abused insect in creation. An American savant has been collecting many curious statistics concerning it, which explain its multitudinous visitations pretty clearly.—From careful observations he finds that thirty-three days completes the cycle of one generation from fertilization to the [illegible] state, or about three crops annually in this latitude. Several hundreds of these bugs are the average product of a single female, from which the family grows in the second generation to 245,000, and in the third to 58,700,000, which must be considered as a very respectable increase. A further calculation shows that one female bug can thus expand itself into a total production of sixteen hundred and sixty six bushels of average sized bugs in a little over three months.

"The fact is," said an elderly wife, "a man does not know how to straighten up things. He does not know how to begin. I don't wonder," she remarked in conclusion, "that when God made Adam he went right to work and made a woman to tell him what to do."

A good story is told of a German shoemaker in Utica, who having made a pair of [illegible] for a gentleman of whose financial integrity he had considerable doubt, made the following reply to him when he called for the article: "Der poots ish not quite done, but der bill ish made out."

Josh Billings says opera music don't has no more effect on him than castor oil would on a graven image.

A Williston school marm has been very properly dismissed for compelling one of the big boys to show her how he kissed the girls in the woodshed.

Daughter—Well, do tell the truth, I did not think much of the close of the sermon. Father—Probably you were thinking more of the clothes of the congregation.

New Firm in Ashburnham.

MOWRY & FORSYTH.

The undersigned have leased the "Mowry Foundry," Ashburnham, for a number of years, and have put it in a thorough state of repairs. They have now conveyanced facilities for doing

All Kinds of Work in the Foundry and Machine Line,

Which they will do promptly and on favorable terms. They will carry on

THE THRESHING MACHINE MANUFACTURE!

As carried on formerly at the Mowry Foundry. All kinds of repairing of

Threshing Machines, Reapers and Mowers, Saw Mill and Grist Mill Machinery and Castings and Turnings of Every Description will be done on short notice.

The work will be of the best material and workmanship, and warranted to give general satisfaction.

SPECIAL NOTICE.

We invite Special Attention to our THRESHING MACHINES and HORSE POWERS which is acknowledged by respectable Farmers now using them, to be the best made in the Dominion.

All debts in connection with the business, contracted since the 26th of October, 1870, will be paid by the undersigned, to whom also accounts owing since the same date must be paid.

R. H. MOWRY. W. FORSYTH.

Ashburnham, May 31st, 1871. 72-tf.

OWENS'
PUMP MANUFACTORY
AND
Agricutural Implement Agency

GEORGE STREET, PETERBOROUGH.

The Leading Pumps and Machines of the Dominion.

The subscriber is still on hand at Dennis' Old Stand, opposite the Graveyard, and begs to inform the inhabitants of the Counties of Peterborough and Victoria, that he is Sole Agent in these Counties for the Celebrated POWELL'S PATENT SWING and FORCE PUMP—the reputation of which is Established and sustained by their own merits, being cheap, Simple, Reliable, Frost Proof, and easiest worked. Being convinced of their superiority over all other pumps, I have made arrangements to keep a good stock of them on hand, if possible, and will Sell as Cheap as are sold in any other part of the Dominion.

SOLE AGENT FOR MASSEY'S Agricultural Implements Including al the late improvements, viz;

Wood's Self Rake Reapers, and Mowers, and Cayuga Chief Mowers.

The Hubbard Combined Machine, which took the First Prize at Toronto in 1870. Also, Johnson's First Prize Self Raker.

Parties wanting Machines the coming Harvest will please call and examine the different Machines before purchasing elsewhere. Prices reduced from last year.

Will guarantee them to be BETTER than the BEST of any other make. The unexampled popularity and success of this pump is not surprising, combining as it does, the Highest Efficiency with the Lowest Cost. Swing Pumps for $6.00 and upwards With reference to the Powell Pump, it has been exhibited five times and secured Five Provincial First Prizes, never having been awarded anything but First and Highest Honors at State, Provincial, County, Township, or city exhibitions. This is incontestible proof of its adaptability to the wants of the people, and the climate of the country. THE FORCE PUMP is adapted to all the uses to which an ordinary pump may be applied, besides being an always-ready Fire Engine. It is allowed to be worth its cost for Washing Buggies alone, and as a Fire Preventative has saved many valuable properties. May be used for watering Gardens, Courts, &c., Setting Tires, &c., and many other purposes.

Please call and examine the Powell Pump before going elsewhere, when I shall be happy to explain its advantages. Also, a large stock of Common Pumps on hand, as usual, which the subscriber will sell as cheap, if not Cheaper, than any Pump-maker in the Province. Also COLBY'S WRINGERS for sale Also, Agent for Rights or Pumps in Counties east of Peterborough. Pumps of all Kinds Repaired on the shortest notice.

Please address, stating depth of well and other particulars:

HENRY OWENS,
George Street, Peterboro

April 26, 1871.

NEW SADDLERY!

The Subscriber wishes to inform his friends—old and new—that he has re-commenced the

Saddlery and Harness Business,

In the Shop next to the Toronto Bank,

Lately occupied by the Telegraph and Express Companies, opposite to Messrs. Nicholls & Halls, Simcoe Street,

Where he will at all times keep on hand or have made to order by first class workmen, everything usually kept in first class establishments, such as

GENTS' SADDLES, LADIES' DO,

Harness, Single and Double, Coarse, Heavy and Fine,

TRAVELLING BAGS, TRUNKS, SATCHELLS,

WHIPS, MATS, HORSE CLOTHING, &c.

☞ Grateful for past favors in his various lines of business during the last 20 years, he asks his friends to inspect his stock before purchasing elsewhere.

Peterboro, May 18, 1870. 20 D. HOPKINS.

NEW
Fall and Winter Goods!

T. BRADBURN,

Having succeeded in disposing of the greater portion of his former stock, and having since purchased heavily in Montreal and Toronto Markets, at the Lowest possible prices, is now showing and invites inspection of the following lines of new Fall and Winter Goods:

CLOTHS:

A complete stock of English and Canadian Cloths and Tweeds.

DRESS GOODS:

New Wool Serges,
New Wool Tartans,
New French Reps,
New French Merinoes,
New Wincies,
New Black Lustres, (Double Warp)
New Tartan Poplins,
New Figured Poplins,
New Figured Reps,
New French Delaines,
New Crape Cloths,
New Velvets and
New Velveteens.

HOSIERY,

In great variety, English, Scotch and Canadian.

FLANNELS,

A full assortment of Welsh, Lancashire, Saxony, and Canadian Manufacture Also, Salisbury and Fancy Flannel Shirting. very Cheap.

Prints, Linens and Towellings.

JUST OPENED,

A New and Select Stock of Gents' Collars, Ties, Scarfs and Gloves.

GLOVES, CORSETS and SKIRTS.

Those about to purchase FURS would do well to retain their orders, as a large lot will be opened in due time, and will be SOLD CHEAP.

T. BRADBURN

Peterboro, Oct. 11,

Select Poetry.

Some One's Servant Girl.

She stood there leaning wearily
Against the window frame,
Her form was perfect, and and sweet,
But garments coarse and plain;
"Who is she, pray? I ask a friend,
The red lips gave a curl—
"Really! I do not know her name,
She's some one's servant girl."

Again I saw her on the street,
With burden trudge along,
Her face was sweet and patient still,
Amid the jostling throng;
Slowly but cheerfully she moved,
Guarding with watchful care
A market basket much too large
For her slight hand to bear.

A man, I thought a gentleman,
Went pushing rudely by,
Sweeping the basket from her hands,
But turning not his eye;
For there was no necessity
Amid the busy whirl,
For him to be a gentleman
To Some one's servant girl.

Ah! well is it that God above
Looks in upon the heart,
And never judges anyone
By just the outer part;
For if the soul be pure and good,
He will not mind the rest,
Nor question what the garments were
In which the form was dressed.

And many a man and woman fair,
By fortune reared and fed,
Who will not mingle here below
With those who earn their bread.
When they have passed away from life,
Beyond the gates of pearl,
Will meet before their Father's throne,
With many a servant girl.

Josh Billings on Hotels.

You will discover the following description a mild one of about nine hotels out of ten between the Atlantic and Pacific Oceans, across the United States in a straight line. Your room is thirteen feet nine inches by nine feet seven inches, parallelogramly.

The carpet is ingrain—ingrained by the dust, kerosene oil and ink spots of four generations.

There is two pegs in the room to hitch coats onto—one of them broke off, and the other pulled out and missing.

The bureau has three legs and one brick.

The glass on the bureau swings on two pivots which have lost their g

There is one towel on the rack, thin, but wet. The rain water in the pitcher came out of the well.

The soap is as tough to wear as a whet stone. It is scented with cinnamon oil and variegated with spots.

There is three chairs, cane seaters: one is rocker and all three is busted.

There is a match-safe—empty.

There is no curtain to the window, and the o don't want to be any.

You can't see out and who can see in?

The bell-rope is some off about an inches thin side of the ceiling.

The bed is a modern slat bottom, with mattresses, one cotton, and one husk, and both harder and about as thick as a sea biscuit.

You enter the bed sideways, and can feel every slat at once as easy as you could the ribs of a gridiron.

The bed is inhabited.

You sleep some but roll over a good deal.

For breakfast you have a gong, and Rio coffee too cold to melt butter, fried potatoes which resemble chips that a two inch auger makes in its journey through an oak log.

Beard, solid: beefsteak, about as thick as a blister plaster, and as tough as a hound's ear.

Table covered with plates, a few scared to death pickles on one of them, and six fly-todo end crackers on the other.

Servant girl, with hoops on, hangs around you carousily, and wants to know if you want another cup of coffee.

You say "No, ma'am, thank you," and push back your chair.

You haven't eat enough to pay for picking your teeth.

The best substitute for silver.—Gold.

How to find happiness—look in the dictionary.

To keep potatoes from rotting—cook and eat them.

A soft blow—a gentle breeze.

The best bread source—work.

A tail of misery—a cocktail.

A bad policy—one that has run out.

Shoes are the safest of all manufactures because every pair is sure to be soled before they are finished.

Well, there is something in that! as the man said who tried to put on his boot with a kitten in it.

Warning to a bald head.—"Death loves a shining mark."

In a jolly boat ever helped along by roars of laughter.

A boy who undertook to ride a horse-radish is now practising on a saddle of mutton.

Milk is good for babies. Curd is not; neither should you let them have their whey.

Lillie is the fashionable name for young ladies this year. No family should be without it.

Why is a donkey that cannot hold up its head, like next Monday. Because it's neck's week.

On week days you buy music by the sheet; on Sundays you can have it by the choir for nothing.

Who was the only man who was never spanked in his childhood? Adam, because he was born grown up.

The reason editors have their manners spoiled, is because they receive so many communications.

Men are like potatoes—they don't know how soon they may be in hot water.

A "respectable" lady in Pittsburg the other day, was pumped for poison and yielded an overdose of brandy.

Be more prudent for your children, than, perhaps, you would have been for yourself, when they, too, are parents, they will imitate you, and each of you will have prepared happy generations, who will transmit, together with your memory, the worship of your wisdom.

A clergyman's son in drawing his handkerchief from his pocket jerked out several playing cards: "Hallo!" said he, "I've got my father's coat on."

To kill cats—hit your uncle's wife on the head with a hammer.

Ayer's
Hair Vigor,

For restoring Gray Hair to its natural Vitality and Color.

A dressing which is at once agreeable, healthy, and effectual for preserving the hair. Faded or gray hair is soon restored to its original color with the gloss and freshness of youth. Thin hair is thickened, falling hair checked, and baldness often, though not always, cured by its use. Nothing can restore the hair where the follicles are destroyed, or the glands atrophied and decayed. But such as remain can be saved for usefulness by this application. Instead of fouling the hair with a pasty sediment, it will keep it clean and vigorous. Its occasional use will prevent the hair from turning gray or falling off, and consequently prevent baldness. Free from those deleterious substances which make some preparations dangerous and injurious to the hair, the Vigor can only benefit but not harm it. If wanted merely for a

HAIR DRESSING,

nothing else can be found so desirable. Containing neither oil nor dye, it does not soil white cambric, and yet lasts long on the hair, giving it a rich glossy lustre and a grateful perfume.

Prepared by Dr. J. C. Ayer & Co.,
PRACTICAL AND ANALYTICAL CHEMISTS,
LOWELL, MASS.
PRICE $1.00.
NORTHROP & LYMAN,
Newcastle.
General Agents for Ontario.

Ayer's Sarsaparilla,

FOR PURIFYING THE BLOOD.

The reputation this excellent medicine enjoys, is derived from its cures, many of which are truly marvellous. Inveterate cases of Scrofulous disease, where the system seemed saturated with corruption, have been purified and cured by it. Scrofulous affections and disorders, which were aggravated by the scrofulous contamination until they were painfully afflicting, have been radically cured in such great numbers in almost every section of the country, that the public scarcely need to be informed of its virtues or uses.

Scrofulous poison is one of the most destructive enemies of our race. Often, this unseen and unfelt tenant of the organism undermines the constitution, and invites the attack of enfeebling or fatal diseases, without exciting a suspicion of its presence. Again, it seems to breed to fetid ulcerations on the body, and then, on some favorable occasion, rapidly develop into one or other of its hideous forms, either on the surface or among the vitals. In the latter, tubercles may be suddenly deposited in the lungs or heart, or tumors formed in the liver, or it shows its presence by eruptions on the skin, or foul ulcerations on some part of the body. Hence the occasional use of a bottle of this Sarsaparilla is advisable, even when no active symptoms of disease appear. Persons afflicted with the following complaints generally find immediate relief, and, at length, cure, by the use of this: Tetter, Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Ringworm, Sore Eyes, Sore Ears, and other eruptions of visible forms of Scrofulous disease. Also in the more concealed forms, as Dyspepsia, Dropsy, Heart Disease, Fits, Epilepsy, Neuralgia, and the various Uterous affections of the muscular and nervous system.

Syphilitic or Venereal and Mercurial Diseases are cured by it, though a long time is required for subduing those obstinate maladies by any medicine. But long continued use of this medicine will cure the complaint. Leucorrhœa or Whites, Uterine Ulcerations, and Female Diseases, are commonly soon relieved and ultimately cured by its purifying and invigorating effect. Minute Directions for each case are found in our Almanac, supplied gratis. Rheumatism and Gout, when caused by accumulations of extraneous matters in the blood, yield quickly to it, also Liver Complaints, Torpidity, Congestion or Inflammations of the Liver, and Jaundice, when arising from this often do, from the rankling poisons in the blood. This SARSAPARILLA is a great restorer for the strength and vigor of the system. Those who are languid and listless, from change of climate, Sleeplessness, and troubled with Nervous Apprehensions or Fears, or any of the affections symptomatic of Weakness, will find immediate relief and convincing evidence of its restorative power upon trial.

PREPARED BY
Dr. J. C. AYER & CO., Lowell, Mass.
Practical and Analytical Chemists.
SOLD BY ALL DRUGGISTS EVERYWHERE.
NORTHROP & LYMAN,
Newcastle
General Agents for Ontario.

WISTAR'S BALSAM OF WILD CHERRY

THE GREAT REMEDY FOR

CONSUMPTION

and acknowledged by many prominent physicians to be the most Reliable Preparation ever introduced for the RELIEF and CURE of all

LUNG COMPLAINTS.

This well-known remedy is offered to the public, sanctioned by the experience of over forty years, and when resorted to in season, seldom fails to effect a speedy cure of

Coughs, Colds, Croup, Bronchitis, Influenza, Whooping Cough, Hoarseness, Pains or Soreness in the Chest and Side, Bleeding of the Lungs, Liver Complaint, &c.

CONSUMPTION CAN BE CURED

by a timely resort to this standard remedy, as is proved by hundreds of testimonials received by the proprietors.

DR. WISTAR'S BALSAM OF WILD CHERRY does not dry up a Cough, and leave the cause behind, as is the case with most preparations, but it loosens and cleanses the lungs, and allays irritation, thus removing the causes of the complaint.

CLERGYMEN, LAWYERS, SINGERS,

and all those whose occupation requires an unusual exercise of the vocal organs, will find this the ONLY PREPARATION which will effectually and instantaneously relieve their difficulties.

Beware of Counterfeits.

Remember that the genuine Wistar's Balsam has on the outside wrapper the signature of "I. BUTTS," and the printed name of the proprietors, "SETH W. FOWLE & SONS, BOSTON." All others are base imitations. Examine the wrapper carefully before purchasing.

One Dollar a Bottle. Six Bottles for Five Dollars.

PREPARED BY
SETH W. FOWLE & SONS, Boston, Mass.,
And sold by Druggists and Dealers generally.

MONEY TO LEND.

The undersigned has a few thousand dollars of private funds which he is prepared to lend on mortgages, on improved farms.

D. W. DUMBLE,
January 1871. 1-tf.

WILLIAM TOOLE,

Being about to REMOVE his Manufacturing Establishment from the Ashburnham Mill Race to his own Factory in course of erection,

On Murray Street, Immediately West of the Drill Shed,

Where he is fitting up with almost entire NEW MACHINERY, NEW MEN of long city experience, and, in fact, New Everything, begs to return thanks to his numerous town and country patrons for the very liberal patronage which he has enjoyed for the past fifteen years, and hopes by constant attention to business and fair, liberal treatment of customers, to continue in the enjoyment of the same. He would also intimate to his country friends, that he is manufacturing a few of

The Celebrated McKenzie Fanning Mills,

THE BEST MILL IN THE DOMINION,

Which he will sell at a very moderate price, and take in exchange any kind of FARM PRODUCE.

Peterboro, Feb. 9, 1870. 6

PHOTOGRAPHY!

Studio on Hunter Street West!

THE VERY BEST QUALITY OF

Photographs at the most Reasonable Rates

All sizes, from minature to life, either Plain or finished in

CARBON, SIPIA, INDIA INK, OIL OR WATER COLORS.

Parties can rely on Promptness.

Albums, Frames, &c., Always on Hand!

☞ Special attention to children.

☞ Inducements offered to families.

GEO. B. SPROULE.

Owing to a steadily increasing business, Mr. Sproule would request as a favor, that his customers make engagements for sitting a week or so, if possible, ahead of time, thereby saving a great deal of confusion, and perhaps disappointment.

Peterborough, September 28, 1870. 39

JUST RECEIVED

—AT—

GEORGE TANNERS',

AT THE SIGN OF THE

MAMMOTH CHAIR,

HUNTER STREET.

THE PATENT HAMMOCK FOLDING CHAIR!

This Chair was introduced to the public in Montreal in August last, and since that time has merited great attention wherever it has been introduced for its

COMFORT, DURABILITY AND CHEAPNESS,

It being retailed from $2.50 upwards. Call and see it; and in the meantime you can look through the largest and

Best Stock of General Furniture

EVER ON SALE IN THE TOWN OF PETERBORO.

THE UNDERTAKING BUSINESS

Is also more complete than ever, with a good supply of READY-MADE COFFINS.

N. B.—The subscriber wishes to give the Geniuses of this town and vicinity a gentle hint not to encroach on the manufacture of the Patent Hammock Folding Chair, as it is no humbug, but patented by Mr. Willoughby, Clerk, and I have purchased the sole right for this County from J. D. Mayer, the executive proprietor.

GEO. TANNER.

Peterboro, March 7, 1870. 9

WILSON, BOWMAN & CO.

Hamilton, Ontario

MANUFACTURERS OF THE CELEBRATED

LOCKMAN SEWING MACHINE,

Take pleasure in announcing that the popularity of the Sewing Machine manufactured by them is still on the increase. They are now turning them out at the rate of 600 per month and yet have been compelled within the last two weeks to increase their facilities to a capacity of one thousand per month.

The Lockman Machine, from its capacity to sew the heaviest fabrics with linen thread, as well as the finest cambrics with No. 150 Cotton, is pre-eminently the Farmer's Favorite Family Friend.

It is so exceedingly simple in its parts, and so strongly and durably made, that it does not require a mechanical genius for its management.

The manufacturers challenge the world to produce its equal, and yet its price is from Forty to Fifty per cent. Lower than that of any other first-class Shuttle Lock-stitch Sewing Machine.

EVERY MACHINE IS WARRANTED.

☞ Sole Agent for the County of Peterborough—

T. DONNELLY,
George Street

P. S.—ROOMS OVER THE STORE.
Peterboro, May 11, 1870. 16

PLAIN AND FANCY PRINTING IN ALL STYLES

EXECUTED IN A SUPERIOR STYLE,

At the "Examiner" Office, Simcoe St. Peterboro.

Notice.

IMPOUNDED

Two Devon Red Bulls, 1 year old. The smallest one all red; the largest one red with white spots on his belly and a white spot on each thigh and a white spot on his tail. Which will be sold at my premises on the

Seventh Day of July, 1871,

At the hour of One o'clock, p. m.

MATTHEW WALTON,
Pound-keeper.

Lot No. 6, 13th Con. N. Monaghan.
13-3ins.

BOARD AND LODGING.

MRS. DAVIES Boarding House has re-opened on Simcoe street, where good board and lodging can be furnished for gentlemen.

T. W. DAVIS.

June 29, 1870. 36-1y

FARM FOR SALE.

The subscriber offers for Sale his Farm, North half of Lot 29 in the

13th Concession of Smith,

Containing 100 Acres. There are about 60 Acres improved and in a good state of cultivation. On the premises are a Comfortable Log House, Log Barn, Stables, and Sheds; a Good Well and other accommodations. For terms and particulars apply to

JAMES IRWIN,
Proprietor.

Lakehurst P. O.

BUTCHER'S Lightning Fly Killer

Butcher's Dead Shot for Bed Bugs.

TRY THEM AND SLEEP IN PEACE

STOVES, TINWARE &c

At the Giant T.

Cooking, Parlor and Box Stoves, CHEAP

A large stock of LUMBERMEN'S FURNISHINGS, on which a liberal discount will be made.

COAL OIL to the trade at reduced prices

ROOFING IN TIN AND GALVANIZED IRON, also EAVE-TROUGHING AND PIPING

Done by Practical Men

Gas Fitting, Steam Fitting,

AND PLUMBING.

Also Agent for, and manufacturer of

CALCUTT'S PATENT TUBULAR DRUM HEATER.

The most Economical in the Dominion, by the use of which 50 per cent wood can be saved. Call and see them.

THOMAS LANNIN,
Practical Tin & Copper Smith
George St. Peterborough.

Sept. 26, 1870. 16-1yr

Fine English Camphor

The surest preventative against moths, and large supply on hand.

NO BATH COMPLETE

WITHOUT A SPONGE.

A GOOD HONEY-COMB SPONGE

From the Mediterranean may be obtained at the subscribers.

CARBOLIC SOAP

For Toilet Purposes.

CARBOLIC SOAP

For Washing Rooms, Bedsteads, Blankets, &c.

CARBOLIC ACID!

The most powerful disinfectant of modern times, not only neutralizing but destroying miasmata, &c.

CARBOLIC POWDER

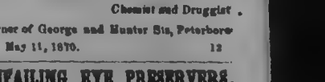
For Sprinkling in Cellars, &c. It is also very useful for destroying pediculi in dogs, calves, &c., being safe and effectless.

May all be obtained Pure and Genuine, at

DOCTOR TAYLOR'S,
Chemist and Druggist
Corner of George and Hunter Sts, Peterboro

May 11, 1870. 12

UNFAILING EYE PRESERVERS.



LAZURUS, MORRIS & Co's

CELEBRATED

Perfected Spectacles

AND EYE GLASSES.

The large and increasing sales of these Perfected Glasses is a sure proof of their superiority. We were satisfied that they would be appreciated here as elsewhere, and that the reality of the advantages offered to wearers of our beautiful lenses, viz: the ease and comfort, the assured and needed ascertained improvement of the sight, and the brilliant assistance they give to all cases, were in themselves so apparent on trial, that the result could not be otherwise than it has been in the almost general adoption of our Celebrated Perfected Spectacles by the residents of this locality.

With a full knowledge of the value of the assertion, we claim that they are the most perfect optical aids ever manufactured. To those needing Spectacles, we afford at all times an opportunity of procuring the best and most desirable.

DR W. H TAYLOR

Corner of George and Hunter Streets,

Has always on hand a full assortment, suitable for every difficulty.

We take occasion to notify the public that we employ no pedlars, and to caution them against those pretending to have our goods for sale.

Peterboro, February 8, 1871.

DARLEY'S

ARABIAN OIL,

FOR HORSES AND CATTLE.

A NEVER-FAILING REMEDY.

THIS valuable preparation combines all the medicinal virtues of those articles which long experience has proved to possess the most safe and efficient properties for the cure of Fresh Wounds, Sprains, Bruises, Galls of all kinds, Cracked Heels, Ring Bone, Spavin Callus, Fistula, Sweeney, External Poison Scratches or Grease, Strains, Lameness, Mang Whitlows, Corns, Sand Cracks, Foundere Feet, Hora Distemper, Swellings, and man other diseases which horses and cattle ar subject to.

This celebrated Liniment has been used for many years, and its curative properties thoroughly tested, and it is conceded to be the cheapest and most reliable remedy for all external complaints ever offered to the public—it never fails when timely used and faithfully applied.

To be had of all Druggists and Country Merchants throughout the Dominion. Price 25c. per bottle.

NORTHROP & LYMAN
Newcastle, O

Flax! Flax!!

Farmers intending to grow flax will please apply for their seed early. Seed supplied and payment taken in flax by calling on

SAMUEL TAYLOR
or H. CALCUTT.

I would beg to call the attention of farmers that I have a machine for pulling Flax, which will pull 4 acres a day. I will let the machine and send a man with it for $2 per day. By the assistance of the puller, Flax is the cheapest crop harvested. For information I would refer you to—Jonathan Stephenson, Smith; W. Milburn, Smith; J. Farnell, Smith; A. Scott Smith; I. Beck Otonabee; W. Rutherford Otonabee.

SAMUEL TAYLOR,
Flax Mill,
Ashburnham

Ashburnham, March, 1871. 11-2mos

THOS. MENZIES,

BANKER AND BROKER,

PETERBORO, ONT.

Buys and Sells New York and Sterling Exchange, Bank Stocks, Gold, Silver, Greenbacks, &c. &c. He also sells Drafts for any amount on England, Ireland, Scotland, France, Belgium, Germany, Switzerland, Italy, Denmark, Sweden & Norway, Russia, Poland and California, and all parts of the United States.

He has a large amount of the NEW CANADIAN SILVER on hand, for sale. Bring your U. S. Silver and get it exchanged for Canadian, at the [illegible]

Peterboro, July 5th, [illegible]

Also Agent for [illegible] AND CHOICE LINE OF [illegible]

The Peterborough Examiner

A WEEKLY

POLITICAL, AGRICULTURAL,

AND

FAMILY NEWSPAPER,

IS PUBLISHED

EVERY THURSDAY MORNING.

Terms $1.50 per annum in Advance.

EVERY DESCRIPTION OF BOOK AND JOB PRINTING executed at this office, in a superior style, and at low rates.

☞ Particular attention given to Ornamental Printing in Colors, Attractive Posters, &c.

All orders for Job Printing forwarded to this office will be punctually and strictly attended to.

JAMES HALL,

SHERIFF, Office in the Court House, Peterborough.

EDG. PEARSE,

COUNTY Treasurer and Clerk. Office in the Court House, Peterboro. 6

EDG. PEARSE,

OFFICIAL ASSIGNEE. Office — Court House, Peterborough. 6-1y

C. A. WELLER,

CLERK of the Peace. Office on Simcoe St., 16

C. A. WELLER,

COUNTY Attorney. Office on Simcoe St. 20

C. A. WELLER,

BARRISTER, Attorney, Solicitor, &c.— Office—Simcoe Street, Peterborough.

MR. JOHN BURNHAM,

BARRISTER, Attorney at Law, Solicitor in Chancery, Conveyancer, &c. Office— over T. Chanter's Store, Hunter Street, Peterborough, Ont. 20

GEORGE EDMISON,

ATTORNEY at Law, Solicitor in Chancery, Conveyancer, &c., &c. Office over Mr. John Fletcher's Boot and Shoe Store, directly opposite Mr. Clinton's, George Street, Peterborough.

Peterboro', Feb. 17th, 1864. 7

W. H. MOORE,

BARRISTER, Attorney at Law, Solicitor in Chancery, Conveyancer, &c. Office corner of George and Hunter Streets, McKellar & Cameron's old stand.

MONEY TO LOAN on easy terms, on land security. Mortgage bought.

Peterboro, April 6, 1869. 14

BENNISTOUN, FAIRBAIRN & CASSELS,

BARRISTERS, &c.,

Hunter Street, S Peterborough.

JOHN GREEN,

BARRISTER, Attorney at Law, Solicitor in Chancery, Conveyancer, &c. Office over the Ontario Drug Store, Scott's block, corner of George and Simcoe Streets.

Peterboro Dec. 1st, 1869. 48

GEO. T. LEONARD,

ATTORNEY-AT-LAW, SOLICITOR IN Chancery &c. Peterborough. 37

S. D. CRAWFORD, M. D., C. M.,

MEMBER of Royal College of Surgeons, England; Licentiate Government Medical Board; Late resident Cassalis Lying-in-Hospital, Dublin. Ryan's Buildings, Market Square, Peterboro. 7

DR. LOTD,

CORONER for the Counties of Peterborough and Victoria. Office and residence at Lakefield. 47

GEORGE BURNHAM, M. D.

GRADUATE of Bellevue Hospital Medical College, N. Y.; University of Victoria College Canada, and Licentiate of Nova Scotia, Physician, Surgeon and Accoucheur.

Office and residence,—Near the Corner of Brock and George Streets, Peterborough.

Peterboro, May 27, 1869. 43

D. PENTLAND,

DENTIST, would respectfully inform the public that he is now prepared to EXTRACT TEETH WITHOUT PAIN, by the aid of Nitrous Oxide Gas, a very pleasant and parfectly safe remedy.

Peterboro, November 26, 1866. 48

W. COULTER,

DEALER in Genuine Drugs, Chemicals, Patent Medicines, Perfumery, Paints, Oils Dye Stuffs, Hair, Nail and Tooth Brushes, Spices, Ointments, Essences, Fancy Soaps, &c George Street, Peterboro. 40

RUSH & BUCKETT,

VETERINARY SURGEONS, No. 6 Henburn's Block, George street, Peterboro Horse and Cattle Medicines kept constantly on hand. Horses taken under treatment on easy terms.

ALEX. McNEIL,

LICENSED Auctioneer for the Counties of Peterborough and Victoria, and Townships of Cavan and South Monaghan

GEORGE READ,

ISSUER of Marriage Licenses, Clerk Division Court, Township Clerk, &c., Keene, Otonabee. 20

JAMES McLEAN,

INSURANCE Agent, Issuer of Marriage Licenses, and Commissioner for taking Affidavits.

Cavan, Mount Pleasant, C. W. 30

CABINET-MAKING.

E. POOLE, Cabinet maker, Upholsterer and Undertaker, George Street, Peterboro.

JAMES STEVENSON,

DEALER in Stoves, Tin-Ware, &c, &c. George Street, Peterborough. 16

ROBERT PATTERSON,

DEALER in Boots and Shoes. Spanish Sole Leather constantly on hand.

Nicholls and Hall's old stand, Simcoe Street, Peterborough.

GEORGE MITCHELL,

DEALER in Groceries and Provisions, &c. Cash paid for all kinds of country produce George Street, Peterborough, 15

EDMUND S. VINDIN

COMMISSION, Shipping, Forwarding and General Agent, Lumber Merchant, &c — Office, Corner of Walton and Ontario Streets, Port Hope.

BANK OF TORONTO.

CORNER of Water and Simcoe Streets, Peterboro. Interest allowed on Deposits

J. MURRAY SMITH, Manager

ROBERT WALTON.

SADDLERY, Dealer in stoves, Tinware, &c., George Street, Peterboro'. 18

J. R. McCULLOUGH, M. D.,

Graduate of Trinity College, Dublin, and Licentiate of the Dominion of Canada,

Physician, Surgeon, Accoucheur, &c.,

AND

Late Surgeon of the U. S. Army & Navy,

Will be found at his office or at his residence, at all hours of the Day and Night, except when out on professional business.

☞ N. B.—All communications strictly confidential. ☜

RESIDENCE and OFFICE—Next Door To Wm. McDonald's Hotel, and two doors East of Hall's Foundry, Simcoe Street.

Visits to the Corporation One Dollar, Only.

VISITS TO THE COUNTRY MODERATE.

☞ ADVICE TO ALL FREE. ☜

Simcoe Street, Peterboro, Ont.

September 3, 1868. 36

THOMAS LANNIN,

PRACTICAL TIN & COPPER SMITH, Bell Hang'r, Steam and Gas Fitter, Plumber, &c. Dealer in stoves, Iron Beds Baths, Refrigerators, Water Coolers, Filters, Pumps, &c.

Queens Stairs,

Peterboro, 1st June, 1870. 22

JOHN COONEY,

NURSERYMAN,

DEALER in Fruit and Ornamental Trees, Shrubs and Roses, and all kinds of Nursery stock. A very choice collection of Strawberry Plants on hand.

Orders by mail promptly attended to.

JOHN COONEY.

Peterboro, July 21, 1869. 29

ONTARIO BANK,

PETERBOROUGH.

SAVINGS DEPARTMENT.

From this date until further notice, the rate of interest in the above department will be

FIVE PER CENT.

PER ANNUM.

G. E. SHAW, Manager.

Peterboro', April 1st, 1868. 14-tf

GEO. T. LEONARD.

ATTORNEY-AT-LAW, SOLICITOR IN Chancery &c. Peterborough. 37

GEORGE ALLEN,

GUN & WHITE-SMITH,

Hunter Street, Peterborough,

BEGS to inform the public that all kinds of repairing is done on the shortest notice, such as Guns, Stocking, &c., Pistols and White-smithing. Sewing Machines also neatly repaired.

☞ Shop and residence adjoining the Union Hotel.

Peterboro, October 25, 1865. 43

CORE DISTRICT MUTUAL

FIRE INSURANCE COMPANY!

HEAD OFFICE, GALT, ONTARIO.

CHARTERED A. D., 1836.

ASSETS, $160,000 | LOSSES PAID, $416,000

POLICIES ISSUED, 15,395.

ALL kinds of Property Insured at rates from 15 to 20 per cent lower than Stock Companies. Claims settled with fairness and liberality. Losses PROMPTLY PAID.

ROBERT McLEAN, Esq., Inspector and General Agent.

THOMAS H. SIMMONS, Esq., Secretary.

R. W. ERRETT, Agent, Peterborough.

November 4, 1869. 46-1y

TO THE FARMERS

OF THE

COUNTY OF PETERBOROUGH.

The undersigned begs to intimate that he is again prepared to pay the HIGHEST CASH PRICE for

Oats, Pease, Barley and Rye,

at his New Grain Warehouse in Ashburnham, situated nearly opposite his old stand.

His friends and acquaintances are invited to give him a call as usual.

D. SUTHERLAND.

Ashburnham, Sep 20 1869 12

STAGE.

BETWEEN

Norwood and Peterboro'

The Stage leaves Norwood every

Monday, Wednesday and Friday,

at 7 o'clock a. m.

RETURNING, leaves Peterboro' at 2.30 p.m.

Office in Norwood, Johnson's Hotel.

Office in Peterboro', Stewart House.

This Stage connects with the stage for Blairton, Marmora, Hastings, Warkworth and Colborne.

J. A. JOHNSON, Proprietor

23-tf

SCOTTISH IMPERIAL

FIRE INSURANCE COMPANY.

CAPITAL - - £1,000,000.

Head Office—50 West George Street, Glasgow.

CANADA BRANCH—Head Office, No. 86 St. Francois Xavier Street, Montreal

WALTER BEAL, Agent for Peterboro.

OFFICE—SIMCOE STREET. 20-6ins

DAILY LINE

TO

ROCHESTER.

The Superb new Lake Upper Stare Cabin Steamer.

NORSEMAN,

Carrying United States and Canadian Mails and Express

Leaves Port Hope every Morning

FOR ROCHESTER

At 9 o'clock on arrival of Grand Trunk Railway Trains from East and West.

RETURNING

Leaves Port of Rochester (Charlotte) every evening at 9 o'clock (except Saturday), when she leaves at 10 p. m. for Brighton.)

This is the favourite summer route from Toronto to Rochester, Albany, &c. The cheapest and quickest route from points East of Port Hope on the Grand Trunk, to Rochester, Buffalo, &c. The favourite route to Avon and Clifton Springs, &c.

Passengers and freight take cars along-side steamer at Rochester Landing.

Connection made at Cobourg each Port Hope with Royal Mail Line Steamers from Hamilton and Montreal.

Address R. C. CARTER, PORT HOPE.

15

GRAND TRUNK RAILWAY.

TRAINS LEAVE

PORT HOPE STATION

AS FOLLOWS:

GOING EAST.

Express (day)..... 9.30 a.m.
Mixed..... 1.00 p.m.
Express (night)..... 9.30 p.m.

GOING WEST.

Express (night)..... 1.30 p.m.
Mixed..... 3.00 p.m.
Express (day)..... 10.30 a.m.

Trains leave on Railroad time, which is about twenty-three minutes ahead of Port Hope time

Warranted correct by the Company's time Table

Montreal Ocean Steamship Co.

Steam to Liverpool, Londonderry and Glasgow.

Rates of Passage from Peterboro':

CABIN, - - $76 to $80. STEERAGE - $30.

Return Tickets for 6 months at reduced fares

For Through Passage Tickets, Staterooms, and every information, apply to

GEORGE A. COX, Agent.

Canadian Express Co'y.

Peterboro', Nov. 7th, 1866. 47

GREAT WESTERN RAILWAY

OF CANADA.

TORONTO LINE.

TORONTO, &c., TO HAMILTON.

Accommodation trains leave Yonge street Station at 7.00 a.m., 8.50 p.m. and 6.55 p.m.

Express at 12.55 p.m.

HAMILTON, &c., TO TORONTO.

Accommodation trains leave Hamilton at 7.15 a.m., 9.30 a.m and 7.25 p.m.

Express at 3.45 p.m.

PIANOS,

MELODEONS, ORGANS

D. PENTLAND,

is now Agent for A. & S. Nordheimer for the sale of the following celebrated Pianos:—

Chickering & Sons'; Steinway & Sons'; Dunham & Sons'; Haines Brothers'; Ernest Gabler; and J. W. Vose's.

Also, for the world-wide Celebrated Organs and Melodeons—Geo. A. Prince & Co., Buffalo; Mason & Hamlin's, Boston.

Instruction Books for Piano & Organ, Sheet Music, &c always on hand.

REFERENCES—Mr. F. Bell, Organist, St. John's Church, Peterboro; Mr D. D. Galbaly, Chorister, Canada Presbyterian Church, Peterboro; Dr. J. I. Davidson, Precentor, St. Andrew' Church, Peterboro; Dr. Taylor, Peterboro.

Peterboro, April 5th, 1871. 14

THE CANADIAN

BANK OF COMMERCE

CORNER OF

Hunter and Water Streets, Peterboro'

☞ Interest allowed on Deposits.

J. A. HALL, Manager

Peterboro, July 27, 1870. 30

THOS. MENZIES,

Now being the authorized Ticket Agent for the Grand Trunk Railway, can supply the public with

Tickets to all parts of Canada,

Also to any part of the United States.

Charges the same as at any of the Stations on the G. T. R. So get your Tickets before leaving Peterboro, and save all trouble on your journey.

THOS. MENZIES, George Street.

Peterboro July 3, 1870 13

MONEY TO LOAN,

In Small or Large Sums on easy terms

GEO. T. LEONARD, Solicitor, &c

May 23rd, 1871. 21-6ins

PASTURAGE.

GOOD PASTURAGE,

Apply to

J. EDWARDS

May, 1871 20-tf.

Peterborough Examiner.

$1.50 PER ANNUM, IF PAID IN ADVANCE.] "Prove all things—hold fast that which is good." [$2.00 PER ANNUM, IF NOT PAID IN ADVANCE.

VOL. XVI. PETERBOROUGH, THURSDAY, JULY 13, 1871. NO. 28.

Select Poetry.

Time.

Tis—all my grief can find in Time,
That trains the heart and wins the eye.
And gives each ardent sense to stray
From rapture to satiety—
Wealth, glory, grandeur, throned on high,
And that which melts the heart of stone,
The magic beam of beauty's eye;
But time glides on—and all are gone.

And then, whom Heaven's high will denies
To soar above thy hollow maze,
For thee I'll dare a lesser emprize,
In village cot or mountain glen,
Where, loving and beloved again,
Thy hopes, thy heart, may rest in ease:
Oh! what is life! time flies, and then
Death speeds his dart, and both are gone.

And thou, vile wretch, forbear to weep,
Thy misery need not last for aye,
Why feed the thought that else must sleep,
Why waste in hopeless grief away?
Descend in thy darker day
If friends are fled, and thou alone,
Thy God will prove a firmer stay:
Seek Him—time flies, and thou art gone.

Oh! where are all the grands of earth,
Love's melting smile, young beauty's bloom
The pomp of wealth, the pride of birth—
Are these remembered in the tomb?
No: sunk in cold oblivion's gloom
They lie—their very names unknown;
The mouldering marble tells their doom,—
They lived—time fled, and they are gone.

So thou shalt fall: but dost thou fear
To sleep in peace beneath the sod?
Dash from thy soul that empty dream,
And know thyself, and know thy God,—
No earth nor time restrain his rod;
And thou, a few short summers flown,
Then treds't the path thy fathers trod,
Thy doom is fixed, and hope is gone.

Chained to the dust from whence ye spring,
Why thus from you bright skies be driven?
Oh, turn to your eternal King,—
Believe—repent, and be forgiven.
Haste, seize the proffered boon of Heaven,
While life and light are yet thine own;
Swift as the passing cloud of even,
Time glides along, and thou art gone!

DALE.

Choice Literature.

Was He a Murderer?

"Come in, Tom, and have something."

"No, thank you, Randall, I guess not; I don't feel the need of anything; and besides, I don't often drink at all, now."

The speaker hesitated somewhat while enunciating this sentence, and fingered the chain of his watch in rather a nervous manner.

"Well, I'm glad to hear you've given up the use of drink," responded the first speaker; "for to tell the truth, I have known the time when you took rather more than was good for you."

"Randall when I took the first drop, I took more than was good for me—don't you know that?"

"Oh,, I don't know but a man's just as well without it, if he thinks so," was the reluctant, evasive reply. "But I always take a drink when I want to, and I'm none the worse for it. Yes, sir; if I feel like taking a drink of liquor, I go and take it."

A not over pleasant silence ensued, and lasted for a few moments.

The two men were standing upon the steps of one of those frail past holes which may be found in nearly every village of our soil—a cheerless, uninviting-looking building, with the word "Grocery" over the door.

Albert Randall had just returned from the far West, on a brief visit to his native village, and this evening, while walking along the street near the spot spoken of, had met Thomas Perkins, a former warm friend.

To avoid the passers upon the sidewalk they had stepped up nearer the den, and the sentences we have chronicled were the closing ones of a conversation that had lasted for several minutes. It was plain to see that Randall was displeased at the hesitating refusal of his former comrade, and he did not endeavour to conceal his pique when he spoke again.

"We used to drink together when we met, Tom," he remarked, "and you enjoyed it as much as I did. But perhaps you don't think it worth your while to call back the memories of former days."

Oh, Thomas Perkins, for one moment of true moral courage now!—for power to say that the greatest foe of the human race shall triumph over you no more!

But Thomas was weak. He remembered the friendship that had existed between him and Randall in former times, and saw how unmistakeably the latter would be offended if he refused the well intended invitation to drink. He thought only of this—feared nothing else so much as to offend one whom he might never again meet. And, heedless all that, the monster of former days came back, and when he had recalled such scenes in which they had participated, a sort of fascination came over him. The long years of self-denial were forgotten—his earnest striving after a fuller and nobler manhood, his many resolves that he would never touch the cup again: for liquor always made him passionate, brutal, quarrelsome and dangerous.

"Oh, I don't mind drinking with you," he said in a half apologetic tone, "if there anybody else I would not, because I've been in my good behaviour these three years, and I—I——"

He was going to say he felt more like a man now than in former days, but when he began to call up such reflections his purpose of going into that vile den grew weaker so he shut his teeth closely and walked into the grabbing, Albert Randall leading the way.

It was strange, indeed, that men with any culture, or any aspirations for anything worth having in this life, or beyond, could habitually frequent such a place as this, and imagine they found there any delights.

The room which they entered was crowded but in width by twice the length, a counter running along one side, behind which a few shelves were ranged covered with dust and disparing a quantity of smokers' materials. In addition were a few dollars' worth of sweet meats, several dozen pack of cards, and a few sickly looking articles of a kindred nature.

Near the end of the counter stood a dilapidated screen, which had evidently been broken and repaired times innumerable, and near the screen behind the counter, a brutal, brutal, well dressed being was standing to catch the mysterious winks and nods by which his business was principally conducted.

Although it was not yet dusk, some half a dozen men and boys, ranging in age from active to dizzy, were seated upon a rough bench which ran along behind the stove, some at its sunshiny, listening to stories told and stories, and keeping up a vigorous fire of tobacco juice upon the nearly clean stove.

Two or three of the party recognized Randall when he entered, and opening to shake his ever-ready hand. The remainder continued to fill the stifling air yet more closely with malicious tobacco fumes. While exchanging greeting with his new-found acquaintance, Randall moved behind the screen, and was followed by Perkins.

"Well, Tom, what'll you take?"

"I'll leave it all to you," was the answer, "but let what you like—I'll take the same."

"Well, then, in honor of your good luck, we'll take something particularly mild. Let's have some porter."

The dark, vile-tasting compound was placed before them, and Randall drank his off at once; Perkins raised the glass, hesitated, while his hand trembled.

Oh, that some merciful power could have given him a glimpse, through the dark lapse, of the fearful future which lay beyond! But time it might be too late. If alone outside the building, he dared not refuse the persuasive of mistaken friendship, he surely would not find greater strength now, in the midst of those vile associations.

The liquor was swallowed, and cigars lighted. By this time several of those present had joined Perkins, and were pressing him to join in a game of baggatelle.

"Come on," they urged; "it's dull as can be, and we're about smoked out. One game for the drinks all round, and then home for bed."

Thomas Perkins was no longer master of himself. The porter had done its work, just as surely as rum or gin would have done it. The old appetite was revived with all its recklessness, and he cared no longer for home, or honor, or manhood.

Randall could not remain, for he had another engagement, but he drank another glass with all his friends, and hurried on.

The back room contained a bagatelle table, with utter appliances for ruining young men, and very soon Perkins had forgotten all save the excitement of the game.

An hour passed, drinks had been taken often, and Thomas had now no control of himself. All at once it seemed to him that there was some occasion for a fight; and he at once began striking out right and left, not particular as to whom he made the subject of his assaults.

It was but a natural consequence that he was very soon afterwards gathering himself up from the gutter in front of the saloon, bruised, bleeding, hatless, waistless, his clothing torn, and his ideas most horribly confused. He had merely sense enough to know that he was in no condition to continue the contest, so he set his face towards home, wiping the blood from his battered features, and vowing vengeance on his enemies.

"I ain't drunk," he muttered; "I hain't been drunk for three years, and I only drunk a little to-night, just long of my friend Randall. Most exceedin' fine cuffy, that Randall. Ain't much like the men in here. I'll see about this to-morrow. This ain't over with, not if my name is Tom Perkins. I'll see if I'm to be abused that way."

He reached home in a short time, followed by a crowd of idle boys and men, the latter keeping at a safe distance in the rear.

It was pleasant now, that home, for the terror of strong drink had been vanquished for three years, as all had hoped never to return again. The wife and mother sat at the work table, busily sewing, while her mind was filled with pleasant memories and happy thoughts.

A promising boy of eight was sitting beside his mother, studying his morrow's lesson—which, alas! was never to be learned—looking up now and then to ask a question the which none could answer so satisfactorily as his mother.

Just then the father reached the door, fumbled for some moments at the latch, threw it open, and staggered in. His more acute had been such as to alarm Mrs. Perkins, and appearance was quite sufficient to fill her with horror.

Springing to her feet with a wild cry, she rushed towards her husband.

"Thomas, Thomas, what in the world has happened? Tell me what is the matter!"

"That's what's happened!" was the savage reply. At the same moment he struck her a violent blow full in her face, knocking her senseless to the floor, where, as she lay, he proceeded to vent his drunken fury in kicks.

"Don't, don't, papa," cried the boy who was frightened to the last measure at what he saw. "You'll kill poor mamma, you will, you will!"

The inebriated man left his attack upon the helpless woman, and sprang for the boy. Elvin eluded him for the moment, and fled towards the door, shouting loudly for help.

"Come back here, will you?" the father yelled, with a string of drunken oaths.

But the boy had raised the latch, and in another moment would have been beyond his reach. A chair was within arm's length, and then the madman acted at his son.

With a sharp cry the poor boy fell upon the floor, while Perkins, now apparently transformed into a fiend, struck him blow after blow.

The crowd that followed the drunken man home had not yet quitted the vicinity, and on hearing the boy cry had hurried up. Pushing open the door, they saw a fearful spectacle, and at once understood upon the desperate man.

After a fierce struggle he was overpowered, and placed under guard in another room, where he remained till an officer took him away to the village lockup. Skilful physicians were soon on hand, and everything that could be done for the comfort and restoration of his victims was rendered.

Mrs. Perkins was soon restored to consciousness, and after a careful examination, it was decided that she was not very seriously injured. The bruises she had received were painful, and might confine her to the house for a few days, but no more—so said the physicians.

Poor Elvin never spoke again. He lingered for an hour or two in unconsciousness and then breathed his last.

Albert Randall did not waken next morning very early. On reaching the breakfast-table, where the family whose hospitality he was enjoying had gathered before him, he found them discussing some horrible event of the night before.

"Had you heard of that" one asked as he came towards the table.

"I have heard nothing."

"Not how Tom Perkins got drunk last night, went home from a street fight, and killed his eldest boy, besides lamming his wife so they don't think she can live!"

"Tom Perkins!" he managed to gasp.

It seemed as though the room was suddenly heated till all the air was destroyed, and he gasped in vain for breath. A dark mist came before his vision.

The fearful words which he had heard, rang continually in his ears, and an agonizing consciousness whispered in tones which pierced his soul:

"You are the murderer!"

Almost unconsciously he found himself near the home of Perkins, some strange impulse prompted him to enter. The worn-out and childless woman was sitting up in bed, supported by pillows, some of the pillows and disappearance she had removed about the loop being occupied by liberal bandages.

She extended her hand as the visitor entered, though the sight of that dreadful house cast through his mind coal with an agony of which the most dreadful bodily pain would have been but a pleasure.

He took the proffered hand, while tears glistened on his dungeon-browned, lifted his eyes. How he spoke, or what he said, Randall never remembered; but he did remember the night of Jan. Perkins, it said as it was with the terror of a broken heart.

"He's been played of kind, Randall," she said, "and can do nothing for me here. But you may help Thomas. Heaven pity him! He never would have raised a hand, or even spoken an unkind word, but for the drink. He had not touched it for so long, and we thought he never would again."

The woman's voice faltered, and she gave way to a fresh burst of tears. Albert could remain no longer—with a wild call unless he left the house, and wandered forth again into the open air. Like one of old, the burden his sin-pardon cry was: "My burden is greater than I can bear." Too late he realized the terrible nature of the viper with which he had been dallying. But it was not too late to adopt all possible and precautionary measures for the future.

Without much difficulty he succeeded in gaining admittance to the lock-up. He found a sober, wretched, heart-broken man

We need not relate the interview which followed. There was little of bitterness or blame on the part of Perkins. The distress and penitence of his friends were scarcely less extreme than his own.

Before they separated the two men had pledged themselves solemnly to each other and called Heaven to witness that they would never again touch the accursed beverage. With the memory of that fearful night to guard them, we need scarcely say that the pledge is unbroken. Thomas Perkins is still an inmate of the State Prison, and for years to come, the decree of the law consigns him to the same living tomb. But earnest and noble men are laboring to secure his freedom, and let us hope they may succeed.

Mrs. Perkins knows not the source whence she receives the annual remittance, still sent to Keep Lorrell and remaining children in comfortable circumstances, nor can she dream of the cause which is operating thus in her favor. But if she could look far across the western prairies, she might see a man in whose breast, the one silence is still whispering: "Murderer!"

Heligoland—A Description of the Island Coveted by Prussia.

A correspondent of the Pall Mall Gazette writes: "I see the Heligoland question has turned up again, and a few words of description may not be without interest to your readers, for there is no place like it on the face of the earth. It is a tall red bluff, pleasantly set out of the watery world a sand-bank on one side. On the sand, and part of the way up the hill, is the town or rather, village. It was inhabited in former times by pilots and wreckers, but now they have degenerated into lodging-house keepers. Heligoland is the Margate of Hamburg. Thither stream the citizens of that rich city to gamble at rouge-et-noir (at least they did when I was there), and to enjoy sea-bathing. There is a regular season in the summer months, and sometimes many passengers that are brought in the steamer are obliged to sleep on board, and to go back again—the island being full. Every house probably takes in lodgers; but then there are not very many houses. The bathers resort to a neighboring sand-bank, a sister island, which the Governor, it will be remembered, some time ago stocked with rabbits, which, by eating up the grass that held the sand together, so that the Heligolanders became furious, and talked of shaking off the English yoke. However, the rabbits were all shot, and the islanders were pacified, and nothing more was said of their old Frisian Constitution. Their language is German, but they detest that nation more even than they do ourselves. They are not English, though they are English subjects; they are not German, though they speak German. They are Heligolanders, the noblest of created beings; all foreigners are dilt, which, in their homely dialect, means dirt. The top of the island hill is flat, and, as well as I can remember, about the size of the Green Park. There is a well known story of a man from the Far West—and therefore accustomed only to see land on a large scale—who paid a visit to England. When asked how he enjoyed himself, he replied very much, only he never went out at night for fear of falling off. In Heligoland there is really a danger of such an accident happening to any one who, from the force of habit, should continue to walk too long in and one direction.

A good story is told of an eccentric old gentleman, who, although occasionally addicted to the habit of swearing, was still punctilious in regard to saying grace at the table, and this duty he never omitted on any occasion. The story runs that on a certain occasion, the old gentleman invited a sea captain, a jolly old weather-beaten tar of his acquaintance, to dine with him. They sat down to dinner, and the old gentleman, according to custom, commenced saying grace; but the captain, whose attention had been diverted by the moment, hearing the old gentleman spark, thought he was addressing him, and turned to him with:

"What did you say, 'Squire?"

"Why, d—n it, man, I am saying grace."

CURE FOR ULCERS.—A correspondent of the Country Gentleman narrates the cure of a magnificent ulcer on a neighboring woman's ankle, by the application of dried clay as a poultice. She applied the dried clay almost constantly for about six months and a perfect cure was resulted. The first effect of the preparation was to remove inflammation and relieve pain, and now she says there is no scar remaining, and her limb, which was stiff and lame, is as elastic as when she was a girl. The cure is effected on the principle of absorption.

A woman who never owned a Bible supposed she was quoting it when she greeted her son, who came home to keep Thanksgiving; in the following words: "Here comes the fatted calf."

A new pair of kids—twins.

Why is a vowel like beer? Because its no use till its drawn.

A bachelor compares a shirt-button to life, because it often hangs by a thread.

The fellow who called tight boots comfortable decided his position by saying they made a man forget all his other miseries.

"Mamma," said a little boy who had been sent to dry a towel before the fire, "is it done when its burnt?"

"My dear," remarked Punch, in an expression used by a man and wife at the commencement of a quarrel.

Legal Romance.

The Tichborne case has occupied acres of newspaper space and bewildered those who attempt to get through the story almost beyond recovery. A neat outline, therefore, may not be unacceptable.

The case comes on which is now being tried in the Court of Common Pleas, supposably by the counsel to be one of the most remarkable cases that ever came before Court of Justice. The claimant to the Tichborne Baronetcy and estates professes to be Roger Tichborne, the eldest son of Sir James Doughty Tichborne, Bart., who died in June 1868. Sir James had two sons—Roger, who was borne in 1829, and James, who was born ten years afterwards. The father and mother did not live very happily together, and the education of the children was somewhat neglected. Roger was born in Paris and lived there until his seventeenth year, when he was sent to finish his education at Stonyhurst College. In 1847 he entered the army, and served for four years in the 4th Dragoon Guards. In January 1853, however, his love for hunting and other manly sports led him to sell out and go to Valparaiso. To relieve himself in hunting and shooting until April, 1854, when he embarked on board a ship called the Bella, at Rio de Janeiro bound for New York. The ship never reached her port, one of her boats was found, bottom up, in the Atlantic, and everybody believed that the ship and all on board had been lost. Lady Tichborne, it is said, still clung to the belief that her son was saved, and in 1868 a sailor, who came to Tichborne House begging, was questioned by her as to whether he ever heard of the Bella or any of her crew having been saved. The sailor replied that while in Australia he had heard a rumor of some of the crew of "a ship which he thought was the Bella" having been picked up at sea and brought to Melbourn. The story is said to have confirmed Lady Tichborne in her conviction that her son was saved, and was living in Australia, and when her husband died, she caused advertisements to be inserted in the Times, and in the Australian papers, offering a reward for the recovery of her eldest son, if he were still alive. In the meantime, her second son James took possession of the title and estate. In February, 1868, he died, and in May his widow gave birth to a posthumous son—Sir Henry Alfred Tichborne, whose guardians are now in possession of the Tichborne estates. At the very time, however, of Sir James Tichborne's death, in the spring of 1868, Lady Tichborne received a letter from Australia, purporting to be written by her long lost son, Roger, stating that he had been picked up by a passing vessel after the loss of the Bella, and that he had since been living in Australia, and asking for money to take him to England. The letter was badly spelt and seemed to have been by an illiterate man Towards the end of the year, Sir Roger, (as he asserts himself to be) arrived in England, accompanied by a black man named Bogle, who had been 24 years his master considered servant, and had received at that uncle's death an annuity of $20 a year, and had emigrated to Australia. This man knew the whole history of the family, and it is alleged by the defendants that he is at the bottom of the plaintiff's appearance, that he saw Lady Tichborne's advertisements for her missing son, and having found some one to personate that son, brought him to England to prosecute his claim. Lady Tichborne was at this time at Paris, and thither Sir Roger went, and was recognized as her son by Lady Tichborne, who made him an allowance of $1,000 a year, while he was prosecuting his claim to the family estates. Other persons of undoubted respectability also recognise the claimant as the Sir Roger who left England in 1853, but others again took a contrary view.

Shortly after his mother's recognition of him, Sir Roger made a formal claim to the estates, and the question, after many delays and much litigation, has come up for trial on an action for ejectment. The plaintiff admits that in appearance he bears hardly any resemblance to the slim lad who was shipwrecked in the Bella; he acknowledges that during his life in Australia he lost the use of the French language, which had once been as familiar to him, as well as the education and manners of a gentleman. But it is urged in his favour that he has a most extensive knowledge of incidents in the early life of Sir Roger, which it would be almost impossible for an imposter to acquire; and his council, Mr. Sergant Ballantine, in his opening speech mentioned a very singular test to which he was ready to submit. When Roger Tichborne left England, he placed in the hands of Gosford, the steward of the estates, a sealed packet. This packet Gosford still holds unopened; and the plaintiff declares himself ready to state its contents, and abide by the result. The case of the defendant is, and has been stated, that the person calling himself Sir Roger Tichborne is an imposter; that his real name is Houghton; and that he is a Wapping butcher's son; that he has been made use of by the servant Bogle to personate the lost heir, and that it is through this man that he has acquired his knowledge of The Tichborne family and of the early life of the young man who was long believed to lost in the Bella. It should be mentioned that while in Australia Sir Roger, who went by the assumed name of Thomas de Castro, married a domestic servant, an uneducated girl, and has by her several children, two of them sons. He states that eight of the crew of the Bella were saved with him, but he cannot remember any of their names.

Among the witnesses who have been examined on behalf of the plaintiff are James McGann, who acted as regimental sergeant to Roger Tichborne when he was in the Carbineers, twenty years ago, and Colonel Norbury, Major Dyneord, Major-General W. Neville Custance, Captain Sheraton, and Colonel Charles Sawyer, who were brother officers in the regiment with Sir Roger Tichborne. All these witnesses declare that they have no doubt of the claimant's identity, and state that he has mentioned to them numerous little incidents which occured while Sir Roger was in the regiment. Other witnesses are equally positive as to the plaintiff being the veritable Roger Tichborne, and one, an old servant in the Tichborne family, declared that the plaintiff was "no other than Roger Tichborne or else the devil himself." A number of letters written by the claimant have been read in Court, as specimens of his scholarship. They are unremarkable and badly spelt. The word major is spelled "maore," and the pronoun is often represented by a small "i," while insignificant words are honored with capital letters.

If your sister, while tenderly engaged in a tender conversation with a tender sweetheart, asks you to bring a glass of water from an adjoining room, you can start on the errand, but you need not return. You will not be missed, thats certain; we've seen it tried. Don't forget this, little boys.

A Wild Man of the Woods.

An American paper tells the following story:—

Twenty years ago a well-known young man, who then lived in Wilkes County, Tennessee, left his home and family, and had into the neighboring forest, and he has ever since, remained entirely solitary there, holding, with slight and involuntary exceptions, no intercourse with his fellow men. The circumstances happen to be peculiarly favorable for the consummation of such a purpose. A vast primeval forest in the neighborhood covers hundreds of thousands of acres, broken here and there by unfrequent openings, and skirted by but a scanty population. The story of this youthful hermit, as related, is simple, but extraordinary. He is of respectable parentage, was comfortably off, and has many living connections. One day, he was plowing a field on his father's farm, when bad news was brought him. An uncle to whom he had been deeply attached, had suddenly died. Without a word he left the horse standing in the plough, and made directly for the woods. He had then been barely a score of summers, and he is now forty years of age. During the whole period he has lived alone in the wilderness. At first he was naturally pursued, but he plunged into the deepest recesses of the forest, and probably into some cave that he had discovered, managed to evade discovery. For a time he is supposed to have remained in the wildest spots that are most distant from human dwellings. At all events he kept out of sight with great care, until he thought his friends would have become reconciled to his absence, and would cease to follow him. After this, but at long intervals, he was seen nearer home, and on two or three occasions he has exchanged a few words with his kinfolk. The Banner affirms that he was last seen a few weeks ago; that his face is entirely covered with a black beard growing close up to the eyes and flowing down to his middle; that his height and weight, which were formerly those of an average man, have increased so that he is much above the middle size; and that he moved with the cat-like alertness characteristic of the savage, or of those who have long lived apart from and shunned their kind.

The parents of this unfortunate are both living, and, it is mentioned, have left no affectionate devices untried to allure him back to his home, or to civilized existence. But those and all other arts for his reclamation have failed. He is said to have developed a wonderful and animal like quickness of sense and foot, and to have an instinctive knowledge of all designs to watch him. Sharpened by long and continuous exercise, all his faculties are alive to guard him from intrusion and surprise. When he sleeps, it is supposed to be in some remote nest or to all but him inaccessible cave, but he usually ventures on the fringe of the settlements only at night. For some time after his first disappearance his brothers used to go hunting in the mountains, carrying with them several days' provisions, and cherishing the hope of coming up with him. He never, however, suffered them to find him, although food and clothes that were left for him in certain places were taken from time to time, and, they hoped, by himself. One of the brothers, the youngest, has once or twice seen and spoken to him. This was from a distance, "the wild man of the Cedars," as the solitary is called, allowing no near approach. On these occasions his words were few, stern, and unwilling, but quite sensible and coherent. He asked simply not to be interfered with, but to be left to pursue his strange mode of life in peace. It is thought, as a matter of course, that he might be surrounded and captured. But apart from the difficulty and probable danger of this, and from its apparent illegality, his family have been averse to resort to such an extremity, and thus, through their abstention from attempts at coercion and doubtless in part through fear of other dwellers in the neighborhood, the recluse has led his self career in his own fashion without molestation.

Attemt to Recover a treasure of the Sea.

A vessel is about to sail from New York for the purpose of attempting to recover treasure that, for a couple of generations has lain at the bottom of the sea, and which once formed part of the rich freight of a spanish flag-ship. In 1815 a large fleet sailed from Cadiz, in order to reduce to submission the then insubordinate revolutionist Republics of South America. On board of the flag-ship was not only the Admiral of the fleet, but also the paymaste of the forces with gold and silver coin to the value of $18,000,000. After arriving on the American coast and fighting several unsuccessful battles the attempt to subjugate the Republics was abandoned, and it was determined to return to Spain. Before leaving, however, a proclamation was issued, inviting loyalists who wished to go back to Europe to

NOTICE.

We the undersigned Merchants of the Town of Peterborough, agree to close our places of Business, at One o'clock, p. m.,

On Thursday's,

During the Months of

July and August,

Commencing on Thursday, July 13th.

Nicholls & Hall, Clarion, Henderson & Co. | Dry Goods. Clarion.
John Hopkins. Wm. Mercer.
W. G. Thompson & Co. Doran & Osborne.
W. Fairweather & Co. A. W. Lusher & Co.
Johnston & Dixon. I. Robinson & Co.
Graves & Fowler. James Bust.
John Elder. F. Lemay.

Peterborough, July 13th, 1871. 28-tf.

NOTICE.

APPLICATION will be made to the Legislature of the Province of Ontario at its next sitting for an Act to repeal so much of the Second Clause of a Bill entitled, "An Act to "enable the Municipalities along the line of "the Grand Junction Railway Company, to "grant aid thereto and legalize certain By-laws "granting aid to the said Company." As relates to the Passing of a proposed By-law of the County of Peterborough, entitled, "A By "law to provide for the aiding and assisting "in the construction of the Grand Junction "Railway, and the Peterborough and Haliburton Railway, and for the issuing of Debentures therefor to the amount of One Hundred "Thousand Dollars, &c.

Peterborough, July 6, 1871. 30

TO LET.

In the Village of Bobcaygeon, a

Shop and Dwelling House!

In the best business stand. Terms reasonable.

Apply to JOSEPH BROWN.

Bobcaygeon, July 11th 1871. 28-tf.

To Builders and Contractors!

Tenders will be received by the Building Committee, at the Office of the County Clerk, until TUESDAY, the

15th Day of August Next,

For the Building of a New

Registry Office,

For the County of Peterborough, according to the Government Plans and Specification, which may be seen at the County Clerk's Office. The Contractor to furnish all materials. The lowest or any tender not necessarily accepted.

Peterborough, July 7th, 1871. 28-td.

(Review please copy.)

ESTRAYED.

Came into the premises of the Subscriber, a large GRIZZLY COW, a LIGHT RED HEIFER, with small white star on forehead, and a DARK RED STEER. The owner is requested to pay expenses and take them away.

J. EDWARDS.

Peterboro, 11th July, 1871. 28-3in.

Township of Dummer!

NOTICE

Is hereby given, that upon Saturday, the Nineteenth day of August, at its meeting to be held in the

AGRICULTURAL HALL IN WARSAW,

The Council of the Corporation of Township of Dummer intends to pass a By-law to legalize the following road, the survey of which is as follows:

Commencing on the Eastern limit of the allowance for road between the third and fourth Concessions of said Township, at a point sixty-one links Northerly from the South West angle of the twenty-fourth Lot, in said fourth Concession; th'n North seventy-six degrees thirty minutes East, thirteen chains and fifty-four links parallel to the Southern limit of said Lot; then North fifty-six degrees fifteen minutes East, one chain and eighty links; then North eighty-three degrees East, one chain and thirty-three links; then South seventy-nine degrees East, one chain and nine links more or less to within sixty-one of said Southern limit; then North seventy-six degrees thirty minutes East, fifteen chains and twenty-six links more or less to the centre of said fourth Concession.

Then commencing at the South East angle of the East half of the twenty-fifth Lot in the said fourth; then South seventy-six degrees thirty minutes, West thirty-two chains and sixty links more or less along the Southern limit of said East half to the centre of said Concession.

A. S. MAGUIRE,
Township Clerk.

Dummer, July 10th, 1871. 28-4ins.

(Review please copy.)

A. Waller,

CARRIAGE AND WAGON MAKER, AND GENERAL BLACKSMITH,

Opposite the residence of R. D. Rogers, Esq.,

ASHBURNHAM.

BUGGIES, CARRIAGES, WAGGONS, SLEIGHS, CUTTERS, HARROWS, &c.,

On hand, or made to order.

REPAIRING Done on Short Notice.

AND A

Good Horse-Shoer always employed.

The patronage of the people of Ashburnham and vicinity respectfully solicited.

Ashburnham, July 11th, 1871 28-1y.

Commencing Business.

The undersigned begs to announce that they have rented the premises lately occupied by Mr. George Rickey, in the

VILLAGE OF ASHBURNHAM,

as a

BLACKSMITH SHOP!

And will carry on the business in all its branches, as was done by Mr. Rickey.

A CAREFUL HORSE SHOER

Will always be ready to attend to that branch of the business. The patronage of the old customers of Mr. Rickey, and of new friends, is respectfully solicited.

ROBERT BAXTER. JOHN SHANNON.

Ashburnham, July 4th, 1871. 27-tf.

GIVING UP BUSINESS.

The undersigned begs to return thanks to his numerous friends for their liberal patronage during the past years, and also begs to inform them that he has given up business in Ashburnham. He would also remind those indebted to him, that immediate settlement of all accounts is required. After two weeks all unpaid accounts will be placed in the hands of Mr. John Burnham, Solicitor.

GEORGE RICKEY.

Ashburnham, July 3rd, 1871. 27

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

To Builders and Contractors—Registry Office Retrayed.—James Edwards.
Township of Dummer—A. S. Maguire.
Ashburnham Corporation—A. Waller.
—A. Waller.
Early Closing—Dry Goods Merchants.
To Let—Joseph Brown.
Notice—Application to Legislature.

The Peterborough Examiner

PETERBOROUGH, THURSDAY, JULY 13, 1871.

THE EXAMINER

Editorial Items.

We have been delayed in this issue by delays on the Grand Trunk, and also two days delay in bringing the paper from Port Hope. Such delays may be trifling to Muskoka roads, but in a case like ours the matter has a more serious aspect. We hope our readers will accept this as sufficient reason for being a day behind in our publication.

The Bond Street Baptist Church, Toronto, have lately agreed to raise their minister's salary to $2,200 per annum, an increase of $400 a year.

The town of Pembroke has voted a $50,000 bonus to the Kingston and Pembroke Railway—there was only one vote against it.

Sir George E. Cartier was pleased on his appearing at the Volunteer Camp at Laprairie. This was poor respect for the Minister or Militia.

A Mrs. Sherman is now under arrest in the United States, to be tried for poisoning three husbands and 8 children, 11 persons in all, and six of whom were her own offspring. If guilty, she must be a demon.

The Kingston Whig considers Mr. Robinson, M. P. P., for that city as an opponent of J. A. Macdonald. He may, therefore, be fairly considered as opposed to J. S. Macdonald, for they two is one politically.

The Laprairie Camp was the scene of a ludicrous affair caused by a straw ox trying to get at the straw in a Volunteer's bed while said Volunteer was asleep. He believed and declared that the prod of the ox's horn was the bayonet of a Frenchman, and caused quite an uproar for a time, which might have ended in a serious affray if a stop had not been put to the tumult.

Large numbers of emigrants from Ontario are reported to be at Winnipeg, Manitoba, but complaints reach us that an unwise land policy prevents their obtaining lands to settle on easily. His Governor Archibald introduced the 40acre system of Canada into Manitoba?

The 57th Battalion returned from the camp at Kinston, on Friday. They were entertained to a luncheon in the drill shed by the firemen, aided by the liberality of the town council. We were unable to be present, but understand that they had a pleasant hour, but not much puffing about the treatment they received at Kingston.

The man Summerville, who lately attempted to cut his throat, near Omer's, Monaghan, is getting better Although he succeeded in cutting the windpipe and œsophagus. Dr. Burritt attended him. It is believed that he will finish the work yet. His history is a checquered one.

The Sarnia Canadian is much pleased to learn that the Hon. George Brown is likely to accept the nomination of the Reform Convention of South Ontario against Mr. Gibbs for the Commons. We trust the source of the Canadian's information may be reliable and that Mr. Brown will accept the nomination. If he does his election is certain, so strong is the feeling against Mr. Gibbs in that county.

The Committee of the Protestant Home acknowledge with thanks the following donations for June:—Mrs. Romaine, a parcel of Clothing; Mr. Winch, a piece of Veal; Miss Hilton, Tea and Sugar; From a Friend, a quantity of Ticking; Mr. Lasher, a parcel of Clothing and a bottle of Molasses; Mr. White, a quarter of Veal; from a Friend, parcel of Clothing, (boys); Mrs. Dr. Taylor, a jar of rancid Butter.

GO TO MENZIES FOR YOUR TICKETS.—Parties going on pleasure trips during the holidays should call at Mr. Menzies and get their ticket for all parts of America and Europe, at prices as low as at the stations, and good for longer times. By obtaining your tickets from Mr. Menzies, time and trouble at every station will be avoided, which when delayed a little is no small matter. By all means call at Mr. Menzies before you start.

At the controverted Election investigation, Brockville, Mr. McKeckuie, Station Master, gave evidence thus: "I intended to vote for Mr. Buell, I did not vote for him. I found the company did not wish I should, I was informed by letter that the company wished that the Ministerial Candidate should be returned, I got the letter to that effect from Mr. Spicer, again Mr. Stevenson said to me that all the employees of the company should or must support the Ministerial Candidate. any of the men who did not must go to the Globe for a living.

NARROW ESCAPES FROM DROWNING.—On Friday last while two boys were crossing the river, in a buggy belonging to Mr. S. Wood, of Otonabee, the hind wheels became detached, and in consequence the seat fell back letting the boys into the river. The current swept them away rapidly and but for Wm. Johnston who was ferrying parties across the river, proceeding to them, they might have been drowned. There were several other parties carried down the stream on Saturday and on Monday morning two men had a very narrow escape, and would have been lost had not the boatmen hastened to their assistance.

BIBLE SOCIETY MEETING.—A public gathering of the friends of the Bible Society, took place at the Village of Minden, on the night of the 3rd inst. The main feature of interest was, a plain, lucid and edifying Lecture by the Rev. Mr. Manly, of Toronto, who traced the progress of God's truth as revealed in the Holy Scriptures throughout the successive ages of the Christian period, amid the various nations of the earth, showing that the All-Wise brought good out of evil, and especially out of that monster evil—"War," by opening up a way for the introduction of the Bible, where, before the conflict of nation with nation, it was entirely impeded.—The Chair was filled by the Rev. F. Burt; Mr. F. Mason was Secretary, and the Rev. Mr. Hiscox opened the proceedings of the evening. The collection amounted to $3.75. The Officers of the past year were re-elected, together with a committee of consultation, viz: Dr. Curry, Mr. J. Calvert, Junr. and Mr. J. Langton.—Com.

On the Newark & New York railway a collision took place, on Saturday, in which 8 persons were killed and 15 badly injured.

A brief [illegible] in what [illegible] must be [illegible] put on his [illegible] County Co[illegible] by the [illegible] the county, [illegible] all [illegible] judges of the [illegible] it is a compliment to demand to the [illegible] chiness exhibited in Mr. Moore's note to the Review would demean too much: the in[illegible] that [illegible] Cameron, of New York, will preach in the Baptist Church here on Sunday, 23rd inst., at 11 a.m., and 8 p.m.

In the mining districts of [illegible] during the month of May, $45,600 worth of [illegible] worth of fascinating liquors. Colorado must be a dry district, indeed.

Mr. Eugene Torpey and two women had a very narrow escape from drowning, on Monday. The horses were carried down the stream, and the women falling in would have been lost, but for the men at MrsCalcutt's Brewery, who ran to their rescue, and took them out of the current.

Rumors are afloat at Ottawa that Sir John A. is to be rewarded with a peerage for his share in the Washington Treaty; also, that he will succeed Lord Lisgar as Governor-General of the Dominion, it being understood that his Lordship, who is leaving for England, will not return to Canada.

There were immense crowds of people in on Monday to see the Elephant and Circus, and spend a few stray quarters. One party with a number of little wooden ponies hung on rods of iron and and playing in a circle, all turned by a crank, drew crowds of men, boys and girls; and for a two minutes on the ponies, the owner of the affair was pocketing his $20 an hour. Are not fools and their money easily parted!

The contract for constructing a temporary bridge over the Otonabee, just above the old one, has been given to Mr. Boyd. The cost to be $500. It is to be sufficient for teams and foot passengers—and no trust will be pushed through in a hurry. Several very narrow escapes from drowning have been recorded during the past few days. We trust, therefore, that as little delay as possible will be allowed until a safe means of passage for teams shall be secured. The loss of one life through neglect or delay would be a serious thing.

The annual meeting of the Y. M. C. A of Ontario and Quebec, will be held at St. Catherines, on the 2nd and 3rd of August 1871.

The convention will meet for organization in the Queen Street Baptist Chapel, on the second of August.

The Great Western and Welland Railways grant free return tickets.

The Grand Trunk, return tickets for one fare.

The Nothern Railway give tickets for one third fare.

MURDER NEAR OTTAWA.—A man named Macauley, Secretary to Gaucher Cashburn, was murdered in a quarrel during an Election contest, between Mr. Eddy and Leduc. Tranchemontagne, the man who killed McAuley, is in Ottawa Gaol. Macauley had called for a treat for the crowd, but not having the money to pay for it, he was knocked down, and on returning to pay, was assaulted by the brother of the tavern keeper, and so beaten and kicked that he died the same evening—whiskey again

SQUARE TIMBER.—We had the pleasure of paying a visit to the Port Hope Harbor, last week, in company with M. P. Jordon, Esq. We found it thronged with men arranging square timber into droghms for removal to Quebec. The timber belonged to Mr. Jordan, and to Messrs. Smith & Boyd and Irwin. Mr. Jordan had some of as fine timber as has been taken to market for years, many pieces squaring 29 inches and, fifty to sixty feet long. He had in all about 250,000 feet. We are persuaded that little better timber will go to Quebec this season.

VOLUNTEER TREATMENT.—The Local Papers teem with complaints of the manner in which the Volunteers have been treated while in camp, performing their annual drill. An individual who has been one of the sufferers says they had not sufficient rations, and what they got was of bad quality. He says no doubt, some one has been making money out of the transaction, but George Cartier will be held accountable for the bad regulations, and justly so. It is farther added that if the present management of militia affairs continue in two years a volunteer will not be found in the Dominion.

It is rumored that Mr. Richard's is about to be transferred to Mr. Cameross place in the Ontario Combination, and that Mr. Cameron will take Mr. Richards' place. There are growing feeling of uneasiness in the Cabinet; John Sandfield is trembling and his friends feel insecure. John A, too, is not as confident as formerly, and is seeking out some place of enrolment, Report says he is to be the successor to Lord Lisgar. It cannot be. He should leave the scenes of his trickery and shuffling, and seek some position where he could exercise his judgement free from prejudices against old political rivals. It would be impossible for John A McDonald to act as Governor General free from the feelings that have actuated his career for 16 or 17 years, continual hostilities to reforms and reformers. For his own sake therefore, and for the good of our Dominion, we trust the British Government will do nothing so foolish as to appoint Sir John A. McDonald Governor General of Canada.

The 12th of July, 1871.

The Orangemen of Peterboro, Lakefield and Ashburnham, celebrated their anniversary at Port Hope, yesterday. There was a respectable turn out. The Young Canadians were all dressed in the same kinds of Hats, Regalia and Necktie, and had a very handsome new banner that cost $100. They left by train about 8:30. Everything was orderly and quiet. Newspaper reports indicate a likelihood of rough times in New York City, if there should be a procession. The authorities are said to be against a procession, since it cannot be without danger of bloodshed. It is a pity that the party feeling runs so high, yet so it is, and cannot be prevented. The celebration of the 12th of July is not intended as an insult to any class of citizens; in fact, is only a holiday on which one class of citizens wish to spend a few hours in a way in which they were monstromed in their native country. The society is most harmless. There is not a hard word against catholics uttered in their Lodges in years. And it is only when something like what is threatened in New York occurs, that any feeling is engendered. Let us hope that peace may prevail everywhere, and that men may soon learn to bear with each other, so that processions of anysort shall not disturb their equanimity.

Mr. Moore of the Norwood Grammar and School appears exceedingly anxious to [illegible] himself in some way. [illegible] in what [illegible] must be [illegible] put on his [illegible] County Co[illegible] by the [illegible] the county, [illegible] all [illegible] judges of the [illegible] it is a compliment to demand to the [illegible] chiness exhibited in Mr. Moore's note to the Review would demean too much: the in[illegible] that all the white-washing [illegible] [illegible] paper can do will not obliterate the parties concerned.

[illegible] two [illegible] of the members of [illegible] Lakefield [illegible] [illegible] to [illegible] the third [illegible] [illegible] [illegible]

MARRIED.

ARMSTRONG—SHARMAN.—In Peterborough, on Wednesday, the 12th of July, 1871, at the residence of Mr. John Hall, (brother-in-law of the bride,) by the Rev. J. W. [illegible], [illegible] Armstrong, Esq., merchant, Bethany, Ont., to Emma, second daughter of Mr. C. R. Sharman, Commander, Clinton, Ont.

DIED.

ARMSTRONG.—SHARMAN.—On Saturday the 8th instant, Edwin James, third son of R. J. Armstrong, Esq., aged 12 years.

PETERBOROUGH MARKETS,

Peterborough July 8 1871

Flour ₱ brl	$6	25	@	$6	50
Wheat ₱ bush. fall	1	40	@	1	45
Spring Wheat ₱ bush.	1	30	@	1	35
Peas	0	60	@	0	0
Barley	0	60	@	0	62
Oats	0	35	@	0	35
Potatoes	0	30	@	0	35
Hay ₱ ton	9	00	@	10	00
Hides ₱ cwt	6	00	@	7	00
Beef ₱ cwt	6	50	@	7	00
Sheepskins	0	75	@	1	25
Wool ₱ lb.	0	25	@	0	30
Pork ₱ cwt	7	00	@	8	00
Eggs, per dozen	0	16	@	0	16
Butter	0	15	@	0	18
Cordwood	2	50	@	3	00
Turkeys	0	75	@	1	50
Teese	0	40	@	0	5
Chickens	0	25	@	0	40

CANADIAN PAIN DESTROYER.

A Family Medicine, well and favorably known for the past ten years, never failing in a single instance to give permanent relief when timely used, and we have never known a single case of dissatisfaction where the directions have been properly followed, but on the contrary all are delighted with its operations, and speak in the highest terms of its Virtues and Magical effects.

THE CANADIAN PAIN DESTROYER has won for itself a reputation, as a blood purifier, alternative stomach tonic, unsurpassed in the history of medical preparations. It seldom fails to cure Dyspepsia, Liver Complaints, Indigestion, Heartburn, Sick Headache, Kidney Complaints, Acid Stomach Phthisic or Asthma, and restores to vital activity the system debilitated by suffering and disease.

Its magical and wonderful success in curing sudden colds, sore throat, coughs, Diptheria, pains in the side, loins and back, neuralgia, toothache, rheumatic and other pains in any part of the body and from whatever cause, has given it a place in every household and is fast superseding all other preparations of the kind.

It is also an effectual and prompt remedy for scalds, burns, bee stings, sprains, chilblains, cholera morbus, bilious cholic, cholera infantum, dysentery, &c.

Price only twenty-five cents per bottle.

NORTHROP & LYMAN,
Newcastle, C. W.
General Agents for Canada.

Sold in Peterborough by Dr. Taylor, A W Kemp, Wm. Coulter and Ormond & Walsh in Keene by A. Campbell, Campbell McNeil & Co., C. Britton, Lindsay, and all Medicine Dealers.

THE GREAT FEMALE REMEDY
Job Moses' Peridocal Pills.

This invaluable medicine is unfailing in the cure of all those painful and dangerous diseases to which the female constitution is subject. It speedily stops all exodus and removes all obstructions, and a speedy cure may be relied on.

TO MARRIED LADIES.

It is peculiarly suited. It will in a short time, bring on the monthly period with regularity.

These Pills should not be taken by Females during the FIRST THREE MONTHS of Pregnancy, as they are sure to bring on Miscarriage but at any other time they are safe.

In all cases of Nervous and Spinal Affection, Pains in the Back and Limbs, on slight exertion, Palpitation of the Heart, Ayaverica, and Whites, the Pills will effect a cure when all other means have failed; and although a powerful remedy, do not contain iron, calomel, antimony, or anything hurtful to the constitution

Full directions in the pamphlet around each package, which should be carefully preserved

JOB MOSES', NEW YORK, SOLE PROPRIETOR

$1.00 and 12½ cents for postage, enclosed to Northrop & Lyman, Newcastle, Ont., general agents for the Dominion, will ensure a bottle containing over 50 pills, by return mail.

Iron ore, taken from the back hills, near the highest level of the Union Pacific Railway, has been smelted at Omaha and found of excellent quality, yielding 80 per cent. of superior metal. These hills of the Iron Mountains the railroad.

MIDLAND
Railway of Canada.

ON and after MONDAY the 26th day of JUNE, 1871, Trains will run as follows

TRAINS MOVING SOUTH.—MAIL.

Beaverton Depart	2 10 p. m
Lindsay, Arrive	3.35 p. m.
Millbrook, Arrive	5.10 p. m
Port Hope, Arrive	6 15 p. m

TRAINS MOVING NORTH.—MAIL.

Port Hope, Depart	9 15 a. m
Millbrook, Arrive	10.12 "
Lindsay Arrive	11 40 "
Beaverton, Arrive	1 20 p. m.

TRAINS MOVING SOUTH.—MIXED.

Lindsay, Depart	8 15 a. m.
Millbrook, Arrive	10 10 "
Port Hope, Arrive	12.00 p. m

TRAINS MOVING NORTH.—MIXED.

Port Hope, Depart	3.40 p. m.
Millbrook, Arrive	5.35 p. m
Lindsay, Arrive	6 25 p. m.

PETERBOROUGH SECTION.

TRAINS MOVING SOUTH.—MAIL.

Lakefield, Depart	2.15 p. m.
Peterborough, Arrive	3.00 p. m.
" Depart	3.30 "
Millbrook, Arrive	4.10 "
Port Hope, Arrive	5.30 "

TRAINS MOVING NORTH.—MAIL.

Port Hope, Depart	9.30 a. m
Millbrook, Arrive	10.38 a m
Peterborough, Arrive	11 30 p. m.
Lakefield Arrive	12.45 p. m.

TRAINS MOVING SOUTH.—MIXED.

Peterborough, Depart	6.15 a. m.
Millbrook Arrive	7.00 "
Port Hope, Arrive	8.30 "

TRAINS MOVING NORTH.—MIXED.

Port Hope, Depart	3.30 p. m
Millbrook Arrive	4.57 "
Peterborough, Arrive	6.10 "

H. G. TAYLOR,
Superintendent of Motive Power and Trains
June 26, 1871. 26.

DR. LANG,

PHYSICIAN, SURGEON, &c. Office—Dr. Gilchrist's old stand, Keene, Ont.

In connection, a Drug Store has been opened with a full supply of Drugs, Medicines, Perfumery, Toilet Sets, Dye Stuffs, Fancy Articles, and everything usually kept in a first-class Drug Store.

Keene, June 13th, 1871. 24-tf

50,000 Brick for Sale.

Apply to

J. S. ALEXANDER,

Corner of London and George Streets,

Peterboro, June 28, 1871. 26-3ins

Public School Notice.

The BLANK REPORTS for the First Half of the present year, have been mailed. Should any not arrive, communicate at once, giving address.

JAMES COYLE BROWN,
Inspector

Peterborough, July 5th, 1871. 27

BOOKS,
STATIONERY,
ROOM PAPER,
FANCY GOODS,
MUSIC,
PIANOS—
(Of all Kinds and Prices).
MELODEONS,
PAPER BAGS,

At Montreal Prices—Wholesale, to the trade.

Wrapping Paper, &c.;

All at Best Prices, at

A. B. KIDD'S

BOOK STORE,

George Street, Peterborough.

A. B. K. desires also to remind his customers and the public generally, that his Shop is now enlarged, and that a state of order has followed the confusion caused by refitting premises and shop.

A. B. KIDD.

Peterboro, July 5th, 1871. 27

CHEAPER THAN EVER!

Why go Barefooted when you can get

CHEP BOOTS & SHOES!

CALL AND SEE THE

NEW STOCK!

AT

LARMOUR & SARNEY'S

New Dominion Cheap Boot and Shoe Store,

Which is being offered at Prices which defy competition

(McKellar's Old Corner) George Street, Peterborough.

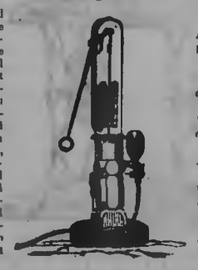
W. J. LARMOUR. CHAS. SARNEY.

June 12th, 1871. 24

OWENS'
PUMP MANUFACTORY
AND
Agricultural Implement Agency

GEORGE STREET, PETERBOROUGH.

The Leading Pumps and Machines of the Dominion.



The subscriber is still on hand at Dennis' Old Stand, opposite the Graveyard, and begs to inform the inhabitants of the Counties of Peterborough and Victoria, that he is Sole Agent in these Counties for the Celebrated POWELL'S PATENT SWING and FORCE PUMPS—the reputation of which is Established and sustained by their own merits, being cheap, Simple, Reliable, Frost Proof, and easy to work. Being convinced of their superiority over all other pumps, I have made arrangements to keep a good stock of the same on hand, if possible, and will Sell as Cheap as are sold in any other part of the Dominion.

I will guarantee them to be BETTER than the BEST of any other make. The unexampled popularity and success of this pump is not surprising, combining as it does, the Highest Efficiency with the Lowest Cost Swing Pumps for $6.00 and upwards With reference to the Powell Pump, it has been exhibited five times and secured Five Provincial First Prizes, never having been awarded anything but First and Highest Honors at State, Provincial, County, Township, or city exhibitions. This is incontestible proof of its adaptability to the wants of the people, and the climate of the country. THE FORCE PUMP is adapted to all the uses to which an ordinary pump may be applied, besides being an always-ready Fire Engine. It is allowed to be worth its cost for Washing Buggies alone, and as a Fire Preventative has saved many valuable properties. May be used for watering Gardens, Courts, &c., Setting Tires, &c., and many other purpose.

Please call and examine the Powell Pump before going elsewhere, when I shall be happy to explain its advantages. Also, a large stock of Common Pumps on hand, as usual, which the subscriber will sell as cheap, if not Cheaper, than any Pump-maker in the Province. Also COLBY'S WRINGERS for sale Also, Agent for Rights or Pumps in Counties east of Peterborough. Pumps of all kinds Repaired on the shortest notice.

Please address, stating depth of well and other particulars.

HENRY OWENS,
George Street, Peterboo

April 26, 1871.

SOLE AGENT FOR MASSEY'S
Agricultural Implements
including at the late improvements, viz;

Wood's Self Rake Reapers, and Mowers, and Cayuga Chief Mowers.

The Hubbard Combined Machine, which took the First Prize at Toronto in 1870. Also, Johnson's First Prize Self Raker.

Parties wanting Machines the coming Harvest will please call and examine the different Machines before purchasing elsewhere. Prices reduced from last year.

TEACHER WANTED.

A FEMALE TEACHER, holding a Second Class Certificate, for School Section No. 4, Harvey; Duties to commence immediately,

ARCH JOHNSTON,
HENRY GRAHAM,
THOS. HATTON,
} Trustees.

Harvey, June 19, 1871. 25-1in

Notice of Dissolution.

The Partnership heretofore existing between the undersigned, under the firm of Ferguson & Elder, has been this day dissolved by mutual consent.

Dated at Peterborough, 17th June, A. D. 1871.

JOHN FERGUSON,
JOHN ELDER.

Witness,
C. C. ROBB.

25-3ins

INSOLVENT ACT OF 1869.

In the matter of JAMES HENRY GRIFFITH an Insolvent.

I, the undersigned, Richard William Errett, of the Town of Peterborough, in the County of Peterborough, have been appointed Assignee in this matter.

Creditors are requested to file their claims before me within one month.

Peterborough, the 4th day of July, 1871.

R. W. ERRETT,
Assignee.

27

Iron Clad Trees

W. C. Lawrence,

FRUIT TREE DEALER,

Will personally canvass the Townships of Otonabee, Asphodel, Dummer, Douro, and the Burleigh Road, between the present and the 1st of November next, for orders for Apple and other Fruit Trees. W. C. L. has been over this ground for the last 4 years, and the trees supplied are acknowledged to be the best ever introduced into this County. Orders received by D. G. Anderson, Esq., Crown Land Agent, G. Mellmoyl, Esq., of Lakefield, or at this office

Reference can be made to the following gentlemen:—

Thos. Buck, Esq., Thos. Blezard, Esq., T. Welsh, Esq., of Otonabee, T. Coughlin, Esq., A. Shearer, Esq., Asphodel, Moses Humphrey, Esq., David Drain, Esq., and Jordan Crow, of Dummer, W. Abbot, Esq., Roland Strickland, Esq., R. T. Deneh, Esq., of Douro, Edward Sanderson, Esq., Giles Stone, Esq., Burleigh Road.

N. B.—Mr. Mellmoyle will canvass Smith and Ennismore.

26-6mos.

WANTED!

TO RENT,

A DWELLING, STABLE, &c.

With from Five to Thirty Acres of Land attached. Must be in good repair and within Two Miles of the Post Office, Peterborough. Address.

JAMES COYLE BROWN.

Peterboro, July 5th, 1871. 27

SIGN OF
THE OLDEN ANVIL!

I have on hand my usual supply of Seasonable Goods.

Grass and Cradle Scythes,
Hay, Manure, and Barley Forks,
Snaths, Wood and Iron Bow Rakes, Hoes, Pork Hanging Spades, Shovels,

CRADLES IN GREAT VARIETY

Fishing Tackle, Bird Cages, Electro-Plated Goods, Pocket & Table Knives

(Extra Quality.)

Builders' Hardware,

And a Good Stock of English and American Shelf Goods.

JOHN BERTRAM,

June 14th, 1871. 24

WANTED.

A TEACHER for SCHOOL SECTION No. 6 SMITH. Duties to commence the 2nd July. Applications to be addressed to.

JAMES SAULTER,
Box 5, North Douro.

June 14th, 1871. 24-tf.

PIANOS.
Melodeons and Organs.

R. S. WILLIAMS, & Co.,

Have now a complete stock of the above instruments on exhibition, at their Rooms, No. 3, Scott's Block, Market Square, to which they invite the attention of parties wishing to purchase.

R. W. ERRETT,
Agent.

Peterboro, 7th June, 1871. 23-3mos.

TO LEND

$10,000.

Interest 8 per cent. No commission.

D. W. DUMBLE,
Solicitor.

Peterborough, April 27, 1871. 17-3ins.

SONG ECHO

A New School Book, by H S. Perkins. Price $7 50 per dozen. Contains over two hundred new and beautiful Songs, Duetts, etc., by Will S. Hays, Webster, Thomas etc. Everything is new, fresh, and sparkling. Contents and specimen pages sent free. Sample copies mailed free of postage to teachers for 60 cents. Liberal terms for introduction.

Subscribers to Peters Musical Monthly are getting their music for less than two cents a piece. Those who have no seen this Musical Magazine should send 30 cents for a sample copy. The music is by Hays, Thomas, Kinkle, Persley and other popular writers.

Two back numbers for 40 cents Four back numbers for 75 cents. Subscribers get

FIFTY DOLLARS

WORTH OF MUSIC FOR $3.

Address,

J. L. PETERS, 599 Broadway, N. Y.

Teachers sending us their orders for $10 worth of music, can claim a year's subscription to Peters' Musical Monthly.

FOR SALE.

TWO BRICK COTTAGES,

AND BUILDING LOTS.

GEO. T. LEONARD,
Solicitor, &c,

May 24rd, 1871. 21-4ins.

RESTORE YOUR SIGHT.

SPECTACLES RENDERED USELESS

OLD EYES MADE NEW.

All diseases of the Eye successfully treated by

DALL'S NEW PATENT IVORY EYE CUPS.

Read for yourself and restore your sight. Spectacles and surgical operations rendered useless. The inestimable Blessing of Sight is made perpetual by the use of the new

PATENT IMPROVED IVORY EYE CUPS.

Many of our most eminent physicians, oculists students and divines, have had their sight permanently restored for life, and cured of the following diseases:

1. Impaired Vision; 2. Presbyopia, or Far Sightedness, or Dimness of Vision, commonly called Nursing; 3. Asthenopia or Weak Eyes; 4. Epiphora, Running or Watery Eyes; 5. Sore Eyes—specially treated with the Eye Cups—cure guaranteed; 6. Weakness of the Retina or Optic Nerve; 7. Ophthalmia, or Inflamation of the Eye and its appendages, or Imperfect Vision, from the effects of inflamation; 8. Photophobia, or Intolerance of Light, 9. Over Worked eyes; 10. Mydesopia—moving specks or floating bodies before the eyes; Amaurosis, or Obscurity of Vision; 12. Cataracts, Partial Blindness, the loss of sight.

Any one can use the Ivory Eye Cups with out the aid of Doctor or Medicine, so as to receive immediate beneficial results and never wear spectacles, or if using now, to lay them aside forever. We guarantee a cure in every case where the directions are followed, or we refund the money.

2309 CERTIFICATES OF CURE,

From honest Farmers, Mechanics and Merchants, some of the most eminent leading professional and business men and women of education and refinement, in our country, may be seen at our office.

Under date of March 23, Hon. Horace Greely of the New York Tribune, writes; "J. Ball, of our city, is a conscientious and responsible man, who is incapable of intentional deception or imposition.

Prof. W. Merrick, of Lexington, Ky., wrote April 24th, 1869: Without my Spectacles I pen you this note, after using the Patent Ivory Eye Cups thirteen days, and this morning perused the entire contents of a Daily Newspaper, and all with the unassisted eye.

Truly I am grateful to your noble invention, may Heaven bless and preserve you. I have been using spectacles twenty years; I am seventy-one years old. Yours, truly,

PROF. W. MERRICK.

Rev. Joseph Smith, Malden, Mass., cured of Partial Blindness, of 18 years' standing, in one minute, by the Patent Ivory Eye Cups.

E. C. Ellis, late Mayor of Dayton, Ohio, wrote to us Nov. 13th, 1869. I have tested the Patent Ivory Eye Cups and I am satisfied they are good. I am pleased with them; they are the Greatest invention of the age.

All persons wishing for full particulars, certificates of cures, prices &c., will please send your address to us, and we will send our treatise on the Eye of forty-four pages, free, by return mail, write to Dr. J. Ball & Co., P. O. Box, 957, No. 91 Liberty Street, New York.

For the worst cases of Myopia, or Nearsightedness, use our New Patent Myopic Attachments, applied the Ivory Eye Cups, has proved a certain cure for this disease.

Send for pamphlets and certificates—free. Waste no more money by adjusting huge glasses on your nose and disfigure your face.

Employment for all. Agents wanted for the new Patent Improved Ivory Eye Cups, just introduced into the market. The success is unparalelled by any other article. All persons out of employment, or those wishing to improve their circumstances, whether gentlemen or ladies can make a respectable living at this light and easy employment. Hundreds of agents are making from $5 TO $20 A DAY. To live agents $26 a week will be guaranteed. Information furnished on receipt of 20 cents—to pay for cost of printing materials and return postage.

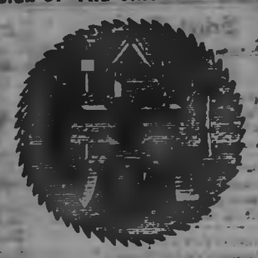
Dr. J. Ball & Co., P. O. Box, 957, No. 91 Liberty Street New York.

Our Agent for Peterborough County, is

JAMES CONWAY, P. M.,
Indian River, Ont.

23—3 mos.

SIGN OF THE CIRCULAR SAW.



THE Subscribers would beg leave to call the attention of the public to their stock of

SHELF AND HEAVY HARDWARE

PAINTS, OILS, GLASS and PUTTY,

Agricultural and Garden Implements,

NAILS, LOCKS, HINGES, &c.

All of which they will sell at the lowest Prices.

Sign of the Circular Saw.

GEORGE STREET, PETERBORO.

McKEE & DAVIDSON

Peterboro, April 26th, 1871. 17

TO FARMERS.

If you want to make FORTY DOLLARS AN ACRE off your land,

SOW FLAX!

Let each good Farmer sow Three Acres on trial, and see how handy it is to have $120 coming in to pay off your harvest hands in August. As there is a Machine for pulling, at the mill, it makes it one of the easiest crops harvested, For seed apply to

S. TAYLOR,
Flax Mill, Ashburnham

May 3rd, 1871. 18

TO LET.

AUBURN HOUSE,

AND ABOUT 20 ACRES OF LAND THEREWITH.

A Delightful Summer Residence.

Apply to

DENNISTOUN, FAIRBAIRN & CASSELS

May 3rd, 1871. 18-tf

IMPORTANT

TO FARMERS

AND THE PUBLIC.

I have now in my Flour Mill, for Milling Purposes, the

Best Machinery Known

At present in the world, and with an experience of over 40 years in the business, and from a fixed quality of Wheat, I can turn out as much Flour and

AS GOOD IN QUALITY

as any mill in the Dominion. I will, therefore, give in exchange for 60 lbs good clean Wheat, 43 lbs Flour and 10 lbs Bran The Flour warranted to be good. This offer is equal to 200 lbs of Flour for 4 bushels and 40 lbs Wheat, or a clear gain of 20 lbs Wheat on the Barrel, worth at present prices from 43 to 45 cents

☞ Cash paid for Fall and Spring Wheat.

E. MARTYN.

Peterboro, May 22nd, 1871. 21

1871 Annual Announcement 1871

(ESTABLISHED 1856.)

SEEDS!

Fresh, Good, and True,

The subscriber has received his supply of

FIELD,
FLOWER; and
GARDEN SEEDS

Both of Home and Imported Stock.

WARRANTED GENUINE

FARMERS AND MARKET GARDENERS are respectfully invited to call and inspect for themselves.

COUNTRY MERCHANTS, supplied, as usual with boxes on Commission, or for Cash.

"Honesty" is our motto, both in character of seed, and in price

WM. H. TAYLOR, M. D

At the old Stand, Corner of George and Hunter Streets, Peterborough, Ont. 16-tf

A FARMER'S COMPANY.

FARMERS!

Insure Your Property

IN THE

AGRICULTURAL

INSURANCE COMPANY.

A Stock Company entirely devoted to your interests.

Insures nothing but Farm Property and Detached Residences.

Chartered and commenced business in 1853.

CASH ASSETS - - $550,000.

Mr. Langton's Report shows over $60,000 deposited as especial protection to Canadian Policy-holders.

Head Office for the Dominion of Canada, Kingston, Ontario.

We would refer you to the following named Gentlemen, in regard to the pecuniary responsibility of the Company:

H. Calcutt, Brewer; John Burnham, Barrister; J. A. Hall, Agent Canadian Bank of Commerce; Thos. Menzies, Stationer and Exchange Broker.

ATTORNEY—John Burnham, Esq.

BANK—Canadian Bank of Commerce.

WM T. Fish, Cobourg, Gen. Agent for the Counties of Prince Edward, Hastings, Northumberland, Durham, Ontario, Peterboro and Victoria.

Local Agent for the Town of Peterborough

W. A. KING.

6-tf.

VICTORIA
CARRIAGE
AND
Wagon Factory

Corner of [illegible] and George Streets

The Subscriber would respectfully announce that he has leased the above establishment, opposite the Commercial Hotel, and is now prepared to Manufacture

CARRIAGES,
BUGGIES,
WAGGONS,
WHEEL-BARROWS,
SLEIGHS, &c.

At Low Prices for Cash.

REPAIRING DONE A SPECIALTY.

GEORGE W. MILLS.

Peterboro, March 7th, 1871.

N. B.—As there is another person in Peterboro named "George Mills," the public will please remember the distinction in the names. G. W. M.

$765,000

In Cash Gifts to be Distributed by the New York Cash Prize Co.

EVERY TICKET DRAWS A PRIZE.

5 Cash Gifts each,	$50	are	25 Cash Gifts, each,	$1,000
10 " "	20,000	"	"	500
20 " "	5,000	"	"	100
50 Elegant Rosewood Pianos,	—	each	$300 to	$700
75 " "	Melodeons	"	75 to	125
500 Sewing Machines	—	"	50 to	175
500 Gold Watches	—	"	75 to	200
Cash Prizes, Silver Ware, etc., valued at				$1,000,000

A chance to draw any of the above Prizes for 25c. Tickets describing Prizes are sealed in Envelopes and well mixed. On receipt of 25c. a Sealed Ticket so drawn without choice will be sent by mail to any address. The prize named upon it will be delivered to the ticket-holder on payment of One Dollar. Prizes are immediately sent to any address by express or returned mail.

You will know what your prize is before you pay for it. "Any Prize exchanged for another of the same value." No blanks. Our patrons can depend on fair dealing.

REFERENCES:—The following lately drew Valuable Prizes and kindly permit us to publish them:—Andrew J. Burns, Chicago, $10,000; Jas. M. Matthews, Detroit, $5,000; John T. Anderson, Savannah, $5,000; James Simmons, Boston, $10,000.

PRESS OPINION:—"The firm is reliable."—"Weekly Tribune, Dec 28." "Deserve their success."—N. Y. Herald, Jan. 1. "Just and Honorable."—News, Dec. 9.

Send for circular. Liberal inducements to Agents. Satisfaction guratteed. Exact package of 200 Sealed. Envelopes contains one cash gift. Seven tickets for $1; 17 for $2; 50 for $5; 200 for $15. Address

C. B. HARRIS & Co.,
Managers,
62 Broadway, N. Y.

Peterborough March 16th, 1871. 10-tf.

FELLOWS'
HYPOPHOSPHITES.

Amongst the diseases overcome by the use of

Fellows' Compound Syrup of Hypophosphites

ARE

Constipation, Asthma, Consumption, Laryngitis, Nervous Debility, Dyspepsia, Chronic Bronchitis, Chronic Diarrhœa, Melancholy.

Debility resulting from Typhoid and other low fevers, Diphtheritic, Ataxia, Hypochondria, Amenorrhœa, Chlorosis Anæmia, Leucorrhœa, Nervous Excitability, Marasmus, or wasting of the Muscles, Aphonia, or loss of Voice, Chorea or St. Vita's Dance, Sluggishness of the Liver, Interrupted and Feeble Action of the heart, Suffocating feeling caused by mucous obstructions of the Lungs and Air passages leading thereto, and Debility from various causes, many cases of which appear hopeless.

SOLD BY APOTHECARIES.

Price, $1.50; Six for $7.50.

JAMES L. FELLOW, CHEMIST,
ST. JOHN, N. B.

16-1871. 4mos.

A CARD.

E. BAKEWELL having made an engagement with Mr. Bradburn, may be found, by his former Patrons and Customers, at the store lately occupied by M. Moloney, where he hopes by his usual attention to business, and with increased facilities for giving satisfaction, still to merit and receive their patronage.

E. BAKEWELL.

Peterboro, Dec. 19, 1870. 34-tf.

HOUSE AND LOT FOR SALE.

The undersigned offers for sale the dwelling House and Lot on

LONDON STREET,

at present occupied by himself.

Further particulars can be obtained by application to

Wm LECH,
Proprietor.

Peterborough, April 19th 1871. 16-tf.

Review please copy.

Dissolution of Partnership.

Notice is hereby given that the Partnership heretofore existing between us, the undersigned as Carriage Makers in the Town of Peterboro', in the County of Peterborough, has been this day dissolved by mutual consent. All debts owing to the said partnership are to be paid to, and all claims against the said partnership are to be paid by the undersigned, John Lockhart.

JOHN LOCKHART
JAMES MILLER.

Dated at Peterborough, this 20th day of May A. D. 1871.

In connection with the above, the public are respectfully informed that the business as hereafter, will be conducted under the name of Lockhart & Chowen, and that all orders entrusted to them will receive prompt attention,

LOCKHART & CHOWEN

Peterboro, May 30th, 1871. 22

New Steam Dye Works!

THE PUBLIC OF PETERBORO and vicinity are respectfully informed that his establishment is now prepared to take in work of every description in

CLEANING, COLOURING, AND FINISHING,

of Gentlemen's Clothing, Ladies' Dress Goods, &c., &c.

Observe the following List of Fabrics

Coats' Blacks, Merinoes, Silks, Tweeds, Cottons, Satin Cassimeres, Unions, Velvet, Deaskins, Woolens, Ribbons, and general Dry Goods, made up or in the piece Carpets, Rugs, Mats, Raw Wools, Cottons, Worsted, Wool Yarns, Cotton Yarns, Hosiery, Coiled Fleeces for Mats, Baggies, &c., &c. Damasks, as Curtains and Furniture Covers.

☞ WORKS, NEAR ONTARIO WOOLEN MILLS, Cobourg.

WM. MERCER,
Agent for Peterboro.

Peterboro, 3, 7month1871. 23-1y.

TURNING OVER PILES OF RESS GOODS!

AND PRINTS.

The Contents of Fifteen Cases and Three Bales, Just Opened.

Great Bargains in Hoyle's Prints.

Great Bargains in Dress Goods.

These Goods will be offered at prices that will clean them off before the end of the season.

FERGUSON & ELDER

Peterboro, May 31st, 1871. 22

CHANGE OF BUSINESS

New Foundry Firm.

The Subscriber in retiring from the Foundry Business in which he has been engaged for the past 15 years, begs to return thanks to his friends and the public in general, for the liberal patronage conferred upon him, as the same time he would beg to state that the business in future will be carried on by his BROTHER JAMES and JAMES R. DAVIS, under the firm of Whyte & Davis. Mr. Davis is well known as a First Class Machinist and Millwright, therefore I have every confidence in recommending the New Firm to the public, feeling assured that all orders entrusted to them will be executed in the most satisfactory manner, and with dispatch.

JOHN WHYTE.

Peterborough, April 1st, 1871.

N. B.—Parties having Notes and Accounts to settle, will please bear in mind that the Books of account and Notes will be at my Woolen Mill, West of Whyte & Hamilton's Foundries.—J. W.

The Subscribers having Commenced Business in the Old Stand of John Whyte, Esq., as (Founders, Machinists and Agricultural Implement Manufacturers,) begs to say that they keep on hand all kinds of

AGRICULTURAL IMPLEMENTS,

SUCH AS

STEEL, COMMON, AND GANG PLOWS, HARROWS, ROOT CUTTERS, CULTIVATORS, HORSE HOES, GARDEN AND FIELD ROLLERS, HAY AND STRAW CUTTERS, with almost every Implement used on the Farm.

General Repairing of Reapers, Mowers, Threshing Machines and Implements of Husbandry on the Shortest Notice.

Parties about purchasing any of the above Implements will do well to call and inspect our Stock on hand, before making a purchase elsewhere.

WHYTE & DAVIS

Peterborough, Ap 1st, 1871. 16 tf

NEW WOOLEN MILL.

To the Farmers and Merchants of the County of Peterboro:

The subscribers would respectfully beg to intimate that the Old Woolen Mill, once owned and carried on by the late James Harvey, Esq., afterwards by Mr. Daniel Brook, has been put in a

A THOROUGH STATE OF REPAIR,

And is now filled with New Machinery, got up expressly for the Manufacture of

Blankets, Flannels, Full Cloths, Tweeds, &c.

A large assortment of the above goods of our own make, are now on hand, and will be sold Cheap for Cash, or Exchanged for wool. Special attention will be given to the Custom Department, which is in perfect order for the Manufacture of Farmer's Blankets, Roll Carding and Fulling.

JOHN WHYTE. AUGUSTUS SAWERS

N.B.—We will pay the Highest price in Cash for any quantity of Good Clean Wool delivered at the mill.

J. W. A. S.

To my old friends in particular, and the public in general:

I am now back in the Old Mill, with Messrs. Whyte & Sawers, and have got a Large Room all to myself With a splendid

NEW CARDING MACHINE

Bring in your Wool, and I will give you BETTER ROLLS than have ever been turned out in this County.

JOHNNIE NEWTON.

Peterboro, May 3rd, 1871. 18

STOLEN OR STRAYED

From the premises of the undersigned, on the morning of the 24th of May, a

LARGE GREY MARE.

Any person giving information as to her whereabouts will be suitably rewarded.

GEO. BROWN,

Ashburnham, June 7th, 1871. 23

CANADIAN BANK OF COMMERCE

THE Canadian Bank of Commerce have opened a

Saving's Bank Department.

In Peterborough. Interest allowed on all sums over $1.00.

T. A. HALL
Manager

Choice Poetry.

Change.

BY MARY E. ATKINSON.

"Father," said Linda, mournfully,
"When, looking down the years,
I think of amongst the sweet scenes
This mortal life appears
Like channel bright with vapors' bloom,
Where coming tempests
To quench their storms
Till all is safe night."

"Change," said the old priest, solemnly,
"Is but the steps whereby
We climb the golden
Which leadeth to the sky.
Fear not, daughter! Set thy feet
Upon each dreaded change,
Twill lift thee to
And give thee wider range."

"But, ah!" said Linda tearfully,
"The saddest change of all,
The sure, inevitable
On all we love must fall.
The dear, dear lights of
And life itself depart;
Therefore, like tolls of Change thrills my

"Death," said the old
"Is but the wings
We leave the
And gain the Fear not, my daughter! Wish them joy
Whom God to heaven doth call:
And teach thy heart with joy to greet
The last great change of all.

Keep Cool.

SUMMER DRINKS AND SUMMER COMFORTS.

The first, the best, because the safest for laborers, invalids, the sedentary, for all times of the day and night, is half a glass at a time, repeated in ten minutes if desired, of common cold water, at the temperature of the spring, or well, or reservoir, or cistern. Ice-water is more palatable, but often kills.

Any drink which contains alcohol, even cider, root beer, or domestic cordials, all are not only not harmless, but are positively injurious, because that atom of alcohol, by using the strength of the next minute for the present, leaves the system that next minute just that much weaker than it would have been had not that atom of alcohol been taken: this is the case, because that atom of alcohol has not one particle of nutriment, hence cannot supply the system with one atom of strength.

If anything is added to the summer drink, it should contain some nutriment, so as to strengthen the body as well as to dilute the blood for the purpose of a more easy flow through the system, as any one knows that the thinner a fluid is the more easily does it flow. Some of the nutritious and safe drinks are given below especially for those who work in the sun of summer all to be taken in the natural temperature of the shadiest spot in the locality. To any of them ice may be added, but it is luxurious, not a beneficial ingredient, nor a safe one.

1. Buttermilk.
2. A pint of molasses to a gallon of water.
3. A lemon to half a gallon of water and a teaspoonful of molasses, or as much sugar.
4. Vinegar sugar and water are substitutes. But the vinegar is not a natural acid, contains free alcohol, hence is not as safe or healthful.
5. A thin gruel made of corn or oats, drank warm, is strengthening.
6. A pint of grapes, currants, or garden berries to a half gallon of water, is agreeable.

Cold water applied to the head is very refreshing to harvesters. Wading in water abates thirst. Persons cast away at sea will suffer less from thirst if the clothing is kept wringing wet with water. A piece of silk fitted in the hat at an equal distance from the hair and top of the hat, is a great protection to the head against sun heat: it is an absolute protection if one side is well covered with gold leaf. As there is always a space between the top of the head and crown of the head, hatters should utilize the idea.

Too Poor.

The Model Farmer is credited with the following story, which is going the rounds of the agricultural:

The editor of the Rural New Yorker was sitting in his office one afternoon some years ago, when a farmer came in and said: "Mr. Moore I like your paper, but times are so hard I cannot pay for it."

"Is that so, friend Jones! I'm sorry that you are so poor: if you are so hard run I will give you my paper."

"Oh, no! I can't take it as a gift."

"Well, then, let's see how we can fix it. You raise chickens I believe?"

"Yes, a few, but they don't bring any thing hardly."

"Don't they! Neither does my paper sent anything hardly. Now, I have a proposition to make to you. I will continue your paper, and when you go home you may select from your lot one chicken and call her mine. Take good care of her, and bring me all the proceeds, wether in eggs or chickens, at the end of the year and we will call it square."

"All right, brother Moore," and the old fellow chuckled at what he thought a capital bargain. He kept the contract strictly and at the end of the year found that he had paid about four prices for his paper. He often tells the joke on himself, and says that he has never had the face to say he was too poor to take a paper since that day.

SUBSTITUTE FOR GRAFTING WAX.—I had no regular grafting wax, and yet wanted to graft some apple trees. I tried various substitutes, but none of them answered. I thought of covering some cotton with a thin solution of resin and grease, making in fact a sort of sticking plaster of it. This I did and cut it in strips about three quarters of an inch wide, hanging them on a little pole for use. After cutting and fitting and grafting I took about 10 inches in length of these strips and bound the graft round and round using the sticking part next the tree. It answered splendidly, and the grafts were retained in their position as rapidly as if they grew there. The weather could have no perceptible effect on them, as the grafting strips stuck fast to the graft and were perfectly water tight. The speed which each graft was made was something worth noticing; and to prevent the cotton sticking to the fingers, nothing more was necessary than to use a little grease on the operators hands. I afterwards found that about 6 in. long by 1 inch wide was quite sufficient for each ... and much more convenient.

There are less than one hundred professional shorthand writers in France.

A writer in the "Golden Age," says that Miss Kellog sings "Sweet Home" as if she lived in a hotel.

The true newspaper—that which would represent the true mission of the press of this wonderful age of progress—must have a great heart in it, and a never-sleeping conscience. It must be magnanimous and generous—dwith charity towards all, and malice towards none." It must speak the truth boldly for the truth's sake, and cherish justice as the apple of its eye. It must seek by the prosperity of right principles and right thoughts—to be useful as well as popular—to build up the ... in short.

New Firm in Ashburnham.

MOWRY & FORSYTH.

The undersigned have leased the "Mowry Foundry," Ashburnham, for a number of years, and have put in a thorough state of repairs. They have now unsurpassed facilities for doing

All Kinds of Work in the Foundry and Machine Line, and will do the same on favorable terms. They will carry on

THE THRESHING MACHINE MANUFACTURE!

As carried on formerly at the Mowry Foundry—All kinds of repairing of

Threshing Machines, Reapers and Mowers, Saw Mill and Grist Mill Machinery and Castings and Turnings of Every Description will be done on short notice.

The work will be of the best material and workmanship, and warranted to give general satisfaction.

SPECIAL NOTICE.

We ... to THRESHING MACHINES and HORSE POWERS which is ... the Farmers now using them, to do the best machine ... the Dominion. ... All orders ... business, commenced since the 25th of October, 1870, will be ... the undersigned, to whom also accounts owing since the same date must be paid.

W. SORSITH.

Ashburnham, May 1st, 1871. 12-tf.

GREAT EXCITEMENT!

AT

W. FAIRWEATHER & Co's Cheap Sale.

GREATEST BARGAINS EVER HEARD OF IN PETERBOROUGH.

Good Silk Mantles $1.50, worth $5.00.
Good Rich Grograin Silk $4.50 worth $10.00.
Good " " Trimmed with Real Lace (beautiful) only $7.50. worth $14.00.
Good White Serge Jackets only $1.25.
Good Summer Shawls, $1.00 and $1.50.
Good White and Colored Kid Gloves, 37½ cts.
Good Gentlemens' do 50 cts worth $1.25
Cottons, Prints, Dress Goods, and all Domestics equally reduced.

WANTED,

A GOOD SALESMAN AND AN APPRENTICE TO THE BUSINESS.

June 21st, 1871. 25

NEW SADDLERY!

The Subscriber wishes to inform his friends—old and new—that he has re-commenced the

Saddlery and Harness Business,

In the Shop next to the Toronto Bank,

Lately occupied by the Telegraph and Express Companies, opposite to Messrs. Nicholls & Halls, Simcoe Street,

Where he will at all times keep on hand or have made to order by first class workmen, everything usually kept in first class establishments, such as

GENTS' SADDLES, LADIES' DO,

Harness, Single and Double, Coarse, Heavy and Fine,

TRAVELLING BAGS, TRUNKS, SATCHELLS,

WHIPS, MATS, HORSE CLOTHING, &c.

☞ Grateful for past favors in his various lines of business during the last 20 years, he asks his friends to inspect his stock before purchasing elsewhere.

D. HOPKINS.

Peterboro, May 18, 1870. 20

NEW

Fall and Winter Goods!

T. BRADBURN,

Having succeeded in disposing of the greater portion of his former stock, and having since purchased heavily in Montreal and Toronto Markets, at the Lowest possible prices, is now showing and invites inspection of the following lines of new Fall and Winter Goods:

CLOTHS:

A complete stock of English and Canadian Cloths and Tweeds.

DRESS GOODS:

New Wool Serges, New Tartan Poplins,
New Wool Tartans, New Figured Poplins,
New French Reps, New Figured Reps,
New French Morinces, New French Delaines,
New Wincies, New Crare Cloths,
New Black Lustres, New Velvets and (Double Warp) New Velveteens

HOSIERY,

In great variety, English, Scotch and Canadian.

FLANNELS,

A full assortment of Welsh, Lancashire, Saxony, and Canadian Manufacture Also, Salisbury and Fancy Flannel Shirting very Cheap.

Prints, Linens and Towellings.

☞ JUST OPENED, ☜

A New and Select Stock of Gents' Collars, Ties, Scarfs and Gloves,

GLOVES, CORSETS and SKIRTS.

Those about to purchase FURS would do well to retain their orders, as a large lot will be opened in due time, and will be SOLD CHEAP.

T. BRADBURN

Select Poetry.

Passing.

The quivering glint across the seven,
The light dust feathers on the leaves,
Calm is the sea, the heavens blue,
The roses climb the trellis through.

The barley-boards grow full and white,
Day lingers late hours of night,
The bubbling brook is low and still,
And scarce can find the tolling mill.

The summer glow is in the air,
The hay-fields yield an incense rare,
On the green earth, in sky above,
A halo gleams of life and love.

O happy days, O summer time,
O dreaming youth, in golden prime;
All that is bright, and pure, and sweet,
Shines when ye twain together meet!

'Tis so, and so 'twill ever be,
Youth plucks the blossom from the tree;
That which it sows, long years give rest,
But only few may taste the fruit.

And we who passed long since our prime,
And bear the wrinkled stamp of time,
Look on and smile, look on and sigh,
Look in our breasts the reasons why.

All the Year Around.

Courting One's Wife.

An old story contains a lesson which many married couples have not yet learned. When Jonathan Trumbull was Governor of Connecticut, a gentleman called at his house one day requesting a private interview.—He said: "I have called upon a very unpleasant errand, sir, and want your advice. My wife and I do not live happy together, and I am thinking of getting a divorce.—What do you advise, sir?"

The Governor sat a few moments in thought, then turning to his visitor, said:—"How did you treat Mrs. M——— when you were courting her? and how did you feel towards her at the time of your marriage?"

Squire M——— replied: "I treated her as kindly as I could, for I loved her dearly at that time."

"Well, sir," said the Governor, "go home and court her now just as you did then and love her as when you married her. Do this the four of God for one year, and then tell me the result."

The Governor then said, "Let us pray." They bowed in prayer and separated.—When a year had passed away, Squire M——— called again to see the Governor and said: "I have called again to thank you for the good advice you gave me, and to tell you that my wife and I are as happy as when first we were married. I cannot be grateful enough for your good counsel."

"I am glad to hear it, Mr. M———" said the Governor, "and I hope you will continue to court your wife as long as you live."

What is the best corn extractor?—a crow.

The great causes-taker—brandy and water.

To keep potatoes from rotting—cook and eat them.

The right kind of timber for castles in the air.—Sun-beams.

Is a man who believes in supper necessarily superstitious?

Why is life the greatest conundrum? Because all must give it up.

Stages run so slow in some of Vermont that the chickens roosts on the axles.

There is no use of praising the present style of ladies' for they are pulled enough.

The supply of Paris green is running short it being in such great requestion for those beetles.

Why is coffee like an axe with a dull edge? Because it has to be ground before it is used.

A French author has sarcastically addressed a book to "William I, King of Prussia by the grace of God, and Emperor of Germany by the effusion of blood."

The difference between a bouquet of flowers, and the 'bouquet' of wine is that he makes a bouegay and the other a gay nose.

Brazen men and some women, are inventing a new patient pants without buttons or button holes. We can't imagine how they work, unless people are melted and run in, and then poured out at night extracted with a corkscrew. How is it anyway?

When a man is able to tell the time by his watch, because there are "two" hands and he doesn't know which ter believe, it is a tolerable sure sign that he has partaken of more refreshment than his nature requires.

Said a gentleman to a dealer, who was asking a high price for a parrot, "This is a handsome bird, but he talks very little." "I think the more," answered Poll immediately, and was bought without further chaffering.

Consoling.—'Tom, a word with you.'
'Be quick then; I'm in a hurry.'
'What did you give your sick horse t'other day?'
'A pint of turpentine.'
'John heroic hope and administers the same dose to a favourite charger, which strange to say, dies in half an hour. His opinion of Tom's veterinary ability is somewhat staggered. He meets him the next day:
'Well Tom, I gave my horse a pint of turpentine, and killed him.'
'So it did mine.'

Nailers and Tailers.—"John," inquired a dominie, of a hopeful pupil, what is a nailer?"
"A man who makes nails," replied hopeful, quite readily.
'Very good. Now what is a tailor?'
'One who makes tails,' was the equally quick reply.
'Oh, you blockhead!' said the dominie biting his lips.'
'A man who makes tails!' did you ever?
'To be sure, sooth Hopeful; if the tailor didn't put tails to the coats he made they would all be jackets!'
'Ah—well to be sure I didn't think of that' replied the dominie.

Chickens & Feathers.—At breakfast, one morning in that quiet and comfortable old inn, the White Swan, in York, a foreigner made quick despatch with the eggs. Thrusting his spoon into the middle, he threw out the yolk devoured it and passed on to the next. When he had got to his seventh egg, an old farmer, who had already been preached against monsieur, by his mustachios, could brook the extravagance no longer, and spoaking up said.
'Why sir, you leave all the white! How in Mrs. Lockwood to afford to provide breakfast at that rate?'
Ay! replied the outside barbarian, you can't have me to eat de vite! I buy de chicken; de vite is for de dog. Am I to make von booster of my belly!
The farmer was dumbfounded.

Ayer's Cathartic Pills,

For all the purposes of a Laxative Medicine.

Perhaps no one medicine is so universally required by everybody as a cathartic. Every one needs, now and then, a thorough purgative, to cleanse the system, start the digestive organs, and set the machinery of life in healthy motion. Being the most effectual purgative pills, the obvious remedy, that is in a measure reliable and for more effectually expelling the foul humors of the system. Those who have tried it, know that it cannot disappoint; those who have not, know that it cures. Everywhere, in all climates, and for all seasons, it is found to do just what it is represented—that is never fails through any fault or neglect of its constitution. We have thousands upon thousands of certificates of the most remarkable cures of the following complaints, but such as are known in every neighborhood, and we need not publish them. Adapted to all ages and conditions in all climates, containing neither calomel or any deleterious drug, they may be taken with safety by anybody. There is no wearing prostration following their use. Purging and vomiting cease almost from the first dose, but as they cause the bowels to act, they relieve the sick headache, which is often caused by their irritation, or have one taken at once from their use in any quantity.

They operate by their powerful influence on the internal viscera to purify the blood and restore it to healthy action—remove the obstructions of the stomach, bowels, liver, and other organs of the body, restoring their irregular action to health, and by correcting, wherever they exist, such derangements as are the first origin of disease.

Minute directions are given in the wrapper on the box, for the following complaints, which these Pills rapidly cure:—

For Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Headache, Languor and Loss of Appetite, they should be taken moderately to stimulate the stomach and restore its healthy tone and action.

For Liver Complaint and its various symptoms, Bilious Headache, Sick Headache, Jaundice or Green Sickness, Bilious Colic and Bilious Fevers, they should be judiciously taken for each case, to correct the diseased action or remove the obstructions which cause it.

For Dysentery or Diarrhœa, but one mild dose is generally required.

For Rheumatism, Gout, Gravel, Pain in the Side, Back and Loins, they should be continuously taken, as required, to change the diseased action of the system. With such change those complaints disappear.

For Dropsy and Dropsical Swellings, they should be taken in large and frequent doses to produce the effect of a drastic purge.

For Suppression a large dose should be taken as it produces the desired effect by sympathy.

As a Dinner Pill, take one or two Pills to promote digestion and relieve the stomach.

An occasional dose stimulates the stomach and bowels into healthy action, restores the appetite, and invigorates the system. Hence it often advantageous where no serious derangement exists. One who feels tolerably well, often finds that a dose of these Pills makes him feel decidedly better, from their cleansing and renovating effect on the digestive apparatus.

DR. J. C. AYER & CO., Practical Chemists, LOWELL, MASS., U. S. A.

NORTHROP & LYMAN, Newcastle.
General Agents for Ontario.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral,

For Diseases of the Throat and Lungs, such as Coughs, Colds, Whooping Cough, Bronchitis, Asthma, and Consumption.

Probably never before in the whole history of medicine, has anything won so widely and so deeply upon the confidence of mankind, as this excellent remedy for pulmonary complaints. Through a long series of years, and among most of the races of men it has risen higher and higher in their estimation, as it has become better known. Its uniform character and power to cure the most distressing affections of the lungs and throat, have made it known as a reliable protector against them. While adapted to milder forms of disease and to young children, it is at the same time the most effectual remedy that can be given for incipient consumption, and the dangerous affections of the throat and lungs. As a provision against sudden attacks of Croup, it should be kept on hand in every family, and indeed as all are sometimes subject to colds and coughs, all should be provided with this antidote for them.

Although settled Consumption is thought incurable, still great numbers of cases where the disease seemed settled, have been completely cured, and the patient restored to sound health by the Cherry Pectoral. So complete is its mastery over the disorders of the Lungs and Throat, that the most obstinate of them yield to it. When nothing else could reach them, under the Cherry Pectoral they subside and disappear.

Singers and Public Speakers find great protection from it.

Asthma is always relieved and often wholly cured by it.

Bronchitis is generally cured by taking the Cherry Pectoral in small and frequent doses.

So generally are its virtues known that we need not publish the certificates of them here, or do more than assure the public that its qualities are fully maintained.

Ayer's Ague Cure,

For Fever and Ague, Intermittent Fever, Chill Fever, Remittent Fever, Dumb Ague, Periodical or Bilious Fever, &c., and indeed all the affections which arise from malarious, marsh, or miasmatic poisons.

As its name implies, it does Cure, and does not fail. Containing neither Arsenic, Quinine, Bismuth, Iron, nor any other mineral or poisonous drug, it is entirely vegetable, and no matter what the state of the system may be when it is administered, no harm will result therefrom. Timid females, feeble children, and infirm old people may take it with confidence and with the certainty of being cured, if cure is possible. Even inveterate cases of Fever and Ague, which have become chronic, and obstinate to all other remedies, and which seem to have exhausted the skill of the physician, are completely driven from the system by this powerful antidote. Not a trace of the disease is left behind, and the patient is restored to perfect health. Under the combined influence of the Ague Cure and the Cherry Pectoral, the most inveterate cases of Liver Complaint, even when complicated with Dyspepsia, Rheumatism, Neuralgia, or Kidney Disease, have been cured when all other remedies had wholly failed. Liver-stricken patients, either resident in, or travelling through the sickly districts, will be protected by taking the AGUE CURE daily.

For Liver Complaints, arising from torpidity of the Liver, it is an excellent remedy, stimulating the Liver into healthy activity.

For Bilious Disorders and Liver Complaints, it is an excellent remedy, producing many truly remarkable cures, where other medicines had failed.

Prepared by Dr. J. C. AYER & Co., Practical and Analytical Chemists, Lowell, Mass., and sold by all the world.

PRICE, $1.00 PER BOTTLE.

NORTHROP & LYMAN, Newcastle.
General Agents for Ontario.

IRON IN THE BLOOD

MAKES THE WEAK STRONG.

The Peruvian Syrup, a Protected Solution of the Protoxide of Iron, is so combined as to have the character of an aliment, as easily digested and assimilated with the blood as the simplest food. It increases the quantity of Nature's Own Vitalizing Agent, Iron in the blood, and cures "a thousand ills," simply by Toning up, Invigorating and Vitalizing the System. The enriched and vitalized blood permeates every part of the body, repairing damages and waste, searching out morbid secretions, and leaving nothing for disease to feed upon.

This is the secret of the wonderful success of this remedy in curing Dyspepsia, Liver Complaint, Dropsy, Chronic Diarrhœa, Boils, Nervous Affections, Chills and Fevers, Humors, Loss of Constitutional Vigor, Diseases of the Kidneys and Bladder, Female Complaints, and all diseases originating in a bad state of the blood, or accompanied by debility or a low state of the system. Being free from Alcohol, in any form, its energizing effects are not followed by corresponding reaction, but are permanent, infusing strength, vigor, and new life into all parts of the system, and building up an Iron Constitution.

Thousands have been changed by the use of this remedy, from weak, sickly, suffering creatures, to strong, healthy, and happy men and women; and invalids cannot reasonably hesitate to give it a trial.

See that each bottle has PERUVIAN SYRUP blown in the glass.

Pamphlets Free.

J. P. DINSMORE, Proprietor,
No. 36 DEY ST., NEW YORK.
Sold by Druggists generally.

MONEY TO LEND.

The undersigned has a few thousand dollars of private funds which he is prepared to lend on mortgages, on improved farms.

D. W. DUMBLE,
January 1871. 1-tf.

WILLIAM TOOLE,

Being about to REMOVE his Manufactoring Establishment from the Ashburnham Mill Race to his own Foundry in course of erection,

On Murray Street, Immediately West of the Drill Shed,

Where he is fitting up with almost entire NEW MACHINERY, NEW MEN of long city experience, and, in fact, New Everything, begs to return thanks to his numerous town and country patrons for the very liberal patronage which he has enjoyed for the past fifteen years, and hopes by constant attention to business and fair, liberal treatment of customers, to continue in the enjoyment of the same. He would also intimate to his country friends, that he is manufacturing a few of

The Celebrated McKenzie Fanning Mills,

THE BEST MILL IN THE DOMINION,

Which he will sell at a very moderate price, and take in exchange any kind of FARM PRODUCE.

Peterboro, Feb. 9, 1870. 6

PHOTOGRAPHY!

Studio on Hunter Street West!

THE VERY BEST QUALITY OF

Photographs at the most Reasonable Rates

All sizes, from minature to life, either Plain or finished in

CARBON, SIPIA, INDIA INK, OIL OR WATER COLORS.

Parties can rely on Promptness.

Albums, Frames, &c., Always on Hand!

☞ Special attention to children.

☞ Inducements offered to families.

GEO. B. SPROULE.

Owing to a steadily increasing business, Mr. Sproule would request as a favor, that his customers make engagements for sitting a week or so, if possible, ahead of time, thereby saving a great deal of confusion, and perhaps disappointment.

Peterborough, September 28, 1870. 29

JUST RECEIVED

AT

GEORGE TANNERS',

AT THE SIGN OF THE

MAMMOTH CHAIR,

HUNTER STREET.

THE PATENT HAMMOCK FOLDING CHAIR!

This Chair was introduced to the public in Montreal in August last, and since that time has merited great attention wherever it has been introduced for its

COMFORT, DURABILITY AND CHEAPNESS,

It being retailed from $2.50 upwards. Call and see it; and in the meantime you can look through the largest and

Best Stock of General Furniture

EVER ON SALE IN THE TOWN OF PETERBORO.

THE UNDERTAKING BUSINESS

Is also more complete than ever, with a good supply of READY-MADE COFFINS.

N. B.—The subscriber wishes to give the Gentlemen of this town and vicinity a gentle hint not to encroach on the countenance of the Patent Hammock Folding Chair, as it is no humbug, but patented by Mr. Willoughby, Clerk, and I have purchased the sole right for this County from J. D. Mayer, the executive proprietor.

GEO. TANNER.

Peterboro, March 2, 1870. 9

WILSON, BOWMAN & CO.

Hamilton, Ontario

MANUFACTURERS OF THE CELEBRATED

LOCKMAN SEWING MACHINE,

Take pleasure in announcing that the popularity of the Sewing Machine manufactured by them is still on the increase. They are now turning them out at the rate of 600 per month and yet have been compelled within the last two weeks to increase their facilities to a capacity of one thousand per month.

The Lockman Machine, from its capacity to sew the heaviest fabrics with linen thread, as well as the finest cambrics with No. 150 Cotton, is pre-eminently the Farmer's Favorite Family Friend.

It is so exceedingly simple in its parts, and so strongly and durably made, that it does not require a mechanical genius for its management.

The manufacturers challenge the world to produce its equal, and yet its price is from Forty to Fifty per cent. Lower than that of any other first-class Shuttle Lock-stitch Sewing Machine

EVERY MACHINE IS WARRANTED.

☞ Sole Agent for the County of Peterborough—

T. DONNELLY,

P. S.—ROOMS OVER THE STORE. George Street

Peterboro, May 11, 1870. 16

PLAIN AND FANCY PRINTING IN ALL STYLES

EXECUTED IN A SUPERIOR STYLE,

At the "Examiner" Office, Simcoe St. Peterboro.

Notice.

IMPOUNDED

Two Devon Red Bulls, 1 year old. The smallest one all red; the largest one red with white spots on his belly and a white pat on each thigh and a white spot on his tail. Which will be sold at my premises on the

Seventh Day of July, 1871,

At the hour of One o'clock, p. m.

MATTHEW WALTON,
Pound keeper.

Lot No. 6, 13th Con. N. Monaghan
43-3ins.

BOARD AND LODGING.

MRS. DAVIS' Boarding House has removed on Simcoe street, where good board and lodging can be furnished for gentlemen.

T. W. DAVIS.
26-1y

FARM FOR SALE.

The subscriber offers for Sale his Farm, North half of Lot 29 in the

13th Concession of Smith,

Containing 100 Acres. There are about 60 Acres improved and in a good state of cultivation, the premises are a Considerable Log House, Log Barn, Stables, and Sheds; a Good Well and other accommodations. For terms and particulars apply to

JAMES ERWIN,
Proprietor

Stewart, May 8, 1871. 18 Lakehurst P. O

DUTCHER'S Lightning Fly Killer

Butcher's Dead Shot for Bed Bugs.

TRY THEM AND SLEEP IN PEACE.

STOVES, TINWARE &c

At the Giant T.

Cooking, Parlor and Box Stoves, CHEAP

A large stock of LUMBERMEN'S FURNISHINGS, on which a liberal discount will be made.

COAL OIL to the trade at reduced prices.

ROOFING IN TIN AND GALVANIZED IRON, also EAVE-TROUGHING AND PIPING

Done by Practical Men

Gas Fitting, Steam Fitting,

AND PLUMBING.

Also Agent for, and manufacturer of

CALCUTT'S PATENT TUBULAR DRUM HEATER,

The most Economical in the Dominion, by the use of which 50 per cent wood can be saved. Call and see them.

THOMAS LANNIN,
Practical Tin & Copper Smith
George St. Peterborough.
Sept. 28, 1870. 16-1yr

Fine English Camphor

The surest preventative against moths, and large supply on hand.

NO BATH COMPLETE

WITHOUT A SPONGE.

A GOOD HONEY-COMB SPONGE

From the Mediterranean may be obtained of the subscribers.

CARBOLIC SOAP

For Toilet Purposes.

CARBOLIC SOAP

For Washing Rooms, Bedsteads, Blankets, &c.

CARBOLIC ACID!

The most powerful disinfectant of modern times, not only neutralising but destroying miasmata, &c.

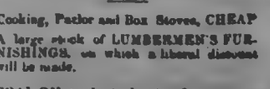
CARBOLIC POWDER

For Sprinkling in Cellars, &c. It is also very useful for destroying pediculi in dogs, calves, &c., being safe and effectious.

May all be obtained Pure and Genuine, at

DOCTOR TAYLOR'S,
Chemist and Druggist
Corner of George and Hunter Sts, Peterboro
May 11, 1870. 17

UNFAILING EYE PRESERVERS.



LAZURUS, MORRIS & Co's

CELEBRATED

Perfected Spectacles

AND EYE GLASSES.

The large and increasing sales of these Perfected Glasses is a sure proof of their superiority. We were satisfied that they would be appreciated here as elsewhere, and that the reality of the advantages offered to wearers of our beautiful lenses, viz: the ease and comfort, the assured and readily ascertained improvement of the sight, and the brilliant assistance they give in all cases, were in themselves so apparent on trial, that the vault could not be otherwise than it has, in the simpat general adoption of our Celebrated Perfected Spectacles by the residents of this locality.

With a full knowledge of the value of the assertion, we claim that they are the most perfect optical aids ever manufactured. To those needing Spectacles, we afford at all times an opportunity of procuring the best and most reliable.

DR W. H TAYLOR,
Corner of George and Hunter Streets,

Has always on hand a full assortment, suitable for every difficulty.

We take occasion to notify the public that we employ no pedlars, and to caution them against those pretending to have our goods for sale.

Peterboro, February 8, 1871

DARLEY'S

ARABIAN OIL,

FOR HORSES AND CATTLE.

A NEVER-FAILING REMEDY.

THIS valuable preparation combines all the medicinal virtues of those articles which long experience has proved to possess the most safe and efficient properties for the cure of Fresh Wounds, Sprains, Bruises, Galls of all kinds, Cracked Heels, Ring Bone, Spavin, Callus, Fistula, Sweeney, External Poisons, Scratches or Grease, Strains, Lameness, Mange, Mallows, Corns, Sand Cracks, Foundered feet, Horn Distemper, Swellings, and many other diseases which horses and cattle are subject to.

This celebrated Liniment has been used for many years, and its curative properties thoroughly tested, and it is conceded to be the cheapest and most reliable remedy for all external complaints ever offered to the public—it never fails when timely used and faithfully applied.

To be had of all Druggists and Country Merchants throughout the Dominion. Price 25c. per bottle.

NORTHROP & LYMAN
Newcastle, Ont.

Flax! Flax!!

Farmers intending to grow flax will please apply for their seed early. Seed supplied and payment taken in flax by calling on

SAMUEL TAYLOR
or H. CALCUTT.

I would beg to call the attention of farmers that I have a machine for pulling flax, which will pull 4 acres a day. I will let the machine and send a man with it for 2c per day. By the assistance of the puller, Flax in the cheapest crop harvested. For information I would refer you to—Jonathan Stephenson, Smith; W. Wilburn, Smith; J. Parnell, Smith; A. Scott Smith; I. Beck Otonabee; W. Rutherford, Otonabee.

SAMUEL TAYLOR,
Flax Mill,
Ashburnham
Ashburnham, March, 1871. 11-3mos

THOS. MENZIES,

BANKER AND BROKER,

PETERBORO, ONT.

Buys and sells New York and sterling Exchange, Bank Stocks, Gold, Silver, Greenbacks, &c. &c. He also sells Drafts for any amount on England, Ireland, Scotland, France, Belgium, Germany, Switzerland, Italy, Denmark, Sweden & Norway, Russia, Poland and California, and all parts of the United States.

He has a large amount of ... ADAM BELL ... of Montreal, ... Canadian, at the current ... Peterboro, July 6th, 1871.

Also Agent for the ... CHOICE LIQUORS OF ...

The Peterborough Examiner
A WEEKLY
POLITICAL, AGRICULTURAL,
AND
FAMILY NEWSPAPER,
IS PUBLISHED
EVERY THURSDAY MORNING.

Terms $1.50 per annum in Advance.

EVERY DESCRIPTION OF BOOK AND JOB PRINTING executed at this office, in a superior style, and at low rates.

☞ Particular attention given to Ornamental Printing in Colors, Attractive Posters, &c.

All orders for Job Printing forwarded to this office will be punctually and strictly attended to.

JAMES HALL,
SHERIFF, Office in the Court House, Peterborough.

EDG. PEARSE,
COUNTY Treasurer and Clerk. Office in the Court House, Peterboro. 6

EDG. PEARSE,
OFFICIAL ASSIGNEE. Office — Court House, Peterborough. 6-1y

C. A. WELLER,
CLERK of the Peace. Office on Simcoe St., 18

C. A. WELLER,
COUNTY Attorney. Office on Simcoe St. 20

C. A. WELLER,
BARRISTER, Attorney, Solicitor, &c.—Office—Simcoe Street, Peterborough.

MR. JOHN BURNHAM,
BARRISTER, Attorney at Law, Solicitor in Chancery, Conveyancer, &c. Office—over T. Chamber's Store, Hunter Street, Peterborough, Ont. 39

GEORGE EDMISON,
ATTORNEY at Law, Solicitor in Chancery, Conveyancer, &c., &c. Office over Mr. John Fletcher's Boot and Shoe Store, directly opposite Mr. Clinton's, George Street, Peterborough
Peterboro', Feb. 17th, 1866. 7

W. H. MOORE,
BARRISTER, Attorney at Law, Solicitor in Chancery, Conveyancer, &c. Office corner of George and Hunter Streets, McKellar & Cameron's old stand.
MONEY TO LOAN on easy terms, on land security. Mortgage bought.
Peterboro, April 6, 1868. 14

DENNISTOUN, FAIRBAIRN & CASSELS
BARRISTERS, &c.,
Hunter Street, 3 Peterborough.

JOHN GREEN,
BARRISTER, Attorney at Law, Solicitor in Chancery, Conveyancer, &c Office over the Ontario Drug Store, Scott's block, corner of George and Simcoe Streets.
Peterboro Dec. 1st, 1869. 48

GEO. T. LEONARD,
ATTORNEY-AT LAW, SOLICITOR IN Chancery &c. Peterborough. 39

S. D. CRAWFORD, M. D., C. M.,
MEMBER of Royal College of Surgeons, England; Licentiate Government Medical Board; Late resident Coombe Lying-in-Hospital, Dublin. Ryan's Buildings, Market Square, Peterboro. 7

DR. LOYD,
CORONER for the Counties of Peterborough and Victoria. Office and residence at Bobcaygeon. 47

GEORGE BURNHAM, M. D.
GRADUATE of Bellevue Hospital Medical College, N. Y., University of Victoria College Canada, and Licentiate of Nova Scotia, Physician, Surgeon and Accoucheur.
Office and residence,—Near the Corner of Brock and George Streets, Peterborough.
Peterboro, May 27, 1869. 43

D. PENTLAND,
DENTIST, would respectfully inform the public that he is now prepared to EXTRACT TEETH WITHOUT PAIN, by the aid of Nitrous Oxide Gas, a very pleasant and perfectly safe remedy.
Peterboro, November 28, 1866. 48

W. COULTER,
DEALER in Genuine Drugs, Chemicals, Patent Medicines, Perfumery, Paints, Oils Dye Stuffs, Hair, Nail and Tooth Brushes, Spices, Culinary Essences, Fancy Soaps, &c. George Street, Peterboro. 16

RUSH & BUCKETT,
VETERINARY SURGEONS, No. 6 Henthorn's Block, George street, Peterboro Horse and Cattle Medicines kept constantly on hand. Horses taken under treatment on easy terms.

ALEX. McNEIL,
LICENSED Auctioneer for the Counties of Peterborough and Victoria, and Townships of Cavan and South Monaghan.

GEORGE READ,
ISSUER of Marriage Licenses, Clerk Division Court, Township Clerk, &c., Keene, Otonabee. 20

JAMES McLEAN,
INSURANCE Agent, Issuer of Marriage Licenses, and Commissioner for taking Affidavits.
Cavan, Mount Pleasant, C. W. 30

CABINET-MAKING.
E. POOLE, Cabinet maker, Upholsterer and Undertaker, George Street, Peterboro.

JAMES STEVENSON,
DEALER in Stoves, Tin-Ware, &c., &c. George Street, Peterborough. 18

ROBERT PATTERSON,
DEALER in Boots and Shoes. Spanish Sole Leather constantly on hand.
Nicholls and Hall's old stand, Simcoe Street, Peterborough.

GEORGE MITCHELL,
DEALER in Groceries and Provisions, &c. Cash paid for all kinds of country produce
George Street, Peterborough, 15

EDMUND S. VINDIN
COMMISSION, Shipping, Forwarding and General Agent, Lumber Merchant, &c.—office, Corner of Walton and Ontario Streets, Port Hope.

BANK OF TORONTO.
CORNER of Water and Simcoe Streets, Peterboro. Interest allowed on Deposits
J. MURRAY SMITH,
Manager

ROBERT WALTON.
SADDLERY. Dealer in Stoves, Tinware, &c., George Street, Peterboro'. 18

J. R. McCULLOUGH, M. D.,
Graduate of Trinity College, Dublin, and Licentiate of the Dominion of Canada,
Physician, Surgeon, Accoucheur, &c.,
AND
Late Surgeon of the U. S. Army & Navy,
Will be found at his office or at his residence, at all hours of the Day and Night, except when out on professional business.
☞ N. B.—All communications strictly confidential. ☜
RESIDENCE and
OFFICE—Next Door To Wm. McDonald's Hotel, and two doors East Of Holm's Foundry, Simcoe Street.
Visits in the Corporation One Dollar, Only.
VISITS TO THE COUNTRY MODERATE.
☞ ADVICE TO ALL FREE. ☜
Simcoe Street, Peterboro, Ont.
September 8, 1868. 36

THOMAS LANNIN,
PRACTICAL TIN & COPPER SMITH, Bell Hanger, Steam and Gas Fitter, Plumber, &c. Dealer in Stoves, Iron Beds Baths, Refrigerators, Water Coolers, Fitters, Pumps, &c.
GEORGE STREET,
Peterboro, 1st June, 1870. 32

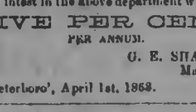
JOHN COONEY,
NURSERYMAN,
DEALER in Fruit and Ornamental Trees, Shrubs and Roses, and all kinds of Nursery stock. A very choice collection of Strawberry Plants on hand.
Orders by mail promptly attended to.
JOHN COONEY.
Peterboro, July 21, 1869. 29

ONTARIO BANK,
PETERBOROUGH.
SAVINGS DEPARTMENT.
From this date until further notice, the rate of intest in the above department will be
FIVE PER CENT.
PER ANNUM.
G. E. SHAW,
Manager.
Peterboro', April 1st, 1869. 14-tf

GEORGE ALLEN,
GUN & WHITE-SMITH,
Hunter Street, Peterborough,
BEGS to inform the public, that all kinds of repairing is done on the shortest notice, such as Guns, Stocking, &c., Pistols and White-smithing. Sewing Machines also neatly repaired.
☞ Shop and residence adjoining the Union Hotel.
Peterboro, October 25, 1865. 43

GORE DISTRICT MUTUAL
FIRE INSURANCE COMPANY!
HEAD OFFICE, GALT, ONTARIO.
CHARTERED A. D., 1840.
ASSETS, $160,000 | LOSSES PAID, $410,000
POLICIES ISSUED, 15,595.
ALL kinds of Property Insured at rates from 15 to 20 per cent. lower than Stock Companies. Claims adjusted with fairness and liberality. Losses Promptly Paid.
ROBERT McLEAN, Esq.,
Inspector and General Agent.
THOMAS M. SIMONS, Esq., Secretary.
R. W. ERRETT, Agent, Peterborough
November 4, 1869. 40-1y

TO THE FARMERS
OF THE
COUNTY OF PETERBOROUGH.
The undersigned begs to intimate that he is again prepared to pay the HIGHEST CASH PRICE for
Oats, Pease, Barley and Rye,
at his New Grain Warehouse in Ashburnham, situated nearly opposite his old stand.
His friends and acquaintances are invited to give him a call as usual.
D. SUTHERLAND.
Ashburnham, Sep. 20, 1869 15



STAGE.
BETWEEN
Norwood and Peterboro'
The Stage leaves Norwood every
Monday, Wednesday and Friday,
at 7 o'clock a. m.
RETURNING, leaves Peterboro' at 2.30 p.m.
Office in Norwood, Johnson's Hotel.
Office in Peterboro', Stewart House.
This Stage connects with the stage for Blairton, Marmora, Hastings, Warkworth and Colborne.
J. A. JOHNSON,
23-tf Proprietor

SCOTTISH IMPERIAL
FIRE INSURANCE COMPANY.
CAPITAL - - £1,000,000.
Head Office—50 West George Street, Glasgow.
CANADA BRANCH—Head Office, No. 86 St. Francois Xavier Street, Montreal
WALTER BEAL,
Agent for Peterboro.
OFFICE—SIMCOE STREET. 20-3ins

DAILY LINE
TO
ROCHESTER.

The Superb new Lake Upper Stare Cabin Steamer.
NORSEMAN,
Carrying United States and Canadian Mails and Express
Leaves Port Hope every Morning
FOR ROCHESTER
At 9 o'clock on arrival of Grand Trunk Railway Trains from East and West,
RETURNING
Leaves Port of Rochester (Charlotte) every evening at 9 o'clock (except Saturday, when she leaves at two p. m., for brighton.)
This is the favourite summer route from Toronto to Rochester, Albany, &c. The cheapest and quickest route from points East of Port Hope on the Grand Trunk, to Rochester, Buffalo, &c. The favourite route to Avon and Clifton Springs, &c.
Passengers and freight take cars along-side steamer at Rochester Landing.
Connection made at Cobourg ask Port Hope with Royal Mail Line Steamers from Hamilton and Montreal.
Address R. C. CARTER,
15 PORT HOPE.

GRAND TRUNK RAILWAY.
TRAINS LEAVE
PORT HOPE STATION
AS FOLLOWS:
GOING EAST.
Express (day)..... 9.30 a.m.
Mixed..... 7.00 p.m.
Express (night)..... 9.20 p.m.
GOING WEST.
Express (night)..... 10.30 p.m.
Mixed..... 3.00 p.m.
Express (day)..... 10.30 a.m.
Trains leave on Railroad time, which is about twenty-three minutes ahead of Port Hope time
Warranted correct by the Company's time Table

Montreal Ocean Steamship Co.

Steam to Liverpool, Londonderry and Glasgow.
Rates of Passage from Peterboro':
CABIN, - - $76 to $80. STEERAGE - $30.
Return Tickets for 6 months at reduced fares
For Through Passage Tickets, Staterooms, and every information, apply to
GEORGE A. COX, Agent.
Canadian Express Co'y.
Peterboro', Nov. 7th, 1866. 47

GREAT WESTERN RAILWAY
OF CANADA.
TORONTO LINE.
TORONTO, &c., TO HAMILTON.
Accommodation trains leave Yonge street Station at 7.00 a.m., 2.50 p.m. and 6.55 p.m.
Express at 12.25 p.m.
HAMILTON, &c., TO TORONTO.
Accommodation trains leave Hamilton at 7.10 a.m., 9.50 a.m. and 7.25 p.m.
Express at 3.45 p.m.

PIANOS,
MELODEONS, ORGANS
D. PENTLAND,
Is now Agent for A. & S. Nordheimer for the sale of the following celebrated Pianos:—Chickering & Sons'; Steinway & Sons'; Dunham & Sons'; Haines Brothers'; Ernest Gabler; and J. W. Vose's.
Also, for the world-wide Celebrated Organs and Melodeons—Geo. A. Prince & Co., Buffalo; Mason & Hamlin's, Boston.
Instruction Books for Piano & Organ, Sheet Music, &c always on hand.
REFERENCES.—Mr. F Bell, Organist, St. John's Church, Peterboro; Mr D. D Gallelly, Chorister, Canada Presbyterian Church, Peterboro; Dr J. L. Davidson, Precentor, St. Andrew' Church, Peterboro; Dr. Taylor, Peterboro.
Peterboro, April 5th, 1871. 14

THE CANADIAN
BANK OF COMMERCE
CORNER OF
Hunter and Water Streets, Peterboro'
☞ Interest allowed on Deposits.
J. A. HALL, Manager
Peterboro, July 27, 1870. 30

THOS. MENZIES,
Now being the authorized Ticket Agent for the Grand Trunk Railway, can supply the public with
Tickets to all parts of Canada,
Also to any part of the United States.
Charges the same as at any of the Stations on the G. T. R. So get your Tickets before leaving Peterboro, and save all trouble on your journey.
THOS. MENZIES,
George Street.
Peterboro July 3, 1870 13

MONEY TO LOAN,
In Small or Large Sums on easy terms
GEO. T. LEONARD,
Solicitor, &c
May 28rd, 1871. 21-4ins

BOARD AND LODGING.
MRS. DAVIS' Boarding House has removed on Simcoe street, where good board and lodging can be furnished for gentlemen.
T. W. DAVIS.
June 29, 1870. 36-1y

Peterborough Examiner.

$1.50 PER ANNUM, IF PAID IN ADVANCE.] "Prove all things—Hold fast that which is good." [$2.00 PER ANNUM, IF NOT PAID IN ADVANCE.

VOL. XVI. PETERBOROUGH, THURSDAY, JULY 20, 1871. NO. 29.

Select Poetry.

One Night It Came.

One night it came, for years and years,
Oh, saddened years we cannot blot
Its memory with a sea of tears,
Nor wipe away the tainted spot,
It was no dream—but sternly real,
A picture such as one may see
In every path, and then may feel
What every one some day may be.

The clock that ticked beside the stair
Had turned its hands to most eleven.
And frost was in the midnight air,
'Gainst which the warmth had vainly striven
The fire was slow within the grate,
And flickering burned each dying ember—
Like human hopes—that soon or late
Fade out of June into December.

The only thing within the room
That showed the least of joy or brightness,
Was that faint fire, that in the gloom
Threw out a ray or two of lightness;
A fitting place for grief to well—
A drunkard's home—a wife in sadness,
Why do there demons, born of Hell,
From every heart drive out its gladness?

Long has she sat and watched the blaze,
And tried to quell her rising fancies,
To hide the thoughts of other days—
Their hours of joy, their gay romances.
Fast flowed the tears adown her face,
Her weary sighs were growing thicker—
"Why hast thou cursed the human race
With those who deal in souls and liquor?"

Hast thou no angel that will sweep
With 'venging sword, the cruel demon,
That laughs aloud when others weep
And drinks the blinding tears of women?
The days are bitter, bleak and wild,
But blacker, wilder, is my meaning,
The mother of a drunkard's child—
Ere what great sin am I atoning?

But hark! rude steps are on the stair!
What is the burden they are bearing?
Still are the features once so fair—
The once blue eyes are fixed and staring,
They laid their burden slowly down,
Tears trickled from their drooping lashes,
The fire at last had all burned down—
The widow's heart was dust and ashes.

Oh, men and women! will you link
Your hands with us in Temperance labor;
And lift again the beads that sink,
And strive to raise your fallen neighbor?
Then God will bless our earnest work,
With holy strength against Temptation;
To war with all the fiends that lurk
In every home, in every station.

Choice Literature.

Ruth and Her Lover.

BY HANNAH HOPKER.

What is it, Ruthie? Are you angry that you will not kiss me good-night?"

Henry Harland stood at the threshold of a fine old mansion and looked into the black eyes of Ruth Ward, to whom he was engaged to be married. she stood a little back in the shadow of the hall and refused to kiss him good-night.

"I cannot kiss you Henry," she said, "because you have been drinking, and I cannot kiss a man whose breath is contaminated with liquor."

The young man dropped his eyes, and a blush stole up his brown cheek, and then he offered the same excuse that all men offer when first they commence to temper with strong drink.

"Is that it, Ruthie?" he said. "I have only been drinking a glass of wine that Mrs. Gleason offered me. You don't object to that, for you know I don't drink."

"Henry, my only brother was ruined from taking a glass of wine, and I made a vow, when I saw him in his coffin, that I would never receive the attentions of any young man who would trust himself to drink even wine, and feel that he was safe in doing so. In the beginning is the time to speak. The first glass is the one to avoid. If you knew what terrible anguish your breath scented with wine calls to my memory, you would understand better my firmness and determination."

"Then you are going to break our engagement because I have drank a glass of wine? said Henry a little distinctly.

"No, Henry, I love you," said Ruth; "and I think you will for my sake be attentious in future, and I wish you would sign the pledge You have drank wine often of late, though I did not fully realize it until to-day, and if you do not abstain from it now, I must refuse your attentions in future."

"You profess to love me," said he, "but you do not, for love would induce you to stand by me and try to keep me from temptation; but, instead you drive me to destruction."

"Listen to me Henry," said Ruth, her eyes glistening and her voice trembling. "You say I do not love you, because I will not sacrifice my happiness and welfare, and that of others, for you, when you will not make the slight sacrifice for me of signing the pledge. Reason is as necessary as love, and how could I keep you from destruction when you are determined not to listen to me, but to go on the very path which, I am sure, leads to ruin and a drunkard's grave."

"You are too hasty, Ruth; your experience with your brother blinds you. Wine does no harm to me and as it is offered me continually, I cannot well refuse it."

"Change your boarding place," said Ruth; "Mrs. Gleason is doing more harm than she dreams of in treating her boarders with wine. Go to Mr. Andrews to board. She is a strong temperance woman If you love me, why will you not grant me this request?"

"You know I love you, Ruth, but you are unreasonable. I am in no danger, and can govern my appetite. You talk as though I was very near a drunkard's grave."

It was all in vain that careful, black eyed Ruth pleaded with her lover, and when she saw that pleadings were all in vain, she said, in a voice firm but full of anguish:

"Then, dear Henry, farewell; I cannot break my vow. My brother's dead face would come to haunt me. I shall pray that you may see the error of your ways—farewell."

She was gone, and though Henry Harland called after her, she did not return.—He walked slowly down the steps and along the gravelled walk. More and More his feelings softened, and before he reached the boarding house he said slowly to himself; a glass of wine shall not separate me from my darling Ruth. I can much easier dispense with that than with her love, and I will sign the pledge to-morrow, and we will be happy again."

He entered the house, and was passing on to his room, but a young man opened a door and stepped into the hall, said pleasantly: "That you Harland? walk in a moment. I want to speak with you."

"It is too late," said Henry, passing on; but the man urged, and finally grasping his arm, half dragged him into the apartment.

"You shall have a taste of this wine," he said, "the best you ever drank; here's a glass ready for you."

"No, I thank you," said Henry, looking as he said this, longingly at the wine.

"No, Dart, I don't wish for any to-night."

"Well, but taste of this," said Dart; "you can't object to that. Taste, and give me your opinion of it. I say it is the best wine that was ever made."

Henry drank, not only the first, but more and more, until his good resolve was forgotten, and he staggered to his room. The next morning he awoke with a blinding headache and a guilty conscience.

"I cannot see Ruth to-day," he said, "nor sign the pledge, while last night's indulgence is so near, but in a few days, when this has blown by, we will be good friends once more, and I will not drink again."

Had he gone at that moment, confessed his fault, and pledged himself to abstain thereafter, he might have been saved; but he listened again to the voice of the tempter, and fell, and the drunkard's seal was upon him. A few months after he heard Ruth Ward's farewell, he fled from his native town determined to change his course, and be again a man. A thousand times he had thought of her warning, and a thousand times resolved to drink no more; but every time his resolution was broken, and at last, disgraced and despised, he fled, no one knew whither but himself.

The twenty thousand dollars which were his six months before were all gone; his dress was shabby, his eyes blood-shot, and encrusted. From the car window he looked anxiously at every station, not knowing where or when to stop.

At last spied in the distance a beautiful village, made up of snowy-white cottages, shaded with huge elms and poplars. It looked so quiet, and peaceful, and inviting, that when the train stopped at the station he alighted and gazed with a wistful, hungry look at the shady streets and quiet homes.

How happy he might have been now if he had listened to the words of Ruth Ward. It was the month which had been appointed for their marriage, and with how much anticipated happiness had he looked forward to it. He was weak, and hungry, and heart sick, and he leaned against a pile of boxes near him and groaned in agony of spirit. A man touched him on the arm.

"Look here, stranger," he said; "you look faint. Come around the corner, here, and get a glass of whiskey."

He started at those words; his thirst was maddening and he was about to follow the man's directions, when another man, tall, gentlemanly and kind, said in a low, earnest tone:

"Stranger, I see that you are unhappy; but whiskey will not help you."

"Help me?" screamed Henry, looking at the man wildly; it has already been my ruin; but what can I do? I am tempted on every side. I have no work, no home, no friends."

"I am the friend of such as you," said the man in a soft, fatherly tone.

Henry looked up in surprise, and there was a gleam of hope in his face.

The kind man drew his arm within his own.

"Come with me," he said, "away from these dens of murder and destruction, and I will give you every inducement to reform. I read your history in your face, and I know the whole story from my own experience, for once I was a drunkard, and was tempted alike as you are; but a kind heart cheered me, and a kind hand led me into a better path, and it is my greatest desire to help all those who have fallen into temptation.

Henry had indeed found a friend. He was soon at work, and had joined a lodge of Good Templars in the village, and his superior education, his refined manners, and uncommon ability, soon raised him to a high position.

Mr Ives, the gentleman who had befriended him, was a merchant, and Henry was employed as clerk in his store. He kept this position but a short time, however, for his abilities was soon discovered, and the position of head-book-keeper was given him. Months passed on, and he became the handsome, elegant gentleman he was before the wine cup maddened him, and many a young girl felt the blood rushing to her face when she heard his step or felt the clasp of his hand, but Henry had not forgotten the black eyed girl who had so firmly refused his attentions; and his highest ambition and hope were to make himself worthy of her love, and then seek her out and make her his wife.

Several years passed away, and at last a great temperance convention called him to his native town. His eloquence as a speaker had been discovered and he had often addressed meetings on the subject of temperance, hoping thereby to save some from destruction. The evening appointed for him to address the convention was very fair and the attendence was exceedingly large. Tall graceful and manely, he bowed before the audience, and proceeded with his lecture, but he had spoken but a few moments before discovered a pair of black eyes fixed upon him, the expressive black eyes of Ruth Ward. He hesitated a moment embarrassed and confused, then regaining his self possession, he broke the thread of his discourse and related his experience. There was a dead silence in the room, as the handsome young man told his past degradation, his temptations, his broken resolves, and his meeting with the good man who had befriended him. Not an eye in that great assembly was free from tears, and when he had closed with an eloquent peroration of warning to young men, there was a moment's silence, then cheer after cheer rent the air, and men and women crowded around the platform to clasp the hand of the young orator. In vain he looked for the black eyes which had inspired him to speak with such eloquence, they were not there to greet him. Disappointed he was about to depart, for the hall was nearly empty, when he felt a touch on his arm, and turning beheld the black eyes full of tears, but the red lips wreathed with a smile.

At the threshold of the old mansion that night, he received the good-night kiss, and the promise that the early spring should find them man and wife.

THE WASHINGTON TREATY.—The London "Gazette," the official organ of the British Government, announces that the ratifications of the Treaty of Washington were exchanged on the 17th inst., and that Commissioners will shortly be appointed to carry the stipulations into effect. British subjects having claims against the United States are requested to present them within six months from the first meeting of the Commissioners. This formal ratification of the Treaty the validity of which depends upon the sanction of the Canadian Parliament. All the rest of the Treaty is now binding upon both nations, and the "Alabama questions," which so long distracted the people of England and America, is now happily a thing of the past.

The Tichborne case has cost the plaintiff already it is said £140,000 It is believed it will occupy one hundred days or more It is costing the defence hundreds of pounds daily. There are over one hundred witnesses to be heard on behalf of the claimant. Not less than £250,000 will be wasted on this case of proving personal identity. Another month it is thought would not finish the case for the claimant.

A novel illustrating the leading characteristics, official and social, of the men and morals of the Second Empire in France is now in press in London.

Report of Messrs. W. Saunders and E. B. Reed, on the Colorado Potato Beetle—Doryphora tinealea.

LONDON, ONT., JUNE, 1871.

To the Honorable John Carling, Commissioner of Agriculture and Public Works, for the Province of Ontario:

SIR,—In compliance with instructions from your Department, dated June 10th, 1871, to visit, without delay, as many of the localities, on the Western Frontier of this Province, as are most affected by the ravages of the Colorado Potato Beetle; to examine the nature and extent of the attack; to make such experiments with a view to the cure or arrest of the malady, as our observations and judgement might suggest, and to report to your Department, the results of our labors, that the same might be submitted to the public forthwith, for general information;" we beg leave to submit the following report:—

LOCALITIES.

We have visited a large portion of the Western Frontier of the Province, and have also procured reliable information from many other localities throughout Western Ontario, and are thus enabled to form a tolerably accurate estimate of the spread of the insect, and also of the present state of the potato crop in those regions now affected by this pest.

NECESSITY FOR INVESTIGATION.

We are fully satisfied, from personal observation, that the current newspaper reports respecting the enormous numbers of these insects which have crossed into Canada from the State of Michigan, are but little, if at all, exaggerated; and that the evils resulting from this invasion, are already of sufficient magnitude to excite serious alarm respecting the safety of a crop which is so indispensable to all classes of the community: and we apprehend, that before the close of the season, the natural increase of the insect will have extended the mischief throughout the greater portion of Ontario. The prompt action, however, of the Department, in endeavouring to acquaint the agriculturists of the Province, with the best remedial measures to be used in this instance, will, we trust, result in affecting a saving of a material portion of the crop, even in the badly affected districts. In making this report, we have endeavoured to condense it as much as is compatible with the objects we have in view, and to lose no time in placing it in your hands, in a plain and popular form. It is intended, in the next annual report of the Entomological Society of Ontario, to give a complete history of the Colorado Potato Beetle from its earliest appearance, with a more detailed account of the mischief it has caused throughout the country; and also to treat at large, of the various other insects injurious to the potato.

The eggs which are of a deep orange yellow, and are laid in patches usually containing from thirty to forty on the underside of the leaves.

The larva, which is at first dark reddish brown, becomes paler and brighter in color as it matures. The head is black, and there is a ring of the same color on the second segment. There are also two rows of black spots along each side.

The perfect beetle is of a yellowish cream color, with ten black lines or stripes, running lengthways, and a few black dots on the head and thorax. There are three broods of this insect during each year, the last of which remains in the ground during the winter. Some idea of its enormous rate of increase may be gathered from the fact that each female deposits from 700 to 1000 eggs, and that these attain to the perfect beetle state, within fifty days, so that the results from a single pair, if allowed to increase without molestation, would, in one season, amount to over fifty millions. The insect, in its several forms of egg, larva, and perfect beetle, may frequently be found in company on the same potato vine.

ITS NATURAL FOOD.

This insect was originally confined to a comparatively small extent of country, in the region of the Rocky Mountains, where it fed on a species of wild potato, Solanum rostratum, but having suddenly acquired a taste for the cultivated potato, and adopting that as its principal food, it has gradually spread eastward, until it has invaded our shores. It feeds also readily on many other plants, belonging to the order Solanaceæ, which includes the tomato and egg-plant, as well as the potato; all of interest to the agriculturist, as well as many species of wild plants, such as Black Henbane, Hyoscyamus niger and Thornapple, Datura Stramonium.

THE THREE LINED POTATO BEETLE.

The Colorado, or ten lined beetle, must not be confounded with the smaller three lined potato beetle, Lema trilineata—which has been common throughout Canada for many years past, and is at the present time, unusually abundant in some districts, especially in the neighborhood of Kincardine. The larva of this beetle, is smaller, and may be readily distinguished by its disgusting habit of carrying its excrement on its back.

EXTENT OF DAMAGE.

We found that the districts most affected by the insect, were those portions of the Province situated on the frontier, between Sarnia and Amherstburgh, and extending inland from twenty to forty miles: but we have obtained undoubted evidence of the fact, that in smaller but rapidly increasing numbers this pest has spread over a very large portion of the Province, embracing Bayfield to the north, the neighborhood of Toronto to the east, and over almost the entire portion of the western section of the country. It must be remembered, however, that those insects we have seen, are of the first brood only, and as the season advances, we shall, no doubt, receive reports of great injury sustained in many districts by the succeeding broods. Already several instances have come under our notice, of parties who have been so discouraged by the utter destruction of their potato vines, that they have ploughed up entire fields and sown other crops in their place. We anticipate that the large amount of shipping daily passing down the Detroit river, and the continual movement of railway cars from affected districts, both in Ontario and the United States, to the eastern portions of the Provinces, will, by affording shelter and means of transport to the beetle, distribute this insect shortly over the entire coast line, and portions of the country through which the railways pass.

ITS PROBABLE CONTINUANCE.

From all the information we have been able to obtain from competent observers in those Western States, which first suffered from the depredations of this foe, we deem it highly probable that we shall have to contend with it for many years to come.—In the course of three or four summers our agriculturists may expect that the most enemies of this beetle, of which we already know some nine or ten to exist in Canada, and which prey upon the eggs and larvæ will, in the natural order of things, so multiply as materially to check the further increase of the Colorado Beetle.

IS IT POISONOUS?

As many stories are current relating to the supposed poisonous character of this insect we made it a special point to obtain all the information possible on this head, and we were unable to find the slightest evidence to sustain this popular belief, although we conversed with many persons who had handled and destroyed many thousands of the insects in their different stages, and also handled them freely ourselves with impunity. We do not know of any insect belonging to the family Chrysomelidæ, of which this beetle is a member, possessing poisonous properties, hence we deemed it highly improbable from the first that there was any truth in the stories so widely circulated, and which have created so much unnecessary alarm.

ARTIFICIAL REMEDIES—PARIS GREEN.

The many Entomologists and Agriculturists who have experimented on this insect, with various poisonous and other substances, in those portions of the United States, where it has been so destructive for some years past, concur in recommending the use of Paris Green, diluted with flour, ashes or air-slacked lime, as the best remedy known for destroying the insect, both in its larva and beetle state, without injuring the plant. The result of our experiments and investigations confirm this opinion, and this remedy is, no doubt, a reliable one, provided the Paris Green be of good quality. Our experience has also satisfied us that flour is a much better substance to mix the green with than either ashes or lime, as the insects eat it more readily, and, at the same time, it adheres more tenaciously to the surface of the plant, and hence is not so easily washed off by rain. We found good effects from a mixture of one part, by weight, Paris Green, with 10 or 12 parts of flour, dusted lightly on the vines early in the morning, when the dew is on the foliage.

HOW BEST APPLIED.

Where only a small patch is cultivated, the mixture can be readily applied by means of an ordinary flour dredger; but where larger quantities are grown, we would suggest the use of a round tin box, about nine or ten inches in diameter, and four or five inches in depth, with a tightly fitting lid, and with a bottom either perforated with small holes, or covered with fine wire gauze. This should be attached, by means of a hollow handle, to a stick of any convenient length. With such an instrument, which may be obtained at a very trifling cost, a large piece of ground can be gone over in a short time, and the mixture applied almost as fast as the operator can walk.

QUANTITIES REQUIRED, AND THE PROBABLE COST PER ACRE.

After a careful estimate, we consider that three pounds of the Paris Green, mixed with its due proportion of flour (30 to 37 pounds,) will, if economically used, be found sufficient for one acre of potatoes. Assuming 50 cents to be the ordinary retail price per pound of 'Paris Green,' every application of the mixture would cost from two to three dollars per acre, exclusive of the labor. If the insect is very abundant, two or three applications may be required, as exposure to wind and rain will eventually remove the powder from the leaves rendering them liable to further attacks. Some discretion should be exercised in selecting a suitable time for using the mixture, which should not be applied during high winds, or immediately before a rain storm.

NOT DANGEROUS IF CAREFULLY USED.

As this mixture is of a poisonous character, ordinary care should be used handling it, to avoid inhaling much of the dust when applying it to wash the hands after each application, to keep it out the reach of children, and to exclude live stock of all kinds from fields where the poison is used. With these precautions no danger need be apprehended, it does not injure the leaves to any appreciable extent, unless very heavily applied, and cannot possibly affect the potato itself.—We make those remarks because we have met with several individuals who entertain a foolish prejudice against this mixture, for fear that it might injure the potatoes.

OTHER REMEDIES TRIED.

We did non content ourselves with the use of Paris Green only, but experimented with as many other substances as the limited time at our disposal would admit of; and, although we would not have the result here given to be final in reference to the materials used, we trust they will be of value as indicating the most promising remedies for further trial.

ARSENIOUS ACID (Arsenic.)—This chemical being much cheaper than Paris Green, and more uniform in its composition, we hope it would have proved a practical and safe remedy. We tried it in the proportions of half ounces to a pound of flour, and while we are not prepared, from the few trials we have made, to entirely disprove of its use, the results we have obtained point to the conclusion that where it has been used in sufficiently large proportions to destroy the insect, it has caused more or less injury to the leaves. In cases where Paris Green is not obtainable, this might be used as a substitue, in the proportion of one ounce to one pound of flour, which should always be colored with some black powder, such as charcoal or black antimony, so as to lessen the risk of accident by its use.

Another Arsenical compound was also tested, known in commerce as Powdered Cobalt or Fly Poison, this was used in the same proportions as the last mentioned, and with similar results, but owing to its higher price we do not recommend it for general use.

SULPHATE OF COPPER (Blue Stone.)—A strong solution of this salt was tried in the proportion of two ounces to one gallon of water, and showered on the vines without damage to either the insect or the plant.

BICHROMATE OF POTASH.—This is a poisonous substance largely used in dyeing, and one which has attracted some attention in France of late as a remedy for insects. We used it dessolved in water in the proportion of two ounces to three gallons of water. This killed the insects effectually, but at the same time destroyed the plants. Whether, in a more diluted form, this remedy could be effectively used without injury to the foliage, we are unable at present to say, but shall experiment further with it POWDERED HELLEBORE.—This powerful irritant which is so effectual as a remedy for the Currant Worm we tried without perceptible effect, both in powder and also mixed with water, in the proportion of one ounce to the gallon of water. Several other poisonous substances were also used with like results.

CARBOLATE OF LIME.—There are several preparations sold under this name, which we found to vary much in composition and character, and equally as in effect. We tried an article know as Dougall's, without any good result, but succeeded better with one preparation by Lyman Bros., of Toronto, a black powder manufactured, we understand, from coal tar. This destroyed a large portion of the larvæ, but we doubt whether if would kill the perfect insect; it is, moreover, used in an undiluted form, which would render its cost greater than that of the "Paris Green" mixtures, so we see no advantage in using it, although the fact of its being less poisonous may induce some to try it who are prejudiced against Paris Green.

ASHES and AIR-SLACKED LIME, we found had been extensively used by many of the farmer on the frontier districts, but, as far as we could see or learn, without any perceptible results.

HAND-PICKING.

This has been, thus far, the chief means employed in lessening the numbers of the beetle, and where perseveringly followed, has proved very successful; but it needs to be almost daily repeated, and is, therefore, exceedingly troublesome, and quite impracticable where a large quantity of potatoes are under cultivation. The usual method is to knock the insects off the plant with a piece of shingle, into a shovel or small pail containing a little water as they readily fall when struck, both larva and beetle may thus be collected in large numbers.

ARE ALL POTATOES ALIKE LIABLE TO ATTACK?

During the course of our inspection, we frequently met with gardens and fields containing two or more kinds of potatoes, and observed that in many instances one sort was very much more affected by the insect than the others. The Rochester is particularly liable to attack, while the Early Rose and Peach Blow are less so; but where the latter are the only varieties planted, the insects do not hesitate to attack them. The only practical suggestion we can make in reference to this point is, that it be well to plant a few of such sorts as are most liable to be injured, so as to attract the larger proportion of the insects to one spot, and thus allow the cultivator to destroy them with less labour and expense.

NATURAL REMEDIES.

American entomologists enumerate fourteen insects which prey upon the Colorado Potato Beetle in some one or other of its stages. Eight of these we know to be common in Canada, and probably some of the others will also be found here. Of the insects we are now about to describe, the first four feed on the eggs and larvæ and perfect beetle.

LADY-BIRDS.—The Commonest of these is called the nine-spotted Lady-Bird (Coccinella 9 nota—Herbst.) It is a small, round beetle, of a brick-red color, with nine black spots on the wing cases, and may be found in almost every part of Canada.

Hippodamia maculata (De Geer.)—The spotted Lady-Bird. This is a small, pinkish beetle marked with large black blotches.

Hippodamia 13 punctata (Linn) The thirteen-dotted Lady-Bird is somewhat larger than either of the preceding species, and has thirteen black spots on a brick-red ground.

Hippodamia convergens (Guer). The convergent Lady-Bird, whose color is orange red, marked with black and white, is said to have been of immense service in checking the ravages of the Colorado beetle in some of the Western States. The larvæ of all these species are very fierce, and feed on both the eggs and young larvæ of both the Colorado and three lined potato beetle.

The next insect belongs to the order Hemiptera (half-wings), the true bug family. It is the rapacious Soldier Bug Rudaeus reputatorius Say. Its color is light brown, and it attacks the larvæ only of the Colorado beetle.

We have detected another insect friend belonging to this family in the act of extracting the juices from the body of a young Colorado larva, into which it had thrust the long rostrum, or beak, with which all the members of this family are furnished. Its name has not yet been determined by us.

The next two friendly insects are known as Carabidæ, or Carnivorous Ground Beetles.

Calosoma calidum (Fabr). The glowing calosoma is so called from the appearance of its wing-cases, which are shining black, with six rows of sunken coppery spots. This beetle is easily found under stones or logs, in moist weather in May and June. It is exceedingly active in its movements, and a valuable friend to the agriculturist.

The murky ground beetle, "Harpalus caliginosus" (Say

TREASURER'S SALE OF LANDS! FOR ARREARS OF TAXES.

TOWN OF PETERBOROUGH, to wit

WHEREAS, by virtue of a warrant issued by the Mayor of the Corporation of the Town of Peterborough, bearing date the 16th day of July, A.D. 1871, and to me directed, requiring and commanding me to levy upon the following Lots or Parcels of Land for the arrears of taxes due thereon and costs. I shall proceed to offer

BY PUBLIC AUCTION,

AT THE COUNCIL CHAMBER, IN THE SAID TOWN OF PETERBOROUGH,

On Wednesday, the First day of November, 1871,

AT ONE O'CLOCK IN THE AFTERNOON,

Such Lands or so much thereof as may be necessary for the payment of the Arrears of Taxes, and costs thereon, unless the said arrears and all costs are sooner paid.

List of Lands, &c.:

Where situated.	No.	Quantity	Arrears	Costs.	Total	Remarks
North of Edinburgh, and west of George	S	½ Acre	$14 68	$1 46	$16 14	Patented.
North of Edinburgh and west of George	S	½ Acre	12 13	1 43	13 56	Patented.
North of Dublin and West of George	N½ 5	½ Acre	7 34	1 28	8 62	Patented.
South of Hunter and east of Water	pt 7.	36 feet	10 55	1 36	11 91	Patented.
South of Hunter and east of Water	pt 7.	4 feet	1 17	1 13	2 30	Patented.
North of Charlotte and west of George	6	½ Acre	26 71	3 01	29 72	Patented.
South of King and west of George	15	½ Acre	13 29	1 43	14 72	Not paid'd
North of Dalhousie and east of George	E pt	31 feet	7 37	1 28	8 65	Patented.
North of Wolfe and east of George	1	½ Acre	13 17	1 43	14 60	Patented.

J. EDWARDS,
Town Treasurer.

Town Treasurer's Office,
Peterborough, 18 July, 1871.

First publ'sh'd, July 20, 1871. 29-13 ins

NOTICE.

We the undersigned Merchants of the Town of Peterborough, agree to close our places of business, at One o'clock, p. m.,

On Thursday's,

During the Months of

July and August,

Commencing on Thursday, July 13th.

Nicholls & Hall, Clinton, Henderson & Dry Goods. Clinton
John Erskine. Wm. Mercer.
W. G. Thomson & Co Doran & Gibbons.
W. Fairweather & Co. A. W Lesher & Co.
Johnston & Dixon. I Rodinson & Co.,
Green & Fowler. James Best.
John Elder. F. Lemay.

Peterborough, July 13th 1871, 28-tf.

ESTRAYED.

Came into the premises of the Subscriber, a large GRIZZLY COW, a LIGHT RED HEIFER, with small white star on forehead, and a DARK RED STEER. The owner is requested to pay expenses and take them away.

J. EDWARDS.

Peterboro, 11th July, 1871. 28-3in

Township of Dummer!

NOTICE

Is hereby given, that upon Saturday, the Nineteenth day of August, at its meeting to be held in the

AGRICULTURAL HALL! WARSAW,

The Council of the Corporation of Township of Dummer intends to pass a By-law to legalize the following road, the survey of which is as follows:

Commencing on the Eastern limit of the allowance for road between the third and fourth Concessions of said Township, at a point sixty-one links Northerly from the South West angle of the twenty fourth Lot, in said fourth Concession; th'n North seventy-six degrees thirty minutes East, thirteen chains and fifty-four links parallel to the Southern limit of said Lot; then North fifty-six degrees fifteen minutes East, one chain and eighty links; then North eighty-three degrees East, one chain and thirty-three links; then South seventy-nine degrees East, one chain and nine links more or less to within sixty-one of said Southern limit; then North seventy-six degrees thirty minutes East, fifteen chains and twenty-six links more or less to the centre of said fourth Concession.

Then commencing at the South East angle of the East half of the twenty-fifth Lot in the said fourth; then South seventy-six degrees thirty minutes, West thirty-two chains and sixty links more or less along the Southern limit of said East half to the centre of said Concession.

A. B. MAGUIRE,
Township Clerk.

Dummer, July 10th, 1871. 28-4in:

(Review please copy.)

A. Waller,

CARRIAGE AND WAGON MAKER, AND GENERAL BLACKSMITH,

Opposite the residence of R. D. Rogers, Esq.,

ASHBURNHAM.

BUGGIES, CARRIAGES, WAGOONS, SLEIGHS, CUTTERS, HARROWS, &c.,

On hand, or made to order.

REPAIRING Done on Short Notice.

AND A

Good Horse-Shoer always employed.

The patronage of the people of Ashburnham and vicinity respectfully solicited.

Ashburnham, July 11th, 1871 28-1y.

Commencing Business.

The undersigned begs to announce that they have rented the premises lately occupied by Mr. George Rickey, in the

VILLAGE OF ASHBURNHAM,

AS A

BLACKSMITH SHOP!

And will carry on the business in all its branches, as was done by Mr. Rickey.

A CAREFUL HORSE SHOER

Will always be ready to attend to that branch of the business. The patronage of the old customers of Mr. Rickey, and of new friends, is respectfully solicited,

ROBERT BAXTER. JOHN SHANNON
Ashburnham, July 4th, 1871. 27-tf

NOTICE.

I am instructed by the County Master of the County of Peterboro, in compliance with a requisition, to call a meeting of the Orangemen of the County!

To be held in the Orange Hall, Peterboro,

On Wednesday, 26th Instant,

At One o'clock, p. m., for the purpose of expressing their appreciation of the action taken by GOVERNOR HOFFMAN, of the State of New York, on the 12th inst., for the preservation and establishment of civil liberty.

JOHN SMITH,
Co. Secty.

Peterboro, July 19th, 1871. 29-1in.

God Save the Queen.

(Review please copy.)

BY-LAW. NO.

A By-Law to raise by way of loan the sum of Twelve Thousand Dollars for purposes therein mentioned.

WHEREAS, the Municipal Council of the County of Peterborough have resolved to expend the sum of Twelve Thousand Dollars in construction of a bridge over the Otonabee River, at the Town of Peterborough, and a new Registry Office.

And whereas, to carry into effect the said recited object, it will be necessary for the said Municipal Council to raise by way of loan the sum of Twelve Thousand Dollars in the manner hereinafter mentioned.

And whereas, it will require the sum of Thirteen Hundred Dollars to be raised annually by special rate for the payment of said debt or loan, and interest, as also hereinafter mentioned.

And whereas, the amount of the whole ratable property of the said Municipality of the said County of Peterborough, irrespective of any future increase of the same, and also irrespective of any income to be derived from the temporary investment of the sinking fund hereinafter mentioned, or any part thereof, according to the last revised assessment rolls of the said Municipality is the sum of Two Millions, Seven Hundred and Twenty-three Thousand Six Hundred and Seven Dollars.

And whereas, the existing debt of the said Municipality of the County of Peterborough is Thirty-three Thousand Dollars for principal money, and Twenty Thousand, Six Hundred and Seventy Dollars, for interest, and there is nothing in arrear on account of said principal or interest.

And whereas, for paying the interest and creating an equal yearly sinking fund for paying the said principal sum of Twelve Thousand Dollars as hereinafter mentioned, it will require an equal annual special rate of one-half of a mill in the dollar in addition to all other rates to be levied in each year.

Be it therefore enacted by the Municipal Council of the County of Peterborough—

That it shall be lawful for the Warden of the said County to raise by way of loan from any person or persons, body or bodies corporate, who may be willing to advance the same upon the credit of the debentures hereinafter mentioned, a sum of money not exceeding in the whole the sum of Twelve Thousand Dollars and to cause the same to be paid into the hands of the Treasurer of the said County of Peterborough, for the purposes and with the objects above recited.

That it shall be lawful for the said Warden to cause any number of debentures to be made for such sums of money as may be required, not less than one hundred dollars each, and not to exceed in the whole the sum of Twelve Thousand Dollars; and that the said debentures shall be sealed with the seal of the said Municipal Council, and be signed by the said Warden and countersigned by the Treasurer of said County.

That the said debentures shall be made payable in twenty years at farthest from the day hereinafter mentioned by this By-law, to take effect, at the office of the Treasurer of the said municipality, and shall have attached to them coupons for the payment of interest.

That the said debentures shall bear interest at and after the rate of six per centum per annum, from the date thereof; which interest shall be payable half-yearly on the first day of April and the first day of October in each year, at the office of the Treasurer of the said municipality.

That for the purpose of forming a sinking fund for the payment of the said debentures and the interest at the rate aforesaid, to become due thereon, an equal special rate of one-half of a mill in the dollar shall, in addition to all other rates, be raised, levied and collected in each year, upon all the ratable property in the said municipality during the continuance of the said debentures or any of them.

That this By-law shall take effect and come into operation upon the Sixteenth day of November, One Thousand Eight Hundred and Seventy-one.

The above is a true copy of a proposed By-law to be taken into consideration by the Municipal Council of the County of Peterborough at the COUNCIL CHAMBER.

In the Court House, in Peterborough, in the said County, on Thursday,

The Ninth day of November, A. D. 1871

At the hour of Two O'clock in the afternoon, at which time and place the members of the Council are hereby required to attend for the purpose aforesaid.

Dated this 19th day of July, A. D. 1871.

EDG. PEARSE,
County Clerk.

29-13ins.

NOTICE!

TO TEACHERS.

The Examination of candidates for certificates as Teachers of Public Schools, will commence on TUESDAY, 25th of JULY, 1871,

At 9 o'clock a. m., in the Union School Building, Peterborough.

And will continue Five Days.

Before examination candidates must furnish satisfactory proof of good moral character,

JAMES C. BROWN,
Inspector.

Peterboro, July 18th, 1871. 29

GIVING UP BUSINESS.

The undersigned begs to return thanks to his numerous friends for their liberal patronage during the past years, and also begs to inform them that he has given up business in Ashburnham. He would also remind those indebted to him, that immediate settlement of all accounts is required. After two weeks all unpaid accounts will be placed in the hands of Mr. John Burnham, Solicitor.

GEORGE RICKEY.

Ashburnham, July 3rd, 1871. tf

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

By-Law—Edg. Pearse.
To Teachers—J. C. Brown.
Notice—John Smith.

The Peterborough Examiner

PETERBOROUGH, JULY 20, 1871.

Editorial Items.

The Leader has reason to believe that Jim Fisk, junr., and other American capitalists have purchased the Midland Railway.

The Rev. R. Cameron, from New York, will (D. V.) will preach in the Baptist Chapel on Sunday, the 23rd instant, at 11 a. m., and half past six p. m.

We have been requested to state that the Rev. G. L. Mackay, who is about to proceed to China as Missionary of the Canada Presbyterian Church, will address a meeting in the First Presbyterian Church this Thursday evening, at 8 o'clock.

The volunteers are airing their peculiar notions of camp life and camp treatment, in the papers. There must have been something wrong at Kingston. Some volunteers too, have an itch for writing as well as for speech-making, now and then.

In the milage question last week, the name of Alex. Irwin should have appeared for Mr Lindsay, and vice versa, that of Mr. Lindsay where Mr. Irwin's appeared. It also but fair to remark that the bridges were adrift on Pigeon Creek and Mud Lake at the time referred to.

On Saturday night last some person set fire to the lumber in Mr. W. A Scott's lumber yard, Harvey. Four hundred thousand feet of lumber, a part of the track and a scow were destroyed. The loss above insurance is set down at $1000. Mr. Scott took a warrant on Monday for a Frenchman supposed to have been the incendiary, as he was said to be last seen near the yard.

SMITH:—Mr. James Elliott, of this Township, cut fall wheat on the 12th of July, which was the first we have heard of in this neighborhood. During the latter part of the week Messrs. Geo. Hilliard, Geo. Fitzgerald and others commenced reaping, and from personal inspection, as well as from repeated enquiries, we find that almost generally the grain is of the finest quality, and will, it is hoped, make up in quantity for the deficiency in some of the spring crops. The heavy rains of the 4th and 5th of July in addition to that of Thursday last, have done much for the root crops, and on the whole the prospects are most cheering, and promise a full return to the husbandmen.—COM.

A DISGRACEFUL AFFAIR:—During the volunteers camping at Point Levis, a disgraceful affair took place. A Mr. Muraine, a converted Frenchman and Missionary, went to the camp with the intention of speaking to the men or reading to them. He was, however, shamefully treated, stoned, pelted with bones and dirt, and every indignity heaped on him, because a Protestant, no officer interfering. There is great indignation on account of it, and the press teems with articles condemnatory, and justly so, of the conduct of both officers and men. It is not to be wondered at in Lower Canada, when freedom of speech is with difficulty secured in Ontario, where liberal institutions and enlightenment are so boldly paraded.

BARNES' PATENT EXCELSIOR LINEN MARKER.—Mr. Barnes the Inventor and Patentee of the above neat little article, called ye terday and explained it to us in our office. It is a very practical and Labor Saving Machine. Simple in structure, but not liable to get out of repair. With it any one can mark rapidly on either course or fine linen, or any kind of clothing. It is superior to the old pencil marking process and as the letters or initials can be easily changed, there is no difficulty in making it serve the whole family. He supplies a bottle of ink with each machine, and promises to leave some forsale in town. We understand he intends canvassing the town himself, but is desirous of obtaining agents to undertake the canvass of the county. He stops at the Caisse House.

THE BRIDGE.—The temporary bridge, we are pleased to say, is completed, and is now being crossed by hundreds of teams daily. Mr. Boyd, the contractor, deserves great praise for the energy and despatch manifested in its construction. It consists of six framed "bonts" placed in the river, across which are strong string pieces, the whole planked with three inch plank, and a railing on each side, three feet high. The structure, although called temporary, is by no means frail. Several jams of boom timber and saw-logs have already tested it, and it is really astonishing that they do not effect it much, if anything. It would not be amiss, however, to throw two booms across the river, to direct the course of the the long boom timber as they are the source of great danger to it. Now that it is up it is worth while protecting it; as parties coming to Town now know the inconvenience of the want of one.

BRIDGES:—When the Bridge was burned, there was considerable talk about putting a Bridge over Dixon's Dam, as it is called; but it has all ended in talk. We see nothing of the Bridge being built. Perhaps it was only a favorable chance to get rid of a supercargo of extra talk, ordinary Council Meetings not affording sufficient opportunities. A Bridge over the dam would certainly be a great convenience to parties residing in the north or to the north of Ashburnham, and the Town, we are satisfied, would tend to increase the population of the village, as there are some very nice sites for private residences in that direction. It would also enable business men to procure convenient spots for building on, at no great distance from the centre of the town, but not now desirable because of no way of easy access from the centre of the Town. We have no doubt but that the undertaking would be popular, but its promoters seem to have forgoten it. The expense would not be so great as anticipated, perhaps $600 to $800 would be all required.

The 12th of July, 1871, will be long remembered in New York City, on account of the number of lives lost, and the bitter animosities deepened, on account of these. The cities and town are unfortunately, too often, the scenes of such affrays. The many victims of their own madness and folly that were killed, will be considered by others as the victims of persecution and hatred, while on the other, the gathering of people, and the threats with intent to kill and destroy, will be considered as only the true spirit of all those who think alike in religious matters.

The Priesthood of New York did all they could to prevent the whole disturbance and its consequences, by warning their hearers to stay at home on that day, and thus avoid the danger of being murderers or murdered, as the case might be; but their advice was useless, and hence the sad history of over 100 killed and 300 severely wounded, according to reports; and many more who succeeded in getting away without being found out, but not until they were wounded, perhaps maimed for life, if not fatally. The whole thing is the result of bad advice, given by some hot-headed, whiskey soaked leaders, who wished to distinguish themselves, and sad to relate have done so in a most lamentable manner, at the cost of the lives of over 100 of their fellow Countrymen. How foolish! When will the people of different classes learn to forbear with each other; and cease to follow the teachings of foolhardy, crafty men, who disregard the wholesome advice of wiser heads, and lead men, who confide in their counsel, to endanger their own lives, and thll lives of hundreds, and sometimes of thousands of others, who from the 12th of July, to the 12th again, live in harmony and peace.

The lesson of mutual forbearance taught on the 12th instant, is a costly one, but if it teaches wisdom and discretion it will not be in vain. It can afford but poor satisfaction to see law and liberty vindicated at such a price. When will men learn wisdom!

A Melancholy Accident.

On Sunday evening last a melancholy case of drowning occured in Martyn's Mill Pond. Mr. Thomas Darcy, his wife, a son of Mr. Dunn, Cooper, and a little girl about 8 years old, daughter of Mr. Waters, were out taking a sail, and had gone up the pond, and were returned to within a few feet of the shore, where Mrs. Darcy, Seeing water rush into the boat, rose from the centre where she was sitting, and made toward the end where Mr. Darcy and the boy Dunn were. This caused that end of the frail punt to sink leaving the four in the pond. At first all sank, but the boy came up shortly, and getting free from the others succeeded in reaching shore, not more than sixteen feet distant, or so. The other three still remained in the water till parties came to their relief, and succeeded in getting out Mr. Darcy and his wife. The little girl was brought out by a young man named Belligum.—Dr. Burnham was immediately sent for, and succeeded in restoring Mr. Darcy, but every effort to restore the woman, and little girl, was unavailing. The unfortunate woman had been married but a few months. The little girl was very intelligent for her years; was an only child, and was much admired by all who knew her. The funeral of Mrs. Darcy and of the girl took place at the same time on Monday, and were largly attended. It was the first instance of two hearses being in one funeral cortege here for many years.

We are pleased to learn that Mr. Darcy is recovering. Our deepest sympathies are with the friends of the deceased in their melancholy bereavements.

We trust, that this sad affair will prove a warning to others not to trust themselves in frail or leaky boats, lest similar results follow.

Superlatively Ludicrous and Ridiculous.

The County Council, on Saturday last, was the scene of one of those grant displays of the love of liberty of the press(?) and free speech, that are rarely witnessed outside of France, or the despotic states of Europe. We refer to the action of Mr. F Peck, Reeve of Snowdon, when he got up in Council with a copy of the Peterboro Examiner in his hand, enquiring of the Warden, why certain things, concerning Milage of course, appeared in it, and on what authority they were written. Great sensation, no doubt, among the Conservative element of the Council. Mr. Peck trembled! his voice faltered! his indignation was great! How dare the editor of the Examiner interefere with Milage! He must be arraigned before the High Court, stand up in council and declare to the nabob of the north his authority for what he had written—especially on milage matters. Ah! the Milage question, and the Bobtaygeon Road question, touch tender places in the bosom of the Reeve of Snowdon, and woe betide the editor who dares to ventilate them. But really is not this the ridiculous side of the question. Has it come to this in Canada that a County Censorship of the press must be instituted, and that too, among men boasting of their love of liberty, &c., &c. If so, who is he to be? must he come from Snowden? and if he must, will he charge milage? and—more important still—who will pay him. Have the Ratepayers of Snowden elected their Reeve to come to the capital of this County to act as newspaper censor? and is he to sit in state, or on some high throne Imperial, and dictate the expurgatorial index after the manner of the dark ages, of of France under Napoleonic ideas?

The editor of the Examiner, who was present, wanted to know what Mr. F. Peck, or any member of the Council, or even the whole Council, had to do with what he wrote. If explanations were solicited they would, if reasonable, be given, but I defy that to learn that the councillors were to be the judges of what an editor should or should not write. This stopped the northern nabob. To the credit of the Council, only Mr. F. Peck, and the Reeve of Dysart, appeared desirous to appoint a censor of the press for the County of Peterborough. Well really, what will come next? We do sincerely trust, and advise, that no man so far north as Snowden, shall be appointed censor, if the Council so determine, for the Milage question is a ticklish one. No matter who pays. Surely that august body, the council, will not agree to pay the censor for 102 from Snowden or Minden any more, when the distance is only 50 to 24. But if a censor is to be appointed let us send to Italy for one, since none can be found in Holland, much less in Ontario.

FELLOWS' HYPOPHOSPHITES.—Mr. Fellows wishes us to state that he has no authorised agent, but that his Hypophosphites may be obtained of all respectable Druggists and Apothecaries at his price.

28-4ins.

Economy Needed.

In these days of extravagance and extra milage it is somewhat cheering to find that the Proprietor of the Review is determined to do work economically.

Here is an item taken from his last account rendered to the County Council.

Advertising Haliburton & Grand Junction R. R. By.law, 736 lines, 5 insertions, $118.08.

The same By-law was published in the Examiner, and amounted to 450 lines, 5 insertions, $64 00.

Thus shewing that the Proprietor of the Review has over-charged $64.08 on this By-law alone.

He has thus charged $10.08 more than twice as much as the Examiner for the same work.

Last January we pointed out the probability of this to the Chairman of the Finance Committee, as we expected when he did not then put in his bill he must have a substantial reason for not doing it. Now the reason is apparent.

Last January there had been some strictures made on cost of printing, which were fresh in the minds of Councillors, no doubt. To put in the account then would have necessitated moderate charges. Six months were allowed to pass over, and in June, 1871, the account is rendered, passed by the committee, (the Chairman remaining silent), and, in consequence, the Proprietor of the Review has obtained $64.08 more than the work is worth, and more than was paid to this Office for indentically the same work.

Should not these $64.08 be refunded? They are overcharges made through neglect or otherwise. But $64.08 in the item of publishing one By-law is too much to be allowed to pass unnoticed, even though it be otherwise.

On April 10th, 1871, there is the item of "Making a Book for annual returns of School Moneys", $15.00. The book contains about 10 quires of poor paper, worth, say 20 cts. per quire. The cost would be:

Paper, 10 quires,	$2 00
Printing and Ruling,	3 00
Binding,	2 00
Total	$7 00

Yet Mr. Romaine charges in his bill for this book $15.00, an overcharge of $8 on one book alone. On these two items the overcharges are $64.08 on By-law, and say $8 on book, or, $72.08.

Is economy not needed in this department? It is in this way that enormous bills are yearly paid the Review for printing and books. Is this the reason he is trying to whitewash those members who have been taking full milage, &c.?

An overcharge of $64 08 in one item is no trifle. We believe that three books as good as the one referred to, can be obtained for $15.00.

The Missing Paper.

At the June Sessions of the County Council, our readers well remember there was considerable discussion over extra milage and pay to members of Committees and Commissioners. In consequence, Mr. Millar, Reeve of Otonabee, moved for a report, in detail of all moneys' paid to members of the committee on the Mud Lake and Pigeon Creek Bridges, and to Mr. S. S. Peck, as a member, and as Warden. The papers were furnished, and in discussion it was found that large sums had been paid in Milage and otherwise. We were then asked by Mr. Millar and several other members to publish the papers in full, and to this end we copied a few of them; but the following one being the property of the Council, and hence of the public, we thought we could get any time for the purpose. In a few days after, however, it could not be found. The Clerk made enquiry for it, but no trace of it any where—not even the Editor of the Review could tell where it was. On Friday, he published an article to whitewash the Ex-Warden, Mr. S. S. Peck, in which he wondered why Mr. Millar did not publish the sums he obtained as Commissioner.—Afterwards it turned out that Mr. Editor of the Review had the papers, as we are informed. Now why did he not publish them, instead of insinuating that any one had done wrong without showing in what way? The following is the paper referred to:

Amounts paid to members of the Mud Lake and Pigeon Creek Bridges committees, with dates of day of holding meeting:

To MR. S. S. PECK.

1863.		$ cts.
Aug.	11	10 30
		1 30
Sept.	16	9 50
Oct'r.	1	9 50
Feb'y	18, 1869	8 00
July	21 Expenses in Peterboro	11 50
Sept.	2 Visiting Sullivan to purchase right of way	8 00
Sept.	25 Visiting Bridge and meeting Trounum	11 50
Oct'r	23	13 40
Nov'r	11	10 20
	16 At Town to meet Trounum	11 00
Jan'y	6, 1870	11 40
Feb'y	26	6 00
March	18	1 40
	2 Attending at Peterboro, making arrangements for Boom	7 40
April	28	11 40
July	29	11 40
Sept'r	15	9 40
Oct'r	27	2 00
Nov'r	4	11 40
Dec'r	15	9 40
March	31, 1871	9 40
April	28	9 40
		$224 20

To MR. F. PEARCE.

1863.	$ cts.
Aug't 11	7 70
20	8 70
Sep't 16	6 70
30	6 80
Oct'r 7	8 80
Feb'y 18, 1869	4 80
June 17	6 70
Oct'r 27	15 40
Nov'r 11	14 20
Jan'y 6, 1870	8 70
Feb'y 10	6 70
26	8 70
March 18	9 40
April 23	10 40
28	6 70
May 20	7 30
June 9	12 10
July 29	13 10
Sep't 15	7 90
Nov'r 4	8 70
Dec'r 15	6 70
March 31, 1871	6 70
April 28	6 70
	$199 60

To W. A. SCOTT.

1868.	$ cts.
Sept'r 16	4 60
30	4 60
Oct'r 7	4 60
Jan'y 4, 1870	4 60
Feb'y 26	4 60
July 29	2 60
Oct'r 27	2 60
Nov'r 4	2 60
	$26 00

To MR. GARBUTT.

1868.	$ cts.
Sept'r 16	2 90
17	2 90
30	2 90
Oct'r 7	2 90
Feb'y 18, 1869	2 90
Nov'r 11	6 40
Jan'y 6, 1870	4 90
Feb'y 26	2 90
March 18	3 40
12	2 80
April 23	16 90
28	2 90
June 11	2 60
July 29	8 60
Sept'r 15	5 40
Oct'r 27	7 90
Nov'r 4	2 90
April 28, 1871	2 90
	$80 60

To MR. JAS. MILLAR.

1868.	$ cts.
Sept'r 16	3 00
17	3 00
30	3 00
Oct'r 7	3 00
Feb'y 8, 1869	3 00
June 17	2 00
Oct'r 26	3 00
Nov'r 11	8 50
Jan'y 6, 1870	5 00
Feb'y 10	3 00
26	3 00
March 18	3 00
April 23	5 90
28	3 00
July 29	3 00
Sept'r 15	3 70
Nov'r 4	3 00
April 28, 1871	3 00
	$63 10

TOTALS.

S. S. Peck,	$224 20
F. Pearce,	199 60
W. A. Scott,	26 00
I. Garbutt,	80 00
Jas. Millar,	63 10
Cost of Committee	$593 70

Town Council.

The Council met on Monday, pursuant to adjournment.

Present, Messrs. Doharty, English Rutherford, Stevenson, O'Beirne, Toole, Henthorn, Edmison and Lundy,

In the absence of the Mayor, Mr. English was called to the chair

The minutes of the previous meeting were read over and confirmed.

Communications were read from the Mayor to the Clerk, wishing him to notify the Council that he will be absent for 3 or 4 weeks.—Received.

From C. J. Blomfield informing the Council of the state of the emigrant house built by the Council, and asking that the house be battened at once.—Received.

From T. B. Clementi complaining that his former communication in reference to his tents used by the Emigration Committee for emigrants having small-pox not being paid for, and calling the attention of the Council to the matter.

Petition from Dr. Burnham and others, asking the Council not to persist in laying down the gravel side walk on Water street; and from E. Burnham and others asking for a new side walk on the south side of Simcoe from George Street to Phelan's Hotel, were referred to the Street Committee.

A communication was read from the County Clerk enclosing a copy of a resolution passed by the County Council, in reference to the re-erection of the Otonabee bridge—received.

Several accounts for repairs of the Fire Engine and articles of dress for firemen, were submitted and referred to the Finance Committee.

It was moved by Mr. O'Beirne, seconded by Mr. Doharty, that leave of absence be, and is hereby granted to His Worship the Mayor, for six weeks.—Carried.

Moved by Mr. O'Beirne, seconded by Mr. Doharty, that Jas. Stevenson be presiding officer of the Town Council during the absence of the Mayor.—Carried.

Moved by Mr. Stevenson, seconded by Mr. Doharty, that the clerk of this Council be directed to have any repairs found necessary, done to the Fire Engine, and if found necessary to procure from Boston, what suction hose is necessary, under the direction of the Chairman of the fire committee and chief engineer, and that the deputation about to proceed to Brantford, to enquire the price and ascertain the quality of the fire engine offered for sale there.—Carried.

Moved by Mr. Stevenson, seconded by Mr. Doharty, that the Inspector be directed to re-lay the side-walk in front of Mrs Dixon's new Block, as soon as the scaffolding is removed.—Carried.

Moved by Mr. Stevenson, seconded by Mr. Doharty, that Mr. Lundy be directed to batten the portion of the Emigrant shed occupied by Mr. Collins.

Moved by Mr. Lundy, seconded by Mr. Henthorn, that the Street Inspector put down a plank side walk on the west side of Water street, between Murray & London streets in place of gravel, as passed by this Council.—Lost.

Mr Poole, as Chairman of the Street and Bridge Committee read and submitted a report, which on motion was received and adopted.

It was moved by Mr. Edmison, seconded by Mr. Henthorn, that the Inspector be directed to fill up with gravel or other suitable material, the low ground on the west side of Bethune street where the side walk is now being laid, so as to suit the laying down of the side walk, instead of resting on posts, as heretofore.

Moved by Mr. Edmison, seconded by Mr. Smith, that the Clerk of this Council be instructed to advertize for some person who will undertake to keep a pound where hogs may be impounded.—Carried.

The Council adjourned for two weeks.

FIRE.—On Saturday morning, a building on the corner of Hunter and Aylmer Street, belonging to Mr. Galvin, blacksmith, was discovered on fire, and before it could be stopped, eleven families were left without a home. With difficulty the flames were stayed before arriving at Mr. Doharty's residence, but the dwelling of Mrs. Barbineau, adjoining, was much injured. She had an insurance of $300 on the building. Galvin lost his own house but there was an insurance on it of $400, and also on contents of his shop $200. Mr. Tobin owned the corner building occupied by Mr. A. Williams and other families. She had $600 insurance on the building. Mr. C. Magrah lost one of his houses, on which there was a partial insurance of $200. We did not learn the entire loss, but it was considerable, as furniture and other articles damaged and lost would be considerable. It was fortunate that the morning was calm or Mr. Doharty's dwelling and waggon shop, on one side, and the Baptist Church on the other, would most likely be destroyed. The engine was about starting to contend with the devouring element. The old story.

County Council.

The Council met in special Session on Thursday, the 13th inst. All the members were present except Mr. Buck, Reeve of Stanhope, who had been thrown out of his buggy that morning, near Peterborough.

The minutes of the last day of the last Council were read and confirmed.

The Warden addressed the Council, stating that the meeting was called in consequence of the Otonabee Bridge being destroyed by fire. He also stated that he had let a contract to Mr. Boyd, to construct a temporary bridge.

Moved by Mr. Millar, seconded by Mr. Blezard, that this Council will join the Council of the Town of Peterboro, in the erection of a new bridge in the same place where the old one stood, lately destroyed by fire, each corporation to pay their portion according to law, and that a by-law be passed by this Council to that effect.

In amendment, Moved by S. S. Peck, seconded by Mr. Collins, that this Council join the Town Council in erecting a new bridge in the place of the one burned down provided that each Municipality pay one-half of the cost of said bridge, and the structure be such as a joint committee of the Town and County may decide, and that a committee be appointed to act in behalf of the Council.

Moved by Mr. Collins, seconded by Mr. Sanderson, that the Council adjourn until 7.30 this evening, to meet a deputation of the Town Council to discuss the matter of building a new bridge, and that the resolutions now before the Council be laid over until the Council meet to-morrow. The Council then adjourned till 7.30 p. m.

At 7.30 the Council received the Town Council and discussed the matter of the bridge, and adjourned till 10 o'clock on Friday.

FRIDAY.

The Council met. All the members present. The minutes were read and confirmed. The Council then resumed the discussion of the previous day. After a while Mr. Millar withdrew his motion, and Mr. Peck's motion was carried.

Moved by Mr. Coughlan, seconded by Mr. Harrison, that the Council sympathizes with Mr. Buck, Reeve of Stanhope, on account of the injuries received yesterday, having been thrown out of his buggy and being disabled from attending the meeting of the Council yesterday; and be it resolved that he receive his sessional allowance for yesterday as if in attendance.—Carried

At this stage of proceedings a regular contest commenced as to who should form the committee to superintend the erection of the new bridge.

Mr. Sanderson moved that the Warden and Messrs. Walton, Millar, and Moher be the committee.

In amendment, by Mr. McFarlane, that the Warden, S. S. Peck, Collins, Rose, and Harrison, be appointed a committee for the purpose.

Mr. Millar thought it better to save the milage, and take men who lived near the Town.

Mr. McFarlane thought Mr. Peck should be on the committee to be able to fight the Town.

Mr. Millar considered that men near the Town should be appointed and Moved the Warden, Moher and Blezard, be on the Committee.

Mr. F. Peck thought there should be three members of the committee.

Mr. F. Peck moved seconded by Mr Mooney, that the committee to be appointed by this Council to act jointly with a committee to be appointed by the Town, to decide on the sort of bridge, and to superintend the building of the same, be composed of not more than three members.

Mr. S. S. Peck wished Mr. McFarlane to withdraw his name, but Mr. McFarlane insisted on the name remaining and testing the House.

Mr. Coughlan then moved that Mr. Moher be added to the committee.

Mr. Sanderson remarked that Mr. Moher was in his motion.

Mr. S. S. Peck wondered it men from the North were not as good as men from the South.

Mr. Millar thought they were, but the milage made quite a difference.

Mr. Peck then moved that the committee consist of the Warden and Messrs. Harrison and Rose.

The momentous question of appointing a committee occupied two hours.

Mr. Armstrong moved that the Warden, Walton and Blezard be a committee, but not one of these could be carried. It was then Moved by Mr. F. Peck, seconded by Mr. Armstrong.—That the Warden and Messrs. Moher and Collins be a committee to act with a committee to be appointed with the Town, in re-building the Otonabee Bridge. This was carried.

On motion of Mr. S. S. Peck, the committee on printing reported. The report was adopted.

On motion of Mr. S. S Peck, an account of Mr. Trounum in connection with the Mud Lake and Pigeon Creek Bridges, was referred to the committee on Roads and Bridges.

Moved by Mr. Moher, seconded by Mr Mooney,—That the thanks of this Council are due to the Warden and Advisory Committee for the speedy manner in which they have arranged for the construction of a temporary bridge in place of the one recently burned, as it will in all probability be the means of saving both life and property, several parties having narrowly escaped serious accidents.—Carried.

On motion of Mr Rose, seconded by Dr. Clegg.—A motion authorizing the Warden to have the Bridges in the County insured, was referred to the committee on Roads and Bridges.

Mr. Millar moved, seconded by Mr. Blezard, the first reading of a By-law to raise $12,000, by issue of debentures, to pay for building the bridge and erecting a Registry Office.

It was also read in committee of the whole Mr. Millar in the chair, blanks filled in with $12,000 and time being twenty years.

It was then read a third time and passed.

On motion of Mr. Rose, the time for holding the sale of lands for taxes, was fixed for the 10th of November. The day after the County Council meets to pass the By law to issue $12,000 debentures.

On motion of Mr. Millar, seconded by Mr. Collins, a By-law appointing a committee to act conjointly with a committee to be appointed by the town to superintend the erection of a new bridge was read a first time.

It was afterwards read a second and third time and passed.

Mr. Armstrong, seconded by Mr. Rose, introduced a By-law to amend the By-law fixing the limits of the Norwood High School, by extending the limits to all the Township of Asphodel, North of lot No. 10, of the said township.

In the second reading the committee rose asking leave to sit again, the by-law was abandoned.

It was moved by Dr. Clegg, seconded by S. S. Peck, that, whereas, on the 26th day of June 1868, and on the 29th day of January, 1869, By-laws were passed by this council separating the township of Harcourt and Bruton from the municipality of Burleigh, &c., without any pensions from the said township of Burleigh, &c., asking for the said separation, and, whereas, about the time of the said separation there was due from the said municipality to the said Harcourt and Bruton, the sum of $2000 and upwards, and whereas the owners of the said townships of Harcourt and Bruton now desire to be relieved from the payment of the said township of Burleigh, &c., and whereas the said municipality of Burleigh, &c., have refused to pay over to the said townships of Harcourt and Bruton their indebtedness, at the time of the said separation, in consequence the said separation, and the municipality of Burleigh, &c., claims to have an equable right to recover the said from this county in consequence of the said separation, and that the matter be referred to a committee of this council to be named by the warden.—Carried.

The Warden named Mr. S. S. Peck, Sanderson and Ross.

On motion of S. S. Peck from Daniel Buck and others asking for assistance to repair the Bobcaygeon road to the north of Minden was referred to the committee on roads and bridges.

On motion of Mr Harrison seconded by Mr.

Armstrong and Dr. Clegg, while every other member of the committee believed Mr. Peck was guilty, I believe. But they thought that we could not compel him to disgorge without a lawsuit, hence, after dinner, there were five members voted for the white-washing process, and four against it. And this Mr. Carnegie knows for he saw, and, no doubt, counted the votes. Had Mr. Peck had common decency, he would have left the chair, at the time of his trial, but I suppose his intention was to give the casting vote, had it come to a tie. With the charges against Messrs. Walker, Coughlan and Clegg, I have nothing to do, they can defend themselves, and, ward off his malicious attacks, I will leave it to them to do so. Had Mr. Carnegie the power, he would be as tyrannicacle as a Pasha of Turkey. Last year when the servant of counsel and paid by them, he tried to be master, so as, if possible, to get $45,000 for a pet scheme, and threatened them with a chancery law suit if they would not do as he wished. He was then an M. P. P. The last election took from him his strength in the West Riding, and, like Sampson, of old, when his "locks" are shaven he is weak like other men. Sampson exclaimed, "With the jaw bone of an Ass I have slain a thousand men." I suppose Mr. Carnegie thinks that with the pen, of one, he can politically slay some of the members of the County Council, and myself among the rest. Let him try; he will perish among the ruins.

I remain,
Your obedient servant,
JAMES MILLAR.

Otonabee, July 15th, 1871.

Protestant Home.

To the Editor of the Peterborough Examiner:

DEAR SIR:—I deeply regret that any unpleasant feeling should have arisen from the report of donations to the Home which I handed in last week. I foolishly interlined the word "rancid" in the report, which seems to have cast some reflection on one of the donors, Mrs. Dr. Taylor, and perhaps on some members of the committee, and I take this opportunity of apologising for the inconsiderate act.

I am,
Yours, &c.,
W. B. St. MATHIAS.

Peterboro, July 18th, 1871.

DIED.

In Bobcaygeon, on Sunday, the 9th of July, Anne Greaty, wife of Dr. Philips Lloyd, aged 52 years.

PETERBOROUGH MARKETS.

Peterborough July 20 1871

Flour ₱ bl	$4	25	$5	50
Wheat ₱ bush fall	1	03	1	15
Spring Wheat ₱ bush	1	08	1	20
Peas	0	80	0	90
Barley "	0	60	0	62
Oats "	0	67	0	70
Potatoes "	1	00	1	20
Hay ₱ ton	16	00	14	00
Hides ₱ cwt	6	00	7	00
Beef ₱ cwt	6	5	7	00
Sheepskins	0	75	1	25
Wool ₱ lb	0	25	0	30
Pork ₱ cwt	7	00	8	00
Eggs, per dozen	0	12	0	12½
Butter	0	18	0	18
Cordwood	2	50	3	00
Turkeys	0	75	1	50
Geese	0	40	0	5
Chickens	0	35	0	40

The are of railroads and the telegraph give rules to fast living, and increases the desire for making rapid fortunes,—some wishing to outstrip and others to be at least equal to their neighbours. In order to keep up with this eager and unequaled contest, the brain is taxed to its utmost power, while its nutry is rendered an easy prey to disease The Heart Liver, Stomach, Lungs or Nervous System becomes afflicted, and sickness in the form of Heart disease, Jaundice, Dyspepsia, Bronchitis Consumption, Paralysis or Mania, is the result. The use of Fellow's Compound Syrup of Hypophosphites will enable the mind to sustain a greater strain unfettered by conflicting thoughts and unscared by continued anxiety.—It imparts power of concentration. What before seemed difficult of solution becomes comparatively easy, and the body is physically stronger under its use.

The instrument of Success — We must work if we would make: Few people live to their wits, and labour is the natural inheritance of our race, necessary to our health as well as prosperity; but as none can expect perfect immunity from sickness, it is right that the best means of cure should a ways be ready. N. for colds, coughs, rheumatism, neuralgia, cramps, cholic, &c., their is nothing like the "Canadian Pain Destroyer." For sale by all Druggists and country dealers. Price 25 cts. per bottle.

CANADIAN PAIN DESTROYER.

A Family Medicine, well and favorably known for the past ten years, never failing in a single instance to give permanent relief when timely used, and we have never known a single case of dissatisfaction where the directions have been properly followed, but on the contrary all are delighted with its operations, and speak in the highest terms of its Virtues and Magical effects.

THE CANADIAN PAIN DESTROYER has won for itself a reputation, as a blood purifier alterative stomach tonic, unsurpassed in the history of medical preparations. It seldom fails to cure Dyspepsia, Liver Complaints, Indigestion, Heartburn, Sick Headache, Kidney Complaints, Acid Stomach Pimbiate or Asthma, and restores to vital activity the system debilitated by suffering and disease.

Its magical and wonderful success in curing sudden colds, sore throat, coughs, Diptheria pains in the side, loins and back, neuralgia toothache, rheumatic and other pains in any part of the body and from whatever cause, has given it a place in every household and is fast superseding all other preparations of the kind.

It is also an effectual and prompt remedy for scalds, burns, bruises, sprains, chilblains, cholera morbus, bilious cholic, cholera infantum, dysentery, &c.

Price only twenty-five cents per bottle.

ARTHROP & LYMAN,
Newcastle, C. W.
General Agents for Canada

Sold in Peterborough by Dr. Tarlor, A W. Kempt Wm. Coulter and Ormond & Walsh in Keer ay A. Campbell, Campbell McNeil & Co., C. Britton, Lindsay, and all Medicine Dealers.

THE GREAT FEMALE REMEDY
Job Moses' Peridocal Pills.

This invaluable medicine is unfailing in the cure of all those painful and dangerous diseases to which the female constitution is subject. It moderates all exsdes and removes all obstructions, and a speedy cure may be relied on.

TO MARRIED LADIES.

It is peculiarly suited. It will in a short time, bring on the monthly period with regularity.

These Pills should not be taken by Females during the FIRST THREE MONTHS of Pregnancy, as they are sure to bring on Miscarriage, but at any other time they are safe.

In all cases of Nervous and Spinal Affection, Pains in the Back and Limbs, on slight exertion, Palpitation of the Heart, Asperics, and Whites, the Pills will effect a cure when all other means have failed; and although a powerful remedy, do not contain iron, calomel, antimony, or anything hurtful to the constitution.

Full directions in the pamphlet around each package, which should be carefully preserved

JOB MOSES', NEW YORK, SOLE PROPRIETOR

$1.00 and 12½ cents for postage, enclosed to Northrop & Lyman, Newcastle, Ont., general agents for the Dominion, will ensure a bottle, containing over 50 pills, by return mail.

Iron ore, taken from the back hills near the highest point of the Union Pacific Railway, has been smelted at Omaha and found of excellent quality, yielding 30 per cent. of superior metal Three bills of the kind pass the railroad.

BOOKS,
STATIONERY,
ROOM PAPER,
FANCY GOODS,
MUSIC,
PIANOS---
(Of all Kinds and Prices.)
MELODEONS,
PAPER BAGS,
At Montreal Prices---Wholesale, to the trade.
Wrapping Paper, &c.;
All at Best Prices, at
A. B. KIDD'S
BOOK STORE,
George Street, Peterborough.

A. B. K. desires also to remind his customers and the public generally, that his Shop is now enlarged, and that a state of order has followed the confusion caused by refitting premises and shop.

A. B. KIDD.
Peterboro, July 5th, 1871. 27

CHEAPER THAN EVER!
Why go Barefooted when you can get
CHEAP BOOTS & SHOES!
CALL AND SEE THE NEW STOCK!
AT
LARMOUR & SARNEY'S
New Dominion Cheap Boot and Shoe Store,
Which is being offered at Prices which defy competition
(McKellar's Old Corner) George Street, Peterborough.
W. J. LARMOUR, CHAS. SARNEY.
June 13th, 1871. 24

MIDLAND
Railway of Canada.

ON and after MONDAY the 26th day of JUNE, 1871, Trains will run as follows.

TRAINS MOVING SOUTH.—MAIL.
Beaverton Depart ... 2 10 p. m
Lindsay, Arrive ... 3.35 p. m.
Millbrook, Arrive ... 5 10 p. m.
Port Hope, Arrive ... 6 15 p. m

TRAINS MOVING NORTH.—MAIL.
Port Hope, Depart ... 9.15 a. m.
Millbrook, Arrive ... 10 12 "
Lindsay Arrive ... 11 40 "
Beaverton, Arrive ... 1 30 p. m.

TRAINS MOVING SOUTH.—MIXED
Lindsay, Depart ... 8 15 a. m.
Millbrook, Arrive ... 10 10 "
Port Hope, Arrive ... 12 00 p. m

TRAINS MOVING NORTH.—MIXED.
Port Hope, Depart ... 2 40 p. m.
Millbrook, Arrive ... 3.35 p. m
Lindsay, Arrive ... 6 25 p. m.

PETERBOROUGH SECTION.
TRAINS MOVING SOUTH.—MAIL.
Lakefield, Depart ... 3.15 p. m.
Peterborough, Arrive ... 3.00 p. m.
" Depart ... 3.30 "
Millbrook, Arrive ... 4.10 "
Port Hope, Arrive ... 5.30 "

TRAINS MOVING NORTH.—MAIL.
Port Hope, Depart ... 9.30 a. m
Millbrook, Arrive ... 10.38 a. m
Peterborough, Arrive ... 11 30 p. m.
Lakefield Arrive ... 12.45 p. m.

TRAINS MOVING SOUTH.—MIXED.
Peterborough, Depart ... 6.15 a. m.
Millbrook Arrive ... 7 00 "
Port Hope, Arrive ... 8.30 "

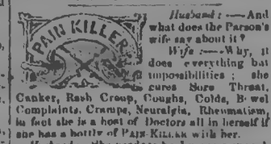
TRAINS MOVING NORTH.—MIXED.
Port Hope, Depart ... 3.30 p. m
Millbrook Arrive ... 4.57 "
Peterborough, Arrive ... 6.10 "

H. G. TAYLOR,
Superintendent of Motive Power and Trains.
June 28, 1871. 26.

NOTICE.

APPLICATION will be made to the Legislature of the Province of Ontario at its next sitting for an Act to repeal so much of the Second Clause of a Bill entitled "An Act to enable the Municipalities along the line of the Grand Junction Railway Company, to grant aid thereto and legalize certain By-laws granting aid to the said Company." As relates to the legalizing of a proposed By-law of the County of Peterborough, entitled, "By law to provide for the aiding and assisting in the construction of the Grand Junction Railway, and the Peterborough and Haliburton Railway, and for the issuing of Debentures therefor to the amount of One Hundred Thousand Dollars, &c

Peterborough, July 8, 1871 28



Husband:—And what does the Parson's wife say about it?
Wife:—Why, it does everything but impossibilities; she cures Sore Throat, Canker, Rash Croup, Coughs, Colds, Bowel Complaints, Cramps, Neuralgia, Rheumatism, in fact she is a host of Doctors all in herself if she has a bottle of PAIN KILLER with her.
Husband:—She needs to be, I never saw such children as hers are, they are always cutting their fingers, spraining their ankles and falling down-stairs.
Wife:—Yes, and the PAIN-KILLER is magical when used for Sprains, Bruises and Fresh Cuts. That reminds me: Willie cut his finger awfully this morning; I will hasten and put some PAIN-KILLER on it.

(To be continued.)

☞The PAIN-KILLER is an internal and external remedy for pain For internal pain, Cramps Spasms, sudden Cold and Bowel difficulties, a few days no wager will give immediate relief. As a liniment it is without an equal; it stops pain almost instantly Be sure and get the genuine made by Perry Davis & Son and sold by all Druggists and Grocers 15-71

Iron Clad Trees

W. C. Lawrence,
FRUIT TREE DEALER,

Will personally canvass the Townships of Otonabee, Asphodel, Dummer, Douro, and the Burleigh Road, between the present and the 1st of November next, for orders for Apple and other Fruit Trees. W. C. L. has been over this ground for the last 4 years, and the trees supplied are acknowledged to be the best ever introduced into this County Orders received by D. G. Anderson, Esq., Crown Land Agent, G. McIlmoyl, Esq., of Lakefield, or at this Office

Reference can be made to the following gentlemen:—

Thos. Buck, Esq., Thos. Blezard, Esq., T Welsh, Esq., of Otonabee, T. Coughlin, Esq., A. Shearer, Esq., Asphodel. Moses Humphrey, Esq., David Dean, Esq., and Jordan Crow, of Dummer, W. Abbot, Esq., Roland Strickland, Esq., R. T. Dench, Esq., of Douro, Edward Sanderson, Esq., Giles Stone, Esq., Burleigh Road.

N. B.—Mr. McIlmoyle will canvass Smith and Ennismore.

24-6mos.

WANTED!
TO RENT,
A DWELLING, STABLE, &c.
With from Five to Thirty Acres of Land attached. Must be in good repair and within Two Miles of the Post Office, Peterborough.
Address,
JAMES COYLE BROWN.
Peterboro, July 6th, 1871 27

TO LET.
In the Village of Bobcaygeon, a
Shop and Dwelling House!
In the best business stand. Terms reasonable.
Apply to
JOSEPH BROWN.
Bobcaygeon, July 11th 1871. 28-tf.

50,000 Brick for Sale.
Apply to
J. S. ALEXANDER,
Corner of London and George Streets,
Peterboro, June 28, 1871. 26-3mo

Public School Notice.
The BLANK REPORTS for the First Half of the present year, have been mailed Should any not arrive, communicate at once, giving address.
JAMES COYLE BROWN,
Inspector
Peterborough, July 5th, 1871. 27

To Builders and Contractors!
Tenders will be received by the Building Committee, at the Office of the County Clerk, until TUESDAY, the 15th Day of August Next,
For the Building of a New
Registry Office,
For the County of Peterborough, according to the Government Plans and Specifications, which may be seen at the County Clerk's Office. The Contractor to furnish all materials. The lowest or any tender not necessarily accepted.
Peterborough, July 7th. 1871 28-td.
(Review please copy.)

SIGN OF
THE GOLDEN ANVIL!
I have on hand my usual supply of Seasonable Goods,
Grass and Cradle Scythes,
Hay, Manure, and Barley Forks,
Snaths. Wood and Iron Bow
Rakes, Hoes, Pork Handles,
Spades, Shovels,
CRADLES IN GREAT VARIETY
Fishing Tackle, Bird Cages, Electro-Plated Goods, Pocket & Table Knives
(Extra Quality,)
Builders' Hardware,
And a Good Stock of English and American Shelf Goods.
JOHN BERTRAM,
June 14th, 1871. 24

WANTED.
A TEACHER for SCHOOL SECTION No. 6 SMITH. Duties to commence the 2nd July. Applications to be addressed to.
JAMES SAULTER,
Box 5, North Douro.
June 14th, 1871. 24-tf.

PIANOS,
Melodeons and Organs.
R. S. WILLIAMS, & Co.,
Have now a complete stock of the above Instruments on exhibition, at their House, No. 3, Scott's Block, Market Square. to which they invite the attention of parties wishing to purchase.
R. W. ERRETT,
Agent.
Peterboro, 7th June, 1871. 23-3mos.

TO LEND
$10,000.
Interest 8 per cent. No commission.
D. W. DUNBLE,
Solicitor.
Peterborough, April 27, 1871. 17-3mos.

SONG ECHO

A New School Book, by H. S. Perkins. Price $7.50 per dozen. Contains over two hundred new and beautiful Songs, Duetts, etc, by Will S. Hays, Webster, Thomas, etc. Everything is new, fresh, and sparkling. Contents and specimen pages sent free. Sample copies mailed free of postage to teachers for 65 cents. Liberal terms for introduction.

Subscribers to Peters Musical Monthly are getting their music for less than two cents a piece Those who have not seen this Musical Magazine should send 30 cents for a sample copy. The music is by Hays, Thomas, Kinkle, Persley and other popular writers. Two back numbers for 40 cents Four back numbers for 75 cents. Subscribers get

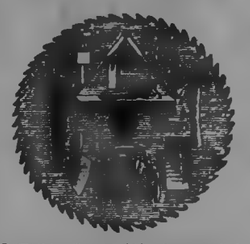
FIFTY DOLLARS
WORTH OF MUSIC FOR $3.

Address,
J. L. PETERS, 599 Broadway, N. Y.
Teachers sending us their orders for $10 worth of music, can claim a year's subscription to Peters' Musical Monthly.

FOR SALE.
TWO BRICK COTTAGES,
AND BUILDING LOTS.
GEO. T. LEONARD,
Solicitor, &c.
May 24rd. 1871. 21-4ins.

RESTORE YOUR SIGHT.
SPECTACLES RENDERED USELESS
OLD EYES MADE NEW.
All diseases of the Eye successfully treated by
BALL'S NEW PATENT IVORY EYE CUPS.
Read for yourself and restore your sight. Spectacles and surgical operations rendered useless. The Inestimable Blessing of Sight is made perpetual by the use of the new
PATENT IMPROVED IVORY EYE CUPS.
Many of our most eminent physicians, oculists students and divines, have had their sight permanently restored for life, and cured of the following diseases:
1. Impaired Vision; 2. Presbyopia, or Far Sightedness, or Dimness of Vision, commonly called Blurring; 3. Asthenopia: or Weak Eyes; 4 Epiphora, Running or Watery Eyes; 5 Sore Eyes—specially treated with the Eye Cups—cure guaranteed; 6. Weakness of the Retina or Optic Nerve; 7. Ophthalmia, or Inflamation of the Eye and its appendages, or Imperfect Vision, from the effects of inflamation; 8. Photophobia, or Intolerance of Light, 9. Over Worked eyes; 10. Mydesopia—moving specks or floating bodies before the eyes; Amaurosis. or Obscurity of Vision; 12. Cataracts, Partial Blindness, the loss of sight.
Any one can use the Ivory Eye Cups with out the aid of Doctor or Medicine, so as to receive immediate beneficial results and never wear spectacles, or if using now, to lay them aside forever. We guarantee a cure in every case where the directions are followed, or we refund the money.
$2000 CERTIFICATES OF CURE,
From honest Farmers, Mechanics and Merchants, some of the most eminent leading professional and business men and women of education and refinement, in our country, may be seen at our office.
Under date of March 29, Hon. Horace Greely of the New York Tribune, writes, "J. Ball, of our city, is a conscientious and responsible man, who is incapable of intentional deception or imposition."
Prof. W. Merrick, of Lexington, Ky., wrote April 24th, 1869: Without my Spectacles I see you this note, after using the Patent Ivory Eye Cups thirteen days, and this morning perused the entire contents of a Daily Newspaper, and all with the unassisted eye.
Truly I am grateful to your noble invention, may Heaven bless and preserve you. I have been using spectacles twenty years; I am seventy-one years old. Yours, truly,
PROF. W. MERRICK.
Rev. Joseph Smith, Malden, Mass., cured of Partial Blindness, of 18 years' standing, in one minute, by the Patent Ivory Eye Cups.
E. C. Ellis, late Mayor of Dayton, Ohio, wrote to us Nov. 13th, 1869: I have tested the Patent Ivory Eye Cups and I am satisfied they are good. I am pleased with them; they are the Greatest Invention of the age.
All persons wishing for full particulars, certificates of cures, prices &c., will please send your address to us, and we will send our treatise on the Eye of forty-four pages, free, by return mail, write to Dr. J. Ball & Co., P. O. Box, 957, No. 91 Liberty Street, New York.
For the worst cases of Myopia, or Nearsightedness, use our New Patent Myopic Attachments, applied the Ivory Eye Cups, has proved a certain cure for this disease.
Send for pamphlets and certificates—free. Waste no more money by adjusting huge glasses on your nose and disfigure your face.
Employment for all. Agents wanted for the new Patent Improved Ivory Eye Cups, just introduced into the market. The success is unparalelled by any other article. All persons out of employment, or those wishing to improve their circumstances, whether gentlemen or ladies can make a respectable living at this light and easy employment. Hundreds of agents are making from $5 TO $20 A DAY. To live agents $20 a week will be guaranteed. Information furnished on receipt of 10 cents—to pay for cost of printing materials and return postage.
Dr. J. Ball & Co., P O. Box, 957, No. 91 Liberty Street New York.
Our Agent for Peterborough County, is
JAMES CONWAY, P. M.,
Indian River, Ont.
23-3 mos,

SIGN OF THE CIRCULAR SAW.



THE Subscribers would beg leave to call the attention of the public to their stock of
SHELF AND HEAVY HARDWARE
PAINTS, OILS, GLASS and PUTTY,
Agricultural and Garden Implements,
NAILS, LOCKS, HINGES, &c.
All of which they will sell at the lowest Prices.
Sign of the Circular Saw.
GEORGE STREET, PETERBORO.
McKEE & DAVIDSON
Peterboro, April 26th, 1871, 17

TO FARMERS.
If you want to make FORTY DOLLARS AN ACRE off your land,
SOW FLAX!
Let each good Farmer sow Three Acres on trial, and see how handy it is to have $120 coming in to pay off your harvest hands in August. As there is a Machine for pulling, at the mill, it makes it one of the easiest crops harvested, For seed apply to
S. TAYLOR,
Flax Mill, Ashburnham
May 3rd, 1871. 18

TO LET.
AUBURN HOUSE,
AND ABOUT 20 ACRES OF LAND THEREWITH.
A Delightful Summer Residence.
Apply to
DENNISTOUN, FAIRBAIRN & CASSELS
May 3rd, 1871. 18-tf

IMPORTANT
TO FARMERS
AND THE PUBLIC.
I have now in my Flour Mill, for Milling Purposes, the
Best Machinery Known
At present in the world, and with an experience of over 40 years in the business, and from a fixed quality of Wheat, I can turn out as much Flour and
AS GOOD IN QUALITY
as any mill in the Dominion. I will, therefore, give in exchange for 60 lbs good clean Wheat, 43 lbs Flour and 10 lbs Bran The Flour warranted to be good: This over is equal to 200 lbs of Flour for 4 bushels and 40 lbs Wheat, or a clear gain of 20 lbs Wheat on the Barrel, worth at present prices from 43 to 45 cents.
☞ Cash paid for Good Fall and Spring Wheat.
M. MARTYN.
Peterboro, May 22nd, 1871. 21

1871 Annual Announcement 1871
(ESTABLISHED 1856.)
SEEDS!
Fresh, Good, and True,
The subscriber has received his supply of
FIELD,
FLOWER; and
GARDEN SEEDS.
Both of Home and Imported Stock.
WARRANTED GENUINE
FARMERS AND MARKET GARDENERS are respectfully invited to call and inspect for themselves.
COUNTRY MERCHANTS, supplied, as usual with boxes on Commission, or for Cash.
"Honesty" is our motto, both in character of seed, and in price
WM. H. TAYLOR, M. D
At the old Stand, Corner of George and Hunter Streets, Peterborough, Ont.
16-tf

A FARMER'S COMPANY.
FARMERS!
Insure Your Property
IN THE
AGRICULTURAL
INSURANCE COMPANY.
A Stock Company entirely devoted to your interests.
Insures nothing but Farm Property and Detached Residences.
Chartered and commenced business in 1853.
CASH ASSETS - - $550,000.
Mr. Langton's Report shows over $38,000 deposited as especial protection to Canadian Policy-holders.
Head Office for the Dominion of Canada, Kingston, Ontario.
We would refer you to the following named Gentlemen, in regard to the pecuniary responsibility of the Company:
H. Calcutt, Brewer; John Burnham, Barrister; J. A. Hall, Agent Canadian Bank of Commerce; Thos. Menzies, Stationer and Exchange Broker.
ATTORNEY—John Burnham, Esq.
BANK—Canadian Bank of Commerce.
Wm. T. Fish, Cobourg, Gen. Agent for the Counties of Prince Edward, Hastings, Northumberland, Durham, Ontario, Peterboro and Victoria.
Local Agent for the Town of Peterborough
W. A. KING,
6-tf

VICTORIA
CARRIAGE
AND
Wagon Factory
Corner of Brock and George Streets.
The Subscriber would respectfully announce that he has leased the above establishment, opposite the Commercial Hotel and is now prepared to Manufacture
CARRIAGES,
BUGGIES,
WAGGONS,
WHEEL-BARROWS,
HARROWS, &c.
At Low Prices for Cash.
HORSE-SHOEING MADE A SPECIALTY.
GEORGE W. MILLS.
Peterboro, March 7th, 1871.
N. B.—As there is another person in Peterboro named "George Mills," the public will please remember the distinction in the names. G. W. M. 13-tf

$765,000
In Cash Gifts to be Distributed by the New York Cash Prize Co.
EVERY TICKET DRAWS A PRIZE.

5 Cash Gifts each,	$40 000	60 Cash Gifts, each,			$1,000
10 " "	20,000	200 " "			500
20 " "	5,000	300 " "			100
50 Elegant Rosewood Pianos,	— each	$300	to		$500
75 " " Melodeons	"	75	to		100
350 Sewing Machines	— "	60	to		175
500 Gold Watches	— "	75	to		200
Cash Prizes, Silver Ware, etc., valued at					$1,500,000

A change to draw any of the above Prizes for 25c. Tickets describing Prizes are sealed in Envelopes and well mixed. On receipt of 25c. a Sealed Ticket is drawn without choice and sent by mail to any address. The prize named upon it will be delivered to the ticket-holder on payment of One Dollar. Prizes are immediately sent to any address by express or returned mail.
You will know what your prize is before you pay for it. "Any Prize exchanged for another of the same value." No blanks. Our patrons can depend on fair dealing.
REFERENCES:—The following lately drew Valuable Prizes and kindly permit us to publish them:—Andrew J. Burns, Chicago, $10,000; Jas. M. Matthews, Detroit, $5,000, John F. Anderson, Savannah, $5,000; James Simmons, Boston, $10 000.
Press Opinion:—"The firm is reliable."—"Weekly Tribune, Dec 28" "Does ve their success"—N. Y. Herald, Jan. 1. "Just and Honorable"—News Dec, 9.
Send for circular. Liberal inducements to Agents. Satisfaction guratteed. Every package of 200 Sealed. Envelopes contains one CASH GIFT. Seven tickts for $1; 17 for $2, 50 for $5; 200 for $15. Address
C. B. HARRIS & Co.,
Managers,
62 Broadway, N. Y
Peterborong March 16th, 1871. 10-tf.

FELLOWS'
HYPOPHOSPHITES.
Amongst the diseases overcome by the use of
Fellows' Compound Syrup of Hypophosphites
ARE
Constipation, Asthma, Consumption, Laryngitis, Nervous Debility, Dyspepsia, Chronic Bronchitis, Chronic Diarrhœa, Melancholy.
Debility resulting from Typhoid and other low fevers, Diphtheritis, Hysteria, Hypochondria, Anæmia, Chlorosis Anæmia, Leucorrhœa, Nervous Excitability, Marasmus, or wasting of the Muscles, Aphonia, or loss of Voice, Chorea or St. Vitus's Dance, Sluggishness of the Liver, Interrupted and Feeble Action of the heart, Suffocating feeling caused by mucous obstructions of the Lungs and Air passages leading thereto, and Debility from various causes, many cases of which appear hopeless.
SOLD BY APOTHECARIES.
Price, $1.00; Six for $5.00.
JAMES I. FELLOW, CHEMIST,
ST. JOHN, N. B,
16-1871. 4mos.

A CARD.
E. BAKEWELL, having made an engagement with Mr Bradburn, may be found, by his former Patrons and Customers, at the store lately occupied by M. Moloney, where he hopes by his usual attention to business, and with increased facilities for giving satisfaction, still to merit and receive their patronage.
E. BAKEWELL,
Peterboro, Dec. 19, 1870. 51-tf.

HOUSE AND LOT FOR SALE.
The undersigned offers for sale the dwelling House and Lot on
LONDON STREET,
at present occupied by himself.
Further particulars can be obtained by application to
Wm LECH,
Proprietor.
Peterborough, April 19th 1871. 16-tf.
(Review please copy.)

Dissolution of Partnership.
Notice is hereby given that the Partnership heretofore existing between us, the undersigned as Carriage makers in the Town of Peterboro' in the County of Peterborough, has been this day dissolved by mutual consent, All debts owing to the said partnership are to be paid to, and all claims against the said partnership are to be paid by the undersigned, John Lockhart.
JOHN LOCKHART
JAMES MILLER.
Dated at Peterborough, this 26th day of May A. D. 1871.
In connection with the above, the public are respectfully informed that the business, as hereafter, will be conducted under the name of Lockhart & Chowen, and that all orders entrusted to them will receive prompt attention,
LOCKHART & CHOWEN.
Peterboro, May 30th, 1871. 22

New Steam Dye Works!
THE PUBLIC OF PETERBORO and vicinity are respectfully informed that this establishment is now prepared to take work of every description in CLEANING, COLOURING, AND FINISHING,
of Gentlemen's Clothing, Ladies' Dress Goods, &c., &c.
Observe the following List of Fabrics
Coats' Blacks, Merinoes, Silks, Tweeds, Cottons, Satin Cassimeres, Unions, Velvet, Doeskins, Woolens, Ribbons, and general Dry Goods, made up or in the piece Carpets, Rugs, Mats, Raw Wools, Cottons, Worsted, Wool Yarns, Cotton Yarns, Hosiery, Coated Pieces for Mats, Buggies, &c., &c. Damasks, in Curtains and Furniture Covers.
☞WORKS, NEAR ONTARIO WOOLEN MILLS, COBOURG.
WM. MERCER,
Agent for Peterboro.
Peterboro, J, 7uneth1871. 23-1y.

GREAT
DESTRUCTION!
BUT
No Loss of Life.
ONLY THE

TURNING OVER FILES OF
DRESS GOODS!
AND PRINTS.
The Contents of Fifteen Cases and Three Bales, Just Opened.
Great Bargains in Hoyle's Prints.
Great Bargains in Dress Goods.
These Goods will be offered at prices that will clean them off before the end of the season.
Peterboro, May 31st, 1871. 22

CHANGE OF BUSINESS
New Foundry Firm.
The Subscriber is retiring from the Foundry Business in which he has been engaged, for the past 15 years, begs to return thanks to his friends and the public in general, for the liberal patronage conferred upon him, at the same time he would beg to state that the business in future will be carried on by his BROTHER JAMES and JAMES R. DAVIS, under the firm of Whyte & Davis. Mr. Davis is well known as a First Class Machinist and Millwright, therefore I have every confidence in recommending the New Firm to the public, feeling assured that all orders entrusted to them will be executed in the most satisfactory manner, and with dispatch.
JOHN WHYTE.
Peterborough. April 1st, 1871.
N. B.—Parties having Notes and Accounts to settle, will please bear in mind that the Books of account and Notes will be at my Woolen Mill, West of Whyte & Hamilton's Foundries.—J. W,

The Subscribers having Commenced Business in the Old Stand of John Whyte, Esq., as (Founders, Machinists and Agricultural Implement Manufacturers,) beg to say that they keep on hand all kinds of
AGRICULTURAL IMPLEMENTS,
SUCH AS
STEEL, COMMON, AND GANG PLOWS, HARROWS, ROOT CUTTERS, CULTIVATORS, HORSE HOES, GARDEN AND FIELD ROLLERS, HAY AND STRAW CUTTERS, with almost every Implement used on the Farm.
General Repairing of Reapers, Mowers, Threshing Machines and Implements of Husbandry on the Shortest Notice.
Parties about purchasing any of the above Implements will do well to call and inspect our Stock on hand, before making a purchase elsewhere.
WHYTE & DAVIS
Peterborough, Ap 1st, 1871. 15-tf

NEW WOOLEN MILL.
To the Farmers and Merchants of the County of Peterboro.
The subscribers would respectfully beg to intimate that the Old Woolen Mill, once owned and carried on by the late James Harvey, Esq., afterwards by Mr. Daniel Brook, has been put in a
A THOROUGH STATE OF REPAIR,
And is now filled with New Machinery, got up expressly for the Manufacture of Blankets, Flannels. Full Cloths, Tweeds, &c.
A large assortment of the above goods of our own make, are now on hand, and will be sold Cheap for Cash, or Exchanged for wool Special attention will be given to the Custom Department, which is in perfect order for the Manufacture of Farmer's Blankets, Roll Carding and Fulling.
JOHN WHYTE, AUGUSTUS SAWERS
N.B.—We will pay the Highest price in Cash for any quantity of Good Clean Wool delivered at the mill.
J. W, A. S

To my old friends in particular, and the public in general:
I am now back in the Old Mill, with Messrs. Whyte & Sawers, and have got a Large Room all to myself With a splendid
NEW CARDING MACHINE
Bring in your Wool, and I will give you BETTER ROLLS than have ever been turned out in this County.
JOHNNIE NEWTON,
Peterboro, May 3rd, 1871. 18

STOLEN OR STRAYED
From the premises of the undersigned, on the morning of the 24th of May, a
LARGE GREY MARE.
Any person giving information as to her whereabouts will be suitably rewarded.
GEO. BROWN.
Abraham, June 7th, 1871. 22.

CANADIAN BANK OF COMMERCE
THE Canadian Bank of Commerce have opened a
Saving's Bank Department
in Peterborough. Interest allowed on all sums over $1.00.
J. A. [illegible]

W. R. R., for his kindness in obtaining much useful information for us from the various station masters on the line.

Your obedient servants,
WILLIAM SAUNDERS,
Vice-President Entomological Society of Ontario.
EDMUND BAYNES REED,
Rec.-Treas. Entomological Society of Ontario.

NOTE.—Seeing the importance of taking immediate action in carrying out the suggestions made in the above report, the department has effected such arrangements with a wholesale drug house in the city of Toronto, as will enable farmers and others to obtain a reliable quantity of Paris Green there, at 30 cents per pound. It will be put up in one pound packages, as suggested, with full directions for use, and may be purchased in quantities of not less than ten pounds, by remitting the amount of its cost to Messrs. Lyman Bros. & Co., of Toronto.

Hunted Down and Murdered.

(From the New York SUN.)

Baltimore, June 28:—Near Chase's Station, on the Philadelphia, Wilmington, and Baltimore Railroad, about twelve miles from this city, a murder of almost unparalleled atrocity was committed on the night of Friday, the 23rd inst. At about 6 o'clock in the afternoon of that day, a poor girl gently clad in a summer dress blush pink, with white puff overskirt, a blue jersey, a very handsome flesh skirt sash, and a straw hat, visited the station, and entered into conversation with one of the officers of the road. She had never been there before. It was afterwards ascertained that she had come down the railroad, having passed through Havre de Grace three days before, and through Magnolia the day preceding, she was slender, of medium height, with fair complexion, and brown hair, which hung in dishevelled locks about her shoulders. Her hands were thin and delicate, and her feet exceedingly slender. She procurred a glass of water, and talked incoherently of wanting to hire a horse and carriage: but seemed not to know precisely whither she was going. Her voice was soft and womanly, and some of the loungers about the station thought that they detected in her speech a slight foreign accent, but whether Irish or Yankee I could not say. She was and so considered by all who knew her, but not a soul did she meet to care for her in her helplessness. The rustics at the station and in the region about, stared at her with all their eyes, compared opinions as to who she could be and whence she could have come, and allowed her to wander on. She took the road leading to this The next morning her lifeless body was found at a point where a waggon road crosses the railroad track, about a mile and a quarter from the station.

MANIFESTLY INSANE,

When the body was discovered, investigation was instituted, and resulted in the disclosure of proceedings on the part of the girl's murderers so absolutely fiendish that the recital seems most incredible. It seems that the girl went from the station to the hose of one Wilson, who resided on a farm about three-fourths of a mile distant. Here she met who were associated in a sort of amateur minstrel band, and she had some conversation with them. She requested Mr. Wilson to take her to a point supposed to be about eight miles further on, offering him $10 for carriage fare, but when asked to produce the money she failed to do so, and started off on foot. Benjamin Wilson a rough of 18, the son of the former W. Hughes a lad of about the same age who lived near by, John Ahrens, a young man three or four years older, and a colored boy named Wheeler followed her. When the girl reached the railroad she turned to the right, the boys to the left and went towards the station, stopping at the house of a fellow named Joseph League. Him they called up out of bed, and told of the queer woman, proposing he should assist in hunting her down. League took a double barrelled gun and joined the party, his wife cautioning him as he went out not to go out in his bare feet least he should take cold. A negro named James Bouldin also so that there were six robust fellows altogether united in this nocturnal hunt after one poor, helpless, demented girl. Another colored man named James Dickson was visited and urged to bring out his gun and join the expedition, but he would not.

SEVERAL YOUNG FELLOWS,

JOINED THIS PRECIOUS GANG,

What followed is known only through the admission of those who were engaged in the revolving atrocity. It seems that when the party overtook the girl she was sitting in an open spot, fifty feet distant from the railway crossing; behind her was an open field. There were some clouds in the sky, but the moon was shining so that she could be plainly seen. The desperadoes victim was shot, and then the murderers stole away, leaving the inanimate body where it fell. A coroner's inquest was held on the body, shot was found in the head and in other parts of the person, and a verdict was rendered against Joseph League, Wilson, Hughes, Ahrens, League, Wilson, Bouldin and Wheeler, were all arrested as principles or accomplices in the crime, and they are in jail at Towsontown

AWAITING THEIR TRIAL.

What transpired between the poor girl and her murderers after they met at the scene of the crime will never be known, unless the scoundrels see fit to confess.—The act of shooting is not denied, and League asserts that when he overtook and called to his victim she answered him with an insulting epithet. He has the effrontery to offer this as a valid excuse for killing the crazed and helpless wanderer.

In the accounts that have been published, it has been said that the women shot was mistaken for a man in disguise, and that she was stealing chickens at the time There is not a particle of evidence to sustain such a line of defence: on the contrary, the testimony of all who know anything of the tragedy, and the admissions of the prisoners themselves, go to show that the girl was killed ont of pure wantonness, without a shadow of justification. There are suspicions afloat that the murder may have been preceded by other outrages. Who the victim was, or where she belonged, no one can tell. No one know anything more about her than has been stated in this brief narrative: no friends have appeared to claim the body; no inquiries have been received in relation to the poor creature, from any quarter.

The Penitent Milkman.—Not long since, during an exciting protracted meeting held in one of the frontier towns of Michigan, a man named Wilson; who for some years had been selling milk to the villagers, becoming seriously alarmed as to his spiritual condition, went forward to the anxious seat, and solicited the prayers of the congregation. In due time he became penitent, and arose to make his confessions. Among other trangressions of which he had been guilty, he owned to having frequently watered the milk he had Sold. In the midst of his confessions, while telling the milk story, the minister, a very worthy man who despised cheats of all kinds exclaimed: 'Sit down, sit down, Brother Wilson if you say much more, they'll have you in penitentiary in less than a week!'

Brother Wilson sat down.

Lord Campbell tells us of a judge who wound up a sentence of death, at Stafford, for the uttering of a forged compound note, in this horribly facetious manner:—'And I trust that, through the merits and meditation of our blessed Redeemer, who may there experiance that mercy which is due regard to the credit of this papes currency of the country, hopes you to hope for here.

New Firm in Ashburnham.

MOWRY & FORSYTH.

The undersigned have leased the "Mowry Foundry," Ashburnham, for a number of years, as have put it in a thorough state of repairs. They have now unsurpassed facilities for doing

All Kinds of Work in the Foundry and Machine Line,

Which they will do promptly and on favorable terms. They will carry on

THE THRESHING MACHINE MANUFACTURE!

As carried on formerly at the Mowry Foundry. All kinds of repairing of

Threshing Machines, Reapers and Mowers, Saw Mill and Grist Mill Machinery and Castings and Turnings of Every Description will be done on short notice.

The work will be of the best material and workmanship, and warranted to give general satisfaction.

SPECIAL NOTICE.

We invite Special Attention to our THRESHING MACAINES and HORSE POWERS which is acknowledged by respectable Farmers now using them, to be the best made in the Dominion.

All debts in connection with the business, contracted since the 26th of October, 1870, will be paid by the undersigned, to whom also accounts owing since the same date must be paid.

R. H. MOWRY. W. FORSYTH.

Ashburnham, May 31st, 1871. 12-tf.

GREAT EXCITEMENT!

AT

W. FAIRWEATHER & Co's Cheap Sale.

GREATEST BARGAINS EVER HEARD OF IN PETERBOROUGH.

Good Silk Mantles $1.50, worth $5.00.
Good Rich Grograin Silk $4.50 worth $10.00.
Good " " Trimmed with Real Lace (beautiful) only $7.50, worth $14.00.
Good White Serge Jackets only $1.25.
Good Summer Shawls, $1.00 and $1.50,
Good White and Colored Kid Gloves, 37½ cts.
Good Gentlemens' do 50 cts worth $1.25
Cottons, Prints, Dress Goods, and all Domestics equally reduced.

WANTED,

A GOOD SALESMAN AND AN APPRENTICE TO THE BUSINESS.

June 21st, 1871. 25

NEW SADDLERY!

The Subscriber wishes to inform his friends—old and new—that he has re-commenced the

Saddlery and Harness Business,

In the Shop next to the Toronto Bank,

Lately occupied by the Telegraph and Express Companies, opposite to Messrs. Nicholls & Halls, Simcoe Street,

Where he will at all times keep on hand or have made to order by first class workmen, everything usually kept in first class establishmen's, such as

GENTS' SADDLES, LADIES' DO,
Harness, Single and Double, Coarse, Heavy and Fine,
TRAVELLING BAGS, TRUNKS, SATCHELLS,
WHIPS, MATS, HORSE CLOTHING, &c.

☞ Grateful for past favors in his various lines of business during the last 20 years, he asks his friends to inspect his stock before purchasing elsewhere.

Peterboro, May 18, 1870. 20 D. HOPKINS.

OWENS'

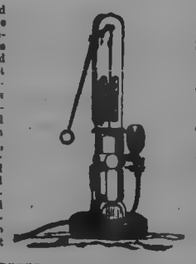
PUMP MANUFACTORY

AND

Agricutural Implement Agency

GEORGE STREET, PETERBOROUGH.

The Leading Pumps and Machines of the Dominion.



The subscriber is still on hand at Decnis' Old Stand, opposite the Gravyard, and begs to inform the inhabitants of the Counties of Peterborough and Victoria, that he is Sole Agent in these Counties for the Celebrated POWELL'S PATENT Swing and Force Pumps—the reputation of which is Established and sustained by their own merits, being cheap, Simple, Reliable, Frost Proof, and easiest worked. Being convinced of their superiority over all other pumps, I have made arrangements to keep a good stock of them on hand, if possible, and will Sell as Cheap as are sold in any other part of the Dominion.

SOLE AGENT FOR MASSEY'S

Agricultural Implements

Including at the late improvements, viz;

Wood's Self Rake Reapers, and Mowers, and Cayuga Chief Mowers.

The Hubbard Combined Machine, which took the First Prize at Toronto in 1870. Also, Johnson's First Prize Self Raker.

Parties wanting Machines the coming Harvest will please call and examine the different Machines before purchasing elsewhere. Prices reduced from last year.

Will guarantee them to be BETTER than the BEST of any other make. The unexampled popularity and success of this pump is not surprising, combining as it does, the Highest Efficiency with the Lowest Cost. Swing Pumps for $5.00 and upwards. With reference to the Powell Pump, it has been exhibited five times and secured Five Provincial First Prizes, never having been awarded anything but First and Highest Honors at State, Provincial, County, Township, or city exhibitions. This is incontestible proof of its adaptability to the wants of the people, and the climate of the country. THE FORCE PUMP is adapted to all the uses to which an ordinary pump may be applied, besides being an always-ready Fire Engine. It is allowed to be worth its cost for Washing Buggies alone, and as a Fire Preventative has saved many valuable properties. May be used for watering Gardens, Courts, &c., Setting Tires, &c., and many other purposes.

Please call and examine the Powell Pump before going elsewhere, when I shall behappy to explain its advantages. Also, a large stock of Common Pumps on hand, as usual, which the subscriber will sell as cheap, if not Cheaper, than any Pump-maker in the Province. Also COLBY'S WRINGERS for sale Also, Agent for Rights or Pumps in Counties east of Peterborough Pumps of all kinds Repaired on the shortest notice.

Please address, stating depth of well and other particulars:

HENRY OWENS,
George Street, Peterboro

April 26, 1871.

Annual Meeting of the Shareholders of the Canadian Bank of Commerce.

The chair was taken by the President, the Hon. William McMaster, and upon motions of David Thompson, Esq., M. P., of Indiania, seconded by James Young, Esq., of Toronto, the Cashier, H. S. Strathy, Esq., was requested to act as Secretary.

The Secretary then read the following:—

REPORT.

In again meeting the shareholders and laying before them the result of last year's business, as submitted in the accompanying statement, the directors do so in the belief that it will prove satisfactory to the proprietary.

The net profits of the year including the premium realized on stock amount to	$572,130 43
To which add balance at credit of profit and loss account from last year.....	13,235 91
	$585,366 41
From this deduct:—
Dividend No. 7, of four per cent, payable 2nd January last....	$ 97,995 00
Dividend No. 8, of four per cent, payable at 1st July instant....	127,116 10
Transferred to "Rest" account....	350,000 00
Transferred to Reserve for rebate of interest on current discounts (which with $32,482 51 previously at credit of that fund, makes it now $45,482 51....	10,000 00
	$585,111 00
Leaving a balance at credit of profits and loss account.....	$5,255, 10

The bad and doubtful debts throughout the year, ascertained on a personal examination of the various offices by the President and Vice-President, were found to small, and, in accordance with the usual practice of the bank, they have been written off; and, after providing for the half-yearly dividends of four per cent, each, as well as for the usual reserve of interest on current bills and deposits, the sum of $350,000 has been carried in the Rest, making that fund $600,000; and the remaining $5,255 31 is at the credit of profit and loss.

The operations of the Bank have been confined to business of a strictly commercial character: the scrupulous observance of this principle enabled the Directors to facilitate legitimate business, and as a natural consequence the Bank has participated in the general prosperity of the country.

The allotment of stock, recommended in last year's report, having been found inadequate to meet the demands of a constantly increasing business the board deemed it advisable to dispose of a further amount at current rates, which not only furnished the required means, but also contributed to increase the Rest, in which fund all the share-holders equally participate.

There still remains $800,000 stock to be disposed of, and, while recommending the allotment of this to the share-holders of an early day, at a moderate premium, the directors would remind them that the amount will not be more than sufficient to meet the ordinary expansion that takes place at stated periods in the present business. The directors, therefore, submit for the consideration of the share-holders whether it might not be advisable to avail themselves of the power with which the new act invests them to increase the capital to a moderate extent, leaving it to the discretion of the Board to allot the stock when it is required and can be made conductive to the interests of the bank.

The general Act on Banks and Banking, passed in 1870, which was amended and improved by the Dominion Parliament last session, may now be regarded as the uniform charter of all the banks; the restrictions it imposes materially change the former system, but they furnish increased security to the public, and although the circulation is limited by the Act, a profitable business can still be conducted under its provisions.

A vacancy was created at the Board by the lamented death of Mr. Taylor, who was a most valuable director of the Bank from its commencement. The large interest the firm with which he was connected hold in the bank, pointed to his brother, Mr. George Taylor as a suitable successor; and the Board unanimously elected him to fill the position.

The directors have pleasure in stating that the Cashier, Managers, Inspector, and other officers of the Bank continue to discharge their respective duties to the entire satisfaction of the board.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

(Signed,) WM. McMASTER.
President.

GENERAL STATEMENT.

LIABILITIES.

TO THE PUBLIC.
Circulation.....		$2,379,213 00
Deposits bearing interest.....		2,915,891 72
Deposits not bearing interest..		1,767,307 97
		$7,062,417 69
TO THE SHAREHOLDERS.
Capital paid up...	$3,193,375 00
Rest.....	600,000 00
Reserve for rebate of interest on current discounts...	45,482 51
Reserve for interest on dep't receipts	19,118 09
Dividends unpaid.	1,138 08
Dividend No.8, payable 1st July....	127,116 10
		3,986,327 65
		$11,018,645 34

ASSETS.

Specie and Provincial Notes.....	$1,528,270 81
Notes and cheques of other Banks..	469,381 86
Balance due by other Banks, after deducting balances due to other Banks....	40,208 43
Immediately available.....	$2,038,461 10
Gov't Debentures	323,240 36
Notes and Bills Discounted.....	8,522,300 53
Bank premises and furniture.....	114,439 51
Other Assets not included for fore going heads....	20,203 84
	$11,018,645 34

(Signed) H. S. STRATHY,
Cashier.

Canadian Bank of Commerce, Toronto, 30th June, 1871.

The scrutineers presented the following report:

Canadian Bank of Commerce,
Toronto, July 11th, 1871.

H. S. STRATHY, Esq, Cashier:

SIR,—We, the the undersigned Scrutineers, appointed at the General Meeting of the Shareholders of the Canadian Bank of Commerce held this day, hereby declare the following gentlemen duly elected Directors for the ensuing year:

F. W. CUMBERLAND, Esq., M. P. P.
WILLIAM ELLIOTT, Esq.
H. S. HOWLAND, Esq.
Hon. WM. McMASTER.
T. SUTHERLAND STAYNER, Esq.
T. C. STREET, Esq., M. P.
GEO. TAYLOR, Esq.
ROBERT WILKES, Esq.

JAMES BROWNE, HENRY PELLATT. } Scrutineers.

At a meeting of the newly elected Board of Directors held subsequently, the Hon. Wm. McMaster was re-looted President, and Henry S. Howland, Esq., Vice-President, by a unanimous vote.

H. S. STRATHY,
Cashier.

Toronto, 11th July, 1871.

Ayer's Cathartic Pills,

For all the purposes of a Laxative Medicine.

Perhaps no one medicine is so universally required by everybody as a cathartic, nor was ever any before so universally adopted into use, in every country and among all classes, as this mild but efficient purgative Pill. The obvious reason is, that it is a more reliable and far more effectual remedy than any other. Those who have tried it, know that it cured them: those who have not, know that it cures their neighbors and friends, and all know that what it does cure it does always—that it never fails through any fault or neglect of its composition. We have thousands upon thousands of certificates of the remarkable cures of the following complaints, but such of us are known in every neighborhood, and we need not publish them. Adapted to all ages and conditions in all climates; containing neither calomel or any deleterious drug, they may be taken with safety by anybody. Their sugar coating preserves them ever fresh and makes them pleasant to take, while being purely vegetable no harm can arise from their use in any quantity.

They operate by their powerful influence on the internal viscera to purify the blood and stimulate it into healthy action—remove the obstructions of the stomach, bowels, liver, and other organs of the body, restoring their irregular action to health, and by correcting, wherever they exist, such derangements as are the first origin of disease.

Minute directions are given in the wrapper on the box, for the following complaints, which these Pills rapidly cure:—

For Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Listlessness, Lanuor and Loss of Appetite, they should be taken moderately to stimulate the stomach and restore its healthy tone and action.

For Liver Complaint and its various symptoms, Bilious Headache, Sick Headache, Jaundice or Green Sickness, Bilious Colic and Bilious Fevers, they should be judiciously taken for each case, to correct the diseased action or remove the obstructions which cause it.

For Dysentery or Diarrhœa, but one mild dose is generally required.

For Rheumatism, Gout, Gravel, Palpitation of the Heart, Pain in the Side, Back and Loins, they should be continuously taken, as required, to change the diseased action of the system. With such change those complaints disappear.

For Dropsy and Dropsical Swellings they should be taken in large and frequent doses to produce the effect of a drastic purge.

For Suppression a large dose should be taken as it produces the desired effect by sympathy.

As a Dinner Pill, take one or two Pills to promote digestion and relieve the stomach.

An occasional dose stimulates the stomach and bowels into healthy action, restores the appetite, and invigorates the system. Hence it is often advantageous where no serious derangement exists. One who feels tolerably well, often finds that a dose of these Pills makes him feel decidedly better, from their cleansing and renovating effect on the digestive apparatus.

DR. J. C. AYER & CO., Practical Chemists, LOWELL, MASS., U. S. A.

NORTHROP & LYMAN,
Newcastle.
General Agents for Ontario.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral,

For Diseases of the Throat and Lungs, such as Coughs, Colds, Whooping Cough, Bronchitis, Asthma, and Consumption.

Probably never before in the whole history of medicine, has anything won so widely and so deeply upon the confidence of mankind, as this excellent remedy for pulmonary complaints. Through a long series of years, and among most of the races of men it has risen higher and higher in their estimation, as it has become better known. Its uniform character and power to cure the various affections of the lungs and throat, have made it known as a reliable protector against them. While adapted to milder forms of disease and to young children, it is at the same time the most effectual remedy that can be given for incipient consumption, and the dangerous affections of the throat and lungs. As a provision against sudden attacks of Croup, it should be kept on hand in every family, and indeed as all are sometimes subject to colds and coughs, all should be provided with this antidote for them.

Although settled Consumption is thought incurable, still great numbers of cases where the disease seemed settled have been completely cured, and the patient restored to sound health by the Cherry Pectoral. So complete is its mastery over the disorders of the Lungs and Throat, that the most obstinate of them yield to it. When nothing else could reach them, under the Cherry Pectoral they subside and disappear.

Singers and Public Speakers find great protection from it.

Asthma is always relieved and often wholly cured by it.

Bronchitis is generally cured by taking the Cherry Pectoral in small and frequent doses.

So generally are its virtues known that we need not publish the certificates of them here, or do more than assure the public that its qualities are fully maintained.

Ayer's Ague Cure,

For Fever and Ague, Intermittent Fever, Chill Fever, Remittent Fever, Dumb Ague, Periodical or Bilious Fever, &c., and indeed all the affections which arise from malarious, marsh, or miasmatic poisons.

As its name implies, it does Cure, and does not fail. Containing neither Arsenic, Quinine, Mercury, nor any other mineral nor poisonous substance whatever, it is nowise hurtful to any patient. The absence and importance of its cures in the same districts, speak more beyond account, and we believe submit a parallel in the history of Ague medicine. Our pride is gratified by the acknowledgement we receive of the radical cures effected by this antidote to these, and other complaints equally fatal. Unacclimated persons, either resident in, or travelling through miasmatic districts, will be protected by taking the AGUE CURE daily.

For Liver Complaints, arising from torpidity of the Liver, it is an excellent remedy, stimulating the Liver to healthy action.

The Bilious Disorders and Liver Complaints, it is an excellent remedy, producing many truly remarkable cures, where other medicines had failed. Prepared by Dr. J. C. AYER & Co., Practical and Analytical Chemists, Lowell, Mass., and sold by all the world.

PRICE, $1.00 PER BOTTLE.

NORTHROP & LYMAN,
Newcastle
General Agents for Ontario.

IRON IN THE BLOOD

MAKES THE WEAK STRONG.

The Peruvian Syrup, a Protected Solution of the Protoxide of Iron, is so combined as to have the character of an aliment, as easily digested and assimilated with the blood as the simplest food. It increases the quantity of Nature's Own Vitalizing Agent, Iron in the blood, and cures "a thousand ills," simply by Toning up, Invigorating and Vitalizing the System. The enriched and vitalized blood permeates every part of the body, repairing damages and waste, searching out morbid secretions, and leaving nothing for disease to feed upon.

This is the secret of the wonderful success of this remedy in curing Dyspepsia, Liver Complaint, Dropsy, Chronic Diarrhœa, Boils, Nervous Affections, Chills and Fevers, Humors, Loss of Constitutional Vigor, Diseases of the Kidneys and Bladder, Female Complaints, and all diseases originating in a bad state of the blood, or accompanied by debility or a low state of the system. Being free from Alcohol, in any form, its energizing effects are not followed by corresponding reaction, but are permanent, infusing strength, vigor, and new life into all parts of the system, and building up an Iron Constitution.

Thousands have been changed by the use of this remedy, from weak, sickly, suffering creatures, to strong, healthy, and happy men and women; and invalids cannot reasonably hesitate to give it a trial.

See that each bottle has PERUVIAN SYRUP blown in the glass.

Pamphlets Free.

J. P. DINSMORE, Proprietor,
No. 36 DEY ST., NEW YORK.
Sold by Druggists generally.

MONEY TO LEND.

The undersigned has a few thousand dollars of private funds which he is prepared to lend on mortgages, on improved farms.

D. W. DUMBLE,
January 1871. 1-tf.

WILLIAM TOOLE,

Being about to REMOVE his Manufacturing Establishment from the Ashburnham Mill Race to his own Factory in course of erection,

On Murray Street, Immediately West of the Drill Shed,

Where he is fitting up with almost entire NEW MACHINERY, NEW MEN of long city experience, and, in fact, New Everything, begs to return thanks to his numerous town and country patrons for the very liberal patronage which he has enjoyed for the past fifteen years, and hopes by constant attention to business and fair, liberal treatment o customers, to continue in the enjoyment of the same. He would also intimate to his country friends, that he is manufacturing a few of

The Celebrated McKenzie Fanning Mills,

THE BEST MILL IN THE DOMINION,

Which he will sell at a very moderate price, and take in exchange any kind of FARM PRODUCE.

Peterboro, Feb. 9, 1870. 6

PHOTOGRAPHY!

Studio on Hunter Street West!

THE VERY BEST QUALITY OF

Photographs at the most Reasonable Rates

All sizes, from minature to life, either Plain or finished in

CARBON, SIPIA, INDIA INK, OIL OR WATER COLORS.

Parties can rely on Promptness.

Albums, Frames, &c., Always on Hand!

☞ Special attention to children
☞ Inducements offered to families.

GEO. B. SPROULE.

Owing to a steadily increasing business, Mr. Sproule would request as a favor, that his customers make engagements for sitting a week or so, if possible, ahead of time, thereby saving a great deal of confusion, and perhaps disappointment.

Peterborough, September 28, 1870. 23

JUST RECEIVED

—AT—

GEORGE TANNERS',

AT THE SIGN OF THE

MAMMOTH CHAIR,

HUNTER STREET.

THE PATENT HAMMOCK FOLDING CHAIR!

This Chair was introduced to the public in Montreal in August last, and since that time has merited great attention wherever it has been introduced for its

COMFORT, DURABILITY AND CHEAPNESS.

It being retailed from $2.50 upwards. Call and see it; and in the meantime you can look through the largest and

Best Stock of General Furniture

EVER ON SALE IN THE TOWN OF PETERBORO.

THE UNDERTAKING
BUSINESS

Is also more complete than ever, with a good supply of READY-MADE COFFINS.

N. B.—The subscriber wishes to give the Geninses of this town and vicinity a gentle hint not to encroach on the manufacture of the Patent Hammock Folding Chair, as it is no humbug, but patented by Mr. Wilmot Colby, Clerk, and I have purchased the sole right for this County from J. D. Mayer, the executive proprietor.

GEO. TANNER.

Peterboro, March 2, 1870. 9

WILSON, BOWMAN & CO.

Hamilton, Ontario

MANUFACTURERS OF THE CELEBRATED

LOCKMAN SEWING MACHINE,

Take pleasure in announcing that the popularity of the Sewing Machine manufactured by them is still on the increase. They are now turning them out at the rate of 600 per month and yet have been compelled within the last two weeks to increase their facilities to a capacity of one thousand per month.

The Lockman Machine, from its capacity to sew the heaviest fabrics with linen thread, as well as the finest cambrics with No. 150 Cotton, is pre-eminently the Farmer's Favorite Family Friend.

It is so exceedingly simple in its parts, and so strongly and durably made, that it does not require a mechanical genius for its management.

The manufacturers challenge the world to produce its equal, and yet its price is from Forty to Fifty per cent. Lower than that of any other first-class Shuttle Lock-stitch sewing Machine

EVERY MACHINE IS WARRANTED.

☞ Sole Agent for the County of Peterborough—

T. DONNELLY,
George Street

P. S.—ROOMS OVER THE STORE.
eterboro, May 11, 1870. 19

PLAIN AND FANCY PRINTING IN ALL STYLES

EXECUTED IN A SUPERIOR STYLE,

At the "Examiner" Office, Simcoe St. Peterboro.

TEACHER WANTED.

A FEMALE TEACHER, holding a Second Class Certificate, for School Section No. 4, Harvey; Duties to commence immediately,

ARCH JOHNSTON,
HENRY GRAHAM,
THOS. HATTON. } Trustees.

Harvey, June 29, 1871. 25-1t

Notice of Dissolution.

The Partnership heretofore existing between the undersigned, under the firm of Ferguson & Elder, has been this day dissolved by mutual consent.

Dated at Peterborough, 17th June, A. D. 1871.

JOHN FERGUSON,
JOHN ELDER.

Witness, C. C. ROBB. 25-3mo

FARM FOR SALE.

The subscriber offers for Sale his Farm, North half of Lot 20 in the

13th Concession of Smith,

Containing 100 Acres. There are about 60 Acres improved and in good state of cultivation. On the premises are a Comfortable Log House, Log Barn, Stables, and Sheds; a Good Well and other accommodations. For terms and particulars apply to

JAMES IRWIN,
Proprietor.

Harvey, May 3, 1871. 18 Ashburnham P. O.

DUCHER'S Lightning Fly
Dutcher's Dead Shot for Bed
TRY THEM AND SLEEP IN PEACE

STOVES, TINWARE &c

At the Giant T.

Cooking, Parlor and Box Stoves, CHEAP

A large stock of LUMBERMEN'S FURNISHINGS, on which a liberal discount will be made.

COAL OIL to the trade at refinery prices.

ROOFING IN TIN AND GALVANIZED IRON, also EAVE-TROUGHING AND PIPING

Done by Practical Men

Gas Fitting, Steam Fitting,

AND PLUMBING.

Also Agent for, and manufacturer of

CALCUTT'S PATENT TUBULAR DRUM HEATER.

The most Economical in the Dominion, by the use of which 50 per cent wood can be saved. Call and see them.

THOMAS LANNIN,
Practical Tin & Copper Smith
George St. Peterborough.

Sept. 28, 1870. 16-1yr

Fine English Camphor

The surest preventative against moths, and large supply on hand.

NO BATH COMPLETE
WITHOUT A SPONGE.
A GOOD HONEY-COMB SPONGE
From the Mediterranean may be obtained a the subscribers.

CARBOLIC SOAP

For Toilet Purposes.

CARBOLIC SOAP

For Washing Rooms, Bedsteads, Blankets, &c.

CARBOLIC ACID!

The most powerful disinfectant of modern times, not only neutralising but destroying miasmata, &c.

CARBOLIC POWDER

For Sprinklig in Cellars, &c. It is also very useful for destroying pediculi in dogs, calves, &c., being safe and efficacious.

May all be obtained Pure and Genuine, at

DOCTOR TAYLOR'S,
Chemist and Druggist
Corner of George and Hunter Sts, Peterboro

May 11, 1870. 12

UNFAILING EYE PRESERVERS.

LAZURUS, MORRIS & Co's

CELEBRATED

Perfected Spectacles

AND EYE GLASSES.

The large and increasing sales of these Perfected Glasses is a sure proof of their superiority. We were satisfied that they would be appreciated here as elsewhere, and that the reality of the advantages offered to wearers of our beautiful lenses, viz: the ease and comfort, the assured and reliably ascertained improvement of the sight, and the brilliant assistance they give in all cases, were in themselves so apparent on trial, that the fault could not be otherwise than it has, in the almost general adoption of our Celebrated Perfected Spectacles by the residents of this locality.

With a full knowledge of the value of the assertion, we claim that they are the most perfect optical aids ever manufactured. To those needing Spectacles, we afford at all times an opportunity of procuring the best and most desirable.

DR W. H TAYLOR

Corner of George and Hunter Streets,

Has always on hand a full assortment, suitable for every difficulty.

We take occasion to notify the public that we employ no pedlars, and to caution them against those pretending to have our goods for sale.

Peterboro, February 8, 1871

DARLEY'S

ARABIAN OIL,

FOR HORSES AND CATTLE.

A NEVER-FAILING REMEDY.

THIS valuable preparation combines all the medicinal virtues of those articles which long experience has proved to possess the most safe and efficient properties for the cure of Fresh Wounds, Sprains, Bruises, Galls of all kinds, Cracked Heels, Ring bone, Spavin Callus, Fistula, Sweeney, External Poisons, Scratches or Grease, Strains, Lameness, Mongel Whitlows, Corns, Sand Cracks, Foundered Feet, Loss Distemper, Swellings, and many other diseases which horses and cattle are subject to.

This celebrated Liniment has been used for many years and its curative properties thoroughly tested, and it is conceded to be the cheapest and most reliable remedy for all external complaints ever offered to the public—it never fails when timely used and faithfully applied.

To be had of all Druggists and Country Merchants throughout the Dominion. Price 25c. per bottle.

NORTHROP & LYMAN
Newcastle, Ont.

Flax! Flax!!

Farmers intending to grow flax will please apply for their seed early. Seed supplied and payment taken in flax by calling on

SAMUEL TAYLOR
or H. CALCUTT.

I would beg to call the attention of farmers that I have a machine for pulling flax, which will pull 4 acres a day. I will let the machine and send a man with it for $2 per day. By the assistance of the puller, Flax is the cheapest crop harvested. For information I would refer you to—Jonathan Stephenson, Smith; W. Milburn, Smith; J. Parnell, Smith; A. Scott Smith; I. Buck Otonabee; W. Rutherford Otonabee.

SAMUEL TAYLOR,
Flax Mill,
Ashburnham

Ashburnham, March, 1871. 11-2mos

THOS. MENZIES,

BANKER AND BROKER,

PETERBORO, ONT.

Buys and Sells New York and Sterling Exchange, Bank Stocks, Gold, Silver, Greenbacks, &c. &c. He also sells Drafts for any amount on England, Ireland, Scotland, France, Belgium, Germany, Switzerland, Italy, Denmark, Sweden & Norway, Russia, Poland and Caithness, and all parts of the United States.

He has a large amount of the NEW CANADIAN [illegible]

The Peterborough Examiner
A WEEKLY
POLITICAL, AGRICULTURAL,
AND
FAMILY NEWSPAPER,
IS PUBLISHED
EVERY THURSDAY MORNING.
Terms $1.50 per annum in Advance.

EVERY DESCRIPTION OF BOOK AND JOB PRINTING executed at this office, in a superior style, and at low rates.

☞ Particular attention given to Ornamental Printing in Colors, Attestation Posters, &c.

All orders for Job Printing forwarded to this office will be punctually and strictly attended

JAMES HALL,
SHERIFF, Office in the Court House, Peterborough.

EDG. PEARSE,
COUNTY Treasurer and Clerk. Office in the Court House, Peterboro. 6

EDG. PEARSE,
OFFICIAL ASSIGNEE. Office — Court House, Peterborough. 6-1y

C. A. WELLER,
CLERK of the Peace. Office on Simcoe St., 16

C. A. WELLER,
COUNTY Attorney. Office on Simcoe St. 30

C. A. WELLER,
BARRISTER. Attorney, Solicitor, &c.—Office—Simcoe Street, Peterborough.

MR. JOHN BURNHAM,
BARRISTER, Attorney at Law, Solicitor in Chancery, Conveyancer, &c. Office—over T. Chamber's Store, Hunter Street, Peterborough, Ont. 39

GEORGE EDMISON,
ATTORNEY at Law, Solicitor in Chancery, Conveyancer, &c. Office over Mr. John Fletcher's Boot and Shoe Store, directly opposite Mr. Clarke's, George Street, Peterborough.
Peterboro', Feb. 17th, 1864. 7

W. H. MOORE,
BARRISTER, Attorney at Law, Solicitor in Chancery, Conveyancer, &c. Office corner of George and Hunter Streets, McKellar & Cameron's old stand.
MONEY TO LOAN on easy terms, on land security. Mortgage bought.
Peterboro, April 6, 1869. 14

DENISTOUN, FAIRBAIRN & CASSELS,
BARRISTERS, &c.,
Hunter Street, 3 Peterborough.

JOHN GREEN,
BARRISTER, Attorney at Law, Solicitor in Chancery, Conveyancer, &c. Office over the Ontario Drug Store, Scott's block, corner of George and Simcoe Streets.
Peterboro Dec. 1st, 1869. 48

GEO. T. LEONARD,
ATTORNEY-AT LAW, SOLICITOR IN Chancery, &c. Peterborough. 39

S. D. CRAWFORD, M. D., C. M.,
MEMBER of Royal College of Surgeons, England; Licentiate Government Medical Board; Late resident Coombe Lying-in-Hospital, Dublin. Ryan's Buildings, Market Square, Peterboro. 7

DR. LOYD,
CORONER for the Counties of Peterborough and Victoria. Office and residence at Bobcaygeon. 47

GEORGE BURNHAM, M. D.
GRADUATE of Bellevue Hospital Medical College, N. Y., University of Victoria College Canada, and Licentiate of Nova Scotia, Physician, Surgeon and Accoucheur.
Office and residence,—Near the Corner of Stock and George Streets, Peterborough.
Peterboro, May 27, 1869. 43

D. PENTLAND,
DENTIST, would respectfully inform the public that he is now prepared to EXTRACT TEETH WITHOUT PAIN, by the aid of Nitrous Oxide Gas, a very pleasant and perfectly safe remedy.
Peterboro, November 26, 1868. 48

W. COULTER,
DEALER in Genuine Drugs, Chemicals, Patent Medicines, Perfumery, Paints, Oils Dye Stuffs, Hair, Nail and Tooth Brushes, Spices, Culinary Essences, Fancy Soaps, &c. George Street, Peterboro. 14

RUSH & BUCKETT,
VETERINARY SURGEONS, No. 6 Henthorn's Block, George street, Peterboro Horse and Cattle Medicines kept constantly on hand. Horses taken under treatment on easy terms.

ALEX. McNEIL,
LICENSED Auctioneer for the Counties of Peterborough and Victoria, and Townships of Cavan and South Monaghan.

GEORGE READ,
ISSUER of Marriage Licenses, Clerk Division Court, Township Clerk, &c., Keene, Otonabee. 20

JAMES McLEAN,
INSURANCE Agent, Issuer of Marriage Licenses, and Commissioner for taking Affidavits.
Cavan, Mount Pleasant, C. W. 30

CABINET-MAKING.
E. POOLE, Cabinet maker, Upholsterer and Undertaker, George Street, Peterboro.

JAMES STEVENSON,
DEALER in Stoves, Tin-Ware, &c., &c. George Street, Peterborough. 18

ROBERT PATTERSON,
DEALER in Boots and Shoes. Spanish Sole Leather constantly on hand.
Nicholls and Hall's old stand, Simcoe Street, Peterborough.

GEORGE MITCHELL,
DEALER in Groceries and Provisions, &c. Cash paid for all kinds of country produce
George Street, Peterborough, 15

EDMUND S. VINDIN
COMMISSION, Shipping, Forwarding and General Agent, Lumber Merchant, &c.—Office, Corner of Walton and Ontario Streets, Port Hope.

BANK OF TORONTO.
CORNER of Water and Simcoe Streets, Peterboro. Interest allowed on Deposits
J. MURRAY SMITH, Manager

Peterborough Examiner.

$1.50 PER ANNUM, IF PAID IN ADVANCE] "Prove all things—Hold fast that which is good." [$2.00 PER ANNUM, IF NOT PAID IN ADVANCE.

VOL. XVI. PETERBOROUGH, THURSDAY, JULY 27. 1871. NO. 30.

ROBERT WALTON.
SADDLERY. Dealer in Stoves, Tinware, &c., George Street, Peterboro'. 18

J. R. McCULLOUGH, M. D.,
Graduate of Trinity College, Dublin, and Licentiate of the Dominion of Canada,
Physician, Surgeon, Accoucheur, &c.,
AND
Late Surgeon of the U. S. Army & Navy,
Will be found at his office or at his residence, at all hours of the Day and Night, except when out on professional business.
☞ N. B.—All communications strictly confidential. ☜
RESIDENCE and
OFFICE—Next Door To Wm. McDonald's Hotel, and two doors East Of Holm's Foundry, Simcoe Street.
Visits to the Corporation One Dollar, Only.
VISITS TO THE COUNTRY MODERATE.
☞ ADVICE TO ALL FREE. ☜
Simcoe Street, Peterboro, Ont.
September 8, 1868. 36

THOMAS LANNIN,
PRACTICAL TIN & COPPER SMITH, Bell Hanger, Steam and Gas Fitter, Plumber, &c. Dealer in Stoves, Iron Beds, Baths, Refrigerators, Water Coolers, Filters, Pumps, &c.
George Street,
Peterboro, 1st June, 1870. 22

JOHN COONEY,
NURSERYMAN,
DEALER in Fruit and Ornamental Trees, Shrubs and Roses, and all kinds of Nursery stock. A very choice collection of Strawberry Plants on hand.
Orders by mail promptly attended to.
JOHN COONEY.
Peterboro, July 21, 1869. 29

ONTARIO BANK,
PETERBOROUGH.
SAVINGS DEPARTMENT.
From this date until further notice, the rate of intest in the above department will be
FIVE PER CENT.
PER ANNUM.
G. E. SHAW, Manager.
Peterboro', April 1st, 1868. 14-tf

GEORGE ALLEN,
GUN & WHITE-SMITH,
Hunter Street, Peterborough,
BEGS to inform the public that all kinds of repairing is done on the shortest notice, such as Guns, Stocking, &c., Pistols and Whitesmithing. Sewing Machines also neatly repaired.
☞ Shop and residence adjoining the Union Hotel.
Peterboro, October 25, 1865. 43

GORE DISTRICT MUTUAL
FIRE INSURANCE COMPANY!
HEAD OFFICE, GALT, ONTARIO.
CHARTERED A. D., 1836.
ASSETS, $160,000 | LOSSES PAID, $116,000
POLICIES ISSUED, 13,505.
ALL kinds of Property Insured at rates from 15 to 20 per cent. lower than Stock Companies. Claims adjusted with fairness and liberality. Losses PROMPTLY PAID.
ROBERT McKEAN, Esq., Inspector and General Agent.
THOMAS M. SIMONS Esq., Secretary.
R. W. ERRETT, Agent, Peterborough.
November 4, 1869. 40-1y

TO THE FARMERS
OF THE
COUNTY OF PETERBOROUGH.
The undersigned begs to intimate that he is again prepared to pay the HIGHEST CASH PRICE for
Oats, Pease, Barley and Rye,
at his New Grain Warehouse in Ashburnham, situated nearly opposite his old stand.
His friends and acquaintances are invited to give him a call as usual.
D SUTHERLAND.
Ashburnham, Sep. 20 1869 39

STAGE.
BETWEEN
Norwood and Peterboro'
The Stage leaves Norwood every
Monday, Wednesday and Friday,
at 7 o'clock a. m.
RETURNING, leaves Peterboro' at 2.30 p.m.
Office in Norwood, Johnson's Hotel.
Office in Peterboro', Stewart House.
This Stage connects with the Stage for Blairton, Marmora, Hastings, Warkworth and Colborne.
J. A. JOHNSON,
23-tf Proprietor

SCOTTISH IMPERIAL
FIRE INSURANCE COMPANY.
CAPITAL - - £1,000,000.
Head Office—50 West George Street, Glasgow.
CANADA BRANCH—Head Office, No. 36 St. Francois Xavier Street, Montreal
WALTER BEAL,
Agent for Peterboro.
OFFICE—SIMCOE STREET. 26-3ins

DAILY LINE
TO
ROCHESTER.
The Superb new Lake Upper Stare Cabin Steamer.
NORSEMAN,
Carrying United States and Canadian Mails and Express
Leaves Port Hope every Morning
FOR ROCHESTER
At 9 o'clock on arrival of Grand Trunk Railway Trains from East and West,
RETURNING
Leaves Port of Rochester (Charlotte) every evening at 9 o'clock (except Saturday, when she leaves at two p. m., for brighton.)
This is the favourite summer route from Toronto to Rochester, Albany, &c. The cheapest and quickest route from points East of Port Hope on the Grand Trunk, to Rochester, Buffalo, &c. The favourite route to Avon and Clifton Springs, &c.
Passengers and freight take cars along-side steamer at Rochester Landing.
Connection made at Cobourg ask Port Hope with Royal Mail Line Steamers from Hamilton and Montreal.
Address R. C. CARTER,
15 PORT HOPE.

GRAND TRUNK RAILWAY.
TRAINS LEAVE
PORT HOPE STATION
AS FOLLOWS:
GOING EAST.
Express (day)..... 9.30 a.m.
Mixed..... 7.00 p.m.
Express (night)..... 9.20 p.m.
GOING WEST.
Express (night)..... 10.30 p.m.
Mixed..... 3.00 p.m.
Express (day)..... 10.30 a.m.
Trains leave on Railroad time, which is about twenty-three minutes ahead of Port Hope time.
Warranted correct by the Company's time Table

Montreal Ocean Steamship Co.
Steam to Liverpool, Londonderry and Glasgow.
Rates of Passage from Peterboro':
CABIN, - - $74 to $88. STEERAGE - $30.
Return Tickets for 6 months at reduced fares
For Through Passage Tickets, Staterooms, and every information, apply to
GEORGE A. COX, Agent.
Canadian Express Co'y.
Peterboro', Nov. 7th, 1868. 45

GREAT WESTERN RAILWAY
OF CANADA.
TORONTO LINE.
TORONTO, &c., TO HAMILTON.
